

BUCHANAN ENTERS CITY RANK

BUCHANAN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE REACHES RECORD COMMISSION TAKES REINS TUES. NIGHT

Now Here's the Proposition

Huckleberry Pie
Bl. Haws

Come all you Michiganders now And listen to my song
And if you do not like it I will not detain you long.
But gather now into a ring and join all hands around The while we lift our voices in a glad and joyful sound Yes, we will gather us around and lift our voices high And strain a throat in joyous note for huckleberry pie.

Oh, every land, I understand, has got its own cuisine;
The cracker loves his johnny cake and Boston loves the bean; The mackerel fish is quite a dish along New England's shore; And oyster stew is never de trop in quaint old Baltimore.
For man is known from cot to throne by what he loves to eat So huckleberry is the fare when Michiganders meet.

So let us grab a husky slab and wrap an eager lip
And count no sin if from our chin the juicy sweetness drip, The while our bosoms and our lids assume an azure hue Dear to our hearts and known in art as "huckleberry blue."
For beefsteak rare is noble fare and mutton hits the spot, But we have huckleberry pie if luck is in the pot.

Pioneer Business Man Sees Buchanan From Air First Time

Buchanan looks a lot different from 1200 feet in the air, according to John Dick, 86 year old Buchanan business man who enjoyed his first airplane ride in company with Richard Pears Tuesday. Dick came to Buchanan in the late fifties, and for a time worked as a printer on papers in this vicinity before entering the Union army.
After his return from the army he has been actively engaged ever since.
As a result he knows his way around fairly well when he has his feet on the ground, but found it difficult to pick out even the old landmarks when in the air.
"Was I scared?" he responded "answer to queries on that score."
"I didn't see anything to be scared about, anymore than if I had been on an automobile ride."

Dr. Widmoyer Hosts to Berrien Chiro.

Drs. L. F. and Bernice Widmoyer were hosts Thursday evening to the members of the Southern Berrien County Chiropractors' association, at a supper served at the Slocum hotel, south of Gallen.
Guests present were Drs. Earl and Hazel Butcher of St. Joseph, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. McDonald of Benton Harbor, Dr. Gates of Watervliet, Dr. and Mrs. Max Kasler of Niles and Dr. and Mrs. Noah of Dowagiac.

Scenic Moccasin Acreage Property To be Plotted

The tract of 17 1/2 acres on Moccasin bluff, extending from the Berrien Springs stone road across the river, road to the St. Joseph river, and including the roadside spring which has been a familiar feature road down Moccasin Hill, is to be plotted soon by the owners, the Realty firm of Schwartz & Boyer, who plan to promote it as a summer and suburban residence section. The residence property on the Berrien Springs road, between the E. W. Clark and Fuller properties, is being repaired and renovated.

Mrs. Mary Lydick has been employed as clerk in the Hamblin Jewelry store, taking the place left vacant by Miss Madra Dreitzler, who resigned to become Mrs.
Lynn Pennell last week.

Miss Mary Reynolds, an instructor in the pre-vocational school for boys located at the Tilden Technical high school, Chicago, returned to that city to assume her duties for the ensuing school year.

DRESS MFG. PLANT OPENS HERE MONDAY

Contract for Space in the Collar and Pad Building.

WILL EMPLOY 35

24 Power Machines are Moved Here From Dowagiac.

Alterations are in progress this week on the second story of the Harry Brown building to enclose a room 18x60 feet in dimension for a factory space for Aaron Strauss & Company, manufacturers of high grade silk and velvet dresses, who are now moving 24 power sewing machines from their Do-wagiac factory in anticipation of opening up the first of the week.

Paul Gemanco, general superintendent of the factory operations for the company was a caller in Buchanan Monday, completing an agreement with Brown by which room of the above dimension is to be enclosed in the northeast corner of the second floor, and new floor and ceiling installed. The power machines are to be transferred from Dowagiac as fast as the flooring is laid.

Gemanco stated that further expansion here depended on the available help supply. In case it is apparent that a dependable help supply in excess of the 35 women required to supply the initial installation of 24 machines is available, the space here will be enlarged and more machines installed.

The transportation of women from Buchanan to Dowagiac daily was stopped the first of the week, due to the dismantling and transportation of the machines here.

HELMICK FAMILY HOLDS REUNION MT. TABOR HALL

GATHER ON FARM OF JESSE HELMICK SETTLED 99
YEARS AGO.

Descendants of Jesse and Elizabeth Helmick, who came overland from Lebanon, O., to the Mt. Tabor district 99 years ago this month and settled on the farm where the Mt. Tabor grange hall now stands, gathered at that place Saturday to the number of fifty for their annual reunion.

Mrs. Grace Clark presided over the meeting in conformance with the custom that the oldest Helmick present is to be in charge.
Eli Helmick of South Bend has presided many years, but due to poor health, was unable to be present this year. Burns Helmick, who ranks second in age, was unable to preside on account of deafness.

After a pot luck dinner at noon, the following program was enjoyed:

Piano solo, Mary Jane Palmer Trombone solo, Mary Edith Gano Dance, Wilma Palmer
Vocal solo, Dorothy Helmick Duet, Lucille Inno Barnhart Tap dance, Mary Jane Palmer Recitation, Helen Liddicoat Vocal solo, Mrs. Henry Liddicoat.

Guests who attended from out of the district were Mr. and Mrs.
John Ziegler and Everett Helmick of Walkersburg, Ind., Mr. and Mrs.
William A. Palmer and family of Lombard, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cano of South Bend, Mr. and Mrs.
E. Barnhart and J. A. Gray of South Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of Puenta, Calif., Mrs.
James K. Helmick and Barnard Helmick of Columbus Junction, Ia.

Letters of regret were read from a number who were unable to attend this year. Rev. Henry Liddicoat then addressed the gathering with a few appropriate remarks, after which the meeting was closed with a reading of the minutes and the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" by the assembled audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Munson and niece, Della Mae Heckathorne, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Upson and daughter, Georgia, spent Sunday at the Getz farm, Holland.

MRS WORTHINGTON CALLED BY REAPER

DAUGHTER OF STATE ATTOR-NEY GENERAL; LEADER
HERE HALF CENTURY.

Mrs. A. A. Worthington, 68, resident and a leading figure in Buchanan's social life for the past half century, died Monday afternoon at the Pawating hospital after an illness of several years.

She was born in LaGrange, Cass county, Mich., Jan. 13, 1861, her name before marriage being Lou VanRiper. She was the daughter of Judge J. VanRiper, who served as prosecuting attorney and judge of Berrien county and who in the eighties was state attorney general and a regent of the University of Michigan.

She came to Buchanan with her parents at the age of ten years, and was married on April 12, 1882 to Atty. A. A. Worthington-living with him until her death.

One child was born to this union but died in infancy.

She was a devout member of the Methodist church and a leader in its activities, serving as secretary of the Ladies Aid for 25 years and of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society for a like period.
She was also a leading figure in the social life of the town and active in club life, until illness caused her retirement.

She is survived by her husband, by one sister, Mrs. R. S. Colvin of Buchanan; by one nephew, Fred A. VanRiper of Hartford, Mich.

The funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m., daylight savings time, from the home at 208 Clark street, Rev. Henry Liddicoat in charge, and interment will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

William Anstiss, Former Buchanan Resident Expires

Indiana papers carry news of the death of William E. Anstiss, for many years a LaPorte county politician and deputy sheriff, who was found dead early Monday morning in his quarters at the La-Porte county building.

Older residents here will remember Anstiss as a son of Joseph Anstiss, a pioneer drayman of Buchanan and a resident for many years at 208 S. Portage.
William Anstiss was born and grew to young manhood here. After leaving here he went to La-Porte and was appointed to the county sheriff's force, and gained a wide reputation through his work in the case of Belle Gunness, murderess of 14 people. He was a member of the Masonic lodge in which he held several degrees and also of the Odd Fellows, Knights Templars, Shriners, Maccabees, Elks and Moose. The Masonic lodge of LaPorte was in charge of his funeral. He had no family and was believed to have been about 60 at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Burk Injured in So. Bend Collision

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Burk were injured Monday when their automobile collided with a street car at the intersection of St. Louis Boulevard and Madison street in South Bend.

The Burk car was going north on St. Louis Boulevard and Mr.
Burk, who was driving did not notice a street car approaching diagonally on Madison street, with the result that a collision was unavoidable.

Mrs. Burk is in St. Joseph hospital with a fractured knee and a deep cut on the forehead which required seven stitches. Mr. Burk suffered lacerations on his face.
The Burk car was demolished.
The damage to the car was covered by insurance.

Local People are "Talking up" Fall Festival for Buch.

Sentiment is being expressed locally favoring a "Fall Festival" to be staged in Buchanan this year.

A feature of this kind, its sponsors say, is a very effective means of attracting visitors to Buchanan at a time when counter attractions are not so frequent as they are during the summer months.

If the celebration is staged it will be arranged for early October.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT REACHES 250

H. S. Attendance is up 25 Per Cent in Four Years.

THREE THIRD GRADES

Total in all the Grades and Kindergarten is 943.

Cogs of Buchanan's school mill meshed into gear this week, with an initial enrollment surpassing not only the total during last year, but any attendance previously recorded in the history of the school.

Chief growth was recorded in the high school, where enrollment stood at 243 last night, as compared with an initial figure of 210 last year. The high school attendance has mounted 25 per cent in the past four years, according to Principal E. H. Ormiston. In addition to the four senior high school classes, 128 pupils were registered in the junior high classes.

Junior and senior high school enrollment by classes was: 7th, 67; 8th, 61; 9th, 53; 10th, 63; 11th, 55; 12th, 45; post graduate, 2; total, 243.

Enrollment in the kindergarten and six elementary grades was:
kindergarten, 81; 1st, 51; 2nd, 73; 3rd, 57; 4th, 75; 5th, 78; 6th, 32; total, 567. Total in all 12 grades and kindergarten until the close of school yesterday was 943.

A new feature of arrangements this year is the addition of a third grade, there being now three sections, of which two are housed in the high school building and one on Dewey Avenue. The same grade of work is carried in all three sections.

Tuesday was spent in enrollment and Wednesday mainly in adjusting courses of study and in equalizing the teaching burden.

Mrs. E. J. Hopkins

Former Resident,
Called by Death

Mrs. Jeannette Belle Hopkins, wife of E. J. Hopkins and a former resident of Buchanan for many years, died August 30, in St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mrs. Hopkins had lived for the past three years at South Bend, but had lived both in California and at Ann Arbor since leaving Buchanan. While here she was active in community affairs and was a charter member of the Royal Neighbors and the Monday Literary Club.

After leaving Buchanan the family lived several years at Ann Arbor while the daughters were attending the University of Michigan. There she was a leader in musical affairs and was a member of the First Methodist church in that city, retaining her membership there until the time of her death. After leaving Ann Arbor she lived a number of years at Hollywood and at Redlands, Calif., her daughter being an instructor in music in the university in the latter place.

She was buried at Dowagiac, where she had lived for a number of years and where her parents had been buried.

In addition to her husband, E.
J. Hopkins, she is survived by her two daughters, Miss Genevieve Hopkins and Mrs. Merle de Pont Cooke; by two grandchildren, Richard and Dorothy de Pont Cooke, and one brother, Lamont Acton of Detroit.

Cash Prizes to Be Awarded for The Best Letter

Cash prizes, one of $5 and a second of $2.50 will be awarded the persons writing the best letter on "Why Buy Republican Automobile Insurance." This contest is being conducted by the local dealer and anyone is eligible. The letters will be judged by the reasons given, rather than for literary merit. Three disinterested judges will make the selection and the contest ends Sept. 30th. Read the ad for full particulars.

TWO CITIES WILL UNITE IN PICNIC

The Niles-Buchanan Fellowship Club Will Be Hosts.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 8

Blues to Cross Bats with the Barron Lake Aggregation.

The Niles-Buchanan Fellowship Club, an informal body organized recently purely for the promotion of good fellowship and social entertainment, will be hosts to several thousand residents of the two cities and other sections of the county at a picnic to be held at Barron Lake Sunday, Sept. 8, arrangements for a complete program of amusements having been completed by a committee of ten composed of five from each place.

Chief feature of the entertainment program will be a baseball game between the Buchanan Blues and a Barron Lake team, which will be called at 2:30 p. m. Other events of interest will be a tug of war and an indoor baseball game, both between teams selected from Niles and Buchanan. The friendly rivalry between the two cities is expected to create intense interest in these contests.

In addition there will be a guessing contest, diving and all kinds of aquatic contests for prizes, rowing, motor boating, dancing, swimming and other entertainment.

For the younger attendants there will be peanut scrambles, paper bag "busting" contests. There will be a ball driving contest for women only and a horseshoe tournament for men.

All residents of Buchanan are cordially invited to spend the day at the beautiful picnic grounds at West Grove, Barron Lake.

Not Ma Ormiston, But Ormiston M. A.

E. H. Ormiston, principal of the Buchanan high school, is getting educated by degrees, it seems, having acquired the privilege of adding two more capital letters to his name, as the result of his work in summer school at the University of Michigan. Ormiston completed all work, including his thesis, for the degree of Master of Arts in Education, and also has several credits in the University of Chicago to apply on his Doctor of Philosophy degree.

2-Yr. Old Daughter of Harlan Matthews Called by Death

Marjorie Jean Matthews, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Harlan Matthews of N. Chippewa street, died Sunday evening at the Pawating hospital at Niles, following a three week's illness with appendicitis in which two operations failed to bring relief. The funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday from the home on N. Chippewa street, Rev. Henry Liddicoat preaching the sermon, and the burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Buchanan Entered Mich. City Ranks Sometime Tuesday

Buchanan's actual change in status from the village to the city class took place Tuesday, Sept. 3, not with the presentation of the gavel by C. V. Glover to Clinton Hathaway, but on the receipt of the new city charter by the Secretary of State at Lansing and by the county clerk of Berrien county, at St. Joseph.

Two copies each of the receipt of these officials, notice of receipt reaching City Clerk Harry Post yesterday morning.

Guests from Sunday until Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
A. H. Miller were the latter's cousin, Mrs. Del Caswell and husband, of Fremont, Ind. While here they enjoyed a tour of the fruit section and lake front of Berrien county.

Dean of Old Time School Teachers Tells of School Customs Prevailing in 1858-59

The dean of the old time school masters yet living in this section is doubtless J. B. Ullery, who lives seven miles northeast of Buchanan, just beyond the junction of the Walton road and U. S. 31, and who first taught at the Hills school, north of Hills Corners, in the winter of 1858-59. Mr. Ullery is now in his 90th year and was a young man of 20 when he taught his first term of school. The term was of four months' duration and young Ullery received the sum of $20 per month and board, the latter item having been received from the various families of the district with whom he "boarded around."

There was no state or county supervision of schools at the time and the only certification of teachers was accomplished through an oral test given by the township school inspectors. The inspector was elected by the township, and was usually an ex-school teacher, tolerably well versed in the "three R's". Lake township, in which Ullery was certified to teach, then had two inspectors, a certain Mr. Merrefield and Henry Lemon.
The rector of the Hill district was

BAND MUSIC NOW PART OF H. S. COURSE

Work Open to Pupils from the Third to Eleventh Grade.

MORNING CLASSES

Patrons of the Buchanan schools should realize the advantages presented to them with the establishment of courses in orchestra and band music in a regular place in the course of study, with credit allowed toward graduation and instruction at the hands of an experienced instructor according to Supt. Stark, who urges an early enrollment on the part of any planning to take up the work.

This work is open to students from the third to the eleventh grades inclusive, instruction to be given without charge. Grade pupils will be instructed from 8:15 to 9 a. m. before their other classes begin. High school classes will be held from 9 a. m. until 11:15 a. m. All instruction will be given in the high school auditorium.

In addition to band and orchestra instruction, the pupils will be drilled in fundamental principles of musical theory, including counterpoint and harmony.

It will be necessary for instructor R. R. Robinson to close the classes soon, in order that the pupils progress together, and there will not be another opportunity to enter until the second semester.
Accordingly, all those who wish to enter are urged to do so by the end of the week. There is much promising material in the school and it is expected that, given proper support, the musical organizations of the school will make a creditable showing.

DAYTON I. O. O. F. REPORT 8000 AT LABOR DAY PICNIC

WAS MOST SUCCESSFUL IN 15 YEAR HISTORY OF THE EVENT.

"The finest picnic since we started the affair 15 years ago," was the verdict of Jerome Seabast, a member of the committee in charge relative to the Labor Day picnic staged by the Dayton I. O.
O. F. Monday.

A total estimated attendance of between 7,000 and 8,000 was reported, although an accurate figure would be impossible to achieve as the crowds kept arriving and leaving by hundreds, all hours of the day. The financial department of the picnic reports the sale of 99 gallons of ice cream and 85 cases of pop before 4 p. m., when those items were exhausted.

The WLS "Black Dots" and the accompanying player from WLS proved immensely popular, the former rendering their program by megaphone so that they were plainly audible from all parts of the grounds.

The event was favored this year by perfect weather, although covered by rain insurance. That protection was taken last year for the first time and saved the lodge from heavy loss.

Members of the committee on general arrangements were Jerome Seabast, Schuman Sarver and Walter Ernspenger.

PORTAGE-3RD SEWER WORK NEARING END

Completion on Both Streets is Slated in Ten Days.

PORTAGE ST. APPROVED

Installation of storm and sanitary sewers on Portage and Third streets is scheduled for completion by the end of next week, barring unforeseen obstacles, according to A. E. Hipskind, of the John Hippskind Company of South Bend, who has charge of the work.

The Portage street sewer was opened up after four days of work with sewer cleaning equipment last week, some difficulty being experienced in opening the block between Front and Dewey, where clay and debris had packed solidly.
When the file had been cleared of sand and refuse, it was found to be running a third full of water, which entered at Central Court.
This amount will not interfere with the satisfactory operation of the sewer, according to Hipskind.

It will be necessary to build a new bottom in the manhole at Portage and Central Court, which will be the last of the installation work on that street.

The trench digging machine employed on Third street cut through Short Street yesterday afternoon, leaving the water at that point.
The water had been so reduced as the file neared Short street that no shields were needed in laying the last few yards. It is expected that the remaining block from Short to Main will be completed rapidly, as the excavation will be dry.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, retiring members of the village administration stated that the costs of installation then totalled under $43,000 which was still safely under the total tax levy of $50,000. The first $10,000 was raised by the assessment made the initial year, and $40,000 by bonds for the combined expense of installing storm and sanitary sewers on Portage and Third streets and of paying the city's share of pavement installation on Portage.
The contract for installation of the Walton Road paving on Porttage was let to the Lang Construction Company of Chicago for the sum of $11,060, of which amount $8515.20 has been paid them.

A total of $20,000 in special assessments for these purposes is now due, and only about $10,500 of the amount has been collected.
Also only about two thirds of the city tax has been collected, with Sept. 10 as the final date for payment. Payment in full of these taxes will provide the city with ample funds for the construction projects and current needs.

Like Hoover and All Truly Great, He Likes to Fish

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Glover arrived home Saturday from a vacation of three weeks spent at Bilely Lake, 75 miles north of Grand Rapids. Mr. Glover said that they spent a most enjoyable vacation, there being but three cottages on the lake, and the other two empty save for week ends, so the most of the time they had the entire lake to themselves, and plenty of fish every day.

Night Police to be Paid Entirely by the City.

Members of the last village administration that Buchanan is likely to have retired to the peaceful quietude of private life while the newly elected city commissioners entered into the dignity of office and the sewer business at the meeting held at the council rooms Tuesday evening.

A touch of the pomp and circumstance which fittingly accompanies a change of dynasty was lent to the occasion which the retiring president, Claude V. Glover, dug up a gavel and presented it to the incoming mayor, Clinton Hathaway, as a symbol of the office.

The last village council then retired from the council table to give way to the first city commission. Matt Kelling alone remaining at his post, by virtue of his election to the new body.
The chief business of the commission at the first meeting was the fixing of salaries for the appointive offices provided for in the charter and the appointment of incumbents, the following being named and approved: city clerk, Harry Post, $500; city attorney, Frank Sanders, $125 per annum; treasurer, Clarence Runner, to be paid $100 for the collection of the special assessment and $400 for the collection of the winter tax; city physician, Dr. Curtis, fees, assessor, William Richards, to serve also as superintendent of the poor, $400 per annum; city marshal and street commissioner, Ed.

Useless Records.

Periodically, it seems, strange feats are reported by no less strange individuals. Some time ago there was an epidemic of flag pole sitting, and another of marathon dancing, as it was called. Baltimore boys lately have been the participants in a youth's flag pole sitting contest, two Tennessee youths have just ridden their bicycles over their neighborhood for 107 hours, and an Illinois woman is reported to have clinched the rocking chair championship, whatever that may be, with a record of more than 400 hours of continuous rocking. Lately, too, a man died after a corn-on-the-cob eating contest.

Whether these strange accomplishments had their incentive in the non-stop endurance flights would be hard to say. Even if that were the case, the comparison ends there. Endurance flights and other prolonged tests undertaken in the interests of science have a practical value, but no such excuse can be offered for the other stunts reported. These curious tendencies might be charged against the heat or to dog days. But if anyone deserves a medal under such circumstances, it is the long-suffering public which puts up with such "contests" and their futile records.

Drinking Congressmen.

It is a sorry portrait of certain congressmen which Mrs. Willebrandt paints in her story of "The Inside of Prohibition." She says frankly that she has not lived in Washington for so long a time without becoming well acquainted with the fact that many congressmen and senators who vote for bills designed to aid prohibition are persistent violators of the Volstead law.

Mrs. Willebrandt cites the instance of one senator, who, during the closing days of a recent session, obstructed the passage of important legislation while in such a state of intoxication that he had to hold on to his desk to keep from falling. She confirms rumors that both senators and representatives have appeared in legislative halls in a drunken condition. She asserts that bootleggers ply their shady trade in the very halls of Congress.

Pointing out that it was not the function of her department to make prohibition cases, but to prosecute them, Mrs. Willebrandt says that there was not much she could do to stop such practices. She gives it as her belief, however, that there is no legal reason why searches and seizures should not be made in the capitol under the same procedure followed elsewhere. But she relates that one agent who sought such a warrant was advised that no warrants could be had to search the capitol. Mrs. Willebrandt is right when she says that such an attitude is "bad law and bad policy."

Probably nothing has done more, Mrs. Willebrandt correctly observes, "to disgust and alienate honest men and women who originally strongly favored the prohibition amendment and its strict enforcement, than the hypocrisy of the wet drinking, dry voting congressmen." Therein she goes to the root of the failure of legal prohibition as we have it. No legislation founded on hypocrisy can be respected, observed or enforced. When that fact is recognized, we shall be a step closer to a solution of the present situation, but not until then.

Dirty Money.

As a result of the recent seizure of the yacht Margo, described as the largest on the Great Lakes, the sum of $7500 awaits a claimant in the U. S. Treasury. On a tip from some unidentified person, the yacht was taken into custody and 40 cases of choice liquors, obtained in Canada, were confiscated. Although he was not on the cruise, having chartered the boat to another, the owner of the ship was fined $30,000. Under the tariff law of 1922, an individual who informs the government of any customs violation is entitled to 25 per cent of the net amount recovered by the government up to $50,000. This includes the recovery of any duties withheld, or any fine, penalty or forfeiture incurred. In the case at hand, the informer is entitled to a fourth of the $30,000 fine that was imposed.

Mystery surrounds the identity of the informant in this instance. It has been variously suggested that a revengeful member of the crew was responsible, or that a guest on the cruise, being offended, took this method of getting even. In any event, it is a rigid governmental policy never to reveal the identity of the informer, for obvious reasons. In the case of certain informers working in Europe who get information on purchases of jewels and other valuables by Americans abroad, it is said that they actually make a comfortable living from what they get by tattling.

No one, of course, can uphold the too frequent practice of failing to declare dutiable purchases or the common one of smuggling liquor or other contraband. But the legal provision for compensation to informers appears to put a premium on one sort of underhanded conduct to punish another. Neither respect for law nor law observance, as has been said so often, is ever really cultivated by such methods.

Dog Days.

What sort of a day is a "dog day?" These not altogether popular days are supposed to occur only too frequently any time between July 25 or thereabouts and Sept. 1 to 8 or thereabout, but they mark a season unfavorable to dog-hygiene (and more or less so, one may add, for cats) does not suffice to describe their true inwardness or their supposed but highly exaggerated cussedness.

Well, a dog day connotes a peculiar blend of atmospheric conditions. For one thing, it means a noticeable degree of humidity, sometimes sweltering, yet quite as often not so bad as that, for it may be accompanied by quite a temperate temperature. For another thing, it spells an overcast sky, not necessarily cloudy, yet filled with a kind of haze—muggy, lazy sort of weather, suggestive of the particular activity save swimming and fishing; in short, desultory weather, psychically speaking. Such days just fall short of being oppressive, but they do generate languor. There is little breeze and what there is is southerly, preferably, perhaps, southeasterly, for a southwesterly wind is apt to bring summer squalls with it, and rain little marks the dog days.

We must get most of such weather in August. Yet August is not strictly to be identified with it, for this month contains many days of clear sky and brisk west and northwest winds—very bracing days for summer. In a way, however, dog days mark both August and part of September as the ideal season for sea bathing and for sea air. Not when the air is dry and the wind westerly, but when the air is muggy and warm and the wind southeasterly or south is the time when our bodies crave most of the benefits of the seashore.

But description by word can only approximate to the whole truth of the subtle distinctiveness of dog days. We know them when we see and feel them, and what's in a name?

Bus Travel.

The increasing popularity of the bus as a means of travel has been one of the outstanding developments in American transportation in the last few years. This growth has not been nearly so spectacular as the development of airplane travel, but it has been hardly less amazing, making allowances for the fundamental differences between the two.

It is estimated that there are more miles of bus routes in operation in the United States than there are of railroads. Since 1925 the number of buses in use has nearly doubled and it is said that the nearly 100,000 buses in operation this year will carry something like 2,500,000,000 passengers a like number of miles. Recognizing the utility of the bus, electric and steam railways are employing constantly growing fleets of them to augment their rail service. In many places bus lines have supplanted electric lines completely.

The motor bus has been a boon to large and small communities, but particularly to the latter. It has made them more accessible and has speeded up transportation not only of passengers but of freight. The development of motor bus routes has been made possible only by the tremendous road building program that is under way in all parts of the country. Their services will be extended as the roads are improved still more. One can now go great distances over regular bus routes, even in buses with sleeping accommodations for overnight travel.

The transportation situation of the country has changed markedly in the years since the war. The last decade has seen a decline in what used to be known as the electric railway, it has witnessed the growing electrification of steam roads, the advent of the motor bus lines and the increasing spread of aerial transport. Against all of these rivals the railroads have had to look to their laurels. In the resultant competition, the traveler has the choice of means and routes of travel practically undreamed of at the turn of the century.

It is said that only 12 people in the world understand the Einstein theory and we shouldn't wonder if they got the reputation of understanding it just by not saying anything, and not even snoring for that matter while it was under discussion.

Fortunately absent-mindedness is pretty much confined to the middle-aged male and it would be terrible if a fashionable girl should put on her new sun-tan back affair hind side before or upside down.

We firmly believe in counting one's chickens before they are hatched and the time to be enthusiastic about how much good the new farm relief law is going to do the farmers is right now.

Maybe what the eminent scientist had in mind when he predicted a few years ago that this soon would be a legless world was the legs of the step-ins.

One of the strangest things is how many trips to the laundry the collar you don't like the shape of can withstand.

Sanitation has done something for us after all and we haven't seen a gold tooth pick for 30 years.

Never Knew a Gas Range Could Perform like this!

This exclamation from a very modern lady who, like many people, had taken gas ranges as a matter of course.

In the Round Oak for the first time she saw something distinctly desirable and different—a beauty in which she could take pride—a convenience that would simplify household tasks and give a certainty of perfect cooking results that assured successful dinners.

So impressed was she that she did not hesitate a moment in discarding the range she had purchased last year for the NEW ROUND OAK.

To the extent that beauty and saving mean anything to you, you will be interested in our Round Oak display. It will prove a revelation.

Booze Smuggled in Detroit at Rate of 4000 Cases Per Day

How liquor is smuggled from Windsor, Ontario, into Detroit at the rate of 4,000 cases a day is described in the current issue of the Nation, by Morrow Mayo, a journalist, who is spending the summer in Detroit. The article says:

"The racketeers' order from a Windsor distillery, 400 cases of liquor for delivery into, rum-running boats at a Windsor export dock. The liquor is delivered in wooden cases. Each case contains two handy packages of six quarts each, packed between heavy cardboard in square burlap bags. Each bag weighs about eighteen pounds, and is easy to carry. The rum-runners uncoil it, burn the boxes, and load the bags of liquor into their boats. From the United States side of the river it is a common sight to see bonfires of liquor cases burning on the Canadian beach.

"When the rum-running boats are loaded, they are cleared by Canadian customs officials. The documents give the names of the distillery, transporter, consignee, boats, port of debarkation, port of destination, exact cargo and time of departure. Copies are mailed to the customs office at port of destination. Having cleared from Windsor, the boats run out into the river, remaining on the Canadian side until they get an opportunity to make the dash to the United States shore. Part of this shore is occupied by private boat-wells, one after another, built on private property. Along the river's edge there are whole blocks of houses, built close together, fenced and screened.

"Doors beneath the surface of the water lift up and descend to emit and admit the rum-running boats. Search warrants are required to enter these private houses. They have private automobile entrances and garages. Impassable streets lead down to the river's edge. The boats usually shoot across at night. Running in pitch darkness, without lights, it takes a rum-running boat from one to three minutes to make the half-mile dash from Canadian waters to the United States shore.

It may be stated without fear of contradiction that the United States has never made a sincere, determined effort to stop liquor smuggling from Canada, and is not making one now. To put it most charitably, its effort has been half-hearted. If anyone doubts this, let him ask himself the question, what would the United States do if the commodity being so openly and notoriously smuggled into the country were an article upon which there is a high tariff?"

Germany Builds Plane with Motors Placed in Wings

A new and larger type of Junker monoplane is nearing completion in Germany, the American assistant trade commissioner in Berlin, A. Douglas Cook, has just reported to the Department of Commerce.

This machine, known as the "J 38" type, is being built on the principle that all bearing parts are located inside the wings. The

Do You Wonder What to Eat and Where to Buy?

These are the questions that confront the housewife almost daily. It is always a question what to prepare for the next meal that will be different and tempting and whether there is an idea in mind or not, it is often another question, where to buy the food-stuffs.

This store answers both questions in an ideal manner.

chief difference between the "J 38" and the old type of Junker planes is that in the former the wings are of such thickness that a greater use may be made of their interior for the accommodation of freight and passengers.

Duralumin sheeting is used throughout, which construction point has been adopted from earlier Junker models. However, the materials used on the "J 38" are naturally stronger in proportion to the increase in the size. Open profiles are used in this plane in place of the former Z struts.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking naps, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when naps should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Naps is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Christian Science Churches
"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, Sept. 1.
Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the bible: "I am that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive forevermore, Amen" (Rev. 1:18).
The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus was the highest human concept of the perfect man. He was inseparable from Christ, the Messiah, the divine idea of God outside the flesh. This enabled Jesus to demonstrate his control over matter." (p. 482).

GAME COMMISSION DECLARES WAR ON MINK AND SKUNK

LIMITS ARE CHANGED UNTIL EACH HUNTER NEEDS
BOOKKEEPER.

The Michigan State Game Commission has declared the skunk an outlaw, and henceforth that justly famous compounder and dispenser of incense is to be fair prey for sportsmen whenever and wherever found, according to the latest bulletin of the game conservation body received by Chief of Police Ed. Mitchell last week.

Included with the skunk in the edict of outlawry is the mink, a near cousin of the skunk, in the mustelina family. Both these animals lost their standing before the law because of their known propensity to destroy the eggs and young of the ring-necked pheasant and of other game birds. Up to date the skunk and mink had received protection because they were considered a game asset, largely due to the value of their furs. An investigation by the state commission revealed, however, that their habits were such that it was a matter of choice between skunk and pheasant. It was consequently decreed that Mr. Skunk would have to go. Until this year there was an open season on skunk and mink of 45 days only, Nov. 1 to Dec. 15, with protection for the remainder of the year.

The season on the cottontail rabbit remains the same this year, Oct. 15 to Jan. 1, but the number that may be killed daily has been reduced from seven to five. The maximum for the year was increased, however, from 25 to 50.

And on the other varieties of game, the limits have been shifted around so that the hunter will have to employ a bookkeeper to accompany him on his trips to be sure of himself. The maximum on prairie chicken is to be 5 in a day and 10 in a season, instead of 50 in a season as formerly. The limit on ring-necked pheasants is to be two per day and four per season. There will be a six day open season on squirrels, Oct. 25-31, with a maximum of five in a day and fifteen in a season.

on the wings and rudder. By carefully noting this fact and using your eyes you can estimate the flying qualifications of a plane. Those marks indicate a plane has been approved by the government. While this does not assure a safe trip, for many factors are involved in flying, there is a positive risk in an unmarked plane. Auto Claims are the Heaviest

More than $7,500,000 is received on the average business day throughout the year by that part of the American public which is protected under all forms of insurance policies, it is reported by the Travelers' Insurance Company. The annual total monetary benefits amount to around $2,250,000, of which more than $1,250,000,000 is distributed as benefits under life insurance.

Of all the forms of casualty insurance, including those that involve people as well as property, the figures disclose that the automobile is the cause of the largest distribution of benefits, exceeding the amount paid out under com-

TRAIN WITH TELEPHONES TRIED OUT 20 YEARS AGO

One of the earliest demonstrations of the use of the telephone on a moving railroad train in this country was made over twenty years ago when the special train of the Chamber of Commerce trade extension excursionists from Pittsburgh was equipped with telephones.

This was in September, 1908. Telephones were installed in each car and the members of the party were enabled to communicate with each other on the train, although in different cars and while the train was in motion. Connection was also established when the train stopped at various places en route, including Parkersburg, W. Va., Canal Dover, O., etc. The members of the Chamber of Commerce were able to converse from their individual Pullmans to their homes in Pittsburgh.

Husband (reading paper)—Here's something about a girl who slept continuously for two months. I wonder if it wasn't the same one who worked for us last year.

Count Deer With Spotlights at Night

The three employees of the Conservation Department, Edward Ducus, game warden, I. H. Bartlett, and M. C. Wakeman, both of the game division, who are at the present time engaged in a deer count in certain parts of the upper peninsula, are the only legal deer "shiners" now operating in Michigan.

Their method of making the count of the Upper Peninsula deer herds by the use of a portable spotlight operated from a slowly driven automobile last week resulted in their temporary "arrest," but no conviction followed. Here's how it happened.

The count was being made by night and everything going well until sometime during the early hours of the morning when the party turned their car onto a graded road. Down this they traveled, flashing their light along either side of the highway. Presently a car shot past them, sounding its horn and drew over to the side of the road. The three "shiners" also stopped, dimmed their lights and waited further developments. Two men in uniform approached.

"We're pinched," somebody whispered.

Bakers Now Market Bread Already Sliced

Much of the bread that goes on American tables comes from bakeries, as is well known. Now a number of baking concerns even slice "the staff of life." Sliced bread has appeared in many localities. It comes wrapped and ready to serve. In order to take advantage of the "sight appeal," a western bakery wraps display loaves in transparent moisture-proof cellophane to enable the housewife to see just what she is getting. So far no baker has offered to do the eating of his product, which seems to be about the only thing left.

Twelve motor busses have just been put in service on the new Shanghai-Kiating motor road in China.

STATE HORSES GET HABIT OF WINNING

COLLEGE HERD WINS THE PURPLE RIBBONS AT OHIO STATE FAIR.

The winning of purple championship ribbons has become a habit with the horses owned by Michigan State college, according to word sent from the Ohio State fair by Ralph Hudson, in charge of the college horses.

Ravenche, a two-year-old daughter of Percheron, was grand champion Belgian mare shown at Columbus. This daughter promises to continue the great record of her mother.

Easton Wolf, a three-year-old Belgian stallion owned by the college, was reserve grand champion in the Ohio show. He was first in the senior class.

The Percherons from Michigan State were even more successful. St. East was grand champion stallion, and Maple Grove Lella won grand championship honors for Percheron mares.

The Percherons won first for best breeders herd and first for best three mares. For Belgians the college showed the best three mares and won second place on breeders herd.

From Columbus, the horses will be taken to the Michigan State fair at Detroit, and later, in the year, a group of the animals will be sent to the International Show at Chicago, where the best horses of the continent will compete for supremacy.

U. S. Exports

At New Peak

Exports from the United States for the second quarter of 1929 with a total value of $1,204,000,000 were higher than in any corresponding period since 1920, are reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce. There was a reduction in sales of raw materials but a large increase in foreign sales of manufactured goods. Imports relatively increased more than exports, but the $1,064,000,000 total was exceeded once since 1920, namely, in the first quarter of 1926. The net favorable balance of $99,000,000 for exports was the smallest in three years.

Exports in the second quarter dropped $219,000,000 or 15 per cent below those of the first quarter of 1929, but were $99,000,000 or 2.4 per cent greater than in the corresponding quarter of last year. This increase came despite a drop of $34,000,000 or 22.7 per cent in exports of crude materials in the second quarter of 1929, compared with a year ago.

Imports increased $247,000,000 or 15 per cent, as compared with the second quarter of 1928, and were $42,000,000 greater than in the first quarter of 1929. Manufactures and crude materials accounted for two-thirds of the increase, which, it was stated, was a natural result of the greater industrial activity.

AFTER 20 YEARS STOMACH ILLS ARE ENDED BY KONJOLA

"I TRIED EVERYTHING, BUT NEW MEDICINE GAVE ME FIRST AND ONLY RELIEF"

MR. A. J. ROOT
"For twenty years my stomach was so bad that absolutely nothing gave me relief from indigestion," said Mr. A. J. Root, 210 N. First St., Ann Arbor, Mich. "After every meal gas formed and bloating and pain followed. Then my kidneys began to fail. At night I had to rise frequently. But I kept on doctoring trying this and that, and I always met with failure."

"A friend told me by all means to give Konjola a trial. Four weeks on Konjola and all my health problems were solved. Today I can eat anything I like; my stomach is working as it should and kidney trouble is at an end. I am amazed that any one medicine could bring such results in so short a time. Whoever called Konjola the master medicine knew what he was talking about."

Konjola is sold in Buchanan, Mich., at W. N. Brodick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

8 SEADROMES TO SPAN OCEAN WITHIN 5 YEARS

FLOATING LANDING FIELDS STRUNG ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

A series of eight Armstrong seadromes or floating landing fields, strung across the Atlantic at intervals of 875 miles will remove the hazard from ocean flying and make it possible to leave the United States by airplane on Friday, spend Saturday and Sunday in Europe and return to New York on Monday. Five years at the least should see this project in complete operation. In fact, the first seadrome, now under construction, will be placed in operation between New York and Bermuda next year. When it is thoroughly tested, construction will begin on dromes for the trans-Atlantic route.

This plan has the support of a prominent group of business men, many of them being active in the du Pont and General Motors corporations. The cost of building this first seadrome will be between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000—less than that of some of the first class land airports and about ten per cent of the cost of the largest passenger liner.

A perfunctory survey of the transportation field proves conclusively that the essential conditions for successful commercial aviation are nowhere more favorable than on this Atlantic route. No other traffic route joins 300 million people who own or control more than half of the wealth of the world. How great, for instance, would be the saving on interest charges alone if bank paper could be brought from Great Britain to New York in 24 hours instead of the several days now needed.

An effort to span the ocean in a single hop is a gamble with death, not because flying over the sea is dangerous but because of the distance that must be travelled without refueling, motor inspection, weather reports or any of the other services which have made land flying commonplace and reliable. Since distance is the only obstacle to safety, the problem in establishing ocean airlines is to break the trip up into lesser distances at the end of which the plane may be serviced, and weather reports received.

Approximately 10,000 tons of steel will be required for each seadrome. The buoyancy units, rust-proof iron tubes, will extend 160 feet under the water. The landing deck, 1200 feet long and 200 feet wide, will stand 50 feet above the water level. Below the landing deck, at the stern, is the service and boat deck. Hangars will be located in the central deck housing section adjacent to the shop and storage space.

Each seadrome will be a unit in itself with hotel accommodations, power plants, radio stations and weather stations. Each hotel will serve both the operating personnel of the seadrome, about 80 persons, and an equal number of transient guests.

From the weather stations on each seadrome data will be gathered to forecast flying conditions. Recently perfected radio beacons will make buoys along the route unnecessary. Even in a heavy fog a plane would be able to find its way to a station and, if unable to land on the deck, could alight in the water nearby and could taxi to the drome where a huge crane would lift it aboard.

Materials and supplies will be delivered to the dromes by ships especially adapted for this service. They are to be protected from waves when necessary by air breakwaters which effectively destroy wave motion by diffusing compressed air from perforated pipes. Air bubbles rising through the water break up the waves, reducing the greatest turbulence to a swell that a rowboat could navigate easily.

Under heaviest seas the seadromes themselves will remain stationary without roll or tremor. Tests of models in hurricane seas have proven that. Changes of wind merely swing the anchored seadromes around to provide the best possible landing conditions.

At no time on a trans-Atlantic flight would an airplane be more than 200 miles from a landing field. Radio telephonic communication will be maintained between seadrome and plane. Should one of the amphibian planes be forced down on the water, speedy power boats will be available at each station to rush to the rescue. If bad weather threatens, warning will be broadcast and planes will remain on the dromes safe from the elements. The route will be five to ten degrees south of the summer steamship lane so that ice formations on the stations or the planes will be impossible at any season.

Five-Day Week Gains Popularity

Adoption of the five-day week is gaining in popularity, according to figures issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Of the larger industries, men's clothing continues to show by far the largest number of establishments and the largest number of employees working a regular five-day week schedule. However, adoption of the five-day week by the automobile industry has extended rapidly since 1925, says the Monthly Labor Review.

In 1925 the automobile industry had only 1.5 per cent of its employees on the five-day week, whereas in 1928 the percentage had increased to approximately 30.

State Commission Establishes Refuge to Save Wild Duck

Three waterfowl refuges were established by order of the state conservation commission, and further orders provide that duck shooting shall close at an earlier hour at Muskegon Lake, Houghton Lake and Wild Fowl Bay.

One of these duck refuges is on the state marsh at Wild Fowl Bay and is primarily a refuge for native Michigan ducks—the black mallards, grey mallards and blue-winged teal. Because of concentrated shooting on this marsh, it is nearly deserted by these ducks after a few days of open season. Another duck refuge provided for is located in the marsh at Munus-kong Bay in the upper peninsula, primarily for the black mallards. The majority of the bay will be open for shooting. The third area, a part of Little Bay de Noc, has also been established as a wild fowl refuge.

Houghton Lake and Muskegon Lake, famous duck lakes, are important chiefly for the shooting of bluebills, whistlers and other true flight ducks which often make very short stops during their fall flights. In preference to setting aside new refuges on these lakes, the conservation commission con-considered it more advisable to see what benefit can be derived from prohibiting afternoon shooting after 1 o'clock, central standard time, on these lakes. Last year by agreement among themselves each one of the duck hunters at Houghton Lake quit shooting at 2 o'clock each afternoon and the recent action of the commission was favored by many of these hunters. Also at Muskegon Lake there has been considerable sentiment in favor of trying out the early closing.

For years at Wild Fowl Bay, duck shooting after 4 o'clock has been unlawful. A recent order by the commission now includes Sebewaing Bay also, and the hour has been shifted from 4 to 3 o'clock, Central Standard time, as the hour after which all duck shooting at these places is unlawful.

The results of these regulations will give the Department much information as to their value in better management of duck shooting affairs. It is the aim of the department to protect adequately the local stock of ducks which breed in Michigan, especially the mallards and black ducks, and also to try to hold the true flight ducks, redheads, bluebills, etc., longer in Michigan during their fall migrations. The refuges which have been established and the new closing hours are largely experimental and are in force for only one year, at the end of which they may be changed or cancelled.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" Internat'l Cartoon Co., N.Y.—By B. Link

PRINCESS THEATRE

Motion pictures are made for their entertainment but like books sometimes contain many things of educational value. Other pictures bid for popularity for their action and excitement while still others win favor for their romance. This week's program contains a variety of types, each picture being an outstanding picture of its kind. "Behind Closed Doors," the attraction for Thursday and Friday is a mystery drama in which everyone but the correct person is suspected. If you like mystery and most everyone does, here is one you'll enjoy. You will have great fun trying to guess the solution of Saturday's program, "The Greyhound Limited," starring Monte Blue. It is crammed with excitement, action and thrills. It is a railroad melodrama that contains every thrill from auto racing to head-on collisions of trains. "Prisoners" the feature for Sunday starring Corinne Griffith is a colorful romance, of a girl who steals for love and brings to her sweetheart a seven months term in prison as her only dowry. The picture that appeals most for its educational value is "Napoleon" coming next Monday. This marvelous production was made in France with the co-operation and financial aid of the French government. No expense was spared to make the picture of their "Little Corporal" historically correct and true to the life and character of the great leader. It presents an opportunity to get for 25c an insight into the character of this man which in book form would cost several dollars and a great deal of time.

Tuesday and Wednesday brings another mystery picture "The Last Warning," with Laura LaPlante. Its mystery is of a different nature than "The Closed Door." The thrills in "The Last Warning" are those of masked shadows, secret passages and the terror of the unknown. It was directed by the same man and contains many of the cast that appeared in "The Cat and the Canary."

MILLER DIST.
School opened Tuesday with Miss Grace Letcher as teacher. The total enrollment was 38. Beginners this year are Miss Sult, Junior Ketchum and Donald Keller. Elizabeth and Ralph Doyle of Sleepy Hollow school in Niles township, were registered. The interior of the school was newly decorated this season. Bruce Ernst, an eighth grade graduate from Miller school last May entered Buchanan high school Tuesday. Among those who attended the LaPorte county Fair Thursday were the Reed, Redore and Letcher families. B. Risk and family of Chicago, returned home Monday after spending Labor Day with his sister, Mrs. Eliza Wolcott. Mr. and Mrs. Axel Frederickson and Cecil Runkle of Napperville, Ill., spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Letcher.

Old Timer Offer Advice on Health For Those no Longer Young

A word of "advice" to Old Timers.

It would be useless to give what is termed "advice" to younger people, but we who have reached the age of mature manhood and then have passed on a long way beyond that point, along the railroad tracks of life, realize that we don't know nearly as much as we once thought we did.

You know, and I know, that, as age begins to creep along and make itself felt, in many little ways, in our everyday lives, we know better than those that see us and talk with us, that we are no longer "young things." But that does not mean that we have to curl up and wait for death to come along and tick us away. From my observation of people I have seen growing old and older, it is my judgment that it is far better for us to "keep busy." As soon as we let down, and slow up and so forth, just that soon we begin to feel sicknesses that we would never realize existed, otherwise.

The nervous system of the human is a wonderful thing. It is the safeguard that makes us shun things that are not good for us. It is the telegraph system that makes us conscious of hurts and ailments to the body. But if we allow the regulation activities of our lives to slow up then we do not keep the active function of the nerves in normal condition for the blood supply and nourishment essential for the regular functioning of the nerves and other organs that are largely governed by them, are not properly nourished and so the whole system tones downward, and we get slower and sleepier and sluggish, and we don't care so much what takes place, but merely float with the tide.

I believe that we all get to the state where we "float" with the tide all right, but let's not get to be like a dry ship, on the tide.

Keep a "stiff upper lip," take on enough work to make you good and tired every day and do it with your mature judgment that has come with your years of living among things that happen to us all. This does not mean that we should shout and run and play ball and swim the river and act like a kid. No, just "act your age," but keep "acting." If you are in business, stay in business. If you have been a farmer, stay a farmer. Keep your eyes open and what you don't feel like doing yourself, see that it is done right. You know far better how to do your work after having had a life of experience, than younger men and women that haven't had that experience. I think we owe it to ourselves and to those that come after us, to keep going as long as possible. It is my hope that I will never have to "retire" from my vocation. That I may "die with my boots on." I truly believe that I am far better able to do my work, now, than when I was a youngster in the business. New things have come along in my line, as well as in yours, but I have tried to keep abreast of the times and accept the ideas that have been marketed and made usable for us. So have you, I imagine, and we have grown older with the knowledge that comes along with the years and when we look at a "job" of work, or a proposition in business, or a field that is to be seeded, we certainly know more about what to expect from it than a younger person. This is not saying that the young ones don't "know their stuff" insofar as it is possible for them to know it, for many of them have had far better advantages to learn things than we had at their ages, but I know, too, that they have to go on their "nerve," largely, until they have had time to collect into themselves enough experience to make them moderately sure of themselves and what is best to do.

So, if you have rheumatism or gout or chilblains or what-not, just wear bigger shoes, or have a tooth pulled or eat less meat and heavy food, take more of moderate aids to digestion, keep going and keep your mind on your work and things that are happening around you and you won't be as old at seventy-five, as others will be at fifty.

Did you ever watch the growth of a fruit tree? Take a peach tree for instance. They don't live so long, naturally, and so we have often had the chance to see them come into being, live, grow to full maturity and pass away. But you will have noticed that they keep on functioning in part if not in full, up to the time they become impotent and are dug up to make room for new trees. There will be a few peaches each season, some of the limbs will begin to show death and decay, but the rest of the tree will put forth its foliage and come thru with fruit even if there is but one lone limb that is green.

Maybe we can't all be "peaches" in life, but we can maybe be a prune or a quince or even something better. It takes all sorts of people to make a world just as it takes all sorts of vegetation to make their world. So let's try and be comfortable and as nearly satisfied as it is possible to be, but keep going. It is still a pleasure to live, if you get up early enough to see the sun rise and hear the birds sing, or in season, to see the "frost upon the pumpkin" etc. I advise action. Keep going, and do as much for yourself and the people around you as it is possible, using your mature judgment and understanding, and keep up with things as they happen, even if it does not seem "the right thing," when you first hear of it. Then we will help to make the "old man" idea a thing of the past. We will be young "Old Timers."

OLD TIMER.

CHICAGOANS TO HAVE PLENTY OF CAR SPACE SOON

ILLINOIS TURNS ITS ATTENTION TO CONGESTION OF HIGHWAYS.

What the gas tax can do will be fully demonstrated in the near future in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A criticism of the gas tax has been that residents of large cities, where the most motoring is done, contribute the largest portion to state highway income, and that in return the cities receive little more than do remote rural communities.

Although that criticism is frequently a misconception, Illinois has recognized the claims of the city motorist to the extent that a little less than $22,000,000 of the state gas tax income for the next two years will be spent on highways in the immediate vicinity of Chicago.

This will mean that traffic-bound Chicago, wherein there is very little of this thing called motoring comfort, will be freed of costly irritating traffic congestion.

In addition to the extensive state program, Cook county, in which Chicago is located, will receive no less than $3,000,000 as its share of the annual apportionment to counties. This sum is to be devoted to the improvement of main highways.

Illinois is now in a position to

HELPS EDUCATE LO

Miss Mary Stewart of Denver, Colo., and Washington, who has been appointed assistant director of education for the United States Indian service. In announcing her appointment, Secretary Wilbur stated she would develop plans emphasizing vocational features in Indian schools.

lend this assistance for the simple reason that the state highway system is perhaps nearer perfection than that of any other state. State bond issue funds, totalling $160,000,000 have been wisely applied and now Illinois has nearly 8,000 miles of concrete rural roads in service.

Chicago is typical of all the motor-ridden cities of the land. With congestion as bad there as any place, the success that Chicago will have through one of the greatest highway programs the world has known, may cause the motorist to feel that after all there is a solution to the traffic problem.

NEW FISH BILL EFFECTED AUG. 28

NEW REGULATIONS COVER SEASONS AND SIZES OF GAME FISH.

The following salient features of the new fish bill passed by the legislature last spring, and which became effective August 28th, should be called to the attention of Michigan anglers, says Fred Westernman of the conservation department.

Unlawful to take any kind of fish from trout streams, Sept. 2 to April 30, inclusive, these streams are defined as "any stream or portion of any stream which contains any brook trout, brown trout, or rainbow trout."

Legal length of great northern pike, grass pike, pickerel, or pike-perch (wall-eyed pike); 14 inches, muskallunge 30 inches.

Unlawful to take, in any one day or to have in possession at any one time more than 25 in the aggregate of the following kinds of game fish: bluegills, sunfish, perch, calico bass, waimouth bass, rock bass, white bass, crappies, except that any person may take or have in possession an unlimited number of perch when taken with hook and line from the waters of the Great Lakes or from the connecting waters.

Great northern pike, grass pike, or pike-perch (wall-eyed pike) five in any one day or in possession except unlimited number of pike-perch may be taken or have in possession when taken from the waters of the Great Lakes or the connecting waters.

Pike-perch and perch, as well as all kinds of trout and bass are classed as game fish when taken from inland waters and may not be sold.

Unlawful to take for commercial purposes any non-game fish, suckers, carp, great northern pike, smelt, without a commercial fishing license.

Unlawful to take minnows for commercial purposes without having secured a license therefor.

By all lines while waiting for the presidential election next November.
