

BURNING MILL THREATENS STORES ON FRONT STREET

$3,000 DAMAGE ON PEARS-EAST FIRM

STRUCTURE MORE THAN SEVENTY YEARS OLD IS RICH WITH TRADITIONS

Quick action on the part of the Buchanan fire department alone saved the entire destruction of the Pears-East Grain Mill in a fire of unknown origin early last evening.

Untiring work to extinguish the blaze not only checked the flames, which for sometime threatened the whole business section of the city but kept damage on the mill to the $3,000 mark. The loss is completely covered by insurance.

The flames were first seen by George L. Mathie from Days avenue at about 7:30 in the evening. A narrow strip of blaze was creeping up the southeast corner of the mill and was thought by Mathie at first to be only a street light. The flying of sparks finally attracted his attention and he put in the alarm. In less than five minutes the whole south end of the building was a solid mass of flames when the fire department arrived.

The origin of the blaze is unknown although it appeared to have started from the one story sheds flanking the south portion of the mill.

The old timbering of the interior burned rapidly although the greatest damage was done to the clover seed stored on the first floor. Several times firemen attempted to gain entrance to the building with chemical extinguishers but the intense heat of the interior was suffocating. So hot was the air inside the mill that it was feared that the mill dust would cause combustion.

After a half hour of fighting the blaze it suddenly was placed under control by the company who worked tirelessly until the flames were completely extinguished.

For sometime it was believed that not only would the entire mill burn but that section of Front street neighboring it would catch fire. Patrons at the Princess were dismissed in an orderly manner by Manager Homer Morley.

The Niles fire department was summoned, arriving after the local company had almost miraculously gained control of the flames. The company made the run to Buchanan in six minutes from the time the call was turned in by Walter Shoop.

The mill, valued at $10,000, is one of the old landmarks in this locality and has an interesting history.

It was erected in 1854 by William H. Bainton, a pioneer of this locality from England. Who Bainton's millwright was, is unknown. The timbers were hand hewn from native timber and the first mill wheel was of the obsolete over-shot type that are propelled by paddles around the rim of the wheel.

The mill still contains one of the sets of French stones brought from France by Mr. Bainton and especially adapted to the hard wear of corn and grain grinding. These stones are still in usable condition.

The mill passed from the Bainton family upon the death of William Bainton in 1865. Others who have at times had shares in the mill are Charles Clark, of Galien, L. P. Fox, Rough brothers and John Sheldon. It was from the latter that Pears purchased the property about 25 years ago and is in partnership with Walter East. The old over-shot wheel had been replaced by the present wheel bought from the Bainton mill. The corrugated exterior covering had also been placed on the old frame during the Sheldon period of ownership.

The property is rich with stories of years past and has become a tradition in the life of Buchanan. Ashley Carlisle recalls even the days when the timber in the mill was still green.

Dealer goes to Detroit; doesn't bring back Ford

Buchanan will probably see a new Ford within a few days, with production now being carried on at the Detroit plants. The larger parts of the car are being turned out and the assembly line at the plant is in operation. Assembly of the bodies has begun. Production is said to be coming through.

George Foresman, local dealer, and John Diment returned last night from a trip to Detroit. Mr. Foresman also made a business trip to Chicago Monday.

Whether the advent of the new model will create as much excitement in Buchanan as Edsel Ford's driving of one of the new machines in Detroit did, when traffic was congested on Woodward avenue, remains to be seen.

KEYSTONE TRAVELER MOVES TO VALPARIASO

The Keystone Traveler, the mystic Odd Fellow symbol, which was brought to Buchanan several months ago and later delivered by the local lodge to the LaPorte lodge, again was started on its travels Monday night when the LaPorte lodge conveyed it in state to Valpariaso and left it in the custody of the lodge there.

Over 800 were present to witness its reception and the ceremonies incident to its arrival. Local Odd Fellows who attended were Harleigh Squires, Seth Ingelwright and George Slater.

OCCUPY $16,000 FARMERS BUILDING

ST. JOSEPH VALLEY SHIPPING ASSOCIATION MOVES TO ITS NEW QUARTERS ON DAYS AVENUE

Moving of the St. Joseph Valley Shipping association into their new $16,000 building on Days avenue has begun and will be completed within the next few days.

The erection of the new quarters, one of the most modern of business houses of Buchanan, marks a great forward step in the history of the association of farmers.

The new two-story building is of brick construction and is arranged and equipped so as to provide for the efficient and easy handling of farm products. The lower floor has office rooms to the front, facing Days avenue. Back of the two front rooms is the main receiving and loading room. Large doors opening to the outside will facilitate the handling of grains. The large scales are protected from the weather by a large roof flanking the main building. Large doors border two sides of the room through which the association wares may be handled.

The second story has a large room for the assembly of the one hundred stockholders of the association for their meetings. The remainder of the floor is equipped with hard wood floors to provide ideal storing space for the firm's supplies.

The installing of a furnace and building of cement floors on the ground story insure a dry atmosphere, ideal for the keeping of seeds, grains and other products.

The local association although an independent organization is affiliated with the county and state farm bureaus. The corporation is also a member of the state elevator exchange and has co-operative stores and warehouses at Niles and Buchanan.

The company handles the products in wholesale and retail lots. Hay, straw, grains, feeds, fertilizers, seeds, spraying materials, coal, fencing posts and general farm supplies are included in their wares. Wheat is one of the major commodities handled.

Officers for the association are: J. G. Boyle president; Dean Clark, vice president; Glenn Haslett, secretary; Fred Koenigshoff, treasurer; J. E. Reed, Albert Houswerth, Sam Thompson and J. C. Holbrook.

Frank Harrington is manager of the association. The old building, the property of the company, will be razed.

GOSHEN GRIDDERS COMING SUNDAY

STATE LINERS WIN FROM BUCHANAN INDEPENDENTS IN SUNDAY'S CONTEST

Goshen Independents will invade Buchanan this Sunday when the Buchanan Athletic association will attempt to add another victory to their string of gridiron conquests.

After a close struggle over the first quarters of the game the State Line team finally came out on top in last Sunday's game at Athletic park, emerging victorious with a 13 to 6 win over the Buchanan boys.

The battering that Buchanan took in the first three quarters from the 200 pound fullback, Holmes, and the others of the State Line cast told on the light team and the Hoosiers were able to dent the scoring twice during the closing chapter. State Line had the ball on Buchanan's four-yard line at the close of the third period and on the first play in the final quarter Rhoutson carried the ball around left end for the first touchdown of the game. Holmes kicked goal for the extra point. Buchanan's touchdown came a few moments later when Dick Lister grabbed a pass from Captain Pingst and sprinted through the opposing tacklers 65 yards for a touchdown in the prettiest play of the day.

NEW POLICE CHIEF APPOINTED HERE

C. V. DUNBAR SUBMITS HIS RESIGNATION TO ACCEPT WORK IN THE WEST

Fred French has been appointed Buchanan's new chief of police to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Clarence V. Dunbar last Friday.

At a special meeting of the village councilmen Monday morning Dunbar's successor was picked. Six applicants for the vacancy were filed. They were: Charles Patterson, Fred French, Clarence Jackson, Ed Mitchell, Harry Chamberlain and Walter Trainor. The new officer has been employed as an automobile salesman for various Buchanan firms for several years here, residing at 405 Main street.

Dunbar resigned his position to take up duties in the special service department of the Santa Fe Railroad at Bakersfield, Calif. He has been chief of police here for nearly two years. Several months ago he was appointed deputy sheriff under County Sheriff Fred G. Bryant and has been especially active in carrying out his duties in that office. For four years he was deputy under Sheriff George Bridgman.

Mr. Dunbar left Buchanan this morning for the west. Mrs. Dunbar, a teacher in the high school will complete the first semester of the school year, going to California in December.

FIVE-ACT VODVIL HAS STAR ACTORS

TICKET SALE STARTS ON COLLEGE CLUB SHOW AT CLARK THEATER NOVEMBER 3

Announcement of the adding of Clarence A. Hertel to the list of performers who will appear in the five-act vaudeville to be given at the Clark theater next Thursday night at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the College Women's club has added another unusual sketch to the show.

The ticket sale is now progressing with the pastebords for admittance to the evening of fun being distributed from the two drug stores of the city. Proceeds from the affair are to go toward the scholarship fund of the College Women's club. Through this financial aid Buchanan girls are given an opportunity to obtain a higher education.

The group of artists who will appear in that evening will represent the best talent in this part of the county and will be so varied as to include amusements for every taste. The quintet of skits will range from unqualified nonsense manufactured by a pair of comedians whose stage appearance will long be remembered in Buchanan, on down to the mysterious act to be staged by Hertel.

The latter, a follower of Houdini, has made a name for himself among amusement lovers in South Bend and northern Indiana and hopes to make his way to the vaudeville stage with his art of magic. His tricks have traveled far and wide and a brilliant future is predicted for the young man.

Pun de luxe is in store for all those who listen in on the comedy skits billed for the evening. Producers of laughs are to appear in a pair of acts that promise to be unusual.

The bringing of two additional artists, Mrs. Mary Mohn from South Bend and Mrs. A. H. Harper from Niles here, will complete the bill. Mrs. Mohn, who has danced on stages in Hollywood and also in Chicago theaters, has been secured for one act and Mrs. Harper, expression teacher from Niles, will be the principal character in a semi-pantomime number.

Many little and big surprises have been arranged for the evening throughout the entire performance. Never before have so many noted and talented people from northern Indiana and southern Michigan been assembled on the same program. Unusual opportunity to see the best talent from neighboring cities will be offered on Thursday night.

The program is as follows: 1. The Immigrant, a riot of fun. Ruth Riley, Steve Rudoni, Arthur Johnson and Cress-Wheldon. 2. An Old Fashioned Garden. Mrs. Harold Harper & Co. 3. Radio number featuring: a. Charles King in eccentric music and song. b. Mrs. Maurice W. O. Toole, chantaqua and radio artist in classical and popular vocal numbers. c. Mrs. Harold Harper in a sketch. d. E. A. Irwin, radio operator. 4. Clarence Hertel, magician. 5. Mme. Mary Grace Mohn. Premiere ensemble in a. Legend of the Orient. Mme. Mohn and Belle. b. A Spanish Dance.

A. L. VonSar of Benton Harbor was a visitor at the Enos Schram home Tuesday.

PROMINENT ODD FELLOWS COME FRIDAY

Encampment Odd Fellows from all over Berrien county will gather here Friday night to witness the conferring of the Royal Purple degree by the degree team of the local lodge, considered the finest in the state.

This will be an outstanding event in Odd Fellow circles in that the guests of honor will be Grand Patriarch Louis Forler of Detroit and Grand Scribe Eddie Hoyt of Battle Creek. Encampment lodges of Benton Harbor, Eau Claire, Niles, Dowagiac, Mishawaka and the two South Bend lodges have been invited and have accepted the invitation.

Lodge will convene at 7:30, the beautiful degree work following immediately. At the close of the ceremonial the customary banquet will be served.

PUBLIC HEALTH IS PERSONAL CONCERN

CHILDREN'S BOOKS WILL BE SUBJECT FOR THE NOVEMBER MEET OF P. T. A.

Organization of the State Department of Public Health and its relation to private citizens was the subject of a talk by Miss Marjorie Delavan, official from Lansing, before the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers association Monday evening in the high school.

The difficulty with public health lies in the first word of the expression. It ought to be taken more personally by laymen. Fathers and mothers of the state do not see public health as their job but place it wholly on the shoulders of the public health officer and nurse, said the speaker.

"Public health is not public, at all, but very personal matter. We ought to grow ourselves in to the service along with the 1700 health officers of the state," said Miss Delavan.

One problem emphasized by Miss Delavan in her talk had to do with the lowering of communicable disease rates, which she said was beyond the control of any one health officer. She stressed the fact that parents, more than any other one class, could aid in the problem.

"A quarantine sign is being realized more and more by parents as not a disgrace but simply an indication that the game is being played fairly with children. Parents are appreciating the fact more and more that the neighbor's child has rights. A quarantine is a means of protecting our own children and our neighbor's child, too."

The pre-school age was discussed briefly by the speaker along with the growing tendency for parents to realize the importance of that period. Eighty-five per cent of the defects carried into later life are hang-overs of the pre-school age. Fathers and mothers are waking up to the fact that it is their duty to see that their children are given the right chance physically in life, she said.

"It is essential that we have our children examined but more important than that is the carrying out of recommendations. We so often know that something should be done to correct physical defects yet the amazing thing is that parents don't have it done promptly. It is plain inertia on the part of the parents," said Miss Delavan in commenting upon the system of examining the school children.

During the address the speaker outlined the organization of the State Department of Public Health. She mapped out briefly the work of the officials from the office of Dr. Carl L. Kiefer, the commissioner, down to the work of her own bureau. Miss Delavan is director of the Bureau of Public Health education, one of the seven departments functioning under the commissioner.

The meeting Monday had had as its theme with Mrs. Reba Lamb in direct charge. A demonstration of bandaging and bed-making was given by Alene Riley, Marie Post and Madeline Hamilton of the Girl Scouts and Marie Mitchell, Genevieve Glassell and Clarice Banke from the Campfire Girls.

The next session will be held on Nov. 28, when Miss Ethel Frost, children's librarian, from the South Bend Public Library, will talk on books for children. An exhibit of volumes suitable for youngsters is also being arranged at that time. A question box will be a special feature of the coming meeting.

Reports from the various committees, singing and other business occupied the meeting attended by about 75 parents. A social period followed the program.

Children in the Presbyterian Sunday school classes were entertained with a Halloween party on Tuesday evening at the church. Students from the classes taught by Myra Andlauer and Grace Enk enjoyed the fun.

TODAY'S PROBLEMS TALKED AT PARLEY

BUCHANAN SENDS SEVERAL S. S. STUDENTS TO THE CONVENTION OF COUNTY

Many delegates from Buchanan attended the two-day session of the Berrien County Sunday school association Tuesday and Wednesday at Berrien Springs.

Among those who attended from here were: Mrs. Cornelia Conroy, Mrs. Anselm Wray, Miss Georgia Wilcox, Mrs. Ed. Stultz, Mrs. Myrtle Pierce, Miss Katie Deering, Mrs. D. L. Vanderglice, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rehm, Mrs. G. H. Stevenson, Mrs. Grace Shipley, Mrs. William Hess, Mrs. Kate Rehm, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Arney, and Miss Alepe Arney.

The lectures given through the day were highlights in the day's program. Many modern problems of religion and its place in the world of today were discussed. The old topic of science and its relation to the Bible also was talked at the sessions by several noted speakers.

One of the outstanding speakers was Dr. E. W. Cole of the South Bend First-Baptist church, who in an inspiring talk discussed the Lord's prayer from several different angles in a series of lectures during the devotional hour. "Science and the Lord's Prayer" was the subject of a short talk by Dr. Cole when he spoke on the relation of science to religion, saying they were entirely in accordance with one another. The greatest difficulty, he said, was found in the ignorance and misunderstanding of men of the laboratory toward religious things and among religious people the lack of understanding of scientific advancement. If both scientists and religious men would seek to understand one another the two could go hand in hand.

Subjects of his addresses were: "The Socialism of Prayer"; "The Lord's Prayer and Science"; "The Lord's Prayer and a Program for Civilization"; "The Lord's Prayer and World Brotherhood"; and "The Lord's Prayer and Personal Life." He related some of his experiences in Europe this last summer when he attended the world conference on Faith and Order in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Dr. F. S. Goodrich, a professor in a foreign college will reveal some of the principles of teaching thru three messages, "The Old Teaching in a New Age," "The Scholars of the Great Teacher" and "The Great Teacher." The Rev. E. L. Reiner sets forth the plans, purposes and organization of the contributing agencies to religious education such as the week day school of religion, the daily vocation Bible school and summer camps. The Rev. Reiner is now in Berrien county. He has taught the Bible subjects in Camp Warren for a number of years.

Miss Ione Catton develops the topic, "Parents and Teachers Working Together." Mrs. Chas. Thompkins speaks on Tuesday evening on "Missions Today and Tomorrow." Clarence Bouma, of Calvin college, Grand Rapids, reaches the climax of the convention in the final address Wednesday evening on "Training Immortal Souls."

Athletics in the church, social and religious programs were topics listed for discussion Tuesday afternoon. Various departmental reports, election of officers and selection of the 1928 meeting place were included in Wednesday morning's program.

BUCHANANITES GO TO MICHIGAN GAME

MORE THAN 30 FROM HERE SEE STATE UNIVERSITY BEAT OHIO 21 TO 0 ON SATURDAY

Buchanan football enthusiasts and alumni from the University of Michigan helped, to swell the crowds who jammed the new stadium at the state institution last Saturday, when the state school beat Ohio state university classed. A total of 86,000 spectators witnessed the game. There were said to be 20,000 who came from Ohio for the contest. Hundreds attended from South Bend and Niles enthusiasts are estimated at 100.

Those who went from here were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rose, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Strayer and family, Superintendent and Mrs. H. C. Stark, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McGofford, Mr. and Mrs. Sig. Desenberg and daughter, Beatha, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. James Ward, Paul Wynn, Marcus Treat, Mary Karling, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Boone, George Boone, Miss Jane Ballegee and Earl Baker, the latter visiting Clifford Kiehn.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Childs spent Saturday and Sunday with their son, Ted, a medical student at the University. Returning they called on friends and relatives at Eaton Rapids, Albion and Kalamazoo and on Monday they attended the annual party and banquet given by the Globe Gasket company at Kalamazoo.

HALLOWEEN CELEBRATION AT BERRIEN TOMORROW

Preparations are complete for the community celebration of Halloween at Berrien Springs tomorrow night when the event, known throughout southwestern Michigan as one of the spectacular fall activities, will be staged. A street parade will be one of the biggest numbers on the program when young and old will mask and join in the street parade. The famous Snollagaster band will lead the procession which will include in addition to costumes of every variety a number of floats. Awards will be made to the best costumes of the parade.

The streets are to be bordered with booths dressed in hallowe'en attire and lighted with lanterns. Free acts, music galore and other jolly features are being planned to make the evening a lively one. Dancing will follow the parade. Profits from the concessions will go toward the American Legion building fund.

EDUCATORS PRAISE LOCAL PUBLICATION

H. C. STARK ELECTED AS CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS ASSOCIATION

Unqualified praise for the publication of "The Microphone" was heard at the meeting of the Berrien county association of school superintendents at their dinner meeting last Friday at Berrien Springs.

The session was held at the noon hour in the Hotel Wren and was preceded by a chicken dinner. Discussions and plans for future meetings occupied the remainder of the afternoon. "Methods of School News" was one of the principal subjects occupying the session. Very favorable comments upon Buchanan high school's publication, "The Microphone" printed each week as a section of the Berrien County Record, were heard, according to the report from Superintendent Stark. Superintendent Shelter of Watervliet expressed his intention of attempting a similar scheme in his town.

The superintendents decided to discontinue the county school publication. The problem of getting timely news and publishing it at an early date was the biggest cause for discontinuance. A financial report of the paper was heard with a small amount of money remaining from last year's management.

"The Microphone" is written and edited by the upper classmen of Buchanan high school under the supervision of faculty advisors. Publication of their prepared copy is carried on by the Berrien County Record, an entire page, which is a newspaper in itself, appears in the Record each week.

Superintendent Stark was elected chairman of the superintendents association of the county at the election of officers. This is the only office which the organization has.

The next meeting was scheduled for Buchanan on Dec. 9. Watervliet will be the meeting place for the February session and Niles for April. Initiation of superintendents into the association and also into the national fraternity "Little Yellow Dog" will be a feature of the next session here.

More than a dozen superintendents were present at the Berrien Springs gathering. Superintendents L. L. Close of Coloma, E. P. Clark of St. Joseph, R. R. Shelter of Watervliet, T. V. Eddy of Three Oaks, C. F. Door of Galien, M. H. Shearer of Stevensville, L. B. LaSalle of Baroda, Earl Berry of New Troy, E. L. Stewart of Berrien Springs, Garry C. Taft of Eau Claire, H. Crawford of Niles and H. C. Stark of Buchanan were present.

BUCHANAN MAN SENT TO COUNTY JAIL FOR 30 DAYS

One Buchanan man was among those who received sentences from Judge Charles E. White this week. Isaac Hawkins having been sentenced on a liquor charge. A 30 day visit to the county jail was meted out to him for selling liquor.

During the last two weeks Judge Charles E. White of the Berrien county circuit court has sentenced 33 prisoners. The major portion of these were violators of the liquor laws. Fines paid into the court by those convicted in criminal trials totalled $2,860 to date and the amount will be much higher before the close of the September term. Deputy sheriffs last Friday were for Ionia and Jackson prisons.

Among the wives and husbands who secured their freedom from the circuit court this week were: Gustav Schfichtenberg of Berrien Springs from Ernestine Schwick; tenberg on charges of cruelty; six wives and two husbands were granted divorces.

Tomorrow night Loyal Workers class of the Church of Christ will have a masked party at the home of Chas. Mutchler, north of town. Halloween festivities will occupy the young married people during the evening.

C.O.F.C. TAKES STEPS TOWARD SOLVING HOUSING PROBLEM

BOYS' SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAS PLANE RIDE

We have not written about our big class of boys in the Church of Christ for a long time. But here is something worth writing about for sure this time.

The boys had a big contest. For attendance each boy would get a free chance on an airplane ride. For a new member four chances were given. The tickets were boxed and on drawing day the winning ticket was taken from over 200. Oren Glassel was the lucky boy. Gerald Hemphill had more tickets than any other boy. Lorin Johnston, George Meyers and Oren too, had the highest number of chances.

The boys had written a letter to Lindy himself to come, every boy in the class signed the letter, but so far Lindy hasn't seen the letter or hasn't come at least. So over to the Niles Airway the class went and told the pilot just how it came about. He was delighted. Oren and Ken Kennedy, leader of the organization, entered the plane and from the start there was no thought of fear. Both say it was wonderful.

Now there is an Airplane Ride fund to be made up right along. As soon as the $5 is collected for the purpose, tickets will be drawn again.

This is a lively class. Things keep going. Always some special attraction.

LUCY BROCEUS DIES SUNDAY

HAD BEEN ACTIVE IN CHURCH WORK FOR MANY YEARS

The death of Mrs. Lucy Ann Broceus on Sunday afternoon brought an end to a life that had been filled with unusual activity in church work for many years in this city.

Mrs. Broceus was the daughter of Daniel and Mary Kauffman and was born in Augusta township, Northumberland, Pa., on Nov. 4, 1846. Forty-four years ago she came to Buchanan and had lived here ever since. Her husband has been dead for several years. She died Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at the age of 78 years and 11 months.

She was especially active in church work among the Evangelical parish, having been a Sunday school teacher in the Sabbath school there for many years. She had ten step children but five survive. They are: Mrs. George Hanley, Mrs. Anselm Wray, Mrs. Helen Fowler of Buchanan; Mrs. J. H. Steiner of Niles and Mrs. S. C. Quint of Carroll, Ia. Several other relatives are living in Buchanan.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Evangelical church with the Rev. W. H. Canfield, pastor, officiating. Pall bearers were selected from the Sunday school class which she had taught for some time. They were: Newton Barnhart, Wesley Swartz, Morris Fowler, John Herman, D. D. Pangborn and Joseph Swartz. Burial was in Oak Ridge cemetery.

BUCHANAN A AND P STORE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

This week the Buchanan branch of the A and P stores is celebrating the 68th anniversary of the founding of the nation-wide firm. Special window decorations and unusual bargains are being offered by the local store, according to San Rouse, manager.

According to the usual custom, the public was asked to participate in the event and will do so in a way that affords many benefits. This participation is made possible by an expression of appreciation for the public's patronage and is typified by drastic reductions in retail food prices during the period of the anniversary celebration.

The idea is singularly unique, in that the company is noted for its unusual low-price policy as a standard business code, and now, in view of the 68th birthday event prices assume even a lower level than the customary popular custom.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company are the acknowledged originators of the chain-store method of doing business. They were the first to willingly conduct a business at a low margin of profit. The company's founder, George Huntington Hartford, believed that the measure of his firm's business success could be entirely determined by the value his patrons received. With the idea in mind of making the consumer's dollar buy more, Mr. Hartford opened his first store on Vesey street, New York City, in the year 1859.

Fern Rollings and Catherine Cook went to Kalamazoo over the week end to visit with Mrs. Ella Rollings, mother of the former.

ASK FINANCIERS AND BUILDERS HERE

FIND BUCHANAN NEEDS IN EXCESS OF 100 HOUSES TO TAKE CARE OF DEMAND

A meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held Monday night at the home of President H. W. Riley and was probably the most interesting meeting of the year since definite action was taken on a program leading to the solution and settlement of matters vital to Buchanan, chief of which is the housing problem.

Norman Kritzer was present and stated that the Clark company is now bringing 250 men and more daily to Buchanan from neighboring towns, who are employed in the company shops; that with the completion of the new buildings the Clark company is now erecting this number will probably be doubled.

A large number of these men would like to move to Buchanan with their families but are unable to do so because houses are not available. Through the past ten years this house shortage has continued despite the fact that hundreds of new houses have been built. Buchanan's growth has been constant, uninterrupted and all conditions point to a continuation for many years at least. This growth has been seriously hampered, however, by the failure of the community to get behind a definite building program and to balance the building of houses with the demand. It is the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce to correct this deficiency by lending its active support to a building program, steps being taken at this meeting to put such a program in force.

Through the invitation of Secretary A. W. Charles, a South Bend contractor was invited here Monday and the day was spent in making an analysis of the local situation. This contractor, who has been a very large builder in the South Bend field, has satisfied himself that the demand here is real, that an active market is here for houses, that investment in an extensive building program is sound. He is ready to invest his own money to the extent of one-third of the cost and his tentative program contemplates the building of fifteen modern houses costing from $3,000 up as his first unit. The Record understands that an option was made on fifteen lots in Liberty Heights addition and that a further option is asked on an additional block of fifteen lots.

To further finance his program this builder asks community aid through the building and loan plan and it is understood that the Industrial Building and Loan is ready to aid so far as it is able.

The program is too large, however, for the local company to finance in its entirety and it is the consensus of opinion of the Chamber of Commerce directors that the offer made by Robert C. Dexters, secretary of the People's Savings association, of Kalamazoo, to furnish the building of a number of houses here, should be accepted.

The Record understands that should this company come into the local field it would furnish from its own funds approximately fifty per cent of the money required and would expect to obtain the balance from the sale of stock in its company. There could be no objection to this since the money so raised would be invested in Buchanan and would be all to Buchanan's benefit. Buyers of the stock would realize six per cent on their investment.

At the present time there is not far from $300,000 of Buchanan earned money invested in out of town and out of state building and loan associations' stock. Not one dollar of this money, aside from the interest earnings, comes back to Buchanan. This is a deplorable condition, since it operates against community prosperity and growth. Buchanan money is now going out in large monthly installments toward the building up of other communities. It is the purpose of the Buchanan Chamber of Commerce to correct this condition so far as it is able and to induce these investors to place their surplus earnings in stocks of such companies as will use its funds in the Buchanan field. With this thought in mind the directorate of the Chamber of Commerce has invited the aid of the Kalamazoo company.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce are meeting every Monday night in its office and extends a cordial invitation to all citizens to attend its meetings and to present such matters as may properly come before the organization.

New books added to the library this week include several notable biographies along with a volume of fun by Will Rogers.

SOCIAL EVENTS

TRIO OF BRIDGE PARTIES
A number of parties with unusual color schemes are being given at the George Foresman home on Detroit street this week with Mrs. Foresman and Mrs. Harold Stark as hostesses.

Thursday evening a dinner was given when eleven couples were entertained at a six o'clock dinner and evening of bridge. Prize winners for the Thursday event were Mrs. Glenn Smith, first, and Mrs. J. A. White, second. Among the men C. D. Arnold was first and G. S. Easton second.

The five tables were laid in a green and gold color scheme, place cards, scorecards and favors being all in green and gold. The nut-cup were in the same colors as were the candlesticks and tableware. Green crystal ware was conspicuous among the table furnishings.

A group of 24 women was entertained yesterday at a one o'clock luncheon by Mrs. Foresman and Mrs. Stark. Prize winners were Mrs. Lon Howe, first and Mrs. C. D. Kent, second.

Tomorrow afternoon at two fifteen o'clock the Foresman home will again be the scene for an afternoon of bridge when 28 women will be guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson of Berrien Springs entertained a group of people at their home on Sunday at dinner. Guests were: Mr. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Francis Wilson of Berrien Springs; Mrs. Cassler of Marcellus; Mrs. Maude Pennell of Stockton, Calif.

MORTUARY

MRS. LYDIA OCHENRIDER
Lydia Ochenrider, daughter of John and Katherine Lingle, was born in Center county, Pennsylvania, August 25, 1888, and to this union eight children were born; one died when a small child, and the rest survive. They are: Mrs. Elsie Auman of Spring Mills, Pa.; Mrs. Elizabeth Hoag and Wesley Ochenrider, both of South Bend; Mrs. Bessie Henry of Lansing, Mich.; John Ochenrider, Mrs. Katherine McGowan and Miss Martha Ochenrider, all of Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ochenrider lived in Center County, Pa., until about 28 years ago when they came to Michigan and settled near Berrien Springs where they resided about 18 years and in 1917 they came to Buchanan. Mr. Ochenrider preceded her in death June 17, 1923, and since that time Mrs. Buchanan; one sister, Mrs. Louise Ochenrider had been in failing health.

Besides her children she is survived by three brothers: Henry and Samuel Lingle of Spring Mills, Pa., and William Lingle of the Evangelical church of Buchanan, officiating. Interment took place beside her husband in the Salem church cemetery.

Funeral services were held in the Salem Lutheran church at Buchanan, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Oct. 25th, 1927. Rev. W. H. Camfield, pastor of the Evangelical church of Buchanan, officiating. Interment took place beside her husband in the Salem church cemetery.

For Important Occasions

Not only can you "do it better" with a gas range, but you can do it with less effort and hard work and with more accurate results. The secret of efficiency in the modern gas range is the oven heat control regulator which automatically keeps the heat of the oven at exactly the right degree of heat for whatever you are cooking. It leaves nothing for you to think about—as nothing can burn or undercook with this loyal watchman seeing to the oven and thus releasing you from that hot, tiring job!

Wyman's November Sale of Silks and Woolens

Starts Saturday October 29th

Here is another one of those value-giving events that makes Wyman's yard goods department famous. Thousands of yards of silks, velvets and woolens are offered — starting Saturday — at greatly reduced prices. Bolt after bolt of the very newest and most fashionable fall and winter fabrics you will find at November sale savings.

So come in Saturday and pick out materials for a new dress or two to go with your new winter coat — or for dresses for the children. The sale lasts throughout November, but the sooner you come, the better your selection.

A few of the many bargains—

- $2.50 Crepe Satin $1.98
Crepe satin — the smart fabric for both afternoon and evening wear — has a lustrous sheen and comes in new fall colors and black. Formerly $2.50 at $1.98 yd.
- $1.79 Crepe Gloria $1.59
This is a lovely silk crepe for lingerie for it comes in light colors and is washable. Crepe Gloria also comes in street colors. Formerly $1.79 at $1.59 yd.
- Velvet Values
Imported French chiffon velvet is 36 inches wide and comes in black only. Formerly $3.95 at $3.69 yd.
Transparent velvet is one of the newest and smartest winter fabrics. This is 40 inches wide and comes in black only. Formerly $8.95 at $7.95 yd.
Imported costume velvet fashions many things — from sports frocks to evening wraps! It comes in all fall shades and black. 27 in. width, formerly $1.95 at $1.88 yd.; 36 in. width formerly $2.95 at $2.69 yd.
- Fall Woolens $1.88
This group of woolens include such fashionable fall fabrics as all wool batiste, wool jersey, French serge, rayon and wool mixture and hair line serge. $1.88 yd.
- $2.95 Wool Crepe $2.48
An innovation in the wool mode is this feather-weight wool crepe. It is 54 inches wide and comes in good fall colors. Formerly $2.95 at $2.48 yd.
- $1.95 Taffeta $1.69
New changeable color combinations in glace chiffon taffeta will give you inspirations for Christmas gifts! Formerly $1.95 at $1.69 yd.
- French Serge $1.29
42 inch all wool French serge comes in the wanted fall colors. A very good value at $1.29 yd.

Four Papers Read at Weekly Meeting at the Vanderslice Home

An unusually interesting afternoon when a variety of subjects were discussed with papers was presented by thirty club members on Monday at the home of Mrs. D. L. Vanderslice. "What I Am Going to Do When I Have Time" was the topic members responded to roll call with. Members also joined in the singing of Tennyson's "Sweet and Low."

The review of the club's study book on American Government, was presented by Miss Georgia Wilcox with chapters 5 to 8 covered. "The Magazine as a Moulder of Public Opinion" was the subject of a paper prepared and read by Mrs. Melvin Campbell.

"Homes of Famous Americans" was the subject of a paper read by Mrs. Enos Schram and prepared by Mrs. Robert Franklin. The description of the birthplace of both Lincoln and Washington was included. Mrs. Glenn Heim presented a paper on "Hereditary or Environment" which members reported not only was well prepared but was stimulating to thinking along present day social problems.

A report on the convention of the Federation of Women's clubs held recently at Saginaw was also read.

Mrs. Fred Moyer will be hostess to the club next Monday, Oct. 31.

B. G. U. SORORITY TO AID LOCAL UNITED CHARITIES

At the regular business and social meeting of the Beta Gamma Upsilon Sorority held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Doris Reams it was decided to hold the annual candy, baked goods and apron sale, Saturday, Nov. 19th. The money raised at the sale will go to the United Charities for local use. Following the discussion of several other important matters the remainder of the evening was devoted to playing bridge. Marie Dempsey held high score. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Norwegian Novelist and Music Included in the Monday Club Program

More than 40 women were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. C. Rehn on Main street Monday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Monday club when "Guest Day" was celebrated.

A short program of music and a book review by the Rev. Harry Staver formed the entertainment for the afternoon.

Musical numbers consisted of a piano duet by Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mrs. E. C. Pascoe. Hoffmann's "Barcarolle" and "Whispering Hope" were their contribution to the entertainment. Two vocal numbers were sung by Mrs. E. H. Ormiston.

A review of the Norwegian novelist's work "Great Hunger" by Bojer, was given by the Rev. Staver. In his comprehensive review the speaker traced the tragedy of the hero's life from birth to manhood and told how in the end the hero who had doubted the existence of God found the solution in doing good to others, when each created God for himself. The tragedy of the novel was vividly brought out by the speaker.

Following the program a social hour was held with refreshments served. The guests and club members were entertained with chrysanthemums of yellow and white shades as the background along with fall leaves of brilliant hues.

W. C. T. U. SEND DELEGATES TO TWO BIG CONVENTIONS

Mrs. W. F. Runner has gone to Battle Creek where she will be the representative of the local W. C. T. U. at the state convention convening in that city from Oct. 25 to 28 inclusive. While attending the state meeting she will also visit relatives and friends at Battle Creek.

A number of women were in attendance at the Fourth district convention of the W. C. T. U. from Buchanan. It was held at Benton Harbor last week Tuesday and Wednesday.

Representatives who went from here were Miss Mae Mills, president of the local organization, Mrs. Melinda Mills, Mrs. Newton Barnhart, Mrs. D. D. Pangborn, and Mrs. H. D. Smith.

BOY SCOUTS, TROOP TWO ELECT OFFICERS MONDAY

Troop Two, Boy Scouts of America met in the basement of the Presbyterian church Monday night with Scoutmaster A. B. Muir directing the activities. Following the usual program of games the boys enjoyed a lunch of sandwiches, doughnuts, pickles and cocoa.

Election of officers followed, resulting as follows: Junior Assistant Scout Master, Paul Easton.

Senior Patrol Leader, Harold Pierce.

Patrol Leaders, Sheldon Ryan, Roger Thompson, Harold Knight and Leo Boyce.

Scribe, Raymond Reed. The troop meets Monday nights in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

PANCAKE PARTY

The kind of pancakes like mother used to make have been promised by women of the M. E. Ladies Aid society when they entertain the public with their annual griddle cake feed next Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

The supper this year will be both better and bigger than the one of last year, with preparations being made to serve an unusually large number of hungry people. No appetite is too large for the women to attempt to satisfy.

The serving will begin at 5 o'clock and the menu will also include sausages. More than 200 people were served last year.

BETHANY HOLDS PARTY

A masquerade is being planned for tomorrow evening for the Bethany class of the Methodist Episcopal church when members of the group will attend the festivities dressed as spooks. All the games, fun and food necessary to make the party a successful Halloween celebration will be part of the evening.

M. S. C. ALUMNI BANQUET

Several members of the Michigan State college Alumni association from Buchanan journeyed north Tuesday night for a Halloween party in the Hairplane auditorium at Benton Harbor.

A pot luck dinner was served, preceding the evening of fun. Dan W. Mather is president of the county association.

HILL CLIMBERS CLASS MEET

The Hill Climbers class of the Methodist church will be entertained at the home of Miss Zeldia Leiter on Theoda Court Monday evening. Members of the group will come masked for the evening of fun.

S. S. GROUP GIVE PROGRAM

The Little Herald's held their promotion day exercises Sunday at the Evangelical church during the Sunday school hour. A short program was given in the presence of parents and teachers.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet Wednesday, Nov. 2, at the home of Mrs. C. D. Kent for the regular session. Reports of both the Branch and District conventions held recently will be heard. Mrs. Emma Knight will review chapters in the society's study book "A Straight Way Toward Tomorrow."

The Jeannette Stevenson Guild will hold their regular business and social meeting next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Kelsey Bainton, with Mrs. Lloyd Sands acting as assistant hostess. Mrs. L. Campbell will have charge of the devotionals. Entertainment will be in charge of Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Stults.

at the home of Mrs. Phil Dille. Regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors Friday evening, Oct. 28. Halloween fun for all.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. J. R. Semple Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

The O. C. O class of the M. E. Sunday school will enjoy a Halloween party Saturday evening.

SNAP, STRATEGY BRING VICTORY

BUCHANAN GETS 24 TO 7 WIN OVER THREE OAKS IN GAME SATURDAY

"Beat Three Oaks" cried Buchanan high and the first team did, in a scrappy game to the tune of 24 to 7 last Saturday. The first team line has tightened and got some snappy plunger to help the backfield strategy.

Captain Wilson of Three Oaks, came to give our team a grinning with the aid of McGuire who was so thoughtfully covered throughout the game that he made but one yard gain. Wilson's best man was Heckathorne, left half back, who made Three Oaks' only touchdown, and a good portion of their gains.

The "Fightin' Outfit" received the ball on its twenty-five yard line and opened up with Wilcox making two yards around the right end, Savoldi four yards around left end, Pierce three yards around right end and a punt out of danger to McGuire who was recovered through a fumble on Three Oaks' twenty-five yard line. Pierce and Savoldi carried the ball to the twelve yard line by end runs for a first down. Pierce and Savoldi again alternated and Pierce went over the goal. Pierce failed in his four attempts to make goal kicks.

Buchanan again received the ball on its forty-five yard line. Clem Savoldi made five yards through right tackle, Wynn four through left tackle, and Savoldi ran around end to Three Oaks' thirty yard line, making a down. Buchanan made another first down but lost the ball to Francis by a fumble, on Three Oaks' twenty-seven yard line.

Pette recovered the ball on Three Oaks' fifteen yard line from a fumble. Buchanan was penalized five yards for backfield motion and five more for over time in the huddle but made first down by Wilcox running ten yards around right end, Savoldi five around left and Pierce seven through right tackle.

Three Oaks took time out and substituted Weed for Francis. Buchanan was penalized five yards again for backfield motion, but put the ball over for a touchdown in the next four plays, Savoldi going around left end. He was injured in this play but refused to quit.

Three Oaks received the ball on its forty-two yard line but soon punted to Buchanan's five yard line, as they could not advance. The first quarter ended Buchanan, 12, Three Oaks, 0.

Three Oaks received a punt from Pierce on Buchanan's twenty-yard line, losing nineteen yards in the next three plays, and punting over the goal the ball was brought out to the twenty yard line.

The rest of the second quarter was uneventful except for Savoldi's being injured and replaced by Morse. Clem was taken to Dr. Wallace who reported no broken bones but a badly sprained back and chest. The half ended with the score Buchanan 12, Three Oaks 0.

The third quarter found Wilcox back at left half. Three Oaks received and soon punted to Buchanan's forty-six yard line. The next play, a pass, the ball was intercepted by Heckathorne, who ran fifty five yards for a touchdown, being well guarded and having a clear field ahead. Schneider made the extra point by a line plunge.

Buchanan received the ball on its forty-one yard line and was penalized for over time in the huddle and lost the ball by a fumble on her own twenty-four yard line.

Three Oaks tried two passes, the second one being intercepted by Letcher on our twenty-three yard line. Buchanan made one down and punted to Three Oaks' twenty-five yard line. Cooper replaced Morse. Three Oaks punted and Cooper caught the ball and ran fifty five yards for a touchdown. Pierce missed the point after goal.

Three Oaks got the ball on their forty yard line but soon fumbled and lost the ball on the thirty-seven yard line and the "Fightin' Outfit" marched the ball down the field and Cooper made a touchdown that did not count because the time was up for the third quarter but the gun wouldn't go off.

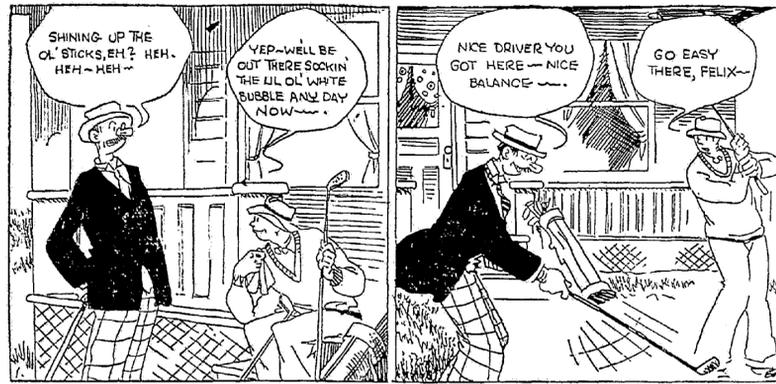

The fourth quarter soon saw the ball put over for another touchdown by Wynn.

The remainder of the game was uneventful, except for Pierce's being kicked in the head and coming back for more.

The final score stands Buchanan 24, Three Oaks 7. Each team is to be commended for its sportsmanlike play.

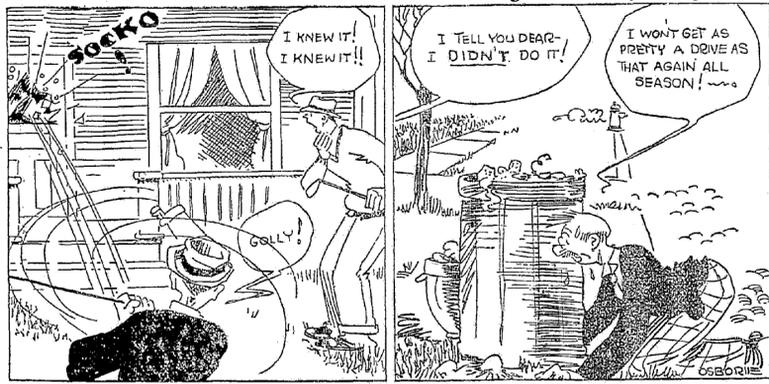

The dope is as follows: Yards made by Buchanan players, Wynn 6 times for 24 yards, average 4 yards; Wilcox 8 times for 42 yards, average 5 1/4 yards; Cooper 4 times for 73 yards, average 18 1/2 yards; Pierce 18 times, 83 yards, average 4 1/2 yards; Savoldi 12 times for 74 yards, average 6 and one-sixths yards; Morse 2 yards; total yards, Buchanan, 298. Three Oaks' yards: Weed 2 times, average 3 1/2 yards; McGuire 1 yard; Heckathorne 6

CROWDS ATTEND PRIMARY DRAMA

CAPACITY AUDIENCE NETS $125 FOR SCHOOL'S PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT

Unusual success marked the presentation of the playlet "Alice in Mothergooseland" by the 200 children of the first and second grades Friday evening in the auditorium of the high school which was crowded to capacity.

An audience described as one of the largest ever to assemble for such an occasion in Buchanan sent the ticket sale up to $148. After all expenses have been deducted for the remainder of the money will go toward the purchase of playground equipment, greatly needed at Dewey avenue school. About $125 will be cleared. Swings and feteers will be purchased with the profits.

The entertainment itself was strictly a home product, the play having been written, the costumes designed and the drama directed and produced by teachers and pupils. Teachers of the first two grades were directly responsible for the success of the evening, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Pennell, principal.

The making of the costumes for the 200 children was no small item toward the success of the play. The originality of the 60 mother goose characters was commented on by the audience many times and served as a source of much amusement.

The showing of the whole motley crowd of people from the Mother goose poems was not the end of the surprise but many of the animals from the stories were also brought onto the stage. The disgorging of children into many sorts of animals was done perfectly, rabbits, kittens, goose, chickens not even being too difficult to impersonate.

The theme of the play centered about the idea of Alice of Wonderland fame going for a trip to Mother Goose land where she is shown all the characters of the rhymes by Mother Goose herself. The plot was such as could be played naturally by the children.

As the characters appeared on the stage a chorus of youngsters sang the favorite old rhymes. A kindergarten band furnished fifteen minutes or so of fun preceding the staging of the play itself. They were dressed in uniform green band suits and played instruments varying from baby rattles to horseshoes.

A quartet of girls, students of Mrs. Mary Grace Mohm, attired in Indian costumes gave an interpretation of the native dances as a special number between acts. The entire performance was thoroughly enjoyed by the parents and older brothers and sisters of the children, and was given many words of praise from the lifting of the curtain for the prologue to the final appearance of the ten o'clock scholar.

ROLL OF HONOR RULES ALTERED

KINDERGARTEN BAND AND PLAY CHARACTERS ENTERTAIN THE ASSEMBLY

The leap into the coveted list of honor students has been made more difficult than ever with the placing of other than academic subjects on the list of necessary grades, according to announcements made by Principal E. H. Ormiston in the weekly assembly Friday.

Monthly honor roll records take into consideration physical education, chorus, orchestra and other subjects. Students, however, receiving grades less than B will be eligible for the honorable mention list if the average reaches B.

The fore part of the assembly was taken up with the children who took part in the Mother Goose entertainment at the high school Friday evening. Introduced by Miss Lois Milburn, the kindergarten band played several of their musical selections and a number of characters from the playlet itself appeared on the stage.

Announcements and a pep session with speeches occupied the remainder of the assembly period. The announcement was made that Saturday, Oct. 29, the day of the Niles game, had been set aside for Booster Day.

The annual Halloween party will be held in the high school on Saturday night, Oct. 29. This is the annual party given by the student council and is known as a "scalping party."

A pep meeting was held. On the speaking program were: Mr. Miller and Mr. Bradfield, and Mrs. Dunbar of the faculty and Miss Kool, Mr. Wynn, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Knight and Mr. Morse, of the student body.

FRENCH CIRCLE WRITES LETTERS

CORRESPONDENCE CARRIED ON WITH FRENCH YOUNG PEOPLE BY LOCAL CLUB

A program on early French literature and discussion of the Buchanan students corresponding with young people in France were questions occupying the French club at the monthly meeting last night.

The program was as follows: The Middle Ages and the Epic, Robert French; The Lyric and the Romance, Dorothy Wessendorf; The Allegory and the Early Drama, Dorothy Charles; History and Storytelling, Bernice Harroff; Humorous Essay in French, Geo. Wynn; Roll call answered by French proverb.

It has been the custom during the last few years for the students of the French club to correspond with the students in France, who are studying English.

Names and ages of the students were sent to the Fraternite Francaise, which is located in Paris.

They will be sent to the French students who will write to the members of the club. Everyone is anxiously awaiting a letter.

VELMARIANS TALK CURRENT WRITING

POETRY AND BIOGRAPHY DISCUSSED IN THE GATHERING LAST NIGHT

Contemporary writers formed the subjects of the round table discussion and especially prepared papers at last night's monthly meeting of the Velmarian Literary society.

The program was as follows: "Across the Miji in a Canoe," Anita Boyle; "We," Dorothy Charles; "Edwin Arlington Robinson and His Arthurian Poetry," Ronald Wood; round table discussion, Robert French.

The round table discussion consisted of a discussion carried on by the class of "Current Literature," a magazine which comes weekly, and which tells of living writers and their works.

GRADE NEWS

MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTH GRADE ARE SELECTING THEIR CLASS COLORS THIS WEEK. WATCH FOR THEM AT THE GAME, SATURDAY.

New flags are to be bought for the Dewey avenue school rooms.

Much sickness is playing havoc with the per cent of attendance in the grades of late.

The state test put on last week in all rooms below the high school has revealed many facts to the teachers. In many cases our school is above the average. However, at this time, all data has not been computed.

Mrs. Pennell and Mr. Bradfield were invited to the breakfast last Monday morning served by the Home Economics class under the supervision of Miss Skeels. They appreciated this.

We feel that a word of recognition should be given in behalf of the primary teachers who trained the little tots for their Mother Goose play, given last Friday evening. Not only did these teachers spend hours after regular school time, but many nights they worked on the costumes worn by the different characters in the play.

Many words of praise and appreciation were given that night, and when all tickets were sold, and nothing left but standing room the challenge was met with a smile.

Mrs. Fuller's 4th grade had an election. They voted on the best behaved boy and girl in the room. Eleanor Miller was voted the best girl and Dale Boyce and Spencer Kohlman tied for the best boy in the room. The class was studying government in geography so an election was held to give the pupils an idea of voting.

Mrs. Fuller's fourth grade gave an assembly program in the high school auditorium last Tuesday. The program consisted mainly of two plays, one an original play, "School Days" bringing in their regular school work, and the play, "Hallowe'en, at the Back of the World." The fourth, fifth and sixth grades were invited to attend the program.

PEP AND HOT DOGS G. A. A. SPECIALTIES

CIDER AND DOUGHNUTS ARE TO BE SERVED AT THE NILES-BUCHANAN CONTEST

The Girls' Athletic association, an organization whose members consist of all those girls enrolled in the physical education department, is one of the peppiest and most competent groups in the school.

Football games could not be staged without the candy and hot dog salesmen promenadeing the side lines, any more than they could be staged without the teams. They "just aren't complete without candy to buy or nice hot, luscious dogs" with oodles of onions, pickles and mustard upon which to munch.

For the Niles game, Booster Day, cider and doughnuts will be added to the menu. The profits of these sales will be put into a banquet given at the close of the foot ball season for the entire school with the foot ball fellows as guests of honor. A worthwhile speaker will address the audience and a further program will be planned.

Beat Niles, Saturday.

BIG PARADE, SCALPING PARTY TO FEATURE BOOSTER DAY HERE

ENTIRE TOWN TO JOIN IN THE CELEBRATION OF GRIDIRON CONTEST SATURDAY

"Boost Booster Day!" That is all you would hear if you were to listen in on the conversation at the high school. And, come to think of it, why not boost it? Think it over. They need your help.

Niles is to be the opposing force which the Buchanan team will combat on Saturday, Buchanan high school's Booster Day. An elaborate and lengthy program is arranged with originality as its dominating feature; enthusiasm its keynote of success. Plans are completed to make the program continue during the day and also far into the night.

According to the "dope" on the game, Buchanan should be the victors. But this is not causing the fellows to discontinue their hard work. On the contrary, they are hoping, by constant practice and enthusiastic support, to double their last year's score of 21 to 0.

The activities will start with the parade which will leave the high school at 1:30. The order of march will be: Bicycle patrol, band, Boy Scout Troop No. 1.

DEPARTMENT KEPT BY H. S. STUDENTS

MONITORS KEEP ORDER IN THE CORRIDORS OF THE SCHOOL BETWEEN CLASSES

The system of hall monitors has again been introduced into the high school. This has been carried on in the past years and found to be very efficient.

The duty of the student in charge is to keep order in the halls and to sign the admits of the students going to and from the various class rooms.

Monitors were appointed by the student council and they are as follows: Bessie Bradley, Bertha Desenberg, Bernice Harroff, Irene Imhoff, Mary Louise Drew, Robert French, Inez Denno and Alfred White.

THREE OAKS CONSIDERS BUYING CHAMBERLAIN HOME

A special school election for the purpose of determining whether the school board shall purchase the Chamberlain property of Three Oaks, will be held Monday, Oct. 31, at that school district.

The property, in an ideal location, contains four full lots, the old Henry Chamberlain residence and a large barn. The property has been offered to the school district for the sum of $4,500.

If the lots would be purchased the entire block would be filled out with school property with the exception of the depot property in the northwest corner. The cost of storing school supplies at the fair grounds would be eliminated with the purchase of the property, the buildings being utilized for that purpose.

Soccer, practically a new game to the students of Buchanan high school, is providing an unusually popular sport. The game is one of the many activities of the Physical Education department and in spite of its newness is one of the most popular sports.

Teams are being organized and every possible minute is occupied with hard practice. An early start enables the teams to engage in real competitive games early in the spring. The fundamentals of the game are already safely lodged in the minds of the players.

SCHOOL CONTRACT LET

FOR GAMES STAGED EARLY IN THE SPRING

The contract for New Troy's $75,000 school building will be let on November 9, according to the decision of members of the school board.

Among the builders who are interested in securing the contract are several who specialize in the erection of schools, it is said.

GREAT MYSTERY SURROUNDS PLAYS FOR ANNUAL PARTY SATURDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

The annual high school Halloween party is to be staged in the gym, Saturday, October 29, at eight o'clock.

If a visitor happened to stroll through the corridors of the high school he would notice little groups of students congregated in different corners whispering rather mysteriously and upon listening to their conversation he would discover that they were talking over their stunts.

A great deal of competition is expected between the classes and the girls, as there is a prize to be given for the "cleverest stunt." They hope to make this party a celebration of their victory over Niles. Everyone is looking forward to a "wow" of a good time.

Civic pride is an emotion every one who pretends to be a good citizen should feel. It should be an important factor in their minds and should be obvious on all possible occasions.

Pride in the public institutions of the city figures prominently in the life of the community. These institutions represent the entire populus and their functions are vital to the reputation and progression of the town. The statement that a town is judged by its school cannot be denied, for the activities of the school make it necessary for them to meet other schools and go to other towns. Their conduct on these occasions determines the sort of town from which they come.

The high school foot ball team consists of fellows who are clean and square and who fight to the last minute. The student body backing them is loyal and constantly lauding the glory of the team. But this should not satisfy the people of a thriving community. Their pride should make them want to come to every game held on the high school foot ball field. The team has a right to expect the townspeople to back them and to be the most enthusiastic rooters in the stands to cheer for a winning team.

On Saturday Buchanan high school holds its Booster Day, occasioned by the game with Niles. This is an excellent opportunity for everyone to show his loyalty to their school. The students are making every possible effort to make this a "big" thing, and to make it the gala day of the foot ball season. As far as the ability of the team is concerned, it is Buchanan's victory; but they cannot hope to win alone. It is a fact proved by much experience that the eleven fellows on the field reflect to a great extent, the enthusiasm displayed on the side lines.

This is to be the hardest battle of the year and the team needs the whole hearted support of every person in Buchanan and they hope to have it.

MEDICAL MEN TO TALK HERE

STUDENT BODY WILL HEAR SERIES OF FIVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURES

Buchanan high school has succeeded in completing a schedule of health lectures which will be given during the regular three hour assembly on Friday mornings at 9:50 o'clock. These talks are being provided by the Ann Arbor office of the Joint Committee on Public Health Education, and are accompanied by studies sent directly from this institution.

The purpose of the joint committee is to present to the public the fundamental facts of modern scientific medicine for the purpose of building up sound public opinion relative to the questions of public and private health. It is concerned in bringing the truth to the people, not in supporting or attacking any school or theory of medical practice. It will send out teachers, not advocates. With this as their aim it is obvious that these lectures will be beneficial to the outsiders as well as to the students. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these talks.

The program as is now planned, is as follows: Nov. 4, Dr. Robert Henderson of Niles, "Joseph Lister"; Dec. 2, Dr. J. J. McDermott, St. Joseph, "Louis Pasteur"; Jan. 6, Dr. E. J. Witt, St. Joseph, "Walter Reed"; Feb. 3, Dr. C. A. Mitchell, Benton Harbor, "Edward Jenner"; March 2, Dr. H. J. Zurell, Benton Harbor, "Edward Freedman."

"OPEN SCHOOL" TO BE NOVEMBER 10

PARENTS TO VISIT A REGULAR SCHOOL SESSION ON THURSDAY NIGHT

Thursday evening, November 10, will be Open School Night. Starting at seven the afternoon schedule will be run off in three thirty minute periods. General assembly will be held in the auditorium at eight-thirty with all the high school and Junior high present. Many departments will have their Fall's work on exhibition.

The object of the Open Night school is to bring about a better cooperation between the home and the school. This is accomplished to some extent, by making it possible for the parents to see the children under the regular conditions thus realizing better what the pupil of today has to cope with.

All parents and patrons are cordially invited to attend.

"DIRECT PRIMARY" IS THE SUBJECT FOR DEBATERS

MATERIAL FOR THE WORK IN DEBATING IN THE PUBLIC SPEAKING DEPARTMENT HAS ARRIVED AND THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE DEBATE SPEECHES IS WELL UNDER WAY. THOUGH THERE IS BUT ONE PERSON ON THE SQUAD WHO HAS HAD DEBATING EXPERIENCE, SO MUCH INTEREST HAS BEEN AROUSED ALONG THIS LINE THAT SUCCESS IS APPARENT. A SCHEDULE OF PRACTICE DEBATES IS BEING PLANNED TO PREPARE FOR THE INTER-SCHOLASTIC DEBATES TO FOLLOW.

The question, Resolved: That the Direct Primary system of nominating candidates for public office in the United States, should be abolished, is a very interesting and critical one which will undoubtedly afford pleasure and education for the audience as well as the speakers.

BUCHANAN'S WONDER STORY

There is a sweet faced little twelve year old girl in New York city who writes exquisite poetry and who has captured the hearts of great literary critics. She writes profound verses on a blind girl or again will scribble naively about the janitor's boy. A group of bespectacled critics came to the little girl's home in Brooklyn one day to find out if she really did compose poems. But Nathalia Crane behaved as equally un-ladylike as the ignorant critics by finally leaving the room. At a banquet once she was one of the group of great living American poets invited. We were afterwards told by Margaret Widdemer, who was one of those present, that the little girl didn't care a fig about all the high-hatted talk but played with her pretty little paper favor instead. So she goes on writing pure poetry unspoiled and indifferent to all criticism and praise.

Buchanan's story of a child equally as interesting has much that is parallel to the New York story. Marvin Paul Gross is a little boy just past ten who in his musical talent remains as equally unspoiled. He speaks as naively of his musical studies as any other boy about town would explain his most recently acquired toy. He is as enthusiastic and earnest in his study of the great composers as others are with foot ball tactics.

There is an old saw about authors and musicians being white whiskered, egotistical, odd individuals, which the most ignorant and egotistical and self-satisfied of people perpetrate. Nowhere are there greater contradictions to this idea than in the lives of children like Nathalia Crane and Marvin Gross.

Something of the balance, rhythm and harmony of music, for instance, seems to have entered into Marvin's life. Mathematical precision, that necessary companion of music, has become a part of him. He arises methodically at six every morning for an hour's technical practise. In the evening he returns again to his piano to work on his own compositions, just for pure joy.

As for jazz, a popular ballad is as near as he ever approaches it.

Music to him is neither to be placed on a shelf and forgotten nor is it something to be distorted into a barbaric racket. It seems incredible that a boy so young should understand so clearly the true meaning of music. Recognition is bound to come to one who is so talented.

GOBLINS AND GHOSTS

Here's a story of a "witch" living in the district between the North Sea and the Baltic who was accused recently of causing the death of a pig.

We don't need to go across the ocean to find witchcraft. Superstitions just as ridiculous as witches and fairies and goblins are to be found right here in our own back yards. Our lives are full of it.

The housewife in her kitchen has some sort of a fable about the spilling of salt. The lover has a belief about dreams of marriage foretelling death, the farmer has some rite about planting in the dark of the moon. As for religion, it is filled with hundreds of fables manufactured by the ignorant people of the Dark Ages. Our whole life has been tainted with it since man first stood on his feet and walked out of the forest.

We dedicate a whole evening to goblins and ghosts. To show how closely these superstitions cling to us, next Monday night we will bob for apples and drink cider, and celebrate Hallowe'en as our ancestors in England and Scotland did centuries ago. It seems strange that such a trivial game of bobbing for apples could stay with man for such a long period. No wonder that superstitions, with all their mystery, have remained too.

There is an abandon and pageantry about Hallowe'en evening which will probably linger with us long after superstitions have vanished.

TAXES VS. LIBERTY

That there is growing sentiment in this nation against unnecessarily high taxes, the constant passage of innumerable laws and ordinances, the establishment of new boards, bureaus and commissions and extension of government control over the individual and private business, is evidenced by comment appearing all over the country.

At elections people cast a decided "No" vote against measures which pile up expense or restrict individual activity. Editorial comment on the situation is widespread. Public officials openly express opinions on the subject which have been deemed political suicide a few years ago. The underlying thought seems to be that there has been a tendency to drift away from our original simple form of government which gave us the spiritual and individual freedom that made possible our enormous material prosperity.

Not many people believed in the creed written by Thomas Jefferson 151 years ago. His principles became the ferment that for good or evil made us what we are. The rules of conduct laid down by the idealistic Virginian form a doctrine which cannot be forgotten or ignored. They are simple and but two in number:

All men are created equal and are endowed with inalienable rights to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. Brief and plain, but all the libraries of political philosophy could have said nothing more moving. Washington's military talents made it possible to test the truth of Jefferson's principles. The importance of the initiative you show cannot be underestimated, but bigger than any man is the American which liberates every child to go as far as his native talents will carry him.

A century and a half have demonstrated the worth of freedom to us and to our country.

HUMAN NATURE THE SAME

More than 250 hunters took to the woods this week from Buchanan alone, when the ban was lifted on rabbit, pheasant and squirrel hunting.

Though only a few days will be given to those hunting the latter two, the rabbit season will extend into the winter. It is small game that gunners will search for during the coming days.

Once Buchanan was a wilderness, deeply covered with forests, through which migrants made their way with axe. Dangerous animals once lurked in the shadow of the forests about McCoy's creek. Old residents recall their childhood days when a horse must be driven rapidly through the rough roads to prevent wild cats from dropping down from a tree. Wolves fifty years ago attacked the farmers' sheep. The buffalo fled to the far off plains, where after slaughter in untold numbers it became extinct. The deer, that at one time, crashed through the clearings to drink the waters from McCoy's stream, have gone too.

Buffalo, deer, wildcat hunting is gone, and gunners must content themselves with the smaller animals.

Compare a sportsman of today going off for a day in the woods, with his ancestors. He decks himself out with the paraphernalia necessary to get a bag full. No longer is a gun and powder horn the only equipment. There is the automobile. It takes him to the woods, gives him shelter in case of a storm and brings him home safely to his fireside.

The hunter as well as the hunted have changed, yet the joy of getting out into the open air and the sport of gunning remains the same.

Among other things man seems to have lost is the old-fashioned Saturday night haircut.

What has become of the old-fashioned guy who thought that eighteen dollars was too much to pay for a winter suit?

Talk of winter coats. People covering their porch boxes with newspapers. Little boys begging for high top shoes and leather jackets. Everybody entertaining attacks of colds. Coal shovelers busy. Days getting shorter. Trees getting gayer foliage every day.

Learning Love's ABC

And school begins again today! . . . Though years have swiftly sped away, Sweetheart, don't you remember? Don't you recall the long ago (When you and I were young, you know)— That morning in September?

Have you forgotten how I tried So hard to get a seat beside, In front of, or behind you? Don't you remember what I wrote In that first ardent little note, Or must I now remind you?

Remember how I failed to know Where any of the rivers flow— Or when or why or whether? Do you recall that afternoon (For me it ended all too soon!) When we walked home together?

Oh, little did we realize That what we saw through lovers' eyes Was wisdom Nature brought us! But here we are today, and know That things we dreamed of years ago Mean more than what was taught us.

HAPPENINGS HERE LONG AGO

FIFTY YEARS AGO
 The old question of moving the county seat was brought before the board of supervisors at their meeting last week. It was talked about to some extent. Should it be moved it will no doubt go to the place that is the most liberal in the matter of buildings. The best place, no doubt, as far as railroad facilities are concerned would be New Buffalo.

Niles and Buchanan will probably make the more decisive efforts to obtain it on the South and Benton Harbor and St. Joseph on the north. But for either of the last two there arises the difficulty of being in the extreme part of the county. It would be a short time before those in the opposite part would be moving for a division of the county. This would be very foolish.

Our plan would be to build a railroad from Benton Harbor to St. Joseph across the county, thru Berrien Springs and let the county seat remain where it is. A road would cost but little more than a new set of buildings.

Levi Binns and wife are as proud as anybody of their eight pound baby boy. He dates his earthly career from Thursday, Oct. 11, 1877.

Mr. Alexander has received his commission as postmaster and possession last Monday. Mr. Merrill, who has been in a great hurry to get away, started Tuesday for Independence, Kansas.

Judge Ray had a damp time for his temperance lecture last Tuesday. But few were out.

Standings for the high school students for the last month are as follows: Seniors, Maria Wells with scholastic standing of 8.8; Juniors, Ed. Bartmess with standing of 9.6; Freshmen, Fred Howe with standing of 9.3. Annie Cummings preceptress. There is a total of 376 pupils now enrolled, according to the report from W. W. Ray, superintendent.

Most of the boys have gathered in a good supply of walnuts and butternuts for the long winter evenings, as their black hands will testify.

Rejoice Ye! Short dresses are becoming fashionable and the ladies will no longer be obliged to swing the bottom of that garment over their shoulders when walking on the streets. They have every reason to rejoice.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
 The Buchanan and Bertrand Sunday school convention was in session last Saturday and Sunday in Portage Prairie church and the Presbyterian church here. In the afternoon A. A. Worthington gave an address. Mr. Worthington is president of the association.

The Monday club held their regular weekly meeting this week at Mrs. M. Redden's house on Front street. It was "Puritan Day" and an excellent program was rendered. "Freedom's Voyage to America" was the title of a paper by Mrs. Kent. "Good Old Times at Plymouth" was prepared by Mrs. Runner and read by Mrs. Redden. "Puritan Religion" was prepared by Mrs. D. L. Phelps and read by Mrs. Worthington. Mrs. Whitman gave a reading and talk on Miles Standish. Music was furnished by Miss Lemon.

John Morris spent Sunday in Chicago.

Captain and Mrs. Peck arrived home Saturday night at midnight from their trip to Denver.

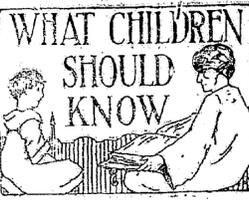

Mr. Joseph Sparks, the oldest man in Buchanan, after four weeks of illness is able to be about again.

Hoink! Hoink!
 The Marble-Swift Automobile company are making progress with their gearing and were much pleased with their success last Saturday when their automobile was tested. Unfortunately after going about town for some time the engine which had been sent here from Syracuse broke. Mr. Stevens is well known in Buchanan and his friends wish him God speed.

Maude Haslett and Claude Ray, even have been absent from the third grade several days because of illness. Reba Binns who has been sick, has returned to school.

Miss Georgia Wilcox returned Monday night from a visit with relatives in Plainwell and Charlotte.

Mrs. Anslem Wray went to St. Louis Thursday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wray.

Eye Shades
 Grandfather used to sit with his paper beside the glowing lamp and when he began to feel sleepy he pulled the paper over his head and went to sleep. Ask dad, he knows.
 The new way of hanging electric lights and gas lights above the heads of people prevents the rays of light from hitting the eyes abruptly. That is one reason why sleepy parents do not use newspapers as eye shades any longer. Printers and bookkeepers have long used green eye shades. Within a year or two boys and young men have used this same type of shades, both as a fan and as a substitute for a cap or hat.

 Recent figures show that 7,000,000 eye shades were produced last year, and it is interesting to know that they were chemical product with cotton as a basis of the pyrovin plastic. This same class of chemical treatment of cotton is seen in nearly everything about you. It is used in automobile curtains, automobile windshields, and it is even the decorative piece on musical instruments that appear in the big brass bands or orchestra de luxe.

Sightless Children
 Recreation for blind children has been studied by the United States Children's bureau at Washington, D. C.
 Games and other recreations are declared especially valuable in training the blind. In the blind schools the children are taught to take part in group activities so that when they leave school they may readily join in the recreation of the family in the community in which they live.

Blind children have become very proficient in playing basket ball. Track meets are carried out by schools for the blind to the point where they include competition between both blind and sighted children and only a few of the more dangerous events need be omitted.
 The Children's bureau advocates that blind children engage in swimming, dancing, rowing and fishing, as well as other outdoor sports. There seems to be very few things, in fact, that blind children can not do.

The proper care of footwear, coupled with intelligent selection, means a reduction of from one quarter to one-half in shoe bills and at the same time keeps the feet neatly and serviceably shod. Mud, water, or excessive dryness ruins leather; oil and grease preserve it. Therefore, the life of boots and shoes may be extended by keeping them clean, pliable and water resistant. Farm footwear especially, needs to be greased occasionally.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION GETS DEFINITE RESULTS IN COUNTY

PRACTICAL FINANCIAL PROFIT IS THE AIM OF THE GROUP, SAYS PRESIDENT

Owners of dairy cows in this vicinity, who have won no little amount of recognition with their herds, are members of the Cow Testing association for southern Berrien county.

Although the group is not organized for the purpose of promoting prize stock, members of the organization do have cattle that have made good showings. The primary purpose of the organization, however, is to aid the farmers in making their herds a more paying proposition. In this lies the uniqueness of the organization. It helps the farmer in his immediate problems of making his dairy a financial success, points out Douglas Dean, president of the organization.

The association in the lower part of the county is comprised of 26 herds, that being the maximum number for a single organization. Each association hires a cow-tester. The Berrien group is particularly fortunate in securing the services of Kaj Nielson, a native Dane, who comes from a country whose dairies have become famed in their management.

Nielson travels among the 26 farmers of the association, spending a day with each herd. His tests of the cows include the weighing of feed and hay and estimating the cost of keeping each head. A sample is taken from both night and morning milkings from the cows and is put through a centrifugal Babcock tester which determines the grade of the milk. Computing the cost of feed and the amount of butterfat and pounds of milk, the question of whether the herd is a paying proposition or not is determined scientifically.

The rounds of the entire association thus covers a period of a month. Nielson visiting each farmer once every thirty days.

The systematic keeping of records of production take the guess work out of dairying and at the same time stimulates interest in better cows, better feeding and better farming.

The organization also meets for the election of officers each year. The Board of Directors governs the group. Those who head the organization at present are Douglas Dean Berrien Springs, president; Harry Young of Niles, vice president; Wallace Beehler, secretary-treasurer.

Rivalry exists especially between the association in the south part of the county with a similar organization in the northern portion. The Buchanan state bank offers a trophy each year to the champions, anyone securing the cup three years in succession to become the permanent possessor of it. Wallace Beehler of Niles, received it last year.

A number of members received special herd recognition last year. They were Frank Reum, Samuel Thomson, F. N. Knott, Toney Warren and sons, all of Niles and E. C. Ewings of Waynesville.

The county association is one of 109 throughout the state, with a total of 2577 herds with 27,904 cows tested for milk and butter. One of the outstanding Hal-lowe'en celebrations in the county is being prepared by Galien people for Monday, Oct. 31. Athletic contests, a foot ball game and a masquerade will be the main attractions.

The athletic events will start at 12:30 and will follow in order among children from the first to the 12th grades with several novelty contests to finish off the schedule at 5 p. m. Gridiron fans will have an opportunity to see a game between Galien and Waynesville high schools with the game starting at 2:30.

The masqued parade led by the Snollagaster band will begin at 7:30 with many awards being made for the various entries. A jack o' lantern drill by school children, a period of fun by the Buccaneer Entertainers and a street dance with music furnished by the Snollagaster band will top the evening.

A dance is also to be held in Keifer's hall when music will be furnished by Groom's Blue Bird Band.

Awards will be made in each contest of the track meet which are as follows:

12:30, 1st and 2nd grade, 50 yard dash, boys; 12:35, 1st and 2nd grade, 50 yard dash, girls; 12:40, 3rd and 4th grade, 50 yard dash, boys; 12:45, 3rd and 4th grade, 50 yard dash, girls; 12:50, 5th and 6th grade, broad jump, boys; 12:55, 5th and 6th grade, broad jump, girls; 1:00, 7th and 8th grade, broad jump, boys; 1:05, 7th and 8th grade, broad jump, girls; 1:10, 5th and 6th grade, two in one race, boys; 1:15, 5th and 6th grade, two in one race, girls; 1:20, 7th and 8th grade, two in one race, boys; 1:25, 7th and 8th grade, two in one race, girls; 1:30, high school boys, 50 yard dash; 1:35, high school boys, 100 yard dash; 1:40, high school girls, indoor baseball throw; 1:45, "Free for All" 100 yard dash, men; 1:50, "Free for All", 50 yard dash, women; 2:00, Women's nail driving contest.

POTATO TRAIN TO COME HERE

SHOW TO OPERATE IN THIS SECTION OF THE COUNTY THE FOREPART OF DECEMBER

South western Michigan is to have a show train this fall to be opened by the New York Central lines in cooperation with the Michigan State college.

Announcement on this project was made following a conference between members of the Farm Crops Department of the Michigan State college and the Agricultural department of the New York Central lines.

Following practically the same course as the seed potato train operated last spring, this train is scheduled to stop at one point in each of the following counties: Jackson, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Allegan, Van Buren, Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph, Branch and Hillsdale. One day stops will be made at one town in each county.

Last spring the seed potato train spread the gospel of better alfalfa and left a path over 3000 bushels of certified seed among 600 farmers of southwest Michigan. Even though this has been a bad year for potatoes, the certified seed told their story and as a result many more farmers are interested in the use of certified seed and the production of high quality potatoes.

A potato show will be held in each county where liberal premiums will be offered to the growers. Potato growers, boys' and girls' clubs and agricultural high schools have indicated their desire to take part and will compete for the prizes.

Over $1,000 has been assured for premium money in the ten counties. These premiums have been made possible by the state department of agriculture, the Michigan Crop Improvement association, the potato growers exchange, Chambers of Commerce, banks and other interests.

Over $100 in premium money will be provided for each county. Classes in Russel Rurals, Irish Cobblers, White Rurals, Green Mountains and contests in various counties will be provided.

Potato grading and marketing will be emphasized and liberal prizes will be offered in grading contest open to all farmers and Boys and Girls club members, as well as students in Agricultural High schools.

There will be exhibits arranged by the Michigan State college and a potato specialist will be along to assist any grower in producing, grading or marketing better potatoes.

These in charge of the train want it understood that the consumer in town is invited to visit this train as well as the producer. Something of special interest to the housewife is being arranged by the Home Economics department of Michigan State college.

The train will operate from December 5 to 15. The date for each county will be announced within a short time.

FARM FOLKS KNOW RECREATIONAL JOY

ORGANIZED AMUSEMENTS ARE GAINING MOMENTUM WITH RURAL PEOPLE OF COUNTY

Quitting parties with their "crazy" color combinations and husking bees with their red ears and bashful kisses and other social events of grandfather's day may be a myth to the farm boy of Berrien county today, but in spite of an occasional "craze hanger" who claims the 20th century farmer is an unsocial cuss who unlimbers his flivver and heads for town to see the village movie, at the slightest excuse, organized recreating in rural sections is gaining in momentum and popularity.

Farm bureau and other economic farm organizations are making recreation a part of their community program. The boys and girls with their 4-H clubs are showing the old folks the way in many cases with the result that the entire social life of the community is given a boost and a new spirit of friendliness developed.

The establishment of women's home economics clubs in the county has added to activities along this line. Grange halls have also been a meeting place for social gatherings. Rural churches have had no little part in creating a closer companionship among farm people in this locality. Berrien county boasts of one of the largest rural churches in this section of the country.

Township or community orchestras and bands are being organized in many places, while baseball leagues for the boys, community theaters, picnics, community school programs, pageants, dancing and many other undertakings which bring the families of the community together are found in every part of the county. The farmer of today, though he labors long hours in comparison with the average factory worker, has vastly more time for recreation and pleasure than before the days of labor saving methods and equipment. This day's labor on the seat of a gang plow or tractor does not call on his last reserve of strength and energy as did the walking plow of yesterday.

No scythe to swing, no hoe to bend the back and if he wills, the power of straining horseflesh, or sparkling gasoline powers his fields and harvests his crop, while silent electricity milks his cows and dispels the darkness as he goes about his daily chores in the early falling winter twilight.

No longer is the farm a place of isolation, separated from the nearest neighbor by lonely miles of gloomy forest or lonesome prairie. Smooth roads lead the way to friendly neighbors or community gathering, family news and neighborhood gossip finds free exchange over a connecting web of telephone wires; invisible waves carry the voice and sound of distant places to loud speakers or car phones in countless thousands of rural homes. Surely farm homes are richer and more pleasant for all that.

BETTER ALFALFA FROM FIRST SEED

INITIAL CUTTING PROVES SUPERIOR IN SEED PRODUCING QUALITY

Although it is general practice for Michigan farmers to save the second crop of alfalfa for seed, the men who used the first cutting as a seed crop this year secured the best yields, according to a report from the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Irving Reibling, Elkton, and George Rae, Bay City, secured yields of six bushels of seed to the acre from the first cutting of Hardigan alfalfa. These fields had been seeded for two years.

Alfred Volz, Sebewaing, harvested over 60 bushels of excellent Grimm alfalfa seed from a ten acre field that has been seeded five years. Mr. Volz won the first premium at the Michigan State Fair on an exhibit of this seed.

Yields from the second cutting of alfalfa are averaging two bushels to the acre. The weather conditions this year have been abnormal, and it is possible that there would be less difference in yields between first and second cuttings during a normal year, according to the college specialists. The production of alfalfa seed is said to be becoming a profitable source of income for many Michigan farmers.

FROST DANGER IN CORN INCREASED BY MOISTURE

Seed corn, which this year contains a high percentage of moisture, will be seriously damaged by early freezes if the corn is not properly stored, according to an announcement by the farm crops department at Michigan state college.

The percentage of moisture in a great deal of Michigan corn runs as high as 45 to 55 per cent. Temperatures of 28 to 30 degrees will ruin such corn for seed purposes if the ears are out of doors, it is said.

High priced equipment is not necessary to care for seed corn properly. An unused room in the house may be utilized, brooder houses make excellent places for drying seed corn and in some counties, commercial concerns will dry the corn for a small charge per bushel.

Michigan farmers who have a good type of well matured corn this year will make a good profit on the time spent in preparing the corn for seed purposes, according to the crops specialists. Good seed corn is scarce throughout the corn growing state.

It is said to be more than economical to dry the corn now than later, when the air temperatures become so low that a great deal of heat is wasted in warming the air in the storage room. The corn should be above the source of heat while being dried.

CHEER FOR CABBAGES

Rejuvenation is not confined to the animal kingdom. Even a cabbage may be "Steinached." Experiments have shown that cabbages, lasting two seasons ordinarily, may last five through the influence of radio activity. Men and women may not reach the age of Methuselah by traveling Steinach's road to rejuvenation, but at least they need no longer succumb to the encroachments of senility. They need no longer sheepishly accept the ancient formula of the age: "Sans eyes, sans teeth, sans everything." If the years assail them, they can stand up and fight back.

MAP IS CHANGED BY ENGINEERING

Accomplishments in This Science Among Wonders of the World.

Washington.—The moving of a river in Pennsylvania to an artificial cut so that its old bed may be filled and used for a railroad yard is a recent skirmish in the long battle of man to change the face of the earth.

"The accomplishments of civilization most easily noticed are in large part engineering accomplishments," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society. "So indefinitely has man busied himself making over his environment that much of his handwork would stand out to an observer posted on the moon with a telescope equal to our best. The irregular spots of our cities with their straight lines, roads and railroads, are the most conspicuous evidence of man's reshaping of the earth which he finds on every land. On our own continent and in Europe, especially, a veritable network of railroads and roads lies over the countryside. These are few major streams, but that are spanned by bridges or made by ditches to stand and deliver water for irrigation or power to be turned to any use that man's whim may dictate. A goodly number of our hills and mountains have been honeycombed by the shafts and galleries of mines, or pierced by railway tunnels. Man has ever burrowed his way under great rivers to make way for city transit lines, railways, vehicles and foot passengers.

Cities Present Engineering Feats.
"Every great city is itself a huge and never-finished engineering task. There are few residents of New York or London or Paris who would not be surprised, if cross-sections of their city could be laid bare, at the complexity of its underground facilities, its multiplicity of subways, water tunnels and pipes, wire-conduits and sewers. Above ground buildings are constantly being erected and demolished, railways repaired, pavements laid. Galveston, Texas, owes its continued existence to a great "white wall," New Orleans to its levees, Venice and Leningrad in large part from a multitude of piles driven into mud-banks; and other cities in various parts of the world must credit engineering skill for their sites or for their protection.

"One of the most striking feats of a country to engineering is to be found in the Netherlands. The country's name itself hints at the story; nearly half its area lies below the level of the sea which is kept from engulfing the lowlands only by hundreds of miles of man-made dikes and sluiceways. And only constant watchfulness and work keeps this below-sea-level country habitable. Embankments must be paroled and repaired constantly. Sewage continues night and day and pumps must be kept operating continually to lift millions of gallons of water from the lowest catchment basin to canals high enough to carry it into the sea.

"Canals were among the earliest important engineering projects undertaken by man. Near the dawn of history some 6,000 years ago great irrigation canals that were virtually artificial rivers existed in the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in Mesopotamia. They were demolished by Moslem invaders 700 years ago, but traces of the huge channels still remain. In Egypt a ship canal connecting the Nile and the Red sea was dug 2,000 years before Christ. In the Fifth century B. C. the Chinese began the Grand canal, finished 17 centuries later. This 850-mile waterway is the oldest and longest boat canal in existence.

Dams Are Recent Devices.
"All the earlier canals were inland. Not until 1800, when the Suez canal was completed, did the world possess an inter-ocean waterway. Its only rival has been the Panama canal, opened in 1914. These two waterways between the oceans, one costing $127,000,000 and the other twice that much, probably deserve to rank at the top of the world's engineering achievements.

"Dams are relatively recent devices in so far as large streams are concerned. No word of dam-building operations of any magnitude has come to us from the records of the ancients. Large dams were built in Spain in the latter part of the Sixteenth century and in France and Spain in the Eighteenth. In the Nineteenth century dam building spread to the rest of Europe, Asia and the United States.

"Two of the greatest dams are in Egypt. The Aswan, across the Nile, is one and one-quarter miles long and 113 feet high. The Semhar, across the Blue Nile, is the longest masonry dam in the world—9,900 feet or nearly two miles. Its height is 128 feet. The longest of all is the earthen Asht dam in India, which is 12,700 feet in length.

FORGOT THE WAR, SEEKS PENSION

Memory, Impaired by Wound in Civil War, Restored to Veteran.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Investigation is being made of the case of Leopold Newsalt, Owatonna, who forgot about his services in the Civil war until just a year ago, by the claim department of the federal pension bureau.

This was the word from the office of E. A. Walsh, acting adjutant general of Minnesota, where a claim for Newsalt's back pension amounting to thousands of dollars has been in preparation. Newsalt furnishes a type of case which has given the pensioners a little but since the North and South fought.

Wounded after engaging in many of the most important battles of the war, Newsalt's story is that he was discharged from a Philadelphia hospital. By that time he had forgotten the Union army, the Civil war, and, in fact, the existence of Dayton, Ohio, his birthplace, which he had left to enter the war as a member of 19 company of the Fourteenth United States infantry.

Relatives Thought Him Dead.
He engaged in the building trade. Given up as lost and dead his relatives at Dayton, Ohio, mourned him. His favorite brother, Jacob, following the westward trend of the time, moved to Owatonna, Minn., where he died several years ago. Leopold, however, lived on. A year ago last month he sat in a railroad station when some one mentioned "Dayton, Ohio." Just before a bit of shell had been removed from his head. Perhaps this had a connection—but, anyway, the name of his home town caused Leopold to remember many things.

The Civil war came back to him with freshness. Although eighty-four years old now and with many years separating him from his days as a midge infantryman, Newsalt is reputed to remember details of the war which might have better represented visions given a half century ago when the smoke of battle hadn't blown so far away.

Traces Movements of Brother.
Tracing the movements of his brother, Leopold found him dead, but he was welcomed by his widow, with whom he is now making his home at Owatonna. She is well satisfied that he has established his identity, as are other members of the family, who are assisting him in setting forth his claims for back pension.

Investigator from the Pension Bureau Will Consider His Story and Compare It with Old War Records as Well as His Testimony of Those Who Have Accepted Him as a Member of the Family.

At the same time physicians have become interested in the case, particularly as it represents a striking case of lost memory with its recovery coming after a much longer period of years than most instances have revealed. Meanwhile, Leopold Newsalt is living at Owatonna, glorying in the memory of his war exploits as his comrades did many years ago.

Flowers' Sex Changed Daily, It Is Discovered

New York—Science, seeking a reason for fruitless orchards in California and Florida, has discovered "a new and astonishing type of flower behavior involving daily reversal of sex."

The research was undertaken by Dr. A. B. Stout in an effort to solve the difficulties of the growers of the avocado, commonly known as the alligator pear.

He found the flowers of the avocado are divided into two main groups. In one group the flowers are male in the morning and female in the afternoon, and in the other group female in the morning and male in the afternoon.

"Discovery of these sex secrets," said the report, "makes possible new methods of 'mating,' through interplanting of types which will check the marked decrease in the yields of fruit when trees of only one variety are placed together."

Negro of Mississippi Claims Biggest Feet

London.—The British government is jealously guarding its new war secret, a mysterious invisible searchlight ray which makes it impossible for an enemy to conduct military operations at night unobserved.

It is one of the most formidable war weapons yet discovered, and it was discovered accidentally. John L. Baird, inventor of the television and the discoverer of the mysterious ray, looks more like a staid college professor than a scientist who is perfecting a powerful weapon for a powerful government. He accidentally stumbled on the new ray while he was trying to perfect the television apparatus with which he now broadcasts pictures by radio as far as 150 miles.

It belongs to the infra-red section of the spectrum outside the range of the human eye. His process is to isolate and use the ray which the human eye cannot see, but which is susceptible of being recorded on his secret apparatus.

"By proper adaptation of these principles," he disclosed, "it will be possible to see an enemy in the dark when he believes himself to be unobserved. So far we are seeing over comparatively short distances, but it has now become simply a question of certain technical improvements and the application of greater power in order to be able to see a person or a scene which is thousands of miles distant from the point where we are looking into the receiving screen."

His associate, Capt. O. G. Hutchinson, goes even further. "Attacking airplanes, approaching under the cover of darkness will be disclosed to the defenders by the electric eye of the television. They will be followed by searchlights emitting invisible rays, and as these rays will be unseen by them, they will continue to approach until, without warning, they are brought down by the guns of the defense."

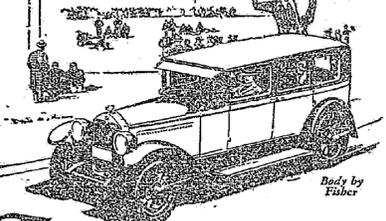

Tip for Girls

Marvin Paul Gross, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gross, working on his ninth composition. The young Buchanan boy was but ten years old when he completed the work.

Youthful Composer Shows Promise in Musical Study

WINS RECOGNITION FROM CHICAGO CRITICS AND TEACHERS WITH HIS TALENTS

From a little child's liking to pick away at the piano has grown a deep seated love for music that promises to place the name of Marvin Paul Gross, eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gross, on the list of America's outstanding concert masters.

Yet to hear this little boy play, whether it be a selection from the masters or one of his own compositions, is to realize that his music-making has not grown out of a mere childish fancy; but is an inherent talent. Rare, indeed, is his sense of rhythm, love of balance and harmony, so evident whenever he sits down to the piano.

When Marvin was a child of five he would lie on the piano bench and make up tunes of his own. His two older sisters, then taking lessons from Miss Doris Matthews, told their teacher of his liking for the notes of the piano, which resulted in his beginning to take lessons at six years of age.

Before he had learned his alphabet at school Marvin was acquainted with the notes of the musical scale. Through his knowledge of the musical notes he was aided in the learning of his school lessons, he said.

Following his study under Miss Matthews he started a period of instruction under Mrs. Ida Rice and has continued taking lessons from her up to the present time. That an eleven year old lad, who has studied music systematically for only four and a half years, can play difficult selections from the master composers of the world, seems incredible.

His own compositions number almost an even dozen, with work now progressing on his latest. The first was completed by Marvin at the age of six and a half years and is familiar to many in the vicinity of Buchanan. His teacher had suggested that since it was written by himself that he name it "Marvin's March" but a sincere modesty kept him from following out her advice. Instead he dedicated it to the students of Buchanan High School and entitled it "Buchanan High School March."

The same love of rhythm and balance so evident in the first composition is again seen in his "Robin's Lullaby," his second bit of creative work. Coupled with these characteristics, however, there is a delicacy and refinement to the second piece that is reminiscent of Mozart's infinite tenderness.

The sprightly "Fairy Waltz" followed as the third composition and his "Junior's Duet" was the fourth; the latter proving his proficiency in another type. "Barcarolle" has an imaginative and romantic quality which reaches sheer beauty at times.

Originality of an exceptional type mingling with an imaginative strain displays itself in his "Hare and Tortoise." In this fanciful composition Marvin has used the age-old fable for his motif, expressing himself with notes of the scale with as much ease as anyone else would relate the story in words. In vivid phrases he depicts the whole tale with the climatic effort of the hare to catch the tortoise particularly to be remembered.

The remainder of the compositions are unnamed. The wonder of Marvin's life-story does not end with his creative abilities. His interpretations of Mozart, Bach, Beethoven, Godard and all the old masters have brought forth praise and recognition from leaders in the musical world.

Once each month he goes with Mrs. Rice to Chicago where he is a student in the American Conservatory of Music, studying under Mable Osmer, a pupil of Joseph Lechmann.

The fact that this eleven year old has won the honor of studying under a teacher whose personality is known extensively throughout the musical world is no little achievement. Nor does the story end there. Miss Osmer herself is planning on securing a hearing for her young student before Levinne in the near future. To have Marvin's name connected at all with the great Levinne takes on greater significance when it is recalled that the latter together with Josef Hoffman are said to be the only two great concert players of America who spend any of their time in instruction.

At a musical clinic into which Marvin was taken in Chicago, Frederick Ryder, manager of the Cable Piano company, was deeply impressed with the Buchanan youngster's abilities and entered his name as an applicant for a scholarship in the Juillard Foundation, a fund established in New York city for the education of pupils with special talent.

A representative of the Foundation is to be in Chicago in April when the Buchanan boy is to have a hearing, although circumstances might keep him from taking up study in New York City.

To comment upon the boy's interpretations of the classics is unnecessary; spend the time instead in listening to him. The old masters and their followers would be better appreciated if we actually listened more and talked less pro and con about them.

That a little boy scarcely past ten years can so catch the spirit of the great masters ought at least to be mentioned. Beethoven's intense passion, power and at the same time his sweetness is felt by Marvin in his playing of the Sonata Opus II Number 3. Through the lighter phrases of the masterpiece he travels to the deeper portion of the sonata with remarkable ease, turning from his piano finally to regret that he has not yet learned by heart the latter portion of the 27 pages.

His playing of that selection is wholly indicative of his attitude toward art—an understanding, far beyond his years, for the masters of the past linked with a regret that he has not yet accomplished all he would like. This inherent love for pure melodies and longing to do greater things, fills the future with hope. A rainbow of promise, spanning these early years, reaches off in the not so distant future, where it no doubt floods the footlights of America's concert stage.

Hidden Treasure Mute Reminder of Tragedy

When installing a bathroom in an old house in Vienna not long ago, an attic was disclosed above a closet which was supposed to reach clear to the roof. In it were the remnants of an old baker's oven and a wooden dough trough covered with grain sacks bearing the date 1638. Beneath the trough were household effects that evidently had belonged to a well-to-do middle-class family, such as linen garments, dishes, cups, jewelry, 380 gold coins and 1,143 silver coins. Among the former were several ducats. The most recent of the coins were dated 1671, but most of them were far older. It seems practically certain that they represented the savings of a merchant who had hidden them there at the time of the Turkish invasion of 1683.

The most important find dating from the thirteenth century was made in 1876, on the site of the oldest Jewish cemetery, at Krems on the Danube. These coins, which were discovered when extending a neighboring vineyard, consisted of thirty gold guilders, each weighing three and one-half grammes, from Florence, Hungary, Bohemia, Austria, Silesia and Lubek. They were discovered at the side of a skeleton, and several other coins were unearthed in the same spot. It has been conjectured that they were buried during the persecution of the Jews in 1349.—Neues Wiener Tagblatt.

Flute-Player Never Popular in Society

Flute-playing seems to have gone entirely out of fashion. Can this be due to the denunciation which this most ancient of musical instruments has received from the pens of eminent writers?

Violinists and pianists may figure in fiction as heroes and heroines, but performers upon the flute are generally introduced into novels only as comic or unpleasant characters.

At least three comic characters of Dickens were flute-players; Dick Swiveller, who took to it as a "good sound, dismal occupation," and was consequently requested to remove himself to another lodging; Mr. Mell, the schoolmaster, who "made the most dismal sounds I ever heard produced by any means, natural or artificial," and the young gentleman at Mrs. Lodge's musical party, who "blew his melancholy into the flute."

Bulwer Lytton wrote of a clever schoolboy who "unluckily took to the flute and unfitted himself for the present century," and Charlotte Bronte represents "inept caraters" as performing upon it.

And then there was Goethe, who snuffed up the case against the flute by saying: "There is scarcely a more melancholy suffering to be undergone than what is forced on us by the neighborhood of an inept player on the flute."

Pouting Ladies Given Time for Reflection

Many persons in a moment of ill humor have caught an unexpected glimpse of themselves in a mirror and have had that one glimpse impressed upon them as quite sufficient punishment for an unlovely mood. Such occasion may have been the inspiration for the "pouting room" in France during the latter part of the Seventeenth century. The apartment was of octagonal form and the sides as well as the ceiling were of highly polished mirrors, so that a person standing in the center of the room could see himself from every possible direction, multiplied into an indefinite vista of selves, as far as the eye could reach. Into such a focus of reflection, related President John Adams to the North American Review in January, 1838, after his return from a trip abroad, the gallant gentlemen of the most chivalrous portion of Europe cast those ladies whose temper had escaped their control, dooming them simply to the reflection of their own countenances.—Detroit News.

One Ordinary Day in Life of Statistician

Arose, feeling on the peak of the chart. Consumed average breakfast. Assumed average intellectual attitude toward life. (I am an average statistician with a mean disposition.) Organized new end-to-end toothpick circuit, New York to Detroit. Cable from India: Calcutta agent reports terminus reached for Splutter fountain pen line. Splutter pens now circle five-eighths of globe. Estimated potential heat in celluloid collars, with and without necks. Issued report re fact that five out of every nineteen fat men sink anyway; also that more than 2,237 "dosed" golf balls are in plain sight all the time.

Statistics during lunch hour on maximum girth of the common garden mole (fam. Talpidae). Wrote to Leach and Extend bureau about pyramid model of rear collar buttons lost in Hawaii in one year. Mailed circulars on Reversible Statistical Charts for This and That, and Surreptitious Studies in Statistics for Stutterers.

After dinner attended lecture on "Facts and How to Avoid Them." Reflected on the futility of the end-to-end spaghetti problem in Italy. To bed; and fell asleep dividing the sheep jumping over the customary stone wall by some of the digits.—Los Angeles Times.

America Must Have More and Wider Paved Highways

Almost every section of the United States is confronted by a traffic problem.

Month by month this problem is becoming more and more serious.

If the motor vehicle is to continue giving the economic service of which it is capable, we must have more Concrete highways and widen those near large centers of population.

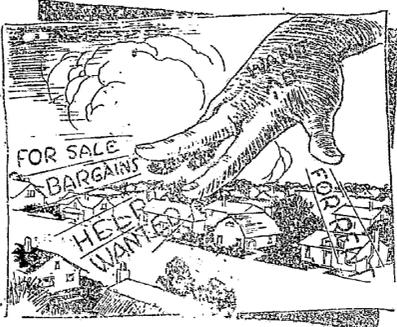

Every citizen should discuss highway needs of his community with his local authorities.

Push Buchanan Ahead! Invest Your Money in Buchanan!

Buchanan's growth and the growth of the Industrial Building & Loan Association are inseparably linked. One cannot grow to any great extent unless the other grows since fully 80 per cent of the new homes constructed must be financed on the building and loan plan.

If you invest your money in the stock of the Industrial Building & Loan association, which is a Buchanan co-operative association, the money you invest is loaned to Buchanan home builders who buy construction material in Buchanan, employ Buchanan labor and the new home occupants buy their supplies, food, dry goods and clothing in Buchanan, thus each new home becomes a link in our local co-operative chain and every person in Buchanan benefits to some extent either directly or indirectly.

The Industrial Building & Loan association is paying its stockholders SIX PER CENT ANNUALLY on money invested with them. Investments in its stock is a safe and sound investment since its loans are only made on mortgages on Buchanan property at approximately two-thirds of the actual valuation. Its total assets as of Sept. 1, 1927, are $531,703.35.

Stock may be paid for in full or it may be bought on the installment plan on the basis of $1.00 per month on each $100 share. On five shares of stock having a value of $500.00 you would pay $5.00 per month. MONEY INVESTED IN THIS STOCK, FULLY PAID OR INSTALLMENT, MAY BE WITHDRAWN AT ANY TIME PLUS ITS INTEREST EARNINGS.

PLEASE REMEMBER

Money invested in out of town stocks brings no benefit to Buchanan. We, the undersigned, urge that you buy stock in the Industrial Building & Loan association, either prepaid or on the installment plan, and in this way help Buchanan to acquire the new homes so urgently needed here.
