SUPT. STARK ANNOUNCES SCHOOL OPENING SEPT 3

Now Here's
PropositionFunny What A Fellow Thinks Of Bi Haws

Funny what a fellow thinks of when he hears an old song sung. Of the time when first he heard them.

From the lips that now are dust; Bitter-sweet the cups he drinks of When old melodies give tongue To forgotten things that stirred him.

In the days that now are rust.

When an old strain comes drifting.

Then the phantoms will not fade— Bonnie Doon or Annie Laurie Auld Lang Syne or Nellie Gray— Then the veils of time are rifting And the ghosts will not stay laid, Each one brings to life a story Of a time that's years away.

Makes him wonder if the roses Bloom still in a certain place. In a time he can't but think of Golden boys and girls among— How the hand of time reposes On an unforgotten face— Funny what you're on the brink of When you hear an old song sung.

DETROIT MAN IS INJURED IN
AUTO ACCIDENTVICTIM IS HIT WHILE STAND-ING IN MARKED OFF
PARKING SPACE

Samuel T. Johnson, of Detroit, state agent of the Globe and Rutgers Fire Insurance Company, was painfully injured, Saturday, when he was hit by a car driven by an inexperienced driver, while he was standing in a parking space and in the act of opening the door of his car parked in front of the Smoke Shop on Front street.

Mr. Johnson had crossed from the south side of the street and was about to open his car door when he was struck by the car driven by a fourteen-year-old girl, daughter of Pete F. Larson, of Chicago, who came into the parking space, with her car out of control, with the result that Mr. Johnson was thrown to the pavement and severely bruised. He also suffered a sprained ankle and lacerated arm which was caught between the two cars.

Mr. Johnson is recuperating at the home of his father-in-law, O. Schurr, 122 W. Chicago street, where he was visiting at the time of the accident.

Portage Sewer
Complete: to be Tested This Week

Replacement of sewer tile on Portage street between Front and Central Court was completed Monday and will be tested out as soon as sewer cleaning machinery arrives from South Bend.

As soon as the sand is removed from the tile, according to City Engineer J. B. Toyne, a test will be made of the amount of water to determine whether or not it will be necessary to replace tile beyond Central Court. In case an inordinate amount of water is found, it is planned to replace about 150 feet of tile to the southward.

The force working under Superintendent Hipskind on Third street has installed 75 feet of tile and expect to leave the heavy flow of water in about 25 feet more, after which progress should be rapid.

It will be necessary to rebuild the man hole on the Portage street sewer at Central Court. In case it is not found necessary to replace more tile, the street will then be ready for pavement installation about September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Schurr have as guests, Ed. Schurr of LaSalle, Ill., and Miss Marian Wiley of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Morley and family have returned from a motor trip thru Indiana and Kentucky. They visited Mammoth Cave, The Old Kentucky Home at Federal Hill, Lincoln's birthplace, Lexington and the Great Onyx cave.

Be Enrolled in
Midyear.ENTRANCE EXAMS
The Faculty Appointment is Now Nearly Complete.

Rumors which have been darkly hinted about Buchanan recently to the effect that school is quite likely to start at an early date receive further color this week from the fact that returned school officials have been seen bustling around the school house, parents have been seen sorting over school books to see how many of Mary's books can be salvaged for Willie, and there is a general air of anticipation or perhaps regret among those who will make up the school army next year.

Further weight is lent to the rumor by the fact that school has always started on the day following Labor Day for a number of years—in fact it is believed that the Michigan law has a word or two to say on the subject. And if any additional evidence is needed Superintendent Stark says it will start that day, which happens to be September 3rd this year.

Mobilization orders issued by Supt. Stark are as follows:

1. General faculty meeting at the high school, 9 a. m., Monday, Sept. 2.
2. All grades from the kindergarten to the sixth will meet in their respective rooms at 9 a. m., Tuesday, Sept. 3.
3. Junior and Senior high school students will meet in the general assembly in the auditorium at 8:15 a. m. Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Both grades and high school will remain in session only during the forenoon of the opening day, when schedules will be explained and necessary instructions given preliminary to beginning the year's work. All grade books may be purchased at Binns or Briddicks. High school texts may be purchased at the high school book store.

All pupils not residents in the Buchanan school district who may wish to enroll here will be required to pay tuition in advance for the first semester. The first semester tuition scale is as follows: Senior high school, $42.50; seventh and eighth grades, $37.50; fourth, fifth and sixth grades, $25.00; second and third grades, $20.00.

Kindergarten pupils will not be allowed to enroll in the mid-year interval this year, according to Superintendent Stark. This ruling was made in anticipation of an enrollment the first of the year to the capacity of the department. All pupils entering kindergarten this year must be not less than 4½ years old by November 15.

Grade or high school pupils who were conditioned at the end of last year will be given an opportunity for promotion at a special examination which will be held in the Junior high school assembly room, beginning at 9 a. m., Friday, Aug. 30. This will be open to rural pupils desiring to enter high school next year. Conditioned in grade subjects last year. Mrs. W. E. Pennell will be in charge of the examinations.

For those who may desire further information, the Superintendent's office at the high school will be open from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m. until the opening date of school.

The complete list of teachers for grade and high school, as announced by Superintendent Stark, will be as follows: Kindergarten, Miss Elbert (Kalamazoo); first grade, Irene Myers (Hartford) and Genevieve Carnagan (Reed City); second grade, Mabel Wilcox (Niles) and Nina Fischner (New Troy); third grade, Laura French (Buchanan); Blanche Heim, (Buchanan); and Gertrude Simmons (Buchanan); fourth grade, Hollis Clayton (Leola, S. D.) and Alma Fuller (Buchanan); fifth grade, Lena Ekstrom (New Carlisle) and Vada Hopkins (Buchanan); sixth grade, Doris Reams (Buchanan) and Lily Abell (Buchanan) Junior high school, Josephine Pennell (grade supervisor), Mae Whitman, Leah (Continued on Page 5)

MATHIAS KELLING ACTIVE MAYOR IN ABSENCE GLOVERBUCHANAN SCHEDULED FOR THREE MAYORS IN ONE MONTH.

Who's mayor now? Wrong, guess again. Another guess. Wrong again.

Well it's Mathias J. Kelling, who, if he does not actually bear the title and wear the shoulder straps, is anyway charge d'affaires, with full power to hire, fire and shut the water off during the absence of Mayor Glover, who is investigating how the fish bite at Etseley, Mich., while recovering poundage lost under the stress and strain of his political career.

The technical basis of Mr. Kelling's rights as his apparent is not apparent but he is there which makes it alright.

This puts Buchanan in a peculiar situation of having three mayors in prospect during one month. Contrary to current belief C. V. Glover remains titular head of the government until the charter is filed at Lansing and St. Joseph, which must be done on or before September 5.

LABORER CAUGHT AND CRUSHED IN CAR COUPLINGSVERTEBRAE, PELVIC BONES ARE CRUSHED BUT WILL SURVIVE.

John Wainwright, 21, of Bryan, O., incurred grave injuries, including fractured pelvic bones and lower vertebrae, when he was caught between the couplings of two flat cars while unloading poles and cross bars for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company on a local Michigan Central switch, Thursday.

Wainwright was pinioned between the couplings as he attempted to slip between the cars when returning to work at 1 p. m. The unloading crew had been moving the cars and had spotted them with a short gap between. By a strange coincidence the brakes released just as Wainwright slipped between and the unfortunate man was caught between. Companions heard him shouting but did not realize at first that he was hurt. When they finally discovered his condition they extricated him with some difficulty and carried him to the home of Frank Southerton, 707 South Portage. Dr. Strayer was called and after administering first aid he took the injured man to Pawating hospital. He is reported to be recovering.

Former Resident
Injured in Crash

Mrs. Bernice Dohn, former employee of the Krohn Differential Company here, and now living in Berrien Springs, incurred painful bruises to herself and extensive damages to her car in a crash which occurred on U. S. 31 at the southern city limits of Niles on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Dohn was following in the wake of a Kalamazoo car which stopped suddenly in front of her. As she swerved her car around it she met another car in head on collision. Her machine was brought to the Russell Chevrolet garage for replacement of a crushed radiator, and damaged axle, front wheel, and fender.

DANGERS HEALTH OF PHYSICIAN.

Dr. R. H. Snowden will leave soon for St. Petersburg, Fla., for a vacation of several months to recuperate his health which has been endangered by a long period of unbroken overwork. He arrived home Saturday from Rochester, Minn., where he had spent two weeks under observation. Physicians there stated that his health had not been vitally affected as yet but that immediate rest was imperative. Dr. Snowden has practiced for many years in the Galien and Buchanan district, accumulating a practice covering the entire southern part of Berrien county, the accumulating demands of which finally attacked his strength. He states that he expects to be back sometime in late fall or winter to resume his practice, and that he is grateful for the expressions of concern by his many friends and patients. Mrs. Snowden will remain at the home in Buchanan, and Miss Virginia Snowden will enter Albion college.

FIRE SWEEPS
GALIEN BLDG
TUES. NIGHTTHREATENS TOWN
Buchanan Department Sends
The Chemical Truck to Relief.

The Galien Odd Fellow Hall, including the R. J. Kinney Furniture Store, was damaged to the extent of about $5,000 by fire which started about 6:30 Tuesday evening from some cause not known in the ante room of the lodge chambers on the second floor.

The fire was first discovered by Ward James, Galien merchant, who saw smoke pouring from the upper windows while driving past. The Galien chemical truck was called and the locked door of the lodge room was broken in when it was discovered that the flames had spread over a large area in the floor. A second call was sent to Buchanan for aid. In the meantime about 100 men had gathered, 20 of whom mounted to the roof, and a bucket line was formed to pour water on the roof and the adjacent building. By these combined efforts the fire was extinguished before the Buchanan department had arrived.

The loss to the building consisted of several yards of flooring which was burned through into the store room below, of the ante room partition, and newly decorated walls discolored by smoke and chemicals. The tegalia and chart of the Galien I. O. O. F. chapter were ruined and the case of the lodge piano was badly damaged. Most of the furniture stock of R. J. Kinney was damaged by heat or chemicals.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, as the rooms in which it originated were locked and, as far as is known, had not been entered that day. The Babcock Bros. Hardware and several other stores to the south of the hall were threatened by the flames.

BRICK WORK DONE
ON INDUST. ARTS
BLDG. THIS WEEKBOARD PLANS CHANGES IN
EQUIPMENT.

Brick work on the walls of the new Industrial Arts building was completed yesterday by Joel Pearson, contractor for the structure, and steel for the roof is now being installed, with good prospects for completion by the date of school opening.

The title of the department has been changed from "manual training" to "industrial arts," according to Superintendent Stark, who states that the equipment is being ordered with a view to an entire reorganization along the line of recent ideas. The former manual training curriculum was devoted almost entirely to wood work including manufacture of simple articles of furniture. Renewed apartments of Industrial Arts will aim at greater utility including both wood and metal work, simple problems in plumbing and house wiring, and an elementary course in automobile engineering.

Record Want Ad
Brings Kitten Back

The pulling power of Record want ads is again evidenced by the series of events which led to the return of a black kitten lost from the Charles Pears home last week.

Wednesday night the kitten disappeared from its usual haunts. Thursday morning, Mrs. Pears inserted a "Lost" ad in the Record and within one hour after the publication of the paper the kitten was returned to the Pears home, by a person who is a relative stranger in the city.

Chas. Shephard and son and Mrs. Spencer of Detroit, spent the weekend in Buchanan. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Mary Holliday, who spent three weeks here visiting with her niece, Mrs. James Flynn.

Robert Rennback of Baroda, and Clarence Dumbrow, of Bridgman, were arrested, Thursday evening by Deputy Game Warden Cleve Horner on charge of having retained blue gills less than six inches long and pleaded guilty to the same charge before Justice Finney of Baroda, who assessed fines of $5 and costs each. The fish were caught in Singer Lake in Oronoko township. Warden Horner stated that the new game law, containing the latest revision by the State Game Commission, which may change the legal season for certain kinds of game. These revisions are made annually on the basis of the reports turned in by game wardens. There has been some agitation, Horner said, for an open season on coons.

A number of trout are to be planted in this section of the county during September. Plantings during the last six weeks included 2,000 fingerling black bass in Clear Lake and plantings in Lamb Lake in Vessaw township and in Smith Lake in Berrien township.

Former Record Man
Visits From Ohio

Cass Cullis, former editor of the Record, and now owner and publisher of the Bryan Democrat, was a visitor in the office Friday afternoon, renewing acquaintance with such veteran members of the force as still survive here. Mr. Cullis was editor of the Record from September 1921 until March 1923. He stated that his residence in Buchanan had been a pleasant and prosperous one and that he enjoyed very much to revisit this section as the most beautiful region that he knew of.

Editor Cullis is a leader of the forces of Democracy in his town, but just to show that politics makes no difference between friends he was accompanied on the trip by C. S. Roe, editor of the Bryan Press, an exponent of Republican doctrine. While here Editor Roe visited his sisters, Mrs. A. J. Glover and Miss Wilma Roe.

CLARK EQUIP.
CO. ENLARGES
HOUSING DEPTFrank Shoemaker of Sturgis is the Builder.DONE THIS FALL
Will Be Added to First
River Street
Plant.

Ground was broken yesterday for a 22x100 foot addition to the pressed steel housing plant of the Clark Equipment Company on River street, Frank L. Shoemaker of Sturgis, being the contractor in charge of the work.

The addition is to be erected adjacent to the 300x100 foot plant built last fall, the end extending flush to River street. The east side of the main plant will then be torn out leaving no partition between the two structures. The added room will not be equipped with machinery immediately, but is to be occupied gradually as expected enlargements in the production of pressed steel housings materialize.

Ray Anderson, who is in charge of work here for Shoemaker, states that the structure will be completed this fall.

The Clark Equipment Company completed the installation of 300 feet of ten inch iron pipe under the railroad bridge of McCoy creek last week to serve as a reserve outlet for the Portage and Third street sewer system. The dirt fill is to be installed at this point between the River street plant and the main Clark plant buildings. It was feared that in case the regular outlet under this large fill became deranged, it might be difficult to repair the reserve pipe being installed for such contingency.

Dewey School Bldg.
Is Newly Decorated

Ray Miller, instructor in industrial arts in the local schools, completed painting the Dewey Avenue building last week and is now decorating the windows and door sash at the high school building. The former structure is said to be in the best condition of many years for school opening. Alfred Finiar, superintendent of buildings, has completed renovating that structure in readiness for opening.

News From Galien and Vicinity

Mrs. Jack Kinney Suddenly Stricken

Our community was shocked last Sunday evening when the sad news of the death of Mrs. Zacharias Kinney was heard. Mrs. Kinney, who has been in good health, was feeding her flock of turkeys when she was stricken with apoplexy which caused her death. She was 45 years old and was well and favorably known in this vicinity. She leaves her husband and nine children, the oldest being 22 years old and the youngest, five years old. Her aged mother, Mrs. Henry Phillips, who has been spending several months with her daughter in Pontiac, is expected to arrive for the funeral which was held Wednesday afternoon at the First Congregational church in Three Oaks. Interment took place in Galien cemetery.

Mrs. Heckathorne Provides a Home For Chicago Child

Little Miss Mary Oberman, a child from the United Charities of Chicago, is staying until the end of next week with the Frank Heckathorne family, who have opened their hearts and home to one of God's children, who is in need of fresh country air, and country food and expansive playground. "He who has done it unto the least of these, has done it unto me."

Little Mary came Monday evening in care of the conductor and was met at the train by Mrs. Wentland, who took her to what Mary calls her country home. The pleasant, hospitable Heckathorne home will be a revelation to Mary, who is one of eleven children and will put her in better health and strength to start in the school year. It is hoped that next year there will be more to offer these poor little unfortunates who are trying to get the most out of life but have been restricted and held down by unfortunate circumstances.

URGES STATES TO ASSUME WIDER HIGHWAY POWERS

COUNTIES AND TOWNSHIPS
MUST COOPERATE MORE CLOSELY WITH STATE.

The man across the way, seven floors up, with hat on and one arm in his coat, picked up the telephone mouthpiece and hurriedly recorded a last minute message. Soon many farmers in the corn belt will be out with mechanical corn pickers that will do the work quicker and cheaper than man.

In industry such contrivances as the waste heat boiler, which utilizes heat that formerly escaped unused up the smokestack, are enabling man to do his work better and at less expense.

Efficiency is coming into all forms of human endeavor. The business of government, however, has in many instances failed to keep pace with the modernism of private business, whether it be a farm in Fenn County or a Parisian hat factory in the Bronx.

In highway building, for example, certainly a great deal has been accomplished, but there are ways open in which road building funds can be made to do better work. Of the total annual highway outlay, about half is spent directly by state highway departments, most of which are first class engineering organizations.

The remaining half of the highway expenditure, however, is spent by county and township road building agencies. Obviously, no matter how conscientious the men at the helm of the small governmental unit, the efficiency of the country or township does not usually compare favorably with the state highway department.

State highway departments are manned by outstanding engineers of broad experience. They command greater salaries than the small unit of government can pay. The state, through its greater scope and finances, can let contracts for long mileages of roads at one time, thereby obtaining better prices than can the county or township. Further, state supervision of road construction is naturally better, because of its advanced personnel of wide experience, so under its guidance the surface presented the motorist is more likely to be smooth, inexpensive to maintain and long lasting.

Several states are now exerting a beneficial control over local road building. In Pennsylvania a certain portion of the total highway income is allocated to counties and townships. In refunding this money, however, the state asks that it be spent on roads under the supervision of the state highway department. Most Pennsylvania county and township roads, therefore, are built under the same excellent supervision as the main state highways.

In other instances, state highway departments may assume control over the construction of local roads through the maintenance factor. For example, in Illinois main county roads must be built of certain types of surfacings before the state will take them over for maintenance. This, in effect, means that most Illinois county roads are built under state supervision.

Mass production of roads is just as necessary in road building as in anything else, and if adequate provisions are to be made for the automobile, the state and its counties and townships must perforce co-operate more closely.

School nurse says
all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when Nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas, pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

"SPEED 'ER UP" NEW ORDER ON MIDWEST ROADS

CENTRAL STATES INSTRUCT THE MOTORISTS TO STEP ON THE GAS.

In the Midwest, where main highways often run straight as an arrow for miles and where cross-country pavements generally are as smooth as velvet, motorists are being encouraged by the law to "speed 'er up."

Days when the driver had to watch his step at anything over 20 miles an hour seem but a dream as the pleasure cars whisk down the concrete at 50 and 60 miles, in many states without drivers being aware that they may be racing a traffic officer to the nearest jail.

One recalls with a bit of a smile the doubts with which a prophecy of a 50 mile an hour speed limit was greeted only a few years ago. Judging by the rate at which states are wiping fixed speed limits off their statute books, virtually telling motorists to go as fast as they can travel as long as they exercise reasonable care and keep sober—no state in the Midwest cares to bother with a mere 50-mile legal limit.

Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, Montana and perhaps other states, have done away with fixed speed limits on state highways. Ohio recently put into effect a 45-mile-an-hour speed limit. In New Mexico there is unlimited speed except that when passing another car the legal rate is 35 miles. Indiana's and Wisconsin's 40 mile laws were adjudged defective by the courts, so there are no maximum limits in those states. Moreover, it is announced that Indiana police are prepared to arrest slow drivers along the great Dunes Highway which edges lower Lake Michigan, under a new state law.

Illinois Speeds Up

Illinois, in July, stepped its legal speedometer up to 45 miles an hour, out in the open prairies where curves are scarce but broad and well banked and where vision is unobstructed. The new Illinois law, however, does not make a speed greater than 45 miles a misdemeanor. It lays upon the driver the necessity of proving before a court, in case of difficulty, that his speed is not unreasonable. The theory is that more than 45 miles may be safe under some conditions and that a speed under the maximum might be unsafe elsewhere, a Chicago Motor Club authority explains.

In Tennessee the safe speed limit is left to the discretion of the police, and, in effect, drivers make their own speed limits and at the same time take their own chances when traveling faster than 20 miles an hour. This new flexible arrangement superseded a 30-mile maximum on any state highway.

Oklahoma, Minnesota and Louisiana are other states with a 45 mile law, while South Dakota, Mississippi and Kentucky have a 40 mile limit. Thirty-five mile limits are in effect in numerous other states.

Broad boulevards are being built, too, within the city limits of the big municipalities to speed up traffic. In Chicago, for instance, signs along certain routes invite the drivers to go 35 miles an hour, protected by the boulevard "stop" sign system. The little old family "bus" that ambles along at 20 or 25 miles enjoying the scenery is made to feel its place is on a dusty country sideroad.

Detroit authorities have determined, however, that traffic moving along through the city at a uniform 12 to 20 miles per hour causes fewer jams than when permitted to travel faster.

Thousands of new cars being turned loose on the highways yearly have caused authorities to favor the faster driving on state highways as a means of spreading out the cars and reducing congestion. The almost universal use of four-wheel brakes has made faster driving safe. Greater speed has been made possible, too, by the elimination of many sharp curves, common when the country roads jogged around the farmers' lot lines rather than slice off a corner of a corn field. Illinois' practical completion of a $100,000,000 bond issue system of hard roads, another example of how the Midwest is inviting the motorist to "step on it."

Surely Green

A department store executive relates: "We put a green boy in the shoe department yesterday. A lady came in and said she wanted to see 'misses' mules. I don't think 'Misses' mules work here," said the boy. Journal of Education.

Bird Lifetime

It is believed that song birds average from six to ten years of life, but they have been known to live longer in captivity. Small birds ten years old are old. From records of banded birds, few birds besides sparrows live to six years. Usually birds live only about two years.

Only One Kind

Rightness expresses of actions what straightness does of lines; and there can no more be two kinds of right action than there can be two kinds of straight lines.—Herbert Spencer.

Lure of Hole Digging.

One of the surest methods of drawing and holding a crowd is to put a gang of men at work digging a hole in the street. Men put in immediate appearance, others join them, and soon there is a real crowd that appears to find the work of the pick and shovel crowd intensely interesting. The crowd will come in generous numbers but will not stay if the task is the opening of a trench. Most men stop, take a hurried look and walk on. The trench is an object of passing curiosity, but the hole in the ground has a stronger pull, men spend hours watching the operation.

The peculiar fascination that digging operations appear to have is shown at its largest and best when a steam shovel is wheeled into place and starts work on an excavation for a large building in a city. There is nothing new or novel in equipment or operation, but great crowds of men will stand and watch the procedure for a whole day and appear to be entertained in the most satisfactory manner. The curiosity remains as long as the noisy steam shovel is used. They watch the shovel force its way into the earth, they note the noisy puffing as the load is lifted, they note the dexterity of the shovel engineer as the load is swung to the right place and the load dumped into the truck. Over and over that operation may be repeated, and the crowd remains to watch and note each operation.

Contractors on down work where digging is done by man or machine count on the early appearance of the hole watchers when the work is started. Each city has its delegation of these people. Occasionally a woman will pause, note something unusual or interesting, ask a few questions and move on. There are always garrulous hole watchers to answer all questions. They toil not but they are quick to give information, at times even offering advice to the shovel operator or the truck drivers. No scientist yet has provided the explanation for the fascination that hole digging offers to men. One finds it in the country when a well or cistern is being dug. The lure hole digging has is known but the reason for it remains unknown.

Protecting the Criminal.

Gov. Graves of Alabama, did the wise if somewhat unusual thing when he ordered out two units of the national guard of that state to prevent possible mob violence at the trial of a negro charged with two major crimes. Fearing that the prisoner might be lynched before the law could take its course, the governor directed that the guardsmen should protect him "at any hazard." "There will not be a lynching in Alabama," the governor declared further, "if I can help it."

The evidence against the prisoner is strong. A special term of court is called for the trial. But while the presumption of guilt is great and the probable outcome of the case plain, the Alabama governor is determined that the orderly processes of the law shall prevail over any tendency to mob violence. In the meantime he is bent on seeing that the prisoner is protected by troops, if need be. Such an attitude is bound to create respect for law on the one hand and those who are prone to take matters into their own hands. If other officers charged with the enforcement of law and order would follow Gov. Graves' example, lynching would soon be a thing of the past.

Real Farm Relief.

The federal bureau of agricultural economics reports that farm returns for 1928 were the best in recent years, the best, in fact, since the post-war depression began. The average net return from 11,851 owner-operated farms in all parts of the country was $1224 in 1928 as compared with $1290 for 13,589 farms in the preceding year. Seven years ago the net return was but $917.

Gross receipts of these farms were larger last year, the bureau adds, but expenses were greater too. Average gross receipts were $2608, and average current expenses $1274. The investment in and the size of these farms were larger last year also than the year before, the averages being $15,417 and 284 acres.

Now statistics are dangerous in their naked state, but the essential fact that the average return from these owner-operated farms showed improvement last year is encouraging. The estimate, of course, does not include tenant farms, nor does it make provision for other factors. But the facts nevertheless point toward healthier agricultural conditions. Helpful laws, the creation of commissions, official investigations and the like have been useful as remedies, but in the long run the operation of natural economic laws and the farmer's own efforts must be counted upon for the permanent cure. Such studies as that just reported by the federal bureau only serve to confirm this fact.

Sunkissed Tomatoes.

Sunkissed tomatoes from the fertile gardens of Michigan are in the market here, pleasing to the eye, a delightful offering to the appetite of man. They stand out in radiant beauty and magnificence ahead of those man forced to maturity ahead of the season. Only when Nature has brought the tomato season, and developed in man a longing and yearning for the tonic and food values of that queenly product of the garden, does the tomato rise to its greatest heights and display its appealing charms at their best. It must be kissed by the sun.

Our forefathers grew them, not for food but for beauty, called them love apples and gave them prominent places for the adornment they supplied. Some wise individual learned their food value and made possible a joy for countless millions each year. There should be a monument, stately and imposing, erected to the memory of that individual. He was a friend of man.

A Sorry Tale.

It is a sorry tale of mistreatment, neglect and petty graft which a senatorial subcommittee brings back from a trip to the Indian reservations in Wisconsin, the Dakotas and Montana. Conditions ranging from gross neglect of the financial interests of the Indians to brutality to Indian children in the reservation schools were discovered, according to Senator Wheeler of Montana, one of the investigators. A marked prevalence of contagious and communicable diseases was found among these Indians, also, the Senator adds.

In one case Indian girls of 16 and 17, the senator reports, were forced to bend over chairs in the presence of male witnesses while they were beaten with a strap for "playing hooky" from school. From 15 to 25 per cent of the Indians were found to be suffering from tuberculosis, trachoma and other diseases, or an average of one per family, without adequate provision for medical attention or nursing. Medical attention was left, according to Senator Wheeler, to contract physicians who paid little attention to the work, or to superannuated medics who "couldn't earn a living anywhere else."

In the 75 years these Indians have been wards of the government, it is claimed, there never has been an accounting to them of their tribal funds. Tribal herds of cattle and horses are alleged to have been dissipated without any accounting to their owners. In trying to reclaim Indian lands for farming purposes, it is asserted that much injustice has been done.

The long record of the white man's relations with the red man who preceded him on this continent is not too much to the former's credit. In more recent times an honest effort has been made to safeguard the interests of the Indians, but not always with great success. If the stories brought back by the senatorial subcommittee are half as shameful in fact as they are in the telling, they constitute another chapter in the long tale in which the Indian has been preyed upon by the supposedly civilized white man.

Cannot Serve Two Masters.

Many scandals have been developed in city, county and state government when men in official place sought to fill their purse and serve the public at the same time. It is a simple proposition in applied good sense that a man in office cannot buy supplies from himself and hope to have the public accept it as good service. No man can serve two masters, an adage old as history, plain and true. Laws forbid that sort of dealing but it is done at times. Material for a big scandal has been uncovered in Indiana where men in office have been placing large contracts with their own firms. The state should oust from office these men.

It is an unpardonable blunder or worse for any man to attempt to mix private business and public service. If a man wants state contracts let him go out of office and meet competitors in the open fairly. If he wants to hold public office let him get out of business. The public never fails to get the worst of it when private business is mixed with politics. The idea is unsound, the tree is diseased, it will not bear good fruit.

About as far as we can go toward endorsing what a certain noble woman, appropriately enough, calls the scatter rugs around this comfortably but inexpensively furnished home, is to admit that they're not actually made of banana skins, though our first impression, as we just barely avoid breaking a leg or a collarbone or something, is that they are.

We don't care, the way some do, whether our nose shines or not but we would like to find some good face powder, as it were, for the seat of the pants.

Speaking of even-handed justice, we'd like to be wealthy and prominent enough to be sure to get a suspended sentence if we get caught at anything.

We often think it would be better to let the question of bearing arms go and ask the applicants for naturalization if they have any conscientious objections to working.

We often get up in the morning feeling like the quarterly bank statement and go to bed at night feeling like an involuntary petition in bankruptcy.

We like a man who isn't exactly enthusiastic over the death penalty even in cases where he considers it necessary.

A girl's way of daring a man to proceed is to say: Don't you care!

Another thing a woman always thinks she is, regardless of the facts, is a light sleeper.

Summer Duck is Increasing in Mich.

Michigan's wooded ponds and streams are places which attract the brilliantly plumed wood duck, and each year many broods of these beautiful birds are reared in this state.

Not only should duck hunters be familiar with the laws which afford strict protection at all seasons to the wood or "summer duck," but sportsmen in general should make a special effort to become familiar with this species, its colors and flight characteristics as it is the only fairly common duck on which there is no open season.

Before spring shooting was outlawed it was feared that the wood duck would become extinct. But, according to M. D. Pinne, ornithologist of the conservative department, this species was probably never as near extermination as was claimed, and there is little doubt that at the present time, under strict protection, the wood duck is becoming widespread in its distribution and fairly common locally in Michigan.

Under protection, in certain localities they may become as much as an attraction to visitors—as the deer or beaver. That these birds may be seen in large numbers during early fall is substantiated by a report that during a single evening last September over two hundred congregated in one small pond in the northern part of the lower peninsula.

Tested Herds Show Increasing Profit

Records from 77 Michigan herd improvement associations indicate that the dairy methods used by members are resulting in a marked increase in the profits from their herds, is the announcement made by members of the dairy department at Michigan State college.

Nine of these Michigan herds produced an average of 500 or more pounds of butterfat during the past year. This is five more herds of such high producing ability than were found by the testing done the preceding year.

Ninety-five herds produced between 400 and 500 pounds of butterfat per cow, and 838 herds averaged between 300 and 400 lbs. The food needed for body maintenance is not much more for a high producing cow than for a poor one, and the extra feed given to the good cow is turned into butterfat.

The dairy specialists say that profits from dairy cattle increase rapidly as the amount of butterfat produced increases. Labor costs and housing equipment needed are about the same for the good cow and for the poor one.

The nine herds for Michigan the past year were owned by Doane Straub, Berrien county; O. J. Becker, Ingham; H. M. Atwater, Allegan; Henry Meyers, Oceana; O. O. Dunham, Berrien; J. D. Wadga, Allegan; Otto Gilmore, Hillsdale; Geo. Ransner, Menominee, and Carl Hansen, Menominee.

The Old Timer's Corner

Rag Carpets

I wonder whom it was that invented carpets. My first recollection of floor coverings was the old varicolored rag carpets that Mrs. Voorhees used to make for us. During the long winter evenings, mother would sit and "sew rags," which she had, of course, washed first and then used different colors of dye, so she had a lot of different colors to choose from. Great huge round balls of them would appear like magic and be stowed away, ready to go to the weaver. We had rugs and carpets of the same material, some large and some small, and they were woven tight and snug, so that they were as firm as mostly any carpet.

"These carpets were woven in three foot widths, and these were cut and 'bound' at the ends and then sewed together with strong black thread, and made to fit the room. Tacked into place and it was a mighty good carpet."

I used to enjoy watching Mrs. Voorhees weave them. She had the loom in a small room off their dining room and it almost completely filled the room. It was a wooden affair, mostly, and there were strings coming from two directions, and she had the rags "bolted" on a sort of holder that she shoved thru between the strings and then she would push a pedal and the thing would pull the rag into place and pack it tightly up against the one before it. Then another, and another "push" and so on. Mrs. Voorhees was the only one in that part of the country, that I know of, that had a loom, and I guess she was kept pretty busy trying to keep her friends in carpets. We lived only a little way from her house, and I used to like to sneak in there and sit and watch her at her work.

We had "ingrain" carpets on the parlor and sitting room floors but the rag ones did duty thru all the balance of the house. It was a real treat to have a new rag or carpet on your bed room floor and was a lot better to step on on a cold, frosty morning, than the bare floor. O Boy.

I can remember when they used to have rag carpets at the church, also, in the vestibule and such places. It seems to me, when I think of it, that the Ladies Aid Society used to produce mostly all of the things that were used at the church. If there was a new carpet to buy, they would pledge themselves to pay for it, and if there was an organ to buy they would pledge themselves to pay for that. If there were new windows to put in or a furnace to buy or the "baptistry" had to be fixed, it mostly always was up to the Ladies Aid to put up the money and many comforters, quilts and rag carpets were made by them and the money turned over to the church. I never knew who it was that had to wash the windows and clean up at the church, for I never saw it done, but it always looked all right, clean and nice, and I will be willing to gamble that the Ladies Aid did that too. So when I think of rag carpets and the church, I think that the Ladies Aid was the backbone of the organization.

The men folks came there to worship and dropped in their little bit, each Sunday to pay the preacher, but he was paid little enough, I know that. They never had a regular paid "janitor." I guess they didn't have such things then. Some one who lived near the church usually had the key and would open the doors at the right time, etc., but I know that when it was Halloween and New Years nights, we were almost always able to get into the church some way or other and ring the bell until some one would come and run us out of there.

You never hear of kids ringing bells on such occasions now. I guess the janitors do it. It was great sport, for the kids in those days and harmless, too. Of course we used to do other things that were not so harmless, such as putting someone's wagon or buggy on the roof of some barn or shed and turning someone's cows into the front yard for the night, and things like that. I remember once that we went to Joe Ansley's barn and took his horse that he used on his dray and turned him around in the stall and tied him there wrong end to. Joe found him all right in the morning, but the horse looked at him as though he thought someone around there had lost their mind and Joe was sore as a boil and tried to find out who the "little devil" was that had done it, but he never found out, for sure, although I imagine he had a pretty good idea for the "West Street Gang" was usually held responsible for any thing that was unusual around there.

I wonder what ever became of that old loom that Mrs. Voorhees had. I have heard about the collection of old things, used in times gone by that Mr. Warren in Three Oaks has on display and some time I am going down there and see them. They tell me that the old "land pump fire engine," formerly the pride of Buchanan Fire department, is down there. I think a trip thru such a place would do most of us some good, to see the change in things and make us appreciate the never things that we use today. But none of the new things will ever take the place of rag carpets. We still have them, but they are machine-made, now and I don't like them as I did the ones that were made by hand.

Canada to Open Way to Alaska For Motorists

The people of the United States will be able to motor to Alaska within the next few years on a highway of great scenic grandeur to be built through British Columbia to Alaska's southern boundary. Announcement of this scheme, the most important highway project proposed in western Canada in recent times, was made by S. F. Tolmie, provincial Premier in an address at Victoria, B. C. Engineers are making investigations to locate the route of the highway, which will be unique in joining a foreign country with its outlying possessions through a friendly neighbor.

NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

John Garland Pollard of Williamsburg, Va., who was nominated for governor of Virginia by the regular Democrats to oppose William M. Brown, Republican and anti-Smith Democratic nominee.

The Alaska road will form a continuation of the British Columbia road system, which already has been pushed as far north as Hazelton, on the main northern line of the Canadian National Railway. From there the new highway will follow the old Telegraph Creek trail northward and reach a point on the Alaska boundary from which the United States can carry it as far into the interior of the territory as it wishes.

"I was tremendously impressed with the development of the tourist traffic," said Mr. Tolmie following a visit to Washington and Oregon. "The Pacific Highway, extending from Tia Juana, Mex., to the forty-ninth parallel is proving to be a tremendous asset to the Pacific Coast states."

"I have been wondering how we could take advantage of this immense traffic to a greater extent in British Columbia, and I think the solution lies in the extension of our roads in the north through the most suitable valleys to the Alaska boundary."

"I am informed that Congress has granted to Alaska this year $6,000,000 for the development of a road program. If our roads in northern British Columbia were connected with the Alaska boundary at a suitable point, this would not only open up a vast area to settlement in our country, but would greatly increase our tourist traffic through British Columbia."

"As an extra attraction we could advertise this as a trip to the 'Land of the Midnight Sun,' where they have nearly 20 hours of daylight during the tourist season. This advantage is not offered on any other tourist route on the whole of the continent, and would be a special feature that would prove extremely attractive to our neighbors."

Special tires, seven and one-half feet in diameter and 16 inches in cross section have been made for the world's largest airplane.

CONTEST TO SHOW QUALITY BUTTER

JUDGES WILL DETERMINE CHAMP BUTTERMAKER IN STATE FOR 1929.

A novel butter-scoring contest in which all commercial butter-makers in Michigan are invited to compete has been initiated by the bureau of dairying, State Department of Agriculture and Michigan State College.

Each buttermaker who enters tests and scores a sample of the butter he has manufactured and then sends a similar sample to the official judges to be scored by them. Simon H. Hagadorn, Lansing; P. S. Lucas and G. M. Trout, East Lansing are judges.

The judges report to each contestant the score made by the sample submitted and informs the buttermaker why the butter has not scored higher. The contest will be continued until the end of the year.

This will permit the buttermaker to correct errors in manufacture which reduce the score of his butter. The winner of the contest will be given the title of Michigan Master Buttermaker for 1929.

It is planned to repeat the contest to enable all buttermakers to avail themselves of the chance to have their product scored over a long period of time.

Since this fair began operating as a civic enterprise, in which all profits are placed back into a larger and better fair for the next year, it has grown into an institution which every LaPorte county citizen is justly proud to acclaim. The educational features this year will be greater than ever before, while the races, free acts and music will add to the gala spirit of the occasion.

The management depends largely on the press for its publicity and does well thereby. Every citizen of this and adjoining counties will make this occasion one in which they will meet and greet old friends and from a visit to the thousands of exhibits learn of the new things of the age. This... answers the question... which is America's finest medium-priced automobile

The Oakland All-American Six was compared with twenty other cars in 878 individual comparisons. Of the 878 points of comparison, Oakland established clear-cut superiority on 451 or 51.37 per cent. The twenty cars combined proved at best to be equal to Oakland on 382 points or 43.50 per cent. Yet thirteen of these cars are higher-priced than the All-American Six. Let us give you complete returns of this analysis. Then you will know that here is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

What these features mean to you

Large piston displacement is needed to develop high power at moderate engine speed. Moderate engine speed is an important factor in the life of a car.

PISTON DISPLACEMENT

How Oakland compares with the field

Oakland's 223 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are higher priced than Oakland.

Fisher bodies are famous for style, luxury and roominess. In addition, they hold such advantages as sturdy hardwood and steel construction, VV windshield, side cow ventilation and adjustable drivers' seats.

FISHER BODY

Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Oakland's delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the C. M. A. C. Time Payment Plan is used.
