

Special Sale of Wool Bed Blankets

For August.

Geo. Wyman & Co. place on sale for the month of August 2,000 pairs Wool Bed Blankets. They are road samples, they have been shown from New York to San Francisco; they stopped at all the first class hotels enroute and if they could talk, they would say that South Bend was the best town they visited.

These blankets come in white, grey, red and plaid. 10-4, 11-4 and 12-4. They range in price from $1.50 to $10.00 and our price is about one-third off from the regular price—you can buy a $7.50 pair of blankets for $5.00 and all of them in that proportion.

This is the opportunity of your life.

DEATH OF MISS HUNT

Young Lady Passes Away in Prime of Life.

Miss Blanche Hunt, who for a few years has been residing in South, but who spent all her early childhood here, died Saturday at her home in South Bend, after a painful illness with consumption.

Miss Hunt was a very popular young lady and had a large circle of friends, who with mother and sister, and many other relatives sorrow over her early death.

Miss Hunt spent the winter in Kansas with an uncle, hoping the change of climate would benefit her declining health. She was twenty-three years of age and for some years had been a member of the Christian church.

The body was brought here Monday and the funeral occurred Tuesday. She was buried in Oak Ridge cemetery, beside her father, who died January 31, 1894.

Buchanan Cash Grocery.

Bainton Bros. wish to call the attention of Buchanan people to their advertisement in today's Record. They have determined to give to the people the very best goods at lowest cash prices. No need of sending money away for one can do better at home. They invite all to call and convince themselves that they give just what they advertise.

LARGE CROWDS.

Excellent Band Music And Not Much Else.

Emancipation Day was celebrated in Buchanan last Friday, in a very indifferent manner, as far as program was concerned.

The announcement of the day's event had brought a great crowd into town, and the streets literally swarmed with people who came to witness the sport.

But unfortunately the colored population of the surrounding country had not responded in very large numbers to the invitation to share in the day's pleasure and most of the events were declared off. The failure of the colored people to appear was somewhat due to the railroads failing to give them reduced rates. There was a large crowd from Chicago who came to St. Joseph but failed to make connection there with the trains in time to get here.

A few events took place; a bicycle race in which Mr. Harding, of South Bend, won first prize, $5.00, and Mr. Frank Ford second prize $2.00. There were two cake walks, one in the afternoon, and one in the evening. In the afternoon Roy Mitchell and Jessie Poole won the prize and in the evening Tig Davis and Ethel Harrison were pronounced the best looking couple.

The affair was given under the auspices of the Grand United Order of Odd-fellows.

The music by the band, which occurred at intervals during the day, was much appreciated.

LATEST FASHION NOTES.

WAIST WITH NOVEL FICHU.

Leg-of mutton sleeves promise to be very popular this summer, and are seen in the bodice here depicted. The principal feature of this waist is the novel fichu which extends well out on to the shoulder and meets in a point just above the waist line.

Tucks also add to its further decoration, and are used to good effect in the upper part of the sleeves.

Elbow sleeves, lacelets, and mitts are coming into vogue. Of mitts there are many kinds shown, but the most durable and beautiful are those which are of very fine hard twisted silk in very fine meshes. These are embroidered by hand after they are made.

Call Extended.

The Advent Christian church has extended a call for another year to Elder Chas. Shook, to continue his pastorate here.

The work of the church is progressing, and Elder Shook has proved a benefit and blessing to the church to such an extent that they hope to have his services continued.

THRIVING INDUSTRY

Lee & Porter Axle Works
Complete Successful Year.

One of the firmly established industries of Buchanan, which has been located here since 1894, and doing most excellent work, is the Lee & Porter Axle Works. They are now just completing a very successful and prosperous year. The output for the past season has been especially fine, the line of buggy axles turned out showing most excellent workmanship.

Under the superintendency of W. C. Porter, the business is prospering and a large number of orders for work are constantly being received. Mr. Tom Brown, the foreman of the finishing and ball bearing department, has proved himself a skillful mechanic, and the work under his direction has been excellent.

The forging of the axles, under the supervision of Foreman Peter Bachman, has been well done, proving beyond a doubt that he and the men under him thoroughly understand this line of the work.

For a few days this week the works will be closed for inventory and necessary repairs, but this will probably occupy not more than two or three days, when the works will again be opened with the full number of employes, there being seventy-five names on the pay roll, who receive their salaries semi-monthly.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

William Lamke, the chief witness in the Bejuske murder case, to be tried in the Circuit court during the September term, has taken out naturalization papers in the county clerk's office.

Lamke was a native of Russia and renounces all allegiance to its sovereign and is now a citizen of the United States. He is the man with whom Bejuske was quarreling when John Boylan was killed near Sodus recently while attempting to separate the two men Bejuske and Lamke, and it is now desired by the officers of this county to have Lamke become a citizen of the United States.

WHITE CAPS, WHITE VESTS.

Pere Marquette Passenger Conductors are to Wear Them.

General Manager Carpenter has issued a general order that on and after Aug. 1 all passenger conductors of the Pere Marquette road are to appear in white caps and white vests while on duty. Passenger brakeman will wear the white caps only. This is somewhat after the plan in vogue on the Pennsylvania lines, where the white caps of the passenger men are well known.

Mysterious Circumstance.

One was pale and yellow and the other fresh and rosy. Whence the difference? She who is blushing with health uses Dr. King's New Life Pills to maintain it by gently arousing the lazy organs they compel good digestion and head off constipation. Try them. Only 25c, at W. N. Brodbeck, druggist.

FORGING AHEAD.

Hugh Stephens Holds Responsible Position.

From the Evening Telegram of Superior, Wis., it is learned that Hugh G. Stephens is rapidly forging to the fore in the hotel business which was recently adopted by him. Several days ago Mr. Frank Matcchete of Milwaukee closed a deal whereby a company of which he is president, became the owners of the magnificent Hotel Superior, of Superior, Wis. The capital stock of the company is $150,000 and Hugh Stephens is vice president. Hugh's duties are of great responsibility. He serves as auditor of Mr. Machette, who conducts some of the biggest and best hotels in the United States.

Mr. Stephens is a son of Mr. A. C. Stephens of the Palace Hotel, this city, and is a fine young man. He has only begun his career and his future seems very bright.—The Daily Irononian.

MORE THAN HIS SHARE

W. H. Keller Suffers a Series of Mishaps.

ROSS BATTON PLUCKY DRIVER

Holds on to the Lines Even After the Wagon is Overtaken.

This morning W. H. Keller on going into the stable found one of his horses almost a hopeless case. He had been tied with too long a rope and became entangled, and when found, life was almost extinct; by careful and prompt attention he was relieved so that he will probably be all right again.

Later as Ross Batten and his brother John were delivering goods with a team the neck yoke irons broke, causing the tongue of the wagon to fall to the ground and overturn the wagon. John Batten jumped clear of the wreck, spraining an ankle but Ross, who was driving, was thrown under the wagon. He held on to the lines for nearly half a block and stopped the team; while he is not seriously hurt he is considerably bruised and the skin torn from him in spots over his entire body; he also had his neck severely wrenched.

The accident was one that no one was to blame for and too much credit can not be given to the boy Ross Batten for his plucky grip on the lines.

Mr. Keller sustains some loss both to the wagon and goods destroyed, but is grateful that what might have been a serious accident turned out no less unfortunate.

Sunday School Union.

The Executive Committee of the Sunday School Union met Monday Aug. 3, at the room of I. L. H. Dodd, to plan the work for entertaining the coming County Convention which meets in Buchanan in October. Every Sunday School of the village was represented by one or more delegates. About two hundred delegates are expected and Buchanan and its people are going to do their part to make this convention a success. Any who are appointed on committees for work are urged to get in line.

The following persons were present: Revs. W. J. Tarrant; W. D. Cole; Chas. Shook; W. J. Douglass; H. L. Veach; Mrs. W. J. Tarrant; D. W. Keen; A. F. Peacock; Mrs. Lucy Brocous I. L. H. Dodd, Miss Edith Beardsley.

Souvenir Post Card.

A set of most attractive souvenir post cards has just been issued from this office, and will be a much used advertisement for our beautiful little town during the coming months.

The set includes several designs, having the photo of the high school, the pumping station, the new power plant, "Lovers' lane" at Coney Beach, view of Front street looking west, "The Lone Fisherman" from Clear Lake Farm, and various other designs.

They are for sale at this office and Binns' Magnet store. They are sold at 3c each or two for 5c.

The M. C. R. R. Co. will run a special excursion train from to Michigan City and Chicago on Sunday Aug. 9th, passing Buchanan at 9:10 a. m. Michigan City 10:10 a. m. and arriving at Chicago 12 noon. Returning will leave Chicago at 7:30 p. m. and Michigan City 9:30 p. m. Fare from Buchanan to Michigan City and return 50 cents and Chicago $1.30. A. F. Peacock.

STARTS TO WORK.

Three B. Feather Duster Co. Opened Yesterday Morning.

FIRST DUSTER DISPLAYED

In the Window of the RECORD Office—Twenty-Five Girls Employed.

The Three B. Feather Duster Co. are a modest concern and do not boast, but Buchanan is proud of their presence in the village and, predicts for them a great business.

They started yesterday with 25 girls at work; of course they all have to learn the business but in a few days the factory will hum with active workers, and it would not be surprising to see twice the number of girls employed.

A RECORD representative called at the factory this morning and found all hands busy mastering the situation. Messrs. Barnhurst and Breen are cordial gentlemen and took time from their work to explain the business.

The feathers come in large bales of about 300 lbs. and when seen would not impress a person as being fit to use, but when put into a cleaner and renovated they look as though they came from the live fowls. They are then gathered together with the feather ends all one way, after which they are split, this being the most difficult feature of the work. They are then run through a machine which takes out the pith, making the feather quite pliable, so as to be more easily adjusted. The feathers are then gathered into required amounts needed to make the different kinds of dusters, which range in price from $2 to $26 per dozen. The RECORD office was fortunate enough to get the first duster made by the firm since coming here, it is also the first one ever made in Buchanan. It is on display and it is hoped it will prove a mascot ushering in for Buchanan, an era of industry never before seen here.

Institute Opens.

The opening session of state teachers' institute for Berrien Co., was held at the Benton Harbor college Monday morning.

The institute will continue five days this week and three next, closing Wednesday, Aug. 12. Some evening meetings will be held.

The institute is in charge of Prof. Chas. H. Guiney of Hillsdale college, conductor, who teaches pedagogy, grammar, general history, U. S. history, reading, literature, classics and civil government.

Dr. Geo. J. Edgecombe conducts classes in algebra, physics, pedagogy, physiology, botany and geography. Miss Belle Chisbee of Cassopolis is assigned to assist in the instruction.

County superintendent Chas. D. Jennings teaches music and arithmetic. He leads the singing with which the sessions are opened.

Among the people in attendance from here are Misses Daisy and Inez Redden, Theoda Treat, and Emma Conrad.

Terrible Storm.

A severe electric storm passed over the village Monday night; while the lightning was vivid and the wind blew a gale, no great damage has been reported.

A tree near Mr. Henry Arnold's was struck and the house was somewhat damaged, the plaster and paper in some of the rooms being dislodged.

A large apple tree, which for many years had been a source of pleasure to Mrs. Hahn and family on Oak St., blew over. It was heavily laden with apples.

Among the effects of the electric storm last evening was the striking of a large oak tree on Portage St. at the home of Walter Dillman and W. H. Johnson. The tree was struck about twelve or fifteen feet from the ground and considerable of the bark torn from it.

Bertha M. Johnson suffered some from the flash, the effects of which are seen on her arm and today it is still stiff.

Mrs. W. F. Runner had an addition to the chimney blown down.

Mr. Walter Noble was in town Friday visiting relatives and talking up the Niles Carnival. Knowing that a printing office is the place for pi, he left a printed pie plate.

PIONEER PICNIC

Wednesday, August 12, Farmers and Their Friends Will Recreate.

Wednesday of next week has been set as the date for the annual Pioneer Picnic to be held by the farmers of Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan.

It is a day to be looked forward to with a great degree of pleasure, and plans are being made to have a jolly gala day.

Two bands; the P. P. C. Band and the Buchanan Cornet Band, will render instrumental music assisted by the Clayton Male Quartette. There will be foot races, tub races and various kinds of sports.

Hon. B. F. Shively of South Bend, will be orator of the day, and a feast is ready for all who lay aside the routine business of the daily avocation and take time to enter into the day's recreation.

Unthought Advancement.

Geo. French, who has held a position since January with the Washington Shirt Co., of Chicago, will resign there this week and accept a position with the Michigan Street Railway Company of Detroit.

The position in Chicago has in many respects been a very pleasant one, and the salary received has been much above the average young man's earnings. The work done was in making artistic display cards.

The position in Detroit was secured through the courtesy of Mr. D. H. Bower, who recommended George for the position of commercial artist for the company, without any knowledge on the part of the latter. The position is much to the liking of the young artist, and will give him opportunity to develop his talents along the line of pen and ink work which he particularly likes. When notifying the Washington Shirt Co. of his desire to resign his present position, the firm expressed real regret at losing him, and offered him an increase in his salary if he would consent to remain, but George thought the opening in Detroit would give him better opportunities for advancement.

He will be home the latter part of the week for a little vacation before going to Detroit.

Riverside Campmeeting opens Friday August 21

Mrs. Myron Mead, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Croquet Sets, Fishing Tackle, Ball Goods, etc. Binns' Magnet Store.

Miss Zella Alliger has accepted a position with J. Cohl & Co. during his closing out sale.

Quite a number of Buchanan people went to Benton Harbor to attend the Forepaugh circus Saturday.

Presiding Elder Van Schoick was in town Monday and held the fourth quarterly conference at the M. E. church.

The many friends of Mrs. John Graham in the Presbyterian church were delighted on Sunday to see her in her accustomed place, playing the organ.

"The man who spoiled the music" given at the M. E. church Sunday night called out a large audience. It was a temperance talk interspersed with excellent music.

A washout on the Pere Marquette near Hinchman delayed the south bound morning train so that it reached here about 10 o'clock instead of 8:10 o'clock as scheduled, on Tuesday.

A number of the band boys went on their wheels to South Bend Monday afternoon, and were caught in the terrible storm on their way home. Their muddy, wet appearance on entering town was quite in contrast to their usual natty looks.

Prayer and communion service was held at the home of Mrs. James Case on Sunday afternoon, which was much enjoyed by all. J. J. Roe sang a solo and the talks given by Elder Wm. Roe and Elder Veach all told of a home where the sorrows of earth will never be known. It was a feast never to be forgotten, which will cheer the shut in through many a lonely hour. At the close all sang "God be with you till we meet again," which the lonely invalid hoped would be often.

Better Than Gold.
"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by W. N. Brodrick.

For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a desolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

will rejoice with him in his happiness.

County School Commissioner Jennings has a big job on hand. He has 203 situations and only 175 teachers and does not know where to turn for more help. Last year the shortage was present, but it was nothing as compared with that of this year and yet it was necessary in 1902 to grant twelve permits in order to meet the emergency, and as these permits expired on the day of the next regular county examination, they were of small value. A rule is in existence which prevents the granting of more than one permit to a person, and if twenty-five people could be found who were willing to accept these permits, it would only prove a slight relief to the present condition of affairs.—

To The Public.

Before leaving Buchanan I wish to thank my friends for the many kindnesses shown me since leaving the home of H. K. Couise and wife; also for contributing so liberally for my benefit, to enable me to reach my home in Kansas City, Mo. Before leaving Buchanan, however, I want to say a few words to the public in regard to an article that appeared in the Record of June 26, over the signature of "Harry Couise."

If I am not mistaken, people have not meddled with the affairs of Mr. Couise, as much as they ought to have done, and those who have meddled have been driven to it because of my ill treatment.

I never would have come back to the house the second time had they not sent me money to come, their sole object being to commence divorce proceedings from my husband, their son, that he might marry some other woman, and desert her as he did me several times. When he did I was always welcome in the home of his father, H. K. Couise. Mr. Couise and wife told friends here that they intended to get me back for that purpose and take my children away from me and then did not care what became of me. And then after they had procured the divorce and paid for it they came to me with the story that they wanted to make my children their legal heirs, and as I supposed, had papers made out to that effect. It was afterward found that those papers were to the effect that they had adopted my children by misrepresenting things to me. He wanted to know when I was going to Kansas City, I told him I couldn't go without my children, then he informed me I could never take them away from his house, that he was in duty bound to take care of them as some one in Buchanan had made a complaint at St. Joe, that there were two minor children here to be taken care of. He had no further use for me and told me that I did not belong to the family any longer and that his roof could not cover him and me any longer.

It is true I had lived under his roof for sometime, and have been only a kitchen drudge, never receiving anything for my work only a few cast off clothes. He says because he refused to support me the balance of my natural days I have taken my children from his home. I have never asked him to support me, never thought of such a thing. I have earned every meal I have ever eaten in his house.

Words cannot express my heartfelt thanks to those who have been so kind to myself and children.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. NINA COUISE.

ATTACKED BY ARMY OF DWARFS

Strange Experience of a French Traveler in the Wilds of Mexico.

Nothing more strange has occurred in recent years than the experience in Mexico of M. Mathias Douline, the noted French traveler who nearly lost his life at the hands of a queer people who inhabit that country. Since the days of Cortes it has been known that a tribe of dwarfs has existed in that region, yet little has been known of them, as they are seldom seen in those parts of the country frequented by tourists.

"I was traveling through Mexico as a matter of personal improvement," writes M. Douline, "and one day reached the town of Guadju, in the state of Guanajuato. From the first appearance of the population surprised me. In the streets I saw nothing but emaciated Indians and many other extremely curious individuals. These latter were scarcely more than forty inches high, with short and massive legs and arms so long that their hands almost touched the ground.

"Their principal garment was composed of a kind of jacket of coarse wool falling to the knees. A belt of leather around the waist supported a heavy Mexican machete.

"Their faces were hideous. Imagine features like those of a gorilla—the same expression of beastly ferocity; not a single trace of beard; rough, bristly hair and cut in a manner to accentuate the natural repulsiveness of the visage.

"They allowed us to proceed on our way among them and even to reach a neighboring inn without showing any signs of hostility, but they watched us closely, and at times strange looks of ill will came into their sullen eyes.

"The proprietor of the place where we hoped to lodge saw us arrive with a sort of stupefaction. He attended to our wants, however, without making any remark and also fed our horses tied in the yard.

"When we had finished eating the host took me aside and whispered in my ear:

"Keep a sharp lookout all night. Do not leave until it's broad daylight. Show your weapons as much as possible. You'll be very lucky if you get out of Guadju alive."

"These dwarfs," he said, "are the worst robbers and the fiercest brutes I ever met. They have been here from time immemorial. They claim they are the original possessors of the soil. They speak their own language and only respect their own laws. The government does not interfere with them because it fears them. There can be no doubt of their ferocity in a battle. Anything strange incurs their hatred. You have long hair. They will try to take it from you. It is certain you will not be permitted to leave the town without a struggle. And what chance have a few goat against two or three hundred? You have only one hope: They do not understand firearms. They are about the only thing they have any dread of."

"As dawn broke I gave the signal for departure. Each of our men had his

THE TOURISTS USED THEIR REVOLVERS. Winchester on his knees and a revolver in his hand. Nor was this precaution useless. The doors were hardly opened when we saw before us some 3,000 dwarfs. Not a face among them but was grimacing with terrible expectation, and fearful howls filled the air.

"My companions formed themselves in line. We were forced to fire, and at our first discharge there fell prostrate a dozen or more. Then, having a free space for the moment, we set our steeds forward at a gallop and, trampling over some and shooting others who opposed our passage, in the midst of the fiercest kind of tumult we made our way through this human sea of wild cries and bitter opposition. Happily for us none of our horses stumbled on the rough stones of the roadway. It would have been sure death for the riders.

"Two hours later we reached Calaye and congratulated ourselves on our happy escape. It is certain that had I not been warned by the innkeeper not one of us would have survived."

Modern Machinery for the Western Wheat Harvest.

The grower who raises a square mile or more of wheat is constantly looking for machinery that will lessen the expense of harvesting and threshing the crop. For this reason, the machine known as the header has come into favor within a few years.

The header clips the stalks of wheat a few inches below the head of the grain, and no binding is necessary. It cuts a swath twelve feet wide. The four horses which furnish the power are hitched behind, and they push the machine over the field. A self-binder is drawn by three or four horses and cuts a swath six or seven feet wide. A header will harvest forty acres a day. The cuttings are carried from the header, by an endless belt, to a header barge, which is driven beside the machine. When one barge is full, it is driven to the stack, and another takes its place. The advantage of a binder is that the wheat can be cut before it is thoroughly ripe, as the ripening process will continue in the shock. Harvesting is often begun with a binder and finished with a header. A new machine which is being tested by the farmers is a combination binder and header. A header is indispensable when the wheat is short. It lessens the expense of harvesting, as the wheat goes at once into the stack, instead of being shocked and then stacked.—From "This Year's Big Wheat Harvest in Kansas," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for August.
