

FLOWER FETE PARADE MAY 10

Now Here's
the PropositionMush-Room
Bl Flaws

Now that the flowerlets deck the lea
And sportsmen seek the muskalunge
It is the time for you and me
To hunt the button and the sponge,

To take our basket in our hand
And search the lawn, the village
dump
For fungi edible that stand
About the rotted orchard stump.
The toadstool beckons full of guile,
But what is that that we should care?

For death comes now or after-while,
And life is tame unless we dare.
We'll sometimes cast a casual glance
Where lovers loiter two by two;
We understand they take a chance
On finding mush-room too.

QUEEN BACK
SATURDAY
FROM TOUR

Last Showing of Blossom
Revue at Twin City on Monday Night.

100 FLOATS ENTERED
Phil Hanlin is Awarded Smith
Prize for Clever
Design.

Buchanan's anticipation of a glimpse of royalty over the week end was eclipsed by the tidings that Queen Cecelia Eisenhart and her cortege would not disband until Sunday and that none of the girls would be granted a respite
from the more or less breathless round of activities to visit their homes over the week end.

According to the revised schedule the royal party will end their state tour at Grand Haven Sunday,
and will then give another showing of the Blossom Revue at the Liberty Theatre at Benton Harbor next Monday evening. The party will stay Friday and Saturday in Grand Rapids. The decision to make a second showing followed a number of requests to that effect. It is understood that the Revue has been greatly altered and improved since the first showing in the Twin City and Niles two weeks ago.

Over 100 Floats Entered
With May 7 set as the closing date for float entries it is considered assured that over 100 entries will parade on May 10. The floats will be more beautiful than ever this year, according to Cass Rutledge, chairman of the float committee, who estimates that over $25,000 will be spent in float decoration.

The committee in charge has reserved the right to reject any float whose design does not fit in with the general idea of the pageant, and is endeavoring to eliminate advertising features, as far as possible and emphasize the floral idea.

Phil Hanlin Wins Prize
Phil Hanlin was awarded the $5 prize for the best float idea in the contest sponsored by the Elsie Smith grocery. Second prize went to Mrs. Ada Dacy Sanders and third to the Domestic Economy department of the Buchanan high school.

The float committee, Matt J.
Kelling, chairman, states that none of the ideas may be available on account of the ruling of the fete management against a predominance of advertising features.
The Blossom Parade will be held Saturday, May 10, the program
for the week being as follows:
Monday and Tuesday, May 5th
and 6th—Air Circus at Twin City
Golf and Aviation Field, Benton Harbor.

Floyd Bailey and Robert Morse of Buchanan, are reported among the candidates for the Freshmen
baseball team reporting for spring practice at Western State Teachers College. Bailey is a candiin which he functioned several years on Buchanan and Niles position. Morse starred as a pitcher on local high school teams,

and last summer made an excellent record pitching for the Three Oaks

will doubtless find the going fast.

where she had undergone an operation.

daughter, Helen, of Fort Wayne, were Sunday guests at the home of

Queen Cecelia

The charcoal sketch of Miss Cecelia Eisenhart, queen of the 1930
Blossom Fete, which is reproduced above was drawn in 1929 by John Koch, at that time a student at the University of Michigan, and now completing his art education in Paris. The sketch was made in the course of an hour during a visit made by Miss Eisenhart and a friend at Koch's studio on a Sunday afternoon. Koch recognized Miss Eisenhart's rare beauty and secured the privilege of painting a full-length study in oils, which now hangs in a Detroit art gallery.

EMORY FERRY
BADLY INJURED
IN COLLISION
LEG SHATTERED WHEN MO-TORCYCLE COLLIDES
WITH TRUCK

Emory Ferry, 22, incurred a compound fracture of the upper bone of his left leg just above the knee Friday when the motorcycle
on which he was travelling southward on Days Avenue collided with the American Express company truck at the intersection of that street with Roe Street. Herbert Shreves, the driver of the truck, had started to drive out of Roe Street onto Days Avenue,
after first pausing to ascertain
that the street was clear of cars.
He was unable to see the approaching motorcycle on account of parked cars, until he was into the avenue. He halted his truck, thinking that Ferry would ride in front of him. The latter, however, apparently thought that the truck would keep going and that he would go behind it. As a result of the misunderstanding, the motorcycle struck the side of the truck, Ferry's leg being pinned between the two machines.

He was taken to Pawtawing hospital at Niles, where it was found that the bone of the upper leg had been badly shattered, the fracture extending down into the knee.
Physicians in charge stated that it would not be necessary to amputate the limb, but that the young man would very likely have a permanently stiff knee as a result of the accident.

Rev. Hayes Talks
to H. S. Assembly

Mr. Hyink, mathematics teacher and director of the Boys' Glee Club, was in charge of the assembly program Friday morning. The Boys' Glee Club sang two numbers
"The Volga Boat Song," Folk Song
and "Honeytown" by Parkes.

Rev. Hayes, pastor of the Evangelical church, was speaker for the morning. His subject was "The Bible." Some of the things learned about the bible were that it is the most popular book in the world and there are more bibles made and sold than any other book in the world. The bible is composed of prophecy, sermons, revelations, love stories, war stories, and many other helpful and interesting things. All the scripture was written by inspired men.
The first five books in the bible are called the books of Moses or the Pentateuch. The books contain the account of the creation of the world. The talk was very interesting and instructive to all.

Wants to Learn
Date of Father's
Auto Experiment

Herbert Koontz of South Bend,
was a visitor at the Record office
last night and while here looked through some of the old files of the Record to discover the date
when his father, Gus Koontz, tried out his pioneer automobile model, operated by steam, some 15 or 20 years before the gas buggy became a success. Gus Koontz was the owner and manager of the Buchanan Windmill Company, living here from about 1875 until 1890.
During that time he developed his idea of a horseless carriage driven by steam and tried it out in a July Fourth celebration. He died about eight years ago in South Bend. Herbert Koontz would be pleased if any local person can furnish him with the date on which his father tried out his automobile.

date his apple trees are well set
and show no indication of frost loss. Sour cherries are also safe thus far and are heavily set with

been reduced by frost.

HOLMES SCHOOL NEWS

Teacher, Mrs. L. Noggle

The school board bought us a set of "Historical Geographical Maps of the United States." We like them.

There were three pupils that were neither absent nor tardy for the month of April. They were Ivan Price, Elda and Aletha Hartline.

Aletha Hartline was the only one that got "A" in Department for the month.

Five got good grades in citizenship: Aletha and Elda Hartline, Ralph Gilbert, Leona Seyfried, Carol Seabast.

Last week for "Good English Club" the fifth grade gave a play called "Dramatization of the Story of Damon and Pythias." They all did very well.

This week the first and fourth grades gave a play entitled, "Lessons Out Doors."

Last week we had to draw pictures of industry. Some of the best were put on the wall. Aletha drew one representing "manufacturing." Everett Seyfried's picture was of "civil engineering," Elda's was about "agriculture" and Ralph's about "mining."

This week we drew a grave yard and buried "slang words."

We have daily floor inspection for cleanliness under the desks. Aletha and Everett are the only two to have their floor clean for four weeks. Aletha, Elda, Chester Head and Leona Seyfried have had clean desks for four weeks.

We had some beautiful Easter lilies in our school yard last Friday but we guess somebody else thought so too, because they took them roots and all. The spot looked rather bare Monday.

Ask any Standard Oil service station attendant to show you...

The ball and bottle test

THIS simple test shows clearly that New Iso-Vis does not thin out or "break down" in the crankcase no matter how many miles you drive.

To motorists accustomed to find oil thin and diluted after a few hundred miles of driving, New Iso-Vis brings a new conception of motor oil quality.

It is important to realize that 90 percent of the "thinning out" in your crankcase takes place during the first 200 miles after changing your oil. By overcoming this thinning out Iso-Vis assures you of lubrication not only when your oil is fresh but right up until the time you change.

New Iso-Vis actually is as heavy, after a long period of use, as it was the day you put it in the crankcase.

Remember, too—it reduces carbon deposit far below most premium priced oils and gives lubrication over a wider range of engine temperatures.

You can get New Iso-Vis from any Standard Oil dealer or service station. Fill your crankcase today and enjoy more economical and efficient motor lubrication than you've ever had before.

SAVE MONEY on carbon removal. New Iso-Vis reduces the carbon nuisance.

BANDITS CREATE REIGN TERROR IN BERRIEN COUNTY

SEVENTH HOLD-UP IN FEW WEEKS AT TWIN CITIES SUN.

The Belmont lunch room, reputed beer resort on Territorial road east of Benton Harbor, was held up about 9:15 p. m. Sunday by three armed bandits and the proprietor and eight patrons were lined up against the wall and robbed of $500, the robbers escaping in a Chevrolet coupe. The proprietor, Arthur Hoppe, and his wife, report the loss of $230 while the eight customers, three of them women, lost $150 more. One patron, Frank Sharbonow of St. Joseph, saved a roll of $200 shifting it from his trousers to his breast pocket. The bandits wore caps pulled over their eyes and overcoats closely buttoned and with collars turned up. It is believed that they are the same trio that held up the Crystal Palace ballroom two weeks previous and the grocery at Michigan and Third Street in Niles Saturday. This marks the seventh hold-up within a few weeks in Berrien County.

Niles Woman to Visit Grave of Soldier Husband

Mrs. Leona Barr of Niles, was the first Berrien county woman to take advantage of the government's offer to Americans desiring to visit the graves of relatives in France. She made application for her passport Friday, through County Clerk E. H. Eitner, and will sail from New York City June 23 to visit the grave of her husband, George Barr, a member of the 5th Division, who was killed in action Oct. 4, 1918.

Sheriff's Office Probes Shooting of Berrien Spgs. Youth

An investigation of the shooting of Harold White, Berrien Springs youth, by Nightwatchman John Meeks of that village was ordered by Sheriff Fred C. Bryant, at the request of Berrien Springs residents who stated that the officials of the town had refused to give out information. According to the story told by witnesses, young White and four other youths, resided into the guard rail on U. S. 31 near the St. Joseph river bridge early Sunday morning. Nightwatchman Meeks heard the crash and went to investigate. He situated to bring the boys into Berrien Springs for questioning, but when they reached the Heim drug store, young White started to run. The officer fired, the bullet striking him in the hip.

Default Judgment of $35,000 Taken Vs. Bandit Burke

A default judgment of $35,000 was taken in the Berrien County circuit court Friday against Fred Dane, alias Fred Burke, slayer of Patrolman Skelley of St. Joseph, the notice of default being filed by Atty. Westin in behalf of the Farmer's & Merchant's Bank of Jefferson, Wis., to collect the balance of value of the bonds stolen from the bank last fall. More than $300,000 in stolen bonds were found in the lake shore home of Dane following the slaying of Skelley. About $400 in rings were attached, being the only available property in the Dane home. Only a small payment had been made by Dane on the house, which reverted to the original owner.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Claims Life of Milton Preston

Carbon monoxide poisoning claimed another Twin City resident Saturday, when Milton Preston, 77, former Eau Claire farmer, was found by his daughter sitting at the wheel of his car in a closed garage, nearly dead from gas fumes. He had returned from a visit at the home of another daughter, Mrs. A. P. Dean of Eau Claire, earlier in the day, and had run his car in the garage and closed the door. He had raised the hood and was apparently attempting to test the motor. When he failed to come to the house, his daughter, Miss Maude Preston, went to the garage and found him collapsed in the seat. He was taken into the house where he died before a physician could arrive. He was born in the Eau Claire district April 22, 1853, and lived on a farm there 66 years, coming to Benton Harbor 10 years ago.

Indiana Revokes State License of Dunes Oil Co.

The daily press of nearby cities carried reports Friday of the revocation by the state of Indiana of the license of the Dunes Oil Company, which operates filling stations in South Bend and Michigan City.

The license was revoked by state auditor Archie N. Bobbitt on the grounds that the company had evaded the state gasoline tax by importing a cheap grade of distillate on which no tax is charged, and treating it with casinghead gas to secure a cheap automobile fuel, which was sold at 2.4 cents under the regular filling station price.

Although the company advertised its product as "tax-plus" it is alleged that the state never received any tax. It is estimated that the state lost about $400 per carload in tax on the sales of the company, as well as inspection fees.

FARM BUREAU DEMANDS CUTS ON LOCAL TAXES

INVITE GRANGE AND CLUB
OFFICERS TO DISCUSS
INCOME TAXATION

Emphasizing their approval of a state income tax if properly drawn but declining to concede that farm tax relief depends more upon the kind of tax that is levied than it does upon the way in which new revenues are to be used, County Farm Bureau taxation committee members from over the state, in a meeting at the Michigan Farm Bureau headquarters on April 13, passed a set of resolutions demanding that any new taxes which may be introduced shall be used to reduce and equalize local taxes, particularly the school tax. The committee threatened opposition to an income tax or any other new tax unless it is accompanied by a workable guarantee that the proceeds will be so used to reduce and equalize present farm taxes.

National legislation on the income tax as prepared by the American Farm Bureau was endorsed as a necessary step if the main burden of taxation is to be shifted from property to incomes, and the need for economy laws was also stated.

State Grange and Farmers' Club Association officers have been invited to the next meeting of the Farm Bureau committee, prior to the public hearing on income taxation which the Special Commission of Inquiry into Taxation is expected to call.

Resolution of policy adopted by the County Farm Bureau tax committee as regards any new tax proposals, follows: "We most heartily endorse the effort of the American Farm Bureau to secure Federal legislation that will make possible a shift from the general property tax to the income tax as the chief means of support for state and local government. We re-affirm the position of the Michigan State Farm Bureau as stated in its annual resolutions favoring the introduction of new and just forms of taxation to reduce and equalize local tax levies under such control from the state as is necessary to insure economy and efficiency in their use."

"We call particular attention to the need of funds to further equalize and reduce the present cost of rural schools. We wish to emphasize the fact that we consider a properly drawn state income tax as an equitable method of securing the funds for use in making this reduction, but we are not content to allow the securing of this reduction and equalization to depend upon the adoption by the state of any particular tax, so long as the tax which is adopted is equitable.

"We wish to add that we are not in favor of the adoption of a state income tax or of any other new tax unless it is done in connection with provisions that guarantee the use of the proceeds in a way that will reduce and equalize present farm taxes."

LILY POOL ADDS NEW BEAUTY TO HOME GARDENS

POOLS, BIRD BATHS, WALKS, BENCHES ACCENTUATE
ATTRACTIVENESS.

Accent and contrast are prime factors in the layout of a satisfying garden. While much can be gained by the canny planning of flower beds and borders, many gardeners make good use of such garden features as lily pools, bird baths, walks and occasional benches.

The lily pool, particularly, has been found to add much to the beauty and enjoyment of a garden. It may be as simple as you please but, small or large, it is certain to become one of the most enjoyable garden features. Whether or not it is utilized for lilies or other aquatic flowers, it serves as a definite garden purpose in providing a strong contrast and, simultaneously, acting as a bright mirror of the garden, trees and sky.

In construction, a garden pool is simple enough for practically all "handy men about the house." Portland cement concrete, reinforced with metal if the pool is to be a sizeable one, is easily mixed and may be made to assume any form or shape desired. Most dealers in cement or concrete contractors can assist gardeners in making pools, as well as other garden features.

By adding only a little to the work involved, a fountain can be erected in the center of a pool to serve the double purpose of keeping the water fresh and adding to the beauty of the lay-out. The simplest kind of plumbing, involving only a lead-in and a drain, suffices.

Even simpler than a small lily pool is a bird bath, yet few garden fixtures provide as much pleasure and amusement. Essentially, a bird bath is merely a short, pedestal surmounted by a flat bowl. While it is possible to buy concrete bird baths ready made, it is a simple matter to build one designed according to individual tastes and to meet the needs of any particular garden or landscaping scheme.

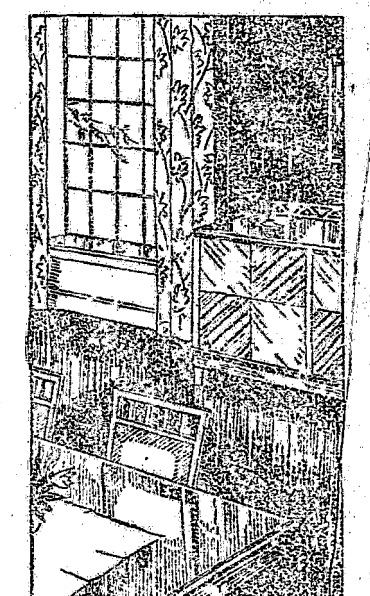

Paths and walks are essential to the success of any garden. Naturally, no one wants a conventional "sidewalk" in his garden; however, it is equally true that the material used in ordinary sidewalks makes the most successful and trouble-free garden walk. The concrete may be placed to form a narrow, winding path; it can be colored; it can be roughened; or, it can be made into flagstones which are subsequently laid in irregular, pleasing patterns.

The essence of a garden is well ordered natural beauty, beauty controlled and augmented by the plans and care of the gardener. Familiarity with the fundamentals of making concrete can mean much to the gardener who wants to make the most of his bit of ground.

Fashionable women may lavish as much as $2,500 a year on the care and dressing of their hair, while the average woman spends $40 annually in the hair-dresser's parlor.

Scotland is to be represented at the British Empire games to be held at Hamilton, Ontario, next August.

Though You See Well...

You may not do so comfortably. That is, you may see well and strain your eyes in doing so. It is hard for some to realize that seeing well is no proof that glasses are not needed. But it is a fact. And much good would result from a better recognition of it. Defective eyes need our service.

NEURITIS AMONG AILMENTS THAT KONJOLA ENDED

"I WOULD LIKE TO SHOUT
THE PRAISES OF THIS
NEW MEDICINE," SAYS
GRATEFUL LADY.

MRS. ROBERT CRUISE
"As long as I am able to talk I expect to continue praising Konjola, the medicine that banished my ailments and relieved my suffering," said Mrs. Robert Cruise, 701 Warren Avenue, Saginaw. "My stomach was in terrible condition. I could scarcely retain any food without severe cramping pains. Food did not taste right and I dreaded mealtime. I had awful dizzy spells and when these passed away, my nerves were all upset. But worst of all were those terrible, knife-like pains of neuritis that stabbed my shoulders and my arms. These kept me awake for hours at night and made life miserable during the day."

"A neighbor told me about Konjola. I don't know why, but I put my faith in this medicine and started the treatment. Within a week I noticed a slight change for the better, and, after taking seven bottles of Konjola, all pains vanished and my health was restored. I would like to shout the praises of this new medicine."

Konjola, a medicine containing 22 medicinal roots and herbs, works with the sufferer's food, eliminating poisons and restoring normal activity to the important functional organs. From six to eight bottles are recommended as a fair treatment.

Konjola is sold in Buchanan, Michigan, at W. N. Brodick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

WHEN— it means most!

A good banking connection means most when a business or individual is faced with a difficult problem. For unless a bank interests itself in the business welfare of its customers, it fails to live up to its opportunities for service. And unless a customer allows his bank to help him over the "rough spots", he is not availing himself of his rightful measure of service.

Here at this bank we are always ready to help until the hard knots of business. Whenever, therefore, you feel the need of friendly counsel and efficient co-operation, won't you come in and allow us to serve you?

"The Palace of Carelessness," an operetta in two acts by Irene Laurens, and Hattiebell Shields, will be presented as the annual grade operetta on May first and second. The grade children have been working for six weeks under the direction of Miss Theo Olson, head of the music department.

The scene is the great lost and found building of London Town, called the Palace of Carelessness. At midnight, all things therein frolic for one hour.

Mr. Clock strikes "twelve," stretches himself and awakens the other clocks and watches. They dance until the Fat Clock runs down. Then the Alarm Clock wakes everything in the shop and they all come to life at once.

Dolly Dimples, Stick Candy, the Monkey, the Colored Doll, the Umbrella, and the Teddy Bear all are heard from. The Toy Soldiers march into the parade, while the vegetables break open their sack and come out singing.

Mr. Clock suddenly feels that he is about to strike again and orders them all back into their places. As he strikes "one," the lights are dimmed and for another twenty-four hours all the occupants of the palace become inanimate.

Act two opens in the judge's chamber. The jury and judge are in their places to pass sentence upon each one who comes in search of his lost belongings.

The Bailiff silences the court and they listen to the judge's pompous greeting. The organ grinder comes in search of his lost monkey and the sad looking clown, looking for his laugh. Two Dancing Dolls have been lost and when the Bailiff brings them in, they amuse the court with their antics. A Boy Scout does his daily good turn by bringing in an old man who is hunting for his time-worn umbrella. A little girl comes in with her maid to find a lovely doll left on a street car. As an alarm rings to tell the close of the court day, all lost articles file out. The sight brings back his laugh to the clown and after a faithful promise to the judge that he will never be careless again, all bid adieu to the Palace of Carelessness.

In addition to the work of Miss Theo Olson and her staff, special credit is due to the following: R. R. Robinson, who has charge of orchestration; to Miss Lily Abell, in charge of the art work; to Phil Hamlin and Ellsworth Bristol, who assist with the scenery; to Marvin Gross, pianist for all chorus ensembles; to Ray Miller, stage manager; to Helen Hamlin in charge of make up; to Helen Schmalzreid, call girl; to Harold Knight, electrician; to Tina Skeels, in charge of costumes and to the mothers of the participants, who are assisting her in that department.

The operetta is to be presented in the high school auditorium, starting at 2:45 p. m. (fast time) Thursday, May 1, and at 7:45 p. m. (fast time) Friday, May 2. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

MEET FRIDAY

RECORDS EXPECTED TO FALL
SENIORS FAVORED TO CAPTURE MEET.

The greatest and last of the year's intra-mural activities, the annual Inter-Class Track Meet, will be staged Friday afternoon at the local athletic park.

With two varsity teams already ran off, the class representatives should, and probably will, ruin several of the existing meet records. Competition this year will be keener than ever before and last year's winners, who return will be pressed hard for their laurels.

On paper the seniors should cop the majority of places, but with a promising crop of Freshmen and several new stars, they will have anything but a walk-away.

The existing meet records are 100 Yd. Dash, Conrad, '27, 10.8. 200 Yd. Dash, W. Pfingst, '29 and R. Pfingst, '30, 25.2. 220 Yd. Low Hurdles, R. Pfingst '30, 28.4. 440 Yd. Dash, Mitchell, '27, 1.32. 880 Yd. Run, Easton, '30, 2.23. Mile Run, Rothfuchs, '30, 5.21. High Jump, Pierce, '30 and Roe, '29, 5' 1 1/2. Broad Jump, Cooper, '30, 19' 7 1/2. French Students to Learn Marseillaise

The classes in close proximity to the French room have been made aware in the last few days, of strange sounds issuing from that room. Some of the more enlightened recognized the words and tune of the "Marseillaise," the French national anthem. The French classes have been learning two verses and the chorus of this song in French and are aided in their study by the victrola rendition in French.

H. S. AG CLUB
FATHER-SON FEED

W. S. T. O. TEACHER AND NILES MINISTER ARE SPEAKERS.

After working diligently for many weeks, the members of the Alpha Agrarian Club succeeded in making their annual Father & Son Banquet a great success. About one hundred men and boys gathered about a row of tables to partake of the delicious food served by the Girls' Home Economics Club. The tables were decorated with white and blue paper and bouquets of wild flowers.

The menu was as follows: fried chicken, gravy, peas and carrots, perfection salad, rolls, jelly, apple pie, cheese and coffee.

The diners were entertained by piano selections by Marvin Gross. After this the tables were cleared and Paul DeWitt, the chairman, introduced the toastmaster, Arthur Anderson.

The first speaker of the evening was Prof. H. D. Corbus of the Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo. Following his interesting talk came some bits of melody "The Volga Boat Song," a folk song and "Honeytown" by Parkes, sung by the boys' glee club and directed by Mr. Hyink.

Rev. Stee of the Niles Methodist Church gave an address which proved very interesting. A movie, "The Legacy" was then shown in the auditorium. The curtain closed on a very pleasant evening which provided entertainment for the group and spelled success for the Ag. Club.

The Uses of the Dictionary. Although many do not realize it, the dictionary is a very valuable and helpful book for school use. It contains much information that is hard to find elsewhere.

The dictionary does not consist of just words and their meanings. There are brief histories of the English language, guides to pronunciation, spelling rules, biographical and geographical indexes, and illustrations of flags, coins, birds, machines and plants. Some dictionaries even have statistics on the Panama Canal, a list of the pugilistic champions of the world, and the proper weight for men, women and children. So when in doubt, use the dictionary.

SCHOOL NOTES

The County Contest in spelling, reading and writing was held in all the graded schools of the county Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. So far the results are favorable. The compiled report of the county will be published around May 8.

Miss Helen Wells, instructor for nine years in higher mathematics in the Plymouth schools, made our school a pleasant call last Thursday.

Miss Abell and Miss Carnagan selected some very appropriate pictures for our primary grades last week. These were much needed and the appreciation is much felt by both teachers and pupils.

A program given by Miss Simmons and Mrs. Heim last Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium was much enjoyed by the other rooms which were invited. Spring songs and Spring costumes add greatly to the interests of these selections.

Miss Olson and Miss Rothenbach are working overtime on the numbers to be given in the Cantata of Carelessness. Miss Skeels is supervising the making of the costumes. This cantata has been given in other schools and is well recommended. Don't miss the final showing, Friday, May 2.

Below may be found the sentiment of every boy and girl climbing the hill to the Buchanan school. The poem was written by Henry Lyle, age 10, and copied from the "Progressive Teacher."

Spring
There's wind in the willows,
And blue in the sky,
And o'er field and meadows
The bobolinks fly.
There's perfume in clover
And everywhere
There's plenty of sunshine
And spring in the air.

My feet are so light
My heart is so gay,
I want to be singing
The bobolink's way,
To be singing and swinging
And never be still.
There's wind in the willows
And green in the hill.

For sheer entertainment of the highest class the Reading Niles is presenting three out of the ordinary pictures. Friday and Saturday is Monte Blue, Lupe Velez and Tim Tin in "Tiger Rose," a tale of the northwest mounted police that has for the foundation an interesting tale culled from the records of this famous group of real rangers. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with a midnight show on Saturday, brings Richard Barthelmess and Constance Bennett in Rex Beach's greatest story, "The Son of the Gods." And this, without a doubt, brings forth the greatest of one of our favorite actors, a degree that we never realize he possessed. Tuesday and Wednesday is the one picture that has been endorsed by all the world, schools, colleges and from people in all walks of life. It's greatness will hold you, and the marvelous acting of its star is a real triumph. Make up your mind now to see George Arliss in "Disraeli."

The Old Timer's Corner

Mrs. Winch Recalls Early Buchanan as Village of Farms

As I first remember Buchanan, it was a village of farms. Andrew C. Day lived at the corner of Front and Portage Street. His farm was west and south. Ross & Alexander's store was at Main and Front Street. Main Street extended south to the creek where a red gristmill stood. The J. D. Ross home was on a large lot. Dr. Harrison's place was also large. Harrison Knight owned five acres. These places, as I remember, were along the south side of Front Street, the only ones from the day place to Wayne Hamilton's farm. The Knight place was in turn the Howe home and the Scott Whitman place. Justice Merrill lived on acreage at the end of a lane, south of Front Street and the Baker-ertown Road. Here began Warner Hamilton's farm. The west end of it now is Oak Grove cemetery. Across Front Street was the Bennett land—later McComber place. The Rolf family owned a farm that joined the old burial ground on the west. They lived several years in a log house there. Along the north side of Front Street at what is now Moccasin Avenue lay the Bates farm. I remember the orchard there and I think the grounds extended to the grave yard on the north. Woods were along what is now Fourth Street, solid oak openings west for a mile. From the Moccasin path east was the Kemp-Gillett farm. Across Main Street came the long-owned Mansfield farm.

From there to the river on Fourth Street were perhaps a half dozen places each with acreage. I think only a saw mill was on the south side of Fourth Street from the river to Prairie Street. At that corner (southeast) was the Baker acreage and south the Ruggs lot.

Buchanan, in 1850, was scarcely three blocks by three blocks! The farmers, frequently with ox teams, drove down Main Street east of Ross and Alexander's store to the red mill, then around the west side of the store to Front Street. In the early days there was no bridge across the McCoy's creek at Oak Street. Ten hours a day was a man's work. Then his chores around the home had to be done. Nearly every household kept chickens and pigs. Enough people kept cows to supply the rest. Women worked from four or five o'clock in the morning to early candle light and sometimes longer. Children worked and worked hard, too, unless they could shirk it—then mother did it.

The great, deep, colorful woods that brought so much wealth to Berrien county, brought food to the early settlers in Buchanan. Deer, wild turkeys, pigeons and squirrels, black, red and grey, were in abundance. Squirrels were as good as chickens and more plentiful. Chickens had scores of woods enemies. In the woods were the hollow trees where the bees filled every crevice with honey. What a constant treat that honey was. Then the nuts—there were half a dozen kinds. Everybody gathered a winter's supply. The frequent marshes of blueberries and plums in the woods were the summer's supply of dried and preserved food. Sugar was plentiful. Pumpkin vines were about the first settlers. Pumpkin butter was very common. This was a mixture little better than nothing. Excellent apple butter was made by the women and doughnuts were common. Cake was very rare. But there were pies galore. Hogs got a good living from the falling acorns of the oak trees. Buchanan got considerable of its living from the hogs. Food was plentiful. No alms were asked. Only one family in all my knowledge of Buchanan township seemed to be needy. Said the father in prayer meeting, "Oh Lord bless my wife and poor children, they have no bread, no meat and hardly any potatoes." I do not know whether the Lord or some generous neighbor answered his prayer. The family soon after floated on the St. Joseph river, where in the summer a man might wade across, became in the early spring bankfull. Great schools of fish from Lake Michigan came up the river to place their small progeny in the brooklet kindergarten. Then the river's surface became a pyrotechnic display. Canoes and skiffs had brilliant lightwood fire on a sod foundation. There were two men to a boat. The fish were speared in the firelighted water, and thousands of them. Boat loads and barrels of food in variety came from the placid old river route of the tribes and the trappers. Perhaps this is a thrice told tale, but it is a vivid memory.

Why waste two hours doing a TEN-SECOND JOB?

Just DIP... and PLANT

Treat seed potatoes with Semesan Bel Saves time and labor Increases yields

Time spent treating seed potatoes by old-fashioned, messy soak methods to control surface seed-borne diseases, is time wasted. When such treatment methods are used, every lot of seed must be soaked from an hour and a half to two hours. The job is slow and tiresome. Sometimes severe seed injury occurs during soaking.

Now you can treat your seed potatoes instantly, easily, safely! By using Du Bay Semesan Bel, the instantaneous dip disinfectant, you can do the old two-hour job of seed treatment in 10 seconds or less. Just dip your seed potatoes, and plant. That is all! No soaking, no risk of seed injury, and no costly equipment necessary. With this quick method, one man alone can easily treat as much as 400 bushels of seed potatoes a day.

Wisconsin, Semesan Bel (formerly known as Dip Dust) increased the yield by 11.4 bushels per acre.

Reporting on seed treatment tests, Bulletin 405 of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station says: "With few exceptions the plants germinated more rapidly and made a more vigorous early growth where Dip Dust or Semesan Bel was used." This treatment also increased the yield, the bulletin states.

Certified seed needs treatment

Do not think seed is completely free of disease, because it is certified. Dr. Wm. H. Martin, of the New Jersey Experiment Station, said in the American Potato Grower that there is no state which does not permit at least 10% of scab and Rhizoctonia in certified seed.

By treating all your seed with Semesan Bel, you can guard your crop against these diseases.

Improves sweet potato yields

Semesan Bel treatment also improves sweet potato yields by controlling surface-borne black rot and scurf or soil stain. Just treat the seed and dip the sprouts before setting.

Economical, easy treatment

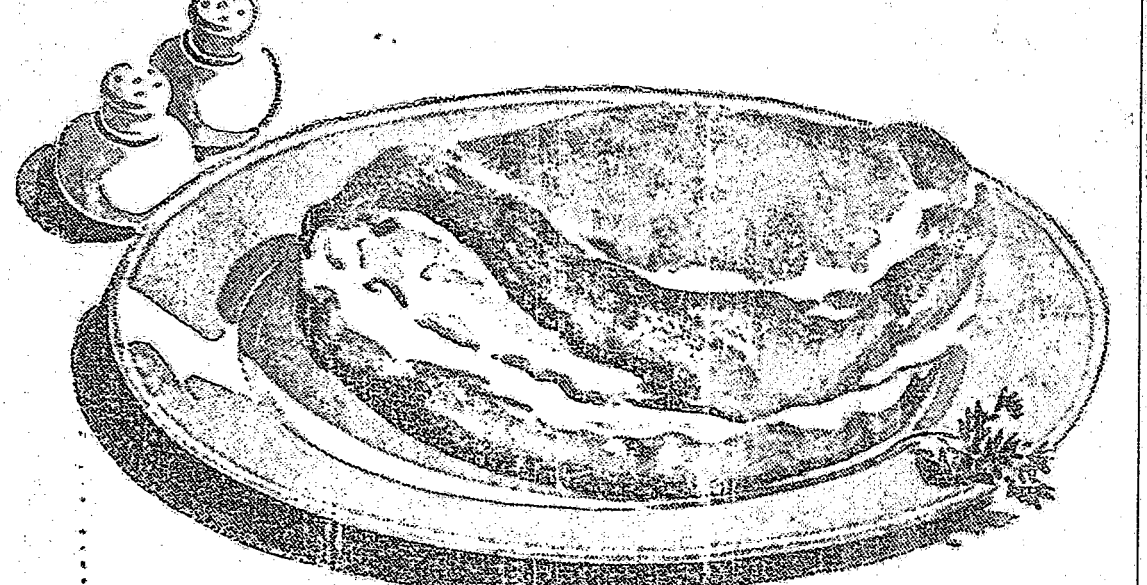

One pound of Semesan Bel will treat from 16 bushels of small seed to 22 bushels of large seed potatoes. So it costs little when applied easily according to simple directions. Ask your dealer for a copy of our free new Semesan Bel pamphlet. Or, write to Bayer-Semesan Company, Inc., 105 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

Why does the omelet-recipe say SERVE AT ONCE?

The minute an omelet is hot from the pan, it is puffed up, tender... at its best... And the minute vegetables are fresh from the garden, all their flavor, all their juice are at their high point.

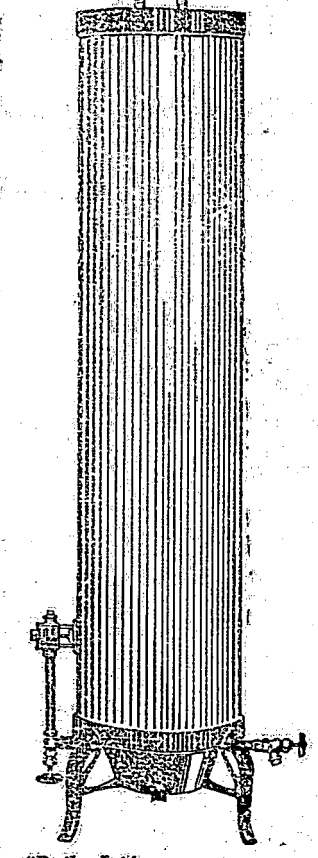

The way to have white wax beans while they are tender, and carrots when so crisp they cook creamy before they are creamed... the way to have all vegetables at their climatic time of freshness, is to pick them from a garden of your own. And the way to grow vegetables approaching perfection is to plant Ferry's purebred Seeds.

These seeds are perfected the way breeders perfect cattle. A Ferry-bred tomato is no more like an ordinary tomato than Ferry's sweet corn is like horse corn. Find Ferry's purebred Seeds at the "store around the corner." And write for Ferry's Seed Annual. This gives you 73 years' experience in gardens before you start—news of much paper—and even of better ways to cook vegetables. D.M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Michigan. P.
