PropositionIN PAYMENT
By Hays

Giver of all good gifts, we raise Our voices this day of praise To own the debt of blood and tears
That brought the harvest of the years
To us, who in this later age
Treasure an easy heritage That came to us, unearned, un-bought.
Let us not be too proud for aught
That drops into our hands un-
bought.
For we but stand here by their grace,
Sons of an old heroic race
Whose unforgotten bones are laid Within the land their labors made.
Let us give thanks for what was done
Now that the patient fight is won
By those ambassadors of God Whose plowshares broke the virgin sod.
Dust to the dust; but they shall keep
The honor through their deathless sleep.
On covered hill and fertile plain Where once they wrought in toil and pain
Behold a boundless plenty smiles Across three times a thousand miles.
We rise above the ruck of things.
Heirs of the years, creation's kings!
We cut the blue with dauntless wings
Where once their ox teams labored slow
A short half century ago.
For what has been, for what shall be We yield our thanks to them, and Thee!

RURAL SCHOOL
VANDALS ON
THE RAMPAGESteal Stove From Geyer School
Last Night

Unknown thieves entered the Geyer school house located on the Walton Road, a half mile east of the River Street bridge last night, taking a No. 18 Round Oak stove, several window curtains, a coal bucket and ax.

County officers Clarence Dunbar and C. S. Overcash, have been working on the case today but report no clues. Apparently the thieves gained entrance by a skeleton key. Tracks about the school indicate that a truck came from the east, backed up to the school porch, and then returned eastward again.

The Geyer teacher, Miss Elizabeth Sukachuk of Bridman, was taken ill Friday and is now in hospital for an operation, a substitute arriving this morning from Benton Harbor to relieve her during her illness.

Other depredations are reported at the Brocous school northwest of town, vandals having entered the building one night in the past week by forcing a window and burning up school books and other property of value.

Mrs. Minnie Haas is the teacher.

Trp. 41 Has Play Session
Tuesday Night

Troop 41 had a rousing good time last Tuesday night, playing some of the old games which had not been used for a long time—poison stool, grab the hat, and Simon Say's, produced plenty of fun for the opposing sides.

After the games a review on first aid was had. Artificial respiration was gone over to some length to make sure all the boys knew it, then the various carries were shown and tried.

ENTERTAIN 12 GUESTS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Rosemary Thompson entertained 12 guests on her 13th birthday anniversary Saturday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B.
Thompson. At luncheon, prizes were won by Miss Marian Miller, Miss Doris Campbell and Miss Freddie Portz. Refreshments were served.

HOSE HOUSE TURNED INTO FLOP JOINTHomeless Men Sleep
On Cement Floor
Coverless

TWELVE SAT. EVE

Slim Thanksgiving In Sight For Them

Buchanan people who perchance have roused from fitful slumbers during the past week to hunt more covers should not consider their plight too serious, comparatively speaking.

For on Saturday night, when the late storm was at its height, and temperatures were below freezing, 12 men slept on the hard cement floor without covering in the village hose house with only the fire in the old stove to ameliorate the chill blasts that swept in from the cracks about doors and windows.

For the past two weeks from a half dozen to a dozen homeless job hunters have taken advantage of this village floppery. Not all are bums by any means. They range all the way from callow youth of 16, on their first flyer away from home, to decrepit old men who have been crowded out of industries by their age and by the displacements of new machinery and methods.

Typical of many was one decent looking man who dangled an empty sleeve. He had lost an arm in railroad 38 years ago. Since that for years he had been a crossing watchman in Detroit, dropping the cross arms on the tracks for the passage of trains. Then the railway installed automatic apparatus that operated the cross arms, and he and 14 of his fellows were out of jobs.

Then he started the rounds of the automobile factories looking for any sort of job and everywhere meeting the same answer: "No place for a cripple."

"Then employment men have ice in their veins instead of blood," they don't even give you a chance, he said. They report Henry Ford will employ crippled men for what work they can do, but I did not get a look-in."

Another decent-looking chap was pressing his trousers by the aid of a paper and a weight. He told a story of being turned down at auto factories on account of physical defects.

"For one kind of work in Flint they wouldn't take anyone who didn't weigh 180 pounds," he said.
"It was for some kind of heavy juggling."

The men prefer to catch rides along the highways rather than ride the trains now, if possible, but with most drivers they meet a cold reception.

"It's just about one in a hundred that will take you on," said one of the transients."

"It's my experience that you have to work most of the way on the highways. There was a guy in last night who claimed he had come from St. Louis in a day.
You can believe him if you want to."

The railways will allow them to ride freights in the east, but it is cold transportation, and as a rule they stop in yards two or three miles from town and you have to walk back. There are more jobless men bumbling on highway and railway than in several years, according to late guests at the village.

MONDAY CLUB ENJOYS

THANKSGIVING DINNER

Mrs. C. D. Kent was hostess to the Monday Literary Club at their annual Thanksgiving dinner at the home Monday noon at 12:30. Five small tables were artistically decorated with chrysanthemums and pumpkin place cards were used.
Each guest wrote on her place card the things which she was thankful for and these were read following the dinner. Mrs. G. H.
Stevenson had charge of the program and the choosing of sides for contests and games followed, and proved very amusing. Mrs.
Emma Knight read a poem on the "Origin of Thanksgiving" and Mrs. Redden told about "The First Thanksgiving Dinner." Mrs. A.
A. Worthington gave O. Henry's
"Two Thanksgivings Day Gentlemen." The club will not meet next Monday but on December 10th will be guests of Mrs. M. Redden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Scott of Warren were guests Saturday evening and Sunday at home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Clark.

Nation Has Grave Unknown Soldier; Buchanan Has Lost Grave of Soldier

In a forgotten and unmarked grave in an abandoned burial ground in the Treat and Howe additional lies the body of an officer of the Union Army, the hero of a charge hardly surpassed in heroism by the far-famed dash of the Six Hundred at Gettysburg.
The honor that inheres in fighting and risking life for one's country seems to gradually divide with the passage of time, as the grave of Sergeant Harrison Barnhouse has been practically unknown for many years.

J. PERROTT, 93, DIES AT CALIF. HOMEHalf Century Res-
15 Years Ago

A UNION OFFICER

John Perrott, 93, an old time resident of Buchanan, died Tuesday of pneumonia at his home at San Jose, Calif., where he had lived with his son, Harry, for the past 15 years.

Perrott was born in 1835 near Rochester, N. Y., coming to Buchanan as a boy. He was an early convert to the Republican movement, and organized and captained the Buchanan company of "Wide Awakes" which worked for the career of John C. Fremont against James Buchanan in 1856, although Perrott was 18 days too young to vote on election day.

He ministered in the 12th Michigan Infantry at the beginning of the war, and served throughout, attaining the rank of lieutenant.
After the war he returned to Buchanan and made his home here over 40 years, when he moved to California following the death of his wife. He was a carpenter and cabinet-maker by trade. In addition to the son with whom he lives, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Minnie Hall of Benton Springs and Mrs. Belle Case of Three Oaks.

Word was received here to the effect that the remains would be started from San Jose Thanksgiving Day and would probably arrive here Sunday for burial.

While he was a member of the G. A. R. post here, he was not the soldier after whom the post was named.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.
m. Monday from the Methodist church, with the Masonic lodge in charge. Rev. Liddicoat will preach the funeral sermon.

Fred Nelson Weds
Ruby Rees, Galien,
at South Bend Sat.

Fred Nelson, night employee of the City Bakery, was united in marriage Saturday afternoon to Miss Ruby Rees of Galien, the ceremony taking place at the Kenneth Holmes residence in South Bend, with Rev. W. H. Canfield of the First Evangelical church of this place reading the marriage ritual.

The ring service was used, attendants on the couple being Mrs.
W. H. Canfield and Mrs. R. E. Engels. The groom is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. William B. Nelson of Moccasin avenue. The young couple will make their home in Buchanan.

Mrs. Addie Roberts
Dies Thursday Eve.

Mrs. Addie Roberts died Thursday evening at 6:30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Nelson, at the age of 73 years. Although in poor health for some time, Mrs.
Roberts' death was so sudden that the grief-stricken family was greatly shocked. Mrs. Roberts was one of those good wives and mothers so essential for the betterment of the world, faithful to every trust. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon in the L. D. S. church, conducted by Rev. Conklin, pastor of the M. E. church and was largely attended. Burial in Galien cemetery.

The Misses Dorothy Clark, Agnes Spalding and Muriel Watkins are coming from the Kalamazoo Teachers College to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with friends here.

GOOD CARE
BIG FACTOR
IN DAIRYINGSays Addy, State Feed Specialist, To Dairymen

LIME NEEDED

The biggest factor in a successful dairy establishment is the dairymen, said R. H. Addy, Farm Bureau feed specialist who spoke at a meeting of dairymen Wednesday evening of last week at the director's room of the St. Joe Valley Shipping Association.

It must be conceded that if the milk herd is poor, it is doubtless the dairymen's fault, said Addy.
Good cows subject to poor management may be a losing investment. Good dairy stock and proper care and feeding must go hand in hand to secure results, he said.

Among the recently acquired information of value to dairymen, Addy advised the use of bone meal, from two to four ounces per day in the dairy cow's ration.
This may be fed with salt in a half and half mixture.

Addy stated that record production cows had been drained of lime until their health was undermined and they failed to breed, due to the inroads on their system by heavy milking. A dairy cow will drain the bones of her skeleton of 25 percent of the lime. Addy said, to put into milk flow when her feed lacks that element. At the end of a few months the cow is badly out of condition and may be ruined. The practice of feeding bone meal prevents this occurrence.

Another point of interest in Addy's talk was his account of the production of iodized milk by Illinois dairymen. The cow is fed five grains of iodine per day in her ration, and much of this goes into her milk, making it a suitable food for people suffering from goitre, for which iodine is a remedy. The same practice is followed with poultry, iodine fed in the rations of a laying hen going into the eggs, rendering it a medicated food.

The fact known by dairymen that early cut hay is of greater stimulus in milk production is due, Addy stated, to the fact that the protein content and the mineral salts are in more soluble form in the less mature grass.
Timothy just going into bloom has 50 percent more available protein and mineral salts than timothy let stand until past the bloom stage.

To be a paying investment a dairy cow should be able to produce 800 pounds of butter fat annually by her third year, Addy stated. The cows in the testing associations of the state average considerable over that figure.

NOTED CHILD SPECIALIST
SPEAKS HEREDR. ROSENBERG OF SOUTH BEND TO TALK BEFORE P. T. A. WED.

Dr. Charles Rosenberg, South Bend child specialist will speak Wednesday evening, Dec. 5, before the Parent-Teachers' Association, the meeting starting at 3:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The speaker will relate his experiences in medical relief work among children of the city of South Bend.
Selections will be given by the high school band under the direction of R. R. Robinson. Helen Mogford will entertain with readings. The school nurse, Mrs. Reba Lamb, will tell of her child welfare work here.

M. W. M'CLURE
BUYS CHELSEA, PLANT AGAINMICHIGAN JOURNALISM ASSUMES "AS YOU WERE" COMPLEX

Michigan journalism reverted toward its complexion of eight months ago Monday when Marion McClure, former associate publisher of the Berrien County Record, bought back his former property,
the Chelsea Standard, which he takes over December 1.

McClure bought the Standard eight years ago from O. T.
Hoover and operated it for two years as sole owner, when he entered into partnership with his brother, A. E. McClure. After five and one-half years of prosperous operation, the brothers sold the property to E. E. Brown, who in turn sold back to McClure the first of this week.

McClure stated that he felt very fortunate in securing his old plant as he is thoroughly conversant with that field. He moved his household goods to Chelsea yesterday, having sold his home here to Mrs. Lillian Hunter, who is now moving from her former home on Portage street.

This is doubtless one of the most unique transactions ever effected in Michigan newspaperdom, inasmuch as the McClure brothers sold the Record back to its former owner, H. L. Hayden, before McClure bought back his erstwhile holdings.

The best wishes of many Buchanan friends follow Mr. and Mrs.
McClure to Chelsea.

GRAND DAUGHTER OF RUSSELL M'COY A VOCAL SUCCESSWAS BORN HERE, GRAND-SIRE FIRST RESIDENT OF THE VILLAGE

The following story from the Post-Standard published at Oswego, Mich., relates the musical success of Esther McCoy, who was born in Buchanan, and who is the daughter of Charles McCoy, one time resident, and a granddaughter of Russell McCoy, who was af-first resident of Buchanan and was af-first of whom McCoy's creek was named.

The Post-Standard article states:
A program which will be of unusual interest to the local radio audiences at least will be provided by WFBL, the Onondaga hotel station in Syracuse, Saturday night.

One of the entertainers will be Miss Esther McCoy, vocal artist of this city, who will sing during the Clark music hour. It will be the first time an Oswego audience will have had the opportunity of hearing Miss McCoy.

Since making her debut on the concert stage nearly two years ago Miss McCoy has spent most of her time in New York City. She plans to remain for the winter in Oswego, but will likely appear in recitals during the season.

While her program for her first radio concert has not been completed, she will present two groups of songs, written in English, French and German.

For the entertainment of the Oswego audience she will sing "In My Garden," composed by George Robertson, pianist of Oswego, who has made a brilliant record on the concert stage.

He is accompanist for Miss Florence Macbeth who for a number of years has been identified in concert work in the country.

After spending more than two years in Europe, Miss McCoy made her first public appearance in Carnegie hall in New York December 6, 1926. Critics highly praised her work.

As a student in high school Miss McCoy began training under Anna Harmon of this city. A few years ago she became a pupil of Mrs. D. B. McCloskey and Miss Bessie Bowie, one of the best known vocal teachers in the metropolis. On going to Europe she became a pupil of Prof. Mongiere of Paris—Oswego Post-Standard.

ALENE RILEY ENTERTAINS

Miss Aleene Riley entertained several guests at bridge Saturday afternoon in her home on West Front street. The Misses Freddie Portz and Doris Campbell won the honors.

J. Frank Greene, field secretary of the Christian church for the state, will be at the Hills Corners Christian Church next Tuesday evening in company with Rev. Jay-man of Benton Harbor. A general meeting of the members and a community supper will be held.

VETERAN S.S.
CLASS HOLDS
ANNUAL FEEDMt. Tabor Aid Serves Thanksgiving Banquet

HARRAH SPEAKER

Chicken Successor To Pig as Piece d' Resistance

The Bethany Class of the Methodist church, pioneer among Sunday school classes of Buchanan, enjoyed their annual Thanksgiving supper at the Mt. Tabor Grange Hall Monday evening. Members of the class and their guests to the number of 50 sitting down to a sumptuous banquet prepared by the Ladies' Aid of the Mt. Tabor church.

The bill of fare was varied from the traditional roast pig this year, the class deciding on a creamed chicken instead of a number of years. The church, the traditional "Ose" resistance being a roast pig served with an apple in its mouth. This year the class decided to forego the task of preparing their own banquet and try a change engaging a creamed chicken supper from the Mt. Tabor ladies.

The banquet proved to be a great success, the tables being loaded with viands and decorated in Thanksgiving style with piles of carrots and apples, surmounted with a turkey, and a number of apple and pumpkin pies.

The feature of the following program was a talk by C. C. Harrah, Niles manufacturer, who gave a very interesting description of his airplane trip through Europe, traversing the countries of England, France, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany and Belgium.

Harrah said that airplane fares in Europe were but little above first class railway fares, the rates for the former mode of transportation averaging about 8 cents per mile, as compared with 6 cents per mile by rail. This cheap air-transportation is made possible by government subsidies. He was especially enthusiastic in his praise of the German plane service, which, he said, is several years in advance of that of any other country. In the German planes, the cabins are placed above the wings, to protect from crash in case of forced landings. He and his wife took their meals in the airplanes at rates cheaper than the ordinary American dining car service.

He secured an audience with the Pope and visited the palace of the former Kaiser at Potsdam.
While his talk was in progress,
a number of fine views were circulated among the audience. He had some difficulty in securing the airplane views, European authorities suspecting him of being a spy of the English war department.

Former Clark Nurse
Marries Niles Man

Miss Martha Mary Hanbaum, formerly employed as a nurse in the Clark Hospital, and a sister of Mrs. Ned Shafer and Mrs. Hartline of Buchanan, was married Saturday, Nov. 24 to Russell S. Bash, the ceremony being performed at South Bend Saturday. They will be at home to their friends at 31 St. Joe avenue, Niles.

St. Joe Creamery
Buys Sanitary
Dairy Milk Route

The St. Joe Valley Creamery has taken the business of the equipment of the Sanitary Dairy from Eric Aronson, who will turn the same over Saturday and enter the employ of the creamery. The equipment will include a 200-gallon pasteurizer cooling vat, boilers, and other articles.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon, December 5th, with Mrs.
P. C. Hathaway, 110 West Third St. Mrs. Emma Knight will review the second chapter of the text book, "Friends of Africa." Members will please note change in place of meeting.

Hunting Hoosiers Grabbed When They Cross State Line

Paul Carlisle and William Wright, colored sportsmen of South Bend, are out of pocket to the extent of $25 and costs of $3.20 each as the result of straying across the Indiana line into Michigan Saturday while browsing for cottontails. While they were across the hypothetical line that separates the Hoosiers from the Michiganers, Cleve Harner, deputy state game warden, took them in charge, towing them to the office of Justice Al Charles.
They were also charged by John Welch of Galien with having stolen a dog, but this charge was dropped on account of lack of proof.

13 HUNTERS

SNOWFALL AIDS

The reputation of Buchanan hunters was sustained with the return of eight more Nimrods from the tall timber Monday with the coveted trophies, the lucky men being Bick Smith, Harry Beck, Olin Summerill, Nate Sands, Ira Swartz, Elmer Rohen, Veri Clark, and Al Decker.

The first-named six former one party and the last two a second in company with Murdoch of Galien.
The biggest buck was brought back by Bick Smith, a fine 10 point specimen weighing 190 pounds dressed. Beck and Smith brought back carcasses weighing about 150 pounds, the former's trophy bearing seven points and the latter two points. They report that they were aided by a tracking snow which fell last week, enabling them to trail their quarry.
No bear were seen, although Nate Sands found the tracks of one.
Harry Beck brought back a fine red fox.

They report that hunting conditions are much altered this year, most of the good hunting lands having been bought and fenced in by large clubs of sportsmen. Part of the Buchanan party hunted by permission on the fine preserves of the Turtleback Club, which owns a preserve in Montmorency county, including 11 square miles of land which is supposed to contain several thousand deer. They said that it would soon be impossible to hunt without membership in some club.

Veri Clark, Al Decker and Murdoch, where they were also ad-dock hunted in the Witch Lake ed by tracking snows.

Other hunters who had previously brought back deer were Jesse Viele, William Fette and Leo Richter.

A party comprising Dan Carlisle, Dave Lomaugh and Kaufman arrived home Monday night with two deer, shot in the Upper Peninsula.

26-YEAR NAG GETS NERVOUS IN OLD AGE; BACKFIRES 1ST TIME

For 19 long years, 26-year old Dan has furnished the motive power for plows, cultivators and wagons on the W. D. Pitcher fruit farm just east of the Campbell Transmission company plant, having been a well known figure on the streets of Buchanan before the advent of the horseless age, as he is now a solitary relic of pre-automobile days. In all that time Dan had never so much as backfired until last Thursday. Then while Dan was standing sleepily in cart harness with lower lip hanging and one front foot lifted as is the fashion of cart horses at ease, his master came up behind him unexpectedly and laid a hand on his hip. Like a flash one of Dan's iron-shod rear heels shot back, glancing off Mr. Pitcher's knee, and temporarily crippling him.
Since Mr. Pitcher is not so well-furnished in the matter of legs as Dan, he has been somewhat crippled during the past week, but is now able to get about.

"I got Dan 19 years ago when he was seven years old and he has never so much as lifted a hoof at me," said Mr. Pitcher. "I just can't believe he knew it was me. He had a blind bridle on and couldn't see me, and I came up sudden-like."

PETITION FOR CHANGE NOW
CIRCULATINGCanvass Reveals A United Opinion
In Favor

TAXES NO HIGHER

Would Make Better Balance Power
in County

Business and professional men of Buchanan are practically a unit in favor of the transfer from the village to the city form of government, according to Mrs. Nina Post, who has been circulating the petition for a special election, according to a decision of the village council at the November meeting.
Mrs. Post had 220 signatures at noon today, and has in the neighborhood of 100 more to gather by the time of the December council meeting next Tuesday evening.
Arguments to the effect that taxes would be raised by the change apparently meant little to the business men, many of whom said that they saw no reason for a shift in taxation unless in the direction of a reduction, aside from the cost of the change itself.

Both Harry Beck and Alonzo Howe, Buchanan representatives on the board of supervisors, for the past several years, stated that they had been long in favor of the change in order to distribute the balance of power between the north and south sides of the county if for no other reason. Buchanan stands at a disadvantage in making tax adjustments with other towns of the county from the fact that the vote of the town is so small that it carries no weight.
The district does not receive consideration in the appointment of highway committees and county offices to the extent that it would with other representatives.

Town taxes would not necessarily be greater after the change according to the statement of many business men. While under the city form the council and mayor may receive a salary not to exceed $50 per annum, this can hardly be held against the change, since under the village form, in towns of more than 1,500 population, the council and mayor may receive a salary not to exceed $60, which is more than the city maximum.

As a matter of fact, Buchanan has never paid salaries to any village officials, with the exception of $50 to the fire chief, and the salaries of those engaged in full-time work.

The transfer would make for better city government owing to the system of ward representation, in the opinion of many business men.

The home of Harry Luke, three miles south of Buchanan was raided Saturday night by Clarence Dunbar and Henry Bidwell of the county law enforcement department and 100 pints of beer and 15 gallons of mash were confiscated.
Mr. Luke, his wife, and two patrons were reported to be in the home at the time of the raid. Luke was placed under arrest and was arraigned before Justice Al Charles immediately after the raid.
He waived examination and was placed in the county jail after failing to furnish $500 in bonds.

A most practical way of saying "Merry Christmas"

If you give your wife a General Electric Refrigerator, you give her a gift that carries its usefulness and its comforts through the years. You give her the pleasant knowledge that the food for her family is always healthfully fresh. You cut several marketing trips off her weekly schedule. You make it easier for her to plan interesting menus and to serve tempting foods.

The General Electric Refrigerator appeals to women particularly because it is so automatic that it never even needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. It is easy to keep clean because there is a constant mild upward current of air which rises from the coils and keeps the dust from settling.

This "years ahead" refrigerator is the result of fifteen years of development in the Research Laboratories of General Electric. It is guaranteed by General Electric. We shall be glad to show you the various models. You can buy yours on a deferred payment plan, if you prefer.

The new Ford has a very simple and effective lubrication system

THE lubrication system for the engine of the new Ford is as simple in principle as water running down-hill.

A gear pump in the bottom of the oil pan raises the oil to the valve chamber reservoir. From here it flows on to the main crankshaft bearings and the front camshaft bearing. Overflow oil drops into the oil pan tray and runs into troughs through which the connecting rods pass.

As the ends of these rods strike the oil they scoop up a supply for the connecting rod bearing. At the same time they set up a fine spray that lubricates the pistons and other moving parts.

From the tray the oil runs into the bottom of the pan, and is again drawn up through a fine mesh screen and pumped to the valve chamber.

This system is so effective that the five-quart contents of the oil pan pass through the pump twice in every mile when you are traveling at only 30 miles an hour. Yet there is only one movable part—the oil pump.

As a matter of fact, the lubrication system for the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no service attention.

There is just one thing for you to do, but it is a very important thing... watch the oil! Change the oil every 500 miles and be sure the indicator rod never registers below low (L).

If the oil level is allowed to fall below low, the supply becomes insufficient to oil all parts as they should be oiled.

To insure best performance it is also advisable to have the chassis of your car lubricated every 500 miles. This has been made easy in the new Ford through the use of the high pressure grease gun system.

Proper oiling and greasing mean so much to the life of your car that they should not be neglected or carelessly done.

See your Ford dealer regularly. He is especially well fitted to lubricate the new Ford and he will do a good, thorough job at a fair price.

Sure Way To Stop Coughing

This Prescription Relieves Almost Instantly.

Coughing is usually due to causes which the patent medicines and cough syrups do not reach. However, Thoxine, a famous doctor's prescription relieves coughing with the very first swallow. It works on an entirely different theory, has a double action, relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause.

Unlike most cough medicines, Thoxine contains no chloroform, dope, or other harmful drugs. Safe for the whole family. Also excellent for sore throat. Quick relief guaranteed. Or you may buy a 35c, 60c, and $1.00. Sold by Wisner Pharmacy and all other good stores.

Positive Cooking Results with the FEDERAL 4-way Oven

Your cooking results are positive and certain when your food is placed in a Federal Gas oven—bread and biscuits come out light and fluffy—cakes have an evenness of texture.

The new patented feature—4 way circulation of heat—assures even delivery of heat to every part of the oven—top and bottom as well as the four sides are equally heated.

How much better foods taste and how much more inviting do they appear when they have been evenly cooked.

Too, the 4-way circulation of heat makes for faster cooking, and does it with a considerable saving of gas. Modern home keeping does not call for long hours in the kitchen and cooking with the Federal Gas Range is a joy because it does the work so well and so quickly.

Best of all, your Federal Gas Range adds beauty and distinction to your kitchen. Your friends will admire it and you will find it so easy to keep clean. See the beautiful display of different styles of Federal Gas Ranges.

MOVIES

PRINCESS THEATER

H. B. Warner, who played the part of Jesus in "The King of Kings," here a week ago, will be seen again Thursday and Friday of this week, in "Sorrell and Son."

"Warwick Deering's best selling novel of today. This is probably the most love-filled story of the screen. Not only does it depict the fine, self-forgetting love of father and son, and the upstanding love of youth and maid, but also the selfish loves of the sordid and self-seeking.

In producing this heart warming story, Herbert Brenon took the cast to England, making it an authentic panorama of typical English homes, villages and landscapes. Mr. Brenon directed "Pot or Pan" and "Beau Geste," but "Sorrell and Son" is his first independent production. This picture is a fitting close to a great November at the Princess.

December opens with a bang at the Princess, with Al Wilson in "The Phantom Flyer." Wilson's aerial stunts grow more thrilling with each picture. Among other new things Saturday he leaps from a speeding auto a zooming airplane. The story is of a fiendish woman ranch owner who deliberately tries to wipe out a neighbor and his family. Wilson, the lying patrol, gets wise and saves them and their property.

The coming week includes, "Someone to Love," Sunday; Tuesday and Wednesday the great athletic Richard Dix gets back into the harness of a marine, goes to China, rescues his sweetheart, Ruth Elder, from bandits, and is himself rescued in turn. It is typically Dixian in action and one of the high points for December.

Another novel by Zane Grey, greatest western story writer of today, will be here December 8, when Jack Holt will be seen with Georgia Hale in "The Man of the Forest." It's the story of a man who rescues a girl despite her shooting him and having him arrested. Holt is probably the best Zane Grey hero—Grey says he is.

Numerous requests bring a revival of "Ben Hur" at the Princess on Monday, December 10. The picture will not be raised for this one of the world's seven best pictures.

Rather unusual for the Princess will be "The Road to Ruin," coming Tuesday and Wednesday, December 11-12. It is the life story of a delinquent girl. Manager Morley never caters to the sordid, this picture presents the pitfalls set for the young in such a manner as to make them thrilling real dangers, and shows how they may be recognized and avoided.

The wholesome girl athlete, Bebe Daniels, is here December 13-14 in "Take Me Home." Her thrilling stunts, and strong feminine appeal, make her a most pronounced favorite with the fans.

Another peak in December will be Buster Keaton's "College," here December 29. It is the story of a boy, neighbor who wins the athletic medals in high school, school, but is driven to athletics in college, only to fail miserably through lack of what his parents kept him out of in high school too long. How he finally wins through is a stirring chronicle.

There are the usual number of stars in superb vehicles, that would be headlines at theatres with programs not so crowded with the greatest ones. Tom Mix and Buck Jones will both show their western wares during the month. Rin Tin Tin, the big dog, will have the kids on the edges of the seats. Billy Dove and Marjorie Davies will cause many a heart flutter.

Then there is Clara Bow in "Three Week Ends, December 25-26. This famous red-head, over-charged with "It," says Elinor Glynn, is in a serious condition, resulting from exposure at a football game last Saturday. Her rapid rise to popularity proves that she has both personality and artistry.

On July 2, 1862 Sheridan's brigade faced a detachment of Confederate soldiers stationed in a wood near Gordville, Miss. As a strategy to distract their attention and create a diversion of forces that would be favorable to a frontal attack, Sheridan sent parts of four companies, including 24 men of Co. L, to the rear of the wood to charge through. The first time they surprised the Confederates who were scattered through the timber and came through without material loss. Then Sheridan sent them back for a second charge, and they were met by a rearguard of Confederates. The charge was led by Capt. Alger, who later became Governor of Michigan.

The second charge proved disastrous as far as the fates of the individual men were concerned. Of the detachment of 24 from Co. L, 10 were captured, including Harrison Barnhouse. John Bee of Niles, the company saddler, was killed outright. Corporal Anderson of Cassopolis died later from a bullet through the neck. Eight others were wounded, but managed to ride back. Capt. Alger, commander, incurred a crushed leg when his horse ran against a tree.

Among others who were captured were Roger Burns, who for many years after the war lived near Lake Madron. Burns' horse was shot under him and he was ordered to halt by a Confederate. "Stop, you Yankee!" shouted the Confederate as he bore down on Burns on horseback. Burns kept on running and his pursuer caught up with him, striking him over the head with a saber and making a wound, the scar of which he carried for life.

"If you'd stopped when I told you to, I wouldn't have struck," shouted the Confederate. Burns was whirling drawing his pistol as he did so and shouting:

"We'll see who's a—" he shot the southerner down. Other rebel soldiers closed in on him and he was taken with Barnhouse and eight others to the Confederate prison at Macon, Ga. There Barnhouse remained six months until he was exchanged. Fraternal influences were rumored to have aided in securing his release, as he was an old Civil War hero.

After the war Barnhouse settled on a farm near Buchanan and lived there until his death about twelve years ago. He was buried beside his parents in the old Reynolds cemetery, at one time called the "Virginia burying ground" in the Treat & Howe addition. A slab was placed over his grave, but that has been overturned and apparently buried under leaves and forest drift.

Jones will both show their western wares during the month. Rin Tin Tin, the big dog, will have the kids on the edges of the seats. Billy Dove and Marjorie Davies will cause many a heart flutter.

Then there is Clara Bow in "Three Week Ends, December 25-26. This famous red-head, over-charged with "It," says Elinor Glynn, is in a serious condition, resulting from exposure at a football game last Saturday. Her rapid rise to popularity proves that she has both personality and artistry.

On July 2, 1862 Sheridan's brigade faced a detachment of Confederate soldiers stationed in a wood near Gordville, Miss. As a strategy to distract their attention and create a diversion of forces that would be favorable to a frontal attack, Sheridan sent parts of four companies, including 24 men of Co. L, to the rear of the wood to charge through. The first time they surprised the Confederates who were scattered through the timber and came through without material loss. Then Sheridan sent them back for a second charge, and they were met by a rearguard of Confederates. The charge was led by Capt. Alger, who later became Governor of Michigan.

The second charge proved disastrous as far as the fates of the individual men were concerned. Of the detachment of 24 from Co. L, 10 were captured, including Harrison Barnhouse. John Bee of Niles, the company saddler, was killed outright. Corporal Anderson of Cassopolis died later from a bullet through the neck. Eight others were wounded, but managed to ride back. Capt. GALIEN SENIORS
PLEASE PUBLIC IN POOR FATHER3 ACT FAROE PRESENTED AT TOWN HALL THURS.
AND FRI. NIGHTS

The Galien public was indebted last week to the senior class of the Galien high school for two successive evenings of genuine entertainment, through their very creditable presentation of "Poor Father," a three act comic skit staged Thursday and Friday evenings at the town hall.

There were no heavy leads, with the exception of the comic part of the negro servant, which was well done by Emmett Harroff. The remainder of the dialogue was well done Emmett Harroff. The remainder of dialogue was distributed between Floyd Swem as the hard pressed father, Lyle Doyle as his son, the student of psychology, Muriel Ingham as the distracted mother, Sydney Domm as the wealthy bachelor, Ella Slocum, the vamping actress, and two mysterious maidens who played male parts. The leads were carried with unusual skill for high school students.

Evelyn Batten in the minor comic part of the French maid was one of the hits of the play. Vereta Hess, Thelma Lintner, and Nola Vanilburg were very good in minor part as eligible daughters.

Steadily Increasing

The miles of surfaced rural roads in this country are steadily increasing. In 1904, the length of surfaced rural roads was 153,550 miles. In 1926 it was 350,000.

Mrs. Myrtle Howell
31, Dies Tues. in Pawating Hospital

Our community was shocked Tuesday afternoon when word was received of the death of Mrs. Stanley Howell, at the age of 31 years, who passed away at the Pawating hospital at Niles, where she had been taken by her request in the morning. Myrtle, as she was known and loved by every one who knew her, was born and raised in Galien, and held in the highest esteem. Last winter, on account of poor health, she lived with her aunt, Mrs. Cleve Horner, who had a room built that she might live out in the fresh air. Her mother, Mrs. Joseph Riegel of Jackson, Mich., has been caring for her the past three weeks. She leaves to mourn her husband and one son Robert, who is eleven years old, her father and mother, and one sister, Mrs. Harvey Swem.

Alice Sebasty

Miss Alice Marie Sebasty, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Sebasty of New Carlisle, Ind., became the bride of Clayton Fuller Dorr of Galien, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa E. Dorr of Belding, Mich., at a ceremony performed at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, Nov. 27, in the chapel of the First M. E. church of South Bend, Ind. The Rev. Albert Moner of the First M. E. church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends. The double ring service was used. They were attended by Miss Dorothy Irene Dorr, sister of the groom, who was maid of honor, and Mr. Harold Laycock of Galien, Mich., who acted as groomsmen.

Miss Sebasty wore a gown of ivory chiffon velvet and silver lace. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Miss Dorr wore a gown of peach taffeta and carried transparent roses. Miss Nina Moore played Lohengrin's wedding march for the bridal procession, and during the ceremony played "Because" and "I Love You Truly," with violin accompaniment. Mr. Louis Sebasty acted as usher.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Dorr will be at home at Galien, Mich.

It was a gay Scotch wedding. Beside the river Clyde, Yes, all were gay save Sandy—He gave away the bride! "Now that the Gideons have a Bible in every hotel room, what do you suppose they'll be doing next?" "Putting a hymnal in every bathroom."

DIRT MENACE
SAYS CHICAGO
MILK TESTERHealth Dept. Head Talks to Galien
Dairymen

80 ARE PRESENT

Value Cooperative Milk Testing Is Urged

A meeting of about 80 dairymen and farmers was held at the Galien town hall Tuesday evening at the call of the Elgin Milk Products company, J. Hoinville presiding.

At the opening of the meeting a selection was played by the Conklin family, comprising Rev. Conklin and son, Paul, violinists, Wayne with a trombone, and Miss Ruth at the piano. Mr. Oakman, president of the Elgin Milk Products company, then gave a short talk, asking for the good will of the farmers and urging cleaner milk. Following his talk, Miss Marie Jannasch sang "Sonny Boy," accompanied by Mrs. Ward Jones. Inspector Taylor of the Health department of the city of Chicago then talked on advanced methods in the handling of milk and describing the effect of dirt or contamination in the product. He said that butter fat tests depended on way the milk is cooled. He described the manner of transmission of disease through milk. Whitewashing of barns is a sanitary measure, as necessary to the farm animals as house cleaning in the home, Taylor said.

At the close of his talk, the Conklin family rendered another musical selection.

The speaker of the evening, Bert Thomas of the Chicago Health Department, was then introduced. Thomas stated that he had been a farmer himself until two years ago, and he talked from that angle. He said that no money could be made in the dairy business, unless the farmer was familiar with the problems of rearing the cow to maturity and proper feeding afterwards. He said that he was a pioneer member of the first cow testing formed in the United States, 18 years ago. He advised a herd of at least 10 cows, five to freshen in the spring and five in the fall. The dairyman should select one breed and then stick to that breed, Thomas stated. The cow can not always be judged by her looks, he said, and must be tested. The water supply in the winter is very important.

tant, Thomas said, and should be warmed to a 55 degree heat, as too much food is required to warm up ice water.

The Chicago market has a right to make conditions of the product which they receive, Thomas said, as they receive the milk from 35,000 to 40,000 farms daily. While a small amount of dirt might not harm when the product is consumed fresh, after the milk has stood 30 hours or more the bacteria have a chance to affect it.

If farmers are cut off the list by one milk distribution company they will have a hard time to make connections with another company, he stated, as the requirements are practically the same. The milk of Chicago is inspected by men who must be fitted for their work, and whose jobs do not come through political pull, he said. Out of a hundred who passed the examination for an inspectorship, only eight or nine passed.

After the conclusion of his speech, refreshments were served by the ladies.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT FOR HIGH HOOP SQUAD

Stars Of Last Year Are Available Again

COACH HOPEFUL

Season Opens With Cassopolis Is Here Dec. 7

The coming basketball season is very rosy for the Buchanan high squad. A large squad of men answered Coach Bradford's call last week.

Seven letter men are back: Savoldi, Knight, Pierce, Roe, Squires, Smith, and Morse, from the team which won its way through the District and Regional Tournaments losing to Plainville in the first game at the State Tournament. Fette, Cubb, Bristol and Pfingst, husky Reserves of last season, also return to scrap for a place on the first squad of ten. With such experienced men and many more being made, the outlook is fine for the opening game December 7, here, with Cassopolis, who is out for revenge due to the trimming handed to her this year in football.

Last season the team did only fair work before the tournament, losing seven out of twelve games on the regular schedule, Niles and Bridgman winning twice, and St. Joe, Benton Harbor, and Three Oaks winning one apiece. St. Joe and Benton Harbor are not on this year's schedule.

Coach Bradford makes no prophecies, but says he has what few coaches possess this year, a team of championship calibre if the season opened tomorrow. The team cannot and will not rest on its former performance, for its ambitions run high this year.

The 1927-28 squad had some outstanding players who are with us this year. They are: Morse, picked as the best running guard at all three tournaments, in class C; Pierce, best class C center in Southwest Michigan last year; Savoldi, declared best forward in the Regional tournament at Kalamazoo; and Roe, who repeatedly sank baskets at critical moments from two-thirds of the way down the floor.

The 1928-29 schedule as announced by Principal Ormiston is: Dec. 7, Cassopolis, here; Dec. 14, Bridgman, here; Dec. 21, Niles, here; Jan. 4, Berrien Springs, there; Jan. 11, Dowagiac, there; Jan. 18, Three Oaks, there; Jan. 25, Bridgman, there; Feb. 1, Three Oaks, here; Feb. 5, Dowagiac, here; Feb. 8, Niles, there; Feb. 15, Berrien Springs, here; Feb. 19, Galien, here; Feb. 22, Cassopolis, here.

Latin I Class Organizes Club

The first year Latin class, during their class period last Friday, organized a Latin club. The following officers were elected:

President—Philip Hanlin.
Vice President—Kathryn Portz.
Secretary—Teresa White.
Treasurer—John Stayer.

The name chosen for the club is "Docti Adolescentes." The club motto is "Crescat Scientia." The second Friday in each month is the day chosen for the meetings, which will be held in the class period. A committee was appointed by the president to arrange a program for the first meeting, which will be held on Dec. 14.

Miss Shriver is the club advisor and is also club "bouncer."

Junior High News

Members of the Seventh Grade reading classes have been studying the King Arthur stories. At present, they are making a miniature newspaper representative of the times of the knights. Sketches, news articles, poems, and advertisements have been contributed. Some work has been done, also, in soap projects, in connection with the Round Table Stories.

An educational class has been started for the teachers. This class meets once a week under the supervision of Ray Pallet of Kalamazoo Western State College. The subject under discussion is "Study of the Abnormal Child." Eighteen members of the Buchanan school faculty are enrolled.

Don't Be Plugged Nickel, Says Staver

Rev. Staver of the Presbyterian Church spoke, Friday morning, to the High School on a Thanksgiving theme, speaking of it as an asset, rather than a duty or looking at it as a historical date.

The first asset mentioned by Mr. Staver was that of improving appearances. "Our unconscious acts have a great deal to do with our appearance, and if we have a good soul beneath, our personal appearance will be better to look upon."

The second and third assets mentioned were social charm and increase of spiritual powers. Each topic was so well worked out that the student body appreciated greatly what was said. Mr. Staver's final sentence, "Do not be a plugged nickel, but be a gold dollar," summed up very definitely what he had been saying.

L. A. Kaler Heads Teachers' Club

In a general faculty meeting last Tuesday night, it was decided to organize a Teachers' Club. A constitution and by-laws were submitted and adopted, and officers were elected. The officers were L. A. Kaler, head of the mathematics department, president; Hollis Clayton, fourth grade, vice president; Mable Niffenegger, head of the commercial department, secretary; and Laura French, second grade, treasurer.

The purpose of this club is: to secure for its members whatever advantages, social and intellectual, can be derived from cooperation.

2. To advance the welfare of the teaching profession.

3. To promote a feeling of fellowship among the teachers.

4. To create, in the community at large, a deeper sense of the importance of the interests which teachers represent.

Junior High Home Economics. The seventh grade class in Home Economics are finishing their fourth project in sewing. So far this year, they have made pin-cushions for their work boxes, head bands for cooking next year, chicken holders for the kitchen, and a handy pad and pencil holder for mother's grocery list or new recipes.

The eighth grade foods class are studying the breakfast unit, and are now entering upon the subject of eggs and egg cookery.

Mysterious Rites Held For Entrance Girls Ath. Assoc.

For the past week, certain girls in the student body have been seen in the class rooms and halls wearing dunce caps, and carrying umbrellas, eggs, and various other articles. It has since been learned that these people were being initiated into the Girls' Athletic Association.

The initiation was brought to a climax and conclusion Thursday night, when a final initiation was given at the high school. After being led through various "spooky rooms" and forced to eat various mixtures, the girls were proclaimed members of the G. A. A.

Upon entrance each girl was awarded numerals, and these were given out in Friday morning assembly. The following girls were given entrance: Ruby Boltz, Emma Bohl, Lena Koenigshof, Wilma Wilcox, Helma Rastatter, Cleo Cook, Louise Strally, Esther Bradley.

Routine

The Velmarian Literary Society, consisting of the Senior English class, held their monthly meeting Friday morning. Due to the absence of the president, Robert Morse, vice president, was in charge, and Harry Banke substituted for the critic of the club. The program consisted of "The History of Football" by Fred Smith, and a book review by Marie Chappell, by Virginia Snowden. Roll call was answered by naming a favorite Thanksgiving dish.

Eugene Hubbard Honored Thursday By House Warming

The members of the teaching staff of the Buchanan schools called upon Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hubbard last Thursday evening about 6:00. They brought with them bulging baskets and packages which produced a variety of good things to eat. The teachers disposed of this food in their usual prompt and thorough manner. Bridge was enjoyed later in the evening.

The affair was in the nature of a house-warming for Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, who moved here from Gwynn, Mich., at the opening of the school year. Mr. Hubbard is head of the Science department of the high school.

FOOTBALL SQUAD GUESTS ANNUAL BANQUET DEC. 6

WESTERN STATE COACH SPEAKER: 250 TICKETS

The annual Buchanan High Football Banquet will be held December 6, at the high school. Judge Hynes, coach at the Western State Teachers' College, is the speaker of the evening. Mr. Hynes is an all-around athlete and a former player on the Cub baseball team of Chicago.

The banquet is sponsored annually by the Girls' athletic association which sells hot dogs, candy, and other things at the games. The G. A. A. recently took in a number of new members, and had a fine time initiating them last week.

There will be only 250 tickets sold as that is believed the limit for the comfort of those attending. The tickets will be on sale at the High School and at Bud Frouds' Store, next to Mead's Barber Shop.

It's a fine banquet and tickets are few, so you sport fans had better get your's while the getting is good.

Buchanan Debaters Meet Niles Dec. 7

High School Debaters are working more earnestly than ever on the question: "Resolved; that a federal subsidy for the development of the American Merchant Marine would be a wise national policy," since their defeat at the hands of Dowagiac's team in the first preliminary debate.

In order to remain in the running, the team must win their next three debates, or the rest of the preliminaries.

The squad's efforts are dedoubled since their defeat. Every member of the squad is doing his best to make the team which is to debate Niles, some time during the week of December 7th.

The High School Operetta, scheduled to be given Tuesday of this week, has been indefinitely postponed, due to the fact that the books were late in arriving, causing practices to begin late.

Fair Enough

An Irishman passed a general store where a notice was hung saying, "that everything was sold by the yard. He thought he'd play a joke on the grocery clerk, so he asked for a yard of milk. The clerk, not to be outdone, dipped his finger in the milk and drew a line a yard long on the counter. "Five cents, please," he said. "All right," flashed the Irishman, "roll it up and I'll take it."

The young folks orchestra of Galien gave several numbers at the M. E. church services Sunday during the morning services which were highly appreciated. The young folks were from the parsonage playing the saxophone, trombone and violin and Miss Boneta Wentland, the piano. Ralph Sowersby gave a vocal solo, "I am glad he cares," and Rev. Conklin gave one of his interesting sermons.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swam of Galien were visitors at the M. E. church services.

A solo was given by Mrs. Sizer which was much appreciated. Ice cream and cake were served during the business session. Committees were appointed by the president, Mrs. Bihlmire, to look around the three places, Sawyer, Glendora and New Troy, each one being represented by members to see if there were any children who would need help Christmas and report at next meeting. It was also voted to give $5.00 to the Red Cross.

A very delicious Thanksgiving dinner were enjoyed by the Trojan Woman's club at their regular meeting Thursday held at the Boyd home. Three long tables were spread in the spacious living room decorated with flowers and fruit and fairly groaned with the weight of food spread upon them.

Roast chicken and all the accessories were in evidence. The president, Mrs. Bihlmire, in a very able manner presided as toast mistress and excellent toasts were given. Mrs. Emma Dillenbeck, a member from Harbert after having given one in regard to the future of the club for the remainder of the year, stated it would be her last meeting until May, as on Dec. 19, she would leave for New York City on a trip around the world, and would not get back until then. All rejoiced at her good fortune, although she will be missed. After toasts, a book review by Mrs. Piper was given of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" a beautiful romance, showing much careful preparation.

Mrs. Flora Addison and Mrs. S. McKeen who have been spending the past two weeks with relatives and friends in Oak Park and Chicago returned to their home here Saturday afternoon accompanied by a sister, Mrs. C. Peterson, son Ray, and daughter Alice. The Petersens returned home Sunday.

Junior Fletcher, son of Mrs. Della Fletcher of Buchanan has been staying the past week with his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tatro of Sawyer. His mother came Sunday and took him to his home in Buchanan.

Word was received here today that George Kremble, a former student here, was found unconscious on the streets of Grand Rapids. He had started to the depot to meet his wife. He is very ill in a hospital there. He has been a teacher in the schools there for several years. He was a graduate of New Troy high school in 1914. There was only one other graduate at that time, Mary Barnhart Smith and in the fall they both went to the County Normal and received a diploma from there, becoming teachers in the southwestern part of the county. George has since attended the State Normal at Kalamazoo, and has many friends over this part of the county. When word was sent it was not known whether it was an accident or result of a stroke.

Mich. Blue Blood In International At Chicago Dec. 1-8

East Lansing, Nov. 29.—Michigan will be well represented at the International Livestock Show at Chicago, Dec. 1 to 8, with entries by farmers of the state who are outstanding as livestock breeders, in addition to large number of animals to be entered by the Michigan State College.

Twelve horses will be entered by the college—seven Percherons and five Belgians. Maple Grove Leila, twice Grand champion at Chicago, will again compete at the International.

Five Shorthorn, four Hereford and three Aberdeen Angus steers will make up the entry list of cattle. Among the steers to be exhibited will be the yearling Hereford which was Reserve Grand Champion at the Michigan State Fair.

The 1928 International Livestock Exposition is expected to be outstanding in comparison with previous shows. In addition to the livestock show, a large number of the leading Agricultural colleges of the country will have exhibits showing results of their experimental work in livestock feeding and crop production.

Simple Salads Best

Salads need not be elaborate in order to be delicious and wholesome. In fact, a number of the most satisfying salads are the simplest. Iced lettuce hearts with Roquefort or Russian dressing, apple and celery salad, shredded cabbage, green pepper and onion with plain cream dressing, leftover vegetables molded in lemon-flavored gelatin—all these are easy to prepare and all are favorites with the family.

The store abounds with beautiful gifts—dis-tinctive gifts—practical gifts—gifts in good taste—artistic gifts—gifts of a character unknown to most other stores—gifts that will not wait until Christmas... It is the season of Christmas in the store that smacks of Christmas cheer—show cases, ledges and counters are trimmed in jolly Christmas colours. The atmosphere is cheerful, mysteriously warm with the spirit of Yuletide—it is genuine—you feel it the minute you enter our doors—salespeople are unhurried—there's a sparkle in their eye—and they're eager and ready to help you get your gift shopping done so that right before Christmas you can walk about town with an air of conscious satisfaction and ease over the crowds of late, last minute shoppers. The selections of holiday gift merchandise is tremendously varied—and the prices are lowest possible.

Those gifts you'll send out-of-town friends and relatives should be bought now, so that you can mail them early and assure their timely arrival.

SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day was established in this country as a solemn religious service, a festival of praise for a bounteous harvest and many other blessings, and an appeal to the Giver of all good to continue protection, care and blessings through the year to come. It was founded by happy pioneers, in a new country, battling with enemies, facing privations, devout men and women who had sought homes in a land where they could worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences. They relied on God for forgiveness, guidance and protection.

Many changes have come to this country since that first Thanksgiving service in 1621. New customs have been adopted, the world today is very different from the world of 1621, but all the changes have not robbed Thanksgiving Day of its religious feature and significance. There will be many observances today, and the religious note will be sounded at a vast number of places. The nation of the day rouses that thought and makes it prominent. Those old pioneers were not in error when they decided it was meet and proper for those who had enjoyed so much of the favor and bounty of the Almighty to cease from their labors and devoutly acknowledge their dependence on the Supreme Ruler. Man-kind owes appreciation for favors, no matter from what source they may come.

Students of democracy find much yet to be won if man is to develop in any nation a model government of the people, yet, all shortcomings of democracy admitted, there is no land so fortunate today as the United States, no other land where material success is so great, where it is so possible to meet daily needs and minister to the better things of life. It was his application of these facts, doubtless, that caused President Coolidge to use the language he employed in his unusual proclamation for Thanksgiving Day this year. This country has had dire misfortunes, with an abundance in the hands of the people to ease the sufferings. The hardships of the human lot have been illustrated in gifts of enormous amounts that human suffering might be stopped. As the president said, we have been able to rejoice in our ability to give relief. And giving to sufferers marks the giver as having learned one of the great lessons of life. Our fortunes are for use, for those dependent on us, for our neighbors in distress.

THE UNTRAINED HUNTER

In 1928, as in former years, there has been shocking loss of life among men and boys who hurried to the fields and woods when the hunting season opened. Each day has brought its story of tragedy and sorrow. Someone was careless or inexperienced in handling a gun, some individual was maimed or some life lost, a needless sacrifice. Probably it will be much the same next year and the next. One is not a pessimist to expect still more stories of accidents and deaths.

In early days boys were instructed in the use of guns, the need for care for themselves and others was permanently impressed on their minds. No boy was permitted to carry a gun on a hunting trip until he had been given instructions at home and been in the field under the guidance of an experienced hunter. It was a through course of instruction that was given. Not the least effort was given to training the boy in considering the safety of others while he was hunting.

It is not so now. The boys in town and the men go to the fields and woods wholly untrained of the deadliness of their weapon, save, as directed toward game. They have not been taught thought for and consideration of others. They do not know how to carry a gun. With all the bloody disasters of the past they still try to pull a gun through a fence or hedge with the muzzle pointed toward their own body. They shoot wildly when game is flushed, never pausing to look if there are others in the range of their gun. It is not carelessness so much as inexperience.

If one notes the lack of training shown by many hunters one must marvel at the small number of deaths and accidents when compared with the possible dangers inexperienced men develop in their hunting. There is a large measure of good fortune for others who are hunting or near them for any other purpose, when so few are killed. The hunter's license gives them the right to hunt, but it does not insure their ability to hunt with safety to themselves or others. So long as men and boys unfamiliar with weapons, hurry to the fields for hunting there will be accidents, just as there would be more accidents if the busy highways were thronged with inexperienced drivers who sought to travel at high speed.

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS

Western states recognized the importance of improved highways in deciding some questions at issue in the recent election. As a result of the wise decisions highway development work in a number of states will be continued vigorously during the coming years.

Iowa voted approval of a bond issue of $100,000,000 with which to push forward the good roads campaign. Missouri voted an issue of bonds amounting to $70,000,000 for the same purpose, that being the second large bond issue for good roads. Kansas went much farther and amended the state constitution to permit the development of a state system of highways. In making that change the old and vain county unit system will be abolished.

Tourists through the West will welcome the change in Kansas as there has been no continuous good road across the state thus far. The county system failed to function in cross state lines. Kansas was moved to make the change by a vigorous campaign, and by the statement made by both her senators that $3,000,000 of federal good roads funds would not come to Kansas until she made her highway system a co-ordinate part of the national system.

Tourists leave millions of dollars along the highways and that sum will be increased with the years. Kansas will hurry along her state system now and be able to share in the tourist prosperity other states have sought so eagerly. Better than that, Kansas has pushed aside a wrong plan to which she has been clinging and has adopted the larger and better plan. Ohio knows the importance of the tourist trade, and Ohio has been enjoying the advantage of state highways for years.

WHEN THE MARKET BREAKS

It hardly seems that the beginning of a great slump in the New York stock market can be delayed much longer. The great bull movement has continued almost without interruption since early last spring and it started from a pretty high level. Most of the popular stock are now selling at prices far in advance of their present intrinsic values as measured by conservative tests. There is bound to be a readjustment sooner or later and the recent feverishness of the stock market activities indicates that the time for the recession to begin is at hand. It may be sudden and violent or it may be gradual and orderly.

The effect of the break should not be at all disastrous to legitimate business enterprises. The banks, which have witnessed many bull movements and many slumps, no doubt are well secured. Their money is lent on conservative valuations of the collateral put up to protect the loans. Take a share of stock selling at $400 in this inflated market to the bank and you probably will find that you cannot borrow more than $200 on it, if that much. Moreover, that share of stock at $200 is intrinsically worth as much as it is at $400, representing just as much real wealth. The people who stand to lose when the house of cards comes down are the speculators and especially the small speculators, who do not know the game. It means hardship for a great many individuals, who will lose the savings they tried to multiply too rapidly, but it should mean no general depression in business.

There was some slight Democratic hope in Iowa but the advice from that sovereign state as revealed by the election returns are that a great majority of the people who had their money in the 1000 Iowa banks that have failed in the course of the last four years voted for the continuance of Republican prosperity.

A linotype operator in Waycross, Georgia, inherited $250,000 the other day and didn't do anything but faint when informed of the fact but what we wonder is how the leading editorial would look next morning if such a thing would happen to the proofreader.

One word that has acquired an entirely new meaning in the late campaign of education is whisperer and there is a prominent whisperer of our acquaintance who often sounded like a six-inch tire blowing out during the campaign.

There are a few things a reasonably conscientious Republican doesn't like to be reminded of and in our opinion the oil and public utility stocks showed rather bad taste in advancing to new high levels as soon as the great Republican victory became definitely assured.

Middle age is that period in life when you wish an hour or two after dinner that you had been content to let apple dumplings be a happy memory.

Our idea of a hard loser would be a Democrat who would demand a complete re-count.

About all that remains of the old-fashioned girl in these progressive times is the giggle.

Another thing we learned by actual observation yesterday is that people who think the modern world doesn't consider it important to pull anything up higher than it already is, even if the presence of a mouse in the room is suspected simply don't know.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness, and all of them required first a "Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" treatment. They were constipated. In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now the thin, constipated people using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being "used" a year.

have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home, where many, many, many people are to need it quickly. We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. The Old Timers' Corner

Business Men of other days Topic of Old Timers Letter

It is a strange thing the way things have altered and things that were simply "aint," any more. I was thinking of Right Bros. Wagon Works, the nice shiny red wagons, they used to turn out, when we were kids. Some mighty fine looking wagons, I'll say. Of course, there were the Studebaker wagons from South Bend, but that was a long drive, and you could get just as good a wagon at home. They were made in Buchanan and that helped a lot, also. The furniture factories there, also were of the best and when there was timber in the region and the country was still able to hold its own without artificial fertilizers, the old wagon works was running full blast and the smoke rolled out its chimneys and the pay roll was a good one, for those days, but where are the wagons now? They just simply "aint," that's all. To be sure there are a few left but they are all fitted up with fancy "breaks" and fol-de-rols; none of the old fashioned ones that depended entirely upon the driver to use the horse power for "breaks." It stood one well in hand to see to the harness, regularly, and see that the "breaching" and great deal depended up on the harness and the judgment of the driver. I often wonder what some of the drivers of the present day automobiles would have done in those days, with nothing to stop themselves with except judgment and the common sense of his team.

Speaking of harness, the old reliable harness maker, Jake Baker, a short heavy set German, used to be "mad as a hatter" when you came around with something for him to do that was a little out of the regulation.

It seems to me that his shop was in the Opera House Block, some place near where Harry Book has his meat market, I think or perhaps the next door west of that. He had a lot of bright shiny buckles and tassels for fancy harnesses that used to attract my eye, as a kid and I liked to go in there and hear him talk German. He had a great liking for "blinds" on all bridges, and used to get sore at my father because he insisted that his horses be allowed to see back as well as front. Our bridges all were of the "open" type and Jake didn't like that at all. He made a "buggy harness" for my father once and they had a great argument over the "blinds," etc., but he finally made it the way my father wanted it, but he was always telling me, on the side, that my father was a "crank," and how much better looking the blind-bridges were, etc., etc. All in his broken English, and it was a real treat to me to listen to him, no matter what he was raving about.

Speaking of Germans and some of the mix-ups that get into when they try to speak English, reminds me of an incident that happened many years ago, when we had horse cars here in Chicago, and the heat of the cars was furnished by stoves. Well, I was riding out No. Clark St. here in Chicago one day, and a German sat nearest seat to the door. A side seat, facing the middle of the car, and every time we came to a street crossing, the conductor would open the back door and call the name of the street, and leave the door open or partly open. It was pretty cold and the German was wearing low shoes. The cold air from the open door would strike his ankles and made him pretty sore. Each time the conductor would leave the door open, he would reach over from his seat and close it. Finally, after he had closed the door about a dozen times, he got "mad" and shook his fist in the face of the conductor, saying "Either make the door open, or don't close it at all!" and went farther up in the car and found a seat near the stove, where he found it more comfortable.

Well, Jake Baker was just such a German. Germans are like all the rest of us, that I often think what a handicap these foreigners are under, when they come to the country, not knowing the language, very well, and having new ways, new customs, etc., to get used to. In the city of Chicago we have so many of these foreigners that are helpless unless they find some one who is from their own country, and so we find them bunched up in settlements, scattered all over town, Germans, Swedes, Italians, Poles, etc., all living among themselves and dealing with people of their own race in so far as they can. Some of them will attend schools that are furnished for them, but mostly they learn from contact with the American people. I was amused not long since at a Polish fellow that worked for a Jew when he first came here, and now he is considered a very good American, but his English is decidedly Hebrew in dialect. He thinks he is talking the very finest of English.

So in my boyhood, I used to like to hear Jake Baker talk, and at one time was able to imitate him pretty well.

Another old timer that I was always interested in was D. C. Nash, whose store was at the north east corner of Front St. and Oak St. He had a lot of trouble with the kids, for they knew that it made him sore and they used to devil him just to hear him rave. Once his place caught on fire and he got very much excited, so much so disgrace to a farm, from my way of looking at it. It costs nothing at all, except a little labor and time, and the effect on one's self is enough, for mine, to make it imperative that such things should never be. Things about the farm should be kept as spic-and-pan, as in the home. Sloven people are a pity. But they were always among us and they always will be. Some men throw their clothes off and leave them lying around, any old place, expecting some one, usually their wives, to pick things up after them and when they want anything they never know where it is or where to look for it. How would you like to be the one to "pick things up"? Not me. I prefer to take care of my own things and know where they are.

Of course, where poverty is the handicap, then we can make allowances for them. But we had very little real poverty in Buchanan in those days. Any one could have a clean neat home if they were willing to work for every one. It was a good old town then and it is a good old town yet. No excuse for laziness, and that's what it means, in a majority of cases. Plenty of soap and water and if you have a wee bit of ambition, you can always look clean and be clean. Have a clean home and a right to hold your head up before people and know that all is right.

Old Timer.

S. W. Michigan Spud Show Nov. 26-28 in Kalamazoo Armory

The Southwestern Michigan Potato Show will be held in Kalamazoo, Nov. 26, 27, 28 at the Armory.

The counties in Southwestern Michigan that are behind the potato show are Allegan, Barry, Branch, Cass, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph, and Van Buren. The potato growers of Berrien County in their meetings last summer expressed themselves as being opposed to asking the Board of Supervisors at this time for an appropriation of $100 that the show organization asked of each county. So Berrien County is not behind the show as it should be.

The potato show is considered an educational event and every potato grower is invited to attend it. There is a program and a banquet at the Columbia Hotel at 6:30 Tuesday evening, Nov. 27.

There will be an exhibit of potatoes by growers. Something like $1200 is being offered in prizes. The State Department of Agriculture will show how potatoes should be graded and give an idea of inspection. Home Economics exhibits will be in charge of Miss Mary Moore of the Western State Teachers College. These exhibits are put on by classes in domestic science in various high schools, showing food value, health qualities and methods of cooking and serving the potatoes.

Arrangements have been made so that certified seed stock will be on hand, and an opportunity afforded people who desire to get certified seed to place their orders. Practically all of the machinery, will be present, thus giving every one a chance to see plows, planters, fertilizer attachments, seed cutters, diggers, sprayers and dusters. Everything is being done to try and bring to the potato grower information so that his potato growing will be more profitable. The whole show is intended to be educational. Admission is free.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

"Running a Temperature" When a fire breaks out, we sound the alarm; we hurry-scurry, breathless, excited—call the department—turn on the hose—a house is burning! If the fire is discovered in time, the building is saved. It is the fire that is overlooked—that destroys.

Now, these bodies of ours are the veritable houses we live in, and they sometimes catch fire, as physicians know. Then we begin to procrastinate; we wonder if the fever-fier won't die out of itself, if we keep on at work and let it alone. We hate to go to a doctor—and we can't really afford to lay off and be sick! You know how it is.

The fire grows into a holocaust. The physician, fire-chief, is called in a hurry; he finds the building in great danger of destruction, if not a total loss—just by neglect of the small fire.

If you are running a temperature—a little every afternoon—just after going to bed at night, consult your physician at once. The stitch in time may save a hundred later on. A fever invariably means that something is radically wrong; it is a warning. A battle is going on inside—the forces of good against the demons of evil; the cause of the warfare must be removed before peace will be declared. You may not recognize the cause, even if you know how to remove it. The physician is your best bet.

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate.

and a Maytag

Maytag Helpfulness Lasts for Years

Don't overlook those little gifts that reflect the spirit of friendship and good will. They are dear to a woman's heart. But perpetuate the Christmas joy by one gift that will bring a lifetime of good cheer—the Maytag.

The rarest, finest jewel of its kind—the Maytag radiates happiness and relieves wife or mother of the tiresomeness of washday. Fifty-two times a year for years and years, it changes washday to wash-hour.

Announcing -

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History - a Six in the price range of the four!

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History... a Six in the price range of the four!

Spectacular as Chevrolet's achievements have been in the past... notable as its engineering triumphs have proved themselves to be—this remarkable new car dwarfs every previous Chevrolet accomplishment. Not only does it introduce into the low-priced field an entirely new measure of performance, comfort, beauty and style—but it is sold at prices so low as to alter every previous conception of motor car value.

The new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—developed from more than a hundred motors designed especially for this sensational car—stands out as an engineering masterpiece. With a power increase of approximately 32% over the previous Chevrolet motor, with sensationally greater speed and faster acceleration—it offers a type of performance that is literally astounding... even to those who have been driving cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

Throughout the entire speed range, it performs with a smoothness and quietness of operation that have never before been approached in a low-priced automobile. At the slower speeds of city traffic it idles along with wonderful silence and ease. On boulevards and country roads it responds with an eagerness that is a constant delight. It takes the longest and steepest hills with an abundant reserve of power that is a source of pride to the driver. And its economy of operation averages better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

This revolutionary performance has been achieved as a result of the greatest array of engineering advancements that Chevrolet has ever announced. A high compression, non-detonating cylinder head... a new heavier crankshaft, statically and dynamically balanced... automatic lubrication of the entire rocker arm mechanism... semi-automatic spark control... hot-spot manifold... gasoline pump and filter... new and larger carburetor, with automatic acceleration pump and improved venturi choke... fabric camshaft gear... heavier driving gears... heavier differential gears... improved crankcase breathing system... improved lubrication... new 4-wheel brakes that are powerful, safe and quiet under all conditions—these indicate the importance of a group of engineering advancements that embrace every major unit of the entire chassis.

In appearance, this Outstanding Chevrolet is destined to become an automotive sensation—so smart, so stylish and so distinctively appointed that it rivals the costliest custom creations. The new Fisher bodies are longer, lower and roomier with adjustable driver's seat in all closed models—and reveal the matchless artistry of Fisher designers. With their modish new colors, their smart dual mouldings and their distinctive concave pillars, they achieve a degree of original beauty that has seldom been equalled in motor car design.

You are cordially invited to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information on this sensational new car which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.
