

Now Here's the Proposition

Said the Captain to the Gunman

Bl Hays

They nabbed a thousand gunmen in Chicago Sunday night. To see the coppers drag them in was an arresting sight. They hauled them to the city hall and shut them up and then they spoke to them severely and they turned them loose again. The captain said: "This killing folks is quite against the rule; Why don't you quit this life of crime and go to Sunday School? See, you have got your clothes all blood—you ought to wear a bib. When you go round g-poking guns in other people's ribs. And if you dare to kill a man, that awfullest of crimes. You'll stay in after school and write your name 500 times. Remember what I told you when you killed that man before. And promise me before you go you go you won't kill anymore. You must not do it any more, not even just in play. Or I will have to slap your hands and take your gun away. Machine guns are a dangerous thing, not fit for little boys. And bombs wake everybody up and an awful noise. Come here and let me wipe your nose and give that bottle here; You have been told that you are quite too little to drink beer. It almost breaks my heart to have to speak to you this way. Now give the child a great big kiss and run away and play." And that's what Cui policemen say on the occasions when they gather in a thousand crooks and turn them loose again.

DOGS SEEM TO HAVE HAD DAY, SAYS WHITTAKER

FIDO GONE TO BOW WOVES IN BUCHANAN TOWNSHIP, TREASURER SAYS.

Indication that the dog, once the most highly esteemed among the animal friends of man, has fallen from his high estate in Buchanan township and gone to the bow woves along with that other animal friend, old Dobbin, is contained in the report of Township Treasurer Will Whittaker to the effect that only 43 dogs have been reported to date by 425 taxpayers. This makes a ratio of one dog to each ten farm homes.

The Michigan law relating to payment of tax on dogs is as follows: "On or before the first day of March, nineteen hundred twenty-eight and on or before the same day of the month of each year thereafter, the owner of any dog, four months old or over, shall apply to county, township, or city treasurer where said owner resides, in writing, for a license for each dog owned or kept by him. Such application shall state the breed, sex, age, color and markings of such dog, and the name and address of the last previous owner. At the time of making such application the owner shall pay the following license fee: If said application is made by March 1, the same shall be accompanied by a license fee of two dollars for each male dog or unsexed dog; and four dollars for each female dog; if such application is made on or after March 1, the same shall be accompanied by a license fee of four dollars for each male dog or unsexed dog and six dollars for each female dog."

50 ATTEND BANQUET IN CHICAGO FRI.

Buchanan Foreign Legion Assemble to Swap Reminiscences. RE-ELECT OFFICERS Will Hold Their Summer Picnic in Buchanan on June 28.

The Chicago-Buchanan Society annual banquet was held in Chicago at 155 N. Wabash Avenue, Women's University Club, Friday, Feb. 7th, 1930, at 6:30 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by a call from the president, "soup's on," and fifty hungry Buchananites filled the tables and likewise filled themselves with a good chicken dinner.

As usual, the dinner was very good and every one chatted with old friends and as soon as the dinner was over, we adjourned to the "lounge" of the club, where we were addressed, first by our president, Mary Reynolds, who then introduced our old friend, Prof. F. E. Buck, former superintendent of Buchanan schools and now assistant superintendent of the schools of Chicago. We were all very glad to see him and to hear him.

Next on the program was an address from L. M. Barton, advertising manager of the Chicago Daily News, who has bought the old "White Redden" home in Buchanan, and told us of the things he is doing to make the place one of the show places of that part of the country. He also told us something of his experiences in flying and of his plans to arrange for a landing or flying field, on his own place in Buchanan. When he had finished we felt that we knew him very well and we liked him and what he told us. He is now "one of us" in the society and we are very glad to welcome him and his friends at any and all times at our meetings.

Then several new members were called upon, some who have recently married into our crowd. Mrs. George French and Mrs. Bert Weston both responded and were given the glad hand of welcome.

Next in order was a roll call of every one present, each responding with something to say or else to simply rise and smile for the audience and sit down again. Some very interesting talks were thus brought out, and all of them were done on the spur of the moment and so were much appreciated.

We were very sorry that more of our old friends from Buchanan were not present. The election of officers followed. It was found that the present staff of officers had done such good work that they were unanimously re-elected, with the exception of our secretary, who begged off, stating that he felt that a real Buchananite should fill that office, and so long as he was simply the "husband of Eva Morris" he felt that some one else should fill his place; with the result that the following officers were elected: President, Mary Reynolds; vice president, Winifred Noble Setchel; treasurer, Henry Grover; secretary, Dr. Claude B. Roe.

Then the matter of the annual picnic was brought up and a discussion followed, with the views of several of our members being called for, and it was voted unanimously that we hold our picnic, June 28th, 1930, in Buchanan, following a request made at our last picnic, there, that we "come again" in the form of a motion, at that meeting. An arrangement committee, was re-elected or appointed, with the addition of Mrs. Pet Beardsley-Tuttle.

June 28th, 1930, falls on Saturday, the day following the close of the fishing season, and we hope that our Buchanan friends, old and new, will plan to be on hand with a greater representation this year, and enjoy with us what has been made an annual home coming for all parts of the country. Our little crowd is simply a "drop in the bucket" compared to what we hope it will be, as compared to the old friends assembled from other nearby and even far away towns. One suggestion was made to follow the lead of two of the old high school classes, who held a "re-union" at the same time and place with our picnic last year. This year, one such re-union is assured, in that "the class of 1894" has such a reunion under way and it brings friends from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, to be with us. We are also assured that from Buck and his wife, will be with us on this occasion. We are going to make an extra effort to bring a good representation from our town and we hope that every one who likes to meet old friends will be with us.

Of all our past presidents, only two were present, Jennie Churchill Krass, and Dr. C. B. Roe. It was reported that Mrs. Hawkins is sick and the president asked that as many as could, should call and see her. C. B. Roe, Sec'y.

Ralph Kean Addresses Men's Club

Boy Scouts are the Honor Guests of Fellowship Society.

NATURE STUDY PRAISED

Ralph Kean served as "pinch hitter" at the meeting of the Fellowship Club at the Methodist Church Wednesday evening substituting on short notice for Atty. Henry of Benton Harbor, who had been scheduled to speak on "Lincoln."

Kean addressed his remarks mainly to the members of Scout Troops 41 and 42 who were the guests of honor of the evening. He reviewed for their benefit a recent book entitled "The White House Gang," detailing the adventures and pranks of a group of lads who made the White House and vicinity their playground during the presidency of Theodore Roosevelt. The group included the sons of the president, among them Quentin, who was killed in aerial battle in the World War.

Kean also encouraged the boys in the study of wild life, relating his own adventures in stalking birds and animals in the forests and plains of Idaho with a camera. His talk was greatly enjoyed by his young audience and by their older hosts. He was appropriately introduced by T. D. Childs, who was chairman of the program.

District commissioner Ken Blake and Scoutmaster Leo Slate each made short talks before the main address on the aims and ideals of scout work, and on the history and development of the local troops.

John G. Holmes Lands Heavily On Drunken Officials

The Record is in receipt of a copy of the Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Gazette-Republican containing the following letter to the public written by John G. Holmes, former editor of this paper:

Hereafter no "Booze Fighter" is to be appointed for service in the department of justice at Washington or other parts of the country. Right. That should be carried as far as possible in all other departments. No man who is in the habit of getting himself full of whiskey is fit to be trusted with any responsible position, no matter about any other consideration.

Years ago the railroad companies, whose business is one of the most hazardous in the country, learned the fact that they could not succeed with a lot of drunks mixed into their work, and none would be hired. Yet a drunken engineer pulling a passenger train would be no more a risk than a drunk at the wheel of an auto, driving through a crowded street.

A man who receives stolen goods is particeps criminis with the thief who stole them. So also is the party who uses the columns of his newspaper to continuously sneer at the laws of the country, enacted for the protection of its citizens from the menace of the drunk particeps with the bootlegger who is encouraged to furnish the material with which to make their drink. No matter whether it be the large metropolitan or the small town paper.

J. G. HOLMES.

The local I. O. O. F. lodge will be guests of the Three Oaks lodge on Thursday evening, Feb. 20. After the regular business session the two lodges will enjoy 500.

The Home Service department of the Presbyterian Church will meet in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon.

DON PEARS TO RUN AGAIN FOR REGISTER DEEDS

FORMER BUCHANAN MAN IS NOW PRESIDENT OF STATE OFFICIALS.

In the course of an interview granted by Don R. Pears, Register of Deeds of St. Joseph, for the press of the county, the writer furnishes the people with food for thought in connection with an interesting announcement.

Don Pears points to the fact that his office records approximately 10,000 papers per year, the fees in connection therewith netting the county from $2,000 to $5,000 a year clear profit. The abolishment of the fee system which netted the holder of the Board of Supervisors just after his first term, three years ago, was then fixed at $3,000 a year, which is considerably lower than that received by the sheriff, county clerk, or county treasurer.

Because of the large classification of papers presented for record, it requires a new incumbent at least a couple of years to gain a working knowledge of the proper procedure in each particular case. In the register's office, there is a record of the title of every property owner in the county and a mistake or error on the part of the Register of Deeds is almost certain to cause much inconvenience and expense to the owner at some future date, when he undertakes to transfer or mortgage it. Hence the value of experience on the part of the incumbent.

Mr. Pears points to the fact that formerly the office mailed out its recorded papers only once a week but during his term of office has increased the mail-out dates from one to two and three a week, thus giving the service to the patrons of the office.

During 1929, Register Pears brought to the attention of the Board of Supervisors the dilapidated condition of the old records, with the result that these valuable records underwent a rebinding process and once again these books are in a good state of preservation.

Mr. Pears announces that he will be a candidate for renomination at the next September primaries. He believes that the office now paying a modest salary instead of the high fees of previous years, the voters may feel that there is no good reason why the Register of Deeds should serve only four years. He cites the fact that the Probate Judge is elected for a four-year term, as is the County Commissioner of Schools, while the Circuit Judge is elected for a six-year term, these officials invariably being re-elected.

Mr. Pears also cites the fact that two former Berrien County Registers of Deeds held the office for four consecutive terms and Roscoe D. Dix was the Register for a similar period of eight years. In practically every county in the state of Michigan, the Register of Deeds is the one office where the two-term rule does not apply, experienced holders of the office being retained to the benefit of all concerned. In Detroit, Grand Rapids, and Kalamazoo, the Register of Deeds has not been changed for many years.

The threat of southern Michigan potato growers to show their upstart competitors how to select winning samples of spuds failed to keep the northern growers from taking home most of the blue and purple ribbons from the East Lansing show. Firsts were won by John Herrema, Manton, on white rurals; by Herbert Johnson, Sands, on Green Mountains; by J. D. Robinson, Pellston, on Irish Cobblers; and by Lee Fowler, Mayville, on other varieties. John Delongchamp, Champion, showed the best peak of potatoes in the show, and J. D. In the individual exhibitors class, the winners were Ed. McVann, Gaylord; Elsie Toussaint, Sands; and Ronald Haynes, Greenville. The rankings of the counties in prizes won were Charlevoix, Missaukee, Oshtemo, Benzie, Manistota and Van Buren.

Son Coast Guard Drowns at St. Joe

Master Lowell Thompson, four-year-old son of Surfman Ralph Thompson of the St. Joseph coast guard station, was drowned today when he fell through a hole in the surface ice while playing north of the pier. His body was recovered a half hour later. He had been playing with a five year old companion and the two children had wandered out on the ice before they were missed. When the other boy came back alone he was questioned and pointed to the hole in the ice into which he said the Thompson boy had fallen. The current had drifted the child under the surface ice and it took more than a half hour of frantic work by coast guardsmen to find and extricate the body. The most destructive blizzards occur in the plains region from North Dakota to Kansas and eastward to Ohio. Government insurance for school children has been established in Switzerland.

Mrs. Winch Tells of Hardships in Pioneer Life of Buchanan Section

When Buchanan was young there was great deprivation of utilities. An entire deficiency of present necessities. There were no furnaces, bathtubs, extension tables or window screens. If tables with leaves were too small for the family, the children waited. This was common in those days of large families. Window shades, if any, were rolled up and tied in place with tape. Bedsteads were corded together with rope, no springs or mattresses. Straw ticks were generally relieved of their poly poly tendencies by feather beds. There were no electrical appliances that now do almost everything but answer the telephone. No one had door bells, wringers or cakes of hard soap unless they used them from their soft soap emulsion.

Bread, yeast, pickled meat, dried fruits, pumpkin and apple butters, preserves, kumt, butter and all the things eaten were made in the early three hours in a day around Buchanan. Hence without firewood in winter and without ice in summer. This is not a hard luck story. It was the common condition before inventions. Of the million and more U. S. inventions reported from the U. S. patent office, perhaps the sewing machine is the most wide-spread in numbers and usefulness. Then everybody worked. Little boys and little girls, even the littlest one sat in the cradle and rocked the baby. Inventions and extensions of advantages have been a blessing to the world. The wheat combine is a direct descendant from its ancestors, the sickle and the flail, two hard wood sticks tied together for threshing wheat, so with the entire farm and household economies.

The recent newspapers of Kansas City, my home for 50 years, have been filled with reminiscences of Lawrence, the most historic town in the west, which for three days celebrated the 75th anniversary of its beleaguered settlement. Not one of its early settlers is living. The most of Buchanan was filled with sympathy for "bleeding Kansas." A few were not, but all were apprehensive. As whigs, know-nothings, and free-soilers became Republicans, the new political party, the times grew hectic. Conventions gathered, orators came to Buchanan, quartettes sang and women talked and read of Kansas and government, that before scarcely knew a constable from a congressman, the Kansas struggle had subsided the year of the states came. Berrien county sent a heavy toll of men, often they were boys in their teens.

My father died in 1873 and my two brothers were too young to go to war. Without intimate connections in the four year's struggle, even yet I feel the ferocity of war. Later, war on the border, I found, was an inferno of demons "Order No. Eleven" was considered a military necessity to stop guerrilla warfare. Houses, barns, fences, and furniture were burned over a territory of more than a hundred miles. The guerrillas

"KONJOLA MADE ME FEEL LIKE ANOTHER MAN"

AFTER ALL THESE HAD FAILED DETROIT MAN FINDS QUICK RELIEF IN NEW MEDICINE.

Mrs. William Stevens "Konjola made me feel like a new man," said Mr. William Stevens, box 393-B, E. E. D. No. 7, Detroit. "My liver was badly out of condition for years. My eyes and skin were yellow, I had no end of bilious spells and these grew more frequent and severe as medicine after medicine failed to help me. At last I had to go to bed, too sick and miserable to be on my feet."

"The outlook was dark, for I had not the faintest idea what to try next. Then my attention was attracted to Konjola. Words fail to express my delight when the first two bottles proved to me that I had found the medicine I needed. Two more bottles set my liver right and as the poisons were swept from my body, my eyes and skin lost their yellow hue and my general health began to climb. Today I feel like I did years ago."

Konjola is sold in Buchanan at W. N. Brodrick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

had no longer a rendezvous. Neither had the rebels homes in several counties of western Missouri. Lovelocks, if any, found refuge at the fort in Kansas City. This instance was told me by a lady. She and her mother, the men folks were in the Confederate army, walked five miles to independence, driving a cow with all their possessions in a bundle on her back, while their home, barn, orchards, everything, except their land, was burning. They were shelterless while the hilarious soldiers shouted victoriously. Then the horrible revenge, the Quantrell raid on Lawrence. A street of business houses burned down, and next day men and boys lay dead in the cracks on the Confederates rode away under their black flag. I beg pardon. Such almost forgotten history should have no place in "Old Timer's Corner."

Mrs. Wilson said, "My first recollection is of men with guns, dragging my father out onto the porch. Mother clung to him screaming prayers to them to spare him. Something touched the hearts of these ferocious men and they let him go into the house. The next day my baby sister was born. (Quantrell's raid.) This little story Mrs. Wilson told me years after. Her husband was a state senator of Kansas. Her little son, six years old, came home bloody and disheveled. He said, "A boy hit me. I didn't do anything to him. He asked me what my name was. I told him it was the honorable Bill P. Wilson. He said, 'I'll just know the honorable one.' There he beat me." There are no memories in boyville. The stories are legion that I heard of war's horrors on the border.

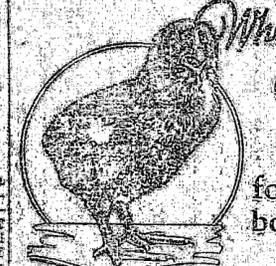

My friends, the enemy, remained my friends as well as my friends of the northland. Human nature is very much alike wherever found. Many lives were saved among the border enemies when friendship was a stronger emotion than the passions of war. Treachery, too, was rampant on the border. Lives were sacrificed for revenge, even of their own kind. It was easier to betray a man, sometimes than pay a debt.

Esther Mentague Winch.

Old Timer Tells of Some Results of Habit-Forming

Man, in general, is a habit-forming animal. Did you ever watch your own pet dog as he prepares for a night's sleep? You have probably seen a dog curl up on the floor, and he knows that he is supposed to sleep in that place, and he does. But before he finds the exact spot where he wants to lie down, he turns around and around and back again and finally after many twists and turns, he finds the place he has been looking for and at once lies down and with a sigh of relief, he settles down to sleep, with perhaps one last glance to make sure he has not done a wrong thing. Dogs are like that. They live mainly to please their "master" and even in going to bed, they want your smile of approval as you watch them hunt for the right spot in their going to bed for the night.

We are that way, too. We do not realize it, but we are all "animals of habit-forming instincts." Not so much when we are young and wild, but even then, we are to a greater or less degree. Our surroundings make us that way. We are hungry, we are fed, we are tired, we go to bed. We live a few years and we are dead. It's all a matter of habit. Ever think what we really do in a day? We awaken, we yawn and wish we didn't have to get up but we know we must and we do. We make our morning ablutions and arrange for some food that we call breakfast. Then comes a period of hurry to get to the place where we left off with our work last night. No matter what that work may be, we had to leave it at a certain point last night and we are up and ready to continue on from that point. Lunchtime comes around and finds us hungry again. A short time is given to feeding one's self, and then back to business again. Whether that business is at your desk or in the field, no matter, you are back to work and you plug away until you are tired and hungry again. That brings us to what used to be called "supper" but is now more favorably spoken of as "dinner." (O very well, it's all the same to me, so long as I get something to eat.)

Then we have a short time for rest and conversation and first thing we know it is "time to go to bed." Of course when we are "kids" and young people, then "bed time" don't come so soon, as it does later on. But anyway, it can be figured in the same lists just the same. When it comes to what we eat and what we most like to do for amusement. What things at school attracted us most interest us yet and we find that we sort of run in circles. We do much the same things and in the same way, as the day before. Life is that way. We are born, all in the same way, we grow to maturity, we choose a life profession or occupation, we plug along with others, all running around in circles. We make contacts with others in similar lines or opposing lines, we make good friends and even loves, as we pass around in the busy circles of our habitual life. Time passes us along with the rest of them, and some leave us sooner and some later, but eventually, it comes to us all one day. That's all. And so I contend that we are like other animals, even like the vegetables kingdom, we are simply mediums of habit. We follow the lines outlined for us without knowing it. It is nature. Like the little dog who twists and turns before he falls asleep, so we also twist and turn but we all come to rest finally in the same old way, and they place a lily in your hand and say "how nice he looks."

Benton Harbor experienced its first air plane accident Thursday when the Haco airplane owned and piloted by Al Jacobs of that city fell, crashing into an electric light pole and landing bottom side up on a vacant lot near the corner of Waukonda Avenue and North Wiggins Street. Jacobs had attained a height of only 75 feet from Michigan airport when his plane began to miss. He attempted to regain the low raw power flaps but sprang under narrowly grazing several houses. He attributed the failure of his motor to water in the gasoline. The accident was witnessed by former chief of police Thure Linde, who rushed from his store to the scene and assisted in extricating the young aviator from the splintered wreckage. He was then rushed to the Mercy Hospital, where it was found that his worst hurt was a gash on the forehead, which required nine stitches.

Niles vs. Buchanan Basketball Game Here Friday Night

LAST QUARTER

25-16 Victory Spoils Revenge for Recent Defeat.

RESERVES WIN 25 TO 24
The Low Ceilings and Close Guarding Handicapped Local Players.

Curly Bradford's scrapping "Bucks" gave the Three Oaks basketball team a good licking on Friday night and thereby avenged the defeat which the Acorns outdid them a few weeks ago. The game was one of the queerest exhibitions that southwestern Michigan has seen for quite a spell, the locals not getting the lead until the last quarter.

The "Bucks" tried a bit of strategy immediately in the first quarter. Stange opened the scoring with a short shot in the first minute of play. Buchanan then got possession of the ball and proceeded to "hold it." The Three Oaks defense was set so close that it was impossible to get a pass through them and yet the "Bucks" could not take long shots because of the low ceilings. So the two Buchanan forwards took some restless attitudes, horizontal to the hardwood, under the Buchanan basket and Messrs Knight and Lawson indulged in a game of catch and go on into the night until the end of the quarter.

Here Mr. Bradford, the little general from the south side, injected Louie Morse, who had been offering his service to the second team until just recently. Morse then opened the "Bucks" scoring by dropping in a free throw. However, the Featherbone Five continued to lead the locals in the way of scoring by virtue of long shots made by Stange, Weed and Schneider, respectively. Stange's two free throws and Ritzler's fielder from the corner brought the Three Oaks total to twelve. In the meantime Morse, Pfingst and Pierce were dropping in a field goal apiece and Knight and Pfingst were donating a charity toss to the cause, bringing the "Bucks" total to nine.

In the third period Pfingst scooped up a fumble made by the anxious Acorns and converted it into two points, but Ritzler boosted the Three Oaks total with a short shot. Morse sank a nice one from the corner, and Stange dropped a charity toss on Pfingst's personal. Lawson evened the score at 15 all with a short shot.

The final session had hardly started before "Olive" Knight looped in a pretty corner shot. The "Bucks" began to stall, but Schneider tried to get the ball and fouled Morse. Louie missed the free throw, but Harry Pierce batted the ball in when it rolled off from the hoop. Three Oaks was unable to get possession of the ball so they called time out. When they came back to rush the "Bucks," Morse got away and managed to toss in a pot shot with Schneider holding him. He also made both free throws awarded because of the holding. Three Oaks again began their rusing tactics, and Morse dropped one in from the four district. Stange ended the scoring by sinking a foul awarded because of Pfingst's violation.

In the preliminary the Buchanan Reserves nosed out the Three Oaks Reserves, 25 to 24, after leading 15 to 2 at the half. Lauren Morse and Eisenhart led the local's scoring with 11 to 10 points, while Glavin led the losers with 9.

Comic Valentines
Most high school students have outgrown the custom of sending Valentines to their friends. However, it is not unusual for one to receive comic Valentines from his personal enemies or friendly jokers.

This is not as it should be. In the first place, one should not have enemies in high school. In the second place, comic Valentines should not be sent to pay off a grudge.

Surely St. Valentine, himself, did not dream that his day could be slaughtered so. Let's send the good old-fashioned Valentines with hearts, cupids, lace, and flattering verses!

PROGRAM FRI.
ASSEMBLY WAS REPORTED WOW

The assembly program was a "wow" and went off with a bang last Friday morning. A number of parents attended the assembly, meeting which Miss Hanlin was in charge of and to whom much credit is due for the success and cleverness of the program.

A play, which was given by a few of the students and Mrs. Kelly, was the big feature of the program. The setting was at the Arms Conference in London where Margaret Koons and Jimmie Eisenhart were dining at the Hotel de Rex and where Kathryn Portz was a French waiter and chief announcer.

Paderewski (Mrs. Kelly) was the first person announced. She very cleverly imitated Paderewski by going through the motions of playing while the piano graph played the music. She played for all other songs that were sung.

Helen Kane (Allene Riley) came in pulling Axel (Vincent DeNardo) by the hand. Allene then sang "Ain't Cha?" which was followed by a great applause.

The next to appear was King Michael (Eddie Rolin) who came in with a mackerel in his mouth. Following came the Cavine of Russia (Theresa White) who displayed her skill in dancing.

Lloyd Hamilton (Peggy Merrifield), arrived next. Jimmie Eisenhart and Margaret Koons sang, "If I had a Talking Picture of You," after which Piccolo Pete (Peggy Merrifield) danced.

Amos and Andy (John Strayer and Phil Hanlin) appeared next, looking and acting like the real Amos and Andy. The finale included the characters before mentioned and Madame Queen (Jane Habicht) and Ruby Taylor (Doris Campbell), girl friends of Amos and Andy. They all sang "If I had a Talking Picture" as the closing number.

So very interesting and new was the program that many wished to remain to see it over again.

ANCIENT RIVALRY TO EAST ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE IMPROVED GAME.

Having avenged their loss to Three Oaks, the Buchanan cagers will now turn the attention to the "Bucks" and on they should hand Niles a nice trimming, but it will be a tough game.

A preliminary between the two reserve teams will start at 7:30. The Buchanan team has had an off-and-on season, being invincible one game and way off the next.

During the basketball season, the members of this conference are to play at least six games with other members and the school finishing with the highest percentage will receive a trophy. The track championship will continue to be decided at a meet at Niles or St. Joseph. Buchanan won this meet last year by a large score.

The representatives also decided to sponsor a plan of officiating whereby the recent graduates of these schools would gain experience by refereeing the Reserve games. The following list of officials was approved by the committee: Heckathorn, Three Oaks; Eaton and Ackerman, Bridgman; Crittendon, Berrien Springs; Savoldi, Peeples and Wynn, Buchanan.

The following officials represented their school in the conference: Supt. F. C. Reed, Principal Bailey, Bridgman; Supt. C. C. Stuart, Coach Harvey of Berrien Springs; Principal H. B. Vanclassen, Coach Johnson, of Three Oaks; Principal E. H. Ormiston, Coach Bradford, Buchanan.

Buchanan will meet but three of the members of the conference in basketball. The home schedule calls for Bridgman on Dec. 19; Three Oaks on Feb. 6, and Berrien Springs on Feb. 20. The "Bucks" will journey to Berrien Springs on Dec. 5, to Three Oaks on Jan. 16, and to Bridgman on Jan. 23.

The northsiders fail to pull together! Pierce and Knight, gang leaders from Cicero, have a bloody encounter in the vicinity of B. E. S. School officials are conspicuously absent! This massacre nearly resulted in adding two more victims to this week's record.

The Senior English class was waiting peacefully for class to begin when loud voices were suddenly heard down the hall. The next instant the two "Harolds" burst into the room yelling at the tops of their voices and making unintelligent threats and dares. Finally the argument reached such intensity that both boys threw books at each other, each scoring a direct hit. Here the fracas was stopped by a representative of law and order, Mrs. Dunbar, who immediately demanded work.

Of course, the fight was all staged, but it was some minutes before we were able to convince all the members of the class that this was true. The class was then asked to write just exactly what they saw and heard. Various differences were noted which proves that no two people see and hear alike. Some said that neither boy was hit when both were, some said Mrs. Dunbar stepped in between the boys to separate them when the way was blocked, and it was impossible to get past Pierce, and others impoverished conversation that did not occur.

This stunt is an aid in short story writing, the drama, and news writing.

PIOK REFEREE LIST

Schedule of Games is Made Out for Next Year.

Representatives of five Berrien county schools met at Bridgman Saturday and organized a league to be known as the Berrien County Class "C" conference. These five schools are Buchanan, Berrien Springs, Bridgman, Three Oaks and Coloma.

During the basketball season, the members of this conference are to play at least six games with other members and the school finishing with the highest percentage will receive a trophy. The track championship will continue to be decided at a meet at Niles or St. Joseph. Buchanan won this meet last year by a large score.

very practical plans have been suggested. The eighth grade class in English have begun their work in debating. They are very much interested and are going good work.

5th grade—Miss Ekstrom
Wyman Denno and Margaret Brewer are absent with mumps. We are busy making Valentines this week. Some of them will be sent to Mrs. Fuller.

Last week we made little booklets in Art class. For health work we have been counting and recording in the booklets the number of calories and kinds of food eaten.

6th grade—Miss Abell
Feb. 3. We made graphs for Arithmetic. The Racers are ahead of the Speakers. Estella Smith received the Blue Certificate in Palmer Method last Friday.

Feb. 4. Our banking percentage dropped 17 points. The people on the January Honor Roll are as follows: Eleanor Miller, Una Kelley, Spencer Kohlman, Billy Habicht, Dorothy Brown, Ruth Schindler and Vivian Mogford.

Feb. 5. We are starting a Lincoln project. The boys and girls are equal in spelling.

Feb. 6. We made envelopes for Art and made our own designs. The reading circle went down to the library and found some very interesting books.

Feb. 7. We talked about Lincoln. Pupils. Kindergarten News—Miss Ebbert's orchestra now has a regular seating arrangement, just like the orchestra that our brothers and sisters in high school play in.

We're making Valentines for our mothers and the first graders, whom we are going to entertain at a Valentine party next Friday. Several of our mothers came and visited us this week. We're always glad to have our mothers watch us work and play.

Kindergarten—Miss Vandenberg
Leigh Schwartz and Maxine Weaver are back with us again after a long absence. We hope our mothers liked the invitations we made asking them to our party.

We are looking forward to Valentine's Day with happy thoughts. Many of us have already placed our Valentines safely in the letter box. We mean to have a happy party. Be sure and come.

1st Grade—Miss Myers
Donald Wheat is our newsboy for this week. We are glad that Lillian Hartline is able to be back in school again.

We are making Valentines. Group I are ready to start reading in the Field Martin Primer.

line party. Their own postmen will deliver Valentines in the afternoon.

3rd grade—Miss Simmons
The children are reading the story of Abraham Lincoln. Hand work they are making Valentines by cutting out designs from colored paper.

They are making a list of the birthdays of great men that occur in February. They are looking forward to a Valentine party Friday afternoon. Names will be drawn so that every child will receive a Valentine. There may be a pleasant surprise awaiting them.

3rd grade—Mrs. French
In the written spelling test on Friday the following received 100: Ruth Wales, Katherine Mosier, Marie Rudoni, Audrey Ruth, Robert Hollenbaugh, Charles Harris, Alice Kelley, Shirley French, Pauline Decker, Tommy Fitch, Russell Turner, John Meile.

Audrey Ruth's side won in the oral spelling match last Friday. Mrs. Hollenbaugh visited our room last week. In Art some of the boys and girls drew some very nice winter scenes.

Date Simpson's name has been added to the Dental Honor Roll. 4th grade—Mrs. Fuller
We have made a Lincoln sand table this week. In Geography we are studying the North Central States. In connection with this we have made posters representing transportation and farming.

We are glad to have Phyllis Lamb back in school again. We have been enjoying such interesting letters from our teacher, Mrs. Fuller, who is still in the hospital at Lansing.

Not trying the alibi, but the officiating at Bridgman was as clever as we have been for quite a while. Besides refusing to call fouls, (there were two) they even quipped their own decision. The "Bucks" were outplayed but—oh what a game.

This bit of strategy at Three Oaks, was about the cleverest idea we can imagine. And did it take the "Featherbone Five" by surprise? They were as baffled as a detective trying to solve a Chicago murder.

It sorta got on their nerves, too, from the way they were shaking. Meanwhile "Finkle" appeared as though ready to doze off, "Chubby" sat up against the wall twiddling his thumbs and "Tuggie" was studying the printing on the ball.

Louis Morse took it upon himself to make a few points and rather succeeded. Eleven points is a fair score for one who has been playing on the second team.

Several local players journeyed to Notre Dame to see the Irish take a licking and were well rewarded. This Mr. Hyatt did all that was expected of him and a little besides.

Water-viel lost their first game of the season Friday night to Coloma. Well all good teams have to lose once in a while.

More competition in the Short-hand class. The class was again divided last week and the two captains chosen were Allene Walbaum and Elizabeth Montgomery. "Al's" team seemed to be leading last week by a small margin, but "Penny's" team has gained a few points this week and the score is now 380 to 384 with "Al's" team in the lead.

SCHOOL NEWS
Superintendent and Mrs. H. C. Stark and Harold Junior spent the week end in Grand Ledge visiting the former's parents. The faculty are much pleased to learn that Mrs. Alma Fuller, the fourth grade teacher, who has been in St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing some weeks is very much improved.

Monday night occurred the regular grade faculty meeting held in Miss Ebbert's room. General plans were discussed. The teachers of the ward building served delicious refreshments. Our penmanship records are growing by leaps and bounds, and only half the year is gone. There isn't a week but what rewards of some sort are won by the pupils in the different rooms.

This week we entered three children in our grades from Cassopolis schools. Dorothy Stretch in the fifth grade and Robert in the fourth grade and one in the first.

We notice the pupils in the fifth grades are doing some very nice rapid drill work in fractions. The fourth grades are tussling with long division. A little help in the home by the parents or the older brother or sister adds much interest to the youngster.

Mrs. Dunbar, head of our English department in the high school, is in possession of the outline of the work done in each grade during the year in English. By this means Mrs. Dunbar hopes to eliminate any waste of time by the same work being covered by two different teachers.

Last Monday night Mrs. Dunbar gave the test in the Essentials in English to all those who wished to ascertain his grading along this line. Mrs. O. A. Kiefer taught in the fifth grade last Monday for Miss Ekstrom who was absent.

Miss Mae Mills, president of the local W. C. T. U. has asked permission to run the annual contest in our grades some time in the near future. This contest consists of story writing and works in nicely with the regular English work.

Last Thursday the mothers of the second graders were invited to the Ward building where a very instructive hour was enjoyed. The Mothers' Meeting with Wilcox each gave the object to be reached in their work during the year. Mrs. Rex Lamb, the school nurse, also appeared on the program in her usual genial mood and told the parents the steps necessary that the child may acquire a healthy body.

Mrs. Nellie Boone spoke before the teachers last Tuesday night in behalf of the Health and Accident policy in which insurance company she represents. Less than fifty pupils remained in the building during the noon hour at any one day during last week. The children need both the change and the air which both obtain by getting out during the noon hour. The exercise in walking in the fresh air from school is very beneficial to them.

Spring is here. At least the marbles are. The snow and ice do not seem to hinder the game. Member?

Seniors Lead in Inter-Class Leagues
The Senior class teams continued to run wild in the inter-class games Friday. The near-grads regulars walloped the Freshmen, 31 to 2; the under-classesman failing to score a single field goal. In the other first team, game, the Juniors surprised the Junior High by trimming them 19 to 13, in an overtime game.

The Junior High seconds fared even worse and lost to the Senior seconds, 15 to 8. The standings at the end of the 8th week are:

Little Willie and little Susie were spending the day down on Grandpa's farm. Susie went into the hen house and took the next egg away. Willie, in great consternation, went to his mother and said: "Ma, Susie's got the egg that the hen measures by!"

Donald, what did you learn today? asked the mother as her son returned from his first day at school. Nothing. What, nothing at all? Nope, there was a woman there who wanted to know how to spell cat, so I told her. That's all.

QUALITY MICH. ALFALFA CALLS FOR REASON

INSPECTORS ASK REASON FOR EXCELLENT MICHIGAN HAY.

The excellent grade of alfalfa hay from Michigan now being sold on eastern markets started government hay inspectors searching for the reasons for the improvement which has taken place in the past few years.

These officials who wrote to the crops department at Michigan State College were told that the better quality was the natural sequence of the improved methods of hay making which have been demonstrated at 120 places in the state.

The methods recommended at these meetings emphasize the importance of handling the crop to prevent loss of leaves and to avoid damage by adverse weather conditions. The leaves of the plant contain most of the food value, and also, largely determine the market grade of the hay.

The expense of handling hay properly is no greater than for ways which do not result in a good grade of forage, and no more time is required. Modern hay making machinery is adapted for use in making good hay so no extra hand labor is required.

In a letter to the federal inspectors, members of the crops department at the college stated that greater quantities of the best grades of alfalfa could be expected from Michigan as larger numbers of farmers are using the new hay making methods each year.

POTATO YIELDS PROVE BEST IN UPPER PENINSULA

HIAWATHA LAND FARMERS WIN FIRST IN 300 BUSHEL CLUB CONTEST.

Albert Kipfer, Stephenson, won first honors in Michigan in a contest of potatoes grown per acre by producing a yield of 402 bushels in Menominee county last year.

The yield was reported in the contest to determine the members of Michigan's 300 bushel club. Second place went to Alphonse Verschure, Manistique, with a yield of 365 bushels. Mr. Verschure won the contest last year.

The Upper Peninsula residents call their country Hiawatha Land, but it does not seem to prevent the residents from switching their attention from Indian corn to potatoes when the question of production per acre is up for discussion.

The other members of the 300 bushel club for this year are Guy Eppler, Petoskey; Rudolph Klee, Rogers City; Harry Reilly, Bell-sire; Ray Engler, Petoskey; Harry Behling, Charlevoix; H. V. Liskum, East Jordan; A. H. Evers, Petoskey; and Edward Kowalski, East Jordan.

Unfavorable weather conditions held down Michigan potato yields last summer and the crops harvested by these club members were grown under adverse conditions.

While the date of the invention of the locomotive is usually placed at 1825, Solomon de Cause, a Frenchman, published a book early in the 17th century concerning the "pushing of carriages and ships by boiling water and making steam." He was put in an asylum in 1630.

EASY MEASURES STOP THE LOSS FROM GOITER

IODINE COMPOUNDS GIVEN TO EWES PREVENT DISEASE IN LAMBS.

Michigan flockmasters can prevent the occurrence of goiter in next Spring's lambs by feeding their breeding ewes one or two grains daily of either potassium iodide or sodium iodide, according to a statement by animal husbandry specialists at Michigan State college.

The chemical can be fed to the ewes by mixing it with grain or it can be dissolved and poured over salt which is fed to the sheep. Another method of administering the medicine is to mix one ounce of it with 25 pounds of salt and 25 pounds of steamed bone meal.

Care must be taken in mixing the chemical with the salt and bone meal to get an even distribution of the iodide. It is best not to make up to large a quantity of the mixture at one time.

Goiter is quite common in Michigan flocks, the specialists say, and they advise the prevention of the trouble by the treatment given rather than attempts at cure after the lambs are affected with the disease.

It is sometimes possible to reduce the goiter on lambs by painting the swelling with tincture of iodine or with an ointment prepared by combining one ounce of iodine crystals, six grams of potassium iodide, and four ounces of vaseline.

Quality of Mich. Seed Crop Removes Gamble from Clover

The yield and quality of Michigan's last clover seed crop makes it possible for farmers of the State to avoid the gamble of planting unadapted seed from questionable sources, is the statement made by the farm crops department at the Michigan State College.

While ordinary clovers are not expected to last through many seasons, the crop is no exception to the rule of the farm crops department that good seed is cheapest. Inferior seed frequently germinates poorly and is apt to contain mixtures of undesirable weeds.

One Michigan farmer was found during a survey of seed sources who had grown the same strain of clover on his farm for 64 years. Several reported growing the same clover for forty years, and many had produced the same kind for 15 years.

Clovers of this sort have proved their worth for Michigan farms. The survey was made by the crops department to find such strains and to make them available for use throughout sections where they are adapted.

Tests made at the college thru a series of years have proved that seed from certain sources are not adapted to Michigan. Home grown seed of good quality removes most of the element of chance from the business of getting a stand of clover.

SHOW WINNERS FIND PLENTY COMPETITION

GRAIN AND SEED ENTRIES AT EAST LANSING SHOW IMPROVEMENT.

Exhibitors at the grain and seed shows held during Farmers Week at Michigan State College found plenty of competition in numbers of exhibits and quality of entries.

J. W. Pickett, Caledonia, won two sweepstakes and three first prizes on corn. Other firsts on corn were won by William Folks, Hanover; A. P. Shankel, Wheeler; John C. Wilk, St. Louis; Gordon Dickerson, Bloomington; Ralph C. Collin, Mt. Pleasant; Roy Wright, Butternut; E. R. Yorke, Three Rivers; Roy Hobart, Danville; and Farley Brothers, Albion.

John Wilk, St. Louis, received the wheat sweepstakes on a sample of Berkeley Rock. A. W. Jewett, Jr., Mason and Ellis Ad-rich, Fairgrove, won first place ribbons on other varieties of wheat and Mr. Jewett also got the blue ribbon on rye.

First place premiums on barley went to Fritz Mately, Fairgrove; Kenneth Myers, St. Louis; and A. W. Jewett, Jr., Mason. John Wilk, St. Louis, exhibited the best sample of oats in the show and also took first on both pea and kidney beans.

First on red clover seed was won by Joseph A. Bell, Nashville; on alfalfa seed by Albert Dietz, Hawick; on sweet clover by Frank Walker, Chesaning; and on alsike clover by Clifton Sooy, Pompeii.

ATTENDANCE MARK IS SHATTERED AT M. S. C. FARM WEEK

TIDE OF VISITORS SUBMERGED ALL PREVIOUS ATTENDANCE FIGURES.

All previous Farmers Week attendance records were sunk without a trace by the tides of visitors which surged about the Michigan State College campus last week.

Eight thousand people watched the events on the general program at the Thursday evening meeting and one thousand guests attended the Farm Bureau banquet at the same time.

Dairy breed association meetings on Monday brought larger groups than usual to these special meetings and the banquet given by the associations had to be conducted under special rules to take care of the overflow which could not get into the regular banquet rooms.

No partiality was shown by the guests of the college for any one attraction. The only complaint heard was that the number of shows, exhibits, and meetings was so great that it was impossible to see and hear everything on the program.

The State Farm Bureau decided to hold their annual meeting preceding Farmers Week next year to avoid the crowded conditions which they found this year. They will meet at the college during November.

Live Stock Lost In 3 Oaks Blaze

Three horses and one sheep were included in the loss when the barn on the Kirk Roderick farm, three miles east of Three Oaks burned late Sunday night. In addition to the live stock, three tons of hay, a pile of new lumber and several farm implements were destroyed. The family slept through the fire in the farm house near by. The blaze was seen as it was dying down by a neighbor, John Weigandt, as he was driving home from Three Oaks. The loss is estimated at $2,000. Three years ago Roderick lost his home by fire.

At the request of the wife, the officer later destroyed 30 gallons of wine and a quantity of beer.

How Do You Choose? Every time you make a purchase you make a choice. Buying a certain product may be such a matter of habit that you don't realize you are choosing. But the fact remains that in accepting one brand of goods you are always rejecting others; and the satisfaction you get from what you buy depends on the knowledge of quality and value that guides your selection. How do you know which bed sheets, or which roofing material, or which radio will give you the service you require? You can't personally test everything you buy and compare it with all the other products in its class. But there is a way to find out which brand fits your needs. The people who are most successful in their buying—who achieve the highest percentage of satisfaction from the things they own and use—are those who consistently read the advertising columns, and buy consistently advertised goods. Foreign business has remained consistently good for the past 12 months, it is said, but the domestic business is now registering material gains.

ing staged by the Oldsmobile Motor Works at strategic points throughout the country. The dealers were informed that Oldsmobile executives are expecting a good year in 1930 and sales for the first 10 days of January exceeded those for the same period in 1929.

Loan Associations Increase in Spite of Market Crash

Building and Loan Associations of Michigan not only withstood the storm brought on by the stock market crash in November, but actually showed a gain in resources of more than $2,000,000 during the closing quarter of the year, it is shown by figures submitted to H. T. Donaldson, of Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Building and Loan League.

Returns of a canvass made by the league secretary show that 47 of the 69 associations in the state gained $2,084,605.57 thereby bringing total assets of all associations to approximately $167,000,000.

It was feared that the heavy withdrawals made necessary by the stock market situation would cut into the assets to a certain extent, but the continued building up of the investment of small shareholders far more than balanced the withdrawals. All associations showed slight gains, and some increases totaled over $150,000.

"The drain was the most severe that financial institutions have felt in years," Mr. Donaldson states, "and the fact that building and loan associations not only held their own, but moved ahead proves their stability."
