

Chapin Company to Build Buchanan Line

SUCCEEDING TO RIGHTS OF NILES & BUCHANAN RAILWAY COMPANY—BIG MORTGAGE FILED FOR $7,000,000 COVERING VARIOUS DAM PROPERTIES

Very interesting is the news that arises as a result of the recent gigantic merger of the Chapin power companies into one great central company which will control eventually seven dams on the St. Joseph river, three of which are yet to be built, says the Niles Sun.

The most interesting feature of the story from a Niles standpoint is the report that the Chapin power interests propose to take over the proposition to build an electric railroad between Niles and Buchanan which has been exploited and promoted to some extent by the present management of the Southern Michigan Railway company under the name and title of the Niles and Buchanan Railway company.

The Niles and Buchanan Railway company already own the right of way or a considerable portion of it at least between Niles and Buchanan.

This company has a franchise from the city which runs until the last of the present year. Under this franchise they have laid just enough track and done just enough work in the city limits on West Main street and Lincoln avenue to keep their franchise right alive.

This franchise provides for the construction of a joint bridge over the river on Main street or an independent bridge providing the company and city not agree upon a joint bridge.

Early last spring General Manager Smith of the interurban company gave out the information that the construction of the Niles and Buchanan line would be proceeded with at once but weeks have passed into months and there has not been the slightest indication that the work of construction was to be started.

Gen. Manager Smith when interviewed stated that the high price of material and the difficulty of securing it had affected their plans seriously.

When the Southern Michigan road was put through from Niles to St. Joseph it was the understanding that the bond issue floated on that account also covered the proposed spur to Buchanan that the whole scheme was financed at that time.

If it is true that the Chapin merger is to construct the Buchanan line instead of the original promoters, it will not make any material difference to the public or to the city whether one set of stockholders or another carries out the terms of the franchise granted by the city.

The line has to be in operation by Dec. 1, 1907, to make the franchise good. Otherwise the old franchise expires and it would be necessary to apply to the city for a new franchise, or extension of the old.

If the Chapin electric company takes up the Niles-Buchanan electric railroad proposition as it is reported they will do, succeeding the original Niles & Buchanan Railway Co., the probabilities are that work will be started this fall, for the new company has ample resources, and the big bond issue, evidence of which is supplied by the $7,000,000 trust mortgage just filed, indicates that it is fully financed. Niles and Buchanan will both be glad to see the dirt fly, because it will put a considerable amount of money into circulation between the two towns. The line will not increase the mercantile trade of either town to any perceptible extent, judging by the effect of the lines north and south of Niles, but the two towns will have easier means of communication, and that's something.

CAN MEET CATALOGUE PRICES

Chester C. Sweet, a dealer in hardware and furniture at Benton Harbor in commenting on the great volume of business which yearly goes out of the city to the big catalogue houses, said:

"I have always told my customers that if they will bring in a Montgomery Ward catalogue I will duplicate their prices. Not only that, but I can beat them on a great many articles of furniture."

"But the trouble is," said Mr. Sweet, "they'll come into the store and want something at the same price that the catalogue house quotes in large quantities."

"Occasionally there are some things that the mail order house sells cheaper than we can, but in the long run we can duplicate their prices and most generally beat them."

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by W. N. Brod-rick, Druggist, 50c.

Land Awaiting Exploration. There are still 20,000,000 square miles of the earth's surface that have not been explored.

BERRIEN SPRINGS' PEACE DISTURBED

Berrien Springs, Aug. 1.—A small riot was precipitated in this village last night by a gang of drunken men most of them hoboes. After raiding one of the saloons, the revelers started up the street in the business section yelling at the top of their voices and threatening to wipe out the town.

Deputy Sheriff Benson and the village police force stopped the disturbance before much damage was done. Eight were taken into custody but four were afterward released. Yes early morning the four offenders were taken to the county jail to serve short sentences.

CATALOG HOUSES SPENDING $$$$$

Annually a great amount of money, running into the millions, is spent by the big mail order houses in advertising. The amount spent by one large Chicago mail order house last year was nearly $3000,000. Postage alone amounted to nearly $1,000,000.

In order to make such expenditures as these, in order to keep up the expense of such institutions as are now operating, enormous profits must be made on the goods retailed. It is the small customer, the farmer who buys a stove, a bedroom suite, a buggy, or the laborer who purchases his groceries in big lots that contribute a share of profits and make possible institutions that are daily sapping the strength and vitality of the home dealer.

THE STORY OF A RESCUE.

FLAMES DRIVE OUT FIFTY FAMILIES

FIERCE FIRE IN OIL REFINING PLANT IN EDGEWATER, N. J.

DAMAGE ABOUT $200,000

Heroic Work Keeps Blaze from Great Tanks Near Tenements—Aid Summoned from New York.

Edgewater, N. J., Aug. 2.—More than 50 families were driven from their homes Thursday night by a fierce blaze which destroyed the main refining building of the Valve Line Oil company's plant.

At midnight the building, a structure about 400 by 500 feet, had been destroyed, involving a loss of about $200,000, and only the most heroic work prevented the flames from reaching 17 oil tanks in the rear of the building. The destruction of those meant also the destruction of a block of tenement houses immediately in their rear.

Blaze Is Spectacular.

Three thousand barrels of paraffine were destroyed in the big building and, with the other inflammable stuff stored there, they made one of the most spectacular fires in years along the river front.

The fire was discovered in the engine room of the main refining plant, and after several frame buildings had been destroyed it was thought to be under control.

Later, however, the flames broke out afresh and the local department was unable to cope with them. Aid was summoned from New York.

Fumes Overcome Firemen.

The water seemed to make no impression on the oil soaked stuff and its spread was hastened by the exploding barrels and the carbony of ammonia used in the refrigerating plant. The escaping ammonia fumes temporarily overcame a dozen firemen.

As soon as possible the employees began to drain off the oil in the tanks. The blaze is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion. More than 800 men are thrown out of employment by the fire.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION AT NILES

The republican senatorial district convention for the election of delegates to the constitutional convention will be held on August 13 at Niles. Tuesday this selection was made by the chairman and secretary of the county committee, Niles being the most central place.

Thirty-two delegates will be elected to this convention by the county convention which will be held in this city next Tuesday.

WILLIAMS LEADS VARDAMAN

CONGRESSMAN SEEMS LIKELY TO BE NAMED SENATOR.

Governor Makes Gains in Southern Counties But Probably Will Be Defeated.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 2.—Dispatches on the Mississippi primary election received by the News-Scimitar indicate a victory for John Sharp Williams for United States senator, although Gov. Vardaman is making unexpected gains in the southern counties.

Owing to an unusually heavy vote and the fact that the polls did not close until six o'clock, the indications as to which two of the six candidates for governor will remain in the race are more uncertain, but the decision evidently rests among Scott, Truly, Brewer and Noel. Thomas and Sisson ran poorly.

Gov. Vardaman claims 37 of the 79 counties. Williams claims a majority of from 20,000 to 30,000 and, although Gov. Vardaman's claim of 37 counties, still claims a majority owing to larger counties.

In Memphis, Williams' money was offered Thursday night with odds of two to one. There were some takers.

Returns received by the Commercial Appeal up to 10:30 Thursday night showed Williams maintaining a lead of about three to one over Vardaman. In the contest for governor, Scott was leading Noel by a small margin.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 2.—With 15 cities heard from in part or in full, Williams was leading with 546 votes to 331 for Vardaman. Jackson up to about 9:30 Thursday night had returned 55 for Williams and 14 for Vardaman, a ratio of three to one, and Gulfport reported Williams in the lead in that part of the south coast of Mississippi by about three to one.

Gubernatorial candidates Charles Scott and E. L. Noel were ahead of their competitors, although their lead was not large.

"The Bank Habit"

Elbert Hubbard, the talented editor of the Philistine, has a habit of saying things that cause people to think. The following regarding the man with "The Bank Habit" is well worth reading and remembering.

"I have been a wage earner, foreman and employer. I have a thousand men on my pay roll at a time, and I'll tell you this, The man with the Bank Habit is the one who never gets laid off; he's the one who can get along without you, but you cannot get along without him. The Bank Habit means sound sleep, good digestion, cool judgment, and many independent-ence. The most healthy thing I know of is a Bank Book. There are no microbes in it to steal away your peace of mind. It is a guarantee of good behavior.

What a Prominent Benton Harbor Retailer Says of M. O. Tricks

SELL CHEAP GOODS

As a traveling salesman Mr. Waite has had considerable experience with the mail order houses. He has sold them thousands of dollars worth of goods.

"They buy the cheapest of goods," said he. "I have known the mail order houses to advertise and sell kitchen cabinets which I would be ashamed to have on my floor. Once I did have a set of kitchen cabinets in stock which I think Sears, Roebuck & Co. were advertising. It was one of the cheapest makes and I was six months in disposing of it. This merely shows that the small buyer never knows what he is going to get when he gives his order to the catalogue firm."

OWN FACTORIES?—LAUGHS

When the suggestion was made to Mr. Waite that the mail order houses own factories of their own and can thus sell goods cheaper than the small dealer, he merely laughed.

"Why," he declared, "down at Buchanan John Barnes is president of a factory which sells goods to Montgomery Ward & Co. How much do you suppose they own of that stock? Not one cent. And yet they advertise goods sold by them as made in one of their factories in southern Michigan." Other mail order houses do the same thing," Mr. Waite declared that the Larkin Soap company for over ten years advertised the Spencer-Barnes factory in this city as "our factory No. 1."

STRIKE PROBABLY AVERTED

PITTSBURG COAL COMPANY WILL CONFER WITH MEN.

Willing to Make Reparation if Its Agreements with Employees Have Been Violated.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 2.—The flag of peace has been unfurled in connection with the differences of the 14,000 miners employed in the Pittsburg district and the Pittsburg Coal company.

On the initiative of the coal company, a conference will be held Friday at which it is thought probable the trouble will be adjusted.

President Feehan, of the miners' union, following his declaration of Wednesday night that a strike would be called within a short time, received on Thursday a letter from the officials of the Pittsburg Coal company, asking that a meeting be held to talk matters over. Mr. Feehan immediately made the necessary arrangements for the conference so far as the men are concerned.

President Feehan said Thursday night: "While the situation has assumed a serious phase, I entertained hopes all along that an amicable settlement would be made before strike orders would be issued."

It is understood that the letter received by Mr. Feehan from the coal company does not mean the company has taken another stand from the one announced Wednesday night. The letter states that if any agreements have been violated the company is ready to remedy the wrongs and treat with its employes as it has always done in the past.

The entire situation appears optimistic and it is believed there will be no strike.

MURDERED AND EARS CUT OFF.

Second Case of the Kind at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 2.—With ears cut from the head, the trunk and one arm pierced with four bullets, teeth knocked out and the mouth bruised, the body of Wilbur Gunreth, a barber, who is supposed to have come to Oklahoma City a short time ago from Seminole, I. T., was found Thursday afternoon three miles west of the city.

This is the second body that has been found near Oklahoma City within a week with the ears cut off, and the police are working on the theory that a secret society, formed to wreak horrible vengeance on its enemies, is operating here.

New Cruiser in Commission.

Vallejo, Cal., Aug. 2.—With appropriate ceremonies the new cruiser California, recently completed, was placed in commission Thursday. Capt. Thomas S. Phelps will command the cruiser. The California is the finest vessel that ever came from this yard, having a displacement of 13,500 tons and an indicated horse power of 25,000. She will join the Pacific squadron.

Degenerate Caught in Denver.

Denver, Col., Aug. 2.—Peter Makoffin, a laborer, was arrested in this city Thursday after he had slashed the dresses of nearly 30 women and girls on the streets. He was caught in the act and when searched a keen knife and a number of bits of slashed dresses were found on his person. He could not explain his actions.

Merchants Should Be Fair

A new phrase of the crusade against mail order houses has been brought to our attention by the News-Palladium by a well known farmer residing near Benton Harbor. The other day this man said:

"I believe in loyalty to home industry. Since I have resided in this community I have bought very little from mail-order houses. I always prefer to give the home merchant the business even if I might strike a little better bargain with an out of town firm. But is the local merchant always loyal to the home product? My experience shows that he is not. Just the other day I brought a load of potatoes to the city. They were excellent stock. I visited several grocery stores in an effort to sell them. I succeeded at last in getting rid of a portion of my supply. At nearly every store the proprietor gave me this answer, 'We would rather buy our potatoes from the Chicago market, for the Texas stock is larger and sell better.' I am convinced that my potatoes in quality are just as good as the Texas tubers yet I wasn't given a chance to dispose of my product. If merchants expect loyalty from the farmers they should be willing to reciprocate."

The complaint of the farmer offers food for thought to the business men of Buchanan who are fighting to break the power of the catalogue houses in this section.

Oscard was sitting in the windowless room without a light, for a light only attracted a myriad of heavy winged moths. He was seated before the long French window, which, since the sash had gone, had been used as a door. Before him in the glimmering light of the mystic Southern Cross the great river crept unctuously, silently to the sea. It seemed to be stealing away surreptitiously while the forest whispers of it. In its surface the reflection of the great stars of the southern hemisphere ran into little streaks of silver, shimmering away into darkness. All sound of human life was still. The natives were asleep. In the next room Joseph in his hammock was just on the barrier between the waking and the sleeping life, as soldiers learn to be. Oscard would not have needed to raise his voice to call him to his side.

The leader of this hurried retreat had been sitting there for two hours. The slimy moving surface of the river had entered into his brain; the restless silence of the African forest alone kept him awake. He hardly realized that the sound momentarily gaining strength within his ears was that of a paddle—a single, weakly irregular paddle. It was not a sound to wake a sleeping man. It came so slowly, so gently through the whisper of the dripping leaves that it would enter into his slumbers and make itself part of them.

Guy Oscard only realized the meaning of that sound when a black shadow crept on to the smooth evenness of the river's breast. Oscard was eminently a man of action. In a moment he was on his feet and in the darkness of the room there was the gleam of a rifle barrel. He came back to the window—watching.

He saw the canoe approach the bank. He heard the thud of the paddle as it was thrown upon the ground. In the gloom, to which his eyes were accustomed, he saw a man step from the boat to the shore and draw the canoe up. The silent midnight visitor then turned and walked toward the house. There was something familiar in the gait—the legs were slightly bowed. The man was walking with great difficulty, staggering a little at each step. He seemed to be in great pain.

Guy Oscard laid aside the rifle. He stepped forward to the open window. "Is that you, Durnovo?" he said, without raising his voice.

"Yes," replied the other. His voice was muffled as if his tongue were swollen, and there was a startling break in it.

Oscard stepped aside and Durnovo passed into his own house. "Got a light?" he said in the same muffled way.

In the next room Joseph could be heard striking a match, and a moment later he entered the room, throwing a flood of light before him.

"Good God!" cried Oscard. He stepped back as if he had been struck, with his hand shielding his eyes.

"Save us!" ejaculated Joseph in the same breath.

The thing that stood there, sickening their gaze, was not a human being at all.

"Enter, young man," he said dramatically.

all. Take a man's eyelids away, leaving the round balls staring, blood streaked; cut away his lips, leaving the grinning teeth and red gums; shear off his ears—that which is left is not a man at all. This had been done to Victor Durnovo. Truly the vengeance of man is crueler than the vengeance of God! Could he have seen himself, Victor Durnovo would never have shown that face, or what remained of it, to a human being. He could only have killed himself. Who can tell what cruelties had been paid for, piece by piece, in this loathsome mutilation? The slaves had wreaked their terrible vengeance; but the greatest, the deepest, the most inhuman cruelty was in let-

"They've made a pretty mess of me," said Durnovo, in a sickening, lifeless voice, and he stood there with a terrible caricature of a grin.

Joseph set down the lamp with a groan and went back into the dark room beyond, where he cast himself upon the ground and buried his face in his hands.

"O Lord!" he muttered. "O God in heaven, kill it, kill it!"

Guy Oscard never attempted to run away from it. He stood slowly gulp-

"Good God!" cried Oscard.

ing down his nauseating horror. His teeth were clenched; his face, through the sunburn, livid; the blue of his eyes seemed to have faded into an ashen gray. The sight he was looking on would have sent three men out of five into gibbering idiocy.

Then at last he moved forward. With averted eyes he took Durnovo by the arm.

"Come," he said, "lie down upon my bed. I will try to help you. Can you take some food?"

Durnovo threw himself down heavily on the bed. There was a punishment sufficient to expiate all his sins in the effort he saw that Guy Oscard had had to make before he touched him. He turned his face away.

"I haven't eaten anything for twenty-four hours," he said, with a whistling intonation.

"Joseph," said Oscard, returning to the door of the inner room—his voice sounded different; there was a metallic ring in it—"get something for Mr. Durnovo; some soup or something."

Joseph obeyed, shaking as if ague was in his bones.

Oscard administered the soup. He tended Durnovo with all the gentleness of a woman and a fortitude that was above the fortitude of men. Despite himself his hands trembled, big and strong as they were. His whole being was contracted with horror and pain. Whatever Victor Durnovo had been, he was now an object of such pity that before it all possible human sins faded into spotlessness. There was no crime in all that human nature has found to commit for which such cruelty as this would be justly meted out in punishment.

Durnovo spoke from time to time, but he could see the effect that his hissing speech had upon his companion and in time he gave it up. He told haltingly of the horrors of the simian plateau; of the last grim tragedy acted there; how at last, blinded with his blood, maimed, stupefied by agony, he had been bounded down the slope by a yelling, laughing horde of torturers.

There was not much to be done, and presently Guy Oscard moved away to his camp chair, where he sat staring into the night. Sleep was impossible. Strong, hardened, weather beaten man that he was, his nerves were all a-tingle, his flesh creeping and jumping with horror. Gradually he collected his faculties enough to begin to think about the future. What was he to do with this man? He could not take him to Loango. He could not risk that Jocelyn or even Maurice Gordon should look upon this horror.

Joseph had crept back into the inner room, where he had no light, and could be heard breathing hard, wide awake in his hammock.

Suddenly the silence was broken by a loud cry:

"Oscard! Oscard!"

In a moment Joseph and Oscard were at the bedside.

Durnovo was sitting up, and he grabbed at Oscard's arms.

"For God's sake!" he cried. "For God's sake, man, don't let me go to sleep!"

"What do you mean?" asked Oscard. They both thought that he had gone mad. Sleep had nothing more to do with Durnovo's eyes—protruding, staring, terrible to look at.

The Cup of Health

Every cup of coffee you drink helps to lay the foundation for ill health. Every cup of NoKo you drink adds to your bank account of good health. For coffee is a drug and slow poison. NoKo is a combination of rich, healthful grains.

Is there any doubt which you should drink?

NoKo is the result of 30 years of effort at the Battle Creek Sanitarium. It not only takes the place of all earlier attempts to produce a perfect coffee substitute—but of the imitations of these attempts.

Drink NoKo for 30 days at our expense. Then if you do not feel in better health we will refund every cent you paid for it. For sale by all grocers, 25 cents in large canister.

The Sunday school picnic of the Advent Christian church has been postponed until next Friday, Aug. 9.

Men's meeting at the Advent Christian church Sunday, August 4, at 3 p. m. All men are invited.

Niles will not have a new city hall. The people voted down the proposition to buy the decayed VanNoppen sanitarium, advocated by Mayor Earl as an ideal building for municipal headquarters.

The Benton Harbor police are perplexed over their failure to capture the parties who shot eight-year-old Louise Orlaskey in her yard last Friday. Willie Brown was arrested on suspicion, by the sheriff, but an alibi was furnished which freed the youth.

The annual meeting of the former Buchanan residents now living in Chicago will be held Saturday August 24th, at Jackson park, making the German building the general meeting place.

All residents are cordially invited to attend and any visiting Buchanan people would be welcome. We hope that there will be some amusements particularly for the boys and girls.

At this time a more permanent organization will be made. Please bring your baskets for a 1:30 o'clock dinner and come prepared to stay late in the evening.

IRWIN-ADAMS

At the Advent Christian Church, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., occurred a very pretty church wedding at which Miss Edith Clarice Irwin became the wife of Rev. Albert Clinton Adams of Mendota, Illinois.

At precisely half past two, the couple, attended by Master Edward Adams and Miss Ruth Shook bearing baskets of flowers, marched to the altar to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Flora Currier, and took their places under a canopy of white bunting trimmed with ferns, where Rev. Charles A. Shook spoke the words that made them man and wife, the ring service being used.

The bride was attired in white satin under lace net and the groom in conventional black. After the ceremony the guests were treated to refreshments consisting of sherbert and cake and served by Misses Mabel Currier and Zella Alliger. There were two hundred and seventy-five invitations sent out.

The guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. William Rice, Miss Ethel Rice, Mr. Roy Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood of Niles, Mrs. Keltner and son of South Bend, Mrs. A. P. Smith of Escanaba and Mr. Harvey Sheldon of Nashville Mich.

Rev. and Mrs. Adams left at 5.19 p. m., Wednesday, for their future home at Mendota, Ill., where Mr. Adams is attending college.

J. L. Bowen, piano tuner from Grand Rapids will be in town soon. Mr. Bowen is well known in Buchanan, for the last three months has held a position as fine tuner in the Bush & Lane Piano factory, but being unable to stand the strain of factory work, is obliged to resume his work in Buchanan and elsewhere.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The following are among the Buchanan people took advantage of the Niagara Falls excursion yesterday: Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kent and son, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Wallace Riley and daughter and Mrs. Frank Stryker.

The officers of the Southern Michigan Fair at Benton Harbor announce that the fair will be on a larger scale than last season. Instead of accommodating the horses under tents they will use frame buildings.

It is reported there is a lack of brakemen on the Michigan division of the Big Four, and on account of recent vacancies there are opportunities for a number of experienced brakemen.

A farmer residing near Buchanan, who threshed yesterday, got upwards of 22 bushels of wheat to the acre. The same piece of ground yielded only eight bushels per acre a few years ago.

Elder Charles A. Shook will begin a series of Sunday evening sermons on doctrinal subjects next Sunday evening at the Advent Christian church. The subject of the first sermon will be "The Natural Man." All are cordially invited.

The National Printing and Engraving Company of Niles, employing nearly 100 hands, intend to seek new location, according to the Niles Star. Lack of sufficient shipping facilities constitutes the cause for removal. South Bend is after the plant.

People living in the village should be careful to keep their dogs at home. One of the dogs from town got after B. Chamberlain's flock of sheep Wednesday afternoon, and singling out a fine Rambonillet ewe bit her up very badly.

On account of the tearing up of the school lawn, the Union Service of the respective churches will be held in the Brethren church Sunday evening Aug. 4. Let all come for a feast will be prepared. Every one is cordially invited.

THIRD VICTIM OF GOTHAM STRANGLER

BODY OF EIGHT-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS FOUND IN BASEMENT.

WORST OF THREE CASES

Child, Who Disappeared a Week Ago, Was Shockingly Maltreated, Killed and Mutilated—Cobbler Suspected.

New York, Aug. 2.—“The graveyard,” as the foreign-populated neighborhood on First avenue, between Thirtieth and Fourteenth streets, is known locally, gave up Thursday a fresh crime, rivalling in atrocity the mysterious butcheries of last week. The latest discovered victim was an eight-year-old girl, and, like the two young women murdered, she had been shockingly mistreated before death and the body mutilated when life was extinct.
 The three murders are strikingly similar. Last Thursday night a woman was strangled in a Twenty-second street boarding house; the next morning the body of a still unidentified woman, who had been choked to death, was found in an arway in East Ninetieth street. Katie Pritschler, daughter of a restaurant waiter, disappeared a week ago and was killed that night. A ribbon placed about the throat and drawn so tightly that it cut the flesh showed how she died. Her body was the one found Thursday.
 Most Brutal of the Three.
 If the brutality of the murders can be qualified, that of the Pritschler girl ranks first. She was assaulted, murdered and then her lifeless form was horribly mutilated.
 “The graveyard” takes its name from the proximity of the old Thirtieth street cemetery and the locality has been the scene of several revolting murders. The majority of the residents are foreigners.
 Carl Pritschler, the father of Katie, is a hard working, respectable citizen. He has several other children, all younger than Katie.
 Body Found After a Week.
 The girl left her home at 349 East Thirtieth street last Thursday night to play in the street. When she failed to return the father notified the police and a general alarm was sent out. The body was discovered within a block of her home and scarcely a hundred yards from the location of a placard placed by the father, calling attention to the fact that his child was lost. How the body could have remained undiscovered for a week is not explained.
 The girl's body was stumbled upon by a woman who visited the basement of the house at 203 First avenue. It lay upon a berry crate with seemingly no effort at concealment.
 “You can say for me,” Coroner Harburger declared, “that the crimes in Berlin, of which the newspapers have told, have not been one thousandth part as bad as the murder of this little girl.”
 Cobbler Under Suspicion.
 At the coroner's direction, Gaetano Rippolano, whose cobbler shop adjoins one extra room, was arrested and asked to explain his absence from his shop on last Friday. He established the fact that he had spent the day at Bristol, Conn. The girl is said to have frequented Rippolano's place and a search of the shop brought to light a man's shirt which bore red stains. The cobbler was arraigned and remanded to the coroner.

 The police also began a search for a woman who is said to have formerly roomed at the Pritschler home, but who left there after a quarrel and took lodgings in the house where the girl's body was found.

HUNDRED KILLED OR WOUNDED.

Later Details of Conflict Between Koreans and Japanese.

Seoul, Aug. 2.—Unverified returns from Thursday's conflict between Japanese troops and the First battalion of the First Shiwa regiment give the number of killed and wounded as 60 Koreans and 40 Japanese.
 About 3,000 men willingly disbanded, marching without arms through the parade ground, where, according to rank; they received gratuities ranging from 25 to 80 yen.
 At eight o'clock in the morning the minister of war read the rescript of disbandment to the higher Korean officers at the house of Gen. Hasegawa. Maj. Paksung Huan, commander of the First battalion of the First Shiwa regiment, returned to the barracks and committed suicide. This excited his subordinates and also a battalion of the Second Shiwa, who attacked two Japanese officers and their orderlies. One battalion marched on the south gate, where a clash occurred in which Capt. Kajiwara and two others were killed.

MAGILL AND WIFE INDICTED.

Grand Jury Holds Banker and Young Bride for Murder.

Clinton, Ill., Aug. 2.—Fred H. Magill and his wife of 26 days, Faye Graham Magill, were indicted for murder Thursday afternoon by the special grand jury called to weigh the suspicious circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. “Pet” Magill, the banker's first wife, on the night of May 30.
 True bills against both, holding them for trial on evidence pointing to a conspiracy to bring about the death of Mrs. “Pet” Magill, will be returned to Judge W. G. Cochran's court Friday morning. Arguments on the question and the setting of the time for the trial will then begin, and a sharp battle of the lawyers is expected. The defense will demand an immediate trial.
