

Now Here's the Proposition

GRANDFATHER'S WHISKERS

Bl Haws I yearn for the whiskers that grandfather sported I fain would go back to that era again When whiskers were plain, and not fancy assorted. When whiskers were whiskers, and grew upon men. Our grandfathers wore whiskers with grace and abandon No small patch of fuzz on the chin or the lip. But wide spreading copes that sprouted at random And covered the form from the chin to the hip A good spread of whiskers was thought to be handsome. They sure did the business for: Patience and Prue I yet have to hear of a lady that ran from Those heart-breaking whiskers that grandfather greiv Those unadorned whiskers. Those wide flaunted whiskers. Those bird haunted whiskers. That grandfather greiv. Those old-fashioned whiskers were not built for beauty But on each occasion they rose to the test. They had to do double and quadruple duty As napkin and kerchief and necktie and vest Though uncombed they were and resembling a rats nest In winter a windbreak. In summer shade. In nights on the trail they could serve as a mattress. In battle they served as a strong barricade Those old chest protectors. Those lightning deflectors. Those hayseed collectors. That grandfather made. 'Twas grandfather's whiskers that founded a nation. The lode star of empire that led to the west Was grandfather's whiskers. How firm a foundation. That husky plush cushion on grandfather's chest. His spouse on his arm and a dozen young friskers. His axe on his shoulder, his gun at his side. The 'tjums all fled at the sight of those whiskers. Those bullet proof whiskers that served as his guide. That grim old trail blazer, that old whisker miser. He carried the flag to the continent's end. But no one accused him of taking a razor. He carried instead as protector and friend. Those old-fangled whiskers. Those wide tangled whiskers. Those star-spangled whiskers. Turned up at the end.

ON INTELLECT I've looked 'em over and over, I've figured 'em large and small. The guy with the brain that's massive and the one with none at all. The brilliant cerebrum that's packed in a hefty dome And the guy whose blatherings tell 'em there's nobody much at home. I listened to all their static, and here's what I have to tell. The less they have in the static, the bigger their heads can swell.

As a general proposition I find that the upstage pup Is the guy that don't know nothing, and wants to cover it up. It's an easy thing to tumble to the guy that is taught but blow For the man who knows what he humbles, he knows what he does not know. I'm ready to confide in it as the absolute low down that The less they have inside it, the bigger the size of hat.

ELIMINATE THE STREET FAKERS

Street peddlers, house to house agents and other itinerant men or women who have been frequenting the streets of almost every town since Fido was a pup, continue to make themselves nuisances in Buchanan as well as other towns where, in exchange for payment of a pittance into village coffers, they are permitted the run of the streets, collecting perfectly good money from an unsuspecting public while they dispense inferior brands of merchandise among the gullible ones. While not all salespeople who canvass the town can be classed as unreliable, it is safe to say a majority of these itinerants should be kept off the streets and out of the town. He (or she) comes to town today, sells his wares, collects the cash, and is gone tomorrow never to be seen in these parts again. The article purchased proves to be inferior and the purchaser charges merchants in general with trying to put something over on them. The itinerant merchant, or peddler, is a menace to any town, including Buchanan. It would be well, locally to exclude his kind from preying upon the public with products inferior to those which can be purchased, of local mer-

Three Thousand Attend I. O. O. F. Picnic Sunday

A crowd of three thousand assembled Sunday morning at Indian Fields, near Berrien Springs for the annual picnic of the Berrien County I. O. O. F. Association on record.

Ideal weather made its contribution to the success of the day, the beautiful picnic grounds commanding a curve in Lake Chapin, being at their best for the occasion. The program started with a baseball game in which the Michigan Central Reserves of Niles won in a runaway from the Naval Reserves of Benton Harbor. The Clark Equipment Company Band furnished music in the afternoon. Dancing was enjoyed at the pavilion in the afternoon.

Homer Shoop Wins Tennis Laurels In Manistee Tourney

Homer Shoop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shoop, former cashier of the First National Bank here, is credited with making a brilliant "dark horse" performance at the Manistee City Tennis tournament Saturday, when he eliminated Dr. E. A. Oakes, rated as the best player in the city, in the opening round. The following notice is given to the game in the Manistee News-Advocate: The match between Dr. Oakes and Shoop this morning was a big surprise to all who have been following the progress of the tournament. Dr. Oakes was rated highest among the four seeded players. But he failed to employ his hard driving service in the first set and the boy Shoop had him on the hip before the doctor awakened to the fact that Shoop, as a tennis player, is young in age only. Shoop took the first set 6-4 and then proceeded to run the physician right off his feet in a fast second set in which Dr. Oakes took but two games.

LINEMEN WIN CLOSE GAME FROM BLUES

Visitors Take Contest By Close Shave In Pitchers Battle

BELT HURLS FOR BLUES

In a tight and stormy session, the Buchanan Blues dipped their colors Sunday to the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co., being on the wrong side of the hyphen in a 2-1 score. The South Bend team made their first tally in the first inning, when Hamilton's error let Miller to first, he acquired the second by the petty larceny method, and came the remaining distance on Bates' single. To Bates also goes the credit of the hit which brought in the second run in the seventh, when J. Van DeWalle made a three base hit, was followed by a player who flied out, and then by Bates whose single brought him.

Buchanan's lone tally was made by King in the seventh, when he reached first on balls, stole second, and came in on Buysse's single into centerfield. Belt of South Bend was in the box for Buchanan, pitching a creditable game, although shaded on strikeouts by Erwin of the Indiana & Michigan, who registered 11 shutouts to 5 for Belt. The visitors touched Belt for six hits, while Buchanan gathered five off Erwin.

Table with columns: Player, R, H, E. Rows include Blues, Brown, Miller, King, Hamilton, Buysse, Nash, Stenon, Simpson, Bampsey, Belt, I. & M. Electric, H. Van DeWalle, J. Miller, J. Van DeWalle, Bates, Van Hove, Caron, Swift, Erwin, Blues.

Adam Ednie, 70, died at 1:30 a. m. Tuesday at the home of his son, William Ednie, a mile north of Buchanan, after an illness of eight years with a complication of diseases. Ednie was born May 26, 1858, in Kirk County, Scotland, coming to the United States in early childhood. He lived first in Milwaukee, where he married Miss Jane Boyd. J. EISENHART DROPS DEAD LAST NIGHT

Resident of Buchanan For 44 Years Expires In Doctor's Office

WAS OLD LAKE SAILOR

Shipped As Boy on Fore And Afters In Old Sailing Days

John Eisenhart, 67, a resident of Buchanan for 44 years, died suddenly of angina pectoris shortly before nine o'clock last night, while waiting for medical attention in the waiting room of Dr. John Strayer. Mr. Eisenhart had spent the evening on the streets, mingling with the crowd during the band concert. Shortly after 8:30 p. m. he complained of a pain in the vicinity of his heart and went to Strayer's office. While waiting there he talked with Frank Walter and Will Fuller, who were also waiting their turn, saying that he had suffered two similar attacks previously, but that the pain was not severe. Suddenly he slumped down in his chair, and one of the men rushed to Strayer saying that Eisenhart was apparently dying.

Strayer examined the man and found that life was extinct. He had passed through an interesting experience in his earlier years, having been born at St. Joseph, Mich., during the heyday of the old sailing days, and shipping on a "fore and after" engaged in the Lake Michigan lumber trade. At one time he was shipwrecked in the middle of the lake, the schooner going to pieces.

Of the crew of thirteen men, Eisenhart and three others caught a floating gangway, to which they clung for 15 hours when they were accidentally seen by a passing steamer and rescued. As an evidence of the careless spirit of the old lake sailors, Eisenhart, in recounting the story of the wreck, said that one of the survivors composed a song, after the fashion of sailor ballads, while floating in the water, recounting the fate of the ship and sang it to hearten his mates.

He also was employed for a time by the Graham & Morton steamship interests, running between St. Joseph and Elkhardt on the St. Joseph River.

He was married to Ida Hamilton at St. Joseph in 1881, and after a few years he quit the sailor's calling and came to Buchanan, working in the sawmills here, and later in the shops. Four sons were born to them: Fred Eisenhart of Buchanan, Jess Eisenhart of South Bend, and Clayton Eisenhart, who died two years ago. His wife died 14 years ago.

The funeral will be held at 4 p. m. from the Child's Funeral Parlor, and burial will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Boyd-Marrs was guest of honor at a surprise party Saturday evening, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Bunco furnished entertainment for the guests, Margaret Koons, Mrs. Edith Griffen and Jesse Leggett winning prizes.

Scholtz won fourth place in the 100 meter run in 1920 and was a member of the winning relay team, and first in the 200 meter and second in the 100 meter in 1924, for a total of 20 1/2 points.

Small wings were built on the ends in which rest rooms and other conveniences were installed.

MRS. MORLEY HURT TODAY IN CAR UPSET

Auto Skids On Clear Lake Road; Turns Over Twice

INCURS FRACTURED ARM

Five Other Occupants Are Unhurt; Automobile Badly Damaged

Mrs. Homer Morley incurred a broken right arm and fractured elbow and a badly bruised leg shortly after eight o'clock this morning when the car in which she and the Morley family were driving to Clear Lake slipped near the bottom of the hill where the road enters the Clear Lake Woods and plunged over an embankment, turning over twice and finally landing on its side.

Mr. Morley was at the wheel and was proceeding at a slow rate of speed, but the road was slippery from last night's rain. As the car rolled over it alighted on its top, rested there a moment and then slowly settled on its side. The family was able to extricate themselves and all save Mrs. Morley were found to be unhurt. Mr. and Mrs. Morley had been occupying the front seat and the two children, Alvin, age 4 and Bobbie, age 8 months were in the back seat, as were also Mrs. Morley's two nieces, Leona Burris and Mary Van Lew of Dayton.

After waiting for half an hour, Mr. Morley set out for a nearby farm house to call a taxi, when Will Eisenberg arrived in his car and brought the family to town.

Mrs. Morley was taken to the office of Dr. Wallace, where an X-ray of her arm was made, revealing a "green stick" fracture. The car was badly damaged.

The raids were by a party of officers consisting of Sheriff Burks, sheriff Fred French of Buchanan, under sheriff C. S. Overcash of Niles, and county motorcycle officer Clarence Dunbar.

Burks' grocery was entered about 8:30 p. m., Mrs. Burks being in charge of the store at the time and Burks asleep in an adjacent room. Three gallon jugs full of whiskey were found, and several bottles containing another gallon.

Both men were taken before Justice Al Charles, where they waived examination, and bail was fixed at $1,000. Burks furnished bail and was released. Steele was unable to furnish bail and was committed to the county jail. Later Burks returned and demanded an examination, July 26, being set for the hearing date.

A REAL FIGHTER
ENJOY AN AUTO NOW
DISCOURAGING CRIMINALS
MAN IS SELFISH

Senator Jim Reed, who says he leaves the Senate next March, to practice law, should change his mind. Others can practice law as well as he. Few can put important truths with emphasis such as his.

Have you read what Reed said, denouncing the League of Nations, in 1919?

"I decline to set up any government greater than that established by the fathers, greater than that baptized in the blood of patriots from the lanes of Lexington to the forests of the Argonne, greater than that sanctified by the tears of all the mothers whose heroic sons have gone down to death to sustain their glory and its independence. I decline to set up any government greater than the Government of the United States of America."

Thanks largely to Reed's good fighting, the wispy-washies did not succeed in dragging this country into a European super-government. Such a man ought to be in public life, fighting to his last day.

In big cities hundreds of thousands go for their holiday in automobiles. A philosopher said, "Most of the cars are not paid for. In thousands of cases they represent money that might have meant independence in old age."

The automobiles represent money spent for health, pleasure and time saving NOW. Not one in ten is really independent in old age, nor was he before automobiles came.

Better buy a car, enjoy it, and use the added health and time saved to work for independence. No car, wisely used, ever made a man poor.

Rear-Admiral Bradley A. Fiske offers a suggestion to discourage criminals.

The automobile is the criminal's "getaway." He drives up, robs a store, shoots down objectors, jumps into his automobile and is gone.

Rear-Admiral Fiske suggests that following an automobile hold-up all auto traffic be stopped in city streets.

"I suggest that the police sound three or four whistles, all policemen hearing it to pass it along. Traffic would stop, cars would be searched. Any man ignoring the signal would be identified as a criminal."

On warships, says Admiral Fiske, when men get out of control the bugler sounds "Attention!" Every man then stands where he is, or proves himself mutinous.

Bolshevism gave peasants the land, taking it from worthless nobles. That suited the peasants. Then Bolshevism told the peasants how much they might charge for their crops, how much they must bring to the cities, etc. That did NOT suit the peasants. They cut down wheat acreage, causing dangerous shortage, and Russia is looking everywhere for cash wheat, with immediate delivery, and ships to carry it.

You cannot safely interfere with man's most important mainspring, which is SELFISHNESS.

Hope springs eternal. And, fortunately for human beings, a majority of us "listen with credulity to the whispers of fancy and pursue with eagerness the phantom of hope; expect that age will perform the promises of youth, and that the deficiencies of the present day will be supplied by the morrow."

In Reno, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., recently divorced, married a charming lady, divorced the day before.

In this country we have one automobile for every five people. Everybody could ride at the same time.

Abyssinia, with the fewest automobiles, has one car for every 91,743 people.

The 1,900,000,000 human beings on earth have 29,700,000 automobiles, 24,000,000 of them in the United States. We certainly are prosperous.

Meandering with Marjorie

Fudge is a popular confection the year 'round and lucky is the person whose product is smooth and creamy. The greatest trouble most cooks have with fudge is in its sugary or grainy feeling. They try cooking the mixture fast and they cook it slow and sometimes vary the amounts of the ingredients.

However, the only thing that will make the results uniformly good is to add one tablespoon of white corn syrup for each cup of sugar used. This is so because the sugar changes in cooking but if the quality of the sugar is not just right it is almost impossible to cook it so that the proper change will take place. The syrup is the sugar as it ought to be after cooking and by having a small amount present all chance is done away with.

The Best Method

An infallible recipe for delicious fudge is this:
Mix 2 cups of sugar, 4 rounding tablespoons cocoa, 2 table-spoons of syrup and 1/2 cups of rich milk. Cook slowly, without stirring, to the soft ball stage (230 degrees). Remove from fire and add 1 tablespoon of butter.

Place pan in cold water and beat until it can be lifted with a spoon. Add 1 teaspoon of vanilla and chopped nuts if desired. Pour over marshmallows on greased platter.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

1. A little cold water added to fudge that has cooked too long will soften it.
2. Three-fourths milk and one-fourth water may be used in fudge.
3. Whole cream is a little too rich to use in fudge.
4. The amount of cocoa used in fudge should be varied according to the strength of the kind used.
5. Salted nuts may be used in fudge instead of unsalted with delicious results.
6. Lemon juice will often remove stains from glass.
7. A gold necklace can be cleaned by scrubbing with hot soapsuds and a brush and polished with soft flannel when dry.
8. Lemon juice will often remove stains from glass.
9. Slow cooking can be done over the simmering burner in a stove with less gas than is used by a larger burner turned low.
10. The burners of a gas stove may be cleaned safely and well by boiling them in a strong solution of washing soda.

The Road To Better Health

Feeding Babies in Warm Weather

By DR. ARTHUR L. FORSTER

During the heat of summer infants suffer from a systemic depression that predisposes them markedly to digestive disturbances. The situation is aggravated by the wearing of excessive clothing. When to both these factors is added the effect of pronounced humidity, gastro-intestinal disorders are almost unescapable, unless careful attention is given the child's diet.

Less Food Required in Summer

During the summer less food is required to nourish an infant, while more water is demanded. If this rule is kept in mind most of the digestive disturbances of infancy can be forestalled.

One reason why excessive amounts of food are apt to be given in summer is this: the baby being thirsty, demands liquids, and its food being for the most part fluid, quenches its thirst and is given in too large amounts.

A second reason for the administration of excessive amounts of food is that the discomfort and cry due to this very over-feeding as well as to the heat and thirst are mis-interpreted as hunger, and the child is given more food, whereas it already has had more than it needs.

The Danger of Spoiled Food

During hot weather foods are apt to spoil very quickly, and unless great caution is exercised in the preservation of food products the baby will be given tainted food. Milk is especially apt to spoil unless kept cold, and feeding such milk is responsible for many cases of summer complaint. All utensils used in the preparation and administration of the baby's food should likewise be kept scrupulously clean. This has reference especially to the bottles and nipples. One still hears it said occasionally by some "old-timer" that the precautions used today are all nonsense. His talk runs something like this: "When I was a baby they fed us anything and everything. They didn't theorize and sterilize and pasteurize. And babies lived through it!"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Baby has Hiccoughs
Mrs. J. D. writes: "Our baby, three weeks old, has hiccoughs, after nearly every feeding. Can you tell me what causes this?"

Reply
"Will it get worse? What can we do to stop them?"
The cause of hiccoughs in a young baby is generally overfilling of the stomach. You do not say that he is bottle-fed, so I assume he is breast-fed. Take him from the breast a few minutes sooner, and he will probably discontinue the hiccoughs. It is not serious in itself, but the condition responsible for it may lead to other more serious ailments.

Senile Dementia

L. W. writes: "What is the best place in which to care for an elderly woman who has what our doctor pronounces as 'senile dementia'?" We do not like the idea of placing her in an institution. Still caring for her at home is becoming an almost impossible task."

Reply

As a rule, the best place for such a patient is at home. Old folks are usually very unhappy in an institution. They are unable to adapt themselves to the new life in such a place and to change habits of years. Unless your mother is intractable or has other disturbances that make it impossible for you to care for her my advice is to keep her at home.

COOL COFFEE CONCOCTION

For a delicious cafe frappe use four cups strong coffee, one cup rich cream and half cup sugar. Mix well and freeze until consistency of heavy cream. Serve in tall glasses with whipped cream. Either natural or decaffeinated coffee or one of the cereal beverages may be used for this frappe.

REMOVING SPECKS FROM SILVER

A good home-made silver polish can be made from whitening and olive oil. This quickly removes all specks and stains.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

CONVERSATION

Grenville Kleiser, well-known author and writer, gives some good advice about talking.

An immense amount of time and energy is constantly wasted, he says, by useless talking.

Some of the essentials that he mentions for a good conversationalist are as follows:
- The first condition of good talking is clear, well-ordered thinking. If your thoughts are in confusion your speech is liable to be non-effective.

Talking should not be a verbal nor vocal contest, but a mutual exchange of ideas. Monologues are tiresome.

Don't give advice. Advice costs nothing and is usually worth what it costs.

Don't exaggerate. It is easy to let your desires and feelings overcolor your views. Give the impression of under statement rather than over statement and what you say will have more effect.

Keep your voice low. A low voice is not only an excellent thing in a woman, as Shakespeare says, but it is good for anybody. Many people are trying to talk to, because they constantly bawl so loud. They drown out their opponent with sound.

Don't tell unduly long stories. Don't make a reputation for being a "funny" man. This will put you in the class of light-weights. Stories are like seasoning or salt. They should be very judiciously intermingled and it is easy to get too many of them.

Do not interrupt another. Wait quietly for your turn to speak. Don't relate lengthy personal experiences. A thing may be interesting to you because it is about yourself, but it is usually boring to other people. Don't be impatient. When you observe that your listener does not wish to be convinced change the subject.

Speak clearly. Do not mumble.

Conversation is more than idle exercise or ornamental superfluity. Its purpose is to keep the other party amused and interested. It is the wire upon which runs the current of your electric personality.

If you don't know how to talk, learn. Devote a certain part of your time to intelligent and diligent practice in the art of small talk. It pays.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for July, 22
Acts 9:19-30; 11:25-26

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association

Saul never had any use for his letters of authority in Damascus, which he brought from the Sanhedrin at Jerusalem. He came to arrest those who in that city were believing in Jesus of Nazareth as the Sent of God. When he had that life-changing revelation outside, the city his entire purpose was changed instantly. As soon as he was recovered from his blindness he was eager to tell others about the difference in his own attitude. Being a devout Jew he held his point of contact with the audience of his fellows in the synagogue. The hearers could not believe their own ears, for they had known about the havoc that Saul had made elsewhere when he found any believers in Christ.

With the zeal of an ardent personal faith and ability as a trained speaker Saul, or Paul as he was later called, began his arguments and proved by irrefutable evidence that this same Jesus was the long expected Messiah. Saul was a great scholar, trained by famous teachers and was unusually able in debate. While his audiences might be forced to concede his conclusions they were not always sympathetic with what they could not deny.

Even for himself there was much to be thought through. For the purpose of having time for meditation and prayer Saul soon left Damascus for some place in Arabia. Clear record of this is found in Galatians 1:15-18. By comparison note that Moses spent forty days in special preparation in Arabia for his leadership of Israel out of Egypt and Jesus was forty days in the wilderness, contemplating his great mission after the descent of the Holy Spirit at the Jordan. From the desert school of many months Saul returned to Damascus and again took up his teachings in that city.

Plots were now laid against this one who had severely persecuted others. Watchers were set to seize him if he fled from the city. These plans were discovered by those who were eager to save the life of this one who proclaimed such a religion of joy and hope. It was possible to avoid seizure by lowering Saul in a basket from a window that overhung one of the walls and so he escaped and hastened to the disciples at Jerusalem. There Saul had his surprise, for these leaders in the church would not accept him as a convert in view of the way he had made havoc by awful persecution, and particularly by having part in the stoning of Stephen, the first Christian martyr.

Barnabas was the one who championed Saul and helped them to see that the conversion before the walls of Damascus was genuine. They were further convinced as Saul "preached boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus" even when many were seeking to kill him because of the position he had taken. In order to save his life the brethren decided that it was better for him to preach elsewhere for a time, and Saul used the opportunity of returning to Tarsus, his home town in Cilicia. He remained there until they wanted a preacher at Antioch where already there were many converts, and many more were daily inquiring about the Jesus Way of living. It was at Antioch that the "disciples were first called Christians."

feeding will renew it and make it come all the stronger. Coreopsis, shast daisy (not all varieties), many of the pinks, wallflowers and violas will all respond to this treatment.

Many of the annuals are greatly benefited if you will cut them back, feed, water and mulch them. Their nature is to grow well in the spring when the ground is cool and the mulching and watering helps them. If you are afraid to try it with all your plants, try it out with a few of them and you will see for yourself. There are many things to learn about gardening, and each year you should try to add to your garden knowledge.

One very good thing to try is the growing of some new and different plant or flower each year. Try something you have not grown before. In a few years you will find that you are familiar with a lot of new things and you will get a lot of pleasure from it. We can never stand still in gardening any more than in anything else; we either go ahead or slide back. See that your gardening is going ahead.

SECOND BLOOM FROM PERENNIALS

Many of the perennials will give you a second crop of flowers if you will treat them right. When you flowers upon the Eyrathrum fade if you will cut them back to about five inches from the ground dig in a good handful of steamed bone-meal, water them well and mulch to keep the soil cool, you will be rewarded with a second bloom. They will bloom more or less till fall. Pyrethrum, particularly the pink shades, are very choice and the second bloom will be welcome.

The same procedure will work with delphinium, hollyhocks, Iceland poppies and many other things. Never try it with peonies as it might be fatal to the plants. In the summer when the perennial glox has had its first grand display of color, cut it back before it goes to seed and it will give you a second blooming almost as good as the first. The myosotis or forget-me-not will do much better if cut back in the summer. Even without it you will have some bloom, but cutting back and

Remove, stir in 1/2 cup liquid pectin; skim, pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot melted paraffin.

FORMER BUCHANAN WOMAN DONATES TO CEDAR RAPIDS

DAUGHTER DAVID BEARDSLEY GIVES RESIDENCE FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE

J. G. Holmes, former editor of the Berrien County Record, sends a clipping from the Cedar Rapids Gazette and Rapids which will interest the old residents of Buchanan. The Mrs. Wentzle Ruml referred to in the article was formerly Loma Beardsley, daughter of David Beardsley, one of the founders of the Buchanan Wagon Works, and erector of the building in which the Record is now printed. The article was in part as follows:

The Jane Boyd community house is assured!

A hope was realized and a plan was fulfilled today when the announcement was made that Dr. and Mrs. Wentzle Ruml, 1901 Fifth avenue, have donated their twelve-room residence, 300 Fifth avenue, for a community house to take the place of the crowded six-room structure in South Tenth street near Thirteenth avenue.

The building will be moved to the northwest corner lot at the intersection of South Tenth street and Thirteenth avenue. This site was purchased when the Oak Hill Community house was established in 1921—established as an experiment in Americanization by a group of public spirited men and women who saw a need and attempted to fill it.

Present quarters cramped. The success of their venture is attested to by the crowded conditions at the present house. When the original quarters practically fell to pieces, the Community house was moved across the street into six rooms, three on the first floor and three upstairs. Here was continued the work of helping deserving persons to help themselves.

But this house proved little better than the other. Often three classes are held in the same room or in open adjoining rooms at the same time. The public speaking class sounds merge with the chorals of the music pupils, and mothers and children bend over their sewing and try to concentrate amidst the bedlam. Visitors are forced to walk through the crowded rooms to seek Miss Elizabeth Bender, now in charge at the house.

There is no room for social gatherings, no space for dramatics, play hours and games. Last winter an invitation was issued to the pupils of Tyler school to attend a social hour after school. And they all came! The rooms were packed. The children squirmed and fidgeted. Games were impossible. So the little visitors were sent home—all except those under 7 years old, and the rooms were crowded even with them.

And then came Dr. and Mrs. Ruml, offering their former home at 300 Fifth avenue. The building will be moved at a cost of about $2,000. Miss Lackersteen said, and it will be an ideal community house.

It is a gabled frame house, with rooms having high ceilings and fireplaces. There are spacious walls, wide staircases, numerous closets, and an attic that can be made into a club room for social gatherings and amateur dramatics. The basement of the house will be a gymnasium.

Its soundproof walls will enable the isolation of classes, and the doors can be thrown open for community groups that may number hundreds.

The Buchanan Grays will again engage the Sawyer team at Sawyer next Sunday afternoon, entering the game with a lineup strengthened by the return of Proud and Roti to their positions at first base and left field, and by the introduction of two new players from Dowagiac, including Allen, who is well known in this section for his receiving work in the battery.

The lineup will be: pitcher, Marrs; catcher, Allen; first, Proud; second, Peck; short stop, Pfingst; third, Chain; left field, Roti; center field, Lister; right field, Smith.

David I. Treat arrived Saturday from Wisconsin for a visit of a month with relatives here, his trip having been delayed two weeks after the date first announced. He is visiting at the homes of his brothers, G. F. Treat and E. W. Treat, and of his sisters, Mrs. Annie Sparks and Mrs. Adelbert Vorhees.

Special entertainment is being arranged for the program will consist of band music, baseball game, sports for old and young, horseshoe pitching contest, good speakers and other entertainment.

Artists from one of the popular radio broadcasting stations will be there to entertain the crowd.

Eben Mumford, of East Lansing, one of the foremost leaders in the movement for bettering the farmers conditions, will be the principal speaker.

This picnic is non-partisan and candidates for political offices will not be permitted upon the speakers platform.

This is the Day of Days which the farmers set aside for renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones as well as listening to the usual fine program and enjoying the sports.

The Prillwitz Band will be on hand all day to entertain the picnickers.

Some new features in sports will be offered this year. A good ball game is promised.

Something doing from 10 A. M. on through the day. Every farmer should plan to attend. Everybody welcome.

St. Joe Farmers Unite For Rural Fire Protection

Residents of the farm district within a radius of seven miles south of St. Joseph are circulating a subscription paper with the intention of raising $7,500 for the purchase of a new fire truck, to be housed and maintained by the city of St. Joseph. According to the terms of the agreement, the city will detail two firemen to every rural fire.

The truck is scheduled to arrive within the next 60 days and will carry two 40 gallon chemical tanks, a 500 gallon pump, and 1,400 feet of hose.

SAFE IN HIS CELL!

Yonkers, N. Y., July 19—Mrs. John Keegan, 300 pounds, asked City Judge Charles W. Boote, to free her husband, John, 120 pounds, from jail so she could beat him to cure him of the drink habit.

"It's only your constitution that pulled you through," said the physician to the man who had been in bed for three weeks.

"Well, Doc, I hope you'll take that into consideration when you send me your bill."

BUCHANAN MEN ATTEND STATE FARM MEETING

ELEVATOR EXCHANGE AND FARM BUREAU HEADS MEET MON. AND TUES.

Members of the directorate of the St. Joe Valley Shipping Association motored to East Lansing Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Elevator Exchange, those making the trip being Dean Clark, A. E. Houswerth, Glenn Haslett, Frank Harrington and Fred Koenigschaf.

The annual statement of the exchange announced that the volume of business transacted by members for 1927 had exceeded $9,000,000, and that the organization was in good financial condition.

The meeting was also attended by Jesse Boyle, who motored to East Lansing Sunday evening to attend the meeting of the state Farm Bureau directorate held at the Michigan State college Monday.

The meeting was devoted mainly to further consideration of the district membership organization plan, and it was definitely decided to place membership solicitors in districts of the state comprising five or six counties each next fall.

The candidates who are in the hands of their friends, often get into more trouble than when they are under the feet of their enemies.

HILLS CORNERS S. S. TO PIGNIO AT SAWYER BEACH

The annual Sunday school picnic is being planned by the Hills Corners Church, to be held next Sunday, at Sawyer Beach, and Sawyer Beach. The picnic is one of the most popular events of the year in the church social life, and this year promises the greatest turn-out that we have known.

The Sunday school will be held, with the meeting time set ahead one-half hour so that the members can get to Tower Hill by 11 o'clock, in time for the morning worship at the tabernacle there. After the services the group will retire to a place designated by a committee, to enjoy one of the famous Hills Corners pot luck dinners.

A committee is planning a program for the activities. It includes horseshoe pitching, racing, ball playing, and tug-of-war. In addition to these fine attractions, there will be ice cream for all. A special offering was made last Sunday and with this several gallons of ice cream will be purchased and distributed free on Sunday. All members of the community are invited to attend; each family should bring along a basket dinner.

BLIGHT HITS POTATOES

Berry Harvest Is in Full Swing With Best Crop in History

The 1928 grain threshing campaign will begin in the Buchanan district next week, a number of threshing crews taking the field Monday south of town.

Present prospects indicate considerably less than an average yield, threshing machine operators who are in touch with general conditions prophesying an average in the vicinity of 18 to 20 bushels. Shocks stand thin in the fields, due to poor weather conditions during the winter and spring, although summer conditions were favorable to the filling of the heads.

O. E. York will start his three threshing outfits Monday, if weather conditions are favorable, one opening the campaign at the Al Fletcher farm and another at the Ike Wells farm, both in the Kansas district, and the third at the Andrew Mitchell farm in the Dutch Corners district.

Frank Siekman will also start Monday with his two threshing outfits, one opening at his own farm and the other at the Chas. Rush farm just south of the Indiana line.

Hopes of berry farmers which had been bolstered by one of the best crops in the history of the industry were dashed Thursday by a collapse in the price, reds drop-

A Cleveland judge recommends that pugilists be hired to administer punishment to husbands who beat their wives. The offending husband would be required to go a certain number of rounds with the pugilist. The only trouble with this suggestion, some believe is that a modern man who can beat his wife oughtn't to have much trouble cleaning up a professional pugilist.

OUR DOUBTS ARE TRAITORS in the race." Hence those alarms that wake him in the dead of the night, when paupers are sleeping soundly. What is mother afraid of? That her sick child will die. And the daughter? That her beau may be stolen by jealous rivals. And the college coach? His team may lose. The Roman emperor wishing to make sure that the list of his victories might always be honored down the ages, ordered his learned men to cast up the record in seven languages, and his smiths then turned the writings into bronze. There seemed to be nothing more to be done, but a few years after the emperor's death the barbarians came over the Alps, smashed the tablets, and tumbled the monument in ruin. Timid folks who are not Fords, Coolidges, Sheba elephants or Roman emperors, should not flatter themselves too much, but should remember this: Every man, woman and child on a lonely road at night instinctively dreads the dark. That road is the highway of life—over which, one by one, we must all pass. BRASS BANDS Every city should have a municipal band. There is nothing like music to stir the soul of humanity and create harmony, satisfaction, and good fellowship. Why do they have bands in the army? Why do they have bands in the navy? It is for the express purpose of keeping the morale of those organizations. Very well, the same should be true then of keeping up the morale of a town or city. Public band concerts are beneficial in various ways, not only in keeping up the morale but in keeping people out of mischief. Persons who really enjoy music are about the last ones to get into trouble. They are not looking for thrills of the adventuresome kind. They receive their thrill from the satisfaction they have in interpreting the vibrations of others' souls—so to speak. There is no denying the fact that music is the poetry of the soul, and every musician is a poet at heart whether he can write a quatrain or not. There is nothing that stirs the sensitive soul of mankind more than music, and that accounts for people whose ears are out of tune to harmony being shocked when a B-flat is played and it should be C-sharp. Frequently, writers in metropolitan cities take a "shot" at the country band. That is just where they show their ignorance. They do not know what music is. All they can do is to grind out, in the vernacular of the sports writer, a bunch of "dope." Municipal bands are a necessity, and every town and city should be proud of its municipal organizations. CHARM Much talk about charm. Some people have charm, some have not. What is it? Robert Schaeffer, author says that "charm" is the result of being physically and spiritually so much a part of the life of things that you irresistibly radiate the concentrated essence of all life, and personally exemplify the same laws that whiten the cherry orchards of April, and kindle the volcano, and swing the stars on their courses. That is a clever definition, but charm are the ones who listen well, who seem very much interested in what we have to say, and who seek opportunities to put forth their own opinions. To have charm is to have a real and earnest interest in others. Many persons jump at conclusions and call them convictions. The person who pines over his hard luck needs to spruce up a bit. Two popular musical instruments are the dinner horn and the horn of plenty. How dull business would be if every man refrained from buying until he could afford it. Who can remember when the peroxide blonde was about the most dangerous menace to husbands?

PRINCESS THEATRE
 "The house of laughter," might well be over the door of the Princess Theatre. It is one of the elements of success in the community, for Shakespeare says, "They laugh that win." And if you crave good company, "Laugh and the world laughs with you," according to Ella Wheeler Wilcox. One of the funniest things ever put on the screen, "Silk Legs," will be seen at the Princess tonight and tomorrow. Madge Bellamy is the irrepressible heroine of a lot of wholesome fun at the expense of the "Johnnies." The comedy Saturday will all be laughs, and even in the stern western, with Jack Holt as the dashing hero and Betty Jewel the sweetheart of "The Mysterious Rider," there will be many a laugh to relieve the tension.
 Perhaps "The Girl from Chicago," with Myrna Loy and Conrad Nagel, will prove the supreme need for wholesome, clean merriment in all human life, despite its serious lessons of pitfalls to be shunned by all of us. The comedy will furnish laughs in abundance.
 Monday Bebe Daniels, the most athletic of all screen ladies, will dash across the silver sheet in the part of a "Senorita," proving herself equal to any of the masculine dare-devils. With all her serious physical prowess, she is one of the smilingst of beauties, and gets her laughs most easily. There will also be a comedy, packed with funny situations to laugh at, and the first chapter of a new serial, "The Scarlet Arrow," that will run through the usual ten weeks of thrills.

 The heavy offering of the coming week will be Alec Francis in the famous story, "The Shepherd of the Hills," by Harold Bell Wright, to be shown both Tuesday and Wednesday. Also Manager Morley has another of those Collegian pictures that have pleased the people of youthful sympathies more than anything he has ever offered, "This Time, Running Wild."

 And then comes Harold Lloyd in "Speedy"—but that begins another week.
 "The man that loves and laughs must sure do well," says Pope.

GIRLS WEAR TROUSERS
 London, July 19—British women athletes are now wearing trousers in order to keep warm during waiting periods between events at athletic meets. The popularity of the trousers among the women is due to the full-length leg covering provided compared with the scant protection given by a mackintosh or coat.
