the Proposition

Instructions to Voters

By Haws

Now all the guys that ought to vote, as all wise men agree, are guys that are intelligent and think the time is ripe. By all means cast your ballot if you mean to vote as I do. But if you don't then stay at home and play around with Fido. For them that do not think like me, their brains have got a flaw. They never ought to vote at all, there ought to be a law. The guys that do not think like me, just take 'em as they come. As Mister Curtis once remarked, are simply too damn dumb. But when they think the same as me they ought to hit it strong. And take a lease upon a booth and ballot all day long. But if you're merely gonna vote the country to the dogs, You hadn't ought to vote at all, stay home and slop the hogs.

Oh, So Lonely

By Haws

I'm am. O, so lonely now I'd be glad to meet a cow! Wander up and wander down Through this God-for-saken town. Take a turn about on Main To the end and back again, Onto Front and then—what next? Roost around the Hotel Rex. Drink a coffee at the grill. Anything the time to kill. Never hear a friendly tone, Trilling o'er the telephone. Saying, "Honey, drop around, Hubby will be out of town." And no Volstead alibi, Living wet and voting dry, Calls upon me to report, "Drop around, I gotta quart." Or, I've got a pint of mule, Meet me after Sunday school." My dry friends have got so sore They won't give me drinks no more. Seems somebody told 'em that I'm an Al Smith Democrat.

And now if we can just slip this on the front page without the boss seeing it, we will be all set.

APPLE BUTTER TIME
Awake, my soul, to lofty rhyme, For it is apple butter time. About the hour when comes the dawn We'll put the old brass kittle on, And heat it to a bilin' heat. And fill it up with cider sweet. And then we'll feed the fire along Until we bble it double strong. And then we'll fill it up complete With McIntosh or Pippin Sweet. Or Hubbardston of rosy hue Or Tompkin Kings—or what have you?

H. I. Coffman, the lively young octogenarian of Bakerstown, says that one of the time recipes for apple butter included a flavor of scraped sassafras root, or of winter green leaves if you preferred them. They used to mix it up that way, but it in earthen crocks with a newspaper tied over it, and take it to South Bend to sell.

That Indefinable Something
Speaking of Front Street improvements, drop into the Robinson Music Store and take a good look at the new awning over the manager's upper lip. It hath that indefinable something which we refer to as "the class."

All we got to say is, if the dries win this election the drinks are on us.

LOYAL GIRLS CLASS OF CHURCH OF CHRIST
HOLD HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Loyal Girls' Class of the Church of Christ whose teacher is Mrs. William Hess, met with Winifred Abell at the country home of Charles Mutchler Wednesday evening for a masked Halloween party. Fifteen girls carved pumpkins to determine their fortunes. Games and contests took up most of the evening. Winifred Shafer took first prize for the best ghost costume, and Juanita Rouch consolation prize. The house was appropriately decorated for Halloween and a dainty two course luncheon was served by the hostesses.

METH. MISSIONARY SOCIETY WILL MEET AT MAN KENT HOME

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet Wednesday afternoon, November 7, with Mrs. Nan Kent, 307 Main Street. The main business will be to report of the district meeting held recently at Sturgis. The first chapter of the text book, "The Friends of Africa," will be reviewed by Mrs. Ruth Roe. All members are expected to attend and visitors will be cordially welcomed.

Mrs. Cellie Shockness, husband, and friends, who are motoring from St. Louis, Mo., to Montreal, Can., are stopping for a few days with the former's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillippy of Buchanan.

SPEAKS HERE

Lectures to Monday Club on Isle Royale
EXPLORED ISLAND
Evidence Discovered Of Prehistoric Occupancy

George R. Fox, curator of the Chamberlain Historical Museum, Three Oaks, was the speaker of the afternoon at the meeting of the Monday Club held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Rehm, discussing his conclusions as to the theory that Isle Royale of Lake Superior was a place avoided by prehistoric man.

Mr. Fox recently returned from a tour of exploration there, in order to determine the truth of this belief, which is based on the fact that prehistoric cemeteries and village sites have not been found there.

According to Fox, indisputable evidence of occupancy was found. On the other hand, the island was widely known among the men of ancient America, Fox and the other scientists who made the expedition discovered.

"While the expedition found new flint points," declared Mr. Fox, "those picked up all over the island are of the same type as the ones which the island contact must have reached. Ohio on the south and east and Yellowstone park on the west mark at least the minimum zones in which the arrow head materials were found."

Relics Are Discovered
"On one site hundreds of potsherds and flakes were dug from the soil. At others, arrow and spear points, fire bed stones and other debris of camp life were unearthed. In a cavern of considerable size on the south shore, at a depth of nearly two feet beneath its rocky floor, stones cracked and stained by fire were found. G. A. West, president of the board of trustees of the Milwaukee public museum, pronounced this an ancient fire-platform."

"Only two bits of evidence, and these not fully conclusive, connect the ancient mine workers of the island with the Indians. Dr. Alvin LaForge, on examination of the skeleton remains, points out that there are differences in the skulls and leg bones. Bones of eight men dug from an Indian mound has been brought to Chicago by Dr. LaForge. Fragments of pottery found on the island resemble the Algonquin patterns."

"In a small cavern where the bones of dead were deposited were discovered the skeletons, unmistakable and final evidence that the island had been tenanted by prehistoric man. The shelter had been closed with fragments of the cliff placed in wall formation. One stone, weighing at least a ton, had been placed over the bones. The dead had not been buried originally in the cave but were exposed presumably on scaffolds or placed in temporary burning places. These were later collected and buried in the cave."

Ancient Copper Mines Explored
The scientists, in their investigations, explored ancient copper mines, declared Mr. Fox, which were worked by ancient man long before Columbus set foot on the western hemisphere. The scientists also disproved the claim that these ancient miners brought stone hammers from the Canadian mainland 12 miles away. At many points on the Isle Royale shore, the Three Oaks scientist said, are glacial beaches on which hammer stones of diorite and other materials were picked up by the hundreds.

Norsemen are believed to have invaded the island long before the coming of the Indians or Frenchmen. Because the scientists on the expedition were forced to return at such an early date, it was decided to postpone the unfinished explorations until next spring, when the expedition will be enlarged.

The program was opened by two solos by Miss Margaret Whitman, after which Mr. Fox spoke. The program was then concluded by several piano selections by Mrs. A. L. Hamblin. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. M. Rehm, Mrs. J. Woolley, Mrs. Jennie Burbank, Mrs. J. C. Rehm.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Robert Henderson of San Francisco, a former member, Mrs. Maude Wentland of Galien. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Emma Knight Monday, Nov. 5.

Miss Kathryn Treat, of South Bend, Ind., joined a party of young people of Niles, Mich., spending the week-end in Ann Arbor, attending the Michigan-Wisconsin football game, and in Detroit, Mich.

TOTAL 278

ENROLLMENT POINTS TO HEAVY BALLOTING
ON NOVEMBER 5

Newly arrived residents of Buchanan, or residents newly arrived at their majority, engaged in a last minute stampede to the office of Township Clerk Irenus Sparks Saturday, keeping him busily engaged all that day until 8 p. m. in entering aspirants for the sovereign privilege of voting, and swelling the total number entered since the primaries to 278.

This represents a far heavier registration of new voters than in any like period since Mr. Sparks has been in office and indicates a heavy presidential vote here.

Of this number, 153, or 56 per cent, were male registrants and 123, or 44 per cent were women registrants.

The new registration by wards was as follows:

|-------|-----|-----|-----|
| One   | 39  | 30  | 69  |
| Two   | 29  | 25  | 54  |
| Three | 29  | 24  | 53  |
| Four  | 58  | 44  | 102 |
|       | 155 | 123 | 278 |

Jackson Scholtz
Gains New Laurels
In Fiction Field

Now that the fleet feet of Jackson Scholtz, Buchanan boy, who showed the way for the 200-meter dash men of the world in the Olympic games of 1924 and scored in 1920 and 1925, have begun to drag a little with the on coming years, he is going after laurels in a new field.

In the October 28 issue of Sport Story Magazine, a place of honor is given to his story, "In the Full of the Moon," the first of a series of tales dealing with the life of the cinder path from his pen. On the inside of the cover he gives the following resume of his life:

Born in Buchanan, Mich., and attended grammar and high school there. He lived at various times in Boulder, Colo., Fort Collins, Colo., Los Angeles, Calif., and St. Louis, Mo., receiving schooling in these several places.

Started athletic career in California. Won first gold medal in 1911 in 100-yard dash as 55-pound champion of Southern California. Entered University of Missouri in 1915. Graduated in 1920 with degree of Bachelor of Journalism.

Commissioned as naval aviator in 1918. Won Missouri Valley 100-yard dash during 1918, which he was eligible for this title. Represented the United States in the Olympic games in 1920, 1924, 1925. Competed in Japan in the fall of 1924; in New Zealand in 1925; and in Germany in 1927. Worked a year and a half with the United Press.

Jack-o'-Lantern Starts Blaze in
J. C. Fulk's Home

Fires resulting from Halloween festivities started off prematurely here Saturday afternoon, when a match thrown away by children lighting a jack-o'-lantern set fire to a pile of magazines and books stored in a closet at the J. C. Fulk's home on Dewey Avenue.

Mrs. Fulk's arrived home a few minutes later to discover the fire smoldering in the closet, just ready to break into flame. Neighbors helped to extinguish the fire before it had done more than smoke the closet walls.

Virginia Arnold has been absent from school on account of illness.

FULL PROVISIONS
MADE FOR CARING FOR ABSENTEE VOTE

PERSONS WHO ARE ILL MAY VOTE IN HOMES

Arrangements are already being made by Township Clerk Irenus Sparks and other local authorities for extending the privilege of voting to local people who are confined to their homes by illness. In the case of any newcomers whose disabilities may not have reached the attention of the authorities, the following legal arrangements are printed:

No one who is unable to attend the polls next Tuesday by reason of illness, absence on account of business or even pleasure need lose their vote, full provision having been made for such contingencies by the laws of Michigan.

According to the state election laws, such voters may apply in person or by mail, to the clerk of their home city or township any time within 30 days previous to the date of election, the sole condition being that the clerk is not required to honor such applications when they arrive less than two days preceding the election. On receipt of the ballot, the absentee voter is required to mark it in accordance with the regulations printed thereon, and then fill out the statement for absentee voters on the back of the ballot, having the statement witnessed by two qualified electors, then mailing it back so that it will reach the clerk of the township, village or city where they are qualified to vote before the closing of the polls.

Absentee voters who may avail themselves of this privilege are defined by the state law as follows:

1. Any qualified elector who, on account of physical disability is unable, without another's assistance, to attend the polls, or any qualified elector who is absent, or who expects to be absent from the township or ward wherein he resides on the day of election, and who is,

2. A person in the actual service of the United States or his state, or
3. A student attending any institution of learning, or
4. A person engaged in teaching in the public schools of this state, or
5. A regularly enrolled member of any citizens military training camp, held under the government of the United States or the state of Michigan,
6. A member of the legislature while in attendance at any session of the legislature, or said members immediate family for such time, or
7. A commercial traveler, or
8. A person employed on or in the operation of railway trains in this state, or
9. A sailor engaged or employed on the Great Lakes or in coastwise trade, or
10. Any person necessarily absent while engaged in the pursuit of lawful business, or recreation.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beaver spent the week-end in Monon, Ind., with the former's parents.

Marvin Gross and Kermit Mikelson were in South Bend Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lundgren and daughter Bernice spent the week-end in Chicago visiting with friends.

STREETS ARE THROGGED WITH ASSEMBLY OF GHOSTS

Some occasion,—what I mean—Hallowe'en in old Galien. Sailor lassies, coons in hosts, Brownies, fairies, hoboes, ghosts. All dressed up in spooky togs, Drinking cider and eating dogs. Hey you pirate with the big long knife, Take my money and my life! There is a goblin dressed in red flaming eyes in a pumpkin head. But that there bum there is a myth,— That ain't nothin' but C. P. Smith. Fortune teller, hold my hand,— Hallowe'en is simply grand!

And that was what Hallowe'en in Galien was, last night, all right. The throng that flocked the streets numbered such distant seaports as Buchanan, Berrien Springs and South Bend. The weather favored the occasion, being not too cold, though slightly cloudy. Boy Scout members of Troop 51, Galien, patrolled the streets, warning away would-be window soapers and other perpetrators of mischief, as first aid to Deputy Sheriff Kelley.

The program opened at 7:30 by a parade led by the famous Snolystester's Band, followed by 250 maskers, who marched several times about the open space roped off on Main Street, finally ending up in front of the judges platform, where Frank Lawson of Galien, Raymond Dietrich of Three Oaks, Albert Rick of Glendora, and two other judges whose names the Record could not learn reviewed the motley assemblage and awarded the prizes.

The prizes were assigned as follows: Youngest person in costume—Betty Jean Kenney, Galien. Oldest person masked—Mrs. Frank Pierce, Galien. Next oldest person masked—Mrs. Amanda Morley, Galien. Cleverest dressed couple, girls or boys—Betty Jean Burns and Jean Hoinville, Galien. Most ridiculous costumed couple, boys or girls—Charles Kennedy and Floyd May. Best costume representing any nationality—Miss Evelyn Harmony and Louise Batten. Most appropriate Hallowe'en costume—Bessie Seger, Galien. Second most appropriate Hallowe'en costume—Catherine Smith, Galien. Third most appropriate costume—Mrs. Mary Price, Galien. Prettiest lady's costume—Mrs. Charles Ewalt of Berrien Springs. Prettiest gent's costume—Earl Grant, South Bend. Funniest gent's costume—Chas. P. Smith, Glendora. Funniest lady's costume—Kitty Baldwin, Buchanan.

After the award of the prizes, the following program was given from the judges platform: Children's folk dance—Galien Kindergarten. Saxophone solo—E. Harroff. Dance—Primary department of Galien schools.

LATE FLOWERS
BLASTED BY HARD FREEZE

The prolonged autumnal weather which has permitted the late flower glories to blaze in unabated glory came to an end Tuesday morning, October 30, when the first hard freeze was felt.

This is believed to be a record date for late freezes here. Many of harder flowers are still blooming, but the dahlias and other tender plants were blackened. Local weather prophets are reported to be puzzled as to the cause of the weather facing us, the customary signals being mixed. Corn husks are reported to be light and loose this year, not covering the ends of the ears, which portends an open winter. On the other hand there is a plentiful supply of nuts, which is held to be the provision of all-merciful providence to tide the squirrels over a hard winter.

PIN LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Buchanan, Niles, S. B., Elkhart, Nappanee Goshen Members
PLAY HERE SUN.
Teams of Six Cities Clash in Local Alleys Sun.

Perhaps the most interesting and important bowling match which has been held in Buchanan to date is scheduled for the local alleys next Sunday afternoon, starting at 3 p. m., when the six teams representing the membership of the Travelling Bowling League will play.

This league was organized in a meeting held in the Waters Recreation Parlors in South Bend Sunday by representative of the bowling fans of Buchanan, Elkhart, Niles, Nappanee, Goshen, and South Bend. Plans were made for all the teams to bowl together in the same alleys in each contest, the first of which was scheduled for this place Sunday.

The teams will be representative of the best bowling talent in each city, except that it was agreed that the larger city teams should be selected from performers playing not over a 2600 average for the five to safeguard against arrays of talent that would overwhelm smaller places.

In the series here Sunday, the following teams will be pitted against each other:

Buchanan versus Elkhart. Niles versus Goshen. South Bend versus Nappanee. The date for the entire series is to be: Buchanan, Nov. 3; Elkhart, Nov. 10; Niles, Nov. 24; Goshen, Dec. 8; South Bend, Dec. 22. A pot of $60 in prizes has been made up by the alley owners, contributing $10 each, of which $40 will go to the high team and $20 to the second high team at the end of the season. The high team will receive a weekly prize of $5. The player in the league making the highest average in the three game series will receive $3, and the player making highest score in any single game will receive $2. At the end of the season, the player with the highest average will receive $7 and the player with the second highest will receive $3.

Richards Casts
1st Vote; Leaves
For Calif. Home

The first ballots to be cast in the 1928 presidential campaign in Buchanan were entered last week by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Richards, who left their votes with Township Clerk Irenus Sparks, before leaving for Los Angeles, Calif., by train to make their winter home. Whether or not the vote of the Richards family was unanimous was not divulged by Mr. Richards.

Rev. Staver To Preach Series
Slogan Sermons

The Rev. Harry W. Staver, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, announces that he will commence next Sunday evening a series of "Sermons from Slogans," which should be of rather general interest. While these sermons will be based on popular sayings, the Rev. Mr. Staver says they will not be lacking in ethical emphasis nor spiritual significance. The series is arranged to be as follows: Nov. 4, "Let George Do It." Nov. 11, "Say It With Flowers." Nov. 18, "Make Hay While the Sun shines." Nov. 25, "There's a Reason." Dec. 2, "Watch Your Step." Dec. 9, "Eventually, Why Not Now?"

Georgia Upson is ill with tonsillitis.

C. C. Will Hold
Open House on Election Night

Secretary Al Charles of the Chamber of Commerce announces that that organization will keep open house Tuesday night and Wednesday morning to receive election returns by radio. Seating accommodations will be provided and the public will be welcome. Earl Beck is installing the receiving apparatus.

SEWER WORK ON SOUTH PORTAGE

FORCE SHIFTED TO THIRD STREET BY END OF WEEK

Installation of storm and sanitary sewers on South Portage will be completed tomorrow, barring accident and unfavorable weather, and the entire force will be transferred to excavation on North Portage, which was started yesterday. Excavation on North Portage should take only a few days, according to Frank Read, progress of course depending on the nature and extent of the archeological and mineral discoveries made in that district. Complete installation will doubtless be accomplished on both Portage and Third Sts. before the winter sets in.

Mrs. Florence Shook
Hurt in Fall From Church Step Sunday

Mrs. Florence Shook of Buchanan met with an accident last Sunday noon as she was leaving the Advent Christian Church at a time of the musical service. In some manner she tripped while descending the stairs and fell part way down. Aside from a slight scalp wound and the wrenching and shock, she appears to be no worse for the experience, but kept to her bed for a couple of days. She was attended in her home by Miss Hattie Sanford. Her many friends are hopeful that she will be able to be about, as usual, in a few days, though she had a close call for serious condition as she is 74 years of age.

Flaming Youth
Spread Soap on
On Our Winders

If all the small boys who got a corner on the soap market last night and rubbed the corner off on our windows were laid end to end they would reach at least from here to the town dump. And our idea of a pleasant afternoon would be to put on our spiked hilling shoes and parade up and down the line. We can think of a couple of places where we would stand and rest for about 10 minutes each. As yet the bookkeeper has not got around to wash it off.

Cassopolis Game
Is Dated Ahead
To Friday, Nov. 6

The date for the game with Cassopolis has been changed from Saturday, Nov. 6 to Friday, Nov. 5. Arrangements will be made for those pupils who desire to go. A good sized bunch of rooters ought to go and cheer the team, if for no other reason than we have a new peppy cheer leader who will keep them winded.

TELL US ABOUT IT BEFORE THURS. MORN

Feel free to confide with us on all matters of news, large or small, that concern you or your circle of friends. Also feel free to tell on the neighbors. They've probably told on you already. It will be an immense help to us, and the courtesy will be appreciated. And while you're about it, tell us just as soon as you can after it happens. That will help us get it printed.

Last date for late social and neighborhood items, 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

Last date for big news on fires, weddings, earthquakes, twins, national elections and other great catastrophes, 1:30 p. m. Thursday.

We thank you.

Dominic Di Giacomo and family arrived at their Buchanan home Tuesday, after spending two weeks visiting in Chicago, after closing their store at Lakeside. They report an excellent resort business during the summer.

AUTO CRASH

Drives Truck Into Car
Parked on Front Street

TRUCK IS UPSET
Is Badly Demolished;
Other Car Not Damaged

L. W. Johnson of the Johnson furniture store, incurred painful bruises Monday evening when the Ford truck which he was driving collided with the rear of an out-of-town car parked at the curb on Front street in front of the Hickok home.

Johnson was on his way home shortly after six o'clock, and was passing several cars which had bright lights turned on. Turning out too far in passing, he rammed into the rear of a car belonging to a resident of the district west of Buchanan, who had run out of gas and gone back to a filling station.

Johnson's car turned over on its side, and witnesses ran to his aid, helping him out. He was stunned for a moment, but was soon able to walk, and was taken to his home, where Dr. Curtis was called and made an examination, finding no bones broken. Johnson will be obliged to remain at his home for several days.

His car was taken to the Dewey Avenue Garage, where damages were found to include a bent front axle, exploded tire, bent radius rods and fenders, broken windshield and mashed top. The parked car which Johnson struck had a hole punched in the left rear corner of the body and a bent rear fender, but was driven on by its owner.

Scout Troop 41
Hold Hallowe'en
Meeting Tuesday

The Spirit of Hallowe'en filled the air at Troop 41's meeting last Tuesday. The Four Wise Men, patrol leaders, showed their mystic abilities by leaving the room one at a time and returning and telling the place of a hidden object, a word given by another, and the occupation suggested for them. One proved he could tell the person a magic wand rested on when he was blindfolded. The other scouts had quite a time trying to discover the various tricks. The mysticism over, Don Wood told a story of a spook which is said to have haunted an Eastern Scout Camp. The spook turned out to be a playful acrobat in the camp.

A few games of table hand wrestling livened things up and brought a more natural air in after the ghost story. Fresh cider, pumpkin pie, and apples topped things off.

An apple eating contest was held, the apples hung up, and the three winners had to wash the dishes. The meeting over all went home with another happy evening to tell about and plenty of pie, cider, and apples to make them sleep sound.

J. G. Boyle Named
S. S. Association

Big Truck Has Narrow Escape From Overturning

S. B. Bandringa and Peter Boss left Chicago Sunday at 4:30 a. m. with a load of furniture bound for Dowagiac. They had a brand new 10-ton "Diamond T" truck, which cost $11,000, and it's first haul out of the city.

They found the road delightful, the weather fine and were making excellent time when they made the turn at the bridge to go through Galien, the brakes refused to work and the front of the truck took a plunge over the embankment, turning the truck over on one hindwheel, the side of the truck resting on the cable from the electric light poles, which held it from going into the river. Neither of the men were injured, and after Ernest James had the truck on the wall, found the only damage done was one light broken, and a few scratches.

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free

Inspection Service at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

Check battery
Check generator charging rate
Check distributor adjustment
Check carburetor adjustment
Check lights
Check brakes
Check shock absorber adjustment
Check tire inflation
Check steering gear
Change engine oil
Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A checking-up by experienced mechanics, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

A Little Journey Among The Old Time Apple Trees

O memory! arise and sing
Where rosy bellied pippins cling
And golden russets glint and gleam
As, in the old Arabian dream,
The fruits of that enchanted tree
The glad Aladdin robbed for me!
And drowsy winds, awake and fan
My blood as when it overran
A heart ripe as the apples grow
In orchard lands of Long Ago!
James Whitcomb Riley.

If there is one sight more than another that is calculated to tug at the heart strings of a city man with a country bringing up, it is harvest time in an apple orchard. The great piles of rosy and golden fruit heaped on the ground, or the fragrance that greets the nostrils when entering a well filled apple cellar brings an overpowering rush of memories of idyllic boyhood days.

And the sight will invariably set the town man browsing among the fruit to find whether the old favorites of his childhood are there.

Where are the Rambos, the Seeknothurs, the Tompkins County Kings, the Russets, the Vandever Pippins, the Rhodie Island Greenings, the Sheepnose or Black Giltflower, and the Spitznbergers? The Baldwins and North-ern spies are not so hard to find, their great popularity having carried them over to this day.

But ask an old apple man about the rest and he will tell you: "Why, we can't afford to plant those old apples any more because it took those trees from 15 to 20 years to come into bearing, and we have new varieties now that come into production in five or six years. In commercial production we can't afford to wait 15 or 20 years for returns. We don't take things as slow as they used to. Anyway, it is not necessary."

And the result is that you must travel some distance now to find the old favorites,—with the exception noted above of the North-ern Spies and Baldwins. There are still thousands of trees of those varieties existing and more are being planted. When you know your apples, winter is not winter unless you can go down cellar along in January and dig down into a barrel of spicy Baldwins or Spies. And this taste lingers so among apple eaters that there is demand on the market which the growers must meet.

But there are a round dozen or more of the old favorites which have never been replaced in the affections of old timers which have passed from the memory of a later generation.

"There's never been another apple just like the Vandever Pippins," said Burns Helmick, "There's a sort of a whang to them that no apple ever had. And they were the greatest apple ever for apple pies. When my mother wanted to make pies, she would say, 'Run down cellar and see if you can find me some Vandever Pippins.' And say there was never any other apple pies like them."

"When I was a girl," said a Buchanan woman who is not exactly an old timer, but whose memory goes back to the days of the cold time varieties, "we kids knew just what trees were ripening. And along in the fall, when I got apple hungry, I always used to hunt up the apples 'that had the stars on them.' That is what I called the Seeknothurs. They had big white spots on them that I called stars. I don't know where you could find a Seeknothur apple now."

Twin City Gas Users Fight Rate

Gas users of the Twin Cities will carry to the courts their protest against the service charge of $1.00 imposed by the Michigan Fuel and Light Company, in addition to their scale of $1.00 per 1,000 feet of gas used. Gas users hold that they are not bound by the franchise to use the Michigan Fuel & Light gas for more than the year ending last August, while the company claims that it is operating under a perpetual franchise. Action to test the case was initiated by the Benton Harbor City Commission.

Golden Gate Amenities

To a certain San Francisco newspaper's assertion, in alleged verse, that "this paper's large and quite enough for any person's need," the Argonaut of that city reports: "It is quite enough for wrapping an old pair of shoes, or for a few books, or even, perhaps for the laundry; but suppose it is needed for all three purposes the same day?"

Penguin Eggs

It has been estimated that there are 5,000,000 penguins on Dassen Island about forty miles from Cape Town, South Africa. These birds nest in the sand, every yard or so being occupied and the nest sometimes takes the form of a burrow or cave. The eggs are hunted and sent to Cape Town, where they are considered a great delicacy.

Fought Wordy "Duel"

Two men in Febriz, Persia, after a serious altercation, decided to fight a battle of words. In spite of all their efforts and relatives' attempts to forego the fray, they talked to each other for four days and four nights. Finally the younger of the combatants, dropped in a faint, but both the winner and a loser were taken to the hospital and placed under doctor's care.—Detroit News.

Basis of Quarrels

The desire to be superior, if followed for petty or personal ends is at the bottom of dissensions and quarrels and is the cause of untold failure and unhappiness, thinks a writer on women in the Woman's Home Companion.

Safety First

It is best to look at the bright side of everything, but if it happens to be something you are expected to turn it over and take a squint at the other side.—Los Angeles Times.

Uprooting Faults

You will find it less easy to uproot faults than to gain virtue. Do not think of your faults; still less of others' faults. In every person who comes near you look for what is good and strong; honor that; rejoice in it; and as you can, try to imitate it, and your faults will drop off like dead leaves when their time comes.—John Ruskin.

Glad She Had a Nickel

Joan attended a little play at one of the churches in the evening, for the first time. When she returned her mother asked how she enjoyed it. She said: "Mother, the pianist and everybody who wants to enter heaven must give money to the church. I wish you had seen everybody grab their pocketbooks, and I was glad I had a nickel!"

College Girl by Day—Broadway Show Girl At Night!

Unknown to the faculty of Columbia University, one of that school's brightest students in the psychology and home economics course has turned out to be a Broadway show girl.

She is Joan Kent, a pretty miss of only twenty-three summers, who hails from Cantonville, a suburb of Baltimore, Md. She has just registered for her third year at Columbia, where, until recently, her classmates hadn't the slightest idea that she had been a member of the Greenwich Village Follies for the past eight months.

at her home this afternoon at a Halloween party.

George J. Simon, Jr. entertained Thursday evening a surprise party for Miss Lorraine Marsteiner in honor of her birthday.

The party was a four course dinner at his country home, one and one-half miles east of Buchanan. Miss Marsteiner was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Bunco and bridge were played and prizes were won by Herbert Ryan, Rebecca Zachman, Eva Ellis, Roscoe Smeltzer, Mary Franklin, Charles Franklin, Victoria Zachman and Frances Irvin. Some of the guests were: Miss Ruth Lauer, Miss Catherine Fokidick, George Franklin, William O'Shea, John Irvin, Grace Letcher and John Simon. Games were indulged in until early hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porlick and children of Chicago spent Sunday at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heckathorn spent Sunday at Niles with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crooker.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fougere and daughter, Wanda of Buchanan spent Saturday evening with Miss Blanche Sheldon.

Mr. Spasek and Mr. and Mrs. Frank and Budoff of Chicago spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Spasek.

Mr. and Mrs. William Strunk and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Strunk were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strunk.

Mrs. Spasek spent a few days last week in Chicago.

Mr. Edd Arnold of Sawyer and Miss Emma Arnold of Benton Harbor spent Sunday at the home of their parents.

Mr. William Strunk has resigned his job as mail carrier and Mr. Fred Richter will succeed him the first of November.

Miss Gladys Lanning is attending the institute at Battle Creek. Painting and paper hanging. Good work at reasonable prices. R. D. Fisher, Phone 127. 43c.

The P. N. G. met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mollie Proud for a business session and social meeting, sixteen attending. Prizes at cards were: first Mrs. Ruby Dodge, guest; Mrs. Lillian Cruik, consolation, Mrs. W. L. Willard. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bertha Squire, 501 South Portage street, on November 21, the regular meeting date having been changed on account of Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. T. D. Childs arrived home yesterday noon from a visit of two months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Peck, in California.

The Rebekah degree team of Buchanan will exemplify degree work for a class of initiates at Glendora tonight.

Mrs. Lillian Cruik entertained friends at bunco Monday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Kate Morse, Mrs. Julia Thanning, and Mrs. Lena Roland.

Several Buchanan couples motored to Three Oaks Saturday evening for a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Proud. Prizes were won by Otto Reinke, Harry Post, and Mrs. Charles Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gawthrop entertained 25 guests at cards Saturday evening. All came attired in Halloween costumes and held a masked parade. Prizes at cards were as follows: ladies, Mrs. Charles Babcock first; Mrs. Tracey Neal, second; Mrs. R. Mayhew, consolation; men, Mr. Whistler, first; Charles Babcock, second; Lee Ellis, consolation.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Schram, Miss Barbara Jean Schram, and Miss Allene Arney spent Tuesday in Chicago.

Doomed to Idiocy?

Daily, speeding automobiles collect their toll of child victims and cost hears and reads many pitiful tales.

None more sad, however, than that of Thomas Miranda—the clean-cut looking little youngster pictured above. As a result of an auto accident he met with back in 1925, neurologist—testifying in the $100,000 damage suit his parents filed—declared Tommy would be blind and an idiot in another five years.

Parents—warn your children to stay off the streets!

News of Buchanan Schools

News of Student Life Gathered and Written by Upper Classmen of Buchanan High School

BUCHANAN HIGH NOSED OUT IN CLOSE GAME WITH NILES

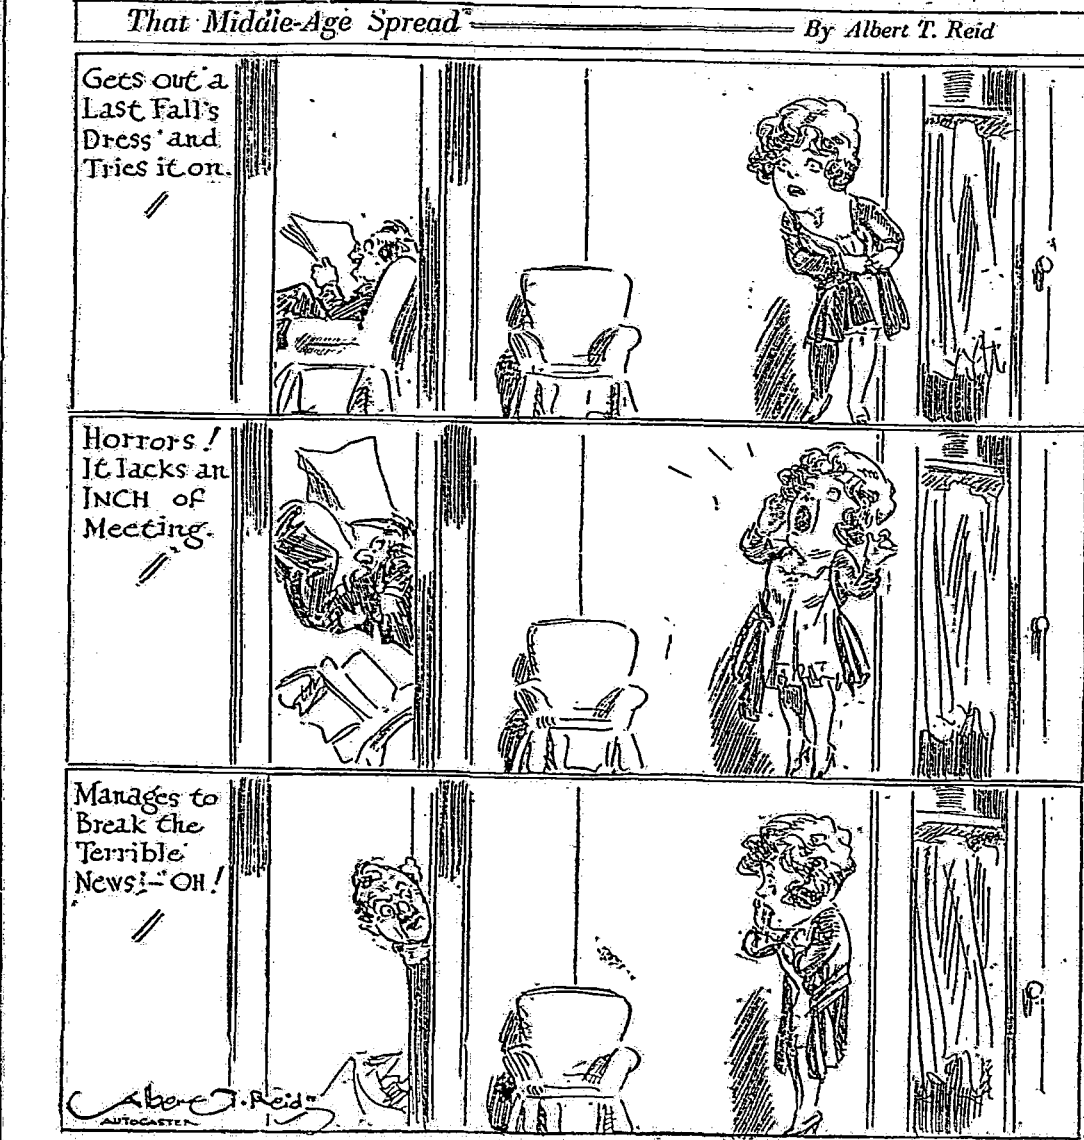

Buchanan received its first defeat of the season 6-7 from Niles at the Plym Athletic Park Niles. The loss of Dunbar at left tackle, and numerous other injuries to the team members proved too great a handicap.

The major part of the first quarter the play was fairly even but towards the end Niles punted from their 49 yard line to Buchanan's 8 yard line. They then succeeded in holding Buchanan for most downs and blocking the punt on the fourth down, receiving the ball on Buchanan's four yard line. Buchanan then held allowing Niles to gain but two yards in three downs before the first quarter ended.

Starting the second quarter on Buchanan's two yard line they came within six inches of a touch down. Buchanan punted to her twenty yard line and Niles promptly came back. They tried a pass. It failed, they run, fumbled, losing five yards. Ostrander made thirteen yards, and Grimes three more for first down on Buchanan's ten yard line. Buchanan again succeeded in holding for downs allowing Niles to make only seven and a half yards in their four attempts.

The play was Buchanan's until a fumble was recovered by Niles on Buchanan's thirty-five yard line. Niles' first play, a pass from Williams to Bachman, netted twenty-five yards, putting the ball on Buchanan's ten yard line again.

In the early part of the fourth quarter Buchanan held and received the ball on downs. Pierce passed to Morse for five yards. Savoli circled left end for four yards more, and Pierce carried the pigskin again for four yards. Wilcox opened up, making nine yards and Niles decided that things weren't as they should be and took time out, tightened up, and held Pierce even in a plunge at left tackle. Buchanan was off side and penalized five yards. Wilcox slipped through right tackle for five yards, leaving a yard to go in the fourth down. A new formation for passing, Morse to Savoli, netted twenty-three yards but Savoli dropped the ball and he started for the goal and Fred Smith scooped the ball up and made a beautiful sprint, putting the ball over for Buchanan's lone touchdown. Pierce's kick after goal went wild, leaving the score, Niles 7, Buchanan 6. Buchanan's victory after the touchdown and started after it hard keeping the ball coming towards Niles steadily but Niles played for time and managed to hold leaving the score: Niles 7, Buchanan 6.

Buchanan made 115 yards from scrimmage, lost 10 yards in penalties, made 79 yards in seven passes out of sixteen tried, while Niles made 131 yards in scrimmage, was penalized 90 yards and made 53 yards in three passes out of fourteen tries. Both teams made six first downs.

Next Saturday Buchanan High School's football team will go to Cassopolis to meet their team of big huskies. In the last few years they have had big boys who troubled us with their size but were beatable because we knew a few more tricks of the game. This year they have another large team, and if they are coached well they will cause trouble.

We have confidence in Coach "Curly" Bradford's team to meet any surprises. "Curly" proved his stuff, and so did the team, last Saturday, when they held Niles down in the crippled state we were in. We congratulate both team and coach on their "Fighting Spirit."

Ostrander made one lean yard, Crawford lost three yards. Ostrander made two yards putting the ball right where it started from, and it was the fourth down and ten to go, but a lucky pass from Williams to Bachman put the pigskin over for the first and only touchdown for Niles. The point after goal was made by P. Williams' place-kick, which won the game.

Niles threatened constantly, having the ball on Buchanan's third line when the first half ended. Score Niles 7, Buchanan, 6. The third quarter was filled with threats and counter threats, Niles having a slight edge until the fourth quarter.

Work Starts On Peggy and Pirate

The books for the operetta, "Peggy and the Pirate," have arrived and work has begun in earnest.

Practically all the characters are members of the two glee clubs with an understudy for each part. Daily practices are being held with every member doing his utmost to make the operetta a huge success which it is bound to be from the amount of interest being shown by the student body.

Student Council Stages Hallowe'en Party Sat. Night

The Student Council may feel well content with the outcome of the all-school Hallowe'en party which they sponsored on Saturday evening.

The party was well received and well attended by the student body. At eight o'clock the party assembled for the grand march around the gymnasium, kaleidoscopic with the beautiful and comic costumes worn by the masked student revelers.

Unmasking, the evening's entertainment began with games, teams being chosen from the classes, and with each contest won counting a number of points.

Team rivalry was felt between the four classes, the freshmen winning in the summary of the points with the seniors a bare half point behind them.

The classes and the faculty each presented a stunt, first place being won by the sophomores to whom a prize will be presented at Friday morning assembly.

Cider, cakes, sandwiches and peanuts were served cafeteria style, followed by a game which closed the eventful party, leaving each happy guest looking forward to next year, a generous student council and incidentally another Hallowe'en party.

ALEXANDER, HALL AND GERBER WIN WRESTLING BOUTS

LOCAL BOY DEFEATS HIS HEAVY OPPONENT IN TWO OUT OF THREE

The three wrestling bouts at Clark Theatre Thursday night resulted in victories for Leo Alexander, Fred Hall and Dick Gerber in short order. The feature proved to be Hall's setto with Bob Hamilton, the semi-final on the program.

The final bout, Leo Alexander versus Whitey Lewis, was rather uninteresting, for Lewis failed to appear and could not be located in Benton Harbor, his home. Telephone, George Longacre, 162, pounder of Elkhardt, volunteered to enter the ring with the 180-pound Lithuanian champion, and stayed 5:50 in the first fall and 45 seconds in the second. The fans saw enough of Alexander's work to realize that he is a powerful, speedy and resourceful master of holds and balance.

Little Freddie Hall, 139-pound former champion of the light-weights and local favorite, met in Hamilton, a boy about 15 pounds heavier and with ten years experience, losing the first fall in 18:45 with a reverse headlock and bar-arm.

Although Fred seemed almost smothered with the hold, he came back for the second fall like a tornado, punished his stronger opponent with a bewildering assortment of toe-holds, head locks and body-drops, and took the fall with a half-nelson and scissors in 9:50. He concluded his activities by taking the third fall with a rush from his corner, lifting his struggling antagonist high, and dropping him on his back with himself on top, winning the referee's back slap in 1:05.

The preliminary between Karl Runyon, 150-pounder, of Buchanan, and Dick Gerber, 135-pounder, of South Bend, proved that the home boy was overmatched, never going behind Gerber once in the six minutes and twenty seconds it took the little wildcat to gain two falls. The first came with a scissors, bar arm and headlock in 3:20, and the second with an octopus lock in 3:14.

The crowd was small, but enthusiastic. Alexander referred the first bout and the first fall of the second, and Dick Gerber served as arbiter the rest of the time.

Followers of wrestling will be given their fill of fast action and varied holds at the Oliver Theatre Friday night, Nov. 2, when Getz and Latava, South Bend and Elkhardt promoters, will offer a full evening of three matches, two best in three falls. Leo Alexander, 180, will meet John Schultz, 185, German light-heavy champion; George Mack, 185, will grapple with Chris Lazgoff, 185, Russian; and Dick Gerber and Carl Johnson, lightweights, will exchange holds.

BARODA TREASURER TRIED DECEMBER 1

In a stipulation filed in Berrien county circuit court in behalf of the township of Baroda in its suit against Harry C. Knight, former township treasurer, against whom the township secured a $3,038 judgment recently, the date set for filing a motion for a new trial and for setting the bill of exceptions, was extended to December 1st.

Knight is represented by Attorney John J. Sterling and Attorney George H. Bookwater represents the township of Baroda.

The township sued Knight for an alleged shortage on his books when his term of office expired last January.

BIGGER CABBAGES

Fred Seel, prominent Eau Claire fruit and vegetable grower, claims the championship for fine large cabbage heads this season.

Last week, while gathering and marketing his cabbage, he found one especially large head which measured 47 inches in circumference, weighed 19 pounds and 10 ounces, and would practically fill a bushel basket. A few days later, however, he brought in another head which put this one out of the running by tipping the scales at 21½ pounds.

Mr. Seel says that he filled one order for 25 head of cabbage which weighed in the aggregate 310 pounds. The cabbage is all first quality, crisp and solid and is a real revelation in cabbage growing.

ANOTHER BIG POTATO

The race for the largest potato in Berrien county continued with impetus today when Chris Brenkert of St. Joe placed on display a spud measuring 1½ by 9½ inches and weighing two pounds and ten ounces.

Larger potatoes have been grown, Mr. Brenkert admits, but it is a question whether another of equal size has been raised from a potato peeling, as the one displayed by Mr. Brenkert was. "Does it all mean you folks are getting away from the 'back seat'?" "Yes," answered Senator Brenkert, "but occasionally it seems like trying to drive the car from the back seat."

FINANCING AIRSHIPS OUR PROPERTY. THE "BEST" SPEAKEASIES REMOVES OWN APPENDIX

Dr. Eckner and his fellow officers of the big Zeppelin hope American capital will interest itself in the building of five airships for trans-Atlantic flights.

A big New York bank is said to be interested.

All are interested in the development of aviation. Every useful new thing helps general prosperity. If we can't build the airships ourselves, the next best thing is to finance them.

Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of General Motors, and his associates will sooner or later get into the airplane field.

McClintic, Marshall—a firm of Pittsburgh now constructing ready made steel frames for houses—might well turn from steel to aluminum to build all-metal dirigibles and frames.

Great demand for automobiles, keeping all plants at capacity production, is one proof of prosperity.

The Northwest and Middle-West report good business.

If we were much more prosperous, we could hardly stand it. That is to say, some of us could hardly stand it. But it is not so with all, unfortunately.

In New York a man, fifty years old, having vainly sought a job open to gray hairs, tried to hang himself from a third-story window. He did not succeed in hanging himself, but fell and was killed.

Mr. Roy Howard looks before he leaps and decides not to leap, after having alcoholic drinks analyzed in many of New York's "best" speakeasies.

In eight "high grade" establishments his agents purchased liquors actually deadly. Only two or three places out of twenty-eight sold whiskies non-poisonous.

And they also were poisonous, since alcohol, as fools use it, is always a poison.

Something new in modern surgery.

Dr. Robert Meals, young surgeon of Hollywood, thought that shock after surgical operation is caused by anaesthetics, not by the operation.

To test his theory he removed his own appendix, lying on the operating table propped up, asking the assistance of a brother surgeon only in locating the appendix and removing adhesions.

A fine display of self-control and "courage."

Local anaesthesia was employed but could not prevent internal pain.

This operation again raises the question, "What is courage?" It reminds us that not long ago before anaesthetics were used, all operations were accompanied by terrible pain.

The clergy said it was a shame to use anaesthetics because it defeated the will of God, who desired his creatures to suffer. That opinion has been abandoned.

Japan will send to Brazil at least 1,000 colonists each year.

Nachiro Fukuhara, head of a $5,000,000 Japanese syndicate, will direct colonization in the rich state of Para, source of excellent rubber.

The Japanese are kind to their children. No Japanese ever strikes a child. Consequently the children thrive, and families are big.

Grandchildren of Americans now living may see an important branch of Asia established on the continent south of us.

That is the business of Brazil and Japan, not ours.

Mussolini says the Italian press is perfectly free, but it must not criticize Fascism, or his policies. Newspapers MAY criticize his vicin playing if they choose.

Mussolini remembers that Napoleon said, "My government could not last two weeks if I allowed liberty to the press."

Extraordinary are Mussolini's success and good judgment. He appears on the page of history, a cross between Mohammed and Marcus Aurelius, and, apart from his assertion that liberty is an unimportant word, we find little to criticize in his doings, remembering that if Italy had not had Mussolini it would have had anarchy.

No wonder American boys and girls grow. The nation's food bill is TWENTY-THREE THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

Forty-seven thousand, nine hundred and eighty-five factories of different kinds turn out food products, assisted by 6,448,366 farmers. And 22 per cent of the food plants produce nine-tenths of the food products. Shiver at that, if you dread monopoly.

The Old Timers' Corner-

Old Timer Gives Entertaining Talk On Log Roads and Snakes and Things

Have been thinking about Roads and Railroads and so on today. My earliest recollections bring back visions of corduroy roads that were no worse than some of our city streets of today. To be sure they were sometimes rather wet and "oozy" but they were not any worse than the size of the logs used to make them, and if the logs were smaller than the bumps were likewise smaller, so as time went on they used to lay a layer of heavy logs and then smaller ones on top embedded in thick clay or mud, and when it had a chance to dry out made a pretty decent road. Much better than some of our country "detours" that we have to make today. I remember some of those roads out west of town and also north of town. The roads south and east were not so much through marshy country and so they seldom ever had to resort to log roads. But I was yet quite young when the last of the old corduroy roads were done away with and good gravel roads were taking their place. I thought at that time that a good gravel road was the last word in good roads and we sure made good use of them. The idea of using logs in the building of roads followed as naturally as did the idea of building their homes from them. They had lots of timber and they wanted suggested the idea, for where there is a need there is usually a remedy at hand if you will just look around and use the things that old Mother Nature supplies.

One thing I remember about the old corduroy roads was that there were usually a lot of snakes in the localities where such roads were built. That would naturally follow for it was marshy and that is the natural habitat of the reptiles. There used to be so many water snakes and "yellow bellied" snakes (which was a species of adder) and very poisonous. I remember one time when I was quite young that I decided to go into partnership with my brother in the Circus business. So we started to get our snakes together first. We went down to the "pond" and on a rail fence that ran thru the pond, would find a big long "black snake" or other water loving reptile, asleep in the sun, and we would grab him by the tail and run. As long as you kept going, you could keep them from traveling and in that way we dragged at least a half dozen snakes from two feet to six feet in length, to the farm and there we put them in "honey boxes," this day and age.

We kept bees, and the boxes that they put their honey in, had a glass end, at one end of it, and we bored small holes in the top to give them air and kept them out of sight of the rest of the family, and had some fine big snakes for our circus. It was in the Fall of the year, as I remember it, and the nights became pretty cold for them and one night it was going to freeze pretty hard and so after the folks had gone to bed, Art and I sneaked out and carried all our snakes into the kitchen and put them under the stove. It was warm and fine in there, but the poor things were stiff with cold and so we raised the glass ends a little to let the warm air into the boxes, and went to bed. In the morning, we heard a terrible racket in the vicinity of the kitchen and we feared for the worst. It transpired that mother had gone out there to get the breakfast and found too much company, around under the stove and elsewhere, and with Father to help her, they managed to kill the snakes for a while and then we were brought on the carpet to explain. The evidence was all against us, and so we didn't get any breakfast that day, but we did get plenty of "strap oil and elbow grease." So our circus was all shot to pieces and we had to promise never to bring reptiles in the house again.

Do you remember how they made gravel roads in those days? They hauled the gravel and dumped it in piles on the road and depended upon traffic to level it off, and believe me there were some bumps that never got "trafficked." Many a good buggy spring was sorely tried in getting over them. They will do that same trick, for I was driving down past Bechlers Island on the east side of the river not long ago, and they had been doing the same thing there and when we got to the old Wagner place, where you turn east, up a hill, they had been digging the gravel out right in the road, and they had no guard rails or anything to prevent you from driving right off in their temporary "gravel pit." I was going East and I went through their gravel pit and up a very steep incline and made the grade all right, but it was a hard climb, even for a good car. I thought that some farmers must have been "working" out their road tax, and didn't have any "boss" and so things wouldn't happen this day and age.

I am very glad to see the good roads that are being made in and around Buchanan, now. The streets of Buchanan on the whole are as good or better than in most small towns. The new work on Portage Street and Third Street will make that part of town far more civilized and marks another step forward.

Do you remember the first trains that went through on the Michigan Central? I do not, but my mother has told me of the occasion. She said that the entire population went up to see the first train go through. It must have been some of those same ones (?) that used to always hang around the depot to "see the trains go through" when I was a lad. I know that certain men (and women for that matter,) seemed to find delight in walking up to the depot to see the "Accommodation" come in. I never could figure out what they gained from it, but they were always on hand. The woods across from the depot used to come down to the very banks, but now that they have been cut away, and the street over there improved, it looks more like a town. When the railway company improved the bank opposite the station they should have put up a new station house, also. That is the same one that was built when the town was young, I guess, but it is sort of a land mark now and I would hate to see it go. It was a wonderful building to me in my young days. I thought it was a great building and used to wonder at its many (?) rooms and entrances and almost get lost, getting through it. The last time I was through there we passed the station and some friends of mine asked if that was the town hall? I have always thought it was a mistake in having the town so far removed from the railroad, but time will correct that for the town will build up to and around it and there will come a time when people passing through will know that there is something there beside the old red brick station.

Then came the "Narrow Gauge" road and that went right down through town, almost. I used to like to ride down through there and look down the main streets, as we passed them and wonder if any of my friends saw me riding on the train. That was a tricky old road, full of curves and grades and if you didn't get stuck now and then you were fortunate. And then you were fortunate, Harry Starret and his father ran the engine. (Yes it was the engine, for they only had one.) It had a short stubby smoke stack and burned a lot of coal, but it was strong, all right, and under the circumstances I now wonder that it was able to take those curves and grades at all. It used to get stuck down along by the old "slaughter house" a lot of times and especially when the snow was deep. Get out and dig the snow away and keep plugging away until they made way, that was the answer. It was pioneering, all right, in the railroad business. The venture never was a paying one, and the road now is past and gone. I often wonder why the State does not utilize that old right of way for a highway. It could very easily be made a wonderful road way for automobiles. It has rare scenic advantages along with a direct route to St. Joe, etc. And this reminds me that I read in the Record the other day that the high school pupils are going to do some work on the vacant property back of the old Rex Hotel, and make a beauty spot of it. Fine. I am very glad to hear that and hope some time to walk up along the creek and see some of the things I have dreamed of for years regarding that good old stream. More power to you.

Another great improvement, along with road and railroads, that I was thinking above was that old "inclined" structure at the freight depot where we had to haul all our wheat and oats and corn, etc. It sure was a hard pull for the horses, and made for slow progress, for the space at the top was often so full of wagons that you had to wait in line to get up or down again. Well, time makes for faster living and faster ways of doing things, and so we keep stepping up and losing the old structure passing along with the rest, is but to be expected.

Old Timer.

'Nother Old Timer Adds to Story of Former Winter Joys

"Old Timer" tells a good story about the delights of the Michigan winter. Here is another that had to do with coasting on Niles and Front street hills. There used to be a narrow wooden bridge across the creek on Front street and another in Day's Avenue on about the same grade as the present two bridges was a driveway down into the creek for people to drive street at that corner. Between the two for watering stock. One bright moonlight night a party was out with a bobbed, coasting. They started at the top of the Niles hill with all that could climb on, and with Ira Willets on a small hand sled, at the front, holding the end of the bob tongue, under his arm, to steer. When they came just to the turning off place to the driveway into the creek, he gave the tongue a throw into the creek and he went on across the bridge and the rest down the drive. When the runners struck the creek bottom it stopped suddenly and threw the whole bunch into the water, with such a mix up of arms and legs as never has been known in that town since. Willets took a sneak down Portage street and around the back way, home. He and his brother were running a tree nursery on the twenty acres known now as the Bartness place. That dump were such people as John Fancher, two or three Roes, Turner Green, Edmond Terriere and some of his sisters, about three of the Carlisle youngsters, Franc Totten, Mary Day, Carey Merrill and enough others to make a sleigh load to the limit.

FISHING LAW TESTED

The right to fish in Lake Michigan by two Indiana residents who were said to have been fishing trout in Michigan, controlled by the state, was tested in Justice R. Collins court here next Saturday when two men arrested by officials of the state department of conservation and state police appear for their examination.

George B. Martin, 40, of LaPorte, Indiana, and C. R. Zang, 27, of Westville, Indiana, were taken into custody late yesterday by Game Warden Dick Condon, Corporal Dora of the State police and William H. Loutit, executive chairman of the state department of conservation.

The state officials boarded the tug "Boss" at Grand Haven, picked up Condon at St. Joseph and sailed directly towards Michigan City. The two Hoosiers were arrested aboard their tug "Sport" in Michigan waters north of the imaginary state line which extends out to the middle of the lake. The Michigan authorities claim the Indiana men were fishing trout in Michigan waters out of season. Indiana has no state laws governing the fishing industries as does this state.

The tugs returned to St. Joseph and the "Sport" was tied up at the Habel Brothers docks where it is being held by the state authorities.

Both Zang and Martin were released last night on $50 bonds and will appear here next Saturday, according to their attorney, Floyd C. Jellison of South Bend.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanking friends and neighbors for kindness, sympathy and flowers, during sickness and death of David O. Fulton, father.

Joe and Ida Fulton and Family.

Indian Population in U. S.

The Indian population of the United States exclusive of Alaska, is 244,000. In 1920, there were 206,868 Indians in the United States who could speak English.

Tourists Remain Later in Michigan For Fall Forests

During the past season, tourists arrived earlier in Michigan and stayed longer than ever before. P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of parks in Michigan, declares. Reports coming from the various state-owned parks bear out this statement. Better roads, greater desire on the part of visitors to see the state in its autumn colors, and advertising activity of the various tourist associations, are some of the reasons for the welcome condition, it is believed. The fame of Michigan's beautiful autumn woods and delightful frost chilled air appears to be rapidly spreading.

The state parks have been kept open longer this year than ever before because of the late tourist definitely decided to close them November 1, however.

Latch Is Still Occasionally at C. Vorhees Home

The old saying, "the latchstring is out" is not without application at the home of Charles Vorhees on the river road north of Buchanan.

Mr. Vorhees has on the front door of his log cabin, which he built about 15 years ago, a latch manipulated by a string. The string lifts the latch, and when it is struck through a small hole immediately above the door may be opened from without. If it is out, according to Vorhees, the old-fashioned etiquette it signifies that the family within are ready for you, and you may knock and walk in without waiting for anyone to come to the door.

Last Cranberry Marsh Lays Near Pollywog School

The last of a number of one-time cranberry marshes is reported to still exist in a wooded hollow about 40 rods east of the Pollywog, or Forest Hills, school house. The marsh contains both blueberries and cranberries, now blackened by frost, and is surrounded by beautiful hemlock trees.

Individual and team scores for the week were:

"Are you personally directing your campaign?"

"Yes," answered Senator "Sport" but occasionally it seems like trying to drive the car from the back seat."

TRIUMPHS OF THRIFT

A railroad co-operative building and loan association in New York City, with 70,000 members, has received returns from a questionnaire that are interesting and highly favorable to the habit of thrift. Originally the association was exclusively New York Central Railroad employees. Now more than 75 per cent of its members are not railroad workers.

Contrary to the popular notion that people form habits of systematic saving only toward middle life, it is shown to be a fact that a majority of this organization began saving when between 20 and 30 years of age. Only 15 per cent postponed saving until they were 40.

The average saving was between 10 and 35 per cent with some saving as much as 75 per cent of their earnings. Saving is, so to speak, a cumulative habit, that is, one which impels people to save more and more as the years pass. Once a person learns what an increase interest brings to them and how pleasant it is to have his own money earning money for him, the desire to save increases. It is safe to say that those now saving 75 per cent of their incomes did not increase their living expenses with each increase in their wages or salaries.

In 1927 there was an increase of 51,234 in the membership of New York building and loan associations, who increased their assets $51,526,472. One member volunteered to say in answering the questionnaire: "Money spent is gone for good; money saved is a joy forever." It is indeed that, and an ever-present comfort. We have never met a man or woman who regretted getting the saving habit.

WORLD'S HIGHEST BUILDING

Each lofty building or tower erected by man serves as a standing challenge to other men to build still higher. In that field the spirit of daring and adventure and the courage and inventive ability of man have been given large illustration. Just now the latest instance has been announced at Chicago. That city is to have the tallest building in the world. It is to be the display center and clearing house for the apparel trade of the nation to which all offerings will be brought, and where buyers will assemble, with offerings and prospective buyers all under one roof.

The building will be 75 stories in height, will rise 850 feet above the street level in Wacker Drive and will top all other buildings now existing by 88 feet. Construction work will be started early in the spring, about two years will be required for completion and the cost will be around $45,000,000. The building has been under consideration for two years. It represents the latest and greatest measure of human vanity and ambition in construction.

One may find in places an occasional citizen so wedded to conditions of former years that visits to high buildings are not made. No rate or rental or convenience offered would tempt these people to locate in the towering structures. But the rest of the world is becoming accustomed to the new things of these bustling times rather rapidly, men locate offices on extremely high floors and find the public seeks them out quite as readily as when they were not so highly elevated. There is a popular appeal to an advertising value for an office or display room above the ordinary level of surrounding buildings. Many lines of business have learned the public looks upon a towering and massive new bank building as a picture of the stability of the bank. For high will man carry construction in the future is a question no one can answer now, but there are reasons to expect other buildings will top the new structure over which Chicago is so proud.

RADIO, FILM AND STAGE

Big business development has been shown in the union of interests brought about by gathering the Radio Corporation of America, the Keith-Albee-Orpheum and the Film Booking Corporation into a holding company, putting radio, film and stage in one family group. It is a vast new enterprise, affects the convenience and comfort of many millions and has a production distribution and entertainment importance not before shown in the three fields. It is a union of interests that have been in competition heretofore. It has untold possibilities for development of the three activities in the group, and it has given a new financial importance to radio, film and stage.

This new corporation will control many of the devices used in the talking movies and will be in a position to use widely these devices as they are put in use and improved. That goes into a field of entertainment the limits of which are yet unknown. It is the belief of many that the talking movies will be given a tremendous development in the coming years and will be available for use in cities large and small. There is no doubt of the popular interest aroused by the use of these new devices. They provide a new feature in popular entertainment, and their use will be productive of revenue for those who manufacture and use them, hence they are certain to become more numerous and will be continually developed. In the hands of a powerful corporation their interests will be continually developed. In the hands of a powerful corporation their interests will be promoted and their value improved.

RAILWAY POOLS AND MERGERS

Railway passenger earnings this year will be about six per cent below last year's and will be smaller than in any year since 1909, these facts being shown in figures gathered by The Railway Age. With the finest equipment ever built and the fastest trains ever operated in this country, passenger train income continues to decline. With an increasing number of automobiles and additional paved highways each year, the probability is that declines will be noted in the years to come. Paved highways are crowded with tourists, passenger trains are not.

Such conditions are forcing to the attention of railway executives and financiers consideration of questions of mergers and the pooling of passenger service in the principal territories. Both questions are under discussion in the Chicago territory. Recent events indicate the possibility that a merger may be sought to include the properties of the Great Northern,

Northern Pacific, Burlington and Southern Pacific railway systems. A recent shift of high officials makes that situation plain, without formal announcement.

In Chicago there is open discussion of a plan for pooling passenger business from Chicago and to principal points west of that city. There are six trunk lines operating fast and first-class passenger trains to Kansas City, a greater number of lines connect Chicago and St. Louis, a number of fine roads run between Chicago and Omaha, and the same is true of the business to Indianapolis. With passenger business declining, there is a burden for each line, when half the roads might have a profit and handle the through business with the utmost convenience by a pool agreement. That would save the cost of equipment and operation for many of the present number of costly trains.

There is no secret that railway officials have had conversations on that possibility and it is quite probable other conversations will be held. It would be a great change from present conditions, great care would be required in making plans, but the chances now are that such plans will be given consideration. Railways cannot be expected to continue a costly service that is not patronized to the point of paying operating costs. In such situations changes are forced by the logic of business. These are two of the transportation problems hurried to the attention of the public and the railway owners by modern highways and speedy autos, as the motor age develops.

Senator Curtis used to be a Catholic and is now a Methodist, voted for the McNary-Haugen bid the first time and against it the second time and stands foursquare on the moral issues and is the best poker player in Congress, and he seems to be a regular platform in himself.

Big Bill Thompson has been so quiet recently that we shouldn't wonder if he had heard, indirectly, that the meek are going to inherit the earth.

Another pathetic little feature of every day life is a slenderizing stocking on a leg that simply can not be slenderized.

Another thing an experienced editor can do is to make it sound as if he cared a lot whether there are any large bodies of land in the vicinity of the South Pole or not.

Hope springs eternal in the human breast and every now and then some one, seeking fame and fortune, places a new kind of near beer on the market.

Another surprising development is how soon a new Ford can begin to look collegiate when in the proper hands.

Let's Keep This Advantage For Michigan

United States Senator A. H. Vandenberg

Senator Vandenberg is the Republican candidate to succeed himself. He has a powerful place in Washington which Michigan cannot afford to lose. Vice President Dawes says he knows no Senator "who has started so auspiciously or who gives such promise of statesmanship" as Vandenberg. He has important committee places which can be reached only by the "Seniority" which he now enjoys. He has demonstrated that he is a dependable friend to Agriculture and to Labor and to Industry. He is Michigan's prime reliance in the fight for the St. Lawrence Waterway which means so much to our state. He is a man of unchallenged moral character and ideals and honor and integrity. He is one of the leading Constitutional Authorities in the United States. Michigan cannot afford to lose this advantage. Think of your own welfare when you vote for U. S. Senator. If you do, you will unhesitatingly vote for Vandenberg. (You have to vote for him TWICE—Long and Short Terms—because one follows the other.)

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its introduction. It is a gentle, non-habit-forming, and entirely harmless. It neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless, and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this "milk" method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c bottles—any drugstore.
"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

FEDERAL 4-way Oven

Your cooking results are positive and certain when your food is placed in a Federal Gas Range oven—bread and biscuits come out light and fluffy—cakes have an evenness of texture.

The new patented feature—4 way circulation of heat—assures even delivery of heat to every part of the oven—top and bottom as well as the four sides are equally heated.

How much better foods taste and how much more inviting do they appear when they have been evenly cooked.

Too, the 4-way circulation of heat makes for faster cooking, and does it with a considerable saving of gas. Modern home keeping does not call for long hours in the kitchen and cooking with the Federal Gas Range is a joy because it does the work so well and so quickly.

Best of all, your Federal Gas Range adds beauty and distinction to your kitchen. Your friends will admire it and you will find it so easy to keep clean. See the beautiful display of different styles of Federal Gas Ranges.

Grave of Union Officer Is Lost Near Buchanan

School civics classes, woman's clubs, or other organizations which are desirous of being of public service might expend some worthy effort not entirely without credit to themselves by locating and marking the grave of a Union officer in the Civil War, whose last resting place is now practically lost in a tangle of underbrush and laurel in the Reynolds burying ground in the Treat & Howe addition.

The grave is that of Harrison Barnhouse, sergeant in Co. L Second Michigan Cavalry, who served three years in the army, seeing service in several battles. Barnhouse was a fellow soldier of Ashley Carlisle, both serving in the start of the war under Phil Sheridan who was then the colonel of their regiment. Barnhouse was captured on July 2, 1862, in a battle at Booneville, Miss. A superior force of Confederates engaged Sheridan's regiment of 1,600 cavalry in dense woods and the two forces fought all without either gaining advantage. At night the Confederates withdrew, taking with them a number of prisoners, including Barnhouse.

Barnhouse spent two or three months in a Confederate prison at Macon, Ga., and was then released. He was an Odd Fellow, and it is believed that he used his lodge affiliation in securing an exchange. After returning here, he farmed for many years on the river road, about two miles below the power house. He died about 12 years ago, and was buried in the Reynolds burying ground, also known as "the Virginian's burying ground" from the fact that a number of the early Virginian settlers were buried there.

Dairy Cows Provide Good Potato Market

The potato grower who has a herd can find a profitable market for his small and cull potatoes by feeding them to the cows, according to a statement by the dairy department at Michigan State College.

A hundred weight of potatoes contains 17.1 pounds of total digestible nutrients, and the same amount of corn silage contains 17.7 pounds of nutrients. Potatoes, when used for cow feed, give the best results if a legume hay and a balanced grain ration is fed with them. The tubers furnish heat and energy for the cows but do not contain all the needed elements for milk.

The feeding of potatoes should begin gradually. Small amounts should be given for the first few days and then increased until the maximum quantity, 20 to 30 pounds, is being fed. The potatoes should run through a root cutter or chopped finely.

The tubers should be fed immediately after the cows are milked. This will prevent any tainting of the milk. Excessive quantities of potatoes sometimes cause a poor quality of butterfat.

The dairy specialists at State College say that a good ration for a 1,000 pound cow, which is giving 30 pounds of 4 percent milk daily, is 25 pounds of raw potatoes, 10 to 12 pounds of alfalfa hay, and 10 pounds of a good grain mixture. This mixture can be made of 400 pounds of cornmeal, 300 pounds of ground oats, 50 pounds of linseed meal, and 50 pounds of 43 per cent cottonseed meal.

Meet Wed. Night At The Four Flags

The Berrien County Medical Society will hold their October meeting in Niles at the Four Flags Hotel on Wednesday evening the 31st with a 6:30 dinner.

The address of the evening will be given by Dr. Mortensen of Battle Creek. Dr. Mortensen is chief of staff of internal medicine at the Battle Creek sanitarium. His paper will be on "Organic Heart Disease with special reference to coronary sclerosis and its Differential Diagnosis."

Dr. Mortensen is a leader in internal medicine and the members of the society are planning to give him a large attendance in as much as it is quite an honor for the local society to be addressed by a man of his distinction.

The Berrien County Society invite all physicians and nurses in Berrien County to attend whether they are members of the society or not.

Hints for the Home by Nancy Hart

A few tips about curtains. In general, overcurtains should hang to the floor, undercurtains to the window sill, and straight draperies should be weighted to keep them from billowing out into the room.

Bands of self material finished with a tailored rosette are always appropriate for tie-backs. Usually, when a valance is used, it is best to have it only slightly shaped, not cut out in sharp points or scallops. Full curtains are very effective when simply French pleated at the top and used without a valance or cornice treatment.

Curtains for French doors should always be shirred at both top and bottom and stretched tightly on round or flat rods. Opaque glass curtains hung on a traverse cord eliminate the need for window shades.

Roast Duck with Apples and Prunes

A chef's recipe that is most delicious: Use 16 cooked prunes; peel and quarter 4 apples; melt 1 ounce butter, add apples, seeded prunes, juice of ½ lemon, 1 teaspoon ground lemon peel, 1 teaspoon brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup bread croutons fried in butter to golden brown. Mix lightly and fill duck.

Hindu Soup
Simmer slowly in sauce pan for 20 minutes 1 pint tomatoes, 1 chopped onion, 1 chopped apple, ½ cup chopped ham, ½ ts. mustard, 1-16 ts. pepper, ½ ts. sugar ¼ ts. curry powder, salt to taste. Rub through sieve, add 1 quart soup stock and bring to boil; add 3 tbs. quick cooking tapioca and cook 15 minutes. Serve very hot, with crisp saltines.

Fruited Rice Snow
Beat one cup of heavy cream and add to it two cups of cold boiled rice and one-half cup of confectioners' sugar. Add two cups of crushed pineapple, having most of the juice drained off. Chill in the refrigerator.

When ready to serve, pile lightly in compotes and garnish, petal fashion, with sliced canned peaches or canned grapefruit sections. This recipe will serve eight.

Fish Balls
1 cup of shredded fish
2 heaping cups of raw potatoes
2 hard boiled eggs, chopped fine
1 raw egg, well beaten
Boil potatoes and fish until done, drain carefully, mash and beat until creamy. Add chopped boiled eggs, beaten egg and a dash of pepper. Beat all together, roll in flour and fry in hot lard.

LUCILLE MARSH IS JOINED IN MARRIAGE TO FRANK JANKOWSKI

The St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Buchanan was the setting for a beautiful wedding Tuesday morning when Miss Lucille Marsh and Frank Jankowski were united in marriage.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew George Marsh who reside 5 miles south west of Buchanan and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jankowski of near New Carlisle, Ind.

The double ring service was performed at 9 o'clock by Father Owens of Three Oaks in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple.

Miss Angeline Baluiewicz of South Bend attended as maid of honor and Miss Bernice Hylek of Chicago was bridesmaid. The best man was Henry Grzeskiewicz and John Jankowski, a brother of the groom, acted as usher. Little Genevieve March, a sister of the bride was ring bearer.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin played by Mrs. Wm. Blaney.

Quantities of fall flowers and roses were used effectively in the decoration of the church for the nuptials.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white satin and lace, designed with a bouffant skirt of uneven hemline. She wore a long wedding veil and carried a lovely shower of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The maid of honor was attired in a dainty pink georgette gown and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful blue taffeta dress fashioned with basque waist and bouffant skirt, and carried a bouquet of roses.

A wedding breakfast and luncheon was served about 11 at Laskowski's Hall in South Bend to about 60 relatives and close friends of the couple. The decorations being in pink and white, the bride's chosen colors. In the evening a dinner and dance was given in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jankowski left for Chicago where they will spend a week after which they will make their home in South Bend where the groom is employed as export manager at the Bendix Brake plant.

BUCHANAN BRIDE HONORED

Miss Eleanor Abel, of Buchanan, who will become the bride of Martin Schultz this autumn, was the guest of honor at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Kempton, of Harrison avenue, St. Joseph Thursday night.

A variety of miscellaneous gifts were showered upon Miss Abel and Mr. Schultz at the affair, which was attended by about 25 guests. After a number of games, refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Kolberg.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE

The annual conference of the Advent Christian Churches of Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan, convened with the local church last Thursday night and closed on Sunday night. The opening sermon was delivered by Regional Director J. H. Crouse, at Columbus, Ohio. Business sessions were held each morning and public preaching services each afternoon and evening. The evening addresses were given by Pastor Wm. S. Bowden, of New Albany, Ind., who is president of the Indiana conference and was sent as a fraternal delegate from that body. Other sermons were delivered by H. Nason, recently of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. Pennell of Bangor, Mich.; F. S. Vincent of South Haven, Mich.; and A. E. Bloom, of Chicago, a former pastor here, now pastor of the Blessed Hope A. C. Church in Chicago. Visitors and delegates were present from Bangor, Benton Harbor, Three Rivers, Mich., South Bend, LaPorte, Ind., Aurora and Chicago, Ill.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Fitch of Three Rivers, Mich., were present and the doctor favored the congregation several times with selections played upon his musical saw, accompanied by Mrs. Fitch at the organ.

A. E. Bloom gave an interesting report of his trip to Dowling Park, Fla., as the delegate from this conference to the General Conference of America and also told of the work of the Home and Orphanage at that place, on the banks of the Suwannee River.

Herbert Baker of Aurora College, an ordained minister and a Gospel singer, was present and sang a number of beautiful selections. Mrs. Laura Hamblin and A. E. Bloom were also heard in song.

The usual conference business was transacted and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President W. O. Williams, of South Bend; Vice-President, Geo. E. Pullen of Benton Harbor; Secretary-Treasurer, M. O. Burdett of Buchanan.

A group photo of the friends attending the conference was taken at the close of the services on Sunday afternoon, by Ellis Willsey of Buchanan. Some of the visitors and delegates returned to their homes Sunday afternoon, others Sunday night.

A. E. Bloom remained in Buchanan for a brief visit until Wednesday, calling on a number of friends.

It was the general feeling that this was a very good and helpful session of conference.

Two new members were received into the local church by Pastor Williams.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

"Gland Treatment"

"Why don't you try gland therapy?"

is heard so often now that a brief talk here may not be out of place. "Gland treatment" is not very new. The theory of it is, that when a certain gland, or set of glands within the human body, become incapacitated from disease or over-use, we should at once restore them by administering to the patient the substance of similar glands taken from the animals; this procedure, we are assured, will rapidly regenerate the broken-down human organism, and make it like new.

Therefore the quack! Upon his shelves stand rows of bottles with mysterious labels, and filled with button-sized discs of greyish color, some of them are kidney, some ovary, some thyroid, some liver, some spleen and so on—all good for the corresponding gland in the patient, so good, indeed, that glib victims will gladly shell out from five to fifty dollars per "course" to the great specialist whose picture peering through a microscope, we see so often. Will some folks ever learn better? A few glands—very few—are known by educated, experienced physicians, to be valuable, through their extracts, in treating certain ailments successfully. Some of these are utterly unknown to laymen, and the advertising quack is fully as ignorant. The reader may well take this to heart: No "tablet" that is marketed to the public through commercial channels by advertising, is either worthy of faith or the perfectly good money it costs the purchaser. The field is a broad one—for the medical imposter. Don't be stung!

John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

"The Corner Drug Store"

Will Rogers Says—

The voters now go to the polls in an automobile but they don't carry any more in their heads than the old timer that went there on a mule, so the old Bunk that you cannot fool the voter is the biggest Bunk there is; he has been fooled all his life and he will always be fooled.

As the presidential candidate for the "Anti-Bunk" party I refuse to employ such old party campaign methods. I am Frank and Earnest.

The politician tells the people that "I don't have to tell you people what our party stands for. We rely on your sober judgment. We rest our case on your intelligence." Then he goes on for two hours more telling them what his party stands for.

I don't care how smart their audience was, they couldn't possibly know "What their party stood for." The Supreme Court with all its divided knowledge couldn't tell you what either party "stood for."

They both stand for "election." That's about the only thing that you can safely say they are for in fact they will both "stand for" almost murder, if they can only get in.

We are more "smart Alec" than we ever were, but are no smarter. We read more and we hear more over the radio, but the stuff we read, the stuff we hear don't make us any smarter.

For the people that write it, and the ones that talk it out over the radio are no smarter than the ones that used to have to hand down the dope for our old forefathers.

There is just as many half wits voting Republican today because their fathers voted that way as there ever was. There is just as many voting Democratic because they have heard their folks tell about how the Republicans treated them during the war, as there ever was.

If the voter is as smart as they say, why do they have to tell him anything, why do they have literature, and campaigns, and speeches? Why does each party have to spend 4 million dollars trying to buy votes with propaganda?

The oldest form Bunk in the world is to say how "well informed" the voters are and that they can't be misled by our opponents. We have bathtubs, airplanes, four wheel brakes, reducing pills, manicurists, men's corsets, and Prohibition.

But I doubt if at any time during the history of the world were we ever as down right dumb as we are today.

Think This Out

What a fine world this would be if those who have money would use it as those who haven't money think they would use it if they had it, which they wouldn't.—Exchange.

Comes to "Promised Land" At Age of 104!

Jurgis Skinderis, 104 years old, who arrived in New York the other day to make his home with his son. In point of years he is the oldest person to ever cross the ocean so far is known.

Skinderis, a native of Lithuania, about 190 pounds. He still has his stands six feet tall and weighs own strong teeth, he never drinks liquor, and smokes but rarely. He has no need for glasses and never was under a doctor's care until just before his departure for America. He asserts that if he likes it here, he will sell his interests in the old country and send for his wife.

Better Than Punishment
There are dreadful punishments enacted against thieves; but if we were much better to make such good provisions that every man might be put in a method how to live, and so be preserved from the fatal necessity of stealing and dying for it.—Moore.

Old Roman Intolerance
The Olympic games of Greece, after being held at regular intervals for more than a thousand years, were discontinued in the second century by Roman edict on the grounds that they fostered the warlike spirit of the Greeks and resistance to the domination of Rome.

What Well Dressed Woman Is Wearing To Be Demonstrated

The art of appropriate dress will be studied by Berrien County women enrolled in the clothing project, "The Well Dressed Woman," offered through the Home Economics Department of the Michigan State College in the coming year. County Agent H. J. Lurkins, announces that the organization meeting will be held from each of the organized communities. Officers for the two training centers will be elected at this time.

Becoming clothes need not be expensive but do cost time and good taste to select," according to Miss Gardner, Clothing Specialist, who will conduct the project in the county.

To make a pleasing appearance is the wish of almost every individual. Clothes speak so loudly for or against one, in fact, sometimes is the only message one gives to the world. What confidence and poise belong to the person who is dressed rightly for the occasion. The business woman has long ago learned how much appearances count in getting and holding her job.

Since color plays the most important part in a becoming costume, it is worth knowing some of the rules by which one selects colors. A county-wide meeting on "Color in Costume," given by the specialist, does graphically show how understanding effects and analyzing color may bring out one's best characteristics.

In the second discussion each woman will have an opportunity to find out her most becoming colors, and make color plans for her wardrobe that will suit her build and personality. Choosing becoming colors affords much pleasure but combining several colors successfully takes skill. So knowing principles for interesting color combinations gives endless opportunity for a woman to be individual.

Class Is Dismissed

whether the combination of new and old will result in such a discord of color that will make your fascinating purchase a sad and total loss.

Have you any idea how much it costs to dress yourself and your family? How a budget might be valuable in planning clothing expenditures? These are questions that come up in connection with the last discussion.

Each woman is asked to assemble a costume for herself that will express some of the principles of color harmony in relation to herself that she has been studying. She may use garments she has on hand or new ones if she had intended purchasing them for the season.

Wrong This Time

Barker (irritably) — Another new hat! When will you cease these useless purchases you make under the pretext that they are cheap?

Mrs. Barker—But this one was not cheap.

Holmes School

Charles Boltz got 100 in spelling all week. Edna Stevens earned 100 in spelling all last month with the exception of one night when she missed one word and received 97.

The pupils that have not been absent nor tardy since school began are: Charles and Marian Boltz, Ralph Gilbert, Alpheia, Edna and Thelma Hartline, Ivan Price, Everett and Leona Seyfried, Carl Gilbert and Chester Head were neither absent nor tardy for the month of October.

Last year one of the pupils brought a stone Indian hatchet to school to use in a play. It has been about the school ever since, so we decided to send it to the Pioneer Historical Museum at Three Oaks to repay them for their kindness in taking us through last month.

We noticed that the reporter from Galien got the name of our school wrong when writing the news about our social. She had Eaton instead of Holmes.

ART MODERNE

For Those Who Like to be Ahead-of-the-Times

MODERN families prefer the styles of today and tomorrow for modern styles stand for all that's forward-thinking in America. They demand the verve, the snap, the freshness of Art Moderne, because it has beauty, a new beauty—a very real understandable beauty.

DRESS your bedroom in the mode of the moment. The "Earhart" suite is a splendid example of the moderne trend. It is entirely new in treatment, yet it follows the accepted principles of Art and takes its inspiration from traditional furniture forms. That's why it fits so delightfully into modern homes. The "Earhart" is all-walnut. Birds' Eye Maple has been employed for top drawer fronts, and overlays of the bed. Legs and posts are of solid walnut. Dustproof drawers.

COME in and examine the beauty and convenience of this new style. See the new way in which it brings its pleasing comfort to a bedroom.

OBITUARY

David O. son of Hugh and Lucinda Fulton was born in Indiana, October 15th, 1842.

His father was an itinerant preacher in the Methodist Episcopal church and hence the early childhood home was subjected to the many changes incident to supplying the needs of the fields of labor with pastors.

About twenty-two years ago, Brother Fulton came to live in the state of Michigan, and with the advance of years and declining health, six years ago he came to make his home with his oldest son.

November the first, 1863, he was united in marriage with Miss Lydia Cline. To them were born six children: three sons and three daughters all of whom are living except the youngest son.

After journeying on life's rugged pathway together for more than fifty-two years, Mrs. Fulton, after the long journey of life, passing for eighty-six years and seven days, Father Fulton passed to his crowning October the 22nd, 1928.

There are left to mourn, two sons: Josiah B., at whose home occurred the father's death, and John, of Miami County, Indiana; ference.

Records are not available that we may give exact dates, but Brother Fulton began a religious life about forty years ago and for a number of years and up to the time of his death, he has held license to preach the gospel, issued by the White River conference of the United Brethren in Christ.

On account of failing health for the last few years he has been faithfully represented at the conference sessions by a brother minister who has procured from him a brief letter that has been presented and read before the conference.

The new Buick
is the new Style

Men and women on every street--in every city and town--are pronouncing the new BUICK with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day--

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher! Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized--when imitation was destroying individuality--these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode--

A mode of body-symmetry--of size and magnificence--of soft contours instead of straight lines--of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world! And as the weeks have passed--and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public--enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken! Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand.
