

STERLING TO SPEAK MAY 30

1929 Commencement Exercises to be Held Thursday June 6th WILL DELIVER MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS HERE

Now Here's the Proposition

Their Little Joke
By Hans

They pass the law and hire the cop
But there is really nothing to it,
For when we see a sign say "stop"
We go ahead and drive right thru it.

The question is, who runs the town
And we cannot afford to daily
So let us jam the gas feed down
And string the tin can thru the alley.

We'll think up nifty ways to beat
The law and frame some wise cracks which'll
Set Mayor Glover on his seat
And curl what hair's left on Ed Mitchell.

They threaten prison walls and saves
But we will drain the fiery flagons
And date up other fellows
And hell around in devil wagons.

The village duds can rave about
And roar until they burn a ton.
But we will let our dogs run out
And put the muzzles on the council.

We'll put 'em right down on their knees
It is not worth our while to pet
'em.
We're gonna do as we dam please
If they can stop us—let 'em let
'em!

HUNTING OIL?
BANANA OIL,
SAY DRILLERS

"Black Gold" Tales Have No
Foundation, Say S. B.
Well Men.

HAVE A SMALL DRILL

Drillers in the employ of the Indiana & Michigan Water Exploration company, which is sinking a hole on the Gust Villwock farm, six miles northeast of Buchanan, denied yesterday afternoon that they were looking for "black gold" or anything else out of the ordinary run of their business.

Work was begun Monday with a small water well drilling outfit, with which it is possible to sink a well 750 feet under favorable conditions. They bored down 80 feet the first day, and the second day they installed a night shift and went down 40 feet more, having more trouble with shale and hardpan. Yesterday they had reached 175 feet.

"We are exploring for water first, and then for clay and shale. We will probably not go very deep and we will quit when we strike the shale we are looking for," said the foreman in charge of the work. "We make a business of drilling wells, and the drilling of test wells to establish the formations of the region is part of that business. We have contracts coming up for drilling and installation of wells in Buchanan. There is no special significance to our operation here."

House Made From Hollowed Log is Coming Here Tues.

On Tuesday of next week from four o'clock on, the people of Buchanan will have an opportunity to witness a curiosity which has been advertised far and wide as "the house made out of one log." Briefly, it comprises a Douglas fir log, 16 feet long and 8 feet in diameter, hollowed out into a two-room apartment mounted on a truck and trailer. It is being shown thru the country by the maker, E. A. Wade of Aberdeen, Wash., who constructed it from a giant fir tree of the northwest forests. He is travelling under the auspices of the National Lumbermen's association and came to Buchanan thru the negotiations of the Buchanan Lumber Co.

REV. NUCKOLS
OF DETROIT TO GIVE ADDRESS

Rev. Henry Liddicoat Will Give the Baccalaureate Address.

38 MEMBERS IN CLASS

Virginia Snowden Ranks the Highest in Scholarship in Class.

Commencement activities for the graduation of the 1929 class of the Buchanan high school will begin tonight, with the presentation of "Tons of Money" by a cast of Seniors, and will conclude Thursday evening, June 6, two weeks later, with the formal Commencement exercises at which Rev. Geo. L. Nuckols of Detroit, will deliver the address and diplomas will be granted to a class of 38 graduates.

Rev. Nuckols is a speaker very much in demand for public occasions, and is not a stranger here, having delivered the Commencement address at Niles last year, and addressed union club meetings at the Twin Cities.

The Junior-Senior reception, the principal social event of the school year, will be held Friday evening, May 31. The baccalaureate exercises will be held on the evening of Sunday, June 2, Rev. Henry Liddicoat of the Methodist church, preaching on the subject, "Ships Upon Life's Seas."

The Senior picnic will be held on Wednesday, June 5. Commencement exercises the following night, Virginia Snowden leads the class in scholarship, with Richard Dellinger second.

Fred Schwartz is Wedded May 15 at Valparaiso, Ind.

Another of Buchanan's carefree and happy bachelors succumbed to the inevitable last week, when Fred Schwartz, added Miss Harriet Sherman of Rock Island, Ill., the marriage taking place at Valparaiso, Ind., Wednesday, May 15. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Carl Stewart at the Baptist parsonage, after which the happy couple left for a visit at the bride's home in Rock Island. They are now at home to their friends at 411 Moccasin Avenue.

Junior High Will Hold Commencement
Exercises June 7

The eighth grade of the Junior High school will hold graduation exercises in the auditorium on the afternoon of Friday, June 7, beginning at 2 p. m., following the announcement of promotions. All students of the public schools will call at the high school building during the afternoon to receive grades and promotions.

The Traffic Cop
Will Get You if You
Don't Watch Out

A motorcycle cop is being installed on the streets of Buchanan very soon, according to a statement by Mayor C. V. Glover this morning, and reckless speeders are warned that action will be taken to stop violations of city traffic regulations, without regard to persons. The officer has been employed for the remainder of the summer.

Royal Neighbors
To Be Guests of Niles Lodge Fri.

The Royal Neighbors of Buchanan are accepting an invitation to be guests of the Niles lodge at a social gathering to be held in the hall of the latter organization on Friday evening. The Berrien Springs organization will also be guests. A supper will be served at 7:30 p. m.

Canceling Germany's War Debt

This photograph, from Berlin, shows an incidental operation in the paying of Germany's war debt. A great heap of strips is all that is left after the cutting machine has operated on the war indemnity certificates, returned marked "Paid in Full."

MRS. W. J. WALLS
EXPIRES SUNDAY,
17 DAYS ILLNESS

SECOND DEATH IN FAMILY
WITHIN PAST SIX MONTHS.

Mrs. W. J. Walls, 61, died Friday morning May 17, at her home at 305 North Detroit street, after an illness which lasted several months, but which had confined her to her bed only since May 1.

Her name before marriage was Sarah Elizabeth Cottrell, and she was born Oct. 13, 1867 to James and Elizabeth Cottrell at Buchanan, Pike county, Ohio. In the autumn of 1887 she was wedded to William Jackson Walls and they made their home in Champaign county, Ohio, until they moved to Buchanan in the spring of 1916.

Although she had been ill since last winter, she was nevertheless able to continue her household duties until May 1. The cause of death was quinsy, with resultant complications.

A son, Earl Walls, preceded her in death Dec. 13, 1925, as the result of an illness developing from army service.

In addition to her husband she is survived by five children, Mrs. Wm. Wolford of Niles; Mrs. Louis May, Miss Ethel, Chase, and Jackson of Buchanan. Two children, Earl and Mrs. Clifford Likes, preceded her in death. One brother survives, John Cottrell of Columbus, Ohio. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. Mary Walls of Hollandale, Fla.; Mrs. Wm. Dotson of Latham, O.; Miss Mary Cottrell of Columbus, Ohio. Seventeen grandchildren survive.

The funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday from the home at 305 North Detroit street. Rev. Henry Liddicoat preaching the funeral sermon. Interment was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Clear Lake Youth
Organize B. B. Team

Baseball has been added to the program at Clear Lake this summer, a team having been organized under the management of Arthur Ross, who played with the Buchanan Blues two years ago, and who will officiate at least part time on the mound. Frank Ross will be on of the receiving end of the battery. The team will play in foreign territory until a diamond can be laid out at the Lake. The nine has been christened the "Clear Lake Wildcats."

Indiana & Michigan
Extends Service to Clear Lake Woods

Negotiations which have been under way for some time for the installation of a side extension from the Indiana & Michigan power transmission line over M-60 to Clear Lake Woods resort, is now assured, according to information from the local office, and it is now believed that the resort will be open to the public by June 15.

Painters, plasterers and plumbers are all engaged on the hotel addition under construction by William Fette for Dr. H. A. Patton of Chicago. Fette will complete the carpenter work by the middle of next week.

Hipskind Lays Sewer Tile in Waterless Trench

In the neighborhood of 80 feet of sewer tile had been relaid on Portage street by this morning, progress being delayed on the start by the necessity of solving pumping problems. Hipskind has 60 well points installed at intervals of 12 inches on each side of the trench and is laying the pipe in a dry trench. Reed used only about a dozen well points and laid the tile under water, which is believed to have been the cause of his difficulties.

Scout Troop 41
Wins in Baseball
From Galien Troop

Troop 41 opened its park-ball season Monday evening in the high school gym by winning from Troop 51 of Galien 10 to 9 in an eleven inning game. The score became tied in the 8th inning 7 to 7, both teams making a run in the ninth and again in the tenth, but 41 managed to pull in a run after 51's unsuccessful try at bat, taking the game by one point in the two innings over time. Troop 51 is doing some fine work in Galien and deserve that town's backing.

Tuesday evening the regular meeting was held in the Legion hall because the M. E. church parlors were being used. Work on the coming Rally which may be staged here, was started and also drill for Decoration day. Memorial Day in the scouts will gather flowers from the town people and bring them to the Legion hall to be made into bouquets.

MRS. TWOMBLY
ENTERS SUIT
TO GAIN FARM

Denies Tales of the Press;
Threatens to Sue for Redress.

HAD NO CHAUFFEUR

No Costly Limousine; She Works for her Own
Living.

"I am here to protest a mortgage which I can prove was fraudulent and to regain possession of my own property," said Mrs. Ethel Twombly to a Record representative this morning.

"I have been here at Buchanan several weeks making arrangements for action in this direction. I did not come here by limousine with an assortment of fancy baggage, and with a male companion acting in the dual role of chauffeur, and all the traveling I have done by car since I have been here has been by a taxi which I hired locally, as I can easily prove."

Characterizing stories which have been circulated regarding her as malicious and libelous, Mrs. Twombly indignantly repudiated the tales, and stated that she expected to take action for redress through her attorney, Dudley Field Malone, famous New York City lawyer, as soon as the immediate business for which she is here is accomplished.

"Do I look as though I were driving in costly limousines with salaried chauffeurs?" she asked, calling attention to the plain attire in which she was garbed. "I have been making a living for myself and child for the past three years, working at a very moderate salary."

"I can prove that the mortgage given on my husband's home north of Buchanan in May, 1923, was fraudulent, having been signed by his 17 year old servant girl, Julia Mashek, who posed as his wife. It is my intention to recover it and to make my home here, my husband's home is our home—our child and myself. I feel that this part of Michigan is properly my residence as my people came from this section. My grandfather, John Philip Long, served as a commissioned officer in a Michigan infantry regiment during the Civil War. I have received a great many kindnesses from Buchanan people during my trouble here, and I feel that I am at home in the home of my people already."

"The estate which I am demanding as a home for myself and child is not worth $65,000, as anyone familiar with it knows. It is a small farm, now badly run down. But I have a right to it. My husband perjured himself in acquiring it, and he stole jewels and other property belonging to me to purchase it. Indictments have been entered against him in Chicago and New York courts for perjury and grand larceny and these charges will be hanging over him when his three year term expires."

"I may be a widow working to support myself and child, but I have friends who will see that I get legal redress. My attorney, Dudley Field Malone, is a family friend, as is also Frank P. Walsh, the famous attorney of Kansas City. In fact, it was the partner of Atty. Walsh who introduced me to Mr. Twombly. Walsh and he were friends but Walsh turned against him when he deserted me, and aided in bringing him to justice."

"All this talk about my rolling in affluence and travelling in expensive style, to recover $65,000 estates is so much hogwash. I never received a cent from my husband since he deserted me three years ago. I have worked since to support myself. It is because of influential friends that I am able to sue for my rights."

Representatives of the seventeen Home Economics clubs of Berrien county gathered May 21 at Lakeview to meet Mrs. Campbell, state extension leader, who addressed them on the possibility of securing a home demonstration agent for the county, for the purpose of reaching more women with the extension program and of carrying the work of the Four H clubs to the girls of the county.

Memory of a Loyal Indian Honored

Pocahontas, daughter of Chief Cook, the last king of the Panunkey Indians, unwilling a tribut to Chanco, who saved the Jamestown colony from massacre in 1622. Two-thirds of the people were killed and all would have been massacred if Chanco had not warned them in time. Chanco was a Christian Indian and the first to be honored by a monument in Virginia. The memorial is at Sixty court house.

Officer of Missionary Society Here May 30

Rev. Harley W. Hewitt, of Boston, Mass., secretary and treasurer of the American Advent Mission society, will speak at the Advent Christian church on Oak street, Thursday evening, May 30th at 7:30.

Rev. Hewitt, was in China at Nanjing, when the city was captured by the revolutionary forces and his address will be especially interesting to any wishing to become acquainted with the Chinese missionary field. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Arlie Mittan is
Wedded to Berrien
Springs Lady Mon.

Arlie Mittan of Buchanan and Miss Gladys Harper of Berrien Springs, were married at South Bend Monday, May 20, and will reside for the present at the home of the bride in Berrien Springs. Mittan is well known here, having been born and reared in Buchanan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mittan. The bride has made her home in Berrien Springs for a number of years.

East Lansing Team
Confers 5th Degree
At Mt. Tabor Hall

Members of Pomona Grange of Berrien County will be guests Saturday evening at the Mt. Tabor Grange hall, at which time the Michigan State College degree team, from East Lansing will be present to confer the fifth degree on a class of 20 candidates, from the Wagner, Mt. Tabor and other granges. The college team will be entertained by residents of the Mt. Tabor district. A large attendance is expected from outside granges. The fifth degree is the highest that may be conferred by a local grange.

Jr.-Sr. Reception
Will Be Held May 31

The biggest event of the year, socially, will take place on the night of May 31, the Junior-Senior reception. This reception is a time-honored annual affair in which the Juniors feted the Seniors just before Commencement.

At various times through the years, when the school was in session, the school socials were held in the homes, then in the churches and now that the school is larger with a large gymnasium, the gym is used. Much effort is being made to make this the most successful reception so far given in our school.

CITY COUNCIL
ADOPTS DAYLIGHT
SAVING SCHEDULE

RESPOND TO PLEAS OF INDUSTRY; TWO DISSENTING VOTES.

Buchanan shifted gears into fast time Monday morning, all business houses, industries and schools going on the daylight saving schedule as a result of adoption of the program by the city council, that body registering its approval with two dissenting votes.

The meeting was called by Mayor Glover as the result of increased agitation after the adoption of the fast time schedule at South Bend, the preceding week. Many of the merchants who had previously opposed the change, reversed their positions, due to inconvenience in business relations with South Bend. A special appeal was made by the management of the Clark Equipment company, which stated that the local offices were out of step with South Bend and Chicago three hours daily and with Detroit and Cleveland offices six hours daily. Travelling representatives of business firms found great difficulties due to the conflict in time schedules of various towns.

The Clark Equipment Company was represented at the meeting by M. L. Hanlin who acted as spokesman. Both banks also registered their approval, the Buchanan State bank being represented by Herbert Roe and Charles Lancia and the First National Bank by Charles Pears and A. F. Howe. The shift was made at midnight Sunday.

Lang Starts to Pour Cement on Walton Paving

Forms for the curbs at the approaches to the River street bridge on the Walton Road are being built today by the Lang Construction Company and the cement will be poured this week.

The steam shovel has practically completed excavations on 2900 feet from the bridge to the new Clark plant, making a three feet cut up the hill, and a 2.5 foot cut opposite the Clark plant. The dirt has been used to make a fill in the hollow opposite the Charles Bainton vineyard and to grade up Michigan street. Travel is being routed by way of Fulton street.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Del Bolster Sunday afternoon were her mother, Mrs. Bertha Hoffman of St. Joseph; her brother, George Hoffman and family of St. Joseph and her sister, Mrs. Mack Moulder and husband of Benton Harbor.

Legion Head Books Mayor of Benton Harbor
For Address.

PROGRAM AT TWO P. M.

John Dick in Charge of the Exercises at the Cemetery:

John J. Sterling, mayor of Benton Harbor and former Berrien County prosecuting attorney for several years, will deliver the Memorial Day address at the exercises to be held at Oak Ridge cemetery Thursday afternoon of next week, other arrangements suitable for the day having been made by Eugene Steele, local American Legion commander. The parade will form at the intersection of Front and Oak streets at 1 p. m., headed by the colors, which will be followed immediately by a firing squad and then by the veterans of the Civil War, Spanish American War and World War.

Allied women's patriotic organizations, Boy and Girl Scouts and any fraternal organizations of the city which may wish to join will follow.

The usual program will be held at the cemetery, beginning at 2 p. m. John Dick will be in charge of ceremonies. There will be four veterans of the Civil war will be able to attend the exercises this year, the remnant of the once large post. They are George Hanley, John Curtis, John Dick and Samuel Bunker.

Fette, Salisbury,
High Men at Traps

William Fette again demonstrated that the old eye is still in good working order by smashing 65 out of a possible 75 in the three frames at the grounds of the Buchanan Gun Club Sunday.

The margin by which he demonstrated his shooting superiority over Salisbury of Dayton was nothing to brag of, however, as the latter located 64 out of a possible 75 in three rounds. The scores of the 27 men competing in the shoot were:

William Fette, 23 22 20; Nelson, 8 8; Straub, 20 20; Salisbury, 23 21 18; Gleason, 13 19; Burrus, 16; V. Cook, 8; Delibac, 18 12 13; Hanover, 14 17; B. Phillips, 12 14 14; L. W. Phillips, 15 8; Letter, 16; Ray Hewitt, 18 21 18; Martin, 15 17; Earl Beck, 7 13; Bennett, 16 17; Rinker, 10 14; Rastetter, 5; Diment, 12 14; Dilley, 18 17; Manning, 19; Sands, 19.

It's Muzzle, Tie, or Vaccinate, Says
State Veterinarian

Persistent ignoring of the order received by town authorities from the state veterinarian, calling for rigid quarantine on all dogs may force the use of stern measures, according to President Glover.

Very little attention has been paid to the order, which left nothing optional with the town police as to its enforcement. Continued neglect to comply with the order to muzzle, tie or vaccinate may result in the loss of some valued household pets, if expected follow-up orders are received by Chief of Police Mitchell.

New Addition is Laid Out For
Workmen's Homes

Sale of lots and construction of moderately priced houses for disposal on small down payments and installments will begin soon on an addition now being opened by Harry Boyce and R. E. Schwartz, consisting of two large blocks plotted west of River street and along the south bank of the St. Joe river. The two blocks include 48 lots, and lie on high ground very favorably located for building. The development of the addition will sell the lots separately, or will build homes and sell both together. The beginning of sale awaits only a resurvey of the ground.

Edna Reed Wedded To Lester Roundy

Miss Edna Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reed of Buchanan, was married May 18, to Lester V. Roundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roundy, also of Buchanan, at South Bend, Ind. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Elmer Cole of the Christian church. Miss Lola Roundy and Victoria Geniesche were witnesses. Mr. Roundy is employed at the Campbell Transmission Co. plant. The couple will make their home at the residence of his parents.

Message of the Poppy
Buy me—I stand for service. I enable one cent to be made by an ex-service man in the hospital for whom the war is not yet over.
Wear me—I represent the sacrificial blood of the men who died in Flanders Field. I am a Memorial of all who have "gone west."
In reverence and understanding, wear me.

Here is a very simple way To cut your Feed Costs--

Feeders who find that they can mix their feeds cheaper than buying ready mixed rations are here offered the greatest advancement that has been made in the feed industry in recent years.

There is a method for Poultry, Hogs, Cows. The method enables you to use your own grain to the best possible advantage. All that you need to buy is the balancer for your own products and this costs you but little. The balancer which you buy contains the minerals and high concentrates. Mixed with your own grains you have the most efficient ration for proper nutrition of poultry and livestock.

If you require a ration for growing chicks, ask for Growing Balancer. For laying hens, ask for Egg Balancer. For pigs and hogs, Hog Balancer, for Cows, Dairy Balancer. Come in today and ask for more information about these Balancers.

Examination time is drawing nearer and nearer. There seems to be no way out, except for the seniors who have at least an A or B average. The large majority must prepare for the worst. Examinations, for some unknown reason, have always been a source of dread. Almost everyone must take them and almost everyone dreads them not necessarily because of their difficulty, but because they are a summary of half a year's work. They point out exactly what you know and what you don't know. There is the real reason for the hatred of examinations. They bring to light what you really are. There is scarcely any chance of being two-faced about it. It is the same way outside of school. Sooner or later you will be found out.

No one is expected to be eager about taking any kind of an examination, but if you can face the test without that despairing "sunk" feeling, you have accomplished something worth while. If your action and accomplishments before the examination represent your best, then the examination is an opportunity, not a means to destruction.

Grade News

Fifth Grade
Miss Hopkins' boys and girls enjoyed seeing Japanese water flowers bloom last Friday.

First Grade
The picture which we had in our room last week was "The Blue Boy."

For art work this week we are coloring spring flowers.

We enjoy our new nature books. Group A have read several stories in them.

Rivdo Ross is back in school after having the mumps.

Third Grade
Miss Simmons' grade has been 100 per cent in thrift for two weeks. We hope we can keep it up until the end of the year.

All the children were on time Monday morning notwithstanding the change in time.

We are reviewing and getting ready for the end of the year.

Melvin Maxson brought us two gold fish and an aquarium.

Sixth Grade
Eleven of our grade have received final certificates in Palmer this year—Victor McHenry, Geneva Troutetter, John Hattenbach, Albert Webb, Grace Sanford, Jack Dalenberg, Frances DiGiacomo, Marion Campbell, Phyllis Berostet, Junior Reinke and Anna Watry.

We are making a plan of the city of Rome on our sand table.

We are very sorry to lose Victor McHenry who, with his parents, have moved to California.

Our art class is making portfolios.

All the grade pupils are looking forward to having a goodly number of their parents with them during the day, Friday, May 24. This day has been set aside that the parents may feel more free to come to the school rooms, knowing that the teachers are expecting them and are prepared to give them some time during the day in going over any and all special cases about which the parents are anxiously concerned. Work along all lines done by the individual child has been kept in folders during the year, and this will be at the disposal of the parents.

Regular class work has been planned and the regular schedule will be carried out so far as this is possible. No formal exhibit is to be made in the grade rooms this year; so this is not a day of considering and weighing the best work done, but a day for a better understanding of existing conditions at the close of the year, that the parents may more fully grasp the importance of the grade of work done by the individual pupil during the last thirty-six weeks of school.

The first great work (a task performed by few) is that you yourself may be yourself. —Dillon

THE ECHO
"The Echo" has been completed. Our booklet is on sale, going strong. We hope this first effort meets with the approval of both parents, pupils and friends. The next issue, which will appear some time next fall, we feel sure, will be much more of a masterpiece than this. But considering this to be the first effort, the manipulating of the printing machine, unknown to most of the teachers, sorting and compiling into book form after regular school hours, we are quite sure the public will be lenient with their criticism. We wish to thank the parents again, for in this matter as in all others, the teachers find a hearty support in the sale of the booklet.

B. H. S Wins Points at Meet

Coach Harold "Curly" Bradfield took a crippled B. H. S. track squad to the sectional track and field meet at Kalamazoo Saturday, and returned home with two places, both being seconds. Ken Dunbar, whose specialty is the discus, tossed the iron platter 94 feet for a second in that event, and "Arn" Rothfuchs, who has been showing his heels to the mile runners around here, came in a good second in his event. Considering the marks established, the locals showed up real well. The winner in the discus threw it 102 feet, 2 1/2 feet farther than Dunbar's, and the time for the mile was 4:53 minutes with "Arn" about ten yards behind. Other Buchanan men who were entered also showed up well, most finishing just far enough back to fail to place. Buchanan was handicapped by the absence of Roe, Cooper and Pierce. The first two were forced to withdraw because of outside work, while Pierce, who does almost anything, was still on the ineligible list. This put quite an anchor on B. H. S. scores, since all three, undoubtedly, would have placed in their event.

However, the locals have had a fair season, despite the fact that this is the first year that track has received much attention. Bradfield took a green squad and developed some good prospects. He won the district meet at St. Joseph, swamping the rest of the field, after losing the first dual meet with the strong Dowagiac squad on a wintry afternoon. The prospects for next year are exceedingly bright, and B. H. S. should place a number of men for the state meet.

NEW TROY SCHOOL NEWS

New Troy whiped Bridgman in one of the best baseball games of the season. The game was a thriller from beginning to end and was surely a test of superiority for the winning team. There were very few errors even though the New Troy diamond was in poor shape.

"The Tumult" which is the title of the senior play, and is to be presented Wednesday evening, May 29, at the New Troy high school auditorium. This is a very clever production and promises to be one of the best of the season. There are eleven members in the senior class and this is one of the annual events sponsored by them to defray expenses of their graduation speaker, etc.

The shop class has just about completed the big cupboard in the Agricultural room. It is a combination storage and display cupboard and is being built entirely by the 9th grade boys taking shop this year. It is estimated that this one project alone will save the district $100 and it, on the other hand, is a proven fact, that this is the best type of work a shop class can indulge in. On a large project of this kind the class not only learns the elementary principles which they ordinarily learn in first year shop work, but at the same time they meet with some of the more difficult problems which is really an opportunity most beginners in shop miss. We do not plan on a manual training display this year but we do invite you to inspect the work we have done in our new school this year.

Last Friday most of the high school motored to Three Oaks with the baseball team but returned slightly disappointed as Three Oaks won the game by a score of 3 to 2. The change from our rugged diamond to Three Oaks very fast diamond resulted in several errors by the New Troy boys which was a big reason for the results of the game.

Lower Grades
Vera Ritchie of Hammond, Ind., registered in the second grade this month.

Laurence Carpenter, who is in the second grade, broke his wrist and has been out of school. We hope he will be back soon.

The following pupils have neither been absent nor tardy this month: Harold Carpenter, Shirley Liskey, Anna Brueck, Jane Coupe, Mary McKee, Jean Stratton, Elly Bihlmire, Clarence Carpenter, Robert Keefe, Peter Ritchie, June Carlson.

The Honor Roll is as follows: Beginners: Shirley Liskey, Victor Pearson; 1st grade: Ruth Goehring, Mary McKee, Ruth Marx, Frank Michalek, Virginia Michalek and Jean Stratton; 2nd grade: Richard Brodbeck, Clarence Carpenter, Robert Keefe, Peter Ritchie, Billy Bihlmire and Alden Sexton.

Enrollment, 33; per cent of attendance, 93.
Don't forget the Senior play, "The Tumult" next Wednesday, May 29th.

Gray Mallards Will Be Planted Through Michigan

The state game farm at Mason has just received a shipment of 250 "gray" mallards. These are to be banded and planted in various parts of the state by conservation officers.

Two groups of 25 pairs each are to be liberated in the Taguemenon marshes in Chippewa County, and on the Betsy River marshes in Benzie county. Other smaller plantings of four or five pairs will be released in different localities of the lower and upper peninsulas.

The birds will have their inner wing feathers clipped so that sustained flight will not be possible until after the summer moult.

Detroit Banking House Erects A New Skyscraper

The new Union Trust Building in Detroit has a height of 487 feet. The dimensions of the lot on which it stands are 80 feet by 270 feet. The cubic volume of the building is 8,400,000 cubic feet. The gross area of its floor is 746,000 square feet. The rentable area is 471,000 square feet and is used by the Union Trust company and its affiliated companies. The areas of the lower and upper banking rooms are identical, 13,000 square feet. There were 12,122 tons of steel used in the construction. Of the yellow Minnesota stone used for facing the lower stories, 18,000 cubic feet were used. In the exterior of the building about 1,750,000 face brick of the Banfield make were used.

It will be observed that about 87 per cent of the total floor area is rentable space. This rather low percentage is accounted for by the fact that one whole floor, 21,600 square feet, is given up to the mechanical appliances connected with the ventilating system and other purposes.

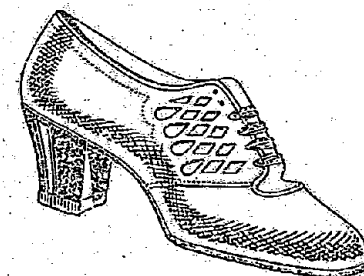

The cost of the building has not been given out, but the general estimate of the cubic foot cost of a building constructed and finished with such elaboration is about 80 cents. With a cubage of 9,400,000 feet this rate would indicate a cost of approximately seven and a half million dollars.

Alimony and Morality.

Superior Judge William N. Gemmell of Chicago, the other day, condemned as highly immoral the plea of a divorced wife for continuance of alimony after her remarriage. The case came up when a contractor asked to be permitted to discontinue payment of $25 a week to his former wife, who is now remarried. It was testified that not only is she living with her second husband but she is employed at $25 a week and that her present husband has a weekly income of at least twice that much. The judge urged that his decision be carried to the state supreme court for a definite ruling on this aspect of the case. Apparently in somewhat the same frame of mind, Judge E. V. Mahaffey of Columbus, O., court of domestic relations has announced that alimony will be the exception rather than the rule in his court. "Where there are no children and where both parties have had about an equal part in the failure of the marriage agreement," he is quoted as saying, "there will be little or no alimony allowed." There are too many cases where the wife seems to think all a man is for is to furnish an income "without any attention or co-operation on her part."

Ideas have changed about the propriety of alimony in divorce cases. Part of the theory underlying the original concept of alimony was that the wife was not equipped to become a wage earner and that where she had no ready means of support it was the duty of her former husband to continue to make some provision for her after the divorce was granted. This was particularly true where children were involved. But with the entrance of women into the business and industrial world these conditions have changed and it is entirely proper that the practice of the courts should change accordingly. No one will contend for a minute that an erring husband should be relieved of all responsibility for a wife who is not to blame in the case. It is as much a miscarriage of justice, however, for a man to be compelled to continue paying alimony after his former wife has remarried and has someone else to care for her. It is such inequities that the courts apparently are disposed to correct.

One of our most eminent educators declared the other day that a man ought to live as long as he is amused by what goes on and, as we remarked to the best dressed girl in town the other day, we're going to hang on as long as these styles last.

This country is getting into a frame of mind where, if anybody told it not to do something it didn't want to do anyway, it would go ahead and do it at great personal sacrifice.

One thing in Joan Lowell's autobiography which we hope is really true is the way her father spanked her every whipstitch or so.

One of the good old girls of our set says her simile for the day is as follows: As worthless as a bridge prize.

There is a new kind of home brew that tastes so much like the real thing that the most old-fashioned man in this neighborhood puts salt in his.

We often wonder, as we study the young people, if the parents of the prodigal son weren't glad he wasn't a girl anyway.

A man in New York has asked for disinterested advice on how to dispose of $10,000,000 in a way to do the maximum amount of good and we imagine the professional uplifters will get most of it in the end.

Our observation is that the porch swing-minded girl gains her objective as soon as anybody.

Building Workers Adopt 5 Day Week

The five-day week is now making rapid progress in the building industry throughout the United States and it seems a matter of comparatively short time before substantially the entire industry will be operating on this basis, according to a survey completed by S. W. Strauss & Company.

"From an economic standpoint the most important current development in the building industry in this country is the rapid drift toward the five-day week," says the report. "Following its recent adoption by the 12,000 bricklayers in New York City, evidence is at hand indicating the possibility of the entire industry in the metropolitan area quickly adopting the short week schedule. According to C. G. Norman, chairman of the board of directors of the New York Building Trades Employers Association, the 150,000 building craftsmen in New York and immediate suburbs will be on the five-day schedule by January 1 next. This, he estimates, will add approximately $40,000,000 or 4 per cent to New York's annual building bill.

"In Chicago, plasterers and painters are now on the short week basis and in other trades the schedule will be one of the major points of discussion on new wage agreements as of June 1, this year. St. Louis comes nearer being completely on the five-day week plan than any other American city. The five-day week is gaining considerable headway on the Pacific coast, particularly in San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

"The adoption nationally of the 40-hour week schedule would add close to a quarter of a billion dollars to the annual building program unless greater labor efficiency through mechanical innovations can be developed. It seems to be the feeling among contractors and builders that this can be accomplished only in part. Official spokesmen for contracting interests in Chicago, voice the belief that the 40-hour week schedule will prove a serious handicap to the industry as it will prolong the period of construction on large operations."

Grow But Few Acres For Certified Seed

East Lansing, May 23—While Michigan raises one and a half million acres of corn each year, the amount of certified seed corn produced in the state last year is only sufficient to plant between 45,000 and 50,000 acres, according to the statement of members of the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

This certified seed corn was produced by 40 growers, and the varieties grown are those recommended by the college for use in the different sections of the state. Duncan, Clement's White Cap and Polat Dent are the varieties adapted to southern Michigan. M. A. C. Yellow Dent is recommended for use in the southern and central part of the state and Golden Glow and Pickett for central and northern Michigan.

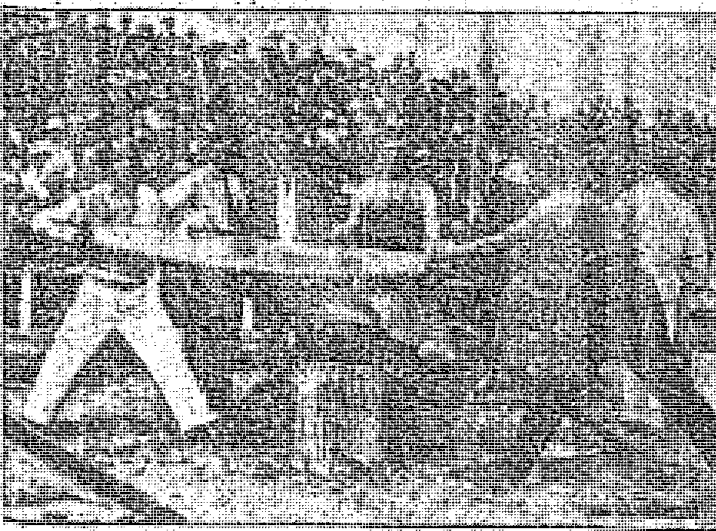

Members of the farm crops department who have supervised the variety tests throughout the state say that the use of certified seed increases the yield per acre. The average increase in yield for the past three years has been a trifle more than three bushels an acre. As a bushel of seed corn will plant several acres, the increased yield from one bushel of certified seed has averaged 22 bushels of corn.

All seed sold as certified must test better than 90 per cent germination before it will be passed for sale by the Michigan Crop Improvement association.

The only reason some people get religion is because it doesn't cost them anything.

Corn Responds Well To More Plant Food

East Lansing, May 23—Fertilizers applied on corn ground serve both to increase the yield of corn and to aid the early maturing of the crop, according to a statement by members of the soils department at Michigan State College. The feeding value of mature corn is much greater than that of corn which had not hardened, and it has been found in trials in this state that applications of fertilizer have hastened the time of maturity by from a week to 10 days. Yields secured by winners of the Michigan five acre corn growing contest are ample proof of the effect of fertilizer in increasing yields.

Farmers who are convinced that fertilizers are a profitable investment but they are not sure what analyses or mixtures to use on their farm. The kind of fertilizer, the soils specialists say, depends upon the type of soil, the crops previously grown, and the previous management of the soil. The State college soils department recommends the use of 2-12-6 or a 4-16-4 fertilizer on light soils which are low in fertility. Where the fertility is higher, 2-16-2 or 2-12-6 will give good results. For the heavier soils, 2-16-21 is recommended if the soil fertility has been depleted, and 0-20-0 for the same type of soil upon which manure has been applied.

Applications of 250 pounds per acre broadcast, or 150 to 175 pounds when the fertilizer is applied in the rows.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. STUDEBAKER world's largest builder of Eights offers championship performance at One-Profitee prices in The Commander Eight

$1495
at the factory

COMMANDER EIGHT CONVERTIBLE CABRIOLET, $1645. Six wire wheels and trunk rack standard equipment. COMMANDER EIGHT COUPE, $1495. Prices at factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra.

TODAY'S Commander Straight Eight has swept to a popularity eclipsing even that of its predecessor, the gallant Commander which sped 25,000 miles in 22,968 minutes. Studebaker, holder of every official speed and endurance record for stock cars, now sells more eights than any other manufacturer. The Commander Eight provides not only smart, youthful style and champion performance, but comfort unknown until Studebaker introduced ball bearing spring suspension and added hydraulic shock absorbers. Double-drop frame is lower and costlier, but steadier and safer. Easier brakes; safety steering wheel; non-shattering windshield—Commander quality make its One-Profitee price quite as remarkable as its performance.

Tintype Inspires Old Timer to Reminiscences

Do you remember the "tin types" that Mr. Marvin Cathcart used to make? I have one of them right here in my office, and have occasion to refer to them quite often, for when they were made I was a skinny youngster and the friends that have known me for the last ten or fifteen years, here in the city, don't believe me when I tell them that I was a regular "bean pole" when I was young. So I trot out the aforesaid tin types and "show them."

I don't remember so very much about Mr. Cathcart, except that he was tall and thin and didn't have any whiskers, as I remember him. It was a real event when they took the children to the studio to have their pictures taken and I remember that I had on my very best boots, with copper toes and red tops, the first time I ever saw the inside of Mr. Cathcart's studio. And I was the most disappointed kid in the world when I saw the picture and found that the red tops on my boots didn't "take" red. But we had two "poses," that time and one time I had my pants drawn down over the boot tops and so they didn't show anyway. I never had a pair of real shoes until I was twelve years old, for we wore boots to keep out the snow and when it was summer we went barefooted. I never wore "short pants" as my father didn't approve of them. Ours were just "high water."

Many of the pictures that were taken at that time have faded out so you can hardly see who it is, but I have a few of them that I think a lot of, some of the family and especially of Mother. She did not like to have pictures taken at all, and always said "Oh, what's the use. It is silly to pose for pictures." But I am very glad I insisted on getting some very good snap shots of her later on.

Our whole family was never together all at the same time except once, and that time we had a photographer come from South Bend with a big camera and we sat and stood around in front of the house down on the farm, and the pictures are very good. Looks funny now, to see how we were all dressed, etc., but I have one of them hanging in my home here and think a great deal of it.

One thing that I am glad has become extinct, and that is the idea of having enlarged pictures of the members of the family that have "passed away" hanging all around the rooms, and in many cases they still had the bits of crepe hanging over the corner of the picture frame so people would be sure to know they were really dead. Usually those enlarged things look as though they were dead, all right.

Then there was another thing that always gave me the "creeps" and that was these plaster-of-paris images of all sorts of "saints" and things that they had covered up with a glass dome, in the "front room." The front room was usually closed up and the curtains and the blinds closed to keep out the sunlight and dust, etc., so that the parlor rug and things wouldn't get all faded out with the sun light, and the whole room smelled musty and funny and with its haunted pictures and its dome covered saints and crepe draped around, one felt like they had been to six funerals all in a bunch and felt all sort of creepy and chilly and was glad when they could get out of there. But that has about all passed, the way of other old ideas, and we seldom ever see things of that sort any more.

But the tin types and the degarotypes are things that we can fold away and help our waning memory, now and then, by looking them over and recording once more a pleasant thought for those that we have known and loved.

OLD TIMER.

The Plain People

Highbrows get the publicity, but the country still is safe in the hands of people who enjoy the comic section and eat breakfast in the kitchen.

Mrs. Studebaker Claims to Antedate John G. Holmes

Editor Record.

My attention has been called to the writings in the Record from the pen of "Old Timer." I have thought over some of his statements and have thought of adding a few thoughts for your "home paper," the Record.

Some time about 1859 or 1860 I had the great pleasure of attending school in a new school building now called the Dewey Ave. building, during the first term taught in that building. If I am right, it not Old Timer correct it, Prof. George Dewey was principal and Laura Bingham was assistant. She taught in the lower rooms. The pupils in the lower rooms marched up every morning, lined up along the east and west wall of our room and stood there in line while Prof. Dewey read a portion of scripture, with prayer following. At a chime from a small desk bell the scholars from the lower grades, with their teachers, would march out, orderly, and go to their respective places in the lower rooms. Those rooms employed three teachers. I have taught classes sometimes to help them out.

As I recall that time of Primary pupils I see Elijah Mansfield and a boy by the name of Copper, Willie Ross, Tom Ross' young son, and others. In the room where my desk was I remember Mary Carlisle, my desk mate at one time, Amanda Miller, Emily Richards, Sue Matthews, Emma Ross, Fanny Carlisle, Maria Samson, Metta Treat, Eliza Alexander, Alice Tarrere, and last, but not least, Florence Bennett, who wrote a bit of poetry at one time. The boys that came to my mind were John M. Roe, Frank Ross, D. Hinman, Enos Holmes, John Cowles, George Samson, Chas. Terriere, Sherwood Lyon, Tom Clark, Ashley Carlisle, Schuyler Morris, Willie Miller and others. I knew "Old Timer's" mother and father when the family consisted of Alpeus, Emery and Eva, a babe in the cradle and I was in Buchanan attending school when the "Excelsior block" burned sometime in the early sixties. I boarded three years at Dr. J. M. Roe's and attended school when Prof. Barrett was principal. If John G. Holmes can recall an earlier time, or any one else, I would appreciate hearing from them through the columns of the Record or by personal letter.

"Old Timer" you have made some correct statements and some not so correct, especially when you wrote about "Old Man Moon's Place," for I was there before he was.

MRS. W. J. WALLS

Sarah Elizabeth, daughter of James and Elizabeth Cottrell, was born at Buchanan, Pike Co., Ohio, on Oct. 13, 1887, and departed this life at Buchanan, Michigan, May 17, 1929, aged 41 years, 7 months and 4 days.

In the autumn of 1887 she was united in marriage to William Jackson Walls. They made their home in Champaign county, Ohio, until they moved to Buchanan, Michigan, in the spring of 1916. Although a resident since of this state, Mrs. Walls held her church membership with the Church of Christ in Christian Union at Mt. Victory, Ohio.

Even though she had not been well for some months, Mother Walls continued to minister to the needs of her home and family, until May 1st, she was confined to her bed with an attack of quinsy, which with resulting complications, proved fatal.

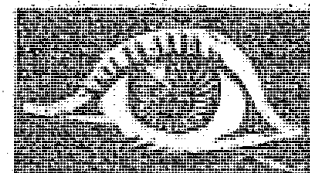

In her passing, the life companion is bereft of a faithful and loving wife, the children are deprived of a kind and devoted mother. She has left a vacancy in the home which never can be filled. A son, Earl, and a daughter, Mrs. Clifford Likes, preceded their mother in death. There is left to mourn the husband, five children, Mrs. Wm. Wolford of Niles; Mrs. Lewis May, Ethel and Jackson of Buchanan; one brother, John Cottrell of Columbus, Ohio; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Walls of Hollandale, Fla., Miss Minnie Cottrell of Columbus, Ohio and Mrs. Wm. Dotson of Latham, Ohio and 17 grandchildren.

Such beautiful, beautiful hands! Her heart was weary and sad. Her patient hands kept toiling on. That the children might be glad. So beautiful my mother's hands! But oh! they're resting now. For pain and death have left their mark. On hands and heart and brow. Alas! Alas! the parting time. And this sad, sad day for me, When 'neath the daisies 'bout of sight, Her hands will folded be. But oh, beyond this shadow land, Where all is bright and fair, We know full well these dear old hands Will palms of victory bear; Where crystal streams thru endless years Flow over golden sands, And where the old grow young again. We'll clasp our Mother's hands. READ THE CLASSIFIED ADS.

Pheasant Pick Strange Place To Build Nest

Lansing, May 15.—The ring-necked pheasant sometimes selects strange places to build its nest. Walter Hughes, overseer of the State Fish Hatchery at Benton Harbor, reports one in his yard, forty feet from the front door of his house. He says, "The way we discovered this nest was by the cock-bird's actions. He would come so close to us that our suspicions were aroused and we began to investigate. We soon discovered the mother bird in a tuft of grass so small that it is a wonder she can remain hidden. There she was brooding her eggs. Mr. Pheasant is on the job at break of day in front of our house, doing his crowing."

SPORTS FORMER CLARK EMPLOYEE WINS BOXING TITLE

ACQUIRES STATE MIDDLE-WEIGHT CROWN IN BEN-TON HARBOR GO.

Johnny Hookstra, former Buchanan boy, won his spurs Wednesday night and captured the middleweight boxing championship of Michigan from Johnny Powers of Flint, in masterly fashion at the Benton Harbor Naval Reserve armory. During nine fast rounds of hard milling he gradually built up an impressive margin of points and was so far ahead in the tenth round that he was content to keep away from the always dangerous Powers.

It was the best house that C. L. Miltenberger has told in this season, and Johnny boxed before four members of the state boxing commission, on whose behalf Dr. Bonine of Niles, a member of the commission, presented Johnny with a gold belt emblem of his recognition officially as middleweight champion of the state. Referee Ed. Dickinson of Grand Rapids, did not hesitate an instant, except to congratulate the loser on his game fight, in awarding the symbol of victory to Hookstra.

It is about three years since Johnny made his first appearance in one of the local boxing shows here as a tyro. His punching ability won home support, and Glenn E. Merfeldt encouraged him to keep plugging away at it. Jack McHenry put in many hours with the promising kid, and he began to accept matches rather regularly while working at the Clark Equipment Co.'s foundry. Through periods with a number of managers he took the bumps, constantly getting better. He made one disastrous trip to Chicago, under strange management, and got a setback, being knocked out that one time. He was also matched with an old timer in Indiana while still too inexperienced, but came through, losing by a slight margin on points.

Of late he has been managed by Bascom Smith of Niles, where he has boxed a number of times before the Elks club at their new place, and made a good impression, beating some of the best of the state. He capped his short career last night by winning from Johnny Powers, generally recognized as the best in Michigan, although he, nor any other, had been named champion by the commission. Now he is state champion.

His home, where he still sleeps, is at Berrien Springs. But he does his training and sales from Niles, where there is a good gymnasium maintained, and where Promoter Miltenberger lives. A flattering crowd of fans followed him last night to Benton Harbor from Buchanan, Niles and Berrien Springs and cheered him through to victory.

In the other bouts, Alex Miller of Kalamazoo, had a strong edge over Billy Moore of Flint, at 134 pounds, in eight rounds. George Nate, South Bend, and Jim Harvey, Lansing, fought a six round draw at 115 pounds. Jess Serbanice, Mexican flash of Flint, took rather a neat trimming from Johnny Murphy, the sturdy 122-pound Chicago scrapper, in six rounds.

Auto Products One Tenth of U. S. Exports in 1928

Foreign shipments of automobiles, parts and accessories accounted for about 100 per cent of the total value of exports from the United States during 1928, according to figures announced by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Exports of automotive products, exclusive of tires, set a new high record with a value slightly more than $800,000,000. There was a gain of 28.7 per cent over 1927, and the 1928 total was 77.7 per cent greater than the average automotive exports for the years 1923 to 1927, inclusive. The gain in value of automotive products shipped abroad in 1928 over 1927 amounted to $111,646,000, passenger cars, motor trucks, engines, replacement parts and accessories all participating in the advance.

During March General Motors dealers delivered to consumers 205,118 cars, according to an announcement by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president. This compares with 183,706 for the corresponding month last year, an increase of 21.42 cars, or 11.7 per cent for March this year. The number of cars delivered in March to users establishes a new high record for that month. Sales by General Motors manufacturing divisions to dealers totaled 220,891 cars, as compared with 197,321 for March of the year previous, an increase this year of 22,570 cars, or 11.4 per cent. This figure constitutes a new high record for all time covering sales to dealers, the previous record having been made in May, 1928, when 207,325 cars were sold to dealers.

Preparations for the largest year in the history of the Cadillac Motor Car Company are being made at its plants as the result of reports gathered by Lawrence P. Fisher, president, from all sections of the country.

Production at the Lansing plant of Durant Motors, Inc., is approximately 300 units a day. This output will probably be increased considerably as the spring demand for cars and trucks is felt, it was said. The plant is employing 2,200 at present.

H. J. Shorter, general sales manager, says that, despite the fact that main production activities were shifted from Elizabeth, N. J., to Lansing this year that the first quarter's production by the company's several plants exceeded that for the same period of 1928 by a considerable margin.

Pierce-Arrow has added three new models to its straight-eight line—a roadster, sport phaeton and a two-passenger convertible coupe. The three models are powered by a new engine which develops 125 horsepower and attains a speed of 85 miles an hour. Wheel base is 133 inches.

Fearless dealers are making their first showing of the new Straight Eight-125, priced at $2,195, the most recent production of the factory in Cleveland. With a bore of 3 3/8 inches and a stroke of 4 1/2 inches the Straight Eight-125 is a powerful car. A duplex carburetor gives even distribution of fuel to all cylinders. Speed is well over 90 miles an hour. The wheel base of the five passenger sedan, coupe and victoria, is 130 inches, while that of the seven-passenger sedan is 138 inches.

County Groups Mark End of Years Study

East Lansing, May 23.—Groups of women in 31 Michigan counties will hold Achievement Days to mark the conclusion of projects in home economics, extension, which included the study of clothing, nutrition, home management and home furnishing.

The groups are organized under the leadership of local leaders in each county and these leaders are instructed by specialists from the Michigan State college.

Achievement Day programs include style shows, kitchen tours, plays, dinners and programs of talks. Doctor Caroline Hedger, Chicago, nationally known speaker on subjects of nutrition, will be on the program in several of the counties. Members of the Michigan State college staff will speak at many of the meetings.

THE BERRIEN COUNTY RECORD

States Consider Uniform Opening For Deer Season

Lansing, May 23—If Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota agree to a uniform opening date for the deer season, conservation officers in this state believe that it will virtually mean the death of interstate poaching. At the tri-state conservation conference held recently, proposal was made that the three states agree to follow Michigan's lead in selecting Nov. 15th as the date to open. Last year, for instance, Wisconsin's season was not officially opened until Dec. 1. This afforded the poacher opportunity, after Michigan's season was closed to shoot deer in Michigan and carry them across the line into Wisconsin where it was legal to shoot and have deer in possession. If Wisconsin opened the season with Michigan, this gate would be definitely closed to the poacher.

WEATHER DATA KEPT BY NATURE FOR CENTURIES

Only Recently Has Man Learned to Read Records Shown in the Calendar.

Washington—Man has been keeping consistent weather records for only a few generations, but far back in the days when cave men hunted reindeer in Europe weather records were nevertheless kept. They were kept on a natural calendar, which men have learned how to read only during the last few years.

This was one of the points developed at the meeting of the American Geographic union here recently, in a survey of weather-keeping devices and methods by C. R. Marvin and A. J. Henry of the United States weather bureau. The natural weather record of Stone age days consists of certain deposits of very fine-grained clays, called "varve clays." They were laid down by streams pouring from the melting glaciers into lakes and ponds, bearing loads of silt which they dropped when they flowed into still water.

When the streams were swollen as in spring, they carried heavier particles, making a coarse layer; in late summer, when they were not so high, the particles they carried were finer, making a closer-grained layer on the bottom. Each year is represented by one of these composite layers, grading from coarse in the spring to fine grained in the fall.

Naturally, a year of heavy rains would build a thicker layer than a year of drought when the streams flowed thin and clear, so that it is possible by counting back on these sheets of varve clays to tell what the weather was like 10,000 or 10,000 years ago, almost as well as though it were only one or two years ago. This varve clays have shown that the last of the glaciers in northern Europe melted about 15,000 B. C.

A second kind of nature weather record has been found in the annual rings of California big trees and other old trees. Although these records are not nearly so old as those written in the clays, they carry the weather reports back beyond the beginning of the Christian era, taking of years of rain or years of drought and life by the thickness of the annual layer of wood laid down in their trunks.

Railroads Pay Fewer Claims for Damages

Washington—Claims paid by railroads of the United States and Canada for loss and damages to freight shipments in 1928 were the smallest for any year since the World war, the American Railway association announces. The amount paid totaled $30,857,243, a reduction of $2,155,816 from the 1928 level.

Grandma Holds Daily Tea Party for 60 Years

Lorain, Ohio—Mrs. Amelia C. Faragher, eighty-six, has the unique record of being hostess at a tea party for the past 60 years. Morning visitors at "Grandma" Faragher's home will find her diligently tending her large tea kettle. She is always prepared to entertain guests—from three to twenty—who drop in for a brief conversation and to inquire regarding her health.

The custom was begun by Mrs. Faragher's husband three score years ago in the same little farmhouse where "Grandma" now lives. He used to come in from the field in the middle of the morning and spend a half hour or so sipping the drink for which his widow has become famous.

After Faragher died, the daily tea party was continued by their children and grandchildren who grew up into the privilege of "tea at Grandma's."

Bobby Baker, one of Mrs. Faragher's little grandchildren, has been punctual at the traditional social event for four years. He is six years old. For a while Bobby couldn't understand why his teacher refused to excuse him so he wouldn't be late at "Grandma's" for tea.

Mrs. Faragher is an ideal hostess. An interesting conversationalist, she discourses on a variety of subjects and is careful not to bore her guests with inconsequential matters. The weather may be inclement, storms may blow, rain or shine—it doesn't matter—because "Grandma" Faragher says she plans to continue her tea parties for at least ten more years.

Luncheon Bills Show Coeds Are Gold Diggers

Columbia, Mo.—Coeds of the University of Missouri are "gold diggers," if the word of a student waiter in one of the popular eating places here can be accepted as authentic. "When girls come in alone to eat," he said, "their order seldom amounts to more than 35 or 40 cents, but when the same girls come with dates it's a different story. The bill then usually amounts up to from 70 cents to $1."

Few Get High Salaries
Washington—If you are making more than $4,000 a year, you are doing better than approximately 40,000,000 other workers in the country, the National Home Study council, Washington, declares, pointing out that less than 4 per cent of the nation's 42,000,000 gainfully employed persons earn $4,000 annually.

Are Women Better Drivers than Men? Here's the Answer

Another question that promises to take its place in the archives of unanswered queries alongside of "Who hit Billy Patterson?" "Why is an Owl?" and "How old is Ann?" is, "Who is the safer driver, man or woman?"

It looked for a while as though this question had been answered in favor of man, but closer examination of the evidence, so far as it has come in, leaves the question still veiled in doubt.

One of the most recent—and most bold—reports on this question has been made in "The Personnel Journal" for February, 1929, by Dr. Morris S. Viteles and Helen M. Gardner of the University of Pennsylvania—a man and a woman—are daring enough to sign their names jointly to what have been called "astounding facts."

Specifically, these facts show that a certain group of women taxicab drivers in a large eastern city had three times as many accidents as the men drivers of the same company, both groups working under essentially the same conditions.

The investigators are fair—and courteous—enough to make a summary of previous studies in this same debatable field. Previous comparisons, made in the District of Columbia in 1927, and in San Francisco and Massachusetts and Connecticut, all have been quite favorable to women drivers.

The study of the taxicab company of the eastern city includes a comparison of an average of about 40 women cab drivers with about 2,000 male cab drivers within the period of March 1, 1927, to February 28, 1928. But it should be added that the study included a total of about 150 women. Also, about 14 per cent of these women drivers were inexperienced previously, though they all passed through a thorough training period. The women drivers were not employed at night, but hazards of night driving are usually considered equally or more severe. Also, the women drivers as a rule chose sections of the city with assumed lesser hazard.

During this period the men drivers were responsible for 0.267 accidents per thousand miles and the women drivers for 0.787 accidents per thousand miles. Stated another way, the men drivers were charged with 1.449 accidents per $1,000 of revenue and the women drivers with 5.063 accidents per $1,000 of revenue.

A more favorable comparison is the fact that for the women drivers the cost of accidents per $1,000 of revenue was only about one-half the cost for men—$15.76, as compared with $31.83. One possible conclusion from the study is that women drivers, to operate as safely as men drivers, probably demand more careful training.

National Grange to Have Essay Contest On Highway Safety

A nation-wide safety essay contest is to be conducted by the National Grange, it was announced National Grange according to announcement by L. J. Taber, National Master. The subject is "Safety on the Highway for Children and Adults." All members under 18 years of age in any of the 8,000 subordinate granges scattered throughout the United States will be eligible to enter the contest, 325 state and national prizes being offered for the best papers.

Pointing to the many notable contributions which the National Grange, during the 63 years of its existence, has made to the welfare of the nation and of the farming fraternity which it represents, Mr. Taber declared that the organization "is pleased to announce this competition among its younger members, designed to impress upon them, their parents and friends alike, the necessity for care and caution upon the street and highways, either as pedestrians or as drivers of vehicles."

In selecting the winners, elimination will be made through committees appointed by the subordinate masters in each of the granges. The winning essays will be forwarded to the state masters who in similar manner will select the best essay; these will be sent to the Master of the National Grange who through a committee will choose the six national winners. The winner of the first national prize will be given a trip with all expenses paid to the National Grange sessions to be held at Seattle, Wash., this autumn. The other five will be cash prizes. In each of the thirty states where granges exist the best essay will be awarded a cash prize, and the writers of the next three in each state will receive bronze medals. The prizes are being donated by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

The Highway Education Board which is experienced in educational work of this sort is co-operating with the national grange in the enterprise. The competition will close on July 4 next, by which date, it was announced, all essays must be in the hands of the subordinate lecturers of the various granges. Detailed instructions, with posters illustrating the purpose of the contest, have been sent to the masters of all subordinate granges.

Picking Beauties by Television

Michigan Industry Helped by Tariff

In addition to the advance in the customs duty on sugar imported into this country, referred to in another place in these columns, the revision of the national tariff as contained in the Fordney-McCumber Act of 1922, has gone along to the extent of being quite favorable to Michigan industries.

One of the defects of the Act of 1922, as effecting a leading Michigan industry, was that it put Portland cement on the free list. The result of that situation has been that during the last four or five years upwards of half a million tons of foreign cement have come into this country at the seaboard each year. We have cement-making industries close to the seaboard, whose territory was invaded by this cheaper cement, and which in order to distribute their products, had to look for their selling market to the westward. They then infringed upon the territory which naturally belonged to the cement mills established in the interior of the country, so that this foreign competition had the result of invading our market to the extent of at least four million barrels a year, and very much more in some years. Now, under the revision made by the Ways and Means Committee, a duty of 30 cents a barrel is to be imposed, this being in the neighborhood of $1.50 a ton.

It would seem that this figure represents the differential between the standard of living in Belgium from which most of this foreign cement comes, and the United States, into whose market it has heretofore entered on a free trade basis.

The brick industry of Michigan also had cause for complaint. Foreign bricks have come into this country not only across the Canadian boundary, but from trans-Atlantic sources into various seaports. There being an excess of exports over imports in volume in our international trade, extremely favorable rates are made by west-bound freighters on the ocean, the rates being practically ballast terms. This has made the freightage on foreign-made bricks quite inconsiderable, while those produced in Canada had quite a ready access to our market. Under the provisions of the Act of 1922, the President was empowered to protect a duty upon the products of a foreign country equivalent to that made by the foreigners upon similar products to this country, and we believe that such a proclaimed duty is in existence. It has now been made a part of the customs system of the country to the extent of $1.25 per 100, which is the amount of duty levied by the Canadians upon brick which come into their country from the United States.

There has been some considerable increase in the duty on foreign furniture, which ought to help out not only the fellows who make furniture in Grand Rapids, but the numerous manufacturers in other cities in the state who make this class of product. Now that we are getting to make some plate glass in Michigan, the increased duty on plate glass ought to preserve a larger margin of demand from the Belgians, who somehow or other seem to put in a good deal of their product regardless of our duties. As a matter of fact, since the advent of the demand for automobile plate glass, we do not seem to have been able at any time to produce enough to meet the demand in this country.

The advance information concerning the revisions of the schedules on manufacturers of iron is not complete enough, as reported, to give an idea of what has been done to preserve the market for American cast iron pipe. While we do not make this commodity in Michigan, it is made in other sections of the United States, whose workers furnish part of the demand for distinctive Michigan products. We are being treated to a spectacle this week of an English ship having arrived at a Detroit river terminal with a cargo of French cast iron pipe to fill an order placed by the municipality of Detroit, which is about the worst kind of an example that could be furnished of favoring the foreign industry at the expense of our own. Not only should the American pipe-maker be protected, but the duty should be advanced upon phosphorus and sulphur constituents of the iron, to the purpose of excluding the products of the low-grade ores of the Ruhr Valley from competition with our pure irons.

At all events the Ways and Means Committee seems to have done a good job for Michigan. Dairy products of this state will participate in a general advance on such products entering the United States from any source, because the Canadians have shown themselves to be great dairymen, and are sending their butter and cheese into this country in considerable volume.

Show Best Methods Of Curing Alfalfa

East Lansing, May 16—Men who swung a scythe in the hay fields of pioneer times will have an opportunity to see the latest hay making machinery swing into action at hay making demonstrations to be given this summer in 25 Michigan counties by members of the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Old time methods involved a lot of hand labor but the quality of hay which was produced was usually good because the small quantities which were cut each day could be taken care of before the hay became so dry that the leaves shattered badly. Early crops of hay did not include alfalfa in this state and methods which will successfully cure other hay crops are not so satisfactory with alfalfa.

Most of the protein contained in alfalfa hay is contained in the leaves, and the farm crops specialists say that unless the leaves are retained on the hay a great deal of the feeding value is lost. The methods and machinery used in the demonstrations enable the farmers to handle acreages of alfalfa in a manner which assures an excellent quality of hay.

County agricultural agents have arranged to hold the hay making demonstrations in the following counties: Alcona, Branch, Cass, Jackson, Calhoun, Ingham, Barry, Ottawa, Ionia, St. Clair, Sanilac, Saginaw, Gratiot, Montcalm, Newaygo, Oceana, Wexford, Oscoda, Clare, Benzie, Alcona, Alpena, Presque Isle, Cheboygan and Emmet.

The dates of the meetings are determined by the season, but they usually start about June 15 in the southern counties.

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

Blackstone

Sir William Blackstone published in 1765 a volume entitled "Commentaries on the Laws of England." This was the first and only book of its kind in England, and it came to be regarded as an authoritative revelation of the law. While it has ceased to be of much practical value as an authority in the courts, it remains an arbiter on all public discussions on the law or the constitution.
