House Cleaning
BI HAWS

Now Mae and Alicia join the militia. Everything wearing a skirt. Buns domesticity, home-like facility. Waging a war upon dirt. The house to the attic has gone Democratic. Home life is something that ain't. I amble down town for a place to sit down. Without getting halfsoled with paint. But I'll sit on the table or where I am able. And eat from the stove with a spoon. And I try not to swear when I fall over a chair. Though the place is hell let out for noon. I will slap on the paste to the queen's very taste. And try to fit in with their plan. And rise in the dawn from my bed on the lawn. I know I am only a man. So I'll labor and tug and belabor the rug. Anyhow that house cleaning is fun. But I beg on my knees that you spare me that wheeze. "Won't it look nice when it's done?"

Grange Advocates Uniform Texts in Schools of State

Rural school students are greatly handicapped in surviving final seventh and eighth grade examinations by the fact that there is no uniform series of text books, and that the questions may be based on text books which the pupils have not studied, according to representations made before the Warner Grange. Friday evening the Miss Dorothy Clark and Mrs. Fina Long Derflinger, local rural teachers who led the discussion on educational matters.

At the conclusion of the discussion a resolution was passed to be presented at the next regular meeting of the Pomona Grange requesting uniform text books throughout the state.

The necessity of the final tests for seventh and eighth grade pupils of the rural schools was also discussed. The agitation for doing away with the tests is not well founded, according to Miss Clark, who stated that at present the tests are the only check on the character of the instruction given in the rural schools, and that while the great majority of the rural teachers are competent to conduct their work it is necessary to have some check on the chance of occasionally incompetent work.

Shop Employee Says Garden and Chicken Are Anchors to Windward

Another Buchanan man who wields a hoe on spring and summer evenings to render a little aid and comfort to the pay check when it becomes, for one reason or another slightly anemic, is W. Delibac, of East Fulton Street.

Delibac believes in keeping a keeping a couple of anchors to windward in the form of a three-rot garden and a couple of dozen egg foundries in the form of Turkish Giant hens. "When other fellows were on short commons, I was getting by all right," said Delibac, "but it was a garden and chickens that put me on the safe side. I own my own home and so had no rent to pay. I had 25 bushels of potatoes in the cellar from my little patch. And I had fresh garden stuff all summer and even all the tomatoes we could use for the winter, as well as other vegetables."

The only trace left was the track of the truck on which they were loaded. No one stays at the farm nights, a caretaker being in charge during the day.

SAM BUNKER TO CELEBRATE NATAL ANNIV. SATURDAY

86 YEAR OLD CIVIL WAR VETERAN ACTIVE AND IN GOOD HEALTH.

Sam Bunker, one of Buchanan's five surviving Civil War veterans will celebrate Saturday, March 29, on the completion of 86 years of life, of which almost all have been spent in and near Buchanan.

Bunker was born in Medina County, Ohio, on March 29, 1844, and came to Buchanan with his parents when five years old. His father, Abraham Bunker, bought 137 acres of timber land just across the River Street bridge, in which was then unbroken wilderness. He acquired with it the log house still standing just across the river, and lived there with his family several years. In 1863, as a boy of 17 Bunker enlisted as a bugler in Co. K, Eleventh Michigan Cavalry, serving the duration of the war. During his entire service he was in the army of the Cumberland, in the vicinity of Richmond and Washington, D. C., and served in many engagements.

After his discharge from the army he returned to Buchanan, and was engaged in factory work here until his retirement a few years ago. He has been a regular attendant at the annual reunions of the Eleventh Michigan. He attended the reunions held in September of last year, being one of the twelve survivors of the original 1200 enrollment and the only representative of his company. He is still quite active and plans to attend the reunion at Jackson this year.

LOCAL QUEEN CANDIDATE IS CHOSEN TUES.

Cecilia Eisenhart is Selected as Miss Buchanan.

SIX GIRLS ENTERED Miss Leona Bright is the Second Choice of the Judges.

Miss Cecilia Eisenhart was selected as Buchanan entrant for queen of the 1930 Blossom Festival according to best judgment of three outside judges who passed upon six of the city's fairiest in review on the stage of the Clark theatre Tuesday evening.

Miss Eisenhart is a slender graceful maiden of medium height and of brown hair and medium complexion. The last of the candidates to pass in review, she excelled in grace and carriage and in pliancy of face and manner. She is 20 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eisenhart, 208 Lake Street. She was graduated from Buchanan high school with the class of 1928, and studied the profession of nursing at the University of Michigan hospital at Ann Arbor.

The second choice of the judges was Miss Leona Bright, formerly employed as nurse at the Clark hospital and lately employed at a Baptist hospital. The contest was close and the favor of the audience was well divided among the six young ladies entered, all of whom had vociferous champions. The other entrants were: Miss Betty Kollenberg, student at the South Bend Business College; Miss Irene Imhoff, Miss Blanche Proud and Miss Mayme Process, all employees in the offices of the Clark Equipment Company.

The judges of the event were Mrs. A. A. Rosenberg of Benton Harbor, Samuel Beeler of Syracuse, N. Y., John Erskine of Benton Harbor.

The committee of ladies in charge of arrangements sponsored a bridge party later which netted about $20, attendance being limited on account of the stormy weather.

March 20, 1885, 4 degrees below; have had no general thaw yet, still winter in dad came-t.

Buchananites Urged to Enter Production of Luck Talisman

The production of rabbit's feet ought to be a lucky industry, and it is, for the rabbit producer, according to St. Clair Couzens, representative of a rabbit packing company who spoke before an audience of farmers at the Wagner Grange hall Monday evening.

Like the great swine packing industry, the more recently developed bunny industry claims to base its success on the fact that it has developed a market for "everything except the squeal," and as there is not much squeal about a rabbit that does not count. The packing company has found a market for rabbit feet at 12-15 cents apiece, mainly among the negroes of the south, who place great faith in the luck-inducing properties of that talisman. Mr. Couzens himself were one as a watch charm. The main asset is the meat, for which there is rapidly developing demand, so that the entire output of the Dundee packing plant is bought by the Detroit and Toledo markets alone, and they need an additional production of 1,000,000 rabbits this year. The company uses the pelts for manufacture of fur coats which they sell at their own fur stores in several Michigan cities. It has been discovered that the ears are valuable for the manufacture of glue, and a special market has been developed for the droppings which carry a higher nitrogen content than any other fertilizer on the market.

The company sells breeding stock to its patrons at $25 per head and then contracts the offspring at 25 cents a pound. The rabbit has a gestation period of one month and the offspring grow to a six pound size, which is considered most desirable for the market, in three months.

Shopmen Receive Honorary Mention For Careful Work

The following complimentary reference to the record of two employees at the local Clark Equipment Company plant is taken from a house organ printed for the employees of that company: The Clark Equipment Company of Buchanan calls attention to two of their employees who have proved conclusively that they are safety minded. Fred Ashby has worked for 25 years and Fred Gathrop has worked for 23 years without loss time from injury and without receiving medical attention for that cause. We imagine it is just as easy for those men to carry on without mishaps as it is for other men to work in careless fashion, and they certainly deserve honorable mention.

HIGHWAYS

BLOCKADED 36 HOURS

Plows are Unable to Clear Roads of the Heavy Snow.

NILES ROAD IS OPEN

East Bound Trains on Michigan Central Running Six Hours Late.

Automobile and rail traffic are returning to normal today after 36 hours of interference due to a 36 hour blizzard which set in Tuesday night and continued all day yesterday.

Highways in all directions were reported to be in worse condition than at any time last winter and were closed all day, with the exception of M-60 to Niles, due to the fact that the county and state snow plows found difficulty in handling the heavy wet snows. A light traffic succeeded in reaching North Bend by way of Niles and reported the roads to be open to the state line, but in bad condition on the Indiana side. A few cars managed to travel the Berrien Springs road, the snow plow having partially opened that highway. All traffic was stopped between Buchanan and Galien, where snow plows were stalled in an attempt to open the road. A number of cars and commercial trucks were reported to be stalled all day on that stretch.

East-bound trains on the Michigan Central were running from four to six hours late, due to traffic entanglement on the 20-mile stretch of Illinois Central tracks out of Chicago where the electric service was tied up by the ice which obstructed the interlocking current.

Between 12 and 18 inches of snow fell on the level throughout this section. Temperatures ranged about 25 degrees above throughout the storm and no distress was reported.

All rural mail routes have been blocked by snow for the past two days rendering delivery impossible.

B. & P. W. Club Banqueted Monday At 4 Flags Hotel

The regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Niles was held in the Four Flags Hotel, Monday, March 24. The meeting was preceded by a 6:30 dinner, during which time three gifts from the music department of the Niles high school rendered several selections.

The program committee for April was appointed during the business session and the following compose this committee: Wilma Boone, Alta Rouse, Gladys Dumbolt. The committee for table decorations for the April meeting consists of Belle Landis and Edna Hall.

A special meeting will be held May 5th, at which time the club will celebrate Mothers Day. Each member is requested to have with her at this meeting, her mother, or in case this is not possible, some mother.

After the business meeting the club members very much enjoyed a travel talk and movie pictures of Africa presented by Mr. Barber of Niles, who on his trip through Africa took pictures of things which were of most interest to him and which certainly were of interest to those who saw them. Mr. Barber presented the pictures in a very delightful way, by first giving a short talk on the film about to be shown, and then explaining the different scenes as they were shown on the screen.

Lights Cigarette; Ignites Gas Fumes

The fire department was called Sunday evening to the Gaffill Oil station to extinguish the flames started when a truck driver ignited gasoline fumes by lighting a cigarette while the station operator was filling his tank. The flames burned over the rear part of the truck where the gasoline had overflowed from the tank, but had been extinguished by the use of chemicals without material damage before the fire truck arrived.

Barrymore Profile Rivalled by Voice in Talking Drama

The perfect screen voice, like the perfect screen face, is probably the one that gives the least trouble to its owner under any conditions. That voice has been discovered.

John Barrymore, great lover of stage and screen, who makes his talking picture debut as the star of "General Crack," Warner Bros. all-talking Vitaphone special at the Ready Theatre Sunday next, with a special midnight show on Saturday, March 28th at 11:15, is the possessor of a perfect screen voice, according to Alan Crosland who directed the picture.

The voice registers with smoothness and resonance, and that technical finesse which so many talking film players lack.

Mr. Barrymore exerts a vividly colorful role in this romantic tale of adventure in eighteenth century Europe, while the cast includes Marian Nixon, Lowell Sherman, Hobart Bosworth, Armida, Philippe de Lacy, Jacqueline Logan, Otto Matteson, Andres de Segura, and many others. Walter Anthony did the adaptation of the George Fredry novel.

Also announcement is made of the coming of the below listed big specials at regular admission price: "The Vagabond King," "Show of Shows," "Happy Days," "Lord Byron of Broadway," "The Girl Said No," "Song of the West," "Burning Up." JOHN HOLMES DESCRIBES THRILL OXEN STAMPEDE

SOME FOOT NOTES ON EVOLUTION FAMILY NAMES OF BUCHANAN.

Editor Record.

To have a thrill is a prevailing passion. One of the most prominent thrills that came into my sweet life was when a yoke of oxen ran away with me. On my father's farm was a thirty-five acre marsh meadow where we got the year's supply of hay, mixture of red top and marsh grass, all moving being done with a scythe. The hay was drawn off by oxen for horses could not navigate on the soft ground. We had a yoke of red steers which were kept in the meadow during haying time, lasting a couple of weeks; they being unhitched each evening and turned loose for the night to forage. When haying was over it came to my task to drive the steers home with the wagon. Every thing went well through the length of a twenty acre field to the opening of the thirty rod lane reaching up to the barn yard, when the steers recognized they were going home and they struck out at top speed. About one third of the way through the lane was a white oak stump in the middle of the lane, cut so low that a wagon could straddle it, when properly guided. The steers managed to strike the stump and the king bolt came out and right there the rear of the wagon, the hay rack and driver suddenly stopped. When I caught up with the rig the steers were standing facing the half wagon, with the yoke turned, to the under side of their necks, in perfect calm. I have seen two or three cases where oxen had the yoke turned but have never figured just how it was done.

The name Ernberger, instead of of "berger" is of a family who used to live in the first house south of Three Oaks, Lake on the cross road leading to the town-line road. There were two other houses on that road, William Burrus and the "Jimmy" Fahlan, the Ernberger and Fahlan loc houses, long since gone. The Fahlan name has been changed by the son, John, to McFallon. Another change was that of John Mergwert, who lived one-half mile west from the Ernberger place. Mergwert worked in the track gang on the M. C. R. R. out from Dayton. He walked to his work and return seven days a week. His fellow workers had trouble in speaking his name so they called him John Biles. After he died his family became Marguerite, from German to the French. A family that was originally Tzobuleisk became Sebasty. Peter English was originally Pierre Anglals.

Dayton was for a long time a fueling and water station for the Michigan Central engines. There was a water tank where the water was pumped from a large well.

There was a mill that will be 80 years old. There were five wood sheds about twenty-five feet wide and about 200 feet long for storing wood, which was bought in four feet lengths and sawed once in two, and that sawing was done with a two-horse tread mill.

There was a widow named White whose husband had been a railroad employee, and was permitted to get her supply of wood from the sheds, and one day when

Practical elements in the planning and financing of home construction and modernization, which the Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., believes should be recognized in carrying into action this phase of the national construction effort, are:

1. The owner should have available for investment either a lot or savings amounting to about 20 per cent of the cost; cost, in turn, should be gauged

Pollution of St. Joe By S. B. Affects Michigan Cities

Following a meeting of Indiana and Michigan League representatives two months ago when the condition of St. Joseph river was discussed, the Indiana Board of Health has recommended that South Bend and Mishawaka, employ competent engineers to draw plans for a joint sewage disposal plant.

The recommendation was made after a thorough investigation of the pollution problem in St. Joseph River by the Indiana State authorities.

A public hearing is being held in South Bend this week on the matter of voting $4,500 to defray the cost of the engineers' survey. It has been generally estimated that a sewage disposal plant would cost $2,000,000.

Pollution from the two Indiana cities directly affects several Michigan cities according to Homer Murphy, head of the Pollution Division of the Department of Conservation. Niles is only eight miles down the river from South Bend and Buchanan, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph are on the same stream.

A sewage disposal plant for South Bend has been agitated for the past three years, and it is believed that something definite will now be accomplished.

The faculty, last year, numbered 330, exclusive of student assistants and administrative officers. Of this number 224 held the rank of full professor, 327 were instructors.

When the University first opened its doors to college students 38 years ago there were seven students. Last year the students numbered 13,769 altogether.

The University of Michigan was the first state University to admit women as students. In fact, it was the first large University to take this step. Last year there were 4,667 women enrolled.

Eighty-three students in the University claim China as their home. This is the largest number enrolled from any foreign country, except Canada. Twenty-six students came from the Philippines, twenty-three from India.

There were 8,984 students registered in the University from the state of Michigan last year. It is interesting to note that some of those who registered from the Upper Peninsula, particularly those in the western part, ordinarily passed through four states in going to and from Ann Arbor.

The five states which had more than 100 students attending the University of Michigan, exclusive of Michigan, were: Ohio, (1026); New York (628); Illinois (604);

Flames Threaten Business Section of Sodus Saturday

The business section of the hamlet of Sodus was threatened by fire Saturday morning, when fire of undetermined origin destroyed a blacksmith shop, dwelling and menaced the entire block of buildings along the north side of the main street. The blacksmith shop was one of the old landmarks of Sodus and was the property of Robert Martin, who also owned the house which was lost. His loss was placed at between $1,500 and $2,000, only a fraction of which was covered by insurance. A bucket brigade, garden hose and a fire extinguisher from the schoolhouse were brought into play to prevent the spread of the flames.

COLLEGE SETS DATE FOR WEEK GARDEN SCHOOL

FLOWER AND VEGETABLE GROWERS STUDY LATEST METHODS.

A one-week course for those people who combine profit and pleasure by growing flowers and vegetables in home gardens will be given by the horticultural department, Michigan State College, March 24-29. Anyone who does not enjoy continuous work had better save the dollar which it costs to register, as the program of the course shows that the students will begin work at 8 o'clock in the morning and will still be going strong in the evening. Both rock gardens and vegetable gardens are included in the course, but the outline of the studies does not state whether or not the rocks are assembled to give the vegetable garden convenient missiles for use on trespassing poultry. Insect control, the use of fertilizers, and proper sprays for plant diseases are other subjects which will be discussed by the instructors during the week. The care of fruit and nut trees are also listed in the study outline.

MICHIGANDERS IN MAJORITY IN SHORT COURSE

LIST OF GRADUATES SHOWS MICHIGAN RESIDENTS USE OPPORTUNITIES.

The list of short course graduates who recently finished their work at Michigan State College prove that the home folks favor this practical scholastic work as only seven of the 137 graduates are not residents of Michigan. The dairy production course was the most popular this year and 22 men received diplomas in that subject. Many of the teachers who work in the state dairy herd improvement associations receive their training in this course. The course in poultry attracts both men and women. Twenty graduates obtained training in modern production methods. Two courses in general agriculture, one of eight and the other of six weeks, had a combined graduation list of 46. Home Economics was not so popular; only two women receiving diplomas in that subject. Studies of the manufacture of dairy products held the attention of 28 students, and 24 specialized in agricultural engineering. The use of power machinery on farms has given impetus to this subject.

Dates Announced For Citizens' Training Camps

The dates for the 1930 Citizens' Military Training Camps have been announced by Philip Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War.

The Infantry Training Camps at Brady and Custer will open July 18th and continue to August 16th. Camp Custer will be commanded by Col. F. L. Knudsen, chief of staff of the 85th division and Fort Brady will be under the command of Lieut. Col. Otis R. Cole. The training camp for cavalry will be held at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, from July 29th to August 27th. The artillery training camp will be held at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, from July 31st to August 29th.

"The popularity of these training camps with both parents and boys," said Mr. Newberry in announcing the dates for 1930, "is attested to by the increasing number of applications received each year. The first of these camps were held in 1921 with a total of 10,000 young men trained for the thirty day period. A total of 38,000 enrolled in the C. M. T. Camps in 1929. The quota for Michigan in 1930 is 1500.

"Each year there are more applicants than can be accommodated. These camps are open to young men from the ages of 17 to 31, but most of the attendants are between the ages of 17 and 21. Enrollment of young men from high schools and colleges is particularly encouraged as it is the desire to have the type of material who will be qualified to become officers. In this connection, there is no obligation whatever on the part of those attending training camps to see service in the army either now or at a later date. Less than two per cent of those attending these camps ever enter the service. However, should it ever be necessary in time of war for these young men to join the service along with other youth of the country, they will be better prepared to meet the conditions that they would encounter.

"Although these camps are designated as military training camps they are really 'good citizenship' training camps. The greatest stress is placed on correct living, correct eating, physical training, and the principles of our government. Wholesome entertainment, properly supervised by officers from the regular army and the reserve is provided. Social functions, under the supervision of women of standing are also conducted. These camps furnish the young men the most wholesome introduction to the outside world that can be given them.

"Those desiring to attend should apply to Philip Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, 3972 Penobscott Bldg., Detroit, requesting information and application blank to be filled out by the applicant."

If a thousand sovereigns were made into a ball and given to the world's champion shot-putter, he could not pitch it a distance of 20 yards.

HAD TO LIVE ON MILK AND CRACKERS NEW DRUGGIST ENT MEDICINE COMES TO RESCUE

MR. ED. WOHLSCHEID

Konjola is, in countless cases, more than a medicine—it is an investment, putting men and women back on the job. Take the experience of Mr. Wohlscheid, 314 South State Street, Saginaw. Imagine his joy when he was able to say:

"Konjola works wonders. It certainly did in my case. My digestion was so bad that I had to live on bread and crackers. I am a painter and there were days when I was too weak to climb a ladder. I was restless at night and was losing weight, strength and vitality. My attention was attracted to Konjola by the many endorsements I heard and read. I decided to try it, and that was the wisest decision I ever made. The first bottle proved that it was on the right road, and five more bottles solved all my health problems. I make this statement hoping that my test for Konjola will lead others to give this amazing medicine a chance. To me there is no medicine on the earth like Konjola."

STEPS that led to the introduction of New ISO-VIS Motor Oil

A GROUP OF MEN were gathered in the research laboratory of Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Before them stood a motor. It had been driven 25,000 miles—the "turn-in" period of the average car. Bit by bit it was taken down. Micrometer measurements were made. In the 25,000 miles of driving it was found that wear on every moving part was far less than normally occurs.

Literally hundreds of these tests were made before we announced New Iso-Vis Motor Oil. Scores of cars of various makes were used. Here are the results:

1. Less than normal wear on every part of the motor.
2. Less carbon deposits (almost 50 percent less than the average of various oils).
3. Effective lubrication at extremes of heat and cold.
4. Absolute proof that New Iso-Vis will not thin out in the crankcase.

You can get New Iso-Vis at all Standard Oil dealers and service stations. Try this better motor oil today.

Juniors to Present "Second Childhood" Friday March 28

MISS HANLIN

DIRECTOR OF

PRESENTATION

Three Act Comedy Promises Much Clever Entertainment.

NINE PLAYERS IN CAST

The three act comedy, "Second Childhood" by Zillah Covington and Jules Simson, will be presented Friday evening, March 28th, in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock. The admission will be 25 cents for children and students and 35 cents for adults.

Miss Hanlin, who is directing the play, has spent much time in coaching the players and as her assembly programs were unusually new and clever, so will the Junior play be exceedingly clever and interesting.

The cast, composed of members of the Junior class, are enough themselves to attract the crowd. With Sheldon Ryan, one of the biggest clowns in school, as Prof. Rylear, and Carl Sanders, Sheriff Johnson, and Robert Dempsey, Judge Sanderson, the humorous part of the play is easily backed. Helen Schmalzreid, Mrs. Wellsmiller and Prof. Rylear's sister, and with Mary Howe as a neighbor, Mrs. Viner, and Virginia Lister, Marulla Burbeck, daughter in law of General Burbeck; Lazell Weaver, Mary Jane Harlicker, Sylvia Helyar, daughter of Prof. Rylear, and Roger Thompson, Philip Stanton, Mr. Rylear's assistant, the cast is complete.

No urging to attend this comedy will be needed for good entertainments bring large crowds without any effort, if you have not bought your ticket, do so at once. They may be bought from any member of the Junior class during the week or at the window Friday night.

Mrs. Tubbs is a poor widow with five children, four of whom she is supporting by laundry work. Nevertheless she is a philosopher and cheerfulness is her creed but her heart goes out to her son Jimmie who ran away. She almost agrees to become the fourth wife or her miserly old landlord, when she learns he intends to place her children in an orphan asylum. She owes for rent, her landlord is going to turn her out.

Come and finish the play March 28. No admission charged, an offering will be taken. Everybody welcome.

"Sophs" to Play

Niles Thursday

A post season basketball game is scheduled between the Sophomore girls of Niles and the Buchanan "Sophs" next Thursday in the local gym. These teams are both the champions of their respective schools.

The Buchanan girls will be hard hit by the absence of Ruth Pierce, star guard, and also because they have had only one practice since the tournament was run off several weeks ago. The strength of the Niles team is not known, nevertheless a scrappy and interesting game is expected. Ten cents admission will be charged.

Grade 3—Mrs. French

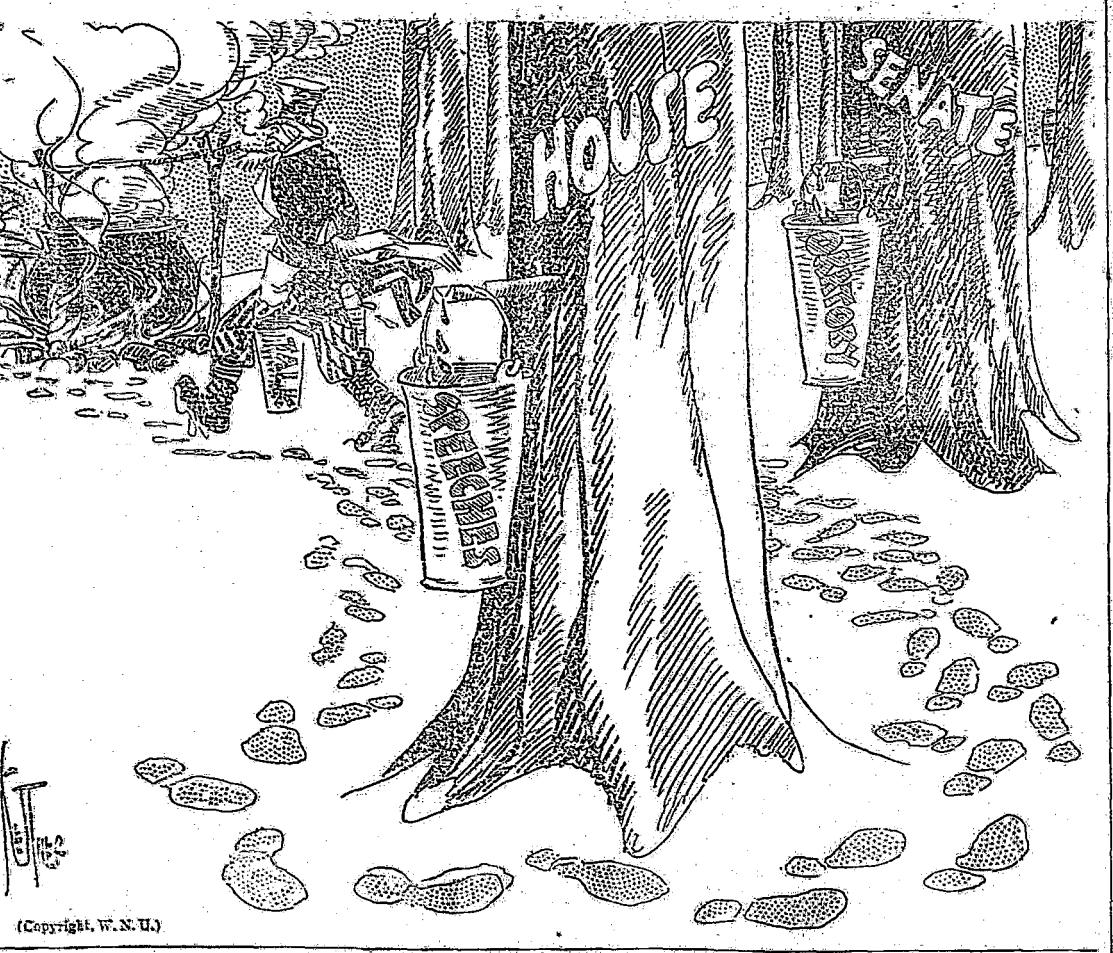

Blendena Everett's name has been added to the Dental Honor roll.

We are glad to have Billy Gregory and Katherine Mosier back after having been absent with the mumps but we are sorry to have Russell Turner move away.

Last Friday we were invited to Mrs. Fischner's room to see some lantern slides. The pictures correlated very nicely with our Geography lessons and it was a real treat for us.

Friday afternoon, after hearing the health talk by Princess Watasa, we wrote letters to her. These were the best letters we have written and showed much improvement in the art of letter writing.

Robert Hollenbaugh and Dale Simpson fixed up a sand table in which to make a Dutch scene and tulip garden. Blendena Everett and Alice Leazenby decorated the outside of the box with green and tiny windmills. The sand table committee was Alta Ferris, Pauline Decker and Mildred Ferris. They selected the best tulips for the garden and made the guests for the pond. Carlton Fletcher made a large windmill out of Bristol board and covered it with blue paper. We have also used our bulletin board to display Dutch pictures, Dutch posters, wind mills and Dutch boys and girls. Violet Weaver had charge of the bulletin board and selected and arranged the things for that.

Grade 4—Mrs. Fuller

Mrs. Fuller visited us Friday afternoon. We are so glad that she was able to start teaching us again Monday.

We had a spell-down Friday afternoon. Rieta Brewer and Dallace Wilson chose sides for the contest. Rieta's side won. John Dimm stood up the longest on the opposing side.

Mrs. Semple Talks

Kindergartners

An informal meeting of mothers of kindergarten children was held Thursday afternoon in Miss Ebbert's room. Mrs. Semple gave a very interesting and convincing talk on "Disobedience and Our Children." Two very entertaining readings were given by Miss Ruth French. At the close of the meeting everyone made an Easter bonnet. Some very prettily decorated hats were made. Light refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Several requests for another meeting of this nature were made. Those in attendance were Mesdames Elliott, Dodge, Humphill, Oscar Swartz, Kremer, McGowan, Hollenbaugh, Briskin, Lamb, Matthews, Pader, Bromley, Swaim, Roberts, Troutfetter, Short, Markham, Phiscator, Morley, Brown, Clark, Jalying, Otwell, Rumsey, Babcock, Resler, Squier, Ferris, Semple, Huff, Richard Schwartz and Mrs. West. Miss Vandenberg and Miss Ebbert acted as hostesses.

Assembly Leaders

Boost School Banking

George Cooper and Harleigh Riley, captains of two of the rows of the high school assembly have made their people bank 100 per cent for the last five weeks. The captains of the other four rows are working hard, trying to make their rows 100 per cent, too.

A special Phi Kappa meeting was held Monday after school for discussion of pins. The meeting was called to order by the president, Richard Zerbe. A discussion followed on the type, price, etc., of the pin. A pin was decided on and it was agreed that the money be paid to the treasurer by Friday so that the order may be sent at that time.

as to be readily accessible to the carriers without the need of their leaving their conveyances. New patrons, that is, those which have not been served by rural carriers heretofore, must provide boxes of the new No. 2 size.

Where traffic regulations or traffic conditions require that rural carriers should keep to the right, boxes must be located on the right-hand side of the road in the direction of the carrier's travel, for it must be remembered that carriers have no special privileges in the use of the roads and must observe traffic laws and regulations.

Patrons are expected to afford the rural carriers every facility in the performance of their duties by keeping the roads open after heavy snowfalls, and by using their influence with the proper authorities to maintain the roads in proper repair. They are expected to keep the approaches to their boxes clear and to open such approaches after snowfalls, so that the carriers will not have difficulty in serving them.

It is a requirement that the name of the owner of each box shall be inscribed upon it, and that the posts or supports of the boxes shall be painted white. It is very desirable that the boxes shall also be kept neatly painted white, the lettering to be in black.

It is of great assistance to the carriers for patrons to stamp their mail before depositing it in the boxes for collection so that the carriers may not have to collect coins from the boxes.—Arch Coleman, First Assistant Postmaster General.

Program Friday

The assembly program last Friday was brought to students by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Their representative was the Princess Watasa or "The Bearer of Happiness" as Watasa means. The lesson she taught was in very interesting form, as it was told with the legend of how the Troquois found health years before the pale face came to America. The lesson was that good health should be obtained by the steady use of sunshine, the body builder and curer, clear water in which to bathe, and good wholesome food.

After the Princess Watasa finished her legend she showed the students some utensils, a rattle, a tom-tom, doll, etc., which she had brought with her. She explained how her dress and beads were made and explained emblems or signs which she wrote on the black board.

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist, (Dr. Stickel) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. You will also find "Corn Fly Root Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.

The Old Timer's Corner

Old Timer Recalls Joys of Childhood In Some Interesting Reminiscences

It seems a real pity to me, that children do not realize what they are passing through. The real joys and sorrows, come to us when we are children, but they pass as soon as they arrive. Things that give complete happiness to us when we are kids, are all there in life for the moment, whether it is joy or sorrow, and then we do not know enough about life to appreciate it. Maybe it is best, that way. For as we grow older and lose that trust in everything and everybody, and see the snares and traps that are set for us, we are looking for them and forget what happiness really is.

As children we are "looking for the moon" and see no reason that we cannot one day visit that place, until that fateful day when we learn the distance to the moon and then all our hopes vanish. We learn our limitations. We are reduced to striving, hoping, fearing, loving and perhaps hating, things to win or to escape, etc. If a person says "I am satisfied" he is a liar or is mistaken or else he is just plain stupid. None of us are really satisfied, except for brief moments.

Children know happiness, for they have no "past" experiences to remind them that this present is only momentary and will also fade and go. When we are older, our experiences step in and caution us not to depend upon anything at all, for mostly all is transitory.

But what fun kids do really have. They find fun in small things and as it was when we were kids, in the 70's and 80's, we had very few things that could be called toys, but we managed to fill in the days and to enjoy every minute of time. There were many things which carried the label "must not" and "do not" etc., same as now, and

DAMAGE TO PEACH CROP WIDE SPREAD

Arkansas, Missouri Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Virginia, and Michigan Hurt.

BLAME HARD WINTER

Washington Hurt; Good Crop Anticipated in Georgia.

Reports coming this week from peach growers in southern Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas indicate that there will be virtually a crop failure over a great deal of the territory this summer as a result of the extreme temperatures during January. Never in years has it been so cold in the Ozark region as this winter, and an examination of the buds shows that they were killed throughout a large part of the peach belt.

Reports from the Kansas City Southern Railroad, agricultural department, are that the crop in the big Nashville-Highland district in southwest Arkansas will be virtually a total loss. The Highland District Fruit Exchange says that there will be some early peaches, also some Elbertas, but it is not able to make an estimate on shipments. Farther north in the same state that same conditions prevail and no peaches of any consequence are expected.

Reports from south central Oklahoma also indicate that peaches were winter killed. Garvin and Seminole counties, where fruit is grown commercially, report that the crop will be a failure this summer.

East Texas peach orchards also have been damaged by cold weather. Some seem to think that there will be a 40 per cent crop in some of the east Texas districts and in some orchards examination has shown 70 to 80 per cent of the buds killed by freezing weather. Other points estimate a 10 to 15 per cent normal crop. General reports indicate a short crop in east Texas this summer.

The peach crop in southern Illinois also was seriously affected by the extremely cold weather. J. W. Cummins, chief fruit inspector of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, has recently made a survey of the fruit crop conditions in that district. The department reports that the peach loss will be extremely heavy and fear is expressed that the cold weather has killed some of last year's growth of wood. Some estimates are as high as an 80 per cent loss to the buds.

Peaches also have been damaged badly in southern Missouri. Reports indicate that with isolated exceptions, the crop has been winter killed in this section also.

Some damage has been done in Michigan by cold weather and also in West Virginia. Georgia, however, has prospects of a fine crop of peaches this season.

H. D. Hootman of East Lansing, extension pomologist at the Michigan State college and secretary of the Michigan State Horticultural Society, was one of the principal speakers at the Grand River Valley fruit growers institute at Grand Rapids last week. He came by way of southwestern Michigan where he made a survey of the peach belt.

Very few live peach buds were found in Berrien county, Mr. Hootman reported, while the Elbertas were shy as far north as South Haven. The southwest corner of the fruit belt experienced temperatures as low as 20 degrees below zero on Jan. 18. Mr. Hootman learned, and the peach buds were blasted at that time. Berrien county's loss in peaches alone were estimated from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

With a very light peach crop in prospect in southwestern Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, Mr. Hootman advised growers in the Grand Rapids section to prune the trees lightly so as to leave as much fruiting wood, as possible. The cold wave did not extend as far north as Grand Rapids and peach buds in this section are still in good physical condition. Barring spring frost injury, the outlook is for a good crop around Grand Rapids.

As far as Mr. Hootman was able to determine in his survey, other fruit buds were not seriously damaged by the sub-zero temperatures. It still is too early to determine whether the cherry buds were injured, but it is fairly certain that other fruits were not damaged, he said.

Macon, Ga.—Buds on the peach trees of middle Georgia are beginning to swell and it won't be long the only fruit in the Yakima Valley that was damaged by the severe freeze in January, a survey of before the usual pink sea of blossoms will be visible along the roadside for miles and miles thru this state.

Thursday evening about 10 o'clock a fire on the roof of the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Blinka, was seen by a neighbor, Glenn Wharton, Ted Kempton and a friend who had been spending the evening at the Wharton home. Mr. and Mrs. Blinka, who sleep down stairs, had retired and it was very fortunate for them the fire was discovered before any greater headway had been made as they had not discovered it until aroused by Wharton and Kempton. Volunteer fighters quickly gathered at the scene in large numbers and soon had the fire under control but not before a large hole was burned in the roof. The origin of the fire has not been determined. The home is about a mile west of New Troy.

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The only excuse for entertaining human opinions and rejecting the science of being is our mortal ignorance of Spirit, ignorance which yields only to the understanding by which we enter into the kingdom of Truth on earth and learn that Spirit is infinite and supreme." (p. 280.)
