

5 DAYS LEFT TO FILE CITY CANDIDACIES

Princess Theater Will Open With Sound Equipment on March 18

Now Here's the Proposition

The Ballade of Ed Mitchell
By Haws

When nightly blizzards rave without
And all the land is muck
Ed Mitchell rises from his couch
And hies him to his work.

Why does Ed Mitchell rise at four When other eminent
Officials of the town still snore
Within their guarded tents?

Ere yet the early dawn is gray
And you and I still sleep
He plows the piling drifts away Though eight and ten feet deep;

He bucks the piling drifts apart
That you and I at ten
May amble to the crowded mart
And loaf back home again.

What is that sweeping beacon light
That throws its beam ahead?
That beacon light—it is, it is Ed Mitchell's nose so red.

What is the matter with his nose?
Is it good Bourbon old
That makes it like the red, red rose?

Or is it just the cold?
Oh, Mitchell wears a great big star
He totes a great big gat;
He is rigged out for instant war—Ah! do not ask me that!

A HARD DAY AT THE OFFICE

Well, well—here the paper is all out and nobody heard from yet.
Can't understand the silence—there is something uncanny about it.
The calm before the storm.

Not a kick, migosh, must be the postoffice forgot to deliver the papers. I hope we hear from somebody soon—ting-a-ling-ling, there she goes—tell 'em I'll be there—hello, hello, oh yes, Mrs. Alchenbottom, what's the matter?
What? You don't dance after the business session of the Dewey Avenue Cottage prayer meetings?
How do we get that way? Well well, I can't understand it myself.
Really I thought that looked funny myself but there it was and I hated to call anybody a liar. Mebbe the make-up man spiced part of the Wednesday Evening Allmoy Club on it. All right, all right, yes all right, yes, I see, all right, I try, what's that, oh yes, I understand what you say this time Goodbye—damn her old hide.

Phew—she was a hot baby, that will be enough of that for a while —ting-a-ling-ling—what's coming now—hello, hello, what? We didn't spell your daughter's name right? why don't we learn how to spell say, look here—why don't your family learn how to spell—there's a million families in the United States with your name and not one of them spells it like you do—what's that? Oh yes, I see, the rest are all wrong. What's that stop your paper—oh now come Mrs. Murphree, that's all uncalled for—I didn't say your family were illiterate, I merely meant they had too many darn fool notions. Oh all right, have it your own way.
Yes, yes, yes, yes, I see, yes, yes, all right, yeah uh-huh—see you—aw, go and lay an egg. Hey, Frank, when Art comes in, tell him to get out the subscription list and kill Mrs. Murphree.

We Just Love to be Shocked And now that the Kirkland trial is out, there's nothing left for us thrill seekers but to borrow "The President's Daughter" and read it over again.

Must Be An Arie
Jingle Bells, jingle bells—
Now who is the antique jay
That rides in 1931?
In a one-hoss open sleigh?

Irate Citizen Irates
Dear Sir:
Here you advertised last week that we could get choice seats for the next five and I bought one on the 40 yard line in front of Conants and along comes Ed Mitchell and runs me out of it. I said I paid for my seat and he tells me to take my seat and go some where with it. Did Al send me a gold brick or do I get back my $5.
Irate Citizen.

A local pastor announces a sermon on the subject: "Why Does the Devil Hang Out in Buchanan?" Well, for all we know he may be like several other rays that want to get out and can't.

Goodbye. Meet you at the fire.

CITY ASSURED LATEST NOTE IN ENTERTAINMENT

Over $5,000.00 Expended in Latest Devices of the Theatre World.

Wednesday, March 18, will mark an epochal date in the history of Buchanan, as the date on which the Princess will open with the most modern equipment, providing the city with its outstanding need, a sound theatre which will assure without leaving the city limits.

There are doubtless few cities in the country of the size of Buchanan lacking sound-producing equipped theatres. The reason for this lack is two-fold. First theatres in nearby cities are accessible without unduly long drives. Second, it had been the determination of Manager Morley not to open until he could assure the public the very best kind of modern equipment available. At the present time and under prevailing conditions in this section, such a step was evidently not to be taken hurriedly but plans must be worked out slowly and step by step.

In the meantime local business men were emphatic that the opening of such an institution was their greatest need and were anxiously awaiting developments.

It has at last been definitely established that the doors of the Princess will swing wide to local film fans on the evening of March 18, and at that time they will have time to judge results and make comparisons. They will undoubtedly receive a surprise in the preparations which will at that time confront them. The management has not spared expense to satisfy the most critical. The equipment is not of the cheap order, nor such as marks the average small city theatre.

Engineers have been engaged to see that the acoustics of the theatre are perfectly ranged. Special acoustical panels were placed on the side walls and long strips of acoustical felt were recessed in places where difficulties were anticipated, and every effort made that the reproduction in this theatre should be of the best.

The difference between cheap and expensive is mainly a matter of quality. Talking equipment could have been secured for the Princess for $1,000 or less. The equipment actually secured cost in excess of $5,000.

A prime feature of the new installation is the very latest development in screens designed especially for third dimension and technicolor pictures. No other theater in this section has as yet been installed this modern improvement.

A feature of the entertainment during the first month will be a special program at which the Buchanan candidate for blossom queen will be chosen, on the evening of March 22, for which reserve seats will be sold. Later and definite announcement will be made of this program.

Special seating is being installed of the most comfortable design with upholstery colored to conform to the decoration scheme of the theater which will have a capacity of about 400.

Alterations to the building include the erection of a sound-proof projection booth with concrete floor and brick walls, so entirely fire proof as to eliminate all possibility of ignition from that source.
The old stairway leading up into the offices overhead was removed and a handsome entrance with swinging doors installed.

LUNCHEON CLUB CONSIDERS WAYS AND MEANS MON.

Nineteen Present at Meeting; Several New Faces in Table Lineup.

"There's a lot of things to be done in this town, and I am one of the 'town fools' who believe in going ahead and trying to do some of them," was the theme song of the Buchanan Luncheon Club as voiced by Fred Mead, who keynoted the Monday afternoon meeting in an eloquent speech.

Nineteen were present at the second meeting of the club, which was mostly devoted to discussion of possible aims and ideals for the organization.

Among the possible projects raised were the provision for funds for prizes to be given away Saturday, in the way which proved so successful several years ago, the sponsoring of an athletic club, the formation of a business man's athletic club for purposes of health and recreation, the sending of a telegram to the Buchanan high school team at the regional tournament, action on the removal of fire manacles and several other suggestions.

The suggestions were referred to the committee on aims and purposes, with the exception of the suggestion by William Hoxie of sending a telegram to the team, which was endorsed and arranged for.

Make Temporary Organization
Permanent.

The committee on aims and purposes recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent, with Phil Landsman as chairman, and recommended further that Dr. Klein be made secretary.

Chairman Landsman appointed the following committees: Merchants, Ralph Allen, D. L. Boardman, J. C. Fulk, Glenn Smith, W.
J. Miller, Fred Mead; membership,
T. D. Childs, Harry Boyce, Ralph DeNardo and William Hoxie.

It was the sense of the meeting that the luncheons begin promptly at 1:30 p. m.

Wilson of Fray, Montana, stating she has a copy of the Buchanan Weekly Union of March 29, 1896, which she is willing to sell for its value. She wishes to know if there is anyone in Buchanan who would like to buy the paper for its historic and antiquarian value.

We Will Look Into This and Make a Report Later

Charles Landis, the affable teller (tell 'er is the word) at the Buchanan State Bank, embarked from town Tuesday afternoon in his high-powered, super-limousine, leaving word behind that he was dotted for points in Florida, with Sloppy Joe's bar in Havana as his ultimate destination. His statements were received by the said friends with several grains of salt, in fact they had to send to the chain store for more salt.
When Mr. Landis and his associate, Richard Judd, return, perhaps more information will be available. Anyway he made a better guess than these other birds of passage as to when winter would come.

PLANE MODEL CONTEST HELD HERE IN APRIL

Air-Minded Buchanan Youth Are Invited to Enter
Their Product.

Arrangements are now tentatively made for an airplane model contest to be held in Buchanan some time in April, open to all youth of Buchanan and the surrounding district, with experienced aviators as judges.

The general purpose of the contest is to encourage boys in the study of the airplane, as the great means of locomotion in the future, to enlighten their parents and other older people on what the youth of today can accomplish, and to further the local movement to form an organization of aviation students which may later affiliate with national groups.

The only condition for entry is that the boy must do the work himself, whether he buys a kit and builds from that or works out his own ideas.

Three classes of entries may compete:

1. Fuselage models (as the Curtis Army Hawk) monoplanes or biplanes.
2. Stick models (as the baby R.
O. G. and others).
3. Solid or scale models.

The contest is sponsored by the Schram Insurance Agency, which is offering the following prizes:

- Class 1. First and second prize, each consisting of a kit for building a flying model.
- Class 2. One prize only, for the best stick model to be based on the rules to be laid down as to workmanship.
- Class 3. One prize only, for the best workmanship, based on the rules laid down.

Vivian Hydorn Is Wedded Friday To Robert Fisher

The Record regrets that the following item of interest was unintentionally omitted last week:
Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Snyder announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Vivian Hydorn, to Robert Fisher, the ceremony having been performed Friday, Feb.
27, at Fort Wayne, Ind. Attendants at the ceremony were the groom's sister, Mrs. Stephen Mar-ling and husband, both young people are very well known here. Mr.
Fisher is a foreman in the heat treating department of the Clark Equipment Company. They will make their home in Buchanan.

Say It Ain't So Phil, Say It Ain't So!

There was a fine, promising, young Buchanan business man who told us last week that he had been named as a delegate to the state Republican convention. He seemed to think it was nothing to alibi about and we could print it in the paper. But we thought too much of that young man's future to spill it. We don't want to be a party to wrecking any bright, promising young man's career. So we just kept it out of the paper.
Why, in a time like this a statement like that amounts to libel.

2 Little Kittens— They Lost Their mittens, but they were wise kittens, who were more than nine days old and had their eyes open.

They phoned right down to Number 9 and next Friday morning they had their mittens back, thru a lot, ad. Vincent DeNardo was the kitten in this case and Mrs.
Strayer found the mittens.

WORST TRAFFIC CONGESTION FOR MANY YEARS

Heavy Snow, High Winds Fill
All Highways, Close
Rural Schools.

Buchanan and the surrounding district is emerging today from one of the worst traffic tie-ups in years, as the result of a heavy snow storm during the week end and following winds that piled the snows to great depths in the roads and highways, the east and west traffic arteries suffering the worst congestion.

High winds on Monday night blocked M-60 west of Buchanan.
The state caterpillar snow plow went through Tuesday night to New Buffalo and shortly after noon Wednesday a motorcade of 130 cars and buses, most of them diverted from a northerly route, went through Buchanan en route east. Included were the regular buses en route to Detroit, Battle Creek, Flint and other northeastern cities.

The Portage Prairie road was opened as far as the state line this morning. The Glendora road was opened Wednesday morning to Baroda. A force of 25 men were engaged in shoveling a deep, blockade on the curve at the Colvin school.

School Attendance Cut
The storm interfered with school attendance to an extent unknown for many years here. Principal E. H. Ormiston reported that 118 were absent the first of the week from the upper six classes. The sophomore class suffered worst with 37 absentees. The greater part were from the eighty students who daily come from outside the city.

Many of the rural schools were closed for two and three days.

Temperatures following the storm sank to 15 degrees above.

Selection of Queen Candidate

Held March 24

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the selection of a blossom queen candidate from Buchanan state that full details will be published next week for cess Theatre, March 24, including been invited to take part in the contest. Mrs. Velma Dunbar will that evening. A splendid film featuring Paul Whitman, the "King of Jazz" will be shown by Manager Morley. Ralph Robinson will be present with his high school orchestra and will furnish music. The Misses Teresa White, Peggy Merrifield, Eleanor and Mildred Miller will furnish dance specialty acts.

Local Youth Form Aviation Study Society

A number of Buchanan boys interested in aviation have formed a club which meets each Monday about 4 p. m. in the room in the rear of the Schram Automobile Insurance agency, to further the cause of plane model construction here. All boys who are interested in aviation are invited to attend and join. Plans are under way for affiliation with a national organization later. The officers are, president, Dick Boone, vice president, John Godfrey; secretary-treasurer, Albert Webb; chief engineer, Dick Schram.

ty Circuit Court Monday. He had

HATHAWAY, BRADLEY FILE; KELLING REFUSES

Several More Candidates for Commissioner Are Reported Out.

With five days left before the final date for the filing of candidates for city offices, the chief interest of the city becomes a possibilities who may be entered in the annual municipal classic April 6.

The offices of the following will expire at that time: commissioners, Matt Kelling, F. C. Hathaway; supervisors, T. D. Childs, William Fette; constables, Ed Mitchell, Fred French.

This (Thursday) morning, the only filings that had been recd.
at the office of City Clerk, Harry Post were those of F. C.
Hathaway and Charles Bradley for the commissionships. It is reported that petitions have been circulated for A. H. Hiller, LeRoy Bulhand, Ed Hess and Charles Babcock.

In spite of urgent appeals from his friends, Mayor Matt Kelling has refused to enter the race for re-election. He is now recovering from an operation at Rochester, Minn.

That Buchanan has had, under the present administration a modified city manager form of government may seem a more or less novel idea to such as have not viewed the situation closely, but it is nevertheless true.

A city manager is merely a man versed in municipal management who puts all his time at such management, for a full-time salary.
The main point of difference in Buchanan is that the city manager has put in full time on the job without the full time salary.

Mr. Kelling has been intimately acquainted with Buchanan affairs during a business career of 25 years here. Having put aside the cares of business about the time he entered city office three years ago, he was free to devote full time to city affairs and virtually did so. He emerged from his business career with a clean reputation and the confidences of his fellow citizens and leaves off with the same credit.

With it precludes to any previous administration, it is only fair to say that few officials in the history of the town have ever spent as many painstaking hours in its service as Matt J. Kelling. He has attended state meetings of municipal officials at his own expense and has taken membership in the state municipal league enabling the city to benefit by the massed buying power of that organization.

A retirement of debts is the outstanding achievement under Mayor Kelling's regime.

A total of $32,818.15 has been paid since Mayor Kelling entered office as commissioner in 1928, including the following items:

| | |
|--------------------------|-------------|
| Water works bonds | $12,000.00 |
| Sewer disposal (in full) | 10,500.00 |
| Water works extension | 5,400.00 |
| LaFrance fire pump | 2,218.15 |
| Sewer Chicago and Phelps | | | Street (high school) to | | | McCoy's Creek | 2,700.00 |

feated the Bainbridge Evangelical

Christian Science Churches
"Man" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, Mar. 8.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following taken from the Bible: "When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou has ordained; What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?" Ps. 8:3-4.

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let unselfishness, goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love—the kingdom of heaven—yearn within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear." (p. 248).

If Somebody Had Only Told Him
A well-known, if not prominent citizen, paraded gaily down Front Street one sunny day this week in his shirt sleeves with a yard and a half of blue broadcloth shirt fluttering in the February breeze.

CHICAGO SOCIAL
AS AN ICE BERG
SAYS J. HOLMES

Veteran, Buchanan Editor
Praises Compliments
to M-60 Route.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.
Editor Record.

Ancient the story of "Old Timer" on the congeniality of Chicago. I have a bit of a story. When I bought my Kicker press, about 1890, I had a hungry animal with me and he had to eat a lot of things to get a meal. I reached their office after they had gone home out Hyde Park way, so I followed them to their home, and found them in a row of one story bricks all alike, about three feet apart, and each with a plain platform about 8x12 feet, no railing or roof at the front of the house, and on their platform sat Mr. Medicine Man and his good wife, enjoying the evening air. I sat on the edge of the porch (?) and did my talk. At the time there was a man about thirty, sitting on the platform of the next house, and I asked my friend who was his neighbor, and was told he did not know. I asked how long they had been living there and was told about ten years. There you have the picture, two families living in houses three feet apart, ten years and neither had spoken to the other.

I came away with an order for 100,000 sixteen sheet circulars to be printed red and black on one side and never forgot the sociability of Chicago.

I am quite interested in the experience the state highway surveying party is having in their work on M-60 near Dayton. Their troubles have not quite begun when they get down only 45 feet into the mud on the first Reading road. The people around it still own that farm may as well kiss it goodbye, for the most of it will have to be used to fill the gap across the swamp and lake. A more nonsensical bit of engineering was never made in that district than the running of that road into that and the Pike lake sinkholes. There are some subterranean lakes in the swamps and if they strike one of them there will be trouble, is plenty. They have my sympathy, is nothing else. If they want to do the best for M-60, they will not go east of the Dayton-Mt. Zion road, but run south to Mt. Zion, then east past Bakerstown, school, on east to the Niles Portage Prairie diagonal road at the George H. Rouse farm in section 5, East Benton. Have a better road at not greater more than ten per cent of the cost.

In my olden time there lived in the southern part of section 38 in Buchanan, in the swamp, for house directly south of the west coast of Clear Lake, a family comprising George and Harriet Wright and at least one child. Harriet was in a way somewhat of a genius. The west part of their farm was "unimproved" marsh. Harriet went out to pick berries and found a snake in her net. She cooked Mrs. Ratter into her hall, took him out to dry and murdered him, then filled the pit with berries, unfilled. It is told that she used to make her baby white she sang, and here is her lullaby: "We'll face the storm, it can't be long, we'll anchor by and bye, lay down you little devil and go to sleep."

More than 57,000 noxious fish were removed from Michigan waters during the year 1930 according to a report of the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation.

The figure is more than double that of 1929 when 27,610 fish were reported taken from lakes and streams.

Cann pre-dominant among the species of noxious fish taken. Individuals operating under contract with the state took 34,981 carp during 1930 as compared with 11,341 taken through the same means the previous year. Seines and channel nets were used.

Three systems are used for taking noxious fish. Contracts are made with individuals, fish are taken by departmental employees, and by mill race and seines, and fish are taken by parties working under the supervision of a conservation officer.

Of the 57,920 noxious fish removed in 1930, 32,026 were taken by persons operating under contract, 14,144 were taken by departmental employees and the rest by noxious fish parties.

Tabulation of catches by species for the year 1930 showed: dogfish, 1,927; garfish, 3,577; carp, 35,979; others, 46,906.

Contracts with individuals for the taking of noxious fish are entered into when applications are received and when investigation reveals that they can be taken without injuring game fish, on a basis profitable to the individual.

All fishing must be under the supervision of a conservation officer. Individuals must furnish their own equipment and all fish are sold in the name of the department from the $2500 sales. Deduction of not more than 20 per cent is reserved for issuance of the contract and the per diem and expenses of the supervisory officer. The balance is remitted to the holder of the contract. The contractor is required to post a bond of $1,000 to the department.

The air mail service being inaugurated from France to India-China by French authorities is to be extended to Canton and possibly up the China Coast.

DIXIE EVANGEL
CONTINUES TO GRIP AUDIENCE

Barton Quarles Stirrs the Crowds With fervent Gospel Message.

The Church of Christ is having quite a successful revival, regardless of snow storms. The attendance has been unusually good.

Evangelist Quarles continues to grip his listeners like a vice. The audience could sit for hours without becoming weary while resting on the deep truths of the Bible and Evangelist Quarles can really feed his audience on the wonderful things of God's word. When you have heard him once, you will want to hear him again.

He will speak on the following subjects: Thursday evening, "The Beautiful Bride" or "Happily Married"; Friday evening, "Why the Devil Hates Out in Buchanan"; Saturday evening, "Answering the Lord's Prayer." This will be an illustrated lecture, Sunday morning, "The Hesitating Soul."

and Sunday evening, "Wake Up, Get Up, Stay Up."

The revival will "close" Sunday evening, and the public is invited to attend each and everyone of the above services.

Last evening the Evangelist spoke on "A Modern Case of Conversion" to an appreciative audience. The Evangelist said in part, "The modern mind thinks in terms of speed, joy and luxury. Man is no longer content to walk, but instead must speed away in a high-powered car or soar through the air in a speedy plane. He is no longer content to spend his evenings at home, but instead he seeks the theatres, ball rooms and drinking parties, and this he calls joy. He is no longer content to live within his means, but instead he must have his luxuries, even if it costs him his health, and he must have it."

More than 73,000 miles in a New Ford

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where bad roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan was driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure—to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles.

Bucaneers Capture Title in District Tournament

BRADFIELD'S 5 VICTORS 3 TIMES IN PAST 5 YEARS

Berrien Springs Squad is the Main Barrier to the Local Progress.

Buchanan high school's young basketball team came through the district tourney in final style, but they had anything but easy pickings in their first game, and for a while it seemed very doubtful whether the Bucks would come through or be felled.

Both teams are well fortified with two fast forwards, Berrien relying on Louis Morse's personal scoring, and Buchanan depending on some flashy work by the Morse twins. It was the Buck's ability to connect with the basket in the second quarter that won the game for them, rolling up eleven points while Berrien could get no more than seven.

Dougan opened the scoring and did all of it in the first quarter, a free throw on Louis Morse's personal. In the second period Jesse tied things up on Gifford's foul, and Lauren put B. H. S. in the lead with two pretty field goals. Wetzel and Gifford helped Berrien by scoring a long shot and a charity toss respectively. Lauren came right back with two pot-shots, the second of which was practically given away when he was thrown the ball by a Berrien man right under their basket. These tallies were soon balanced, however, when Wetzel and Dougan dropped in free throws and Graham made a long one. Ike Schultz brought Buchanan's lead up to 11 and 8 by dropping in a pot-shot as the half ended.

The third session was a tough one. Dougan scored twice from the foul line before Louis came thru on Dougan's foul, and finally Berrien went ahead on Dougan's field goal. Louis put the Bucks back in front with a fancy shot, but Dougan again came through with one from close-in. Lauren tied things up on Bruce's personal, but Berrien went ahead again on Graham's free throw. Buchanan again took the lead on Lauren's long shot as the quarter ended.

There was little scoring done in the final period, but nevertheless it was no less lacking in thrills. Wetzel again tied the score at 17 all on Jesse's foul, and the score remained this way for some time. Finally, Jesse and Lauren both dropped in a free throw and the Bucks put on a wonderful exhibition of stilling for the last minute and twenty-five seconds and lost the ball but once.

Things were some easier Saturday, Cass taking a 6 to 8 lead at the quarter, but the Schultz made three free throws and a basket, and Lauren two nice fielders. From then on the Bucks had easy work. Their defense held the Cass boys' half-court, and on the offense the Schultz just couldn't miss the basket. At the half Buchanan led, 12 and 7, and they increased their lead to 20 and 10 at the end of the third period. Coach Bradfield made numerous substitutions in the final quarter, but then the locals outscored their opponents. Ike Schultz was the shining light of the game, scoring 5 baskets and 4 free throws for a total of 14 points. Rice led the losers with two field goals.

RESUME RESULTS DISTRICT MEET OF LAST WEEK

St. Joseph, Buchanan and Bridgman Emerge as the Victors.

Buchanan high school returned to the District 1, class C throne Saturday night, after a season's absence, by proving themselves the "cream of the crop" over Berrien Springs and Cassopolis. The Bucks scrapped for exactly thirty-two minutes Thursday night in order to eliminate Berrien from the running, but had a harder on Saturday night, after building up a good lead, the reserves were allowed to finish the game. It was the third time in the last five years known as Bradfield's regime that Buchanan has won the district championship, and it also places the Bucks in the regional meet held at Kalamazoo this week. Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Bridgman, last year's district champion in Class C, took the Class D title by walloping Edwardsburg and finally losing to Stevensville. Edwardsburg took their first game from Cassopolis in a close game, 22 and 21. Glessinger sinking the winning point in the final minute on a technical foul called on Glessinger. Bridgman met Edwardsburg on Friday night, but Edwardsburg's scrappy play was enough and Bridgman won 38 to 11, thereby winning the right to play in the finals. Stevensville's reserves played the first three quarters against the Edwardsburg "Midnighters," and after the regulars rolled up eight points in the final period, the score was 31 to 4 Stevensville.

In the final Class C game, Bridgman stepped out and took a 4 to 2 lead at the quarter, but the scrapping Stevensville team tied them scoreless in the second quarter, and found themselves leading 7 and 4 at the half. Bridgman tied the score at 8 all at the end of the third session. Tony Friel, who played a wonderful game at guard for the Cardinals, opened the fourth period with a field goal, but Edwardsburg tied it with a similar shot.

Then with about a minute to play, Novotny dropped in a pretty pot-shot to give Stevensville the lead, 12 and 10. Steller made a free throw bringing the score to 11 and 12 Stevensville. With about a half minute left of playing time, Steller tried for a pot-shot, but a foul was called on Friel and the game ended with a score of 12 and 11. Friel made both of them good, playing his last game for Stevensville, put up a marvelous game of basketball, but left the floor crestfallen.

Niles was no match for the St. Joseph boys, and lost a 30 to 12 decision to their ancient rivals. Metz opened the game by batting in two under the basket and the Cardinals ran up five more points before Niles scored through Friel. St. Joseph's free throws were two free throws. Walker scored Niles' first field goal with about a minute to play in the first half, sinking a very long shot. Metz, St. Joe's forward, rolled up the highest individual total of the tournament by getting seven baskets and a pair of free throws for a total of sixteen points.

Dr. C. L. Kiehn

Talks at School Assembly Friday

The speaker of last Friday morning's program was Dr. Clifford L. Kiehn, a local dentist. The topic of Dr. Kiehn's speech was "Physiology or Function of the Teeth." Good teeth are born, not made," stated Dr. Kiehn. "There are three factors that have an influence on one's teeth: heredity, diet and health."

With the use of a sketch on the board, Dr. Kiehn clearly pointed out the locations of the various "teeth" at the age at which they are developed.

"A tooth is composed of three main parts," he continued. "These are the enamel, the dentine and the pulp or nerve."

When discussing the starting places of decay, Dr. Kiehn said that a decay starts either in the pit, the contact point or the gum line.

Grade News

Kindergarten, Miss Ebbert

We have finished our Dutch Project in our sand-table. We think it makes a very pretty picture. There are Dutch boys and girls, windmills, dog carts, a tulip garden, a pond with ducks and a turtle swimming in it, and a Dutch girl tending some geese in the scene.

We are working on some Dutch books now. Jimmie Morris and Catherine Babcock brought us some wooden shoes and a windmill to look at.

The weather is a new topic of interest. Every day when we mark the calendar we take notice of the weather, so we are busy learning to read new words describing it.

Dean Daniels, Billy Miller's friend has visited us this week. This is the story we wrote about our Dutch Project:

Our Dutch Garden

We have Dutch windmills in our Dutch garden. Ducks swim in the pond. Billy, the turtle swims in the pond, too. He likes to sit on our island. We have four dog carts. We have a Dutch tulip garden. We have a path of stones. Dutch girls walk on the path. A Dutch girl watches some geese. We are watching for robins and bluebirds. Some of us have seen robins already.

1st Grade, Miss Carnahan

Twelve people were absent Monday on account of the storm.

We are to make the thrift poster for next week. We have chosen a Holland scene.

We are making Dutch posters. We are drawing and studying birds and their habits.

Vogue For Canape Grows

Appetizing Newcomer on Party Food List Is Boon to Hostess

THE canape is one of the new-comers on the party food list but it is already extremely popular and very chic. It is attractive in appearance and appetizing in flavor, and it has made entertaining much easier. To the smart hostess it is as necessary as the after-dinner bowl of fruit.

For tea or for evening refreshments there is nothing smarter than a tray of canapes of various shapes and garnishes. For a first course at lunch or dinner a canape is again correct, and convenient; it can be arranged and placed before the guests arrive.

For a first course a fruit canape is sometimes chosen. A ring of sliced bananas is arranged around the edge of a round of bread which has been spread with cream cheese. In the center are leaped minced dates mixed with mayonnaise. The canape is placed on a lettuce leaf with mayonnaise as a garnish. Sometimes a slice of pineapple is used instead of the bread.

For canapes which are to be eaten with the fingers either bread plain or toasted on one side is used. It is usually spread with a flavored butter—anchovy paste, deviled ham, horseradish, mustard or cheese are among the savory materials which mix well with butter. Colorful garnishes are then made from combinations of pimentos, green pepper, ripe and green olives, egg yolks and whites. Tiny pickled onions and capers can also be used. All kinds of interesting effects are possible by varying the arrangements of these garnishes. Your tray of canapes can be a really lovely picture, and they will taste just as good as they look.

Variations of Foundation Butter for Canapes

Chutney Butter: 1 teaspoon chutney for 2 tablespoons butter.

Anchovy or Sardine Butter: 2 teaspoons anchovy or sardine paste for 4 tablespoons butter.

Chili Butter: 1 tablespoon chili sauce for 2 tablespoons butter.

Watercress Butter: 1 tablespoon pointed cress to 4 tablespoons butter.

Parsley Butter: 1 tablespoon minced parsley to 4 tablespoons butter.

Cheese Butter: Equal parts soft snappy cheese and butter; 1 part Parmesan to 4 parts butter; 1 part Parmesan to 2 parts butter.

Pimento Butter: 1 minced pimento to 4 tablespoons butter.

Horseradish Butter: 1 tablespoon horseradish to 2 tablespoons butter.

Mustard Butter: 1 table-spoon prepared mustard to 4 table-spoons butter.

Ketchup Butter: 1 table-spoon ketchup to 2 tablespoons butter.

Chevrolet Co. to Begin Aggressive Advt. Campaign

Another aggressive advertising campaign, with newspaper display columns carrying the brunt of the attack, is promised for this year by R. K. White, advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co.

Long one of the nation's leading advertisers, the Chevrolet organization lent its endorsement to the pulling power of the newspaper by using 9,700 dailies and weeklies to announce its new 1931 car in November, the largest newspaper schedule ever used by Chevrolet in one campaign since the inception of the company. This move was made despite subnormal business conditions and the generally slackened promotional activities of manufacturers in and out of the automobile industry.

"We made this move," Mr. White explained, "because we are in direct accord with the frequently expressed view that the only way to make bad business good and good business better is to put abnormal effort into your activities when you face subnormal conditions."

"Not only did we carry the largest newspaper schedule we averaged, but we enlisted new forms of advertising to put our new car message across. Both the radio and the motion picture screen were added this year. Both are new media in our program, and both were added because a manufacturer with a national market intensively cultivated cannot afford to overlook any new means of approach to that market."

"We are continuing to use the radio and the screen to supplement and buttress our newspaper campaigns just as we have always used national magazines, outdoor boards, direct mail and other media for the same purpose."

"The newspaper, however, continues to form the backbone of our campaigns and for the present will continue to do so. It, in the parlance of the gridiron, carries the ball and the rest run interference."

Best Methods Fail On Unfertile Soil

Most of the advantage gained through the use of better farm implements, improved varieties of seed, and knowledge of how to control insects and plant diseases is nullified in an attempt to increase crop yields unless the farmer has been careful to conserve the fertility of his soil, according to members of the soils department at Michigan State College.

Records of the State Department of Agriculture show that the average yields per acre for oats and wheat in Michigan were less in the last 10 years than they were in the 10 years between 1870 and 1880, and the yield of corn during the last decade was only a fraction of that of the 1870-80 decade.

The use of alfalfa as a seed crop brought a welcome profit to many Michigan farmers in 1930 and, apparently, when the season is favorable the production of alfalfa seed will materially increase the state's agricultural income.

"Safety and Prudence Above Everything"

An Announcement to Bank Depositors

On May 1, 1931, the rate of interest paid on savings deposits and time deposits will be changed from 4% to 3%

The first obligation of a bank is to protect its depositors. To do this, it must PROSPER; in other words, its income must exceed expense, and there must be some profit to add to surplus for greater strength and to protect those most concerned.

Who are concerned? Not only the officers. Not only shareholders. The people of the community—this county—All who have deposits in banks. All are concerned in the continued prosperity of their banks.

When there is an over-supply of any commodity, not consumed, the price goes down. When there is an over-supply of bank credit, not used, the price of money goes down. That is the condition with which we now must deal. To keep our funds invested safely and protect our depositors, we must make good loans, and under present conditions our loaned funds yield us an average income of less than 4½ per cent. True, most loans are made at a higher rate, but we cannot lend all our funds all the time and we are required by law to hold a cash reserve so the maximum AVERAGE YIELD under present conditions is often less than 4½ per cent. Here is an example of what happens:

You deposit in a savings account $100.00

If our loans average a yield of 4½ per cent the greatest amount we can earn monthly on the $100.00 is 37c

If we pay you 4 per cent that will amount to 33c Leaving us a monthly profit on each $100.00 we handle, of 4c

It is manifest that this is not enough margin to allow us to pay taxes, rent, salaries, and all the other overhead expense connected with the proper operation of a bank, let alone having anything over to add to surplus and build a stronger capital structure.

Changing the rate of interest on deposits from 4 per cent to 3 per cent gives us a fair, though narrow margin of income over expenses, allowing us to operate on a business basis and thus give the maximum of service and protection to everyone concerned.

People in possession of the facts judge fairly, and that is why we give this explanation rather than just a formal notice of the change. The whole business structure is based on business at a fair profit. We have stated the conditions with which we had to deal, and the business-like remedy. We are sure that, in possession of the facts here outlined, you see the wisdom of and the necessity for the step we are taking.

"No banking institution ever lost the regard of its friends or of the public by a reputation for conservatism in caring for other people's money."—Hon. Jos. A. Broderick, (State Supt. of New York banks.)

MORLEY REVIEWS THEATRE HISTORY

Buchanan Has Larger Film Investment Than New York 24 Years Ago.

Twenty-five years ago the first New York policeman snatched up to the first New York picture theatre, and inquired: "Say, youse fellers got a license to run this dump?"

Twenty-five years makes a lot of difference. Today the Princess Theatre is expending more money to give to Buchanan and the people of this vicinity, the very best entertainment perfectly reproduced in comfortable surroundings, than was invested in all the theatres combined in the city of New York.

In the early days an exhibitor just hired a vacant store, hired some chairs and a piano and bought some black cloth to darken the windows with. Generally, they bought an "outfit."

An outfit was a projector, a sheet, a roll of tickets, about 300 feet of film and a book of instructions that told you how to run the machine and how to run the show. The cost around $250 and $300. If you went broke you often could sell the outfit for as much to someone else, or the company you bought it from might give you fifty per cent of the price. Sometimes a single projector lasted long enough to put a half dozen would-be exhibitors out of business.

If you are sufficiently curious about moving picture history to turn back the pages of the calendar 25 years and delve into the dusty archives where lie the records of the men who made it, the leaders in those days—men of renown, you will find they are not greatly different in fundamental ways from the average leader of today.

The future film historian will record that the genius in 1931 had rather more finesse than the 1906 variety. Possibly the big film men of the present generation have a more lively sense of responsibility than their forerunners. Otherwise the two are much the same.

Not so the two periods in the history of the motion picture industry. To find a common denominator for the "fillum" business of a score of years ago and the great industry today of which it was the progenitor, upon which to base a comparison, is all but impossible. The contrast between the two is almost too great to be bridged.

Nineteen six really marked the beginning of the film's history as an industry. Its development before that period had been largely on the mechanical or laboratory side.

Improvements in the moving picture camera, crude and cumbersome as it was, in the film itself and more especially in the projection machine, which took the movie out of the "peep-box" or kinetoscope, where perforce the camera had had to leave it so long, and put it where all might see the marvel of its motion, had at least made the film adaptable for general amusement purposes.

At the outset of the general exhibition of motion pictures, the business was about as chaotic and uncertain a business as could well be imagined. Every owner of a "store-show" (there was no other kind then) had to keep a few reels of "junk" on hand to serve as its program in the event that the regular delivery of his "show" could not be made on time.

The "film exchanges" of that day were complete in themselves. They rented projection machines to their customers, furnished all the accessories, as well as made the film they distributed.

Subjects ran from 100 to 700 feet in length. The present motion picture projector projects film at the rate of 90 feet per minute. Up to 1908 practically no moving picture was made over seven or eight hundred feet in length. Many did not believe that longer than this would be practicable or popular, because of the eye-strain due to the flicker of the projection machine and because most could not conceive of a story which would require any more footage. The motion picture of today seldom contains less than 7000 and often contains as much as twelve to fifteen thousand feet of film.

Niagara Break Puzzles Geologists Says U. of M. Man

Explaining the cause of the fall of a large section of the rim of the American side of Niagara Falls may puzzle geologists, since in the past the recession of the American Falls has been slow and regular, according to Prof. William H. Hobbs, head of the Department of Geology in the University of Michigan.

"This break, characterized by the largest in the history of the Falls, and said to cover an area of 200 by 100 feet, seems to be the result of unsuspected washing out of the softer under layers of rock, for it cannot be accounted for by the usual erosive effect of stones churning up in the water," Prof. Hobbs said. "It is surprising to the geologist, since falls of rock have been much more common on the Canadian side, the average recession of the American cataract being in the past only about one inch a year, due to the small amount of water flowing over the falls."

Oscar Swartz Busts To Help Reduce 3 Oaks Lead Margin

U. of Michigan Extension Division Offers Courses

A total of 69 courses will be offered for the second semester of the year 1930-1931 in 14 cities of the state by the University of Michigan Extension Division. They will include both credit and non-credit courses, and will cover a wide range of interests. Detroit will have 42 of the courses given, including 7 dealing with phases of education.

Among other courses offered in various cities are interior decoration, geography, sociology, astronomy, international relations, corporate finance, accounting, engineering mechanics, English literature, playwriting, geology, preparation for European travel, heredity, public speaking, psychology, criminology, Russian literature in English, masterpieces of sculpture, creative writing, landscape design, political science, evolution, American literature, modern social problems, selected topics in calculus, power plants, public health nursing and the philosophy of ethics.

Selection of Conserv. Officer Depends on Results of Exam.

"Can the Conservation Department entertain claims for damage done by protected birds and animals? Can a justice of the peace revoke a fur buyer's license for violation of the act regulating fur dealers? If you started at the S. W. corner of Section 15 and travelled east 80 rods, thence south 160 rods, thence east 80 rods, where would you be?"

If you can't answer these questions and 15 other similar ones you haven't much chance of becoming a conservation officer. For some time now the selection of new conservation officers has been regulated by the results of written and oral examinations taken by applicants. Scoring is on the basis of answers to questions, reputation and personality. The best man wins. The days of the game warden who could often barely write his own name and whose sole qualification for his job was his ability to face poachers are gone. Today he must be familiar with the activities of his department. He must know something about the state land situation and laws, forestry, forest fire prevention, fighting and control, the operations of the land economic survey and a score of other minor functions. He must enforce the laws relating to all of these activities. He is more of a local agent of the Department than a "game warden."

Because of his varied and more or less technical duties, selection of a new officer has become a matter for extreme care. Following a vacancy in the force an examination is announced. Applications are received by the Department. The examination is then held in the county where the vacancy occurs and is conducted by an examining board appointed by the conservation commission. All papers are carefully graded and the applicant gaining the highest mark is given the job. "Bluffing" through an examination is impossible, the department believes. The questions are too specific. There is little chance to bluff when the applicant is told to make a map of the county and locate lakes, streams, trunk line roads and numbers and names of townships; or is asked whether seven inch perch, a one pound dressed lake trout or a pound and three quarters dressed whitefish may be legally marketed. Through the examinations a high type of individual is being added to the field forces of the Department. The attractiveness of the work and the opportunity to be out of doors have served to counteract a small salary in inducing men of better calibre to take the examinations.
