

SMOKER AND SOCIAL SESSION TOMORROW NIGHT

Distinguished Guests to Be Present at Function of Business Men's Association.

An enjoyable time looms up in prospect for all who attend the smoker to be given at the I. O. O. F. headquarters tomorrow, Friday, evening, under the auspices of the Buchanan Business Men's association. Jack Bishop will preside as toastmaster, and among those who will respond to toasts will be members of the Niles Club company, a representative of the Chicago, South Bend & Southern Michigan Ry. Co., one of the officials of the Niles Gas Co., South Bend newspaper men, and citizens of Buchanan.

Matters of grave importance to Buchanan, such as the building of the proposed line from Niles to Buchanan, the installation of a system of gas mains here, the matter of securing better shipping facilities for rush orders, etc., will be discussed. A committee representing the Business Men's association, had a conference with the head officials of the Chicago, South Bend & Southern Michigan Ry. Co., at South Bend last Monday afternoon, relative to the building of an interurban line from Niles, or from Walton's crossing to Buchanan, and this committee will report at tomorrow night's meeting.

The business meeting will be held at the common council rooms at 7:30 o'clock, after which adjournment to the I. O. O. F. hall, where the smoker and social session follows, will be taken.

All members of the association are urged to be present.

The committee, which interviewed the railway people last Monday, received much encouragement, although the fact was made plain that the crossing of the river is the chief obstacle to the building of the line. The company feels that Niles is not inclined to build a joint bridge with them, and will have their engineers make a survey and prepare an estimate of the cost of building a line from Walton's crossing, north of Niles, to Buchanan, crossing the river at this point. The line from Walton's crossing would be nearly three miles shorter than a line from Niles to Buchanan.

However, The Record does not wish to anticipate the report of the committee, by going into details in this issue.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF J. R. HILL

Deceased Editor Was Proclaimer of Future Events in Our Economic Life

The following letter from an admirer of the late John R. Hill is self-explanatory:

Chicago, Oct. 10, 1910.

Editor Record:

In chronicling the passing of John R. Hill, you certainly pay him a tribute well deserved.

Yet, worthy as it is, it would be impossible to set forth his true worth to mankind generally.

If it were possible to get together a complete file of both "The Independent" and "The Tallisman" and again read his articles on economic, social and political matters, we would readily realize his farsightedness.

Today, men are breaking away from dyed-in-the-wool partyism. John R. Hill was that kind of a partisan thirty years ago, and he gave his reasons frankly for being such.

He was a staunch member of the Knights of Labor at that time. When Greenbackism came to the front, he believed he saw a ray of hope in that. When anti-monopoly appeared, with James B. Weaver as its standard bearer, he supported the ticket at great personal sacrifice, knowing the ticket had but a very few supporters in the county or state. His personal conviction prevailed, and he fought on.

He was, indeed, a proclaimer of future events in our economic life. His articles on Anti-Monopoly would make interesting reading today.

I may also state that hardly an issue of "The Independent" came out but that he had an original poem appealing to our finer sensibilities.

A great many of his articles, political and otherwise, were copied widely by the press of the country. His greatest complaint was when they failed to give him proper credit.

His views on the temperance question were emphatic, but not as a main political issue.

Respectfully yours,
R. E. Swearingen.

SEA GIVES UP ITS DEAD

Body of Late Miss Carrie Shafer Washed Ashore at Ocean Park, Cal.

The body of Miss Carrie Shafer, who committed suicide while deranged mentally, by plunging into the ocean from the pier at Ocean Park, Cal., on the night of Sept. 30, has been given up by the sea. The body was thrown up on the beach by the surf last Saturday, the eighth day after she had left the note to her sister that she intended to drown herself.

The burial took place at Los Angeles, where the sisters had been making their home since going to California, in the hope that change of climate would restore Miss Carrie to her former health.

Smith-Draeger Nuptials

A social event took place at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Haven Hubbard at Hamilton, Ind., Tuesday at high noon, when Miss Helen Draeger of Chicago, and Lewis Smith of Portage Prairie, were united in wedlock. Nature seemed to be in harmony with the occasion, October graced it with one of its most beautiful days.

The ceremony conducted by Rev. Mr. Kring was followed by a dinner which for abundance, variety and quality will not soon be forgotten by those who participated.

After a pleasant social afternoon the bride and groom, showered with rice, were driven in an automobile to the interurban station at New Carlisle, but strict secrecy in regard to their destination was maintained.

Only the immediate relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Smith were the favored guests of the occasion. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Dreger, brother of the bride from Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman of New Carlisle; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith and son of Bristol, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Smith of South Bend; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Rough and Rev. and Mrs. Kring of Portage Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at the former's home on Portage Prairie and will be glad to welcome their many friends.

Birthday Anniversary

Last Sunday being Mrs. S. A. Camfield's 93d birthday anniversary, there was a family reunion at the Carlisle home in honor of the event. Among those present were her son, J. H. Camfield of South Bend; her grandson, F. H. Camfield, and wife; and her two great-grandsons, Earl and Russel Camfield of Chicago, making four generations represented. On Saturday afternoon, the ladies of the S. F. A. called upon Mrs. Camfield in a body. Mrs. Camfield came to Buchanan in 1858, and has since resided here almost continuously.

This is the new school Niles will get at a total cost of $85,000, as the result of three special elections.

KIMMEL CASE IN PROGRESS

Several Depositions of Witnesses Read.

DR. BONNINE ON STAND

Told of His Visit to Auburn Prison—Operation He Performed on Kimmel's Eyes.

Niles, Mich., October 13.—(Special). The famous Kimmel case, the trial of which is now in progress in the courts at St. Louis, Mo., is attracting universal attention and promises to reveal many interesting features before it is brought to a close. It was fairly launched Monday when the jury was selected and Attorney Fred H. Bacon, retained by the plaintiff, made his opening address to the jury.

George C. Rankin is the plaintiff named, and sues to recover from the New York Life Insurance company, $25,000 for death of George E. Kimmel. Mr. Rankin is the receiver of the First National bank of this city, which went into bankruptcy here a number of years ago.

Depositions of J. W. Swanson and Harriet E. Willey, clerks of the Midland hotel, of Kansas City at which Kimmel was registered at the time he disappeared were read. Also those of James R. Donnic, cashier of the National bank of Kansas City where, Kimmel is said to have drawn money; Edgar L. Custer, Associated Press representative, who sent certain stories to the newspapers regarding the peculiar disappearance of Kimmel and of Detective Freeman H. Tillos who had worked on the case for four years.

DR. BONNINE RETURNS.

Dr. Bonnine arrived home this noon and said that he was the only Niles person placed on the stand so far. He testified as to the operation he had performed on George Kimmel's eyes, years ago, and as to his visit to Auburn prison. Also to the color of Kimmel's eyes, as compared to the color now. He was on the stand for two hours yesterday afternoon. His evidence in the case is one of the strongest tending to prove that the man now in Auburn prison, is not the missing George Kimmel.

Among witnesses present at the trial who are known in Niles are: Miss Mary Walker, Mr. and Mrs. William Lardner, Earnest Bacon and Louis Davis.

CROWDS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Airships Failed to Materialize at South Bend.

Thousands had made up their minds to be at South Bend Saturday, that they might have a glimpse at balloons, airships, aeroplanes and the like or whatever else they might be called.

Prominent aviators were to glide in the skies above South Bend, to alight somewhere near a smokestack, after missing the standpoint by the river. Every village, hamlet, town or city, within a radius of 50 miles of Hoosierdom was posted with advertisements, circus-like. The farmer was to climb to the topmost pinnacle of the house, strawstack, or barn, to rubber at the flying machines; the hired girl and her fellow; the merchant, taylor and baker would "sure go" as witnesses to the flight.

There was to be but now it's not to be—but it's all off—the aeroplane race from Chicago to New York via "Southeast." But it is not the fault of the South Bend Aero club, who went down deep into their pockets and brought many shining shekels to help pay expenses, and the citizens had planned elaborately to entertain the airbirds and the multitudes that were to be present.

Just whose fault it is cannot be explained, unless that of the navigators, who probably had cold feet. At a late hour Friday night, signs were posted at the different stations of the Southern Michigan Interurban, announcing that

FARMERS ENJOY A RECORD YIELD

Food Stuff Production for 1910 Exceeds That of Other Recent Years by $150,000.

The report of the department of agriculture given out shows that the crop conditions have exceeded even the most optimistic estimates and while the increase in spring wheat raised the figures for that item, the yield on oats and corn have increased the total crop showing to an interesting figure.

According to the report the aggregate yield will be 4,955,000,000 bushels of grains, or 1,688,000,000 more bushels than was harvested last year.

The corn crop of almost 3,000,000,000 bushels promises to be the best in quality the country has ever enjoyed. In the seven states of largest production where the commercial crop is raised there is 1,688,000,000 bushels, the largest ever yielded.

This is taken as promising an abundant supply of fat hogs next winter with the consequence lower prices of meat.

A comparison for two years is given and the aggregate crops estimated by government report as compared with the final returns of last year are as follows:

	1910.	1909.
Winter wheat.....	438,294,000	446,366,000
Spring wheat.....	233,476,000	230,823,000
Total wheat, bu.....	671,770,000	677,189,000
Corn, bu.....	2,977,000,000	2,772,376,000
Oats, bu.....	1,006,595,000	1,007,363,000
Rye, bu.....	32,085,000	32,239,000
Barley, bu.....	153,188,000	170,284,000
Flaxseed, bu.....	16,000,000	25,876,000
Hay, ton.....	61,000,000	64,983,000
Potatoes, bu.....	3,036,400,000	3,036,537,000

Iowa has the largest crop in 15 years, 165,000,000 bushels, and Illinois has one of the largest crops it ever grew 170,000,000 bushels. The country is full of oats, and prices are about 7 cents lower than last year. Farmers are getting 25c to 30c in the country, the lowest in recent years. The potato crop is 220,000,000 bushels or 56,000,000 bushels short of last year, although this figure may be raised by favorable weather this month.

The big crops means smaller returns for the farmers and possibly lower prices for cereals and meats to consumers. To the railroads it means big business in the way of tonnage. But in the past 30 days the grain traffic has been not up to expectation, but the grain is in the country and will have to be disposed of later according to the views of the railroad interests and merchants generally.

race had been declared off. The interurban people had made generous arrangements to carry the crowds. Some one is loser. The latest announcement is that one lone aviator, Eugene Ely, flying a Curtiss biplane, is to start from Chicago tomorrow in an attempt to make the trip to New York, and that he will reach South Bend some time in the afternoon, but the uncertainty of this is apparent, judging from what has already happened. Slipshod management—that's all. Thus endeth the first chapter of hoodwinking.

The reports of the different officers showed every department of the church to be in a flourishing condition. $2,495 was raised last year by the society for all purposes. $1,104 of this amount went for pastoral support; $172 for missions, including $82 from the W. F. M. S.; $648 was paid in on church indebtedness; $151 came from the Sunday school; $101 from the Epworth league and $284 from the Ladies Aid society.

The society starts out this year with a membership of 170. Perfect harmony prevails, and a year of blessed results for the resolve.

RED SQUIRRELS CAN BE SHOT

State Game Warden C. S. Price Says So.

POKAGON BOY BLAMELESS

Matter of Considerable Interest to Hunters—Deputy Herring Didn't Quite Understand.

It will be remembered that Virgil Ketcham, son of Dr. Ketcham of Pokagon, was last week arrested by Deputy State Game Warden Frank Herring for shooting squirrels out of season.

An investigation was made and it now seems that there is nothing in the state law about red squirrels, and this clears Virgil Ketcham. State Game Warden Pierce, says the Dowagiac News, passed upon the point and is his opinion that red squirrels are not included in the protected list. The Ketcham case was appealed to him by agreement between Warden Herring, Justice Edwards and the accused young man's attorney, his brother, Attorney C. W. Ketcham.

A letter to Dr. W. J. Ketcham, father of the young man, in reply makes clear that the son was clearly within his rights when he shot the squirrels and that Mr. Herring was working under a misconception of the law when he interpreted it to protect red squirrels.

"Shoot all you can," is the way State Warden Pierce admonishes Dr. Ketcham. Here is the full text of Warden's Pierce's letter which sets a matter of considerable interest throughout Pokagon township at rights:

October 5, 1910.

Dr. W. J. Ketcham.
Pokagon, Mich.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of a letter from Deputy A. F. Herring of St. Joseph, relative to having found your son shooting red squirrels. In my opinion it is not a violation of the law to kill red squirrels at any time or any number, and if they are troubling you I would advise you to shoot all you can. The law prohibits shooting of American squirrels and most people including some of my deputies, have taken it that means "red squirrels." I do not think so. I have consulted the best authorities on the subject and they tell me there is no squirrel known as the "American" squirrel and they are at loss to know how that term got into the law. I do not think either that red squirrels ought to be protected for I do not know of what particular use they are, and they certainly do damage sometimes. In any event, I do not think the law was intended to cover the common red squirrel and I am not undertaking to construct the law in that way.

I supposed that all my deputies understood my position in this matter; but have recently found that some of them did not. I regret if Mr. Herring annoyed or inconvenienced you in any way in regard to this matter. He writes me that you were perfectly fair and courteous when you found that your son had committed a supposed violation of the law. Mr. Herring also means to be fair always but he was misled as others have been by the use of the word "American" in the law.

Very truly,
C. S. Pierce,
State Game, Fish and Forestry Warden.

New Contractor and Builder.

Frank Imhoff, a well known Buchanan young man, who has been engaged in doing carpenter work for the Michigan Central Railroad company for the last three years, announces that he intends to resign his position next spring and engage in the business of a contractor and builder here. Mr. Imhoff was engaged in carpentry for the Northern Construction Co., for a year and for the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. over a year. He has, therefore, had abundant experience. Mr. Imhoff says he will make concrete work a specialty. Plans for work to be done next season may be submitted to him at any time from now on, and he will be glad to submit figures.

DAISY IS BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

Alleged Ginseng Thief Seems to be up Against Real Thing.

The preliminary examination of Jim, Bert and Charles Daisy, charged with stealing ginseng from the garden of Chas. Voorhees, took place in Justice Batchelor's court here yesterday.

Jim and Bert Daisy, who were represented by Attorney Frank Sanders, were dismissed for lack of evidence. However, it was different in the case of Chas. Daisy. A clerk from the Sibley hardware store at South Bend, was present and identified the shovel which the thief or thieves left in Mr. Voorhees' garden and also identified the accused as the man to whom he had sold the shovel.

Mr. Voorhees testified to having found the shovel in his garden, and Deputy Sheriff McCollum, who has had the tool in his custody, testified to having received it from Mr. Voorhees.

The court bound Daisy over to the circuit court for trial, and fixed his bail at $500, in default of which he was remanded to the county jail.

The law is rather strict in regard to the theft of this valuable plant, the maximum sentence being five years in prison or not exceeding a $5,000 fine. A reward of $100 has been offered by the Ginseng Growers' association, and another of $25 has been offered by Dora Wooden, one of the heaviest losers.

ASSAULT ON "CON" COSTS HIM LIBERTY

William Devies of Galien Attacked A. L. Myers of M. C.
Road

FISHER MAKES ARREST

When Arraigned Before Justice
Fletcher Accused is Fined
$15 and Costs or Thirty Days in Jail

Because he assaulted Conductor
A. L. Myers who runs between St.
Joseph and South Bend, on the Michigan Central, William Devies, a Ga-lien citizen, is now serving thirty days in the county jail, the accused taking the jail sentence in preference to paying a fine of $15 and costs imposed by Justice Fletcher last Thursday.

HAD TROUBLE WITH MYERS
The trouble between Conductor
Myers and Devies occurred some time ago, when the latter, with his wife was a passenger from South Bend to Galien. The dispute arose over the fare which Devies paid to Conductor Myers, Devies claiming that he paid too much for his fare. The conductor did not argue the matter but told him he had paid two fares and that was all. Mr. Devies and wife left the train at Galien, and nothing more was thought of the matter until Tuesday night, when Conductor
Myers happened to be in Galien.

GETS SMASH ON JAW
Mr. Myers was coming down the village street with an empty basket, which he was returning to one of the local merchants, when suddenly he was assaulted unawares. It appears that Devies, so the story goes, observed the M. C. conductor pass by a barber shop where he happened to be conversing and instantly the trouble on the train came to his mind. It is then charged against Devies that he hurried out of the place and landed one on Mr. Myers' jaw and then beat a retreat. Devies was satisfied with this, it is claimed for he was even with the conductor with whom he had had the trouble.

MYERS CAUSES ARREST
Conductor Myers was far from being satisfied with the attack, and made up his mind to have his assailant arrested. He accordingly swore out a warrant before Justice Fletcher at St. Joseph, and officer Fisher went to Galien and arrested Devies. Patrolman Fisher took the accused to St. Joseph on the 11 o'clock train and Justice Fletcher after hearing the case fined Devies $15 and costs or the penalty of thirty days in the county jail. Devies took the jail sentence. It did not take officer Fisher long to get Devies, for he was back with his prisoner in less than two hours from the time he left this city.

BY THE EVENING LAMP

The dread of "old age" is human at natural, but it ought not to be.

Old age should be a time of rest and reflection, of comfort and ease. It ought to be like the evening of a well spent day, when you sit down by your home fireside to enjoy the rest you have earned by doing your full share of the day's work and meeting bravely and manfully your share of the day's responsibilities.

There is something precious and delightful about the evening of your well-spent day that nothing else on earth can compensate for. You went to your labors early in the morning, whatever and wherever they were. You did your level best at whatever your hand and mind found to do. You go home in the evening full of sweet content that comes of the knowledge that you have done your best, and that so far as you are concerned the world is moving ahead as it should.

Over the evening meal you forget the cares and trials of the day, and they are all smoothed out and covered over by the sense that now it is over for the day, and that you are ready to enjoy the rest you have earned. The table cleared away and the family gathered 'round you spend your evening according to your tastes—with a pipe and the evening paper and then book; with a romp with the little folks, and perhaps a bit of story telling or story-reading before they go to bed; with a chat over the day's affairs at home and abroad with the wife of your bosom and the mother of your children; perhaps with plans for the future, with hopes from the budding promise of the children. Perhaps the neighbors come in for a little talk about wholesome things, from the latest political questions to the affairs of your lodge, your union or your city. Those were tender old times, too, when folks had family prayers; it's too bad they're lost.

That time is yours. It is the most blessed and most hallowed epoch of your day. By the cheerful light of the evening lamp, with your loved ones gathered around you, you enjoy the precious minutes as they pass, and during tomorrow's toil you will look forward to its coming again in the evening.

That's the way your "old age" ought to be—the pleasant evening of a well-spent life. It is peace after turmoil, reflective leisure after anxious endeavor, rest after toil. If your day has been spent so that your conscience approves, your evening's rest will be sweeter, too. It will not lack sadness. Many of the dear ones who started out with you along life's trail have fallen by the wayside. Though you will have achievements to your credit, you will think of many things that you might have done, and their omission will reproach you. You will wish that in the days of opportunity you had as keen a sense of right and justice as you have when you sit down in the evening of your life to rest after life's labors. But if your life has been spent in steadfast endeavor to do as best you could that which it fell to your lot to do there will be far more sweet than bitter in your cup.

CONFESS TO THEFT OF OVERLAND AUTO

Daring Young Thieves Make Bold Return to City

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 10.—This afternoon in one of the municipal courts, the two young men picked up early this morning by the police on the charge of stealing an automobile, were arraigned for a hearing and gave their names as Frank Day and "Slick" Hanley, alias Hunter. When confronted by the officers they made a confession of the theft of the Overland car in Chicago, declaring that they drove it to St. Joseph on a joy ride, and were willing to go back to Chicago for trial. A special officer was sent from Chicago to take them back to that city.

It develops that the car in which the young men and their fair companion made the wild ride to St. Joseph was stolen in this city. The name of the auto owner as well as that of the young lady passenger is withheld by the authorities. The night police had no trouble in picking up the young men on their return with the stolen machine. A wild desire to ride in automobiles is assigned as the cause of the theft of the two machines.

Farmer's Wife, With Spade, Uncovers Treasure Can in Yard.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 10.—Flower cultivation is likely to become a popular fad when the experience of Edward Casey becomes generally known. Mrs. Casey, spade in hand, went into the door yard of her farm residence near here and began digging alongside the house. After turning up several shovelfuls of dirt a dull shining object was exposed. It was a $20 gold piece. Next she uncovered a rusty old can, breaking apart, which contained gold pieces amounting to $1,445.

The knee is still very painful.

Mr. Boyle has been accustomed to an active life and he finds that keeping to his bed both day and night becomes very tiresome. This is the first injury that he has ever received in an accident while driving and he is hardly able to explain how this one occurred.

Berrien Girl Elopes to Wed

Stevensville, Oct. 6. Pretty Edna Cealka, 23 years of age, eloped to South Bend yesterday and took for a husband Lewis C. Eckles, chauffeur.

Even the pleadings of her father, Herman Cealka, a prominent farmer of this village, could not prevent the girl from marrying her choice. Suspecting that his daughter was going to South Bend, Mr. Cealka also hurried to Indiana. He arrived there before the couple were married and sought to prevent the match, but in vain.

WHAT JOHN E. BARNES STANDS FOR.

He promises to work for the speedy downward revision of the robber tariff.

He favors the extension of the rural free delivery system.

He advocates better pay for rural mail carriers.

He favors the interest of the working class and believes in equal rights and justice to all.

He believes in the enactment of laws by the people for the people, and not laws to protect and enrich the few to the detriment of the people.

He believes that the tariff is a tax which the consumer is obliged to pay; that it is the cause of the increased cost of living, taxing every necessity of the Common People, and thus is the destroyer of the greatest right and privilege of our nation, "The Welfare and Happiness of the American Home."

He believes that the Government should aid and assist wherever consistent and just, all veterans of the civil war, as too much cannot be done to repay the "Boys in Blue" who made it possible for our great people to enjoy liberty in the greatest nation under the sun.

TO THE PUBLIC

I have accepted the agency of the Mutual City and Village Fire Insurance Company for the counties of Berrien, Cass and Van Buren, which carries between eighty and one hundred policies in Buchanan today. STATE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION QUIET

President Taft's Administration Is Praised.

TARIFF BILL COMMENDED

Adopts Platform Pleasing to Both Organization Men and Insurgents.

For Governor.....Chase S. Osborn
For Lieutenant Governor.....John Q. Ross
For Secretary of State.....F. C. Martindale
For State Treasurer.....Albert E. Sleeper
For Attorney General.....Franz Kuhn
For Justice of the Supreme Court.....John E. Bird
For State Land Commissioner.....Huntley Russell
For Auditor General.....O. B. Fuller

Detroit, Oct. 7.—Peace reigned on the floor of the Republican state convention yesterday and the interneine strife that had been expected by many did not develop, unless it appeared in carefully guarded committee rooms. A platform calculated not to arouse the ire of either organization men or insurgents was adopted. President Taft's administration was commended, the Payne tariff bill tacitly indorsed as the best measure obtainable without the aid of a much needed tariff commission, congress was congratulated for the many beneficial measures enacted and state issues were handled in a manner that seemed to please the antagonists in the bitter pre-primary campaign.

CHEER ROOSEVELT NAME.

Theodore Roosevelt was not mentioned in the platform, but each speaker invoked his name at the proper period of his oration, then waited the outburst which came unfeignedly. Chase Osborn, Republican nominee for governor, in a speech eulogizing Colonel Roosevelt, asserted his belief that the power of the former president as a teacher and preacher was greater as a private citizen than as president. The convention did not select the sentiment for applause.

Congressman Dickema linked the names of Taft and Roosevelt as two of the world's greatest men, saying:

"They are as opposite as the poles in methods, but they are absolutely alike in essential aims and purposes. The one has aroused the public conscience, has revealed great national sins, has stimulated courage and patriotism. The other has used his powerful influence to crystallize into permanent law these reforms which his advice and work help to produce. Without the one the work of the other would have been incomplete and impossible."

This sentiment was more to the liking of the delegates, who shouted their approval.

The only contest on the floor was for the nomination for attorney general, which was won by Franz Kuhn, the incumbent, against four competitors. The other nominations were by acclamation. W. Fred Knox was named for chairman of the state committee.

Price of 1911 E-M-F "30" $1000

And Guaranteed for One Year Absolutely

THERE'S A LINE THAT WILL CREATE A SENSATION IN AUTOMOBILE CIRCLES

It's Our Answer to the "Bargain Day" and "Automobiles at Half Price" Advertisement You've Been Reading of Late. Also We Give Herein Some Facts About the Present Automobile Situation—Especially Prices.

As Always, We Make It Openly—Take the Public Into Our Confidence and, Having Nothing Ourselves to Conceal, Tell Some Things Some Other Makers Would Prefer to Have Left Unsaid.

IF THIS NEWS COMES AS A SURPRISE TO YOU as a prospective buyer of an automobile, what do you suppose will be its effect on the trade—on competition? Nothing so sensational has happened in this industry since the first announcement, just two years ago, of the $1,250 price of E-M-F "30"—a price which, for a car of that size and power and quality at that time, was little less than revolutionary.

BEFORE WE GO ANY FURTHER let us say this advertisement is directed to business men—men who are in the market for an automobile and who are looking for the best possible value for their money. The possession of the wherewithal to buy an automobile, is the best evidence of the business acumen and thrift of such men. We assume that you who read this are versed in sound business methods—that you have met and overcome crises in your own affairs—met competition of all kinds, fair and unfair—intelligent and the reverse.

SO WE ARE GOING TO TELL YOU frankly the reasons which have led up to and the reasons why it is advisable, as well as possible for us to reduce the price of this sterling product $250 from the former price. Much said herein may be open to misinterpretation—every frank statement is. But as we have said, we are not interested in the few super-critical folk who may read this. We expect it will be received with disfavor by those whom it hits hardest—our rivals; but just so long as it meets the approval of men who know and men who want to know the true situation—if, in short, it serves as a guide to you to buy right—we are satisfied.

IT IS A MATTER OF COMMON GOSSIP that you can buy many of the best-known makes of cars at prices ranging down to half the list price. (In this regard it is only fair to say that "list price," with many manufacturers, has been a meaningless term—it represented merely the maximum price they hoped to get for their product. E-M-F "30" has been one of the few cars that could not be bought anywhere at less than list price—plus freight charges from Detroit to destination.)

SUCH PRACTICES MISLEAD the average buyer. He is mystified. When price cutting begins he wonders where it will end. And when cars of such well-known makes are offered at half (list) price, he naturally wonders if it is not the same with all. One effect has been to bring up the question, "Has the demand for automobiles fallen off?" The answer is easier than you might suppose.

THERE IS NO LACK OF DEMAND for automobiles. The motor car has become and always will remain a necessity in modern life. There never will be a falling off in demand because the factories that will continue in business after the storm of the next few months has subsided, will be unable to more than supply the steady demand for good motor cars at right prices. Digest that last sentence—it means much not only to the trade, but to you as a possible buyer. It is a bad thing to buy an automobile from a concern that may not be in existence a few weeks or months hence.

BUT THERE IS A LACK OF DEMAND for obsolete models. There has been for some months. For cars with noisy, power-consuming, trouble-making planetary transmissions, there is no demand among the knowing. Cars with overhead valves and other obsolete features have been a drug on the market for some time. It is a truism that cars that can be bought at half price are twice too dear—and that term applies to obsolete models of any make. Better buy a second-hand car of modern design than such an one.

STILL THAT ALONE DOESN'T EXPLAIN the panicky condition that exists at this moment. This (September and October) has always been, with us, the best selling season of the year. Weather and roads are ideal and everything invites to out-of-doors. Beside, the prosperous farmers who have always taken the larger part of our output, are fast now reaping bumper harvests and realizing in gold for them. Why such price-cutting at this time, then?

NATURALLY, THE QUESTION ARISES in your mind: If the E-M-F Company can reduce the price of E-M-F "30" one fifth—from $1,250 to $1,000—was there not an exorbitant profit on that car previously? Our answer is, there was not. We will tell you why:

FLANDERS' FORECAST

IN MARCH, 1908, at the first meeting of the shareholders of the E-M-F Company, General Manager Flanders, after describing the type of car the company proposed to manufacture, said:

"Our strength is in quantity production. We have the talent, the capital, and we will have the factory facilities. We can manufacture more automobiles of a better quality at a lower cost than any other concern now in existence, I verily believe.

"Cars of the type I have described (E-M-F "30" five-passenger touring car, fully equipped) now command prices ranging from $1,500, $1,600, $1,750 and $2,000. I believe these prices are too high—the value is not there. That is our opportunity.

"Manufacturing in large quantities, we can buy materials to the best advantage. Having the cash to pay and take our discounts, we can under-buy other makers. Most of them are merely assemblers paying intermediate profits to parts makers. We shall manufacture every part of our cars—cast our own cylinders, forge and stamp and heat-treat our own steel, make our own bodies and every other part. In this way we can reduce the cost of manufacturing so as to be able to sell a better car than those I have cited, for about $1,300.

"Then if, as I firmly believe, the quality of the car, backed by the reputation of our organization, will so appeal to buyers as to create its own market, the selling cost will be so low, we ought to be able to cut off another fifty dollars and place the car on the market at $1,250. If we can do that the demand will be greater than we can possibly supply.

"So much for the coming season. But we must build for the future. We here believe in the permanency of the automobile business—else we would be foolish to invest so heavily in permanent factories. We must begin now to plan for that future. E-M-F "30" has been designed with that idea uppermost. We have embodied those features that will meet the needs of the greatest number and endure longest. From year to year we shall improve wherever possible, but make no radical changes. Whatever other models we may from time to time see fit to bring out, they will be merely to fill out the line. E-M-F "30" shall remain our standard—our permanent model.

"The public has been saying prices of automobiles must come down. And while the public says many things without deep thought, and while this is said without a knowledge of the cost of making automobiles, the public is right, and eventually we hope to be able to realize that prophecy. But we shall not do it by making a cheap car in the sense that cheapness means poor quality. That would be fatal.

"Once we have built and paid for our factories and equipment, standardized our product and perfected it to the degree that will make few replacements necessary to keep our guarantee good; when we have developed a car that we can guarantee for a year absolutely; by that time our customers will be many and they will all, if properly treated, be our salesmen—then I believe we can produce this same car in its highly perfected state and sell it for NOT FAR ABOVE $1,000!"

WAS EVER PROPHECY FULFILLED more completely than that one? Was ever a business forecast more accurate? Was ever a worthier ambition realized?

REMEMBER THAT WAS IN 1908—April, to be exact. So the plan which we announce in this "ad" to place E-M-F "30" in the hands of buyers, backed not alone by its great reputation—there are over 18,000 in use today and every owner boasting—but backed also by a full year's guarantee at $1,000, was laid with the very foundation of this company—at its first meeting.

Your Breakfast Room Made Comfortable With Fuel Supplied the Night Before

Cole's Hot Blast Heater maintains a continuous fire—also a steady even heat. It will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning (48 hours) without attention. It will hold fire over night with less coal than any other stove.

Open the drafts in the morning and the rooms are quickly heated with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this.

Burns Soft Coal, Slack, Siftings, Hard Coal or Lignite. One ton of either kind of fuel goes further and gives you more comfort than two tons, using any other kind or make of stove.

Your attention is called to the unparalleled statement made by the manufacturer of

Cole's Hot Blast Heating Stove

"For several years we have authorized our Agents to sell Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater on the guarantee as follows:

- "1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
- "2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
- "3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
- "4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.

- "5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
- "6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
- "7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.
- "8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.

"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.
