Burbank Is The Winner

Victory for the Lovell Law as Well as for Burbank

In our last issue we had a small item in regard to the Burbank vs Stryker case, and the following will give a more distinct idea of the case:

The supreme court has decided that John E. Burbank is the drain commissioner of Berrien county and has issued a writ of ouster to deprive Frank A. Stryker of the office.

Three years ago when the democrats had control of the board of Berrien supervisors they elected Frank A. Stryker to the office of county drain commissioner for a four-year term. During his first term in the legislature Representative Lovell introduced a bill making the office of drain commissioner in Berrien an elective office and legislating out of office the drain commissioner elected by the democratic board of supervisors on January 1, 1905.

The bill was passed and at the last general election the republicans nominated John E. Burbank for the office of drain commissioner. The democrats did not nominate a candidate from the fact that Mr. Stryker announced that he would test the law and he believed it would be found unconstitutional.

When the first of January came Mr. Burbank applied to Commissioner Stryker for the records of the office and the records were refused. Mr. Burbank engaged Gore & Harvey and asked the supreme court for a writ of ouster. The decision has been long delayed, but the attorneys for Mr. Burbank had the greatest confidence that their client would win in the proceedings.

During the first nine months of this year the drain business of the county has been tied up. Commissioner Stryker has been doing a little business, but while the matter was in the court the probate court was afraid to recognize the acts of the acting commissioner. It will not be known whether the business which Commissioner Stryker has been doing since the first of the year will be legalized or not until the text of the court decision is reached. In case the acts of Mr. Stryker shall be declared illegal, it will complicate the few drains in the county that he has been handling since the first of the year.

The drain business will now proceed with a rush, and as Mr. Burbank has previously filled the office he will know just how to take hold of the uncompleted and new work.

Words of Cheer

One of the Record's Readers, in renewing her subscription to the paper sends in the following eulogy: It's no sixteen page edition that expresses big men's views, And it's not filled up with pictures, nor with telegraphic news; It isn't printed daily, with an "extra" every hour, And the editor's not bragging of his influence and power. It may have faults and errors, but all these I will forgive, For its printed in the country "way back where I used to live."

Mrs. NELLIE PARE, Normal, Neb.

Crime Is Rampant

In Michigan Because Boys and Girls are Allowed to Run the Streets

In part of the Detroit Free Press says as follows:

Educate your boys at home and in school in the ethics, morals and laws of their country."

"Keep the boys and girls off the streets at night. Enact and enforce a curfew law. Enforce the criminal law of your state in all their rigor."

"Cease making Jackson prison a sanitarium or pleasure resort. Make it a place of punishment."

These are four remedies suggested yesterday by judge C. B. Grant, of the Michigan supreme court for the lessening of crime in this or any other state of the union. Judge Grant's remarks were made in the course of an address delivered before the Business men's class of the Martha Holmes Memorial M. E. church. They were forcible, comprehensive and clear cut, and spared no one who appeared to the judge to be culpable. The warden of Jackson prison was criticised through his administration and the head of the prison at Marquette was complimented.

"That crime is less in some other parts of the civilized world than in the United States is well established," said the judge. "Chicago, with one-third the area of London, England, has six times as many murders, but in London, in a given twelve months, all but four of the offenders were brought to justice, and these four committed suicide. During the same time in Chicago, 106 murderers escaped punishment. In nineteen cases there were no arrests at all. In fifty-three, those arrested and tried were not convicted. There were nine murderers hanged in London, one in Chicago. It takes five or six times as long to try a case in the United States as in England.

"Most of the criminals in this country are young. Out of a given 30,000 there were 26,798 under 30 years of age and nearly 10,000 less than 20 years old.

"Today an army of boys is commencing its career of crime.

"There are no cities in Michigan and few villages, that do not have their gangs of criminal boys on the streets at night. Some are punished for their wrong doing, some get off through family influence, some simply pay fines and return to their friends to boast of their crimes and their escape. He who will walk the streets from 7 to 11 o'clock at night will see the first school of crime.

"The policy at our northern prison in Marquette is on the other hand quite different. Men are made to feel that they are in a place of punishment. The warden uses the lash upon occasion, yet he is humane. This is as it should be. Criminals should have plain fare, and should be made to work as hard as a proper without injury to health. They should not live in comfort or luxury. Don't you know that our jails are places of refuge to tramps who seek entrance for the winter months in order that they may be housed and fed without effort?

"Recently I received a letter from a friend in London, England, to whom the warden of a British prison had said. "If we treated our prisoners as well here as you do yours in the United States, there would be a long waiting line continually extending around the block." How long before we come to this?

"Our prisons should not be open to the public. When the gates close behind a convict he should be dead to the world except perhaps to his relatives until those same gates swing open to release him.

"A prison should not be a place for the exhibition of 'heroes' or monsters of crime. When a jail is open on Sunday so that 3,000 persons may see a pair or notorious criminals, it is not creditable either to the jailors or to the public that enters."

Berrien Probate Judge Heads Michigan Association

Flint, Sept. 29.—The Michigan judges of probate disposed of what business remained to be transacted yesterday and adjourned to meet at Sault Ste. Marie next year. No date was set for the 1906 meeting, except that it should be held sometime be-

The committee on legislation was instructed to use its influence with the next legislature to defeat a movement said to be contemplated by the state association of county agents to have the juvenile offender law amended so as to place jurisdiction in such cases with the probate court.

D. E. Hampton, the Marquette ex-convict who claims Warden Russell has been punishing prisoners too severely, had an interview with Governor Warner, at Lansing. Hampton told his story at length, declaring that convicts had been driven to suicide by ill treatment at the prison.
Governor Warner declined to say whether he would take official action on the charges.

While hastening to the Grand Trunk station, at Flint on Friday, to meet a friend who was coming from Port Huron to visit her, Mrs. Clarence Adrian was struck and killed by the train on which her expected guest was a passenger. The accident happened at the Liberty street crossing. There is a sharpe curve at that point and she did not hear the train until it was to late.

Curtis F. Ford, of Kalamazoo, frieght agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad, and T.
J. Kiser, of Grand Rapids, Mich., traveling representative of the "Big Four" road, were the victims of an accident last Tuesday afternoon, in which Ford was seriously bruised, and Kiser had his collar bone broken and head badly cut. The men were driving when the horse suddenly became unmanageable and dashed in front of a fast moving street car, which crushed the buggy and dragged the victims some distance before the car was stopped.

George Beebe, a former city treasurer of South Haven, who disappeared from here ten years ago with a part of the funds of the local Odd Fellows' lodge, has been heard from.
He was accidentally shot in a small Texas town, where he had been put, on guard to watch for chicken thieves who were doing business in the neighborhood. Beebe is believed to have been shot by his own gun, the trigger having caught in the twig of a brush.

Lydia Davis, of Lapeer, a maiden lady, aged 55 years, was seriously injured Friday. She had started to drive across a railroad track when she saw a train was coming. She turned the rig around, and the horse, becoming frightened, threw her into a ditch. Her spine was injured and she was hurt internally. Her recovery is in doubt.

School Notes

HIGH SCHOOL

Harry Binns and Edgar Ham presented to the high school a fine framed engraving of U. S. Grant. It adds much to the appearance of our room and is greatly appreciated by pupils and teachers.

The parents may soon expect the reports for the first month.

The following in the fifth grade stood 100 in the written lesson in Arithmetic given Friday: Winifred Andrews, Cappie Barnes, Anna Keller, Solly Hershonow,

Joe Voorhees and Anna Keller of the fifth grade stood up the longest in Spelling, Friday, both missing on the same word.

All classes in Arithmetic in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades were given a test over the month's work. Freeda Hershonow, Myrtle Lentz and Florence Keller, 7th grade and Irene Fuller and Cora Lentz 8th grade stood 100. Several others nearly reached that mark.

Seventh graders made some very good landscape drawing this week, making use of the charcoal sticks.
One of the best handed in by Guy Burks.

A collection of the best drawings this month have been placed in the Art Corner for exhibition. We hope their will be more names added to our present list of artists.

Eleven out of a class of twenty-one in Civics in sixth grade stood "a" in a test given Friday.

George Koons entered sixth grade last week. Charlie Southerton entered this week-making our number thirty-four.

Kelsey Bainton drawing of the ball-mit was considered by the grade the best work of the class during the past month, and as a result is in the frame.

In a spelling test of fifty words studied during the month the following named pupils of fourth grade spelled all correctly: Sarah Eisele, Jennie Lentz, Iva Smith, Irving Swartz, Susie Baltard, Elmo Phillips and Elmer Conrad.

The following pupils of fourth grade have been neither absent nor tardy during the past month: Lester McGowan, Elmo Phillips, George Bird, Susie Ballard, Sarah Eisele, Bernice Beck, Gertrude Bainton, Jennie Lentz, Earl Graffort, Nora Barr Clifford Stopp, Esther Batchelor, Adelaide Couse and Clarence Cooper.

The per cent of attendance last month was 96 in third grade.

Sam Swartz and John Southerton entered the third grade Monday.

Science work for third grade this week will be with seeds and grains.
The milk-weed pod and wheat will be observed.

The eighth grade pupils are now reading Evangeline. An interesting note book is kept by each pupil, containing what he considers the good description, apt figures and strong comparisons.

Some good compositions of the eighth grade on "My Walk to School" have been handed in this week, showing originality and power of observation.

Much interest seems to be taken by the eighth graders in reporting current events on Friday's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Smith, of Mishawaka, are the happy parents of a three pound boy, that arrived at their home last Saturday.

A telephone operator in a neighboring town was startled when she answered a call to hear the question, "Will you marry me?" But she recovered at once and answered: "Yes, who is this talking?"

"It is seldom that one has the opportunity of hearing a family of ten in concert, where everyone is a genius and can play upon almost any instrument, recite, sing and entertain with such pleasing variety."

Outrageous Conduct

Of Berrien Springs Marshall When He Arrested the Buchanan Boys in that Village

Last Saturday the high school football team went to Berrien Springs for a game with the local team of that place. This game was to be one of the attractions of the fair for that day. The game was played early in the afternoon, and was a good clean foot ball all around and resulted in a victory for the Buchanan team the score being 17 to 0.

Nearly all the players had returned home after the game, but a load of Buchanan boys including one H. S. player, started for home about 5 o'clock in McCollin's rig. As is customary in starting out the boys gave three cheers for the Buchanan team. The village marshal who was much under the influence of liquor, rushed out, seized the team and drove back to the village jail where every one in the rig including the driver, was locked up. The Berrien team and many of the citizens gathered about the jail and threatened to mob the marshal if the boys were not released. They were kept locked up for nearly half an hour and then the marshal released them after threatening to have them punished if they ever tried to bring suit against him for his act.

The boys were entirely innocent of any act that would merit such treatment and the matter will be thoroughly investigated. It is a matter of no small importance to have boys 12 and 14 years of age feel that they are looked upon as criminals.

The Salisbury Family will appear in the Presbyterian church, Saturday evening, Oct. 7. Prices 15 and 25 cents.

The following is clipped from the Marshall Daily Times, Sept. 30:—L. Wherle, buttermaker for the Marshall Creamery Co., received a telegram today from the judge of the state educational scoring contest at Detroit, stating that his butter scored 99 the highest which was awarded. His score at the State Fair was 95 1/2, which shows the big quality of the Marshall creamery product." Mr. Wherle will be remembered to many of the Buchanan people who are more than pleased to hear of his success.

The Berrien County fair that was held at Berrien Springs last Saturday was a disappointment to the members of the association. They had planned on an attendance of 700 or 800 and up to about 1:30 they were about 30 on the grounds, and the estimated attendance of the day was about 200 or perhaps 250 at the most. There was a fine exhibition of horses, cattle, sheep and swine at the fair. During the afternoon a foot ball game was played Berrien Springs vs Buchanan, with our boys carrying off the honors of the day with a score of 17 to 0.

The villages of Sawyer, New Troy and Bridgman are suffering from a sugar famine. These places are located near each other and not a single merchant in any of the towns had a pound of sugar for sale. This condition existed all last week on account of the failure of the railroads to deliver freight. The merchants have had to haul much of their stock from the wholesale houses in Benton Harbor, because they cannot have the goods delivered from either Chicago or Grand Rapids without long delay.

BADLY BURNED

The 18 Month old Baby of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Paul the Little Sufferer

There comes to our community the news of a most horrible accident, which befell the 18 months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Paul, of Bloomington, Ill., but formerly of this village, which occurred about a week ago.

While getting ready to go out for a ride, Mrs. Paul stood the baby in a chair beside the dresser, putting on its little cloak and bonnet, after which she stepped to the closet to get her own wraps when the baby lost its balance, grabbed a hold of the dresser scarf on which stood a burning lamp, and overturned the oil on the child which was immediately a mass of flames.

The child's face was burned beyond recognition besides the hands being badly injured. The little one having its cloak on was the only thing that saved the body from being burnt.

A doctor was immediately sent for who attended the little sufferer. Hope was entertained for its recovery, but yesterday morning came the sad news that the little one had passed away at 6 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Paul have the sympathy of their friends in their sad bereavement.

WEDDING NUPTIALS

Will be Solemnized in the Near Future by a Deaf Mute Preacher

A BUCHANAN YOUNG MAN

Will Take Unto Himself a Bride, Miss Nellie Maher of Grand Haven

A decidedly odd wedding will soon culminate a genuine romance, which had its inception at the Michigan school for the Deaf at Flint, several years ago.

Jesse A. Waterman and Miss Nellie Maher are the "silent" couple referred to, and in whose hearts Cupid has buried his shafts.

Mr. Waterman, who is 25 years of age, is a native of the village of Buchanan, Mich., and was in a perfectly normal condition until he attained to the age of five years, when a playmate exploded a large fire-cracker close to his ears, thereby permanently destroying the sense of hearing.

In 1891 the young man entered the Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint, from which institution he graduated in 1900. While at the school, Mr. Waterman gave evidence of the ambition and activity, which have characterized his career since he left his Alma Mater, he having been a member of all the organizations of the school, of which he was one of the chief mainstays. He started the Literary Society Monthly and was its editor in chief and business manager for three years. He passed the examination for admission to Gallandel College for the Deaf at Washington, D. C. which is the only college for the deaf in the world, but instead of going there after graduation he went to Chicago to organize the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, of which organization he was corresponding secretary for seven years.

While at school at Flint, Mr. Waterman learned the printing trade and incidentally developed a taste for the profession of ad. writer, hence he finally retired from active life in the above named society, in order to realize his ambition to become an expert ad. writer, and last February went to St. Joseph to accept a position in the advertising department of the Gas Power and Threshermen's Review.

Miss Maher, whom Mr. Waterman is to wed ere long, also attended the Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint, and was prominently identified with the ladies' clubs there. She was graduated in 1897 and for a number of years thereafter resided at Grand Haven, finally returning to the school at Flint to fill a position as instructor in the dressmaking department, where nearly a hundred girls learned to sew, fit and measure. For four years she served as an instructor after which she returned home to Grand Haven, where she now lives in joyous anticipation of the forthcoming nuptial event.

The Lovers converse largely by signs, a single sign often meaning as much as could be communicated orally in a whole sentence. They make rapid signs and like the whiff of a flashlight the meaning is comprehended.

Mr. Waterman says: "The deaf as a rule, meet many obstacles on account of their affliction, but they are gradually being recognized as capable of performing many things where the sense of hearing is not necessary."

The young man is able to talk, but Miss Maher is both deaf and dumb, as the result of a siege of the measles, when she was seven years of age.

Two of her brothers are deaf and dumb from the same cause, but none of hers or of Mr. Waterman's parents' people were ever afflicted in this way.

The young people are very proficient at lip-reading, although Mr. Waterman says, in this regard, as respects himself: "I did not make a practice of lip-reading and talking until I went to St. Joseph, where I found many friends who interested themselves in encouraging me to talk, with the result that today I am a fluent talker and almost hear conversation, whereas a few years ago I was as good as stone deaf and practically unable to talk. Michigan has a large number of deaf citizens, nearly all of whom were educated at the Flint school. And there is not one deaf person in the state prisons."

Mr. Waterman is fond of dancing to music he cannot hear and enjoys sports of all kinds. He has a friend who is deaf and dumb, who is a clergyman in Chicago, and this reverend gentleman will probably officiate at the wedding, to which the young people, in question, eagerly look forward, and it will be one of the most unique weddings that ever took place in Michigan.

The young man met his affianced bride at the Flint school, and the entire courtship has been carried on by signs, or in the mute language, at which both are wonderfully proficient.

There is every prospect that in their married life, these young people, who are happy under the misfortune which has visited them, will have the full measure of bliss and they will go down Life's pathway hand in hand as contentedly as if they were in full possession of all the senses. In any event, there will be no trouble over who shall have the last word of an argument.

The Record with their many friends join in with hearty congratulations for this coming event. Miss Maher has been a visitor in this place numerous times, and during those times has made many friends by her sweet and gracious manner.
