

G.O.P. SWEEPS COUNTY, STATE

Now Here's the Proposition

NOW LAFF THIS OFF
BT Haws

Are we Democrats cast down? Not a bit, I'll tell the town. We don't care what men were picked. We don't care if Al got licked. We were not the least surprised. For of course we realized. Brainy people, such as we, probably will always be in the small minority.

After the bitter, soul-searing experiences of the past week we have arrived at the conclusion that there's two things that can't be done—elect a Democrat president, and collect a bet from a Scotchman.

Todays we have won and collected one bet off this office force on the Tunney-Dempsey prize fight, and we have won but not collected a bet on the outcome of Tuesday's election. And while we don't aim to brag, still, if a fellow is just naturally born with a keen insight and acute discernment, why, he can't help that, now, can he?

We have just returned to our typewriter after throwing out of the office a foul-mouthed malingerer who insinuated that because Buchanan cast a lone Prohibition party vote Tuesday, the town votes as it drinks.

We are now going out to look for that other dirty Scandal hound who is spreading the report that in spite of the sweeping dry triumph at the polls, a number of the dry adherents were heart-broken Tuesday night because the barrel of beer which they bought in anticipation of celebrating the victory failed to arrive on time.

Anyhow, the Lord must love the Republicans.—He made so many of them.

Aw, come on, don't let's get sore about a little thing like an election. Let's all go to the Parent-Teachers carnival tomorrow night and forget about the whole thing.

William V. Schram 87, Dies Monday At Buchanan Home

William Valentine Schram, son of Valentine and Lydia Ryckman Schram, was born in St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada; April 9, 1841, and passed away in his home on the South Bend road Friday night at 10:30 o'clock, November 2, 1928, aged 87 years, 6 months and 23 days.

When he was about sixteen years of age he came with his parents to Bakertown, later he removed to Saginaw where he lived thirty-five years, and then came to Buchanan where he has since resided.

On March 30th, 1887, he was united in marriage to Miss Ella Grey, and to this union six children were born. Three dying in infancy, Mrs. Schram also preceded him in death about thirty-five years ago.

The deceased had always lived a quiet life. He was kind and sympathetic and highly respected as a good citizen.

Surviving is one son, Ava, of Buchanan; two daughters: Mrs. Oliver Pagan, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Lucy Tester, of near Pontiac, Mich.

Funeral services were held at the late residence, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, November 5, 1928. Rev. Henry Lidick, pastor of the First Methodist church presiding. Burial took place in the Bakertown cemetery.

3 Cars Tangled In Collision On Front St. Sunday

A car driven by Spot Dempsey was struck and overturned by another car driven by Glen Whitaker late Sunday evening when the former attempted to turn left off Front Street to Detroit while driving westward.

Whittaker was also driving west on Front, and was just starting to pass Dempsey on the left when the latter swung in front of him. Dempsey's car was overturned in the resultant mix-up, and Whitaker's car caromed off and struck the side of Alfred Roel's car, which was driving east on Front street. None of the boys were hurt, and the damage to the cars was small.

On Friday night we all will hump us. To take a look at the all-fired rumpus. And see all the wild and ravening creatures. Placed on show by the Parent-Teachers. We'll pay ten cents for the great event. And walk right into the big main tent.

Then pay five each time we peek. For all them animals will be there, feaks.

At the animals and the human. The elephant and the grizzly bear. The wild gazelle and the hump-backed gnu. The warthog and the kangaroo. And all the monkeys in Berrien Co. Including a lot you doubtless know.

And the only Democrat in the county. Who hasn't been shot and skinned for the county.

Has been shut up in a steel cage. And set in the middle of the stage. Where he can r'r and shake his fist.

At the only Prohibitionist. There'll be shows for women only and then.

Other shows for nuthin' but men. Terrible sights which the strong have shook at.

And none of them really fit to look at. And when we are through with the big main show.

We'll wiggle a toe at a nickel a throw. And watch the school kids cut up didoes.

While we drink cider and eat hot fido's.

The carnival which is to be staged by the Parent-Teachers Association in the auditorium and gymnasium at the high school Friday evening, Nov. 9, promises to be the biggest event of the kind ever staged in Buchanan. The teachers and parents are working wholeheartedly together, and the spectators will have an opportunity to see a number of prominent parents of the town in action as sideshow barkers, not to mention in the main role as scenic attractions.

There will be some folk dancing by pupils from the primary grades which will be started at 7 p. m. in order to permit the parents to take the small children home early. Ten side shows are being arranged, and considerable effort and originality is being expended to arrange a show that should be most amusing. Some of the sideshows will be entitled "The Smallest Dog in the World," "The Only Cannibal in Captivity," "A Trip Around the World," "The Only Monkeys in Berrien County," "Foi Men Only," and the like.

There will be ten vaudeville acts, including fancy dancing, boxing, and specialties by the different grade rooms.

There will be continuous jitney dancing, with music furnished by the Clark Band. Hats will be for sale continuously in all parts of the building, including hot dogs, candy, cider and other delicacies.

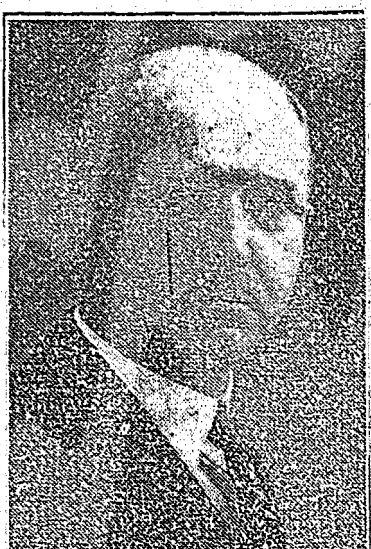

The admission charge to the carnival will be ten cents, with additional charges of five cents for each side show.

Both teachers and parents have been working continuously for the past week making ready, and a large force are spending all of today and tomorrow putting the finishing touch to preparations.

The proceeds will go to Parent-Teacher milk fund for the benefit of underweight pupils.

Former Buchanan Boy, Now in the Consular Service, Now in Who's Who

Buchanan has contributed at least one notable to Who's Who in America who still claims residence in his native town, O. Gaylord Marsh, who was born in Oronoko Township, a half mile from the Mount Tabor school house, and who is now American consul at Sydney, Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia.

Since leaving the home farm 32 years ago, Mr. Marsh has piled up an imposing mileage, having circled the globe, made two trips to the Philippines, toured Europe, and served in consulates in Mexico, South America and Canada, not to mention frequent cross-continental trips in the United States.

Marsh was born on the Oronoko farm on Jan. 17, 1879, and graduated from the Mount Tabor school. At the age of 15 he left home to attend the Edgcomb College at Benton Harbor, and has never since resided here save for numerous vacations. In the course of his wanderings, however, he has seen fit to retain Buchanan as his American address, and is listed as a resident in Who's Who.

After two years at the Benton Harbor school, he began teaching Oakes, at Lakeside, at the Ruggleses, at Drew school near Three school, serving among other places, Brownstown (near Tower Hill), Fairplain and Benton Harbor. During this entire time he attended Ferris Institute during the summers.

After teaching two years at Benton Harbor he went to Oregon, where he taught in the public schools a year and a half, then going to Seattle, where he completed a law course at the University of Washington. While in the university, he made his expenses by teaching in the night schools of Seattle, where he had previously received for full time work in the schools.

While in Washington, he was married to Dorothy Swen of Galien, a member of the Swen family still residing there, and a sister of Dr. Swen, South Bend chiropractor.

He and his wife then went to the Philippines as teachers, spending three years there. They then returned and he practiced law for a year at Wenatchee, Wash., after which he returned to the Philippines for another five years. At the end of this five year period, he returned to the United States and accepted employment as an auditor in the service of the government. While in this work he took the examination for the consular service and was appointed by President Wilson to the post of vice-consul at Ottawa, Can. He then served several years as American consul at Progresso, a city in the Mexican province of Yucatan, and at Montevideo, Uruguay, where he was aided by his knowledge of Spanish acquired in the Philippines. After five years in the last two positions, he was transferred to his present post in Nova Scotia.

His mother, Mrs. Hulda R. Marsh, lives on the old home farm near the Mount Tabor school house. Her husband, Edward Marsh, having died five years ago. Across the road lives his brother, Stanley Marsh.

Will Sparks, pioneer barber who has been confined to his home lately by a slight stroke of paralysis, is very much improved and is now up and about daily at his home. His friends hope to see him back at his place of business at an early date.

The W. B. A. will meet Friday evening, Nov. 13, with Mrs. Ethel Hayford, of Adrian, district deputy, as the guest of honor.

Village to Inquire Into Title Of Railway

Residents in the westside of South Portage street virtually served notice last night through their attorney, Stuart White of Niles, that they would block paving on South Portage until they received consideration on their request for the removal of the Michigan Central switch from the west side to the center of the street.

Attorney White stated in a letter to the council that investigation had been made of the records of the village, and that it had been learned that the railroad had no legal claim to their present right-of-way for the switch at Clark plant. It is stated by the protesting residents of Portage street that in 1896 the town council revoked the temporary grant which had been given to the Pere Marquette, which then operated the line as a part of their Buchanan-Berrien Springs connection.

It was further claimed that in 1894 the village council had requested the railroad to move this track to the center of the street and that no notice had then been taken of the request.

Attorney White stated that he had written to the State Public Utilities Commission, to the county road commission, to the Michigan Central authorities without receiving satisfaction. He stated that the proper objections had been made at the meeting held for the reception of protests.

It was moved by the council that a committee be appointed to inquire as to the jurisdiction possessed by the village in the matter and as to the legal rights possessed by the Michigan Central to the right-of-way.

Town to Install Street Light at Maple and Whitman

Arrangements were made at the council meeting last night for the installation of a street light at the corner of Maple and Whitman Courts. Request for the light was made by Phil Boone.

STOP LIGHTS ARE RENEWED ON FRONT ST.

The renewed operation of the stop light signals at Front and Portage and at Front and Oak between the hours of 6:30 and 7:30 a. m. and between 11:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. was ordered at the council meeting last night in order to slow down the rush of cars going to or from work.

The creation of no-parking Dewey Avenue at the front and north side of the Record office spaces at the corner of Main and Portage streets was also recommended in order to facilitate turning the corner there at noon by the rush of cars leaving the Clark factory.

It was further recommended that all streets leading into Day's Avenue be made stop streets. Statement was made by council members at the speed attained by cars on West Front street, especially during the rush to work, is a constant menace to life, nearly all drivers exceeding the legal rate of 20 miles per hour.

Registered Nurse Placed in Charge Wallace Hospital

Miss Hazelina Huffman, R. N. has been employed by Dr. Paul Wallace to take charge of his new hospital which will soon be completed and equipped, and is now assisting him in his practice.

Miss Huffman received her diploma as registered nurse from a Fort Wayne hospital, and comes here from South Bend, with fine recommendations for work in institutions there.

A force is now at work plastering the addition to the Wallace residence to be used for hospital purpose.

Council Calls For Expression From The Public

Action was taken at the meeting of the city council last night for the circulation of another petition for the change from village to city form of government, following the report of Trustees Matt Kelling and Attorney Frank Sanders to the effect that the old petition circulated a year ago last spring might be invalid, due to the passage of time since it was signed and the resultant possibility that many of the signers are no longer residents.

Messrs. Sanders and Kelling stated that they had visited the office of the Secretary of State at Lansing, where they had been informed that the petition was doubtless correct and in due form, but that the understanding always was that such petitions are to be acted upon within a reasonable time limit, failing which there was a constantly growing possibility of its being invalidated by the removal by death or other cause of a number of the signers.

A sentiment among council members on the feasibility of making the change appeared to be divided, but it was voted that the public be given a chance to express itself again, providing that the cost of circulating the petition does not exceed $25.

Investigation of the feasibility of establishing a special water rate for industrial establishments using large quantities was initiated at the council meeting last night following protest made by one factory to the effect that their rate was out of proportion to the charge made other plants. The measure will be reported on at the next council meeting.

WORTHINGTON IS STILL AT HELM OF BETHANY CLASS

Attorney A. A. Worthington is still at the helm of the Bethany Sunday School class of the Methodist Church, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Action to that effect was taken at a recent meeting of the class, arrangements being made to request Dr. Keyes to act as temporary teacher until such time as Attorney Worthington would be able to resume active charge again.

KOONS FAMILY HURT IN MISHAP ON DIXIE ROAD

COLLISION OCCURS WHEN
ANOTHER CAR SWINGS
IN FRONT

Miss Margaret Koons incurred a spined right ankle and William Bromley incurred painful head bruise Sunday afternoon when the car driven by Charles Koons in which they were en route to Roselands was rammed by another car driving north, at the junction of the Dixie Highway and Healthwin road.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koons, their daughter, Miss Margaret and Mrs. Koons' father, William Bromley had been visiting relatives in Niles, and were en route to visit other relatives at Roselands. Just as they were approaching Healthwin road, the other car suddenly angled diagonally in front of them. Koons took to the ditch to avoid an accident, but the other car, a Chevrolet Sedan rammed into the left front fender, breaking the left front axle, fender, and running board, and ruining a tire. The Chevrolet was practically wrecked.

IS THIS ON THE PRINTER OR THE PRINTER'S DEVIL?

Among the errors to which human nature is prone and which the reportorial staff of newspapers delight to pass on to the proof-reader or the printer or both is one appearing in the current issue of the Record in the advertisement of Robertson's anniversary sale on Page four of the second section of this issue.

This advertisement inadvertently was printed without having been proofread for errors with the result that two items in the advertisement are incorrectly priced. Girls' Germania Chinchilla coats are priced in the advertisement at $24.90. The price should have been $14.94. The other item is that of women's and misses coats ordinarily retailing from $85 to $115. The price is incorrectly given as 75c. The correct price is $75.

ONE VOTE LOST

Balloting in Rural Districts Is Lighter

Buchanan contributed liberally to the sweeping Republican victory Tuesday by registering 1338 votes for Herbert Hoover as compared with 292 for Alfred E. Smith, in what was doubtless the heaviest poll ever taken in this township.

In the total of 1634 votes cast, one solitary prohibitionist ballot was recorded and a scattering half dozen for the Socialist and Workington's Party candidates.

An feature of the polling here, as reported by the clerks of election, was the thorough understanding displayed by the great majority of voters of the technicalities of voting, only one vote in the entire township being lost through mutilation, which is said to be unprecedented. No ballots were thrown out in Berrien township on account of mutilation.

All the state and county candidates rode into office by overwhelming majorities the sole exception to the monotonous repetition being a moderate encroachment on the part of the Democratic candidate for sheriff, who polled a total of 492, or exactly 200 more than the national head of his ticket.

Late returns covering practically all precincts of Berrien County gave the vote on county candidates as follows:

Sheriff—Bryant 17,779, Franz 9,722.
County Clerk—Bittner 19,633, DeFields 7,494.
County Attorney—Cunningham 19,180, Holbrook 7,948.
Judge of Probate—Andrews 19,138, Wilkins 7,801.
Register of deeds—Pears 18,796, Carlton 8,298.
Drain Commissioner—Sattler 18,871, Thompson 7,822.
Coroners—Martine 17,037; Slaughter 17,112, Dormer 8,524, Price 7,851.
The vote cast by the two main parties in local precincts was as follows:

JACK BERRY, JR WRECKS CAR ON DIXIE HIGHWAY

SECOND LOCAL PARTY TO COLLIDE THERE
DURING WEEK

A party of three Buchanan young men, comprising Jack Berry, Jr., Jack Treat, and Dick Lister came close to serious injury Tuesday evening when the Chevrolet coach in which they were driving collided with another car on Dixie highway at Roseland, just south of the state line.

The three young men were driving north toward Niles when another car driven by Harry Heyman of Benton Harbor approached them serving from one side of the road to the other. As Heyman drew opposite them he suddenly drew directly into them, striking their car on the right front corner and whirling it partly around and then turning it over. The three young men were thrown through the top, landing on the pavement, but escaped uninjured. Lister was momentarily stunned and was rushed to a South Bend hospital, where he soon recovered without ill effects.

Berry's car had the top torn out a two windows broken, the front axle and both right fenders bent. Heyman's car had the front crushed in and the front axle broken.

A complaint was filed against Heyman to the effect that he was driving while intoxicated, and he received a hearing in a South Bend court, where he gave bond to appear for trial.

Granada Theatre

Colleen Moore, who has won the hearts of thousands of movie fans, gave the greatest performance of her career in "Lilac Time" which opens at the Granada Theatre, South Bend, this coming Sunday for a seven day engagement.

Miss Moore convincingly plays the role of Jeannine, the little French girl who lives within hearing of the rumble of the big guns. She hides her tears behind her smiles as she watches the only man she ever loved flying to almost certain death in the most terrible conflict of history. Gary Cooper as the reckless, dashing, daren't-glyng ace, is said to handle his role with consummate skill. Aside from his likable personality, his past record of performance in "The Legion of the Condemned" and "Beau Sabre" has proven him to be an excellent performer and his ver increasing popularity in "Lilac Time" is said to have placed him among the preferred stars of the screen.

"Lilac Time" is a pictureization of the effects of war rather than war itself. First of all it is a heart story, a compelling human narrative that has the background of the world war—a conflict that swirls and eddies behind this frail lass of sunny France. It concerns the love affair of Jeannine, a pretty maid of France, whose mother mothers the boys of the British Royal Flying Corps, whose landing field and headquarters are almost within a stone's throw of Jeannine's humble cottage near the firing line. The brave, fearless birdmen of the sky go up in the sky each morning with a reckless disregard for life or death.

Sentenced to Plant Trees
On Monday, November 5, 1928, a jury of twelve men, in the case of the State of Michigan vs. John J. Smith, found the defendant guilty of the crime of larceny, and sentenced him to plant 100 trees.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

Liver
Said to be beneficial in certain grave disorders, one of which is pernicious anaemia, generally regarded as incurable, on account of its cause being indeterminable. So far, the use of liver in this condition is still in the experimental stage; next year we may find that we were mistaken—it's so easy to err, you know.

Fifty years ago the rural dwellers in some of our Atlantic states made "dried liver" a part of their winter store of animal foods—and they regarded it as a delicacy—even an essential to a well-kept pantry. Dried same as we cure dried beef. And, we know those old fellows lived out a goodly term of years, for some reason or other; they must have lived pretty sanely.

Modern science has gone so far as to advise raw liver, to be used much as medicine for anaemia. Even an attempt at accurate dosage has been made—and some very favorable results recorded. I have had no practical experience in this new procedure, but, when I see an article in a reliable medical publication I read it carefully. You might, with benefit, do the same; there are yet many things to learn.

More than a year ago, I purchased a preparation called "Liver Substance" to be used hypodermically for high blood pressure, which it was claimed could be reduced promptly by its use. As I could not find out exactly how the substance acted after injection, I was so very slow about trying it that I have the stuff on hand this very day; experiments do not appeal to me very strongly—perhaps I'm over-cautions.

Three Kinds of Radium Rays
Radium gives off three kinds of rays: Alpha rays, or rapidly moving atoms of helium; beta rays, the "atoms" of electricity, and gamma rays, similar to X-rays.

Earlier Judge Has to Get Up, Bigger the Fine

William Posecke paid a fine of $25 and costs of $8.30 in the court of Justice Al Charles early Sunday morning for trapping muskrat out of season, proving that the earlier the justice is hauled out of bed, the worse it is likely to be for the offender. He was arrested in Lake Township by Deputy Cleave Horner of Galien.

Virginia Hill, child reader of Portage Prairie, entertained between acts at the River Park Theater, South Bend, Monday evening. The program was in charge of River Park Booster Athletic Association.

New Scarfs .. New Shawls for every costume or occasion

Triangle scarfs—oblong scarfs—square scarfs—Ascot scarfs—the silks of excellent quality and the colorings are superb.

Scarfs at $1.95 up

Of course, you'll want one of the new Spanish shawls, richly embroidered and deeply fringed. If you choose one of these you'll achieve distinction at the most fashionable gathering or occasion. They are not expensive, either $19.75 up.

After Agnes--- The Tricot and Felt Turban

Here's something to do, right now!

—to order your Christmas cards engraved—to take thought of those monogrammed handkerchiefs. Ellsworth's are ready to help you—suggesting and making them up so that you may have them in plenty of time.

Created by Glenview —at— $6.75

LOVE SEATS

The very thing for Smaller Livingrooms

You'll find the Love Seats fully as comfortable as a full size sofa—the only difference is in the size and price. In homes where a full size sofa cannot be conveniently used the correct thing or the solution is to select a Love Seat. We have a number to show you—one that is particularly noteworthy is of damask in a beautiful shade of deep rose. The cushion seat is filled with down, and the seat itself is kidney shaped. The price is $115. Others $85 and $125.

The little cap that hugs the lines of the head, in wool felt and tricot mingled with gold or silver threads—another of those fascinating Agnes creations—reproduced by Glenview—presented by Ellsworth's at a specialized price, $6.75.

ELLIS QUINTET MAINTAINS LEAD BOWLING LEAGUE

BAUCH SETS ALLEY MARK FOR THREE GAMES WITH 620

The Ellis Contractors experienced the first losses which they have met this season in their match with the Chevrolet team Friday evening, but still maintain the supremacy of the league with a total of 10 won and two lost.

McCracken's Grill advanced a notch by taking two out of three from the Thane's Tire five. The Clark Office five also climbed penant-ward by taking three in a row from Proud Cigar Store. The Graham-Paige five slightly ameliorated their position in the cellar of the league by taking two out of three from the Clark Foundry five. Gallien climbed a notch in the race with Beck's Tire Shop for second place by taking two out of three.

The outstanding feature of the league play for the week was undoubtedly the feat of Bauch of the Clark Foundry team, in setting the alley mark for a three game total of 620. Bauch also set the high individual mark of the week with a score of 255 in the second frame.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Christian Science Churches

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, November 4.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished, but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered." (Prov. 11:21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us remember that the eternal law of right, thought it can never annul the law which makes sin its own executioner, exempts man from all penalties but those due for wrong-doing. Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself." (p. 385).

Christian Science Church Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Church services at 11 a. m.

Subject: "Adam and Fallen Man." Wednesday evening meeting at 7:45 p. m.

CONDITION OF ROADS

Old Resident Tells How They Were Back in the 40's

The roads leading from Buchanan in 1842 were so different from what they are now that a description of them would put some of the old settlers thinking and the younger part wondering. So we will go to Niles first. The best short way was to go to Bainton's mill, and cross McCoy's creek, by driving across the dam and then southeast to the house on the Ogden farm—there was no house there then—and cross the road about 1 rods before turning north which course was kept about 25 rods up to a large beech tree where one must leave the road long enough to tell of the large crop of beech nuts that three produced nearly every fall. Myself and other boys would take a sheep and while two held it one would go up the tree by the others lifting him so that he could get hold of the drooping limbs first and then he could go around and knock down one-half bushel of the nuts on the sheet in 30 minutes, of course they fed the chicks all over and we had a job picking them over and sorting them.

From that tree straight east 10 rods and then went northeast enough to strike the road just south of the south line of the Vanderville farm, then straight east 80 rods, then southeast 30 rods, then northeast 80 rods, back to the present road at the corner of the field north of the first house east of Mr. Vanderville's, then one-half mile straight east and then just such another bend south and back north as before described and one comes into the road just east of Lem Blake's house; then it was straight east to the brick school house on what was then called Brookfield's corner. From there one went northeast 30 rods to the top of the hill, to the brickyard, then northeast to the river bridge just where the upper bridge now stands (not counting the one up by the dam.) The highway was laid out in a straight line east, but; owing to streams and ravines, was not completed, which made it necessary to take the round about course described.

The trees were all cut out of the highway, 4 rods wide, but in the road when winding around the hills, only the under brush and old logs had been cut out of the way and everyone had to go around the trees as best he could, the stumps were all left in highway; as one came to the first crossway or log road, in the hollow east of Storm's first place, about 8 rods long and very rough, then 15 rods more just before one comes to the school house, there was a school house then, then though not so large as now. Then in the next hollow one encountered 60 rods in one line and rougher than any other. A person could leave Buchanan by going up the hill on what was called the angling road, now called Ryneerson street, and follow the road until he crossed the creek just west of side track, then southeast before going up the hill and keep that course 80 rods, then northeast 100 rods and one would strike the other road about 20 rods east of Mr. Vanderville's southwest corner. The first house on the road by the dam was on the Vanderville place owned by N. Hathaway and another 30 rods from the road south owned by Benjamin Pittman, then over the hill, the first one stood 80 rods south of the road owned by David Fisk and one north of the road down close to the river owned by John Willett; the first on the next Storm's place, owned by Samuel Chambers on the second Storm's place lived John Penwell, the next house was owned by Crawford Slater and where Mr. Thompson now lives, lived Abraham Moore; the next house was on top of the hill after crossing the long crossway on the north side of the road and owned by Robert Cassidy—no house there now. The next was two log houses, left from the Camp Mission Buildings on top of the high ground north of the road about 30 rods east of the 4 corners near the Niles well. At that time there were 30 or 40 apple trees left on the flat east of the Mission buildings of the orchard of 150 trees set out by the missionaries—there are only two of them left. Few people think of those two old trees as part of the old mission work done among the Indians. Then Captain Coldidge lived on the mission farm where the house now stands.

It is called five miles from Buchanan to Niles and that is the distance from Morley's corners at Buchanan to the four corners at the brick school house in Niles, by the government survey of sections of land and the spring was called halfway.

Color Organ Opens New

At the presentation of "The Vikings" in Chicago the other day, music was eliminated and a new "light motif" substituted for embellishing the moods of the play. This was accomplished by the use of Thomas Wilfred's wonderful color organ. (Photo above).

First Unit of Fisher Bldg. Formally Opens this Month

The first unit of the new Fisher building, housing the business offices of the Fisher Body Corporation, is now completed and will be formally opened in November.

While the building now complete is the most distinctive piece of modern construction in Michigan, it is only the preliminary unit of what is designed to be the largest commercial structure in the world.

The new Fisher building is the most talked-about example of the new "American Vertical" style of architecture in which steel construction, excluding the ornamentation which formerly went with pure masonry and including greater reaches from ground levels than were ever known before—is being clothed with forms of beauty which it was never before endowed. Most striking among the recent changes in the "skyscraper" type is the "set-back," or recession of the upper stories, and the application of features of early Gothic style. The "tower" types thus produced combine beauty with utilitarian motives and are in architectural effect almost churchlike.

Another feature of interest is the fact that the Fisher building is on the "main stem," or Woodward avenue, in what was originally designed for a home district, three miles from the heart of the city. It was located there with the deliberate design of creating a new commercial and professional center for the city. In this it resembles the transfer of commercial interests from downtown Chicago to North Michigan boulevard, and in New York City from Lower Broadway to Forty-second Street.

The building was designed by Albert Kahn, internationally known Detroit architect. It is a monument to the enterprise of the Fisher Bros., comprising seven brothers who have built up a fortune in the past twenty years making automobile bodies.

The outstanding feature of dimensions of the new Fisher building, by which it will be distinguished in comparison with other structures, are big ones. It occupies one-third, roughly, of a tract of land facing Grand boulevard, Second boulevard, Lothrop avenue and Third avenue, the block being 300x900 feet in dimensions.

The corner tower is 411 feet high, flanked by two 11-story wings extending along Grand boulevard and along Second boulevard. In the rear is an 11-story garage, capable of storing 1,100 cars. Ultimately the building problem between shops on both the second and third floors by means of gridded balconies crossing at the point where the arcades meet.

Approximately 12,000 tons of steel were required, and 350,000 cubic yards of concrete and marble. There are 1,800 bronze windows, 641 bronze elevator doors and corresponding quantities of other equipment. The bronze finish of the structure consumes 420 tons, or $40,000 pounds of that metallic alloy.

Yankee Solved Problem

The manufacture of scissors and shears has been unique in the fact that it was a Yankee genius who first solved the problem of welding a high-grade steel blade to a soft backing, or iron bucking, made to fit the hand, this being the invention of Seth Borden, in 1826.

Common Lack

Only a man obscurely aware within himself of weaknesses, prohibitions, lacks that might prevent his succeeding, will become immediately indignant with his wife's proposition that she continue working, says a woman critic in the Woman's Home Companion.

Easier to Open

None of us delights in opening cans with keys, such as most sardines and fish are canned in. However, it is much simpler if one slips the key and uses that as a lever for turning. Try it and see.

Eleven For Return
Contest Saturday

Next Saturday Buchanan meets Western State High School on their field at Kalamazoo. This promises to be a hard game for Western State is out to revenge the defeat handed them last year. Their team should be well coached for the school is the training ground for the State's coaches.

Coach Bradford is pointing for this game and the one with Allegan November 17. The team will have headed up pretty well by then and be in fine fighting trim.

The rooters section is working better. Keep it up. The team appreciates the backing. Morale is t hemaking or breaking in a tight place.

Buchanan whipped Cassopolis at Cassopolis Fair Grounds 33 to 6 on a slippery field last Friday afternoon. Cassopolis was unlucky in having Anderson, their big 190-pound all around player, disabled for the season last Saturday. Their biggest threat was Henderson the big 170-pound left half who made their only touchdown.

Buchanan started on its first march for a touchdown early in the first quarter receiving a punt on their 35-yard line. Cassopolis was penalized five yards first thing for off side. Pierce ploughed through right tackle for eight yards and first down. Savoldi dove at left tackle for three yards, Wilcox tried right and gained nothing, but a pass Pierce to Pfingst netted seven yards and another first down. Pfingst circled left end for eight yards, and Pierce ran around right end for twelve yards and the third first down in a row. Savoldi made four down left end, Wilcox wiggled two yards through right tackle, and Clem made eight more yards and another first down. Then Pierce went across right end for three yards, and circled right end for seven yards and the first touchdown. Roe successfully kicked the point after goal. Buchanan 7, Cassopolis 0.

Buchanan started for its second touchdown first thing in the second quarter by Pierce receiving a punt on Cass's twenty-five yard line ran through a broken field making the second touchdown. Pierce's kick was just blown out of line leaving the score Buchanan 13 Cassopolis 0.

A punt was received by Buchanan on her 48-yard line. Cooper dashed around right end for seven yards, then around left end for two and a half more, Wilcox dove through right tackle for five yards and first down. A pass, Pierce to Roe was carried over for a touchdown but for an error that the officials penalized Buchanan fifteen yards for. The ground was quickly recovered, and a pass Pierce to Roe for twenty-two yards. Then again Pierce to Roe for thirty more yards putting the ball on the five yard line. Wilcox tried right end, gained nothing, tried left end, slipped and lost three yards, tried left end again and lost another yard, nine yards to go for a touchdown and the fourth down, a pass Pierce to Roe, with a half dozen Cass men about Roe was successful. Roe's kick missed. The score at the half was Buchanan 19, Cassopolis 0.

Cassopolis looked her best in the third quarter when she made her lone score. Towards the middle of the third quarter Smyser intercepted a pass on Cass's thirty-six yard line. Henderson made three drives right end four yards, right tackle two yards, left end fifteen yards and first down. Bass through right tackle two yards, Holcomb through right tackle two yards and a second first down. Then Henderson threw all his 170 pounds could muster at right tackle, tore through and ran thirty three yards for his team's only score. The point after goal unsuccessful the score stood Buchanan 19, Cassopolis 6, until the next quarter.

Buchanan started its fourth successful attack in the third quarter on her thirty-five yard line having received a punt. A pass was knocked, Savoldi made ten yards circling right end, Wilcox ran more yards around right end, Cooper gained two yards off left end, Clem slipped lost one yard, and Pierce swung around right end for twenty-four yards. Cass took time out things were going too fast. Cooper cut six yards off left end and the third quarter ended.

Fourth quarter on Cass's sixteen yard line. Wilcox knocked six yards from right end, Pierce bored through right tackle for four yards, Wilcox went around right end again three more yards. Clem dove at right tackle for two yards putting the ball on the one yard line. Pierce plunged through left tackle for the touchdown. Roe made a good place kick. Score, Buchanan 26, Cassopolis 6.

The last onslaught started with the receiving of a punt on Cassopolis 26-yard line. A single pass Pierce to Smith covered the twenty-six yards making the fifth and last touchdown. Roe again made a good place kick making the score, Buchanan 33, Cassopolis 6.

The score by quarters was:

Buchanan -- 7 12 0 14--33
Cassopolis -- 0 0 6 0--6

The lineup was:

Buchanan: Cassopolis:
Roe R. E. Rice
Knight R. T. Cooper
Bischoff G. E. Barnes
Squires C. G. Smyser
Easton L. G. Beardsie
Fette L. T. Brown
Smith L. E. Kelly
Savoldi C. Q. E. Holcomb
Pfingst R. H. Fitzgerald
Wilcox L. H. Henderson
Pierce F. E. Haines

Buchanan made sixteen first downs, Cassopolis four. Buchanan's aerial attack worked extremely well. Touchdowns, Pierce three, Roe one, Smith one, and Henderson one. The game was very clean as to playing Buchanan was penalized twenty yards, and Cassopolis only five for being too eager causing a man to be off side.

Considering the weather the crowd was very good.

The officials were: Referee Miller, Kalamazoo College, Umpire Rinker, Buchanan, Headlinesman, Hayden, Head Timekeeper Sinclair.

Dunbar, linesman, who was accidentally kicked in the Three Oaks game is out for the season, the kick causing internal injury.

Sweet Young Thing (to friend): "Really good-looking boys are so scarce these days, I think I ought to make mine do another year."

Grade News

First Grade
Wednesday afternoon we had a Halloween party. Our room was lighted with Jack-o-lanterns. Mrs. Lamb gave pins to all boys and girls having 100 percent good teeth. Fifteen received them in our room. We hope more will get them soon.

Galien 11 Win Over Buchanan Reserves Wedn.

Second Triumph For Milk Cannons Over Locals

The Buchanan Reserves received their second defeat 13 to 6 from the Galien team this year at Galien. The Seconds lead up to the third quarter 6 to 0. The touchdown was made in the first quarter when a neat pass from Shreves to Dreitzler netted the 29 yards to the goal line. The kick failed.

Galien was held in check until the third quarter when their weight told on the lighter boys. Both touchdowns were made by passes from Unruh to Howard. The first pass for thirty-four yards and the second for thirty-three yards. The kick after goal was successful in the first try but not in the second.

The Reserves tightened up and held the next quarter and once made a good bid to tie the score, but the big boys were a bit too much and the game ended, Galien 13, Buchanan 6.

The lineup was:

Buchanan: Galien:
Boyce R. E. Howard
Hamilton R. T. Norris
Thompson R. G. McLaren
Marble C. Heckathorne
Deeds L. G. Boyle
Dreitzler L. E. Doyle
Shreves Q. B. Thorsen (c)
Hartline L. T. Pierce
Aaronson R. H. Svensen
Aaronson C. H. Unruh
Chubb (c) F. B. Wanke

The officials were: Referee, Wegner, W. S. T. C. Head linesman, Decker; Head timekeeper, Boye.

Shreves the Reserve quarter back received a very painful dislocation of the left ankle, in the fourth quarter, it was reduced back into place when he got back to Buchanan.

"Old Timer" is a bit mixed in his dates when he tells that the neat little brick depot was built when the town was young. The Michigan Central had built and worn out another before that was built. The other was a wooden structure, two stories and was located on the high bank just across the track from the freight house. There was a platform at the track level, and another up at the front of the building, talking about twenty steps or more to reach it. The lower rooms were used for railroad work and the agent and his family occupied the upper rooms, and that agent at the time I knew it was David Treat, long since dead, but some of his four children are still living in Buchanan. One is Mrs. "Deb" Vothrees. Michigan central was built from Marshall to

High School Listens In

At the Friday morning assembly, the High School listened to a program given by Walter Damschroch are especially fitted for high schools and colleges and so, in order to have a change from our regular type of programs, a radio was secured and a very interesting program was heard.

The radio was a Spartan machine which was furnished by Carson Houseworth. If another program of this kind is desired, the Robertson Music Store will set up a machine of another make for us so that those interested in radio may judge the qualities of various machines.

The primary classes of the Congregational Sunday School gave a fine program at the church Sunday.

A teachers' meeting was held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mullen, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Preibe are the delegates who were appointed to attend the Congregational Conference in Kalamazoo.

Vera Preibe spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Allison Stemm in St. Joseph.

Martha Fietz and Mrs. Forrest Brown spent Friday in the Twin Cities.

34 Pupils Placed On Roll of Honor For Citizenship

The honor roll in citizenship consists of all pupils having a grade of "I."

A mark of "I" in Citizenship indicates that the pupil to a high degree senses the ideals of the school, exhibits a good school spirit, strives for high quality of workmanship, cooperates with fellow students and faculty and avoids disturbing others.

News Around Baroda

The annual High School fair and carnival will be held at the school house Friday night, Nov. 9. A zoo and a three-ring dog circus will be among the attractions. Teachers who are on the general committee in charge of the event are planning an interesting program.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Brown spent Saturday in South Bend, Ind., shopping.

Mr. John Smith of Jackson, Mich., spent Saturday evening here among his many friends.

On Thursday morning at 1 a. m., fire broke out and destroyed the fine 8-room brick house of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Howard. It is believed to have been caused by defective wiring or a short circuit. Their home was located in the edge of the village. Mrs. Howard who has been sick for some time, was the first to notice smoke which came from the attic at about 1 a. m. She called her husband and son. Shortly afterwards the roof over the hallway and two bedrooms caved in, showering them with timbers and plaster.

Fire Chief John Mathew and every one in the department worked for several hours to save the home but their work proved fruitless, and the building burned to the ground. The home was partly covered by insurance. Neighbors and a throng of others were attracted to the scene by the glow in the sky, helped remove part of the furnishings from the main floor of the house which was built on a side hill and both the main floor and basement were well furnished. Absence of wind aided the firemen in keeping the flames from spreading to nearby property. Mr. Edgar Howard is a contractor by trade. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Howard and son Everett were asleep when the fire broke out.

There was an attendance of 250 present at the I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday night to hear the talk for the Al Smith for President Club. The meeting was presided over by Frank Rybarczyk, president of the club and Geo. L. Swope, secretary of the club took the minutes of the meeting. The speakers were introduced by Edward Burton, county chairman of the Democratic committee. Program music by Baroda band, Harmonies trio, two selections by Darlington, baritone solo, Don Tyler, Campaign song, Kreiger Bros., accompanied by Mrs. Walter Anderson. Haneey Holbrook of Niles was the first speaker, he gave a fine address. He is the candidate for prosecuting attorney. Campaign song by Kreiger Bros. Roman Jarvis was the next speaker who delivered a fine address. Music by Baroda band. The following county candidates were present: Arthur Carlton, Fred Franz, George Larkworthy, Haneey Holbrook and Roman Jarvis.

Promotion day for pupils of the Congregational Sunday School will be held on the first Sunday in the new year, according to decision of twelve teachers and officers who met with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mullen Wednesday night. Mrs. Harold Mullen was appointed chairman of the Xmas program, and will appoint her own committees. Meetings of teachers and officers will be held on the first Wednesday night of every month. The December home to be held with Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Cast. After the business session, the Rev. Thomas Anislee will give a brief outline at each meeting of the Sunday School lessons for the coming month.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Deo of Berrien Springs and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Deo of South Bend spent Sunday at the George A. Bean home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Markham of South Bend spent Sunday at the M. L. Gardner home.

ARMED BURGLARS AND THE LAW

The man who goes armed with a deadly weapon into a home in the night time for the purpose of burglary and robbery is a potential murderer and should be so treated. That was the declaration of a judge of the supreme court of the District of Columbia recently. And, in harmony with that thought, he gave sentences of not less than 15 or more than 19 years to three gunmen burglars, all under 21 years of age.

It was only good fortune, the fact that they did not meet real resistance, that prevented these young gunmen from committing prepared proves the degree of demerit. The fact that they were terminated they had employed and can be read only as evidence of the deliberate intent to take life, it necessary to secure the treasure sought and make their escape.

Obviously the sentences brought protests and questions from some who thought the term was out of proportion to the amount of the robbery. The court did not include the amount of wealth secured by the burglars in the facts considered. Rather, he included the preparation to kill that was in evidence when the men were captured.

Most gunmen now go armed with automatics, the most deadly weapon ever made for the use of man. Weapons made for only one purpose, that of killing. No gunman should be listened to when he utters his declaration that he did not intend to take human life. The weapon chosen by him and carried in his deceptions proves the lie he utters. There is much in the situation to justify the decision of the Washington judge. The armed burglar supplies all the testimony needed as to the course he intends to follow if he runs into collision with a man who resists him. The armed burglar is a potential killer.

GOVERNMENT INTEREST RATES

Last year the national treasury securities on which the interest put out an issue of short term rate was 3 1/2 per cent. Last month the treasury put out another issue of certificates of indebtedness on which the interest rate was 4 1/2 per cent. The most recent issue of treasury certificates carried an interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent, the highest the government has paid for years, and one-half of one per cent higher than the interest rate on Liberty Loan issues.

The higher interest rate may have been unnoticed by the public but it attracted prompt attention in financial circles and has been given abundant commendation by leaders there. Bankers agreed the action of the treasury in fixing interest at the higher rate was entirely justified. They said it would be of public advantage in helping hold the credit situation in the nation. Leading financiers have been quick to point out the higher interest rate reflects the increased firmness in the money market over conditions last year and even a month ago. They agree that national financing should be done in harmony with general financial conditions; that national credit should rest on a natural, not an artificial foundation. If the government pays a higher rate the public will have the advantage of a credit situation that will make necessary financing not difficult, and business will be encouraged and assisted.

No matter what view of the higher rate one may take, there is a public advantage when national securities are made more attractive to both large and small investors. The higher rate hardly can fail to interest the small investors, will help attract new investors, and, as more people are grouped among investors, national thrift and prudent accumulation will be developed. That will be of importance to the nation. The Liberty Loan distribution to the public increased the number of investors, to the betterment of the country. These new securities, even though they have a short time to run, hardly will fail to arouse interest among small investors, and this country is stronger and better as the number of investors is increased.

THE VALUE OF PLAY

There are many business and professional men who fail or refuse to use a part of their time for rest and recreation. They stay at their appointed tasks, week, month and year. They refuse to admit the important value of play, of rest for body and mind. They may note other men who try that plan have nervous breakdowns, are sent to rest cure establishments, some even tumbling over dead in the offices to which they were wedded, but they do not learn wisdom from observation. They continue their blunders, they tumble over, break down, die suddenly, or live to drag out miserable years of suffering, a burden to themselves and to others.

Benjamin Strong died recently in New York. He was only 58 years of age, was chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of that city and one of the wisest constructive bankers in the nation. He was not so wise in caring for his largest and most important asset, his bodily health. And, at a time when his genius and leadership were needed, he fell by the wayside and passed away. He directed his financial affairs away from bankruptcy but became a physical bankrupt at an early age.

Mr. Strong was president of the Bankers Trust Company and one of the principal officers of a dozen other great corporations, when he was offered the post of chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank. To accept it he had to sacrifice about one-half his income and resign from many boards and corporations. He helped rebuild and reorganize the nation's finances following the war, and was a great leader, a stabilizer, a man who planned financial affairs for the nation with the utmost unselfishness. He was sound and loyal to others, he helped rear great financial structures, but he forgot to take time off to play, his physical powers were wasted, he fought on, but he lost. Too much work wears out the strongest man. Too little play leads to physical bankruptcy. The death of Mr. Strong was an impressive illustration of the folly of too much work, a constant strain long continued. The human body has its limitations. It needs rest.

ARMISTICE DAY

Sunday is Armistice Day, the tenth since the signing of that historic document on Flanders Field. What memories it recalls. Who will forget the rejoicing that its signing caused, the relief that it was all over, that war-time restrictions, privations and bloodshed were at an end, except those who slept in fields where poppies grow. In our rejoicing we remembered those who had lain down their lives. The celebration of the first Armistice Day may well serve as the key-note for the celebration of this and subsequent Armistice Days. Let there be rejoicing that the wounds caused or aggravated by the war are healing, that the scars that were thought ineffaceable are slowly disappearing, that the dogies of commerce now sail the paths then traversed by the Leviathans of war, that the hatreds of war are evaporating before the rising sun of mutual understanding. Let there be rejoicing as there was on that first Armistice Day. But nations and men are prone to forget. But let us not forget what war means. Let us not forget those whose emaciated bodies, whose shell shocked frames and whose empty sleeves testify to what war means to them and what it would have meant to us if they had not responded to the nation's call. Let us rejoice but let us not forget those who sleep in Flanders Field and at Chateau Thierry. With our cheers for the living let us mingle our tears for the dead, even as the Gold Star mother did on that first Armistice Day. Then and then only will it have been fittingly observed.

We must not expect too much and, while of course we'd like to see President Coolidge in his complete cowboy outfit, he did put on one of those overseas caps at a jaunty angle the other day and have his picture taken in it and we are very grateful for that.

On the hottest day last summer Henry Ford went into a hotel in Providence, R. I., for lunch and ordered a vegetable salad and a glass of hot water, and by gosh we'd rather be poor.

Another evidence of the retired heavyweight champion's broad-mindedness is that he voted for Al Smith, despite the fact that Al makes an occasional slip in his English.

We suppose one rumor they started about old Diogenes as he went peering around looking for an honest man, was that he probably stole his lantern.

Human nature may not really be any better than formerly but at least it is less brutal in its methods and the kind of politician that used to horsewhip the editor now bootlicks the publisher.

Another evidence that college education does not make so much difference is that the University Club acts about like the Eagles when it gets started.

The best dressed girl in this It is of the "Buck Privates" in neighborhood is against the stock- ingless style, holding that the legs proper ought not to show, that is to say not below the knees.

PRINCESS THEATER

The Junior High School benefit was a success, with Shirley Mason, scampish little flapper, as the dizzy star in "Sally in Our Alley." The coming week opens with a bang this evening and Friday with Charlie Chaplin, this master comedy in the land of clowns, lion-tamers and acrobats, "The Circus."

According to officials of United Artists Corp., which release the picture, "The Circus" presents the Chaplin of old, the Chaplin of "Shoulder Arms," "Pay Day" and "The Kid" the thumping, bumping little man with the trick derby and cane, the "wiggling moustache and the feet almighty."

A sporty polo picture of action, intrigue and hair-raising rescues, and riding by Tom Mix—that warrants its name "The Arizona Wildcat" makes a whale of a Saturday program. The story is by Adela Rogers St. Johns, magazine and film writer of exceptional ability.

Sunday, Armistice Day, brings a society picture, but it is different. It is of the "Buck Privates" in Germany after the close of the war with lots of fun, comedy and adventure.

A big splash of a college picture will be the feature of Monday's program in "Her Summer Hero." Taking advantage of the swimming meet at Catalina Island, almost a complete roster of Olympic, world and American swimming champions got into this intriguing story of love in the warm Pacific. Chapter 7 of the trail of the Tiger insures a full evening.

The incomparable Lon Chaney makes the Tuesday and Wednesday program notable as the clown in "Laugh Clown Laugh." This is one of the emotional successes—probably his best. He is one of the few artists who can win both high admiration and sincere sympathy at the same time.

HOLMES SCHOOL

Marcelle and Ruby Zimninger have returned to school after being absent a week.

Marcelle won the pencil for getting the largest number of stars for the month. To earn a star one has to have a perfect lesson in reading.

Grace Crothers visited our school all day Monday. Cyrus Bul-hand and a friend visited in the afternoon about an hour. All three visitors were from Buchanan.

All grades above the third participated in eight different kinds of spelling contests. Le Roy Hoover and Carl Gilbert were the leaders and chose sides. Le Roy's side won six times out of eight.

Nine of the pupils in our school were at Gallien Hallowe'en night, four were masked. Miss Batten and her two sisters, Evelyn and Harmony, won the prize for the best costume representing a nation. The country they represented was India. Miss Batten and Harmony, dressed as natives, carried a palanquin while Evelyn, representing a lady of India, rode inside.

The two seats that were broken the night of the social have been fixed.

Mackinac Island now has its first bank, several of the islanders organizing under the state banking laws to take care of the financial needs of Michigan's most famous summer resort. The new institution was opened last week, just too late to get the last shipload of gold left by the resorters as their first deposit.

The Old Timers' Corner

Change of Seasons Recalled in "Old Timer's" Letter

Well it has been a long and wonderful winter that we had, and we are ready and anxious for the warm rays of the sun to come along and get rid of the piles of snow that still linger around the shady side of the barn and around the horse tank and so forth, and where the green grass begins to peep through it sure looks good to us. The wheat fields that have come out from their snowy blankets and begin to breathe again, been covered all these long months, and they are green and glistening in the March sunlight. The dark wet earth for its background, and rail fences and bits of scrubby around the field (still with caked ice and snow,) makes the wheat field look so much the greener, when an artist paints anything he has to have a "background" to set off the subject he wishes to portray. So Nature sets off her grandest pictures without the brush or pen, but just by right of doing things artistically. All of Nature is right, and we don't have to apologize for her at all, until some fool man comes along and tries to improve upon her work. Then as a rule we find a "botch" as the result. If you are looking for a park, with set figures, etc., and plots of grass nicely groomed and trees nicely trimmed and buildings with wonderful architecture, then you are not talking about nature. I like to go where I can see things as they were when they grew and where they grew with nothing to hamper them or change them. I have lived in the city long enough to know that there is not much that is really beautiful in the city, (except perhaps her women). They are more artificial, also than our women folks in the country, but they do put up a better appearance, for as a rule they spend more time and more money on making themselves that way.

But we were talking about summer time and I guess by this time it must be nearly June for I have been rambling away from the subject.

We used to have an old saying on the farm of an old Dunkard preacher, that used to get side tracked, that way, now and then, and to get back to his subject he would say in the jargon of their church "Verilee-verilee-verilee-verilee." On the track again.

March for winds and April for rains. Then comes May with mixed weather and warmer days. Peach and all fruit trees are full of blossoms, and then June, the time for weddings and the time when "a young man's fancy turns" etc. The fields are green and the cows and horses and pigs and even the old hens are happy, and out in the open and making up for the long months penned up through the cold weather. The sheep scamper and run and the little lambs bunt and play, the calves bawl and waddle around after the mother, colts are gangling and awkward, but soon become frolicsome and the whole world is coming back to her own. On the 10th of May, as a rule the corn should be planted. It all depended upon the season of course, and "if the leaf buds on the Oak Trees were as big as squirrels ears," then was the time to plant the corn. So now in June the corn is green and growing, in rows in all directions as you pass if they do that they usually do everything else right and their farms show the difference.

There are still some wild flowers in the woods, where they don't use them for "pasture". Over on the Reynolds farm, near our place, there was 80 acres of the old virgin trees and there the flowers were unhampered and they were in riot of colors. Blue ps, jaisies, violets, Jack-in-the-capit, May apples, honeysuckles, and hundreds of little creepers and flowers that I never knew the names of, even after I had studied Botany. The names of the simplest little flowers in the Botany were so long and "Latin" that they were prohibitive as far as general conversation was concerned. Mighty interesting, however, to know how things grow and how like "us humans" the whole of Nature is made. We are just different organisms, they are plants and we are animals, one lives through and by the other, and all is whole and wonderful beyond not "pop the question" he was a words. The bees are busy at this time of year. They too have been housed up for the cold weather and have had to be fed portions of honey, down in the cellar, where we had them stored away. Now they are very busy and if you stepped on one of them, accidentally, you got off again as soon as possible or a little sooner. The birds are all back again and building their nests in much the same places as last year. I wonder if they are the very same robins and wrens that built in our trees last year. They look the same. I used to wonder if they still had their same "mates" as last year. And if they didn't, where and when did they find the new ones. All those things have always been a wonder to me and some time I am going to try and find out about them.

There is always a lot of work to be done on the farm, and the boys and girls that are fortunate enough to have been reared there, know that along with all those beautiful things to see and hear, there is much hard and hot work to be attended to. We work and play like birds and other natural things. When the days work is over, we would sit about and sing, and there was a "gang" known then as "West Street Gang", which now would have to be called "Moccasin Ave. Gang", suppose for they have changed the name of the street, and we would congregate at some central point or other and play games and build fires out of pine cones and tell stories, some of which I still remember and can get away with them at times as "new". It was all summer time and the straw hats and short overalls, and bare feet were all parts of the naturalness that made us grow and be natural. If you were caught playing "with the girls," you were labeled as a "sissy." But that didn't last long, for when we were a few years older, we all chose some "steady girl" and spent at least two nights a week in her company.

"Going together, steady" it was called. Then is when the summer nights were beautiful. Oh Boy! "With your mouth full of 'bangs' and your arms full of girl" what poet couldn't "pop" it? The funny part of it is that I can't now remember one single thing that we ever talked about. I know we must have talked but—what did we say? "Maybe we were just so happy to 'be by her' that we didn't even talk." I can't remember last part of it. But summer nights with "big smiling moon" has been the down fall of many a swain that would otherwise have made a wonderful old bachelor. Some one has written "Here to the Bachelor. Created by God for consolation of widows and the hope of maidens." Any way, if a fellow lived through some of those summer-moonlight nights and did whole and wonderful beyond not "pop the question" he was a wonder, that's all.

We went to lawn parties, where they served ice cream (maybe) and cake and had Chinese lanterns with candles in them, hung over the lawn, and it gave the whole place a sort of a languid love-inspiring feeling that sort of made the young men and the young lady feel that the whole world depended upon themselves and that they must straightway "hitch" in double harness and start a home for themselves. Then on the way home, lingering along through the darker streets, holding hands and loving up now and then, well—you know how it was, what's the use of telling it all over again. Not so, in these days. Then, she would hang her pretty head and look up coyly at you put one finger in her mouth and twist about a bit and say that she "didn't want to" give you a kiss, (when you knew all along that if you didn't, you were a tramp and no good at all in her eyes.) While today she says to her escort "Kiss me, you fool" and yanks him to her embrace.

Well, that's mostly all in summer time, but it often runs over through the winter time, too. Love is no respecter of seasons. Sitting by the fire and watching the cider in the big pitcher getting warmer in the chimney corner, and saying sweet nothings, O Well, it often lasts more than a year and often lasts forever, but it is not so lasting as some things I can think of. ("Seven year itch," for instance.)

So the summer passes, the wheat is harvested, and potatoes are in the cellar, the apples, pears, etc., are all packed away and the larder is filled with good fresh meats and we are ready again for the change of season, tired of the long hard work of summer and longing for the time when the hickory logs snap and crackle on the fire, when pop corn snaps and sputters, when "pussy-wants-a-corner" and "Post Office" are the rage again, and so we see the leaves fall brown and sear, the new growths of trees turn from green to brown, and birds flock together and head southward and another summer has passed and we are still happy and content in our warm cozy home "Down on the Farm."

WGNY Now Has Regular Television Transmissions
WGNY, the Schenectady broadcast station has inaugurated a regular schedule of television broadcasting. Three afternoons a week—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, from 1:30 to 2 o'clock, eastern daylight saving time—television programs are being broadcast over the regular wave of WGNY, 379.5 meters or 790 kilocycles.

These television transmissions are being made primarily to enable Dr. Alexanderson and his assistants to pursue their investigations, because nothing is so essential to progress as actual experience. At the same time, the television broadcast offers the amateur, provided with such receivers as he may desire or acquire, an opportunity to pick up the signals and carry on independent investigations.

For the benefit of those who wish to experiment with television reception the picture consists of twenty-four scanning lines repeated twenty times per second. Television signals, when made audible by the ordinary radio receiver, produces a high pitched note intermittently interrupted as the subject transmitted moves about before the eye of the television transmitter.

Over 500 Miles of Concrete Highways in a Single County!

Wayne county, Michigan, (Detroit) has over 500 miles of concrete highways, with pavements from eighteen to eighty feet wide.

Nineteen years ago, this county built its first stretch of concrete road. Year after year, the Board of County Road Commissioners has continued building concrete highways, to complete a road system planned in 1906.

Many of the older pavements have been widened. Some have been torn up to make way for wider pavements at a different grade—but no concrete pavement has worn out!

No wonder Wayne County keeps on building concrete roads!

CONSTANT EXPANSION —to serve Chevrolet owners better

SINCE January 1st more than a million new Chevrolets have been delivered to owners—making the Chevrolet Motor Company, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest builder of automobiles!

This outstanding achievement has been attained not only because of the quality and value of Chevrolet cars—but also because there has been a constant expansion of Chevrolet service facilities.

In order to bring these mammoth facilities of the Chevrolet factories to Chevrolet dealers and owners everywhere, there have been erected 26 huge parts warehouses in the principal centers of distribution. This expansion program is continually going on—for four great additional warehouses will be in operation by January first and seven more by the summer of 1929.

Into the service departments of all Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet has brought special tools and shop equipment—designed under the supervision of Chevrolet engineers. This equipment definitely assures maximum speed and precision and the lowest possible cost in the performance of every Chevrolet service and repair operation—which are charged for on a flat rate basis.

Furthermore, all of these tremendous facilities have been made available to 15,000 authorized service stations manned by skilled mechanics, over 25,000 of whom have been factory trained to efficiently handle every repair operation on a Chevrolet car. In addition, there are over 4,000 other points where genuine Chevrolet parts may be obtained.

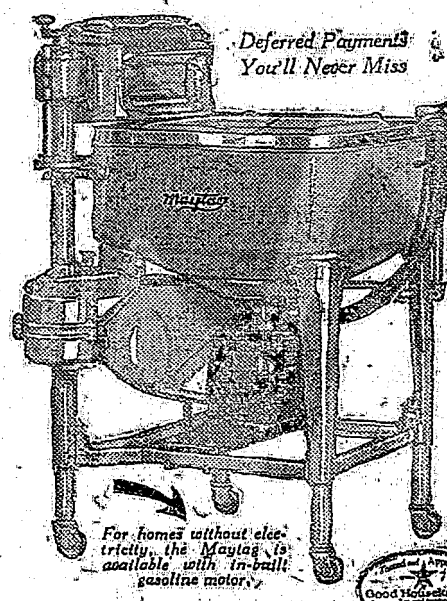

Uniformly efficient, uniformly reliable and within easy reach of everybody everywhere—this great service organization is maintaining at peak efficiency the fine performance for which Chevrolet cars have always been renowned.

We cordially invite you to come in and see how our service facilities reflect the influence of this great national service program.

ONLY $5,000 TO THE LORD.
OUR DESCENDANTS.
LINCOLN'S SHORT LETTER.
"ONLY A COLD."

Mrs. E. S. Dodge dies leaving one million. Nineteen thousand dollars go to friends, $5,000 to a Presbyterian church, the balance to relatives. Five thousand dollars out of $1,000,000 given to the Lord seems small. In old days, when heaven and hell were taken more literally, it would have been thought wise to give $900,000 of the $1,000,000 to religion and make sure of salvation.

But in this agnostic day many feel that the Lord does not need money, especially as He could create any amount of it by an easy miracle, whereas relatives and educational institutions DO need money, and can't perform miracles.

That a son is born to Princess Michael Cantacuzene in Chicago means little to the average, but a great deal to a few old men of the Grand Army, who know that Princess Cantacuzene is General Grant's granddaughter.

The only immortality of which we are certain, apart from the certainty of religious faith, is the immortality of our descendants. Each may live for thousands of years in his descendants. You that read this are descended from men that were alive on earth 500,000 years ago.

What our descendants will be we cannot guess.

General Grant, before opportunity came and people wondered why he didn't keep "sober," little thought that he would be the great grandfather of a son of a Russian prince.

Descendants of Astors, Vanderbilts and Rockefellers will beg their bread a thousand years hence if begging still prevails.

Descendants of Jhenghis, Timur and Attila are among Mongolian laborers now scattered through Asia.

The Triennial Protestant Episcopal Convention in Washington is urgently requested to recognize faith cures. In such cures the patient helps himself by believing that someone else will help him. Faith can do many things. A man was bound to a chair, his feet put in hot water and told that his feet would be cut by a razor.

The back of a razor was drawn across the soles of his feet. Not a drop of blood was shed, but he died. What can kill can cure. Some doctors wisely believe that faith healing should be used to help nervous patients.

On June 12, 1848, Abraham Lincoln wrote to William H. Herndon a short letter, telling what he thought about Zachary Taylor's prospect of election.

The letter was sold yesterday for $3,000.

Lincoln, thirty-seven years old when he wrote that letter, would have been amazed had he known what would happen to it.

At that time he would have been glad to get the job in the Interior Department for which he applied unsuccessfully. Fortunately he didn't get it, for it might have taken him out of politics.

Johns Hopkins, in 125 families, rich and poor, will investigate origins, causes and frequency of colds.

What is foolishly described as "only a cold," is the most harmful of diseases, causing a loss of hundreds of millions a year in wages. And what is worse, it weakens the system, exposing it to attack from diseases that destroy life—pneumonia, diphtheria, heart disease and a dozen others.

American "talking movies," seen and heard in England, arouse enthusiasm and prediction that the silent picture is doomed. British critics suggest that American actors should "cultivate Oxford accent." They don't like our brand of English.

Perhaps the talking movies will teach them to like the American language, just as they have been taught by our silent movies to like American clothes and some other things.

Alcoholic drinks under prohibition are various. In the South "white mule," powerful alcohol made of corn, is popular.

In the Middle West "needled" beer is drunk by workmen. It is "legal" beer, originally containing no alcohol, but brought up to a high alcoholic percentage by needling it with alcohol, procured by redistilling denatured alcohol bought at gasoline stations.

New York City speakeries, surrounding newspaper and other plants, sell "smoke," a deadly alcohol with a little ether added to give the cloudy, "smoke" effect. This drink is well described as follows: "Three shots and you know nothing until next day."

Air Mail Route

Lacks Patronage

Establishment of air mail service linking ten major Michigan cities with the trans-continental route, as created by the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation, has failed, thus far, to bring about any great increase in the volume of air mail sent out by these cities it is said. Several cities, in fact, have shown a steady decrease in patronage. Detroit and Kalamazoo are the best air mail cities on the route.

The new 5-cent airmail postage, which permits a letter of twice the weight (a full ounce) to be sent for half the postage (formerly 10 cents) has resulted in a great increase in airmail throughout the United States. In Michigan, however, it has had little effect on the number of letters sent by airmail.

Some increase may be expected next month, when Pontiac will be added to the route about Nov. 15. On the other hand, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek and Ann Arbor have shown a progressive decrease in the August, September and October figures of airmail despatched. Lansing, Jackson, Muskegon, Saginaw and Bay City, where the September figures were materially smaller than those for August, have been just about holding their own in October, according to records for the first ten days of the month.

Kalamazoo has proved itself the best airmail city in the state, next to Detroit. Nor is it far behind the Michigan metropolis in the amount of airmail letters sent out over the Michigan route conducted by the Thompson corporation, though Detroit airmail is divided between this route to Chicago and the night connection to the trans-continental service at Toledo.

Kalamazoo sent out 1,226 pounds of air mail in August, 1,527 pounds in September, less than 100 pounds behind the Detroit mailings to Chicago, and the first ten days of October showed a 25 per cent increase over the corresponding period in September. Kalamazoo profits from the circumstance that it has a two-way service which can be used to advantage in sending mail north and east to cities in Michigan as well as to Chicago, while other Michigan cities on the route derive little benefit on service inside the state.

Behind Kalamazoo come the other Michigan points on the route the best of which averages less than half the daily poundage sent by Kalamazoo while the poorer ones taper down to a bare fifth of the Kalamazoo mails.

The closing time of the out-bound mails for Chicago was recently advanced about 40 minutes in all Michigan cities because of the earlier advent of darkness and the danger of flying over unlighted airways. Several of the Michigan landing fields are now lighted to permit night flying and most of them soon will be, but it will be out of the question to go back to the later schedule before spring because of the danger of being forced down between regular stops.

In a short time, however, the route between Kalamazoo and Chicago will be provided with intermediate lighthouse beacons to guide the aviators and with emergency landing fields so that this final leg of the journey can be flown in the darkness. Three intermediate flash beacons will be in operation near Wakelee, Cassopolis and Schoolcraft within 30 to 45 days and at Wakelee there is an emergency landing field with two runways 2,000 feet long. Will Rogers Says—

The future of the Anti-Bunk Party is uncertain, according to Will Rogers, its candidate for President.

"Both the other parties are paying off with nothing but thanks," says Rogers, "so I am not going to send any more thanks to my supporters. There is enough people now trying to live on thanks. In fact, that's about all the farmers will have to live on for the next four years."

"It was the silent vote that elected me and the loud voice that kept my other opponent out. But I promised faithfully when this campaign got going that if elected I would resign and that's the only campaign promise I am going to stick to."

"They talk about a man not being a good citizen if he don't vote. If everybody didn't vote then none of the candidates could be elected and that would be the end of politics and we could just go out and hire some good man to run the country."

"I am not saying yet what I will do in 1932, but I may jump to the Congressional Record. They have made me some very attractive offers to handle my next campaign. They claim they can give me plenty of space. As the election is over the members won't have to start dictioneering in the Senate and House for a couple of years."

"We went into this campaign to drive the bunk out of politics but our experiment, while noble in motive, was a failure. Anyway, here is good luck from the only cheerful loser in the race."

Positive Cooking Results

with the

FEDERAL 4-way Oven

Your cooking results are positive and certain when your food is placed in a Federal Gas Range oven—bread and biscuits come out light and fluffy—cakes have an evenness of texture.

The new patented feature—4 way circulation of heat—assures even delivery of heat to every part of the oven—top and bottom as well as the four sides are equally heated.

How much better foods taste and how much more inviting do they appear when they have been evenly cooked.

Too, the 4-way circulation of heat makes for faster cooking, and does it with a considerable saving of gas. Modern home keeping does not call for long hours in the kitchen and cooking with the Federal Gas Range is a joy because it does the work so well and so quickly.

Best of all, your Federal Gas Range adds beauty and distinction to your kitchen. Your friends will admire it and you will find it so easy to keep clean. See the beautiful display of different styles of Federal Gas Ranges.
