Seniors Win in Thriller Valedictory Basketball Game

OVERTIME IS REQUIRED TO DECIDE GAME

Captain Pflugst Stars for the Near Grads with Seven Baskets.

CONTEST HARD FOUGHT

Morse Brothers Lead in Last Minute Rally to Tie the Game.

The mighty seniors, mostly this year's varsity, downed the school All Stars, possibly next year's varsity, at the high school gym Friday night, but it took two overtime sessions to decide the victor.

The near-grads took an early lead, but frequent rallies by the Stars kept them close on the winner's heels. After trailing at the half, eight to three, the Morse brothers started a spurt that finally tied the seniors twenty-two all, at the end of the regular game.

With about a minute to play in the first overtime period, "Stach" Pflugst dropped in a one handed shot close to the basket. A half minute later, however, "Spot" Dempsey, who took "Kee" Shultz' place when "Kee" left the game on personal, leaped into the air and sank a pretty over-head shot.

Pflugst again came through with a short shot in the second extra session, but this time Lauren Morse tied the score with another shot. Then with about five seconds to play, Ralph Pflugst shot a high pass to "Juggy" Pierce down under the basket, and the big center batted it in, giving the seniors a 28 to 26 advantage.

Music Department Presents Program in H. S. Assembly

Miss Olson, music instructor of the school, was in charge of a very interesting assembly program last Friday morning.

The junior high special chorus sang four numbers "Star of the Summer Night," "Song of the Sea," "Alma Mater" and "Now the Day is Over."

The kindergarten band played three folk dances "Bleeding Dance," "Ladita" and "Klapp Dazzen."

The Senior High Girls' Glee Club sang two numbers: "If with all Four Hearts," and "Doan Ye Cry ma' Honey."

Following the special numbers, Miss Olson directed the assembly in community singing.

The program was greatly enjoyed because of its pleasing quality, but because it was along a different line than the programs had been previously.

Gypsy Weather

(Editor's Note. The following poem was written by Marjory Campbell of the freshmen English class.)

Oh, it's fine to be a gypsy when the day is crisp and clear. Fairy horns are calling, calling, from the hillsides far and near.

We'll just build our fires larger, real gypsies would never care. But the snow will soon be coming and the wind is sharp and cold.

It's fine when it's gypsy weather, to ramble on the sea. But when the wind blows loud and strong, it's home sweet home for me.

Buchanan School Pupils Enter in Nat. Marble Meet

At last the youngsters of Buchanan will get a real chance to play marbles, the real kind of marbles where you "knuckle down and hit 'em."

The South Bend Tribune, which sponsors the marble contest in this district, recently announced that Buchanan is to be included in the territory from which the district marble champ is picked.

Any boy 14 years of age and under is eligible for competition and should leave his name with Maynard Post, local manager.

B. H. S. to Meet Niles in Track And Field Sat.

With only two weeks of practice, Coach Harold Bradford will take his B. H. S. tracksters to Niles for the first meet of the season.

All last week "Curly" has had his squad, consisting of several returning veterans from last year and some promising freshmen, working hard to extend their victories over Niles to three sports.

Besides the dual meet at Niles, Coach Bradford expects to enter his squad in a dual meet at Dowagiac, the annual county invitational, and the regional meet at Kalamazoo.

Michigan Wheat Below Ten Year Average April 1

The condition of the Michigan wheat crop on April 1 was below both the ten-year average and that reported for the 1929 crop on the same date, according to the report released today from the office of the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting service. Returns received from nearly five hundred farmers indicate a condition of 79 per cent. The acreage planted last fall is estimated at 368,000 acres. Allowing for average abandonment, there will be 338,000 acres left for harvest this year. On the basis of this acreage and the present condition of the crop, the probable production is now forecast at 12,550,000 bushels or 1,255 million bushels less than that of 1929.

The severe drought last year delayed planting and restricted growth so that the crop went into the winter with a condition average at eight points below average. There was good snow cover throughout the winter until the latter half of February, after which time the ground was bare and considerable freezing and thawing occurred. Some damage has been reported from heaving, principally in the Saginaw Valley section. However, the probable abandonment is anticipated to be only normal in amount for the state as a whole.

The condition of rye in Michigan on April 1 was reported at 81 per cent. This is five points below that of the 1929 crop on the same date. The planted acreage is estimated at 155,000 acres.

The present condition of the wheat crop of the United States is 77.4 per cent. The average planted last fall was estimated at 45,890,000 on December 1. After making allowance for probable abandonment, the production forecast is for a crop of 559,000,000 bushels. If realized, this would mean a crop approximately twenty-eight million bushels smaller than that produced in 1929. The condition of the nation's rye crop is reported at 82.0 per cent. The acreage estimated planted last fall was 3,466,000.

and while protecting their lands or property," according to Hugh B. Green, chief of the law enforcement division.

There has been considerable misunderstanding among sportsmen of the state concerning the gun permit law, Mr. Green said.

To obtain a permit one must first apply to the local conservation officer who will furnish the application blank. The application must list two reliable references, and must state the reason for wanting the permit. When the application is approved by the local officer, it is sent to the district officer and then to Lansing from where the permit is issued. There is no charge. It is important, Mr. Green said, that the applicant print his name so there will be no error in transferring it to the permit.

The permit, he states, is issued to those who wish to shoot predatory animals or birds, or who wish to target practice. Members of the armed forces, the national guard, peace officers, persons assisting of their duties, persons assisting officers in making arrests or preserving peace, enrolled members of rifle or pistol associations authorized to purchase firearms or merchants or manufacturers lawfully possessing or transporting firearms are not required to have permits.

A thespian from 225 to 300 a fall season, but even in the winter, many are employed for a portion of the permit law.

Mrs. Winch Recalls Further Incidents of Civil War Days

I hope the readers of the Record will excuse a garrulous old lady for "out of town" reminiscences. When Rollin and I first went to Kansas City it was an uncouth town, scattered over hills and hollows, "where half the streets ran uphill and all the rest ran down."

It was in Missouri, war torn and half defiant. Kansas, across the state line, had been the pivotal point between free soil and slave territory. We thought of times Buchanan had hoped and prayed and probably sent money to Kansas to shield its people from marauding Missourians. Buchanan was intensely loyal. Many there were of New England origin. New England had sponsored Kansas with money, bibles and sharp rifles. My father, whose New England ancestry dated back to 1634 had fought for freedom of the seas and American sailors' rights in 1812. Seventeen men named Montague were soldiers in the war of the Revolution. Mother's Connecticut origin had woven the fibres of freedom into the warp and woof of my education and belief.

The war of 1861 had decided issues.

Rollin (my husband) had the birthright of freedom as fully ingrained in his ideas as my own. His shell wound, received at Chancellorsville, had not healed. The health and strength of his young manhood had broken in the struggle. Henceforth the struggle would be for a living. We decided to go West of the Mississippi and decide. But how? A soldier's claim or a small place in town, which? His father had been a small farmer, pioneering in LaPorte county. He also was an ingenious craftsman in wood, owning a sort of wooden work factory. Rollin's chief knowledge was of wood, furniture, made and unmade. Before he was born his father's shop furnished the Galien Woods pioneers with spinning wheels, reels, rocking chairs and other articles of industry and comfort. Galien township, although in Indiana, was a part of the Michigan Galien river territory with its brooklet tributaries. Thus it was that when a place was offered Rollin in a furniture wholesale house just from LaPorte, where the furniture was made in parts, we stayed in Kansas City. We pioneered a city as we had pioneered the woods. We grew fond of the town and watched it grow with pleasure, to a beautiful city of several hundred thousand inhabitants.

"Old Timer's" communion with nature on the farm was philosophical and convincingly told. Only I grew up on a farm. I "communed" year after year with the weeds, daisies and nettles in the "open spaces." I gathered chips and wood from the sylvan wildwood, drove the cows out of the corn and hogs out of the potato patch. It was "root hog or die" when hogs lived on acorns, or whatever they found.

Our rail fences were never "horse high, bull strong or hog tight." Our beautiful meadow along the river was often invaded by these animals. There grew the pussy willows, the tiger lilies and there ran a crystal outlet to the widely known Moccasin Bluff spring. This sparkling water, long ago, ran through the maple sugar bush. Here grew the very first spring flowers, green ferns, too, peeped through belated snow flurries.

"Farming," E. W. Howe says is the "graded school of civilization." In the "grades" are the hard to learn multiplication tables, long division and cube root. But they are the sure foundation. Broken fences, brachy cattle nor hard work, need hide back in the pulpit, the glides of blue flag or the moccasin flower, the orchid of our own Michigan woods. Flowers adorn the bride and memorize the dead. They refine the home and the gathering or cultivating of flowers is restful. Once I visited Buchanan unannounced. The first greeting I had was from a lilac bush near the depot. I was home. I was welcomed by a life-long friend whose fragrant memory was a welcome.

Among the interesting things I read today in the Record was that the weed-grown, hilly, stumpy, farm where I grew up, Moccasin Bluff, is to be a park. Picturesque, yes; never profitable. Through three generations of Montague ownership, nearly 80 years, the old home place has gone.

The home on the hill knew my childhood and Oren's and John's, my brother companions; my girlhood and my marriage.

I sincerely wish Buchanan joy, pleasure and pride in the Moccasin Bluff park, once my home. I am the last leaf on that branch of the Montague generation tree. My gentle father and long widowed, lonely mother, Oren and John, beloved brothers, are in Oak Grove cemetery, not far from Moccasin Bluff.

Esther Montague Winch.

Motor Boats Are Favorite Vehicle of Mich. Fishermen

Michigan commercial fishermen use 1,036 boats and more than 12,000,000 square yards of nets in the operation of their industry, according to figures obtained by the Department of Conservation from the Federal Bureau of Fisheries.

Of the boats used, 59 are steam and 795 are motor boats.

The Bureau of Fisheries report shows that Michigan commercial fishermen are equipped with 39,763 gill nets; 1,340 pounds of fish nets; 1,750 trap nets; 381,970 hooks and 84,460 square yards of seines.

News from New Troy

Democrats Win New Troy Polls; Small Vote Cast

Election passed very quietly. The whole Democratic ticket was elected with the exception of Clarence Rumbaugh, Republican, who was elected instead of Christ Strifling, Democrat. A great deal of indifference was manifest toward the election. Of the 432 votes of the first precinct of Weesaw, only 281 cast their vote. If we only knew it, indifference toward the franchise is the greatest exhausting menace to American institutions.

Mrs. K. Bihimire Is Re-elected as P. T. A. President

The Trojan Club met at the Daniel's home Friday afternoon. The attendance was not as large as usual because of a death near by. The program was fine, consisting of readings by Mrs. John Kobe of Bridgman and Mrs. Sol McKee. A paper prepared by Mrs. David Barton written in Kalamazoo, and sent to the club, was read by Miss Daisy Moore. It was a description of the White House and was very interesting. Business relating to the County Federation of Women's Clubs which will meet here April 16, was transacted. Mrs. H. O. Piper helped Mrs. Daniels serve refreshments.

Miss Emma Oelke, Killed in Mishap, Is Interred Here

The body of Miss Emma Oelke, New Troy girl who was accidentally killed at St. Joseph, last week, was laid at rest in the local cemetery Sunday. Miss Oelke was employed at the Teachout Bakery and was returning to her work there after the noon hour, when she was struck by an automobile when she stepped in its path between two parked cars. The funeral services were held in the Church of God at St. Joseph.

Trojan Club Gets Ready for Meet of Co. Federation

There was a very large attendance at the meeting of the P. T. A. Thursday evening and the program put on by Carl Guettler, teacher of the Junior high was said to be fine. Officers were elected for the coming year. Mrs. Kenneth Bihimire was elected as president.

COMPARE the delivered price as well as the list price in considering automobile values. Chevrolet's prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing. Easy G. M. A. C. Terms.

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No automobile uses less gasoline and oil. No car shows a lower expense for tires. And no car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high re-sale value—for its entire design is just as advanced as its six-cylinder engine.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes. It gives you a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear outside the body. It gives you four long semi-elliptic springs; mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism, an adjustable driver's seat, a Fisher VV non-glare windshield, and tilting beam headlights, operated by a foot-controlled button.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance and for economical transportation!

CITY RESIDENTS BEST CUSTOMERS FOR REAL BUTTER

SURVEY SHOWS SUBSTITUTES FIND READIEST SALES IN SMALL VILLAGES.

A survey made by the State Department of Agriculture of the amount of oleomargarine and butter sold by Michigan stores proved that the sales of butter are much higher proportionately in cities than in small villages of the state. The figures on which these findings were based were obtained in a study of sales of butter and oleomargarine made by 405 stores located in 140 cities, towns and villages. The percentage of margarine sold as compared to the total amount of both butter and butter substitute was eight times as high in villages as in the city of Detroit. Thirty-three Detroit stores reported their sales. These stores sold 324,220 pounds of butter and 23,400 pounds of oleomargarine. Thirteen of the stores sold no butter substitute. In contrast with these figures, the sales made by 42 stores located in 20 small villages were 101-

The percentage of oleomargarine sold in Detroit was 6.7 per cent of the total sales of butter and butter substitute. In the whole state, the percentage of oleomargarine sold was 34 per cent, and in the territory served by the 42 village stores, the percentage of oleomargarine sold was 61.

EUROPE DEMANDS SPARTAN BARLEY

POPULARITY OF VARIETY TAKES IT INTO FOREIGN FIELD TRIALS.

Spartan barley, which has won friends among Michigan farmers by its high yielding ability and its smooth awns will move into foreign fields this year as several European experiment stations have requested Michigan State College to send them samples of seed to be tested in their experimental plots.

Barley is a more important crop in Europe than in America. Danish farmers produce their famous bacon from hogs which receive barley as their main grain ration. The grain is also used extensively for human food.

Spartan barley was developed by the late Professor F. A. Spragg at Michigan State College by crossing Black Barless Barley with Michigan Two-Row. Black Barless had smooth awns but its color was unpopular and its Two-Row was the proper color but its beards were objectionable.

Since its origin 13 years ago, Spartan barley has been thoroughly tested on the college plots and on farms in all parts of the State. It has a stiff straw which prevents the grain from lodging as readily as some varieties and it has yielded well on many types of soil.

Financial Statistics of State Govt. of Michigan for 1928

The Department of Commerce announces a summary of the financial statistics of the State of Michigan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928. The per capita figures for 1928 are based on an estimated population of 4,547,000.

Expenditures

The payments for operation and maintenance of the general departments of Michigan amounted to $58,115,506, or $11.68 per capita. This includes $16,099,559, appropriations for education to the minor civil divisions of the state. In 1927 the comparative per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $11.84 and in 1918, $7.25. The payments for operation and maintenance of public service enterprises in 1928 amounted to $118,430; interest on debt, $4,565,732; and outlays for permanent improvements, $22,252,310. The total payments, therefore, for operation and maintenance of general departments and public service enterprises, for interest and outlays were $80,052,478. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from the current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Revenues

The total revenue receipts were $92,219,813, or $20.28 per capita. This was $34,420,145 more than the total payments of the year exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, and $12,167,335 more than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. This excess of revenue receipts is reflected in reduction of debt, and in purchase of investments and increased cash balances not shown in this summary. Property and special taxes represented 52.2 per cent of the total revenue for 1928, 49.5 per cent for 1927, and 60.2 per cent for 1918. The increase in the amount of property and special taxes collected was 162.8 per cent from 1918 to 1927 and 25.4 per cent from 1927 to 1928. The per capita property and special taxes were $10.58 in 1928, $8.63 in 1927, and $4.18 in 1918.

Earnings of general departments or compensation for services rendered by State officials, represented 7.8 per cent of the total revenue for 1928, 8.7 per cent for 1927, and 18.1 per cent for 1918. Business and nonbusiness licenses constituted 33.1 per cent of the total revenue for 1928, 32.7 per cent for 1927, and 17.5 per cent for 1918. Receipts from business licenses consist chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies and of sales tax on gasoline, while those from non-business licenses comprise chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing privileges. The sales tax on gasoline amounted to $13,547,007 in 1928 and $10,618,415 in 1927, an increase of 27.6 per cent. Indebtedness:

The total funded or fixed debt outstanding June 30, 1928 was $90,444,187. Of this amount $50,000,000 was for highways. The net indebtedness (funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets) was $72,474,598, or $15.94 per capita. In 1927 the per capita net debt was $16.86 and in 1918, $2.84.
