MY RON M.R. MEAL

Was Planning How to Secure For Buchanan a Great Highway.

When the Michigan Central R. R. decided to build a new line between Buchanan and Niles, and abandon the old line, there was one man in Buchanan who was thinking of some way to secure the old road bed, by which a fine highway could be made into Buchanan. In abandoning the old road bed it was rumored and supposed to be true, that the ground would revert to the original owners. Mr. Myron S. Mead, anxious to secure the property for a public highway, had a meeting called on one of the bridges, to consider the matter, where a number of persons assembled, most of whom were opposed to the scheme. Among the number present was D. L. Parker, of Niles, the Division Engineer of the M. C., who in formed those present, that they had no voice in the matter unless they cluded to get an option on it. He then began to see if he could not find some one to buy who would build a better highway than he could With this in view he solicited the Pere Marquette, but was informed that they had no idea of going further south than Buchanan,

The time on Mr. Mead's option having expired, Mr. Mead secured an extention; he then thought of the South Bend and Southern Mich.R. R. and interviewed them; they jumped at the proposition.

Mr. Mead then bought the oad and now has the deed which he is ready to transfer to the Interurban R. R.

the right of way from Niles to St. Joseph, but when they found that there was an opportunity of securing 24 miles of the most difficult por tion of the five miles from Niles to Buchanan already graded and bridged, they were quick at securing the valuable right of way at a very small percentage of what it would cost to build; and by coming to Buchanan they will secure the traffic from Buchanan and all the towns along the Pere Marquette, which would have been lost by going from Niles to St. Joseph on the opposite side of the river.

people will look upon the road coming to Buchanan as an evil, but there never was a project to which some one objected. The Interurban houriy service north to Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, the county seat, pay therefor. and Chicago across the lake, and an open line south to South Bend, Elk-City and Chicago. Buchanan may hope to see the most prosperous time ofher history. Without a doubt the natural advantages will attract many people from South Bend and Chicago to Buchanan, many of whom will make it their home, as a number have done already. Let there be a time of rejoicing, that best quality I can procure. These at last the day begins to break and the prospects for Buchanan are brightening.

But there has come a change, and Buchanan can now The Interurban had begun to buy throw up her cap, for the interurban is assured and there is no doubt that in time it will be continued to St. Joseph from here, although Mr. McSmith, when interviewed yesterday, was not prepared to say anything more in regard to the matter than to say that what had been agreed upon they would do.

Letter From Mr. Chapin.

Niles, Michigan, Oct. 27, '03. To the President and Trustees of the Village of Buchanan, Mich. Dear Sirs .---

I have been awaiting for some time past, an expression from your honor-It is altogether possible that some able body, relative to a settlement of the electric lighting question.

Why Spiro Leads

Have you ever thought of the advantages of trading at Spiro's store?

The immense stock of new clothing piled high on every table and shelf-the show cases brimming over with the latest ideas in hats and furnishings-the wonderful range of styles, fabrics and prices because of the splendid variety. It's a perfect exposition for men and boys. You in walk down the aisles free to pick and choose from the best the markets of the world afford.

Did you ever think of the volume of. business done in a day at Spiro's?

Enough suits, overcoats, and hats go out every day to stock a small store; yet they are replaced so rapidly from our store rooms and surplus stock, that the vacancy is never seen.

Our one price system saves you the necessity of haggling over the price. In the first place it must be fair. We have no chance to "meet" competition; we have no chance to call you back and as a last resort do better, "seeing it is you". One price must be a tempting price at first or we can't make sales.

The unfailing courtesy of our experienced salesmen, the assurance of money back without argument or if you are not satisfied and at all times the lowest prices, secured by large purchases, make Spiro's the best, as well as the biggest clothing store in this part of the United Sta.es.

O. E. Pagin Gets Appointment. ANNUAL

Oliver E. Pagin, who has been assistant United States district attorney for the Northern district of Illinois for the last sixteen years, Saturday received from Attorney Gen'l Knox an appointment as assistant attorney in the Department of Justice at Washington at a salary of $4,500 per year.

Mr. Pagin will have charge of pleadings and of criminal cases in which the department is specially interested. This is a new office in the Department of Justice, but the Attorney General created the position after a conference with President Roosevelt. The need of such an assistant was felt recently while the postoffice frauds were being investigated.

Mr Pagin is said to be one of the eading anthorities in the country on pleadings. He has written a book on this subject, which is used extensively in government offices and elsewhere

Mr. Pagin has also done good work in the coal combine case in Chicago, the silk fraud cases in New York, the national bank cases in New Jersey, and especially in the postal fraud cases in Washington. This last work, particularly, revealed the Chicago / lawyer's ability to the Washington authorities. He drew most of the indictments. After the conclusion of his work in these cases Mr. Pagin received the personal thanks of President Roosevelt and was commended by other officials whom he aided in the inquiry. Mr. Pagin will remain in Chicago until the middle of November,-Inter Ocean.

The above Mr. Pagin is a son-inlaw of Mr. Valentine Schram, and well remembered by Buchanan friends He was at time a property holder here owning the place which F. A. Stryker now owns and occupies. * * *

At the rural home of Mr. and Mrs. William Haslett, 3 miles southeast of Buchanan, occurred a quiet home wedding Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Iva Haslett be came the bride of Mr. Ed Riffer, a prosperous young farmer, whose parents live north of town. Rev. J. A. Halmhuber officiated, using the short and impressive ceremony of the Evangelical Association. Mrs. E. Refner played the wedding march, to the strains of which the bride and groom entered unaccompanied, and took their places in the southwest corner, where a very pretty alcove had been prepared of lace curtains decorated with smilax. The bride was prettily gowned in a brown traveling suit, while the groom wore the conventional black. The ceremony was performed in the contracting parties. An elabo-

MICHIGAN AGAINST RECIPROCITY

Representatives in Congress Will Fight the Boom That Cuba Is Craving in Our Markets.

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 27.—Secretary of State Fred M. Warner, State Land Commissioner E. A.Wildey, Representative Loud and local politicians had a conference at the Frazer House. Colonel Loud reported that the Michigan delegation would fight Cuban reciproc. ity and he read a letter that ran as follows:

"My Dear Friend: I hope that none of the newspapers reports, which are only partial and indefinite in referring to my attitude on the question of Cuban reciprocity, will confuse you in the least. I am strongly opposed to Cuban reciprocity, just as I ever was. I believe it will be a positive damage to the United States, and no benefit whatever to Cuba. I propose to do every thing that I can consistently with good manners and parliamentary decorum to show my attitude upon this question, and I do not want any of these reports to leave any doubt in your mind in the slightest degree about it. "With best respects, I am yours,

WILLIAM ALDEN SMITH."

Will Build a Fine Round House. Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 27.-The Pere Marquette railroad has announced that plans for one of the largest round houses in the state, to be built at once in this city, had been drawn and accepted. The structure is to cost $50,000, and will hold eighteen locomotives.

ASSESSMENT

Tax Commission Has Given It's Report on the 23 Counties Where Reviews Were Held.

DECREASE IN Berrien County's Assessment Has Decreased $51,500, Manistee,

The report of the state tax commission has been given out and it shows that Berrien County was one of the two counties in the state in which the assessments were decreased instead of increased. This means that either the supervisors were awfully busy with their hammers, or that property val ues in Berrien County are deteriorating in value.

It is probable that it would be a hard task to convince residents of this county that the latter fact was true. even if the supervisors do say so. But just so long as another bunch of state tax commissioners does not come nosing around Berrien County and threaten the supervisors with a jail sentence unless they assess property at its full valuation, ther : wil be no holler from this corner of the state. Reviews were held in 23 counties the past year and the total increase in assessments for this year was \$32,-302,022.--Benton Harbor Post. $\diamond \diamond \diamond$

tation For Stockmen. At a recent meeting of railroad executive officials held in Chicago an agreement is said to have been reached to the effect that on and after Jan. 1, 1904, western railroads will discontinue the issuance to stockmen of 'return' transportation, thereby compelling est city in Indiana, according to the them to pay their fare to their homes from the various shipping centers.' It that a project is now on foot to bring seems, however, that before this agreeabout such a condition of affairs and ment can be carried out a good deal of work must be done by traffic men. A number of western states have enacted laws compelling railroads to issue passes to men in charge of stock cars, but there is no uniformity in the requirements. It is claimed that the principal object in discontinuing the issuing of passes is for the purpose of curtailing the operations of ticket scalpers. Freight officials, on the other hand, desire to continue the old system for the reason that they are able attorneys have been at work on the through passes to influence traffic. If there are any abuses connected with the pass system now in vogue we are heartily in favor of having this corrected, but we do not believe in correcting it by withdrawing the privilege entirely. Even under the present system the number of stockmen who accompany their stock to the market is too small, and there is no question in our mind but that it would be to the best interests of the country at large if feeders adopted the practice more generally of marketing their stock. The special advantage to be derived by them by going to central markets is due to the educational influence of such observations as are made at these centers. Many persons do not have a proper conception of what constitutes a well finished animal, and as a result of this they are sending stock to the market in a half fatted condition year after year, being content to accept all the way from a half cent to a cent and a half per pound less than the top price. The information picked up will also assist one in his breeding operations, because no man can fail to be impressed with a type of animal for which there is the strongest demand in the market.

If the advantages named above hold then there should be some organized effort to prevent the withdrawal of the pass privilege. Where this matter is regulated by state laws there is little danger of there being any alteration in such laws, because such legislation would directly work against the best interests of our farmers and stockmen. Let such abuses as are now connected with the pass system be lopped off. but let the system itself remain.-lowa Homestead.

10:30 Wednesday night. We hastened to rent a house, found a bargain four blocks from Main St or, as they say here, "close in." It has nine large rooms besides four closets, a large front hall up stairs and down, and a back hall, 3 porches on upright and one on kitchen, 2 lots with several fruit trees, an orange tree full of fruit, close by the front door, fig, pear and peach trees, and a hedge in front. This is the swell street, and this is a fine town: Carnagie library, several churches, court house, several schools, paved streets, and such beautiful homes and lawns, and roses, etc. in full bloom.

I wish your boys had the oranges going to waste under the trees between here and Main street even; we have all we can use given us. Met An Untimel Death From the St Catherine, Ont., Evening Star the following accunt of the death of Mr. Bert Markie is given. Mr. Markle will be remembed as the electrician employed here many years ago by Messrs. English and Holmes when they first put the electric plant in this place. The shocking death of Mr. Markle's little boy, by burning, which occurred several years ago will be recalled by many.

One of the saddest and most lamentable accidents which has taken place in St. Catharines in a long period occurred October 16, at about 9 o'clock, directly opposite the Central Fire Hall, on St. Paul street, and resulted in the sulden and untimely death of Mr. "Bert" Markle, the genial and popular superintendent for the Lincoln Electric Light and Power Taking with him Lineman Robert Bradley, Mr. Markle went to the Warren Company's factory, where he test ed the wires and found them all in perfect order. He concluded that a wire must be broken at some point between the Warren Company's works and the Lincoln Company's office, and he and Bradley walked down, following the line on the lookout for the break. This was located opposite the Central Fire Hall, and using a twentyfoot stretch of new wire, Bradley "made the joint," uniting the broken end of the old wire with that of the new. He then stepped from the ladder on which he had stood, in time to see Superintendent Markle tie a loop on the other end of the new wire, which was trailing in the mud, and hang it on a steel spike in the pole on which the lines are strung, using his bare hands to do so, Bradley then passed one end of a short rope through the loop on the new wire and attached the other end (of Mrs. Austin's self rising Buck Wheat flour the rope) to a ring in his waist-belt preparatory to ascending the pole to unite the two wires and so "make the connection." As Bradley stepped to ward the pole, Superintendent Markle, using the "tail" of his raincoat to protect himself-as he was without gloves-grasped the end of the new wire, which still hung on the spike,

FARM CONVENIENCES.

A Fork For Shredded Fodder-An Easily Handled Sheep Trough. Among conveniences for farm use described in the Ohio Farmer is the handy fork for handling shredded or cut fodder or chaff of all kinds shown in the illustration. It is made of half inch stuff for tines. The head is of one inch square stuff. The piece that goes under the tines to hold the end of the handles is one-half by one inch. Bore half inch holes through the head and round off the tines to fit; then nail a crosspiece on the under side of the tine, so there is 4½ inches of space between the two pieces. Then put the handle on over the head and under the crosspiece and nail it. Cut a notch (as in the small cut) in the end of the handle where it goes under the crosspiece. The handle is made of a narrow strip of board. Concerning another device sketched in the journal mentioned a correspondent says: I send you the plan of a sheep trough I constructed which is easily cleaned when a quarter turned and can easily be rolled about to use the dry trough by turning same onefourth at a time. I use a plain board thirteen inches wide, gauged lengthwith the intention, presumably, of unwise to the center on both sides. A Wonder of Precocity.

Christian Heinecker was born at Lubeck on the 6th of February, 1721. When only ten months old he could repeat every word spoken to him. At twelve months of age he had memorized all the principal events in the Pentateuch. Before he had finished his second year of existence he had learned all the historical parts of both the Old and the New Testament. At the age of three he could reply correctly to all questions put to him regarding universal history and geography, and in the same year he learned to speak both Latin and French.

In his fourth year he employed his time in studying religions, especially the history of the Christian church. He was not only able to glibly repeat all that he had read, but was also able to reason with considerable of judgment and to give his own opinion of things in general. The king of Denmark wished to see this wonderful child, so he was taken to Copenhagen. After his return to Lubeck he learned to write and was beginning on the study of music and mathematics; but, his constitution being very weak, he took down and died on June 27, 1725. aged four years, four months and twenty-one days. What a wonderful record for such a short life!

Buttered Locks.

In Abyssinia one method of doing the hair that is adopted by warriors is to stroll into the market place, buy a pound of butter and, putting it upon the top of the hair, stand still while the sun arranges things. When the hair is thus dressed with melted butter the Abyssinian knows that fate cannot or will not touch him. He is a picture of well dressed elegance done in oils. Another style is to tress the hair, and every tress means something. A young warrior with a head of hair untressed is of no account. He has not yet killed a man. When, however, he has done so all his hair is shaved off except enough to make one tress, which is of the same signification as a notch on a pistol stock. After that every man he kills entitles him to add another tress until as a conquering hero of 100 tresses he is a formidable man to try conelusions with.

Crinoline.

Crinoline had its origin in a woven fabric composed of hair and linen (flax) warp; hence the name. This fabric' was first used for shoes, then for bonnets, the word being coined in 1830. extend the dress to the desired bulk light steel hoops were fitted with tape upon the bird cage principle. So popular was the crinoline in 1862 that the rolling of the steel developed a great Distance Lends Enchantment. In one of Mr. Chase's classes in painting was a young chap who could not paint pictures much better than he-could save money, and the allowance given to him by his father was very often gone before he knew it. One day Mr. Chase was talking to the class on the subject of perspective, and this particular student did not appear to get the idea very clearly. To make it plain Mr. Chase went back to the rudiments to get a good start. "You understand," he said, "that the farther you get away from any object the smaller it appears?"

The young fellow shook his head. "No," he replied doubtfully, "I'm not so sure about that."

Mr. Chase was provoked and not a little surprised at such ignorance and said so.

"It's all right as to some things," responded the student, "but not all. Now, there's a ten dollar bill. The farther I get away from that the bigger it appears."

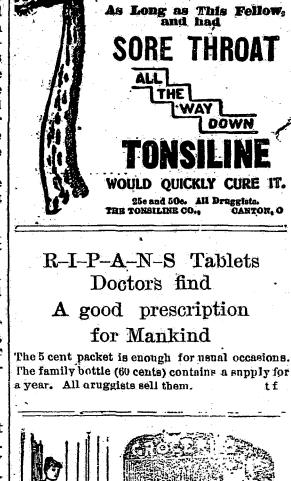

Old Clothes Ornaments,

The rich are not unthrifty. That probably explains why they are rich. You have been told of the wealthy wives in our New York Faubourg St. Germain who after wearing a gown twice or three times at most sell it to' a certain Sixth avenue dealer in secondhand clothes for about one-sixth of its original cost. Women in moderate circumstances who know this dealer keep themselves in finest regalia at a reasonable outlay. Rich men are more particular and less thrifty than rich women. They despise the "ole clo's" man and prefer to hand down their cast offs to servants to do with as seemeth good to them. But many a parlor ornament in swell houses is bought with old clothes; many a new pot or kettle in my lady's kitchen is the result of barter with the peddler.-New York Press.

Animals and Second Sight.

It is a common belief that many animals see ghosts and future events. Kerner declares that they are endowed with second sight. This faculty is thought to be especially strong in dogs and horses. Storks are known to have foreseen the burning of houses on which they have been wont to build their nests and to have abandoned them, taking up their abode on other buildings or on trees in the vicinity. No sooner had the anticipated confla-As this article was costly and did not gration taken place and a new house been erected on the same site than they returned and built their nests as before.

Not Well Advertised.

One reason why the agricultural colleges are not filled with students of both sexes is because the advantages of these institutions are not made known. Our agricultural colleges, at least in the middle and western states, do little if any advertising either in the newspapers or in other ways. It is an open secret that the vast attendance which most of the great universities have is due to the earnestness which those institutions are constantly working for students. In some cases they employ one or more representatives to constantly visit the high schools and preparatory institutions to tell the students about the university and to get them interested in its work. Any agricultural college that will "get a move on itself" along these lines can easily secure more students than it averaged an output of from ten to fifteen tons a week. Several deaths occurring by fire through the use of crinoline killed the fashion, but Dr. Richardson in his "Field of Diseases" gives an instance of a lady escaping from the effects of being struck by lightning by the hoops acting as conductors.

Rearranging the Basis.

"You are charging me $7 a week for board and lodging, Mrs. Irons," said the gray haired person of the name of Harris. "May I ask how you would itemize it? What part of it is for board?"

"Five dollars," replied the landlady. "And $2 for my room?"

"Yes." "Well, if you don't mind, Mrs. Irons,"

he said, proceeding to square up for another week, "we'll consider hereafter that I'm paying $5 for lodging and $2 for board. It will seem more as if I were getting the worth of my money." -Chicago Tribune.

A Change.

must have followed my advice and had a change." "Yes, doctor, so I have." "Where did you go?"

"I went to another physician."

in Somersetshire, England, is very nearly the oldest and certainly the most interesting of clocks in existence. It was built in 1322 by Peter Lightfoot, one of the monks of Glastonbury abbey, six miles from Wells, where it ran for 250 years until the abbey was dissolved by Henry VIII. and its last abbot hanged over the town gateway. The clock was then removed to Wells. where it has been running ever since.
