EXAMINATION OF THAW IN PRIVATE

COMMISSION BEGINS ITS WORK BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

HE STANDS ORDEAL WELL

Scope of Inquiry Limited to Defendant's Ability to Instruct His Counsel in Rational Manner.

New York, March 29.—Harry K. Thaw for two hours Thursday submitted himself to a running fire of questions from the three men appointed by Justice Fitzgerald as a commission in lunacy to determine his present state of mind. The examination was conducted behind closed doors and when a few minutes before five o'clock in the afternoon an adjournment was taken until ten o'clock Saturday morning, no one connected with the hearing before the commissioners would discuss the details of the inquiry.

Thaw went willingly and confidently before his judges, and when the two hours' secret session was concluded his attorneys appeared with smiling faces and declared they were more than satisfied with the course of the proceedings. District Attorney Jerome hurried away from the criminal courts building, declining absolutely to say one word about the commission's work.

Scope of Inquiry Limited.

The most important feature of the day's proceedings was the decision of the commission to limit the scope of its inquiry to the exact language of the state to determine solely the question as to whether or not Harry Thaw is able to-day to understand the nature of the court proceedings against him and is able to advise his counsel in a rational manner. District Attorney Jerome announced to the members of the commission that all of the legal experts he had employed in the case had advised him that Thaw is suffering from a typical case of paranoia—a disease of the mind in which the recoveries are limited to two or three per cent. He offered to adduce testimony to support this statement, but the commission waved it aside, saying that the purpose of the inquiry was a very simple one and had to do not with any classification of mental diseases, but with the prisoner's present state of mind as judged by laymen.

In laying down this decision the commission confronted the district attorney with the very position he has maintained in putting Thaw on trial for his life. Mr. Jerome contends that Thaw was suffering from paranoia on the night of June 25 last when he shot and killed Stanford White, but he added that paranoiacs often have knowledge of what they are doing and that Thaw knew the nature and quality of his act in killing White and knew that the act was wrong.

Experts Are Excluded.

The commission got under way with a rush Thursday afternoon and plunged at once into the personal examination of the defendant. Mr. Jerome protested at first that he was not able to proceed, saying he would like to have his medical advisers present during Thaw's examination. He finally stated he would have no objection to the examination going forward providing he was permitted to reserve his cross-examination. The commission forthwith settled the matter of the presence of the experts by excluding them from the room along with everyone else, except the defendant and his counsel, the district attorney and Assistant District Attorney Garvan. As to the cross-examination by the district attorney, the commission said the matter would be taken up when it was reached.

Thaw will appear again before the commission when it meets Saturday morning.

SAD TRAGEDY IN CANTON, O.
Girl Whose Fiance Died Commits Suicide on Day Set for Wedding.

Canton, O., March 29.—Miss Bertha McNally, 28 years old, committed suicide Thursday by taking carbolic acid. It was Miss McNally's birthday and was also to have been her wedding day. She was to have been married to Emil Knolle, a policeman on the Pittsburg force.

Six weeks ago Knolle was taken with pneumonia and died in a hospital in Pittsburg. Since that time Miss McNally had been despondent.

Taking the Middle Course.

Annie Russell.

Miss Annie Russell comes to the Grand Opera House, Chicago, during the fortnight beginning Easter Monday, April 1, in a role utterly dissimilar to any previously portrayed by her. Miss Russell is starring this season in the role of "Puck" in a sumptuous and artistic production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream", which comes direct from the Astor Theatre where it played to immense business. The Astor is New York's newest and most beautiful playhouse and Miss Russell had the honor to be the inaugural attraction.

While it is not without precedent for an actress of prominence to portray the mischievous "Puck", it is most unusual. At any rate it is a long step from the ingenious stage maiden so often portrayed by Miss Russell to Shakespeare's saucy boy, and the favorite actress's appearance in the fairy role cannot but excite attention. It has been the effort of Managers Wagners and Kemper to make this presentation of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" a notable one, so far as accuracy of detail and true artistic beauty is concerned.

The ideas of the best authorities have been followed out in that beautiful comedy, and it has been placed in the realm of pure fancy in which the substance is imagination.

Critics from Hazlitt down have ever bewailed the absence of the dream "feeling in all previous productions of this play."

Colored lights hob up in flowers when "Puck" kisses them, an owl roosts and blinks his eyes and a whole troupe of little elves and fairies, very well trained in the antics of fairyland, as we understand them, play leap frog, tumble down hill and indulge in a most bewitching prancing that gets as near the coughing of night winds in the trees as any one could wish.

Miss Russell is a sort of "Puck" in pastel shades. She comes in first flying very prettily by means of a wire arrangement, graceful and appealing in her role of the madcap fay. She has a sweet singing voice and her song "Up and Down" is charmingly given, with a pleasing arrangement of the music by Augustus Barratt, who was brought over from England by Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper to make special arrangement of the Mendelssohn music for this production.

Other well known names appearing in the supporting company of one hundred and twenty are Oswald Yorke, Thomas Coffin Cooke, Edwin Mordant, James Young, W. H. Gilmore, Lionel Adams, Ina Brooks, Catherine Proctor and Lansing Rowan.

Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity is Here, Backed by Buchanan Testimony

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Buchanan endorsement, read the statements of Buchanan citizens. Here is one case of it:

Phillip, Messenger, painter and paperhanger, Front street, near Clark street, Buchanan, Mich., says: "I suffered with kidney trouble for a long time. I had dull pains through my back and across my loins which made me so weak I was unable to work. While I was suffering from one of these attacks, I was advised by a professional nurse, to try Doan's Kidney Pills, as he had proved from experience in his own case and in several others that they were a most effective remedy for the kidneys. I sent to W. N. Broderrick's Drug Store and procured the pills and began using them, and I began to improve with the first dose, and now my back is as strong as ever it was, and my kidneys are now in good condition, and I know that Doan's Kidney Pills will do this in every case where they are given a trial."

NEWS OF THE STATE

RECORD OF A WEEK'S HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN.

TIRES OF SACRIFICE

Man Who Has Served Fourteen Years in Prison for Murder Declares He Was Scapegoat for Brothers.

Charlotte.—Silas Compton, aged 70, was arrested at Athens, Pa., according to dispatches from that city, charged with the murder of William Lampman of Grand Ledge, Mich., Nov. 14, 1892. The warrant is based on an affidavit made by John Butcher, who has served 14 years on a life sentence at the Jackson prison for the crime.

Butcher says he has kept silent all these years to protect his brothers, Frank and John, farmers, who, he claims, were in the plot with Compton to rob the old man, who was rich and regarded as miserly. He insists Compton was the slayer.

On the day of his arrest, John Butcher made a confession, in which he said he did the killing alone, but afterward denied the admission.

Lampman lived alone in the edge of town, was 78 years old and a pensioner. His skull was battered in and a pair of overalls was used to choke him to death.

TEARS FLESH FROM BONES.

Machine in Woolen Mill Cause of Shocking Accident.

Eaton Rapids.—His flesh stripped from the bones, Frank Johnson was released from a carding machine at the Homer Bros. woolen mills. One arm had become caught in the machine while he was adjusting it. The machinery was stopped just in time to save Johnson's body from going in. When the arm was released the flesh had been torn from the bones to the shoulder.

Charged With Padding Estimates.

Detroit.—William H. Savory, supervisor of school property, charges that the real estate committee of the board of education deliberately padded the estimates for general repairs and renovations to the amount of $28,570.

Mr. Savory says this was done blindly, and that the committee did not visit the schools. He submitted a detailed statement to the school board and his total estimate was $38,925.

Attempt to Burn Village.

Tuscola.—Three incendiary fires started simultaneously threatened to destroy the village and the officers working on the case believe a deliberate attempt was made to wipe out the town. This is the fourth incendiary fire within three months. Less than 60 days ago the principal hotel was burned and it was believed at that time that it was the work of a firebug.

Shot by His Father-in-Law.

Charlotte.—Harry Foster and his wife quarreled over the question of giving the babe an airing, when Theodore Britton, father of Mrs. Foster, took a hand. The old man was handled rather roughly by Foster, and Britton shot him through the arm with a shotgun. Britton has been locked up.

Horse Kicks Out Woman's Teeth.

Ann Arbor.—A horse driven by John Frey and his sister, Clara Frey, who live on the Pontiac road, became frightened at an automobile. The horse commenced to kick and Miss Frey received a severe blow in the mouth, knocking out most of her teeth and cutting her face badly.

Child's Narrow Escape.

Owosso.—Thinking it was water, the four-year-old daughter of Mrs. W. A. Williams gave her two-year-old sister a cup half filled with ammonia to drink. The child's screams brought her mother home from a neighbor's and her life was saved by medical attention.

Aged Marshall Miller Dies.

Marshall.—Isaac Bisbee, probably the oldest miller in this part of the state, died of pneumonia. Mr. Bisbee operated one of the first mills ever built in Marshall and was active in the business up to the time of his illness. He was city marshal in 1883.

Eye Is Gouged Out.

Port Huron.—Tripping on an iron bar, Alfred St. Dennis had one of his eyes gouged out. An operation may have to be resorted to.

Fall Fatal to Aged Woman.

Adrian.—From a fall six weeks ago, Mrs. Sarah M. Baker, aged over 90, never recovered, gradually sinking until she died.

The Record has the largest circulation and is the best advertising medium in the county.

Will Remodel Opera House.
Owosso.—B. C. Whitney has bought the lease of the Owosso opera house, and the building will be remodeled this summer.

Wants $10,000 for Death of Son.
Port Huron.—August Kleson has started a suit in the United States court of Detroit against the Presque Isle Transportation company for $10,000 damages for the death of his son, George Kleson, who was killed on the steamer Peter White, Nov. 11, 1905.

$10,000,000 for Huron River Power.
Ann Arbor.—The Eastern Michigan Edison company has filed a mortgage for $10,000,000. The capital is for developing water power on the Huron river.

Among Magazines.

So many people have come to regard The Designer as the most reliable authority in matters of dress that it is with added interest we note the coming of the May number. That the cover design is by the famous French artist, M. Mucha, lends a particular value to the Standard Fashion costume in which he has the graceful figure clad.

Mary Kilsyth has for the time left the realm of interiors in the home decoration and taken up the subject "Attractive Gateways." She says: "If the real importance of the entranceway to a home were appreciated there would be more attention paid to investing it with some attractive quality."

Women who are casting about for a way to make their own living—women who have no business training—had better read about "The Mail Order Business" in the "Interest of Bread Winning" series for May. This same series has started a number of women we actually know of their way to independence.

Grace Aline Luther tells you how to make for yourself "A Short Lace Coat of Fancy Braid." You may not be a lace maker, but you can be a come on, professional or amateur, by reading these articles of instruction in detail.

The fiction and general articles in the May number are above par for entertainment and usefulness.

Massage your scalp yourself, night and morning, before putting your hair up. Run your fingers through your hair so that the tips of them will rest upon the scalp and then with the pulps of your fingers press upon the scalp, moving it up and down, upon the skull beneath, and using enough pressure to bring the blood to the roots of the hair. A quinine hair tonic applied to the top of the head where it is so hot each day before you do up your hair will cool the head. Change the style of wearing it from time to time, so as to rest the parts, and when you can, let your hair down and shake it out, so that the air can get to it.—From "Good Looks," in The Ladies' World for April.

Will Contest Low-Fare Laws

St. Louis, March 28.—The executive officials of railroads operating in Missouri and Arkansas, at a meeting Thursday in the office of A. J. Davidson, president of the Frisco system, agreed to contest the two-cent per mile passenger rate laws passed by the recent legislatures of those states. The attorneys of the railroads were instructed to outline a plan of action and file suits.

Thinks He Saw Marvin Boy.

Jersey City, N. J., March 29.—William Booth, a conductor on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, reported to the police late Thursday night that while his train was passing through West Boonton he saw a gypsy camp and noticed a child that resembled pictures he had seen of the missing Marvin child.

FOUND AT LAST

J. A. Harmon, of Lizenow, West Va., says: "At last I have found the perfect pill that never disappoints me; and for the benefit of others afflicted with torpid liver and chronic constipation, will say: take Dr. King's New Life Pills." Guaranteed satisfactory. 25c at W. N. Broderrick's drug stores.

Keep Thread Factories Busy.
Men and women of New York city require 550,000 miles of thread to hold their clothing together each year.

REVOLT OF PEASANTS IS NOT SUPPRESSED

BUCHAREST SO ALARMED THAT ALL SHOPS ARE CLOSED.

SLAUGHTER AT VLASCHKA

Seventy Insurgents Are Slain by the Troops—Authorities Are Bombarding Villages with Artillery.

Bucharest, March 29.—The efforts of the government to suppress the revolt of the peasants have met with only partial success. The troops are now acting with increased energy. A large number of rioters have been killed in the numerous conflicts with the soldiery, but as yet there is no sign of permanent amelioration of conditions. On the contrary, the rioters appear to be becoming bolder and more determined, and the situation undoubtedly is aggravated.

As an indication of the apprehension existing even in the capital, the new prefect of Bucharest, as a measure of precaution, ordered all shops in the city closed. This order created the impression that the rioters were approaching Bucharest and there was wild panic until it was learned that these fears were groundless.

Try to Raid Arsenal.

At Tirgovistes, in the Argess district, a band of peasants Wednesday attempted to raid an arsenal and procure a supply of rifles and ammunition. Upon being repulsed by the troops the rioters set fire to many houses in the town.

Several roving bands of peasants in the district of Telcorman were surrounded and brought to bay Wednesday by detachments of troops.

At Vlaschka a band of peasants called upon to disperse refused to do so and opened fire on the troops, whereupon the latter fired three shots at them from a field gun, killing 70 men and wounding many more. According to an unconfirmed version of the encounter, 200 of the peasants were killed.

A squadron of hussars sent to Bratova came in conflict with a band of peasants, and it is reported that 50 of the peasants were killed.

A train running between Bucharest and Komona was stopped by rioters and looted.

Quiet at Jassy.

There is a slight improvement in the situation at Jassy. The streets of the city are empty and the shops still shut. The peasants there apparently are overawed by the concentration of troops.

A serious encounter is reported to have taken place at the village of Papanabestie, in which many peasants were killed or wounded.

The bombardment of the three villages in the Vlaschka district, in which rioters had taken refuge, undoubtedly resulted in a very large casualty list, but the exact numbers cannot be learned. It is known, however, that several hundred peasants were arrested there. There have been sanguinary encounters in the district of Dolj, and rumor places the number killed and wounded in encounters with the troops at several hundred.

The authorities are beginning to use artillery to bombard the villages where the rioters take refuge.

The peasants committed terrible atrocities in the Buzeo district, and the troops sent thither had orders to suppress the disturbances at any cost.

MAY AVERT RAIL STRIKE.

Knapp and Neill Start for Chicago to Mediate.

Washington, March 29.—Chairman Martin A. Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor, will leave here Friday noon for Chicago, where they will hold a conference with representatives of conductors and trainmen and officials of western railroads entering Chicago in regard to the dispute over the question of wages which threatens to result in a disastrous strike unless a satisfactory adjustment is effected.

Chairman Knapp said that the visit of himself and Mr. Neill will be simply in the direction of mediation and conciliation. The request for these efforts at mediation and conciliation came from the railroads.

Social Spectacles.

If women in this country really enjoyed the respect universally accorded them in France, English social life would certainly not present the pitiable spectacle it does of "hooligan girls" and undignified married women not only tolerating, but wildly pursuing, asinine "Freddies" and effeminate "Bobbies."—Ladies' Field.

PANIC IN BRUSSELS BOURSE.

Four Banks Fail and Four Others Have to Be Assisted.

Brussels, March 29.—There was a panic on the bourse here Thursday, owing to four banks being unable to meet their liabilities. Four others were obliged to obtain an extension of time in which to settle their accounts.

One Ghent broker is $180,000 short. Other failures are expected. The total losses in the Brussels money market are estimated at $3,000,000.

Federal Prisoners Escape.

South McAlester, I. T., March 29.—Seven prisoners overpowered their guards and escaped from the United States jail here Thursday. One man was recaptured. The others, one of whom is supposed to be wounded, are still at large.

Gen. Kuroki Is Coming.

Tokio, March 29.—It was made public that Gen. Kuroki will represent the Japanese army at the Jamestown celebration.

HILL STOCK ISSUE VALID

GREAT NORTHERN'S $60,000,000 INCREASE IS UPHELD.

Minnesota Supreme Court Reverses Lower Tribunal—No Need to Constitute Railway Commission.

St. Paul, March 29.—The state supreme court Thursday upheld the Great Northern railroad in its contention that it had the right to issue $60,000,000 additional stock which was authorized by the board of directors several months ago. The issue was enjoined through the intervention of Attorney General Young, who held that the railroad company should first go before the state railroad and warehouse commission and submit to an examination to show the necessity of the issue. The contention of the state was upheld by Judge Hallam in the Ramsey county district court, and he ordered an injunction to issue. The supreme court reverses that decision.

The opinion of the court was unanimous. Chief Justice Start delivered the opinion, the syllabus of which follows:

1. The terms and conditions upon which corporations may be created, the powers and capital stock they may have, the purposes for which they may increase their capital stock and the conditions and limitations thereof are exclusively matter for legislative action which cannot be delegated.

2. The state having created railway corporations for public purposes, the legislature has the right to enact statutes regulating the increase of their capital stock. Such regulations tend to prevent secrecy of operation and accounts by such public agencies and the issue and sale of fictitious or watered stock, which is a felony in this state.

3. In the exercise of this right the legislature may enact a statute providing generally for what purposes and upon what terms, conditions and limitations an increase of capital stock may be made, and may confer upon a commission the duty of supervising any proposed increase.

4. It may also delegate to the commission the duty of finding the facts in each particular case, and may authorize and require it, if it finds the existence of facts that bring the case within the statute, to allow the proposed increase or otherwise to refuse it.

5. Any statute, however, which attempts to authorize the commission in its judgment to allow an increase of capital stock for such purposes and on such terms as it may deem advisable or in its discretion to refuse it would be unconstitutional, as an attempt to delegate legislative power.

6. Section 2,872, R. L. 1905, relating to the increase of capital stock of railway corporations, does not violate article 1, section 11, of the state constitution, or article 1, section 10, of the constitution of the United States, which forbid the enactment of any law impairing the obligation of contracts. It does, however, violate section 1, article 3, of the state constitution in that it delegates to the commission legislative power. Order reversed.

HOW TO REMAIN YOUNG

To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga., did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at W. N. Broderrick's drug store. Price 50c.

SAVED HER SON'S LIFE

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Ruppee. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Guaranteed best cough and cold remedy by W. N. Brodrick, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Short Talks On Advertising

By Record's Advertising Manager

The Man Who Advertises Gets the Business

Several years ago it seemed all right to establish yourself in business and let the people come to your store themselves without being told. That's different nowadays. You have got to go after them. Don't think for one moment that because you happen to be a leading citizen, one who has a reputation as a vote-getter don't need to advertise.

There happens to be just how several merchants who used to be great business getters when I was a mere kid, but who have since stopped advertising and are now seeing the results of their folly. Of course, they don't seem to notice it any more than a dog knows about its growing uselessness. The people can see the outward appearance of your store. If it is shabby, needs painting, or has poor window display that's one of the signs of a dwindling business.

Understand, and it's an undisputed fact, that to get more business you must advertise. Because you carry a full line of this and that won't carry any weight. Tell the people what you got. Living in Buchanan, and knowing some of the people's whims by nature, I honestly believe I know what I am talking about. And I intend to make it my policy to trade with merchants who advertise. The Record spends a lot of money gathering data to fight mail order methods. The merchants must combat them with up-to-date advertising and just as long as they keep their light under the bushel, just as long will their trade be eaten up by live, wide-awake competitors.

Again, don't bank your faith on mere reputation as a citizen—rather stake some of your pin-money on building up your business by common sense advertising.

You won't be bankrupt for getting out of the rut.

It pays to be a man who chases business and not in the manner of the man illustrated, who sits in his office waiting for trade to come to him.

BOOST BUCHANAN

O. M. Tabor has sold his farm to Jno. C. Fryman of Berrien Springs.

The men's meeting will be held in the Evangelical church Sunday at 3 P. M. All men are urged to be present.

Letters remaining unclaimed in P. O. at Buchanan, Mich., for week ending March 26, 1907: Letters, Mr. P. D. Pearce, Mr. Hearn Chesely, Mrs. Wm. Murry; Postal, Jas. Dayton.

A. A. WORTHINGTON, P. M.

At the next regular meeting of the Eastern Star, the gentlemen will give a box social. Each gentleman is requested to bring a box. There will be no charge.

Roller skating for charity is the latest fad of the Benton Harbor society ladies. The object of these charitable evenings is the new Benton Harbor hospital which is now under course of construction at a cost of $25,000.

Loren Sweet, who has been employed in W. E. Muehler's market for some time, has purchased a market at Marcellus and will take possession at once. His many friends will be sorry to lose him but wish him unbound success in his new home.

Another daring attempt at robbery was made at Wm. Roantree's lumber and coal office yesterday, but there was no report of any loss. Apparently the failure to get anything was due to Mr. Roantree's foresight in placing the valuables in some other secure place.

A cleverly planned surprise was sprung upon Mrs. W. G. Beardley by about forty neighbors and friends who came to remind her of her 61st birthday anniversary. A dainty luncheon prepared with skill and act by her friends was served and all reported having a grand time which they won't soon forget.

EDITOR RECORD—Enclosed find order for $1.25 subscription for the RECORD, as I know my time has run out and I MUST have the RECORD and always look forward to its coming. I find several former Buchananites here in the bluff city—Mrs. Wilda Nichols, 926 3rd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Easter services will be held at the Evangelical church. The church will be beautifully decorated and special music will be rendered at all services. The pastor will preach his farewell sermon in the forenoon at 10:30 o'clock. Other services as follows: 11:45 Sunday School; 6:00 Young People's Alliance; 7:00 Easter exercises by the Sunday School. Everybody come.

The 30-lb iron sign clock in front of E. J. Elson's jewelry store was dislocated from its moorings by the jar of the rail on which Mat. Kelling sat, hitting Jno. McFallon on the head and Kelling on the ankle. It was a close shave for both; though it was a wonder that both were not seriously injured. This happened yesterday.

The fire alarm bell clanged at about 4 o'clock yesterday and the boys of the department quickly responded but just as they were about to haul the hose cart to the scene of the fire they were halted by the report that the fire was extinguished. The fire was discovered at the Atlas Belting Co., but was quickly extinguished by the employees.

The safe in the local Michigan Central freight house was blown open and robbed early yesterday morning by bold robbers, presumably professional to judge by the manner with which they finished the job. The booty secured was not over one dollar, as the local agent always turns in all remittances to headquarters in the afternoon, and only papers are kept in the safe, which was a fortunate thing. The robbery occurred at exactly 2:29 according to the clock which ceased running by the force of the shock. Only a few of our people heard the noise of the explosion, but so skillfully did the robbers perform their work that they easily escaped.

Auction Sale

Wm. Conradt will have a big public auction sale on Tuesday April 9th. Watch for particulars in the RECORD and sale bills just out.

Special Monday Club Day

Monday was an ideal day and nearly all the members were present to enjoy the "Easter Day" at the home of Mrs. May Roe, with fancy work and visiting. The first hour seemed too short. A pretty trio was sung by Mesdames Dodd, East and Knight, Mrs. Graham at the piano. A guessing game was then given, Mrs. Maggie Dodd winning the prize. Mesdames Graham and Daw delighted the club by playing a duet of beauties from the opera of "Il Traviatore," the execution was fine and sympathetic, and a pleasing sight to see mother and daughter playing the piano with such skill. This was followed by a game that afforded much amusement, Mrs. Knight was the prize winner. Mrs. Jennie Dodd sang the beautiful Easter solo "Consider the Lilies," Mrs. Knight playing a fine accompaniment. As some of the ladies were too late to hear the duet Mesdames Graham and Daw kindly repeated it.

Delicious refreshments were served and each guest was given a souvenir card and Easter egg. The house was tastefully decorated with everything to remind one of Easter. The committee Mesdames Worthington and Phelps assisted Mesdames Roe and Johnson entertained most graciously and afforded the club one of the most pleasant afternoons of the year. Mrs. M. Dodd, of St. Joseph, and Mrs. Daw, of Chicago, were the guests. Club will meet April 1st with Mrs. Rose Howard.

"I don't care," she answered.
"Of course," he went on, "I must go away. That is the only way to get on in politics in these days. I must go away and get a specialty. I must know more about some country than any other man, and when I come back I must keep that country ever before the eye of the intelligent British workman who reads the halfpenny evening paper. That is fame—that is politics."
"But you must not go very far," she said sweetly.
"Africa."
"Africa? That does not sound interesting."
"It is interesting. Moreover, it is the coming country. I may be able to make money out there, and money is a necessity at present."
"I do not like it, Jack," she said in a foreboding voice. "When do you go?"
"At once. In fact, I came to say goodbye. It is better to do these things very promptly; to disappear before the onlookers have quite understood what is happening. When they begin to understand, they begin to interfere. They cannot help it. I will write to Lady Antourne, if you like."
"No, I will tell her."
So he bade her goodbye, and those things that lovers say were duly said; but they are not for us to chronicle.

CHAPTER IV.

IN his stately bedroom on the second floor of the quietest house in Russell square Mr. Thomas Oscar—the eccentric Oscar—lay, perhaps, a-dying.
Thomas Oscar had written the finest history of an extinct people that had ever been penned; and it has been decreed that he who writes a fine history and paints a fine picture can hardly be too eccentric. Our business, however, does not lie in the life of this historian—a life which certain grave wiseacres from the west (and had shaken their heads over a few hours before we find him lying prone on a four-poster, counting for the thousandth time the number of tassels fringing the roof of it. In bold, contradiction of the medical opinion, the nurse was, however, hopeful. Whether this comforting condition of mind arose from long experience of the ways of doctors or from an acquired philosophy it is not our place to inquire. But that her opinion was sincere is not to be doubted. She had, as a matter of fact, gone to the pantomime, leaving the patient under the immediate eye of his son, Guy Oscar.

During the last forty-eight hours, Guy Oscar had made the decision that life without Millicent Chyne would not be worth having, and in the hush of the great house he was pondering over this new feature in his existence. Like all deliberate men, he was placidly sanguine. Something in the life of a savage sport that he had led had no doubt taught him to rely upon his own nerve and capacity more than most men do. It is the indoor atmosphere that contains the germ of pessimism.

His thoughts cannot have been disturbing, for presently his eyes closed and he appeared to be slumbering. If it was sleep, it was the light unconsciousness of the traveler; for a sound so small that waking ears could scarce have heard it caused him to lift his lashes cautiously. It was the sound of bare feet on carpet.

Through his lashes Guy Oscar saw his father standing on the hearth rug within two yards of him. There was something strange, something unnatural and disturbing, about the movements of the man that made Guy keep quite still—watching him.

Upon the mantelpiece the medicine bottles were arranged in a row, and the "eccentric Oscar" was studying the labels with a feverish haste. One bottle—a blue one—bore two labels; the smaller one, of brilliant orange color, with the word "Poison" in startling simplicity. He took this up and slowly drew the cork. It was a liniment for neuralgic pains in an overwrought head—belladonna. He poured some into a medicine glass, carefully measuring two tablespoonfuls.

Then Guy Oscar sprang up and wrenched the glass away from him, throwing the contents into the fire, which flared up. Quick as thought, the bottle was at the sick man's lips. He was a heavily built man, with powerful limbs. Guy seized his arm, closed with him, and for a moment there was a deadly struggle, while the pungent odor of the poison filled the atmosphere. At last Guy fell back on art; he tripped his father cleverly, and they both rolled on the floor.

The sick man still gripped the bottle, but he could not get it to his lips. He poured some of the stuff over his son's face, but fortunately missed his eyes. They struggled on the floor in the dim light, panting and gasping, but speaking no word. The strength of the elder man was unnatural—it frightened the younger and stronger combatant.

At last Guy Oscar got his knee on his father's neck, and bent his wrist back until he was forced to let go his hold on the bottle.

"Get back to bed!" said the son breathlessly. "Get back to bed!"

W. A. PROCTOR KILLS HIMSELF.

President of Noted Firm Dies of Self-Inflicted Wound.

Cincinnati, March 29.—William A. Proctor, president of the Proctor & Gamble company and son of one of the firm's founders, died Thursday afternoon from a bullet wound, self-inflicted, at his home in Glendale, a suburb of this city.

Members of the family late at night admitted that Mr. Proctor committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. It is said he had been suffering from melancholy ever since the death of his wife, four years ago.

Mr. Proctor was widely known in business circles and was a prominent layman in the Protestant Episcopal church, to the institutions of which he was a liberal giver. His wealth was estimated at many millions, most of which had been made by himself. He was noted for the cooperative scheme for a division of profits with employees which he had designed for his company.

MEXICO WILL NOT INTERVENE.

Refuses to Interfere in the Central American War.

Mexico City, March 29.—"Mexico will on no condition join the United States in a joint intervention between Nicaragua and Honduras," was the positive declaration of Minister of Foreign Affairs Mariscal, at the foreign office Thursday.

"This government is ready at any time to join the United States in offering its good offices in friendly mediation, but will go no further. Should President Roosevelt decide to intervene, he will be obliged to act independently, as far as President Diaz is concerned."

Anti-Pass Bill Is Adopted.

Lincoln, Neb., March 29.—Both houses of the legislature Thursday took final action on the railroad anti-pass bill, adopting it by a practically unanimous vote and sending it to the governor. Gov. Sheldon signed the bill for municipal taxation of railroad properties in cities and towns.

Monroe Salisbury's Son Dying.

San Francisco, March 29.—Sidney Salisbury, one of the best known horsemen in this country, is in a dying condition at a local hospital from gas asphyxiation, as a result, it is said, of an attempt to commit suicide. His father is reported to be critically ill in New York.
