We Investigate and Find that Matt Knew All About that $150

It is the practice of the Berrien County Record, along with the New York World and other great newspapers to avoid errors as far as is humanly possible and to cheerfully own to them on the more or less rare occasions when they slip through. Last week due to the perverse sense of humor on the part of one of the less principled members of the staff, a headline was allowed to slip thru intimating that it was oversight on the part of the administration that $150 happened to be left in the city treasury at the end of the tax year. Our attention has been called to the statement by members of the administration, who have convinced us that the surplus in the treasury was not at all an oversight, and that the city dads were all fully aware of its existence but were all watching each other so close that it remained intact. The Record has been an ardent supporter of the present administration, and we hereby wish to further testify to our appreciation of their constant watchfulness over each other and over the city's treasury.

House of David Nips Colored Nine of Chicago 8-5

The House of David nine gave additional proof of their merits as a baseball aggregation Sunday by scoring an 8-5 victory over the Colored Giants of Joe Green at Eden Springs Park. It was the Davids' first win out of three starts against the Giants. The House of David manager had imported a southpaw, "Red" Welch, from Mishawaka, who was able to tame the Giants, holding them to five hits. The two teams battled on seven terms the first two innings, each scoring three runs apiece in the first and one apiece in the second. Home runs by Harrison in the fifth and Al Stemm in the seventh, with several fruitful singles, netted four more runs for the Davids while the Giants were held scoreless until the ninth, when they rallied and sent two runs across.

Dixie Gas Trims S. B. Cranes 5-4

The Dixie Gas nine of Benton Harbor batted out a 5-4 victory over the South Bend Crane nine in a contest at Derby Field Sunday, in which extra-base wallop was a main feature. The South Bend team led 4-1 in the eighth inning, when the Dixie Gas staged a butting rally, led by Stemm with a home run. Bud Kory lined out a three-bagger and Demkovich a two-base hit, the inning resulting in four runs for the Benton Harbor nine. Sort pitched for the Dixie Gas, striking out 12 men while Dewey worked in the pitcher's box for the Crane nine, pitching out six men.

Baroda Defeats Stevensville Nine

The Baroda Merchants defeated the Stevensville baseball team for the second time this season in a 10-6 contest on the latter's diamond Sunday. Baroda secured a seven run lead in the first three innings and was never headed. Stevensville rallied in the ninth, scoring three runs, but not enough to offset the early advantage of their old rivals.

Henderson pitched steady ball throughout the game for Baroda, whiffing 12 men. Herb Schultz started for Stevensville and was relieved by Brown.

Sawyer Aces Defeat S. B. Tribune 3-2

The Sawyer Aces won over the South Bend Tribune team 3-2 on the former's diamond Sunday. Kieger for the Aces, fanning 14 batters while Andrie for South Bend fanned five Sawyer men.

Bainbridge Trims Berrien Springs; 27 Runs are Recorded

The Berrien Springs Independents proved not quite so free with the bat as the Bainbridge Independents and lost a 17-30 contest at Sparks Corners Sunday, in a game featured by heavy hitting. Thirty-four hits were registered in the contest of which the Bainbridge nine collected 21 and the Berrien Springs nine 13.

Crystal Blues Win Close Contest From Elkhart Greys Sun.

The strong Crystal Blue nine emerged winners from a close contest with the Elkhart Greys Sunday, edging out a 2-1 victory on the Coloma diamond. The Blues registered both their runs as the result of home runs by second baseman Jackson and catcher "Happy" Harker. Rudy Weber, southpaw, pitched for the Blues and held the Greys under control throughout the game.

Sodus Boosters Vanquish Coloma

The Sodus Boosters defeated the Coloma Red Sox 11-3 at Sodus on Sunday, pitcher Eddie Snyder delivering his sixth victory for the season to the Sodus nine. He held the Red Sox to three hits, fanned eleven men. The Boosters will play the Benton Harbor American Legion nine next Sunday.

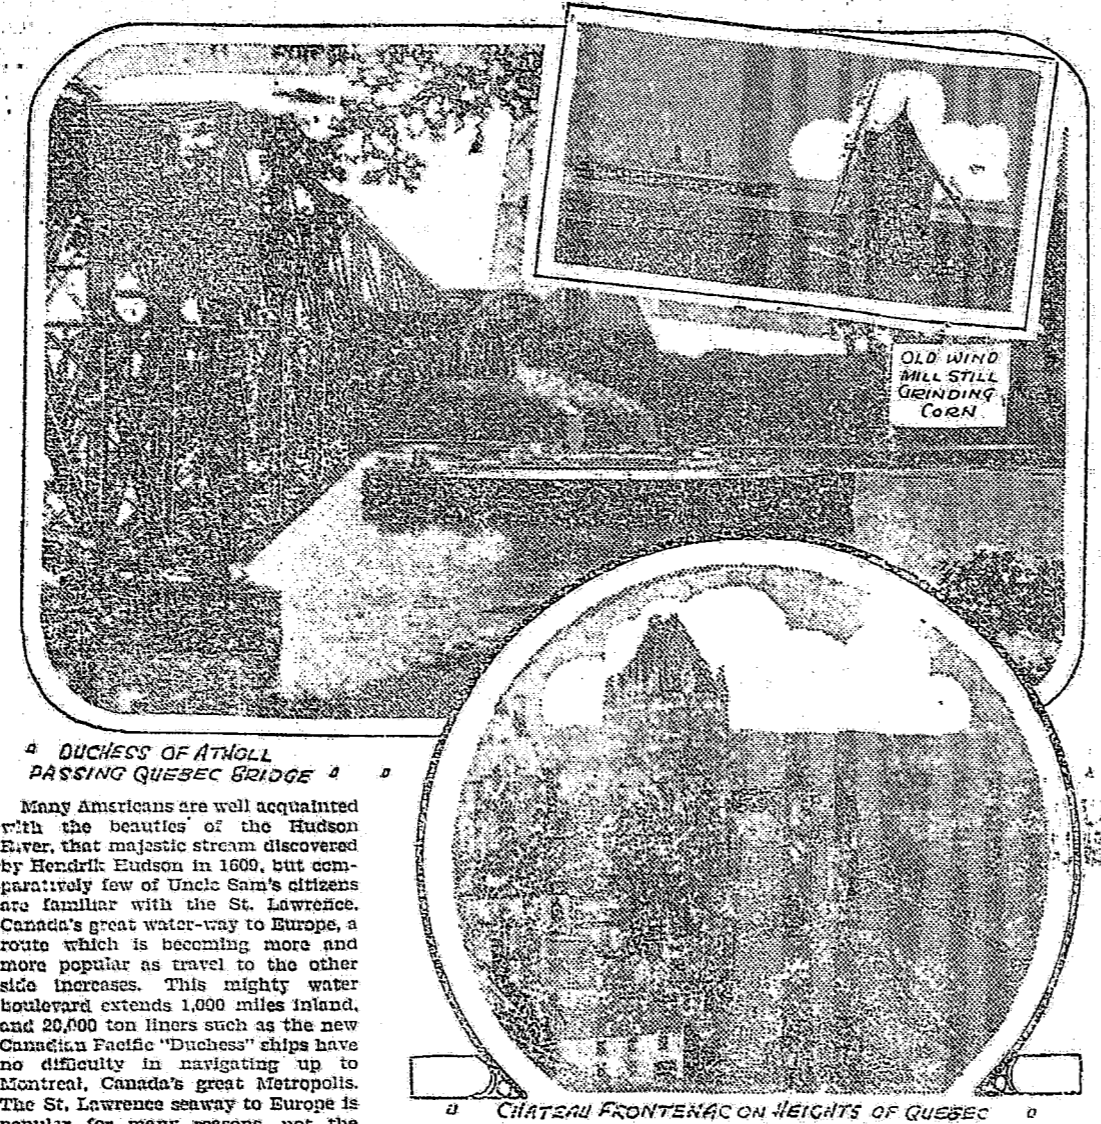

Riverside Tigers Whip Bangor 10-5

The Riverside Tigers trimmed Bangor 10-5 Sunday when they broke through the delivery of De Haven, former Bangor high school pitcher, for 12 hits. Smith and Hewitt alternated for the Tigers, allowing 10 hits, which were too scattered to be productive of runs.

Berrien Springs Plans Home Coming Week Aug. 12-16

Glories of Mighty St. Lawrence Unfold En Route to Europe

Many Americans are well acquainted with the beauties of the Hudson River, that majestic stream discovered by Hendrick Hudson in 1609, but comparatively few of Uncle Sam's citizens are familiar with the St. Lawrence. Canada's great water-way to Europe, a route which is becoming more and more popular as travel to the other side increases. This mighty water highway extends 1,000 miles inland, and 20,000 ton liners such as the new Canadian Pacific "Duchess" ships have no difficulty in navigating up to Montreal, Canada's great Metropolis. The St. Lawrence seaway to Europe is popular for many reasons, not the least important being the fact that, for more than two days of the voyage, at least, it is impossible to be seasick because the steamer is travelling between the banks of the sheltered river and Gulf.

One of the most picturesque stretches of this voyage is between Montreal and Quebec, the "Ancient Capital." It has its thrills, too, for as the ship leaves the former port it passes under a huge bridge and the voyager gets the illusion that the ship's mast will be snapped off at its base; then in the middle, but finally he is amazed to see his great liner pass underneath with a 12-foot clearance between the masthead and the steel structure. The same impression is created when approaching the great Quebec Bridge, near Quebec City.

Picturesque French-Canadian villages with Old World names and venerable churches, ancient windmills which are still used to grind corn; narrow channels hemmed in on either side by dense forests; queer river craft, fishing-boats and other interesting sights thrill the voyager, as he banks in the sunlight, comfortably seated in his deck chair. At Father Point the ship's clocks speed to drop the pilot, then the Gulf is entered and four days later the traveler reaches Europe.

The largest liners plying to and from Canada, the Canadian Pacific "White Empresses," sail to and from Quebec, Orléans and Southampton during the summer season. This first-class fleet will soon be augmented by a new 42,000-ton giant, the Empress of Britain, launched by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales on June 11. This vessel is expected to go from port to port in slightly under five days.

The Sulda family had stopped their car on the main highway leading into Three Oaks to let the child out to pick some flowers, when the car driven by Schrader passed, striking the child just as she alighted on the pavement. Benton Harbor Loses Suit for Recovery Property

The city of Benton Harbor was returned loser in its legal proceedings against Atty. Humphrey S. Gray to recover downtown real estate known as the "Wall Street" lot, according to a decision handed down by Judge Charles E. White, who ruled the attorney had acquired the property in good faith and paid an equitable compensation to the city. In 1920 Gray bought the lot and received a legal title. In 1925 the city commission applied for $3,000 additional compensation on the ground that Gray had not complied with the original terms of the deed. Gray paid the city $3,000 in 1928.

Judge White ruled that Gray had complied with the demands of the city and that the $3,000 plus other valuable considerations was sufficient payment.

Mayor John Sterling instituted the suit in accordance with a campaign promise made by himself that he would sue for recovery of the lot if elected.

Tom Carpenter has resigned as chief deputy on the staff of Sheriff Fred G. Bryant to devote his time to business affairs, though retaining his undersheriff commission. His place as chief deputy has been taken by George Bryant, brother of the sheriff who has been in the county force three and one half years. Carpenter had been head of the deputies since the resignation of Ray Hall over a year ago. He is building a residence in New Troy, his former home, and will move there as soon as it is completed.

Gilbert Eidson and Wife Gravely Hurt

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Eidson, well known Berrien Springs couple, were gravely injured Monday afternoon when their sedan was struck at Tryon's Corners in Royalton Township by a car driven by Ignatius Daniels of St. Joseph. Daniels crossed the highway from a side road, where a school house and trees obstructed the view. Mr. Eidson, who is 79, incurred a crushed knee and a fracture of both bones of the lower right leg. His entire body is bruised and he may be suffering from internal injuries. Mrs. Eidson, 76, has an injured back and possibly internal injuries.

The sedan occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Eidson was driven by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eidson, who incurred a dislocated shoulder and severe bruises. Daniels incurred gashes on back and sides.

The Eidsons were making preparations to leave on the next day for a visit at Denver, Colo.

Chicago Gangsters Hijacking Berrien Fruit Trucks Now

Chicago gangsters have added fruit truck hijacking to their other racketeering activities, robberies of that variety being not at all infrequent, according to press reports. The latest victim is Harold Krumrei, driving one of the Michigan Express trucks, owned by Nick Katsulus of Stevensville. Krumrei was driving down Alstead Street, a large sedan drove alongside and forced his truck to the curb. Two men dragged him from the truck and shoved him into the sedan, while another drove off with the truck and its $1,500 load. He was later released and found the truck unloaded and deserted in another section of the city.

Michigan Bean Acreage Largest Ever this Season

The Michigan bean acreage for 1930 is the largest ever planted in the state, according to Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician, and Herbert E. Powell, commissioner of agriculture. The U. S. Crop Reporting Service estimates the planted area at 833,000 acres. This is 20 per cent more than the record harvested acreage of 1569. Of the eight leading bean states, Montana is the only one reporting a decreased planting. Elsewhere, the increases range from 2 to 21 per cent over last year. For the entire United States the gain amounts to nearly 12 per cent or 230,000 acres more than were harvested last fall.

The condition of the Michigan crop on the first of this month was 1 per cent above the ten year average for that date. The weather during May and June was favorable, a good seed bed was prepared, and planting was a week to ten days earlier than usual. Some fields were damaged by megarote so that replanting was necessary. This, however, is early enough so that with favorable weather, they should make a crop. On the basis of the July 1 condition and the planted acreage, a probable production of 9,165,000 bushels, which is a crop almost three and one-half million bushels larger than that of last year and 500,000 bushels more than that of 1925—the largest crop on record for the period that estimates have been made.

State Fire Guards Save Orphan Deer

A worried doe staggered thru the smoke of a forest fire, looking for her lost day-old fawn. As the flames advanced she reluctantly moved before them, ignoring the score of fire fighters working near. The men, fighting a fire near Trout Lake in Mackinac county, stopped a moment to watch her. They had rescued the fawn and had made it comfortable beneath the branches of a nearby tree. The mother found the fawn and led it away.

Scores of fawns have been rescued from burning and suffocated by forest fire fighters this year. The young animals are kept as near to their former home as possible in the hope that they will be found by the does. These orphaned by the fires are reared and released when they are old enough to care for themselves in the woods.

POISON BAIT STOPS DAMAGE BY HOPPERS

ENEMY OF CROPS APPEARS IN LARGE NUMBERS IN MICHIGAN.

The recent appearance of unusual numbers of grasshoppers in some sections of Michigan is the signal for farmers in the northern part of the state to prepare to feed their poison bait instead of succulent forage, according to the entomology department at Michigan State College.

The proximity of large areas of unutilized lands near farms makes it possible for the grasshoppers to develop undisturbed and then move to the farms and do serious damage to growing crops. The grasshoppers have natural enemies which will reduce their numbers but this control is too slow to be of much assistance. Poisoned bean bait properly distributed will prevent serious damage to crops by this insect. The bait is prepared by mixing one bushel of bran, one-half gallon of cheap molasses, a little water, and one pound of white arsenic. Two or three ounces of kerosene oil are then stirred into the mixture. Arsenate of lead or paris green can not be successfully used as a poison for grasshoppers. A little salt added to the prepared bait makes it more attractive.

The bait should be broadcast in areas where there are numbers of grasshoppers. Care should be taken so there are no lumps of bait large enough to be eaten by animals.

MICHIGAN HIGH IN USE ELECTRICITY FOR FARM POWER

SECOND ONLY TO CALIF. IN INCREASE OF AGRICULTURAL SERVICE.

Michigan is making outstanding progress in taking electricity to the farms of the state and in adapting it to farm operations, declared President E. L. Edwards at the convention of the Michigan Electric Light Association here this week. He said:

"According to the farm service sheet of the National Electric Light Association the number of farm customers to whom service was taken by Michigan public utilities last year was greater than the number of new customers added in any other state, except California—and California is in an unusual position due to the use of electricity in irrigation.

Electricity is being made to pay its way on the farm. Consequently farmers are getting over their fear of building up a real power load, one profitable both to them and to the utilities. Hence several companies already report that the average farm customer has become a larger user of electricity than the average domestic customer.

"Michigan utilities, ready to meet the farmer more than half way, have been studying rate structures and line extension policies with a view to his needs and limitations. Concessions already have been made that would have been impossible when the farmer was considering electricity merely as a lightning agent. These concessions are playing their part in the extraordinary activity in electrifying the farms of the state."

Prof. H. J. Gallagher of Michigan state college in a report on "Michigan Farm Electrification," said that last year 1,227 miles of farm lines were constructed, connecting 5,569 farmers to the electric powers of the state. This total includes only real farmers and does not take in non-farming rural dwellers.

This year it is estimated that 1,363 miles of farm lines will be constructed to serve approximately 5,840 new farm customers. "Eleven and three-tenths per cent of 21,890 farms in the state were receiving high line service January 1, 1929," Prof. Gallagher reported. "About 50 per cent of this number were connected in 1928 and 1929. The total farm consumption of electricity the past year was 13,134,000 kilowatt hours.

"Previous predictions that the farmer would use more energy than the city residential customer are coming true. Even in this early stage of development the difference is about 10 per cent in favor of the farmer. This does not compensate for the fact that there will never be as many farm customers as city customers or that the expense of serving the farmer is comparable with serving city customers, but it does indicate for the first time that the inevitable problem of serving the farmer promises the relief of at least paying for itself.

"The development has been most gratifying, especially so when we consider that the past four years have been unusually hard on Michigan farmers and agriculture in general."

At the convention of the Michigan Gas Association, held in conjunction with the Michigan Electric Light Association, it was reported that gas is being taken to Michigan farmers through the building of rural and suburban high pressure lines. Last year 110 miles of such lines were built stretching out from central gas plants in cities to neighboring communities, and serving farmers en route. Michigan has a total of 608 miles of such high pressure transmission lines.

Steady Increase Graduate Students Univ. of Michigan

Steady increase in the enrollment of students in the graduate school of the university of Michigan since its organization as a separate unit in 1912, is noted by Dean G. Carl Huber in his annual report included in the recently published report of the President.

The total number of graduate students this year was 2042, whereof only 395. This progressive increase in enrollment exceeds the rate of increase of the University as a whole, and compares favorably with that of the graduate school in the larger and better universities all over the country. In fact, this year's enrollment has led to the suggestion that enrollment be limited, but Dean Huber expresses a hope that any such limitation will be brought about by raising standards rather than setting any bound as to the number of students.

During the past year there has been a distinct increase in those entering the graduate school from colleges and universities outside of the state of Michigan. The numbers entering from foreign universities and colleges are also steadily increasing.

Last year 505 students received graduate degrees, including seventy who received the doctorate, with a wide field of subjects covered. Fifty scholarships and fellowships are available to students in Michigan's graduate school. These include the University and state college fellowships, the latter being open to the graduates of the various colleges in the state of Michigan.

Fish Expire When Lakes Loose Oxygen

Driven up by lack of air, thousands of choice game fish, bass, blue gills, pike and perch, suffocated when Jones Lake, a twenty-five acre lake almost within the Lansing city limits lost its oxygen. Indications of fish suffering were noticed first when a number of adult fish were found dead and countless thousands of last year's hatch, principally speckled bass, warmouth bass, and golden shiners on the surface of the water gasping for air.

Although of the opinion that the condition was due to lack of oxygen, the Department of Conservation made a thorough examination of the lake, taking samples of water at several points in various depths. It was found that the lake contained no oxygen except a slight trace at the surface. The temperature ranged from 85 degrees at the surface to 58 degrees in 20 feet at one point. An outboard motor boat was placed in the lake to disturb the water and alleviate the condition if possible until atmospheric conditions changed.

Reports of this nature reach the department every season from a number of sources. These reports are received generally following the spring break up when the ice leaves the lake, and later following the spawning season when the water temperatures are high. This is generally found in the smaller lakes which have no surface inlet or outlet.

The decomposition of vegetation absorbs a great amount of oxygen from the water at a time when the oxygen content is at a low level. High winds and rain usually relieve such conditions immediately.

Warren Foundation Landscapes State Area at Lakeside

Berrien county is soon to be indebted to the Warren Foundation for a new beauty spot, the Lakeside Plaza, located immediately west of US-12 at Lakeside, where landscaping and parking have been under way for some time, the Foundation co-operating with the state highway commission. The new park is being landscaped and developed under the direction of Architect Fairclough of Chicago, designer of the replica of Shakespeare's home which forms the club house at the Lakeside Golf Links.

Located in the center of the area is an attractive pergola, containing a map of southwestern Berrien county, with directions for reaching the beauty spots maintained by the Warren Foundation.

Relief from Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says: "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Wm. N. Brodrick. 16t32

HOME BUILDERS SEEK IMPROVED HOUSE DESIGNS

Something has happened to home building. In volume it is small and business prophets see no immediate signs of recovery.

John Smith of 1930 is quite unlike John Smith of 1910 in his everyday life. Yet if he starts to build a house he finds that the plans and specifications are very much as they were twenty years ago.

John Smith of 1930 has one or more motor cars; John Smith of 1910 may have had a horse and buggy, but even if he did he was careful to keep his barn well removed from the house.

Twin City Garage Man Announces for Sheriff Candidacy

Charles L. Miller of St. Joseph today formally announced his candidacy for sheriff of Berrien county, and thus definitely confirmed rumors that have created considerable stir in political circles for the past several days.

The St. Joseph garage owner will seek the Republican nomination in the September 9th primary election. His petitions are in circulation throughout the county and will be filed with County Clerk Ben Bittner before next Tuesday, the deadline for all candidates.

Mr. Miller has never held public office, but has been prominently active in Berrien county Republican circles for many years.

In making his announcement the St. Joseph man said:

"I am confident I can give the people of Berrien county an honest efficient and economical administration in the sheriff's office, plus a fair and impartial enforcement of all laws. That will be the platform upon which I will seek election."

Mr. Miller is a native of Berrien county. He was born 42 years ago in Baroda, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Miller, who still reside on a farm near Baroda where he has lived since the days immediately following the Civil war. He began his career in Baroda as a rural mail carrier, working for Uncle Sam for 10 years. About 15 years ago he moved to St. Joseph, where he has since been engaged in the operation of an automobile agency and garage.

Anglers Return Creel Census Costs To Conserv. Dept.

Increased interest in angling and in the work of the division of fisheries and the department of conservation in its fish planting program is indicated through the return of large numbers of creel census cards.

To July 1, 3,642 of these cards had been returned to the Division offices at Lansing, and it is expected that the number returned for the 1930 season will be far in excess of the number received last year.

Creel census cards are returned by anglers, Isaak Walton League officers and by conservation officers who bear the information from fishermen along the lakes and streams. The cards list the number of fish caught, the number of hours fished, species, length, number thrown back because of small size, place fished and other information of a like nature. Those returning cards are also privileged to make any remarks concerning fishing conditions, etc., that they may care to make.

Wild Life Exhibits To Be Feature at Mich. County Fairs

Wild life exhibits will be shown by the Department of Conservation at 27 of Michigan's fairs during the coming fall. It has been announced by the Educational Division.

The Conservation Commission, in selecting the fairs at which exhibits will be shown was guided not only by the applications for these exhibits, but by the aggregate attendance at these fairs, the agreement of the fair boards to pay half of the cost, and the limited departmental funds available for the purpose.

The places at which Department exhibits will be shown this fall are:

Upper Peninsula: Ironwood, Escanaba, Newberry, Marquette, Sault Ste Marie, Manistique, Houghton.

Lower Peninsula: Greenville, St. Johns, Ionia, Holland, Marshall, Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Bay City, Detroit, Jackson, Gaylord, Saginaw, Cadillac, Adrian, Alpena, Traverse City, East Jordan, Hillsdale, Bear Lake, Hartford.

"More than twice as many applications for exhibits were received than could be physically and financially accepted," according to Director George R. Hogarth of the Department of Conservation. In some instances applications were received for exhibits at as many as seven and eight places in one week, whereas three or four is as many as is possible to have during that period.

Assoc. Organized To Beautify Banks Along Grand River

An organization that is believed will prove to be a forerunner among others in Michigan and that will bear an important part in cleaning up the rivers and streams has been founded in Lansing.

The organization is known as the Grand River Improvement Association and is now operating with highly gratifying results. The association is finding cooperation with the state officials through H. S. Murphy, head of the pollution division and representing Director George Hogarth of the State Department of Conservation.

Organized on a simple plan, the Association contains representatives of practically all of the Lansing local clubs. Women's clubs, the Isaak Walton League, various service clubs, Boy Scouts, local newspapers and many others are taking an active part in the work.

For many years the Grand River running through Lansing, and its banks, has carried the reputation of being an "eye sore." Aside from the pollution carried by the river from the city of Lansing, the banks of the river have been filled with rubbish and refuse.

The object of the association is not only to beautify the banks of the river, but to work with the city in a successful completion of its proposed sewage disposal plant. This plant is now in the process of construction. Preliminary work is being done and within three years it is expected to be in operation.

CROP ACREAGE 3 PCT. LARGER IN MICHIGAN IN '30

Michigan farmers have planted a larger total acreage of crops this year than they did in 1929 according to the report which has been received from the Michigan Crop Reporting Service at Lansing. The gain is nearly 3 per cent over the planted area of 1929.

For the thirteen leading field crops for which the Department of Agriculture makes estimates of planted acreage, the total increase amounts to more than 200,000 acres. An unusually favorable spring for plowing and seeding with very little replanting necessary, and an abundance of farm labor at cheaper wages than in previous years are two of the leading causes given for this expansion.

The increases for the various crops as compared with their respective harvested acreages last year are: corn, 6 per cent; spring wheat, 15 per cent; oats, 10 per cent; barley, 2 per cent; rye, 8 per cent; beans, 20 per cent; alfalfa, 5 per cent; old peas, 30 per cent; and sugar beets, 63 per cent. The acreage of potatoes is estimated to be the same as that harvested last year.

The condition of the winter wheat crop on July 1 was 33 per cent of normal on 3 points above average for that date. The prospective production is now estimated at 55,980,000 bushels as against 167,400,000 bushels harvested in 1929.

Sugar beet companies report that 85,000 acres of the crop have been planted. The condition reported by growers is 86 per cent or 4 per cent more than the five-year average for July 1. This indicates a probable production of 606,000 tons, after allowance has been made for average abandonment in the acreage. Last year 300,000 tons were harvested from 620,000 acres.

Of last year except for pears, grapes, cherries and plums. The probable production of the total apple crop is estimated at 4,830,000 bushels as compared with 7,020,000 bushels harvested in 1929. The commercial apple crop is now estimated at 864,000 barrels as against 1,206,000 barrels produced last year. The probable peach crop is set at 595,000 bushels. In 1929 that crop amounted to 816,000 bushels. The indicated production of pears is 690,000 bushels as compared with last year's crop of 468,000 bushels.

The condition of grapes as reported on July 1 indicates a probable production of 70,000 tons. In 1929 the harvested crop was 68,900 tons. The probable production of cherries is estimated at 16,000 tons as compared with 15,000 tons produced in 1929 and 20,000 tons, the 1928 crop. The condition of other fruits in terms of percentages of a full crop as reported on July 1 were: plums, 53; blackberries and raspberries, 70; strawberries, 54; and the melons, 70.

Accidents in 1929 were 8.2 per cent greater than the year before. One half of the 1929 accidents took place at intersections. Communities that really attempt to meet modern traffic demands are building as many grade separations as possible.

After waiting an unreasonable time for a 12-car freight train to move on, a New Jersey motorist recently uncoupled the train in the middle so when the train started he immediately drove through. The train at once backed up, closed the gap and other motorists were forced to wait an additional hour and a half.

This is a story of one motorist who obeyed an impulse not foreign to most motorists. Such action is not recommended. It is illustrative of the dangerous practices engaged in at intersections by motorists in a hurry.

Lack of protection at grade crossings accounts for a large portion of the annual two billion dollar traffic congestion loss. At present there is one utterly unprotected crossing in every 14 miles of highway. Although in some sections of the country progress is being made in grade crossing for every 14 miles of highway, in some sections of the country progress is being made in grade crossing elimination, crossings in the United States are increasing at the rate
