The Record's Platform

Not only do we want more factories and a booming town, but a clean administration with men free from radicalism in the council who will not favor law-breaking in any form—men who will regulate our saloons and other licensed properties according to restrictions provided in the state laws. In short, we want all officers from president down to marshal, to enforce the village ordinances to the letter.

HOME VS. THE CITY

THAT IS WHAT THE HOME-TRADE PROBLEM AMOUNTS TO.

WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

If You Are Sending Your Dollars to the Mail-Order Houses You Are Battling Against the Home Town.

(Copyrighted, by Alfred C. Clark.)
A far seeing, provident business man will not pursue a policy which is subsversive of his best interests. He will not destroy his own house, neither will he jeopardize his business. He will observe the golden rule, not only in theory, but in practice, and its practical observation was never more needed than at the present time. Men dream about the "Golden Age" and yet, oftentimes pursue a policy which renders the dawn of that age an impossibility.

Within the horizon of every country resident there exists an evil which is yearly assuming greater proportions. We refer to the mail order business which last year amounted in money sent to Chicago alone to $200,000,000. Two hundred million dollars diverted from its legitimate channel. Two hundred million dollars sent out to enrich those who were not needy, while those at home sorely in need of support were passed by coldly; the local trade was impoverished just to that extent. This golden trade reviving stream should have remained within its own channel, thus enriching its own soil, and causing desert places to bloom and blossom.

Many unemployed would have been engaged at living wages, households would have been cheered and hearts warmed; but no, it went to swell the dividends of surfeited, boastful city concerns.

The live and let live doctrines was overlooked; its old-fashioned wholesomeness was utterly disregarded.

The country merchant would have been engaged in his daily struggle, instead of battling at long odds against ostracism, adversity, big bills and meager receipts.

Think of $200,000,000, ye who cause the catalogue houses to flourish as the cedars of Lebanon, and the green bay tree; remember that their prosperity is at the expense of your brother, the local merchant, and local progress. Then ask this pertinent question: Can we afford to play the game longer; can we longer stultify local interests?

This great evil affects every farmer, teacher and work hand, every home, every school, every church in every country community. It also touches the interests of the physician, preacher and pedagogue. It really robs the country merchant before his eyes, in a heartless way. He sees the freight yard crowded with consignments to individuals from great catalogue houses, and sadly does he look at his country store with its stock accumulating, for want of trade, and thus decreasing in value every day.

Sadly too does he look at the refuge of bankruptcy hourly being hastened because his townsmen prefer the catalogue house with its ubiquitous circulars. Those train loads of goods were bought with money that should have found its way into the honest hand of your local merchant, who has the good of your locality at heart, and who is expected to contribute liberally and continuously to very moral and benevolent institution in your midst.

Then likewise remember this, that of all the millions thus sent to swell the coffers of houses in great cities, not one cent will ever return to bless your community; to clothe the naked, to feed the hungry or to educate the ignorant!

This is certainly a misguided, ill-advised policy; if self preservation is the first law of nature, the fact just stated should cause lovers of this country to think. Continue this policy and what follows? The value of real estate decreases, local improvements cease, material progress stops, the whole country suffers.

The money of a community represents in a business sense just so much possibility, and every honest occupation is injured in proportion as that is withheld or sent elsewhere.

In a certain rural community, this official order and warning was issued: "Unless bad roads are fixed there will be no rural delivery at all." It is impossible to put roads in repair without money. This lack of means cannot be traced to poor crops, for the harvest just gathered in has been superabundant. Men cannot support and build up business concerns in distant cities without sacrificing the local good. Is it fair to establish the city by depriving the country of its just support?

Many hold forth the idea that the country is the feeder of the city. This is only partially true. That doctrine has been preached till the text is threadbare. It would be much wiser for men to get a new text and talk and work the country up, then allow the city, including its mail order Octopus, to work its own problems awhile. This, instead of being selfishness, would be the finest order of common sense. A more marked feeling of brotherhood interest is sadly needed in the country on this particular point.

The rural population complain of lack of facilities and conveniences; in order to obviate this, let $200,000,000 this coming year be disbursed among country merchants, among the humbler storekeepers, then observe what will follow. The improvements would be marked. Social conditions would be greatly ameliorated. A new order would maintain in the home and over the broad acres of the farm and best of all, the social spirit of brotherhood would be felt as never before.

Listen to these thoughtful words from Gov. Folk, of Missouri: "We are proud of our splendid cities, and we want to increase in wealth and population, and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up, but also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do NOT BELIEVE in the mail order citizen. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and to make his money in, it is good enough for a man to SPEND HIS MONEY in. Patronize your own town papers, build them up, and they will build your town up in increased trade and greater opportunities."

These are the words of wisdom and foresight from a prudent, patriotic man. As it is to-day, these words are expressive of the opposite of what should be in many a country district. The mail order citizen may think he is gaining; the truth is he is sawing off the limb upon which he sits. Disaster only can follow. The mail order citizen makes his money locally and scatters it abroad in a field where it is not needed; this is unfair to both the town and to its merchants. This shortsighted citizen complains of the size and character of his town paper, at the same time he pursues a policy which tends to destroy both. Then, publishers ought to be careful how they exploit and give publicity to the mail order houses; even if they are paid well for the space, it reacts disastrously on the town's best prospects.

Let men stand by the local merchant, let them protect his interests, for they thus further their own. The town that made the man should be made by the man. This is fair to all. Let men ponder well this truth, that we are all interdependent; that the vein of brotherhood underlies the entire social and commercial fabric. That together we stand or fall; that the good of the country demands loyalty and practical cooperation.
ARTHUR M. FROWDEN.

Fortunate Men of Prominence.
Admirers of great, rich or famous people often bestow their wealth upon the objects of their regard. The German emperor heads the list of lucky ones so favored. His receipts in money and real estate during the last ten years would, it is said, make a millionaire envious. Following precedent, a Hamburg merchant prince left more than $1,000,000 to the emperor's chancellor, whom Kaiser William immediately created "Prince" Buelow. William Jennings Bryan recently came by wealth in the same way. In England Lord Allerton has received $100,000 from an admirer of his public career and Dr. Jameson inherits a sum one-fifth larger under the will of Mr. Beit. Queen Victoria was very fortunate in her admirers, of whom the wealthiest was Niel, who bequeathed to her the sum of $1,250,000.

The batteries of the catalogue houses are carrying destruction to the smaller cities and towns. Are you helping in this work of hurling destruction at the local schools, churches and industries? Are you assisting in the distribution of mail-order literature and sending ammunition in the way of home dollars with which they will continue the campaign?

COREY STARTS SUIT FOR DAMAGE

WAS A FORMER EMPLOYEE
President Parks of Twin City Creamery Made Defendant in $10,000 Suit

George Peter Corey, a former employee of the Twin City Creamery Co., of Benton Harbor, yesterday started a $10,000 damage suit against Will Parks, president of the milk company and Arthur Leonard another employe of the creamery, who has charge of the branch station in St. Joseph. The suit was begun by summons and the declaration has not yet been filed but it is understood that defamation of character and malicious prosecution are alleged.

Corey is a discharged employe of the Twin City Creamery company. Last fall he drove one of the company's wagons in St. Joseph and after a few weeks' service his accounts were claimed to be wrong and his cash account short. The company caused the arrest of Corey on a charge of embezzlement and he was bound over to the circuit court after a preliminary examination in a justice court. Yesterday when the case came up before Judge Coolidge, Prosecutor White quashed the proceedings and Corey was discharged. A few hours afterwards papers in the damage suit were served on Mr. Parks and his agent, Leonard.

Gore & Harvey appear for the defendants and Attorney James O'Hara has been retained by Corey.

Corey formerly lived in Buchanan.

MARINE MEN OPPOSE NEW CHANGE

Get out Mammoth Petition to Hamilton to Keep Beacon Light on City Bluff

Marine Men of St. Joseph, headed by Capt Charles Morrison, are up in arms against the government which proposes to remove the old beacon light from the bluff in that city. The petition is well worded and when sent to Congressman Hamilton will enlighten him on many things, which the marine men claim will lead Hamilton to reconsider his approval recently given ordering the light house's removal. The petitioners base their claims on the fact that the light house has stood on its present site for nearly 70 years, and that its light can be seen as far as 25 miles out in the lake. The city council may act on the matter and it is hardly likely that when all the kicks have been registered the government will remove the light house from its present undisturbed place.

CONGRESSMAN HAMILTON WINS WORTHY PRAISE

Opposed the Ship Subsidy Bill According to His Convictions and Wins Praise

In its editorial column, the News-Palladium had the following to say of Congressman Hamilton: Voters of the fourth Michigan district are more proud of Edward L. Hamilton, their representative in congress, today than they were ever proud of any man who ever represented them in congress. The ship subsidy bill was defeated yesterday afternoon by a vote of 161 to 154 and Mr. Hamilton was one of the members to vote no. Then with great effort the friends of the iniquitous measure received the corpse and they induced enough republican members to change their votes and the measure was adopted, though not in the form that the friends of the bill had hoped. On the second vote on the bill Mr. Hamilton again stood out against the grab and voted no.

Mr. Hamilton occupied a peculiar position. Personally he has always been opposed to the subsidy business. In order to learn the feeling of the people of his district on the measure he sent upwards of a score of telegrams to some of the leaders of public thought in his district. In response to his telegram the republican convention of Van Buren adopted a resolution asking him to vote for the graft. In spite of the resolution passed, and in spite of the resolution railroaded through the state republican convention, Mr. Hamilton voted his convictions and his convictions are the convictions of a vast majority of the people in this part of the state, explain his vote. Had he acted for the measure there would have been many requests for explanations.

We are glad that Mr. Hamilton did not pair or dodge but stood straight up and twice gave his vote against the ship subsidy bill. When the people get a chance they will cut off the gift to private ship owners.

SUMMER HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE

FIRE AT SOMERLEYTON
Beautiful Resort along River, Five Miles from St. Joseph Destroyed

The big summer hotel at Somerleyton, the pretty resort on the St. Joseph river, was completely destroyed by fire last Saturday morning about 7 o'clock. The family of Dennis Minney, who occupied the hotel was rescued and the children carried to a nearby cottage. All of the household goods of the proprietor were saved excepting the cook stove.

The origin of the fire is said to have been from a defective flue in the kitchen. When the alarm was sounded the neighbors for miles around hustled to the scene and succeeded in getting the occupants of the hotel to places of safety. Mrs. Minney and her two sons have been suffering with the measles, and one of the boys was unable to be out of bed. He was picked up in the bedding and carried to a cottage far enough away to be out of danger. Mr. Minney had also been ill but was able to be out and assisted in the work of rescue.

The fire fighters succeeded in getting out all of Mr. Minney's household goods with the exception of the cook stove. It is believed that if there had been any fire fighting apparatus handy, part of the hotel could have been saved, but the volunteers had to form a bucket brigade and do the best they could. They were fortunate in saving the engine-house and other nearby cottages, together with the stable.

The Somerleyton hotel was built in 1898 by Clarence T. Warner, who later sold out to the Somerleyton company. Mr. Warner who personally took charge of the place was popular with Chicago people and was visited largely by Benton Harbor and St. Joseph pleasure seekers.

There were two stories to all of the building except the west wing and the dance hall, the hotel had forty sleeping rooms. The hotel has changed hands several times since Mr. Warner disposed of his interests. About a year ago the resort was sold to fore-close a mortgage and was purchased by Frank Pullen of Fair Plain. The redemption expired in January. Last year the hotel was in charge of Dennis Minney, who had expected to run it again this season.

It is reported that the loss will be very heavy for the insurance was cancelled about the time of the mortgage sale and had never been renewed.

THEATER MANAGERS OPPOSE LICENSE

Say Proposed Bill to License Daily Theater Performances are Preposterous

The Benton Harbor council has a measure for its consideration, designed to compel the theaters to pay a license fee of $10.00 for each day on which a performance is held.

Manager Fred Felton of the Bell, in an interview, expressed his opinion that if the proposed license measure passed the council that it would seriously cripple the theater business or possibly drive them out altogether. He further emphasized the injustice of the demand by pointing out the fact that if his house was compelled to pay $1,500 per year that it would be necessary to close his theater.

From this standpoint the measure is an unfair one and those who frequent the theaters know that none of the houses can afford to chip in $10 off their proceeds as a license fee. Often the theaters lose money on their performances and with an additional loss of $10 it would be impossible to make the houses profitable.

Keeping Ahead Pays

What are you going to do this Spring in the way of advertising, or in preparation for advertising?

It is not wise to do so. Of course, "when they are not buying you can't make them buy" is true to a great extent; but you can make sure too that when "they" are ready to buy they will buy from the man who has not allowed himself to be forgotten.

Part of your advertising appropriation for the year can profitably be expended during the season when trade is normally at its lowest ebb.

The cumulative effect of advertising is a factor which is always counted in publicity planning; and the advertising of the following season will gain strength and effect from the advertising that is done now.

Again, a good many merchants excuse the obvious short comings in their advertisements by the plea that they "didn't have time to get up a good ad or furnish the copy."

Why not consult the RECORD'S advertising department? There are many phases of advertising that would be worth your while to understand and apply to your business.

Keep your business reputation constantly in the front by a persistent and reasonable sized advertisement.

Peculiar Ailments. Medical terms sometimes undergo wonderful changes when handled by ignorant people.

Social Spectacles. If women in this country really enjoyed the respect universally accorded them in France, English social life would certainly not present the pitiable spectacle it does of "hoolligan girls" and undignified married women not only tolerating, but wildly pursuing, asinine "Freddies" and effeminate "Bobbles."—Ladies' Field.

Rev. F. C. Watters, pastor of the M. E. church, left for his home in Leppening, Mich., Monday afternoon where he will enjoy a much needed rest for ten days. This is the first time that he has been home for a year.

Little Miss Adelon Eldredge celebrated her fifth birthday Saturday afternoon, by entertaining ten of her little friends at her parents' home on Detroit street. The children spent the afternoon in games. About four o'clock they were called in the dining room where a dainty three-course luncheon was served. The happy little hostess was honored with many beautiful presents. The children were enthusiastic in their reports of the event to their respective parents.

The Record has received news announcing the death of Mrs. Ida May Underwood of Nashville, Tenn., on February 23. She was formerly Miss Ida Harrison and a resident of this city in the early eighties. She received her education in the Buchanan high school and graduated with honors. She leaves a husband and four children, two sisters and a mother to mourn her death.

The Record has on exhibition in its windows a large eagle, wings measuring 6 feet 4 inches from end to end, which is creating quite a lot of curiosity owing to its immense size. The bird was shot yesterday morning by E. B. Smith, who lives three miles north of town. The bird was seen hovering above his chicken yard early yesterday morning, probably bent on stealing the chickens. The eagle will be stuffed and remain in the Record office.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our many friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our mother. Also for beautiful flowers and to the singers for their well rendered and appropriate songs at her funeral.

Just for Fun

IN THE CARE OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

He looked as if he might have been a baseball umpire. He was battered and bruised to such an extent that his best girl would have passed him by on the other side. The mud clung to the legs of his trousers, and his hat was esconced in a cute little out-of-the-way corner in the neighboring subway.
"You ought to be more careful," said a bystander as he tried to conceal a smile at the man's appearance.
"Careful!" shouted the unfortunate man. "Say, listen to me a minute. I was crossing the street. An automobile was coming in one direction, a moving van in another, a trolley car from the east, a cab from the west, and there on the sidewalk was my tailor, who had recognized me and was waiting to throw it all over me for $50 that I owed him. The auto threw me against the van, the van tossed me against the car, the car landed me against the cab, and the cab fairly deposited me in the arms of my tailor. Careful, indeed!"
And the crowd dispersed.—Judge.

View Masculine.
"My sympathy," remarked Mrs. Shopperton, who had been reading a heavy magazine article, "is with the downtrodden masses."
"Mine isn't," growled her husband.
"Why not?" queried the alleged better half of the matrimonial outfit.
"Because," he answered, "they ought to know better than to all try to reach the bargain counter at once."
—Chicago Daily News.

Diplomatic.
"I never permit my clients to go away thinking they have been robbed," remarked the hold-up gentleman.
"How do you manage it?" queried the ordinary pickpocket.
"Before dismissing them," explained the compulsory relief agent, "I call their attention to the fact that they have merely made concessions in the interests of peace."
—Chicago News.

Who They Were.
Mrs. Winks (at dinner in great hotel)—Who are those men at that table in the corner?
Mr. Winks—Don't know. What are they talking about?
"Baseball, horse races, prize fights, and so on."
"Oh, they are probably city officials."
—N. Y. Weekly.

Naturally.
"I'm told that in some parts of South America women are car conductors."
"Then I suppose they are all beauties."
"Why suppose that?"
"To get the job don't they have to be fare maids?"
—Baltimore American.

Too Applicable.
"Why doesn't Mrs. Gossip invite Witticus to any more of her entertainments?"
"Because she asked him to help her out with appropriate decorations for that last big fete she gave and he suggested a lot of rubber plants."
—Baltimore American.

Enough.
"I cannot sing the old songs, I cannot play the new."
He looked at her in ecstasy.
"Oh, darling, I love you!"
—Judge.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN.

Hubby (shivering)—It's bitter cold. Why don't you button up your jacket?
Wifey—The ideal! Why, if I did that no one would know it is lined with fur.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Serious.
"These bridge disasters are terrible," remarked the man who was reading of bridges being swept away by the river floods.
"I should say so," replied his friend.
"My wife lost all her year's pin money in a game of 'bridge' last night."
—Chicago Daily News.

At the Musicale.
Enthusiast—Don't you think the choro oscuro was fine?
Nonmusical Guest—Well, now to be plain with you, I liked the chicken salad better.—Baltimore American.

Long Block in New York Town.
The longest block in any American city is in Watertown, N. Y. This municipal freak is a row of business houses nearly five squares long.

Like the terrible devil fish the catalogue house is death to everything that gets within its grasp. Once its death-dealing tentacles have wound around your community, there is no escape. Are you assisting the greedy monster by sending your dollar to the mail order house.

WILL ST. JOSEPH BE MAYORLESS?

Such Seems to be the Case at Present—No Name Advanced Yet

What's the matter with the office of mayor? No one wants to be mayor of St. Joseph? The same trouble which was experienced a year ago is being experienced at the present time. Neither the democratic or republican parties have yet found men who are willing to take a chance at being elected mayor of St. Joseph. An effort has been made to secure an independent candidate and John F. Duncan has been prominently mentioned in this connection by many friends, but Mr. Duncan has also absolutely refused to run and this crosses his name from the slate. So far only the minor offices have been filled in but, again, "who wants to be mayor?"
