Our community was shocked Saturday evening to learn of the death of George A. Blakeslee, which occurred at his home in Galien about 4:30 Saturday afternoon. He had been ill but a few days and was not considered as dangerously sick, having been in his mill the day before superintending the work there. On Saturday he remained at his residence and a moment before his death while lying upon his bed. Mr. Blakeslee was sixty-four years of age and a native of Jefferson County, N. Y. He came to this part of the country in 1851 on a prospecting tour and returned in 1853 and purchased the farm where the village of Galien now stands, which he laid out as a town in 1861. On the farm was a sawmill and log cabin. Here he made his home and went to work cutting lumber and clearing up his farm. In the year following he built a store, the first in this section of the country, and he has continued in the mercantile and lumber business ever since.

In 1884 a postoffice was established there and he was appointed postmaster, a position he retained until he was removed in 1887 by President Cleveland. For many years he has been a prominent officer of the reorganized Latter Day Saints church, holding the office of bishop and also of president of bishop and also of president of the board of publication at the time of his death.

SCOUTS LEAVE FRIDAY FOR MICH. ALBION GRID GAME

TROOPS 41 AND 42 PLAN TO MAKE TRIP TO EAST LANSING BY TRUCK.

Plans for Buchanan boy scout troops No. 41 and 42 to attend a body the Michigan Boy Scout assembly in East Lansing and the witnessing of the annual game between Michigan State and Alma colleges Saturday were perfected at the meetings Tuesday night of both troops. It is planned that the trip be made in a truck. The boys will leave Buchanan at 6 o'clock Friday evening and camp all night in or near Albion, proceeding to East Lansing early Saturday.

The local troops will participate in the campus program of scouting and will be a part of the monster parade which precedes the football game in the afternoon. It is expected that more than 2,000 scouts will be in attendance. The assembled scouts will be guests of the college at the football game, occupying an entire section of the stadium.

It is estimated that the trip will cost each Buchanan scout not more than $1.50, which will include each boy's share of the cost of gas and oil. Each boy will take a lunch for Saturday night. The noonday meal will be bought in East Lansing. The breakfast Saturday morning in Albion will be provided from troop funds. The boys will return late Saturday night.

Troop 41 held two contests at this week's meeting, one guessing questions pertaining to scouting and the other guessing pictures denoting names of Buchanan streets. Prizes were boxes of candy and winners were Lowell Batchelor and George Spatta.

The hundreds of men, who for the past nine weeks have fought almost day and night, the forest fires that have ravaged the state, were lauded in a resolution adopted unanimously, by the Conservation Commission at its September meeting.

The resolution said: "To all members of the forest fire division and to all men who have served on fire duty this year: "In recognition of the faithful and valient service rendered by you over the forest fire hazard season of the past, nine weeks the members of this Commission desire to express their hearty appreciation of your efforts and to commend you upon the splendid results you have achieved in keeping losses to a minimum during a period of drought not exceeded within the past 25 years.

"There is little we can say to compensate you for the sacrifice to your own well being you have made, but the people of the State of Michigan are proud in the knowledge they possess a fire fighting organization second to none in the entire United States."

GALIEN 40 YEARS AGO
From Issue Sept. 25, 1890
Our community was shocked Saturday evening to learn of the death of George A. Blakeslee, which occurred at his home in Galien about 4:30 Saturday afternoon. He had been ill but a few days and was not considered as dangerously sick, having been in his mill the day before superintending the work there. On Saturday he remained at his residence and a moment before his death while lying upon his bed. Mr. Blakeslee was sixty-four years of age and a native of Jefferson County, N. Y. He came to this part of the country in 1851 on a prospecting tour and returned in 1853 and purchased the farm where the village of Galien now stands, which he laid out as a town in 1861. On the farm was a sawmill and log cabin. Here he made his home and went to work cutting lumber and clearing up his farm. In the year following he built a store, the first in this section of the country, and he has continued in the mercantile and lumber business ever since.

In 1884 a postoffice was established there and he was appointed postmaster, a position he retained until he was removed in 1887 by President Cleveland. For many years he has been a prominent officer of the reorganized Latter Day Saints church, holding the office of bishop and also of president of bishop and also of president of the board of publication at the time of his death.

The Old Timer's Corner

Old Timer Comes To Buchanan For Visit Here

Well, I spent a day in Buchanan seeing old friends and eating too much food for my own good, but I have the happy recollection of it all, and the apple dumplings that Lura makes are the best part of the memory. I sure did put away a heavy meal, and then drove back to the city, with good roads and ideal weather, so what more could "mere man" ask for here-below.

Another thing I am glad of, for this trip, is the fact that George Dressler is coming over to Chicago right soon and has promised to come out and stay with us for a short time, any way, and will try to make-up to him what he did for me last summer, while at his home. He is not looking so well, and not feeling so well, so I am going to try to cheer him up a little but mostly to give him my own way and to do as he wants to do, and see the city and then he will go back home better satisfied, even in his lonesome home.

If you could have seen the lead of stuff I brought back with me. The rear seat was piled to the roof. We had peaches, pears, apples, muskmelons and watermelons, grapes and cans of honey and fruits, and when we would open the door to put something else in some of the other stuff would fall out. On the top "layer" was about six dozen eggs. O very well. We got home without much wreckage and took us a half hour to unload the stuff.

I am coming over again before long, for I want to see the country with the leaves at their prettiest. When they first come out in Spring and when they "turn" in the fall, those are the times I claim "ain't nature grand" is the correct dope.

I didn't get around to see many people, this trip, for I didn't leave Chicago until 8:30 p. m. so it was late when we arrived. It was fine and cool coming over and I mean to come again at night, that way. No trouble and plenty of time, if you want to take it.

In talking to several people regarding the proposed route that M-60 will take, it is a wonder to me that with the influence that some of our leading men have in and around Buchanan, that they could have influenced them to a more desirable route. It will be much more expensive and trouble to make it where they are starting their work etc., but there must be some good reason, so we will have to take it as it comes, I suppose. One good thing about it, is that it will not come thru the center of town as before and litter up your streets with unprofitable traffic. I hope now that the people will find it possible to pave the road out thru Bakertown. Now that the highway is coming thru there, I imagine that that "seamy little old town" will come to life a bit and many out of town folks will find it a good place to have a home.

There are so many available homes over there that are desirable, that if I had a lot of money, I think I would have homes enough for a lot of people.

That's all for today. Some one has come in and has a tooth ache.

OLD TIMER.

Old Timer Writes Letter to Fred Rose

A letter to Fred Rose, in answer to his in recent issue of the Record.

Friend Fred,

Mighty glad to see your name in print under letter sent in to the Record and published in "Old Timer's Corner." Do I (we) remember you? I'll say I do and all the rest of your family. Your mother was one of my favorites, as neighbors, in those days, and in one of my letters to "The Corner" I mentioned you people but I could not remember the "Shiroudy" name.

You have written a very interesting letter, and I would be sorry to hear more from you. Tell me (us) about your mother and some of the younger ones, that I knew. And where is Shelton? Is that in Michigan?

Have you been back in Buchanan lately, Fred? You wouldn't know the old "flats" as we used to call them. New homes and some of the older ones down there are gone. They are building down farther north and east toward the old slaughter house and east down toward the axle factory and the dam, etc. It is going to be one of the integral parts of the city in time.

You may not know who "Old Timer" is but if you have read that corner and have taken the trouble to write about it, I will have to acknowledge that I appreciate your kind mention of it, any way, for I am your old neighbor and friend.

"Old Timer"
(Dr. Claude B. Roe)

State Plans to Make U. S. 12 a Superhighway

The proposal of the State of Michigan to rebuild U. S. 12 between Detroit and the Indiana line at the cost of several millions of dollars has been approved by representatives of cities and counties through which the highway passes. No contracts have as yet been awarded, but it is expected that work will be started next year, if the new administration approves the plan.

Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, explained to these representatives at a meeting in Lansing that he hopes to make U. S. 12 practically a superhighway between Detroit and Chicago, thus reducing the traffic burden on U. S. 112. Cities are to be skirted, he explained, and the new road eventually will be a solid ribbon of 40 foot concrete. There will be connecting roads for intercity traffic.

The new highway will be relocated practically the whole distance from Detroit to Jackson. It will follow Michigan avenue and Ford road out of Detroit and will pass several miles north of Ypsilanti and two miles north of Ann Arbor. From the point north of Ann Arbor, it will continue east, connecting with the present route near Jackson and at a point north of Grass lake.

The present route from Jackson to Battle Creek will be rebuilt to a point east of the food city where Dillman recommends that it cut south and circumvent Kalamazoo.

STATE HIGHWAY BUDGET FOR 1931 IS $50,000,000

1,000 MILES PAVED AND SURFACED ROADS ADDED TO STATE'S TOTAL

Michigan State Highway Department under Grover C. Dillman, commissioner, and V. R. Burton, deputy commissioner, has for 1930 construction and maintenance of highways and roads within the state the income of 1929 receipts, of which the outstanding items are as follows:

Weight tax	$23,212,316.15
Gasoline tax	21,309,008.00
Federal aid	3,000,000.00
Miscellaneous	2,000,000.00
Total	$49,521,324.15

This is an increase of approximately $6,000,000 over the 1929 income, for which the automobile is responsible, being directly an increase of $7,931,575, but offset by certain variables which change from year to year, this being the last year in which federal aid will form as large an item as it does.

Total expenditures budgeted for 1928, $38,318,000. The automobile tax for 1930, which will be the principal item for 1931 expenditure indicated on a basis of income for 1930 until June 1, an increase of $46,100,000, which will be available for 1931 construction.

The expenditure of the department income included until 1929 as much as $2,000,000 annually in county rewards, and from $20,000,000 to $22,000,000 annually on new construction, an apportionment of $7,000,000 of the weight and gasoline tax among the counties on a basis partly of equal sums to each county and partly of county quotas proportional to the tax originating in each county, about $4,000,000 for sinking fund purposes, and about $5,500,000 annually on trunk line road and bridge maintenance, with $500,000 added on non-trunk line maintenance. These principal items of $39,000,000 to $41,000,000 per year for expenditure, will hereafter be increased by about $2,000,000, made available for construction thru the completion of county award payments.

There is a steady growth in the weight and gasoline tax from year to year, the 1930 earnings increasing $1,500,000 over the estimated income upon which department plans were based, this referring to the weight tax alone, while the gasoline tax increase will be at least six per cent over that of 1929.

Owing to the seasonal nature of road construction, it is necessary that there be a carry-over of contracts late one year into the activities of the next, this being the activity of the department which has overwhelmingly the interest of the user of highway transport in Michigan. At the time of writing, roads have been contracted for and are in process of construction to cover 1,071,778 miles, partly consisting of late 1929 contracts. At the same time last year, the department had a similar active schedule of 1,043,777 miles. The 1930 activities in road construction are:

Grading and drainage	134,599
----------------------	---------

Concrete roads	479,212
Gravel surfacing	129,983
Asphalt on gravel	59,233
Concrete widening	68,334
Asphalt on concrete	4,212
Waterbound macadam	2,178
Gravel resurfacing and surface treatment	290,000
Bituminous retread	38,626
Total	1,071,778

Up to July 1, 1930, of this 1,071,778 miles, 501,336 miles had been completed, leaving 570,442 miles under construction. The department activities from now on will be devoted to creating further contracts to be commenced in 1930 and 1931. These contracts are pending.

Bucaneers to Open Season Against Waterliet

LOCALS ARE FAVORED TO WIN CONTEST

Bradfield to Get Line on Material in Season's Curtain Raiser.

With the opening of the 1930 football season for Buchanan only a week off, Coach Harold Bradfield's squad has been working diligently in order to repulse the strong attack that Waterliet is expected to offer, despite their setback by St. Joseph.

"Curly" had done some experimenting lately with his lineup, but the line seems to be quite intact. With Captain Dempsey at center, Thompson and Hamilton at guards, Fostlewhite and Paul Letcher at the tackle positions, and Joe Letcher at end, all letter-men, the only vacant spot is an end, Marion Dretzler and "Mill" Shultz are the leading contenders for this post, but they may fill both flank positions.

The backfield is a good guess for anyone. So far in practice, Louie Morse and Jimmy Eisenhart have been alternating at the quarterback position, Dick Chubb filling one halfback and Lauren Morse the other, while Imhof is out with an injured knee, and Paul DeWitt at fullback. However, Dale Fox, a newcomer from Three Oaks, Bob Ellis, and Glenn Jesse look good at the halfback positions and "Doc" Strayer is casting longing eyes toward the fullback post. Chubb is the only candidate who seems very sure at all of starting against Waterliet, but everyone will probably get a chance to demonstrate his ability.

SCHOOL SLANTS Miss Shriver, our delightful teacher of Latin and French, drove home over the week end. Her mother accompanied her back to Buchanan where she expects to stay until Friday of this week. Have you noticed the many ties Mr. Hyink has been sporting around here lately? Boy, a new one every day! Must be he's wearing his mas ties although it is rather late in the season and besides—they're rather good looking for Xmas ties!

Quite a few of old B. H. S. witnessed the game between the Niles Reserves and Buchanan Reserves which was held at Plym Park Monday afternoon.

I think whoopee socks are perfectly O. K. because there are seldom any runs to be sewed up and they are comfortable as well. Alene Riley.

SIDELINE ECHOES

Five of Buchanan's nine football opponents had a chance to demonstrate their wares last Saturday, thereby giving the Locals an opportunity to see how the cards are running this fall. The five early birds were St. Joseph, Waterliet, Niles, Riley of South Bend, and Three Oaks.

And as it looks now, St. Joseph, Niles and Riley should provide the most fireworks for the locals. At Wells Field, Saturday, the Saints walked all over Waterliet, rolling up a 41 to 0 score and using the regulars only in the first quarter. Frank Howe's men will probably be Buchanan's toughest opponent, but Niles, who took a 32 to 0 decision from Cassopolis will be no pushover. It never is. Riley "took" a rather weak Three Oaks eleven, 19 to 0, outplaying them much more than the score indicates.

Of course there were no sparkling offensive plays exhibited, but from all appearances the Bucks will have to either watch for end runs or try tricks of them themselves. Niles and Riley had no trouble at all in gaining around their opponents' flanks. St. Joseph could use anything and make it work for big yardage.

Old Dame Fortune seems to have a grudge against quarterbacks. Tuesday night's practice ended up with a broken nose for Louie Morse, the promising sophomore. Then Jimmy Eisenhart, who calls signals with Morse on the first string, suffered a badly sprained ankle Friday night. Both bakers will probably see action against Waterliet, but they will be handicapped to a certain extent.

The game at St. Joseph was a bit more lopsided than anyone expected. The lakieside regulars ran so much in the first quarter that Coach Howe had to let his substitutes take turns at tiring them selves out. From all reports, the Saints are stronger than was predicted while poor Waterliet failed to live up to their pre-season predictions.

Well, after all is said and swallowed, Buchanan should beat Waterliet by at least three touchdowns. Let's go, Bucks!

Argument Over Student Government Rages at B. H. S.

Student government has become quite an issue in Buchanan high school. Certain groups insist that a student council should be elected, but as yet nothing has been done about it.

Students who favor a council say that it is necessary to have such an organization to arrange assembly programs, appoint hall monitors, take charge of study halls, sponsor "booster day" and high school parties. They insist that no other organization can do these things or even if they can, they don't.

On the other hand, some argue that a student council is not necessary—that there are already plenty of organizations in high school, that the student council never does anything, and that an inactive council is worse than none at all.

The whole question rests upon whether or not a council would be active. It could be a great help or it could be just another one of the many organizations.

Grade News

The P. T. A. will hold their annual reception for the members of the faculty and friends, Sept. 29, in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The first showing of coal experienced by our good janitor, Mr. Flenar, this year, took place some time in the wee hours Monday morning. O how clean and "comfy" our rooms were for us. We appreciate this.

Miss Ebbert organized the Mothers' Club in her kindergarten room last Wednesday. The club is to meet every third Wednesday for a social as well as instructive period. About twenty-five mothers were present. At this meeting Mrs. Arnold, president of our P. T. A., explained the object of our grade meetings which are to be held during the year.

Dr. Leechman from Benton Harbor, and working through the Cousin's Health Fund, appeared on the program last Wednesday at the Ward building.

Dr. Leechman had several children from the primary rooms present, whose teeth were badly infected. For instance "Billy" had a cavity large enough to hold an instrument. "Jackie's" gum was decidedly full of pus. "Charlie's" molar was practically rotted away. Light was thrown into the mouths of those pupils that the mothers might see the true conditions. Dr. Leechman stated that there were four reasons why teeth should be especially well cared for in early years. First, so the child can chew. Second, so the child will not suffer toothache. Third, so no poison will form at the roots and fourth, so that the second set of teeth will be perfect.

This work by Dr. Leechman is in connection with the good work being done by Mrs. Roba Lamb, our school nurse. His work will continue for some little time and notices will be sent to the homes of the children where work on the teeth should take place. Pupils can not do as good school work handicapped by poor, decayed teeth, as they could if their physical conditions were up to normal.

We again want to thank the parents and pupils for the books that are being donated. However, we are still in need of geographies for the sixth and seventh grades, and any other that is not needed in the home.

Our first grade meeting of mothers to be held this year, will possibly take place Oct. 3, in the sixth grade room. Mrs. E. C. Mogford is chairman of these meetings for this year.

Miss Ekstrom spent the week end in New Carlisle visiting her parents. Miss Abell has started a class in printing, using the pupils who have already won their final certificate in Palmer. This week form and speed are emphasized. Good work.

Monday morning in Supt. H. C. Stark's office, a meeting was held of the committee which is to foster the grade meetings of the parents this year. Mrs. E. C. Mogford is chairman.

First Grade, Miss Carnagan Lorna Stretch entered school last week making our enrollment 35.

Barbara Gene Swartz' name has been added to our Dental Honor Roll.

The following pupils are on our Dental Honor Roll: Robert Backus, Hosea Coultas, Oliver Coultas, Louise Fuller, Dickie Habicht, Pansy Maxson, Gale Pierce, Billy Snodgrass.

Third Grade, Simmons The children have been making covers for their books.

We banded this week for the first time this year. George Lakin and Donna Smith are absent on account of illness.

For language we are dramatizing the story of Pandora and Epimetheus.

Robert Hempel is a new pupil. We now have forty-one. Mrs. Fuller, Fourth Grade Twelve people earned 100 per cent in their spelling work last week. They were Geneva Babcock, Lucian Depyl, Ruth Jean Hrslett, Bobby Habicht, Betty Ann Miller, Betty Jane Mitchell, Phil Pierce, Herbert Russell, Matthew Rauch, Dale Simpsom, Wanda Wideman and Delos Watson.

We have started our history scrap book and are finding many interesting pictures for it.

Miss Cramer, an oral hygienist told us some very interesting things about our teeth, especially about our sixth year molar. We are most anxious to win all our boys and girls for our honor roll. At present we have thirteen people on it. They are Betty Widmoyer, Lucian Depyl, Edwin Ingleright, Matthew Rauch, Betty Ann Miller, Herbert Russell, Beth Sargent, Phil Pierce, Barbara Schram, Eugene Stults, Robert Wesner, Wanda Wideman and Bobby Habicht.

5th Grade, Miss Ekstrom Caroline Webb has been added

SEASON TICKETS H. S. FOOTBALL ON SALE FRIDAY

TICKETS ENTITLES HOLDERS TO ATTEND 5 HOME GRID GAMES.

The season tickets for Buchanan's 1930 football games at home will be on sale Friday morning according to an announcement by E. H. Ormiston, faculty manager. Tickets may be obtained by calling personally or phoning the principal's office at the high school.

These all-term tickets will admit the holder to all five of the Buck's home games. Their opponents will be Waterliet, strong contenders with ten letter-men despite their loss to St. Joseph; Dowagiac, always a tough nut for the locals to crack; Three Oaks, playing under a new coach this year; Oscego, who held Buchanan to a 6 to 0 score last year; and Coloma, the latest addition to the Buck's schedule.

In order to see these games cheaply the school will sell season tickets to students for $1.00 and to adults for $2.00. Single admission tickets will be twenty-five and fifty cents for students and adults respectively.

Announcement was also made to the effect that no more tickets will be sold on the installment plan as has been done previously, in order to eliminate the book-keeping necessary under that system. Don't forget, tickets will go on sale Friday morning at the high school.

The season tickets are now on sale at the following business houses: Brodrick's Drug Store, Muir & Sands, O. K. Barber Shop, Mead's Barber Shop, Buchanan Candy Kitchen, Princess Ice Cream Parlor.

Juries Not Universal There are several nations which do not have jury trials after the manner of the United States and the British empire. France has abolished the jury system in all civil cases and Germany revised its judiciary to eliminate the jury in practically all cases.

We have divided our room into two teams for a contest with the multiplication tables. This week the Whites had one more point than the Blues.

In history we read the story of printing so on Thursday morning we visited the Record office and watched them print the paper. We enjoyed it very much and had a very interesting Language lesson when we returned. We wish to thank Mr. Hayden for allowing us to come.

The following pupils are on the dental honor roll: Pauline Decker, Peggy Mosier, Kenneth Phiscator, Marie Rudino, Vernon Walls, Marjory Wheat and Ruth May.

Miss Olson has arranged her program of music and art. Two-thirds of our room are in group 1 in music.

The third and fourth graders have their gym period together, the boys and girls in separate groups under the direction of Miss Rothenbach.

For nature study we are observing how the plants and insects get ready for winter. We have had quite a collection of different kinds of seeds and at present we are watching various worms and caterpillars.

Wilcox, 2nd Grade The children in Mrs. Wilcox's grade have started their autumn collection for the corner cupboard. This consists of fruits, vegetables, leaves and nuts.

We have enjoyed our first music and art lessons with Miss Olson this week, using our new music books.

The attendance in this room has been very good so far this term and there has been no tardiness.

1st Grade, Miss Vandenberg The following people were on the dental honor roll in our first grade: Charles Hines, Gwendolyn Irrie, George Phiscator, Margaret Semple and Alvin Swain. These children have received their dental health pins.

The boys and girls collected crickets, grasshoppers and caterpillars and brought them to school for study.

This week we made vegetable children and brightly colored leaves and baskets of fruit. We pinned this work up in our room.

With our reading work we have had many stories about a dog named Rover. So we have enjoyed the story book Gwendolyn Irrie brought to us this week. The book is called "Noodles Wants to Be a Rover."

M. L. Hanlin Gives Assembly Talk on Land of Sour Dough

"Alaska," stated Mr. Hanlin in a very clever and extremely interesting talk at general assembly, Friday morning, "was purchased from Russia about 1868, for seven million dollars. Many people protested against buying it, saying that there was no sense in paying $7,000,000 for a lemon, but as Russia had maintained a friendly attitude for the north and she desired to sell Alaska, Secretary Stewart made moves and it was purchased. Many times the price paid for Alaska has been repaid in gold, furs and other valuables and still we have the country left."

Mr. Hanlin went on to say that Alaska might be compared to an eagle in shape and its area would cover the space 15 or 20 of our states occupies. He told about the fish and how they froze them ready to ship, about the Russian cathedral heated by a stove made in Dowagiac, and other interesting incidents that happened on his trip.

"The thousand mile trip up to Skagway is protected on either side by a ridge of mountains," Mr. Hanlin further stated. "When you land at Skagway you get off the boat and on to a train. The train takes you up an ascent of four thousand feet. The train has to go forty miles before it can find a place level enough to turn around. At this place, which is nothing more than a church, two log cabins and a depot, you can get your lunch, spending forty-four minutes to eat, and leaving the other minute before the train goes back to look over the town."

There was community singing Friday morning also, with Miss Olson directing.

"I see you have a sign in your store, 'We aim to please,'" remarked the irritated customer.

"Certainly, sir, that is our motto," replied the dealer.

"Well, you ought to take a little time off for target practice."

Burglars Don't Seek the Limelight Darkness is their stock in trade. They work by stealth—unheard and unseen—their movements cloaked in secrecy. It's honest folks that seek the light. They are the only ones who can risk it. It's the same way in business. The manufacturer or the merchant who is not sure of his goods does not dare to advertise. Advertising would hasten the end of his business career—put him to a test he could not meet. The man who advertises, deliberately invites your inspection. He tells you about his product or his merchandise and then lets it stand on its own merits. You can depend on him. He knows his product is good. That's one reason why it pays to read the advertisements you find in the columns of this paper. It is thru advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to introduce and to keep before you. Advertisements are interesting, instructive and profitable. They throw a powerful light on the very things that concern you most. Read them!

Two Killed When Fruit Truck is Forced Off Road

Mrs. Fern DeLong and Lester Brown of Benton Harbor were killed and Edward Wheeler of Benton Harbor was injured shortly after midnight Monday morning when the heavily loaded fruit truck driven by Brown careened from the road and plunged into a 12 foot ditch at Hickory Creek, a short distance from the St. Joseph City limits.

Brown had started for Louisville, Ky., with 600 jumbos of grapes. On the approach to the Hickory Creek bridge he was forced out of the road by a car which swung in the center of the pavement to pass a string of other cars.

Wheeler was the first to be extricated and was rushed to a hospital, where he was found to have only cuts and bruises on head and limbs.

HOW CALCIUM CHLORIDE AIDS ROAD COMFORT

MOISTURE-ABSORBING MINERAL PRODUCT AIDS IN ROAD PRESERVATION

Many of the most attractive sights of Michigan are reached in comfort only because gravel and dirt roads have been treated with calcium chloride. This efficient and inexpensive material holds the dust and helps preserve gravel and dirt roads.

There are more than 70,000 miles of all kinds of roads in Michigan of which about 7000 miles are of the paved surface variety. About 17,000 miles of the remaining roads are gravel surfaced, the rest being plain dirt roads.

Two-thirds of the calcium chloride used by Michigan highway officials is produced here in the state. One of the largest producers of this effective dust-laying material, the Michigan Alkali company of Wyandotte, Mich., by its recent expansion, is in a position to supply road builders with calcium chloride of very high quality and efficiency.

calcium chloride to come in direct contact with the surface of the road which is composed of fine gravel, sand and a little clay. The clay tends to hold the moisture collected by the calcium chloride and acts as an ideal binder for the road surface.

How to Apply Calcium Chloride Applying chloride takes very little time and labor. The bags of chloride are loaded on a truck with a spreader attached. The spreader used most commonly is an ordinary lime drill. Besides the ordinary, two men are needed to empty the bags into the spreader. Then the truck is driven at a rate varying from eight to fourteen miles an hour. This makes an even distribution over the road surface which is quite necessary.

Calcium Chloride is Harmless The calcium chloride road treatment is also very satisfactory inasmuch as it is clean, harmless to horses hoofs, clothing, automobile tires and finish, and gives a first class roadway at minimum expense.

Every county in Michigan has at least part of the county roads made dustless by the use of calcium chloride, with people demanding more each year and in some instances when the tax money is inadequate to meet the demands, the residents have clubbed together and treated stretches of road at their expense.

1930 AIRCRAFT EXPORTS WILL EXCEED 1929

U. S. FINDS CHIEF MARKET IN CANADA, CHINA, JAPAN, S. AMERICA.

Although 1929 was accepted as the peak year for exports of airplanes and parts, commerce department attaches believe the 1930 trade will surpass the figure of the previous year.

The aeronautic export trade from the United States was so large during the year 1929 in comparison with previous years, that it was thought by many that during that peak year a virtual saturation point would have been reached for aircraft and kindred products in certain of our best markets for these items. Instead, while domestic sales of aircraft for the current year are considerably under those for the first five months of last year, exports from January to May inclusive were but 11 per cent under those for the same period of 1929. From all indications, this trade will be maintained if not increased this year, since foreign markets heretofore uncultivated are being opened up, by means of demonstration missions, more thorough attention to overseas requirements and the inspection system of the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce which is now available for all aircraft before export.

3500 PHEASANT HENS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

TOTAL PRODUCTION OF THE STATE GAME FARMS IN YEAR IS 10,000.

This season's crop of pheasants has been brought in from the branch raising stations to the Mason Game Farm and distribution of the hen birds will soon be completed according to the Game Division of the Department of Conservation.

Final counts have not yet been made but about 3,500 young pheasant hens will be distributed. After the hunting season the young cock birds will be shipped out and distributed. As usual, the Game Farm birds are distributed on the recommendation of the District conservation officers.

Superintendent Donald Lamont of the Game Farm reports that weather conditions this year were almost as favorable as last year's, both seasons being somewhat better than the average because of continued dryness.

While this year's operations were larger than the year before, losses among the chicks were somewhat greater than last year, with a total of about 8,000 birds to be shipped out for distribution. Plus the birds to be held over at the Game Farm to supply next year's eggs, and the birds escaped or released locally, the seasons total production will again approximate 10,000 mature birds.

In addition, 6,500 eggs were sent out to people who wanted to rear pheasants for local release and as during all recent years there were eggs enough to supply everybody who signed and sent in the official applications while the quality of the eggs was good. Since the quality of the eggs "goes off" as the first hot weather begins, the shipment of eggs stops at that time.

What numbers of the birds were successfully reared from the free eggs is never accurately known but reports so far received indicate that results were at least up to normal and that many birds were produced from these eggs and are now at large.

Each year the game division reports the Game Farm runs into new experiences. In July the Mason farm suffered from blackbirds (grackles), which evidently came in to pick up the scattered grain being fed to the young pheasant chicks, but later attacked the chicks themselves. At another time a family of half-wild house cats invaded the farm and proved difficult to trap.

Two years ago an unknown disease appeared in one of the rearing fields and for a time promised to be very serious. The bones of the half-grown chicks were affected and many chicks died, but the trouble cleared up as suddenly as it had developed. Last year nothing of the sort occurred, but this year it showed up again in a field miles away from the place where it had first appeared.

Several hundred birds were lost but again the trouble suddenly disappeared. Specialists at Michigan State College and at the University agreed that the difficulty was probably a matter of nutrition but since all the birds were, so far as known, getting the same feed, the precise nature of the difficulty is still unknown, but it is thought to be a "deficiency" disease, probably related to mineral ingredients in the feed, or to vitamins.

Extensive experiments were made this year by various private game breeders and in two official poultry laboratories, in connection with the artificial incubation of pheasant eggs and the rearing of the chicks in batteries and brooders. All of the larger and more successful pheasant breeders in America still use the old-fashioned hen but if artificial incubation and rearing proves practicable, production costs may be materially lowered. In most cases, the game division reports, the incubators and brooders seem to have been much less successful than the old hens, but one private operation was outstandingly successful and reared hundreds of good pheasants which were fed almost entirely "out of a sack" and without a single hen to help so that there appears a very fair chance that the technique will presently be worked out and so that pheasants may be reared wholesale and very much as domestic poultry is being handled by large-scale poultry raisers. Until the new methods are worked out and thoroughly tested, however, the state game farm will continue to use the old style methods which are of known dependability.

Michigan Issues 500 Licenses to Minnow Merchants

An indication of the extensive-ness of the minnow retailing industry in Michigan has been pointed out by the Department of Conservation in announcing the sale of 449 minnow dealers' licenses so far this year. It is probable that the figure will reach well over 500 before the close of the present fishing season.

Minnow licenses are issued at a cost of $10 to all persons over 18 years of age, dealing in minnows commercially. These minnow dealers are required to prominently display a card bearing the words "Licensed Minnow Dealer."

A licensed dealer may take minnows only from specific waters mentioned on the license itself. He may use a seine up to thirty feet long and eight feet wide in the inland lakes and streams, except trout streams and up to 80 feet long and eight feet wide in the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

No license other than the ordinary fishing license is required of anyone taking minnows for his own use, and he may use a dip net up to two feet in diameter in taking these minnows. However, these minnows may be used as bait only in hook and line fishing.

The legislature, in its act dealing with the taking of minnows defines them as "fish, shiners, suckers, dace, stone rollers, mudders and mud-minnows."

Mt. Pleasant Is Prorated to 60 Pct. Capacity Output

The outstanding development in the Mt. Pleasant oil field since the start of September has been the prorating of oil production from 25 to 60 per cent in the field which was effected by the Pure Oil Company. This action resulted from the over production of crude oil in both the Michigan fields and other territories. The plan, as put into effect by the Pure Oil Company, provides for the prorating of the production of oil in main Mt. Pleasant field, Chippewa and Greendale townships, at 60 per cent and at 25 per cent in the newly developed field at Leaton and Vernon.

The Pure Oil company, which has handled the transportation of the bulk of the crude oil from the Mt. Pleasant field since its opening, has a storage capacity of 23,000 barrels of oil on its tank farms and at the present time has more than 500,000 barrels in storage. While the potential production of the field is approximately 7,000 barrels daily, the market demand is less than 2,000 barrels daily, it was stated. At this rate the storage tanks will be filled soon, it was stated, which would result in entire curtailment of output. It was to offset this potential situation that its prorating plan was put into effect.

On Sept. 3, the Ohio Producing and Refining Company's No. 1 Wezensky well came in as a gasser with an estimated daily flow in excess of 1,000,000 cubic feet.

It is located in the Leaton oil and gas pool. It was the sixth well in the vicinity which showed a production of more than 1,000,000 cubic feet daily.

On Sept. 5, two oil wells were added to the main Mt. Pleasant field, each having a flow estimated in excess of 800 barrels daily. The Grubb No. 4 operated by the C. E. P. Oil Development Company, located in Chippewa township, produced at the rate of between 400 and 500 barrels daily. The second producer was the Scott No. 1 well of the Pure Oil Company, located in Greendale township, which had an indicated daily flow of 350 barrels. The addition of these two wells raised the number of producers in the Mt. Pleasant field to 170.

Aircraft Builders Experimenting With New Midget Plane

Although the first half of the current month showed returns comparable to the same period in June, indications are that production for the balance of the period will not be quite as large as last month, according to Grant's Aeronautical Reports, a Detroit economic service.

The manufacture of gliders is falling off sharply and it is unlikely that the demand for these craft will be revived to any great extent during the balance of the year.

One of the leading engine builders has reported that his company has received inquiries from more than a score of airplane producers in regard to a motor for new midget planes. While few companies now have such ships in production if there is any indication of a fairly wide reception for the little craft, it is quite probable that there will be at least a dozen or more on the market before the end of the year. A number of engine builders are understood to be experimenting with different types of light motors suitable for installation in these featherweight ships. The field promises to become greatly overcrowded before it hardly develops so great is present day competition.

The far eastern section and the middlewestern lakes region show a growing interest in planes capable of operating from the water. This class of ship includes both flying boats and amphibians and the sale of these planes for the year may exceed the total reached even last year. The first glider boats and pontoon equipped gliders are also making an appearance. This class of craft may have the effect of bolstering an otherwise faltering market.

Says Bldg. Loan Should Invest in Convert. Security

Building and loan associations should be permitted to invest their funds in securities which are readily convertible into cash, as well as in long-time mortgages, Charles N. Remington, president of the Michigan Building & Loan League, said in a speech at the annual meeting here Wednesday. Remington made the statement as part of his president's report.

"During the last nine months," he said, "the building and loan associations of the United States (in common with other financial institutions) have passed through a crisis which should lead us to consider improved methods of operation. The stock market crash caused heavy withdrawals which were a severe strain upon some associations. Their credit they passed through the ordeal with flying colors.

"In my opinion the day is past when a building and loan should invest all of its funds in long-time mortgages. This was all right in the days when the associations were small neighborhood affairs, carrying on their business in the back room of a grocery store or saloon or as a sideline to a real estate insurance agency, but now that our individual resources run into millions, a certain part of these assets should be invested in securities, which while yielding a smaller return than real estate mortgages, are readily convertible into cash in times such as we have just passed through."

The league head also recommended that qualifications for membership in the league be kept at a high standard and refuse admittance to any association paying dividends out of any fund except its earnings.

The league re-elected its former slate of officers, with Mr. Remington holding over for another 12 months by virtue of having been chosen for two years in 1929. Those chosen are: Robert C. Dexter, Kalamazoo, first vice president; Harry A. Turnbull, Saginaw, second vice president; Harold T. Donaldson, secretary and J. N. Bilderback, Dowagiac, treasurer.

The choice of Benton Harbor as the 1931 state convention city was confirmed.

Early Diving Suit

The diving suit is not so new as one might think. A patent was granted to John Stapleton on March 17, 1808, for "a new engine so by him contrived as to permit a person enclosed in it to walk under water, and to a new invented way to force air into any depth of water to supply the person in the suit engine breathing for any depth, also a lamp burning under water, also a way to make the same serviceable for respiration."

GAME COMMISSION ADDS ONE DAY TO CHICKEN SEASON

Shortening of the racoon hunting season by 15 days; and increasing the partridge and prairie chicken open seasons in the lower peninsula by one day, were the principal changes made in the 1930 hunting and trapping seasons by the Conservation Commission at its July meeting.

The open seasons for the coming fall in which changes have been made are as follows:

Partridge, closed in upper peninsula; lower peninsula, Oct. 15-20, inclusive.

Prairie chicken, closed in upper peninsula; lower peninsula, Oct. 15-20, inclusive.

Prohibited trapping and hunting in upper peninsula, hunting Nov. 1-15 inclusive. Trapping, north of Townline 16 and west of Saginaw Bay, Nov. 15 to Dec. 15 inclusive; south of northline of Townline 16 and east of Saginaw Bay (thumb), Dec. 1 to Dec. 15, inclusive.

Seasons on all other animals and birds remain the same as during 1929.

The partridge season will be opened this year to coincide with the opening of the rabbit and woodcock seasons. Through this change a six days open season including a week end is permitted. Instead of five days as it was last year. According to a report from the game division of the Department of Conservation, deer and rabbit hunters last year found many birds had survived the open season and during the winter and spring favorable reports as to the supply of partridge have reached the Lansing office. Of a total of 35 upper peninsula officers who sent in partridge reports, 25 reported "more birds" than last year, but with one exception, favored a continued closed season this fall. In spite of an open season and a hard winter, 15 lower peninsula courses above townline 16 reported "two birds" than last year.

The prairie chicken open season is changed to coincide with the open partridge season. Reports from local and district officers, both last year and this, indicate that prairie chicken are still comparatively scarce in their usual ranges of the upper peninsula, but locally abundant in the eastern part of the lower peninsula, especially in the counties west of Saginaw Bay. Reports show that this bird increased quite steadily in Clare, Roscommon, Ogemaw and other neighboring counties, especially during the last few years.

The trapping season for racoon, in the lower peninsula remains the same as last year, corresponding as far as possible with the muskrat trapping seasons. Although racoon hunting is reported to be abundant in many places of the lower peninsula than last year, reports indicate there are enough for a short open season this year, and so the hunting of coons was limited Nov. 1 to Nov. 15, inclusive. Last year the hunting season was from Nov. 1 to Nov. 30 inclusive in the lower peninsula.

Raccoons are scarce or absent in all upper peninsula counties except small areas in Alcona and Delta counties and there has been no decided increase after the closed season last year. This is probably a permanent condition, but the season will remain closed in the upper peninsula to protect the few coons there and to see whether there is any possibility of their increasing or extending their range.

Mink may be trapped this year only during the open muskrat trapping season, under an order of the Commission. This was done to give better protection to muskrat during the closed season and to avoid the trouble caused by catching rats or coons in mink sets. Mink may be taken or killed by other methods than traps during the entire year.

Muskrat trapping season, was changed from 1929 is as follows: Upper peninsula, Nov. 1 to 30th, inclusive; lower peninsula, north of north line of Townline 16 and west of Saginaw Bay, Nov. 15 to Dec. 15, inclusive; south of north line of Townline 16 and East of Saginaw Bay, Dec. 1 to Dec. 31, inclusive.

Study Coyotes Dietary Habits

The dietary habits of coyotes and other predatory animals, are revealed in reports received by the law enforcement division of the department of conservation from state trappers.

Whenever the condition of the carcasses permits, the trappers examine the stomachs to determine what the animals have been eating. The stomachs of 32 coyotes examined by the trappers during the month of May and June revealed: eighteen rabbits, nine traces of deer, two traces of sheep wool, two traces of bird feathers and one of woodchuck.

Stomachs of seven foxes were examined. One of the foxes had been eating a woodchuck, three had fed on rabbits, one on mice and two on partridge.

Of seven bobcats examined, three had eaten partridge and four had eaten rabbits.

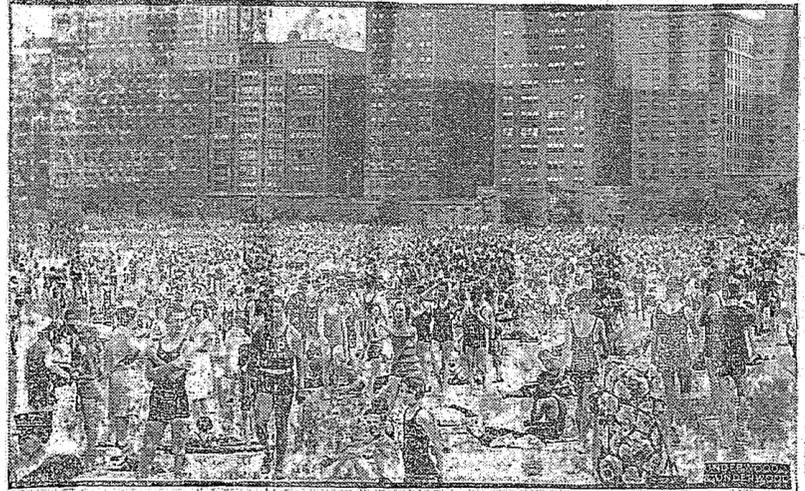

The only wolf stomach examined, contained traces of deer.

Of course, it was impossible to determine whether these predators had themselves killed the animals found in their stomachs.

Color blindness is generally hereditary, but the excessive use of tobacco may tend to develop it. There is no cure for it.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday brings the first showing in this section of "MADAM SATAN," adapted from the book of the same name and starring Reginald Denny. Wednesday and Thursday ushers in those two funny funsters, Moran and Mack in "Anybody's War," the very thoughts of the Two Black Crows going to war is laughable, but the picture itself is more than this. It's a whole World War of fun.
