

CLARK OUTPUT REACHES PEAK

Chicago Firm Leases Campbell Transmission Company Plant

75 PER CENT ABOVE SAME PERIOD 1928

Gain is Half Larger than the Average of the Country.

PASSES WAR MARK

Normal June Decline May Cut Down the Volume.

Evidence that Buchanan has benefited beyond the average of manufacturing towns from the record-breaking activity in automobile and accessory making during the opening months of 1929 is contained in information received through the Clark Equipment Co. offices to the effect that employment in its plant here has been 75 per cent greater during that period than in the opening months of 1928, as compared with an increase of 50 per cent in employment in automobile construction over the country at large.

Both employment and output of the local plant reached their peak for its entire history of nearly three decades during the past spring, when a force of 1200 men were working overtime six days per week in many departments. The past two months employment at the plant has been 50 per cent in excess of the peak during the war period in 1918. This war peak has been exceeded twice before, in the opening period of 1926 and 1928.

It is expected that the gross output of the plant for 1929 will register a substantial increase over that of 1928, according to advice from the local offices, but it is not expected that the phenomenal level of output of the past three months will be maintained throughout the year. June will witness more or less relaxation of the tension of activity which marked the opening months. This is a normal development, however, that is definitely expected every year, and it is not anticipated that the regular summer decline in production will be greater than usual or will reduce the entire yearly output to the 1928 figure.

John Clark is Graduated From Cornell University

John Magruder Clark, son of B. B. Clark, president of the Clark Equipment company, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Chemistry from Cornell University at the annual Commencement to be held at Ithaca, N. Y., June 17.

He was prominent in school activities during his residence there. He was circulation manager of the Cornell Widow, student humorist publication, and a member of the musical clubs for three years. He is a member of Sigma Phi fraternity, Phi Delta Epsilon, honorary Journalism Society, Red Key, junior society, and Alpha Chi Omega, Chemistry society.

His father, E. B. Clark, a graduate of Cornell with the class of 1894, is attending the Commencement and also a reunion of his class.

Streets Strewn With Chloride to Keep Down Dust

Chloride of lime was strewn on all the gravel streets of the town during the past week by Street Commissioner Ed. Mitchell as a measure to allay the dust nuisance of the summer season.

Demonstration at Music Shoppe Friday

Mrs. Josephine Kelley will hold her music class at the Music Shoppe Friday afternoon. A free demonstration of piano service will be given at the same time by experts in the employ of the shop. The public is invited to attend.

A minor automobile accident occurred on Front street this morning when Leon Campbell backed from the curb in front of the Princess, clashing with an east-bound car bearing an Illinois license. Slight damages were done to fenders and running boards of each car.

AUGUST 5 SET FOR SPECIAL CHARTER VOTE

Completed Document is now in the Hands of Governor Green.

TO BE BACK THIS WEEK

The Town Must Select State Officials by the 15th of June.

Later, Secretary A. S. Bonner of the Charter Commission received the charter back from the hands of Governor Green yesterday, completing the preparatory stages for the submission of the document to the electors.

During the four weeks which will elapse between this date and July 15, the electorate of Buchanan will be called upon to select candidates for offices provided for by the new city charter, which will be voted on at the special election which has been set for August 5.

The candidates for the various offices shall be placed in nomination by petitions carrying the names of not less than 30 and not more than 50 qualified electors residing in the municipality, such petitions to be drawn up according to a form provided for in the charter and to be filed with the clerk of the village of Buchanan not later than midnight, Central Standard Time, July 15.

"I'm not afraid that this charter will not be adopted at the special election," stated one of the charter commission, "but what I am afraid of is that the general public will not be sufficiently aroused to the necessity of placing good candidates in the field before the closing filing date on July 15. It is not so vital that this charter be adopted as that a strong slate of men be elected to put it into effect during the opening year."

The officers provided for by the charter to be voted on August 5 will be the following: one city commissioner whose term shall expire the second Monday in April, 1930; two city commissioners, whose terms shall expire the second Monday in April, 1931; the candidate receiving the fifth largest number of votes shall be declared elected to serve until the second Monday in April, 1932; two supervisors, two justices of the peace, two constables.

In the special election of August 5, the commissioners shall be elected as follows: Two candidates receiving the largest number of votes shall be declared to be elected to serve until the second Monday in April, 1932; the two candidates receiving the third and fourth largest number of votes shall be declared elected to serve until the second Monday in April, 1931; the candidate receiving the fifth largest number of votes shall be declared elected to serve until the second Monday in April, 1930.

The commission shall then elect a mayor from among themselves and the mayor shall appoint the following, subject to the approval of the commission: city clerk, city attorney, city treasurer, city assessor, city health officer, three election commissioners, three inspectors of election from each voting precinct, street commissioner, city engineer, chief of police, chief of fire department.

The commission shall represent the city at large, there being one general ward. The city will be divided into two election precincts, with the center of Front street as the dividing line.

National Flag to Be Displayed on Streets Tomorrow

All flags are scheduled to be out on the streets of Buchanan tomorrow (Friday), that day having been proclaimed Flag Day by proclamation of Governor Fred Green. The proclamation urges that the flag be displayed where ever possible and that schools and organizations, in session, observe the day with suitable exercises in an effort to instill in the rising generation a suitable respect for the national emblem.

BUCHANAN STORES ADOPT 5 1/2 DAY WK.

ALL GROCERIES, HARDWARE STORES, MEAT MARKETS JOIN MOVE.

All grocery stores, meat markets and hardware stores of Buchanan will close Thursday afternoons for the remainder of the summer, beginning this week, as the result of an agreement reached after two weeks of discussion. The decision to close was delayed for a time until the move could be authorized by headquarters of a local chain store. This is in line with a practice now fast becoming general of giving store operatives and employees a half day off per week in addition to Sunday through the summer months.

LAKE FISHING SEASON OPENS SAT. MIDNIGHT

ARRESTS ARE MADE WHEN FISHERMEN JUMP THE OPENING DATE.

The regular hours of sleep on the part of the local sportsmen will be broken into Saturday next, when the annual grand stampede to the lakes of Michigan will take place on the occasion of the lifting of the ban on lake fishing at midnight sharp, June 15.

After that date fishing in both lakes and streams will continue unhindered until Sept. 1 with trout, bass, perch, bluegills and all other members of the finny tribe fair game for the sportsmen, the only requirement being the fishing license, some semblance of tackle and a knowledge of the dietary preferences of the game.

The usual disposition to jump the gun has led to a number of arrests in the county lately, according to Deputy Game Warden Cleve Horner of Galesburg, who reports two arrests at Big and Little Paw Paw lakes Sunday. Kie Gibson of Watervliet was arrested for fishing with set lines for perch in Paw Paw lake. He was taken before Justice Campbell of Watervliet and fined $10 and costs of $5.40. Roy Ferguson of Chicago, was arrested for fishing in Little Paw Paw lake and was fined $5 and costs of $3.80. Arrests were made by Horner and special deputy, August Frick of Coloma.

Seven Buchanan Youths Enroll in Citizen's Camps

Since the publication of the list of local boys enrolled in the citizens military training camps for the summer the number has been enlarged and now includes the following: Roy Hinman, Morris Whitely, Ellsworth Boyce, Clem Blinn, James Ellis, Carl Sanders and Frank Hickok.

All of the above save Frank Hickok will attend Camp Camp Hickok at Battle Creek, this year being their first in training. Hickok will go to Camp Sheridan for his fourth and final year of training, following which he will be eligible for enrollment in the reserve officers training corps as second lieutenant.

3d Street Sewer To Be Commenced By Another Week

Construction of the Third street sewer will begin by the latter part of next week in all probability, according to Hipsind, foreman of the city construction force. The force is now engaged in installing a short section on Third street at the junction with Portage street in order to clear the way for the installation of pavement there. As soon as it is done, the trench will be dug by machine on Portage from Front to Central Court, following which that section will be completed by hand and the digger will be moved to Third street and work started at once.

The city water will be shut off Sunday, June 16, from 7 a. m. until noon.

MAYOR ISSUES HOME COMING INVITATION

Former Residents of Buchanan are Invited to Be Guests.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29TH

The Chicago-Buchanan Society are to be in Charge.

On Saturday, June 29, Buchanan will have an official Home Coming day, on the occasion of the annual Chicago-Buchanan society picnic, when all former residents of the city, whatever their present address may be, are formally invited to come back home and renew the old ties of friendship and neighborliness as the honored guests of the municipality.

This annual summer picnic was instituted last summer as a Chicago-Buchanan society affair, and was so successful that it was decided to widen the scope to the status of a general home-coming under the auspices of the society. A proclamation to that effect by Mayor Claude Glover is printed elsewhere on this page, and general invitations have been sent out by the secretary, C. O. Milner of Chicago, who acquired membership in the organization by his marriage to Eva Morris, niece of John Morris and a daughter of Royal Morris, one time secretary of the Zinc Collar Pad Company. Mr. Milner officially signs himself "husband of Eva Morris," as he is not known by local residents.

TWO OUTBREAKS RABIES REPORTED IN BUCHANAN

HANOVER AND BRINEY DOGS RUN AMUCK AND BITE SEVERAL.

Warrant for the urgency of the quarantine declared on all the dogs of Berrien County by the State Health Department is contained in developments of the past week, when reports of rabies outbreaks have come in from two sections of the community.

Returns were received the first of the week from the laboratories of the State university at Ann Arbor, to the effect that the head of the dog that recently bit Mrs. Charles Birney and her mother, Mrs. Croft, at their home in the Bend of the River, showed positive evidence of rabies. The two women had not received treatment.

On Thursday a dog belonging to Lyle Hanover of South Oak street bit Lester White in the back and Wilbur West in the hand. The two men had been on friendly terms with the animal and attempted to quiet it when they saw it dashing excitedly on its rope. Chief Mitchell killed the dog and sent the head to Ann Arbor. The university reported the first of the week that it was unable to make a test, but advised treatment which has been given.

Estate of Former Buchanan Resident Theme Court Fight

Buchanan people will be interested in reports from relatives of the legal battle being staged over the estate of the late Z. R. Baldwin of the Baldwin Sanitarium of Kalamazoo. Ten days prior to his death, Baldwin married his private secretary, Mary E. Wilson, 29, and the will is now being contested by his daughter, Mrs. Maude Baldwin of Santa Monica, Calif. Baldwin formerly lived at Niles and was well known here.

John Morris, who has been confined to his home since January, is slowly improving.

Proclamation of Annual Home Coming

In view of the annual reunion to be held in Buchanan on Saturday, June 29, under the auspices of the Chicago-Buchanan Society, I take this occasion to proclaim the occasion an annual Home Coming for all former residents of Buchanan, and to extend to all and sundry who have once made this place their home to be the guests of the city on that day.

Present residents of the town are hereby requested to do all in their power to put their premises in order and to make all possible arrangements to extend a hospitable welcome to our guests, in order that the day may be a success and the forerunner of many such occasions in the future.

Signed, CLAUDE GLOVER, PRESIDENT.

STATE DEPT. REV. NUCKOLS DRAWS REINS OVER TRAFFIC TALE BEARING

Fifty Special Police have been Added to the Highway Force.

CHECK LICENSES 38 GET DIPLOMAS

State highways in this section of Michigan are being guarded for traffic infractions much closer than formerly, in common with a general policy adopted by the Michigan Department of Public Safety which has enrolled 50 additional state police, increasing the number to 200 for the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Responsibility for public safety on the public highways of this section is in the hands of state troopers Austen and Carpenter, the former making his headquarters at White Pigeon and the latter at Paw Paw. These troopers pass through Buchanan regularly, each making this point on alternate days in pursuing routes over state highways which are changed daily to cover the entire southwestern corner of the state.

Special attention is being directed at the checking of licenses. Two arrests were made the first of the week by state police in collaboration with Under Sheriff Clarence Dunbar, Lester Miller of Kalamazoo having been held for driving a truck without a license. He was tried before Justice of the Peace Al Charles and was given the light sentence of $1, in view of the fact that he had made an attempt to secure a license, but his papers had been held up because of an error in application. Elda Dennis was also arrested for driving a truck without either driver's license or license plates. He was taken before Justice Al Charles and was assessed $5 on each charge.

Former Supt. of Schools Visits Worthington Home

A guest of unusual interest in Buchanan during the past week was W. L. Mercer, who spent five years as superintendent of the Buchanan schools, over 25 years ago, and who has spent 20 years as superintendent of the schools of Olmstead county, with headquarters at Rochester, Minn. Mercer is the guest while here at the home of Atty. A. A. Worthington, whose intimate friend he was during his tenure as superintendent. Previous to his term as superintendent, he spent two years as principal of the local high school. He is accompanied by his wife, who served a number of years as primary teacher in the Buchanan schools. Mr. Mercer states that two daughters, Louise and Helen were graduates of this year from the University of Minnesota, the former specializing in music and the latter in laboratory technique and that both are pursuing work suited to their training. Another daughter, Katherine, was graduated from the two year course of the junior college of Rochester, completing a course preparing her for a secretary in a physician's office, and was one of two out of a class of 20 to secure a position of that sort at the Mayo Bros. establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Mercer arrived here Monday evening, leaving on Wednesday for a visit at Kalamazoo and other points north. They plan to visit here again on their return.

CO. STARTS OPERATIONS HERE MONDAY

Krohn Corporation to Make Differentials in Local Factory.

DONOT WANT AID

Product is Established on the National Market.

The Krohn Differential Corporation of Chicago, has leased the Campbell Transmission factory, starting operations in the local plant Monday of this week.

The Krohn Corporation is engaged in the manufacture of Krohn Compensating Differentials for Motor Trucks, tractors and passenger cars and Krohn power dividing units for six wheel trucks.

W. G. Farnsworth, president of company, stated that his decision to come to Buchanan, was made after a number of very attractive propositions had been made to him by Chambers of Commerce and Industrial foundations in South Bend, Niles, Michigan City, LaPorte, St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, Marion, Ind.; Lima, Ohio; Jackson, Mich.; Rockford, Ill.; and Elkhart, among others. Their favorable consideration of Buchanan as a site for the contemplated expansion program of his company, he stated, was due to the fact that the complete equipment for the manufacture of Krohn products is immediately available for the expansion which the company anticipates in the near future.

Operations were started here by the Krohn organization Monday morning under the supervision of chief engineer, Frank M. Kincaid. Mr. Farnsworth stated that his company will employ local help exclusively but will not employ any one now employed at the plant of the Clark Equipment company. This policy has been adopted by the Krohn company because of their desire not to disrupt in any way local industrial employment conditions. The company will continue production in their Chicago factory, for the time being, and will move their engineering department to Buchanan at a later date. They are now employing machinists and tool makers at the Buchanan plant.

Under the agreement with the Krohn Corporation, the Campbell Transmission company will continue their experimental and development work in the factory, and have contracted with the Krohn Corporation to manufacture transmissions for them. Because of the similarity in the products of the two companies, it is possible that a consolidation of interests may later be worked out.

Krohn differentials have been manufactured in a limited way for more than five years by H. MacFarlane & Co. of Chicago, who originated and developed the business until January of this year when the Krohn Differential Corporation was organized for expanding the manufacture and sale of Krohn Differentials, by Edwin L. Lobdell & Co., 209 So. LaSalle St., Chicago, one of the oldest investment banking concerns in the business. Charles W. Lobdell and Charles B. Willard, officers of the E. L. Lobdell Co., are also officers and directors of the Krohn Differential Corporation, and are actively participating in the management of the business.

Negotiations between the Campbell Transmission Co. and the Krohn Differential Corporation were conducted by L. L. Campbell, president of the local company, W. W. Harrah, vice president, and L. M. Hammerschmidt of South Bend, attorney for the Campbell company. These men are to be congratulated upon their efforts to obtain for Buchanan an additional industry which has every early indication of becoming a large and successful manufacturing addition in the community that will employ a substantial number of men at both skilled and unskilled labor.

L. L. Campbell states that his company has carefully investigated the Krohn Differential Corporation and that they are convinced that the future of this industry will rival that of the Bendix Brake (Continued on Page 4)

Now Here's the Proposition

Them Rainin' Blooze
Bl Haws

Oh I git the blooze when I hear it rainin',
My bones they ache and my corns start painin',
When I see the punkins stand there drinkin',
I git the blooze when I go to thinkin',
That I'll make a million when I reap my barley
And I hate to trust it to Herb and Charlie,
When I ship my hogs and sell my honey
Then where in the hell will I keep my money?
I'll rent a box car and make a shipment,
Or else I'll buy out the Clark Equipment,
I think when I hear them big drops plunkin',
Of the trouble I'll have when I do my bankin',
Then I have a sob and my timbers shiver
And my tears go splashing to the St. Joe river
Washin' the roads in great deep ruts
Swampin' the boats and wreckin' the bridges,
If it don't quit rainin' the consequences
Is buy more land and move my fences,
Fer away out there in the corn and clover
I kin hear them big spuds say, "move over,"
The melons are growin' like the very dickens
And the punkin vines are a-chasin' the chickens
And that's why I git the blooze
Why I git the blooze
Why I git the Bloo-ho-o-o-s
When it ray-ay-ay-ins.

25th Anniversary Wedding Observed At 4 Flags June 1

A social event of more than usual interest was the celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Orville Curtiss which was held at the Four Flags Hotel on the evening of Saturday, June 1. Twenty-five friends of the honored couple were present to enjoy the banquet which featured suitable to the occasion were received, and the couple were sped on the second lap with best wishes for their coming Golden Wedding.

River St. Bridge Closing Delayed Until End Week

The closing of the River street bridge, which had been scheduled for today, has been delayed temporarily by breakdown of the drum of the cement machine, and will not occur until Friday or Saturday, according to the foreman in charge. It is likely that the bridge will not remain closed over 10 days, subject to the decision of the county road commission, in order that traffic from the Bend of the River be interfered with as little as possible.

Olin Summerrill Up and About the Dowagiac Hospital

Olin Summerrill is reported to be much improved from his recent injuries and has been able to be up and about several days, but is still unable to leave the Lee Memorial hospital at Dowagiac, where he has been confined. Sprains complications set in for a time but have been cleared up, according to advices this morning.

EASTONS MOVE TO HOBART
Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Easton and Paul and Jane Easton left Friday for Hobart, Ind., where they will make their future home. Mr. Easton bought the Hobart Gazette two months ago and has operated it since that time visiting Buchanan over the week ends, his family remaining here until the close of the school term.

Mrs. Olive Melvin will entertain Friday evening at a farewell party in honor of Mrs. Henry Dellinger.

News From Galien and Vicinity

Official Tester Issues Report on Dairy Results

Koster, tester for the South Berrien Dairy Herd Improvement Association, submits an interesting report of the herds and individual cows in the association for the past month.

Doan Straub of Galien has the high herd for the month, his nine cows producing an average of 1,568 lbs. of milk and 53 lbs. of butter fat. John Clark's twelve cows gave an average of 1,549 lbs. of milk, making 41.2 lbs. of butter fat. The four cows belonging to Douglas Dean, produced 837 lbs. of milk on the average, making 40.7 lbs. of fat. There are 19 cows in the herd on the Pardee estate that produced 1065 lbs. of milk for the month with a butter fat average of 38.6 lbs. George Olmstead milked 3 cows that averaged 1017 lbs. of milk and 35.5 lbs. of fat.

The following are the best individual cows in their different classes:

In the mature class Doan Straub's purebred Holstein, Colantha, won first place with 1866 lbs. of milk, making 66.1 lbs. of fat. Henry Nemetz's grade Holstein, Nancy, gave 1485 lbs. of milk, making 63.8 lbs. of fat. Blossom, a purebred Holstein in the Edwards herd, produced 2207 lbs. of milk with 61.8 lbs. of fat.

In the four year old class a pure bred Guernsey, Wilma, belonging to Frank Roun, made an average of 1302 lbs of milk and 62.5 lbs. of fat. D. E. Sharpe's pure bred Guernsey, Hazel, made 1221 lbs. of milk with 55 lbs. fat. A grade Guernsey, Gusti, owned by George Olmstead, produced 1102 lbs. of milk and 53.4 lbs. of fat.

Second, a pure bred Guernsey, belonging to D. E. Sharpe, produced 1236 lbs. of milk with 61.8 lbs. of fat, making a record in the three year old class. A pure bred Holstein, Hattie, owned by the Pardee estate, made 1478 lbs. of milk and 59.1 lbs. of fat. T. Dickie's pure bred Holstein, Canary, produced 1522 lbs. of milk containing 63.2 lbs. of fat.

In the two year class, the grade Holstein, Vera, on the Pardee estate, made 1236 lbs. of milk and 47 lbs. of fat. Jane, a grade Holstein in the same herd, gave 1038 lbs. of milk with 41.5 lbs. of fat. Doan Straub's pure bred Holstein, Genevieve, produced 1435 lbs. of milk with 41.5 lbs. of fat.

Sir Thomas Lipton is coming again in 1930 to try to win that American yachting cup. Thirty years is a long time to spend even for a cup.

Galien Troop 51 Court of Honor

Last Wednesday evening the Galien Boy Scouts held a court of honor at the Latter Day Saints church. At this time the boys, then Oscar Noll, scout executive of St. Joseph and James Best of Dowagiac. The court was opened by singing followed by a prayer. James Best rendered a piano solo. Four new scouts were awarded their tenderfoot badges. They were Arthur and Lester Roundy and Harold and Rex Shuley. These badges indicate that these boys have successfully passed the tests of beginners. Merit badges were awarded Wayne and Paul Conklin, Lester Warnke, Laverne Wolford, Kernit and Clarence Mikelson, Robert Kelly, Burdick Kieffer and Robert Carroll. These merit badges were won by hard work in vocational subjects and are the foundations for status scouts. Paul and Wayne Conklin and Kernit Mikelson are now first class scouts. Rev. J. W. McKnight gave an interesting talk on "Start Right, Stay Right and End Right." The audience was dismissed with the scout benediction. The next Court of Honor will be held sometime in July and the boys of troop 51 with their scoutmaster, Wilbur Dempsey, are planning on winning a great many more awards.

Scout Council Of Galien Holds Court of Honor

The Boy Scout Court of Honor was held Wednesday evening in the L. D. S. church. The meeting opened by the Scout Law and closed with the Scout Oath and benediction. Rev. J. W. McKnight was the speaker of the evening. His topic was "To Begin Right, Stay Right and End Right."

James Best of Dowagiac, gave several piano solos. Oscar Noll of Benton Harbor presented the merit badges to Paul and Wayne Conklin, Lester Warnke, Laverne Wolford, Robert Kelly, Burdick Kieffer, Bob Carroll, Clarence and Kernit Mikelson. Tenderfoot badges were awarded to Rex and Harold Shuley, Arthur and Russell Roundy.

Postal Telegraph Has Pension Plan For Aged Employees

An initial fund of $5,000,000 has been set aside by the directors of the Postal Telegraph Cable Co., for administration of a new pension and benefit plan, involving about 200 employees who go into effect July 1. The plan is designed after that of the international telephone and telegraph company, with which the postal is affiliated.

"The $5,000,000 is just a beginning and the fund will be increased from time to time," Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal company declared. "We believe we have taken a most liberal means of providing for the needs of our employees in sickness, injury and old age. To devise the plan other similar ones were very carefully studied and we believe the plan we have finally adopted is the best and most all embracing, in that it provides a pension for dependents of employees who die while in the service of the company or while pensioners, as well as including generous sick and pension benefits it is our feeling that employers should know consideration for the families of their workers as well as the workers themselves."

Under the new plan, male employees of postal may be retired after they have reached the age of 60, while women employees may be pensioned any time after they are 55. On their own request, male employees may be pensioned after they become 65 years old and women employees after they are 60. The retirement pension is payable monthly during the life of the retired employee and amounts to one and one half per cent of his average annual pay during his term of service, multiplied by the number of years of service.

Employees who become injured in the course of and arising out of their employment by postal are entitled to full pay during the first 13 weeks of disability. For partial disability, the difference between full pay and the wages which, in the judgment of the committee in charge of the plan, the employee is capable of earning is allowed. Half pay is allowed after the first 13 weeks. Reasonable medical, surgical or other attendance and treatment, including hospital and nurse service is provided.

Employees suffering illness or who are the victims of accident outside the course of employment in the company are entitled to full pay for one week for each year of the employee's term of service with a maximum of 11 weeks. Thereafter, half pay is allowed them for three weeks for each year of service up to 39 weeks.

The plan provides a death benefit in cash of $1,000. To dependents of employees whose death from an accident in the course of work for the company and a monthly pension amounting to one per cent of the employee's average wage during his term of service, multiplied by 22 if his term of service is less than 22 years and by his term of service if it exceeds 22 years. Dependents of employees who have worked for postal for two years or more and whose death occurs from a cause other than accident while at work will receive $500; and if the term of service was 10 years or more a monthly pension during the period of dependency but not exceeding one third of the employee's term of service.

Bend River Grange Presents Minstrel Show at Mt. Tabor

A cast of ten burnt cork artists headed by former sheriff, Fred Franz, as interloper, furnished the main feature of the entertainment at the regular meeting of the Mt. Tabor Grange Friday evening, an attendance of 125 crowding the hall to capacity.

The repertoire of the minstrels included a number of hits and take-offs on Grange members, including Master Roffin of the Mt. Tabor Grange, which aroused much merriment. Four ladies of the visiting grange added to the program by presenting an entertaining dramatic skit entitled "The Embalming of Ebenezer." Fifty members of the Bend of the River were present.

Change Location of Band Concert Proves Unpopular

The problem of the re-location of the band concert remained unsettled this morning as the result of the experiment of the township board in changing it to Days Avenue last night, much to the discomfort of a large number of attendants.

The change apparently met with little satisfaction on the part of the public, who favor its return to the original place at the intersection of Main and Front streets. The principal objection is due to the poor acoustic advantages of the new location, the high buildings surrounding the former location having served the function of sounding boards, throwing the music much further than the scattered building front on Days Avenue. Considerable objection was made to the fact that the audience had not been warned of the change and parked their cars on Main street and other sections where it was impossible to hear. Since 200 feet of street front on the east side of Days Avenue adjacent to the Farriner store in front of which the concert was held is closed to parking, it was impossible for as many people to sit in their cars and listen. Due to that fact many went home without waiting for the concert. It is probable that the concert will be moved back to the old location next week.

Strunk Family

A civet cat is more correctly called the little striped skunk. It is smaller than the genuine skunk. The end hair is short, thick and dark. The top hair is silky and black with white stripes or patches. There is also a Chinese civet, belonging to the civet family. Its fur is heavy and quite silky, but the color varies and is spotted.

Red-Haired Girls

From the beginning of time, in the literature of all ages, the red-haired girl found herself persistently passed by. For some mysterious reason, the red-haired girl was at a discount to the poets of all ages.

RESIDENT OF CLEAR LAKE MAKES KICK

Says the Condition of Road on the East Side is Dangerous.

MUCH TRAVELLED

Flourishing Summer Conyony on the East Side of the Lake.

(Contributed)

The so-called road leading to the east side of Clear Lake is in a condition not fitting the amount of traffic which annually passes over it. The road in question is a two mile strip of road which leads off from the paved road about a mile west of Buchanan, and extends until it reaches Clear Lake. At its very best, the road (or we might say, the cowpath), is really dangerous on account of its narrowness and in rainy weather it is particularly impassable, because of its slippery condition. The road had consisted mostly of clay and has never had enough gravel put on it to correct this deplorable condition.

After all, this road leads to a community where several families have their residences during the summer, and should be given the same consideration which has been given to other roads that do not have nearly the traffic pass over them.

The east side for the past thirty years has been owned by the Buchanan-Columbian-Camping club. Before this, all the property was owned by C. H. Fuller, who organized this club, and at the present time, is the only charter member of it. Besides being a charter member of this club, Mr. Fuller has also been conducting a pavilion, not only for the convenience of the club, but also for the public in general.

The club members at present consist of prominent business men from our own city and from neighboring cities. Following are the club members:

J. Rubel, purchasing manager, Sears Roebuck & Co., Chicago; W. Anderson, president of the Mowery-Varnish Co., Chicago; Frank Miller and W. J. Miller, Lumber Co., Buchanan; J. E. Arney, grocer, Buchanan; W. Griffith, contractor and builder, Chicago; J. McDonald, owner Lakewood Press of Chicago; O. Perucko, electrician, South Bend; C. Landis, assistant cashier, Buchanan State bank; E. Kroll, ex-sheriff of LaPorte county, Michigan City; E. Dyer, merchant, Three Oaks; E. C. Pascoe, superintendent Clark Equipment Co., Buchanan; L. Desenberg, Desenberg Clothing store, Buchanan; C. H. Fuller, president of club, Buchanan. The Bradley Brothers Construction Co. has been kept very busy for the last few months building and remodeling for the different members of the club. They recently built a new bungalow for C. H. Fuller and have remodeled the home of E. Kroll, W. Anderson, and E. C. Pascoe, and have contracted to remodel several of the other homes during the next few months.

C. H. Fuller, besides conducting the pavilion, has provided and kept up a picnic ground which is made use of by thousands every summer. There have been as many as 500 cars visited the east side of the lake in one day. This resort is really a credit to Buchanan, not only for the pleasure that it provides for the Buchanan citizens, also for the money that is brought here by the great number of pleasure-seekers whose route passes through Buchanan on their way to Clear Lake.

Why should the people of this township pay for roads leading to distant lakes and neglect the small strip of road leading to Buchanan's most convenient pleasure resort? There is hardly a person in our township that does not take advantage of the fine picnic grounds and bathing beach at Clear Lake, and, to make driving conditions safer should be to the interest of all. We pay out our money for roads leading by roadhouses and other amusement places of questionable character, why should we neglect the road leading to the Clear Lake resort where clean sport and healthful recreation can be had by all?

Let's widen that "cowpath" leading to Clear Lake!

Corporation of South Bend. He stated that the Krohn Corporation is very well financed and is not selling stock.

Advantages of the Krohn Differential over the ordinary product include that of permitting one wheel to move faster than the other while rounding a corner or while one is jacked up but does not permit one wheel to spin in sand or loose dirt thereby robbing the other wheel of power. It does not lock and prevents skidding by equalization of the traction on all wheels, while at the same time reducing gasoline consumption otherwise lost through useless work.

The Krohn Differentials have been used in Mack and in Diamond T trucks for a number of years and they have also been installed on fleets operated by the American Express Company and on four wheel trucks used by the United States Army.

Rev. Liddicoat Heads China Relief Here

Rev. H. L. Liddicoat has been named as chairman of the Chinese Famine Relief Fund for Buchanan and is prepared to receive donations to this cause.

At the present time there are 57,000,000 people in China affected by food shortage which is present in the famine areas and 20,000,000 of these people are said to be actually facing starvation. Mr. Liddicoat states that if 4,000,000 of these people who can now be reached with food are not helped in some way they can not be expected to live. The need is not only urgent but immediate.

The Methodist church at a recent service raised $30 for this cause but the funds raised at this time have been inadequate.

Among those who are members of the commission on relief are Elihu Root and Theodore Roosevelt.

Invitations Issued Pulber-Hall Wedding

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Betty Rosalia Pulber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Q. Pulber of Owosso, Ind., to Dr. Lawrence Hinman Hall, of Ann Arbor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hall of Buchanan, which will take place Wednesday, June 19th. They expect to make their home at Des Moines, Ia., where Dr. Hall has accepted a position at the State University.

It is estimated that at least 1,000,000 persons in the United States have some form of speech disorder.

Annual Picnic of Home Service Dept. Dated For June 18

All members planning to attend will please notify one of the following committee: Mrs. Lester Lyons, Mrs. Lloyd Sands, Mrs. E. C. Pascoe, Mrs. C. D. Hamilton.

Mechanical Man Operates Airplane Without Aid 30 Min.

Robot has invaded the last place anybody would expect to find him, the pilot's seat in an airplane. In a test at the municipal airport in Chicago, an automatic machine successfully operated a National Air Transport mail and express Douglas biplane for 30 minutes without help from the pilot, other than a slight pressure of the rudder bar occasionally, it has been announced. The automatic pilot controls the ship by means of a vane, set on the upper wing of the plane, pointing forward into the wind.

From the interior of the fuselage or body of the plane extends a pendulum, and both vane and pendulum are connected to a control device actuating two motors, one of which controls the ailerons and the other the elevators. The side motion, or forward motion, of the ship causes a like movement of the vane and pendulum, which causes immediate response, through the motors, in the vane and pendulum which brings the ship into an exact stable position almost at once.

E. P. Lott, manager of operations of National Air Transport, flew the ship fitted with the automatic control and said that its action was satisfactory in keeping the plane in proper flying position. Officials are enthusiastic over the possibilities presented by the new automatic control apparatus and see in it, when the device is further perfected, another aid in the overcoming of bad weather conditions.

GOOD HAY IS MADE BY MODERN WAY

TIME AND LABOR SAVING FACTORS WITH NEW CURING SYSTEM.

The primary purpose of this hay making system which will be demonstrated by farm crops specialists from Michigan state college this summer is not to make hay in one day but to make the best quality hay possible and sometimes this requires two or more days.

This system uses the windrow method of curing hay because, by such curing, it is possible to save a large proportion of the leaves on alfalfa hay and less labor is required to get the hay in condition to be put in the barn.

Weather conditions seldom permit complete curing so the hay is ready to go into the barn in one day, and the hay should be left in the windrow until it is cured. If rain falls on the windrows, they can be rolled over with a side delivery rake and the labor of hand turning is unnecessary.

Hay making demonstrations have been given in many Michigan counties during the past two years and have proved one of the most popular of the new farming methods. The meetings this year will be started as soon as the alfalfa crop is in the proper stage of growth.

County agricultural agents in the counties have selected the farms where the meetings are to be held and will state the time for the demonstrations in their counties.

Wallace Hospital Notes

William Kuhl, who incurred serious injury to his eyesight several weeks ago, has now recovered the use of his eyes sufficiently to drive his car, and is gaining regularly.

Mrs. J. B. Thompson who lives on the Niles-Buchanan road, came to the hospital Saturday to receive treatment for a rib, broken when she fell down the stairs at her home.

Mildred Marsh, the daughter of Mrs. Thillie Marsh, was operated on Sunday for the removal of her tonsils.

Beverly Wallace, little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace, was painfully injured Sunday when a large piece of glass became embedded in her hand, from a glass pendant of a portiere with which she was playing.

Harris Simpson underwent an operation last week for the removal of his tonsils.

Earl Fuller underwent an operation Sunday for hernia and appendicitis.

Mrs. Jennie Stevens of Portage Prairie entered the hospital Friday for x-ray and treatment.

COLVIN DISTRICT

Mrs. Alice Clark is expected home this week after a visit for the winter at the home of her son, Elmer Clark, near Los Angeles, Calif. She is making the entire trip by car in company with her son and wife. A pleasant surprise awaits her in her first great grandson, born to Mr. and Mrs. Verl Clark Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Verl Clark announce the birth of a son Tuesday, June 11. The son has been named Richard Charles. He is the fourth in the line of direct descent to bear the name Richard Clark, that name being borne by Verl and Dean Clark and the latter's father.

Miss Dorothy Clark is expected home this week from Kalamazoo, having completed her year's work at the Western State Teachers college there.

SPORTS

HOMETOWN BLUES DOWN FRIEND JINX

The Buchanan Hometown Blues played the best game of the season last Sunday and won from the Elkhart Grays 7 to 5. The chief factor in the victory was the mighty bat of Big Bud Proud, who banged out a single, a double, a triple and a home run in four times to bat, and played an errorless game at first base.

For some reason the teamwork was noticeable for the first time this year. The motto seemed to be "All for one and one for all," and every man Jack of 'em was in there pulling for the whole team all the way, even when the Grays started to run away with the game in the first inning, leading three to one, nobody crumbled.

Manager Bill Baker had three new faces in his lineup Sunday. Sellers right field, Corcoran catching, and Conrad in the middle garden. There was a distinctly improved morale plainly visible to the small crowd of fans who have faithfully followed the team. The fellows were snappy in action and with the conversation, backing up each other whatever the result of the effort. For the first time they were playing as a team, and the results justified the getting together. The Grays ran loose but twice, in the first and third innings, going scoreless the last six innings.

Morse pitched a heady game. Although 13 hits were marked up against him, outside the first and third innings, they were harmless. He felt that the team was back of him and worked deliberately and with precision. But five blows were made against him in the last six innings. Had he gotten into trouble, effective help was waiting to relieve him, with Sammy Marrs on the bench.

The fourth was the big chapter for the Blues. Morse went out to Miller to Summerlot. Chain got on via Duck's error. Sellers came through with a single. "Pinky" struck out. Proud whaled out a three bagger, scoring Chain and Sellers. Corcoran let two go by, and picked one to his liking for a double, but died on second after scoring Proud, as Peck went out.

out Duck to Summerlot. They got two hits and two runs in the 7th, while Elkhart round the pitching too puzzling and the fielding impregnable.

The Blues will meet the M. K. Falcon team of South Bend next Sunday on the home lot. It may be that Manager Baker will start his right-handed pitcher, Marrs. It is expected also that Harris Simpson's injured right hand will admit of his doing a little throwing. With two port-siders and one right-hander the team will be set for the best of community teams.

The score by innings was:
Elkhart 302 000 000 5 13
Buchanan 101 300 20x 7 13

Foot Specialist Here

I have secured the services of Dr. H. Glen Hall, prominent Foot Correction Specialist, who will be in my office Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22.

Dr. Hall does not use a knife, drugs or metal arch supports, but has a system whereby he will give you immediate results.

Bad feet are doubtless responsible for more rheumatic-like legs, swollen ankles and certain back aches than any other cause, and yet they are among the easiest of all human ailments to correct.

Don't fail to see Dr. Hall while he is here. No charge for examination. Phone for an appointment.

Mrs. Ruth Twell, Buchanan Native, Expires Yesterday

Mrs. Ruth Conant Twell, 79, died at 9 a. m., Wednesday, June 12, at the home of her son, John Twell, 301 River street, as the result of a stroke suffered on Decoration Day.
She was born in Buchanan Aug. 4, 1849, and had lived here her entire life. Since the death of her husband, John Twell, in 1914, she had maintained her home on S. Oak street until last February, when failing health necessitated her removal to the home of her son. She is survived by the one son named above.
The funeral will be held from the Child's Chapel at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow, with Rev. J. J. Terry in charge, and burial will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Perfection in Samplers

The old-fashioned sampler consisted of a square of perforated canvas, the rows of perforations being equally spaced. Designs were stamped on the canvas and filled in with different colored worsteds, the stitches forming little "x's." On the finest canvas this would almost give the effect of a painting.

PEONY GARDENS AT PADEN HOME BREAK IN BLOOM

LATE ATTORNEY'S FINE COLLECTION IS MAINTAINED BY HIS WIFE.

The gorgeous display of bloom staged annually at the Paden gardens on North Moccasin avenue started this week with the opening of the first peonies, and the beautiful spectacle will be at its height the last of the week, with the several hundred rare peonies in full bloom. The display of peonies is the finest in this section of Michigan. It is the results of the work of the late Joseph L. Paden, well known corporation attorney of Evanson, Ill., who collected bulbs of many rare varieties during a period of 28 years while making his summer home here. A collection of 2,500 dahlias has also been assembled and a number of rare lilies. The garden is being maintained by Mrs. Paden and her son, Dennison Paden, who is spending the summer with her.

Motor Vehicle
Taxes Exceed
$800,000,000

"Facts and Figures of the Automobile Industry", 1929 edition, published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, states that motor vehicle registration outside of the United States now equals 7,283,000, which compared with 7,585,000 registered in the United States on Dec. 31, 1919.

This volume, which is the eleventh annual edition, covers the calendar year 1928 and is a compilation of statistics dealing with all phases of motor transportation. Among the facts presented are the following:

Automotive freight carried by air lines during the past year amounted to more than 3,500,000 carloads.

Automotive products rank first in export of manufactured articles with a total value of $500,174,431.

Motor vehicle taxes in 1928 amounted to $808,000,000.

Arizona led the states in increase of motor vehicles, with a gain of 16 per cent.

California has the most automobiles in proportion to population, with one car for every two and seven-eighths persons.

Seventy steam railroads are using motor trucks for short hauls and terminal service.

Motor truck registration in the United States totals 3,113,999. Passenger car registration is 21,379,125. Total registration of motor vehicles is 24,493,124.

There are 92,000 motor buses in the nation.

Seventy-two of the railroads in the United States are operating 2,115 buses.

There were 36,000 miles of surfaced roads built in 1928.

There are 4,341,000 persons employed in motor transportation.

Books That Talk

The visagraph is the name of a new device to aid the blind in reading. Books printed in "Braille" or raised type, are still necessary, but the reader, instead of reading the letter by passing his fingers over it, receives vibrations from a radio set. A photo-electric cell picks up a light image from the raised letter and transmits it through the tubes to a radio loud speaker. Youth's Companion.

School's Out

Olive Branch

A merry bunch of young people from South Bend were callers in the Currie McLaren home Sunday evening.

Sylvester Ingles, who is working north of Gallen on the Stoddard farm was home over Sunday.

The Children's Day entertainment at Olive Branch Sunday evening was splendid and the church was crowded with people.

Mrs. Frank Wolf and son, Geo., and Mrs. Lyle Nye were in Buchanan Tuesday.

Helen Hinman is spending this week with her grandparents, Joe Fulton and wife.

Rev. H. D. Meads was a dinner guest in the Harry Williams home Monday.

Luther Yaw of New Carlisle, is spending this week visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brney of Buchanan, spent Monday in the Joe Fulton home.

Mrs. Evert Hardman and daughter, Patricia, of South Bend, was a guest part of last week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Diedrich.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ingles, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kuhl and family and Donna Belle Reed were Sunday visitors in the Harry Kuhl home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Sheeley entertained last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sheeley and family of Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaren of South Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ingles.

Little Mary Annis spent last week with her mother in Niles, but came back to the Harry Kuhl home Sunday for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowker and family of South Bend, Foster Bowker of Gallen and Mr. and Mrs. Eeryl Bowker and daughter, Kathleen, were Sunday visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bowker.

Eight cars came Sunday to the Olive Branch church with 25 people from Adamsville, where Rev. H. D. Meads preached last year, and received a warm welcome.

One lady, Mrs. Snyder, who was past 80 years, and who had been a United Brethren for 70 years, led in prayer. They brought pot luck dinner and served it at the U. B. parsonage and had every thing to eat. All had a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Phillips spent Sunday in the Tony Slocum home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Raase were Sunday visitors in the John Raas home at Stevensville.

Nola VanTilburg came home a few days ago from spending two weeks with her sister, Marie, who teaches at Saginaw.

Mrs. Myrtle Kiefer was a caller in Three Oaks Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goodenough spent Sunday in the William Roundy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Truhn were Sunday afternoon visitors in the home of Mr. Styburski at Gledora.

Wanda and Virginia Walters of Buchanan, are spending this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Phillips.

Mrs. Fred Andrews and daughter, Meryl, were Saturday visitors in the Chris. Andrews home.

Mr. Wm. Merrill of Astoria, Ill., came last week to visit his nephew, Currie McLaren, and other relatives. He attended church at Olive Branch Sunday and said he was 33 years old and had been a United Brethren for about 80 years. He was asked to lead in prayer which he did. We are all so glad to see him when he makes his annual visit to Olive Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lee and son, Phillip, were in South Bend, Tuesday, where Phillip had his tonsils removed by Dr. Edwards. We hope he will get along all right.

Mr. John Schommer and son, Theo, of Racine, Wis., spent the week end in the Joe Fulton home. Mr. and Mrs. Ora Briney and family of Buchanan were Sunday afternoon visitors there.

Mrs. Fred Gleisner attended a dinner for a dear friend, Miss Marie Michinski, of South Bend, at the Oliver hotel, in honor of coming nuptials.

Sunday, June 2nd, at the St. Anthony's church in Buchanan, Robert Frederick, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gleisner, was baptised by the Rev. G. Owens. Sponsors for the baby were Mrs. B. Tyi of South Bend and Mr. A. Tahman of Crumblawn. After the ceremony quite a number of friends were entertained in the Gleisner home at dinner in honor of the occasion.

PRINCESS THEATRE

All the air thrills are included in "Lilac Time," the enchanting May-time story of spring love here today and tomorrow at the Princess. It has the sweet charm of which Stevenson sang: "Among the lilacs hand in hand, And two by two in fairyland."

Colleen Moore is at her most bewitching in this adventure picture. She comes Thursday and Friday of next week also in "Oh Kay."

While Foot Gibson has been reported turning to the making of more dramatic pictures, he just can't let the wild westerns alone altogether, and he will be seen on Saturday in "King of the Rodeo," which gives him a chance to display his marvelous skill with real cow ponies.

Leatrice Joy (what an expressive name for a sweetheart of the screen—and it fits!) is right at home in "Man, Woman and Wife," Sunday evening at the Princess.

She is so seductively feminine that every man's heart goes "bang bang!" whenever she appears on the screen. There's a good story with places also for the heart to stop short in it.

"The Stool Pigeon" plays a pretty dangerous part, and Olive Borden puts all the terror of the situation in the play here Monday evening. It's a tense bit of acting of which she is the center, and it goes well with "Tarzan, the Mighty", of which the ninth chapter will be shown.

Manager Homer Morley introduces Phyllis Haver, who is a new heroine to most Buchanan people, Tuesday and Wednesday, in the famous play, "Battle of the Mussolini of Italy."

Sexes." This battle has been waging even since our pre-human primate forefathers chased our greatest grandmothers thru the pathless shadows of high forest trees, and will never lose its interest until the race itself is senile.

To Live Well

The desire to live—at any cost—is as old as mankind. But the desire to live well—at reasonable cost—has never been as keen as it is today.

The one calls for the mere avoidance of the dangers common to us all—but to live really well demands an alert, intelligent acquaintance with the improvements and refinements that are, daily, making life better worth living.

Through all the progress of the art of living well, advertising—almost alone—has carried the messages of new pleasures, protection and economies into every department of our lives.

And here before you, day after day, you will find reliable, straightforward news of ways of saving time, effort and money.

Read the advertisements here in your newspaper—they are your guide to what's newest and best in the art of living well.

Suicide Rate Highest Known.

In the 96 largest cities of the United States during 1928 there were 17.5 suicides per 100,000 population, the highest rate reported since statistics on suicide have been collected. In 1920 the rate was 12.3 and it was regarded as unduly high then. San Diego had first place in the 1928 report, with 43.4 per 100,000, and San Francisco was only a step behind with 41.7, according to statistics compiled by The Spectator, the insurance journal that specializes in such reports.

Why people choose to end their lives is a subject that has been studied by many scientists. No basic reason has been supplied, hence there is no answer to the question. Failure of health or business reverses appear to supply the reason in many cases. There are other causes that appear to have brought about the foolish act, and they run from the most serious to the extremely trivial. There are those who have insisted that most suicides are caused by lack of courage, a surrender in the face of some test or struggle, but there are numerous cases that do not appear to fall within that classification, broad as it is. There are many cases where a study of all known facts discloses no reason. Even insanity does not supply a reason to cover most cases, for there are many cases where no sign of madness, aside from the final act, is to be found.

Life's complexities, in these days of high speed, in business and fierceness of competition-born of new conditions, wear on the nerves of men and women in a new way. Men and women in business suffer from nervous breakdown, the natural combative spirit is broken, weakness shows where strength and courage have been in evidence. The harsh grind brings unpleasant results. This supplies the reason for some suicides and may be the unknown cause for others. But no general reason has been found.

Farm Relief by Tariff.

The tariff bill as passed by the house makes the outlook for the consumer somewhat drearier than it did in its original form, even. A 20 per cent duty on shoes, for instance, was slipped into the measure at the insistent demand of New England shoe manufacturers. Shoes, like sugar, are among the necessities of life and, with one tariff on the finished product and another on hides, for the benefit of the packers, the average citizen may expect a considerable increase in the cost of keeping the family shod.

This tariff bill was represented as a farm relief measure. It is true that the tariff rates on a great many agricultural products have been raised but few of them will do the farmer much good, because the things he raises are not extensively imported anyway. His problem is chiefly one of how to market his surplus, as witness the present situation in the wheat market. So, while the pretense is made that this bill was framed primarily in his interest, as President Hoover advocated, the duties inserted in his behalf will benefit him little, while those inserted in behalf of the manufacturing interests favored will be of disadvantage to his pocket book. To assert seriously that this is a farm relief measure is merely to confess a lack of sense of humor.

Tariff legislation is no longer primarily intended either to produce public revenue or to afford protection for struggling American industries. It is merely a great game of grab in which the biggest and fattest industries generally get the most. By the time this bill gets through the senate, which fortunately will not be for several months probably, it doubtless will be much more heavily packed with special favoritism than it is now. It may be so bad that President Hoover will veto it and perhaps that is the thing to hope for.

The Urge for Speed.

The transcontinental railroads running out of Chicago are making much ado just now over reducing the running time of their crack trains to the Pacific coast. Effective June 9, one of the railroads proclaims in large advertisements that from that date it will be possible to go from Chicago to San Francisco in five hours less time than at present. Even those who go only as far as Denver can save two hours on the journey.

Everywhere the cry is not only speed but more speed. One sees the tendency not only in transportation but in industry, in education, and in pleasures, even. But the pessimist is almost justified in his belief that we do not seem to know what to do with the time we think we save, rushing hither and yon. The driver who rushes through the amber light, the pedestrian hurrying through the red light and resentful of motorists moving with the right of way, transcontinental travelers saving five hours on a three-day trip—just what do they make of the time they save?

Protestant Church Union.

Union of churches has become a popular idea at many denominational gatherings during recent years. Leaders have approved the idea of a merger of churches of similar faith and doctrinal teachings and representative national bodies have not hesitated to vote their approval. One recent week brought two notable actions. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church voted for union with the Methodist, Protestant Episcopal, Dutch Reformed and South Presbyterian organizations. Almost on the same day the National Council of Congregational churches voted approval of a merger with the Christian churches.

Various advantages are urged in support of the prevalent idea of church union. Stronger organizations would be completed, differences in religious belief are trivial when considered by thoughtful people, the need for a stronger and more militant church movement in the country could be met and the consolidated church, with many millions of members and abundant financial strength, could move forward to its important task. Those who doubt the wisdom or timeliness of the union proposed, question the ability of leaders to influence their organization members to dismiss the appeal of particular denominational ideas and ask if competition is not valuable in the work of the churches. That question is answered by the declaration that it is folly to duplicate organization, expense and time in doing one piece of work, and that larger organizations in religious work are needed to meet conditions in the world today.

No one expects a general merger of Protestant churches to be completed quickly. Denominational lines have long been established, denominational associations are dear to many, they are prestige and rich history in each of the larger church organizations. Probably, the greatest advantage immediately will be in stimulating thought among the churches. With union proposed and being considered seriously, the thought turns directly to the points of agreement among the churches. With that thought developed the question of differences will be dwarfed and union of spirit and merger of thought will bring a multitude of advantages to each of the organizations. That is important and makes the present discussion worth while.

Another thing that tends to keep an editor in his place is the way people are always asking him why he doesn't write an editorial on some specified subject when he had one, particularly ringing and clarifying as he thought, on that very subject that very week.

There is good in everyone and now it is charged in a suit for $1,250,000 that the reputed author of Strange Interlude is not really responsible for it after all but merely stole the idea.

Some things seem almost too good to be true but it appears to be a fact that at a recent picnic in Vineland, Eng., the husband of the woman who won the rolling pin throwing contest won the 100 yard dash.

We are told that we men ought to be more clothes conscious and, in accordance with our lifelong policy of doing one thing at a time and doing that well, we've begun by being last year's straw hat-conscious.

The only way in which we can get up an argument now on that historic question as to which are the hotter, corsets or pants, is to pick out some pretty elderly girl with a good memory to argue with.

We often wonder if it wouldn't be cheaper for the taxpaying consumer in the long run if Congress would put the infant industries on the payroll and give them regular salaries, instead of a commission on every sale.

The situation is not so bad and the expulsion of the University of Iowa does not go into effect until Jan. 1, 1930, in ample time to be lifted before spring practice.

This appears to be Pewter Year and it would be interesting to know how many tons of that popular alloy Mrs. C. Augustus Lindbergh got among the wedding presents.

We are sorry to note that the lace stocking is to be quite popular with our well dressed girls this season and at a little distance it always makes us think of eczema.

The improvement in tires has been wonderful in our time but we still find ourselves occasionally hating the company that made ours.

We are the kind of man that looks so long before leaping that by the time he gets around to it its too late to leap.

Another thing we can say for the future mothers of the race is that they don't seem to fear the night air.

Another time when we listen with all our ears is when a neighbor woman opens her remarks by saying: "Now, I'm no trouble maker."

We shouldn't think a person hailing from Chicago would hail very loud about it.

A quiet day at home means that when the telephone isn't ringing the doorbell is.

Gangster Product Slum Conditions Says Crime Report

The gangster is the product of the slums of the great city and the fundamental way of dealing with him is to correct the conditions which trained him in lawlessness, declares a fresh chapter on organized crime in Chicago, made public by the Illinois association for Criminal Justice.

This latest report is based on the individual study of hundreds of gangsters. It offers a picture differing widely from current conception. The gangster is found by the investigator to be neither an innocent youth, led astray, nor a hardened and vicious individual, deliberately and vindictively waging war on society.

"The story which the gangster gives of his own life shows him to be a natural product of his environment," says the survey. "The slum areas have been formed in the growth of our large cities. They have been ports of first entry for each new wave of foreign immigration.

As the successive families move away they leave behind the unsuccessful laboring foreigner who is not accepted as a model for the children and youth in their process of Americanization. But there also remains the gangster and politician chief who become practically the only models of success.

"It follows that the gangster is a product of his surroundings in the same way in which the good citizen is a product of his environment. The good citizen has grown up in an atmosphere of obedience to law and of respect for it. The gangster has lived his life in a region of law-breaking, of graft, and of 'fixing.' That is the reason why the good citizen and the gangster have never been able to understand each other. They have been reared in two different worlds."

A profound change is taking place in the nature of the relations of organized crime and machine politics, the association reports. The gang used to be a neighborhood affair and its connections with politicians on a friendly basis.

"Political protection for the powerful financial interests of organized crime is coming to rest more and more upon pecuniary less and less upon friendship, and considerations," the association finds. "Of late years there has arisen what seems to be a totally mercenary gang, not of the neighborhood which controls elections for the profits of illegitimate or contraband commerce."

School nurse says
all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine."

This is now actually possible. The three-color transparencies have been obtainable for many years, but the production of a print in the natural colors has long been awaited.

The three-color method is still used. The roll film or film pack is made up with three layers, the two nearest the lens being sufficiently transparent to allow enough light to pass through and impress the third. Each film records one of the primary colors, blue-violet, green and red. It has been found possible to place the red-sensitive film first, then the green and the blue at the back. Hitherto the first and third have been changed about, which did not allow of sufficient light reaching the red-sensitive film at the back.

The printing is done commercially, but the taking of the snapshot is the same simple process as at present. The roll of film or the film pack is inserted in the camera just as usual. The final cost works out at about three times that of a black and white photograph.

Manufacturers Endorse Hoover's Employment Plan

"Do it Now" is the title of an editorial appearing on the front page of the current issue of the Manufacturers Record, published in Baltimore, Md., urging society, as a whole, to accept the responsibility of providing employment for those out of work. "If your plant needs re-equipping, do it now," it says. "If your house needs painting or repairing and you have the money, do it now.

If you plan to build a store or a dwelling and have the money to do it, do it now.

"If city streets need repaving or repainting, do it now,

"Don't put off any work which needs to be done and for which you have the available funds," the article continues, "but do it now and thus swell the volume of employment until prosperity will come to every willing worker. Humanity demands that of every one."

The article says that as a nation the American people have not always been, individually and collectively, as deeply concerned for the profitable employment of men and women as they should be.

"Great prosperity in many interests, lack of it in some, and much unemployment throughout the country, characterize the present business situation," the Record states.

The remedy suggested is for the federal, state and municipal governments to put into operation President Hoover's plan for rushing all government construction whenever business is slack, and for business people generally to make a study to see to what extent they can help make employment at profitable wages for the men and women who now seek work."

FROSTING does not make the cake

The best frosting won't make a poor cake good. But it will make a good cake better. . . . Ethyl fluid can't make a poor gasoline good. It takes the best crude and proper refining to make a good gasoline. . . . Ethyl added to proved dependable Red Crown makes the best gasoline you can buy!

there is only ONE RED CROWN ETHYL

You have known Red Crown gasoline for many years. You have proved Red Crown Ethyl gasoline for five years. They are known quantities with the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) back of every drop.

You have no way to test gasoline! You can hear the knocks but you can't see what causes them.

Poor gasoline may look like the best. You can't see the gums and the sulphur in it—but if they are present they are sure to damage your car.

Gums clog the pipes—form on valves—and valve heads do not seat properly. Sulphur causes acid—acid eats wrist pins and cylinders—and you pay for repairs.

To clear up gasoline, to take out sulphur, to eliminate gums, to make it sweet and clean are expensive processes. To insure this being done is why there is a minimum price you can afford to pay for gasoline. Red Crown is sold at that minimum price. You cannot afford to pay less!

If you'd like to know what your car can do, use Red Crown Ethyl. Try it on the longest run, in the heaviest traffic, up the steepest hill. At the wheel you can feel the difference Red Crown Ethyl makes.

You can get Red Crown Ethyl anywhere in the Middle West and the price is only 3c above Red Crown—which in turn is sold at as low a price as you can afford to pay.

The Old Timer's Corner

Old Timer Bursts into Song under Influence of an Impelling Urge

I have been running through some old "files" this morning and have found two or three little rhymes that I think are worth while thinking about, for Old Timers, and if some youth should even take thought from them it wouldn't hurt them at all.

The first one was written by J. Miller:
Judge Not
In men, whom men condemn as ill
I find so much of goodness, still,
In men whom men pronounce divine,
I find so much of sin and blot,

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

written in "Cockney" dialect:
This life is but a bubble, don't you know,
A painted bit of trouble, don't you know,
We come on earth to cry, grow older and we sigh,
Older still, and then, why then we die.

Don't you know.

O, it's all a howdy mix, don't you know,
Business, love and politics, don't you know,
Clubs and parties, cliques and sets
Fashions, follies and gewgaws,
Struggles, stives and cigar-wets.

Don't you know.

So we struggle thru each day,
don't you know,
In sort of kind of way, don't you know,
We are hungry, we are fed, some few things are done and said,
We are tired, and go to bed.

Don't you know.

Business, that's a beastly trade,
don't you know,
Somethings lost and somethings made, don't you know,
And you play your highest hope
On, perhaps, the price of soap,

Don't you know.

Love, Ah yes, you meet a girl,
don't you know,
And you get in such a whirl, don't you know,
That you kneel down on the floor
and implore her and adore,
And it's all a beastly bore.

Don't you know.

Politics: O just a lark, don't you know,
Just a nightmare, in the dark,
don't you know,
You prespire all day and night,
and after all the fight
Find, perhaps, the wrong man's right.

Don't you know.

Society is dweess, don't you know,
And the source of much distress,
don't you know,
To determine what to wear, when to go and likewise where,
And how to part your hair,
Don't you know.

Don't you know.

So you see there's nothing in it,
don't you know,
And we live but for the minute,
don't you know,
For when we have seen and smelt,
drunk and eaten, heard and felt,
Why, all the cards are dealt,
Don't you know.

Don't you know.

We've one consciousness, that's all, don't you know,
And one stomach, and it's small,
don't you know,
We can only wear one tie, one eye-glass in the eye,
And one coffin, when we die,
Don't you know.

Don't you know.

So I guess that's enough for today,
I haven't been talking much about our Old Timers, for the last few days, but I get some of this poetic stuff in my mind and I am like "Samantha Allen," "I just have to poetize or bust."

OLD TIMER.

$16,000 Tree Fund Appropriated For Chicago Parks

One of the biggest forestry jobs of its kind has been undertaken by the Forest Preserve Commissioners of Cook county with the adoption of a plan for reforestation, marking of trails and bridge paths and construction of bathhouses and pavilions, at an estimated cost of $16,000,000.

Nowhere else in the world is there so great an amount of forest land so close to such a large population, according to Robert Kingery, secretary of the Chicago Regional Planning association. Some points of the 32,000 acres of recreation areas come within 8 miles of the center of population of the county.

When 10,000 people all go on one big picnic, they need space. Picnics of this size are often staged by organizations from the foreign-born population of Chicago. Hence 5000 acres have been set aside for recreation centers.

Buildings must be "whitewashed" so that children will not be tempted to defecate, Mr. Kingery said. They will be masonry throughout, rustic in appearance but permanent in construction.

The zoological gardens and arboretums will cover 700 acres. It is hoped to have them completed within two years.

Hikers, bridge path followers and trail riders will exult in the program for connecting up all the isolated tracts of forest preserves now strewn through the country. It is recommended that strips of land not less than 600 feet wide be obtained to join the different tracts. This will make a 100-mile circuit on which nature lovers may roam without once getting out on the country highway.

It is planned to replant and replenish 5000 acres of forest land in addition to the 25,000 acres now in use so that lovers of shade trees and wild flower nooks may have their own provinces apart from the beaten paths.

Rivers and lakes are to be added, covering 1000 additional acres, the report recognizes.

The entire project is under the direction of the newly appointed superintendent, Charles G. Sauer, who has for the last 10 years had charge of Indiana State Parks.

45,000,000 Will Tour Highways During Summer

Forty-five million persons, more than a third of the population of the United States, will take to the highways for this year's touring and will spend some $3,500,000 in so doing, according to estimates by the Bureau of Good Roads, at Washington.

With more than 21,000,000 registered passenger cars in the U. S., it is now almost possible for the country's entire 120,000,000 people to be moved at one time by means of motor car transportation. Sixty per cent of our families already own a motor car. Twenty per cent of our car-owning families own more than one.

"Better cars, together with more and better highways, have made touring one of America's greatest sources of recreation," says H. M. Stephens, general sales manager of the Cadillac Motor Car company. "More than 615,000 miles of surfaced highways, with approximately 90,000 miles of important interstate routes now beckon the motorists."

Touring will be considerably greater when more persons realize that it is easily possible to drive upwards of 2,000 miles in a good car during a two weeks' vacation and still devote much of the time to enjoyment of scenery, side trips and city attractions.

Canada Exempts Those Opposing Vaccination Law

Before the final passing of the compulsory vaccination bill in this Province, an amendment providing exemption for members of religious denominations practicing healing by prayer, was added and passed with the bill at the last session of the Manitoba legislature.

The amendment, which was introduced by Mrs. Edith Rogers, the woman member of the House, was made a part of the bill introduced by Dr. Montgomery, "the Minister of Health, and reads: "Nothing in this act contained shall apply to or affect any person or persons treating human ailments by prayer or spiritual means as an enjoyment or exercise of religious freedom."

In the debate which followed the introduction of the modifying amendment to the bill, William Ivens, labor member, took a leading part and when the amendment passed practically without opposition, Mr. Ivens introduced another amendment by which conscientious objectors to vaccination will be isolated for from three to four weeks if suspected of having contracted any of the diseases mentioned in the bill.

He endeavored also to have the House authorize reimbursement of persons thus isolated, but this was defeated.

TO TRACE LOST ROMAN LEGION

Important Historic Discoveries Looked for in North of England.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, England.—A lost Roman legion, probably annihilated by savage tribes, and a wall built by the Roman emperor Hadrian across the north of England are important links in the history of the Romans in Britain which excavators hope to trace through the streets of this shipbuilding city. They also are seeking the ruins of the fort of Pons Aelii, which stood on the present site of Newcastle when the Roman soldiers held sway over the fierce northern tribes.

Roman galleys once floated in the River Tyne, now occupied by the modern shipyards which produced the Mauretania. It is believed that Pons Aelii overlooked the river, Walsend, across the river, was also a Roman stronghold. The work to be undertaken by the North of England Excavation committee may produce one of archaeology's most interesting chapters.

Sinks Shaft in Streets. A section of Hadrian's wall about 30 yards long was discovered last year. In the coming excavations, shafts will be sunk in all streets east and west of the discovered portion of the wall. The barrier ran from Solway Firth across England to Tyne, but the eastern portion has never been definitely located. The gutters of Newcastle will be torn up in an attempt to locate it, and at the same time not hinder the passage of traffic in the streets. Experts believe that the wall will lead them to the center of the city, where they will discover the ruins of the old fort.

Long before Hadrian made tamed sand conquered peoples build his wall, the Romans constructed an earthenwork in northern England called the Vallum, and believed to have been a boundary marking the edge of the mighty empire. It was a sort of great ditch, apparently not originally intended for military purposes, although the first forts later were erected along it. The Vallum has been located at Benwell, whence the excavators expect to trace its course.

The famous Ninth Roman Legion, whose disappearance is one of history's mysteries, is believed to have been wiped out along the Vallum by a new generation of tribes which arose between A. D. 81 and 121. These tribes knew nothing of the might of Roman arms, and cared less about the powers of the emperor.

Refused to Pay Taxes. They refused to pay taxes to Rome, and after the Roman soldiers moved out of the lowlands to the protection of the Vallum forts, the storm broke. The Vallum was stormed, the forts fell, and the Ninth Legion has not been heard of since. The Newcastle excavators hope to throw some light on its fate.

The Emperor Hadrian hurried to Northumbria when couriers brought him news of this disaster. He brought the Sixth Legion to the north country in A. D. 122 and subdued the rebellious tribes. Hadrian then set the captives to work building the wall with which he hoped to stem further invasions. It was constructed parallel with the Vallum. In the coming investigation it is hoped to determine why the emperor made the wall of varying thicknesses, perhaps due to a lack of material or occasional economy. Even if the secret of the Ninth Legion and the history of Pons Aelii remain undiscovered, the Newcastle and Walsend investigations hope to make important contributions to the record of life in the British isles in the days of the Romans.

Placing the Thermostat. While the thermostat control of an old heating plant seems almost human in its regulation of house temperatures, it is no wiser than the man who installed it. A thermostat should be placed where draughts will not blow on it or where the heat of a radiator or a wall-type or a chimney will not mislead it.

Mother Makes 'Em Best

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I guess 'most anybody's cake An' cookies ain't so hard t' take When boys an' girls 're comin' in from play; But when I'm lookin' fer a treat That nothin' else could ever beat, I'll pick my Mother's cookies any day!

My Gran'ma makes 'em awful good, An' lots o' times I wish I could Be at her house t' eat 'em while they're hot. Sometimes a neighbor-lady, too, Is lucky, an' brings us a few— But, gosh, our family always needs a lot!

When Mother hasn't any more. Sometimes she buys some at the store, But every kind tastes jes' like all the rest. You bet yer neck I like the cake An' cookies other people bake; But my own Mother always makes 'em best!

In the most modern homes you will find a telephone conveniently near you wherever you may be. The old time reception hall telephone is retained, but, in addition, extension telephones are placed in the bedroom, library, guest room, kitchen and basement, and even the bathroom.

A telephone makes any room more livable. You may use it not only to talk to near neighbors and distant friends, but the installation can be made so that it will be possible to telephone from one room to another within your home.

Extension telephones are inexpensive conveniences which are becoming more and more popular. There are portable telephones, too, that can be moved from room to room.

We will be glad to have a representative explain to you just how these modern telephone facilities can be applied to your own home, at moderate cost. Call the Telephone Manager.

"I want," said the house-hunter, "a house in an isolated position—at least five miles from any other house."

"I see," said the agent, with an understanding smile. "You want to practice the simple life?"

"No," answered the house-hunter, grimly. "I want to practice the cornet."—Tit-Bits.

(FREEZE WITH HEAT) THE ELECTROLUX Refrigerator

Amazing New Refrigerator MAKES ICE from TINY GAS FLAME

Electrolux is sweeping the country with its new principle of freezing with heat

NO machinery to go wrong or need attention... no moving parts to make the slightest noise—in the Gas Refrigerator a tiny gas flame and a mere trickle of water do all the work. And, best of all, it costs less to operate than any other refrigerating system.

Drop into our display rooms and let us show you the many models.

It keeps your food safe —the temperature is well below 50...always!

For family health... for appealing menus... this is vital

In the General Electric Refrigerator the temperature is kept several degrees below fifty...always! Fifty degrees is accepted by scientists as the "danger point" in the preservation of food. When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply, foods become unsafe to eat.

Perhaps you think your own refrigerator is always "cold enough." You cannot be sure unless you actually take your refrigerator's temperature. It is constant cold which is needed.

Note these vital points of superiority

Countless superiorities give the General Electric Refrigerator its outstanding position... an hermetically sealed, dust-proof mechanism, mounted on top... an accessible temperature control... a new standard of quiet operation... no oiling... no troublesome machinery... simplified installation... no radio interference... an unqualified two-year service guarantee. The new all-steel cabinets and the hermetically sealed mechanism combine to produce what we believe is the finest refrigerator ever made.

Not a dollar for repairs

More than a quarter of a million homes are enjoying the convenience, economy and health-guarding services of the General Electric Refrigerator. And not one of these owners has ever paid a dollar for repairs or service! This is a record in the industry.

The new all-steel General Electric Refrigerators are priced as low as $215 at the factory. A small payment down places one in your home. Visit our display rooms—see the new models—you'll agree that they offer the greatest values.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Saturday evening, 8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of forty-two stations.
