THAW JURY LOCKED UP ANOTHER NIGHT

UNABLE TO AGREE ON VERDICT AFTER 31 HOURS.

LOOKS LIKE A MISTRIAL

Jurors Twice Ask Court to Read Parts of Testimony, Especially That Concerning Defendant's Mental Condition.

New York, April 12.—Thirty-one hours of deliberation and no verdict. Such was the condition of affairs at 11:40 o'clock Thursday night, when the Thaw jury was ordered locked up for a second night at the criminal courts building. The fact that they had not been able to agree after devoting so much time to a study and discussion of the case gave rise to the belief that the trial will end in a disagreement and the whole affair will have to be gone over again.

Although the 12 men have thus far failed to reach a common opinion and to all appearances are hopelessly divided, Justice Fitzgerald has not given up hope of having a verdict rendered. As yet, Deming B. Smith, foreman of the jury, has not complained to the court that the jurors are unable to reach a decision, and until he does so it is not likely that Justice Fitzgerald will discharge them.

May Be Discharged Friday.

The general impression prevails that if the 12 men are unable to agree at the expiration of 48 hours they will be released from further service. The very fact, however, that no intimation has been received from the jury room that the men are unable to agree has been construed by many who have followed the proceedings closely as an indication that a verdict will eventually be reached.

The mother, wife and the two sisters and brothers of the defendant were in the criminal courts building up to the last minute and when it was finally announced that the jury had been locked up over night and there was no longer any prospect of a verdict before Friday, they returned to their hotel crestfallen.

Twice Ask Court's Help.

Twice during the day the jurors filed into the court room and asked the assistance of the court in an endeavor to bring about an agreement. They appeared wan and haggard after wrangling through all of Wednesday night in the stuffy little conference room, with only hard chairs and one long table provided for their comfort.

The jurors wanted to hear again the evidence of numerous eye witnesses to the tragedy. They wanted to hear what Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton had been allowed to testify to as to Thaw's condition the night of the tragedy, and what Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had said as to her husband's conduct that evening; they wanted to hear repeated again the conversations Thaw had with James Clinch Smith just before he committed the homicide; they wanted to hear several portions of Justice Fitzgerald's charge once more, and, finally, they asked permission to take possession of all the writings of Thaw which had been introduced into the trial, as indicative of the defendant's state of mind when he heard the story of Evelyn Nesbit's alleged wrongs at the hands of the man who was to become his victim.

All of these requests were gladly granted by the court, but when Foreman Deming B. Smith, on behalf of the jury, asked that certain portions of the summing up address by Delphin M. Delmas be read, Justice Fitzgerald called a halt. He admonished the jurors that they were to be guided only by the evidence and were not entitled to hear again the closing speeches of the lawyers.

Thaw Most Cheerful of All.

Harry Thaw's family—his white-haired mother, his pale young wife, his sisters and brothers—remained at the courthouse until late in the night. They visited the defendant on several occasions in the prisoner's pen on the floor above the courtroom. Their purpose was to cheer him, but he appeared by far the most cheerful of the group. The man's confident air seems never to leave him for any great length of time and buoyancy of spirit is nearly always apparent.

Few men accused of murder in the first degree have awaited the sealing of their fate with the calmness and the happy-go-lucky manner which has characterized Harry Thaw since the jury retired at 5:17 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

There were all sorts of rumors and guesses in the air Thursday as to how the jury stood. There were more different reports as to the results of the ballots than there could possibly have been last night.

None of the reports had any degree of authenticity. Some were uttered in jest by prominent figures connected with the trial and occasionally these were taken in deadly earnest by persons who overheard them.

Seems to Hinge on Sanity.

The action of the jury in twice going before Justice Fitzgerald to have certain portions of the testimony read to them was widely commented upon and naturally caused much speculation. It seemed evident that the jury's deliberations were hinging upon the question of the sanity or insanity of the defendant as shown by the defense. The jury showed an almost startling familiarity with the evidence, and the testimony they desired to hear again was given in part by persons who were not referred to in the summing up speeches of either Mr. Delmas or District Attorney Jerome.

From the manner in which the jurors wished to go over the evidence in all its detail, it was surmised that a verdict, if reached at all, would be predicated entirely upon the evidence and not upon "the unwritten law."

Thaw Women Worn Out.

Thaw was brought over from the Tombs after dinner and was visited in the prisoner's pen by his mother, his wife, the countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. Carnegie. All of the women seemed greatly fatigued by their long day's wait for some definite news from the jury. The prisoner's mother appeared entirely worn out as she went to cheer her son after dinner.

Two extra court officers were sworn in shortly after six o'clock and will assist the regular court officers in attending the jury.

Juror Pink, who was ill during the day, looked much better than when he appeared in court in the afternoon. The strain so far does not seem to have told particularly on any of the other jurors.

SALVADOR RENEWS THE WAR.

Sends 20,000 Men Against Nicaragua—Cable Service Stopped.

Mobile, Ala., April 12.—According to a letter received Thursday night via the steamer Hiram, from Puerto Cortez, the Nicaraguan-Honduran-Salvadorean war is not yet at an end. The correspondent at Puerto Cortez did not have full information at the time of the departure of the Hiram on the evening of April 7, but he states that the last telegram from the president of Salvador was to the effect that he was sending 20,000 men against Nicaragua to renew the combat.

Up to the receipt of this telegram it was believed by residents of Puerto Cortez that the war was practically at an end. The revolutionary leaders who entered the port with Estrada said they had a message from Zelaya dated April 6, that they were attacking Amapala, and that they expected to capture that town. President Bonilla is supposed to have been a refugee in Amapala, and with its fall was expected the capture of the president.

The correspondent further advises that the cables were taken in charge by the commander of the United States gunboat Marietta, and that on Sunday all cablegrams of any nature had been refused. It was further stated that if there is any fighting now in progress it is between Salvador and Nicaraguan forces.

WEARY OF BEING A FUGITIVE.

Man Who Says He Escaped After Death Sentence Surrenders.

Los Angeles, April 12.—A man about 45 years of age, travel-stained and weary, claiming to be George W. Bundrick, appeared in the town of Downey, Cal., near here, Thursday, and surrendered himself into the custody of John Edmunson, asserting that he had killed John Schroeder in Paines, Dooley county, Georgia, in 1902. He said that he had been arrested in Georgia, tried, convicted and sentenced to hang, but had escaped from jail at night at Americus by overpowering his guards. He said he was weary of hiding himself and being pursued over the country, and wanted to be taken back and hanged for his crime.

Atlanta, Ga., April 12.—George W. Bundrick, who surrendered in Los Angeles, together with his brother, way-laid John Schroeder and his wife who were returning to their home from Cordell at night. Schroeder was instantly killed and his wife seriously wounded. After two trials George W. Bundrick was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. He was taken to the Americus jail for safe keeping. In November, 1904, he and a man named Parker sawed their way out of jail.

PRIZE WINNERS AT PITTSBURG NAMED

AWARDS FOR PAINTERS CLOSE THURSDAY'S CEREMONIES.

GOLD MEDAL TO PARISIAN

Addresses by Distinguished Men Preceded by Notable Parade of Guests to the Carnegie Institute.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 12.—The formal dedication exercises of the enlarged Institute of Pittsburg, valued at $6,000,000 and one of the most beautiful and complete institutes of its kind in the world, were brought to a close for the day Thursday with the announcement of the prize-winners in the international art exhibition.

Following are the successful painters, amount of awards and titles of pictures:

First prize—Gold medal and $1,500—Gaston La Touche, Paris, France, "The Bath."

Second prize—Silver medal and $1,000—Thomas Eakins, Philadelphia, "Prof. Leslie W. Miller."

Third prize—Bronze medal and $500—Olga De Boznauska, Paris, France, portrait of a woman.

The following received honorable mention: Lawton S. Parker, Chicago, portrait of an English girl; W. Granville-Smith, New York, "The Old Mill," and Maurice Greiffenhagen, London, Eng., portrait of his wife.

Fine Concert in Evening.

Thursday night the foreign and American guests attended a concert given in their honor by the Pittsburg orchestra, directed by Emil Paur. The concert was the most brilliant in the history of the orchestra. Upon the invitation of Director Paur and the orchestra committee Sir Edward Elgar, of London, conducted one of his own compositions.

The ceremonies of the day, while elaborate, were marked with extreme simplicity. Addresses of international importance were delivered by Theodore von Moeller, minister of state, Germany; Paul Doumer, ex-speaker chamber of deputies, Paris; Andrew Carnegie; Baron D'Estournelles de Constant, member of the senate, Paris, and Dr. John Rhys, principal of Jesus college, University of Oxford. Rev. Dr. E. S. Roberts, vice chancellor of the University of Cambridge, England, delivered the invocation.

A lengthy letter of regret from President Roosevelt was read by the secretary of the institute. In his letter the president praised Mr. Carnegie for the great gift to science and education.

During the exercises the president was referred to as "the great peacemaker," and vociferous applause greeted every mention of his name.

Tribute to Carnegie.

Minister of State von Moeller paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Carnegie in his address on "The Popular Significance of the Carnegie Institute." The speaker dwelt at length on the achievements within the power of education and congratulated Pittsburg and Pittsburgers in their possession of the great institute. He said his presence here was as a message of good will from the German emperor, the German subjects and himself. In closing, Minister von Moeller said Mr. Carnegie's benevolence was sublime and the Pittsburg Carnegie Institute one of the most wonderful buildings he had ever seen.

The notable feature of the exercises was the parade of the European and American guests from the Hotel Schenley to the institute, a square away. Director A. A. Hamerschlag, of the Carnegie technical schools, accompanied by the faculty, headed the procession. Immediately behind came Andrew Carnegie and William N. Frew, president of the institute. Next came the foreign guests, followed by Mayor Guthrie, prominent Pittsburgers and the American guests.

Man with a Knife Arrested.

The police protection was admirable, as was shown a few minutes before noon, when Frederick Slagel, 33 years old, of Los Angeles, Cal., was arrested while attempting to enter the Hotel Schenley with an open knife hidden beneath his coat sleeve. Slagel said he wanted to see Mr. Carnegie concerning a patent for milking cows. He had $261 when arrested. The man's sanity will be investigated.

The exercises will continue Friday and Saturday. Those of Friday will probably be of the greatest importance, as the distinguished foreign and American guests will discuss international peace. Preceding this feature, however, addresses from universities, colleges and kindred institutions will be delivered. The Carnegie technical schools will be inspected and the ladies of the party will be entertained at a tea in honor of Mrs. Carnegie, at which Mrs. Guthrie, wife of the mayor, will preside. In the evening a banquet will be given by the trustees in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie.

Triplets Added to Big Family. South Omaha, Neb., April 12.—Triplets were born Wednesday night to Mrs. Anton Machal, wife of an Austrian packing house employe. Including last visits of the stork, the present bunch makes 17 children left at the Machal home. Sixteen children are living. The family is in aceddy circumstances.

AT CHICAGO THEATRES

"The Round Up"

McVicker's theatre has chosen for its annual spring production a drama of life in the boundless west—Edmund Day's "The Round Up" which Klaw & Erlanger will present for the first time on any stage in McVicker's theatre, Chicago, Monday, night April 15.

This splendid new play tells of a tale of life on the range, its story dealing with the people who live free and full lives; whose passions stir violently and whose hearts are warm and open, but who hate quite as cordially and splendidly as they love.

The play deals with two men who love the same woman. One wins her by a trick—a bit of deceit which his overwhelming love causes—but the woman, when she finds out she has been tricked sends the victor to search out the wronged man. The men meet in the vast alkali desert—the Mal Pais or badlands of New Mexico. Here they struggle to save each other from an attack by a band of Apache Indians. The arrival of the Sheriff of Pinal County, Arizona, with a company of United States Scouts turns the balance in the favor of the two men, but one of them had been wounded unto death.

Aside from this powerful central theme "The Round Up" abounds in comedy of the most vital sort. The character of the Sheriff, "Slim" Hoover, played by Maclyn Arbuckle, is the white light of the play. Mr. Arbuckle has given up his starring tour in "The County Chairman" to play "Slim." Klaw & Erlanger promise a magnificent production for the play. The run will be indefinite.

"The New York Idea"

Everyone who keeps track of what is going on in the Chicago theatres will remember the immense success achieved by Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company in "The New York Idea" at the Grand Opera house last Autumn. It is not likely to be soon forgotten. The play, which Mrs. Fiske and her associates act in a manner approaching perfection, was a go from the outset, and the demand to see it spread like wildfire, so that the two weeks of the engagement were utterly insufficient to accommodate more than a small portion of those who desired to see it. Many who desired seats found it impossible to get them. For that reason it is good news that Mrs. Fiske has, in response to an insistent demand arranged to play a return engagement at the Grand in "The New York Idea" for a fortnight beginning next Monday, April 15, with Saturday matinees only. Everywhere "The New York Idea" has been declared the most brilliant, the brightest, wittiest, merriest play of the season, and to give Mrs. Fiske the most delightful role of her career. As Mrs. Fiske's offerings are always kept up to the top notch of excellence, it is hardly necessary to say that the cast and production and the same beautiful settings will be used. These will be the last opportunities to see Mrs. Fiske in her fascinating portrayal of Cynthia Karlsake, as she will not present "The New York Idea" in Chicago again, and has no bookings in the vicinity. It is recommended that seats for the present engagement be secured early as there are hundreds who didn't see the "New York Idea" and will want to, as well as hundreds who did see it, but want to again.

That Word "Drunk"

The city council of St. Joseph was jarred to its very foundation when one of its aldermen arose at its recent meeting and informed that body of "learned gentlemen" that the word "drunk", which so often appeared in the reports of the chief of police, "rasped harshly against his nerves and bothered his highly cultured tastes."

The alderman went on to explain that St. Joseph is a progressive city, her citizens are generally acquiring a higher education that makes it impossible to use forms of speech which formerly were acceptable.

The word "drunk" he said, was undignified and has become too much played out. He was of the opinion that it should no longer appear in city documents, but that in its stead some milder, more dignified and more soothing noun should be used.

He suggested "intoxicated." Several other aldermen offered shorter terms, naming "bun", "jag" and "tee", but the "intoxicated" champion stuck to his belief that his word was the correct one to use, and the council finally yielded to his whim and adopted his idea.

Therefore, in the documents filed in the future by the chief of police the word "drunk" will be eliminated and the new phrase "intoxicated and disorderly" will be known as the standard phrase.

What nonsense! Webster's Unabridged dictionary has plenty of appropriate words to fill the bill.

BOOST BUCHANAN

Obstructing the Sidewalks

The placing of obstructions on sidewalks in front of buildings in course of construction is a nuisance and an inconvenience to the public.

It is inexcusable.

Why should the public be deprived of the right to use the streets and not for the personal gratification of some builder or contractor? The recent rains have rendered the roads so muddy that when a citizen has to turn around an obstructed sidewalk he has to wade ankle deep in mud and water.

It would be useless for anyone to say that this condition cannot be helped. It CAN be.

Scaffolds can be so constructed to allow people to pass under, or if compelled to turn around the other way, a special path of long boards placed end to end can be made and will greatly eliminate kicking.

If there is a building commissioner we believe he will do his duty when he sees another deplorable nuisance as above.

Probably our street commissioners can get busy, too.

Brain food is what you want in these stirring times. There is nothing better than bread made from the Goshen blended flour, Gerbelle.

Bitten by a Spider

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington, of Bosqueville, Texas, would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." 25c. Guaranteed at W. N. Brodrick's, druggist.

Use the Goshen blended flour, Gerbelle. It is the best and cheapest.

LOCAL NEWS

The baseball enthusiasts are yearning for the weatherman to give them good, warm baseball weather.

The bad weather has halted the work for several days on the big dam now in course of construction at Berrien Springs.

The Record office has just finished binding the tax and assessment rolls for the village—a triumphant example of getting the job out in quick time.

The Record has just received word of the birth of a daughter last Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mercer, of Rochester, Minn. Mr. Mercer was formerly superintendent of our high schools.

Rev. Frank O. Watters, pastor of M. E. church will preach next Sunday morning on the subject "Christ's Message to the Man with the Hoe." There will be the usual services in the evening. Everyone welcome.

Mrs. Thos. Tormey, wife of City Editor Tormey of the Niles Daily Star, underwent an operation for appendicitis at South Bend last Saturday, and is reported as getting along nicely. She was Miss Wright, who formerly lived here.

F. L. Shippe, of South Bend, has been awarded the contract to build the Niles and Buchanan extension of the Southern Michigan Railway line. It will take 90 days to complete the work.

The lowering of the creek near the city hall offered an easy way for the little boys to catch fish without anything but their hands, and it is said, some of the boys made money out of their big haul, thus giving them a chance to buy baseball outfits.

The Roanoke Lumber and Coal company have been for the past several weeks stocking their yards with several carloads of shingles and lumber, preparatory to the large summer trade that promises to swamp them.

The Workingmen's Protective Association, of Benton Harbor, is entering upon its fourth year of existence and its report just issued to the public, shows the organization in a flourishing condition, which speaks well for the promoters. Quite a number of our Buchanan citizens are members of the order.

The county board of canvassers, now in session at the county court house, have an arduous task before them in counting the recent election returns, but as the returns were not so heavy as in previous elections they will probably finish their work in short time.

According to the report of fruit men, who have examined the trees, the fruit orchards of the famous lake shore drive south of St. Joseph will produce a large crop of peaches, plums, pears and apples this season. It was generally thought that the severe cold last fall had injured the trees. The prospects look very gloomy for many of our Buchanan orchard-lovers.

It's time for you to look after the condition of that sidewalk in front of your residence, and then you will be immune from damage suits. A very indignant lady of Niles has sued that city for damages for defective sidewalk. Moral: Keep the village's streets well paved.

The first snow in the winter of 1906 was on Oct. 10, when Buchanan was just beginning to make arrangements with the coal man to put in their winter stoves, when lo and behold! the ground was covered with snow. Now, just as we were yelling ourselves hoarse with the arrival of spring and anticipating bright prospects for baseball, etc., we were suddenly and unexpectedly given the cold shoulder, when on April 10, 1907 it snowed and continued to snow until we had about given up hopes. The peculiar thing about it is that exactly six months elapsed between the first snow in the Fall of 1906 and the first snow in the Spring 1907.

Have You a Copy?

Have you a copy of the Buchanan Record for the following dates—Jan. 25, Jan 29, Feb 8, Feb. 19, Mar. 12 and Mar. 15 for the year 1907? If you have any copies of the above dates, please bring them to the Record office.

Sylvia Chapter, O. E. S. has received an invitation from the Colonial chapter, of Benton Harbor, to visit their chapter next Wednesday evening, April 17th. All members who wish to go will please call on Mrs. E. W. Sanders.

Services at the Evangelical church next Sunday will be in charge of Class Leader F. L. Sewell. Prayer service, 10:30. All should attend this. Sunday school, 11:45; Y. P. A., 6:30 p. m.; no service at 7:30. You are cordially welcome to all these.

The Geo. R. Rich Manufacturing company received ten large orders yesterday and three today and as a consequence the employees are working night and day. The company have ordered seven new machines which are now enroute to this city.

The St. Joseph papers stated that the recent campaign expenses of the Non-partisan party at the spring election and the prior election as well, was the smallest ever known in its history. In previous years the republican and democratic parties have spent as high as $500, sometimes higher, depending upon the heat of the campaign. This Spring they are congratulating themselves for getting off with as low as $10.

Two young ladies, dressed in all their glory, were standing at the corner of Oak and Front streets yesterday, conversing and giggling, when "suddenly" and without "warning" a package held by one of the women fell on the cement battering, shattering and scattering half a dozen fresh eggs. While not damaging the cement it, however, left an eggish, yellow and not a pleasing color cemented to the cement. We have to withhold the names of the ladies for reasons known to the joker.
