State Board of Administration Authorizes Bids For M-60 Paving

Now Here's the Proposition

Mother's Day Message
By H. H. Haws

To all mothers, everyone, Under the all-seeing sun, And to her whose eyes will see This acknowledgment from me Of a debt I cannot pay— All that I can do is say: Other love may come but still, There's place but you can fill, Years may pass but still we stay Children of an older day: You have still with us a place Time nor tide may not efface, Older though, in years and deed, We shall not outgrow the need Of the heart that understands And the ministrating hands, We are fortunate who yet Pay to living ears the debt, And of such I still am one Proud to claim the name of son, Longer yet with us awhile; Keep us in your quiet smile.

SPARKS ENDS 28 YEAR TERM OF SERVICE

Constitutes a Record for Office Tenure in Buchanan.

POST TAKES OFFICE
Combines Librarian and Clerk Duties in Full Time Job.

A record of public service, probably surpassing in duration that of any other person in the history of Buchanan was terminated May 1, when the resignation of Iraenus Sparks became effective as city librarian, bringing to an end 28 years in village and township offices.

Sparks had presented his resignation last August, when the separation of town and township was voted, but consented to remain until the installation of the regularly elected government after the spring election. He had served in the same office on Main Street as township clerk and librarian for 24 years, beginning to serve in that capacity in 1906. Previous to that time he had served two terms as township treasurer and two terms as village treasurer, making a total of 28 years in office.

It became necessary for Sparks to lay down the reins of office as township clerk at the time of city and township divorce, on account of residence in town.

Previous to his office tenure here, Sparks had spent a number of years in railway and merchandising at Missoula, Mont., running out of that city on the Northern Pacific for a time, and afterward conducting a store there.

Harry Post, city clerk, has taken over the duties of librarian relinquished by Sparks, and has combined the two offices for a full time job. He maintains office hours from 8 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m.

WILL PASS BY BUCHANAN VIA HALL ORCHARD

One of Several Berrien County Projects to be Approved.

NILES MEN PRESENT
Secure Assurance of Completion of U. S. 31 to State Line.

Announcement of letting of bids for the construction of the Niles-Gallen link of M-60 was contained in press reports from Lansing yesterday, stating that the local project was one of several in southwestern Michigan to receive the stamp of approval from the administrative board. County road officials expressed complete ignorance yesterday of the exact route which the road would follow other than to state that it would pass along the south side of the Hall apple orchard a mile and a half south of Buchanan. In a letter to the owner of a farm south of Buchanan recently, a member of the State Highway Board stated that the contract for the grading would in all probability be let this year and that the paving would be installed next year.

The administrative board also provided for the relocation of U. S. 31, from Niles to the Indiana state line, that project having previously been authorized only from Niles to Brandywine Creek, where construction is now under way.

A committee of Niles men, including Wilbur N. Burns, R. C. Atkinson and Carmel Smith waited on Governor Green previous to the meeting and received his assurance of action.

Charles Clay Clemens, age 32, for more than forty years a resident of this section, was found dead on the floor of his farm home in Bakertown, two miles west of here, early Saturday, by his daughter, Mrs. George Russell. He had been in ill health for about a year, although his condition was not considered serious.

He was born in Juniata county, Pa., Oct. 9, 1877, the son of James and Alice Chubb Clemens.

When about ten years of age he came to Buchanan, where he had since been a resident of this community.

BUCHANAN CIVIL WAR VET VISITS WITH FORMER FOE

OPONENTS IN TWO ARMED CLASHES FIGHT OLD BATTLES OVER.

George Hanley, one of the few remaining Civil War veterans in Buchanan, reports a very unusual experience last week, on his return from Florida, where he spent the winter. En route home Mr. Hanley visited old Fort Sumpter in harbor of Charleston, S. C., where he had been a member of a besieging force in the summer of 1864, and while there he visited with Col. Davis, who commanded the Confederate garrison of the fort.

The two veterans of opposing armies which had labored to destroy each other, enjoyed a very pleasant visit, in the course of which they learned that they had been members of opposing army corps at the battle of Winchester during the siege of Vicksburg in 1865.

Hanley served four years and four months in the Union service, nearly all in the Army of the James near Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanley and their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Newberry, and husband, spent the winter at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Miss Theo Olson had as guests Friday, her mother and sister of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Zubeoff of South Bend, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frank, Sunday.

City Plans Call For the Sinking of Two More Wells

Revamped Pumping Plant Taxes Capacity of Present Wells.

TOTAL COST $1500

Plan Future Program Building Storage Reservoirs.

The provision of two additional wells to add to the available water supply provided by the city for the summer peakload was authorized by the commission at the May meeting Monday, and Wilson Leiter, chairman of the waterworks committee was authorized to proceed with the drilling of test wells to find most desirable locations.

Through the renovation of the entire pumping plant and the installation of a new 50 h. p. motor the pumping power of the plant was increased from 600 gallons to 800 gallons per minute, which taxes the flow of the present wells. It was estimated that the two additional wells will provide sufficient increase for the coming two years, after which the city plans to work toward some storage system, probably located on the Chamberlain hills.

It was estimated that the two new wells will cost $800 each. With the $700 spent in improvements in the pumping plant this would bring the total cost of water improvement to about $1,500.

The first test well is being drilled northeast and across the street from the waterworks, near the railway track.

LIBRARY TO BE MOVED TO PEARS BLDG.

PLAN FOR REST ROOMS

Commission Will Hold Their Meetings There in the Future.

The seat of government of the city of Buchanan is to be transferred during the coming week from the room on Main Street where it has been located for the past 25 or 30 years, to the Charles Pears building on West Front, immediately east of the Michigan Bell office, action to that effect having been taken at the meeting of the commission Monday night.

The library and the office of the city clerk are to be transferred to the new building as soon as it is properly cleaned. The new quarters are much larger and more presentable than the old building, which is in need of repairs to make it tenable.

It is planned that the commission will hold its meetings hereafter in the new location, in proximity to the records of the clerk, instead of meeting above the hose house as heretofore.

Plans are in formation for the installation of both women's and men's restrooms in the new quarters, the latter to be entered from the back via the rear of the post office.

BLOSSOM QUEEN'S PICTURE SEEN IN FOREIGN PAPER

Gaylord Marsh, a native of the Buchanan section, who has risen to prominence in the consular service and who is one of the two residents of Berrien county and of their beautiful Blossom Festival, reports of which always remind me of my happy boyhood days.

I am the United States Consul in Sydney, and I have a daughter about your age. With many congratulations, and with the best of wishes for you and all the good people of that land of fragrant blossoms, I am, Respectfully yours, O. Gaylord Marsh, American Consul.

CLARK EQUIPMENT REPORTS GRADUAL BUSINESS GROWTH

TRUCK INDUSTRY MORE ACTIVE THAN PASSENGER CAR BUSINESS.

Profits of the Clark Equipment Company for the first three months of 1930 were approximately $275,000, according to company figures, which would be equivalent to about $1 a share on the common stock after preferred requirements. Present releases of the company indicate gradually increasing activity in the company's various lines, which comprise for the most part the manufacture of automotive parts for the motor truck industry. To date business for the truck industry has been much more active than that for the passenger car industry.

In 1929, the Clark company and its subsidiaries had a consolidated net profit of $1,300,514, after all charges and federal taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $4.92 a share earned on the 249,524 shares outstanding at the end of the year. No direct comparison with the previous year is available, due to changes in the company's capitol structure made during the year.

In his annual report President D. B. Clark told the stockholders that during the year the firm's structure was developed considerably, with 50,000 shares of common stock sold for cash. The proceeds were used partly for the acquisition of additional properties and the balance retained in the treasury. About 25,000 shares of common stock also were used for the acquisition of additional property. Over 99 per cent interested in the Frost Gear & Forge Co. was acquired partly for stock and partly for cash. The manufacturing facilities of the Frost company round out the facilities of the Clark Equipment company to a most satisfactory extent.

Consolidated balance sheet, as of December 31, 1929, shows a strong financial position, current assets totaling $5,304,429 to provide for current liabilities of $569,100. Included in the current assets are cash of $830,454, call loans of $600,000, and marketable securities of $767,729. Fixed assets are carried at $6,083,323. Capitalization is entirely comprised by $1,214,900 of 7 per cent preferred stock and 249,524 shares of no par value common.

1930 CENSUS SHOWS 3915 POPULATION

23 Per Cent over Mark 3187 Reported by 1920 Census.

TOWNSHIP GIVEN 994

Indicates 12 per cent Growth in 10 Years.

Census returns received from Paw Paw office by telephone the Record yesterday credit Buchanan with a population of 3915, representing an increase of 728 over the 3187 population reported in the 1920 census, a growth of approximately 23 per cent.

This practically substantiate the claim that Buchanan has made to a population of 4,000, as it is quite certain that in times of past employment, such as was experienced last summer, the local population passes the 4,000 mark.

Buchanan township is credited with a population of 994, while the number listed in the township minus the village count, in 1920 was 728, indicating a growth of 102 souls, or approximately 14 per cent. The number of farms was listed as 213, indicating an average of 4.7 persons per farm.

Eliz. Voorhees Passes Away at Age of 90 Years

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Elizabeth Voorhees were held in the home at 438 Macarain Avenue, Sunday at 2 o'clock daylight savings time. Pastor J. T. Grier officiated. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery. Casket bearers were Will Hess, Ed Ashbrook, J. E. Arney, Ned Cook, William Young and William Bohl.

Elizabeth Voorhees, aged 90 years, 11 months and 20 days, passed away at 2:30 o'clock, Friday, May 2, 1930. Death was a result of a fall which she suffered a week ago in her home.

Mrs. Voorhees, the daughter of Parker and Cleora Rams Robinson, was born May 12, 1839, in Elkhardt county, Ind. Here she attended school and spent her girlhood.

In 1854, she was united in marriage to Joseph Voorhees, at Elkhardt, and to this union four children were born.

Shortly after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees came to Buchanan, and for more than seventy years she had been a resident of this city. Her husband died more than twenty years ago.

Mrs. Voorhees was well known in and around this community. In more than half a century of rigorous weaving she had made several hundred miles of carpet. Two years ago her health began to fail, which prevented her from continuing the work, although she still looked forward for the day when she would be able to again resume the work.

Surviving are two sons, Charles of Buchanan, and Delbert of Foley Ala., who was unable to attend the services.

Green Tubers

Will Reduce Market Prices

Delayed plantings of potatoes by Michigan growers results in the marketing of immature tubers which prejudice the buying public against Michigan stock, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Unripe potatoes are soggy and dark colored when cooked. Both the appearance and quality of the potatoes is poor and the housewife who once buys them is apt to purchase potatoes grown in some other section when she has to renew the supply for the household.

Immature potatoes are apt to have the skins broken in digging or in handling for shipment so the tubers appear rough and dirty as they are exposed for sale in the markets. This gives them a handicap to overcome before they get into the consumer's home.

Most of the Michigan market crop is produced from Russet Rural seed stock. This variety needs 120 to 130 days after planting to become fully ripe, and the planting date should be early enough to allow that length of growing season before the danger of frosts.

In average years a planting date should be early enough to allow that length of growing season before the danger of frosts.

In average years, a planting date of from May 15 to May 31 will be satisfactory for the section north of Muskegon and Saginaw.

Potatoes may be planted safely from five to ten days later south of the Muskegon-Saginaw line.

Paul Robeson, the Negro actor, will play Othello in London, with Peggy Ashcroft, white, as Desdemona.

Raspberry Does not Require Fertilization

The results of fertilizing raspberries in the spring are apt to be disappointing to the owner of the plantation, members of the horticultural department at Michigan State College say after compiling the data from tests made in commercial fields.

The specialists in horticulture advise the application of fertilizers in mid-September if any are to be used, and they state that it is doubtful if a profit can be obtained from the use of fertilizers for raspberries which are growing on heavy, fairly rich soils. Plants yielding at the rate of 150 crates per acre require no additional plant food according to the college experiments.

Nitrate fertilizers applied in September apparently increase the quantity of early berries produced but there is no appreciable gain in total yearly production. The early berries, of course, usually bring a premium in price and this added value may make the use of fertilizer profitable in some cases.

The foliage of the raspberry plants is noticeably benefited by the use of nitrogenous fertilizers and, if the yields are not checked by the use of unfertilized rows of plants, the plantation owner is apt to believe that the advantages of the additional plant food are greater than is really the case.

Tests made with phosphate showed no increase in yields obtained from the use of this plant food.

Instantaneous seed potato treatment INCREASES YIELDS

Semesan Bel saves time in treating Controls seed-borne diseases Produces better stands

By increasing yields and improving crop quality, seed potato treatment pays handsome profit on its small cost. Most growers know this.

But, until recently, seed treatment took so much time and tedious labor that many farmers omitted it. They preferred to chance getting a large crop, rather than spend an hour and a half to two hours soaking every lot of seed before planting.

Now, Du Bay Semesan Bel has removed this time handicap from seed potato treatment. With this safe dip, you can treat your seed potatoes easily and instantly! No soaking; just dip and plant. One man alone can treat as much as 400 bushels of seed in a single day by this quick method.

Controls seed-borne diseases

Instantaneous Semesan Bel treatment kills surface seed-borne infections of scab, Rhizoctonia and black leg, thus improving the stand and making possible a bigger yield per acre.

In 1928 Maine tests, according to Phytopathology for January (1930), Semesan Bel treatment of clean seed produced a yield increase of 58.2 bushels per acre. In similar tests on diseased seed in 1926 and 1927, Semesan Bel caused an average yield increase of 53.6 bushels per acre.

Growers' reports convincing

Enthusiastic reports by growers who have used Semesan Bel are fully as convincing as results of such tests by agricultural authorities.

Farmers in Grant County, N. Dakota, increased their potato yields from 10 to 24% by this treatment.

Elmer Osking, of the same state, writes: "Semesan Bel has anything but that we have ever tried for treatment by at least 15 to 20%." When tested in Adams County, Wisconsin, Semesan Bel (formerly known as Dip Duse) gave an increase of 11.4 bushels per acre.

Reporting on comparative tests with formaldehyde, Bulletin #405 of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station says: "With few exceptions the plants germinated more rapidly and made a more vigorous early growth. When 'Dip Duse' or Semesan Bel was used, this treatment also produced greater yields; the bulletin states

Semesan Bel for sweet potatoes

Surface-borne black rot and scurf or soil stain of sweet potatoes are easily controlled with Semesan Bel by quick seed treatment and dipping the sprouts before setting. Bigger yields are reported by many growers who protect the crop this way.

An economical treatment—

One pound of Semesan Bel will treat from 16 bushels of small seed to 22 bushels of large seed potatoes. So it costs little when used according to simple directions. Your dealer will gladly give you a free copy of the new Semesan Bel pamphlet. Or, write to Bayer-Semesan Company, Inc., 105 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

Television May Broadcast Baseball Within Coming Year

Developments in television during the last 30 days have been so far-reaching as to make possible the prediction that within a year baseball games and other sporting events will be seen and heard over the air. Joseph A. Burch, transmission engineer of the Jenkins Laboratories of Washington and Jersey City, has informed the Federal Radio Commission. His statement was made in support of an application of the Voice of Brooklyn, Inc., Brooklyn, N. Y., for a permit to build a television station. Declaring that the time has come when sight and sound can be broadcast, he said that several New York and New Jersey stations are making television tests for two hours daily.

S. G. Gellard, president of the Voice of Brooklyn, Inc., testified that he proposed to build a television station to broadcast "five pictures," and sound from the station. He supported the testimony of Mr. Burch that it is now possible to synchronize voice and pictures, broadcast them over the air and reproduce them.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says: "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Wm. N. Brodrick.

Class '30 Wins Third Victory in Inter-Class Track Meet

BREAK EIGHT MEET MARKS TIE ANOTHER

Amass 60 Points; Juniors are Second with 43 Points.

FRESHMEN UPSET DOPE

Aronson, Breaks 220 Meet Mark; Ties 100 Yard Mark.

The mighty seniors won the annual B. H. S. inter-class meet held Friday afternoon for the third year in a row, and in doing so, established eight new meet records and tied another. The seniors ran up 60 points with their nearest competitors, the juniors, way behind with 43 points. The freshmen pulled a surprise by scoring 30 1/2 points and the sophomores were confined to 3 1/2.

The near-grads piled up points in the dashes, getting first and second in both the century and 220, and second and third in the hurdles, where Louie Morse pulled a surprise by nosing out Red Aronson by about a foot.

The senior relay team, composed of Pfingst, Pierce, Zerbe and Aronson, set the best mark when they stepped the 880 in 1:44.1, leading the second place freshmen by 30 yards.

Coach Bradford will take the four who placed in each event to Niles Friday for the annual county meet. Buchanan walked off with most of the honors last year, but will have some tougher competition Friday.

SENIORS WILL GIVE "POLLY WITH PAST"

Success of The Metropolitan Theaters to be Played Here.

MAY 28-29 TO BE DATE

Cast is Selected Under the Direction of Mrs. Dunbar.

"Polly With a Past," a comedy in three acts by George Middleton and Guy Bolton was first produced September 6, 1917 at the Belasco theatre in New York City and played 326 performances at that place. It was also produced at the St. James Theatre, London, March 2, 1921, under the direction of Gilbert Miller.

This same play will be presented as the senior play on May 28 and 29, in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Dunbar, head of the English department of the school, is director. She has not definitely announced the entire cast, however Kathryn Reed and Harold Pierce will take the leading parts.

Polly Shannon, a minister's daughter, goes to New York to earn money to go to Paris to have her voice trained. Circumstances cause her to be employed as a maid by Clay Collum and Harry Richardson. Their friend, Rex Van Zial, is in love with the very haughty Myrtle Davis, who is a welfare worker. She spurns him, whereupon, his two friends and the maid devise a plan by which he will be able to satisfy his unrequited love. The situation becomes very complicated.

Mrs. Davis, Myrtle's mother, who follows her daughter, is involved with Mrs. Van Zial, Rex's mother. Prentice Van Zial, Rex's uncle, comes to the rescue. Petrowski, a famous pianist, Commodore Barker and Parker, the maid, add color and mystery to the production.

The cast is working hard under the direction of Mrs. Dunbar and the play is sure to be a "howling success."

Students Visit 3 Oaks Museum

A very happy group of boys and girls spent Friday afternoon at the Three Oaks Museum. Mr. Fox gave a splendid talk which he had the pupils to understand and appreciate the things in the museum.

Miss Hopkins wishes to thank the parents and friends who gave of their time and the use of their cars to make such a trip possible.

That it was worth while may be seen from the stories which follow:

Three Oaks Museum Over at the Three Oaks museum I saw very many interesting things. The things that interested me most were the organs and birds.

The organs were surely funny. The springs and wires had to be tied together and some of the keys on the organs did not work and some of them were badly scratched up.

Those birds were of all different kinds. One bird had a fish in its mouth. I saw one eagle. It was a very large bird and it had large claws and wings. I would like very much to see it again.

—Jack Hayes

Three Oaks Museum At the museum in Three Oaks I saw the most interesting article. It was a model of an old train. It had real levers and the brakes would work. It could be run, for it had every thing needed.

Some other interesting things I saw were some old fashioned bullets and guns and some swords. One of the bullets was about 2 foot long and 3 inches in diameter. There was a funny looking pistol also. There was a sword that had a silver sheath and the hilt was made of gold.

—Victor Vigansky

Three Oaks Museum When we went to the Three Oaks museum we saw many interesting things. But the most interesting thing to me was a little wood burning engine. It was about one yard long and two feet high and one foot wide. The color of it was red and black. I would like very much to own it.

We had a lot of fun in the basement. The way we had the fun was on the old Buchanan fire wagon. One of the boys went up when the other went down. Like a see-saw. Some girls would get on one side and some boys on the other side and see-saw.

—Sam McCormick

Three Oaks Museum In the museum at Three Oaks there are many interesting things. They have a model of one of the first wood burning engines.

There is an Indian canoe and some skulls.

They have a lot of bird eggs and stuffed birds, also some stuffed fish also.

In the basement they have an old hearse and Buchanan's old fire truck. They have about fifty old spinning wheels.

They also have old army hats, guns and different kinds of shells. They have three old cannons.

They have some very big drums, old pianos and lots of old bonnets and dresses.

Editorial

The Michigan Blossom Festival has rapidly grown in importance. At first it was a beauty contest among the cities and villages of Berrien county, but now it includes many other important cities of Michigan.

Many tourists from other states travel on the blossom routes at this time of the year to see the beauty both in girls and in blossom, that Michigan has to offer.

On the day of the parade, the streets of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor are lined up and down with people who try to get a glimpse of the proceedings. The theaters in which the queen and her court appear are always crowded.

The residents of Michigan, and especially of Berrien county, should be proud of this festival, which gets bigger and better every year, and already rivals the Mardi Gras of New Orleans.

Everyone wants to enjoy later life and we can do so by building strong and healthy bodies in youth. If we do this our bodies will be able to work well, will not weaken easily, and will be able to fight the disease germs which are always about us.

Tuberculosis is a disease which will weaken our bodies. It often begins in childhood and may then have very slight symptoms that will develop in adult life. Tuberculosis takes the greatest number of lives between the ages of fifteen and forty; the peak is reached at about twenty-three years.

We should prevent tuberculosis and other diseases because we want healthy people in our country.

Strong bodies can be built by observing these health rules:

1. Plenty of sunshine, fresh air, exercise and sleep; sunshine to strengthen us; fresh air so we shall not be breathing bad air all the time; exercise to develop our bodies; sleep to rest ourselves and give our bodies a chance to repair themselves.

2. Brush teeth to keep particles of food out of them and prevent them from decaying.

3. A full bath at least once a week to clean the pores.

4. Avoid sick people in order not to catch their disease.

5. Drink at least six glasses of water a day.

6. Eat some vegetables and fruit every day.

7. Growing children need three glasses of milk each day, but should never have tea or coffee.

8. One should be weighed and measured regularly and should try to have the right weight for height and age.

Consult a doctor regularly and do as he says. We can make our country a good place to live in if we observe these health rules.

By Peggy Merrifield, 7th grade

If you buy a new automobile and abuse it it does not take very long to develop trouble.

The human body is a mechanism that is more often neglected than an automobile. If you want true happiness in later life, the foundation for good health must be laid in childhood. Good health is something money cannot buy.

Tuberculosis very often starts in early childhood. It is a lasting or chronic disease.

If a child shows signs of under weight or slight weakness, if he tires easily and has no appetite and is in a somewhat feverish condition, he should have an examination to make sure he is not going to develop tuberculosis.

The most deaths occur between the ages of twenty and thirty but the tuberculosis peak is considered to be approximately at the age of twenty-three.

Tuberculosis is a very much dreaded disease but it also is a disease that no one need have if he keeps his body from getting into a rundown condition. If keeping your health is started in childhood it must be continued all thru your life.

Of course if one expects to keep his health, he must know what to do. Here are eight simple rules that are easy to obey:

1. A bath twice a week.

2. Lots of fresh air and sunshine.

3. Brush your teeth every day.

4. Drink milk, no tea or coffee.

5. Fresh fruits and vegetables.

6. At least four glasses of water daily.

7. Proper sleep with the windows open.

8. Keep cheerful.

Picnic time came and was properly inaugurated by a group of ambitious seniors (all girls) who hiked to the St. Joe River Friday afternoon, in two cars. They enjoyed a weiner roast and all the trimmings. They took their good luck piece, Mrs. Dunbar, along so no one was drowned.

Radio Fishermen.

The radio is a great invention, but it has brought its problems. We don't refer to such inconsequential things as static, squealing, batteries, aerials, tubes, loud speakers, etc. Any difficulties connected with them ultimately will be solved. The big problem is the fellow who likes to monkey with the knobs on the front of the contraption and see how loud he can make the volume or what far station he can reach. He usually is the sort of chap who is nervous and jumpy—always wanting to do something. He could no more allow a selection to be played thru to its end than he could allow a street car to hit him. He must get a station and say, "Hear that? That's MQMQ." Immediately he turns the dial and says, "There, that's QMOM." And on he goes jumping from one tune to another until your head is swimming with snatches of melody and talk. Nor can he allow the set to run along in an even tone. He must twist the knobs until the house and those of the neighbors on all sides reverberate with thunderous crescendo.

Thinning Ranks.

In the civil war Indiana provided 208,367 soldiers for the Union army, the largest per capita enlistment of any northern state. It is nearly sixty-nine years since the men of the Sixth Volunteer Infantry answered the first call to arms, and now the Grand Army of the Republic reports only 940 members in Indiana. There are some other survivors who are not members, but most of the veterans are identified with the organization. Fifteen new members joined last year, but six by death was 339 and 37 withdrew, leaving an account of age. Forty years ago there were 25,000 members in Indiana.

The reports of Adjutant General Terrill show that Indiana's total troops for the civil war included 6293 commissioned officers at the time of original organization of military units, 1112 non-commissioned officers and musicians, 137,401 privates, 25,836 recruited privates, 11,715 re-enlisted veterans and 16,607 unassigned recruits, some of whom served in the regular army. The state's losses during the conflict included 352 commissioned officers and 23,764 non-commissioned officers and privates killed in action or died of wounds or disease contracted while in the service. The total was 24,416.

Of those who returned from the service the Grand Army of the Republic membership was recruited. Years ago it was one of the most influential organizations in the state, especially in political campaigns. Even the veterans who did not belong to the order usually followed its political recommendations and plans. In recent years the ranks have thinned and periodically somebody suggests that the G. A. R. disband. Old as they are, the remaining veterans have refused and say that while a remnant of the original troops remain the Grand Army will continue to exist.

Modern Methods Insure Success.

The most cheerful note that has come from the textile industry in recent years was contained in the annual report of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company recently. To appreciate its full importance one should remember that company is the largest maker of cotton cloth in the world. For years prior to 1929 the company had paid no dividends. It is a different story in the 1929 report. There is a dividend of one dollar per share to be distributed to shareholders, and workers in the mill are to be given a bonus of 5 per cent on their wages for the year. The bonus plan was agreed on by the company and employees before the wage scale of 1929 was adopted, the company offering to share its profits, if any, with the workers.

The most significant feature of the annual report was contained in an explanatory note relative to the revival of business and the earned profits. The company frankly admits its profits were made possible by economy plant modernization. The task has not been completed. Simplification of production is to be carried still farther, economies in operations are in sight and will be realized, and the advantage of this betterment should be made plain in the annual report at the end of the present year. Shareholders may expect dividends and workers may look forward to a bonus distribution.

Production experts reported the textile mills far below modern possibilities in their methods and equipment when the depression was first brought to national attention. Waste elimination experts said large values were not being reclaimed, the textile mill owners were trying to compete with modern engineering genius when they were using out-of-date machinery and methods that belonged to other periods of the national history. The reference to economy plant modernization in the Amoskeag annual report shows engineering and chemical talent has been called in to help drive depression out of the textile mills and made a notable start on that task. If one company can make changes in methods and resume dividend operations, it will be possible for others to win by the use of the same methods. Apparently a part of the textile depression resulted from lack of enterprise. The world has little need for men and mills that are out of date. They do not invite, they compel failure.

Mr. Edison's Optimism.

It's easy for a young man to be an optimist. He has not been buffeted and battered by life's disappointments; few of his ambitions have come to naught and the best part of his life lies ahead. It is unusual for a man over 80 to look with bright eyes upon the adventures of the world, or to hold out any great hope for future achievements. He usually is not concerned with what exciting things are coming, but is more interested in the mellow past.

A few men, outstanding the world's history, however, have held their optimism to the last and have worked eagerly through old age to accomplish their dreams and projects. Hard working Mr. Edison, America's electrical wizard, is one of these. Eighty-three years of hard work have not lessened his fervor nor his hope for better things. He is as immersed in his work as any youngster on the way to fortune. His years may be many, but his spirit is young. His optimism is unquenchable. He sees, as evidenced by his answers to questions propounded to him on his latest birthday, a better and more efficient world and he is still pounding away on his work in an effort to hasten the day of more happiness and less woe.

Low Price of Butter.

There was a decrease of 25,000,000 pounds in the consumption of butter in this country during 1929. The cause for it, as given by Hoard's Dairyman, was unemployment of labor, developed last May and continued to the end of the year. Unemployment came when butter prices were high and consumption increasing. Lack of buying power caused many to turn from butter to substitutes, with the result that sales of oleomargarine increased last year 37,000,000 pounds over the sales of 1928.

With the shrinkage in sales of butter there has been a lowering of price and all grades are sold today in the market at prices well below those quoted one year ago. There is an abundance of butter in storage and dairy interests have under way a national campaign to interest the people in using greater quantities of butter. Some speakers have insisted the dairy business was largely over expanded, but that veteran dairy publication, Hoard's Dairyman, finds no basis for that claim as it examined butter and industrial statistics. There was a shift from butter to substitutes as employment dropped and buying power was curtailed. That is the reason for the butter surplus, it asserts.

Smouldering British India.

Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the passive revolt in India, is a figure that is attracting the attention of the world today.

India is a land of mystery and mysticism. History has taught the Britisher a respect for the oriental mind, with which the suave of European diplomacy may not compete.

Many of the powerful thinkers in India have been educated in western universities. England has never succeeded in subjugating India. What worries the British foreign office is that Gandhi's passive revolt may kindle afresh the spirit of India, resulting in an outbreak of the smouldering fire that has never been extinguished.

Britishers have reason to remember the "black hole" and the fighting spirit of a people that has never been conquered by plague or famine and which is not likely to ever acknowledge in their hearts the sovereignty of the British lion. Gandhi and his Indian policy may yet flash the news of history in the making across the front pages of the newspapers of the world.

Actions along one line help to analyze the reason for others, and after observing how women flock to basement bargain sales, particularly when the goods are frankly advertised as seconds or slightly soiled, one can understand why some of them married what they did.

That mysterious old 60-foot sailing boat which no one knows how it got in the Pymatung Swamp in northeastern Ohio, there being no stream large enough to float it, probably was stolen years ago and hidden there by one of the forerunners of the fellow who swiped the airplane from Port Columbus.

Those inflated rubber shoes which are used for walking on water might be all right until one stubbed his toe, when we think he'd need inflated rubber mittens to prevent being caught in a decidedly awkward position.

One of the best Holstein herds in the state is that of the Traverse City State Hospital, Traverse City. The picture shows one section of one of the institution's dairy buildings, which is also the home of Traverse City's Walker, world's champion producing cow for her eight and nine consecutive lactation periods. It takes nine magnetic milking units, operating at one time, to completely milk the herd at milking time.

MICHIGAN FIRMS STUDY SEASONAL LABOR CONDITION

MODIFICATION OF NEW MODEL POLICY IS ADVISED AS REMEDY.

Two steps which offer a means of attacking unemployment, the unsolved problem of management, are discussed in a study of this problem in Michigan industries made by O. W. Blackett, associate professor of business statistics of the University of Michigan. One hundred firms, numbering on their payrolls 20 per cent of the factory population of the state, are co-operating in the compilation of monthly statistics as to labor turnover, the basis of the statistical study.

The analyst lists five outstanding factors in the unemployment situation but he finds three of them, probably the most far-reaching causes of unemployment, go entirely beyond the score of individual industries to deal with.

Two factors, which offer hope of improvement, are listed as seasonal unemployment and that due to unsatisfactory placement of workers. In the automobile industry, seasonal unemployment is unavoidable so long as retail sales fluctuate with the time of the year, but he sees some chance of smoothing the level of these sales by a modification of the new model policy.

"Policies calculated to accomplish this have never been tested for cars in the lower price range and it is, therefore impossible to predict the success that would be achieved," he asserts.

Use of price discounts for off-season purchases is a policy that has not been tried, he says.

Detroit unemployment caused by unsatisfactory selection of workers can be decreased if the automobile industry will give it proper attention, the analyst declares, stating that certain Detroit companies have already demonstrated their ability to do this.

Unemployment of the type mentioned is represented by those who are often out of work because they are either unwilling or unable to hold a job and there is a continual "float" of these workers. As long as there are firms that do not select their workers carefully, the "float" remains in Detroit and the number of these men increases.

Careful selection will not eliminate this form of unemployment but it will improve it and carry additional benefits at the same time. Prof. Blackett believes. The most essential step in this direction is to place high grade executives in charge of personnel activities, not men of the $5,000 variety, but men of commanding personality and ability who can make their policies effective with the management.

Mr. Blackett thinks Detroit firms are not now spending enough either of money or executive talent on their personnel work and he holds the belief that no progress in this direction is possible until business leaders are convinced of the fact.

Factors, out of reach of individual employers, are cyclical unemployment caused by periodic business disturbances, unemployment caused by the migration of industry of the displacement of one industry by another, and unemployment caused by the substitution of machinery for labor.

"There is nothing, so far as I know, that the automobile industry can do to control cyclical unemployment," the analyst states.

"The forces that produce waves of depression in industry are too general and too powerful for any locality or industry to combat."

In a city like Detroit, greater diversification of industry seems to be the only remedy for unemployment caused by migration of industry and substitution of machinery, he feels.

Due to high wages, mass production and the seasonal nature of many manufacturing enterprises, Michigan industries have a markedly higher turnover in labor than the average, according to T. A. Veenstra, research expert on the business staff of the University of Michigan. Michigan companies, Mr. Veenstra finds, averaged five per cent and 5.5 per cent per month in 1928 and 1929 while throughout the nation industries averaged three per cent and 3.7 per cent in these years.

Two general programs are presented by the writer as offering a good chance of reducing the labor turnover, stabilization of employment so that more workers are guaranteed full-time, year-round work; general adoption of better selection procedure, thus placing workers in the position for which they are best qualified and in which they are likely to stay for the longest time.

Mr. Veenstra points out that a portion of the cost of labor turnover is necessary but, he emphasizes the fact that, like all costs, efficiency demands that it be reduced to a minimum. That part of the turnover which can be eliminated represents pure waste of money. The problem is a difficult one, however, because it varies from one plant to another while the labor market is the result of all the labor policies of all plants.

BERRRIEN-CASS SCOUT FIELD DAY AT NILES MAY 24

TROOPS WILL COMPETE IN 14 FIELD EVENTS AT PLYM PARK.

Field Day will be held at Plym Park, Niles, May 23 and 24. As many as possible should plan to camp the night of May 23, as we will have a big camp fire, songs, stunts and everything. The following morning there will be a kite flying contest with fine prizes. Any type of kite made by the scout can be used. Scouts camping over night will furnish their own blankets, tent or sleeping bags. Here is a chance to have some real sport. Parents should bring their dinners on Saturday morning and stay for the day. Remember the regulations: every troop must be represented even if they only enter one event. We know, however, that everybody is going to have the time of their lives.

Every scoutmaster and assistant have been given a copy of the Field Day events and the instructions governing each event.

We are counting on every district being represented 100 per cent and "carrying off" their portion of the prizes.

Scouts, talk this over with your leaders, don't let your troop go through this big affair without winning your share of the ribbons and prizes.

Every troop listed for the Field Day will receive a 1930 Field Day streamer regardless of whether they win any events or not.

Every troop should register the events they are going to enter together with the names of the Scouts before May 5th.

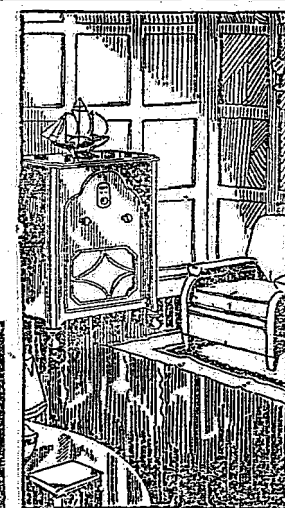

The Field Day events are: First aid race, 2 scouts and a patient; signal tower race, eight scouts; patrol antelope race, eight scouts; Chariot race, five scouts; Paul Revere relay, five scouts; dressing race, individual contest, 2 from a troop if desired; Flag-Jack cooking, two scouts from a troop; Semaphore signaling, four scouts; sender, receiver, dictator, writer; Morse signaling, same as for Semaphore; bugling contest, any scout; fire by friction, open to all scouts; fire building and string burn, individual contest; patrol knot tying, six scouts; tent pitching, two scouts, pup tents to be used.

A Favorite Kipling Story

It is recorded of this well-known British author that he remonstrated with a friend for having sent him a publication from which the advertising pages had been cut. "Why, you have thrown away the most interesting section!" Mr. Kipling said.

Advertisements are more interesting today than at any time since the invention of movable type. Merchants and manufacturers realize that their announcements must compete for interest with the work of high-priced authors and illustrators.

If you are not a regular reader of the advertisements in this paper, this is a good time to cultivate their acquaintance. You will find them interesting. You will find them friendly. They show you where to stop and take considerable strain off both shoe-leather and pocketbooks.

Read the advertisements because they are interesting. Believe them because they are true. Act upon their suggestions because it will pay you in many ways. Before you pick up the telephone, you usually consult the phone book. Before you start out to shop, consult the advertising columns of this paper. They will give you a direct connection with the merchandise you want.

Don't stop with reading the news and editorials. The advertising columns are equally important.

"Under terms of the merger of the two pools," Mr. Brody continued, "the Michigan State Farm Bureau is to carry on field, organization and publicity work necessary to interesting wool producers to pool their wool, for the assembling of that wool, and for the permanent organization of the Michigan Co-operative Wool Marketing Ass'n."

"Interest of the Federal Farm Board in co-operative wool marketing has so increased Michigan farmers' interest in wool pooling that we expect the 1930 pool to be the largest in years, judging by the demand for sacks and tags for shipping," said Mr. Brody. "All wool in the pool will be on a marketing contract between the farmer and the Michigan Co-operative Wool Marketing Ass'n."

Mr. Brody announced that the association wool will be assembled, warehoused, graded and dispersed from the licensed warehouse in Detroit. Farmers may write the Michigan State Farm Bureau at Lansing or the association at 1050 Beaubien Street, Detroit, for information, wool sacks and shipping tags. Michigan pooled-wools will be sold by the National Wool Marketing Corporation, it was said.

Cheaper Railway
Fare Coming Says
Michigan Magazine

The advent of an era of cheaper railroad passenger fare seems to be at hand. The Pullman company, finding that the average loading of its coaches has decreased from 13.43 passengers in 1925, to 11.66 passengers last year, and that its upper berths are not in demand, has made a 22 per cent cut in the rates for sections composed of double and single berths, capable of being used on a single railroad ticket. So far there has been no change in the surcharge paid to the railroads for hauling Pullman cars, amounting to 50 per cent of the portion of the fare group to the Pullman company. But that will come in time, either as a voluntary act, or as the result of legislation forcing the railroads to remove this iniquitous charge.

Meantime, a distinguished railroad publicist writing in one of the organs of this interest, has exploited a very excellent idea.

It is stated, not by him, that the bus lines have built up a passenger business greater, in terms of single passengers, than the combined carriage of the steam railroads and the suburban lines. We do not think this is true, but it is true that they have built up a great patronage. Not all of this has come from the railroads, but enough of it has to make them take notice. The lowest day coach fares on the railroads average 3.6 cents per mile. This writer suggests that a third-class passenger rate of 2 cents per mile be established to recover part of this bus trade, or at least to compete for it. It would be hoped that the cheaper rate would stimulate passenger travel on the railroads, and by doing so enable them to recover some of the revenue which has been lost to the bus lines, giving the public the benefit of the faster service which it can get from the rail lines. Such a change, especially with in states, may call for some permissive or directory legislation. It may be certain that Michigan will not deny this, especially as there is still much ambition and taste to travel by rail, if rates made it possible.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

A demonstration tells you why it's wise to choose a six

Everywhere, buyers in the low-price field are agreeing "It's wise to choose a Six." And if you want to know why—get a demonstration of the new Chevrolet Six.

The Chevrolet Six is always smooth. When you idle the motor—drive fast in second—or travel at top speed—the power flows easily and evenly at all times. And everyone in the car enjoys a pleasant ride.

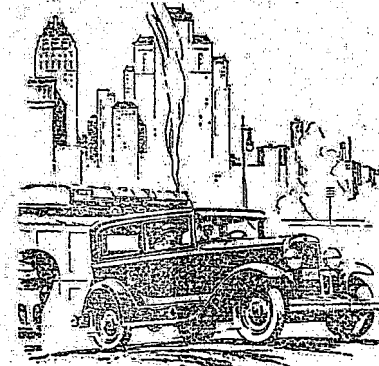

Developing 50 horsepower, the Chevrolet motor is also a marvel of flexibility. Needless gear shifting is avoided. And on the steepest hill, there is a reserve of power more than equal to every need.

And six-cylinder smoothness protects the entire chassis from the destructive effect of vibration. As a result, the whole car lasts longer—and resale value is increased.

Moreover, a demonstration reveals many other reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

Old River Road
Landmark Removed
By Fire Thursday

The old farm house on the place known as the Ezra Wilkins homestead, now owned by Mike Popovich, was destroyed by fire Thursday evening, the flames starting in the rear from some undetermined origin. The house was one of the oldest in the district, and was located near the old Wilkins mill on the River Road, a mile south from the stone road leading west out of Berrien Springs. It stood on the west side of the road with a terrace and stone wall in front. Mr. and Mrs. Popovich were visiting at the home of a neighbor, David Lomough, when the fire broke out about 9 p. m. The loss was estimated at $4,000, partially covered by insurance.

Population Growth

Returns from the 1930 census for three Berrien Co. townships were reported last week by the census headquarters at Paw Paw, indicating a substantial growth in Hagar, Weesaw and Berrien townships. Hagar's population is given as 1343 as compared with 1119 ten years ago, an increase of 224 or 20 per cent. Number of farms in the township are listed as 223. The population of Weesaw was placed at 1530 as compared with 1365 ten years ago, a gain of 165, or about 16 per cent. The number of farms in Weesaw was placed at 276. Berrien township has 1360 population, as compared with 1434 ten years ago, a gain of 426 or nearly 30 per cent. The number of farms in Berrien are listed at 239.

House of David
Experiences 66 Pct.
Population Drop

The population of the House of David has decreased during the ten-year interim between the 1920 and 1930 census taking from 640 to 263, a loss of 377, approximately a 66 per cent membership drop. The main factor in the decrease was the split between the "Queen Mary" and the DeWhirst factions. Only the latter faction were counted as members of the House of David. The nest of Israelites at the House of David Hotel were counted as part of the population of Benton Harbor and those on the Big Rocky farm near Berrien Springs were counted separately also.

OFFICER TELLS
WHAT KONJOLA
DID FOR HIM

FOUND IN NEW AND DIFFERENT MEDICINE WHAT WAS NEEDED TO RESTORE HIS HEALTH.

MR. DAVID E. SUMNER
"Konjola made me feel like a man remade and when I started taking this medicine I was about as sick and miserable as a man can be and keep going," said Mr. David E. Sumner, 1051 Boston Street, Grand Rapids. "My stomach was completely out of order; my kidneys were weak, my back ached so badly I thought I could not stand it another minute. Every night I had to get up numerous times and the loss of sleep put me all out of condition for the day's work. My appetite was poor and I lost in weight and strength. "To make matters worse, not a medicine I tried did the least bit of good. But what an experience I had when I started taking Konjola! I had not finished the first bottle before I began to feel better and as the days passed, the improvement became more noticeable. In all, I took five bottles and they restored my health completely. I am eating like a wood-chopper, sleeping fine and that terrible backache is no more. I'll tell the world Konjola is the medicine for me, and I highly recommend it to other sufferers." Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended. Konjola is sold in Buchanan, Michigan at W. N. Brodick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Whole of Northern Michigan Visible
from Watch Tower

"Every square mile of Michigan north of a line running east and west from Grand Rapids can be seen from the 140 odd towers operated by the Forest Fire Division," according to Howard R. Sayre, chief fire warden of the Department of Conservation. "This summer, as in previous years, we are issuing an invitation to the public to visit these towers. Of course, we must exclude the children, because of possible danger to them in climbing the 100 foot or so open ladder to the tops of the towers. "Last year more than 12,000 people climbed the towers and we expect that there will be more visitors this year."

Three Convictions
For Violation of Fire Permit Law

The opening of the 1930 forest fire season brought three convictions for violations of the fire permit law, one in the upper peninsula and two in the lower peninsula. Charles Lindquist, Grand Traverse county, was convicted of starting a fire without a permit and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $7. In Wexford county, D. W. Johnson of Saginaw, was ordered to pay the costs of suppression when forest fire fighters were called out to put out a fire that Johnson had started without first securing a burning permit. John Mioski, Iron county, pleaded guilty to a charge of starting a fire without a permit and was ordered to pay a fine of $25 with costs of $9.20.

Study of German
Resumes Place in College Courses

German as a subject for study in our colleges and universities is once more coming into its own. One of the results of the great war was a very sharp decline in the study of German, and even its discontinuance in many of the high schools. Students who once flocked to classes in German took up French and Spanish which, up to that time, had been seriously neglected. The result is, that while interest in the romance languages still continues, the number of students who are studying German once more is increasing every year. At present there are over 1500 students enrolled in German classes in the University, according to Professor John W. Eaton, head of the Department of German. This is, numerically, a large increase over the pre-war enrollment although the percentage of students is lower than it was seventeen years ago. There are many causes for this swing back to the study of German, Professor Eaton points out. In the first place, a knowledge of German is necessary for the advanced student because of the many scientific and scholarly publications in that language. The richness of German literature and the growing friendship and sympathy for the German people also have their influences. Moreover, the German ancestry of so many American citizens has, unquestionably, played a part in this revival. The result should be a better balance in the study of German, French and Spanish than existed before the war, when German was over emphasized, and the years immediately after the war, when German was neglected. Forewarned. "Why did you slap Mary?" "She cheated." "How was that?" Even "dyed-in-the-wool" oil engineers get a thrill out of this test . . .

It is a simple experiment, but the dramatic results excite even oil experts themselves. A quart of "used" New Iso-Vis, black with the usual crankcase dirt, is drained from a car after many hundreds of miles of driving. Five minutes later we have a quart of oil that might have come straight from the refinery. It has the clear amber color. The same heavy body. Yet it is exactly the same quart of oil that was just taken from the crankcase!

THIS experiment proves that New Iso-Vis does not "break down" in the crankcase. A special filter removes the crankcase dirt from "used" New Iso-Vis and the oil itself is exactly the same as when freshly distilled.

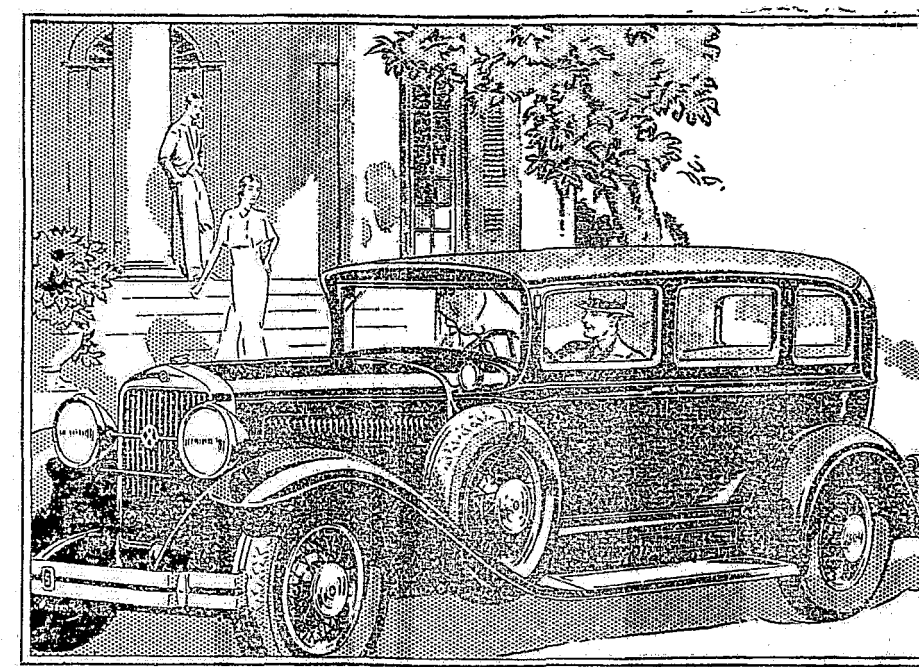

What has happened is simply that a special clay filter has removed the dust and dirt. This is one of the many tests that prove beyond question that New Iso-Vis will not thin out in the crankcase. New Iso-Vis has other important advantages. It brings a radical reduction of carbon deposit. And it gives lubrication over a wider range of temperatures. This important combination of qualities means less wear and longer life for your engine. New Iso-Vis Motor Oil is on sale at all Standard Oil dealers and service stations.
