BOMBING REMAINS MYSTERY

Now Here's
the Proposition

The Injured Were Picked Up By A Passing Motorist
Bill Haws

When gentlemen imbibe rejuvenators.
Like whiskey straight or rum or barley beer.
Then blithely step on the accelerator
And head their limousine into a tree.
When guys who played around until the dawning,
While flinging of the light fantastic heel.
Fall suddenly to gaping and to yawning
And grab a little shut-eye o'er the wheel.
It's time the passing motorist was coming—
In fact, it's time he was already here—
To scrape them from the fences
They'll be gunning
And pay the tribute of a passing tear.

When goofy boys refuse to see the stop signs,
But bear down on the gas and sail right through.
Or speed, regardless of the traffic cop's signs.

To see how much the darn old tub will do:

When lovers breezing on in joy seraphic
Take both hands off the wheel to hug their mates,

All blissfully unconscious of the traffic.

The while their bus is doing forty-eight.

The passing motorist is right behind them
To gather the remains from out a tree.

Or any other place that he can find it in—
And ship them to their families C. O. D.

When sappy mutts would stage a demonstration
To show how they can light a cigarette

While scorching down the road like all creation.

And never even wobble or upset:
When road hogs drive three feet beyond the middle

Or else decide the highway is too small

And flop around like fleas upon a griddle

While doing all they can to keep it all.

When drivers gaze about while idly gassing

And pointing scenic features with their fin.

It's time the passing motorist was passing

To shovel up the wrecks and haul them in.

ELMER WEAVER
SON PIONEER,

Death Comes After an Illness of Only Four Days.

FUNERAL ON TUESDAY

Elmer Weaver, 80, resident of the Buchanan district during his entire life and the son of Jacob Weaver, Sr., a pioneer settler of lower Michigan, died at his home on Lake Street Sunday afternoon, death being due to a stroke of apoplexy, following an attack of influenza which first affected him Wednesday.

He was born April 13, 1849, on the old homestead six miles north of Buchanan, the eldest of a family of six sons and two daughters born to Jacob and Orpha Weaver. He attended the Wagner school and in 1870 married Cathie Diana Rouse, who preceded him in death, as did also three children, Ella, Emma and Arvada. He later married Mrs. Susie Rouse, the widow of Allan Rouse, who survives him.

He lived on the old homestead until 10 years ago when he moved with his wife to the Lake Street home where he died. He had long been affiliated with the Brethren Church. He is survived by his widow; by three brothers, Emanuel of Hart, Jacob of Buchanan, William of Berrien Springs; by two sisters, Mrs. Henriett Beckwith of Benton Harbor and Mrs. Ella McFallon of Buchanan; three grandchildren, Elmer Conrad of Buchanan, Mamie Parmer of Lansing and Laverne Conrad of Buchanan.

The funeral was held from the Christian Church at 2 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Jarboe, visiting evangelist of the Brethren Church, in charge. He was assisted in the music by Mr. and Mrs. John Platz and Mrs. Ervin Egleby. Burial was made in the Oak Ridge cemetery.

LOSERS BANQUET
THE WINNERS IN
SCOUT TROOP 41

TROOP TO ENGAGE IN HIKE
AND OUTDOOR PROGRAM
TUESDAY NIGHT

At the weekly meeting of Buchanan boy scout troop No. 41 held Tuesday night in the parlors of the Methodist church, the division of the troop known as "The Bootleggers" losers in the three months contest in scouting just closed, banqueted the "Iroquois" division, the winners in the contest.

Thirteen scouts and six officers sat down to the luncheon board which consisted of root beer, sandwiches and salads.

Those who served the banquet, members of the losing Bootlegger division were: Edward Rolen, leader; Robert Blood, Robert Watson, August Topash, Max Lister and Clarence Rice. Members of the winning Iroquois division were: Louis Javing, leader; Lowell Bachelor, George Spatta, George Remington, Lester Beadle, Donald Roti Roti and Donald McLeod.

Scout work at this week's meeting was confined to knot-tying tests, at which the troop is becoming most proficient.

Another contest will be held by the local troop, which will possibly be started within a week.

An outdoor program and hike will be held at the next meeting of the troop next Tuesday night. All scouts are requested to be present equipped for hiking, at seven o'clock instead of 7:30, the usual time for starting the meetings.

Scout Troop No. 42
Wants Old Papers

Scout Troop No. 42 is a young and growing troop. Their advancement is both pleasing and commendable. They are in need of much equipment and also their uniforms which is the distinctive mark by which scouts can be recognized when on duty. Scouts are required to earn their own uniforms but there is not much work scouts can find to do. They, the scouts of Troop No. 42, have a plan in which they seek the cooperation of Buchanan citizens. In order to create a fund out of which suits and equipment will be purchased, they will gather up old newspapers, magazines or paper of any kind. Please save your paper for the scouts who will call for it in the near future. If you have paper you wish to dispose of, call Rev. J. L. Griffith, phone 144, scout committee man.

Palmer Farnsworth, Jr., was best man for his brother. The ushers were Charles Fraser Redden Jr., brother of the bride, and Jim Jones of Atlanta.

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception and bridal supper at the Piedmont Driving Club.

After a wedding trip to the Caribbean, Mr. Farnsworth and his bride will live in Augusta, Ga.

MRS. STRAYER
GIVES TALK ON ADOLESCENTS

Says Teacher Often Has
Key to Future of Children.

URGES CO-OPERATION

Scholarship Fund of P.T.A.
Transferred to the General Fund.

That the high school teacher in many cases has greater influence over adolescent boys and girls than their own parents have, and is consequently in an advantageous position to influence them, either for right or wrong, was the main thesis of a very interesting talk by Mrs. J. C. Strayer before the P.T.A. Monday evening on the subject, "The Adolescent Child."

Boys and girls of high school age are particularly liable to unexplainable departures from the normal in conduct, due to the unsettling influence of rapid physical changes, according to Mrs. Strayer, and they require special patience and consideration.

Body functions and the nervous system may both be temporarily deranged during the adolescent period and the behavior consequently influenced. Mrs. Strayer pleaded for careful instruction in matters for adolescent health and conduct as a part of the school system.

The remarks made by Mrs. Strayer were endorsed by Principal E. H. Ormiston, who stated that many of the worst problems of the school solved themselves automatically when teachers and parents got together in conference.

Mrs. Velma Dunbar of the high school English department was called on for a talk on the manner in which high school social activities are controlled. Mrs. Dunbar stated that all class and all-school social functions are held at the high school building. No class party is held without full consideration of all plans and expenditures with the class sponsor. In the case of all-school parties, the entire faculty attends. The main problem is what occurs after the students leave the high school building, when they are beyond faculty control.

Mrs. Paul Wynn read the P.T.A. creed, and Mrs. Josephine Kelley gave several fine piano selections.

At the business session preceding the program, it was moved and carried without a dissenting vote that the scholarship fund of $25, which had been standing several years unused be transferred to the general fund, to be used in the annual "summer roundup" which the P.T.A. is conducting in behalf of the health of preschool children. This fund was raised through a dance recital given here several years ago by Mary Grace Mohr, South Bend dancing instructor, and at that time was set aside to be used in collaboration with the College Club scholars fund.

It would appear that the meetings should continue longer than next Sunday, but since Evangelist Jarboe's time is limited, the meetings will close Sunday evening.

Last Sunday's record showed the attendance over the top, but let it be higher next Sunday. Let everybody be on hand to be counted in the Sunday School. Come and let us make next Sunday the best day of the revival. Bring your friends along. Allow no visitors to detain you at home, bring them with you.

Services each evening promptly at 7:30, except on Sunday at 7.

Written Music Notes
Used by M. Cathcart
Donated to Museum

A recent donation to the Three Oaks Museum of old time band music, written by hand by O. B. Leisher, pioneer leader of Buchanan bands, is of interest in connection with the article on band history printed in the Record last week. Miss Nellie Cathcart possessed a set of music scores for schottisches, quadrilles and polkas, written for violin and cornet by Leisher and used for years by her father, Marvin Cathcart, who came to Buchanan in 1865 and played for years in a band organization here. Cathcart played a B-flat cornet, and used the notes when playing in orchestras and dances, oftentimes in steamboat excursions on the St. Joseph River.

Revival Series at Church of Brethren
Attracting Crowds

The interest in the revival at the Church of the Brethren still continues through the second week.

People come from long distances and the church is taxed to its limit with those who are interested in hearing the old-time gospel. The churches of the town and community round about are represented time after time. Already there has been some confessions. Many more are expected. A total of seventeen converts had come forward by Tuesday evening.

It would appear that the meetings should continue longer than next Sunday, but since Evangelist Jarboe's time is limited, the meetings will close Sunday evening.

Last Sunday's record showed the attendance over the top, but let it be higher next Sunday. Let everybody be on hand to be counted in the Sunday School. Come and let us make next Sunday the best day of the revival. Bring your friends along. Allow no visitors to detain you at home, bring them with you.

Services each evening promptly at 7:30, except on Sunday at 7.

From Crash Injuries

Mrs. Sarah Sherman Maxon resumed her work as director of the local community chorus, and instructor in vocal music here Monday evening, after her recovery from injuries incurred when an engine propelling a snow plow ahead of it struck her car on a switch crossing in Michigan City. Mrs. Maxon incurred a bruised arm and leg.

Her husband, Dr. Maxon, dentist of Sawyer, was critically hurt, and did not show any improvement until last Sunday.

Nothing could be found of the box save isolated splinters. There was no evidence of fragments of iron that might suggest pipe in

Sore Throats And Coughs

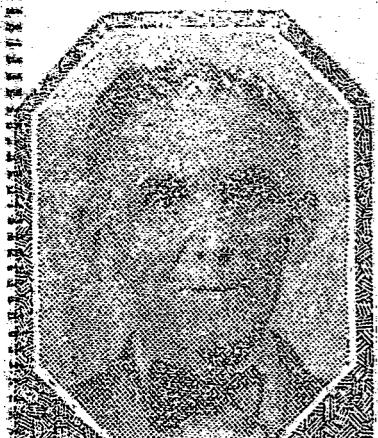

QUICKLY RELIEVED BY THIS SAFE-PRESCRIPTION.

Here's a doctor's prescription that is really throat insurance. Sore or irritated throats are relieved and soothed almost instantly with the very first swallow. About 90 per cent of all coughs are caused by an irritated throat; consequently for most coughs too there is nothing better than the famous prescription—it goes straight to the internal cause. It is put up under the name "Thoxine" and is guaranteed to stop coughs and relieve sore throats in 15 minutes or your money will be refunded. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantly, it contains nothing harmful, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Ask for Thoxine 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by the Wisner Pharmacy and all other good drug stores.

ANOTHER VICTORY OVER RHEUMATISM FOR NEW KONJOLA

NIGHT WATCHMAN PRAISES NEW MEDICINE WHICH GAVE HIM PROMPT AND COMPLETE RELIEF.

"I know from my own personal experience what a wonderful medicine Konjola is, and am very glad to recommend it," said Mr. Gustave Zech, 239 Corrine Street, S. W. Grand Rapids. "I was bothered for years with rheumatism. I am a night watchman, and my work requires me to be on my feet a great deal of the time. This rheumatism in my feet and legs made it very hard for me to do my work, as at times I could hardly get about. I also had stomach and kidney troubles; could not eat without being in agony afterward, and my rest was broken by frequent bladder actions."

"But now I have taken five bottles of Konjola and my aches and pains are all gone. My appetite is better and I can eat almost anything I want. Kidney trouble no longer bothers me. I feel like a different man."

Konjola is sold in Buchanan at W. N. Brodrick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

RIVAL FACTIONS HOUSE OF DAVID AGREE TO TRUCE

WILL DIVIDE PROPERTIES
AGGREGATING NEARLY
$1,000,000.

A truce was finally arrived at between the battling House of David factions, according to information released Saturday, arrangement having been made to divide the assets of the religious colony between the divisions headed by "Queen" Mary Purnell and Judge Dewhirst, the total property to be partitioned aggregating from $75,000 to $1,000,000.

Dewhirst is to retain possession of the House of David at Benton Harbor, "Queen" Mary leaving to set up a separate colony on property allotted to her elsewhere. The terms of division become effective the first of April and are as follows:

Dewhirst gets the old headquarters property on Brittain Avenue and all buildings thereon. Eight Islands, the Australian colony properties and the European hotel on West Main Street in Benton Harbor.

"Queen" Mary gets the big 400 acre Rockey farm near Berrien Springs, some smaller farm properties, and the uncompleted House of David hotel building at Colfax and Elm Streets in Benton Harbor.

Cash said to total $120,000 is to be divided equally between the factions. Each faction is to take such furnishings and personal belongings as they actually own.

Dewhirst is represented by Gore & Harvey and "Queen" Mary is represented by Atty. W. J. Barnard of Paw Paw.

Jury Finds Driver
Death Bus Guilty
Negligent Homicide

John Shane, driver of the Indian Trail bus in which six persons were killed and 14 injured when the corner of the vehicle was sheared off in a collision with a Goodrich Transit Company truck and trailer on U. S. 12 near Twelve Corners four miles east of Benton Harbor on Sept. 8, was found guilty of negligent homicide in the Berrien County Circuit Court on Thursday, the jury bringing in an unanimous verdict after being out four and one half hours.

Judge White granted Atty. Seth Palmer, chief defense counsel, twenty days in which to file motion for a new trial. Atty. Palmer started at once to prepare the motion, assisted by Atty. Charles W. Gore and Arthur W. Leckner. The jury stood S to 4 for conviction on the first ballot, chief consideration being given to the relative speed of the two vehicles.

Fire was discovered under the floor of the kitchen during the previous afternoon and the Baroda fire department was called. The firemen were not able to reach the house by truck due to bad roads, but carried chemicals a quarter of a mile to the residence. Believing the fire had been extinguished, they left, but the family did not sleep in the house that night. Mrs. Zielke and her three year old son going to a neighbor's house and Zielke slept in his car outside the house. He awoke about 4 a. m. to see the smoke pouring from the house, and shortly afterwards it was burned to the ground.

The body of Edgar James Cooper, St. Joseph World War veteran, who was drowned Dec. 15 in the St. Joseph River near the Benton Harbor pumping station was found in about 18 inches of water in the mouth of Hog Creek, a short distance from the station. The body of Capt. Joseph Donnellan, World War flier, who was killed in an airplane crash at Chicago Friday, was interred with military honors at Benton Harbor Monday, with a large attendance of veterans of foreign wars.

Fire was discovered under the floor of the kitchen during the previous afternoon and the Baroda fire department was called. The firemen were not able to reach the house by truck due to bad roads, but carried chemicals a quarter of a mile to the residence.

Probable Entrant in Gubernatorial Race
Twin City Mar. 18

Opening guns of the gubernatorial campaign may be heard in Benton Harbor on March 18 when Attorney General Wilbur M. Brucker, probable Republican candidate for Governor, will speak before the Exchange Club.

Brucker hinted in a speech at Saginaw three weeks ago that he would probably enter the race for the office which Governor Green now occupies and will probably leave without a contest to seek higher honors.

coats. He had thick, chubby hands which performed the most dazzling feats on the piano. It follows that you are all agog to hear this "Joyeuse Marche", which was beyond the prowess of the students for whom Chabrier wrote it—and which he thereupon arranged for orchestra.

On the same program is Schubert's Symphony No. 8, called "The Unfinished." Schubert's history is doubtless well enough known to music lovers. Yet, when the announce crystallizes the extraordinary personality of Schubert in his word picture, his poverty, his hunger, his gay, brave spirit which soared above his despair—a deep sympathy and understanding settles on you as you wait for the opening chords of that moving melody, which we know as "The Unfinished Symphony."

Every one of the great composers, whose works figure on the programs of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra radio concerts, are recreated in word picture for the moment preceding their composition. How much greater is the grip which Tchaikowsky's Birth Symphony has on our senses when we realize the anguish and suffering which Tchaikowsky experienced during his creation of this work. How eagerly we listen to Rimsky-Korakow's themes of the sea, when we know that the great Russian composer was a naval officer before he devoted himself Brodrick, druggist.

Mrs. Winch Tells Another Methodist Story by Request

Here's to the lady who asked for another Methodist story. This story was heard from the chaplain himself.

A lady wrote the chaplain of a regiment in France that her church was going to send him a box of things to eat and an afghan. He showed the letter to his colonel who said, "We don't want an afghan, we have too many mascot animals now." In due time the box came. The afghan was just a shawl made of squares sewed together. The accompanying letter was from the far south where he grew up. Each square it read, was a prayer; steady and prolonged from its maker for the soldiers in France. A Methodist congregation of ladies had each made one square. A request too, was made that the afghan be at once placed over the sickest soldier that the chaplain knew. So it was done. The chaplain said the man began to get better and entirely recovered. Later the chaplain was in charge of our M. E. church "south" in El Paso, Tex.

Our son, Will R. Winch, for several years was a newspaper man. Then he established himself in the "Wigwam," a picture show theater, in El Paso. In 1911 Rollin and I visited him and his wife. We arrived in El Paso the day after the Revolutionist Villa had shot up and taken possession of Juarez, the Mexican city across the Rio Grande from El Paso. Six persons had been shot in El Paso the day before by scattered bullets, vicarious victims.

The Juarez houses, shot full of holes, were filled with the wounded, dying and dead. Even the old Spanish mission church, nearly 200 years old, was perforated like the cover of a pepper box. We made a round, street car trip, through the shattered town. Mexican revolutions are a riddle of the sphinx. Yet, "out of husks comes the corn" Although Fort Bliss lies within gun shot of Mexico with thousands of soldiers, El Paso was silent that day. There was a mystical hush, a phantom stillness as of unspoken prayers.

Rollin and I notwithstanding war's alarms, had a heart to heart visit with Will, who was giving us the long coastal trip, and Laura, his wife, who made our stay a joy never to be forgotten. Then we passed through the pass, El Paso, at the southern tip of the Rocky Mountain range almost on the bank of the Rio Grande.

From there to the gulf, 900 miles away, this river of song and story, separates the United States from Mexico. Through long stretches of desert sand our train sped on, down, downward, until more than three hundred feet below sea level.

again mobilized at Fort Bliss. Only a lull in the storm. Then Congress cast her lot with the allied powers in "a war to end war." El Paso passed the Red Cross to the front. One hundred thousand surgical pads were asked of the local Circle, 120,000 were sent. Several thousand women of El Paso were the banded sisterhood who ran the gauntlet of food deprivation and sewed and knitted garments in Red Cross circles.

No one seemed to know how to cut, sew, dye or assemble rags for rugs. They were wanted for bathrooms and sleeping porches. Advertisements did not bring response. But a weaver was found. I knew how and took charge. Making carpets was an indoor pastime in Buchanan in the early days when everybody had one or more. The Red Cross circle sold all it could make utilizing the pieces left of soldier's pajamas. The gift house of logs, picturesquely to a degree, was a strong money maker for the Red Cross. It would take a chapter to tell about it. Perhaps, however, I may tell my friends, if any are left, that after I was 7 years old I was given a Red Cross medal for more than 1000 hours of work.

I must get back to Buchanan. I have wandered far afield. In the 1850's we in Berrien county, knew nothing of pink teas, bridge or college clubs, but we could make a button hole or a rag rug. A "rag rug bee" was an occasion. They were frequent, friendly, neighborly gatherings. Here is a typical "supper" at one of them: raised biscuits and butter, dried beef, a sauce dish of maple syrup or preserves, pie and tea, a good lady-like repast even though it is a bit old-fashioned.

Charley T. "You Got the Best o' Me"

Editor Record,
I am thankful for the correction offered to my statement that David Treat was first station agent in Buchanan. It also refreshes my memory what had been the disposal of the old passenger house. But is my memory wrong in that the building was left on the right of way and therefore not salable? I once took a trip to Detroit to see Mr. Ledyard only to learn that the Michigan Central never sells.

I am reminded there was another error in my letter in that I said it was "Charley" Okemos who taught David Seidmore the art of trapping. The Ottawa chief was known as "Johnie."

It is said that "to err is human" although there is quite a colony of people in Buchanan who never err, but they are all domiciled in Oak Ridge.

Charles Treat and I are quite closely related. His mother was a sister to my brother's wife, the daughters of Louis Baker, Sarah and Mary Baker. It has occurred to me that a gathering of the relatives of the Treat brothers, George and David, of Louis, Stephen, Hirsh, George and Charles Baker, Willis and Amarette Rose, S. W. Levi, John and William Redden and Daniel Holmes, would make a family reunion worth mention. These people are practically one family, being married together in about all directions.

lowest freight cost, all things considered, of any similar producing for section anywhere.

Distribution of Michigan fruits for the season of 1929 (carloads): Illinois, apples, 1837, grapes 1607, pears 206, peaches, 216; Indiana apples 157, grapes 34, pears 5, peaches 72; Iowa, apples 34, grapes 29, pears 8, peaches 23; Kentucky, apples 15, grapes 41, pears 4, peaches 15; Michigan, apples 728, grapes 256, pears 44, peaches 111; Minnesota apples 63, grapes 142, pears 8, peaches 4; Missouri, apples 5, grapes 202, pears 5, peaches 28; Ohio, apples 220, grapes 326, pears 29, peaches 38; Tennessee, apples 7, grapes 15, pears 0, peaches 8; Wisconsin, apples 433, grapes 577, pears 63, peaches 41; total 774, per cent of crop marketed in 10 states, apples, 82; grapes, 92; pears, 84; peaches,

In view of these basic factors the Michigan fruit industry, as exemplified in Great Lakes Fruit Industries, Inc., controlling both fresh and canned fruit production with a standardized pack of uniform quality of fresh and canned fruits, grape juice and by-products, is presented an unusual opportunity. In fact, with the proposed combination of fresh fruits and canned fruits in the Great Lakes Fruit Industries, Inc., the Michigan fruit grower will have an unusual and striking advantage over any competitor from any other section of the country, since he will have an unusually diversified line of fresh and canned fruits which he can offer to the consumer every day in the year—fresh fruits from June to January and canned fruits from June to June of the next year, all under one label, so that the consumer can always find Michigan fruits on the shelf in the grocery in one form or the other. Strawberries, cherries, black raspberries, red raspberries, Kieffer pears, peaches, plums in cans, and apples, peaches, habits. In other words, Michigan fruit in cans will help sell fresh fruit in its marketing season and vice versa, and the slogan "Nature's Flavor" makes Michigan "Flavor" will come to have a real meaning in the consumer's mind.

A la mode

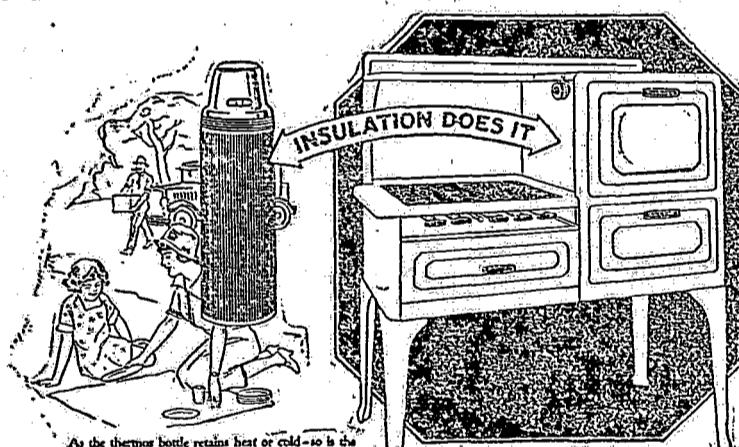

Paris sets the styles in women's dress for the world. London is the arbiter in matters of dress for men. But, New York and Chicago, Boston and San Francisco and hundreds of smaller cities and towns throughout the United States may know what are the latest styles even before they are shown in Paris.

A seeming paradox, but true. Merchants maintain representatives in Paris, London, Vienna and other European style centers who cable the latest news of the modes, and ship samples long before they are sold abroad. In America, the news is translated into advertisements and printed by local newspapers throughout the United States. And so, American women are able to dress in the latest styles in dress more accurately than the women of any other country on the face of the globe.

Advertising keeps you abreast of the times in other ways. It tells you of the newest and best in every line of merchandise. It keeps you posted on what other people are doing and wearing and using. Read the advertisements. They are truthful and helpful. You can depend on their accuracy, for the reputations of the merchants sponsoring them guarantee their integrity.

Insulation Keeps Ice Cream Frozen—
What Would It Do to Your Gas Range?

It's the Insulation That Does It!

Vacuum is a splendid insulation that keeps heat away from cold and adds new comforts and conveniences to daily life.

The same principle applies to the Round Oak Gas Range with FULL INSULATED (Thermosulated) oven.

The oven is completely blanketed by a robe of thick felted rockwool—full of tiny dead-air cells that form a solid wall against heat and cold. The Thermosulated oven keeps your kitchen cooler and more comfortable and makes baking cheaper by holding more of the cooking heat WITHIN the oven where every degree can do its work.

These with other new, unusual features such as two Double-Action full cooking or simmering burners, concealed manifold, rounded, dirtless corners, removable porcelain oven linings, and regulator and lighter as standard equipment—make the new Round Oak Gas Range the outstanding value of the day. When you purchase WITHOUT INTERFERING WITH YOUR PRESENT MONEY PLANS—personally come in and see this remarkable gas range with the features you desire to enjoy. May we expect you in tomorrow?
