PICKING WINNERS

They want to bet on Tunney down in Freddie's lathering place. They flash a wad of money and they shake it up and listen and they hear their money say That Heeney will slap Tunney six miles out in Noo Yawk bay. And I gather the conclusion that a winner's hard to pick. When a man that can't be shaded meets a man that can't be lied.

But I rise on this occasion to remark I do not choose To bet my hard-earned money on a guy too good to lose; He may be smart and sassy, he may be fast and tough, But he'll find 'em just as classy if he travels far enough. There is some one that can lick 'em and I find it sadly true, That when my money's on them, then they do! my boy, they do!

I even can't remember without quite a spell of blues The times I've backed my judgment on a guy too good to lose.

From a bitter, sad experience I have figured out the slant That time they'll take a licking is the time I know they can. So I'm passing up the winner for another man to pick. When a guy that can't be shaded meets a guy that can't be lied.

Willard Irving Osgood Thomblly, long sought radio inventor and former resident on a farm northwest of Buchanan, will face extradition proceedings at Los Angeles next Wednesday, August 1, at which time Berrien County authorities will be there with the necessary papers, according to an announcement by Prosecuting Attorney, George M. Y., to sign the warrants for her husband's arrest.

ROADS GUARDED
TO STOP SPREAD
OF CORN BORERCARS LEAVING IND. INFECTED DISTRICTS ARE BEING SEARCHED FOR CORN

Anywhere there's one thing that Buchanan shoppers had better buy at home henceforth, and that is sweet corn.

Anyone who buys sweet corn on the cob in Indiana markets to bring here stands good for a loss, according to a ruling which went into effect Tuesday by which all cars leaving the districts in St. Joseph, Kosciusko, and Marshall counties infested by the corn borer plague must submit to search by patrolmen stationed at roads leaving those areas.

In accordance with this ruling, patrols have been established at the state line on all roads between South Bend and Buchanan, acting under authority of the United States Department of Agriculture and the state department of conservation, with full warrant to stop all automobiles and make a thorough search. Eight hour shifts are being maintained on all these roads.

"Practically no sweet corn is ready for use in this area at this time but it was deemed advisable to post the roads at this early date on account of the movement of sweet corn in the Lake Erie region," P. T. Ullman, of the European corn borer control, explained this morning.

Sweet Corn Now Ready. "The sweet corn there, which is grown for the early market, is now ready and considerable of this corn moves long distances, almost all of it going into the Detroit, Michigan, market and then being shipped all over the country from there."

"The road guards this year will be operated under the state quarantine regulations of Indiana and supervised by the United States department of agriculture, European corn borer control."

"The quarantine lines are operated to prevent the long distance spread of the European corn borer on the sweet corn on the cob. The worms attacking the ears, and in many cases even after the husk has been removed, cannot be seen except upon a very close examination."

20 out of 25 Residents In Favor of Track in Center Street

SAY R. R. HAS NO TITLE

Engineers Point Technical Difficulties in Road of Proposal

Proceedings with a view to securing the transfer of the Michigan Central switch on Portage Street between the main track right of way and Alexander Street from the west side to the center of the street were again started last week with the circulation of petitions favoring such transfer, which were signed by twenty out of the twenty-five interested property owners.

The movement for the moving of the tracks is headed by C. R. Bristol, William Bainton and Al Charles, the latter acting as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. As reasons for the transfer they state that the present location makes it impossible for residents on the west side of the street to park their cars next to curb, and that the fact that the Walton Street paving is to be laid during the present year renders it necessary that the track be permanently located at once.

They state further that the Michigan Central has neither franchise title to their right of way on Portage Street, and that the switch remains there merely on the sufferance of the village. Should the track be changed to suit the request, they state that it would then be in order for the village to deed the right of way over to the railway track to the railway additional land for the enlargement of their track space next to the Clark plant. The petitioners propose that the 20 foot pavement be divided, so that there will be 10 feet on each side.

The railway engineers state that the transfer would be more expensive than the petitioners are aware, due to the difficulty in bringing the railway track and the street to the same grade. Through out part of the section in question, they state that the railway track is higher than the street, and that the street would have to be raised to meet this grade level in case the track is placed in the center. This, they state, would entail damage to property owners whose lots would be considerably below the street level.

Disinterested parties state that the engineering problems would be better solved by the transfer of the track to the east side of the street, in order to dispense with the grade problem where the switch crosses Portage at Alexander Street. At this point the track makes a turn to the east crossing the street at an angle and pitching downhill at a grade varying to a considerable extent from that of the street. In case the track remains in its present location, it will be necessary to make a dip in the pavement at this point to accommodate the grade necessities of the railway. If the track crossed Portage at the south end of the street, where the ground is level, this trouble would be dispensed with, they state.

William Bainton and Al Charles drove to St. Joseph yesterday to complete papers which are to be laid before the county supervisors and the railway authorities.

1500 Tons Stone Laid Daily On Range Line Road

Stone is now being unloaded by the Gross Construction Co. forces on the Range Line road at the rate of 20 to 25 carloads per day, totalling from 1,200 to 1,500 tons, with prospects that the pavement will be completed in six weeks with favorable weather conditions. Two and a half miles of stone has already been laid by fleets of trucks working out of Buchanan and Berrien Springs on both ends of the range line road, representing one third of the 7.35 miles of the project.

In all 800 carloads have been unloaded at Buchanan and 300 at Berrien Springs, cars averaging about 60 tons each. A half mile of stone work remains at the south end of the Walton Road project.

Clyde Hamilton,
Buchanan Native,
Dies at Saginaw

He is survived by his widow and two children and by four brothers, Ralph of Buchanan, Roy and Harry of South Bend, and Ward of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton went to Saginaw to attend the funeral.

John Diment, 60, Laid at Rest In Oak Ridge, Friday

Funeral services for John Diment, 60, were held at 4 p. m. Friday, July 20, from the Child's Funeral Home, burial being made in the family lot at Oak Ridge.

He was born on the Diment homestead on the north side of Buchanan township, Feb. 14, 1868, and passed away at the state hospital at Kalamazoo, July 18, 1928. All his life was spent on the same farm, which he bought from his father and lived on until his last illness. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Anna Volkens and Mrs. Jeanette Meffert, and one brother, William Diment, all of Buchanan, in addition to several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. J. Terry. Six nephews served as pall bearers.

Two Story Structure Doubles Capacity of Brake Department

NEED WORKMAN HOMES

New Building At Battle Creek; Plans Made For Berrien Spgs. Unit

Work was begun Saturday clearing the ground for the construction of a 75x80 foot two story addition to the brake department of the Clark Equipment Co. plant, the new construction to be located along the Michigan Central tracks north of the present brake building.

This construction will practically double the floor space of the brake department, enabling the plant to cope with output requirements in immediate prospect. The building will be of reinforced concrete and steel.

The completion of the addition will mean further increase in working force, which is now at practically full strength and will mean a corresponding increase in demand on the already inadequate housing facilities of Buchanan. In the neighborhood of 250 persons are now coming in from outside points, some as far as 15 and 20 miles, for employment in the Clark Plant.

Expansion of the plant at Buchanan on any considerable scale is prohibited, according to a statement of Clark heads, by the problem of living quarters for a local labor supply. It would be impractical to arrange for a large increase in plant force here, as the Clark men state, until some provision is in sight for living accommodations.

A large addition, 180x255 feet in dimension, is being built on the front axle and wheel department at Battle Creek, and plans are now under consideration for an addition to the transmission case department at Berrien Springs, to keep pace with the demands of business already contracted or in immediate prospect.

DON WOOD WINS
CAMPING HONORS
AT LAKE MADRON

CAMP IS DESERTED; SCOUTS PADDLE CANOES UP ST. JOSEPH RIVER

Don Wood was awarded honors as the best camper during the first period at Lake Madron, closing Friday, having received a bronze medal, with a chance to win the 18 inch silver loving cup in case his average is better than the high man of the two succeeding periods.

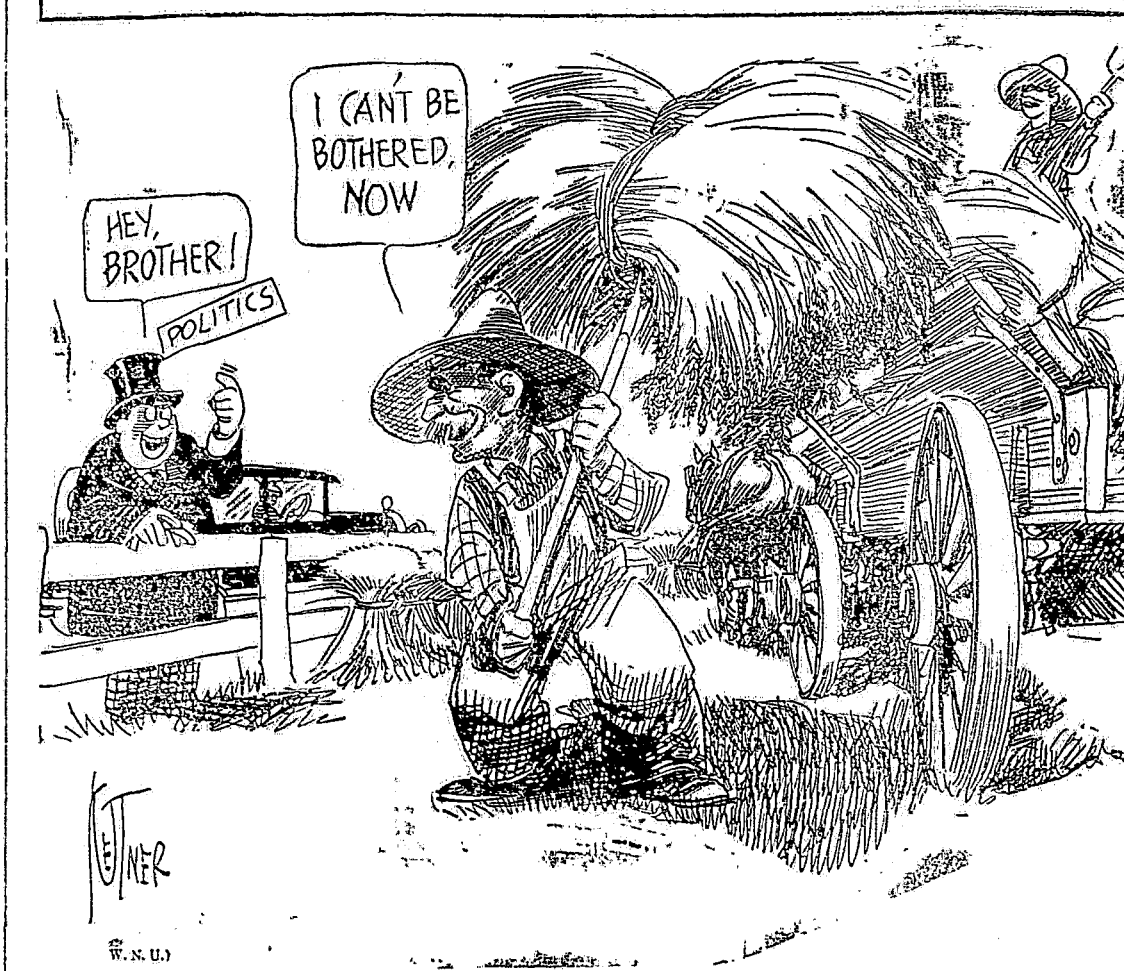

In all eleven merit badges were awarded at the first period, of which three were won by Wood, for excellence in swimming, woodwork and leathercraft. The award was made on the basis of this advancement and for general proficiency in scout work.

Of the sixteen boys at camp, George Spatta and Don Wood represented Buchanan as campers, and Paul Easton and Spot Dempsey served on the faculty, the former as swimming instructor and the latter as bugler.

The camp is now practically vacant, the second period consisting of the canoe trip up the St. Joseph river. The third and best attended period opens at Lake Madron, August 6, ending August 17.

Glenn Foster arrived home Saturday from a two weeks automobile trip during which he drove through Pennsylvania to New York City, up the New England coast to Montreal, and along the Canadian side of the border, where the highways average 15 bars to the gallon. He drove 3,800 miles.

INDEP. 9 TRIMS FOUNDRY

Thanings Tire and Mittans Will Play 3d of Series This Afternoon

The first two games of the Twilight League series were played Monday and Tuesday of this week, the games starting about 6 p. m. and lasting an hour or slightly more. Good crowds have attended and considerable rivalry has been manifested.

The Axle faced the Drill in the opening game of the series at the Athletic Park Monday night, the former winning 2-1 in one of the tightest and best played games of the sort ever seen here.

The game was a battle between Hess on the mound for the Axle and H. Hanlin for the Drills, with the former having a slight margin. The lineup of the two teams was:

Hess	p	Hanlin
Dempsey	c	Fuller
White	1b	Fingst
Ravish	2b	Glossinger
Proud	ss	Peck
Chubb	3b	Inglewright
Batton	lf	Roti
Boyce	cf	Mayst
Procous	rf	Griffith

In the game between the Independent and Foundry teams Tuesday evening, the former team proved to be easily the class of the event, circling the bases for a count of seven in the opening frame and totaling 14 to 3 for the Foundry during the seven inning contest.

Due to lack of a score keeper, no record was kept of positions played. The team members were: Independent: Burk, Lyons, Roti, Fitch, Vandenberg, Webb, Boone, Pritchett, E. Bristol, Bristol. Foundry: Ross, Hamilton, F. Ross, Merrifield, Koons, Hall, Boone, Menzies, Donnen, Gregory. The Thanings Tire Shop Nine will play Mittans Cigar Store in the third game of the series this afternoon.

Ground Water
Slows Down Work
In Sewer Outlet

Construction work on the sewer outlets at Third Street is being delayed by springs encountered in excavation and by chunks of buried pig iron weighing sometimes several hundred pounds which are found in the ten feet or more of made ground through which the excavation passes.

Contractor Frank Read of Do-wagiac has installed an Austin Digger, and is ready to throw dirt at a rapid rate as soon as he is clear of the wet ground, where he is obliged to "feel his way." This morning 200 feet of 12 inch tile and 100 feet of 30 inch tile had been laid. Fifteen car loads of tile out of a total of 39 due have been unloaded, and string on the ground.

LAD IS INJURED IN RUNAWAY OF GRAIN BINDER

MACHINE GUARD ENTERS SIDE PIERCING LEFT LUNG; MAY RECOVER

Word was received this morning from South Bend to the effect that Henry Brock, 16 year old boy who was injured Tuesday in a binder runaway at the Elson Rough farm on Portage Prairie, was resting easily with a fair chance for recovery.

Brock had accompanied Rough to the grain field, and was sitting on the seat of the binder holding the team while Rough drove back to the house. When Rough returned he drove up near the team with the car, startling the four horses, which started to run. Brock jumped off the seat and ran around in front of the team. The team knocked him down and the binder passed over him. He received a severe wound in the left side, the lung being slightly penetrated.

Rough stated that he did not know how the wound was received, as the boy was unable to tell. The binder was out of gear, but blood was found on one guard, indicating that the wound possibly came from that source. The horses ran only a few rods and stopped of their own accord.

Mrs. Ella Paul

Pall bearers were: Frank Merson, Herb Roe, Walter Hathaway, Clint Hathaway, Henry Disel, Clint Lentz.

400 LAKE
MADRON LOTS

Chicago Jewish Courier to Run Excursion Sunday From Mich. City

LOTS SELL FOR $72.50

Construction To Be Started Immediately on New Summer Homes

Four hundred Lake Madron Resort lots were disposed of Sunday on the occasion of the opening sale conducted by the Chicago Jewish Courier, which is promoting the project, according to a statement by manager Kessler.

Due to the fact that the attendance was materially cut down by rains, a continuation of the opening will be held next Sunday, at which time a bus excursion will run from Michigan City.

The west side of the project, comprising about 1500 lots, is now being opened up. When totally platted, there will be in the neighborhood of 3,000 lots.

The Lundgren barn has been rebuilt into a handsome club house, with wood stained siding on the outside and the interior sealed with celotex and handsomely furnished. It has a splendid location, overlooking the lake, and also a fine expanse of country. This building is to be eventually turned over to the lot owners. Two bath houses have also been completed, and a fully equipped water playground is being installed.

Lots are 20x100 feet in dimension and are selling for $69.50 each, with an additional charge of $3 for a subscription to the Chicago Jewish Courier, the sales being made only to subscribers to that journal. The first payment is $12.50, the remainder falling due in monthly payments of $3, extending over a period of 20 months.

Construction is to be started immediately on two houses by private owners.

Of Death of J. F. Reynolds in Iowa

The Record is again indebted to J. G. Holmes, former editor, for tidings of the death of James F. Reynolds, former Bertrand township resident, who passed away at his home in Bradyville, Iowa, July 21, 1928. Reynolds grew up on what is known to the pioneer residents here as the Henry Drybread farm in Section 6, West Bertrand, now owned by Emil Koenigshof, immediately southwest of the Holmes school. He and J. G. Holmes were schoolmates. He was about 77 years of age.

FARMERS SET FOR ANNUAL PICNIC WED.

Head of Extension Dept., Michigan State, to Make Address

PROGRAM STARTS AT 10

Dinner Calling, Hog Calling Contests to Feature Entertainment.

Program arrangements have been completed for the seventh annual Berrien County Farmers Picnic, to be held this year at Indian Fields, Berrien Springs, Wednesday of next week, with Eben Mumford, head of the extension department of Michigan State College as speaker, and a list of excellent entertainment attractions.

Included in this entertainment will be hog calling contests for the men and dinner calling contests for women, substantial prizes being in store for the farm men and women who can put the most volume and allurements into dinner invitations for men or hogs or both. These contests are proving popular in agricultural fairs and picnics over the state, and should provide much sport. Anyone wishing to enter may register with sports committee on the day of the picnic.

The day will be opened with a band concert at 10:00 a. m., with a program of sports following. The Hinchman Independent baseball team, a farmers organization, has issued a challenge to any team in the county. A number of other sports features are promised, some of them being in the nature of surprises.

Several thousand farmers attend this event every year, in the neighborhood of 5,000 being the record, and a similar response is expected this year if the weather favors.

BRISTOL TELLS OF AUTO RACE
IN GAY NINETIES

LOCAL PATTERN MAKER CAST PARTS FOR ONE OF FIRST MODELS

In naming over the role of the pioneer automobile builders, including Haines and Ford, there is one name that is usually overlooked, that of C. D. Bristol of the Bristol Pattern Works. When the horseless carriage was in swaddling clothes back in the Gay Nineties, Bristol was a pattern maker in Chicago. Shortly after the Chicago World's Fair, the Times-Herald arranged an automobile race over a course to start at Stony Island and extend north to Lincoln Park, thence west and south again to the starting point, totaling 50 miles. Among the entrants was D. E. Lewis, who had ideas concerning the construction of automobiles, and brought them to Bristol, who made the patterns, and cast the parts. In making the start Lewis handled his machine too precipitately and sheared the gears, eliminating himself. The only automobile of the six entrants to complete the run was that of Duryea, who steamed the course at the astounding rate of 12 miles an hour.

Dick Pears to Fly Over Buchanan Sat.
With Nat. Air Tour

Twenty-five airplanes remaining in the National Air Tour are scheduled to pass over Buchanan Saturday forenoon on the last leg of their 30 days endurance flight. Richard Pears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pears, is one of the fliers remaining in the contest, thereby adding to the local interest. The first plane leaves Chicago at 8 a. m., flying over Buchanan in three quarters of an hour. Pears will leave 20 minutes later, flying over his native town about 9:00 a. m. The aviators will spend Friday night in Chicago, and plan to take dinner Saturday at Battle Creek.

RASPBERRIES
GO TO RECORD
LOW PRICES

Storm Thursday Causes Loss Of Thousands to Growers

REDS SLUMP TO 50 CENTS

Growers Leave Fruit In Fields; Price Under Picking Cost

Thousands of dollars were lost to Berrien County fruit farmers during the past week on account of the Thursday storms and the ensuing collapse in the berry market, in which red raspberries sagged as low as 80 cents per crate and black caps even lower.

Following the hard rains of Thursday, the pickers were unable to work the following day, while the hot weather hastened the ripening. As a result, on Saturday more than double the usual amount of berries went on the market, many of them over-ripe. Red raspberries in poor condition sold that day on the Chicago market for as low as 50c per crate. On Monday the price remained low, the rally starting Tuesday and continuing.

Saturday and Monday many of the growers announced their intention of stopping the harvest, since picking costs average $1 per crate and containers cost 25 cents, while the bulk of the berries were selling at from 90 cents to $1.25 per crate.

This is the record low price for several years, and offsets much of the advantage from the record yield of this season.

TWO NARROWLY
MISS FATE UNDER RUNAWAY CARS

LOUIS SERMAK, DELL SHANK DODGE DEATH BY INCHES ON CLARK SWITCH

Louis Sermak and Dell Shank, Gallien men in the employ of the Gross Construction Company on the Range Line road, had narrow brushes with death yesterday morning when a string of eight empties and two loaded stone cars escaped control on the sidetrack north of River Street and bore down at a high rate of speed on workmen employed in unloading at the River Street crossing.

A foreman and an assistant had been easing the string of cars down the track to spot the two loaded cars opposite the unloading crane. When the string had passed the "hump," or high spot at the switch in the Burkhardt Addition, the grade became so steep that the men were unable to stop them by using the brakes. They leaped from the cars and attempted to block in front of them but the cars escaped control entirely and sped down the track.

At the River Street crossing a force of workmen were unloading two more loaded cars, and did not see the runaways until they were within two rods. One of the men saw them coming and shouted a warning, at the same time grabbing Dell Shank, who was under a car in the center of the track cleaning up, and jerking him clear of the rails, the flying wheels missing his feet almost by inches.

Louis Sermak was standing just clear of the rails, with his back to the cars, when the foremost car struck him in the head and shoulder, knocking him to the side of the grade. He was taken to the office of Dr. Strayer, where it was found that he had painful but not serious cuts.

The runaway string took the two loads with them and catapulted on down the switch, picking up 14 more empties below River Street and taking the entire 26 to the low place in the tracks opposite the Clark plant where they were stopped by the grade.

People travelling River Street have been requested to keep a lookout for runaway cars at that crossing as the grade is very steep at that point, which makes it hard to handle cars.

SECOND RELAY SCOUTS ARRIVE AT BLACK HAWK

TO MEET CAMP BETTS TODAY IN BASEBALL, AND SCOUT CONTESTS

The second relay of Boy Scouts from Chicago suburbs arrived at beautiful Camp Black Hawk on the St. Joseph River four miles below Buchanan Monday, consisting of 100 boys from Chicago Heights and Harvey, to replace the first relay of 133 from Aurora and Chicago Heights which left Sunday.

On the program for this period will be a continuation of scout contests with Camp Betts, summer headquarters for the Hammond Scouts, six miles down the river, which formed an interesting part of the first session. Camp Betts was victor twice last week, making a clean sweep in baseball games, swimming contests, and scoutcraft. The two camps meet at Black Hawk today and at Betts Monday.

Next week the Black Hawk boys will make an over-night hike to Camp Wilderness, near Bridgman, summer headquarters for the Oak Park, Chicago, Scouts, making the trip part way on foot and part by truck.

The following description of the education which the boys receive at the camp is furnished by the director, C. E. Palmer:

Here in ideal surroundings, these boys are learning to be better scouts—and incidentally better citizens and members of society. They are learning outdoor cookery—and better table manners; archery—and how to wash behind their ears. They are learning that sassafras trees have three kinds of leaves—and that, at camp, a wet bathing suit stays wet unless you—yourself—in person—have remembered to hang it on the line. They are learning forestry—and that if you throw papers on the ground, your neighbor will have to pick them up when it is his turn to be camp police. Or perhaps it will be your own turn. They are learning the Australian crawl—and that a pair of shoes out of alignment under your cot may mean that some other tent gets the day's award for neatness.

You will observe that most of these by-products of Scout education come from other boys. For it takes boys to educate boys. If you get into a scuffle at the table and tip your milk over, thereby ruining the chances of your patrol to attain the award for the neatest table of the day, no adult could possibly be so scornful as the seven other boys at your table are likely to be. If your finger nails do not pass inspection when you stand retreat at night, rest assured that your seven tent mates will know what to do about it. Boys educate boys.

If life at Camp Black Hawk had no other advantages than these, it would still have proved its worth. The second period began Monday, July 23.

Nothing in Belief

There is nothing whatever to support the idea that as the directions of the wind is on March 20-22 so it will be prevailing during the next six months, except perhaps in trade-wind regions, where the direction of the wind is pretty much the same all the time. And in such places one day is as good as another as a guide, since all are much alike.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medicine is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles F. Phillips since 1875.

Feeds at Lower Cost to You

Pasture is the natural feed for cows and good pasture is unexcelled for dairy cows, as it provides nutrients in liberal amount. It is succulent and palatable and rich in protein and mineral matter. However, pastures are good for only a short time, and many farmers fail to realize that during July and August the cows are getting very little feed from the dried up, bare pasture land. This is the main reason for the midsummer drop in milk flow and the rundown condition of the cows at the end of the summer. Globe Milk-Producer supplies all the additional food needed and at surprisingly low cost. Just use Globe once to try it out and you will readily see that it makes money for you.

International Sunday School Lesson for July 29

THE FIRST FOREIGN MISSIONARIES

Acts 13:1-5, 13-15, 44-49

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary
Of the World's Sunday School Association

All of Chapter XIII should be read as a preparation for this lesson study. The general setting must be in mind as well as the few verses that are the basis for more intensive study. After Saul had been called from Tarsus to help the growing church in Antioch there was still greater progress there. There is that in the Christian religion which always makes one desire that all others shall likewise have joy and peace in believing. While in the midst of worship there was a growing consensus of opinion that something very definite should be undertaken in telling the Gospel story more widely. Luke describes the outcome when he records the "Holy Spirit said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." Preparations were made for the first missionary journey and these men were formally set apart for this service by prayer and the laying on of hands.

Three people made up the company. They were Barnabas; his nephew, John Mark; and Saul—styled the apostle to the Gentiles. Their first destination was the island of Cyprus, about seventy miles distant. Work began at Salamis. There the usual approach was made by seeking the synagogue of the Jews, for all had a common belief in Jehovah as God. Keep in mind that you are always to use your Bible as both reference and text book. At this point read the verse omitted in the lesson text indicated above. The story is told of the work at Paphos on the eastern side of Cyprus. The missionaries came into opposition with Elymas, the sorcerer, who opposed the messages they gave to Sergius Paulus, the proconsul, who believed when he beheld the miracle that Paul wrought.

When the mainland was reached at Perga in Pamphylia there was real trouble among the three evangelists. For some unnamed reason Mark determined to quit the party and returned to Mary, his mother, in Jerusalem. Some say he refused to go inland with Paul; others that he became jealous when Paul became more prominent than his uncle, Barnabas. This matter comes up again in the lesson for August 19.

Some of the hardships encountered at this time or soon are enumerated in II Corinthians 11:24-28. Pisidian Antioch is the first stopping place of record. There the travelers attended the synagogue service and, according to courtesy custom, after the reading of the law, were invited to speak. To use modern language, they made a hit at the start and were invited to speak again the following Sabbath, "when the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of God." Many believed the teachings of Paul.

Jealousy started the trouble that followed. When the synagogue leaders saw that the strangers were obtaining such a fine following they opposed these men, and turned them out of the synagogue. Both Paul and Barnabas were bold in declaring that they could not keep silent, and since their own brethren would no longer hear them they could now give their attention to the Gentiles, for their Gospel was for all mankind. At once a multitude of those other than Jews believed the word as it was preached unto them specially. Their reaction is given in the closing verses of the lesson: "And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified God — and the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region."

STONE AGE MUMMIES

THE GREATEST MAGNET — — ROCKEFELLER SEES KIND-NESS

WAR DOES NOT PAY

Mammoths, extinct thousands of years, have been found preserved, skin, hair, flesh, in Northern ice. Hoping that men of the Stone Age might be similarly preserved, an expedition was sent to look.

On an island, far North in cold Alaska, scientists discovered at the top of an almost inaccessible cliff the grave of an ancient Stone Age chief.

His coffin was lined with well cured skins of the sea otter. His shirt was of bird skins, his clothing made of the finest furs. A favorite child, a seamstress to sew for him, a servant and hunter to get game for him, had been killed and buried with him to accompany him on his death journey.

This mummified family from the Stone Age will enlighten scientists. It interests us all, illustrating the unconquerable belief in a future life so deeply planted in the human brain.

Why was the belief put there if only to be disappointed?

The French Government builds a gigantic magnet several thousand times as powerful as any built thus far.

It will be used in scientific experiments in connection with the molecular and atomic construction of matter, etc. The magnet eventually will be of great use in industry.

Here the steel companies use magnets picking up tons of steel rails and loading them on cars, dropping them down, lifting them up, as a boy lifts tacks with his toy magnet.

Man is an intelligent animal, living on a gigantic combination power wheel and magnet—the earth. He constructs his own little power plant, builds his own electric and magnetic power.

In the north day before yesterday man's electric work felt an electric storm, and an amazing aurora borealis, stretching all across the northern part of the continent.

If men could borrow and use the inexhaustible electric power of the earth, they need not turn coal or water falls into electric current.

John D. Rockefeller, beginning his ninetieth year, said: "I never worry, and I am amazed at the kindness of people generally."

"Eighty years ago," from his father's cottage doorway, in the Catskill foothills, he watched his uncle drive off, to trade horses—

Now You Can Go to Church in Overalls

Photo shows the big banner over the Open Air Canvas Church at 5th and Wyndotte Streets, Kansas City, Mo., that is making a go-to-Church Sunday Drive and wants the members of its congregation to come dressed as they please and in overalls if they care to.

and saw him come back with better horses.

Now his ships go out of every harbor of the world, his scientists are fighting disease in every part of the world. And looking at his right hand, now wrinkled, he knows it has made gifts to education and human progress totaling hundreds of millions.

A good deal in one life time.

Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan, and an able citizen, tells business men they can be a distinct factor in preventing future wars.

They can and will be, for they have discovered that war, in the past often promoted by business, DOES NOT PAY.

Another big war would mean not merely sixty per cent income tax, but confiscation of principal, on a gigantic scale. Young men would not again consent to have their bodies sent to war, unless the rich man's dollars also went.

Wise business men will oppose war and demand preparation for it.

Plea for Tolerance

What is abhorrent to you may not only be justifiable conduct to another, but actually praiseworthy. That is where the spirits of tolerance and charity come in. We can't all think alike, any more than all trees can bear similar foliage and fruit. We are all inconsistent. Not one of us acts according to the standard his best self sets.

Besides, we are all more or less like the man in the fable, who carried two wallets over his shoulder, one in front and one behind. The one behind contained his own faults, the one in front his neighbor's. Can it be wondered that he was always conscious of his neighbor's faults and forgetful of his own?—London Tit-Bits.

A Real Improvement in the Fit of Silk Hosiery

You may now purchase some truly remarkable hosiery. This new hosiery is made in a new and distinctive way—by a patented process, to properly fit your feet.

1. Glove-Fitting Instep. Now your hosiery will fit you perfectly at the instep, just like your gloves fit. This is accomplished by removing the unnecessary fabric at the instep and adding fabric at the sole where it is needed.

2. Smooth Toe. The Ironclad toe is beautifully pointed because all excessive fabric at the toe is eliminated. Thus all folds, puffs or wrinkles at the top of the toe, customary with the usual type of hosiery, are completely eliminated.

3. Non Wrinkle Ankle. No wrinkles or fullness at your ankle any more. Compare this new Ironclad Hosiery with any hosiery you have ever worn for perfect fit at ankles and instep, and for elasticity and foot comfort.

4. Snug-Fitting Heel. The heel fits snugly. No wrinkles. No folds. Shaped exactly like your own heel. The best fitting and most comfortable feeling stockings you have ever worn.

5. Knit-to-Fit. No uncomfortable seams, wrinkles, or knots. The foot is placed at correct angle to leg. With this construction there is absolutely no tendency to wrinkle or fold at the instep or ankle.

From the top to the beautifully pointed toe this hosiery represents impressive value and genuine comfort. You have waited and wished for this new and different hosiery. May you wear and enjoy it with supreme comfort, happiness and pride.

Glover Calls Halt On Violation of Traffic Ordinance

Local automobile drivers who have been playing fast and loose with traffic regulations have until the first of the week in which to refresh their memories and acquire better habits, according to Mayor Claude Glover, who has caused copies of the local ordinances covering the subject to be posted in prominent places, and has ordered Chief French to enforce them without fear or favor. Enforcement will include the ordinance against double parking, right hand turns against the red light without stopping, U turns on Front Street, speeding, pausing at all stop signs and other measures of public safety.

Enforcement has been rendered necessary by the increase of traffic due to the recent opening of the direct route of M60 and the consequent heavier traffic this way.

Life is a series of contradictions. Use enough sugary phrases on a vain person and he thinks he's the salt of the earth.—Farm and Fireside.

By Marjorie Adams
"The fairest woman golfer, At this mid-season date, Gets sunburned or is freckled, Which is an awful fate!"
Perhaps it is because I awakened early this morning or, perhaps it is the sunny weather but I just had to burst into verse. And you have read (I hope) the result above.

But, to get back to the subject, the sun does injure most skins. The tan is all right until one wants to look with a different neckline than that of the one worn when she was burned. But sunburn and freckles are most unattractive at all times and the first named is painful into the bargain.

Protect Your Skin.
The best way to get rid of these blemishes is to prevent them. This may be done by wearing a large brimmed hat or using a protective lotion on the skin before venturing out.

It may take a little care but the resultant lovely white skin should be sufficient reward.

RECIPES

Cantaloupe Sherbet
1 cup of sugar
2 cups of water
1 tablespoon of gelatin softened

in a few tablespoons of cold water 4 cups of melon pulp
1 tablespoon of lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon of salt
1/4 teaspoon of nutmeg
1 egg white
Boil sugar and water together for ten minutes; add gelatin, stir until cold and strain. Add melon pulp, lemon juice, salt and nutmeg. Whip egg white until stiff and fold into mixture.
Pour into freezer and let stand two hours.

Cherry Ice
6 cups of sour cherries
4 cups of water
2 1/2 cups of sugar
Boil cherries slowly with the water until they may be pressed through a sieve. Measure six and one-half cups of juice and pulp; add sugar and dissolve. Freeze.

Frosted Root Beer
Turn into a tall glass four tablespoons of thick cream; add chilled root beer very slowly so that it will not foam up and run over the edge. Top with two spoonfuls of sweetened whipped cream, flavor with lemon and serve immediately. Cracked ice may be added if desired.

Running Water
"One's desires and affluities go out toward the full streams. How many a parched place they reach and lap in one's memory! How many a vision of naked pabbles and sun-baked banks they cover and blot out! They give eyes to the fields; they give dimples and laughter; they give light and motion. Running water! What a delightful suggestion the words always convey! One's thoughts and sympathies are set flowing by them; they unlock a fountain of pleasant fancies and associations in one's memory; the imagination is tormented and refreshed."—John Burroughs.

Domestic Logic
It is nothing at which to wonder. The little Portland boy is quite young and has not yet fallen a victim to the charm of exaggeration. Furthermore, he has a grandmother, a nice lady, but nervous. When he was asked if he could tell the number of feet in a rod he shook his head, but declared a belief that a rod was about as long as a short stove poker or a long lead pencil.
It appears he had heard his grandmother say that she jumped a rod every time the doorbell rang, and had drawn his own conclusions, as a bright child would. Grandmother, I think, considerable of a jumper at that.—D. H. Talmadge in Portland Oregonian.

Abuse Doesn't Prevent Use
The abuse of anything does not invalidate its genuinely ethical use. As long as we are what we are, that is, as long as we have vermiform appendices in our bodies and evil in our souls, some of us will abuse anything. That inevitable abuse will never be an ethically valid reason for denying, much less, for attempting to prohibit, the ethical use of that same thing, whether that thing be alcohol or sex or money.—Plain Talk Magazine.

Good Bargain
"Isn't that a new coat, Mandy?" asked the clerk in a small town store of a seemingly happy customer, a large, good-natured colored woman who recently had been married for the third time.
"Yes, sir, this is a new coat. This is a present to me from my new man," admitted Mandy.
"And what did you give him?" asked the curious one.
"Me? What did I give him? I gave him nothin' 'cept just me. I just gave him me."

Dr. Frank Crane Says

WATER-TIGHT COMPARTMENTS

Every once in a while we hear a man say, "Business is business," or that he follows "art for art's sake," or that he is a scientist cares only for the truth, not for its practical results, and so on. But the fact is humanity is not put in water-tight compartments.

Everything you do affects all parts of your nature. What you do in business reflects on your art, what you do in art colors your business, and what you think in religion has much to do with your scientific conclusions. Mankind is one, one organic whole, and its various departments of activity have merely been listed for convenient reference. They do not exist in reality.

If your religion is ugly and cruel your business will be immoral. If your business is heartless and vindictive your whole life will show it.

The scientist must pay some attention to the practical bearings of his investigations, for it would be foolish for him to spend his whole life on investigating some perfectly useless matter. Business must be beautiful. Art in some way must rest upon a business basis.

A man cannot have his whole head submerged in literature, he must have sense enough to market his wares.

The beautiful works of art of past generations had their influence upon believers in religion and religion is what it is owing to a thousand other causes within itself.

Much recent art shows contempt for any but aesthetic values. Such art is transient, and will give place to a greater art, in which beauty of thought and expression will confer enlarged values.

The total of all values is what counts. This result can be achieved not by preaching in art nor by making science "practical," but by universal education in values so that artist, business man, or scientist will express himself in synthesis of all values.

Success Must Be Won
Success is never an accident, it never "just happens." It comes to the man who does his work a little bit better than the other fellow; to the man who visions tomorrow while facing hard facts of today.

MICHIGAN CORN RATED BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

CORN—Michigan farmers planted 1,440,000 acres of corn this year which was an increase of two per cent over the 1927 acreage. There was some increase throughout the State, but the largest change was in the southeastern counties where the 1927 acreage was very short. Our corn acreage is still much below average for the State. The July 1st condition was only 67 per cent of normal because of late planting and poor growing weather during June. However, it is expected that there will be much improvement with warmer weather in July. The production forecast on this early date is for a crop somewhat larger than that of 1927 providing average weather prevails throughout the remainder of the season.

OATS—The intentions to increase the oats acreage in Michigan was carried out, and there was an increase of three per cent in the acreage of this crop. June weather was favorable for the growth of oats, and the crop generally is much above average in condition. The July 1st forecast indicates that the production this year will be 13.6 per cent larger than last year and 21.4 per cent above the ten-year average production.

WINTER WHEAT—There are 873,000 acres of this crop left for harvest according to the revised estimate. Generous rainfall in June was responsible for considerable improvement in the condition of the crop. Many fields in the southern part of the State are still spotted from winter killing, but in the east central part of the State the prospects are for a very good crop of winter wheat. The probable yield per acre for the State is 16.5 bushels, which if realized will mean a total production 26.7 per cent smaller than in 1927.

SPRING WHEAT—The acreage was larger last year, but this year it has declined to the usual small acreage of recent years. The crop condition is about average.

BARLEY—The acreage is increasing at a rapid rate in most sections of the State including the Upper Peninsula, and is now the largest since the war period. The condition is excellent with even fields of good color and rank growth. The production as forecast on July 1st is 46 per cent larger than the 1927 crop.

RYE—Like winter wheat, rye fields are spotted in many sections because of winter killing, and the probable yield for this year is over one bushel below average. This forecast indicates that the State's production will be about 13 per cent less than last year.

POTATOES—For the third consecutive year, Michigan potato growers increased their acreage. With this year's increase of eight per cent, the acreage is now three per cent larger than the average acreage for the last ten years. The increase would have been larger had it not been for the abandonment of some fields because of seed rotting in the ground especially in the southeastern counties where a considerable part of the State's acreage is now grown. The condition is reported at 82 per cent of normal, which is lower than the average July 1st condition, but experience shows that a condition figure on this early date cannot be relied on as a safe indication of final yield.

HAY—Winter damage to all tame hay and especially the new seeding of alfalfa is largely responsible for the acreage this year being three per cent less than it was in 1927, but the acreage is still slightly larger than the ten-year average acreage. The principal decrease was in the clover and timothy hays, while winter damage to alfalfa just about offset the usual increase in alfalfa acreage. Sweet clover hay acreage continues to increase rapidly, but it is still a small item compared to all hay acreage. It looks now as though the hay crop will be short, for all classes have a condition below average. Last year's heavy crop will make this year's crop seem unusually short. June growing conditions were favorable, however, as shown by pasture condition, which increased seven per cent during the month.

BEANS—The bean acreage, this year is not as large as farmers had intended. Many beans were planted on the earliest date possible. Cold wet weather followed, and replanting was necessary in most sections. Many fields in the heavy producing east central section were covered and damaged by water from heavy rains the last of June and the first part of July. The result in this section is that many fields have poor stands, and some were abandoned rather than being planted again or the third time at so late a date. Conditions are widely varied. In the more southern and western sections, beans have made fine growth, and stands are much better. For the State the increase in acreage was six per cent. From these spotted conditions a yield of 9.4 bushels per acre is forecast on July 1st.

SUGAR BEETS—Among the major crops in Michigan only potatoes exceed sugar beets in gross return per acre, and the acreage of sugar beets for several years has been below average; nevertheless, the acreage planted this year was 15.6 per cent less than that planted in 1927. In most sections the crop has a good start and the stands are good.

FRUITS—The June drop of apples was heavy in some sections. Summer and fall varieties of apples are plentiful; but the winter varieties and especially the leading variety, Baldwins, are very short. The forecast is for a total crop 41 per cent larger than last year but 35 per cent below average. The commercial apple crop promises to be 42 per cent above last year and 33 per cent below average. Although peaches vary widely in condition in different sections and even in nearby orchards, the prospects now are for a good crop with a forecast production twice as large as last year's crop and 40 per cent above average. Although pears are somewhat spotted because of frost damage, the present forecast is for a crop 26 per cent larger than last year and 10 per cent above the average. The grape crop appears now to be better than expected earlier, and the forecast is for a crop 50 per cent larger than last year's crop which was about average. Cherry condition ranges from over 70 per cent in the Grand Traverse Region down to about 40 per cent in southern counties, but the state will harvest a crop above average. Plums suffered a heavy drop, but a better than average crop is expected. The outlook is for a good crop of blackberries and raspberries, but June weather was not favorable to strawberries so that their condition on July 1st, was nearly 20 per cent below the ten-year average. Melon stands are poor, and growth was backward during June.

Berrien Vineyard Growers Scheduled For Lower Freight

Berrien and Van Buren county grape growers are slated for a reduction in freight charges totaling near $250,000 as the result of the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission fixing the rate in New York state at a point between third and fourth classification, according to a statement Friday by Assistant Attorney General K. F. Clardy of Lansing. Michigan is in the same classification as New York, which was formerly in the second class. Clardy stated that he would appear before the railways of the state and afford them a chance to meet the reduction voluntarily, failing which he would appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Local Poultryman Gives Advice On Balanced Ration

The Story of the Balanced Rations is like the story that never grows old. It is welcomed by those who have heard it before. It is a blessing to those who have never heard it before. Any man who has ever had experience in feeding herds or flocks for profit knows that in the end the balanced ration method of feeding wins. Science proves it day after day. Without the knowledge of balanced rations costs of production would be so great that it would be impossible to keep herds or flocks profitably at the prices of produce today.

The Maintenance Ration.

Feeding for production is like operating a machine for work. It requires a certain amount of energy for maintenance or unproductive operation. The additional energy applied makes possible the profit. The feed required for maintenance is altogether unprofitable. It is simply an overhead expense. An animal must have power to perform their own functions, such as heating the body, pumping the blood, digesting feed, and moving the body. In the case of a dairy cow she can produce milk only after the required maintenance has been supplied. The maintenance ration is a fixed charge, and the more feed a cow can consume above that required for maintenance the greater the amount she has for producing milk.

Therefore, feeding for the profit that is in it can be defined as liberal feeding, or feeding to the full capacity of cow, hen, horse, or whatever it happens to be that is being kept for profit.

Pasture.

Pasture is the natural feed for dairy cows and in many respects the best. With plenty of grasses in good condition, juicy and fresh, we have one of the most productive elements, but it is not efficient without additional feed. Even with the very best pasture a cow cannot be forced to highest production of which she is capable on it alone. This is due to the fact that for the greatest production she must be induced to take a large amount of nutrients. The bulky nature of pasture grass places a positive limit upon the capacity of the cow to take feed. In other words the cows stomach cannot contain grass enough to supply the required nutrients for high milk production. The cows appetite can be satisfied after a few hours grazing on good pasture. She gets a full stomach which gives her a satisfied feeling and that's all she cares about. Her maintenance is all she cares about and after and above that the profit is the point the manager must consider. If he is satisfied with little or no profit the cow is also. If he wants the profit that he may obtain through feeding balanced concentrates the cow will respond and pay him back.

Feeding Concentrates. The quality of the concentrate feed is of utmost importance. It must consist of a wide variety of good wholesome ingredients. The analysis should never vary. If the analysis should vary it acts as a shock to the nervous system. This is one objection to mixing the materials at home. Usually a concentrate mixture, made by a manufacturer who you have every reason to believe is reputable is more profitable for the feeder to use. The ingredients are usually tested by chemists for purity and analysis. The mixing machinery is more certain and as the materials are mixed they are blended. Blending makes for better palatability and keeping qualities.

Often a concentrate feed can be bought for less money than a farmer can obtain for the grain he raises. The prices are a consideration for the careful manager, but quality should be the first consideration.

Kent Kennedy.

Editorial

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

In spite of the fact that the metropolitan press now reaches into nearly every town and village in the country, the local newspaper in the United States is each year getting on a firmer foundation and becoming more and more useful to its home community.

It may be said that the day of the metropolitan newspaper is at hand. This is true, but it is equally as true that the day of the local newspaper is here too.

The metropolitan daily with its world-wide news, its comic sheets and its magazine supplements, while of course essential in our modern civilization, cannot take the place of the home newspaper. The very fact that the big city daily must cover a broad field forbids its becoming local in any sense, and it is in the local field where the home newspaper dominates and where it finds its true usefulness.

For, after all, it is the home news which is most important to most of us. We have the greatest interest in the community in which we live, and in the people who are our neighbors and friends. And it is the local newspaper which records the happenings of the folks at home, and in addition fosters the civic pride and progressive spirit of the community. We frequently hear it said that the old time independent spirit of the newspaper is gone, that its editorial policy is now subservient to the business office. Yet this is not true. There is more unselfish idealism in the average local newspaper than in any other business enterprise. It frequently speaks out in the way which it believes will be for the good of the nation and of the community, regardless of what the consequences may be from a business standpoint. This is more than the average business man will do or can do.

Of course the local newspaper is now on a firm business basis. This is why it is improving from year to year, why it is giving its readers a constantly better newspaper, and why it is increasing its influence for good in the community. But the local newspaper is still the principal booster for the community, and it does its boosting often without any hope of material reward.

DEBTS

There are two sides to every happening and issue, and debt is no exception to the rule. In one direction debt leads to prosperity and plenty but in the opposite direction it arrives at worry and want. It is as well to get into debt of the former sort as it is to get out of debt of the latter kind.

In dealing with debt it is necessary to distinguish between mere foolish running into debt and investment; between borrowing to buy non-essentials and borrowing for profit by investing. The borrowed money in property, safe securities household necessities or business. Debts wisely created pay themselves but the reckless borrower stands to lose all.

None has been often forewarned than the foolish borrower. For many centuries the Book of Proverbs has told him "The borrower is servant to the lender." He has heedlessly passed over in Shakespeare that admonition, "Neither a borrower nor a lender be; for loan oft loses both itself and friend, and borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry." While from the philosophical Ben Franklin is learned, "He that goes a-borrowing, goes a sorrowing." One is not truly in debt who exchanges his loan for its equivalent in something else and preserves the latter until the debt is dissolved, for it is always available for the satisfaction of the important creditor. The true debtor is he who dissipates his borrowings before the debt is satisfied.

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Are you too well satisfied with yourself? You think you have done pretty well.

Some other men who started when you did, may have done better, but you are well above the average in your crowd.

Frequently you go over in your own mind the achievements you have to your credit, despite the handicaps with which you started.

But for some reason it is always the past you consider, not your future advancement. And that is where you are wrong.

For many reasons you think you have worked hard enough and you want to be able to "let down."

You think you have enough to last till "the call" comes.

Rather than make extra effort you are willing to accept the meager allowance which you could make out if necessary.

And you would prefer this to having to bestir yourself.

Pretty poor line of reasoning and it is this line of thought that puts many a man into his dotage before his time. Get out of it.

The fool who has been parted from his money always feels cheap.

Women may have the most sense, but it takes a man to marry one.

Women are wise in not taking much time to reply to chronic criticisms by men.

Complaints help to prove that there are many persons who are poor sports in various ways.

There is not much hope for the person who makes work the last expedient for getting along.

Another good way to retain your faith in your fellowman is to make him sign on the dotted line.

Indian Talks To Indians In Indian Over Radio. STUDIO WGR recently had an interesting lecture on its program—the first broadcast talk in Indian, by an Indian to Indians. It was delivered in the Seneca tongue by Russell Hill, a young brave of the Tonawanda Reservation and a member of the government's army fighting the corn-borer. Photo-shows young Hill in the midst of his tirade against the pest which is annually costing the country millions of dollars.

The depreciation was based on the seven-year life expectancy of a passenger automobile and the average retail price of $953 for the year. Amateurs Span Atlantic on 10 Meter Wavelength BY R. M. SHERRILL (Radio Engineer) Plunging ahead with an increasing amount of enthusiasm in the exploration of heretofore unknown radio territory in the vicinity of ten meters, amateur radio operators have already accomplished transatlantic communication on this wave length, in addition to a number of short-distance contacts, according to information just released by the American Radio Relay League. The first actual transatlantic two-way communication on ten meters was effected between 27N owned by C. K. Atwater, Upper Montclair, N. J., and SCT, the station of Pierre Auschitzky, at Arachan, France. These two stations engaged in conversation for nearly half an hour, with good signal strength reported at each end of the circuit. Neither station used high power. When the nations of the world met at the International Radiotelegraph convention at Washington recently for the purpose of allocating all useful wavelengths in the radio spectrum, engineers pointed out that the lowest useful wave was in the neighborhood of thirteen meters, and that waves below that must be regarded as valueless and impractical for communication purposes. The amateurs, who for several years have been working experimentally on five meters, immediately petitioned for a band in the vicinity of ten meters for their exclusive use. The band was given them, and through the action of the federal radio commission of this country was made available to American amateurs a short time ago. Portable Receivers Require Special Permits in India In case you are going to India this summer, and in case you carry a portable radio receiver with you, remember that a radio license is necessary. Visitors in India may carry radio sets into the country as personal baggage provided they have obtained a special permit. Nicaragua Gets Broadcasters Nicaragua, which has recently been much in the public eye on account of its bandits and revolution, has just received a Copyright, 1923, The Bonnet Brown Corporation, Chicago. RADIO QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Q.—H. E. B. asks: "How fast must an applicant for an amateur's operating license be able to send and receive in code signals?" Ans.—The requirement in the United States is 10 words per minute averaging about 5 letters per word. Q.—W. M. S. asks: "What is the spaced antenna system that is being used so much for transatlantic reception?" Ans.—It is a system that eliminates fading by employing two or more antennas spaced a certain distance apart and feeding into a common receiver, the theory being that when fading occurs at one antenna it will not necessarily do the same at the others. Consequently full strength signals may be obtained at all times from one or another of the antennas. Q.—M. F. K. says: "One of my new UX171 power tubes is rapidly losing the silvery appearance from one side of the tube. Does this mean that the tube is going bad?" Ans.—Almost all tubes with the silvery lining on the glass will change somewhat as they are used. It is of no importance.

Harold Lloyd At Princess in Film of New York Life

The last week of July at the Princess Theatre promises to be as peppy as the entire month has been thus far. Harold Lloyd, he of the big rimmed spectacles and the athletic repertoire, here tonight and tomorrow, in "Speedy," has a semi-historical drama of the development of rapid transit in New York City and suburbs. In this one he not only "takes his life into his hands," but also takes the lives of many others, if the picture speaks truly. Tennyrate he beats out the villains. Those who like a war background for their fun will find both the background and the fun far above the usual in "The Gay Rottent," Saturday, with the Sammy Cohen—Ted McNamara duo at their best. Louise Brooks and James Hall present something interesting about "Rolled Stockings" besides just what's in 'em, on Sunday evening.

Elizabethtown, Ky., July 26.—E. R. Thomas, 70, while walking in the woods, suddenly felt that his feet were tied together. Thinking a piece of wire had caught him he stooped to take it off. He discovered it was a "live wire" a black snake more than five feet long. He killed the snake.

Final plans were laid in St. Louis by the newly formed Smith Association of the World for a gigantic party to which nearly 2,000,000 Americans named Smith will be invited. This will probably be the first party in history at which people won't become embarrassed trying to recall each other's names. At North Platte, Neb., Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, presenting a check at a restaurant counter, was greeted with this refusal: "Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh? Never heard of him!" We wonder if they know the war's over! Cy Watkins says things are getting so "durned" bad that pretty soon the farmer won't have anything left to be relieved of! A motorist fined $25 for a traffic violation sent an extra $25 to the court because the policeman who had given him a summons was so polite to him. That's what we call the height of appreciation. Now that an edict permits women of Bosnia to go about unveiled, Bosnian women may lose their reputation for beauty! Sued for divorce, a New York woman ended her life. Some people can't stand good fortune! A man may know a hundred languages and still be unable to say "No" in any of them. The movement in favor of adding another month to the calendar is gaining headway. Must be sponsored by landlords! Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney are preparing for their championship battle. They won't be allowed to bring their books to the ring. Senator Curtis will be officially notified of his nomination for Vice President on August 18. We hope he appears properly surprised. An optimist is a guy who thinks that if he marries a Queen he'll be a King.

KEEL BOAT DAYS ON ST. JOE RIVER TOLD BY CARLISLE

The days of the river era of transportation when the old St.
Joe was yet the main artery of freight traffic between the Buchanan district and the outside world are remembered by one and perhaps only one man in Buchanan, Ashley Carlisle.

The fans love the brilliant playing of Travis Jackson, young shortstop of the New York Giants, who is field captain for the 1928 season. Jackson succeeds Rogers Hornsbey as field captain.

loads of groceries and other supplies was a process for which the present times of easy transportation would have little patience.

The keel boat was a square scow-like affair, from 18 to 25 feet wide and from 50 to 60 feet long, drawing from three to four feet of water. On each side was a foot log on which cleats were nailed.

The crews propelled the boats upstream by stabbing a long pole firmly in the bottom of the river and then, with the other end placed firmly against a pad on their shoulder, they would walk the log with their faces down river, pushing against the pole so that the boat was pushed up stream beneath them.

One of these boats would carry as much as 3,000 to 4,000 bushels of grain. The larger boats would have two sweep rudders, one at each end. The captain and pilot, usually the owner of the boat directed the sweep, and the crew, three men to a side, would parade the "walking log, pushing the boat."

This was a slow drag and several days would be consumed in making the trip up the river.

When night came the boat was stopped wherever it might be, and was tied to a tree on shore, the crew going to the nearest house, all of which were accustomed to harboring the boat crews.

On the end of each boat was a cannister, equipped with a long heavy rope, which was used when the boat was hung up on a rafter.

There were several rifles in the course of the river which were dreaded by the boatmen, one of them, the "Moccasin rifle," being directly below Buchanan.

CAMPAIGN OF 1860 IS RECALLED BY OLD PIONEERS

Political campaigns of the present day are pink tea affairs in comparison with those of three score and ten years ago, according to Ashley Carlisle, John Morris, and other of the Buchanan pioneers whose memories go back to the days of the elections of Pierce, Buchanan, and Lincoln, when presidents were sung into office with political ballads that swept the country.

One of the most interesting incidents that ever occurred in connection with any political campaign in Buchanan was doubtless the float procession drawn by oxen that went from Buchanan to Niles in 1860 to join in a rally

Tunney To Defend Title Against Heeney

The next big championship fight between Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney, will take place July 26 in New York. Below is a table that shows their respective measurements.

held by Republicans in the latter city, as related by Ashley Carlisle.
The procession wound through the wooded road that then connected the two towns, starting about 9 a. m. and taking over three hours to reach Niles. Heading the procession was a float drawn by thirteen teams of oxen, donated by neighboring farmers for the occasion, each team being decorated with flags and representing one of the thirteen original states. On the float was a pile of logs from which rails were split whenever there was audience along the way, by a man costumed to represent Honest Abe, the rail splitter.

The first to take his turn on the float as Abe was Joseph Fuller, old time resident and father of Neil Fuller. Equipped with a mail and wedges, he split rails in masterly fashion to the accompaniment of the cheers of the local Republicans as the procession left town, ceasing as soon as they were out in the woods away from an audience. At every place along the road where there was a gathering, another rail splitter took his turn, among them Orin Montague.

Following this float were others gaily decorated to represent the other states then in the Union.
The float representing "Bleeding Kansas" alone was draped in mourning, to symbolize the attitude of that commonwealth toward the prospects of becoming a slave state. On this float Miss Tamerson Carlisle, a sister of Ashley Carlisle and an aunt of Mrs. Harry Blinn, dressed in deep mourning.

In front of the procession stroled a band of boys, among them Ashley Carlisle, heralding the approach. In the wake was a train of ox drawn wagons filled with families bound for the rally.

A main feature of the campaign of those days, and of every campaign until 1900 was the night torchlight procession, in which the men carried kerosene burning torches and the boys oyster cans holding candles. One of these processions recalled by John Morse marched from Buchanan to Bakertown.

Oddities in Names

Occasionally there appears to be something in a name. Oscar Luck has gone bankrupt in England because he had no luck in betting. In that same country, says the Boston Globe, Mr. Cud has acquired Miss Link as a life partner. In Manchester, Thomas Neverstop is in jail for speeding through two traffic signals, and Alfred Water is accused of selling thin milk.

Greatest advance in motoring comfort since balloon tires... STUDEBAKER'S Ball Bearing Spring "Shackles"

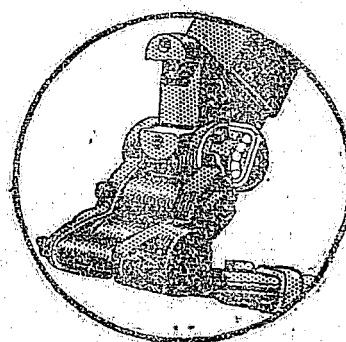

In these new cars a patented invention at last solves a problem that has long baffled automotive engineers.

Every motorist knows the importance of spring shackles—those joints or hinges which form the connecting link between body and axles.
Engineers have sought to reduce friction to a minimum at these vital joints—to make them flexible yet firm and uniform in action—to make them noiseless—to reduce the necessity for frequent lubrication.
All these objectives have now been attained in Studebaker cars.

So revolutionary is this sensational innovation that the word "shackles," with its implication of restricted movement, is no longer applicable. The incessant action and reaction between body and axles is now carried by 172 steel balls rolling in lubricant—no binding, no squeaks, no rattles, no sideway. Instead, smooth, silent resiliency, an undeviating uniformity of action and an enduring buoyancy that will keep your Studebaker young.

In place of complicated centralized systems for oiling and greasing, each ball bearing spring "shackle" contains, sealed within it, ample lubricant to last for more than twenty thousand miles.

At last... ball bearing spring shackles... the secret of the remarkable riding comfort of the new Studebakers.

Come ride in a new Studebaker today. Thrill to its champion performance. See rare new beauty of line and color. Then compare Studebaker's new low One-Price prices

facturing experience!

30,000 Chevrolets Purchased Weekly Since First of Year

One of the most remarkable achievements ever recorded in the automobile industry comes to light today in the announcement of R. H. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor Company in charge of sales, that 750,000 "Big-Boy and Better" Chevrolets have been placed in the hands of owners since the introduction of the new car January first.

With deliveries to customers averaging 30,000 cars a week, Chevrolet in the first seven months of the year, established a record for public acceptance of a new car unrivaled in the history of modern motor cars. Each week, each month, each quarter shattered all marks for the corresponding period of any previous year.

Much of the credit for making possible this remarkable showing is given the efficient manufacturing organization and the tremendous production facilities employed by Chevrolet. Fourteen great factories in various sections of the country shared in the effort that enabled the sales division to make prompt deliveries immediately on the announcement of the car last January. From Oakland, Cal., to Tarrytown, N. Y., factory wheels have been spinning at a record clip since the first of the year, building the various models as fast as the exacting requirements of precision operation would permit.

The unusual public favor shown Chevrolet in the first seven months through the demand for 750,000 cars, indicates beyond doubt that Chevrolet will build and sell many more than one million units in 1928, breaking by a wide margin all existing records for the manufacture and sale of a new model and further guaranteeing Chevrolet position as the world's largest automobile producer.

End of Embalming Era

Dr. Walter Hough, head curator of anthropology, Smithsonian institution, states that embalming by the Egyptians ceased about the end of the Fourth century, A. D., because of the spread of Christianity; that the Christians did not embalm the dead as the Egyptians did, but did wrap them in cloth robes.

KEEPING PEACE IN THE FAMILY!

Northampton, Mass., July 26.—A New York auto parked on Main Street here was attracting considerable attention. It had a Hoover plate in the front and an Al Smith plate in the rear.

The man in the machine, asked why the plates were not for the same candidate, explained that he favores Hoover while his wife was a Smith booster.

So, to keep peace in the family, it had been agreed to have both candidates represented on the car!

DRAFTS

BY DR. ARTHUR L. FORSTER

There is a disposition on the part of some medical writers to take the point out of the old joke that doctors cash in heavily on drafts. These writers would have us believe that drafts have been blamed for things they haven't done. Let us see just how far wrong they are.

What is a Draft?

A draft specifically is a current of air. This current is usually circumscribed and comparatively small. It travels at considerable speed, and when it strikes any surface exerts a measurable force upon it.

These features of a draft give it all the characteristics of an irritant when applied to living matter. In other words, it acts as a stimulant, the immediate effect of which, when applied to living tissue, is contraction. Thus, if a draft is permitted to strike a certain spot on the surface of the body, the muscles in this area will contract. This includes the muscles of the skin and blood vessels as well as the skeletal muscles. The effect is a lessened amount of blood, rigidity, and reduced elimination in that part.

Disorders Caused by Drafts
One can think of a number of disorders that might be, and are, produced in the manner described by a draft.

First of all, there are the surface disorders—neuritis, neuralgia, lumbago, etc. But their effect usually goes deeper than that—expressing itself in a catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes underlying the surface upon which the draft impinged. This catarrh is a result of the engorgement of the vessels of the mucous membranes consequent upon the constriction of the vessels of the skin.

In this manner are produced the common cold, laryngitis, bronchitis, pleurisy, gastritis, enteritis—in short, an itis (inflammation) of any internal organ. The range of these disorders, so far as their severity is concerned, extends all the way from a headache to a paralysis.

The Mechanics of Drafts
That a draft affects one more when perspiring is absolutely true. Here is the reason: I have already said that the current of air strikes the surface with considerable force. This is only relatively correct. What really occurs is that the air in the draft is moving rapidly in one direction in a given field. The result is that a large number of cubic inches of air strike the surface in a given period of time. The effect is a rapid evaporation from and cooling of the surface.

The physical factor involved in this phenomenon is the same as that observed in nature. As is well known, the ground dries out more rapidly when it is windy than when the air is still. That is why there is more dew on the ground following a quiet than after a windy night.

The effect of the rapid evaporation from the surface of the body produced by a draft, is to render it cold. The vessels constrict and the muscles contract—the part becomes cold and rigid. The air in the draft is not colder than the surrounding air; it simply appears colder because of the cooling of the surface produced by the rapid evaporation which the draft induces.

Some Illustrative Cases.
By way of illustration: The current of air produced by the rapidly revolving blades of an electric fan will, if allowed to strike for some time on the side of the head, produce a severe neuralgia or coryza (cold in the head).

Sitting in an open window through which a current of air is passing in such a manner that the draft strikes in the small of the back, causes lumbago.

Hundreds of cases of Bell's Palsy (paralysis of the muscles of the face) have been caused by sleeping in a berth with a draft striking the sleeper's face.

Yes, doctors cash more than one kind of draft.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

May be the Menopause

L. H. writes: "I shall be glad if you will give me some advice on the following:

"Single woman, 37, is troubled with much flushing accompanied by perspiration of the body and head. This lasts only a minute or two, but comes often and is worse during the night. Arms and hands become numb during the night and are sore for several hours afterward. Also has severe pains in the region of the tip of the stomach while eating breakfast. Otherwise healthy, good appetite, and does a lot of outside farm work."

Reply

The symptoms you enumerate are common to so many disorders that it would be out of the question for me to state definitely what the trouble might be. However, I would hazard the opinion that you may be approaching the menopause. You are a little young, but you may be one of the rather numerous exceptions.

Under the circumstances, the best advice I can give you is that you consult a competent physician and have a complete physical examination. This will establish the underlying cause of your symptoms.

Hints for the Home
by Nancy Hart

When we read that, according to statistics, each family spends $25 a year for soft drinks outside the home, we realize a very nice saving could be effected by serving these beverages from the home fountain.

Almost any pungent syrup from canned or preserved fruit can be used with a lemon or orange juice base to make wholesome fruit drinks. Malted milk powder added to cold cocoa and well shaken makes excellent chocolate malted milk, and the cold cereal beverages can also be combined with cracked ice and milk to make a delicious summer drink.

Not one of the drinks suggested costs more than a few cents to make at home—so in the interest of economy, let's try this scheme of being our own refectory and see if it isn't a success.

A Company Dish for Tea

Butter the bottom of individual glass baking cups and drop a tablespoon of canned cranberry meat in each; add a tablespoon of cream, dot with butter or margarine and break an egg on top. Season well and bake until egg is set. Um-mm it's delicious!

Ever Try Jellied Soups?

At smart tea rooms and hotels jellied broths are in great favor for summer service—especially this cold tomato soup made by dissolving a tablespoon of lemon-flavored gelatin in a half cup of boiling water and adding it to the liquid from a can of tomatoes. First season juice with a teaspoon of sugar, pepper and salt and juice of an onion and simmer for ten minutes. Then add dissolved gelatin and set on ice until cold. Serve in cups with whipped cream.

if desired.

Don't Forget the Ice

In your enthusiasm over ice cream dainties don't forget fruit sherbets are just as tempting and often a better selection for summer meals. To a pint of any crushed ripe fruit add one and a half cups of orange juice and a cup powdered sugar (beet or cane). Cook until sugar melts, cool and freeze.

Gooseberry Time!

Ever try gooseberry jam? It's fine with roast meats. Measure 4 level cups crushed berries into large kettle, add ½ cup water and stir until boiling. Add 7½ level cups sugar, use hottest fire and stir constantly. Bring to full rolling boil and boil hard one minute. Remove, stir in ½ cup liquid pectin, skim, pour and seal.

Improves Flavor of Fruit Pies
Almost any berry pie will be improved if a little salt is added to the filling of the pie.

Makes Eggs go Farther

When beating whites of eggs, add a tablespoon of water for each egg and you will have double the quantity of stiffly beaten eggs.

To Keep Bread Box Sweet

Bread molds quickly in hot weather, so keep containers free from scraps of stale bread, and scald at least twice a week in summer.

A Good Floor Polish

A small quantity of kerosene applied to hardwood floors and rubbed with a woolen cloth makes a very good and lasting polish. This may also be used for furniture.

To Silence Creaking Doors

Rubbing door hinges with hard soap will stop their squeaking and is much better than greasing. This also applies to drawers that stick.

Saves Fuel

Cook as many foods as possible while the oven is burning. Cooking half a dozen articles consumes no more gas than it does to cook one.

Puppy Love?

Samuel Henry, 36, a minister, and Mrs. Catherine Woods, 79, will be married soon at La Verne, Cal. Evidently no "companionate marriage" here!

Bodies Fed to Birds

At Lhasa, Tibet, where the ground is so frozen as to prevent burial of the dead there are human butchers in each village who take charge of the bodies, cut them up into small pieces and throw them to the birds.

CHARLES CHUBB

Charles Chubb, son of W. H. Chubb and Anna C. Chubb was born May 19, 1876 at Liverpool, Pa., and died July 15, 1928 at Phoenix, Arizona.

He lived with his grand parents at Liverpool until he was fourteen years old when he came to Michigan where he spent the following ten years of his life.

He has since been living in the west being in Goldfield, Nev., at the time of the gold rush. Later he traveled in California, Wyoming, British Columbia and Alaska and finally in Arizona where he has been located for a year.

Besides the father, W. Henry Chubb, two sisters, Mrs. Ray Frame and Mrs. Roy Pierce of Buchanan and four brothers, Morrow, Frank and George of Buchanan and Harry B. Swartz of South Bend survive. His mother, Mrs. Henry Chubb passed away in October, 1917.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the Henry Chubb home on S. Portage street and were conducted by Rev. W. H. Canfield of the Evangelical church. Interment was made in the family lot at Oak Ridge. The casket bearers were the four brothers and two brothers-in-law.

The Robbery

"What happened when the robbers broke into the Right Place stores?" asked an acquaintance.

"When they heard me jump out of bed upon getting the alarm," replied Constable Slackpooter, the faithful guardian of the peace and dignity of Petunia, "they tumbled through the door and fled like the wind, as the feller said. Went so fast, I gorry, that none of the crows they dropped have struck the ground till plumb yet."—Kansas City Star.

Splendid Work

It is claimed that a sheep is learning to talk. London Opinion understands that the animal is being taught simple words and has already mastered the first syllable of banana.
