

NEW POSTOFFICE BUILDING PLANNED FOR BUCHANAN

PRESENT QUARTERS TOO SMALL TO ACCOMMODATE TOWN'S
GROWING MAIL BUSINESS;
BUILDING READY JAN. 1

ROY CHILSON

Buchanan is to have a new post-office building. This has been predicted and recognized as a necessity for some time and now the anticipation is to become a reality.

A party of local men, cognizant of the city's need, which is growing daily with its expansion of industrial life, got together last Thursday and decided to erect a suitable building, probably one story in height. The plans are ready and have been submitted to several contractors.

It is understood that these plans have been submitted to representatives of the postoffice department who have found them acceptable and have acquiesced in the plan.

The site selected and purchased is known as the Burch property, lying on East Front street just east of the old Buchanan garage.

The building will be 20x70 feet inside measurement, the front to be a modern one of plate glass and brick and the sides and rear walls will be of concrete. The interior plans call for a lobby of ample size, writing desks, and a new outfit of call and lock boxes.

Along one side and at the rear a drive way will be provided where mail wagons will receive and deliver mail and the rural carriers will be provided with a station for their rigs, convenient to their working quarters which will be in the rear of the new building.

Inasmuch as the new building is for federal use it is not anticipated that difficulty will be experienced in getting material for its construction nor the necessary labor. Final plans for starting the work are about completed and it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1st.

Other Improvements Coming.

The selection of the Burch site for the new postoffice marked the beginning of several other changes in that locality destined to improve that section of the business district. The old Buchanan garage building sold a few weeks ago by H. R. Adams to DiGiacomo & Co., and by them to Lockinaw & Moyer of Berrien Springs has been sold to Harry Rough. This building will be reconstructed or rebuilt at an early future date and there are other changes to be made in that locality which the Record is not privileged to make public at this time.

CAPTURED ENEMY GUNS SHOWN HERE

SPECIAL TRAIN BROUGHT WAR
IMPLEMENTS TO BUCHANAN
WEDNESDAY; DESPITE BRIEF
NOTICE BIG CROWD WAS OUT.

A special train of a coach, three flat cars and a camouflaged box car reached Buchanan Wednesday morning in charge of eight Blue Jackets and eight soldiers, bearing the government exhibit of captured German cannon and rapid fire guns and French rapid fire 75mm cannon, trench motors of both German and French designs and an anti-aircraft gun were also shown. In the box car were exhibited other articles used in warfare and many banners boosting the Fourth Liberty Loan.

No one in Buchanan was aware of the intention of the government to send this exhibit here until noon Tuesday but despite the very brief advertising, the exhibit was given, a large crowd was out to see it. The Clark company gave their employees an hour and a half off to see these relics.

The train was scheduled to reach Buchanan at 9:15 but arrived a half hour earlier. Corporal Ensell Swem of the local draft office was detailed by Col. Watson to meet the train and take the sailors and soldiers to the Buchanan Inn where breakfast was served to them.

The exhibit was interesting and plenty of time was given to examine the stuff carried on the six cars. The crowd was so large that the people had to be hurried through the box car, hence had but a hasty glance at these exhibits were part of those recently shown at the Chicago war show.

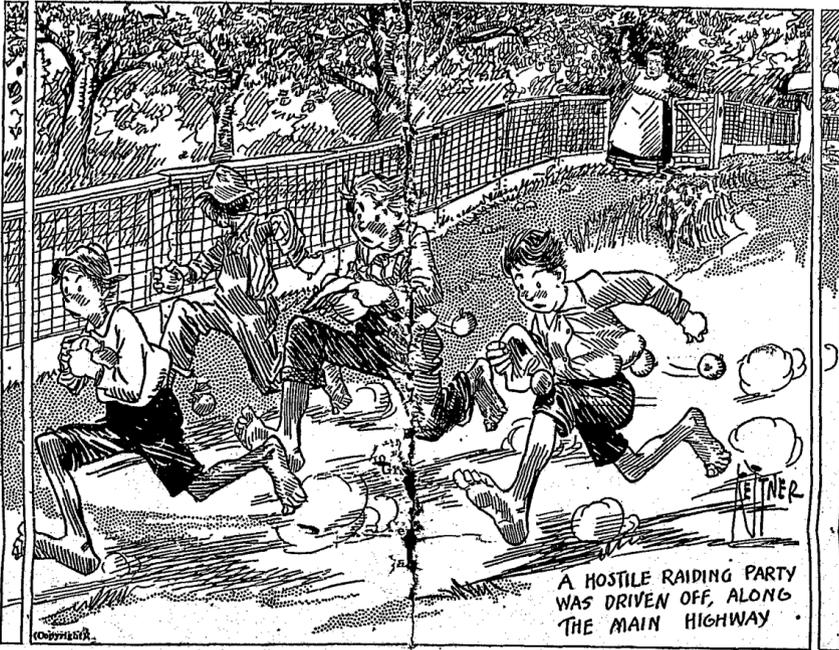

The exhibit therein.

OFFICIALS WANT TO KNOW
HOW "GERMAN SURRENDER"
REPORT GOT STARTED

Late Saturday night reports were flashed over the wires throughout the United States that Germany had unconditionally surrendered. Investigations are now being made to determine how the report started.

The probability is that the report was a mistaken one started by some individual who had obtained a wrong impression in regard to the facts. On the other hand, it may have been the work of some friend of Germany who wanted to hinder the Liberty Loan. Or there is the further possibility that it was German propaganda pure and simple.

BARODA BOY DIES AT CUSTER

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWED GRIP,
CAUSING DEATH OF YOUNG PA-
TRIOT; WENT WITH JULY CON-TINGENT TO MICH. CAMP.

The sad news reached here Friday evening that Guy Smith, of Baroda, who left Buchanan with the July contingent, had died at the base hospital of pneumonia, following a severe case of lagrippe. Soon after entering camp he was made mess sergeant of his company.

The deceased, who was 28 years of age, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton M. Smith, of Baroda, and besides the parents, is survived by an older brother Charles at home, five sisters, Mrs. A. F. Riek, Mrs. Alta Vincent, Mrs. Laura Smith and Miss Anna at home, and Mrs. Dolly Wallace at Boulder, Colo.

The mother and one sister were with the young man at the time of his passing. He had written earlier in the week saying that he had the grip, but treated the matter as of no moment. On Wednesday he was removed to the base hospital for care, pneumonia having developed.

Mr. Smith was born at Dayton near Gallien, and had lived the most of his life in Baroda and that vicinity. He was very well known and the whole community is saddened by this supreme sacrifice which the soldier performed for his country.

The body was taken to Baroda for funeral services and interment.

BENTON HARBOR MEN PERFECT AIRPLANE MOTOR; OFFER IT TO GOVERNMENT

Benton Harbor—With the invention of an airplane motor three times as powerful as the Liberty motor, half as heavy, and which will burn any kind of fuel, airplane power may be revolutionized. After three years perfecting of the engine by Deard M. Solenberger, F. G. Ferguson and Omar Suter, employes of a local garage, Mr. Solenberger has gone to Washington, D. C., to offer his engine to the government for the duration of the war. The motor rights are fully protected.

This is the first steam motor to be perfected, it having been tested, and besides being vibrationless, will stand up indefinitely.

LOCAL BAKERY ADOPTS NEW MACHINE METHODS

Portz' Model Bakery, the home of cleanliness and choice products, is slowly being converted into an automatic bake shop, necessary because of the high shortage.

Mr. Portz has been using a power dough mixer and his latest acquisition is a neat little machine which does away with hand kneading by taking the dough from the mixer and forming it into loaves of proper size ready for the oven. The new machine will be in operation this week and it is sure to prove a big time saver as well as giving a better quality product than is possible under the old system. Mr. Portz will soon add another machine of this type which will handle small batch doughs for cakes, etc.

INFLUENZA WON'T STOP TROOP MOVE

The American troops at Archangel include part of the 310th Engineers, both Michigan and Wisconsin troops, General March said.

MAN FROM MEXICO AT CLARK OCT. 24, 25

HANLIN PRODUCTION TO BE GIVEN FOR BENEFIT OF LOCAL RED CROSS; MERITORIOUS PRODUCTION.

The mere announcement that M. L. Hanlin has prepared the excellent comedy, "A Man from Mexico," for presentation to a Buchanan audience, is sufficient to assure a crowded house, but coupled with this announcement that the proceeds are to be given to the local Red Cross chapter gives double assurance of a heavy patronage.

The final rehearsals are now being held and the dates have been fixed for Thursday and Friday nights, Oct. 24 and 25th. The admission prices are 25c and 50c.

You will want to see the show and you will want all members of your family to see it since it just bubbles over with humorous situations and good comedy, and laugh follows laugh in rapid-fire order.

The plot has to do with the adventures of one Benjamin Fitzhew, who taking advantage of his wife's absence takes a night out with his friend, Colonel Major. He becomes involved in a row with a taxi driver, is arrested and sentenced to thirty days in Blackwell's Penitentiary for insulting the judge. To avoid explanations he tells his wife that he is going on a trip to Mexico.

The scene of the second act is laid in the penitentiary where Fitzhew is serving his thirty day sentence. His wife visits the prison with the ladies of the Flower Mission and poor Fitzhew is miserable in attempting to dodge her and her friends. He is compelled to watch the warden make love to his wife and the scene closes with Fitzhew suddenly becoming a hero by preventing the escape of the prisoners.

In the third act he returns ostensibly from Mexico and his descriptions of the things he saw and heard in Mexico are highly humorous.

INDOOR MEETINGS BARRED TO CHECK SPREAD OF "FLU"

RALPH RUMBAUGH

A message was received here last Friday afternoon telling of the death of Ralph Rumbaugh, who died about August 9th of wounds received in active service in France. He enlisted June 6th, 1917, and was sent to Columbus, Ohio and later received training at Gettysburg, Pa., and Charlotte, South Carolina. He was sent to France in April of this year and was a machine gunner in the 2nd division at the time of his death. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rumbaugh, of Three Oaks, one sister, Mrs. Ralph Sebasny, and one brother, Clarence Rumbaugh. For a year and a half prior to his enlistment he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Clark on Terre Coupe Avenue and was employed at the Clark Equipment Company's plant. He was a young man of much promise and well liked and respected by all who knew him. The parents, sister and brother have the sympathy of the entire community.

Indoor Public Meeting Under Ban.
Because of the prevalence of the influenza in the neighborhood, council on Sunday morning ordered the closing of the churches, schools, theater and placed the ban on all indoor public meetings until danger from a further spread of the epidemic is past. The board's position is wisely taken and everybody hopes that the order was issued in time to prevent a spread of the disease through town.

The most important precautions against the disease are said to be to avoid crowded conditions and over-eating. Coughing, sneezing or expectorating in the presence of others is also dangerous, since the disease is highly infectious.

Persons suffering with colds are especially admonished to keep away from others as much as possible and when coughing or sneezing to carefully cover the face with a handkerchief.

While the situation in certain parts of the country is undeniable acute on account of the large number of persons affected, fortunately in almost every instance the health authorities are proving able to check the spread of the disease shortly after its appearance; moreover the percentage of fatalities is comparatively small. People should bear in mind the fact, however, that while there is no reason for any great alarm or panic about the matter, it is important for everyone to exercise unusual care as to health and all should aid in every possible way to prevent the spread of the epidemic and to combat it wherever it appears.

Authorities say that the Spanish influenza is nothing more nor less than the old fashioned gripe. The latest reports from the Surgeon-General's office unfortunately indicate that the disease is as yet unchecked in many army camps, and the Government has considered it necessary to issue a warning to the effect that all possible steps should be taken to prevent conditions from becoming even worse throughout the country. It is said that reports have been received showing the presence of the disease in every one of our states except five.

Up to the present time there have been no cases of the disease reported in Buchanan but it is present to quite an extent in neighboring towns. Three Oaks has about 30 cases, Gallien 20 cases, Baroda and Bridgman several cases.

A Three Oaks young man named Annable, who went to the Detroit Naval yards several months ago died of the disease and was taken to Three Oaks for burial Saturday. A cortege of Jackies accompanied the body.

The body of Earl Coleman, who died at Camp Sherman, Ohio, was sent to Three Oaks and buried Monday. Death was from the same cause.

The National Association of Motion Picture Industries at a meeting in New York Wednesday, decided to discontinue all motion picture releases after Oct. 15 because of the nation-wide epidemic of Spanish influenza. The embargo, it was announced, would remain in force until further notice.

FORD CAR GOES OVER
CURB AND GETS SMASHED

A Ford truck driven by Chas. Bishop left the beaten path near the Buchanan Cabinet factory about noon Wednesday, went over the curb on the east side of the street and collided with one of the ornamental light posts. The light globe was broken and the Ford suffered injuries to the front axle and steering gear.

Mr. Bishop was driving toward the depot and just as he was passing the cabinet plant Chas. Bauman drove his car out of the narrow street at the south end of the building. To avoid an apparent pending collision Mr. Bishop swerved suddenly to the east and Mr. Bauman turned his car to the west. Both drivers disclaim responsibility.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

American women need feel neither insult nor discouragement in the Senate's refusal to pass the national suffrage amendment to the Federal constitution. An entrenched minority has again been able to temporarily postpone broadened American democracy. But no minority was ever able to permanently halt America's social progress; and the group of sex objectors (constantly contracting) which denied electoral equity last week Tuesday maintains its veto by slenderest thread—soon to be broken—when two votes out of ninety-eight is the thin margin of its obstructionist power. The affirmative votes in the Senate represent states with an overwhelming dominance of population. The negative votes largely represent sections of the country which have a congressional authority utterly disproportionate to their relative size and importance. Nineteen of the victorious minority of thirty-one came from south of the Mason-Dixon Line where suffrage is still the age-old color question and where (despite a constitution amendment fifty years old) even all males are not yet allowed an untrammelled ballot. President Wilson says the adoption of female suffrage is an issue related to the present war. Its defeat is an issue related to a war which is a half century past and gone. And as the balance of the Union has refused to lag on this other suffrage issue to suit the local prejudice of a minor section of the nation, so it will not much longer lag on this modern suffrage issue to suit the same prejudicial point of view. Despite disappointment over one more delay, the woman suffrage party may well take keen encouragement from the situation as revealed by the Senate roll-call. It is unthinkable that a fading minority of the character indicated can much longer deny America's acknowledgement of woman's obvious rights.

Much was said in suffrage debate by these fiery Southerners about the ancient theory of "state's rights." Although we hold utterly no sympathy with any argument which would still cut the Union into forty-eight independent sectors, there is one "state's right" which Michigan can still maintain in this suffrage matter, regardless of this southern minority; namely the "right" to acknowledge the electoral equality of Michigan women so far as the "state" itself is concerned. This "right" can be exercised within the commonwealth next November; and the most eloquent answer Michigan can give to the war plea of the President—the most eloquent repudiation of the Senate's sectionalism—our most eloquent demonstration of faith in our own splendid womankind—will be vote "yes" on the Michigan referendum.

NO IDLE CLASS.

There no longer is an idle class in America. A republic should never tolerate a non-productive group. Rome fell because it became a nation of parasites, waxing flabby from the fruits of victories. Before the War the United States harbored two classes of non-producers, wealthy idlers and neer-do-wells of the poor. The work or fight regulations have stamped out this evil. In fact, the war automatically relieved the situation before these regulations became effective. Sons of the rich were in many cases among the first to enlist; women who have been in the parasite class gave their time immediately to worthy war endeavors. The neer-do-well who failed to heed the call of adventure and patriotism in enlistment in many cases became producers because of the abundance of opportunities.

At present the work or fight ruling denies draft exemption under any classification to the man who is not a producer. So long as the war continues there will be no danger from a leisure class in America. But we cannot afford after the war to go back to the evils of our ante bellum life. Idleness breeds discontent, both among the idlers and among those who are forced by circumstances to labor for barest sustenance. Many evil will be abolished after this. If America sets itself firmly against parasitic non-producers, the republic will be stronger.

Annie Grain, the daughter of John and Louisa Grain, was born in Sing Sing, N. Y., Dec. 26, 1844 and died Oct. 1, 1918, aged 70 years and 9 months.

After the death of her father in 1858, she came with her mother and sister to Buchanan, which place has been her home for the greater part of the time since.

She was married to John Curtis of Buchanan, Nov. 17, 1817.

To this union were born six children, only one of whom, Mary of Pittsburg, survives her.

For the past three years she had been a great sufferer, patiently enduring her affliction. Her kind and generous disposition endeared her to many.

She leaves a husband, son and one sister with many other relatives. Funeral services were held at the home on Thursday, Oct. 3rd, conducted by Rev. N. D. Braby.

MARGARET MELVINA JACKSON.

Margaret Melvina Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Begole, was born at Castine, Dark Co., Ohio, May 19th, 1893, and died at Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 29th, 1918, aged 25 years, four months and 10 days. She came to Michigan in 1865, was married to Seyriel P. Phillips, Nov. 25th, 1865, at the home of her parents, by Rev. Joseph Bartman.

To this union were born seven children. In 1889 she was married to William Jackson of Iowa.

She was an honored member of the United Brethren church for more than forty years. Her funeral was held at the Methodist church in Gallien, Mich., with burial in Buchanan cemetery, Rev. E. P. Brant officiating.

FOOT BALL NOTES.

The Buchanan High School football team played the Gallien team on the local grounds Friday, October 4. Buchanan came out victorious by the score of twenty to thirteen.

During the first quarter the heavy Gallien team repeatedly smashed through the light Buchanan line. Gallien scored twice.

With but one minute left to play in the first half, Bradley took the ball around Gallien's left end and against great interference ran fifty yards and made Buchanan's first score, on long-end runs.

The end runs of Bradley featured, as he made all of Buchanan's scores, on long-end runs.

Phillips, Beck and Batchelor hit the Gallien line during the last period for long gains each time.

The line-up of the Buchanan team was: Center, Kott; guards, Voorhees and Burrus; tackles, Morley and Burks; ends, Smith and Martin; half-backs, Bradley and Batchelor; Full back, Phillips, quarter back, captain, Beck.

PATRIOTIC DUTY OF ALL TO SAVE COAL

ENGINEER POINTS OUT HOW FUEL MAY BE CONSERVED IN RESIDENCES; CAN REDUCE SHORTAGE BY 30,000,000

This country faces a shortage of coal and this winter it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to save coal in heating his residence. Recent figures made by the United States fuel administrator show that in 1917 the coal produced in the United States was 652,000,000 tons. It was also estimated that through better railroad service and greater efficiency at the mines the production in 1918 would approximate 700,000,000 tons. The demand for 1918 will be approximately 800,000,000 tons so there will be a shortage of at least 100,000,000 tons.

This shortage can be reduced to 70,000,000 tons by residence conservation alone. Last year it required 30,000,000 tons to heat the residences and this can be reduced to 60,000,000 tons for the coming year, providing each citizen does his bit to save coal in heating his residence.

How to Save Coal

Some of the ways of saving this coal are as follows:

(1) By heating fewer rooms in the house. In many houses the family could get along comfortably by keeping warm three or four rooms instead of heating six or seven. In some cases the residences are so large that an excessive amount of coal has to be used to make them comfortable, and in such cases a considerable amount of coal can be saved, if these residences are closed up entirely and the occupants spend the winter in smaller quarters.

(2) It is estimated that at least 15 per cent of fuel can be saved by keeping the temperature in the house at 65 degrees Fahrenheit, as is now standard practice in residences. This reduction in room temperature to many people seems a hardship, but it is interesting to know that many medical authorities ascribe the colds common in winter to living in too warm houses. Thus, Dr. William Brady writes:

"Air need never be heated above 65 degrees F. for comfort. Anything above that point represents waste and extravagance. It simply runs up a big coal bill and opens various doors to the coming of the doctor. The onset of cough in winter is almost a sure sign of such extravagance."

Those interested therefore, in saving the country's fuel will be glad to know that by reducing their room temperature from 70 degrees to 65 degrees F. they will also be reducing their coal and doctor bills.

(3) By installing storm windows and weather strips the leakage from windows and cracks can be reduced.

(4) By using wood, oil and peat where available much coal can be saved, especially in the early fall and late spring when a continuous coal fire is not required.

(5) The most important saving amounting to 20 per cent or more can be produced by operating efficiently heating apparatus itself, some important points of which are in the following:

(a) By increasing the humidity 20 per cent. In the case of hot air furnaces this can be accomplished by either installing commercial humidifiers or by placing additional water pans in the furnace itself. In the case of hot water furnaces additional water retainers can be placed between the wall and the side of a radiator, where they will not be noticed, or commercial humidifiers can be installed.

(b) The furnace, especially when burning soft coal, should be cleaned frequently and the smoke pipe and chimney flue inspected to see that there are no leaks.

(c) Bituminous or soft coal should be fired by first scraping the live coal to the rear of the firepot and then placing the fresh charge in front of the furnace. The volatile matter arising from the fresh coal is ignited by the red-hot coals left uncovered in the rear of the firepot. Thus a large part of this volatile matter is burned, producing both heat and reducing the amount of smoke and soot.

(d) Wherever cold air is now taken from the outside there should be an inside cold air pipe installed, so that in at least extremely cold weather the outside pipes can be closed and the hot air forced simply fed with air from the inside of the house.

(e) By maintaining a good circulation in the house a large saving of coal can be produced. In the case of hot-air furnaces the cross-section of the cold air ducts leading to the furnace should be at least one-half and preferably three-fourths of the total cross section of all the heating pipes leading from the furnace to the various rooms.

Increase Circulation.

When the circulation is good there is sufficient cold air passing through the circulation chamber of the furnace to absorb nearly all the heat produced by the fire. On the other hand, if the circulation is poor, the stagnant air in the circulation chamber and heating pipes will be heated to a high degree and then there will be waste heat produced which passes up the chimney.

When the heating pipes leading from the furnace to the various rooms are cool when touched with the hand it shows the circulation is sufficient, but if they are very hot it shows the circulation is poor and should be improved in order not to have waste heat passing up the chimney.

When it is found that the circulation is not so good it can be improved by opening for a few minutes all the doors in the house or by placing an electric fan for a short time where it will blow into the cold air register.

This poor circulation is frequently produced in the early morning after the doors have not been open for eight or 10 hours. Some people make a practice of each morning opening their doors for a few minutes to be certain that proper circulation is produced.

(f) Considerable coal can be saved especially in the case of hard coal, if the ashes are sifted and the residue is burned.

Every householder by endeavoring to save coal in the ways suggested above can render his country valuable service and he will not be doing his full duty in this great war unless he does endeavor to save coal in heating his residence.

RIGHT HAND CHOPPED OFF WHEN HE REFUSES TO MAKE HUN SHELLS

News of one of the Huns' most vicious atrocities has come to Petoskey in a letter to Mrs. William Reed from her uncle, Duncan Davidson of Kingston, Can. Mrs. Davidson also is an uncle of Mrs. George Schneider of Petoskey.

The letter recites the suffering of Bryce Davidson, son of William Davidson of Kingston, and a nephew of Duncan Davidson and cousin of Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Schneider of Petoskey, and Wallace Davidson of Cadillac. The story can be told in no better way than to print the following excerpt from the letter:

"Your Uncle Billy's second oldest son Bryce, was overseas and taken prisoner, and they wanted him to make shells. He refused and said he would never do it. His right hand was pulled over the block and chopped off at the wrist. They said, 'Now you go and make shells for the English.' He was in the hospital 14 months, made his escape to England and was sent home. He is now in his home city—Kingston, Canada."

SOLDIER ARTIST DRAWS PICTURE OF HUN'S DOOM

Grover Rose, a former Buchanan postoffice clerk, now on the U. S. S. Charles, sends the Record a clever pen sketch characterizing the present war situation. He has taken the Berlin report of the summer, "We are Nearing a Decision," as its caption. He has drawn a lion's head with the four fangs representing the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy and a Hun typifying the German nation crawling into the lion's mouth. It is well done and nicely depicts the Huns' predicament. The massive jaws are just about to close on the destroyer of world peace.
