Miss Eugenia Bartmess, tall, exquisite blonde, is a perfect foil for Miss Skinner in color, size and brilliant acting.

"I believe the spoken drama is slowly coming back into favor," asserted Mr. Pritchard today. "No doubt, when well done, the people prefer it to movies, or vaudeville or any other form of popular amusement."

ORAL DRAMA RESURRECTED AT PRINCESS

Memories of the Old-time Troopers are Recalled.

STOCK COMPANY

Veteran Actors Give Well-Balanced Productions.

Revival of the spoken drama at the Princess theatre the first four days of this week has been a delightful reminiscence of the "good old days" when traveling troupes gallantly strode across the stage of the old Opera House at Oak and Front streets.

For there was, and is, something about drama spoken on a stage by living persons, smiling and striving and crying their way through an absorbing battle of conflicting purposes that leaves a lasting impression.

This company is well fortified to maintain the traditions and deepen the glamour that makes heavy about the splendid make-believe of good acting.

Charles Tazewell, "the perfect English snob," has been in stock and repertoire many years, and with the Redpath Lyceum bureau several seasons.

Billy Dunn and family have just joined the troupe. Billy is a high class villain and as perfect a dancer as will be found in any show.

Miss Louise Skinner, leading lady, a petite little girl of winsome ways, is a cousin of Otis Skinner and maintains the family traditions.

For the past ten years he has made his home in Chattanooga, Tennessee, was in Buchanan the early part of the week renewing reminiscences of earlier days with many of the old timers.

An extension of the city water main from the present terminus on West Front street 250 feet to the Oak Ridge cemetery and thence on 100 feet further into the cemetery was authorized at the regular June meeting of the city council...

NEW BILLS ARE ON DISPLAY AT LOCAL BANKS

THE FIRST SAMPLES OF THE NEW CURRENCY RECEIVED HERE.

A few of the new bills have just been received from the United States Treasury by the First National bank and the Buchanan State bank of Buchanan and are now on display at these banks.

The new bills, which have been in process of making for several months are 6-16 by 2-11-16 in size, or two-thirds the size of the present currency.

The saving in material is, of course, obvious. In addition, the smaller bills will require less folding, they will last much longer and remain in better condition than the present size currency.

In the smaller bills all unnecessary patterns have been eliminated and the new notes have been simplified by the adoption of a single characteristic design for each denomination.

Printing of the old currency ceased April 1st and none has been issued since that time. However, as there are over 600,000,000 pieces of the old currency in circulation, it is believed that it will take several months to substitute the new bills for the old.

CITIZENS PAY TRIBUTES TO HONORED DEAD

Six G. A. R. Veterans Honor the Day with their Presence.

STURLING WAS ABSENT

Singing of New Anthem was Feature of the Services.

Memorial Day was fittingly observed in Buchanan with a parade and the reading of the ritualistic Memorial service for the dead heroes of the nation provided by the American Legion.

The Clark concert band, directed by Arley L. Meeker, rendered notable service throughout the exercises and parade to and from the cemetery.

The benefit was pronounced by the Rev. August Geist, who served in Company A of the 49th Illinois Infantry, now living on the east side and four and one-half miles south of Buchanan.

Descendants of John and Michael Cauffman to Reunite

Descendants of Michael Cauffman, Portage Prairie pioneer, who still lives in the vicinity of the old homestead, will leave Saturday for Goshen where they will reassemble with the descendants of his brother, John Cauffman, pioneer of Silver Lake, Ind., for their annual reunion. The reunion will be held in the Central Park at Goshen, which has been the choice for meeting place for a number of years due to the fact that it is about half way between Buchanan and Silver Lake.

Nutt Homestead Being Improved By Minister's Assoc.

The old Nutt homestead, which has come into possession of the Methodist Ministerial association and Board of South Bend, is being developed and improved. It is a farm of 160 acres, four miles north of Buchanan and has about 100 acres under cultivation. No announcement has been made as to whether it is to be made a resort for South Bend Methodists, a home for the care of convalescents or others, or just what will be the use made of it, although many uses have been suggested. Permanent iron posted fences are being built and the buildings repaired and improved.

Rev. W. D. Hayes Assumes Evangelical Church Charge Here

Rev. W. D. Hayes, who was appointed by the Grand Rapids conference of the Evangelical church to assume the local charge, made vacant through the transfer of Rev. W. H. Camfield to Jackson, arrived Thursday to take over the local work. Rev. Hayes comes from Evans, Michigan, where he has been stationed for the past year. A reception at the Evangelical church next Saturday night will be arranged to welcome Rev. Hayes and his family to Buchanan.

"BUYING" MONEY

Today you can buy almost everything on the "installment plan"—including money. For you can regard regular deposits in a Savings Account as simply "installments" on the "purchase" of $500 or $1,000, or whatever the amount you set as your goal.

There is, however, one valuable difference. Instead of paying the customary premium—the difference between the usual installment purchase price and the cash price—you collect a premium in the form of 4 per cent compound interest.

Why not first "buy" the cash and then buy by cash? Why not open your Savings Account now?

While great oceans surge on high,
Stretching to far lands.

Hail, Columbia! Land of peace,
Of opportunity,
Land of opportunity,
Hands across the seas;
Hail, O new Atlantic fair,
Sun-crowned, deathless, bold,
From thy turrets high in air,
—Endless, peace unfold.

Because the tune has a range of but six tones, and yet is very suggestive, it is thought by the educators that children and other choruses will sing it easily, and remember it. Mrs. Kelly's accompaniment proved that it lends itself to full chords and sonorous
four-part singing.

Many expressed disappointment
at seeing so few of the Grand Army of the Republic present.
The dividing host that marched so strongly but a few years ago was reduced to but four of the Buchanan boys in blue, John Dick,
who presided at the program exercises, Samuel Bunker, George Hanley and John Curtis. With them on the platform were two visitors, Rev. August Geist, who now lives south of town and John Allen of Niles, who has a permanent residence with relatives
there. But few of the Spanish war veterans were present.

John J. Sterling, mayor of Benton Harbor, who had been secured as speaker of the day, did not appear, and could not be located by nounced for his non-appearance.

W. FLEMING TO ADVOCATE USE OF BIBLE IN SCHOOL

A STUDENT OF SCRIPTURE SPEAKS SUNDAY AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

A meeting of special interest to consider the question of the return and daily use of the Bible in the public schools of Michigan will be held in the Christian church on Sunday, June 9, at 10 a. m.
The address will be given by Dr. W. S. Fleming on "The Bible in the Schools of the Nation." He represents the National Reform association and the Michigan Citizens' Committee on the Bible in the Public Schools.
These groups sponsored and promoted the Harnly Bible bill recently. The bill lost by a narrow margin in the legislature. They have decided to carry on an aggressive campaign and present
another bill to the next legislature.

Dr. Fleming is one of the best informed men in America on the Bible in public education. During the last eight years he has given hundreds of addresses in Michigan and has spoken in 24 other states of the Union upon the subject. In the light of President Hoover's recent statement that we are the most lawless nation in the world, the address of Dr. Fleming will be upon a vital subject, and there should be a large attendance of thoughtful citizens to hear it.
Teachers and members of the school board are specially invited.

Former Minister Preaches Sermon At Hills Corners

Hills Corners had the pleasure
Sunday of listening to a sermon
by a popular former pastor, Rev.
Raymond Morgan of Norway,
Me., taking charge of the service while on a short visit with friends there. Rev. Morgan came from Maine to attend the national conference of the Congregational church at Detroit last week. He came to Hills Corners Saturday and spent the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mitchell. On Sunday, following a short sermon by Rev. Jacobs, he took charge. After the services
a community dinner was served, attended by over 100 people. Rev.
Morgan was pastor of Hills Corners church for a year and a half,
leaving two years ago.

DEFEAT DOGS PATH OF BLUES IN TWO GAMES DURING WK.

GOOD PITCHING; POOR SUP-PORT STORY OF GAMES.

After playing a gilt edged cr-rorious game and losing to Three Oaks Greens by an accident 3 to 2 on Memorial Day at Three Oaks,
the Buchanan Blues lost a listless effort Sunday afternoon to the Riverside Tigers 12 to 3 on the home diamond.

In the Decoration Day game the score was tied in the last half of the ninth inning, with two out and two hits on the last batter, and a man on third base. Morse placed the pitcher a little close to the batter who dodged and pushed his bat out to fend off the threatened bearing and accidentally connected for a single that brought in the winning score for the Greens.
The batter himself said he didn't know what he had done until he saw the runner rush home.

But the Sunday game was lost from the second inning and the loss grew with the third, fifth, seventh and eighth paragraphs. The Tigers were too good for the home
boys and took the pep out of them so completely that they played a listless game from the third frame to the end.

The only feature that brought the fans to their toes was Proud's
three-bagger in the sixth inning, Chain bringing him home for Buchanan's first score. Most of their rales were missed while still young, by Smith's tight pitching,
and fast fielding back of him.
Double play in the 7th, Chain to Peck to Proud, was good.

The score by innings:
Riverside—021 020 250 12 13 1
Buchanan—000 001 020 3 6 1
The Blues have had the advantage of good pitching the last two games. Both Morse and Marris have shown good control and consistent judgment. While the eighth inning looked bad Sunday, the whole team had let down and the pitcher could not be blamed for the five hits and runs by Riverside. Harris Simpson will soon be ready to take his turn in the box,
and the Blues will be strongly re-fortified to meet any of the neighboring teams on equal terms. Harry's finger is healing rapidly.

Dick Lister is playing center field. Morse, Marris and Chain rotate. Morse at short and pitching. Marris pitcher and left field and Chain left field and short stop. Hubert Peck played a good game at second and will probably hold the job or alternate with Frank Smedley, who is recovering nicely from an injury to his back.
Pflingst is doing the catching. Carl Thausing, having found it impossible to report every Sunday afternoon.

The umpiring Sunday was done by H. Simpson of Buchanan and E. Mix of Riverside. The Calays are one-third of the Riverside Tigers' team. E. catching. A covering first and E. third. The other members of their snappy nine are Schuster, short; McKelvie, center; Felner, second; LeBon, left; Lucker, right; W. Smith, pitcher.

Scout Troop 41 Meets Saturday At Clear Lake

Last Tuesday evening Troop 41 held a meeting of games, indoor baseball, pom-pom pull away and Indian Circle took up the evening. Business put away the troop went to Athletic Park and played indoor ball. It was too dark to play longer and then they came back to the M. E. church yard and played the other games. Scoutmaster Leo State reported that the tents which the boys worked for so hard on the Benefit show will be had shortly. He announced that this Saturday the two divisions of the troop will have an afternoon of fun at Clear Lake. Contests in swimming, baseball and various scout activities will furnish the fun.
Next Tuesday evening an outdoor meeting of extraordinary activities, with eats, will be had. The Scoutmaster and his assistants are working on the program.

RIVER STREET BRIDGE WILL BE CLOSED 2 WEEKS

BEND OF THE RIVER FOLKS MUST SWIM TO TOWN OR COME VIA NILES.
Installation of concrete curbing on Portage street as far as the sewer installation permitted was completed this week by the Lang Construction Company and the force is now employed in installing a culvert on River street and completing grading on that thoroughfare preparatory to beginning the installation of the paving in about a week. When paving is started, River street will be closed for a period of about three weeks. This time may be shortened to two weeks if the county road commissioner will authorize the change, since concrete sets fast at this time of year. During that time all communication between

Buchanan and the Bend of the River section will be by way of Niles or Berrien Springs.

M. Belle Haslett And Jay Glover Married May 28
Two of Buchanan's best known and long respected citizens, cast their lot together with this marriage on May 28 of Miss M. Belle Haslett to Jay Glover, the ceremony taking place at the Advent Christian church on Lincoln Way, South Bend. Rev. W. O. Williams officiated.
Both are natives of Buchanan and very well known here. The bride has been employed for twenty years in the offices of the Warren Featherbone Co. of Three Oaks. After the ceremony they left on a bridal trip, through Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee, visiting the Mammoth Cave and Lincoln's birthplace among other points of interest. They are now at home to their friends at the

CHICK CONTROL MASH AND HOW TO SAVE YOUR CHICKS
There is a disease among chicks which kills them by the hundreds in a very short time. This disease is nothing to fear providing you recognize it and adopt the proper methods of control. Coccidiosis is caused by the presence in the intestines of chicks of a parasite.
Failure to follow the method of treatment will soon result in the loss of the entire flock. The method of control is simple and easy to follow. It costs but little. The complete information is free and you need buy nothing extra. If your chicks are dying after they are 3 weeks to 12 weeks old it is safe to suspect Coccidiosis.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING
Special meeting of the village council of the village of Buchanan, Mich., held in the council rooms Friday evening, May 24, 1929 at 7:30 p. m. on the following call:
TO ALL TRUSTEES:
You are hereby notified that there will be a special meeting of the common council of the village of Buchanan, Mich., held in the council rooms of said village on Friday evening, May 24, 1929 at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of making tax levy and considering any other business that may properly

come before the meeting.
C. V. Glover, Pres.
H. A. Post, Clerk.

Meeting was called to order by President Glover. Trustees present, Kelling, Adams, Beck, Berry and Kean; absent, Bradley.
Report of the village assessor and Board of Review was read which showed a total valuation of $2,794,235.00.

Moved by Trustee Adams, supported by Trustee Beck, that the council dooms it necessary and orders raised fourteen mills on the tax roll. The following resolution was offered by Trustee Adams and supported by Trustee Beck:

Resolved that the common council of the village of Buchanan deems it necessary that there be raised and does hereby require to be raised by general tax upon real and personal property liable to taxation therein for the year A. D. 1929, the several amounts and for the purposes following:
For the purpose of general expense and liabilities of the village and to carry into effect the powers granted said village by law and to constitute a general fund a sum equal to five tenths of one per cent (.005) of the assessed valuation of the village of Buchanan, as determined by the assessor, and Board of review, that is to say, five-tenths of one per cent (.005) of $2,794,235.00 amounting to $13,971.25.

For highway and street purposes to constitute the Highway Fund, a sum equal to four-tenths of one per cent (.004) of the aforesaid valuation amounting to $11,176.94. For the purpose of redeeming bonds as they become due paying interest on the bonded indebtedness and to constitute a sinking fund designated as the Water Extension Fund, a sum equal to one tenth of one per cent (.01) of the aforesaid valuation amounting to $2,794.23.

For the purpose of paying the remaining bond when due and interest on same, in the Sewer Disposal Fund, a sum equal to fifteen hundredths of one per cent (.0015) of the aforesaid valuation amounting to $4,191.35.

For the purpose of retiring bonds, paying interest on the bonded indebtedness and to constitute a sinking fund for the old water works bonds in the Debt Paying Fund, a sum equal to fifteen hundredths of one per cent (.0015) of the aforesaid valuation amounting to $4,191.35.

For the purpose of retiring bonds as they become due, paying interest on the bonded indebtedness of the village at large, share of the Portage and Third Street improvement fund, a sum equal to one-tenth (.001) of the aforesaid valuation amounting to $2,794.23.

Upon roll call the following trustees voted aye, Kelling, Adams, Beck, Berry and Kean, nay, none.

Taking care of Marion Shinn, who was injured at the water works recently, was discussed by the council.

Moved by Trustee Kelling, supported by Trustee Berry that the president be authorized to make a reasonable settlement with Marion Shinn. Motion carried.

The buying of calcium chloride for the streets was taken up.

Moved by Trustee Adams, supported by Trustee Berry that the purchasing agent order 4 tons of calcium chloride to be shipped about June 15th.

Upon roll call the following trustees voted aye, Kelling, Adams, Beck, Berry and Kean, nay, none.

A bill from sewer contractor, Hipskind, was read. Moved by Trustee Adams, supported by Trustee Berry, that the bill of Mr. Hipskind be paid and charged to the sewer account.

Upon roll call the following trustees voted aye, Kelling, Adams, Beck, Berry and Kean, nay, none.

Upon motion by Trustee Adams, supported by Trustee Kean, meeting adjourned.

Raskob Plans for Purchase Stocks on Installment Plan

John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and former chairman of the finance committee of General Motors Corporation, has outlined an idea which he has had under consideration for several months to give the "little fellow," who cannot save very much, a chance to make his savings count. Briefly, Mr. Raskob's plan is to enable the "little fellow" to buy himself an estate on the installment plan, as he now is buying his automobile.

It is modeled somewhat after the investment trust idea combined with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, which he organized 10 years ago. His investment company would furnish the investment. His "acceptance corporation" would advance the money for the purchase of the investment. The stock would be paid for on the installment plan.

Mr. Raskob said his investment company would invest only in common stocks of standard industrial organizations. There would be no speculation—"buying for selling"—he said, and the company would not be permitted to go into debt, thus, in case of a temporary slump in the Nation's prosperity, there would be no danger of its assets being wiped out, and the company would endeavor to control the market price of its stock to prevent fictitious valuations. The selling price of its stock would be held down to its actual value.

Operating alongside this company, but separately, would be the "acceptance corporation." The investor could borrow money from this corporation to pay for the stock in the investment company, using the stock as collateral, and paying off the indebtedness by the month.

Mr. Raskob said he would make every effort to have on the board of directors men recognized as industrial and financial leaders, men in whose integrity the public would have the highest faith.

Grange to Conduct A Country Wide Safety Contest

Announcing a nation wide safety contest to be conducted by the National Grange, L. J. Taber, national grange master, said that the organization is "pleased to announce this competition among its young members, designed to impress upon them, their parents and friends alike, the necessity for care and caution upon the streets and highways, either as pedestrians or as drivers of vehicles."

The subject for the essays is, "Safety on the Highway for Children and Adults" and all members under 18 years of age in any of the 8000 subordinate granges scattered throughout the United States will be eligible to the contest; 126 state and national prizes being offered for the best papers.

The winning essays will be forwarded to the state masters who in similar manner will select the best state essay; these will be sent to the master of the National Grange, who through a committee will choose the six national winners. The winner of the first national prize will be given a trip with all expenses paid to the National Grange sessions to be held at Seattle, Wash., in the autumn. The other five will be cash prizes. In each of the 30 states where granges exist the best essay will be awarded a cash prize and the writer of the next three in each state will receive bronze medals.

The competition will close on July 4, by which date all essays must be in the hands of the subordinate lecturers of the various Granges.

Garage Floor

A layer of cinders six inches thick makes a very satisfactory floor for the home garage. The cinders should be thoroughly stamped down, a hose being used to wet them down during the operation. The floor absorbs grease, oil and gasoline that may leak out of the mechanism and it is, moreover, practically dustless.

Long and Short Wave Radio Used
To Telephone Across the Atlantic

Showing Apparatus Used at Short Wave Receiving Station at Netcong, N. J.

By JOHN B. O'BRIEN

IN view of the increasing use of the transatlantic telephone services and the many references constantly being made to long wave and short wave channels, low frequencies and high frequencies, it might be well to inquire just what these terms mean.

When the transatlantic service
was opened, a long wave channel was employed. This service has been supplemented during the past year by the inauguration of a short wave channel. Still another such channel is to be placed in operation
during 1929, and later another channel is planned and also one to Argentina in South America. What then is the difference between a long wave channel and a short wave channel?

As the name implies, short waves
are radio waves which have a shorter wave length than do the long waves. The long wave channel now in use employs waves of 6,000 meters, or about three miles in length, whereas in the short waves, if one could see the distance from the crest of one to the crest of the next wave, such a distance would be less than 35 meters, or 35 yards. This is very much shorter than the waves of broadcasting stations which lie between 200 and 550 meters.

Rapid Vibrations

Short wave and long wave channels do not interfere with one another, as each receiving station selects the particular wave length which it is desired to receive, just as each individual radio fan can select the particular broadcasting station he desires to hear. Thus, short wave transatlantic channels can transmit conversation at the same time that long wave channels are transmitted. Short waves are sent out with very great rapidity
from the antenna at the transmitting station. The electric currents flowing back and forth in the wires
of the antenna send out one wave
for every cycle of the current variation, and in order that the waves
may be short, it is necessary that each one should follow its predecessor by a very short interval of time.

This means that they must be sent out very rapidly, or at a high frequency.

Hence, the term, high frequency
waves has come to be used for short waves. In fact, in the high frequency transatlantic circuit they occur at the rate of over 9,000, 000 vibrations per second. As a vibration is also a cycle, and 1,000 vibrations is a kilocycle, this means that the transatlantic high frequencies exceed 9,000 kilocycles per second, whereas the ordinary radio broadcasting stations are operated in frequencies between 500 and 1,500 kilocycles per second. On the other hand, the low frequency transatlantic channel which was opened in January, 1927, uses a frequency of only 60 kilocycles per second.

Frequencies to Suit Time of Day

Signals from a short-wave transmitting antenna die out rapidly within a few miles and there is a zone several hundred miles or more in diameter around the station, in which few or no signals can be received. Outside this zone signals again appear, having apparently traveled through the upper atmosphere, skipping over the weak signal zone just mentioned. For this reason, the radius of the zone is called the "skip distance." As the transmission characteristics of the upper atmosphere change in accordance with changes in the sun's rays to which it is exposed, the type of short waves which are best suited for use at any time depends considerably on the season and time of day.

The result is that the efficiency of high frequency waves is dependent upon conditions at the time when they are sent. For example, a particularly high frequency might be adequate at 10 o'clock in the morning, but at 6 o'clock in the afternoon the frequency would be very poor and another one would be very effective. The result is that in transatlantic telephony, high frequency channels have three sets of frequencies. When the entire path between New York and England is in darkness, the frequencies of about 9,000 kilocycles are used in both directions, but when there is sunset in the mid-Atlantic, frequencies of about 18,000 kilocycles are used, and when there is daylight

all the way the frequencies employed are of about 18,000 kilocycles. Thus, it is necessary to change the frequency used at certain times during the day and when this is done, satisfactory transmission can usually be obtained continuously.

Sending and Receiving Stations

In the case of high frequency waves the antennas used are small in comparison with the high towers or long lines of poles which are necessary for low frequency transoceanic communication. On the other hand, there is a greater variability in the reception of high frequency waves, but the research men and development engineers of the Bell System have accomplished
many improvements in high frequency apparatus and methods during the past year or so.

The high frequency waves from England are now received at Net-cong, N. J., where there are three receiving antennas, one for each frequency that is used. High frequency waves are sent out from Deal, N. J., but when the new station which is under construction at Lawrenceville, near Princeton, N.
J., is opened later in the year, the Deal station will be used largely for experimental work. The low frequency station from which the waves take the long jump across the Atlantic is located at Rocky Point, on Long Island, and the receiving station is located in Houlton, Me., which is connected with
New York via telephone circuit.
As in the case at Netcong where there are three receiving antennas
for the high frequency waves, so at Deal there are three transmitting antennas, one for the sunset frequency, one for the sunset frequency, and the other for the daylight frequency.

Poor Ports Shackle
Commercial Flying

Chicago, Ill., June 6.—By the time it was 25 years old, the automobile industry was producing cars so advanced in design and efficiency that old-fashioned roads cramped their style. Today the aviation industry, in the 25th year of human flight, faces a parallel situation.

Billions have been spent to provide modern highways for the modern car. More millions must be spent before the horse-and-buggy crop of roads will have ended.
Smooth, hard roads are imperative
if the efficiency of present day
automobiles is to be capitalized.

The airplane, now so advanced in efficiency that it compares favorably with other automotive vehicles, is handicapped at the beginning and end of every flight by flying fields that, in general, are still typical of the days when flying was limited to dare-devils and fighting men. It delivers reliable performance with amazing economy in operation at speeds two and three times greater than the motor car can attain with anything like relative safety.

But planes cannot always be in the air. The cross-country flier

must stop for fuel and to transact the business which has sent him on his flight. Unless he holds resolutely to the one or two well beaten air trails of the country, he must heed Department of Commerce warnings that the landing conditions here, there and everywhere are "hazardous," prohibitive," "good only in dry weather"
or so temporary that landings
should be made "only on ground signal."

Airfields are no respecters of persons. Col. Lindbergh was nirded at an eastern port the other day and needed the help of all the men available to get his machine on firm ground. Even so he got into the air only after six attempts. Commercial pilots, air-mail fliers, department of commerce and government officials,
owner-pilots all face the same uncertainly. Once they are in the air, their work is easy. But it's "Keep off the ground" until a modernized port is reached.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD LAST WEEK IN H. S. ASSEMBLY

NILES PASTOR SPEAKS AND HIGH SCHOOL BAND PLAYS NUMBERS.

The last Friday assembly of the Buchanan schools was made notable last week by band music, chorus singing, and an address by the Rev. W. W. Niles, pastor of the Niles M. E. church.

"Memorial Day means that American manhood stood the test," he began, "through the most hateful, most violent, most critical war of this nation. It means that religion and patriotism are linked together, and that the irreverent nation totters to its fall."

"There are two moral principles underlying these United States of America. First, liberty, and slavery had to go; second, nationality goes with liberty, and states must bow to a higher and more universal law."

Some of the best and finest virtues blossom in war: self-denial, charity, chivalry, the things that bind men together. We dedicate ourselves to our country on Memorial day, and the finest thing we can do is to kiss the flag."

The school band, with Mr. R. R. Robinson, director, occupied the stage, and played a number of marches and other sprightly compositions. They proved that they have within the past three months become able to produce fine harmony and to interpret music with much spirit. They are to be congratulated from funds which they have been collecting, and will continue in practice during the holidays. Only one member of the band is to graduate, and will be back next year to help give the local schools one of the best of school musical organizations.

The Senior class picture, enlarged and framed was presented and displayed to the assemblage. The Seniors appeared for the first time in their caps and gowns. Amid much enthusiastic comment, "Cheer, Cheer, for old B. H. S." was announced and sung with a will, and the assembly closed for the year by singing, "America."

8TH GRADUATION EXERCISES WILL BE HELD JUNE 7

Grade News

THIS AND THAT The last of the rewards in the Palmer writing system are being received. More final certificates were granted this year than any previous year. We have also broken the record in Progress Pins, gold and silver star pins. The teachers are to be congratulated on this splendid record. Examinations? Well, let them come. We are ready. Blue books are being used, much to the satisfaction of both pupil and teacher. The eighth grade boys voted a skip day for themselves last Wednesday afternoon and Clear Lake as a result had several visitors. Some of the boys stood firm, did not yield to temptation, and as a result those boys received no zero in their classes and are not paying the penalty of a two and a quarter overtime in the assembly. The 8th grade girls enjoyed "Nonsense Day" last Wednesday. We shall not hope to describe the costumes worn, but shall state that all epochs of history were represented. This is harmless, good-natured sport, enjoyed much by both faculty and pupils and interferes but little with regular class work.

Grade 6 Lillias Peacock, Marguerite Babcock and Beatrice Neal have not been absent this year. Lillias Peacock has received 31 gold stars in spelling. Last week we made relief maps of North America with a salt and flour mixture. We have some very good results.

First Grade The following were neither absent nor tardy during May: Virginia Arnold, Duane Beadle, Doris Borst, Florence Brewer, Ruth Campbell, Robert Donley, Wanda Orgue, Dick Hayden, Kathryn Hess, Beulah Liddicoat and Catherine Wynn.

Fourth Grade As the school year closes, we find two of our boys, Robert Neal and Jack Morris, with neither absent nor tardy marks. Marion Miller is back with us after a visit in St. Paul. Our baseball team is planning a wienie roast after school Friday at Moccasin Bluff.

Fourth Grade Miss Clayton's 4th grade surprised her by having a lovely party. All the children enjoyed the ice cream and cake. Our 4th grade is reviewing very strenuously these days. Geography "spell downs" have been very popular with the children. Some new "Field and Forest Readers" have been pleasing the boys and girls a great deal, with their stories of animals and their habits.

Grade 3 Seven mothers visited Miss Simons' room on Mother's day. Twenty-two children purchased the school paper. We will have a picnic the last day of school. Rieta Brewer, Jack Eanke, Sylvia Metzger, Keith Dahymple, Dessie Crothers, Esther Camfield, John Diment, John Thompson, Rita Mae Huebner, Jeannette Flanagan, Geraldine Swartz, Gerald White, and Iris Dalrymple stood 100 per cent in spelling for the month of May.

We began our final examinations Tuesday afternoon. Donald Beck is absent on account of illness. We are having the nines and are also reviewing for examination.

Grade 3 Albert Webb, Robert Strayer, Jack Dalenberg and Junior Reinke made the nicest portfolios. The Speeders are ahead in our Arithmetic contest. Two girls and one boy has left our grade this year.

Grade 3 Virginia Sanford is out of school on account of sickness and will not be with us any more this year. We have some new books for Nature Study, "In Field and Forest." Betty Semple learned the poem about the oak tree which she re-

The school year of 1928-29 just ending, held the brightest sports seasons that Buchanan High school has ever had. The football warriors went through a stiff schedule with but one defeat, that by one point, and two ties. The basketball men annexed twenty straight victories before being downed at the state semi-finals at Detroit. The track team, which is receiving attention for the first year, won the district meet at St. Joseph and made an excellent showing at Kalamazoo. Girls' tennis team, another beginner, won the only match scheduled, with Mishawaka, by a large score. Although Seniors played an important role in these conquests, the oncoming material promises to furnish a successful season next year.

Starting with a large squad, Coach Bradford developed a fast, speedy football team that won attention throughout the state. B. H. S. defeated Galien, Deatur, Osego, Three Oaks, Dowagiac, and Cassopolis and tied Western State High and Allegan. The one loss was to Niles by a score of 7 to 6. Here B. H. S. was nosed out by one point due to a try for extra point which missed its mark by a foot. At Kalamazoo, the State High team scored two touchdowns in rapid succession and made one extra point, but fighting with their backs to the wall, Coach Bradford's warriors came back and tied them, the second try for extra point hitting the crossbar and bounding back into the field. On a sea of mud, the Bucks held the heavy Allegan team to a 0-0 tie on the home field. Although possessing a large advantage in weight, Allegan was unable to penetrate the local's line. Coach Bradford will lose the services of eight letter men due to graduation and two because of age.

In basketball B. H. S. had the most successful season in the annals of the local institution. Winning twenty straight games, the Bucks displayed a championship type of basketball. Buchanan defeated Cassopolis, Bridgman, Berrien Springs, Dowagiac, Niles, Three Oaks, each twice, and Stevensville once. Both Bridgman games and a Niles game gave the locals plenty of exertion but they "came through." At Niles they swept through Three Oaks, Water-vliet, and Berrien Springs for the district title. At Kalamazoo they downed Berrien Springs, Paw Paw and Cassopolis for the regional title, with Paw Paw giving the only trouble. Here Pierce had to sink a "swisher" in the last seconds of play to pull the game from the fire. At Detroit, Buchanan handily whipped Our Lady of Loret, 30 to 20 in the first game, but had a decidedly off night against St. Michaels (Flint), losing 24 to 16. In this game the Bucks did not play their usual flashing game, but seemed unable to do anything. Had they displayed the same brand of ball that they did against Niles they would have undoubtedly returned victors. The Bucks scored 354 points while holding their opponents to 342.

Curley loses four men by graduation and one by age, leaving Pierce, Pfingst, and Knight as a nucleus for next year. The reserves also uncovered some fine material, so the future is bright for another championship team. Coach Bradford used the Inter-Class meet to uncover his track stars and using these B. H. S. scored 53 points to win the "C" and "D" meet at St. Joseph. At Kalamazoo, seconds in the discus and mile gave Buchanan its score. However, three men who would undoubtedly have placed were unable to compete. Now that track has become a permanent fixture at Buchanan, Curly hopes to have a high scoring team next year. The men lost to B. H. S. due to graduation are Savoldi, football, basketball and track; Wilcox, football and track; Morse, football, basketball; Roe, football, track; Fette, football, basketball and track; Smith, football; Dunbar, football and track. E. H. S. also loses Bristol, football and basketball star and DeWitt, football lineman, due to the age ruling. Both players will be past the limit when football starts.

Professionalized College Athletics.

Efforts in that direction are gratifying but we do not suppose the prospect of putting Big Ten athletics, with especial reference to football, on a strictly amateur basis is very bright while the professional coaching system is retained and while the spectacle itself continues to be the great money maker it is. Despite the pious talk of character building and the minor importance of victory, the coach knows that if his team does not win a good percentage of its games he is in for constant nagging from the football-minded public, including many influential alumni of the institution his team represents and that his job is in danger. And the importance attached to the huge gate receipts in itself is not conducive to the cultivation of the amateur spirit. Football makes too much money for its own good. These conditions make the taint of professionalism in what is called a college sport natural and almost inevitable.

The expulsion of the University of Iowa from the Western Conference, on the charge of subsidizing athletes, must mean that the committee which recommended this drastic action has unearthed some pretty convincing evidence of professionalism there. Probably similar evidence might be produced against other institutions in the Conference. Professionalism does not necessarily consist in the formal hiring of athletes. When a star player is given a job paying him at a ridiculously in excess of a fair wage for the time and effort required or when a rich alumnus of immature mind sends him an occasional check, it amounts to the same thing as hiring his athletic services.

Responsible educators recognize and deplore the evils inherent in the college football situation but, with the alumni and the public clamoring for winning teams, they are hardly in a position to do much about it. The university which abolished the high-priced coach system and regulated football to the status of a healthy boys' healthful sport would suffer for it in numbers and prestige. It is more than can be expected in view of the popular demand and the evolution of popular intelligence, college-trained or not, is a rather slow process. Meanwhile the faculty committee which recommended the expulsion of Iowa and is understood to have its scrutinizing eye on the other Big Ten associates may be instrumental in eliminating some of the grosser abuses.

Excess Weight.

President Hoover, who weighed 200 when he entered the white house, has worked off 15 pounds by morning exercise, and now is said at 185, to be at normal weight for a man of his stature, and in perfect physical condition. Diet, it seems, had nothing to do with this; at least it is not mentioned, although usually it plays a large and commanding part in reduction programs.

President Taft took on flesh rapidly in the white house. A large man when he went in, he grew larger until the general public became apprehensive about his health. It is our recollection that he went on a strict diet. We remember seeing him at a college commencement during his term of office, and the gentleman who walked up the aisle with him in the church where the exercises were held brushed the end of the seats.

Our observation has been that dieting is the most effective method of reducing excess flesh and fat. We know two ladies who, long before they were 40, were greatly handicapped by weight. One of them simply starved herself down to normal weight. It required a year to do it, but her reward was great. Within another year she was married. Not that the wedding was a reward for anybody but her husband. Her compensations for the severe discipline she underwent were many. They gave her joys of living she had not had for years. The other lady followed her example.

We do not think $20,000 would tempt either of these handsome women to eat themselves back to their former size.

Family Cooking Regulated.

State regulation of family and bachelor cooking by those who live in apartment hotels has been provided by the New York legislature. As a preliminary to the passage of the law the legislature admitted the right of residents to cook their food in the apartment hotels. That was important because rules made by the owners denied the right to own and operate a cook stove. The regulations are contained in the multiple dwelling house law. For the present only apartment hotel cooking is under regulation but the door has been opened to regulate cooking in all homes in sections where residences are close together.

The multiple dwelling law is a new and interesting illustration of the limits to which regulation of the lives and activities of the public has been carried. The argument over cooking in apartment hotels brought the question and the opportunity for regulation before the legislature. It was a new need, an opportunity for adventure in a new field, and it was used quickly. Regulation of cooking refers mostly to protection against fire, but it aims to have the cooking done without unnecessary discomfort to the neighbors near at hand. Residents in these new dwelling places who are careless with fire and care little for the convenience of their neighbors may be ousted from their apartments with ease.

It is entirely proper for the legislature to protect the public against fire, particularly where many families are assembled under one roof, but legislative regulations for the family cooking are new and novel. What new form of restriction and regulation will be next?

The Law Enforcement Investigators.

Bishop Cannon disapproves the selection of Mr. Wickersham as head of the president's law enforcement commission on the ground that Mr. Wickersham recently expressed the opinion that the penalties provided in the Jones law are so severe that the law will not be enforced. This view is regarded by the bishop as prima facie evidence of wetness. It may not be so at all. It is a curious fact that the dry extremists appear to think that anything done in the name of prohibition enforcement must be defended and indorsed, even though some of these things strike sober-minded persons as calculated not to help the cause but to hurt it. The pernicious under-cover activities of our state enforcement agents, for instance, are championed by the organized dregs, though the accompanying scandals must have turned considerable dry sentiment against prohibition.

The president's selections for his commission have been cordially received in the main by the more open-minded, both dry and wet, the people who really desire more light on the great controversial question and not merely to have their own interests served or their own pride of opinion bolstered up. Such a dry leader as Senator Borah and such a wet leader as Senator Edge both praise the personnel of the commission, on the ground that its members are highly intelligent, patriotic and reasonable. A commission including a majority of Mabel Walker Willebrandts, on the one hand, or of Nicholas Murray Butler, on the other, would have made the investigation a farce and the final recommendations a foregone conclusion. As it is, the commission's report will have a considerable influence on public sentiment and no doubt on the president's own future policy with respect to prohibition, which, in principle, he has never indorsed publicly, though he has called it an experiment noble in purpose and said that he hopes it will succeed.

There is a report that President Hoover will ask the commission not to go into the larger question of the advisability of the repeal or modification of the Eighteenth Amendment but to limit itself in this phase of its work to suggesting what would be best done about the supporting legislation. We trust this report is not true. We believe that the commission should not be restricted at all in its inquiry. What is worth doing is worth doing thoroughly.

Beating the Law.

Perhaps never before in American history has there been so close an organization to protect criminals and other willful violators of law from just punishment as now. It involves to a greater or less extent the entire machinery of justice, both federal and state. So compact and efficient is this organization that it may be conservatively stated that the majority of guilty men brought before the courts escape the penalties fixed by the law.

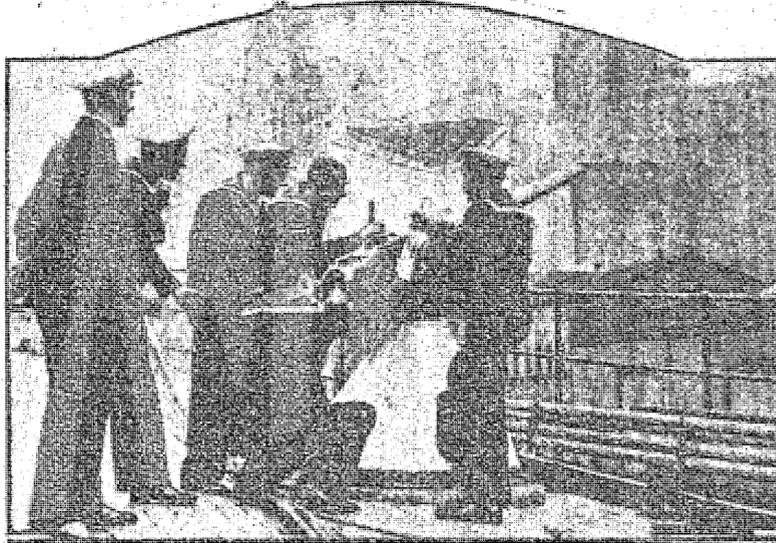

Such a state of affairs could not exist without the active support of court officials. A multitude of court rulings and precedents for the benefit of guilty men have been established. Delays in trials, the use of hired perjurers, and the continuance in office of lawyers known to be crooked, are common all over the country. Every lawyer is an official of the courts, sworn to promote justice. Yet the protection of criminals by crooked lawyers has become a specialty in the courts. Every effort for judicial and court reforms is vigorously fought by these men who disgrace their profession by using every possible procedure to bring about the acquittal of professional criminals.

Authority in high places, even in the U. S. supreme court, recognizes the existence of these facts, and sees in them the crucifixion of justice in the courts themselves. In many counties even the grand juries are corrupted, to the end, for example, that a wanton, cold-blooded murderer may be indicted for assault and battery, and let off with a fine when he should go to the chair. There are so many miscarriages of justice particularly in the large cities, that the courts are losing both the respect and the confidence of the people at large, not so much because of the delinquency of corrupt judges, as through the disregard by lawyers for their sworn duty. There are lawyers who achieve a detestable distinction by their skill in saving clients guilty of every known crime.

There need be no surprise, with the administration of justice in criminal cases so handicapped, that the criminals of the land laugh at the law. But there is one fact that may and does disturb the legal profession from the chief justice of the U. S. supreme court down to the judges of the lowest courts. It is that the legal profession itself, as a whole, is responsible. It can purge itself of the infamous lawyers who have disgraced it, if it so wills.

Our memory goes back to the time, incredible as it seems in these days of reform, when all we expected at a party in the way of refreshment was ice cream and cake.

News Around New Troy

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Phillips and daughters, Carol and Helen, and son of Grand Rapids, spent several days here this week.

Mrs. Leslie Thrall of Washington, D. C. came Decoration Day to visit with her twin brother and family, George Crawford.

Rev. H. L. Fetter and wife, pastor of the M. E. church at Allegan, and a former New Troy resident spent Decoration Day in this place calling on an old friend. He was a dinner guest at the O. A. Nash home.

Glady's Pierson came from Chicago, Sunday to attend the Baccalaureate exercises held in the auditorium of the new high school building. Her brother, Erwin, was a member of the class to graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Short, Michigan City, were dinner guests of Mrs. Caroline Fendal Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Morley entertained the former's brother, Floyd, as a dinner guest Decoration Day.

Mrs. Caroline Stratton is spending a week's vacation at her home here with her little daughter, Gene.

Mrs. Dave Schroyer and Mrs. R. B. McKen returned to Chicago on Friday, taking their mother, Mrs. Alice Challenge, to her home there. She has been visiting here for several weeks.

Ray Zimmerman, who has spent several days in Whiting taking treatments, returned home Thursday.

The Baccalaureate address given Sunday evening by Rev. Horst of the Congregational church of St. Joseph, was listened to by a large audience. He urged the class of eleven members not to put off their life's work until they become older but to begin now. He mentioned several who began very young and by overcoming all obstacles, made a success in life.

Children's Day will be observed Sunday at the M. E. church.

At the close of the Bible school work Sunday, Mrs. E. O. Piper, who is the missionary chairman, gave a short talk of missionary work.

The Weesaw-Chickaming Republican Women's club will meet on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ira Ren of Hubert. All friends invited.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and family of Oak Park, came Saturday evening. After visiting relatives a short time, they went to the Walter Morley home in Washtaw. The latter's sister, Mrs. Morley, who submitted to an operation in Pawating hospital, at Niles, two weeks ago, is said to be improving. It is expected she will be able to be brought home soon.

John Wood and son have had an oil tank installed in front of their store.

The residents of New Troy and vicinity wish to thank the post of the American Legion and its Auxiliary, who came at the call of some citizens to decorate the graves of our fallen heroes on Decoration day. There are 38 Civil War veterans and six World War boys in our cemetery. For some reason plans for the observance of the day were neglected until it was thought to be late and we rejoiced that the Bridgman Legion came to our assistance. The band furnished beautiful music as the Legion and ladies of the Auxiliary and school children decorated the graves. They had been to the Bridgman and California cemeteries before coming to our cemetery and left here to go to Hinckman and Ruggies cemeteries, making in all five.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reams and mother, Mrs. Wm. Rough of Buchanan, were callers at the Caroline Fendal home, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zimmerman entertained company from Whiting also Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Harrison of Niles, Decoration Day.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid society and their friends are invited to the Ralph Sowersby home to spend the day, Tuesday. This is to be the last meeting until fall and all friends are invited.

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Conklin and sons, Paul and Wayne, and daughter, Ruth, drove to Chicago, Wednesday to attend the graduating exercises of the divinity school to which their daughter, Frances, is attending. She is taking a musical course and has one year more.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stowe and family visited at the Sowersby homes over the week end.

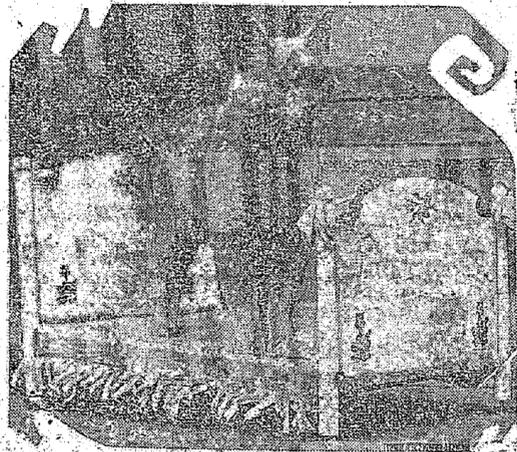

Two beautiful selections were given by the Sowersby quartet at the M. E. services Sunday. Rev. Conklin gave a fine sermon.

Carol Phillips of Grand Rapids, is spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. Ida Phillips.

U. S. Automobiles Secure Place in World Markets

The exportation of American-made motor cars has been for a long time the dream of the makers of this class of merchandise. A great deal of effort and money has been expended in making straight the pathway of the American motor car to the customer outside the boundaries of the United States, and a great deal of interesting information about the adoption of the new transportation facility has come back to us from foreign parts. At the beginning this was mostly picturesque, representations of such-and-such an American car climbing the terraces of this-or-that pyramid, or of Japan, Australia or South America. Meantime, the Americans have acquired manufacturing facilities in these countries, and will profit by sending parts to be assembled, whose production in America is on such a scale of economy as to counteract the effect of duties on partially fabricated imports.

Already, in the assembly plants, the effect of American methods is apparent. An outfit of French workmen are reported to have told the Ford management at its Paris factory that they couldn't keep up speed with the assembly line and were promptly told to quit. A new force with more "gimp" was put at work.

As a result of all the causes, the American motor car is getting into the world market with a vengeance. The indications are that out of 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 motor cars that will be made, in whole or in parts in this country this year, at least a million of them will go abroad. The March exports were of 73 millions of value, indicating on a ten-months' active schedule of supply, a foreign trade of 750 millions. It is this important increment to the figures of our exports that is sending the total volume thereof up to five billions. In the language of the period it is "great stuff" for the American motor manufacturing trade, a good three-fourths of which is in Michigan.

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake!

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

Chicago-Buchanan Society Plans Homecoming-picnic

Chicago-Buchanan (Old Timer's Picnic and Homecoming). That is quite some title for a letter.

Now maybe some of them will not stand for the Old Timer part, but some of us will be there, that's sure, and so we will just drop it, inadvertently, so to speak, and if they don't like it, why it's all right anyway, for we have had our little "say" and let it go at that.

The Chicago-Buchanan Society is made up of people living in and around Chicago, that used to live in Buchanan, and it is the only society of its kind that we know of. There are many "state" and university associations, and all that sort of thing, but this idea was developed by one of Buchanan's own, and to my knowledge, it was Frank Blimpton, who fostered it, mostly. There may have been some one before that but if so I never heard of them. Frank was a good business man and was always strong for Buchanan. I don't know why it is, but mostly all of the people that I know are never ashamed to say Buchanan, when asked about their home town. It isn't such a wonderful place, and still there is nothing slow about it. It has so many pretty places and so many good old-fashioned ways and old-fashioned people, at least down in their hearts they are, even if they do keep up to date and do the things that they are doing in all the larger cities.

We have a whole lot of Buchanans here in Chicago that do not attend any of our meetings or picnics, but it is their loss, so we can't answer for them, but I know of one or two cases, where it is a case of the Buchanan part of the family who is unable to persuade his wife or her husband as the case may be, that is really worth going to see. There is no monopoly on this good time, that we have, and we want everyone we know, to get in with us. If they don't want to or can't, then it is their hard luck and we are sorry, but none the less do we try to enjoy ourselves. You know, I don't believe in sorrowing for things gone past, but to enjoy living, today, and to be assisted and helped over rough spots, by the benefit of what is past. No use to cry all the time for someone that has been called away and cannot be with us. We are here and we are alive and we can and must carry on and I think that we ought to be glad, not sorry. Those that are gone are remembered with love and kindness and they tend to modify our own lives, but they are not to be carried along as a dead weight to mar our lives and happiness.

"Verilee, Verlii, Verlio, Verlium! On the track again." Speaking of the Chicago-Buchanan society, we have meetings each year. One is the yearly dinner, usually held on or about "wood chuck day" and the other is a picnic or outing and is usually held in June just after school is out for the year and before the families (that can afford it) have School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or nasty chemicals. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine."

HOLMES BLAMES DAM DIFFICULTY ON DEMOCRATS

SAYS HE TOOK PART OF THE RESPONSIBILITY AND ALL OF CUSSING.

Editor Record, "Old Timer" has certainly handed me a bouquet of roses, which although unexpected, is appreciated. So far as taking over the "Corner," I decline. He is doing fine and whenever his remarks bring to memory what may seem worthwhile, I will "tip in" as I have been doing. Now, I do not mean that his remarks are not all ways worthwhile. They are. The remark of his father that "when John Holmes got mixed up in that dam business he made a mistake," opens a large question of many phases. For some reasons it was a mistake and for others it was not. None of us were acute enough to foresee the effect that the Cleveland administration was going to have on the conditions of the country with its demand for placing the country on a "wildcat money" basis as was demanded in the platform of 1892. No one could foresee the financial cataclysm that brought onto the country. We were harnessed into that dam proposition after the election and before the storm broke and could not retreat. The work should have been delayed four years until the threat of wildcat money was blown over.

On the other hand! When there was but one railroad in Berrien county, Buchanan had a scope of territory reaching to Lake Michigan, people coming to Buchanan from as far as Stevensville, Bridgman, Berrien Springs and all intervening territory to trade and make their shipments from Buchanan, and Buchanan prospered. It was then that all of the brick store buildings along Front street were built, after the fire that cleared out the frame row in 1861. Along in the seventies Alex Morrison of St. Joseph, built the Chicago & West Michigan road from Muskegon to New Buffalo, and immediately there sprung up live trading points along that line, and where once were only saw mills, became stores and grain elevators, and so Buchanan trade went out as that growth came in. There were a number of furniture factories which for a number of years kept up the life of the town but gradually, for one or another reason, they disappeared and the business life of the town was just about hanging on "by the teeth" and there seemed no remedy excepting the improvement of the river power. We all knew that there must be something done to keep Buchanan from becoming a suburb of Bakertown, so all lured in toward that improvement. No one is entitled to all of the credit, nor all of the blame in the enterprise. I found Peter English, the active mover, but Harry Weaver, it was who found Mr. Beardley and his plans, which made the building possible. Harry stayed in the background and took none of the credits or the cussing that followed, while I was in the spotlight and received his and my arranged to meet them in a hotel share of both. Of the cussing, in Niles for any conference, for if there was plenty and to spare, until I could not turn around but I am he was certain to have a call from some one with his little hammer in the air. Instead of Buchanan being a suburb of Bakertown it has nearly with any one from out of town I 5000 inhabitants, paved streets.

There is to be some action taken this year to make it an annual "home coming" for the entire outfit, and that suits us down to the ground. Only we don't want to lose sight of the old original Chicago-Buchanan picnic idea. We want every one to be there, and enjoy it, no matter whether they live in Chicago or Hills Corners or where, but we are just selfish enough to want to keep our own picnic in the "pie" and "lest we forget" we will strive to convince the good people there to get out old time in on it some way. So no matter where you are when you read this letter, just make up your mind that you are going to Buchanan June 29th, and be with the other Old Timers. Bring all the kids that you can influence, and bring any of the other old friends along. They are all welcome. I hope that Steve and Mrs. Jennie Wood will be able to come and be with us again this year. She was our president for two years and she was a good one, too. They have been in very poor health for a long time now, and I certainly hope they are better and will be able to come over and be with us again this year. Hoping to see you all June 29, I am

Let's Do Our Best!

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

"I don't see why it had to be exactly right," he said to me. "I did about the best I could! Perhaps it wasn't very good, but I was anxious to get done." And then I answered, "Listen, Son—

"Some days it seems a waste of time To work so long to make a rhyme, Or find a word that will convey Exactly what I wish to say. Sometimes I sit and wonder, too, If something 'almost right' will do.

"Perhaps no one would ever note The careless way in which I wrote. But if we fail to do our best— No matter what may be the test— We lose a satisfaction, Son, That in no other way is won!

"To do 'about the best' you can Will not make you the sort of man I'm sure that you would like to be. So, when you do a task for me, To have you stick and see it through, Means much to me—but more to you!"

Rescued from embarrassment

Guests arriving unexpectedly just before dinner need not cause you embarrassment. There may not be enough ice cream and cake to go around, but you can call the corner grocer and order more, unknown to your guests. You can do it, that is, if you have an extension telephone—in the kitchen, for example. Then you cannot be heard in other parts of the house. An extension telephone costs only a few cents a day sanitary sewer, waterworks, electric lights, Rynearson farm, Hamilton farm, Merrill farm, part of the Reynolds farm and others, all platted and well built up; a lot of large factories, all of which would not have been but for the dam. I went out of the picture in 1899, with the firm resolution that I should never return, dead or alive, but in 1908 my brother was sick unto death and I went for a week and with him, July 4. Again in April, 1919 I was there for the burial of Mother Seidmore, and the last time in August, 1925, to attend a family reunion.

Perhaps it was all a mistake. Perhaps? Yes, perhaps. Lest some wise Democrat may question my statement regarding his party demanding that the country go onto the wildcat money basis, the words of the threat were: "We demand the immediate repeal of the prohibitory tax on state bank circulation."

Stop Disease Loss By Seed Treatment

Three of the most destructive diseases of potatoes, scab, blackscurf and black leg can be prevented by treatment of the seed before planting, and this treatment is inexpensive in time and money, according to a statement by members of the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

The use of a solution of corrosive sublimate at a strength of one ounce of the chemical in 30 gallons of water is recommended by the farm crop specialists. The seed should be soaked in the solution for 30 minutes. The corrosive sublimate should be dissolved in two quarts of hot water before being placed in the treating vat.

Wooden containers must be used for the solution as the chemical attacks metals. The potatoes may be placed in crates and set into treating tanks, but, if barrels are used to hold the solution, it is easier to handle the potatoes if they are placed loose in the barrel.

The seed should be treated before it is cut, and, after treatment, it should be spread out to dry. Seed may be treated far enough ahead of planting dates so that the seed stock can be spread out on a barn floor and allowed to green-sprout.

Seed pieces should be large enough to weigh one and one-half or two ounces. If the potatoes are planted in rows 38 inches apart and the seed pieces are

ISLAND IN PACIFIC MAY BE SOURCE OF INFLUENZA

Epidemics Studied by Health Service Indicate Spread Across Ocean.

Washington.—The starting point of the influenza epidemic, which during the last winter swept from California across America and to Europe, where it recently abated, probably was an island in the Pacific. This is only a guess, but fresh evidence in support of it has just been received here by the United States public health service in the official report of the director general of health of Australia.

The significant feature of the report is that influenza was epidemic in Australia and near-by islands at about the same time that we were having it on the Pacific coast. This points to a source of infection in some Pacific island about equally accessible to Australia and California. The definite spot has not been located.

In the Society Islands an epidemic of influenza began in the middle of October. In the Cook islands influenza broke out November 17, just one week after the arrival of a mail boat from New Zealand. The occurrence of several cold, influenza-like days following fine weather was thought to have aggravated conditions there.

The disease was of mild type; only about 300 or 400 persons were affected and the epidemic was over by the end of November. In the Fiji islands influenza was widespread throughout the year and toward the close of the year was of an unusually severe type. In the British Solomon islands an epidemic occurred during the last quarter of the year, but was over by January.

In Australia proper the influenza appeared to abate in the eastern states by the end of November, with the onset of summer weather. However, the influenza wave in south Australia reached its maximum in the middle of December, just as it did in the United States. Influenza cases appeared in Hawaii in August, according to reports from the United States army.

Mosque of St. Jonah Holds Unique Relics

Beirut.—Excavations at Nineveh will be continued with greater vigor this season, according to Prof. Edward Chiera, director of the University of Pennsylvania expedition. In a statement here on his way to Iraq, Chiera said that three thousand years ago Nineveh had a "Kingsway" 60 yards wide. The great mound which covered the pitiful ruins of the royal palace has been fairly well explored. But another large mound, which probably covers the site of the great temple, escaped the excavator. A small village struggles over it, and in the center is a famous mosque. It is the mosque of "St. Jonah," and it contains not only the alleged body of the prophet, but one of the most wonderful relics of the world: The visitor is shown—and one does not need to be a zoologist to smile—a tooth of the whale that swallowed Jonah!

Airedale Pup Proves the Perfect "Office Boy"

Boston.—The perfect office boy has been found here. His name is Kent, he works at 88 Broad street, his boss is Perry Walton, of the Walton Advertising and Printing company, and, furthermore, he is only a year old. He is a thoroughbred Airedale pup. A visitor entering the outer office is greeted with a brisk bark. Two forepaws on the office rail and an eager mouth awaits the visitor's order, message, hat or whatever is offered. This is promptly deposited on the desk of Miss Agnes Thorpe, Mr. Walton's secretary. Miss Thorpe, who trained Kent, expects he will be able to do outside messenger work in a year, while Mr. Walton declares the dog's presence is invaluable in getting business conferences, especially with strangers, away to a friendly start.

$50,000 Hidden Fortune Waits Missing Nephews

Benton Harbor, Mich.—A fortune of $50,000 awaits two nephews of the late Frank DeLisle, eccentric local merchant whose death last winter revealed hidden wealth, a fortune amassed by DeLisle in 30 years' time in a store with a 15-foot front, which dealt principally in hardware and oil. After five months of work on the part of R. E. Hubbard, trust officer for the American Trust company, the father of the two nephews was found. He is James Matteson, husband of DeLisle's sister at Rock Creek, Ohio, but he says he does not know where his sons are.

Canada To Inject Tariff Issue in Grt. Lakes Canal

The people who for political or publication purposes declare from time to time that the completion of the Great-Lakes-to-the-Sea Waterway is a matter of the day, after tomorrow, lose sight of the many considerations which must be taken into account and settled before the enterprise receives the joint authority of the Dominion of Canada and the Government of the United States. Not the least of these is the attempt of the government of Canada to make the subject an issue, in quite a different problem, namely, the tariff system of the United States.

Mr. William Lyon Mackenzie King's government is said to be seeking at this time to inject the question of completion of the waterway into that of the tariff policy of the United States. With the latter, of course, no foreign influence can make itself openly and directly felt, but it can, by offering a passive resistance to the completion of the St. Lawrence waterway, seek to exert a covert influence upon the tariff policy of the country. From the standpoint of admission of foreign products to the markets of the United States, the people of this country are supreme. In addition to that, Canada as a source of foreign products, stands on the same footing as any other foreign country. It would not be logical to make one set of customs duties upon the products of our northern neighbor and upon similar products derived from other sources, if it be determined that they are unduly competitive with those of this country, are so competitive regardless of their origins.

There have been suggestions of accommodations in trade between the Dominion of Canada and the United States taking the form of a commercial unit or Zollverein. These have proceeded from many eminent sources and we have no doubt with the best intentions. Away back in the 30's there was a very active movement in this direction, led by the late Mr. Benjamin Butterworth, an American; Mr. Erasmus Winman, an American business man with Canadian citizenship; and the late Prof. Goldwin Smith, an out-and-out Britisher to effect such an accommodation. Later on, similar suggestions were made on the part of the Canadians by the late Sir Charles Laurier, which were rather acceptably received by the former President Taft. Yet, nothing came of these proposals whether they were meritorious or not. In the case of the next recent approach, that of the Laurier government to the Taft government, the people of each of the countries distinctly repudiated them when the next occasion for recourse to them for votes of approval transpired.

If this situation is to be injected into the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway—and it seems that it has been—it will take a little longer to bring about the necessary conventions of the two governments, than the time involved in checking the engineers' reports and determining the financial relationships. In the meantime, the government of Quebec seems to have taken a practical step, and one entirely within its powers, in granting to a private corporation the right to the so-called Beauharnois enterprise, a water power development. This will realize one of the possibilities of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence enterprise, namely, the production of power, and will at the same time make provision for navigation of a stretch of some thirty miles of the St. Lawrence river along the line of development, planned by the international engineers.

So that, after all, if politics catches the enterprise going, commerce seems likely to catch it coming. Anything New? Two new film stars met after a long separation. "My, Sadie," said one, "It's ages since I've seen you. Anything new with you?" "Two husbands."—THE BITS.

New State Oil Drilling Laws Control Location

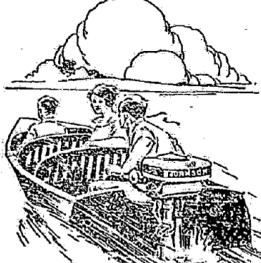

The new Michigan oil and gas well supervision law is very complete and definite. Starting wells without a permit is forbidden. The old law was indefinite on this point and frequently wells were located, the rig built, and the drill down several hundred feet before the permit was received.

Present laws forbid the locating of wells nearer than 200 feet from the boundary of the property except when the properties are too small to keep this distance or when necessary to protect the property from unfair drainage. The locations in such cases, however, must be approved by the well supervisor. Under the old law the state had no power to control locations or to prevent line drilling and over-drilling and the bad consequences of such practice.

The old law gave the state power to compel proper drilling, casing sealing and plugging of wells, but the state was almost helpless to prevent bad operating practices, wastes of gas into the air or oil on the surface. As a result some of the inexperienced or irresponsible operators wasted many million cubic feet of gas and thousands of barrels of oil, greatly injuring the "pay sands" through their ignorance and carelessness. The new law is the result of co-operation between the department of conservation and the more experienced and responsible oil and gas operators, who fully recognize the need of proper and adequate laws for the conservation and protection of the oil and gas resources of the state.

In addition to the provisions of the law, the well supervisor has power to issue any supplementary rules and regulations necessary to protect the oil and gas and other resources from waste or drainage through improper practice. The willful or criminally careless waste of oil or gas is a violation of the provisions of the act.

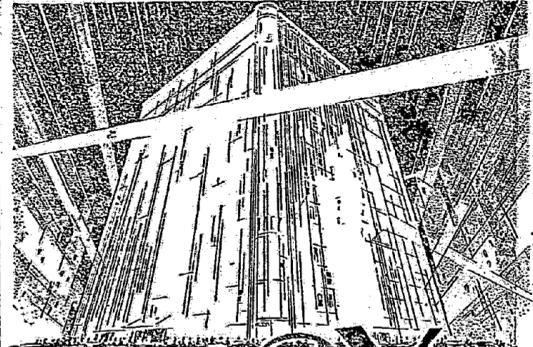

or the rules and regulations issued by the well supervisor, and will subject the offender to arrest and fine imprisonment or both.
