EX-MAYOR PLUMMER OF BENTON HARBOR, DEAD

Alonzo A. Plummer, a member of a prominent law firm, ex mayor of Benton Harbor, an officer of the civil war with a record for valor and well known throughout all Berrien county politically as a staunch republican, died suddenly at his home on Pipe stone street in Benton Harbor Saturday morning.

Ex-Mayor Plummer was a man of strong character and determination. He was a man of sterling worth in every regard and his devotion to duty whatever that duty was, from fighting his country's battles to pleading before a jury and advocating the principles of his party, has marked him as an exceptional character.

Alonzo H. Plummer was born in Hartland, Somerset county, Maine, on February 18, 1842. He was the only child of Wm. and Fannie Plummer and passed his boyhood days with his parents in the home of his birth. Here he also pursued studies at St. Alden's academy.

When twenty years of age he enlisted for the Civil war and on March 1, 1862 entered the North Maine Battery as a private. This battery was attached to the army of the Potomac and while connected with it the young man saw many brilliant engagements. On February 9, 1864, he was promoted to the rank of second lieutenant in company A, 30th United States colored troops and in July of the following year was made lieutenant for bravery on the field of action. In this capacity he served until the end of the war with great bravery and gallantry. During his years of service he was present at the following battles: Cedar Mountain, Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Battle of Wilderness, Siege of Petersburg, capture of Fort Fisher, in North Carolina the capture of Wilmington as well as a number of minor engagements.

At the close of the war he returned to his home and shortly afterwards took up studies in the law department of the New York Law School at Albany, from which he was graduated in 1866. He then came west, locating in Minneapolis, in 1870. Some few years afterwards he went east to Boston afterwards coming to Benton Harbor. On August 7, 1867 he married Ellen Hawkes and she with two children, Harry and Edith, survive him.

OLD SCHOOL MATES MEET

Roll is Called Again After Forty-seven Years

The second reunion of the pupils of 1860 of the Nesbitt school in Hamilton, was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Celia Maxwell Knolls last Thursday.

Thirteen of the boys and girls who were school mates 47 years ago were present, and two guests and their teacher, Mrs. Nancy Collins Nesbitt, were counted to break the unlucky number.

When the teacher called the roll among those to answer was Ella Davenport French, of Buchanan. It was a home coming in part as well as a reunion. Some of the company had not been back to the old neighborhood in many years, and it was with unconcealed delight that they wandered about.

The company were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Knolls at the beautiful Maple Court farm home. Mrs. Knolls dinner was a feast that it would be hard to beat.

The sentiment of all present was that the reunion is a good thing, keep it up. Accordingly the invitation of Mrs. French was accepted and they will be entertained next year at her pleasant home near Buchanan.—Decorative Republican.

LADIES GIVE LAWN PARTY

At Maplewood Farm, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Rough, a lawn party was given last Thursday, of unusual elegance and beauty in honor of their twelve guests, who have been enjoying a house party for several days. A pleasant surprise was in store for many as Miss Georgia Emery was also present. The hostesses, Mesdames F. F. Rough, Alex L. Emery and Isaac Wells were graciously assisted in entertaining by the house guests.

The elegant home was made more lovely with flowers and ferns—colors: white and yellow. The large porch was converted into a perfect bower.

After a social hour each guest was given a pretty Japanese score card which enabled them to easily find their places at the tables, arranged in the spacious lawn, which was artistically decorated. The grand old maples forming a canopy and nature's green a carpet, nice perception in using Japanese lanterns. Daisies, ferns, birds and narrow yellow ribbon rippling in the air, formed a picture of rare beauty.

Miss Luline Lough, of Tampa, Fla., during the afternoon served fruit punch from underneath a large green umbrella fringed with asparagus. The guests in their pretty gowns added life and beauty to the scene.

At the close of the game, Pedro, the first prize was won by Mesdames Lewis and Devin, a handsome lunch cloth was given to Mrs. Lewis. Mesdames E. B. Smith and S. E. B. Smith won the honor of second prize, the former getting a lovely set of sherbet glasses. A number of ladies expected to get the consolation prize, a pretty potted fern, but Mrs. Emma Pears was the fortunate winner.

An elegant two course luncheon served, after which eighty-five guests bid "adieu" to the ladies who had afforded them a most delightful afternoon.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by W. N. Brodrick, Druggist. 50c.

HASKELL-BATCHELOR

The marriage of Edwin S. Haskell and Miss Mabel Batchelor, which occurred at high noon last Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Batchelor, was one of the prettiest home weddings ever celebrated in the city. It was witnessed by quite a large number of the friends and relatives of the bride and groom and was in every sense of the word a recherche affair.

Decorations in red and white roses were in evidence in all parts of the house. The ceremony occurred in south parlor, and the bridal party entered while Mrs. George Haskell played Mendelssohn's "Bridal Song."

First came the four misses who acted as ushers—Etta Sorenson, Hazel Cole, Gertrude Haskell and Ruth Barnett. The Rev. G. A. Wells, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, preceded the bride, with Miss Freda Bean as bridesmaid, Harry N. Dion, officiated as best man.

The beautiful ring service of the Methodist church was used, and then after congratulations had been showered on the bride and groom, a delicious, five-course wedding dinner was served by those who acted as ushers.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white crepe de sheed over white taffeta, trimmed with old lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore white Persian lawn with lace trimming.

There was a perfect profusion of fine wedding gifts, including many choice pieces of cut glass, silver and hand-painted china.

The prominence of the contracting parties has made this a most interesting mid-summer event. Miss Batchelor was born in Michigan, but she has spent most of her life in Glendive. Mr. Haskell has also resided here for a number of years. He is a prosperous stockman and holds the position of assistant cashier at the Exchange bank. Both have a host of friends in the city and country.

Mr. and Mrs. Haskell departed on No. 2 for an extended wedding trip. Going by way of Duluth, they planned to take the Great Lakes, Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence to the coast. They will first visit Boston and will then enjoy various summer resorts along the coast, returning to Glendive about the first of September.—The Dawson County Review, Glendive, Montana, July 27.

Operators Strike in Spite of Advice of a National Official.

SERVICE IS NOT NEARLY TIED UP

Conciliators Arrive at Chicago, but Find Both Parties to the Trouble Disinclined to Arbitration of the Dispute.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Developments in the strike of the telegraph operators follow fast. Last evening the operators in the rooms of the Associated Press walked out and partly tied up the news service—that is to say all went out except two, and with these two a couple of wires was kept going all night. The demands of the operators were replied to by General Manager Stone, and his reply is given in these dispatches elsewhere. As to the principal antagonists, the Western Union and Postal officials say they are handling their business pretty well and increasing their force, while the strikers insist that the tie-up is as near complete as possible.

Strikes Increase in Number.

Outside of Chicago strikes have occurred and are continually occurring at new points against the two big telegraph companies—the operators in both walked out at New York, Baltimore, Washington, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, and other places. At Los Angeles the Postal men have joined those of the Western Union on strike. The railway telegraphers are ready to strike if an attempt is made to have them handle any Western Union or Postal business. The brokerage firms and others at Chicago operating leased wires have announced that they will accept the union's new wage schedule.

Conciliators Have Arrived. President Gompers, Labor Commissioner Neill, and Secretary Easley (of the National Civic Federation), have arrived here to confer with both parties to the strike, and Gompers went immediately into conference with the Federation of Labor officials and those of the telegraphers. Gompers says the F. of L. is behind the strike with 2,500,000 members and a bar of money. He, Neill and Easley have arranged for a conference Thursday with President Small, of the telegraphers.

No Arbitration Say Both. Both the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies have announced that they will not treat with the operators now on strike. They both say they have nothing to arbitrate, and that they will refuse to confer with any labor union official as such. Also the strikers declare they do not wish arbitration of any sort and will end the strike only when the companies grant the demands.

Bank Vault of Armor Plate.

New York, Aug. 13.—The only armor plate vault in New York has been installed by the National Copper Bank in the new United States Realty building on Broadway. Whether it has any advantage over the built-up steel vaults of other institutions in a matter on which experts disagree. No burglar has ever attempted to drill or blow his way into a vault of either type. Armor plate has one characteristic which is lacking in the older style of burglar proof vaults—its massiveness.

Twelve Vessels Overdue.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 13.—It is believed that the British ship Dundonald, which has been for some time posted as overdue, has been lost at sea. The ship left Sydney for Falmouth with a cargo of wheat Feb. 16 and has never been heard of since. The average time occupied on the passage is 132 days, and the Dundonald has now been out 175 days. Friday night eight vessels were on the list posted as overdue and four more names were added Sunday.

Printers in Annual Convention.

Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 13.—The forty-third annual convention of the International Typographical Union of North America has convened here. The meeting was called to order by Chairman C. M. Millar, of the convention committee. After addresses of welcome the annual reports of the officers were read and filed. There are about 1,000 delegates and visitors in attendance.

FAMILIES POISONED

Five members of the Edward Gardner family, three in the Edgar Boyle, two in E. Hartline and two in the Chas. Tiedge families were badly poisoned Sunday by eating ice cream.

The cream was home made and just what caused ptomaine poison is not known, but some has been sent away to be analyzed. All who ate of the cream are ill and all are affected in the same way.

It was some hours after they were stricken before medical attention was received. The members of the Gardner family would have called Dr. Curtis, the family physician, about 10:00 p. m., but were too ill to reach the telephone, but one member of the family who had been away for the day on coming home about midnight found the family in a critical condition. He immediately phoned for the doctor, who, when he arrived thought it would prove fatal with at least two of them, but all are now out of danger.

As soon as the Gardner family had received attention the doctor proceeded to visit the other families and found them all suffering in the same way.

BEAR AT SAGAMORE HILL

He Takes Liberties in the President's Summer Home and the Sleuths are Qui Vive.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A live bear which no one claims has taken up his home in the woods on Sagamore Hill and in the early hours of the morning he paid a visit to the home of President Roosevelt. The tramping of the underbrush near the edge of the cleared knoll on which the president's summer home is situated roused the secret service guard to activity. While the sleuth went into the woods the bear came boldly into the clearing. When the guard returned to his post after a vain search for the cause of the noise he was given another scare by hearing scratching on the roof of a lean-to at the rear of the house.

To the roof went the guardsman, but what he saw caused him to stop and pinch himself and rub his eyes. As he was doing this the bear made for the other side, jumped to the ground and rambled off toward the woods again. Secret service men hastily organized the household dogs and stablemen into a hunting party. For three hours the hunt lasted—from 8 until 6 o'clock—but the bear got away.

Suggestion for Curbing the Mail Order Evil

We are sure local merchants must have read with interest the comprehensive articles on the mail order evil gratuitously published for their benefit in several past issues of the RECORD.

The RECORD believes unhesitatingly that the mail order business is an evil which threatens the prosperity of our thriving village and the local retailers. Careful investigation and figures show that the evil is growing to alarming proportions, making it one of the most serious and prelexing questions confronting the retail merchants—not in this town alone, but in others as well.

We have been told that the best plan to divert trade from the catalogue houses is to create a public sentiment in favor of home trade. This we have been doing and still are doing. It is further suggested that probably an active co-operation of the retail merchants with the RECORD would strengthen the fight against the greedy octopus—but the question is unsolved concerning the co-operative part.

Butler Bros., one of the largest wholesale concerns in Chicago and staunch friends of the local merchants, hit the bullseye some time ago when they advised the country merchant to fight the Devil with fire—that is, to advertise, advertise.

They maintain that the country retailer can sell as cheap as the mail order house if he will. They advise him to keep the catalogue of the mail order house on hand and let the public know he will meet its prices by advertising in the newspaper. Of course no wide awake merchant would advertise the catalogue houses by a standing notice in the local paper that he will meet their prices. He would select the leaders from their

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson lists and advertise them at the same price or a shade lower.

It is perfectly proper for the press to appeal to local pride and interests, but it will be love's labor lost unless the local merchant and other interests, benefited thereby, do their part.

Comparatively a very small number of farmers are dependent on a local market or concerned about the prosperity of their nearest town.

The majority have to sell in distant markets, and they can see no reason why they should not buy away from home when they think they can do it conveniently and cheaply. Hence the reason for relying on judicious advertising to draw the farmers to trade at home.

The mail order business has grown in obedience to natural laws of trade, which no artificially created sentiment can successfully resist. For example, a gentleman bought a fruit ranch in Colorado. He had to ship a thousand miles to find a market. He could buy in this distant market from mail order houses and have the goods laid down at his door at a much lower price than the home merchant would sell. Was there any reason why he should patronize him? Or, to use an illustration nearer home, a drug clerk has opened a store a few blocks from our residence, setting up in business for himself. He charges us just twice as much for our favorite shaving soap as he did when he was a clerk in the big drug store in a big town. Our acquaintance, extending over several years, has been very pleasant, and we should like to see him prosper, but can we afford to pay the price?

There are some things which the RECORD can do. It can watch legislation and see that the mail order man gets no unfair advantage in this respect, so far as it is able to prevent it. This paper can foster a sentiment in favor of home trade, other things being equal, but it can hardly ask its readers to pay the home merchant a heavy bonus for the privilege of dealing with him.

Therefore, as long as the RECORD advocates home trade and practices what it preaches—it will continue to encourage home trade, but at the same time, in order to be effective it must have the zealous, intelligent co-operation of the merchant himself. If his policy were half as progressive as that of the newspaper, we would hear little about the mail order evil.

Now, the whole question resolves itself into this—the local merchant must sell as cheaply as the catalogue houses and must let the public know it by advertising, preferably in the RECORD.

Read this Twice.

If you are a kicker and see the shadow of a failure in anything that is proposed to help the town, for heaven's sake go into some secluded spot and kick your own shadow on the clay bank and thus give men who are working to build up the town a chance. ELKHART DEFEATED BY BLUES, 5 TO 0

On the local baseball grounds last Friday afternoon, the Blues defeated the Elkhart Stars by 5 to 0.

It was widely heralded that the Elkhart Stars could make our boys "see stars", but last Friday's game proved the reverse, and Buchanan ball fans can now wear the glad smile. It goes to prove that if there is anything in trying again, the Blues certainly worked hard to cast a good reflection on Buchanan.

Clever fielding and masterly hitting helped to win. The pitcher and catcher were in their usual pink condition. The attendance was the largest ever seen on the grand stand and it is said that if this size of baseball admirers is at the coming repeated Coldwater-Buchanan game next Friday it will spur the Blues to greater effort. Victory follows a generous encouragement.

gave $2.50 to the first three players on the Buchanan Blues' team, who made a safe hit. It was won by Harry Berry, Dan Merson and Guy Bruce.

The Buchanan Blues are scheduled to come to Three Oaks a week from tomorrow. If the visitors suffer the loss of the second game of the series their chances of winning the county honors will be somewhat in the air. The interest in these contests is intensified by age, hence it is natural to expect that the ginger of the game on the 17th inst. will afford something to harp on. Plan to be on the inside of the crowd.—Three Oaks Acorn.

The series of games between the Greens of Three Oaks and the Buchanan Blues seems to break about about even. Both teams claim the honors and it remains to settle the difficulty in the future.—Eau Claire Enterprise.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

[The Record welcomes communications to this department from its readers, but will not be responsible for any utterances made or opinions expressed.]

Say, wouldn't it cheapen your estimation of a fellow that hands you a lemon, like the way I was. I will tell you of an experience with a retailer in your village. The other day I happened to be in need of some ready cash to give to my wife. She needed a new dress to go to camp meeting. Luckily, I had more potatoes than I needed, so I thought I would sell the retailer a wagon load. Accordingly, I took a wagon load down town. The first grocer said he had plenty, having bought some of another farmer ahead of me. Other grocers told me the same thing, but what struck me as queer and not quite fair was the answer of one grocer. He said he had just bought a carload of potatoes, though he didn't tell where. But I opine that if this grocer buys his potatoes from parts unknown, whereas I have an unlimited supply on my farm, why all this howl about the farmer trading with the mail order houses? Honestly, I believe in buying all my goods down town. Didn't I say I needed some ready cash to buy her, my wife, a dress? Oh, yes, some fellows buy dresses on credit, but as I said I had a lot of potatoes on my farm, I see no reason why I should not try to realize some money on my home products. Sure, I was humiliated. I managed, however, to get rid of my load by selling my large fat potatoes to the housewives at 25 cents per peck, and say, I gave them heaping pecks. In some instances, I sold them in large dish washing pans which measure more than a peck. Talk about honest measure. Compare my pecks with the grocers' and then you won't blame me if you ever hear of me trying to get a bargain from Sears, Roebuck & Co. The point I want to show is this. Had the grocer bought my wagon load of potatoes I could use the cash to let my wife buy at the dry goods store. Do you call this home trade?

A team belonging to Jacob Vite ran away Friday evening. They were standing in front of Bainton's feed store when they became frightened and started to run. The buggy and harness were considerably damaged.

One night last week W. E. Hathaway was awakened by the barking of John Eisenhart's dog and upon going to the door to speak to the dog he saw two men run down the walk as fast as their feet could go.

Last Sunday morning about three o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Denno were awakened by some one trying to enter their home. George got up and upon investigating found two men prowling about. He fired through a window and saw them run away.

Sunday evening, during the electric storm the barn on the H. C. Lybrook farm on the other side of the river, northeast of town, was struck by lightning and burned. The barn and contents were totally destroyed, but the loss is partially covered by insurance in the Farmers' Mutual.

The remodeling of the Niagara Mills is being pushed rapidly. The new machinery is being placed and the mason work is nearly finished. It will be about sixty days before they will be able to run.

Cards received report Claude Ryerson touring the East with J. P. Roof, from Cleveland to New York City, in an automobile, visiting the principal points of interest. They expect to return by way of Chicago, and reports a splendid time. Mr. Ryerson drives a 60 horse power Pope-Toledo touring car.

Edward M. Hoadly, special deputy, representing the Loyal Americans, who has been in the city for several weeks securing new recruits, will be in Three Oaks during the coming week where he hopes to organize a branch. Mr. Hoadly is a hustler of the deepest dye, having secured many members within a brief space of time.

The Commercial National Bank, best and most influential bank in the county, which is largely patronized by the leading farmers and fruit growers in this section of the state, invites the citizens of Buchanan and vicinity to take advantage of their "Banking by Mail" proposition. Its advertisement begins in this issue. Watch St. Joseph's principal bank grow by wise publicity.

A novelty in the way of Swedish dialect plays will be shown at Rough's Opera House, Monday, Aug. 19, when the Anglo-Scandinavian comedy-drama "Tilly Olson" will be presented here. The piece has been written around the central figure of a Swedish girl, "bound out" to a family of farmer-folk in Minnesota. Tilly is the only Swedish character in the play. It is a quaint and clever character creation. Tilly is a keen and bright daughter of Scandinavia. Her odd actions and amusing pranks will keep the playgoer in good hum or for three hours. The piece tells a consistent story and has some scenes of considerable dramatic power. Tilly goes through a series of exciting adventures and turns out to be an heiress in the end. A strong company and a fine scenic production have been provided by the management. Miss Aimee Commons will play the name part, and Master Jack Rollin, one of the best boy actors on the stage will have a prominent part. Reserved seats at Skeet's Soda fountain.

STRIKE OF THE PRESS MEN.

It Is Against the Advice of Their Grand Secretary—Situation.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The Associated Press operators in this city, and at many points on the southern and western circuits of the Associated Press leased wire system stopped work at 7:30 p. m. yesterday. The north circuit, including the offices at St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Milwaukee, was not disturbed, none of the operators at those points leaving their work. On the south Indianapolis was left in full working order, and on the east the men in Cleveland refused to leave. The suspension was not complete at New York, as sufficient force remained loyal to send a partial news service in all directions and this condition was continually improved.

The same conditions prevailed at all the offices, except those in New England, which were not affected. In Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh and intermediate points a sufficient force remained loyal to permit the main body of news to move. In the smaller cities where the Associated Press operators are the medium by which the news is transmitted to the newspapers there was a similar cessation of work. Many of these points received their news service by telephone and other emergency methods, but in some instances the operator remained loyal and continued to serve the local papers.

General Manager Stone remained at the general offices of the Associated Press at New York throughout the night, receiving reports from various sections, and arranging for the uninterrupted continuance of the news service to the newspapers of the country. One of his first messages was one of recognition of the devotion of those who had remained loyal to the service and were carrying forward the work. Another message directed that all men who had struck be paid off and their services terminated as soon as possible.

The strike was made against the wishes and advice of Grand Secretary Russell, of the telegraphers' union, who made every effort to keep the men at work for another twenty-four hours, or until arrangements had been made for a conference between General Manager Stone, of the Associated Press, and a committee of the operators.

IN TOO BIG A HURRY

Associated Press Says the Operators Want a Reply Too Sudden.

New York, Aug. 13.—Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, has replied to the requests of the telegraphers employed by the Associated Press. These requests were: "Day work, six days, eight hours daily, $30 per week, and overtime and extra at the rate of 60 cents per hour. Night work, six nights, eight hours, $35 per week, and overtime and extra at the rate of 70 cents per hour. The vacations to remain as at present. A proportionate increase for chiefs and sub-chief operators." The telegraphers requested a reply by 7:30 p. m. yesterday, is dated New York, Aug. 12, 1907, and says:

"I received this morning a communication from a large number of the operators in the service of the Associated Press asking for a changed scale of wages and hours, and requesting a reply by 7:30 o'clock this evening. The changes involved are so radical in their nature as to add over $200,000 a year, and probably more, to the expense of this organization. The Associated Press is mutual in its character, makes no profits, and has no surplus fund out of which such a sum could be paid. Any such increase, must of necessity be levied back upon the newspapers as a part of their weekly assessments.

"As general manager I have no power to make such an increase, either in salaries or assessments, without authority from the board of directors, and it is obviously impossible to call this board together within the time named. The board consists of fifteen members scattered throughout the entire country.

"At the same time, acting under authority heretofore granted me by the board of directors, I shall be very glad at any time to meet a committee of our own operators and confer with them respecting hours of service and compensation with a view to making some recommendation to the next meeting of the board of directors which shall meet any fair or just expectations of those in our operating service. "Even were I free to act I think you must agree with me that a question of this magnitude should not be pressed to a conclusion within the limits of a few hours and without any opportunity for consultation between myself and representatives of our operating force."

MARIE raised her shoulders with a pathetic gesture of resignation.

"The sleeping sickness," she said, "what will you? There is no remedy. He always said he would die of that. He feared it."

In the greater sorrow she seemed to have forgotten her child, who was staring open eyed at the ceiling. The two others, the boy and girl, were playing on the doorstep with some unconsidered trifles from the dust heap, after the manner of children all the world over.

"He was not a good man," said Marie, turning to Jocelyn, as if she alone of all present would understand. "He was not a good husband, but"—she shrugged her shoulders with one of her patient, shadowy smiles—"it makes so little difference—yes?"

Jocelyn said nothing. None of them had aught to say to her, for each in that room could lay a separate sin at Victor Durnovo's door. He was gone beyond reach of human justice to the higher court where the extenuating circumstance is fully understood. The generosity of that silence was infectious, and they told her nothing. Had they spoken she would perforce have believed them, but then, as she herself said, it would have made so little difference. So Victor Durnovo leaves these pages, and all we can do is to remember the writing on the ground. Who among us dares to withhold the extenuating circumstance? Who is ready to leave this world without that crutch to lean upon? Given a mixed blood—evil black with evil white—and what can the result be but evil? Given the climate of western Africa and the mental irritation thereof, added to a lack of education and the natural vice inherent in man, and you have—Victor Durnovo.

Nestorius—the shameless—stretched out his little bare limbs and turned half over on his side. He looked from one face to the other with the grave wonder that was his. He had never been taken much notice of. His short walk in life had been very near the ground, where trifles look very large, and from whence those larger stumbling blocks which occupy our attention are quite invisible. He had been the third—the solitary third child who usually makes his own interest in life, and is left by or leaves the rest of his family.

It was not quite clear to him why he was the center of so much attention. His mind did not run to the comprehension of the fact that he was the wearer of borrowed plumes—the sable plumes of King Death. He had always wanted to get on to the kitchen table. There was much there that interested him and supplied him with food for thought. He had risked his life on more than one occasion in attempts to scale that height with the assistance of a saucepan that turned over and poured culinary delicacies on his toes, or perhaps a sleeping cat that got up and walked away much annoyed. And now that he was at last at this dizzy height he was sorry to find that he was too tired to crawl about and explore the vast possibilities of it. He was rather too tired to convey his forefinger to his mouth, and was forced to work out mental problems without that aid to thought.

Presently his eyes fell on Guy Osgard's face, and again his own small features expanded into a smile.

"Bad case!" he said, and, turning over, he nestled down into the pillow, and he had the answer to the many questions that puzzled his small brain. As through an opera runs the rhythm of one dominant air, so through men's lives there rings a dominant note, soft in youth, strong in manhood and soft again in old age. But it is always there, and whether soft in the gentler periods or strong amid the noise and clang of the perihelion, it dominates always and gives its tone to the whole life.

The dominant tone of Sir John Meredith's existence had been the high, clear note of battle. He had always found something or some one, to fight from the very beginning, and now, in his old age, he was fighting still. His had never been the din and crash of warfare by sword and cannon, but the subtler, deeper combat of the pen. In his active days he had got through a vast amount of work; that unchronicled work of the foreign office which never comes through the cheap newspapers to the voracious maw of a chattering public. His name was better known on the banks of the Nyva, the Seine, the Bosphorus, or the swift rolling Iser, than by the Thames, and grim Sir John was content to have it so.

NEW YORK STRIKE A SURPRISE

Did Not Expect Action There Until a Later Day.

New York, Aug. 13.—The strike of telegraphers which originated last Friday at Los Angeles, where it was directed against the Western Union company, has spread eastward and reached New York city, where three spontaneous "walkouts" followed in rapid succession. These were directed against the Western Union, the Postal Telegraph company and the Associated Press. The strike was first against the news organization and was fairly general throughout the country, excepting New England. Unexpectedly, and when it had been generally supposed that no action would be taken locally pending a conference of Labor Commissioner Neill with influential labor representatives in Chicago on Thursday, the union operators declared a strike in the office of the Western Union.

In explanation it was said by the strikers that three discharged employees who had called at the office for wages had been treated with scant courtesy. An hour or so later the men in the main office of the other local telegraph company walked out. In this instance it was said that the union man had been asked to work a wire manned in another city by a non-union operator.

While these strikes appear to be in violation of the understanding reached by the local executive officers of the telegraph companies with the union de-union Sunday, immediately following which the strikers would receive the support of their organization. It was added that a secret understanding was reached Sunday, by which authority was given to the local employees of the two telegraph companies to go out any time that their interests seemed to demand immediate action. Just how effective the strike was is a matter of dispute, as it always is in such cases.

BROWN BABIES BAPTIZED

MGR. FALCONIO CHRISTENS FILIPINOS AT NORFOLK.

Their Names Are Pocahontas, Jamestown Pacific and Patrick Henry Bryan—Fair Now Complete.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 9.—One of the interesting events of Thursday at the Knights of Columbus convention was the baptism of three Filipino infants by Mgr. Falconio, the ceremony being witnessed by a large assemblage of distinguished guests.

One of the babies was the ten-day-old daughter of Datto Oon, a Bagoto chief, and the two others belong to the Tagalo tribe of the Philippine reservation at the exposition. Their names are respectively Pocahontas, Jamestown Pacific and Patrick Henry Bryan, the latter having been named on Patrick Henry day by William Jennings Bryan.

The Jamestown exposition is declared to be practically complete in a statement issued Thursday by Director General James M. Barr, who also asks for the project the support of the country at large. Mr. Barr says:

"The Jamestown tercentennial exposition, barring minor details which will be finished within ten days, is completed. It fittingly commemorates the great historical event which it was designed to celebrate, and it reflects credit on the state of Virginia, the south and the nation.

"In the character of its buildings, the excellence of its exhibits and the beauty of location on historical Hampton Roads, it compares favorably with any exposition held in this country, and it fully justifies its management in asking the united support of the people of the country."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CONCILIATOR AT WORK

But He Refuses to Say Anything About What He Is Doing.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Peace negotiations looking towards an adjustment of the telegraphers' strike by arbitration were begun here last night. Labor Commissioner Neill, of the United States government, and Ralph M. Easley, secretary of the National Civic Federation, came to Chicago with this end in view. At night at 10 o'clock they went into conference with National Secretary Russell, of the telegraphers' organization.

The meeting lasted for over an hour, and was held behind closed doors. Neill when asked if any progress had been made toward getting the opposing interests together declined to answer, and stated emphatically that he would have nothing to give out for publication until something of a definite character had been decided upon.

Many an innocent picture has been framed in gilt.
