BALLINGER OUT
AS INTERIOR HEAD

Is Succeeded by Walter E. Fisher of Chicago

Washington, March 8.—Richard A. Ballinger has resigned from President Taft's cabinet and will be succeeded as secretary of the interior by Walter L. Fisher of Chicago, a well-known lawyer.

Mr. Ballinger tendered his resignation in a letter on January 19, being on the condition of his health. The president replied at once, expressing his confidence in Secretary Ballinger, his reluctance to accept his resignation, and requested the secretary to remain in office until the close of the session of congress. Immediately on the adjournment of congress Secretary Ballinger renewed his request that he be relieved at a date suiting the president's convenience, but immediately if possible.

Fisher Appointed Immediately.
President Taft, in a letter, formally accepted the resignation and Mr. Fisher was appointed as his successor, his commission being signed immediately by the president. Mr. Fisher will take office within a few days.

The Democrats had announced their intention to attempt to impeach Secretary Ballinger at the coming extra session of congress on the charges developed in the Pinchot-Clavin case.

The correspondence between the president and the secretary is not voluminous, but displays beyond question the confidence which Mr. Taft has reposed in Mr. Ballinger throughout the long struggle and the indignation with which he has viewed the attacks on the secretary's personal and official integrity.

"I have had the fullest opportunity," the president says in his letter accepting the resignation, "to know you, to know your standards of service to the government and the public, to know your motives, to know how you have administered your office and to know the motives of those who have assailed you."

That Personal Consideration.
"I do not hesitate to say that you have been the object of one of the most unscrupulous conspiracies for the defamation of character that history can show."

And in the conclusion of his letter the president declares that "every fiber of my nature rebels against such hypocrisy" (referring to the attacks on Ballinger's character) "and nerves me to fight such a combination and such methods to the bitter end, lest success in this instance may form a demoralizing precedent. But personal consideration for you and yours makes me feel that I have no right to ask for a further sacrifice."

The president goes on to declare it evident that he has been himself the ultimate object of the attack, and says that to insist on Mr. Ballinger's remaining in office "with the prospects of further efforts against you, is selfishly to impose on you more of a burden than I ought to impose."

Ballinger Making Bitter Prediction.

Secretary Ballinger, in a statement, declared that it was his purpose "to prosecute the arch-conspirators who have been following me with the assassin's knife. The country shall know fully the injustice of the attacks upon me."

Surprise to Chicago Friends.

Chicago, March 8.—News of Mr. Fisher's appointment came as a surprise to most of his Chicago friends. Mr. Fisher is in New York.

Mr. Fisher was born in 1862 at Wheeling, W. Va. He was graduated before the age of twenty-one from Hanover college, Hanover, O., of which for many years his father was president. Four years after his graduation Mr. Fisher was admitted to the bar and began practice in Chicago.

LADIES OF MOCCASIN CLUB
GIVE MASQUERADE BALL

Many Unique and Ludicrous Costumes in Evidence—
Twenty-eight Couples Present.

The masquerade ball given at the Pears-East hall Monday evening under the auspices of the ladies of the Moccasin club was attended by 28 couples. Many unique costumes were in evidence. At 10 o'clock the dancers unmasked. Luncheon was served at 11:30 o'clock. The hall was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Music for the dance was furnished by the Imperial orchestra of Buchanan, and appreciation is expressed in metrical form, as follows:

It comes like the morn, at the dawning, and lives through the riotous day.
It gambols o'er seaside and mountains, with nymphs and with naiads at play;
It soothes like a drowsy confection, it thrills like ambition new-born,
It fades, as the day into twilight, this magic of string and of horn.
It comes like a swell from the ocean with faint undulations at first,
Then onward, resistless its volume, till breakers in ecstasy burst;
Then winds moaning mournfully over the lost ones tossed up by the sea—
Appeared is the god of the ocean—its spirit is calm and is free.
It comes like a flower in the spring time when past is the dark and the gloom,
The bud, then the leaf—then the blossom bursts gloriously forth into bloom;
It carries a while—then it withers, in rapture we list for the sound
Of perfumed and delicate petals that flutter and fall to the ground.
It comes like a dream at the cradle that coaxes the sleeper to smile
It wakes with melodious assurance that life, after all, is worth while;
It lives and pulsates with the passions, the chords of our being respond,
Like a soul at peace with its Maker, in silence it passes beyond.

CONSIDER GAS FRANCHISE
BRYANT TO SPEAK HERE

Few Minor Changer Are Suggested by Committee

Authority on County System of Road Building Coming

At a meeting of the common council last Tuesday evening, the committee appointed to examine the franchise submitted by the Niles Gas Light company, submitted a report, suggesting a few amendments, which met with the approval of the council. The instrument was then referred to Village Attorney Sanders, and as soon as he approves the franchise, the same will be referred back to the Niles Gas Light company, and if the changes suggested are satisfactory, the council will then submit the franchise to a vote of the electors.

V. H. Leonard has the contract to remodel the interior of the Morris building, occupied by the Michigan State Telephone company.

Wednesday, April 19, will be celebrated in Buchanan as "Good Roads Day," and W. M. Bryant, of Kalamazoo, who has charge of the county system of good road building in Kalamazoo county, will be one of the speakers.

A. A. Worthington, chairman of the committee on speakers, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Bryant, under date of the 3d instant, in which the writer says: "It will afford me great pleasure to accept your kind invitation for April 19."

Mr. Bryant is looked upon as one of the foremost authorities in the state on the county good roads system, which Berrien county has recently adopted, and it is thought he will be a great drawing card.

John Miller and family, who went to Foley, Ala., last fall, have returned to Buchanan. He says that the land is very productive and that they grow sweet potatoes, bananas, oranges, pineapples, peaches, etc., also cereals, except wheat, in that section, and that while about a ton of fertilizer to the acre is used at a cost of about $36, the yield is such as to warrant the expenditure. THE SPEED OF NO RETURN.

Velocity a Body Must Have to Leave Earth and Never Come Back.

There are a great many odd terms in science none of which has a title so weird as the speed of no return. This means the velocity a body must have in leaving the earth in order for it never to come back. It has been accurately worked out and is found to be about seven miles a second. Now, though this speed has never been obtained by artificial means on the earth, still it is interesting to note the theory as regards the further actions of the body. It would continue outward in a curved line until it was controlled by balancing forces, mainly the earth, moon and sun, in such a way as to make it have an orbit of its own. So it would go on revolving forever just as any other planet.

Although this speed has never been obtained by artificial means, it is found in nature on the earth, and its application has a great deal to do with animal life on our planet. As is well known, it is a pet theory of the scientists that the earth is losing its atmosphere, just as the moon has already lost hers, on account of the wonderful vibrational speed of the molecules of a gas. Hydrogen gas is known to have a molecular velocity of over the necessary amount, and it is a startling proof of the theory that no free hydrogen is found in our atmosphere. The theory is that this gas on being set free rises on account of its lightness and when it gets to the outside edge of our ocean of air is left behind on one of its jumps, the earth going forward at a great rate itself, something like eight miles a second.

As the earth gradually lost its atmosphere it would become colder and colder on account of its inability to hold the heat received from the sun, and all animal and vegetable life would cease. This has already happened to the moon, its temperature never rising above zero, though the sun shines on it for two weeks at a time.

It is needless to say that even if this speed could be obtained by a cannon ball or other comparatively small body the friction with the air on its way would immediately burn it up, just as the shooting stars we see are burned up before reaching the earth. So if the visiting of the moon ever takes place it will have to be accomplished in a carriage with very thick sides and made of a material whose melting point is very high.—New York Tribune.

Utilizing the Waste Product.

A parish in the highlands had been cut off from communication with the nearest town owing to a severe storm. Supplies began to give out, and the minister was much perturbed in mind, as his snuffbox was quite empty. The Sabbath came round. How was he to get through his discourse without the aid of his usual stimulant? He appealed to his faithful henchman, the sexton. Alas, he was in a similar unsatisfactory predicament! How was it to be remedied? Andrew shook his head, thought long and suddenly disappeared. Presently he returned with something resembling snuff wrapped carefully in paper. The minister took a hearty pinch or two and then asked: "Where did you get it, Andrew?"

"Please, sir, I just went and swept the pulpit out," was the reply.—Dundee Advertiser.

Hats Off to The Chicago Tribune.

The Senate has "vindicated" Lorimer; now who will vindicate the Senate?—New York World.

[Record Herald.]

Of course the Senate will never be vindicated. It is self-condemned for all time, and it is a pleasant relief to turn from that august body to the press, and particularly to the Chicago Daily Tribune, which affords us a most refreshing contrast.

The Tribune feels the disgust of all honorable men and all honorable newspapers for WHITE and his kind, but it printed WHITE's confession and investigated WHITE's charges from a sense of public duty. It took up a case that abounded in risks and perplexities and revolting features, the outcome of which was extremely doubtful, because it believed that there was corruption in the legislature of Illinois that should be exposed and cast out for the salvation of the state.

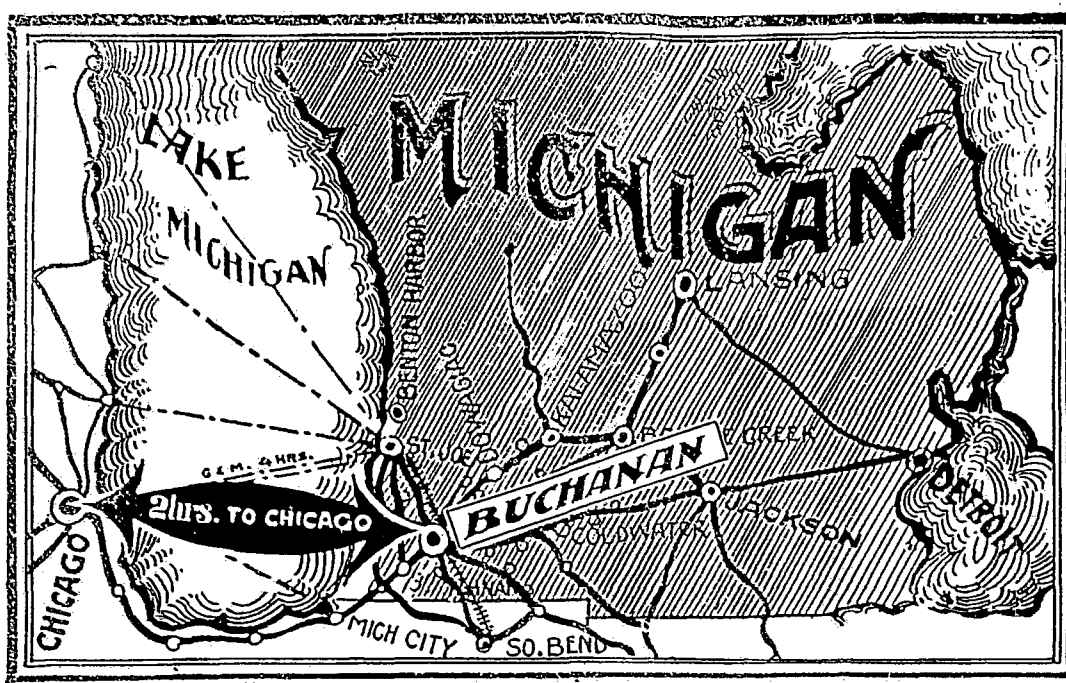

The Record-Herald applauds its motives, its resourcefulness, its courage and its perseverance against all the powerful interests that came to the aid of the experts in bribery. While the Senate openly gathers in and cherishes the fruits of corruption, The Tribune has the satisfaction of knowing that it has fought a good fight, that it has done the state and the country a great service, that it has prevented the spread of a foul disease, and so earned the gratitude of the press and the people.

the next national convention.

Before the day was out everybody was a Harmon man, which is not a slight for Hugh L. Nichols, chairman of the Ohio Democratic executive committee, who is also the manager of the Harmon campaign. They do things differently in Ohio in playing the political game. There the state central committee elects an executive committee to handle the campaign, and the way that the democrats have been doing things there shows that Nichols is some performer. During the afternoon Mr. Nichols received a telegram from Gov. Harmon stating that, as Senator-elect Pomerene would assume his duties March 4, he took pleasure in appointing him lieutenant-governor.

Harmony and hopefulness were the marked characteristics of the Democratic convention at Muskegon last Thursday and the opportunity to extend felicitations was made full use of. It is a good many years since either of the big parties swung off the beaten track and the Muskegon county Democrats showed their appreciation by tendering the delegates a banquet in the evening, at which the flow of oratory assumed national proportions.

Through stress of circumstances Michigan Democrats have to take a broad view of the events and they made the most of it in the platform that was adopted, dealing almost entirely with national issues. Experience has taught the party leaders the value of being forehanded, so they got together and wrestled with several planks for hours before an agreement was reached. At Kalamazoo last year an initiative and referendum plank was blocked, but in view of the activity displayed by the dominate party along the same lines, it was nailed down without any friction, though it was noticeably brief.

RECIPROCITY FAVORED

It fell to the lot of Mark Stevens of Flint, who is running for circuit judge, to raise the only ripple to the convention. He objected to the plank commending the Democratic members of the congress in rising above their party to support President Taft's reciprocity agreement with Canada. He wanted to show the farmers of his section that he was with them; so he made a brief speech against that clause, but he was promptly sat upon by Frank D. Eaman of Detroit, who was chairman of the resolutions committee. One farmer delegate also opposed it, but the sentiment of the convention was overwhelmingly in favor of reciprocity and the platform went through as it had been framed.

The really interesting feature of the convention was the sentiment that was developed in favor of Gov. Harmon of Ohio, as the party's next standard-bearer, and it can be set down now that he will have the support of the Michigan delegation in

ALABAMA BECKONS THE FARMER

POINTERS CONCERNING LANDS OF WONDERFUL FERTILITY-- GENIAL CLIMATE.

The following letters are self explanatory:

Louisville, Ky., January 25, 1911.

Mr. H. A. Hathaway, Buchanan, Mich.

Dear Sir: I am very much pleased to have your letter of the 23rd and know you have become identified with land owners in Baldwin County.

The future of that county cannot be estimated, by even what it is at present. You saw enough to know the actual conditions. I question if there is another county in the United States its equal. I am quite sure there is none its superior in possessing the number of aggressive, progressive, intelligent and practical farmers, truckers and livestock interests who have from the Northland come into that county within the past six years.

I believe that the next three or four years will see double if not triple the population of the county as at present and land values will shortly take leaps and bounds. The climatic and special temperature conditions of Baldwin County are peculiar, and possessed, as far as I can learn, by no other county or section elsewhere. There may be in foreign countries; I cannot say, but I do not believe they exist in the United States. With the Gulf of Mexico and its warm waters during the winter and its cool breezes during summer, with a temperature of the water about 84 degrees the year round, on the southern border of the county, and with Mobile Bay with its protecting waters from the winds of the west and north-west chilly blasts, on its western border, and with the beautiful Perdido Bay bordering the county on the east side, you have a section isolated and specially favored. Within the interior of the County the magnificent fresh water rivers and creeks with its fish, and the lakes and bays composed of salt and fresh water gives three distinct fish foods, namely, fresh water, brackish, composed of fresh and salt water, and the salt water of the Gulf. The productiveness of the soil speaks for itself.

As requested, we are sending you by express, prepaid, some literature that applies to the county as a whole. This company does not advertise any special lands. We strive to present in a conservative, average way, the general conditions of the county.

I wish you would favor me with the names of parties to whom you sell from time to time. We desire to keep in touch with them, and when they move south give them our personal help and become their friend.

Yours truly,

G. A. PARK,

Bay Minette, Baldwin Co., Ala.,

Feb. 9, 1911.

Mr. H. A. Hathaway,
Buchanan, Mich.

Dear Sir: Your enquiry in regard to the financial standing of the Bay Minette Land Company reached me just as I was leaving for the West and I had no opportunity to answer it earlier.

The company owns upwards of 35,000 acres of land in Baldwin County around Bay Minette and over 1,100 city lots in the town. This property is all paid for. Our stockholders having invested in the land and improvements to the land.

Our officers consist of the president, Hampton D. Ewing, a member of the law firm of Ewing & Ewing, 67 Wall Street, New York City, who is also vice-president of the First National Bank of Yonkers, N. Y. Our vice-president is Thomas Ewing, Jr., a member of the same firm, the treasurer is E. W. Lancaster, for many years a member of the stock exchange banking house of R. A. Lancaster & Sons, at 10 Wall street, New York City, and now associated with them although not a member of the firm. These are all directors and the remaining two directors are Charles L. Kingsley, attorney for the New York Telephone Company, and P. Tecumseh Sherman, attorney of New York City and a son of General William T. Sherman.

Among the thirteen stockholders there are several each of whom could buy the company out with his own resources. These are all interested personally in the success of the company. Yours very truly, Hampton D. Ewing.

Despite a stirring appeal by Governor Osborn, the Republican state convention held at Saginaw last Thursday omitted from its platform an indorsement of Canadian reciprocity.

All the nominations made were unanimous and there was not five minutes debate over the report of the resolution committee. Jason Woodman had three opponents for the second nomination for member of the state board of agriculture, George W. McCormick of Menominee, H. F. Probert of Jackson and W. K. Pruden of Lansing, but, though the first ballot did not give Mr. Woodman a majority, the other candidates withdrew and the nomination was made unanimous.

RECIPROCITY PLEA IN VAIN.

Governor Osborn, in his address, declared "it is impossible to indorse the Taft administration without indorsing Canadian reciprocity, the greatest of President Taft's works."

The delegates from the farming sections, however, were understood to be opposed to reciprocity and the platform as it came from the resolutions committee without any mention of the pending treaty, was not altered.

The platform indorses President Taft and Governor Osborn and asks the legislature to adopt an adequate workingmen's compensation act.

The platform as prepared for the consideration of the resolutions committee also contained an indorsement of United States Senator William Alden Smith. As submitted to the convention and adopted it omitted the indorsement of Senator Smith. Members of the committee stated that it was thought the reference might be construed as an indorsement for re-election and it was decided that the expiration of Smith's term was too far away for such indorsement.

PRIMARY REFORM SOUGHT.

The legislature is asked to revise the primary election law, so that it will require complete publicity of candidates' expenditures and limit the amount of expenditures; also, if possible, to prevent members of one party from participating in another's primary.

Other recommendations are for civil service; review of the taxation system by a commission of experts, and the placing of express companies and their rates under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

Governor Osborn and the appropriation committees of the house and senate are commended for announcing a refusal of all special appropriations not essential to continued operation of the state institutions.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Buchanan Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Buchanan citizen says:

Mrs. Harvey Hess, Fourth street, Buchanan, Mich., says: "Of late years I have had more or less trouble from my kidneys and during the summer of 1907, I was much run down in health. There was a constant, dragging-down pain in the small of my back and over my right hip, making it seem as if there were a weight tied to me. I could scarcely drag myself around at times, and this together with other annoyances, convinced me that my kidneys were disordered. When I was told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and their use entirely relieved me. I also gave this remedy to a child five years old who was troubled by a weakness of the kidneys and it brought relief after doctors' treatment had failed."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

But the readers of this article can judge for themselves whether it has made a tour of the world or not. This card was of course, sent away by Mr. Richter to be returned to him after its travels. August 31, 1910, the card was sent to an unknown friend in Lota, Chile, South America, and from there it was re-mailed to another friend in Mohon, India. From there it was re-mailed to another friend in Molo, British East Africa, and from there it was re-mailed once more back to Mr. Richter and it will probably remain in his possession for some time or until someone offers Fred a gold mine for it. The card was received by him Feb. 27, lacking just a few days of being gone six months. A postage stamp of each nation visited is on the card and no less than a dozen post marks are shown thereon. The reverse side of the card has spaces filled out by each one that received it and also the owner's address.

PLAN COPPER MERGER

FEDERAL INJUNCTION IS ONLY OBSTACLE IN WAY.

Stockholders of Nine Companies Give Informal Consent to Consolidation With Calumet and Hecla.

Boston, March 8.—The consolidation of nine companies in northern Michigan with the Calumet and Hecla Mining company, which holds stock in all, received the informal approval of not only the stockholders of the main company, but of two of the minor companies, the Allouez and the Tamarack.

Through an order of the United States circuit court of northern Michigan granting a temporary injunction against consolidation at this time none of the companies could vote directly on the question, so an informal expression of opinion was obtained, and there were but few dissenters.

On Thursday the stockholders of the Osceola company will vote informally, and it is then that the principal opposition is expected, for it was one of the Osceola stockholders, G. H. Hyams of New York, who obtained the injunction.

If the injunction is removed by the courts, all the companies will meet on April 25 to act directly on the proposed merger.

Under the plan, the nine companies, Allouez, Tamarack, Ahmeek, Seneca, Centennial, Laurium, LaSalle, Superior and Osceola will be merged into the Calumet, whose capital is increased to $10,000,000.

HIGH COURT UPHOLDS BLAIR

Disfranchisement of 1,000 Voters by Adams County, Judge Ratified by Ohio Supreme Tribunal.

Portsmouth, O., March 8.—More than 100 indictments will in all probability be reported in Scioto county by the grand jury as the result of a decision by the Ohio supreme court upholding the disfranchisement of more than 1,000 voters in Adams county by Judge A. Z. Blair. When those disfranchisements were taken to the supreme court, Judge Blair dropped the investigation of Scioto county's affairs and waited until his action in Adams county was ratified by the bench. Now the probe will go on and these indictments may be returned this week.

ACCUSE PRIEST OF SEDITION

Bishop of Oporto to Be Dismissed From Portugal for Encouraging People to Revolt.

Lisbon, March 8.—The government has decided to dismiss the bishop of Oporto on the grounds that he urged the priests of his diocese to read the forbidden pastoral letter and also encouraged the people to revolt.

Several priests have been arrested for reading the letter to their congregations. The communication, while setting forth that it is the duty of Catholics to respect the constituted authorities, even though these be hostile to Catholicism, adds that if a new law is unjust and contrary to the law of God it is binding upon Catholics.

Detroiters Deny Charge That They Conspired to Defraud Government of Coal Lands.

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—Four of the seven men indicted by the federal grand jury here on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States government out of 48,000 acres of coal land in Alaska, valued at more than $50,000,000, appeared before Judge Swan. They were Wilbur W. McAlpine, Arthur L. Holmes, McCurdy Lebeau and Frank D. Andrus, all of Detroit. Pleas of not guilty were entered and each was released on bonds fixed at $2,000 with one surety.

BABY TIED TO CHAIR, BURNS

Little Hazel Boyce Is Cremated While Undergoing Punishment by Mother—House Is Destroyed.

Janesville, Wis., March 8.—Tied to a chair by her mother to punish her, Hazel Boyce, aged two years, was burned to death. Her brother, Hughie, aged four years, was burned severely when fire which destroyed the Boyce home occurred during the mother's absence. Effie, aged three, and Chester, aged one, were carried from the burning home. The older children overturned a pan of grease on the fire.

ALL JOLIET HUNT FOR BOY.

Herman Labo, Aged Four Years, Missing, and Schoolboys, Police and Citizens Search Country.

Joliet, Ill., March 8.—Three hundred schoolboys, the police and a sympathetic public are searching the city and surrounding country for Herman, four-year-old son of Joseph Labo, a prominent florist of Joliet. The child was last seen Monday afternoon. While the parents were visiting in Chicago the maid left the boy to his own devices and he disappeared.

Moor Kills a Frenchman.

Mellila, Morocco, March 8.—M. Mangin, the chief of the French military mission at Fez, was killed by the son of the Moroccan minister of war because the French officer had caused the execution of two native soldiers.

SUSPECT ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Man Arrested on Charge of Plotting to Kill King Alfonso Commits Suicide.

Madrid, March 8.—Shortly before the royal train bearing King Alfonso and his entourage passed through Alcazar San Juan on the way from Madrid to Seville, the police arrested Ventura Bagaria, who posed as a dynamite salesman, but was suspected of being an anarchist. After the man had been questioned and locked up in a cell he committed suicide.

DIADEM IS HER CROWN

MR. AND MRS. ADOLPH BUSCH CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Husband Presents Wife With Diamonds and Jewels Worth $200,000 at Their Fiftieth Anniversary.

Pasadena, Cal., March 8.—Adolphus Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association, and Mrs. Busch, enthroned, amidst their relatives and friends, celebrated their "800,000 golden wedding," while from Europe, Asia, Africa, North and South America, Australia and the islands of the sea came greetings. Ten thousand joined in the celebration.

Wherever there is a branch of the brewing company the day was spent in merrymaking.

In 42 states of the Union and everywhere else that the company has an employee the day was a holiday, the employees were entertained by dinners and theater parties, and thousands of telegrams of felicitation poured in upon Mr. and Mrs. Busch at Pasadena.

Emperor William sent a solid gold loving cup; so did former President Roosevelt, and President Taft sent one of the new St. Gaudens $20 gold pieces in an ivory case.

The receipt of a solid gold plate, about eight by ten inches, the gift of the employees of the Anheuser-Busch brewery in St. Louis, so overwrought the sensibilities of Mr. Busch that he collapsed.

From their children came a dozen solid gold dinner plates, valued at $25,000; the grandchildren presented them with a solid gold flower basket costing $15,000, and the branch managers all over the world joined in a solid gold vase valued at $200,000.

These are but a few of the magnificent gifts showered upon them, and when the festivities at Pasadena were beginning Mr. Busch placed upon Mrs. Busch's head a solid gold, diamond studded diadem costing $200,000.

PERJURY LEADS TO CELL

Five Witnesses Confess They Told Untruths to Aid Oleo Moonshiners Who Get Long Terms.

Chicago, March 8.—Wholesale perjury, confessed before United States District Judge K. M. Landis, not only failed of its purpose to keep Peter K. Brimlie and K. K. Brimlie, oleo moonshiners out of prison, but it added to the punishment inflicted upon them for their illicit dealings in near butler.

Four young women and one man admitted to the court that at the instigation of the Brimlie brothers they had previously given perjured testimony, in which they had been carefully coached at a secret night meeting in one of Brimlie's stores.

Judge Landis sentenced Peter K. Brimlie to serve six years in the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and to pay a fine of $18,000. K. K. Brimlie was fined $5,000 and sentenced to four years in the same prison.

ABE RUEF IN PRISON

FORMER POLITICAL BOSS BEGINS 14-YEAR SENTENCE.

Exhausts Every Legal Resource to Escape Penitentiary—Obtains One Grain of Comfort.

San Francisco, March 8.—Having exhausted every legal resource in a three years' struggle to escape the penitentiary, Abraham Ruef, former political boss of San Francisco, was sent to San Quentin last night to begin a 14-year term for the bribery of supervisors during the regime of Mayor Eugene F. Schmitz.

As a final concession to the fallen boss he was removed from the county jail here to the penitentiary in a taxi cab instead of in the regular van.

Ruef anticipated the usual prison regulations by having his mustache removed and his hair cropped closely before his departure. Only a handful of his former lieutenants and friends were at the ferry to bid him farewell.

Warden Hoyle of San Quentin has announced that Ruef will be put to work in the jute mill of the prison.

Attorneys for the prisoner will continue their fight for his liberation by making application to the supreme court for a rehearing and, that failing, the intervention of the federal courts may be sought.

The cases of a number of men indicted at the time of the Ruef-Schmitz graft disclosures were continued by Judge Lawlor to April 19.

CLEVER RUSSIAN SWINDLERS.

The Plausible Old Military Man Who Made a St. Petersburg Jeweler Whom He Robbed Act as His Accomplice, The Energetic Police Agents.

Nowhere is a uniform more potent than in Russia, and that fact has more than once been utilized by swindlers in their daring operations.

Some years ago a jeweler on the Nevsky Prospekt at St. Petersburg received a visit one sunny afternoon from an old and decrepit officer in the uniform of a general. The old gentleman was assisted from his carriage to the counter by an attentive footman in livery. The smiling jeweler received him with the deference due to his rank and accommodated him with a chair. The gentleman had come to choose a birthday present for his wife.

The tradesman displayed his most valuable collars and tiaras. The veteran lingered over them lovingly. At last he made choice of a costly suit and intimated that it would meet his purpose.

Tremblingly the old soldier sought in his breast for his pocketbook. He had saluted forth without it. The disappointment of both shopman and customer was acute. The general, however, was not a strategist without resource. With apologies he asked for writing materials and essayed to pen a letter to his home. The excitement acting upon his palsied hands made his writing illegible. The jeweler was in despair. The old man sighed and remarked upon the sad consequences of campaigns. The jeweler was touched. He had an inspiration.

"Will your excellency permit me to write the instruction to your dictation?"

The general was delighted and most gratefully accepted the offer. On the business paper of his firm the jeweler wrote the stumbling words of the veteran:

Dear Anna—I have need of money. Please take 5,000 rubles from my safe and return by bearer. Lovingly yours, "AN."

The general's own footman was dispatched with the note. The old man sat admiring the jewels until in due course the servant returned with the 5,000 rubles. The tiara was bought and paid for. The jeweler escorted his distinguished client to the carriage and stood bowing as he drove away.

That evening when the jeweler returned to his home his wife asked why he had withdrawn so large a sum from the family safe.

"What sum?" asked the shopkeeper in surprise.

"Why, the 5,000 rubles you sent for this afternoon."

"Five thousand rubles! I don't understand."

"Heavens, here's your letter!"

The wife produced the letter in the jeweler's own handwriting upon the jeweler's own business note paper, and he for the first time realized that the common name of Anna and the common name of Ivan were respectively those of himself and his wife as well as of the palsied officer and his visionary spouse.

The jeweler had paid for the officer's tiara.

Of the same genre, though differing in detail, was another swindle perpetrated upon a jeweler in St. Petersburg. The mystery surrounding the composition of the secret service force is the most effective, too, in the hands of the intelligent Russian criminal. On the Grande Moskala is one of the most magnificent jewelry stores in Europe, the house of Fauberge. To it one day drove up a splendidly appointed equipage, in which were seated two ladies. The ladies descended at Fauberge's and were received as customers of distinction. The older lady introduced herself as the wife of a well known statesman recently returned from abroad. She explained that she had been authorized by her husband to choose a collar of diamonds. The jeweler spread before her the gems of his collection.

After much hesitation the lady picked one of the most expensive, but to her dismay the price exceeded that suggested by her husband. The salesman dreaded to lose so profitable a customer. Could not madam obtain the consent of her excellency's husband to the purchase? The lady meditated and at length begged permission to drive to the office of her husband's ministry—the distance was not great—to show him the collar and gain his permission to buy it. Her companion would remain in the shop during her absence as a hostage. The jeweler was delighted with the suggestion.

The lady departed in her carriage. Time passed—quarter of an hour, half an hour, three-quarters of an hour. Suddenly there rushed into the shop two police agents, who announced their authority and showed their official badges. They assured the astonished Fauberge that he had been swindled. The jeweler trembled. He produced his hostage. The detectives seized upon her. Protesting, she was hustled into a hack and driven away to the police office.

It was the last the jeweler saw of the woman, the police agents or the diamonds. The detectives were the coachman and the footman of the brilliant equipage, who had changed their clothes and returned to rescue their accomplice.

A PAIR OF GLOVES.

The Impudent Store People Wouldn't Take Them Back.

Mrs. Pinkerton's first question was about the gloves.

"Did you exchange them?" she asked.

"No," said Pinkerton. "I didn't."

"There," she complained. "I might have known you would forget it. How careless! I told you the very last thing before you left the house to be sure to attend to it. Really, I don't see how men can be so thoughtless."

"I didn't forget," said Pinkerton. "I tried to change them, but they wouldn't take the things back."

"Wouldn't take them back?" she said. "Why not?"

"They said they were soiled."

"Soiled? Well, of all things! If they are they got soiled in their own store. I didn't soil them. I have never had them on my hands. I couldn't get them on. They were half a size too small. They gave me the wrong number. Why didn't you tell them so?"

"I did."

"Whom did you tell?"

"The clerk and the floorwalker and everybody who would listen to me."

"And what did they say?"

"They laughed."

"The impudent creatures! I'll never buy a cent's worth in that store again, you see if I do."

"That's just what I said," Pinkerton put in. "I said you never would."

"And what did they say to that?"

"They laughed again."

"Well, that settles it. I never will buy anything there now. Where are the gloves?"

"In my pocket."

"Let me have them, please. Soiled, indeed! I'll see if they are."

Mrs. Pinkerton unwrapped the package. As she took out the gloves she blushed slightly.

"Well," she said.

"Well!" echoed Pinkerton. "What's wrong?"

"Nothing much," she said. "I cleaned this last week with gasoline. I made a mistake and sent them back instead of the pair I bought yesterday."—New York Herald.

THE BLACK BASS.

Mysterious Habits of the Fish That Puzzle the Naturalist.

Why the black bass bites on one day and refuses every bait the next; why he takes helgramites and only helgramites on Monday, grasshoppers on Tuesday and frogs on Wednesday; why he bites only on dark days for fortnight and then shifts his biting humor to days bright and breezy; why you find him today on sandy bottom and tomorrow on mud and the day after on the rocks, are baffling traits of the bass that relate merely to his sporting relations with the angler. But there are other mysteries that puzzle the naturalist and bear on the organic life of the fish.

Up in Maine are two bass rivers not far apart. In one the fish run often to four, even to five, pounds; in the other rarely above a pound and a half. In one of the largest lakes of New Hampshire the writer's score for a whole season once ran up to 398 fish. Food was evidently abundant, for the bass were "chunky" and the viscera thick with fatty tissues. Yet the post-mortem showed in the stomach only glutinous, unrecognizable white matter, and the largest bass of the whole season drew the scales at but a pound and three-quarters. What did those bass live on, and why didn't they grow bigger? Again, in the uplands of Connecticut are two large lakes some eight miles apart. In the one bass are often caught in winter ice fishing; in the other lake almost never in winter, though in its open summer waters bass fishing is the better. Remembering that the bass are supposed to hibernate and in fairly deep waters, would not that fact argue in the late season darker outward hues and deeper bronzes? Yet the head of a large bass hatchery has observed a silvery change of the bass at the approach of winter when his habit and habitat would imply the exact reverse. Such are a few of the anatomical enigmas of the black bass that make him and his paradoxes an interesting study for that open minded angler who blends the naturalist with the sportsman.—Collier's Weekly.
