

Geo. Wyman & Co.

We clean house right after Christmas each year. What we mean by that is, we get out all the "old soldiers," what we call stayers, and stand them in rows along the counters and ask them a few questions, such as, "How long have you been here?" "Do you like it here?" "Don't you want to move?" etc. Invariably they remonstrate and say, "This is a good warm place with plenty of water and matches, and we would rather stay right here," but we clean out the goods each year. You can buy many useful and good things cheap, for we must have the space they occupy for new goods, as each season we want seasonable goods—see?

TO BERRIEN SPRINGS.

Schedule for Running Interurban Cars.
Commenced Monday.

Ho for Berrien Springs! Regular interurban cars of the South Bend
and Southern Michigan Railway company was placed in operation Monday, Jan. 1, 1906. The first car leaves Niles at 6:50 a. m. and returning will leave Berrien Springs at 7:30
a. m. Cars will run north every hour and a half up to 8:50 p. m. and up to 9:30 p. m.

The fare one way will be 15 cents and round trip 25 cents, making a very low rate. The schedule is only temporary, and may be changed at any time.

All will surely have a ride to Berrien Springs, if for no other purpose than to see the largest and most expensive interurban bridge ever constructed. A little later and the road will be opened up through to St. Joseph, when it is certain that the passenger traffic will be the heaviest of any interurban line in the country, as thousands of people will visit old St.
Joseph, where in the good old summer time, cooling breezes from Lake Michigan will invigorate, and where amusements abound galore.

WEDDING NUPTIALS

Of Miss Leota Mae Ellison and
Ralph David Kean

HAVE THE BEST WISHES

Of Their Many Friends in and About
This Vicinity

"I have the pleasure of presenting
to their friends Mr. and Mrs. R. D.
Kean." In these words the Rev. G.
B. Hatch concluded the ceremony which united the lives of Ralph David Kean and Leota Mae Ellison.

More than ordinary interest attached to the announcement of this wedding because of the multitude of friends which Mr. Kean and Miss Ellison have in Three Oaks and vicinity where they have lived during many years. Mr. Kean's school days were followed by his graduation from the New Troy schools. After teaching in New Troy he continued his studies in Olivet, and was later called to the superintendency of the Three Oaks schools, occupying the position until he removed to Albion to complete his college course. Miss Ellison received a large part of her grammar school, and her entire high school training, in Three Oaks, graduating from the local schools in 1902.
During recent years she has rendered faithful and efficient service to the musical departments of the Congregational church, and has always been ready to do a little more than her share in the work of the church, the Sunday school and the Endeavor Society.

The wedding which occurred on Wednesday had been anticipated by the friends of the young people since 1903, the last year of Mr. Kean's residence in Three Oaks, and though no formal announcement of betrothal was ever made public the wedding was the culmination of a virtual engagement covering a period of more than two years.

The ceremony Wednesday afternoon was characterized by simplicity and beauty. As the clock struck two Mrs.
Hatch touched a cord on the piano
which brought an immediate hush over the party of forty guests. To the music of a love song Mr. Kean and Miss Ellison walked quietly into the bay window, and under a canopy of smilax faced the minister who,
using a most impressive service, pronounced them husband and wife.
After their formal introduction Mr.
and Mrs. Kean were heartily congratulated by their friends present. A dainty two-course luncheon preceded the departure of the Kears for Albion, where Mr. Kean is a professor.

The bride wore a handsome gown
of white crepe de chene with a bertha of duchesse lace and carried a boquet of narcissus and white carnations.
The house decorations were
of smilax.

The wedding guests prized the opportunity of seeing the wedding presents—a pretty array of silver and cut glass with pictures, vases and many other articles of household use and beauty, among them a mahogany chair, the gift of the church and Sunday school which Miss Ellison served.

The guests from out of town included relatives of the bride from Marengo and Chicago; and relatives of the bridegroom from Chicago and Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Kean are at home at 501 Bidwell St. Albion, Michigan.

The above is taken from the Three Oaks Acorn, announcing the wedding of a highly respected Buchanan boy.
The RECORD and many friends extend congratulations.

Pere Marquette Employees Taking an Interest

General Passenger Agent H. F.
Moeller of the Pere Marquette, was in Grand Rapids Friday night, it being his first visit to the city since the dissolution of the arrangement by which the road became part of the Erie system, and since it entered into the hands of a receiver.

"The severance of all relations between the Pere Marquette and other railroads, the appointment of a receiver and the throwing of the property back into the hands of the people who had previously made a success of the road, is the best thing that could have happened to the Pere Marquette," said Mr. Moeller.

"Some assurance of continuity of ownership in essential to the discipline which makes a railroad a success or a failure. The Pere Marquette has 7,000 employees in Michigan and this arm of men has not known for several years past whether they would hold their jobs a day or not. The result was lax discipline which no sort of internal management could overcome. Now the situation is different. Discipline is fast returning. The employees feel secure in their positions, their old-time loyalty is returning, and I believe the general public is showing a fairer attitude toward the railroad
since the source of all its misfortunes has been removed.

"We have just settled back into the saddle determined to give Michigan the sort of railroad service the Pere Marquette is capable of giving,
and we hope and believe we shall be permitted to do this without outside interference.

"Every official of the road has the utmost confidence in the ability of Receiver Harmon to straighten out the tangles. He is not a railroad man, but he is a business and professional man of fine executive ability, and while he works with the financial end he has left the railroading part to the railroad men."

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

It will nourish and strengthen the body when milk and cream fail to do it. Scott's Emulsion is always the same; always palatable and always beneficial where the body is wasting from any cause, either in children or adults.

The best evidence that automobiles are not hurting the horse trade is that the town in Massachusetts where nearly all the whips are made reports a bigger business than ever in 1905.

"Here, come back, mister and pay for that meal you've got away with, or I'll shoot yer' see?" said the proprietor of a restaurant in the Klondike region to a half-starved, impetuous wretch, who was trying to sneak out without settling his bill. The stranger sauntered back and looked calmly at the revolver his host was pointing at him and replied: "Go ahead, boss, shoot if you like, I don't mind a gun; at first I thought it was a stomach pump."

Gorton's Celebrated band has long had the reputation of being the best organization of its kind traveling. This season will prove no exception as the band is composed of some of the best musicians known to the profession. They have an extensive repertoire, ranging from popular selections of the day, to the more difficult solos and overtures, all of which are rendered in the faultless manner characteristic of the Gorton band. The company will be seen at Rough's Opera House Saturday Jan. 9.

The approaching engagement of Gorton's Minstrels at Rough's Opera House is looked forward to with pleasure by all lovers of this popular form of amusement. Gorton's Minstrels have long been regarded as one of the standard attractions which may always be depended upon to more than fulfill all promises, and the addition this season of many new and importance features insures a performance of unusual excellence. A street parade, unrivalled in its magnificent and costly equipment, will be given at noon.

Joseph, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Voorhees met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. He had driven up to the Pere Marquette depot with some parcels, when his horse became frightened and ran. The little lad not having the reins in his hands grabbed onto the dash board and the horse kicked the back of his fingers breaking several of them. He was at once taken to Dr. Peck's office and received medical attendance. We trust he will not suffer any disfigurement from the accident.

The thirteenth annual reunion of the Salisbury family was held at the pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Sebasty on Christmas day. At the first meeting there was only eleven members, at the last the number had increased to twenty two. Two members by marriage and nine births in thirteen years. All regretted that great grandpa Mr. N. Hamilton was unable to be with us as on former occasions. A most bounteous dinner was served to which all did ample justice. After dinner the company was ushered into the parlor where a fine Christmas tree stood laden with gifts for all, and lighted by numerous candles. A short program was rendered by the younger members and the remainder of the time spent in pleasant conversation. Many fine presents were received but Mrs. Wilson and Jerome think theirs was the best of all. As they departed all voted the day one of the happiest of their lives and with the wish that they may all meet again next year.

Millions of Wrappers Mailed Into South Bend from the East.

Cigarette wrappers by the millions have been shipped into South Bend by the tobacco trust during the last week and the employees of Uncle Sam will be obliged to whoop things up to get rid of the mammoth consignment.

The wrappers arrived in regular mails, each package being covered with a one cent postage stamp and under a cover notifying the postmaster to return all undelivered packages to the sender. This is the second lot of the "makins" of the coffin nails which has reached South Bend since the anti-cigarette law went into effect.

The mailing list appears to have been made up from a South Bend directory at least two years old as the carriers know of several instances where the persons addressed have not resided at the number given in the address for that length of time. Many are also addressed to persons who have moved from South Bend.

Each package contains 231 wrappers of alleged rice paper and a notice calling the attention of the receiver to the fact that an unlimited supply of wrappers will be furnished to all persons who send a two cent stamp to the New York office of the trust. With 231 papers to the packages, 21 packages to the pound and 49 pounds to the sack, it is easy to figure that the consignment contains 3,535,485 wrappers.

POWER OF LIFE AND DEATH

Trick with a Possum-Playing Adder That Was Too Much for the Natives.

There is a pug-nosed belligerent little reptile known as the hog-nosed adder that has a trick of playing possum when attacked. If it once gets started on the role the snake can be tied into knots and handled indiscriminately for an hour or more.

While snake hunting in the south a year or two ago, relates the New York Sun, Mr. Ditmars plotted to win the admiration of his guide and the population by announcing that he had marvelous powers. He was endowed with the gift of destroying life by a sign.

The natives had never heard of this possum stunt of their dreading adder, and when the performer formed them in a circle around a specimen found in the fields they quaked in their boots; such as had boots.

The magician advanced rapidly as if to attack the inclosed snake, pointed his finger to the sky, muttered to himself, and the adder obediently turned on its back. It was timidly passed from hand to hand.

The performer beamed with satisfaction. He would go one better. If the audience would form a larger circle he would restore life to the dead reptile.

The audience obeyed. The snake found all surroundings peaceable after a few minutes, and turned over, to slide away to parts unknown.

Mr. Ditmars faced around to accept the admiration of his guides, but the landscape was all still life. To the last ragged urchin his assistant snakes were gone, never to exhibit their faces in camp again.

HOW JAP STUDENTS CHEAT

Pay for One Tuition Only and Learn Enough at Least for Two.

While Minister Takahira was at Portsmouth, he one morning chanced to overhear a remark made by a Rockingham guest, who ventured the opinion that lazy and slotful nations disliked the earnest, progressive little Japs—disliked them because they dreaded them. Half smiling the diplomat from the Land of the Rising Sun turned, relates the New York Times, and, with an apology for taking part in the conversation, said: "Excuse me, gentlemen, but I heard only the other day something which bears most closely upon what you say.

"It was in Washington, and two ladies whom I have the honor of knowing were talking. Said one: 'The Japanese should be excluded from America. No sooner do their young men come over here and matriculate in our schools and colleges but they begin a systematic course of cheating.' 'You don't say so!' exclaimed the other; 'why, how is that?'

"Quite simple," returned the first speaker. 'They only pay for one tuition, and they always learn at least enough for two.' "

Employer—Well, what did he say to you?

Clerk—That he'd break every bone in my body and throw me out of the window if I showed my face in his office again!

"Then go back and tell him that he needn't think he can intimidate me by his violence."—Cassell's.

Gold King Is Dead

Frank Phiscator Commits Suicide in San Francisco, With Razor

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Frank Phiscator, the "Gold King" committed suicide in this city last night by cutting his throat with a razor. No cause is known.

Ten years ago, Phiscator was a care free farmer near Baroda. He was taken with the Klondike fever, started for the gold fields in the frozen north and after two years of hardships and privations struck it "rich." His wealth is estimated at $3,000,000.

The above states the startling news of a man known throughout this community. Upon one of his return trips from Klondike he was united in wedlock to Mrs. Edna Boyd Bunker. Mrs. Phiscator was formerly a Buchanan girl, and her friends extend their sympathy in her bereavement.

If all the January 1st resolutions were kept for a whole year, this old world would be too good to live in.

Examining Counsel; "What do you do for a living?"

Don't, do anything for a living soul. I'm an undertaker."

About 40 couple attended the Auf Weider Sehen Dancing club at the Pears-East hall last Friday night. A general good time was enjoyed, and all report the music excellent.

Next Saturday evening will occur the joint installation of G. A. R. and the Ladies Circle. The ladies will serve a lunch to the members of the post and their families.

"Say, waiter, tea's sprinkled in this butter, and your pepper is half peas."

"You're mistaken, sah; dis house don't serve sech stuff. Every thing's just class beah, sah."

"All the same, tea's in the butter and the pepper is half peas. Just you spell them and see."

Two Niles men agreed to swear off drinking last New Year's. The penalty was that each one should deposit a penny in a penny box every time he took a drink. As a result one of them has bought a 40 H. P. automobile, a 300 acre farm and six houses and lots in town with the pennies in his bank, while the other has started on a trip around the world in his own private yacht. Still, some folks say New Year's resolutions amount to nothing.

An Indian Territory editor makes this frank remark: "Ten years ago we entered the newspaper poor, but honest. We are still poor."

The following is a clipping from the Niles Star announcing a concert which is to occur soon, with a former Buchanan lady as one of the chief executives: The people of Niles are to have a treat the evening of January 18 by way of the Choral club, assisted by some of the best singers of South Bend, and Miss Alfante, violinist. It is hoped that our people will encourage the singers by their patronage the same as they have the band concerts and refrain from card parties and other entertainments on the same evening so that everybody can attend.

A Berrien Springs girl who knows all about the matter says that being in love is very much like being homesick, only that it is entirely different and a million times worse.

Alice rushed in from the garden, where she had been picking flowers. She was badly stung by a bee, and was holding onto her finger and sobbing pitifully.

"Oh, mamma," she cried, "I burned me on a bug!"

Bobby—"Is God everywhere?" Mother (patiently)—"Yes, Bobby."

Bobby—"Is he in the tea pot?" Mother (embarrassed)—"Why-why yes."

Bobby—"Is he in the sugar bowl?" Mother (frantically)—"Yes! I told you God was everywhere."

Bobby (triumphantly, placing his hand over the top of the sugar bowl)—"Hurrah! I've got him!"—Woman's Home Companion for January.

Something of the excitement attending the discovery of gold fields is shown by the story of the Australian official who wished to telegraph the news of the finding precious metal in his district. A small boy, seeking for a stone to throw at a crow, had picked up what proved to be a nugget of pure gold. In excitement the official overlooked the main point entirely and wrote this telegram: "Boy picked up a stone to throw at a crow," and nothing more.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature."—these are some of the phrases one hears from noted people who read the Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, first and foremost.

Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

BATTLES IN GALE

Tug Edward K. Wins in a Struggle With Raging Sea

BIG BLIZZARD IS NOW DUE

Barometer at Noon Lower Than at Time of Chicora Storm—Wind Shifts to Northwest With Velocity of 40 Miles an Hour

The fishing tug Edward K., the most powerful of the St. Joseph fleet, fought and won a battle Friday afternoon with the terrible gale raging on Lake Michigan. Caught by the first onslaught of the storm while at the fishing grounds north of the harbor the little craft started on the return to port, and after being battered for over three hours by a sea gaining in strength every minute, reached the piers in safety shortly before 2 o'clock.

Scores of watchers were on the shore, at times fearful that the tug would be unable to hear the attacks of the gale and escape with serious mishap.

The Edward K. came out of the battle without damage and with crew uninjured but drenched to the skin and benumbed with cold.

The tug is owned by Capt. Alex. Cran, commanding, and Herman Balow, engineer.

The first great blizzard of the year has arrived. At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon the wind registered a velocity of 45 miles an hour and was in creasing hourly. The barometer at the store of Schaefer, Hauser & Gast, St. Joseph, at noon had dropped to 28.45, several points lower than at the time of the Chicora storm. The wind within a few hours had shifted from southwest to northwest and within a few hours the thermometer had fallen several degrees.

IN MEMORIAM.

ROY BROWN.

"This community was intensely shocked and grieved Tuesday afternoon to learn of the death, at his parents' home of Roy Brown, with Bright's Disease. As he has been clerking in a clothing stores in Aberdeen for several years, few knew that he had been home or that he was ill.

Deceased was nearly twenty-one years of age, a graduate of the Groton schools of the class of 1902, a fine student during his school days and a young man of much promise. His death will be learned with deep sorrow by a host of friends, and a stricken family will have the sympathy of this entire community.

Funeral services were held at the M. E. church Friday afternoon at 2:00."

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Brown former residents of Buchanan and a nephew of Mrs. Mary Straw and Miss Mattie Brown of this place.
