F. FABIANO MANAGER Orioles to Meet Goodfellows of South Bend on Oliver Field Sunday.

Outweighed ten pounds per man in the line, a Buchanan Oriole eleven which contained a selection of best football talent graduated by Buchanan high school in recent years, outplayed the Mishawaka Athletic Club eleven in a game on the local Athletic gridiron Sunday, by a score of 6-0 which hardly represented the margin of superiority of the locals over their Indiana rivals.

Buchanan's fast backfield drove down the field in the first five minutes to register the first and only marker of the game, which came as a result of a long pass, Cooper to Dempsey, two line bucks by Chubb and Cooper and a 35 sprint by Cooper on a crossback play for the remaining seven yards to the Mishawaka goal line.

The Orioles have been practicing for the past two weeks on Wednesday and Friday evenings at the Athletic Field. Next Sunday they will meet the Goodfellows eleven of South Bend on the J. D. Oliver Field. The team is captained by Ward Conrad, fullback and is managed by Frank Fabiano.

Substitutions for Buchanan: Pfingst for Cooper; Dretzler for Chubb; Perry for Mitchell; E. Boyce for Bristol; Chubb for Dretzler; Dretzler for Conrad; Cooper for Dretzler; Bristol for Dempsey; Mitchell for Marrs; Morse for Chain; Hawks for Perry; Comers for Howard.

NO MEDICINE IN THE WORLD LIKE KONJOLA "THOUGHT I NEVER WOULD BE WELL AGAIN" SAID MANY A PRAISE OF NEW MEDICINE.

MR. BENJAMIN VINCENT "To me there is no medicine in the world like Konjola," said Mr. Benjamin Vincent, Sixth and Madison Streets, Carrolton, Saginaw. "I was told that I had stomach ulcers. My kidneys were out of order and my back ached all the time. Night risings were frequent. My stomach was so sore, I could scarcely bear the weight of my clothing. My son was then taken ill and we thought we were getting more than our share of misery. A friend of mine in the south wrote me about Konjola and told me to take it for my ailments. Two bottles of this great medicine were enough to show me that I was on the right road. I took five bottles in all and at the end of that time my health troubles were over. I eat and sleep as I did years ago and all my health problems have vanished. Konjola, when taken over a period of from four to eight weeks, easily and harmlessly relieves ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola is sold in Buchanan, Michigan at W. N. Brodick's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section."

Body Benton Center Youth Found Sunday Beside Wrecked Car

The toll of auto traffic fatalities in Berrien county this year mounted to 28 with the finding shortly after midnight Sunday of the body of Edwin Krieger, 24-year-old Benton Township youth, beside his wrecked car near the Stump cemetery on the Pipestone road. The young man was dead when found, his chest being crushed in addition to other internal injuries. On his body was a loaded .22 pistol and in the car was found a bottle of liquor. It is believed that he lost control of the light coupe which he was driving, going over an embankment and turning in the ditch. Now think what a godsend it would be if there were some device that would ring a bell when we turn out a sloppy piece of work or automatically give us a "kick" when we use only about a quarter of our energy on our job.

Buchaneers Tie Waterliet in Opening Game

LOOSE PLAY COSTS LOCALS CHANCE TO WIN

Fighting Waterliet Team Stops B. H. S. Gridsters in Finches. BACK FIELD SHOW SPEED Will Meet Riley High, Victors Over Three Oaks, Next Saturday.

Although thoroughly outplaying their more experienced rivals and flashing a fast attack at times, Coach Harold Bradfield's Bucks could not get the last few yards needed for a touchdown, and, consequently, were held to a scoreless tie by a fighting eleven from Waterliet. Three times in the first half, the Bucks worked the ball down past the fifteen yard stripe, but could not get the ball over the goal line.

The game was hard fought, both teams holding well when in danger. Buchanan's green backfield showed its speed now and then, but numerous fumbles robbed them of their scoring chances. The line, big for once and usually pretty tough, could not get going at full speed although they did show up on the defensive.

Buchanan's greatest opportunity to score came in the second quarter when some off-tackle plays and two passes advanced the ball to the 5 yard line. Three line plays moved the ball up to the 2 yard stripe, and then Chubb carried the ball off left tackle to the goal line. But just as he was tackled the ball flew up and Smith, Waterliet end, caught it and ran to the 35 yard line before "Spot" Dempsey could tackle him.

Despite the frequent fumbles and other faults usually noticeable in the first game of the season, the Bucks looked pretty good, and promise to develop into a real team with a little more experience.

Next Saturday Buchanan journeys to South Bend to take on the Riley High eleven. Riley has won two games by lopsided scores against Three Oaks and Valparaiso and will be a tough nut for the Bucks to crack.

Mrs. George Treat has returned from Chicago, where she attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Hawk, 630 Oakwood Boulevard. Mrs. Hawk was a resident of Buchanan several years ago. The Upstreamers class of the Evangelical Church will hold a bake sale at Clarence Runner's hardware store, Saturday forenoon 10:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.

A young lady who wanted to keep up with the latest styles went into a dry goods store and called for a pair of rolled hose. The clerk was equal to the occasion, with a little to spare. "Have a seat, Miss," he said with alacrity; "we roll them free of charge."

Convalescing

SIDELINE ECHOES

After the red hot prediction on last Saturday's game, this observer is rather shy at venturing out again. Nevertheless, to err is human, so here goes.

It seemed that the main factor in last Saturday's tie was the greenness and laxity of the Buchanan squad. Most of the fumbles, of which there were plenty, will disappear after the local ball toters lose their "buck fever" but it will take some good, hard practice to get them blocking and charging hard enough to do some good.

Of the eight Bucks who took a crack at the backfield positions, only one did any blocking in the interference. Most of them brushed the Waterlietters very lightly or else missed them entirely. Incidentally, this halfback, who did nothing exceptional in practice, looked pretty good during his short stay in the game.

Niles gave the whole state a real surprise by walloping St. Augustine of Kalamazoo, 13 to 7. The Irishman had won 17 games and the 1929 class O title proudly, and this year defeated the strong Holland eleven, 6 to 0. Tough sledding against Niles, say we.

SCHOOL SLANTS

The members and initiates of the G. A. A. pulled themselves wearily and with many mutterings and exclamations out of their beds early Saturday morning—6:00 o'clock to be exact. In the gray dawn of that bitterly cold morn, they trotted, sleepily toward that well-known spot, Moccasin Bluff. Those being initiated were so honored by being allowed to carry all the provisions. Breakfast was cooked (?) over a roaring fire which emitted more smoke than anything else. The initiates returned home bearing the much lightened baskets of the members, who, by the way, had thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

We were quite disappointed over the outcome of the Waterliet-Buchanan game, but what with Dale Fox and Jimmie Eisenhart "in there" this week and that handsome water boy of ours to cheer the team on—our chances will soar!

Many of the students in the 5th hour study are becoming quite patriotic, what with the band practicing all these Victory marches.

Harold Boyce, one of the handsomest of the male species, was "taken down a few steps" last Monday when he stumbled gracefully (?) down the stairs nearest the east entrance of the high school. It seems that Harold was rather in a hurry and started to take the stairs two or three at a time, when who did he spy in the middle of the stairs but one of the most charming of the opposite sex. Well, far be it from Harold to pass a fair lady and not converse with her, so he put on the brakes and attempted to stop beside her. As it happened, when he did ac-

STUDENT COUNCIL NAMED TO MANAGE SCHOOL AFFAIRS

FOUR CLASSES CHOOSE REPRESENTATIVES TO MANAGE SCHOOL GOVERNMENT.

It was voted by the classes of the high school to have a student council which would do such work as plan assembly programs, appoint hall monitors, plan parties, see to a Hooster Day, and take care of other necessary things which will help the school.

At a meeting of the class presidents and class advisors, the following standards were set up for eligibility of members of the council: They must be good citizens of the school, must be loyal to the class and school, must be a good leader, be interested in student government and participation, and must be willing to work as well as to make others work.

At the class meetings held Tuesday afternoon, the following students were elected: Seniors, Geneva Metzger and Lazell Weaver; Juniors, Kathryn Portz and John Strayer; Sophomores, Glenn Jesse; Freshman, Anne Schindler.

Grade News

1st Grade, Miss Carnagan. The following people had a perfect attendance record for the month of September: Herry Arick, Jr., Richard Bromley, Beverly Collins, Estemar Coutas, Robert Dodge, Cloyd Haffner, Doris Hoffenbaugh, Eleanor Ingleright, Andeline Lakin, Doris Lamo, Mary Ann-Menc, Vanessa Paul, Doris Rohl, Robert Six, Betty Jean Squier, Barbara Gene Swartz and Richard Trouttetter.

Betty Jean Squier's name was added to our Dental Honor Roll this week. We would like to have every one's name on the roll.

2nd Grade, Mrs. Heim. Our reading class has some new "Fact and Story Readers." In our penmanship class we are learning to write our full names. In Drawing class we are learning to make the colorful autumn trees.

3rd Grade, Miss Simmons. Rosemary Essig from Detroit, was a visitor in our room Monday. We have begun work on a health project. Leo English, Eugene and Donald Longworth have entered our room this week making an enrollment of forty-four.

Mrs. Arnold was a visitor in our room.

4th Grade, Mrs. Fuller. Geneva Babcock, Betty Ann Miller, Betty Jane Mitchell, Phil Pierce and Wanda Wideman have had perfect papers in all their weekly spelling tests for the month of September.

Ruth Jean Haslett kindly brought us a book "Benetton" Beginnings" and we had a most interesting lesson about the Carey Mission. We are reminded of the location of this mission by a stone marker with a tablet near Niles on the Niles-Buchanan Road. We studied about this in connection with pioneer life in our geography.

Remember there are two good places to eat--at home and work. This week's multiplication test reveals perfect scores for Geneva Babcock, Phil Pierce, Barbara Schram, Eugene Stretch, Orlo Maxson, Mildred Marsh, Betty Ann Miller, Matthew Rauch and Wanda Wideman. There are eight other papers with only one error. The test is harder each week and yet we can't make Geneva miss. We are proud to say the class average is seven points higher than it was last week.

4th Grade, Miss Clayton. Lawrence Burgoyne brought us a lovely white bunny to stay for two days. The children named him Snowball.

Domis Hand has been ill and is absent from school. Each row in our room is trying to be the first to obtain 100 per cent in banking.

5th Grade, Miss Ekstrom. The following people have been added to the Dental Honor Roll: Keith Dalrymple, Orville Aronson, Ruth Montgomery, Rieta Brewer, and Lane Dalenberg. This gives our room a total of 16 people on the Honor Roll. More names will be added next week for some of the children have made dental appointments. All dental cards must be returned to school signed by the parents.

We made color wheels in Art class. The wheels were drawn freehand. Painting the wheel was the first painting lesson we have had this year. We used the primary colors and three secondary colors.

5th grade, Miss Hopkins. The boys and girls of Miss Hopkins' room have greatly enjoyed the study of rubber and coffee in Brazil.

They are now making maps of South America. Much work has been done to bring everybody up to standard in addition and subtraction. There are still a few who need extra drill. The class has now begun work in multiplication and the parents are asked to become acquainted with the child's needs in order that home work may be effective in bringing every boy and girl up to standard in multiplication.

A carrot worm has formed its chrysalis which is neatly glued to the side of a fish bowl.

6th Grade, Miss Reams. The boys and girls have a new spelling chart. Those who have a perfect paper receive a gold star and those having a mark of ninety, a silver star. Last Friday twenty received gold stars and twenty-one silver stars.

Kindergarten, Miss Ebbert. Many of our number have been out this last week with colds and ear aches. We hope that no one will stay home from school unless they are really ill.

Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Kiefer took very good care of us this last week when Miss Ebbert was unable to be with us.

Abbie Gray English joined our afternoon kindergarten group on Tuesday.

We dramatized the stories of "The Three Bears" and "The Three Billy Goats Gruff." We made blue birds one day this week. We are improving greatly in our coloring.

First Grade, Miss Vandenberg. This week we expressed a familiar "Mother Goose rhyme for our seat work. We have this material up in our room.

Cleo Roussele entered our grade last week making our enrollment 34.

1st Grade, Miss Myers. Marion Blake, Duane Chain, Russell Leazenby, Buddy Ruth, Eddy Matthews, Robert Runsey, Rudolph Reisch and Robert Vandenberg have read 12 charts in the Beacon chart.

We have been making Indian canoes and wigwams. We have colored some of the pictures in our new seat work books and we like them very much.

2nd Grade, Mrs. Wilcox. Emma Fuller is absent on account of the death of her little brother.

August Rosetto is ill with the measles. The following are on the September Honor Roll in spelling: Ivan Keller, Genevieve Norman, Bonnie June Chain, Gerald Weaver, Russell Walters, Arlis Fairman, Suzanne McKinnon, Emma Fuller and Jane Harris.

3rd Grade, Mrs. Fischmar. The A class are now reading in the Beacon third reader.

In Geography we told the story of wheat by making posters. Robert Fairman, George Lauver, Betty Smith, Frank Beak, Ruth Campbell and Duane Beadle made the most interesting posters.

Harvest fields in the Po valley, England, Russia, France, Argen, and the United States were illustrated.

In a spell down Friday fourteen boys and girls did not miss any of the words we had studied this month.

4th Grade, Mrs. French.

Audrey Ruth's name is added to our dental honor roll.

The "Whites" are still ahead in the multiplication contest.

Our attendance record was nearly 100 per cent for the first month.

The following people received 100 in Spelling for this week: Marie Rudoni, Carlton Fletcher, Mildred Ferris, Alice Leazenby, Alta Ferris, Violet Weaver, Charles Harris, Katherine Mosier and Bill Borders.

The first graders from Miss Meyer's room loaned us some of their nature study collection. This made our nature study more interesting. We are still studying the habits of caterpillars and other worms.

What is your opinion of Bank Day in high school?

I think that bank day is a good thing for B. H. S. because these few children can save money for football and basketball tickets, which is a thing wanted by all. Also, it takes up part of the first hour on Tuesdays.

Charlotte Arnold. I think that bank day is a good thing for B. H. S. because it creates the habit of saving for something important, such as having money for your senior year in high school.

Dick Chubb. I think it is a good thing because:

- 1. It teaches you to save regularly. 2. If you don't save, how about college? 3. At the end of the year you have more money than you would have if you banked irregularly.

Dick Schram. I think bank day in the high school should be continued because there are some people that would probably spend their money instead of saving it in the school bank. It also gives the others a chance to finish their lessons.

Rosemary Thompson. "What is the lowest you ever went around in?"

"One." "What?" "Yes I sliced my drive on the first tee and it rolled into the cup on the green of the eighteenth."

He: And when are you going to allow me to kiss you? She: Come around Friday. That is amateur night.

HERE'S HOW The furnace coil wastes YOUR FUEL

If you could watch what goes on inside your furnace, you could readily see how the hot water coil, extending into the firebox, interferes with the fuel combustion to such an extent that it not only wastes considerable coal, but cools the fire, making it necessary to overfire to keep the living room up to the proper temperature.

Heating authorities say the fuel thus wasted is sufficient to more than pay the cost of operating a Gas Co. Special Automatic Gas Water Heater. Why not make this waste pay for your constant supply of hot water by removing your furnace coil and trading it in during this special offer?

$5.00 for your old wasteful Furnace Coil. Built Like a Thermos Bottle. This heater is a revelation of money-saving hot water comfort.

Super-Filling Stations

Evolution and improvement of the gasoline filling station has been carried so far and with such amazing results that it has attracted the attention of the Economist, one of the most sober-minded business publications in the country. In a recent issue the filling station movement was considered fully with special attention given to the super-filling station, those new business establishments that are made quite as attractive in appearance as they are useful to the public.

The Economist thinks these places, when established at points of convenience along main highways, will bring other lines of business and lead to the development of a new village or town. Tourists are numerous, more numerous each year, and they appreciate travel conveniences and patronize them. A camping village may be developed, an eating house, picnic grounds, Tom Thumb golf course, a dance hall, a picture house and other things that contribute to the pleasure of the motoring public. The places could be made picnic centers for nearby residents, catering to the home folks as well as long distance tourists.

The Economist considers as important the action of a number of the more energetic oil companies in fitting their filling stations with tires and establishing repair shops as part of the complement of service provided in addition to oil and gasoline. The editor figures the one place service station, where all needs may be supplied, will make a quick hit with travelers, both the home folks and the tourists, and that a new field of business will be opened to the profit of enterprising gasoline purveyors. It points out as conspicuous the perfection of courtesy the large gasoline stations have developed in their service, and regards that as a contribution of importance to business that merits careful consideration of other lines.

The Changed Human Appetite

There is a surplus of butter in the United States. It was accumulated during the past year and is being increased now as far more is produced than is being consumed. There has gone out from the Farm Bureau Federation an appeal for the people to purchase and use an increased amount of butter. By increasing the demand there will be a market for the supply, a heavy surplus will be avoided with consequent loss to the producers. The appeal carries the frank statement that butter substitutes are being used in homes where butter once was considered a necessity.

At the same time there is sent broadcast an appeal to the people to increase the amount of coffee they use. Coffee production has been heavy, there is a surplus, prices have been forced down, but the lower prices have not stimulated consumption as had been the hope of the producers. To help increase the use of coffee the consul general from Brazil to this country has proposed a 4 o'clock coffee service in offices, shops and factories. It would be an extension of the afternoon tea drinking custom of England to the coffee drinking countries, and, if fairly well developed, would bring an important demand for coffee.

Habits of the people have undergone many changes during the years since the world war upset the orderly life in many lands. There is less sugar used, less flour purchased, less bread eaten, three changes that have upset established conditions in important markets. Now the butter producers tell their story of trouble caused by changed habits at the dining table, and the coffee producers come in with their story of damage done by changed habits. The packing houses explain how the American taste for meat has undergone changes and other purveyors of food have stories in line with those told. It provides an interesting illustration of the far-reaching results when the human tastes change, or the human appetite is made over in part. The consumer is of vast importance to the producer.

Anti-Cigarette Legislation

A group of single track political reformers in Oregon want that state to amend its constitution by adding a section forbidding the use of cigarettes. They insist the moral and social welfare of the state is in jeopardy, and a ban on the cigaret will avert disaster. More than 1,000 people signed the initiated amendment petitions.

The proposal is a product of fanatics. It forbids ownership or use of the cigaret and of materials from which one may be made. It is fiendishly inclusive and specific.

Utah had a mental lapse a few years ago and passed a law against cigarettes and later amended it to forbid all smoking in public places. Wild-eyed officers started the petty practice of arresting tourists and visitors. In due time the state recovered and wiped the law from the books.

Such provisions are a perversion of the constitution, a silly and vain step for any state to take. Oregon has a hundred evils more offensive to public morals than cigaret smoking. Why not look after real questions and let the puny single track nonsense alone?

Will Seersucker Return?

Men of middle age will recall with a smile the seersucker coats worn in years gone by.

Like other offerings, they flourished for a time, then disappeared. Some venturesome manufacturer wants to bring the seersucker material back.

Seersucker is a cotton and silk cloth usually with a pale blue stripe and a crimped surface. Men who saw it in service will recall the crimped surface. It could measure the limit in number, variety and display of crimples, sometimes termed wrinkles by the passing observer. The seersucker of other days had, also, the quality of puckering that was both peculiar and persistent.

It is a cloth for use in places where the temperature is torrid and is said to have been produced first in Persia where it won popularity. It is reasonable in price and easily laundered. What the popular reaction may be to the seersucker restoration time only will tell. Advertising and promotion can do something. Economy, comfort and unexplainable whims also are factors.

A Hot Weather Dish

Succotash is one of the compensations for the ills and worries of hot weather. It shows how a resourceful woman can mingle the bounties of nature in preparing a dish that strengthens and satisfies. Some green corn, the grain tender and milky, some green beans, filled with goodness, a piece of pork to lend flavor and add to the attractiveness, a bit of rich cream put in just before cooking is completed, served steaming hot, it makes no difference about the temperature, it is a dish that rouses sweet memories through all the remainder of the year.

It is interesting to note that succotash is made today exactly as it was made by our mothers and grandmothers. Time and experience have added to its reputation, but there was no place where additional goodness could be introduced. It was made right at the beginning. The real art was developed in some humble home, maybe a log cabin in this or some other state. Women were proud and happy in making it and men developed frontier qualities of statesmanship after eating it, there was no room or need for improvement. Succotash arrives just after the days of greens and hog jowl have passed, and helps save the nation during the remainder of the hot weather.

Half Year Lynching Record.

This country made an unhappy record for lynchings during the first half of 1930. According to the records compiled at Tuskegee Institute there were nine lynchings, an increase of five over the record made during the first half in 1929.

Of those lynched one was white and eight were negroes. Lynchings occurred in Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Texas. These mob murders are a sad reflection on the nation. The number is below the records of many years ago, but even nine in six months is just nine too many.

We bet the Devil wishes the Chicago gangsters would take a vacation so business in hell would slacken up enough to let him get away from the office for a few days.

A Philadelphia mother-in-law shot her new son-in-law, but that is an exception to the rule, most of them prefer to kill the boys off with kindness.

About the only difference between going over the hill to the poor house in a big car and walking is that the former method gets you there quicker.

The modern girl thinks less, if at all, of stopping on the street and adjusting her garters than her mother did of tying her shoes.

More than twice as many women as men filed suit for divorce in Berrien county during the past year, which may or may not prove who can stand the most suffering.

We thought we saw a girl actually blushing the other day but a second look proved it to be nothing but sunburn.

For a great many the unemployment problem will remain in an unsettled state until after the first Tuesday in November.

Maybe that New York concern which claims to be able to bring rain is all wet.

Those moist-eyed and feverish-browed candidates who have solved the problem of how to save the country no doubt are depressed at times as they observe how extremely little the country in general seems to care about being saved.

Most of the book agents in these modern high-pressure salesmanship days are women on the theory, we suppose, that they can safely make a nuisance of themselves without danger of getting kicked out of the door.

A girl may smile a great deal, not so much because she is carefree and light-hearted as because she has a pretty dimple.

A lull in the conversation is when only 14 of the 18 women present are talking.

Another sinicure would be clubhouse steward at a miniature golf course.

One modern mother we know doesn't use laundry soap with which to wash out her little boy's mouth when he says naughty words. She uses listerine.

Wonder who has the cleaning concession in heaven where we are told everyone wears robes which are spotless.

The Old Timer's Corner

Old Timer Views General Situation from Philosophical Viewpoint

Everyone, nearly, is talking about "hard times" and wondering "why." What difference does it make, "why?" The fact that people have no money and that we must ride thru this period is enough without wondering why. In my short life time I have decided to let such matters ride along and take care of themselves. It does no good at all to worry about such things that we personally cannot alter. There have always been these periods and they will come again. So long as we have our health and a few friends and a place to sleep and now and then a meal or two, "we should worry."

Put the best foot forward and let the hard times take care of themselves. When I was over home it didn't look like hard times to me over there especially in the country. Everybody has had a good year on the farm, it seems, but the market is "shot" and that we have to blame onto the present condition of business in general. The working people of the towns and cities haven't had work, and so they haven't the money to buy the things that they would otherwise have used but you who live on the farm can sell your stuff for less and still not starve for you have had an unusually good year.

When it comes down "to a put" the real source of everything mostly is from the farm. The towns and cities cannot get along without the man that raises the stuff from old Mother Nature. It is a lot nicer sometimes to live in a heated home and have water and lights, etc., but if they couldn't get bread and butter and potatoes etc., and such things, then I guess they would be out of luck for sure. We can't eat electricity or steam heat, and so the farmer comes in to help them out. But when a business depression comes along and these foolish people in town have not laid by a penny or two, they are sure in hard luck. There are a lot of just such people in every town and city, right now, but things cannot go on this way forever, and it looks now that we have been at the lowest ebb of the tide and that it will soon begin to brighten again and things will come back to normalcy. It is not to be wondered at that the country should undergo this sort of thing when you remember that this and every other country was sorely pressed and depleted during the last terrible war. It will be forty or fifty years before a real normal will or can be reached, after such a calamity. We have gone thru the worst of it and so why worry now?

Burglars Don't Seek the Limelight

Darkness is their stock in trade. They work by stealth—unheard and unseen—their movements cloaked in secrecy. It's honest folks that seek the light. They are the only ones who can risk it. It's the same way in business. The manufacturer or the merchant who is not sure of his goods does not dare to advertise. Advertising would hasten the end of his business career—put him to a test he could not meet.

The man who advertises, deliberately invites your inspection. He tells you about his product or his merchandise and then lets it stand on its own merits. You can depend on him. He knows his product is good.

That's one reason why it pays to read the advertisements you find in the columns of this paper. It is thru advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to introduce and to keep before you.

Advertisements are interesting, instructive and profitable. They throw a powerful light on the very things that concern you most. Read them!

Michigan Workers
Receive Average
$1,550 per Year

Michigan's average annual industrial wage scale ranks among the highest in the United States and shows an average wage per worker of $1,550 per year. The annual industrial wage for the United States is $1,300 per year per worker.

Flint, one of the highly specialized automotive centers, shows an average wage per worker of $1,770 per year and an annual output per man of $15,000.

Flint's average annual wage scale and output per worker is the highest in the entire East North Central group of states, the Middle Atlantic group and the six New England states.

This reflection of industrial wage preferences as compared with other sections of the United States is shown in a study just completed by the Business Survey Department of Dorrance, Sullivan & Co., New York advertising agents, computed on a basis of the latest available government industrial census figures.

Detroit, chief center of the automotive industry, showed an average annual wage of $1,630 per year and an average annual output per worker of $9,150.

Grand Rapids, one of America's great furniture centers, showed an average wage per worker of $1,445 and an average annual output per man of $8,330.

Flint's percentage of population industrially employed was 29.5 per cent compared with Detroit's 15.2 per cent and Grand Rapids' 15.9 per cent.

According to the Dorrance, Sullivan industrial study, 43,671 establishments in the East North Central states employed 2,309,860 wage earners with an annual payroll of $2,340,800,915. The total value of production of these 2,309,860 workers was $18,988,400,328 per year.

The average output per man for the five state group, was $8,280 with "wages as a percent of the cost" figured at 17.6 per cent. Wage earners per plant averaged 52.9 per cent and the percent of population industrially employed was 29.5 per cent.

Eight Ohio cities, having a population of over 100,000, were also considered in the agency study, and all of them except Cincinnati, showed a higher average annual industrial wage than the average industrial wage of the United States.

Youngstown, Akron and Canton were found to have the highest annual average industrial wage of the Ohio group of cities and with the exception of Canton the highest output per man. Canton, however, while ranking third in average annual industrial wage, $1,585 per year, produced an average output per man of $8,030, while Toledo, with an average annual wage of $1,470, showed an average annual output per man of $9,340.

Annual average wages per worker were found to be $1,445 in Ohio; $1,335 in Indiana; $1,555 in Michigan; $1,305 in Wisconsin and $1,465 in Illinois. These same states showed an average annual output per worker as follows: Illinois, $8,250; Ohio, $7,820; Michigan, $8,680; Indiana, $7,670 and Wisconsin, $7,980.

Comparison of "wages as a percent of the cost of manufacture" shows the state averages to be as follows: Illinois 16.9 per cent; Ohio, 18.5 per cent; Michigan, 17.6 per cent; Indiana, 17.4 per cent and Wisconsin, 16.4 per cent.

Use X-Ray to Study Structure of Castings, Weldings

Despite popular opinion to the contrary, X-Ray has been made as useful in investigating the internal constituency of metals as in other substances, such as the human body. X-Rays are of great assistance in the technique of welding and casting metals, according to Dr. Lars Thomassen of the Engineering college of the University of Michigan, who has been carrying out extensive research work in this comparatively new field.

His investigations may be divided into two fields. First, the study of crystal structure by using the X-Ray in an attempt to discover how matter is composed, how atoms are built up, and what effect this may have on the properties of the metal. The second is more practical and uses the X-Ray to discover defects or flaws, especially in weldings and castings.

"What X-Ray metallography really amounts to is that it enables us to look into the structure of matter with far greater magnification than could be had from the microscope," Dr. Thomassen stated. "In spite of the possible future for this work, however, there are some limitations which must be overcome."

"The X-Ray cannot give us a thickness of more than four inches of steel or twelve inches of aluminum, and very small holes cannot as yet be detected.

"In studying defects and laws in castings and weldings the X-Ray does two things. It shows where the defect is, and second, by the study of the defect, the cause can be discovered and remedied in process."

Alumni Donates

$12,000,000 to
Univ. of Michigan

Alumni of the University of Michigan have given to their Alma Mater, money and property to the value of $12,010,798.18, according to figures recently compiled by Wilfred B. Shaw, Director of Alumni Relations. Other friends of the University have given over $4,000,000 so that the grand total of all benefactions received by the University and through it, by the citizens of the state of Michigan, is $16,198,434.30. Gifts from alumni over the past five years alone account for over one half of this total.

In the last financial report of the University of Michigan, Shirley W. Smith, vice president and business manager, reported that the total property and permanent funds of the University amount to $42,598,559.98. Thus the gifts to Michigan are well over one third of the present physical property and endowment funds of the University, the Alumni having contributed something over twenty-eight per cent.

More than one-half of these Alumni benefactions are represented by twelve buildings on the campus and one other, the Observatory building, in Bloomfontein, South Africa, the gift of the present Secretary of Commerce, Robert P. Lamont. Nearly $3,000,000 has also been contributed by graduates of the University toward equipment of these buildings and the support of the educational and scientific activities of the University. It is estimated that nearly $200,000 has been contributed directly for research and experimental work, while an equal amount has been given to the libraries, exclusive of the great gift made by Regent William L. Clements in his magnificent library of American history.

Right now, the second section of the Lawyers' Club group of buildings is in the course of erection. This includes a magnificent building for a law library and a new wing to the dormitory group for law students. The value of these buildings, together with the club and dormitory already erected, can only be estimated, but the whole group, which covers two blocks, will amount to several millions.

The sum of $2,000,000 has been contributed in the form of endowments for professorships, scholarships and fellowships, prizes and funds, the largest item being the late Levi L. Barbour's scholarship for Oriental women, which is supported by a fund of over $600,000.

Included in this is the first gift to the University, the forty acres which comprised the original campus, valued at $160,000.

Spear Marks' May Have Been Made by Predatory Animals

While human agencies may have frequently been the cause, many of the gashes found in trout by anglers have been caused by predators, mink, otter, and the fish eating birds.

This is the belief of the fish division of the department of conservation and by several conservation officers who have examined trout bearing what were apparently spear marks.

The fish division has recently received several complaints from the anglers along the streams of the northern half of the lower peninsula, that trout taken from the waters bore the marks of spears.

From the same section of the state reports are being received that other are increasing. One officer in an eastern county remarked that the "otter are increasing faster than is good for the fish."

An angler recently approached a conservation officer with a trout, to show him marks of "spears." The fish bore the distinct marks of the teeth of an otter, it was claimed.

There is little doubt according to the Fish Division, but that there

Michigan Has

High Place in the Prevention of T. B.

Dr. D. C. Lochead of Rochester, Minn., one of the speakers at the Achievement Day banquet held at Michigan State College to celebrate the victory over bovine tuberculosis in this state said that the findings of the Mayo clinic show a marked reduction in the number of cases of human beings affected with tuberculosis of the bovine type.

Dr. Lochead quoted data presented by the state health department of Illinois to prove that the campaign to eradicate bovine tuberculosis and the improvement in handling milk has markedly reduced the number of cases of tuberculosis among the citizens of that state. The reduction in the tuberculosis rate was much more rapid in Illinois cities than in rural districts where the milk supply was less carefully watched.

Dr. John R. Mohler, U. S. department of agriculture, who has had the responsibility of directing the warfare against animal diseases in this country, congratulated Michigan on its success in combating bovine tuberculosis and urged that the state take an equally prominent position in controlling other livestock diseases.

H. R. Smith, Chicago, livestock commissioner, acted as toastmaster at the banquet and pointed out that it was fitting that the first great dairy state to conquer bovine tuberculosis should hold achievemental college to be established.

Christian Science Churches "Reality" was the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science Churches Sunday, Sept. 28

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following taken from the Bible: "Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations." (Ps. 145:13.) The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We know no more of man as the true divine image and likeness, than we know of God. The infinite Principle is reflected by the infinite idea and spiritual individuality, but the material so-called senses have no cognizance of either Principle or its idea." (p. 208).
