PROF STEARNS A CANDIDATE

For Office of County School Commissioner.—Great Interest is Manifested

Professor G. N. Otwell, superintendent of the Berrien Springs public schools, and Professor H. E. Stearns of the Coloma schools, are the only two candidates who have thus far announced themselves as desirous of securing the republican nomination for county superintendent of schools to succeed C. D. Jennings, whose term expires next spring.

The office is to be filled by popular vote at the spring election and it is understood the nomination will be made in the old way, that is, by the election of delegates and the holding of a convention.

Commissioner Jennings, whose term is drawing to a close, it is understood will not be a candidate for reelection. He has held the office for two years, and part of another.

Prof. Stearns was born in Weesaw township, July 28, 1873, and always worked on a farm, getting his education from going to school only a few months out of a year. He is a self made man, and he is one who is deserving of the office he is running for. Many are the days he drove as far as 9 miles to attend school, with the hope of attaining a higher standing in the world's way.

While attending school in Buchanan, he worked his way through school by shoveling sidewalks for the late Dr. Berrick. After leaving school here, he taught for four years in the country, and six years in the village schools as principal and superintendent, this experience fitting him to this position. He was a student of Ferris Institute and the Normal College at Ypsilanti. During the month of August of this year, he was granted a State's Life Certificate.

Mr. Stearns is a staunch republican in politics, and is a member of the L. O. O. F. M. W. A. and Masonic fraternal societies.

Mr. Stearns has many friends in Buchanan, and it is almost a known fact that he will be accorded their hearty support.

METHODIST BAZAAR

Will be Held Next Week in the Building Recently Vacated by H. R. Adams

The Methodist Ladies will hold their annual bazaar next week Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Redden building, recently vacated by H. R. Adams. This year the bazaar has been given more attention by the ladies, and will far surpass any previous year.

Those who are desirous of purchasing some pretty Christmas gift, and don't know just what they desire, will find just what they want if they visit the bazaar any of the three days.

A fancy booth, candy booth, produce booth, apron booth and a number of other booths that will attract the eye, will be much in evidence.

An early shopper is a wise one, so come early and avoid the rush.

MILLIONAIRE OGDEN IS FINED

Madison Man Assessed $100 for Leasing Hotel for Immoral Purposes

Madison, Wis., Nov. 27—Millionaire F. A. Ogdén was found guilty and fined $100 for leasing a hotel for immoral purposes. He gave notice of appeal. Six years ago he was convicted of a similar offense and lost appeal to circuit and supreme courts.

"I am being persecuted by city officials because they think I dodge taxation by maintaining my legal residence in Chicago and thus failing to pay my personal property taxes on mortgages," said Ogdén. "Four years ago I offered the city free a library site, but the library committee wanted cash and would select its own site. They are grafters."

Ogdén owns hundreds of farms and some rich gold mines, besides valuable interests in Chicago

NEW JUDGE ON BENCH

Judge De Voignes of Cass County Circuit to go to St. Joseph

Judge Coolidge of the local circuit court will not preside from the bench next week, after the first calling of the court on Monday he will leave his chair to Judge De Voignes of Cass County and will himself take that official's place in the Cass County circuit.

In the making of the new calendar Judge Coolidge ruled that the first week of the term should be devoted to jury civil cases instead of criminal cases, as is generally the rule. This is for the purpose of allowing Prosecutor White, who is constantly in attendance at the criminal cases, to take care of the grand jury when it meets next week. The prosecutor could not possibly handle both matters at once, and as the criminal matters can be adjourned until later in the season Judge Coolidge has made this arrangement.

The judge goes to Cass county and puts Judge De Voignes in charge of the jury civil cases because of the fact that there are several civil cases in which he is interested, in a slight degree and in which it might be possible that his judgment would be questioned, he therefore refuses to hear them and the labor will fall to the Cass county judge.

SHERIFF DOES NOT BELIEVE

That Olive Templeton Wrote Note Found in Bottle

St. Joseph, Nov. 27—Sheriff Tenant does not believe the note found in the river by a trapper and given to Chief Johnson of Benton Harbor was written by Olive Templeton.

The sheriff stated that he could not believe that Miss Templeton who was an excellent penman and a fine scholar would word a last message as that was worded or write a message in a scrawl similar to the writing on the note found in the bottle.

The sheriff is of the opinion that the note was written by some person or persons who heard of the case and that it was thrown into the river in a spirit of pure wantonness. The officer also points out that the note states that the writer committed suicide five miles above Berrien Springs while the evidences procured at that time pointed to the fact that the girl threw herself into the river at a point just opposite the college. There was no open water five miles above Berrien, states the sheriff, the only open spot being near the advent institution.

The note itself was written on a bit of hand bill, roughly torn off the edge of the bill and the message was scrawled in a large hand, an indelible pencil being used.

FEAR EPIDEMIC OF SMALL POX

Many Cases Have Developed at South Bend—General Vaccination May Be Ordered

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27—There are at present 32 houses in the city under quarantine for smallpox. Of this number six cases present the disease in a serious form. In spite of well-directed efforts by the health department, at stringent quarantine ten new cases have developed during the past week.

The near approach of the holiday season adds to the danger of contagion from the congregation of people at that time, and makes it imperative to use all possible means for the arrest of the disease at once.

The board has suggested the posting of notices through all factories informing employes that unless they present a physician's certificate within four days, showing vaccination within two years, they will not be permitted to work, and also that the foremen of each room be instructed to examine daily the men working under him, and evidence of illness with a rash or breaking out of the skin be at once reported to Dr. H. E. Viton, telephone 335, that he may have the matter investigated.

There will be a general vaccination of the school children during the coming week.

FIRE AT MRS. M. REDDEN'S

Did Considerable Damage, Yesterday Morning—Loss About $800

Fire was discovered at Mrs. M. Redden's boarding house, yesterday morning at 5:30 the fire originating in the furnace room below the kitchen. The fire was discovered by Rev. F. C. Watters, who soon had the household awakened. The alarm was at once turned in, but being unable to get central, so as to blow the whistle, the fire department was delayed for some little time in getting to the scene. With the quick action of the fire department upon their arrival, and the assistance of the friends and neighbors they soon had everything out of the front part of the house.

The contents of the dining room and kitchen were utterly ruined including all of Mrs. Redden's choice china. The house throughout is more or less damaged from smoke and water.

It was indeed a sorrowful Thanksgiving Day for Mrs. Redden, but nevertheless she is very thankful that the fire did not result more disastrously. The loss will run into the neighborhood of $800, with partial insurance.

CALENDARS ARE NOW OUT

Only Fourteen Criminal Cases in the List and the Majority of These Are for Minor Offenses

The criminal calendars for the December term of the circuit court are out and are in the hands of the attorneys and the county officers. The calendars are much smaller this term than they were for the last one, and one remarkable feature is that they contain only 14 criminal cases.

The majority of the criminal cases are not for serious offenses. The most important will be the trial of William Lewis who is charged with rape. His last trial should have come on at the last session, but owing to delay, it was put off until December.

Besides the criminal cases there are 37 jury civil cases and 47 non-jury civil cases. These latter occupy but little of the court's time and can be finished. Owing to the short calendar it will be possible for the court to clean up all of its work at this term and bring everything up to date. Court will open next Monday morning for the December session.

There is one case for violation of the liquor laws, that of Emil Reich. A judgment was given in the case of Dix & Wilkinson vs. Frank B. Ford for the sum of $1,027 61 in favor of the plaintiff.

Every subject of possible interest to Horticulturists will be handled at the session and all those who are interested should make it a point to be present at every session. Prepare For a Hard Winter

That the coming winter is going to be the hardest one for the past twenty years, there is abundance of signs to show, and among them may be mentioned:

First—That the corn husks are an inch and a quarter thick and the stalks lean toward the west.

Second—Owls are leaving the country a month earlier than usual, and squirrels are laying in sweet potatoes, as well as nuts, for winter provision.

Third—That a better grade of clothing has been purchased by our customers than ever before. They are asking for higher priced garments and are choosing the best makes of warm, well made and stylish clothing.

Fourth—Farmers who have taken the trouble to investigate, tell us that toadstools have wrinkles on them. The last time this happened we had winter weather that froze the handles of plows.

Fifth—That warmer underwear, better made shoes and complete winter outfits for the little fellows have been purchased more freely than ever before from our immense stock of men's and boys' furnishings.

Sixth—We have the largest, most modern and best equipped clothing store in northern Indiana and are doing the biggest business in the establishment's history. That's the best sign of all.

The announcement recently made on behalf of the railroad passenger bureaus of the state, that the deposit heretofore required in connection with the sale of mileage books, would after the first of the coming year be reduced from $20 to $5, is a further favor for the people of Michigan which comes as the result of Governor Warner's effort in that direction. The next move in the same direction should be the sale of mileage books with the deposit feature entirely eliminated. Opposition to that reasonable requirements may lead to demands not so profitable or desirable from the railroad point of view.

The information recently given that the American mining and smelting company virtually controls the price of silver in this country and co-operates with four or five foreign firms to control it in Europe, will come as a shock to those who have believed that silver was the peculiar money of the people and was, in some more or less mysterious way, a safeguard against home trusts and for eign aggression. Silver possesses about as much real value in that direction as its traveling companion, free trade. will be found to possess if ever unfortunate chance shall permit its virtues as a trust destroyer to be experimented with.

"The Walls of Jericho"

At the Grand Opera house next Sunday night James K. Hackett will be seen for the first time in Chicago in "The Walls of Jericho," a society play by Alfred Sutro who, at one bound, has come to the front rank of British playwrights, ranking equally with Pinero, Grundy, Jones and Shaw. The success of "The Walls of Jericho" in London, where it lately concluded a run of two years, and in New York where Mr. Hackett presented it for a season of over six months at the Savoy Theatre, goes far to prove that the great reputation which has preceded it is well founded. The story in brief is of an Australian, Jack Frobisher (Mr. Hackett) who marries the daughter of a penniless and unprincipled marquis. For three years he tolerates the social follies of his wife, her father and the fashionable set in which they move. He finally determines to assert his truer self and in an intensely dramatic speech denounces the whole system of which he has been a spectator but not a participant since his marriage, and, selling his English holdings, announces that he will return to Australia. His wife at first refuses to accompany him but ultimately yields because of love for her husband and their child. From this brief outline it may be judged that "The Walls of Jericho" is a play with a purpose and certainly one that possesses the power to interest. In the company attending Mr. Hackett are Beatrice Beckley, May Blaney, Mary E. Forbes, Mrs. Felix Morris, Blanche Ellice, Ruth Chester, David Glassford, Arthur R. Lawrence Orlando Daly and John Hooper. There will be matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Public Auction

I will sell at public auction at my residence 4 1/2 miles south of Buchanan on Lake View Farm, better known as the Michael Cauffman, Wednesday, Dec. 5, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m., the following articles: Horses, cows, sheep, hogs, farm implements, and other articles too numerous to mention.

LEWIS CAUFFMAN, Prop.

A Boy I Can Trust

"I once visited," said a gentleman, "a large public school. At recess a little fellow came up and spoke to the master, and as he turned to go down the platform, the master said, 'There is a boy I can trust; he never failed me.' I followed him with an eye, and looked at him when he took his seat at recess. He had a fine open manly face. I thought a great deal about the master's remark. What a character had that little boy earned! He already had got what would be worth more to him than a fortune. It would be a passport to the best office in the city, and, what is better, to the confidence of the whole community. I wonder if the boys know how soon an opinion of them is formed by older people. Every boy in the neighborhood is known, and opinions formed of him; he has a character either favorable or unfavorable. A boy of whom his master can say, 'I can trust him; he never failed me,' will never want employment. The fidelity, promptness and industry which he has shown at school are prized everywhere. He who is faithful in little will be faithful in much."

Edgar Ham is again on the sick list.

The Nona Such Club pleasantly surprised Mrs. O. P. Woodworth at the home of Mrs. Ebon Gage on Wednesday evening. About 15 members gathered about five o'clock with well filled baskets, and enjoyed a pot luck supper. This was the last time the club will have the pleasure of Mrs. Woodworth's presence, for she with her family left yesterday for their new home in Macomb, Ill. The evening was most enjoyably passed in games, music and a general good time. At a late hour the party broke up, and all left voting the evening a very pleasant one, but with all many words of regret were spoken over the departure of Mrs. Woodworth and family.

The witnesses which occupy the chair in the Berrien County circuit court room are going to get closer to the seat of justice if the present plans of the court officials are carried out. For years attorneys have objected to the witness chair being where it is at the present time, but no move has ever been made to change it. Yesterday several of the attorneys, assisted by two deputy sheriffs, made some radical changes in the arrangement of the furniture and placed the witness chair close to the high desk occupied by Judge Coolidge. The attorneys also decided that the clerk should occupy a position in front of the judge's bench and that the jury box might be moved up toward the witness stand a little more. These changes will be welcomed by almost every attorney, as they have been advocated for years.

THOUGHT IT TIME TO STOP.

Wonders of the Telephone Too Much for Sitting Bull.

C. J. H. Woodbury, the engineering expert of the telephone company, told the boot and shoe men the other night the true version of the Sitting Bull and telephone story, says the Boston Herald. Sitting Bull had been captured by the United States troops and was held in close confinement. So also was another obstreperous Indian, held in confinement at a post about 100 miles away. The officer in charge of Sitting Bull had been chasing the Indians for two months, and was wondering what he would do with the captive. In an inspired moment he decided to arrange an interview between the two Indians over the telephone. After the necessary ringing up Sitting Bull was asked if he cared to talk into the machine. He talked into it for several minutes and did a heap of listening also.

He put down the instrument finally, and for hours was even more gloomy than usual, at last beginning to talk to himself, something very rare for the Indian. Asked if he was dissatisfied with his accommodations or if there was anything they could do for him he broke forth at last:

"No. I'm finished. It's all right when the white man's plaything talks the white man's language; but when it learns to talk the red man's tongue it's time to stop."

It is believed in the west, where the incident is fairly well known, that this talk over the telephone between the two Indians had a considerable influence in shortening the Indian wars.

EVILS OF MODERN LIFE.

Harm Done by Hurry and Worry of Our Modern Civilization.

Not long ago, while traveling, I chanced to stop at a village on the river Rhine, where I found an astonishing number of old people. There were a dozen over one hundred years age, and many from 80 years old up to the century mark; yet straight and vigorous. One woman nearly a hundred years old was earning her living by picking hops; her grandchildren were middle-aged. It was quite wonderful. But there was no mystery about it; it was merely the effect of a simple life spent largely in the fields, with plain diet, consisting of a few vegetables and fruits, little meat, and native beer and wine for beverages.

Nothing can be more obvious than that the very complexity of our modern civilization is shortening our lives. But of all the evils that afflict us the worst and most destructive are hurry and worry. Hurry drives the body machine beyond its capacity, while worry racks it inwardly. Of the two worry is probably the worse. This might, indeed, be called the age of worry. Because of the intense nervous strain to which we are subjected, we do vastly more worrying than did our forebears. The average man of to-day is continually surrounded and pursued by phantom troubles, which, though few of them ever materialize into realities, haunt him continually, ruining his peace of mind and injuring his health.—Dr. John V. Shoemaker in the Reader.

SETTLED CASE RIGHT THERE.

Revenue Officer's Argument Cogent and All-Convincing.

Miss Dorothea Klumpke, the astronomer, was talking about the difficulties and intricacies that astronomy presents to the lay mind.

"For instance," she said, "there is the well-known case of the meteorite that fell on a Vermont farm in '96. It was a valuable meteorite, and the landlord at once stepped up and claimed it. 'All minerals and metals on the land belong to me,' he said. 'That's in the lease.'"

"But the tenant demurred. 'This meteorite,' he said 'wasn't on the farm, you must remember, when the lease was drawn up.'"

"The landlord perceived the justice of that claim. He thought a moment. Then he said, decisively: 'I claim her as flying game.'"

"But the tenant was ready for him. 'She's got neither wings nor feathers,' he said. 'Therefore, as ground game, she's mine.'"

"They continued their argument, and in the heat of it a revenue officer arriving with a truck proceeded to put the meteorite aboard. 'I claim her for the government,' he said, 'as an article introduced into the country without payment of duty.'"

Anecdote of Pericles.

Democracy was a new thing to the Athenians, and they became so dreadfully swelled over it that Pericles was at his wit's end what to do with them.

"If it were not for the plain people, politics would be easy," he was often heard to complain.

Finally, in his desperation, he consulted the Delphic oracle.

"Give the plain people plenty of rope," was the veiled answer of the pythoness, "and leave the rest to the gods."

Pericles was sorely puzzled. But on his way back to Athens, he purchased a cigar of the boy on the train, and it was a Connecticut cigar.

"I wonder if this can be the rope the oracle meant?" he suddenly exclaimed, after he had smoked awhile.

It could be, and was. To make a long story short, a great political secret had come to light, and from that time forth Pericles had pretty much his own way in everything.—Puck.

A Twist of Language.

"It is no easy task to make some Germans understand the English equivalent of certain German words," said a man who is often kept busy interpreting. "Take the word 'bekommen,' which means 'to get,' but most Germans will persist for a time in translating it 'become.' This has led to some laughable errors.

"For instance, a party of Americans once asked a guide where transportation facilities for mountain climbing might be obtained. The guide in his broken English described in detail the manner and way to reach a certain point.

"Yes, my friends," he finally said, "and here you can become donkeys."

Electric Cradle.

"An electric cradle," said the salesman, "is the latest thing. The ordinary light current runs it, as in the case of the electric fan."

He attached to the cradle the flexible cord through which the electricity flowed, and turning the button stepped back. The cradle rocked with a smooth, soft motion. There was a tiny switch to make it go fast or slow.

"Great, isn't it?" said the salesman.

"My only wonder is that, with our electric sewing machines, carpet-sweepers, chafing dishes, hot water bags and what not we didn't hit on the electric cradle long before this."

A Reliable Substitute.

"I'm afraid I haven't many good arguments for our side of the question," said the orator.

"No arguments?" responded the campaign manager. "Then quote statistics. They sound wise and everybody would rather take them for granted than try to understand them."—Washington Star.

The Citizens of Buchanan and vicinity are invited to consider the advantages offered by the AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY, of South Bend, as a depository for savings or surplus funds.

All funds deposited prior to January 10th, 1907, will begin to earn interest, compounded semi-annually, from January 1st, at 4 per cent.

This high rate of interest is made possible because the active and prosperous condition of South Bend's mercantile and manufacturing enterprises and the steady and rapid growth of the city, which calls for the building of many dwellings and other buildings yearly, enables the company to loan its funds at good rates and on sound security.

The capital, surplus and profits of the American Trust Company now exceed $225,000.00

The total resources are more than $1,000,000.00

You are most cordially invited to make the AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY your headquarters when in South Bend.

The P. and H. society of the Larger Hope church will meet with Mrs. Hodges, on Wednesday Dec. 5. An urgent request is made that all members be present.

The bullfrog has hopped into fashion. Bullfrog skin in its natural color, and also dyed, is not only employed for belts, pocketbooks, card cases and chatelaine bags, but is used for vests, cuffs and collars, and many a clever girl will wear this autumn a bullfrog skin hat.

It may not sound attractive, says the Woman's Home Companion, but a little turban of bullfrog skin in a greenish brown shade, with upstanding loops of dark green velvet ribbon for its trimming, makes a very smart hat.

A bullfrog skin hat is being made up for a New York girl, who plans when she wears it to carry an umbrella of greenish brown skin, with a very realistic looking bullfrog forming the top of the handle. In looking for distinctive details to add to one's toilet the bullfrog umbrella must not be overlooked.

A Turkish Millionaire.

Mouammer Bey, son of the richest man in all Turkey, who will be heir to more millions than any other person in the Ottoman empire, save the heir of the sultan, is in Boston on business, and before he leaves the business men will have something like a cool half million of his money, while he will have tons of Boston's most improved shoe and cotton machinery.

There is nothing about the sleek appearing man of 35 years, with his rotund figure, to indicate that he is to be at some time in the future the richest man in his native land. He is just as democratic as any of this country's wealthy men, and one wouldn't have to make a very big stretch of imagination to pick him out as an American.

Muammer Bey, unlike most of his fellow countrymen, is highly educated, and instead of wasting his father's vast wealth by riotous living, he has mastered the many great industries that his father controls, and is adding to the fortune. Those who have come in contact with him say that he is as keen as the proverbial Yankee man.

Politeness Pays.

"Politeness," said Senator Gallinger, in the hope of stilling a rather acrimonious argument in Concord, "always pays."

His flushed listeners looked up at him in inquiry and he smiled and repeated.

"Politeness always pays. Two little girls I know were set before a plate containing two bunches of grapes—one a very large and tempting and perfect bunch, the other small and hard and green. The two little girls looked at the two bunches for a space in silence. Then the polite child said: "Is oo gweedy?"

"No," the other answered; 'I see not a bit gweedy.'

"Then," said the first, 'oo choose.'"

Ring Tells Profession in Brazil.

"One of the conveniences of Brazil is the ease with which you can tell the particular line of business a professional man is in," remarked A. V. Nesbitt, who recently returned from a long stay in Brazil.

"At graduation each professional graduate is given a ring with a certain kind of stone for his particular profession. For instance, an engineer will have a turquoise, a doctor an amethyst, and so on. If you know the ring that belongs to each profession you don't have to ask a man his profession, but just glance at the ring he wears."

Chicken's Long Fast.

A New Orleans man has proved that a chicken can live 23 days without food or water. He makes affidavit that when his family moved recently a chicken securely nailed in a box was in the cellar of the new house, having been forgotten by the former tenants. Twenty-three days later the cook was moved to explore the cellar and discovered the chicken, emaciated, but still much alive.
