PRESIDENT GOES TO JAMESTOWN FAIR

SAILS WITH FAMILY ON THE YACHT MAYFLOWER.

CEREMONIES OF FRIDAY

Congressional and Diplomatic Parties Also Start for the Exposition—Plans for Entertaining Naval Officers.

Washington, April 26.—President Roosevelt, members of his family and a party of friends left the Washington navy yard at 8:10 o'clock Thursday afternoon aboard the yacht Mayflower for a visit to the Jamestown exposition. They are to return Sunday morning. On Saturday the president and Mrs. Roosevelt are to make a trip up the James river on the dispatch boat Sylph.

The congressional party, comprising a point committee of the senate and the house and their families, preceded the presidential party in the morning. Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf and others left earlier in the afternoon on the United States steamship Dolphin, and the diplomatic corps, whose members are to be the guests of the Jamestown tercentennial commission, followed Thursday night.

Those in President's Party.
The president's party was made up as follows, in addition to himself: Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Masters Archie and Quentin Roosevelt, Justice Moody, of the supreme court; Secretary Loeb, Assistant Secretary Bacon and Mrs. Bacon, Assistant Secretary Latta, Mrs. Ralph Cross Johnson, Capt. Lee, one of the president's military aides; Capt. Key, one of the president's naval aides; Lieut. Commander Long, and Dr. Ohnesorg, U. S. N.

A large crowd assembled at the navy yard to see the distinguished guests leave. As the ship pulled out a presidential salute of 21 guns announced the president's departure.

While the arrangements were being made for the vessel's departure the crowd, among whom were a number of children, surged near the ropes which held her, notwithstanding the warnings of the officers. The president showed deep concern for their safety and, advancing to the rail of the vessel, admonished the children to keep back.

Ceremonies of Friday.

The president will take an important part in the opening of the exposition and the exercises incidental thereto at Hampton Roads Friday. In the morning there is to be the review of the assembled men of war and the reception of the flag officers and commanding officers of the foreign ships. At half-past ten the president is to leave the Mayflower and is to be met at the end of the government pier by the officers of the exposition and a military escort and will be saluted by the United States artillery stationed on the exposition grounds. An hour later he is to go to the reviewing stand on Lee's parade, in the rear of the Auditorium building, where a program of exercises, including the addresses of President Tucker of the exposition and of President Roosevelt, and the pressing of the gold button opening the exposition, are to take place.

In the afternoon there is to be a lunch to the president and his party in the Auditorium building, review of a parade of the soldiers and sailors of the national guard and a reception to the president by the officers and directors of the Jamestown Exposition company, after which, at five p. m., the president returns to the Mayflower. In the evening at eight o'clock the president and Mrs. Roosevelt are to dine with President Tucker at his home in Norfolk.

To Entertain Naval Officers.

Arrangements have been made at the navy department for the entertainment of the officers of the foreign warships assembled at Hampton Roads for the Jamestown exposition. The program includes a visit to Washington under the escort of officers of the United States navy and their entertainment while in this city as guests of the nation.

The first party will leave Norfolk next Monday evening on one of the regular steamers and will spend Tuesday and Wednesday in this city, returning to Norfolk Thursday morning. This party will include all foreign flag officers and captains acting singly, with their staffs, and the flag officers and staffs of the United States vessels. They will be received at the White House Tuesday morning and it is probable that a dinner will be given a their honor by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt. At subsequent periods during the exposition the other officers of the foreign warships will be brought to this city and entertained by officers of the United States navy.

"The Virginian" at the Chicago Grand Opera House

The Kirke LaShelle production of "The Virginian," as dramatized from Owen Wister's fascinating story of the West, will return to the Grand Opera House next Sunday for a farewell two weeks' visit. Dustin Farnum continuing in the same part for the first time, supported by a carefully chosen company. "The Virginian" is a play of the West, when men were men simply for the sake of being manly and when life on the range meant a clear eye, a steady nerve and a conscience that was never bothered by the ethical niceties of civilization, but which always a duty and how to fulfill it.

The hero of Owen Wister's novel has the essential qualities of a real man of the West, a cowpuncher as they were before the barbed wire fences came into use in the cattle country. "Nebraska," "Honey," "Wiggin," "Baldy," "Dollar Bill," "Steeve and Trampas" are taken from life without idealization, and are transplanted from the book to the stage in a charming manner.

Perfect types of the plains are the ranch owners, who take part in the episodes surrounding the affair of the Virginian, while a charming contrast is Molly Wood, the gallant little representative of Grandmother Stark, who eventually strikes her colors, her narrowness expanding under the sunshine of Wyoming and the manly voice of her hero.

"The Virginian" has been frequently called a man's play, principally because it is a genuine illumination of the untrammeled man the chief actors are men, but it is more than a man's play and therefore worthy of the attention of all who are interested in the affairs of humanity. It is a play that gives to its auditors a faithful picture of what has passed from the life of the West, for Owen Wister knows that country, and has given a most truthful version of some features of its life in "The Virginian."

Dustin Farnum will again be seen in the title role as originated by him with much success. Among the supporting company will be Frank Campanau in his original conception of the rascally Trampas, (his farewell appearance), Bennett Musson, J. R. Furlong, Harry Holliday, Frank Vail, Craig Muir, C. R. Gilbert, Mabel Wright, Eleanor Wilton and Jane Taylor.

BONDS STOLEN WERE MORE THAN $400,000

W. O. DOUGLASS TOOK THEM TO COMPEL LENIENCY.

SO SAYS GOTHAM PAPER

Conspirators Tried to Engage Josiah Quincy as Counsel—Newport Lawyer Offered Settlement Proposition.

New York, April 26.—The World says: "It was learned Thursday that the amount of bonds stolen from the Trust Company of America by William O. Douglass, the assistant loan clerk, was in excess of $400,000. All of these bonds are now in the possession of the trust company or have been located."

"It was learned that the major part of the stolen bonds were taken from the strong box of the company by Douglass shortly before he fled on Friday last."

"His purpose in doing this, it was claimed Thursday, was to compel the company to overlook his smaller thefts if he should return this block."

Wanted Quincy as Counsel.

"It also developed that when this plan had been worked out either Douglass or Dennett wrote a letter to Josiah Quincy, former mayor of Boston, asking him to act as their counsel in the matter and to undertake the task of reaching a settlement with the Trust Company of America."

"It is understood that Mr. Quincy declined the retainer tendered to him. On Sunday a lawyer from Newport, R. I., called at the home of Oakleigh Thorne, president of the Trust Company of America, and it is understood, submitted to him a proposition for reaching a settlement."

"Mr. Thorne declined the offer. At the time the Newport lawyer was a visitor at Mr. Thorne's house Douglass was already under arrest and Dennett was under surveillance. Mr. Thorne did not communicate this news, however, to his visitor."

"On Monday when Douglass was arraigned in court, Robert Honey, of Newport, appeared as his lawyer. He said that he was retained by a third party to defend the young man. The identity of this third party has never been disclosed."

Rumors Not Confirmed.

Secrecy surrounds the work of the district attorney's office and the private detective bureau charged with running down those responsible for the theft of the bonds. Throughout the day there were rumors that many of the missing bonds had been found under the flooring of Dennett's office in Wall street. This could not be officially verified, nor could the still more persistent report that the brains of the conspiracy against the trust company were to be found in the person of a Boston lawyer yet unnamed publicly.

San Francisco, April 26.—A sensational story was sprung in labor circles Thursday night of an alleged conspiracy and plot to kidnap and murder P. H. Shuckley, one of the alleged conspirators, in which he implicates five other members of electrical Union No. 6. Harry Sullivan and M. H. Carmody are under arrest.

ANGRY MOB BEATS MOTORMAN.

Enraged by Killing of Lad by Coney Island Car.

New York, April 26.—The sight of the horribly mutilated body of a 16-year-old boy who had been ground to death under its wheels Thursday night, transformed the passengers of a Coney Island surface car into a maddened mob which beat into unconsciousness, and might have killed, the motorman but for the arrival of police reserves who clubbed the infuriated men back. In the crowd was the father of the victim who until order had been restored, was unaware that his son had been killed.

Newspaper Subscription Laws

We have been often asked whether collection of arrearages of subscription could be made in certain cases. Here are a few of the decisions in the matter from the U. S. supreme court, as published in the Michigan Press Association Bulletin, which will answer numerous questions:

2. "If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid."

5. "The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and having them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud."

6. "The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest anyone for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued or orders the postmaster to mark it refused, and have a post card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft."

SHORTAGE OF $92,000 FOUND

WOONSOCKET COMPANY STOCKHOLDERS MAY HAVE TO PAY.

General Manager Resigns on Request and Gives Up Property Valued at $40,000.

Woonsocket, R. I., April 26.—A shortage of about $92,000 in the accounts of the Woonsocket Electric Machine and Power company was revealed Thursday by the issuance of the stockholders of the company of a circular letter announcing that a heavy shortage had been discovered. The letter, which was issued by order of the directors, further stated that the resignation of Levi Cook Lincoln, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the company, had been accepted.

John J. Heffernan, counsel for the directors of the company, said: "I believe the amount of the shortage is about $92,000. Mr. Lincoln has resigned and has turned over to the company property which he claims is worth $40,000."

After reading the circular letter of the directors and the statement of Mr. Heffernan, Mr. Lincoln said:

"I admit the situation is substantially as stated. Further than this I must decline to be interviewed. I take this step upon the request and the advice of our directors and the purchasers."

Recently negotiations have been under way for the sale of the business to the firm of Estabrook & Co., and the circular says that the alleged embezzlement will not interfere with this sale, although the stockholders may be called upon to make good any deficiency.

President George Batcheller, of the Woonsocket Machine & Power company, is a member of the state commission to the Jamestown exposition and went to Jamestown Wednesday. He was notified by telephone of the resignation of General Manager Lincoln and the other developments of the day, and announced his intention of returning to Woonsocket at once. Pending his return it was announced that no further action in relation to the situation would be taken.

PEOPLE OF MADRID EXCITED.

Eagerly Await News of Birth of the Royal Child.

Madrid, April 26.—Public suspense has reached the highest point and every unusual noise is mistaken by the excited populace for the booming of a royal salute announcing the birth of an heir to the throne. Crowds follow the carriage of every minister seen in the vicinity of the palace, supposing that he has been summoned to see the newly born child.

The physicians in attendance upon Queen Victoria report her condition as normal. There was a brilliant concert at the palace Wednesday night. Queen Victoria attended and remained up until 11 o'clock. Thursday her majesty took her usual morning and afternoon drives and was greeted everywhere by the warm-hearted people with affectionate demonstration.

All the ancient ceremonies held in connection with the birth of a child to the king and queen have been prepared for. Many holy relics and symbols have arrived at the palace, including the girde of Tortosa which dates from the twelfth century and is supposed to be of particular virtue to women about to become mothers.

PURE FOOD LAWS DEFIED.

Preservative For Meats Is Found in Use in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., April 26.—Dr. S. J. Crumbine, secretary of the state board of health, announced Thursday that he had discovered in use here a preservative for meats, the manufacturers of which, he asserts, are openly defying the state and federal pure food laws. The preservative is made in the east and chemical tests show that it contains charcoal and pure sulphur, which when burned form a sulphur dioxide gas that is absorbed by the meat and has the same effect as borax. The manufacturers in their circulars state that the preservative makes it possible for butchers to evade the law, contending that the powder itself does not touch the meat.

Secretary Crumbine has notified all pure food inspectors in Kansas to warn butchers against the use of the preservative and he says he will submit the matter to Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry at Washington.

PAYNE IS AT LIBERTY

Oldest Prisoner's Term in Prison Shortened by Good Behavior

Benton Harbor, April 25.—Tom Payne, the eccentric old Galien citizen who was sentenced by Judge Coolidge three years ago to serve from one to five years in the state prison for the murder of his young wife, with whom he had quarreled over money matters, has been given his liberty, having gained several months by his good behavior while in prison.

Payne was the oldest criminal ever lodged in the county jail and the oldest murderer ever tried in Berrien county. His trial was sensational and every part of the county was very much interested in the case. The circumstances of the case were such that the judge was lenient in passing sentence. Both in the county jail and at Jackson prison Payne was an ideal prisoner, and never expressed the slightest remorse for his crime. He declared that he was having the best time of his life while he was in prison, and when Deputy Sheriff DeTemple called on him once at the prison, the old gentleman declared that he did not want his liberty, that he was happy and contented.

Payne was in Niles visiting old friends last Saturday and was in his usual jovial mood, his incarceration in the prison has not in the least impaired his health or sense of humor. Payne was at one time very wealthy, having owned several hundred acres of land near Galien.

ADMISSION TO M. N. G.

Berrien Springs Military Company is Seeking Place.

Berrien Springs, Mich., April 25.—The Berrien Springs military company, which was organized recently, will apply for admission to the Michigan state guard. There are said to be a number of vacancies in the state guard at present, but the companies in several cities are asking to be installed in the state service. Whether they are admitted to the state guard or not the company will remain intact and will be known as an independent company. Dr. Harry S. White, formerly of Benton Harbor, is captain of the new company; George Benson, of Berrien Springs, is first lieutenant, and Win Dix, son of ex-Auditor General Dix, is second lieutenant.

Interurbans Put Steamer "Tourist" Out of Business.

There will be no delays of the street cars this summer because of the passage of the river steamer Tourist through the highway bridge. The river boat has been purchased by the street railway company and will not be put into commission. It is stated that the reason for the purchase of the steamer was to stop her passing through the bridge and delaying the cars several hours every day during the summer months. The old bridge is in such bad condition that it requires several minutes to open or shut it and cars are often delayed on each side of the river for several minutes.

For a time the river steamers afforded about the only means of reaching the numerous resorts which dot both sides of the St. Joseph river, unless one drove through the dust, along bad roads, but within the past year interurbans have been run along each side of the stream so that most of the resorts are easily reached, and the demand for the river steamer is not so great as formerly.

The Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Railway company has its interurban, which touches first at King's land, then at the most prominent resorts between this city and Eau Claire.

Will Buchanan Lose One of Its Best Factories?

We are beginning to read the handwriting on the wall. This is a very plain question—it stares you in the face, and yet, what are you going to do about it?

If your son is employed, can you show just a spark of interest in it? If you are yourself employed, can you be doubly concerned about it, enough to remember that the moment the factory is gone your means of a livelihood vanishes?

If you are a business man, has it ever occurred to you that the very dollars that the workmen earn from the factory goes, part or whole, into your cash register to pay for the food, furnishings and fuel for the family, and that you use part of the earnings to buy more goods—which in short means that oft-repeated 'home-trade.'

Now, be frank. This is not the time to mince words. There must be action—real ACTION—and lots of it.

Dayton, Ohio, the home of the famous National Cash Register Company, had a very narrow escape, almost by a hair-breadth, from losing that factory. If you could know the details that led up to their decision to stay you would shudder at the boldness with which the men, who, in a fit of utter disregard to real appreciation, heaped piles and piles of slander at their own benefactors, the officers of the National Cash Register Company.

Fifteen hundred business men of that city, Dayton, assembled, including its Common Council, its clergymen, and all who claim themselves worthy citizens. John H. Patterson was the speaker. He told the hearers just what he would do if the city didn't get busy. He made his audience swallow the bitterest medicine they ever tasted. His talk was oratorically violent, and tensely dramatic. Nobody could leave—they dare not. No one talked back—they were not allowed to. His topic was, "Why the National Cash Register Company Will Leave Dayton."

John H. Patterson made no apologies, nor did he seek to soften his remarks to suit the ears of his hearers. Had the meeting been anywhere else than in a hall owned by the speaker he certainly would have been interrupted, probably hissed; and might have been mobbed. As it was, Patterson was supreme—his audience was cowed, dazed, undone. An audience is usually a brutal thing—a thousand-legged beast with its myriad goggle eyes, pitting itself against the speaker and hoping for his fall.

This time it crouched at the feet of the speaker, silent, abashed. Those very men who for years offered continual insult to the company were now face to face with its manager. They listened. They had to. Some tried to smile, but couldn't, and slipped down low into their seats. The speaker gave facts, figures, statistics and quotations. He spared neither living nor dead. He told them there was no bluff in the company's threats. Dayton, he said, was controlled by corner-grocer setters; whittlers of sticks; expert expektorators; be-whiskered Has-Beens; charter members of the I-Told-You-So Club; founders of the I-Knew-Him-When-Inner Circle; pin-headed newspaper men—jealous, mean, small; whiffing paragraphs; pestiferous attorneys; picaune bankers; cantankerous preachers of an out-grown and obsolete religion, and all the bourgeois buzz-fuzz stuffed with straw respectability that an overgrown, mossback village can supply. That was exactly the kind of language Mr. Paterson hurled at his friends and foes. And he won. A banquet was spread. The entire audience was fed and they accepted the stinging indictment. It was a memorable banquet and they will never forget it.

Dayton has learned a lesson. Her experience is valuable to any town. It shows that when any community wishes to enjoy the prosperity that goes with a good manufacturing industry it must do its share to encourage and assist that concern, instead of criticising and blocking its progress in various and sundry ways.

While it is generally supposed that all of the obstacles in the way of our retaining one of our present industries have been removed, there are still heard faint mutterings of certain unsatisfied and hard-to-please parties, who cannot see that its retention would prove of any direct benefit to themselves.

Let us hope that these men will come into the fold and add to general harmony so that all those who are anxious for a continuance of our prosperity will not have to taste Dayton's bitter medicine on account of a FEW.

Step Up and Do Something! It has been well said that the duty of citizenship does not end with payment of taxes and individual observance of the law. The law-abiding citizen owes a further duty to the community. He should be an officer to the extent of informing the proper authorities of any open and flagrant violations of the law and should aid in every possible way in bringing criminals to the bar of justice. It must not be understood that he should put in his time and attention to ferreting out crime, but when offenses against the dignity of law and the peace of the community come under his individual observation, his duty as a citizen should prompt him to put the facts in the possession of the proper officers, and if the conditions require, he should willingly go into court and prove his charges. Such a course is far more commendable and more likely to be productive of results than to blow and bluster about infractions of the law, either on the street corners or through the columns of an incessant whiner and scold.—South Bend Times.

Resolutions

WHEREAS: Death has again entered our Hive and removed from our midst our late sister, Lizzie Blodgett; and

Whereas, the relations long held by our deceased sister with the members of this Hive render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of her services as a Maccabee. Therefore be it

Resolved, that in the death of Lizzie Blodgett this Hive loses a sister who was always active in her work as a Maccabee;

Resolved, that this Hive tender its heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives of our deceased sister in this their sad affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of this Hive, and a copy of them sent to the family of our deceased sister.

Well, Men Do Care.
A man is lost when he ceases to care what people think of him. We hear the remark every day to the effect "I don't care what they think." It is not correct. If a man does not care what people think of him, nine times out of ten he is dishonest; certainly he is lost to all shame. That is the foundation of the fear of the press. Men are afraid that, if the facts in their lives are printed, it will cause some people who now think well of them, to think ill of them. They would not so much object to being fined for their remissness if they could go around the corner and pay the fine in private, but to have to pay the fine by having the community know the nature of the remissness, there is your severest of all punishments.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

will bring our repository right to your home, for our large catalog shows every vehicle and harness we manufacture just as we show them in our large repository, except that the illustrations in the catalog hardly do the real vehicle or harness justice. However, if you cannot spare the time to come to our factory and go through our repository, we want to send you one of our catalogs and a postal card with your name and address on same is all that is necessary.

WE ARE THE LARGEST MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD selling direct to the consumer exclusively, and we have conducted our business on this plan for a THIRD OF A CENTURY. We make over 200 styles of Vehicles and 65 styles of Harness, and we have in our repository here at our factory, one of the most complete lines of pleasure vehicles and harness ever shown. It would give us pleasure to show you this line, and also have you go through our different departments and we extend to you an invitation to visit our factory.
