FARMING GROUPS TO GATHER FOR ANNUAL MEETING

THIRTY-SEVEN FARMERS' ORGANIZATIONS WILL HOLD MEETINGS AT THE COLLEGE DURING FARMERS' WEEK FOR SESSIONS.

Thirty-seven farmers' organizations will hold meetings at the college during Farmers' Week, Feb. 3 to 7.

Many of the groups choose this time to hold their annual meetings and to elect officers, others schedule a meeting that week to take advantage of the fact that most of their members are on the campus.

The dairy interests of the State are now represented by six breeder organizations. The Michigan Milk Goat Breeders Association is the new member in this group and its officers say that they represent a rapidly growing industry.

The only beef breed which has no State association meeting on the campus is the Galloway. The other breeds are represented by organizations which carry on campaigns of promotional and educational work.

Even the earth has been divided into sections of which the upland soils are one part and the mucks another. Both have individual problems and there are sectional meetings for the men who grow crops on each kind of soil.

Clarence Runner is reported to be able to be up and around at his home daily. He will not be at his place of business for some time yet.

C. WALTSGOTT SUICIDES IN CALIFORNIA

Was Formerly in Business in Niles and Buchanan.

Findings of the tragic death of O. C. Waltscott, former Berrien County newspaper editor and insurance solicitor, were forwarded here by Charles Treat, in the form of a clipping of a newspaper from Alhambra, Calif., where Waltscott lived.

He was born in Niles, and for many years was manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company there, maintaining Buchanan headquarters in the office of Dr. Orville Curtis.

O. C. Waltscott, 51, 408 La France Street, publisher of the Alhambra Review, weekly newspaper of this city, committed suicide late Thursday afternoon by firing a .32 calibre pistol bullet into his brain.

Waltscott is thought to have become despondent when his printing press broke down in the midst of issuing his weekly edition on Thursday.

Waltscott turned from Stagner and entered the lavatory. Stagner heard a shot.

He and Karl Graves and A. P. Dunlap, employees of the newspaper, broke open the door of the room, which was locked, and found Waltscott lying in a pool of blood from a wound caused by a pistol bullet which had passed through his temples.

Dunlap attempted to staunch the flow of blood while the city ambulance was summoned. Waltscott was removed to the Alhambra hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Waltscott was a native of Niles, Mich. He had resided in California for about 10 years.

He had lived in Pasadena for about nine years before coming to Alhambra about 18 months ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elanthe Waltscott, and two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Runner of Alhambra and Mrs. Escoc Fuller of Lancaster.

CHIEF BANS COASTING ON THE STREETS

Fatality to Coaster is Narrowly Avoided Monday.

TRAFFIC ENDANGERED Children Must Confine The Sport to Chicago Street Hill.

Coasting with sleds in the streets of the city other than the particular hill on Chicago Street set aside for that purpose must stop, even if it is necessary to make a few arrests to enforce the ordinance covering that subject, according to Chief of Police Mitchell, who was moved to this action by a near-fatality when a boy was caught under a car Monday, escaping serious injury or death by a miracle.

Harold Preston, whose parents live in the Beehive Apartment house, was the victim in the accident. He and a companion were coasting across Days Avenue between the St. Joe Shipping Association and the Beehive.

Young Preston made a flying start across the street and coasted on under the backing car. A scream from his companion warned Knapp and he stopped his car, just as the Preston boy wedged under the rear axle. The boy was wedged so tightly that it was necessary to raise the rear end of the car to extract him from his uncomfortable position.

A number of complaints have been made by motorists that boys have been sliding in the center of the street in the main business section, and that drivers have experienced difficulty in keeping from running over them.

The city has set aside a special place where children are protected in their sport and it is in the interests of public safety that they limit their coasting to that place.

After the business, the social committee presented a very enjoyable program. A group of readings given by Mrs. Elanthe Niles, was very amusing and much enjoyed by all.

TO OBSERVE 58TH ANNIV. OF WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barnhart Honored by Mr. Tabor Grange.

NO DEATH IN FAMILY

Fifty-eight years of wedded life without the shadow of death ever having been cast over a circle which has grown to 31 children, grandchildren and great grandchild has been the happy and most fortunate experience of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Barnhart of Berrien Springs, former residents of the Mt. Tabor District.

The anniversary of their marriage on Feb. 1, 1872, will be observed at the meeting of the Mt. Tabor Grange to be held at the grange hall Friday evening, as they are both members of long standing in that organization.

Both of the couple have been life long residents of Berrien County. Mrs. Barnhart was a daughter of the well known judge, Jesse Helmick, and was born on what was known as the Shriver farm a half mile north of Mt. Tabor Grange hall.

Mr. Barnhart has been clerk of Oronoko township for about 15 years, a sexton at Rose Hill cemetery for about the same time. He was 83 in October, 1929, and his wife will be 76 in April. They have five children, thirteen grand children, and thirteen great grandchildren.

WORK OF SCHOOLS IS NOT BALANCED SAYS RALPH KEAN

ASSERTS MORE SPIRITUAL FOOD IS NEEDED BY ADOLESCENT STUDENT.

The pressing educational need of the adolescent child is a better balanced action which takes into account his spiritual requirements, according to Ralph Kean, who addressed the Buchanan Parent-Teachers association at the regular January meeting Monday evening.

The school is more modern in its attitudes and methods than the church, according to Mr. Kean, and that of spiritual education. The future of education is in doubt, Kean stated, unless this balance is restored. If the school is successful in such education, he stated, it must be able to challenge the interest of the child and not force it.

Mrs. C. D. Arnold, president as chairman of the meeting, at the conclusion of Mr. Kean's talk the audience adjourned to the auditorium where Mr. Hubbard presented some motion films of Michigan bird life. A committee of ladies served tea and wafers in the Domestic Science room.

Donald White returned Wednesday from Battle Creek, where he has been in the employ of the Clark Tractor company, and registered at Notre Dame University for the second semester of the sophomore year in engineering.

B. H. CITY DADS VOTE $2500 FUND

Considered Withholding Aid To Build City Market.

ST. JOSEPH DONATES Blossom Committee to Begin Work on the 1930 Plans At Once.

Berrien County's Blossom Festival for 1930 became a certainty last night through the action of the Benton Harbor city commission in voting an appropriation of $2,500 for that purpose.

The Blossom Festival committee had met the previous week and decided that the famous fete could not be held without a minimum guarantee of $2,500 from Benton Harbor. The city gave $3,200 towards the festival last year, but had considered withdrawing its support this year, because of extra expense required to complete the municipal fruit market. Two weeks ago several city commissioners stated unofficially that they were against an appropriation for the festival on that account.

The appropriation is conditioned on similar support by the city of St. Joseph, but that municipality has already acted, making an appropriation for the festival Monday evening, conditioned on like action by Benton Harbor.

Plans for the 1930 Blossom Festival are to be started at once on the basis of the assurance afforded by the Benton Harbor commission last night.

L. E. STEVENS BREAKS LOCAL ALLEY RECORD

Score of 278 Breaks the Mark Made by Beardsley by One Point.

History was made in the Buchanan Bowling Alleys last week when Louis F. Stevens of the Recreation Five rolled a 278 game for the high score in league bowling since the alleys were opened. This is one better than the 277 score by Will Beardsley this winter, the former alley record. The highest game ever bowled in the alleys was a 288 score by Bud Proud, but this was not in League play. The relative standings of the teams was also materially altered by several dope upsets. The Recreation team defeated the league-leading Three Oaks team in three straight games, reducing them to

Bucaneers Vanquish Bridgman Five in Return to Form

WIN BY NOSE IN NIP AND TUCK CONTEST

Contest is Undecided Until Final Whistle is Sounded. DECIDED LAST MINUTE Buchanan Reserves Unable To Overcome First Half Lead.

Displaying a complete reversal of form from their last game, the Buchanan basketball team handed the strong Bridgman five a 15 to 12 licking before a capacity crowd Friday night. The game was close and hard fought and it was not until the last minute of play that Buchanan was able to get any lead.

Last week the "Bucks" played a wild game, running all over, throwing the ball all over the gym, and looking "in general" but this week the Bridgman boys found a cool, decisive, and accurate group of maroon and white clad players facing them.

Buchanan took the lead in the first quarter when Knight sank a free throw. Lawson, Pingst and Pierce raised the score to seven, while Bridgman gathered six points. In the second quarter neither team could get a field goal, however, Pierce and Stelter both sank a charity toss to end the half with Buchanan leading, 8 to 7.

The third quarter also saw little scoring, Pingst bringing Buchanan's total to 9 by a free throw, while Ward's field goal gave Bridgman a like total. In the last quarter, Knight put Buchanan in the lead with another free throw, but Stelter's pretty long shot gave Bridgman an 11 to 10 advantage. Lawson sank a nice shot from the corner to give the locals the lead again, but Sukupchak brought the count to 12 all when he sank a free throw. Pingst was awarded a shot on Stelter's personal, but the shot was a little wide. Pierce was standing under it, however, and managed to bat it in before being knocked off from his feet. The last point was made when Pierce sank a foul from Bridgman's fourth time out.

BUSIEST STUDENTS IN BUCHANAN H. S. HOLD HIGH RANK

The old adage which holds that "the busiest man always has the most time" apparently holds good in the student body of the Buchanan high school, witness the fact that the three students ranking highest on the first semester honor roll are students who devote much time to outside activities. The three who attained an A in every subject are: Marvin Gross, freshman; Jane Habicht, sophomore; Richard Zerbe, senior. Gross has been active on the debating squad this year and is one of the leading musicians of the school, devoting much time outside to the study of his art. Miss Habicht attained an A in six subjects, despite the fact that she is a member of the Microphone staff, of the debating squad and active in other extra-curriculum pursuits. Richard Zerbe is manager of the Microphone, star of the high school debating team and equally active elsewhere.

The first semester roll was: Honor Roll 7th grade—Dorothy Bilger, abbbb; Marian Campbell, aaabbb; Joyce Kohlman, abbbbbb; Peggy Merfield, aaaaaa; Lillias Peacock, abbbbbb; Bob Strayer, abbb; Albert Webb, aaabbb. 8th grade—Carson Donley, aaaa; Mary Irvin, aaaaabbb; Esther Kempton, abbbbbb; Anne Schindler, aaaaaa. 9th grade—Lee Donley, abbbb; Marvin Gross, aaaaa; Helen Mogford, abbbb; Edward Rolin, abbb; Rosemary Thompson, abbbbbb; Dee Weaver, bbbbbb; Donald Sargent, bbb; Mary Louise Beardsley, bbb; Genevieve Glassel, bbbbbb. 10th grade—Charlotte Arnold, a bbbb; Dorothy Babcock, abbbb; Jane Habicht, aaaaaa; Marjorie Sands, abbbb; John Strayer, aaaa; Theresia White, aaaa. 11th grade—Bernice Lolmaugh, abbbb; Ralph Zerbe, bbbbbb. 12th grade—Edith Eddy, aaabb;

Kindergarten—Miss Vandenberg We have had lots of fun making our bear pictures. Now we are going to put them up in our room. We enjoy reading and have learned many new words. Hitting the Basket

The Buchanan victory Friday night should quiet the howling wolves who have been at the local door since the upset at the hands of Three Oaks. At least this game showed that the "Bucks" are capable of playing good ball. If you think the Three Oaks game wasn't an upset, account for this: Buchanan 26—Niles 12 Buchanan 17—Three Oaks 22 Niles 19—Three Oaks 10 Just one of those "things that can happen."

Editorial

A few weeks ago this column cited the progress of Jack Rabe's Dowagiac five. To date they have been defeated but once—that once by Buchanan and anyone who doubts their ability should have seen them pass the ball around the "Bucks" although they were defeated.

After a humiliating defeat from Three Oaks and a praiseworthy victory over Bridgman, Coach Bradford will take his group to meet the basketball representatives of that village. Berrien gave the "Bucks" a scare in the first game of the season, and the locals are out to show the Berrien boys that their attempt was unnecessary.

B. H. S. DEBATERS ELIMINATED BY DOWAGIAC DEFEAT

The debating season ended for the Buchanan debating team with the debate at Dowagiac. The debaters on the team were Richard Zerbe, Arthur Anderson, Maynard Post and Marvin Gross. The first debate which was between Dowagiac and Buchanan was won by Dowagiac. The second debate with Centerville was won by Buchanan. The third, which was to have been with Vandalia, was forfeited, giving Buchanan the points. The last debate was lost to Dowagiac. Much credit is due the debaters and Mr. Knobloch and it is well known that they did wonderful work.

A committee composed of Mr. Knobloch, chairman, Arthur Anderson, Maynard Post, Richard Zerbe, John Strayer, Glenn Jesse, and Leo Boyce have been appointed by Mr. Ormiston to promote public speaking and oratory work among the students and the classes. It is expected that debate between classes will be one of the interesting features.

SCHOOL NOTES

Over the radio last Sunday Dr. W. A. Smith of Omaha, Neb., gave the following: 1. Evangeline had a lover. 2. She lost him. 3. She searched for him. 4. She trailed him. 5. She found him. 6. She kissed him. 7. He died.

Our Pemmaship records are improving over that of last year. To date the following pupils have received their final certificates from the Chicago office: Juanita Britton, Vivian Mogford and Dorothy Jerue, all in Miss Abell's room.

One day in passing by the Home Economics bulletin board the following menu was written thereon: Spanish steak, mashed potatoes, bread and butter, cocoa, milk and chocolate pudding. This is being served to the pupils at cost and the good work done by Miss Skeels is certainly being appreciated.

PACKED HOUSE HEARS SCHOOL CONCERT SUN.

Student Musicians Render a Fine Instrumental and Vocal Program. AUDIENCE IS DELIGHTED

Buchanan high school's concert, given by the music department, was a great success. Confidence in a worthwhile afternoon was expressed by the packed house, both the main floor and the balcony being filled to capacity. With a full house before them the three directors, Miss Olson, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Hyink, started the performance at 2:30.

The orchestra played first, followed by a mixed chorus which sang "Going Home." The Boys Glee Club then sang "A Prayer of Thanksgiving." The remaining selections given by the Glee Clubs were: "Good Night, Good Night, 'loved" and "Keep on Hopin'" by the girls; "The Nut Brown Maiden" by the boys; "The Cathedral" and "The Old Family Clock" by the girls and "The Winter Song" by the boys. The singing was concluded by "The Star of St. Mary's" by a mixed chorus.

PROBATE JUDGE SPEAKS BEFORE H. S. ASSEMBLY

George Cunningham, probate officer of Berrien County, gave a very interesting talk to the student body and faculty Friday morning. Having been a probate officer for sixteen years, his many experiences that he told, were very interesting. One statement that Michigan ranked fourth or fifth in the number of crimes, was one of interest to the assembly group.

The Years and Mr. Taft
 Many people remember William Howard Taft as he was in the days before President Harrison called him to Washington for national service in 1890. Then he had not reached middle age, was healthy, a towering figure, portly, with beaming good nature showing in his smile. Such memories are jarred rudely by the news from Washington that infirmities incident to old age have come to stay with him.

The years go by with little attention when friends are separated, each remembers the other as he was before parting. Four decades have passed since Taft became solicitor general of the United States. The years have gone by so swiftly. Mr. Taft is now 73 years of age.

We can look at the calendar and study it, admit four decades have passed since Mr. Taft first went to Washington, but to think of "Big Smiling Bill" Taft as an old man, bent with the weight of the years, is difficult for those who remember him as he was in former times.

Do You Know Your Age?

Insurance companies are slow to admit the existence of centenarians, and they still hold to the view that most of the reported rounders of the century mark have added, although by honest error, to their ages. Dr. Louis I. Dublin, an official of a life insurance company, went so far the other day as to tell the American Public Health Association that practically every investigation of centenarians has disclosed the woeful lack of reliable records of their true ages.

The mere fact that one cannot produce witnesses and documents to prove that one was born 100 years ago does not prove the contrary. It may quite conceivably happen, and no doubt sometimes does happen, that a person utterly without documents on the subject is right about it. Many among us who have still a good many decades to go to the century mark would have hard work if asked to prove that we were born when we were supposed. Some old persons may find it interesting to pile on the years five or 10 at a time every birthday, but when do they abandon the habit of pretending themselves younger than they are? Friends and relatives would hardly accept without comment the statement of a venerable person who had persisted at 70 for many years, if the figure jumped to 90 over night. Nor does the traditional fondness of the elderly for fixed habits encourage the idea that they would find any particular enjoyment in leaping so nimbly from one age group to another as Dr. Dublin's statement would imply.

But it matters little whether he is right or wrong. When we see a venerable fellow being who is alive and reasonably glad of it, we shall feel strongly moved to believe him quite as old as he says. There is comfort in the sight of a traveler farther along on the road and contented to be traveling it.

Backward, Turn Backward

Memories of Senator Peffer, Jerry Simpson, Mary Ellen Lease and other high priests of Populism in Kansas three decades ago, are recalled in reading the provisions of three bills brought before the Senate at Washington by Senator Brookhart of Iowa. The measures he has drafted represent once more the movement to make over mankind and world conditions by the enactment of new laws.

One provides that all corporations engaged in interstate commerce are to be licensed by the federal trade commission, and all profits in excess of five per cent on the capital invested, must be paid into the federal treasury. He has another to stop short selling on the stock and grain exchanges. It provides the mails shall be closed to communications that refer to short selling, or in any way touch that activity. The third would create a new federal reserve corporation, a co-operative banking institution, into which would be brought all the intermediate credit banks now or hereafter established for use in promoting the co-operative system in business.

Making over world conditions are simple tasks to the minds of some who feel that laws change humanity, set aside the force and power of economics, and that a man-made institution can bring the millennium in a fortnight. The delusion that there is an economic Santa Claus, waiting for an invitation to fill the coffers of any great institution man may fashion, is one of the persistent fallacies, particularly among those who are the self-confessed representatives of a new order of things. That delusion has been written in the sections of a thousand bills ambitious men wanted made into laws for the government of mankind.

It cannot be done. The world needs patient, thinking, constructive builders; industrious, frugal and persistent producers, leaders who know and recognize human conditions, who seek no overturning of the established order, but betterment as man acquires wisdom to insure good results from the betterment added. Laws, laws, laws! The country has too many. Wild dreams have no place in the statute books of a great nation.

Edward W. Bok

When Edward W. Bok, immigrant boy, during the course of his climb up the difficult ladder to wealth and fame in this country, accepted the position of editor of the Ladies' Home Journal he was the object of jibes and jokes. The smart fellows in the country just couldn't imagine a man being an editor of a publication for women. But Mr. Bok ignored the railery or took it good naturedly, and made an unusual success of the magazine. Now Mr. Bok is dead and the jokes have been forgotten, the men who made them are no longer known, and Mr. Bok has a permanent place in the history of American journalism and philanthropy.

It often happens that while men are struggling for success their efforts are laughed at. The earnestness of these men and their willingness to hew to the line in an effort to reach the goal they have set for themselves sometimes puts them in odd lights, and shallow people are wont to ridicule the unusual and the strange. But Mr. Bok went on. He cared not for the applause nor the criticism of men. He cared only for that something within himself that demanded he be true to himself and become the man of his imagination. How near he came to his goal no one will know. But this is certain: he came near enough so that in the future he may be set up as a promise to other men that they, too, can win; that obstacles can be overthrown and that strong purpose is one of the virtues of life.

Hoover is Humane

To some it may have seemed that President Hoover made a grandstand play when he asked the release of the 14 girls and 22 young men who paraded as Communists in front of the white house and, for their disturbance, were arrested. To some it may have appeared that the president was making a gesture of tolerance, perhaps a shrewd political move, of throwing a sop to the ultra liberal element of the country. But his action rings of the sincere. What he did was the sensible thing to do. It was the action of a man who feels his responsibility to the country as a whole.

In his request that the young prisoners be freed, the president said: "He (the president) does not believe that any such discourtesy seriously endangers the republic and that a night in jail is only doing them the favor of cheap martyrdom."

He recognized that the right to opinions and the right to express them is vital. He recognized that force used against the disturbers would only serve to attract attention to their opinions, which most persons believe to be wrong, and he recognizes that a minor disturbance caused by immature views on governmental policies does not "seriously endanger the republic."

Mr. Hoover has done an almost unprecedented thing by his order. Most men in his position would not have deigned to notice the arrest officially. They would have sat supinely by and allowed the law to take its course. By his action, the "cold efficiency expert of the white house", the man above feelings, has demonstrated his humanity.

We see by the Associated Press, whose statements never are to be questioned, that the well dressed man should have 12 pairs of shoes, but there are a lot of us who will be content to struggle along with a smaller number and put the rest of the money in an extra pair of pants.

As we glance sorrowfully over this reform-ridden old world and see some of the things that are being done under the threadbare guise of righteousness we are convinced that there are persons so full of mistaken zeal that they don't have any room left for good horse sense.

The current of patriotism runs eternally strong in this country, there being no joy like giving until it hurts, and that loud cheering you heard came from persons who read the announcement that the income tax blank distribution will begin soon.

Wonder how many life insurance agents have called on Crown Prince Humbert of Italy and pointed out the advisability of providing for the future, now that he has acquired a dependent.

The Old Timer's Corner

Mrs. Winch Describes Pioneer Education in Log School House

I believe I was the loneliest little girl who ever grew up in Buchanan or its vicinity. After the halcyon days of our make-believe world, realities came. Dolls, wooden cows, fenced in farms, frosted cake and candy were—in the awakening—a delusion and a snare. An especial snare when mother found out what material made the prettiest doll's dresses. About the same time my brothers learned that "girls were no good." They could not skip stones on the river, they would not fight and were afraid of snakes. We often saw snakes along the river road on our way to school past the sunken grave of the old squaw. (A story often told.) Right there was the log yard of the Chandler mill where the children missed a recitation or two watching the mill men every morning as they rode the logs, raft fashion, across the river.

Sometimes the logs, thousands of them, were trailed with canoes across the river to the Chandler-Winch mill. A few rods north of the mill yard (opposite the Wells farm) on a hilly rise, is to be seen a wonderful natural view. Looking toward Buchanan one sees the gleaming river, the islands, glades of green, the shores of the St. Joseph on both sides stretching over hill sides in the distance.

We had never heard of views and did not care anyway. Views were all about us, unrecognized. Neither had we ever heard the word tardy. So, slowly, we ambled along. Once we met a paving, bellowing bull from the Dragozo pasture. He seemed in a riotous frenzy, a reckless abandon, in the wild music of his soul. The boys got over or through the nearest fence as rapidly as the girls tried to. That was wise, if the boys could fight.

I am loitering on my way to the Sherwood school house. A whole generation began, and most of them finished their school work, in this primitive log house, the immediate predecessor of the Miller school house.

The seats were long peg-legged benches and the desks were wide long boards, pegged slantwise to the log walls. The huge fire place was on one side with pegs in the corners to hang wraps on. The floor was puncheon—that is, split logs with the smooth side up. There were no black boards or chalk. Four summers I went there. When I was 11 years old I read in McGuffey's fourth reader, I could read and spell as well as any one in school. I never had one lesson in penmanship. I did not know one written letter nor could I add two figures. The boys, who only went to school winters, were taught numbers enough to measure logs and cordwood. History speaks with many tongues, of wondrous education outside of book knowledge or the curriculum of schools.

To reduce or enhance the sod-bowling waste and wood-girt wild to a living habitation is akin to creation's handiwork.

I bow in humility to the Berrien county pioneers. I knew them well. In my admiration of the founders I forgot how lonesome I was on Moccasin Bluff. The house stood back from the brow of the hill, back a hundred feet from the road near the spring, where we went oftened than to the road. Besides it was near the orchard. Here great flocks of mourning doves waited their woe. In the near woods screeched owls until streaks of rigor chased each other, like rain on the window pane.

For years from Moccasin Bluff to the old grave yard, the west side of the street was woods. All alone, through all the years of church and school life in Buchanan, I went—Mother taught the much trepidation I approached "ye editor," Mr. Turner. Afterward I had several articles published in Buchanan. I signed them E. B. M., half concealing and half revealing my identity.

Strange recurrence that any matter coming to me, only a fragment of which I remember, should again appear in the Buchanan paper. Luckily the old scrap book can't reproduce early vagaries. Like life, they are nearly faded out. The last verse of one little article is still legible, however. A prophecy and a gracious fulfillment.

"Then why repine should life seem dreary?
 As we drift on with spirits weary,
 With joy we'll find, ere life's declining,
 That clouds may have a silver lining."

April 19, 1865. E. B. M.
 Rollin and I, with 46 happy years together, realized that "into each life some rain must fall." That in life there is death. When our little daughter was taken from our home, ours for 41 years, our idolatrous love seemed deluged with despair. But through the clouds, the sun was shining, for we kept our very satisfying son to an excellent manhood and the stay of my sunset years.

 Esther Montague Winch.

J. Holmes Takes Crack or Two at Iowa's Wildman

A slight aberration in my memory, it was Ed and not John Terriere, who was in the banking business in Hyde Park. I believe there was no John Terriere.

Mrs. Winch tells about the wintergreen berries, than which there is no finer fruit. When I attended the meeting of the Michigan Press Association at Bay City I saw these berries in bushel baskets full in grocery fronts. I have found none of them in Iowa. I once asked an Iowa druggist the price of wintergreen oil and he gave me two prices. I asked him what the difference was and was told the highest was for oil from the bark of the tree. I asked if he had ever seen a wintergreen tree, and when he said he had not I told him it was about the size of a strawberry tree, and he allowed his angry passions to arise. Later I sent to a niece in Buchanan for some of the trees and gave him a whole sample of the tree.

I notice you pay your editorial respects to the wildman who wears the tag of United States Senator of Iowa. We are as ashamed of him as all of the rest of the country can be, but you need not stop for that. There is a beautiful character picture of that animal in the story in the Saturday Evening Post of December 14, beginning on page 19, and tells of his getting an education in Europe. I believe that any one who will read that story will agree with me that he is about as appropriate as a senator as one of the "razor backs" denizens of his native Missouri. He would be an ornament to the sun parlor of the White House. He is one of the examples of the beauty of our primary election law, a socialist nominated and elected by socialists on the republican ticket, under arrangements made at a national socialist meeting in Chicago, and all of the members of that party claiming to be republicans, under the provision of being allowed to change their politics. Once they were registered in the primary list as republicans they are prepared to ride that party, like a louse on a heifer, and no way to shake them.

School nurse says all girls should know this

Zonite
 For pyorrhea

For prevention against gum infections, use Zonite, the new powerful antiseptic. Also guards against colds, coughs and more serious diseases of nose and throat.

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
 Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

An Easy Triumph of Wifehood!

You are a wife. You must be a nurse, a home decorator, a domestic scientist, a seamstress, a laundress, a beauty specialist, a bureau of information, a buyer, a banker, a hostess. You must be all these professionals almost every day, yet you must not be tired at dinner. It must be a good dinner. You must have good news. And you must not only keep up your professions, but grow wiser in them each day.

Sounds hard, but is it? Not if you use your daily university—the advertisements. For here are the best safety-firsts, the most beautiful, most lasting draperies and home furnishings, and how to arrange them best, new food or new delicious ways of preparing and serving known foods; the finest in dress, in cold creams, hair washes, manicure methods, news of insurance, thrifty buying, happier ways to entertain, something of business, literature, art, music—of almost every science known.

The information in advertisements is latest and correct. Yet a brief glance is sufficient to give you their news. Just a daily reading of the advertisements—and there's an easy triumph of wifehood! In selecting, buying, arranging, using. In keeping fresh for dinner. Saving work, saving time, saving money—being wise.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickle) instantly soothes the corn, callos or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

"NO MEDICINE IN THE WORLD LIKE KONJOLA"

MRS. FRANK LETSON
"In my estimation there is no medicine in the world like Konjola," said Mrs. Frank Letson, 130 South Third Street, Saginaw. "For a long time I suffered terribly from indigestion and eventually my heart was affected. Then other troubles developed, and I was told that I would have to undergo an operation. I suffered such agony that I had to walk the floor. I dreaded the operation and determined to keep on taking Konjola."

"This medicine had greatly relieved my indigestion and I had a world of faith in it. Well, one day, after I had suffered an unusually bad attack of pain, I noticed a change. It seemed to be the turning point, and thereafter I improved rapidly. Day by day I got better, and today I am not only blessed with fine digestion but the other trouble has disappeared. Is it any wonder that I praise Konjola?"
Konjola is sold in Buchanan at W. N. Brodrick's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

WEST MICH. FRUIT MEN IN MERGER

Organize to Benefit From $1,200,000 Loan By U. S. Farm Board.

UNANIMOUS MOVEMENT
Consolidation of western Michigan's fruit interests under one huge co-operative organization, to be known as the Great Lakes Fruit Industries, Inc., is proceeding apace.

Already six fruit organizations have voted to get in under the big tent and ten others have called stockholders' meetings to approve the plan.

This was the word which came today from the officers of the Michigan Fruit Growers, Inc., which in the closing weeks of 1929 launched the move to consolidate the fruit interests of the state under a plan which is to receive federal farm board approval and assistance to the extent of $1,200,000.

The consolidation plans, now going ahead, are in conformity with the general plan laid down by the farm board in Washington a few weeks ago, when farm board finances were pledged to the proposition.

Canners Coming In
Western Michigan canners are coming into the plan, so F. L. Granger, secretary of Michigan Fruit Growers, announced today.

Mr. Granger said that purchase options and agreements have been entered into with practically all of the canning plants in the fruit area to be served by the consolidated enterprise, based upon appraisal values to be certified by nationally known commercial appraisers approved by the farm board, which will assure fair and equitable values to both growers and canners covering the properties to be acquired.

Mr. Granger said that negotiations with canning interests in this district have been marked by a distinctly wholesome and fairplay attitude in contrast with the evident difficulties encountered at Traverse City, according to press reports.

Berrien Voting Yes
Berrien fruit co-operatives and organizations are voting their approval of the big new plan. Grower meetings were held last week in Millburg, Stevensville and Benton Harbor. Stevensville and Millburg stockholders voted practically unanimously to consolidate their assets and the new co-op, the Benton Harbor Fruit Exchange, has approved plans for joining.

St. Joseph. Already in, six organizations have already formally approved the big plan, said Mr. Granger today and it looks as though ten other organizations, which have called stockholders' meetings will vote to join.

The six organizations who have already joined are: Ludington Fruit Exchange, Ludington; Onkama Farm Bureau, Onkama; Shelby-New Era Co-operative Assn., Shelby; Fremont Co-operative Company, Fremont; Lincoln Fruit Growers Assn., Stevensville; Millburg Fruit Growers Exchange, Millburg.

Expect These to Come In
The board of directors of ten other organizations have voted to consolidate and have called stockholders' meetings. They are: St. Joseph Valley Shipping Assn at Buchanan; Eau Claire Farmers Exchange, Eau Claire; Sodius Fruit Exchange, Sodius; St. Joseph Fruit

Assn., Stevensville; Benton Center Fruit Assn., Benton Center; Bangor; South Haven Fruit Exchange, South Haven; Saugatuck Fruit Exchange, Saugatuck; Benton Harbor Fruit Exchange, Benton Harbor; Mattawan Co-operative Assn., Mattawan.

At an executive committee meeting of Michigan Fruit Growers, Inc., held in Benton Harbor last week representing all of the fresh fruit interests involved, plans were advanced for rapid consummation of the merger. Additional funds were voted for the re-organization campaign to the end that unification of the industry will be accomplished by April first and federal funds made available by that time, thus becoming effective for the coming season's operations.

Everything at this time would indicate normal fruit crop conditions for 1930, no damage being evident from temperature prevailing up to this time.

Opinion Berrien Fruit Men Varies On Peach Damage

The extent of the damage suffered by the peach crop from the extreme cold weather of January was a paramount topic at the annual meeting of the Berrien County Horticulture Society held at the Eleanor Club of Benton Harbor Friday evening.

The majority were of the opinion that the loss would approach 50 per cent, but others with judgment, pointing also to the fact that in any event peaches constitute only 12 per cent of the Berrien fruit crop.

Election of officers was held, the following choices being made: president, Arthur Edison, Sawyer; vice president, M. S. Fuller, Pipestone township; secretary, Henry Bartz, Lincoln Township; treasurer, Alexander Gale, Sodius township.

BEST TEAMS OF HORSES MEET IN PULLING CONTEST

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED FEBRUARY 6 AT EAST LANSING.

Three teams which each have been holders of the state record for pulling during the year will meet Thursday evening of Farmers Week, February 6, to settle the argument of who owns the "best horses in the state."

The teams are owned by J. F. Gohr, Lansing; George Abbott, Ellwell and R. H. Langley, Flint. The horses made their records at the county fairs held last fall. The Gohr team holds the record now with a pull of 3275 lbs. The amount of energy expended by the teams in the contest is measured by a device which records the number of pounds which the team can drag for a distance of twenty-seven and one-half feet. The pull exerted is the same as lifting an equal weight vertically.

The world's record pull is 3500 pounds and the teams entered in the East Lansing contest will try to beat this as well as their opponents. Ten thousand people watched the pulling contest at one fair and the event has attracted crowds in all sections of the state.

Entertainers to Amuse Farmers Week Visitors

Music, drama, athletic events, military maneuvers, and after-dinner speakers are all included in the list of entertainment features which will be interspersed throughout the Farmers' Week program, Feb. 3 to 7.

Three bands, the College Cadet band, the State Vocational School band and the Swartz Creek band, are scheduled to appear on the general program. A rural drama contest will be held in which groups of players from Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties will compete.

College athletes and members of the cadet corps are listed to give exhibitions during the evening meetings. After dinner speakers will find their opportunities at the 20 banquets which will be held.

BERRIEN S. S. ASSOCIATION PLANS FOR YEAR

EFFORT IS TO BE MADE TO REACH 1,000 CHILDREN NOT ENROLLED.

J. C. Boyle presided at the annual meeting of the Berrien County Sunday School Association held Friday at the St. Joseph. M. C. A. for the purpose of outlining the program for the year. The list of 1930 activities includes:

Rally Day, Sunday, Oct. 5.

County convention at Niles, October 23-24.

It was discovered that there is a pressing need for better records in all the church schools and an attempt will be made to remedy this.

More than 10,000 boys and girls in the county are not enrolled in any Sunday school, it was reported. There was discussion of the possibility and probability of reaching these children.

Twin City Men Are Named As Directors of McElroy's Company

W. F. Benning, Twin City manufacturer, and Mayor John Sterling of Benton Harbor, were elected to the board of five directors chosen at the meeting of the stockholders of the Fitzpatrick & McElroy Company of Delaware, held last week in Chicago to re-organize the business of that concern, which was temporarily demoralized by the recent suicide of its treasurer, McElroy. The latter's partner, Kenneth Fitzpatrick, was re-elected president, and W. F. Benning was elected treasurer to replace McElroy.

It was disclosed at the meeting that McElroy had left only $100,000 insurance in force, instead of the $300,000 which he was rumored to have left. Another policy of $100,000 is believed to have been invalidated by the fact that it was written only nine months before his suicide.

Family Flies From Burning Home Clad In Night Clothes

George Tanke and wife and five small children were compelled to flee clad in night attire when they awoke at 1 p. m. Friday to find their home on Pipestone Road east of Benton Harbor, in flames. A good fire had been built by Tanke just before retiring to keep the house from freezing. Further than that, no possibility of cause is known. The family had just time to escape, bundled in bed clothes, after their discovery of the fire. The building and contents was a total loss, but was partially covered by $1,500 insurance.

Drifted Roads Cause of Double Auto Collision

A double automobile crash on U. S. 12 near Lakeside Friday was blamed on road conditions resulting from high winds that drifted the main highway faster than they could be opened. A truck driven by Ralph Miller of Benton Harbor, collided head-on with a sedan driven by Mr. Kirklin of Chicago, the wife of the latter being severely injured. Harry Payne, also of Chicago, was blinded by the drifting snows and crashed into the rear of Merrill's truck shortly after the first collision. His also was injured. Both injured parties were taken to a Michigan City hospital.

P. M. Announces Improvements in Towns in County

The Pere Marquette railway announces extensive improvements at New Buffalo, including the following: relocation of depot; new 300-ton coal dock to replace older coaling apparatus; installation of new water treating plant. A new water station is to be installed at Benton Harbor and the Empire Avenue viaduct in Benton Harbor is to be replaced with a steel structure. The improvements will be part of a $8,110,000 program to be carried out by the Pere Marquette.

Farmers Shovel Snow Ahead Stork

Fifteen farmers living near Stevensville were called from bed in the early hours Saturday morning to clear drifts to enable Dr. E. A. Sorby to reach the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grams, where the stork was expected shortly. The party shoveled through drifts for a mile and a quarter when the car stalled and Dr. Sorby walked the remaining three quarters of a mile. The baby was born soon after the arrival of the doctor.

The committee is to select new Geography and civic text books for use during the next five years.

Twin City Men Cheat Death in Automobile Crash

Four Twin City men looked death in the face and escaped when their car skidded down an icy hill into the path of a Pere Marquette passenger engine, on their return from an athletic meet at Muskegon. The driver, Lawrence Fish of Benton Harbor, did not see the train until he started down an icy incline, where his brakes would not function. He saved himself and company by turning the car sideways, so that the engine shunted it a glancing blow. With him were Arthur Arant and C. Zeller of Benton Harbor and Rev. Leon F. Woodward of St. Joseph.

Lawrence Youth Confesses to Sawyer Robbery

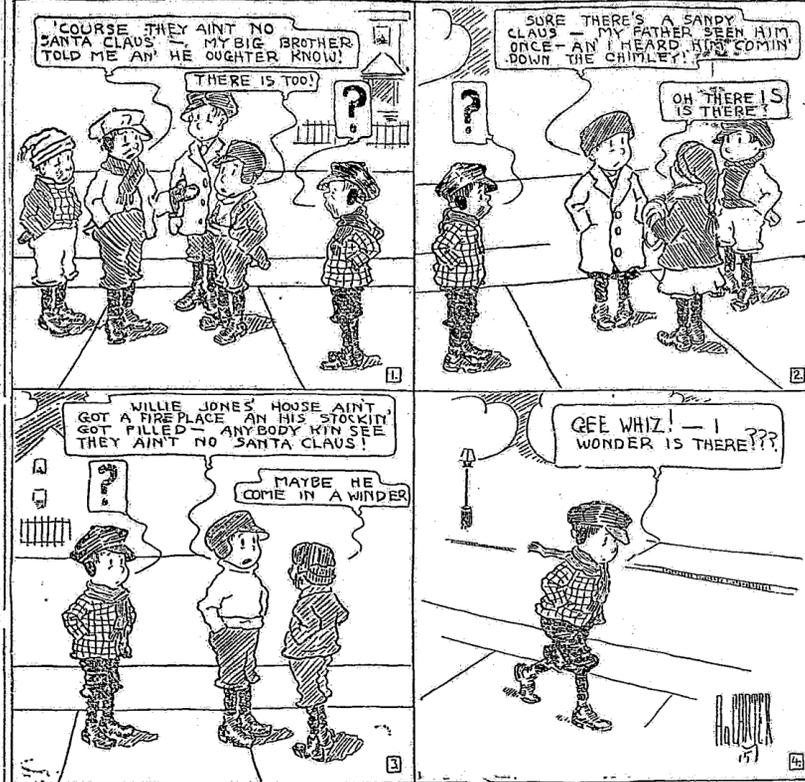

Melvin Allen, 16-year-old Lawrence, Mich., youth, who was arrested by Chicago police last week following a stick up in that city, has confessed to complicity in the robbery of Jess Carner, manager of the Hotel Carner at Sawyer on Dec. 30. He admitted to Chicago police that he was one of a gang that bound and robbed the New Sawyer hotel man, securing $400. dance at Lawrence. Hadsell was taken to the office of Dr. F. W. Brown, where he died an hour later as the result of a fractured skull. Jerrold Brooks and Patrick Barrett, who were riding with him, escaped with minor injuries. St. Joe Life Savers To Receive Modern 90 HP Motor Boat

Action was precipitated by a breakdown suffered by the old boat during rescue work at the time of one of the disastrous Lake Michigan wrecks last fall.

Sodus Exchange Votes to Enter Fruit Merger

The Sodus Fruit Exchange, one of the largest fruit co-operatives in the county, voted unanimously at its stockholders meeting Tuesday of last week to enter the proposed Michigan fruit merger which the federal land board has agreed to underwrite to the extent of $1,200,000.

Nearly ninety per cent of the stockholders were present at the meeting, and not a single vote was cast in opposition. Between $50,000 and $60,000 in assets will be brought into the merger by the Sodus exchange, which has a cold storage plant and a new packing house.

Wild Life Expert Gives Description Of the Arctic Owl

The Record reprints an article written by Bob Becker, wild life authority on the staff of the Chicago Tribune, relative to the Arctic owl, a handsome specimen of which was recently shot near Buchanan and is now on display at the Smoke House.

The article follows:

At this time of the year a husky silent winged bird of prey comes down from the frozen north country. He is bad medicine as far as rabbits and birds are concerned. This killer is the snowy owl, the bird that lives in the land of hush and has a flight quite in keeping with its home country.

Few birds of prey can fly as quietly as this strong northern owl whose wings seem to be "padded" in order to produce absolutely soundless flight.

When food gets scarce in the far north a wave of these owls flows into the northern tier of states. Last winter large numbers came into the county and kept game keepers busy. Voracious eaters and expert killers, the snowy owls raise havoc with rabbits, grouse, quail and small birds. Equal to the great horned owl in strength and weighing at least as much, the big white owl is quite willing to tackle a bird or mammal as heavy as he is.

No bird better typifies "deceptive" coloration than this winter visitor from the north. When he comes down to raid our supply of birds and mammals he is white and more or less heavily spotted with black. Therefore he is ideally fitted out for winter hunting, his plumage blending into expanses of snow. The ptarmigan (that member of the grouse family which lives in the north and whose plumage turns white in the winter) is preyed upon by the snowy owl. The former changes brown feathers for white in order to get protective coloration whereas the bird of prey sports a white dress in winter as deceptive coloration.

In Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, the snowy owl is not uncommon during the winter, if lack of food forces the birds southward. In fact, some of the owls come into Illinois to strike terror into the hearts of rabbits, quail, grouse and other birds.

"Move over," said the doctor, "she owes me a hundred."

Now for your home a special cleaning product that can't hurt paint and enamel

World's brightest buildings have used Wyandot exclusively for 25 years.

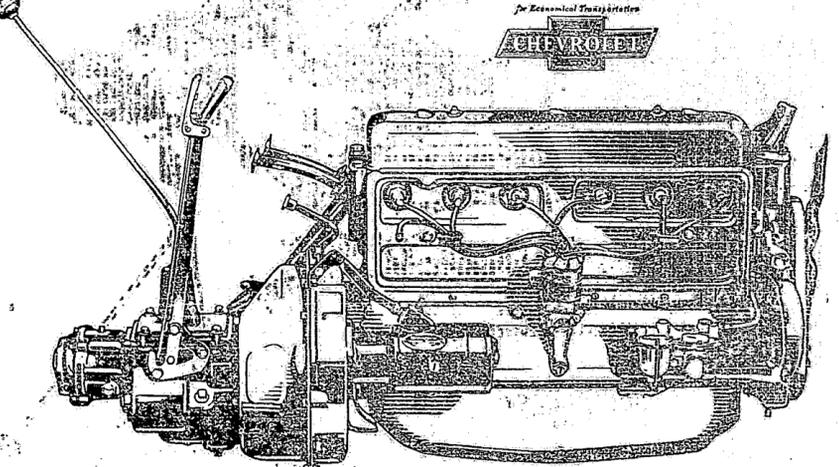

WYANDOT is a special product for cleaning fine paint and enamel—and the most widely used in the world besides. You've never used Wyandot—or anything like it. But for years and years you've seen the results of its use in great gleaming hospitals, office buildings, and hotels.

These buildings had to have Wyandot. They represented investments in painted walls and woodwork totaling millions of dollars. "Pot-and-pan" cleansers—the kind so commonly used in homes—soon proved how ruinous they are. A safer, faster, more thorough method had to be found. There was no Wyandot then—but it was soon created by The J. B. Ford Company, the largest manufacturer of special cleaning products. Nothing else has ever taken its place here or abroad.

Now for the first time Wyandot is available at your grocer's. It will save your paint and enamel—save you many repainting dollars—save your time and energy. It contains no caustic soda or harsh abrasives—never scratches. Wipes over surfaces so easily you're surprised it cleans so thoroughly. It won't hurt your hands or any surface water itself won't hurt. Try it. Large can, only 15c. Guaranteed.

50 horsepower six cylinder engine

Not until you drive the new Chevrolet Six can you appreciate what a wonderful improvement has been made in its famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. With its capacity increased to 50 horsepower, it has great reserve energy for sweeping up the steepest hills—for swift acceleration—and for sustained high speeds. Its power flows evenly and smoothly. And it is extremely flexible in traffic. In fact—it does everything you could possibly want a motor to do. Yet it is remarkably economical in its use of gasoline and oil. Come in today for a demonstration.
