DEMOTT IS THE WINNER

Niles Boy Takes Place Among Candidates For Appointment To Annapolis

BUCHANAN BOY SECOND

Earl Gardner of That Village Will Get Appointment as Alternate

Max Demott, son of Thomas Demott, residing north of the city, was the winner in the examination for candidates for the congressional appointment to Annapolis. Earl Gardner stood second in the test.

The judges of the examination, Rev. C. E. Marvin, Atty. W. N. Burns and Prof. C. W. Shipman, met Friday afternoon and looked over the papers made out by the candidates. The papers were numbered and in a sealed envelope were the names of the candidates corresponding to the numbers. The judges were in complete ignorance of the identity of the authors of the papers until the reports were made out, and the paper made out by Demott was the best.

Demott's standing was 92 3-9 per cent while his nearest competitor Gardner of Buchanan, stood 90 7-9 a difference of nearly two per cent. Demott stood third in the physical examination, with a per cent. of 94. Gardner had a per cent. of 90. The highest in this department were Lord and LaCrone, each of whom stood 99. The other candidates did not stand nearly as good an examination as the winner, he having them all beat with the exception of Gardner, who will receive probably the appointment as alternate.

Demott is a graduate of the Niles High school, and has been teaching school north of the city since his graduation. He is a popular young man, and well deserves the appointment.

The next highest on the list are Glen Gilbert of Moline, and Alfred V. Lord of Berrien Springs, and they will be appointed the second and third alternates if they are under the age of twenty. The judges did not insert the ages of the candidates in the report made to Congressman Hamilton, but the ages of all the boys are assumed to be under twenty and inquiry is being made now concerning that point.

A relative of Demott states that his age was nineteen on the seventh day of January last, and one who is acquainted with Gardner of Buchanan says that he is only sixteen.

The standings of the candidates as made out by the judges are as follows:

Max Demott, Niles	92 3-9
Earl Gardner, Buchanan	90 7-9
Glen Gilbert, Moline	88 5-9
Alfred Lord, Berrien Springs	83 2-3
James Burby, Eau Claire	83 2-3
Chas. Kinnane, Dowagiac	77 5-9
Carl Sunquest, South Haven	66
Frank LaCrone, Berrien Center	66
Thos. McDowell, South Haven	47 1-3

But One Week More

Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company have but one week more at the Grand Opera house, Chicago. Their big engagement in "Leah Kleschna" will end on Saturday evening, May 6. Seats for all performances including the extra Wednesday Matinee are now on sale. The passing of the Lenten season has increased the demand to see this powerful drama, which is acted so brilliantly by Mrs. Fiske and her associates. Mrs. Fiske's art is seen at its height in "Leah Kleschna," especially in the intensely dramatic scenes in the second and fourth acts. Her portrayal of Leah is one of the best of the many varied roles she has played. John Mason, Geo. Arliss, Charles Cartwright and William B. Mack do superb acting in roles of scarcely less importance. The rest of the cast is also admirable and the settings are beautiful.

State Items

Fred Zimmerman, Charles Clark and B. Tennyson, employees of the Garden City Fan Co., at Niles, were at work on a big heating fan Thursday afternoon, when a portion of it fell. Zimmerman was perhaps fatally injured and the others were badly hurt about the limbs and body.

A fire caused by the head of a match in a fur rug caused the destruction of several hundred dollars' worth of property and badly damaged the interior of the home of Harrison Fairchild, of Ypsilanti, Friday night. In attempting to extinguish the flames Mrs. Fairchild was badly burned and her mother, who was seriously ill in the house, suffered a relapse.

About sixty of the friends of Hon. Thomas J. O'Brien tendered him a dinner at the Hotel Pantland, Grand Rapids, Friday night, on the event of his departure for his post as United States minister to Denmark. Monday noon Mr. O'Brien and his family departed for New York, and will sail for Europe from that port next Thursday. After a brief stay in Paris they will proceed to Copenhagen, where Mr. O'Brien will assume his new duties.

Because her husband of one week, who is a prosperous baker and confectioner, of Escanaba, refused to furnish their home according to her wishes, Mrs. M. Lofvander will return to Chicago and resume her position as seamstress, which she gave up to become a wife. The couple were married in Chicago after a courtship of nine years, and on their return the bride claims her husband failed to carry out his promise of an elaborate home.

Albert Davis, of Ypsilanti, went to jail last week on a two days sentence as a punishment for carelessness in not observing the law in regard to keeping his children in school. The truancy problem has become a serious one in Ypsilanti, and it was determined to make an example of one case. Davis was given his choice of imprisonment or fine and costs amounting to $10.00, and concluded he could never earn the amount easier, so took the former.

One hundred boxes, containing from 250 to 300 pounds each of fresh German carp, were shipped Friday evening by express to New York city, from Monroe, where they are served in hotels and restaurants as whitefish and other fresh water fish. The express charges alone were $300, besides the cost of the fish, but the price they bring in New York makes the catching of the carp a profitable occupation. Another shipment of 100 boxes followed Saturday.

Returns from nearly all the counties in the state show that the amendment to the constitution empowering the county of Genesee to pay its circuit judge a larger salary than is provided by the constitution was carried in a majority of the counties, and that the change desired had been ratified. The returns show, however, that in Genesee county, the only county having a direct interest in the matter, the amendment was lost by a vote of 2, 188 yeas and 2,612 nays. The question was submitted on the representation that the county was strongly in favor of the change.

Grand Trunk railway officials were in consultation at Durand, nearly all night, Friday night with contractor George Vanderhorse, of Battle Creek, who built the union depot destroyed by fire April 15. It is understood that the depot is to be re-erected on the same plans as before, a few alterations and improvements being made. Mr. Vanderhorse is to get extra money if he completes the work within ninety days from the time of beginning. The Grand Trunk in the meantime will get along without a depot there. The officials and dispatchers are located in the Hotel Richelieu, and the ticket agent will occupy a passenger coach near the depot ruins.

Charlie Billings, of Hart, went fishing and being proud of his catch, he did not hesitate to show it. The next day he was fined $8 for violation of the fish laws.

The Kalamazoo Gas company was Wednesday awarded the contract for supplying fuel for the use of the public building at Washington, D. C., for the next fiscal year.

"Watch out Smoke" appeared in the advertisement of a Saginaw merchant. That night the store burned down and the insurance companies protested payment of the policies.

A Traverse City man tried to get his wife to go and have her picture taken, but she wouldn't stand for a sitting because she didn't like the photographer. In other words she refused to sit for a man of his standing.

The senate has passed Senator Hayden's bill requiring children to go to school five days a week, instead of four, as at present. The bill also provides that in places where there is no organized police force, the sheriff shall appoint truant officers instead of the school board doing this as under the present law.

Cass county farmers have deserted the pickle. Inability to get contracts for a necessary acreage of cucumbers, has resulted in a decision of the Benton Fruit Products company to close their salting station at Dowagiac for a year, at least. If next spring the company has difficulty in procuring sufficient acreage, the station, erected last season at a cost of $1,500, will be removed to some other place.

Work on the federal building at Traverse City has again been stopped. This time the brick won't fit and a new lot is necessary. This will result in the loss of much time and several hundred dollars cash. The building seems to be a hoodoo, as the first contractor threw it up in disgust, the two sand storms filling the excavations, and the inspector wouldn't allow the work to proceed this spring until all the rust had been burned off.

Fred Litter, aged 12; Paul Rittner, aged 9 years and Leonard Dyke, aged 10 years of Kalamazoo, remembering stories they heard last year, that there was much money in weeding beets in the south, ran away from their homes in this city the first of the week and intended to get to these beet fields. They caught a freight train and, at Mendon, were put off by a brakeman. They walked home, taking three days and had little to eat in that time. The distance is twenty-one miles. The parents of the boys, as soon as they missed them, had telegrams sent to all parts of southern Michigan and northern Indiana, but could get no trace of them.

CONTRACTS MUST BE LIVED UP TO

Else Cities Can Recover Money Given as Bonuses

Owosso, Mich., April 22.—The supreme court has affirmed Judge Smith's decision in the case of the village of Morrice vs. Sutton & Mackey. The village of Morrice gave Sutton & Mackey a $2,000 bonus to put up and run a flouring mill and electric plant. There was trouble with the company because it did not fulfill its contract and the village sued to recover the amounts of its bonus.

Judge Smith gave the village a judgment of $2,000 and interest from the date of giving the bonus, amounting to about $300.

This opinion of the supreme court settles the question of giving bonuses and establishes the right of any municipality to sue and recover bonuses given in the past. Practically all of Owosso's and Flint's big industries were fostered by bonuses. Owosso alone has in the past four years given more than $75,000 in bonuses, but citizens have no regret except in a few cases.

Easter Services

Easter services were appropriately observed at the different churches Sunday.

At the Methodist church the exercises were held in the morning. The church was very prettily decorated with palms, ferns and flowers. The crowning feature of the decoration was a large white cross, fully eight feet high, at the base of which was a large bank of calla lilies, ferns and palms.

The music and services were all arranged especially for the occasion. Sixteen new members were taken into the church in the morning. Special exercises were also prepared for the Sunday school.

The Easter services in the Advent church were held in the evening and were largely attended.

The church was decorated with ropes of evergreen suspended from the center and draped to the sides, forming a canopy. Here too was a white cross shown, hung with myrtle, potted plants also formed a large part of the decoration.

The exercises were in charge of the Sunday school and were very commemorative of the risen Lord. At the close of the exercises each member of the Sunday school was given a potted plant (a small geranium) in full bloom.

Eight new members were taken into the church Sunday evening, three of them having been baptized in the afternoon.

Easter services were held in the U. B. church on Sunday evening. The church was tastefully decorated.

The exercises consisted of recitations given by the children and special music rendered by the choir. The piece entitled "The Watchers at the Tomb," given in tableaux, was very impressive and was well received by the large audience present. Everybody retired speaking very highly of the service.

LOVELL AS WRESTLER

Laid Tom Higgins on His Back in the House

Lansing, April 22.—Place another laurel wreath upon the brow of Hon. Nathan V. Lovell of the second district of Berrien county. Not as the foe of the state tax commission, not as an ardent primary reformist, but as champion wrestler of the house.

In the rise of Lovell to new honors came the fall of "Farmer" Tom Higgins of Cass county.

Members of the house witnessed an echo of the old Olympian days of ancient Greece, yesterday morning when these two members furnished the most exciting incident of the season.

The two bolons were on their way from the corridors to take their seats in the assembly hall when Higgins slapped Lovell on the back most vigorously. Lovell's big hand plastered the Cass county statesman against the wall.

The two men squared away for a genuine old fashioned wrestling match. They clinched and wrestled for several minutes in the main aisle directly in front of the speaker's desk.

Members rushed from their seats and crowded about the good natured contestants, cheering them on and laying wagers as to who would be the victor. Lovell finally won a hero's medal by putting his man flat on his back, with all points down.

Nothing like it had ever before been seen in the house and late comers rushed to the scene bent on separating the men, whom they thought to be in earnest.

After Lovell had helped the vanquished "Farmer" Higgins to his feet and the two men had dusted their clothes and had shaken hands, Representative Bland of Detroit, passed around a fresh box of cigars. Lovell in describing his victory declared that he had used every possible hold in the catch as catch can method, but a half Nelson did the business.

Finest Display of MEN'S SHIRTS

To Be Found in SOUTH BEND

It is wonderful what a difference smart shirts make in a man's appearance. While only the cuffs and a little of the bosom can be seen, that is plenty to stamp a man as well dressed or indifferent.

Spiro's shirt stocks are in fine shape right now. We show large quantities of the best brands of shirts we could find in New York City, America's great source of style in shirts. The best American manufacturers are represented in our stock, and the assortment is almost endless.

A great many of the styles are exclusive and unusually handsome and to be found only in this store. Even the particular man can satisfactorily select his shirts here according to his taste and fancy.

One advantage of the Japanese is that they are fighting for their homes against a foreign fleet that has traveled 12,000 miles to stir up trouble.

The half-concealed combination of France and Russia is rather more than the Japs bargained for. It is a long way remove from fair play or straightforward dealing.

When the civil war was on it was thought to be a big thing for Abraham Lincoln to call for 400,000 soldiers. The mikado of Japan has just sent in a requisition for 1,000,000.

The high standing of Earl Gardner, the 16 year old Buchanan boy, at the naval examination in Niles, last week, speaks well for his scholarship and also for the efficiency of the Buchanan schools.

By advocating a big navy, Admiral Dewey has thrown away his last chance for the Democratic presidential nomination. Maybe he would rather be a right admiral than a wrong President.

A 600 pound bear is well worth killing, but it must be something of a burden to the Colorado hunters to carry a set of hay scales over the mountains for the purpose of weighing the big game.

According to the careful estimate of the census office, the present population of the United States is 82,518,000. At this rate the country can get ready to celebrate the official passing of the 100,000,000 mark by the count in 1920.

The Hudson correspondent tells of a bolt of lightning that certainly broke the record of that vicinity for spryness. During the heavy thunderstorm the bolt struck the ground in a farmer's back yard, making a large hole in the earth. It then burrowed underground until it reached the roots of a tree, up which it shinned until it reached a wire clothes line which was stretched from the tree to a house. Along the line it skated merrily and reached the house, which it shook so violently that it broke fifty window lights. The bolt then ducked under the house and out again and struck a barb wire fence, over which it traveled to a hamlet six miles away. There it struck a wagon shop, melted the tires of sixteen wagons and jumped into the pistol pocket of a wagon maker, where it found a dollar watch. The watch exploded with a mighty noise, and the lightning ran along the floor out of the door and along a telephone wire, stopping only long enough to knock his pipe out of the mouth of a justice of the peace, who was ambling leisurely along the road toward town. The lightning then disappeared.

A Pretty Wedding in St. Andrews

The following article was clipped from the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, of Honolulu, Hawaii, under date of March 30. The item will be of interest to RECORD readers, as Mr Brown was a former Buchanan boy and is a son of Oscar Brown. The RECORD extends congratulations:

A pretty wedding ceremony last evening at St. Andrew's cathedral united in marriage Miss Mabel Herrick to Mr. Harry Burr Brown. The marriage service was performed in the presence of a throng of friends who quite filled the nave of the cathedral. Promptly at 8:30 to the strains of a wedding march the bride, attired in white with the bridal veil caught on the coiffure by orange blossoms, entered the cathedral, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Charles Herrick. The bride was preceded by Miss Emma Herrick as bridesmaid, attired in a pretty pink gown.

At the chancel steps the bride was met by the groom who was served by Mr. G. T. Coulter as best man, the ushers, Mr. Charles Crane and Mr. Brown, standing by. Rev. Canon Mackintosh then read the marriage service, and at the altar where the solemn words pronouncing the twain man and wife were made, the wedding march was resumed and the party retired to the vestry where the register was signed.

The bridal party then left the church and were driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herrick, Vineyard street, where the happy couple was congratulated by a large number of friends. The guests partook of dainty refreshments. The array of presents was large. The groom is a member of the U. S. Immigration Service staff of Honolulu.

At The Auditorium South Bend

Unusual interest is being manifested in the forthcoming opera festival at South Bend, when Henry W. Savage's English Grand Opera Company makes its second appearance in that city, producing in its entirety, Wagner's sublime music-drama, Tannhauser, on Thursday evening, May 4th, at the auditorium.

Those who remember last year's remarkable performance of this organization, when II Trovatore was sung in the afternoon and Lohengrin in the evening, will realize the importance of this announcement. This season, the Company comes very much augmented both numerically and artistically. For instance, last year, the orchestra numbered but 25 men; this year, ten have been added to this force; while the choral principals, the chorus, the scenic and costume equipment and general accessories have been very much increased.

Tannhauser, the opera which is to be given this year, was one of the earlier and more melodious works of the great German master, and it keeps its place in the affections of the admirers of Wagner, who believe in his great capacity for melodic invention and is so simple both in the meter of its music, and its story that it requires no adept musician to thoroughly enjoy its performance.

The company which will give Tannhauser this season represents an unusual cast. William Wegener, the Wagnerian tenor, will sing the title role, while Jean Lane Brooks, the prima donna soprano, who has created such a sensation this season, will sing the part of Elizabeth. Rita Newman,

Catherine Sherwood, Francis J. Boyle and Arthur Dean, artists of equal ability, will sustain the other roles. The overture will be played promptly at eight o'clock by the full grand opera orchestra under the authoritative direction of Elliott Schenck, the Wagnerian conductor.

Carriages can be ordered at eleven o'clock, while all interurban cars will wait to carry home out of town theatre patrons. Special arrangements have been made by the management of the Auditorium. The seat sale will open on Monday morning, May 1, at 9 o'clock, at the box office of the Auditorium. All mail orders, accompanied by remittances, will be properly noted and filled in the order of receipt, and seats will be given as near the location desired as possible.

What an Old Bachelor Says

The front parlor is the most popular courtroom.

Courtship may be bliss, but matrimony sometimes blisters.

A woman may be a conundrum, but she always has a ready answer.

If love makes the world go round it's no wonder lovers act dizzy.

A woman's understanding is limited only by the size of her feet.

"Ring off," said the telephone girl, when she canceled her engagement.

A woman's idea of a hopeless idiot is a man whom she had loved and lost.

With the exception of vanity, a woman may be able to live down any folly.

The woman who tells fortunes from a teacup isn't necessarily a saucer-ess. Women are always in quest of something, but a conquest seems to suit them best.

If a wife foots her husband's socks it is seldom a burden for him to foot her bills.

The smaller the girl, the larger the doll necessary to appease her incipient maternal affection, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Matrimony resembles a besieged city; those who are out want to get in, and those who are in would like to get out.

The woman who thoroughly understands men may not be able to write magazine poetry, but she is pretty sure to be a good cook.

Frightful Suffering Relieved

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of indigestion food, G. G. Grayson, of Lula Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at any drug store, guaranteed.

The beneficial effects of a cover-sod are not confined to the nitrogen it contains; the mechanical effect is loosening the soil, especially heavy soils, is an important item, and it also serves as a mulch, retaining moisture in time of drouth.

DIAZ AS A MAN OF DESTINY

Relation Between His Life and the Date of Mexican Independence Described.

"If ever a man was a living proof that our fates are predestined," said a mining man from Mexico to the New York Sun man, "it is President Diaz.

"He was born at 11 o'clock at night on September 15. That is the anniversary moment of Mexican independence, although September 16 is celebrated as the national holiday.

"The revolutionary conspirators had agreed on September 16 for the outbreak and were to open the ball at the ringing of a bell on the plaza of Guanajuato. But Hidalgo, the Mexican Washington, learned that their plans were known, so he rang the bell and started things going at 11 o'clock on September 15.

"That was in 1810. Diaz was born September 15, 1830.

"That is a matter of common knowledge and superstition in Mexico. What is not generally known is that every one of his many children, legitimate and illegitimate, was born either on September 15 or on the anniversary of one of his big military or political victories. I have it from a member of the Diaz household that there is not a single exception to this rule.

"Every year on September 15 the people gather on the plaza in the City of Mexico. Diaz comes out on a balcony above them sharply at 11 and rings the old Mexican independence bell, which has been brought up to the capital. That is the signal for beginning the independence celebration.

"Diaz, you know, considers himself a man of destiny. His life has been one long fight against enemies, intrigues, secret plots, open rebellion.

"He has beaten them all and established a good government where there had been only tyranny or chaos for 300 years. They say that he has grown superstitious about it all, believing that he is under a lucky star, and that he takes these coincidences of birth as a mark of heavenly favor."

USE OF THE "DOUSING ROD"

The Art of Divination to the Bowels of the Earth Explained by an Experiment.

There is undoubtedly a practical art of discovering springs, says Cassier's Magazine. Indians or frontiersmen can find water in the desert when a "tenderfoot" cannot. Mexicans and experienced prospectors can similarly find ore. These arts consist mainly in the recognition of superficial signs which escape the ordinary observer.

It is not necessary that the operator should consciously note these signs separately and reason upon them. No doubt he frequently does so, though he may not give away the secret of his method to others. But in many instances he recognizes, by association and memory, the presence of a group of indications, great or small, which he has repeatedly found to attend springs or ore deposits. This skill, due to habit, is often almost unerring for a limited district, but under new conditions it breaks down. Old miners from California or Australia have often made in other regions the most foolish and hopeless attempts to find gold, because they thought this or that place "looked just like" some other place in which they had mined successfully.

Apart from the magnetic minerals there is no proof that ore deposits exhibit their presence and nature by any attraction or other active force. With regard to water, however, there may be an action affecting the temperature and moisture of the overlying surface. Even here, however, it seems more likely that such effects are manifested visibly to a close observer rather than by direct affection of his nervous or muscular system. The favorite fields for water diviners are regions in which water is abundant, but not gathered upon given horizons of impermeable strata underlying porous rocks.

Mrs. John Graham had the misfortune to fall from a chair yesterday morning and break her left arm. She was standing in the chair reaching up into a tree and stepped backwards off the chair, and in the fall one bone of the arm was broken and the wrist badly sprained. Dr. Peck was called and reduced the fracture. The accident was very painful and it is to be hoped that Mrs. Graham's recovery will be rapid.

Saturday evening the Degree of Honor celebrated the eleventh anniversary of the organization of the local lodge. A fine musical and literary program was given, after which refreshments were served. The Buchanan lodge of the D. of H. now has a membership of fifty and although eleven years old has never had a death among its members. This is an exceptionally good record and one of which its members are justly proud.

A boy who swims may say he's swum; but milk is skimmed and seldom skum, and nails, you trim, they are not trum. When words you speak those words are spoken; but a nose is tweaked and can't be twoken, and what you seek is never soken. If we forget, then we've forgotten; but things we wet are never wotten, and houses let can not be lotten. The goods one sells, are always sold; but fears dispelled are not dispolled; and what you smell, is never smolled. CHAPTER XIII.

Turning next to the application of nitrogen to the soil, you will remember at once that the two most common and most advisable forms of nitrogen to add to the soil are barnyard manure and green crops. The former barnyard manure, contains other elements as well, but finds its chief valuable plant food in the nitrogen. Barnyard manure varies in its contents of nitrogen according to the feeding of the animals producing it and according to its treatment. If the manure is left out of doors and is washed by repeated rains, its contents of nitrogen must fall very low indeed. Roberts has shown that perhaps half of all the nitrogen which a given quantity of manure contains may be washed away and lost if it be left exposed to the washing rains. Again, if the manure is allowed to decay rapidly, the nitrogen will be lost, it may escape into the air as ammonia or even as free nitrogen. The best and safest way is to haul the manure to the fields as fast as possible, spread it out on the land as fast as hauled and plow under, not too deep of course, but get it into the soil and well mixed with it as soon as possible. There the decay of the manure will warm the soil and its organic compounds will slowly decay into the much needed humus. The bulk of the manure will be made in the winter and the effort should be to save it all by tight floors and plenty of absorbents and to get it at once to the fields where the losses by washing away are not great.

The farm supplies of nitrogen are supplemented from the markets in various ways. The best way, naturally, is by the purchase of feeding stuffs rich in nitrogen, feeding them to stock and applying the resulting manure to the fields.

Nitrogen may be applied directly to the fields in the form of cotton seed meal which contains 7.00 per cent. nitrogen, or it may be bought in the form of dried blood, 13.5 per cent. nitrogen. There are many organic substances which will furnish nitrogen cheaply to the farmer. These organic substances should be bought for sandy soils and for crops requiring long time for growth, like fall wheat. For spring vegetables or for crops of short periods of growth where on immediate and forceful effect is desired, nitrate of soda is recommended. This salt contains 15 to 16 per cent. nitrogen.

The next essential element of soils that we shall consider is lime. We noted in the earlier observations made in this journey that the particles of clay were too fine to serve good purpose unless organized into kernels. They must be built up into ordinary masses to allow free streets of sufficient size to allow the free movement of air and plant roots. In the soil as in the city, the great factor in holding the particles together or the bricks together into buildings, is lime. If a clay soil is plastic and will not build itself into the desired kernels, will not break down into fine friable soil when harrowed and cultivated, it needs lime. If dirt be mixed with water and allowed to settle the water will be "roily" or will have a multitude of the finest particles floating in it. Now if lime be added these fine particles will rush together into kernels of sufficient size to settle to the bottom within a few minutes. So when clay is sticky and refuses to break down into soil, the addition of lime will cause it to do so. For this purpose as much as four to six tons of slacked lime per acre may be added to very sticky clay.

Land of both the upland and muck soils of Michigan are sour or acid, as it is also called. Plants will not grow well in sour soil. To tell whether soil is sour, buy at the druggist's some litmus color, blue in color. Wet the soil and place the litmus paper against it. If the paper turns red, the soil is sour, if not it probably is not. If the land is acid, apply lime in large quantities. It does not follow because a soil is a muck, composed largely of slowly decaying organic matter, it is necessarily or probably acid, still all muck soils should be tested for acidity at the outset of their examination. Test particularly the "cheesy" muck.

The loams on higher lands are sometimes acid and need the addition of lime to correct this sourness. Try therefore, all soils by the litmus paper before deciding what to apply in the way of fertilizers. Add lime whenever you find acidity.

Lime acts on humus to aid in its rapid destruction. Where, therefore, the soil is cold and inert and needs the hastening of decomposition, lime is just the thing to add. Where, on the other hand the supply of humus is not excessive and is in danger of too rapid exhaustion, lime should not be applied. When a heavy coat of manure is plowed under, or a heavy green manuring crop, apply lime to the surface after plowing, to aid in the decay of the excess of organic matter and to correct any acidity that may come from this decay.

Lime may be applied as air slaked lime, the poorest form, or it may be hauled to the field as stone lime and allowed to slake covered with earth in little piles in the field. Marl is a common form of lime carbonate in Michigan. Whether marl is useful or not depends on its physical condition, its location and ease of access and finally on its composition. It may contain but five per cent. of lime or as high as forty per cent.

New Jury Commission Law

The provisions of the new jury commission law are:

Three commissioners, not more than two of one political party, re-appointed for one year.

Commissioners receive $3 per day when actually engaged in performance of duties and actual expenses incurred. Bills to be audited and approved before circuit court.

Board shall meet second Monday in August in county clerk's office to make up jury list.

List shall consist of four names for wards and townships of 400 inhabitants or less and six names for those having more than 400.

The new jury commission law, which has just become effective for Berrien county, is promised by its maker, Representative Sam H. Kelley, to wipe out the evils of the old system of selecting jury candidates, and to raise the intellectual standard of the juries sitting in the circuit court.
