Now Here's
the
PropositionThe Hunting Season
By Haws

The time has come to amble hence
Beyond the confines of the town,
To snag our breeches on the fence
And stomp the rutbags down.

It makes the farmer's dander rise
He fumes and foams and throws a fit.
He seems to think the place is his
And all because he paid for it.

It seems to fan his rising ire
While we spread buckshot in the breeze
And scare his cows and snag his wires
And shake the nuts from off his trees.

He treats us with a felons fate,
He hables of the village jail,
But who has time to shut a gate
When he is on the rabbit's trail?

So let us munch his pippins ripe,
The while we amble on our way
And blithely cast the smoking snipe
Into his ricks of clover hay.

Let us be independent men,
Behaving as we are disposed,
And so find, when we come again,
A big black sign, "This Place is Closed."

DELEGATION FROM CHURCH OF CHRIST
GOES TO CANTONREV. GRIFFITH WRITES HIS IMPRESSIONS OF THE CONVENTION.

Delegates of the Buchanan Church of Christ, who are attending the North American Christian Convention in session at Canton, O., this week are Mrs. Nellie Boone, Mrs. S. J. Johnston and Mrs. J. L. Griffith. Rev. Griffith writes the Record the following article on the convention: The North American Christian Convention which is in session at Canton, O., is in many respects the most outstanding convention of the Churches of Christ in America. It now appears that the registrations will reach the ten thousand mark. Every hotel room and suite of rooms in private homes are reserved. The Church of Christ at Canton is the largest church, numerically, in America, having a membership of over 5,000 and an average Bible School attendance of nearly three thousand. The church building occupies one whole city block.

The convention assemblies will be held in the auditorium of the church and at the city auditorium. Dr. P. H. Velsheimer, pastor of the church, presided at the opening session. Mayor C. C. Curtis and Dr. Harold Mohr, president of the Canton Ministerial Association, delivered addresses of welcome. The keynote address of the convention was delivered by Rev. W. E. Sweney, of Columbus, Ind. His subject was "Pentecost."

There is no contention at this convention; no mooted questions to be discussed; no organizational work to be considered.

This is a great inspirational gathering of Christians. The great themes of the Bible are being presented by the most able preachers of the Brotherhood in a masterful way.

It may interest some readers of the Record to know that among the principal speakers are Rev. Dr. A. W. Higby of Grand Rapids; H. H. Peters, Bloomington, Ill.; S. E. Childers, Eugene, Ore.; W. T. Fisher, Altoona, Pa.; Rev. G. W. Knepper, Akron, O.; Judge Clyde Carlin, Angola, Ind.; President Lloyd Goodnight of Bethany college and Prof. Dean W. S. Atherton of Malden, Mass.

Prof. J. E. Sturges of Cincinnati, O., composer and nationally known director of music, is in charge of the singing and music. He is directing an orchestra of one hundred pieces and a choir of three hundred voices.

A mammoth young people's meeting will be conducted Sunday evening by Guy P. Leavitt of Cincinnati, editor of "The Look Out."

A great "camp fire" service will close the convention. This will be a Christian Unity Service.

Benjamin Ballou, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and complications at the St. Joseph hospital, South Bend, is making a satisfactory recovery.

One Bandit Proved to Be a Former Emulove on the Koch Farm.

The mills of justice ground rapidly in the past week for Messrs. John Potts and Richard Everett, Paduch, Ky., youth, who went outside the pale of the law Monday of last week with the theft of the W. T. Beardsley Whipper and who started serving sentence of from two to ten years in the Indiana reformatory at Pendleton, Ind., yesterday, for a larceny committed after the car theft.

A party comprising W. T. Beardsley, Enos Schram, Under-Sheriff Dunbar and Under-Sheriff Overcash, returned yesterday morning from Greencastle, Ind., with the stolen car, which was considerably the worse for the experience. They reported that an hour before they arrived at Greencastle for the car, the two young criminals were sentenced in the county court at Greencastle for stealing chickens.

John Potts worked a month last spring for William Koch, who lives a half mile from the East home where the car was stolen. Koch rented part of the farm and as a result, during the preparation of the ground, Potts worked on the East farm and often entered the barnyard.

After leaving the place in June, Potts did he went to Lansing and then back to his home at Paduch, Ky., where he induced his nephew, Richard Everett, to return to Michigan with him. The two went to Jackson and apparently became stranded. In devising means of getting back to Kentucky, Potts remembered the East farm, where the cars had been kept in an unsecured place. They accordingly locked keys to Buchanan took the Whipper car and started for their home. En route they traded a spare tire for gasoline. The appearance of the car also indicates that they overturned it, as the back was badly mangled, all four bumpers bent, one splashboard damaged, and the front bumper broken. Part of the tools were missing and the lock and distributor were ruined. After crossing the Indiana line they threw away the Michigan license plates, installing Indiana plates instead.

When they arrived in lower Indiana they again ran short on expense money and stole 10 chickens at four different places intending to market them further on. When near Roachdale, 10 miles out of Greencastle, the small pipe leading from the vacuum tank to the carburetor became disconnected and being able to determine the difficulty they had to get service to tow the car into Roachdale. They were waiting there for the town market to open to sell the 10 chickens when they were arrested on suspicion of having stolen the fowls. They were taken to the county jail at Greencastle, where they pleaded guilty to the theft. A check of the car then revealed that they had stolen that also. The Indiana authorities were unable to prosecute the car theft, as it had been perpetrated outside their jurisdiction.

The prisoners also confessed to the theft of the car, telling the Buchanan men the following story: The prisoners also confessed to the theft of the car, telling the Buchanan men the following story:

Ann Arbor Youth
Employed on Farm
Taken by Pneumonia

Rim Norton, 21 year old farm hand, who had been employed at the Young farm on the Niles-Buchanan road, died at 8 a. m. Tuesday morning of pleural pneumonia, a few hours after he had entered the Wallace hospital. Young Norton had apparently been working steadily on the farm during the progress of the disease without medical attention, thinking that the pain in his side was due to rib injury and taking drugs to allay pain. When he was brought to the hospital he was pronounced to be in a dying condition, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Norton, were summoned from Ann Arbor, arriving shortly before his death. He was taken to Ann Arbor for burial.

Ed Willard First Buchanan Pitcher
to Use Curved Ball; Using it in Game
With Berrien Springs 50 Years Ago

The present attack of "world serious delirium tremens" which has affected Buchanan in common with every other town in the United States this week moved one local business man to recall that the first Buchanan ball player to "groove" a curve to a pitcher was Ed. Willard, who used an outshoot in a game between the local team and Berrien Springs in the summer of 1882, nearly half a century ago.

Ed. Willard now lives at 403 South Pontiac, having retired from the business of wood carving which he followed for about 30 years in Pittsburgh and other cities of the country. Willard pleaded guilty to the charge of being the first Buchanan ball player to master the curved ball, although he denied being the first man to use the curve in Buchanan, according to that distinction to Gus Klingner, a former Buchanan man who pitched for New Carlisle in the early eighties. The curved ball had been introduced as a regular feature in big league ball in the late seventies.

It was some time before the public would believe that it was possible to throw a curved ball. To prove it, demonstrations were given by setting three posts in a line, and stationing a pitcher who had mastered a wide outshoot by one of the end posts. The pitcher would then prove that he could grove the ball to the opposite side of the middle post and back to the catcher, who stood on the same side of the opposite and post.

Willard mastered the out curve in curve and drop pitching for the Buchanan team until 1887. The team of 1887 had a very successful season, meeting teams from Niles, Dowagiac, Decatur, New Buffalo, New Carlisle, Berrien Springs and Lakeside. The lineup for the team for that season was: catcher, Orville Cullay; pitcher, Ed. Willard; first base, Harry Howe; second, Harvey Rough; third, John Rogers; short stop, Frank Mansfield; outfield, Clint Bliss, Will Niles, Guy Howe, Ike Wells. Frank Barr and Fred Eldredge were also used at times. The only two of the above living at Buchanan at present are Ed. Willard and Ike Wells. Will Niles was a brother of Harry Niles, who played with Buchanan teams several years later and subsequently broke into "big time" baseball.

Baseball was strictly an amateur affair in Buchanan in those days and the practice of playing players or importing outside talent on any consideration was unheard of. No Sunday playing was allowed, nearly all contests being played on Saturday afternoon.

REBEKAHS AND FELLOWSHIP
I. O. O. F. MEET CLUB TO MEET
HERE TONIGHT MONDAY NIGHT

An Attendance of 500 is Expected Here This Evening.

MEMBERSHIP 3,000

History will be made at the local I. O. O. F. lodge tonight, when several hundred members of the Berrien Odd Fellow association and of the Rebekah organization of the county will gather to complete the associated organizations of the two orders.

Messrs. Joseph Roti Roti, Warren Willard and Charles Ellis are in charge of the arrangements for a committee on entertainment. Chairman Roti Roti states that the I. O. O. F. Association has about 2,000 members and the United Rebekahs of Berrien County about 1,000 members, which will give the combined association to be perfected tonight a total of approximately 3,000. It is expected that four or five hundred guests will come from all parts of the county.

A county wide affiliation of the two orders will replace the old I. O. O. F. Association. A temporary organization had previously been effected with Mrs. Harry Pierce of Niles and Mr. Lewis of Benton Harbor as temporary secretaries. The following committee was also appointed to draw up constitution and by-laws for the combined order: Fred Bacon, Harry Pierce, and Nellie Waters of Niles; Roy Pierce and Nella Slater of Buchanan.

The work of this committee will be passed on tonight and officers elected for the coming year.

Issues Warning on Care of Machinery

Now is the time to prepare your farm machinery for the winter months. If you haven't already greased the moldboard and cultivator shovels etc., do it now. Why should you pay twenty per cent more to produce your crops by permitting the elements to depreciate your farm equipment to that extent? Think it over.

MONDAY CLUB

Mrs. A. H. Hiller entertained the Monday Club this week at her home on Terre Coupe Road, the occasion being the opening meeting of the year. The talk of the afternoon was made by Walter Hawes on "The Growing Point in Language."

Mrs. A. B. Bowers played two piano selections, which were very much enjoyed.

Next Monday the club will meet at the home of Mrs. D. L. Boardman with the Thirty Club, the occasion being the annual Reciprocity Day.

Program.

IS UNDENOMINATIONAL

The Fellowship Club, an undenominational organization formed last year which met monthly in the basement of the Methodist church, will hold its first meeting of the winter season next Monday evening with Rev. Slee of Niles as the opening speaker.

The meetings of the club proved widely popular last year, being attended by a large and representative number of men regardless of church affiliation. While meeting in the basement of the Methodist church, the club nevertheless operated entirely independent of that organization, and there was no attempt made to capitalize it in the interests of denomination. Ministers of other churches served as officials and committee members, and ministers of other churches in outside towns were invited as the speakers. Meetings were attended by as many as 75 members and guests, and some of the leading men of southern Michigan and northern Indiana brought vital messages to the organization.

The sessions of the club have always opened with a feed, followed by music and an address by a visiting speaker. E. H. Ormiston is in charge of the program and D. L. Boardman in charge of the banquet preparation.

All who enjoy good feed, fun and fellowship are cordially invited to attend.

She is survived by her father, Otto Adams, of Buchanan, three sisters, Mrs. Paul Swaim, Buchanan; Mrs. Elva Gladd, Chicago; and Mrs. Lucille Masterson, Plymouth; a brother, Vernon Adams, also a half sister, Nellie Jean Alford.

The body will be shipped to Rensselaer Friday for burial.

Mrs. Bessie Reinke went to Battle Creek Wednesday where she attended an association meeting of the commercial employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., which was held there.

Commission Kicks in Price of Three Tons of Diamonds.

As a police department, the Buchanan guardians of the peace are first class firemen, but they will not longer exercise their talents at the expense of the Mead barber shop, according to the proprietor of that institution who appeared before the city commission Monday night all set to give the department the bum's rush unless the city kicked in on the coal bill.

It was while sadly contemplating his bills for the winter's supply of coal that Mead apparently began to resent the expenditure of coal in behalf of the city fire department. For the past eight years there has been a sort of gentlemen's agreement between the town and Mead that the police headquarters were to be at his shop, and that in return the town was to pay the bills for the telephone in the shop, and the night police were to keep up fire, so that the water would be hot enough to scald the whiskers off the early customers in the morning.

Mead came before the commission at the October meeting Monday evening, stating that this arrangement was no longer satisfactory, inasmuch as a commercial firm is now willing to pay the telephone bill, and it is no great favor to him to have a telephone in his shop that is not listed in his own name anyway. So the only advantages he receives are the night firing service, according to Mead and that is not value received for the extraordinary amount of coal which the police burn. He would be most willing to build his own fires in order to save money on coal Mead stated, and unless the city was willing to help to the extent of about three tons of coal they could hunt an asylum for the police elsewhere.

The Buchanan police are apparently afflicted by subnormal temperature and poor circulation, according to Mead, and have a taste for heat that plays havoc with coal piles. In fact, he stated, they sometimes overdo it and drive themselves out on the beat to cool off. If they would make it as hot for the criminal element as they make it for themselves at the expense of his coal pile, Mead said, the peace around the city would be well preserved.

The commission agreed to pay Mead $25 toward fuel costs in return for the privilege of maintaining police headquarters.

Bick Smith, well known Buchanan farmer and dealer in live stock, took over the Hansen Grocery on Monday, having purchased the property from H. H. Hansen, who is retiring from business.

Smith is adding a meat market to the store and states that he will make a special attempt to cater to the meat needs of the public, for which he is amply qualified by years of dealing in stock. He has placed the store on a cash and carry basis, and states that he intends to make a strong bid for patronage from the standpoint of satisfactory goods at reasonable prices.

Glendora Mint Man
Recovering From
Boiler Explosion

George Kool, Glendora mint grower, started his annual rounds selling bottled mint essence this week, after having been disabled for more than a month by burns which he incurred at his still. Kool was attempting to clean the boiler by escaping steam at the end of the season run, when the petcock blew out, the steam striking his right side and throwing him on his back several yards away. His right arm, side and leg were severely burned, so that he was confined to his bed three weeks.

He reports mint selling at $3.15 per pound. The crop was below normal this year, averaging about 8 pounds per acre as compared with a normal yield of 25 to 30 pounds.

Prince, Assistant Trouble
Shooter for Michigan Bell,
Meets An Accidental Death

Prince Morris, the assistant trouble shooter for the local Bell Telephone office and constant companion of Oscar Morris for the past seven years, met a disastrous fate at 11 a. m. Monday when he was run over by a truck driven by Levi Topash, immediately in front of the telephone headquarters.

Prince had rarely missed accompanying Morris on his daily trips for the past seven years, assuming his post as assistant trouble shooter when he was the property of another man, Danny Daniels. Prince apparently chose Morris as his lord and master and selected for his duties the responsibility of guarding the repair truck. Although generally good natured toward all, he permitted no trespassing around the truck and on one occasion jumped through the glass back of the seat after an intruder who approached from the rear. When Daniels left to live in South Bend, Prince was taken along but he mourned for his adopted master to the extent that he quit eating and it finally became necessary to return him and formally deed him over to Morris.

He was a pure bred Boston Bull.

OLD TIMER CALLS
FOR VOLUNTEERS
TO RESCUE CORNERANYONE WHO CAN CONTRI-BUTE OLD TIME REMINIS-CENCES ARE WELCOME.

The Record is in receipt of a letter this week from "Old Timer," whose writings have been a most popular feature in this paper for over a year, stating that two other former residents had written him expressing a willingness to aid in continuing the "corner." The Old Timer's Corner is to be continued to the extent that material comes in to fill it and contributions of that nature will be most welcome.

The Record regrets that "Old Timer" himself, who is now known by many of our readers to be Dr. Claude Roe of Chicago, feels no longer able to write weekly. While Roe is perhaps not actually an "old timer" and a comparative youngster, considering others who outrank him by almost a generation in years, still he managed to recapture for a multitude of readers a real flavor of the days of their youth and his writings were very popular, not only among the older residents, but among many recent comers who enjoyed them enormously. He apparently possesses a keen memory for ways, manners, customs and incidents, even though he may now and then have erred in exact matters of historical fact.

Even in such cases, it seems that for the many who are not versed in the details of the facts, he was reconstructing for them a pleasant retrospect of old times, and consequently he was right even when he was wrong.

It is the desire of the Record that other old residents, several of whom have already proved themselves competent transcribers of memory, come to the rescue of the department which Dr. Roe has so successfully handled. And we further hope that the original and only "Old Timer" will come once in a while even if he cannot come once a week.

Chicago School Man
Sells His Summer
Home at Glendora

Donald McQueen, one of the ward superintendents of the Chicago schools, sold his summer home last week to Robert Peterson of Sawyer, who is planning to equip it for a chicken farm. The place consists of a residence and one acre. Peterson will remodel the house and will construct a modern poultry plant.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Church of Christ will hold a bazaar Friday p. m. and Saturday, Dec. 13 and 14. Chicken supper on Saturday the 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hiller received an invitation to the next week to attend the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Lincoln Way Methodist church of Washington, D. C., which they helped to establish while residents of that city, and in which Mr. Hiller was for several years the superintendent of the Bible school.

BUCHANAN ON SAME TARIFF
NOW AS NILESMich. Gas
Average Consumer Will Save
10 per cent as Result of Change.

COMMISSION GIVES O. K.

Effective October 1st, 1929,
Until April 1st, 1930.

Buchanan consumers of gas for domestic and other purposes will effect an average saving of 10 per cent each on monthly rates during the coming six months, as the result of an acceptance by the city commission Monday of the offer of the Michigan Gas & Electric Company to place this city on the same rate basis as Niles until April 1, 1930.

This offer was made entirely on the initiative of the Michigan Gas Company through its Niles manager, Lambertus Bouws and its legal representative, Atty. W. N. Burns. For several years the general rate to consumers has been a minimum of 10 cents for 100 cubic feet and a flat rate of $1.65 per thousand cubic feet above that.

The new rate adopted by the council in response to the offer of the company is as follows:

Gas for the first 500 cubic feet, 90c.

For the next 1500 cubic feet, at the rate of $1.45 per thousand cubic feet net.

For the next 3000 cubic feet, at the rate of $1.40 per thousand cubic feet net.

For the next 5000 cubic feet, at the rate of $1.20 per thousand cubic feet net.

For the next 10,000 cubic feet, at the rate of $1.15 per thousand cubic feet net.

For other provisions of the new rate, see the council proceedings, elsewhere in this issue.

Manager Bouws of Niles headquarters, stated that an analysis of the accounts of 1928 made during January showed that 87 1/2 per cent of the consumers would benefit by the decreased rate. If the new rate had been in effect here during September, 93 per cent would have benefited by the change. The rate went into effect at Niles a year ago and would have gone into effect here at the same time, had it not been evident that charter changes were pending in Buchanan. The Michigan Gas & Electric Co. will have opportunity during the coming six months to test out whether it is profitable to operate here under the new rate.

The raising of the minimum is a matter of equity to the majority of the consumers, according to Manager Bouws, as the company extends the service at a loss to the patrons who use only the minimum. The cost of service to the large and small consumer is identical, each requiring the same connections, meters and other equipment, and the smaller user requiring more repair service in proportion that the large consumer who is more likely to understand his equipment and to keep it in better repair. The customer who only resorts to gas occasionally is more likely to find his appliances out of order and require special service.

Manager Bouws pointed out that in case either party to the contract became dissatisfied with the rate, they will have common recourse to the Michigan Public Utilities Commission.

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of Christianity comes with fan in hand to separate the chaff from the wheat. Baroda Farmers
Are Assessed Fines For Drunkenness

William Franks and Fred Cheute, Baroda farmers were fined $5 each before Justice Al Charles for drunkenness, and were doubtless saved worse embarrassment from the fact that they were out of their cars when arrested by the local police. They had taken loads of grapes to South Bend and to all appearances had taken on loads of the finished product at that city to the extent that they became more or less of a menace to traffic on the road home. Several cars which they met enroute from South Bend to Buchanan were forced to take to the ditch, according to reports.

Bucks Trample Riley H. S. For 2nd Victory of Season

POETS FAIL TO HOLD BACK LOCAL DRIVE

Strong Offense Nets Buchanan 20-6 Success.

MUSHAP MARS GAME

Riley Scoring Machine Clicks in the Third Quarter.

Coach Harold C. Bradfield's fighting "Bucks" downed a determined but inexperienced aggregation from Riley high school at the local field Saturday. A large crowd was on hand to see the Bucks give the "Poets" their first lesson in great fall pastime. The "Bucks" displayed a strong running attack and plenty of scrap, while the Hoosiers seemed slightly weaker until the last quarter, when they scored their only touchdown. Both teams exhibited a strong defense.

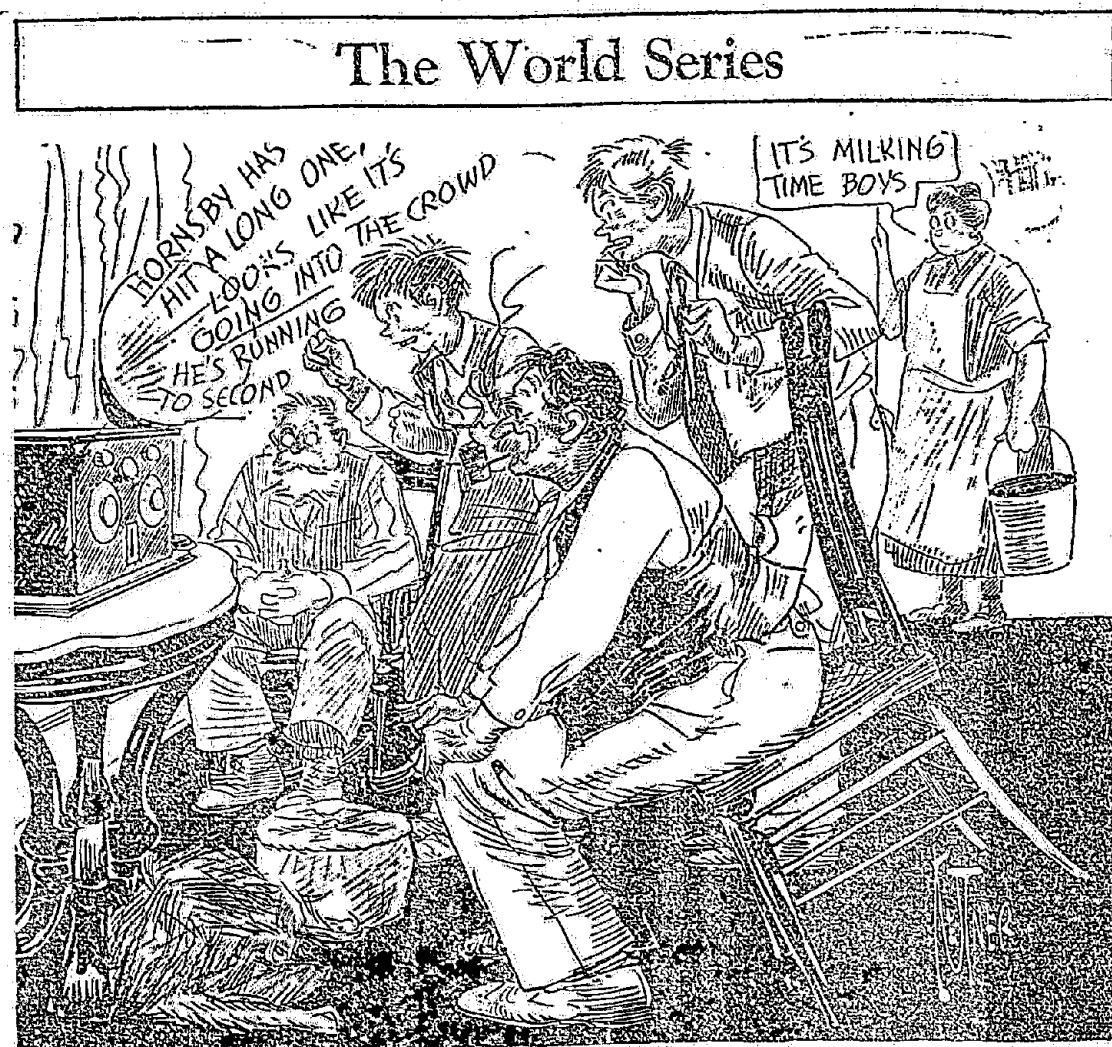

The game opened with Capt. Pierce kicking off to the Riley ten yard line. Riley was unable to gain so they punted. Buchanan then proceeded to march by three and four yard steps to the three yard line. It was here that the Bucks displayed their power. Riley was unable to stop those off tackle slants until three or four yards had been gained. Pierce took the ball through center for a yard and fidget then ran across the line for the first touchdown. The Hoosiers were so anxious to block the kick for extra point that they were off side and the try was counted although the kick was blocked.

In the second quarter the Bucks continued their offensive tactics with quite a sandwich in. With the quarter about half over "Pinkie" tore off on a beautiful run around left end for thirty-five yards being tackled on the one-yard strip. "Piercie" tried a line buck but fumbled and recovered on the two yard line. Aronson then slipped through tackle for the second down. "Piercie" kicked goal for the extra point. The half ended shortly with the ball in mid-field in Riley's possession. Score, Buchanan, 14; Riley, 0.

In the third quarter the teams began to open up with full steam. Buchanan lost about ten yards on a fumble of an attempted pass. Pierce punted and the Hoosiers ran the ball back to the 50 yard line. Palmer made five yards on one end and then Kotzenmacher to Cohen gained fifteen. The "Bucks" halted the advance when Capt. Pierce intercepted a pass. A couple of line bucks failed and then Chubb made three yards around end. "Piercie" punted to Riley's 35 yard line and Phillips was downed in his tracks. Palmer tried two line rushes and made about a yard. Kotzenmacher punted to Buchanan's 40 yard line. The Bucks fumbled and Cohen scooped up the ball but couldn't quite get away. After Pierce knocked down a pass, Kotzenmacher gained a yard thru center. Riley was offside, and Kotzenmacher punted to Buchanan's 25 yard line. Pifngst clipped off fifteen yards on a pretty end run. Eisenhart lost three yards at an attempted off tackle play. Pierce smacked the line for four yards and Pifngst made three more on a fake punt formation. Pierce punted and Phillips returned it to his own 45 yard line. Kotzenmacher made three yards around end and Palmer hit the line for three more. Kotzenmacher punted to Pifngst on his own 10 yard line. Pierce retaliated with a punt to Buchanan's 45 yard line. After a line buck by Palmer and an offside penalty on Riley, Kotzenmacher punted to Pifngst, who brought the ball up to the "Bucks" 25 yard line as the quarter ended.

When the final period started, Capt. Pierce punted to Phillips on Buchanan's 45 yard line. Antonelli carried the ball twice for about eight yards. Then the "Poets" began a steady march for the goal line, Antonelli and Palmer hitting the line, and Phillips tearing through some off-tackle slants. The "Bucks" were unable to hold them and finally took time out with the ball on their own 13 yard line. Palmer made seven yards through center, but it took three more plays to gain a first down, making it by inches. Then the Buchanan line stiffened and line bucks failed to gain. However, the task was too much and on the next down Antonelli squirmed through for the Hoosier's only tally. Antonelli fumbled the attempt for extra point.

Pierce kicked to Palmer, but the "Bucks" took the ball on downs. After two plays had failed, Pierce punted from his own thirty yard line to the Riley goal line. Antonelli returned the ball to the 5 yard line, Kotzenmacher punted to the Buchanan 25 yard line. Captain Palmer recovered a fumbled pass, but failed to gain on line plunges. Again Kotzenmacher punted, Pifngst getting the ball on the Riley 35 yard line. At this point the passing game opened in earnest. Pifngst tossed one to Pierce but it was incomplete. Boyce took the next one but fumbled and Vincent recovered it. Riley took the ball on downs. The "Poets" began their passing, but "Piercie" snagged it and ran forty five yards through the entire Riley team for a touchdown. His try for extra point missed by a foot. The "Bucks" kicked off and the game ended just after Rogers had returned the ball to his own 45 yard line.

Both teams exhibited a powerful defense with the "Bucks" having a slight edge. The highlight of the local defense was the "last stand" on the sixty yard strip. It took the "Poets" six downs to cross the line from the six yard strip. The offense proved to be the downfall of the Hoosiers, the local ball toters using their speed and shiftness to advantage on end runs and in the broken field. Much credit is due to Coach Forrest Wood and his Riley gridsters. Although this was their first game, they showed a good defense and lots of scrap. As there are no seniors on the team, next year should be a highly successful season. The team has a large following; one of the largest home crowds in years turned out to witness Saturday's encounter.

The one dark spot marred an otherwise good afternoon when a section of bleachers, burdened with local fans, gave way, injuring several persons. Mrs. Ormiston was the most seriously injured, suffering severe bruises about the chest.

Kindergarten
We have three new girls. They are Ruth Evelyn Edmondson, Clara Margaret Bradley and June Dekker. June is from New Troy. Our study of good foods is progressing nicely. We are studying vegetables and making vegetable men.

First Grade—Dewey Ave.
The First Graders have finished their farm project. The farm consists of a house, barn, silo and garage. The children made these buildings out of cardboard boxes and painted them white and green. They also have a corn field, grape vines, trees, flowers, and grass on their farm.

The following children have read twenty-six charts in reading: Clifford Bouch, Jack Ednie, Bonnie June Chain, Arlis Fairman, Madeline and Madonna Heubner, Suzanne McKinnon, August Rossetta, Dorothy Sherwood, Donald Wheat and Gerald Weaver.

We are sorry to have Lorraine Morley absent so long because of the whooping cough. We hope she will be able to come back to school again in a short time.

Second Grade—Mrs. Wilcox
The children constructed an apple orchard this week for art work.

Freda Haffner has been absent on account of illness. Elaine Blaney has returned from Detroit.

We had our first five drill this week.

Third Grade—Mrs. French
Last week the boys proved to be the best spellers, as they defeated the girls in the spelling match.

Our banking thermometer raised to ninety last Tuesday. We are hoping to make it one hundred on next bank day. The pupils in Mrs. French's room made a good health parade last week. They made all the animals out of vegetables. The boys and girls made the posters advertising it, and also made tents, cages and stalls for the onion vendor to sell his wares. Mildred Ferris, Blenda Everet, Lea Marks, Charles Harris, Bill Borders and Alta Ferris wrote stories about our parade. Mildred Ferris wrote the best story.

Fourth Grade
Miss Clayton's fourth grade had perfect attendance three days this week. We are very proud of the record.

Our 4th grade banked 100 per cent Oct. 1, 1929.

Grade 5
The interest is high in the project launched by the two fifth grades in the form of a pageant. Characters have been chosen, every boy and girl taking part.

A few parents are already enlisted in the work, and we shall appreciate the co-operation of our fathers and mothers.

Division has been begun in Miss Hopkins' room. We are still emphasizing home work in multiplication. Tests in both fundamentals will be given frequently.

Grade 6—Miss Reams
This week we enjoyed making leaf casts. We greased the bottom of a box with vaseline or cold cream. Then we laid the leaf right side down in the middle of the box and pressed all the edges securely down. Then we mixed some plaster of paris with a little water and turned this mixture over the leaf and let it set for several days. Next week we are going to paint these casts.

The children are preparing a short program for Columbus Day, which we will observe Oct. 11, Friday of this week.

3 OAKS MUSEUM DIRECTOR TALKS ON LAKE DUNES

SEE WONDERS OF HOME DISTRICT FIRST, FOX TELLS STUDENTS.

The assembly program Friday was opened with several selections by the band directed by Mr. Robinson. After Mr. Ormiston had made a number of announcements, Roger Thompson and Sheldon Ryan played a few popular pieces in clarinet-saxophone duets. They were accompanied by Hilma Rastetter.

The speaker of the morning was George R. Fox, director of the Warren foundation at Three Oaks. He spoke on the subject of "Sand Dunes in Berrien County." He said that between Sawyer and Bridgman the dunes of this county are located. They are not packed like mountains, but they are long ridges extending for about eight miles along the shore of Lake Michigan.

The grains of sand are not round. They are pieces of quartz, which, in the process of time, have broken up into many peculiar shapes. Nobody knows where the dunes come from. Dr. Scott of the University of Michigan, has advanced the theory that the sand was washed into Lake Michigan by the various prevailing winds which gradually blew it down. The dunes piled up in Berrien county because the land curves here, so the prevailing winds do not hit the coast diagonally.

Mr. Fox ended his speech by stating his wish that every one of us would some time see the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone Park but that we should first see the wonders of our own county—the sand dunes.

Editorial

There is plenty of music to be heard about the high school these days since there are a great number connected with the music department in some way. Almost 50 boys have joined the boys' glee club with Mr. Hyink at the head. This organization is expected to be heard from soon.

Besides the boys' glee club, there is the girls' glee club, the orchestra and the band. At present the most outstanding of the latter three is the band. Uniforms have been ordered and soon we will have a high school band in uniform, ready to play for us at the (Continued on page 5)

State Automobile Inspection.

In Pennsylvania and New Jersey automobile owners, twice each year, must take their cars to the state inspection garage and let expert mechanics check them and learn their physical condition. If a weakness is found, it must be corrected, if a car is worn out that fact is declared. That is the work the state is doing to try to reduce the hazards of the highways. As an incidental advantage the state by that inspection uncovers cars that have been in operation without the annual license being paid.

Most owners have their cars cared for and try to keep them in safe condition for operation. Few owners are real mechanics and weakness may be developed without the owners' knowledge. Such owners are ready to work in harmony with the state, and if anything is wrong it is cared for promptly. There are other drivers who know little and care less about the condition of their car so long as it will step along under pressure and burn up the road when the driver so desires. States have trouble with that sort of a car owner. They delay having weak spots made safe and hide the operation of the car from the officers as long as possible.

State inspection at certain periods is just another nuisance duty placed on the shoulders of the careful driver by the misconduct of the careless autoist. In most inspections an astounding number of disabled cars have been found, cars that could not be operated with safety. This is another instance where the careless citizen forces the state to pass a new law, employ additional employees and shoulder a heavy expense to help provide the highway safety the driver should supply without compulsion.

U. S. Dead in Russia.

Laboring under great difficulties a little group of American veterans of the World War are in Russia trying to recover the bodies of 128 comrades who still lie there. At last accounts, the bodies of 23 of these men who formed part of the A. E. F. sent to Russia have been recovered. The search for the others is being pushed in the face of extreme cold and the lack of definite information as to the location of their graves. The Soviet government, to its credit be it said,

COLLEGE WILL SELL BLUE RIBBON STOCK

PRIZE WINNING HORSE HERD ON AUCTION BLOCK NOVEMBER 6

Horses with the same blood lines which enabled herd mates to win championships in State and National shows will be sold at auction at Michigan State college, on November 6.

These Belgians and Percherons are a part of the college herd, and 25 animals, bred mares, yearlings, two-year-olds and draft teams are included in the surplus stock which will be sold. The shortage of horses on Michigan farms during the past year has induced dealers to ship many western horses into the State. Most of these animals were of a lighter type than is desirable for farm use.

Many farmers have attempted to replace colts to replace the old horses on their farms but have found that it was impossible. Their blood mares had passed the proper breeding age.

Census figures for the State show that the reduction in the number of horses on farms was 45,000 from January 1, 1925 to January 1, 1929. Shipments of western horses this year have probably not exceeded the number of animals which have died or become useless.

The disposal of the college horses at the November sale will distribute a nucleus of excellent breeding stock which can be used in the future to improve the horses on the Michigan farms.

15 State Parks

Will Remain Open

Throughout Winter

With what was perhaps the most popular and successful season in the history of Michigan's State Parks drawing to a close, park superintendents are preparing to close the grounds and store the equipment for the winter.

Fifteen state parks will remain open throughout the winter with caretakers in charge. All of the others will close between October 15 and November 15, depending on how rapidly the attendance drops off and how long it will take to dismantle and store equipment.

The 15 parks to remain open throughout the year are Bay City, Bloomer State Park No. 2, Cedar Hills, Dodge Bros. State Park No. 1, in Oakland county; Dodge Bros. Munusong State Park, East Tawas, Fort Wilkins, Hartwick, Tawas, P. H. Hoef, State Park, Dodge Bros. No. 1 at Island Lake, Muskegon, Oaaway, Wilderness, J. W. Wells, and Interlochen.

The official records show that of the American expeditionary force sent to Siberia one officer and 26 enlisted men were killed in action. Eight others died of wounds received in action. The remainder of the 128 presumably died from disease or as a result of accident. All told, slightly more than 50,000 Americans were killed in battle or died of their wounds in the World War. The great bulk of these were on the western front, many of whose bodies have since been returned to lie forever in American soil. In the attention that has been paid to them, the public had almost lost track of the hardships which those American troops underwent in Russia. The country owes them no less gratitude because their duty was less spectacular and smaller in its scope. The present mission is entirely fitting and deserves every possible success. The regret is that it has been necessary to wait so long.

All Agents Will Give Out Muskrat Trapping Licenses

Muskrat trapping licenses will be issued through the same agents selling game and fish licenses this year. It has been announced by the Department of Conservation. Last year 28,000 muskrat licenses were sold and all of them were issued at the Conservation Department offices at Lansing.

Licenses are expected to be in

SAVE MONEY

Ownership of a Pontiac Big Six is an experience in economy. True, most people choose Pontiac, not because it is so inexpensive, but because of the many big car advantages which it provides. But it is a fact that with a Pontiac you actually save money. You save—

When You Buy . . . When You Drive . . . When You Trade It In

You save when you buy a Pontiac because it is the lowest-priced car ever produced which offers so many advantages. You save when you drive because, according to a large corporation which employed 996 cars of 33 different makes during 1928, Pontiac costs one cent less per mile to operate than any other low-priced six. You save when you trade it in because the demand for used Pontiacs has always exceeded the available supply. Come in to see and drive the car which offers all these advantages.

GAME DEPT. IS MAKING STUDY OF DUCK'S STOMACHS

WANT CRAWLS OF MALLARDS, CANVASBACKS, RED-BILLS, ETC.

Since "duck food" planting programs are little better than guesses until we have a better knowledge of the food preferences of each important kind of duck, the game division of the Department of Conservation has asked all duck hunters to co-operate in obtaining duck stomachs for examination.

Last year, as a part of its duck food investigation, the game division asked that the stomach contents of wild ducks be saved for examination. Some hunters responded and furnished quite a number of such specimens. These were chiefly of black mallards and showed that while some ate barley with "grass-hoppers for dessert," others fed on pondweed seeds, snails, young dragon flies, etc. But only a few marshes and lakes were represented and too few specimens were saved.

Practically no gizzards of red-heads, bluebills and canvasbacks were sent in. This fall the game division hopes to secure several places a large number of the specimens and for each important species of duck, so as to give a better idea of what foods the various ducks are now able to find in Michigan lakes and marshes.

All specimens sent to the department, whether dried or preserved in formaldehyde solution, should be properly labeled as to the kind of duck and when, where and by whom each was shot.

Believe it or not But Kentucky Does Would Ban Whisky

The attitude of Kentucky physicians toward prohibition and medicinal whisky is believed clearly revealed in a report made public by W. O. Mays, prohibition director for Kentucky and Tennessee. Of 3200 physicians in this State only 1500 have whisky prescription books, it is reported, and only 235 are using their full quotas.

"The average number of prescriptions for whisky issued by Kentucky doctors is decreasing every year," said Dr. Arthur T. McCormack, a secretary of the Kentucky State Medical Association. "We are very proud of this attitude of the profession in this regard. Our state association has not only gone on record against the use of whisky as a medicine, but by a unanimous rising vote at the 1928 convention in Crab Orchard its membership went on record against the personal use by physicians of liquor allowed them under the law."

Public to Blame Most Wrong Rings Says Telephone Co.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone System have just discovered whose fault it is when central gives the wrong number.

Despite the stupendous number of telephone conversations held every day in the United States, there are but 23 wrong numbers in every 1000 calls, a company survey showed. Only 13 of these should be charged against the telephone company, the engineers indicated. Thus 10 mistakes should be laid at the door of the subscribers.

"One of the most frequent causes of wrong numbers," the survey shows, "is due to misunderstanding between the operator and the subscriber. This may be charged against faulty enunciation on the part of the subscriber, failure to speak directly into the mouthpiece of the telephone or a lack of concentration on the part of the operator."

"A surprisingly large number of wrong numbers is due to tricks of the memory. It is very easy to mix up the digits, even with a number with which one is very familiar, and, for example, instead of calling 2769, to call 2796 or 2679."

"But," someone may say, "What about this material—the material universe, the material body, etcetera? If God did not create them, who or what did?"

One of the most startling assertions, and admissions from the pen of a physical scientist that I have seen, appeared in an article in the London (England) Observer, of Sunday, Nov. 26, 1925. The article headed, "The New Outlook of Science" was a review of a book entitled, "The Domain of Physical Science," by Professor Eddington. Because of the radical, broad, and more or less, revolutionary statements attributed to the learned gentleman, I took occasion to ascertain just who Professor Eddington might be. The professor, I found, holds an important chair of science in the University at Oxford, England, and is considered one of the leading, if not the leading, physical scientists in Europe, and possibly in the world today. This, briefly, is what the learned professor has given to the world in his book: "Of the intrinsic nature of matter, for instance, science knows nothing and never can know anything. Of what matter is science tells us nothing. For all we know matter may itself be mental.... The old view, therefore, that atoms or electrons are the ultimate reality, and that, by interacting on another in accordance with the laws of Nature, they produce our minds, with all their hopes and aspirations, has no longer any scientific basis. Another bugbear that many artists and religious people have found so depressing, the 'iron laws' of Nature, also acquire an entirely new status as the result of recent scientific work. It can be shown that these laws are the results of the mind's own action.... The laws of Nature are not something imposed on an independently existing universe from without. Indeed, not only the laws of Nature, but space and time, and the material universe itself, are constructions of the human mind.... To an altogether unsuspected extent the universe we live in is the creation of our own minds. The nature of it is forever outside scientific investigation. If we are to know anything of that nature it must be through something like religious experience." And that, my friends, from one of the foremost material scientists in the world. When Mrs. Eddy first penned those immortal words (Science and Health, p. 468), "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance in matter. All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation, for God is All-in-all," the world laughed her to scorn. And now within the span of a brief half century it bows its head and is beginning to follow her.

To be sure, our scientific friends have gone only part of the way. They have just discovered what Mrs. Eddy discovered over sixty years ago, namely, that the material universe, with all its sickness, its sorrow, its poverty, its want, and its woe, is the product of the carnal or mortal mind. But there they stop. They have, to be sure, gone full many a league in the line of right thinking, but Christian Science takes us still farther and instead of leaving us with a universe of misery created by the carnal mind, with no possible means of escape from all that this implies, Mrs. Eddy discovers that the real man and universe of God's creating, the man and universe whose origin is described in the first chapter of Genesis, are creations of the divine Mind, which is God, and have existence as divine ideas, and that mortal man's salvation or freedom from mortal bondage lies in substituting divine ideas for carnal beliefs.

BEAR-DEER REFUGE IS ESTABLISHED IN PIGEON RIVER DIST.

PUBLIC HUNTING GROUNDS
SURROUND WILD LIFE
ASYLUM.

A big deer and bear refuge with thousands of acres of public hunting grounds almost surrounding it, has been established by the conservation commission in the Pigeon River district of Otsego and Cheboygan counties.

The refuge with its adjoining public hunting grounds constitutes what the department believes may be the answer to two much discussed questions; how to help increase wild life and still provide good free hunting grounds for the thousands of hunters who are not members of clubs.

During the recent years, the conservation department has acquired through tax delinquency, by purchase and by exchange, the bulk of all the land and water in a block of country nine miles long and six miles wide and adjoining the 16,000 acres previously acquired in the Pigeon River State Forest and Game Refuge.

These lands lie quite the Pigeon River east of Wolverine and Vanderbilt. The river is well known for its trout.

A few years ago deer in this district were few and far between, but a large game refuge, most of which was on privately owned land, was established five years ago. Fires have been held to small areas and the deer have now begun to come back.

Elk were planted here in 1913 and have increased steadily so that they are now often seen by visitors and travelers along the woods roads. Elk are, of course, entirely protected in Michigan.

Bear are also quite common and seem to be more than holding their own in the Pigeon River country.

During the years when partridge were plentiful, this district furnished some exceptionally good hunting.

With the acquisition of the new lands, the question at once came up as to how they should be handled, where game refuges should be put in, and which of the department's divisions should have charge of all of the work involved. The director decided that fire-control and fire-line construction should be handled by the state forester from the old forest headquarters, and all summer three tractors and two large crews have been building roads, stringing telephone wire to connect up the fire towers, and breaking new firelines. At the last session of the conservation commission the game division recommended that for the present, no permanent game refuge units be established in the tract, but that a new arrangement be tried out; a whole township be closed to deer and bear hunting, but be left open to small game hunting. Since the deer in the district were still relatively scarce but small game was plentiful, and since it seemed quite sure that small game hunting could be allowed without seriously bothering the deer and bear, the commission approved the new arrangement and has issued an official order which will put the plan into effect this fall. Later on when deer have increased enough to justify it, smaller, permanent refuges will probably be established and the rest of the tract will supply additional public hunting ground.

It is hoped by the department of conservation that the new arrangement and its application to other areas in the future will be one means of solving a problem that has arisen within the past few years through the purchase of private game clubs, of large tracts of hunting lands. The public has been "posted out" from such choice hunting country. By combining game refuges and public hunting grounds with state and national forest activities the department hopes to reserve great areas to the average hunter. "We are trying to fix it," said Director George R. Hogarth, "so that a deer license will become a membership in the State of Michigan Hunting Club, with tens and presently hundreds of thousands of acres of first class hunting land available to its members."

STATE DEVELOPS REVENUES FROM OIL ROYALTIES

SEES CHANGE TO GET $500,000
INCOME FROM STATE LANDS.

Having discovered that three small oil wells on state property mean a revenue of more than $5,000 a month, the state has decided to go into the oil business in earnest, in the hope that its share of the proceeds will amount to $500,000 or more annually. This unlooked for revenue would be particularly welcome at this time in view of the precarious condition of the general fund.

The three wells, producing oil are on property which was leased to oil companies by the conservation department some time ago. These leases were granted as an experiment as the state had never before dealt extensively in the mineral rights on its property. They provided that an eighth of all production would be surrendered to the conservation department.

Now with the state's eighth share amounting to more than $5,000 a month on only three wells, the conservation commission has decided the business of state leases can be made a worthwhile source of income. The members also have agreed that the state is entitled to more than an eighth, but they have not yet decided just how much more they will be justified in demanding.

No more leases are being granted until these details and others can be worked out. It is the intention of the commission to adopt a sliding scale to govern the state's percentage of production, so that a well producing 500 barrels a day will contribute a larger per centage to the state treasury than a well producing only 50 barrels. When such a scale has been adopted the commission will then publish descriptions of its desirable leases and offer them to the highest bidders. Thus, besides a percentage of production, the state will also realize on the sale of drilling rights.

The first well to be brought in on state land is in the Muskegon field, and is producing 55 barrels a day. Two months ago, the Pure Oil company struck oil on state land in the Mount Pleasant field and this well is producing 350 barrels a day.

A second well in the Mt. Pleasant district was brought in a week ago and engineers are confident its production will continue at 450 barrels a day. The oil in the Mt. Pleasant field, being of an exceptionally high grade, is worth now $1.70 a barrel with indications that it will go above $2. The Muskegon oil sells for $1.10 a barrel at the present time. The commission also realizes that large profits can be expected from the Michigan industry because of the fact that both refineries and markets are within a few miles. This is not true of the larger and more extensive fields in Oklahoma and Texas.

Having obtained all regulatory laws necessary during the last session of the legislature the commission set up a new division to handle the leases, under the direction of H. J. Andrews, who is also chief fire warden. Andrews is now classifying the various plots suitable for leasing, preparatory to advertising for bids.

Engineer Builds Back Yard Cabin For Vacation Spot

No long trek to the woods or seashore faces Victor J. Azbe, St. Louis engineer, when he takes his vacation. Azbe merely steps into his back yard. Only a few steps separate Azbe's city home and his log cabin "country retreat." Both built in the same yard, he has surrounded each with the atmosphere befitting its purpose.

Azbe, who came to this country 22 years ago an uneducated "Austrian emigrant youth of 17, started out as a furnace man. Now he is a successful consulting engineer.

He built the cabin originally for seclusion when working on involved engineering reports. Now it's his hobby and he actually does take his vacations in the back yard. When he wants a day or a few hours away from business cares or rush of city life he steps out to the cabin.

Azbe fashioned the hermitage—involuntarily a male domain—with his own hands and equipped it as nearly as possible as such a cabin would have been furnished in early American days.

Early School Records Tell of Pioneer Berrien County Schools

Days of pioneer education in the vicinity of Buchanan are vividly recalled by reading a faded old record book containing the minutes of the first meetings held in the Colvin District some 31 years ago, to establish the rudimentary of a school system in the then almost unbroken wilderness.

"The record book is now in the possession of Sandford Carpenter, having been in the family since the days when his father, Marcus Carpenter, was a director of the Colvin school in the eighties.

The first meeting was held in the summer of 1848 in the home of John Englewright, with the following voters present: A. Colvin, W. Colvin, G. W. Colvin, Jacob Snider, G. Griffin, Joseph Johnson, Samuel Heinick, A. W. Englewright, John Englewright. At the first election of officers, the following were named: director, John Englewright; moderator, A. Colvin; assessor, Z. Griffin.

The second meeting was held in September of the same year at the home of A. Colvin for the purpose of making arrangements for building the school. The contract was let to A. Colvin for $50. It was voted to raise $60 for the construction and other purposes. The first teacher was Edith Jarvis.

There was apparently no idea of borrowing on the future by bonding, and the construction expense was paid by current taxes. In 1852, three years after the school had been built, the district voted a tax of 62 cents per scholar to be paid by their parents.

The old log school first built still stands, or rather its re-assembled materials still stand, on the rear of the Bert Kelsey farm, about a mile and a half northeast of the present location of the school. It had been moved from its former location and was used as a residence until a few years ago.

An early teacher still lives, Mrs. Flavilla Spaulding, who resides at the home of her daughter. Mrs. Spaulding, then Flavilla Quint, hired to teach the school in 1862 for the munificent salary of $2.25 per week and the privilege of boarding around. The textbooks from which she taught were: Wilson's Readers; Sanders' New Series Spellers; Davies' Arithmetic; Clark's Grammar; McNellies' Geography. Mrs. Spaulding had already taught five years, beginning when she was 15 years old in 1857 at the Hills school north of Hills Corners.

Other early teachers whose names are contained in the records were: Edith Jarvis, 1848; Mary Frazier, 1849; Leonard Erickson, 1854; Louisa Hart, 1854; Elizabeth Bates, 1852; Catherine Clark, 1854; Eliza Estes, 1854; Catherine Clark, 1855; Amos Gray, 1855; Ellen M. Halstead, 1856; Alma Deming, 1857; Miss Maude Fish, Miss Cornelia M. Ward, 1860; E. Spaulding, 1861; Lucy C. Deming, L. W. Stanley, 1861; Flavilla Quint, 1862; Elizabeth Alexander, 1863; Martha Hemmingsway, 1864; Mattie Essick, 1864; Mary E. Morgan, 1864; R. V. Clark, 1868; 1871 Alvin Morley, Emma Mansfield, Wm. T. Jones, 1873.

District officers of early days were:

John Englewright, Z. Griffin, A. Colvin, W. Colvin, A. W. Englewright, Jacob Snider, Wilkerson Colvin, Joseph Fuller, Amos Clark, John C. Quint, Moses B. Quint, Darius Sylvester, Edmund Spaulding, L. W. Spaulding, Alvin Bates, Jacob Dalrymple, William Englewright, Ezekiel Spaulding, Henry Bradley.

Mrs. Winch Tells of the Galien Wood

A man and several women of the Berrien County Record's readers have written me to write again of the days that were in Berrien County. A lady from Sawyer writes asking for more early time stories. Six children of her father's family were my pupils, six bright obedient boys and girls of excellent parentage.

In several years teaching in the Galien Woods I never had an incorrigible scholar.

"Sawyer" in the 1860's had neither name nor existence. The school house about 25x30 feet, was set in the midst of a dense woods that extended east with a few clearings and gridings between to Buchanan, South to Three Oaks. In the beginning Three Oaks was called Chamberlain's side track. Lake Michigan on the west and Lake Huron on the north bounded a wilderness of wealthy and prosperous opportunities. Sawyer, with its growth and thrift, Troy, too, indeed every farm, village, and town in Berrien County, received an impetus from its woods. Along the M. C. R. R. from Niles to New Buffalo were miles of cord wood piled at side tracks awaiting the engines to "eat" it up. Shades of the past, imagine a M. C. R. R. engine run with wood. Approaches of the M. C. R. R. when the first trains ran past the settlement and farms of Buchanan, a lady who lived on the Bakerstown road together with others, watched the train go by and exclaimed, "Lawd bless me, how I should hate to ride on the engine." Don't laugh. She knew more useful things than we know. Her many relatives, adown the line, live in Buchanan now, cultivated and educated on different lines.

As Buchanan somewhat recovered from the money panic of 1857, new infant industries extended the limits. Shoemakers, tailors, a barber, another hotel, a butcher shop and more grocery stores and merchants came. But the soul of Berrien county was wood. Buchanan, for years, led in its industry, mills, sawmills, planing mills, mills for wood turning, cabinet work, furniture and builders supplies. Horace Charles and Summer Black, Eli Roe, Gus and George Willard, Captain Richards, Myron and William Mead were some of the owners. There were more, whole families grew up on the proceeds of the wood industry. The pine, the pliable white wood, the multi-grained walnut and strong oak in variety, from the woods near Buchanan, are even now sheltering homes for this generation. "Charley" Roe, "Dave" Weaver, Eli Weaver, Chandler and Winch owned sawmills in the nearby country. Saw mills dotted the whole of Berrien County.

Early Chicago was built from Michigan forests. From wood to wood! The three Baker families in Bakerstown established a carding mill. Every farmer had wool.

To fit for spinning it was made into rolls—carded. Pretty school girl faces peeped out—everyone from home knit hoods. Very comfortable they were, too. Every girl was expected to knit her own stockings and her brothers socks, mittens and scarf. Men wore woolen shawls instead of overcoats during the winters of the late 1850's.

The knitting I learned on Moccasin Hill flowered into its best during the World War. So, too, the forced economies of the Civil War were more easily endured during the World War.

You're out-of-date without an Eight!

Michigan registers 88% increase in Eights

As proof of the tremendous growth in public preference for eight-cylinder cars, registration figures in this State for the first seven months of 1929 tell their own story. Eights above $1000 showed an increase of 88 per cent while Sixes in the same price field decreased 17 per cent.

The tendency is the same the nation over. In 43 states,* Eights above $1000 increased 94 per cent. Sixes declined 18 per cent.

Nobody can doubt the evidence. We are passing into an eight-cylinder era. Already, all of the finest American cars are Eights. In fact, 41 per cent of all makes are Eights, and the number is constantly increasing.

Spurred on by an Eight-minded public, Studebaker set out two years ago to build a high-quality Eight that could be sold at moderate six-cylinder cost.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Bear in mind that Studebaker's 77 years of manufacturing integrity stand back of every one of these cars. And remember, too, that your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!

Bucks to Meet Hard Competition In Dowagiac Game

With two victories in the first two encounters, Coach Bradford's "fighting outfit" will tangle with the Dowagiac chieftains at the camp of the enemy next Saturday. The Chiefs have a strong aggregation, having whipped Marcellus, 15 to 0 in the opening game. The Dowagiac-Buchanan games are always close, and this one will be no exception. It is hoped that a large number of local fans will journey to the stove city to witness the game.

Velmorian Club Names New Officers

Members of the Senior English class devoted the period Friday to the organization of the Velmorian Literary Club which meets, as it has in former years, once each month, during the regular Friday class period.
This club was organized by Mrs. Velma Dunbar and named in her honor, Velmorian.
The purpose of the club is to obtain a greater conception of literature in its different phases and to acquaint and teach parliamentary law.
Officers for the first three months were elected with Ray Barbour, president; Raymond Reed vice president; Irene Bachman, secretary and treasurer and Richard Zerbe, literary critic.

Sophomores Hosts At Backward Party In Honor Freshmen

Last Saturday night the Sophs welcomed the freshmen to high school with the first party of the season. Interesting games were provided by Jane Habicht and her helpers, while Charlotte Arnold and her committee furnished us with delicious refreshments. Since everything of this party was backward, a few games were played until time for the ice cream and cake to taste our stomachs. More games were played and at 9:30 cocoa and sandwiches left a large impression. At quarter of ten, the Freshmen and Sophomores, pairing off in twos, began the Grand March. This lasted about ten or fifteen minutes and—the party was over.

SCHOOL SLANTS

Senior History is deep in the study of the Revolution. A new set of Elson History books was placed in the library on the History Reference shelf, and each student is asked to make the most of the material available.

Advanced French became all excited and flustered when Miss Shriver announced that they would have eight stories in a new book to read all by themselves. Rattles and candy suckers were thrown aside to examine the new books while the teacher assigned the next lesson.

The Soils Department are elated over the arrival of a new set of text books, written by Meiller of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, especially adaptable to Michigan Farmers.

Oration is the subject of hard study in Public Speaking Classes. We hear that they are coming along very well, and that the amount of hot air in the room does not seem to bother the students.

The Girls' Glee club started the year with a bang, having fifty-eight enrolled at present. Classical songs are being practiced, and the nearing festival in December is being looked forward to with happy anticipations. Costumes have not been decided upon, but ideas are being discussed. The girls are working hard to beat the boys, taking a short time each Monday and Wednesday to practice favorite and high school songs. The noise sometimes becomes deafening.

EXCHANGE

The Hartford Fair proved to be of much interest to Niles students as they have entered projects in almost every line, including English work, Science displays, Latin posters and soap carvings. Art drawings, Home Economics, exhibits, History and Mechanical drawing.

A large group of Niles teachers plan to be there every day and there will be at least three there all the time to look after Niles' entries.
Boys and Girls—Our own Helen Hamilton, the well remembered Soph of last year, was a candidate for queen of the Big Carnival presented at the Berrien Springs High school last week Friday and Saturday nights.
Here are the entries:

Seniors, Frances Clem and Candace Neidlinger; Juniors, Helen Hamilton and Chet Tillstrom; Sophomores, Fred Dugan and Dorothy Bruce; Fresh, Lucius Hague and Isabelle Moore. 8th grade, Madeline Moyer and Wilbur Malnes.
Votes were sold at a penny a "say." We are proud to disclose that Miss Hamilton and King Tillstrom were crowned in elaborate ceremony Saturday evening with the usual blushing and downcast looks.

Our neighbors, the Berrientes, planned and put across a big all school carnival featuring bathing beauties, incubator babies, dollies, follies and just everything from a trip to the North Pole to Southern Plantation Melodies. And what variety! Harold Pierce states he wouldn't mind an eyeful of bathing beauty. The idea was a clever one and we wish them luck in the outcome.

Niles' debating team have run up against the same stone wall that faced Buchanan last year. New Material! Their experienced debaters found that debating and studies did not agree and were forced to give it up. Their present debating material consists of Genevieve Franz, Marvin Clark, Jean Herbon, Oscar Wyatt, Eldred Kelly, Blanche Brown and Bob Bernard.

Berrien Springs featured an all school stunt night which was proclaimed a decided success and here after will take the place of the school party. Each class put on a stunt and then several interesting fetes. The Seniors displayed Follies of 1929; Juniors put on a baby show; Sophomores, a Romeo and Juliet play of two acts and the Freshmen, the prize winners, an operation act, for which they were awarded the picture of "The Angels."

Mrs. A—Was your old man in comfortable circumstances when he died?
Mrs. B—No, indeed, he was half way under a train.

—The Moon, Niles.
"What's on the menu?"
"I have frog legs, chicken liver, pig's feet and—"
"Never mind your deformities, what have you to eat?"
