SAVES WIFE THEN DIES

Aubrey Sutherland of The Harbor Drowned in Lake After Heroic Battle

SEA CAPSIZES THE CANOE

Justice Ara Weldon Sees Danger and Goes to Rescue in Launch Saving
Woman From Death by a Miracle

Successful in a struggle to save his wife from death in Lake Michigan, Aubrey Sutherland of Benton Harbor, became exhausted in his attempt to swim a mile to shore and was drowned, early Wednesday evening outside of the piers at St. Joseph.

The couple had been sailing in a canoe, and in attempting to turn around the little craft was capsized. By a miracle Mrs. Sutherland was rescued, brought to the life saving station and restored to consciousness after two hours' work by Dr. A. H. Scott.

Justice Ara Weldon, of Benton Harbor, in whose canoe Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland were sailing, is the hero in the saving of the woman. Worried because they had dared the choppy sea on the lake in the frail little boat he had gone to the end of the south pier and in watching the movement of the canoe saw Mrs. Sutherland wave. Believing that an accident had happened he hurried back to the dock, procured a launch and went out into the lake. Mrs. Sutherland unconscious, was found clinging to the side of the overturned boat. No trace of Mr. Sutherland could be found.

It was the saddest accident of the season. The Sutherland family are pioneers in this county and the drowned man, connected with the postoffice in Benton Harbor for several years, was well known and popular.

The body of the drowned man was not recovered. Capt. Stevens of the life saving station thinks that with westerly winds it may be washed up upon shore within the next few days.

The drowning was replete with dramatic features. The spirit of adventure which seized the couple and tempted them to try their fortunes with the canoe on the rough waters of Lake Michigan, the heroic battle made by the husband to save the life of Mrs. Sutherland, his last words to his wife when he realized that he was to lose his life, the thrilling experiences of the rescuing party, and the story of Mrs. Sutherland, make the accident one of the most sensational that has occurred in the twin cities for several years.

When the canoe had capsized and Sutherland, holding his wife in one arm, swam with her to the overturned canoe and placed her out of immediate danger he had secured the rope attached to the bow of the canoe and was making an effort to swim to shore when he was overcome with exhaustion. Turning to his wife he lifted himself out of the water with a supreme effort and calmly said in farewell:

"I can't keep up much longer sis. You take care of the children. Hang to the canoe and you will drift to shore."

He sank and was drowned.

Justice Weldon and a friend were sailing in the canoe in the harbor during the afternoon. About four o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland and their seven year old son, Carlisle, on the way back from Silver Beach saw Mr. Weldon paddling near the dock. Sutherland hailed him and they conversed for a few minutes. In pushing out into the river again Mr. Weldon offered to give the Sutherlands use of the canoe when he returned in a few minutes. They accepted the offer. It was five o'clock when Weldon returned to his mooring place. The Sutherlands were there waiting for him and he turned the craft over to them.

"Do you want to go with mamma and I?" asked the father of his little son.

"No, I am afraid. I would rather stay with Mr. Weldon" was the reply. The couple sailed up the river in the direction of the Pere Marquette bridge but turned around shortly and steered towards the mouth of the harbor. Justice Weldon and his friend, with the Sutherland boy walked to Silver Beach.

Scores of people saw the canoe as it left the piers and their were numerous expressions of fear for their safety. Mr. Sutherland was quite adept in the handling of small craft and had no trouble with the canoe.

From Silver Beach pavilion Mr. Weldon saw a canoe in the lake about a mile from shore and he wondered if it was possible that his friend had ventured out in the sea with the little boat. The sail was up and he could see the canoe bobbing up and down in the choppy sea. I worried him. He returned to the pier, and when he found no trace of the Sutherlands in the river he was sure that it was their craft outside of the harbor.

In telling the story Thursday Mr. Weldon said: "I was angry to think that Aubrey would be so daring as to venture out into the lake, and especially with such a stiff breeze blowing."

From the end of the south pier Weldon was able to get a better view of the canoe. This time it looked as if the sail had been taken down and it made him feel somewhat easier. At this time, however, it is probable that Sutherland was making his fight for life. A few moments later he saw a hand wave from the canoe. He was certain then that there had been an accident and hastened in to the dock and without hesitation hired a launch to take him to the scene.

The swells on the lake were getting higher and higher all the time and Capt. Albert Hatch had hard work to manage his boat when once they left the protection of the piers. The waning from the canoe was kept up constantly. As the launch cut down the distance Weldon could see that there was but one occupant in the canoe. Coming closer he was horrified to find the canoe turned on its side and Mrs. Sutherland clinging to it. With the assistance of Capt. Hatch he grasped the struggling woman and pulled her into the launch. She was conscious at this time but benumbed with cold.

"Where is Aubrey?" he asked Mrs. Sutherland.

"He is gone an hour ago," was the reply.

"How did it happen?"

"We were turning around and a big wave caught us."

"Are you filled with water?"

"No."

After that Mrs. Sutherland began to lose consciousness and her answers were but mumbblings. The men covered her up with coats and seat cushions, and when it became evident that she had taken in a quantity of water they began working on her to revive her. When the life saving station was reached Capt. Stevens and his men at once took heroic measures to save the woman's life.

About 8 o'clock last night she recovered sufficiently to tell her story. News Palladium.

BLUES TOOK BOTH GAMES

Chicago Independents Played Hard But Were Unable to Win

THE BRILLIANT SUNSHINE

Made Manager Hanlin Forget The Floods of The Past Few Weeks

Wednesday, July 4th dawned bright and clear, and whether it was due to this fact alone, or to the bombardier, who made the night horrible with his infernal machines, Manager Hanlin was up bright and early making the final preparation for the balloon ascension he had arranged as a surprise for the Chicago Independents.

The morning game was called for 10 o'clock, but owing to the inability of one of the players to reach the grounds by that time, Wallace Riley and his "coupe" was dispatched posthaste for the dilatory performer. This delayed the starting of the game somewhat, but at 10:35 Umpire Sanders called the game and Buchanan went to bat, with Stapleman in the box for Chicago, and Imhoff behind the bat. Crouch and Boyle found the battery for Buchanan.

In the first inning the Buchanan team fell all over Stapleman, in the most loving manner possible, the result being 4 scores to their credit, when the side retired. In Chicago's half, one run was scored, but from that time on, throughout the nine innings nothing but owl eyes greeted the visitors.

Buchanan was credited with 16 hits on the official score book, and these with fumbles and errors to the number of 10 made by Chicago, were responsible for the 16 runs that Buchanan secured during the game. With the 6th inning Chicago put Byant in the box, but it made no difference with the Blues.

When the score got to be 10 to 1, the crowd began to call for an even dozen, but when the dozen mark was reached, the funny side of the situation presented itself, and the "fans" took up the now mythological battle cry of the once redoubtable Wm. Jennings, B, and lustily called for the Blues to make it 16 to 1. The team entered into the spirit of the joke, and in the 7th made 3 runs, and in the 8th, one run thus making the score 16 to 1, after that they fanned out or attempted to steel bases, when there was no possible chance for doing so safely, in order to hold the score where it was.

In the afternoon the Buchanan Band played a few selections down town, after which they marched to the ball park, where the second game was called at 2:45, with Chicago at bat. Terry and Boyle were in charge of the firing line for Buchanan, and Garrity and Imhoff for Chicago.

The first inning gave the visitors one run, the same as the morning game, and that one 1st inning run seemed to be their undoing as in the morning, for the balance of the nine innings, showed nothing but "empty circles."

For four innings the locals failed to find the way home, and the game took on a less farcial appearance than the morning game, but in the fifth with all bases full and none out, Garrity got rattled, and allowed Butler to walk, thus giving Buchanan a run, still leaving the bases full. Berry flied out. Boyle rapped out a clean single, scoring Brodrick and Terry. A fumble of Roe's infield rap by Costello landed Roe at 1st, and advanced Butler and Boyle, again filling the bags. Merson drove out a single into left garden that brought Butler and Boyle home, making five runs. Although the locals had men on bases several times after this none came home.

NOTES

Dan Merson made the feature play of the afternoon game by a throw from center to home plate nipping a score from Chicago.

Ferry made a neat double play unassisted. Something very seldom seen.

Brodrick, Butler and Ashby all put up good games on the bases.

Roe was in the game at "short" all of the time.

Crouch and Ferry each played good ball, and each received a credit for nine put outs.

Boyle is a wonder, whether behind the bat, with the stick or running bases.

While the outfield was not kept very busy they were always there when needed and made some good plays.

This makes three games out of five that Buchanan has taken from the Chicago Independents.

OKLAHOMA IS READY

Plans Program For its Admission as State to Union

Washington, July 3.—Oklahoma is planning for its constitutional convention. The scheme is to adopt the constitution in time to elect the first set of state officers in November. The formal admission to the union will be by proclamation of the president, after a constitution has been adopted. One hundred and twelve delegates will sit in the constitutional convention. When congress reconvenes next December five new members of the house will appear from this new state, and the legislature, at its meeting in January, will choose two United States senators, who will probably be in their seats by Feb. 1.

Guthrie is to be the capital of the new state until 1912. The enabling act provides that the voters of the state shall then choose a capital. The presumption is that Guthrie will continue to be the seat of the government. The statehood act contains a strong anti-polygamy act.

ELECTRIC FRANCHISE

Shorn of the Objectionable Clause, Now Acceptable

IT COMES UP TONIGHT

Outlook is That The Council Will Grant
It—See City Lighting

Having shorn the franchise asked for by the Buchanan company, who desire to bring electric current into the city, of the clause permitting them to furnish light in conjunction with power for manufacturing, and having substituted a clause, to the effect that light is to be furnished only in such cases where special permission is had from the council, there is no doubt but that the ordinance will be granted.

The franchise has also been further modified and a clause added to the effect that the Buchanan company is to furnish light to the city, in case the same is needed at any time, at a certain price per street lamp.

Ald. Walsh will present the revised ordinance to the council tonight and there is little doubt but that it will be granted, there no longer being any grounds for the objection that the Buchanan company might compete with the municipal lighting plant.

Ald. L. E. Wood, who has been the leading spirit in pushing the franchise, is satisfied with the proposed amendments and expresses a belief that the Chapin people will accept. He takes it for granted that, in case a manufacturer buys power from the Buchanan company and asks permission of the council to get his light from the same source, the request will be granted, as the city's plant is already loaded to its capacity and cannot furnish manufacturers with light.—Niles Star

How to buy good Clothes

You know your own business, of course, but do you know anything about the clothing you wear? You buy machinery or wagons or live stock, only after a thorough investigation of their merits, yet you buy clothing mainly on its looks behind a fine plate glass window, or because you have been in the habit of buying it at a certain store.

Do you know what is inside of the clothing? Do you know whether the fabric is all-wool? Do you know whether it has been tailored by hand or machine?

Suppose you begin a little investigation. Come in at any time to The Biggest and Best Clothing Store in South Bend, and we will tell you why we allow nothing but dependable fabrics to be used in our clothing, and show you how we test fabrics to prove them all-wool. Why we permit nothing but hand tailored work in the important parts of the clothing, we will even rip open a coat and show you what hand tailor work means.

All sorts of summer suits now ready, including serge and the stylish grays, $10, $12.50, $15, $15.50, $20, $25.

New, desirable styles and dependable qualities of clothing, hats, furnishings and shoes. Select the styles to suit your taste. No other store offers so wide a choice.

Our one price policy gives you the figure anyone is able to get without delay or argument.

Our policy of "money back if you want it" insures confidence in all our dealings.

Only the short session remains to the present Congress, but the big monopolies can see their finish.

One of President Roosevelt's daily tasks is to write a letter depriving somebody of the privilege of voting for him in 1908.

The activity of Vesuvius is something to be feared, but it is not half so fearful as the slumbering volcano which menaces the social life of Pittsburgh.

Rudyard Kipling is said to be losing his readers, The pace set by the Indiana authors' guild has made shelf-warmers out of the Kipling books.

If the icemen were not a cool proposition, they would not, in the present state of public feeling, have attempted to spring a new combine, with prices suddenly marked up 50 per cent.

Besides having plenty for their own use, the farmers of Missouri exported $20,000,000 worth of cereals in 1905. On a pinch, the state of Missouri could take a contract to feed half the civilized world.

Considerable progress has already been made in the Thaw case, but it is safe to say that the prosecution will not be unduly hurried. A dozen lawyers are interested in the case, and the Thaw's have enough money to grease the wheels of justice for some time.

All The Sporting News

The steady reliability with which The Chicago Record Herald presents the sporting news of the whole country each day has made it an authority in this field. It has a large staff of editors and reporters to handle the telegraphic matter and gather the local news in this important department alone. In The Sunday Record-Herald this department has a separate supplement of four full pages—a newspaper in itself, in which all the latest sporting news is presented with numerous illustrations. All that is of interest in baseball, football, racing, athletics, automobilism, yachting, golf, tennis, pugilism, aquatics and other sports can always be found here, along with many special-articles by experts of national reputation. The Record Herald is a favorite among lovers of sport because its sporting columns are written by "men who know."

The "Alcayde"

At the Grand Opera House, Chicago, the new comic opera success, "The Alcayde," continues to fill that big playhouse at every performance with enthusiastic audiences. "The Alcayde" has proved to be a delightful refreshing entertainment and is noteworthy in its decided return to the line of legitimate comic opera. Never has a musical entertainment made the pronounced success in Chicago as has this opera with its exceptionally strong cast, its pretty girls, its tuneful melodies, humorous book and its beautiful stage pictures and settings. The critics of Chicago to a unit, praise "The Alcayde" as the best entertainment of its kind seen in that city in many a moon.

W. L. Hubbard in The Tribune says: "It's in three syllables, and is pronounced Al-Kay dee with the accent on the Kay. You might as well learn to say it correctly, for the show to which it belongs is a success."

Forrest Arden in The Examiner says: "The Alcayde proves delightful at the Grand Opera House."

Burns Mantle in the Inter-Ocean says: "The music of The Alcayde is very good, the lyrics above the average."

Jos McArdle in The Chronicle says: "The audience showed its appreciation from overture to final ensemble."

James O'Donnell Bennett in the Record Herald says: "The music of The Alcayde is richly hued and characteristic. Even more it has a fine exultant swing."

O. L. Hall in The Journal says: "It is splendidly played and is a good entertainment."

Amy Leslie in The News says: "An atmospheric tempting and delightful riot of Spanish Arabian mischief admirably put together."

Percitas Hammond in The Post says: "Is packed with pretty songs some of them soft and soothing as a lullaby, and others full of the tuneful surprises and swiny strains that make for popularity."

The American says: "It is difficult to overpraise The Alcayde."

"The Clansman"

"The Clansman" McVicker's continues to do the biggest summer business ever done in Chicago, and the play is the talk of the town. There have been numerous out-of-town theatre parties and orders for seats are coming in rapidly from towns within a radius of one hundred miles. McVicker's is the coolest theatre in Chicago and it is a delightful place to spend an evening during the warm spells. The 600th performance of this remarkable play took place Monday night, July 2nd, a marvellous record in the time the play has been on the boards.

Such a sensational success has never before been known in the history of the theatre. The play as a play affords a delightful evenings entertainment and the discussion that it has aroused makes it doubly interesting. It is without doubt one of the most popular successes ever seen at McVicker's historic playhouse.

Owing to the tremendous demand for seats, out-of-town patrons are strongly advised to order their seats well in advance, thereby obtaining better locations, and avoiding having to stand in the long line of ticket buyers which is in evidence at every performance. All orders should be accompanied by remittance made payable to the order of Litt & Dingwall. Out-of-town orders will be accepted for the next two weeks.

A large number of the Buchanan citizen's enjoyed the Fourth at Michigan City and St. Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Barnhardt and Mr and Mrs. J. Housewerth and daughter entertained Misses Mary Lydick, Gertrude and Florence Schwartz, Edna Troutfetter and Grace Fowler the Fourth of July at Lake Michigan near Brown's peer. After partaking of a very fine dinner and luncheon late in the afternoon they returned home for the band concert in the evening.

A. A. WORTHINGTON, P. M.

A young lady experienced in handling drygoods, who can give reference, can get a permanent position with good pay by writing to or calling on Ben Oppenheim, Dowagiac, Mich.

The Ministerial Picnic, that was held on the Niles hill, Wednesday, was not as largely attended as desired. An excellent and very appropriate address was delivered by the Rev. J. P. Martindale, pastor of the Christian Church. Special music was also enjoyed by all present. The day was an ideal one for a picnic, and a general good time is reported by all in attendance.

Jennie Levins, a little Jewish girl who came to Benton Harbor with her mother Wednesday to spend the remainder of the summer and who made their summer residence at the corner of East Main street and Fair avenue in Benton Harbor was drowned in a cistern yesterday afternoon and was found only when water was drawn from it a half hour afterwards.

Miss Maggie Nieb met with a painful accident, Wednesday evening, while down town in front of C. B. Treat's grocery store. She had a skyrocket in her hand, which she lit, and as the result is suffering from a badly burned hand and arm. Miss Nieb at once went to the office of Dr. O. Curtis, who dressed the injured member.

A number of the Buchanan young ladies went to Three Rivers to spend the Fourth, and on their return they report a terrible incident that they witnessed. A young man was standing on the walk with a large cannon cracker in his arms back of him, when someone came up behind him and lit the fuse without his knowledge, which exploded and at the same time blew the unfortunate man's arm off. This is a sad incident, and should be a warning for all boys to be more careful in the future.

A Niles young woman was placed in an aggravating position the other day, judging by the following from the Star. "It was a warm evening, and they sat outside. Suddenly she reached quickly up to her back hair and plucked something therefrom, throwing it violently from her. She shrieked: "These! That was a great big pinchbug just about to bite me. Her gallant spouse deftly crushed the offender under his heel, and the next day she was mad because broken bits of her very best back comb were all over the porch."

Quite Original. Lady Novelist—I'd like to have my name do something absolutely unique.

Friend—Yes? Why don't you make her faint when there is no one looking?—Royal.

Almost an Insult. "That suit you have on," said the chap who always talks whether he has anything to say or not, "is a dead ringer for one my brother has."

BLOOD DISEASED MEN.

If you ever contracted any blood disease you are never safe unless the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Have you any of the following symptoms? Sore throat, ulcers on the tongue or in the mouth, hair falling out, aching palms, itching of the skin, sores or blotches on the body, eyes red and smart, dyspeptic stomach, sexual weakness—indications of the secondary stage. Don't let quacks experiment on you. Our New Method Treatment is guaranteed to cure you. Our guarantees are backed by bank bonds, that the disease will never return. Thousands of patients have been already cured by our New Method Treatment for over 20 years. No names used without written consent.

WELL-MADE CHEAP SLED.
Construction of Handy Conveyance for Use on Farm in the Winter Time.

I have used with much satisfaction for three or four years a sled made on the plan shown in the cut, writes a correspondent of a farm paper. The runners and benches are seasoned hardwood 3 x 5 inches. The former is cut in two pieces to form the crook and fastened securely at the joint with a couple of half-inch bolts. The top pieces or raves are hardwood 1 1/4 x 5 inches. A notch is cut semi-circular, one-half inch deep on both sides and three inches from ends of benches, so that when the eight one-inch oak pins are driven down through raves and into the runners the whole is held firmly together. It can be made any size, but mine is 9 1/2 feet long and 3 1/4 feet wide. For hauling corn shocks to the barn for husking and green fodder to cattle, plows, harrows, etc., to and from the field, it is very handy. On bare ground the pole is not needed.

EFFECTIVE POST LIFTER.
Can Be Made by Farmer from Heavy Pole and Heavy Piece of Pointed Iron.

B. P. Wagner of Missouri has published the following description of a post lifter: A cheap and effective post lifter can be made from a stout, well-seasoned post about four inches in diameter and six or seven feet long. Have it shod with a heavy piece of iron with an out-turned point. After working the posts loose it is a very easy matter to lift them from the ground with the implement shown in the accompanying engraving, using another post as a fulcrum.

SEASONABLE JOTTINGS.

Start a set of books. Be a business farmer. An English agricultural society has offered prizes for the best fenced farms. Good time now to get the last of the wood snugly piled up before things begin to push in other directions. I will take my chances hiring the man who picks up the hoe that lies in his way, rather than the man who goes around it. E. L. V. Winter on the farm is not simply the time for resting. It is the best time in the world to read, think and plan for the future.—Farm Journal. According to a botanical glossary an "ergasiophygyther" is a plant that has escaped from cultivation. Just think, comments the Rural New Yorker, of having to fight such a monster as that in our neglected fields! While beans will grow in a wide variety of soils and climates, says the Orange Judd Farmer, the production of the commercial crop seems to be limited, chiefly on account of the attacks of the bean weevil, to a narrow belt along the northern border of the United States and to a portion of California.

An Acre for the Boy. I believe in giving the boy or girl an acre or two of good land close to the house upon the understanding that I am to furnish trees, plants and seeds to stock the plot, and that he or she is first to supply the family with all the fruit and vegetables the family can use, and then have the balance to sell to best advantage, the proceeds to be his or her own. This will serve to center the children's interest in the farm, says a writer in the Orange Judd Farmer, and the conviction will soon follow that there is no place where a person can live as independent and pure a life as in the country.

Go Warmly Clothed. Some folks pride themselves because they never wear an overcoat around the farm when at their work in the winter. But it is cheaper to wear clothes enough to keep from taking cold than it is to brag and pay doctors' bills.

Cut Up Part of the Hay. Part of the hay may be cut and moistened before feeding, the remainder being fed long, as the carriage horse has plenty of time for masticating his food.

Quite a Feat. "I have here," began the poet, "a short poem which I wrote on Niagara Falls." My friends think it quite remarkable. "I should imagine it was," replied the editor, sarcastically; "how did you manage to keep your paper from getting wet?"—Philadelphia Press.

Woman's Way. McJigger—That's a funny thing. Thingumbob—What is? McJigger—Miss Passey was an old maid before she married, and now that her husband is dead she has become a young widow.—Royal.

State Items

Terribly mangled, the body of an unknown man, was picked up on the railroad tracks, a mile east of Sherwood, Wednesday morning. An east bound freight struck him. From appearances it is believed he was not a tramp. He was about 35 years old, had a stubby moustache and dark brown hair, cut close. He weighed about 165 pounds.

George Porrier, a young man who came to Siginaw recently from Alpena and has been employed in the kitchen of the Hotel Vincent, was taken to the county jail Wednesday morning as insane. At an early hour he passed along James avenue and his trail was marked by smashed windows, causing great alarm among the residents. Porrier also scattered portions of his clothing along the street. The man appeared to have gone suddenly and violently insane. He was taken to the station by an officer, but not without a fierce struggle.

Pearl Robinson, 12 years old, while celebrating the Fourth with a playmate in front of her home in Flint, Wednesday, was severely burned about the body by the ignition of her dresses. The head of a match she was striking flew off and before she realized the circumstances her clothes were a mass of flames. Her shrieks of terror aroused the attention of her mother, Mrs. John Robinson, and a neighbor, Floyd Reed. Both were burned about the hands while extinguishing the flames. Physicians hold the gravest fears for the girl's life.

Fred Bourne, highway commissioner of Springfield township, Kalkaska county, came to Kalkaska, Tuesday, with his right ear chewed off, his right index finger mangled and a black eye. He secured a warrant for his neighbor, George W. Vanpelt, who has been arrested. Bourne says that he and Vanpelt had some words over a culvert that had been washed away by heavy rains. These led to blows, and, according to Bourne's story, his neighbor bit his ear off and struck him just below the eye.

Despondency caused by excessive drinking and inability to give up the habit, was undoubtedly the reason George E. Sparks sought death in Macatawa bay. Sparks jumped from the Scott Lugers dock on North River street, while under the influence of liquor, and although the body was recovered in a short time and attempts made to resuscitate him, it was in vain. Sparks was about 65 years of age, and an expert mechanic. He had been employed for twenty-five years by the Buss Machine works at their factories in Benton Harbor and Grand Rapids, as well as Holland.

The death Wednesday morning of Mrs. Oliver Carpenter, of Kalamazoo, is being investigated by the police and her husband is being detained at the jail awaiting the outcome of the investigation. Officers were called last night to the Carpenter home on Luella street and found the house in great disorder, the furniture being demolished. Mrs. Carpenter had been terribly injured and was taken to a neighbor's, where she died. Carpenter, who had been drinking, when he was arrested, is said to have assaulted his wife.

Compensation. "Do you intend to let your enemies have the last word?" "Certainly," answered Mr. Dustin Stax. "I got his last dollar, and he ought to have some sort of compensation."—Washington Star.

The Modern Father. "When I was your age, Tommy, I had no mother and father. Strangers took care of me, and they beat me and didn't always give me plenty to eat." "But now you've got it nice with us," his son replied, "and mama gives you to eat three times a day."—Judge.

Amenities. Bess—So many men are grouchy and hard to get along with. When I marry I want a husband who is easily pleased. Tess—Don't bother—that's the kind you'll get, all right.—Cleveland Leader.

Willing Searcher. "Wake up, John," said Mrs. Weeks; "I'm sure I hear a burglar." "K-keep quiet, m-my dear," whispered Mr. Weeks, "and I'll c-crawl under the b-bed and see if he's th-there."

Better-Not Wait. Miss Oldun—Oh! Mr. Rashe, this is so sudden! You must give me time to consider. Mr. Rashe—You'er—you haven't much to spare, have you?—Cleveland Leader.

Estate of Charles M. Marble
STATE OF MICHIGAN, the Probate Court for the County of Berrien. At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of St. Joseph in said County, on the 26th day of June A. D. 1906. Present: Hon. Frank H. Ellsworth, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of Charles M. Marble, dec'd. Dora H. Miller, having filed in said Court her petition, praying for license to sell the interest of said estate in certain real estate therein described, at private sale for the purpose of investing the proceeds. It is ordered, that the 23rd day of July, A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons interested in said estate appear before said court, at said time and place, to show cause why a license to sell the interest of said estate in said real estate should not be granted. It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Buchanan Record, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county. (A true copy) FRANK H. ELLSWORTH, ROLLAND E. BARR, Judge of Probate. Register of Probate. Last publication July 13, 1906.

Foreign Titles. Auditor—But why do you call your lecture "Radium" when you don't mention that article at any stage of the evening's talk? Lecturer—Well, knowing the fondness of the American people for foreign titles, I made one bold stroke for popularity by choosing a title as foreign as possible to my lecture.—Judge.

Fine Neighborhood. "You told me this was the finest locality you had ever struck." "It is." "But, my dear sir, I never saw so much sickness in one locality; someone appears to be sick in every home in it." "I know it, and I am a doctor."—Houston Post.

Consolations. Traveler (at railway junction, four a. m.)—Is there a telegraph operator here? I just got in and want to send a message immediately. Train Caller—No, but if you had been here any time up to midnight you could have sent it.—Judge.

On the Funny Side. "Had to laugh the other day," said the landlord of the Pettyville tavern. "The Mastadon Minstrels' car was turned over by a switch engine, just as it was to be hooked onto the train for Allegash. Says I: 'By heck! That's the first time I ever seen a show ever before it got started!' "That's just the way I said it, and the editor of the Plaindealer thought it was so yomerous that he wrote a piece about it for the paper!"—Puck.
