WHITE HAS ONE MORE AMBITION

Prosecuting Attorney Has One More Thing to do Before He Retires

TO CONVICT MAX MINNEY

Prosecutor Believes that Minney is the Guilty Man, Basing His Belief on Certain Evidence and Will Strive Hard to Convict Him

Prosecuting Attorney Charles E. White has but one desire to gratify before he steps out of office. And that is that he may be able to convict Max Minney of the crime of slashing horses' tongues.

That he regards the conviction of

CHARLES E. WHITE

Minney as one of the hardest problems he has ever encountered, Mr. White frankly admits. That he is exerting every effort, that he is spending more time on the case than any other that he has prosecuted, and that every resource available will be used to bring about a conviction, the prosecutor also admits.

"The strangest, the most mysterious and without doubt the hardest case we ever had," was Mr. White's comment on the Max Minney case when he was down from Niles' last week, gathering facts, it is asserted, which will aid him when the trial starts.

As an indication that he knows the trial will be no snap, the prosecutor declared he would have assistance during the Minney trial. Who will be associated with him it is difficult to determine.

IT'S ALWAYS BAD

The Best of Backs Are Bad When They Ache, and Buchanan People Know It

A bad back is always bad. Bad at night when bedtime comes, just as bad in the morning. Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it? Know they cure backache—cure every kidney ill!

Mrs. George A. Gardheffer, 424 E. Railroad street, Dowagiac, Mich. says: "I suffered for several months from a weakness of the kidneys. There was a dull pain in the small of my back which always grew more severe in damp weather and caused me great annoyance. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed and the pains soon became a thing of the past." (Statement given December 7, 1901)

CURED TO STAY CURED
On October 26th 1906, Mrs. Gardheffer says: "I endorse every word of the above statement today, as the cure Doan's Kidney Pills made in my case has stood the test of time and I have never suffered from the old trouble since. My advice to any one suffering from kidney trouble is to procure Doan's Kidney Pills."

For Sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CAPTURES REWARD

Oscar Fredrickson of Celfor Tool Co., Successfully Perfects New Drill Chuck and Company Rewards Him

The men who work for the Celfor Tool company know their efforts seldom pass unnoticed and unrewarded. They are nearly all first-class mechanists, wedded to their special line of work, always enthusiastic and striving to do better. The company wants absolutely nothing but the best tools made and will reward any employee who achieves success in his line of work that is different from the present.

Oscar Fredrickson, foreman of the Celfor Tool Co., is one of the men who has succeeded and who has just captured a laurel from the company. He has just completed a new drill chuck, which is perfect and entirely different and new from any now on the market, to hold the new Celfor twist drills. As Mr. Fredrickson got up all the machinery and appliances for making the new Celfor tool drill, even to making the drawings and working out all details it will readily be seen that his efforts are worth the appreciation which the company always show to him. He won a new suit of clothes from the company as a token of their approval of his faithful ability and perserverance in perfecting a tool of so great an importance. Mr. Fredrickson spent over three months of determination and persistency on this one appliance to get it to its present perfect condition.

The Record wishes to congratulate Mr. Fredrickson over his successful achievement and predicts a great future for him in the mechanical field.

BANKS ARE ALL STRONG

State Banking Commissioner Zimmerman Gives out Statement.

Michigan banks are in the best of condition. This is the hopeful news that State Banking Commissioner Zimmerman of Lansing gave out yesterday. He said:

"There is absolutely no excuse for becoming exercised even in the slightest degree about the financial situation in Michigan. Our banks are maintaining a high reserve and can meet every legitimate need.

"The united action of the banks doing a savings business in taking advantage of the rule requiring notice of withdrawals is both commendable and wise since this requirement operates to the advantage of depositors and banks alike. I am pleased to note that the public understand that there is no real danger. Our banks were never in better condition and the action taken simply demonstrates very clearly that our bankers are determined to keep their banks in the excellent condition they are now in."

"In my judgment it will only be a matter of a few days when we will have forgotten all about New York's recent flurry. Our factories are all in full operation, crops are good with a good market, labor is fully employed at good wages and the general industrial conditions were never more promising. Why then should we become apprehensive of the financial situation?"

Whose Dog Was It?

A Buchanan man has a promising young dog. The dog followed Ryan to a moving picture show the other night and the animal nearly caused a panic during the "Passion Play" picture. One of the scenes shows a flock of sheep. The sheep look so much like the real article that the dog left his owner's side and made a lunge at the canvass, nearly tearing it down. He was corralled and led away growling. It was a good ad for the picture show, nobody was hurt and everybody was well satisfied but the dog, who, it may be added is rather fond of mutton—Niles Star.

Everybody's friend—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Cures toothache, earache, sore throat. Heals cuts, bruises, scalds. Stops any pain.

Harm Done By Unwise Reformers.

By Dr. ALEXANDER C. HUMPHREYS, President of the Stevens Institute of Technology.

UNQUESTIONABLY much good has been done by the reformers now so active, UNQUESTIONABLY ALSO MUCH HARM, UNNECESSARY HARM. Apparently the cue has been taken from the head of the government at Washington. With his striking personality, his tremendous force, his restless and almost resistless energy, his enormous capacity for work, his ability to impress his auditors with the belief that his intentions are honest, his probably honest belief that many of the industrial combinations were conducting their business OUTSIDE THE LAW, and with it all and through it all his unparalleled ability as a politician, President Roosevelt has been able to make a record against the power of capital which is not matched, so far as I know, in the history of the world.

THE PRESIDENT HAS DONE AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF GOOD AND IN THE DOING HAS DONE AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF HARM. IT MUST BE THE TASK OF HISTORY TO STRIKE THE BALANCE AND SHOW WHETHER IT RESTS UPON THE SIDE OF GOOD OR HARM.

There are some indications that THE TIDE HAS COMMENCED TO TURN, and if these indications are verified we may well expect to find the politicians changing their tune and preparing TO DESERT REFORM and return to other practices which in the past have put the public service corporations on the defensive and in some cases have appeared to force these companies into courses which the politicians now find it to their advantage to condemn. Thus the corporations, having been delivered from the fire by the offered refuge of the frying pan, are AGAIN THREATENED WITH THE FIRE—an uncomfortable position at the best.

Federal Courts and Railroad Rates.

By Attorney General HERBERT S. HADLEY of Missouri.

THAT it is the right of state and national governments to regulate freight and passenger charges HAS CEASED TO BE A QUESTION OF CONTROVERSY. A railroad corporation exercises some of the attributes of sovereignty as a necessary incident to its operation, and as a consequence it OWES TO THE PUBLIC AN IMPARTIAL AND FAIR DISCHARGE OF ALL THE POWERS CONFERRED ON IT.

Men who associate themselves together to operate railroads have neither a legal nor a moral right to receive more than a REASONABLE RETURN on their investment.

The amount of such return is a QUESTION that has not yet been thoroughly settled by the decisions of courts of last resort. No definite division of passenger and freight expenses can be made.

AND YET FOR YEARS, UPON THE BASIS OF AFFIDAVITS OF INTERESTED PARTIES, WITH SUCH A MANIFEST LACK OF DEFINITE INFORMATION CONCERNING THE EARNINGS AND EXPENSES OF THE DIFFERENT CLASSES OF RAILROAD TRAFFIC, UNITED STATES DISTRICT AND CIRCUIT JUDGES HAVE EXERCISED A VETO POWER ON THE ACTS OF STATE LEGISLATURES AND THE DECISIONS OF DULY AUTHORIZED ADMINISTRATIVE BOARDS.

Manifestly railway freight rates made by a state legislature in the hurry, excitement and inaccuracy attending the deliberations of such a body are ARTIFICIAL, INELASTIC AND OFTENTIMES UNFAIR BOTH TO THE RAILWAYS AND TO SHIPPERS. Such work can be better done by a NONPARTISAN, NONELECTIVE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD, the members of which have expert knowledge of the questions with which they deal.

MR. MANTELL'S GREAT SUCCESS

Distinguished Tragedian is Packing the Grand Opera House, Chicago, in His Performances of Shakespeare's Plays "King John" to be Given Nov. 17

Mr. Mantell is acting in the Grand Opera House, Chicago, the plays of Shakespeare, and his annual engagement in that splendid playhouse is having the usual reward of jammed audiences and immense enthusiasm. He opened on Sunday night, Nov. 3, in "Macbeth," which he repeated on Tuesday night, "King Lear" being the intervening bill, with "Othello," "Hamlet," "The Merchant of Venice" and "Julius Caesar" to fill out the first of his notable three weeks.

The arrangement for the second week is as follows:

Sunday and Monday night, "King Richard III;" Tuesday night and Saturday afternoon, "Hamlet;" Wednesday afternoon, "The Merchant of Venice;" Wednesday night, "Othello," to," with Mr. Mantell as the Moor; Thursday night, "King Lear;" Friday night, only time, by request, "Richelieu;" Saturday night, last time, "Macbeth."

"King John" will be produced by Mr. Mantell for the first time on Sunday night, Nov. 17, and will be repeated every night that week save Saturday and at the Saturday matinee. It will be a rare treat to hear and see this splendid composition of Shakespeare's at the hands of Mr. Mantell and his superb company.

The bill for Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 20, will be "Othello," with Mr. Mantell as Iago, by request, and for Saturday night, the farewell performance, in the engagement, "Othello" will be repeated, with Mr. Mantell in the role of the Moor.

Seats are ready for all the performances in this engagement of Mr. Mantell, the one actor in the English language today who is giving the great tragedies of Shakespeare.

TO URGE SHORTER HOURS

Believes Retail Stores Would Profit as Well by Closing on Week Day Nights as They Would by Keeping Open.

Conditions in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph relative to the employment of child labor and sanitary conditions were pronounced good by State Inspector Luella M. Burton, of Lansing, Miss Burton has been in the twin cities for a week or more and during that time has made a careful and systematic investigation of existing conditions.

No infraction of the child labor laws were found in either city and as a whole Miss Burton declares she was well satisfied with her visit to this portion of the state.

Long hours of toil in the retail stores are frowned upon by state inspector. She maintains that there is no excuse to stay open on week-day nights with the possible exception of Saturday evening.

She is a firm believer in that old adage that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. The clerk who after working hard all day had his evenings to himself is the clerk who is going to get ahead, she avers.

Cleveland Free Says Johnson

Declares Battle Was People's and They're Real Victors

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—Tom L. Johnson won the mayoralty contest Tuesday for the fourth time by a plurality of 9,318 as complete returns showed. He received a total of 48,339 votes.

Mayor Johnson said: "Cleveland is today a free city. Through all the slander and confusion the people kept their minds on the real issue. It was the people's fight; it is their victory. The right may lose a battle but it never lost a war. Our seven years' war is won and Cleveland will go on with its great work."

Pressmen on Strike

All Employees of the Press Dept. of the Nat'l Printing and Eng. Co. Walked Out.

The National Printing & Engraving Co., of Niles, have their hands full with a strike on. All their pressmen struck after being refused an eight-hour working day. Although Attorney Burnes, of Niles, who represents the company obtained an injunction to restrain the striking pressmen from coming near its plant, the strikers claim the injunction has no terrors for them. They have employed an attorney to fight the allegations in the temporary injunction.

The pressmen are confident of their victory, though it remains to be seen as the company came out victorious in two recent strikes.

If the strike lasts for a certain long period there will be a great many hungry and chilly pressmen at Niles this winter.

Appendicitis

Is due in a large measure to abuse of the bowels, by employing drastic purgatives. To avoid all danger, use only Dr. King's New Life Pills, the safe, gentle cleansers and invigorators. Guaranteed for headache, biliousness, malaria and jaundice, at W.N. Brodick's drug store, 25c.

MERCHANTS' ASS'N. SMOKER

Was Held at Empire Cafe Tuesday Evening

FOR BUSINESS AND SOCIAL

Matters Pertaining to Trading Week and Plans for New Schemes were Discussed.

St. Joseph has a dandy bunch of merchants working together like brothers instead of butchers.

They had a smoker, though all are not smokers, and they discussed matters of importance such as only practical business men with broad-minded ideas are known to do. They are not the kind who talk too much and then forget to perform.

"Deeds, not words" is their motto. These fellows had a sort of banquet consisting of chicken sandwiches, coffee and the best of home-made cigars. This meeting brought out many good, practical ideas which if carried out will go a long way toward boosting the town.

The majority of these business men are in favor of closing their stores at 6 o'clock in the evenings except Saturday.

We hope Buchanan will have an association like St. Joseph's as every member gets the benefit of good fellowship, business harmony and exchange of practical ideas.

MUST GET CERTIFICATE

All Business Houses Must See to it That Their Names are Incorporated

MUST FILE NAMES IN COURT

Penalty of Twenty-five Dollars Per Day is Attached to the Non-Fulfillment of the Statute

County Clerk Miners has asked that the newspapers sound a warning to business houses which are not conducting their affairs under the real names of the proprietors. Any institution which is doing business under anything except the name of its proprietor must file the real names of the owners with the county clerk and for their failure to comply with this regulation there is a penalty of twenty-five dollars fine attached for each day or imprisonment in the county jail.

The new law should be obeyed at once to save any trouble which might result.

KNOXVILLE PLACES CLOSE

New City Charter in Effect Puts Saloons Out of Business

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 3.—There were merry happenings in Knoxville, when at midnight the 115 saloons and wholesale houses closed their doors to open them no more in this city, for at that hour the new city charter went into effect, and by its provision saloons cannot longer exist in this city.

For a week past the sales of 'booze' have been unprecedented, wet and dry alike laying in a supply of all kinds for their homes. The sales Thursday literally cleaned many saloons of their stock.

We Want a Carnegie Library?

Does Buchanan need a Carnegie library.

Certainly!

It is gratifying to learn that the 30 Club, composed of Buchanan's best women whom we believe have an unlimited supply of the knack and ability to do things, and do them quickly and systematically, have appointed a committee to try to secure a Carnegie library for Buchanan.

We can depend upon the intelligent women to push this good thing along. The women must also have the unselfish co-operation of all men who are in favor of establishing a library. This is a necessity.

Now henceforth, it will be for every one to solve this question: Shall Buchanan establish a Carnegie library?

Those ladies comprising the 30 Club's committee are Mrs. Chas. Pears, Mrs. Clyde Baker and Miss Artie Logan.

If you have any good suggestions to offer the committee that will add stress to their work give it to the ladies. They are fully capable of taking care of the details connected with this new movement.

Push it with all your might!

OBITUARY

was born August 27, 1822, at Sodus Bay, N. Y., at the head of Lake Ontario. In 1836 he came to Michigan and was married to Sarah M. Athins, April 7, 1850. To this union were born five children, two of whom died in infancy. A few years later he united with the Advent Christian church while living in Dayton. In 1854 they moved to Buchanan and united with the church there, and were faithful members up to the time of their decease, his wife preceding him 12 years ago.

He died Nov. 3, 1907 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. I. Cauffman, aged 85 years, 2 months and 6 days. He leaves to mourn his death two daughters, Mrs. John Alliger and Mrs. H. I. Cauffman, both of this place and one son, A. C. Fellows of Jackson, Mich., eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the Advent Christian church Wednesday, at 10:30 a. m., Elder Charles A. Shook officiating.

MONDAY LITERARY CLUB

Twenty members of the Monday Literary Club met at the country home of Mrs. Chas. East.

After the opening exercises, "James-town Exposition" was in charge of Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Worthington. Mrs. Rose made the subject more clear by pointing out all places of note on a fine large map and recited many incidents of prominent places from a personal viewpoint. Mrs. Worthington read a humorous sketch of a colored auntie's visit to the exposition. The responses to roll call "Exposition Items," added largely to the subject. Mrs. Dodd sang Bishop's beautiful song "My Rosary."

Historical Trees of America, an interesting subject was read by Miss Samson. Mrs. Howard's paper on "Forestry," was fine and showed that people are beginning to learn that the right to use forests does not carry with it the right to destroy them. Mrs. Worthington then led in parliamentary drill. Mrs. I. L. H. Dodd was the club's guest. Mrs. Millie East served dainty refreshments and another one of our profitable Mondays came to a close. Meeting November 11 with Mrs. Stryker.

"Some people are a heap sight like that goat of Reuben Ketchum's—slus buttin' in"—Samantha Allen M. E. church, Wednesday evening, Nov. 13.

We Are Persecuting, Not Prosecuting, Corporations.

By the Right Rev. DANIEL S. TUTTLE, Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

I AM not inclined severely to criticize the present administration or the attitude of our people at present. It has been my observation that AT INTERVALS the people of this country rise in a great clamor which is very far from their SOBER SECOND JUDGMENT. This is what is happening now. We have a great popular uprising against certain corporations in which the president and the federal administration are leading.

Now, this is EXAGGERATED. The judgment of the officials and the people is not what it will be when there comes the second sight into the matter.

WE AT GREAT LENGTH DECLARE THAT WE ARE BEING OPPRESSED, STRANGLING, IF YOU WILL, BY MONOPOLIES. THIS IS NOT SO. AND, TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THIS CRY, WE HAVE ACTIONS AGAINST THESE CORPORATIONS WHICH ARE NOT PROSECUTIONS. THEY REALLY ARE PERSECUTIONS TO A CERTAIN EXTENT.

In a little while, I know not just how long, we will begin to see that we are rushing ahead TOO FAST—going at the thing too harshly. We and the president will find that there is ANOTHER SIDE TO THE FIGHT and that the corporations have much to say. We will have our second thought, our sober judgment, on the thing.

We wish no monarchy here, no COMMERCIAL MONARCHY legalized by any means. It is dangerous. I think we shall find that our railroad presidents, our corporation heads, will begin to see that the Bible rule of brotherly love is JUST AS STRONG NOW AS IT EVER WAS, and if they wish to prosper they will have to live up to it.

No Man Lives For Himself Alone.

By Cardinal GIBBONS.

WHEN it is a question of charity, THAT VIRTUE KNOWS NO RELIGION. Charity knows no faith nor nationality nor color. The only question we have to propose to ourselves is, "He is the victim of SUFFERING humanity, and it is our duty on such an occasion to extend to him the right hand of fellowship and of mercy."

The religion that Christ presented to us was not merely for admiration, but for an example that NO MAN IS SUFFICIENT UNTO HIMSELF. The bonds of social intercourse are as closely intertwined as are the physical bonds of the human body.

WE MUTUALLY DEPEND UPON ONE ANOTHER. OF WHAT AVAIL IS ALL RICHES TO A MAN IF HE HAVE NO FRIEND TO GRASP HIM BY THE HAND, NO COMPANION TO CHERISH HIM, NO SERVANT TO MINISTER TO HIM? IS NOT SUCH A MAN POOR AND MISERABLE AND BLIND AND NAKED?

What would it avail any of you to possess the coal mines of West Virginia and Pennsylvania if there were no hardy sons of toil TO MINE THOSE COALS and carry them to the marts of commerce? What would the entire wealth of the Island of Manhattan avail you IF THERE WERE NO ONE TO SHARE IT WITH YOU?

We must help one another to THE BEST OF OUR ABILITY, thus making life's burden the easier to bear. Do not say to me: "What have I to do with my brother? Am I, my brother's keeper?" You ARE your brother's keeper, and you will be responsible to God as such. We would all of us today be groping in the DARKNESS OF IDOLATRY if we were not our brother's keeper, and we would be deprived today of the inestimable blessings of our civilization.

Cut Off With a Shilling.
"Here," said a lawyer, taking down a calf bound book, "is the will from which originated the famous phrase, 'Cut off with a shilling.'"
"It is the will of Stephen Godfrey. He died in Lambeth in 1796. Now, I'll read you the paragraph in Godfrey's will that gave the word the phrase. A nasty paragraph it is too:
"Whereas, it was my misfortune to be made very uneasy by Elizabeth Godfrey, my wife, for many years, from our marriage, by her turbulent behavior, for she was not content with despising my admonitions, but she contrived every method to make me unhappy; she was so perverse in her nature that she would not be reclaimed, but seemed only to be born to be a plague to me. The strength of Samson, the knowledge of Homer, the prudence of Augustus, the cunning of Pyrrhus, the patience of Job, the subtlety of Hannibal and the watchfulness of Homogenes could not have been sufficient to subdue her, for no skill or force in the world could make her good, and as we have lived separate and apart from each other eight years, and she having perverted her son to leave and totally abandon me—therefore I give her one shilling only."

 American Names.
 If we have some growing sense of a desire to touch with poetry the terminology of our American towns, we have succeeded so far only in securing a slightly picnic grove atmosphere such as is given off by Lakewood or Riverside. The rich sentimentality of the real estate dealer has done what it could, considering the hurry he is in. If we have a new manufacturing suburb, the chances are we shall be too lazily and flatly patriotic, call it Lincoln and be done with it, or too crudely romantic, in which case the secretary of the company will report to the directors that he has had the place incorporated as Ivanhoe. With the slightest dash of poetry in his soul he might keep true to the strenuous character of the place, with all its prospective labor agitations, and at the same time give a tinge of beauty to the situation forever by calling it Fretley, or if it is a place where hammers are to ring from morning to night why not call it Stroke instead of naming it Smithville after the present chief stockholder in the concern?—Atlantic.

I tell you, Mrs. Upsome, we enjoyed that luncheon. We didn't have to hurry through it either, and we were waited on with the utmost politeness and cordiality."
 "The service was first class, was it?" interrupted Mrs. Upsome.
 "The service?" said Mrs. Ray-Sherishay, lowering her voice. "No; that was nearly all imitation. I give you my word there was hardly a thing worth carrying away as a souvenir. All I grabbed was this little pickle fork, and I do believe it's nothing but plated ware!"—Chicago Tribune.

Looking For a Lady.

By Taylor White.

Copyrighted, 1907, by C. H. Sutcliffe.

"Who is the girl?" asked Bradley. Elwood held out his hand for the album.

"Hanged if I know!" he answered as he glanced at the photograph. "That was off the last film roll I had. I snapped it on the train just as we were pulling out. Pretty little thing, isn't she?"

Bradley nodded. To him the pictured girl was more than pretty. She was beautiful. She leaned against the side of the door of the waiting room, evidently watching the passing of the train, and the unconsciousness of her pose was one of its charms.

She was dressed in something white, and her hat swung from her hand, the hair—Bradley was sure that it must be golden—fluffing softly about the perfect oval of the face. From the first glance Bradley had fallen in love, and it was irritating that Elwood could not remember which station it was.

"Surely you must know something about it," said Bradley impatiently. "Was it near town or some distance out?"

"Search me," was the irritating reply. "It's one of a roll of a dozen films that I exposed along the line. After the film was cut up I could not tell which were which. I just took them to use up the film."

"I wish you'd let me have a print," said Bradley, trying to appear unconcerned and longing to throw a book at Elwood's grinning face. His anger fell when the other promptly ran a paper cutter under the edges of the print and handed it over to his friend.

THE GIRL OF THE PICTURE STOOD BEFORE HIM.

Bradley put it carefully into his pocketbook and sought to lead the conversation into other channels.

But that evening when he reached home he tucked the print into his looking glass and went to sleep to dream of the girl. His own vacation came in a few days, and he determined to spend the time in locating the station and through that the girl. The L. and V. had three sets of plans from which it built stations. These were of wood, brick or stone, according to the importance of the place. There were probably fifty or sixty stations along the line precisely like the one in the picture. Instead of buying a ticket to the fishing country, as he had at first intended, he purchased a mileage book and started out to find the station.

Just above the door in which the girl had been standing he noticed a peculiar knot in the boards, and, giving up only sufficient mileage to carry him on to the next wooden station, he made his way down the line. He rode on the same train until dusk prevented him from closely examining the stations and then left the train, to the great relief of the conductor, who had early in the day come to the conclusion that his passenger must be insane.

The second day's search was no more successful, and on the evening of the third day he had come to the end of the line without having located the station he sought.

He bought another mileage book and turned back over the road, and this time he found the place for which he sought. The station had been newly painted, and the knots had been covered up by the paint.

But he found that the station was only the first step. There still remained the girl. There were half a dozen places where summer boarders were taken, he learned from the station agent. He picked out one and made arrangements to have his trunk forwarded, and then he settled down to prosecute his inquiry.

"Seeing the train come in" was a popular occupation with the summer visitors, and Bradley did not let a single train escape him. He hung about the station at all hours, but beyond getting very well acquainted with the station agent he made no progress. It was apparent that the girl he had sought had gone.

It was near the end of the second week that Bradley summoned up the courage to show the agent his photograph and ask information.

"A friend of mine took it the other day from the train," he said. "I thought that perhaps she might like one if I could locate her."

"I remember her," said the agent. Bradley's heart gave a bound.

"She's gone out west somewhere," said the agent vaguely, and Bradley's elation was suddenly checked.

"I suppose that some one has her address," he suggested. "I might get it from them and mail her a copy."

The agent smiled.

"She wasn't visiting no one," he explained. "She just stopped off here a couple of days to see the lake. I think her ma came from here years ago, and she wanted to see it."

"What was her name?" Bradley reflected that perhaps she lived in a city where they had a directory.

"Molly something," said the agent. "I don't recollect that I know what her other name was."

"Perhaps the woman who kept the boarding house at which she stopped might know," suggested Bradley, but again his hopes were dashed with the answer that the girl had stopped at the hotel.

Bradley searched the register for two months back, but there was no hint there. The little hotel was run in easy going fashion, and the register was ornamental rather than useful.

At last he gave up in despair. He had run every clew to earth, and he knew no more than on the day of his arrival. His vacation had come to an end, and, since it was useless to linger, he gave up the quest.

The town had never seemed as hot and dusty as it did on his arrival, and as he came at last to the apartment house in which he lived and recalled the hopes with which he had started out his depression reached the lowest point. He climbed the stairs. At the top of the last flight a girl came out of the rear flat, and in his surprise Bradley dropped his suitcase. The girl of the picture stood before him.

As he stood staring Mrs. Harrold came bustling out of her apartment.

"Did you have a nice time?" she asked as she greeted him.

"The homecoming was the best of all," he said, with a smile.

"It usually is," she agreed, unconscious of his hidden meaning. "I'm glad you're here. My niece, Molly Joslin, from California, is spending a month with me. She came the day after you left. You escaped two weeks of escort duty."

"There are two weeks left," he said, with a smile. "That will be plenty of time."

"That is not a very gracious speech," suggested Mrs. Harrold, with a laugh. Bradley blushed.

"I'm afraid it doesn't sound the way I mean it," he stammered. "I can't very well explain now."

But he made his explanation ten days later, when he showed Molly the photograph and told her of his quest.

"And now that I have found you, may I keep you?" he asked.

"Findings keepings," suggested Molly demurely. "At least that is what we used to say when I was quite a little girl."

No Saloon In 18 Years

Paw Paw, Mich., Has an Unusual Distinction

Paw Paw, Mich., Nov. 5.—The question of local option will no doubt be again brought before the voters of this county at the next spring election. The preliminary steps for procuring the necessary petitions have already been taken and the petitions will probably be laid before the supervisors at their January session. It is now nearly 18 years since there has been a saloon in Van Buren county. The temperance people are confident that the law will be continued in force.

At the election in the spring of 1906 the majority in favor of the law was materially lessened and this affords the advocates of the saloon some ground for hope that the verdict of the people may possibly be reversed. The real reason for the falling off of the temperance vote at the last election was the temperance talk of some of the leading advocates of the law, who had not learned that a certain degree of tact is necessary in a political campaign if votes are to be gained instead of driven away.

What Dean Russell Says About the "International"

The International Live Stock Exposition grows better with each passing year. What up-to-date stockman can for a moment think of omitting this great event from his plans? We make arrangements to go to Chicago the last of November of each year and to give a week over to solid enjoyment, and better than that, even, to improvement and the advice of this great convention. Not only does the stock man go himself, but he takes his wife, sons and daughters.

Farming is the best business on earth, but every business man must get away from the affairs that so directly engross him, a little while each year. The banker goes to his National Bankers' Convention, the merchant goes to the great cities to study the latest styles, inventions and improvements. The stock man, of course, must go to the International to see and renew his associations with other stock men, to see the best specimens of all-breeds of live stock and to gain inspiration which comes from that marvelous international gathering.

I will meet you at the next International is the line that will go into thousands of letters written by stock men to each other and to their friends.
