

St. Joseph Steps Boldly to Front

Prominent Citizens Form Improvement Association to Secure Factories and Make a "Greater St. Joseph"

After weeks of struggle, during which it often seemed as though all efforts were in vain, the St. Joseph Improvement Association has at length left the ways and is at last launched upon the sea which it is expected to sail.

It has only been by dint of the hardest kind of a struggle that the promoters of this association have been able to push their plan through to the sound and firm basis upon which it now stands. They have spent personal time and money in the work, their only reward being the hope that the city of St. Joseph would profit through their endeavors and become a greater and a better municipality.

That they have been successful is due to the fact that there exists in St. Joseph a number of thoroughly up-to-date, enterprising citizens, who were willing to invest money that they knew would never be returned to them again, unless through the increased business that the city would obtain.

It was the desire of the business men that the association be capitalized for $4,000.00 and throughout the long struggle they clung tenaciously to this one idea, the association must be capitalized at $4,000.00 to insure success.

The aim of the association will never be towards personal gain, but always toward furthering the best interests of St. Joseph. Not one cent of the money received for stock sold will ever be used for personal purposes, all of it is to be expended in attempting to bring to this city industries of a substantial nature and in all other ways which will boom St. Joseph to the benefit of the entire city.

Blues Lost to Dowagiac Yesterday—Score 5 to 4

One of the finest games of baseball was played yesterday on the local diamond between the Blues and "Doe Wah Jacks"—the game being featured with heavy hitting and fast fielding.

In the opening inning Dowagiac scored two runs. Paul was thrown out to first by Crouch; Ackerman and Freeland hit safely, and after Smith struck out Foster hit safely, bringing in two runs, but died on Crouch's throws of Miller's hit to first.

The Blues immediately showed the fans the stuff they were made of and tied it up in a jiffy. Ashby grounded to the pitcher Hanover's swell hit was dropped in left field by Ackerman and he took third on Bacon's two-bagger in left. Cogswell was there with the hit to tie up and put one against the center field fence, being stopped at second by fast fielding went to third on Berry, out from Smith to Ritter. Harkrider hit to Ritter who muffed it up and the rally ended by Bruce flying out to Ackerman.

Swell fielding kept the score a tie until the fifth inning when hits by Bacon and Harkrider, an error of Foster on Hanover's smash in center, coupled with two infield outs scored two more for Buchanan. At this stage the fans were wild over a possible victory but in the sixth inning the tide changed and Dowagiac went at it for keeps, making three which proved enough to win.

Ackerman was passed. Freeland grounded to Hanover, Smith soaked a two-bagger into center scoring Ackerman. Foster and Miller both hit safely and with two infield outs three scores were over which ended the scoring for the day.

A good crowd was in attendance and appreciated the fine game put up by both teams. The Blues played snappy ball and presented the best front of the season, playing good enough ball to please the most ardent fan. With the team work and good hitting they displayed, they are sure to win the balance of games scheduled for the season.

Local Sporting

SPARKS FROM THE DIAMOND

Cogswell's smash into center in the first inning would have been good for a "homer" on a fast out-field.

Foster robbed Harkrider of a hit in the third inning by a brilliant running catch, turning a circus somersault but holding on to the ball.

Hanover played the best first base of the season digging up low throws and taking a throw from Crouch with his gloved hand.

"Dusty" Miller, a former Michigan leaguer, caught a fine game and was popular with the crowd.

Ashby played for Ackerman's bunt in the seventh inning, stabbing his liner, doubling Paul off first in major league style. The captain is playing the game of his career. A better third baseman cannot be found in these parts—his hit in the ninth was a beauty.

Smith at short for Dowagiac had a busy day, his fast work on ground hits being a pleasing feature.

Bacon pleased his many admirers by making three hits in five times, up-hitting .600 and playing in grand form around second. His only mistake being in dropping the ball in the act of throwing after trapping a hard chance, he caught his foot in the mud around second—the mishap did not prove costly.

Dowagiac's outfielders play the game every minute.

Harkrider and Crouch proved the swell battery that they are. Happy fielding his position in a way of his own, and "Harkie" being in the game with an inspiration to win; a better worker never donned the big mitt.

The two throws to home, Berry's and Bruce's, were perfect but too late to get their man.

Eagan, the new man who played shortstop, had the crowd with him and has the earmarks of a fast comer.

Bonnie's one-handed stop of Ashby's hit in the sixth inning set the stand on fire.

No disgrace to lose to a good team by one run.

THE INNOCENT ABROAD.

RIOTING IN GHETTO OF PHILADELPHIA

YIDDISH WOMEN ATTACK SHOPS OF THE KOSHER BUTCHERS.

HIGH PRICES THE CAUSE

Coal Oil and Acid Poured on the Meat and Windows Demolished—Many Are Clubbed and Arrested.

Philadelphia, July 26.—The Jewish quarter in the southern section of the city was the scene of many disturbances and incipient riots Thursday, following the efforts of Yiddish women to boycott kosher butchers who have increased the price of meats.

All through the Ghetto there were fierce outbreaks in which persons who attempted to patronize the stores were roughly handled. In several instances the stores were sacked and the meat destroyed. The women gathered in front of the stores and seized every person who entered.

Oil Poured on Meat. The meat the customers had purchased was taken away from them and tossed in the streets after coal oil or acid had been poured over it. In three shops oil was poured over every piece of meat, the chipping blocks and counters were overturned and the windows in the stores were demolished.

The police of three districts were kept on the run answering riot calls and reserve squads had to be sent to their assistance.

As a result of the outbreaks 28 men and women were either sent to prison or held in bail to answer charges of assault and inciting to riot, and as many more were locked up for hearings on minor charges.

Police Forced to Use Violence. Because most of the disturbers were women the police at first hesitated to use force in trying to disperse the mobs in front of the stores, but as the situation became more serious they were finally compelled to use severe measures and a number of men and women were sent to the hospital suffering from injuries received in resisting the officers. "None was seriously hurt, however, and the authorities have the situation well in hand.

Late in the day a meeting was held in the center of the troublous district in which the disturbers were advised to use less strenuous methods, and to fight the butchers by refusing to buy meat or anything else in their stores. The butchers plan to retaliate by having the "shookets" cease killing chickens and poultry, so that those participating in the boycott cannot secure a supply of flesh from this source. After the meeting it was reported that a committee of women would go through the district and endeavor to destroy all meat, but the police took measures to prevent any such attempt, and it is believed there will be no further disturbances.

A crowd of Dowagiac rooters surged out in front of the grand stand, immediate police attention quelled the disturbance.

SURVIVORS ACCUSE HAWSE

THIRD OFFICER OF COLUMBIA IS ACCUSED OF CRUELTY.

Rescued Passengers Also Say His Attack on Captain of San Pedro Is Entirely Unjust.

San Francisco, July 26.—The Bulletin says that Third Officer Hawse of the wrecked steamer Columbia, whose sworn report of the disaster, filed with the federal inspectors, charged Capt. Hansen of the San Pedro with refusing to aid in the rescue of the stricken passengers, is now charged by survivors who occupied the same boat with him with conduct more cruel than that specified by him in his formal report.

The charges made against Hawse are:

1. Refusing to give his coat to an unconscious woman rescued from the water in a freezing condition, his remark being, "My coat is my own."
2. Ordering a sailor to strike a crippled man who he believed occupied too much space in the lifeboat.
3. Sitting calmly in the stern sheets of the boat and refusing to assist in dragging men and women from the water.

NEW PLOT AGAINST THE CZAR.

Russian Police Find Suspicious Documents and Make Arrests.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—While searching a house in this city Thursday, the police found a detailed plan of the Baltic railway, which is an imperial line, and also a plan of the imperial yacht Alexandria.

A number of men and women who were living in the house were arrested. The authorities claim that they have ascertained that an association has been organized to prepare a fresh plot against the life of the emperor. It is alleged that the head of this association is now in prison in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul.

Clinning, first infantry; Capt. Robert Y. Wallace, second infantry; Sergt. L. M. Pelt, second infantry; Sergt. Henry Breidt, first infantry; Lieut. E. S. Sopps, first infantry; Sergt. Craig, Routt, Co., Colorado, July 16th, 1907.

Mr. Will VanMeter, Buchanan, Michigan.

My Dear Van:—

In conversation with one of Routt county's old sleuths, I learned of your present whereabouts, and hasten to write you. I always thought that you perished in the Andersonville prison.

I drifted out into this country in the fall of '62, thinking my health would be better than it was facing rebel bullets. The first two years I spent in this country herding giraffes. As I did not like the situation I drifted into Utah and joined Brigham Young's band. I soon learned that my physic could not stand the strenuous life that was expected of all good Mormons.

This is quite a different country than where you live. There are all kinds of wild animals in abundance here. The windows in the third story of this hotel are protected with heavy iron bars. This is done to keep the giraffes from pulling people out of bed and they eat the paper off the walls.

I have a herd of tame buffalos that I milk the same as the people do the Jersey cows in your country.

We have a large rattlesnake ranch near here. The snakes are raised for their rattles(?) which are sold to the Indians and cliff-dwellers. The natives are fond of rattle snake stew. The snakes grow so large that the meat is inclined to be coarse and tough. I am very fond of the feet when properly pickled. It is an interesting sight to see them feed the snakes.

The Indians round up a number of antelope, mountain sheep, once in a while there will be a few elk, mountain lions and Bengal tigers. All of the bunch are driven into the enclosure with the snakes. It is not an uncommon sight to see one of the rattlers, with the antlers of a large elk protruding from his mouth, and if you want to see a good bull fight just drive a couple of these snakes together. They seem to know what the horns are for.

There is another peculiarity in our country. We have the finest of flowers the year round. If you were here I could show you flowers in bloom that have grown through a bank of snow 15 feet deep. In getting ready to put up ice the first thing we are obliged to do is to take a McCormick mower and cut the flowers off the surface of the ice. It is a peculiar fact but nevertheless true.

That the proper way to eat antelope, deer or any of the wild game that is so abundant here, is to dress the same and hang on a large nail. The flavor leaves the meat and goes into the nails. After hanging a sufficient length of time throw the carcasses away and stew the nails. I learned this through years of experience.

We have no cemeteries in our country. If old grim death enters the homes of any of our people the deceased is placed in the rear of the home, where it is convenient for the wolves or kyotes to get the body, and the next morning business is resumed, and the expense is done away with.

The stage route is lined with the skeletons of our loved ones but you see we can see them and know where they are at all times.

The streams are swollen from the recent warm spell causing the ice and snow to melt. Where the streams overflows the banks the meadows are covered with mountain trout.

It is a very common sight to see one of the cow punchers straddle a horse with a lariat on the horn of his saddle, ride down to the edge of the swail and choose a nice specimen poise in his saddle and lass a trout by the hind or front leg and come back to town trailing the same. There are places in the mountains where the water falls from 75 to 100 feet, when the trout start up stream in the spring and come to the falls they just take a run and jump clear to the top of the falls and go on up the stream happy as can be.

There are a few herds of sheep owned in this section. They graze them on the mountain sides where it is so steep that it is necessary to put stilts on their hind legs to keep them from falling backwards. You should see them wade out in the deep water when they go to drink.

Keeping sheep for their wool is not a grand success with us. As they mix with the musk ox, causing the fleece not only to be coarse, but it has the scent that is hard to eradicate.

There are but a limited number of squirrels in this country. The trees are so high that the young starve before they can get down to terra firma, where they can get something to eat.

These forests will always stand, as there is not room to fell the trees on. Towns have been wiped from their location by what was thought to have been a cyclone, when in fact, some one had cut one of the big trees on the top of the mountain and it had slid down the mountain side and killed every inhabitant.

This is a grand country, yet it has one drawback. In the fall of the year when the wild geese, ducks, swan, pelican and prairie chickens are coming here to feed on the rice swamps there are days we never see the sun. We are in total darkness. There has been weeks at a time that I have not gotten out of bed, thinking it was not morning as it was so dark.

Do you ever hear from the other boys that were in our regiment? I will never forget them, even though I never see them. There was Capt. Geo. H. Black. I presume he married and settled down on a farm. I often think what an indulgent father he would make. What ever became of old farmer Pears? You know he had charge of the commissary department until he was forced to resign on account of his milk leg and his fondness for the flowing bowl. I presume he is in the soldiers' home. Had he taken my advice he would have been a different man.

You, no doubt, remember that sprawny, bow-legged, out-of-shape Dr. Curtis, who was on the hospital staff? He told me that he was stuck on a girl by the name of Butler and expected to marry her. I wonder if she was blind. I suppose that comrades Harry Binns, Will Sparks, Mat Kelling, Will Brodrick are drawing a pension, provided they are alive. They may be dead. If not they should be.

As I have some business with Roosevelt that calls me to Washington in the near future, I may stop at your city and call on all the old toughs.

P. S.—I have the same old gun that I carried all through the war. Now old "Vet" you must remember me to all the old war horses and tell them that I love them in the same old way.

Respectfully yours until death do us part.

They Have the Right Spirit

By dint of hard and persistent struggle against great obstacles the promoters of the new St. Joseph Improvement Association were able to put their efforts on a sound footing and have just chartered the association for $4,000.

St. Joseph will be thankful to have such a lot of business men who can subscribe $100 each to an association which has for its object the boosting of that city and which, perhaps, will never net them any pecuniary gain. They have placed their loyalty and generosity above personal greed.

These business men will combine to further the city's interests. They will see that the money they contributed goes to bringing new industries of a substantial nature to that city and divers other means that have a tendency to boom St. Joseph to the benefit of the entire city.

Some day these liberal business men will see their money well spent when the city increases in population and wealth. They will have the satisfaction of being remembered by the next generation as unselfish and generous men who had chosen honor above personal gain.

St. Joseph deserves congratulations.

May we see the day when Buchanan will do likewise.

You Can Do the Same

The RECORD columns are always open to its subscribers for breezy and interesting letters. H. A. Hathaway is a staunch friend of Buchanan and never fails to drop an occasional letter telling of his traveling experiences and observations, one now appearing in this issue. Should you feel like giving your arm a little exercise in writing you will find it a good thing to drop a letter for publication in the RECORD. It will always be welcome and our readers will enjoy them.

Be a Booster

The man who says nothing about another unless he can say something good is much more likely to be a good citizen and a good friend than the man who feels it is part of his job to keep telling tales out of school or criticizing other men. The world is so small that he cannot tell when his words will come home to roost. Sometimes they come home when home is not prepared to receive them.

BORAH BEGINS THE CLOSING ADDRESS

BOISE COURTROOM THROGGED TO HEAR THE SENATOR.

VICTIM'S WIDOW THERE

Special Prosecutor Resents Defense's Attack on His Associate, Mr. Hawley — Jury to Be Charged Saturday.

Boise, Idaho, July 26.—The case of the state of Idaho against William D. Haywood, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, a former governor of the state, will rest with judge and jury by Friday night.

Clarence Darrow, after speaking for 11 hours, concluded the final plea for Haywood's life at 4:20 p. m., and at seven o'clock Thursday evening United States Senator Borah opened the closing argument for the prosecution. He will speak for three sessions, or about seven hours. Judge Fremont Wood will instruct and charge the jury on Saturday morning.

Throng to Hear Borah.

At least 1,000 people were unable to find seats in the courtroom Thursday. Two hours before the hour set for the third session of the day crowds began to arrive, and within half an hour the doors were closed to all but court officials and newspaper men. It was an audience composed almost entirely of Boise people, gathered to hear the speech of the young man who, recently elected by the people of Idaho to represent them in the United States senate, has been the assistant counsel for the prosecution in the case against Haywood.

Aside from the unaccustomed crowd in the courtroom and the large number of women present, the scene was much as it has been at each of the sessions during the last 11 weeks. Mrs. Steunenberg, the widow of the murdered senator, remained in the courtroom for the first time since the trial opened. She occupied a seat inside the railing, beside her youngest son, Julian. Gov. Gooding, a number of the executive staff and a large representation of the state judiciary and bar, were among the audience.

When Senator Borah began his argument to the jury he said he appreciated that the jurors were fatigued from their long ordeal, and promised he would be as brief as possible under all circumstances. Much of his speech, he declared, would be an answer to the argument of the opposition counsel.

Resents Attack on Hawley.

"I am aware," said Senator Borah, "that I am in this case as a special prosecutor. The learned counsel on the other side has impressed this fact upon you. But let me say that the state which does not protect its citizens or punish wrongdoers would soon lose the respect of its people and have no standing in our civilization."

"But counsel has gone further with my associate. Why they should attack Mr. Hawley, who went fearlessly into the investigation of this matter, why they should assail in a personal way a man who has practiced law in his community for 40 years and whose loyalty, whose honesty, has never been questioned, I do not know."

"It is usually thought sufficient to attack a man's argument, to do away with his logic—but running through this case is an attack upon everyone, be he high or low, who has had anything to do with or been in any way associated with the investigation of the crime of December 30, 1905."

Senator Borah declared the state did not want Haywood convicted of any crime for which Orchard or Pettibone or Moyer or Simpkins or anybody else was responsible, and desired a verdict of guilty only if the evidence was deemed sufficient to warrant such a conclusion.

Declares Trial Has Been Fair.

The senator denounced Clarence Darrow's statement that the jurors' minds had been "poisoned" against the defendants in this case. Nowhere, he declared, could a fairer trial have been held than in Boise; no defendant ever sat in a courtroom where there was a greater desire for an absolutely impartial and just trial.

"We are not here fighting organized labor," continued Mr. Borah. "We are not here fighting the weak or the poor. Neither are we here to consent that organized labor shall be a shield to crime. This is not an industrial war, as my eloquent friend of the defense would have you believe. We are not arraying class against class, or one phase of society against another. This is not a battle of the rich against the poor or the poor against the rich. We are here in the interest of law, of justice, of fairness. That is all."

By a typographical error in a St. Joseph newspaper advertisement, an item said that bacon was on sale at 7 1/2 cents, whereas it should read 17 1/2 cents a pound. The result was a wild scramble for the groceryman's best bacon at the advertised price. There was some difficulty in explaining the mistake, but the advertiser has been convinced that advertising pays when you offer the people what they want, backed by prices.

CHILD RUN OVER

Hallett Smith, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, had a narrow escape from death yesterday morning.

He was riding with Mur Ingelright, who drives C. D. Kent's delivery wagon and who at the time was delivering groceries at George B. Richard's residence. While waiting one of the lines dropped down under the horses' feet and Hallett crawled out onto the tongue to pick it up, in doing so he touched one of the horses causing it to start, throwing the child to the ground. The wagon passed over his body and one of the horses stepped on him but no bones were broken. While he was badly bruised no serious results are expected.

The horses ran all the way around the house doing considerable damage to the yard.

LAWYER SPEAKS FOR HAYWOOD

Richardson Begins an Oration to the Jury at Boise—Some of the Points He Made.

Boise, Ida., July 23.—For four hours and a half E. F. Richardson pleaded with the jury for the life of William D. Haywood. Under order of the court the hours for the day's sessions were changed, and in place of sitting in the afternoon court met at 6 p. m. Richardson enlarged on the alleged bull pen horrors; disavowed for the W. F. M. that anything could have justified the assassination of Steunenberg; declared Orchard was caught almost red-handed in the act and that it was easy for a Pinkerton detective to get such a confession from him as he made.

He said that the "capitalistic" press had adjudged the W. F. M. leaders guilty of the assassination, and that its influence had extended to the White House. He discussed the law governing corroboration of confessions, and said Orchard's confession had not been corroborated. He defended the W. F. M. from the charges made against it and said that most of the mines in the Coeur d'Alenes were owned by the Standard Oil company. He did not justify the blowing up of the Bunker Hill property, but said it was listed for taxes at $30,000, and that a claim for $30,000 followed its destruction. He insisted that neither of the defendants had part in the blowing up, and then drew a woeful picture of the men in the bull pen dominated by negro troops and praised the sufferers for not taking vengeance later. Richardson will continue his speech today.

LIKES THE CONCERTS
To the RECORD:—As a citizen of Buchanan and one vitally interested in the moral conditions and future growth of this charming village, I am anxious to compliment the promoters in their efforts to provide good, wholesome Wednesday evening entertainments for the citizens. I attended the several band concerts where I listened to the rendition of well selected programs. Let me say that this is a good, clean, wholesome means of entertainment and should be encouraged. I think other citizens highly appreciate these band concerts and the promoters deserve the thanks of the community for providing a means of banishing our dull carousals in a while.

GUARD ANCESTORS' GRAVES

CONLEY SISTERS WILL PROTECT HURON CEMETERY.

Wyandotte Indian Girls Threaten Death to Disturbers of Bones of Their Forefathers.

Kansas City, Mo., July 26.—Helena, Ida and Lida Conley, sisters, and Wyandotte Indians, began an armed guard Thursday over the graves of their ancestors in Huron cemetery in Kansas City, Kan., recently ordered sold by the government, and threaten to shoot the first person who may attempt to remove the bodies.

Congress authorized the sale of the cemetery, set aside for many years as a tribal burying ground, and a division of the money among the remaining members of the Wyandotte tribe, first removing the bodies. The Conley girls say they won't permit the graves to be touched and they began the erection of a shanty on the outskirts of the cemetery. Miss Helena Conley, who was superintending the building, said: "From this time on one of the three Conley sisters will be here in the day time. At night all three of us shall sleep here and guard."

"In this cemetery are buried one hundred of our ancestors. The blood of the ancient royalty of France flows in my veins. My grandfather owned the whole state of Ohio. Why should we not be proud of our ancestors and protect their graves? We shall do it, and we be to the man that first attempts to steal a body."

"We shall keep right on asking bids on the property," said H. B. Durant, chairman of the government commission, which is trying to sell the cemetery. "The government is behind us."

SAYS MOTHER KILLED HERSELF.

Daughter of Fred Magill at Clinton Exonerates Her Father.

Clinton, Ill., July 26.—Margaret Magill says her mother, Mrs. Pet Magill, committed suicide. The 19-year-old daughter of Fred Magill, accused of wife murder, clears her father of all blame for her mother's death and sweeps away all suspicion that the state authorities attach to his movements after his wife's death. She exonerates Faye Graham Magill, her stepmother, and declares no blame attaches to her for her mother's death. Margaret's statement was made public Thursday through Attorney R. A. Lemon of the law firm of Lemon & Lemon, who have concealed the young woman in an adjoining county two hours' ride from Clinton.

Long Live the King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cold or cough." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the proven remedy. Guaranteed by W. N. Brodick, druggist. 50c and $1.

HILL SUED FOR $10,000,000

Stockholder in the Great Northern Wants His Share of the Profits of a Big Deal.

St. Paul, July 23.—Clarence H. Verner, of New York, wants James J. Hill to account for and disgorge an alleged profit of $10,000,000 which Verner alleges Hill made in the deal whereby the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific Railway companies acquired the capital stock of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

Verner alleges that Hill wrongfully and fraudulently, while acting in his capacity as president of the Great Northern Railway company, acquired stock of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway at prices averaging about $150 per share, and that he induced the board of directors of the Great Northern to pay $200 per share for the stock. He alleges that Hill thereby made a profit of more than $10,000,000, and that he appealed to the board of directors of the Great Northern to begin an action against Hill for an account, but Hill dominated the board. Verner sues as a holder of 300 shares of Great Northern stock on the ground that the profit of the alleged deal should go to the stockholders.

Crops Must Be Mighty Good.
Wilmington, Del., July 23.—Good crops throughout the Delaware and Maryland peninsula are having the effect of raising the salaries of preachers generally. Several clergymen have already had their pay increased and it is stated that the movement will become general.

The Charming Woman
is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at W. N. Brodick's drug store, 50c.
