Berrien-Cass Rebekah Assosiation Convene Here Saturday, Apr. 18

COMMISSION TO ORGANIZE AT MEET TONIGHT

Now Here's the Proposition

IMPOSSIBILITIES
By Haws

If you should come here to my desk today
And sit upon it in the gaily way
You've got, and hist on it one foot
Or more
And push the dictionary on the floor
And then lean backward with an air profound
The while you blithely scattered
All around
On floor and furniture both near and far
Great gobs of ashes from that cheap cigar
You always smoke and then shift upon the desk
And push some more off; where on I might ask
"What do you chance, if anything, to know?"
And how did Michigan's election go?"

And then you'd shift that cheap cigar and say
To me in that important sort of way
You cultivate because of your weak attic:
"The whole darn state has voted Democratic,
I might lean back and gasp and say
"How's that?"
Gone democrat!"

But I would soon recover from my doubt
And murmur sweetly while I kicked you out:
"That's just another of your wipid tales;
And I'm the pope and you're the Prince of Wales
And this typewriter is a hunk of cheese
If you expect me to believe that wheeze."
Come back next year or some time later, please."
For I might fall for it a second—then
I'd soon be wise again.

Will Renovate 5 More Wells To Safeguard Against Shortage.

Work will be started soon on the renovation of the six wells across the Michigan Central switch tracks from the city water works, in order to guarantee a water supply adequate for any contingency which may arise this summer, according to announcements made at the postponed meeting of the city council held Tuesday evening. George Crawford of New Troy, who dug the wells ten years ago, and who also renovated the five wells on the north side of the switch track last summer, was present and submitted an offer to pull the screens and place the wells in condition for a price of $125 each. Crawford stated that he would renovate one well and test it out, before going on with the others. City waterworks superintendent, Arlin Clark, stated that the wells are probably not producing over 50 per cent of capacity now, due to a crust which gathers in the apertures of the screen. He stated that the flow of the wells which were cleaned last summer was increased 100 per cent and that a similar improvement in the five remaining wells would increase the supply of the pumping capacity of the plant.

Better Seeds for Better Gardens

Now is the time to plant FERRY'S SEEDS!

Now is the time to plant your garden. Now is the time to select Ferry's purebred Seeds. Seeds are the most inexpensive, but the most important feature of a successful garden. The soil and your labor represent the much greater investment in time and actual money; but the seeds you choose may mean the margin between success and failure of your efforts.

Ferry's Seeds are purebred. That means generations of seed plants are tested and checked in the Ferry-Morse special seed laboratory fields before any seed grown from a plant is placed on the market. Because of the rigid testing, Ferry-Morse seed specialists know that Ferry's purebred Seeds will grow more successfully in your garden.

That's why Ferry's Seeds protect your labor and your garden investment. They are fresh for planting now. All ready to grow healthful, nourishing vegetable or beautiful, colorful flowers for your home. There's a Ferry Seed Box near you, in your neighborhood store, with a complete assortment of purebred flower and vegetable seeds. . . . Ferry-Morse Seed Co., Detroit, Michigan.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF FORD VALUE

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life—in the richness of its finish and upholstery—it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car, at an unusually low price.

Call or phone for demonstration.

LOW FORD PRICES $430 to $630

(F. o. b. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost. You can purchase a Ford on economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.)

Man's Problem Up to Man.

Unlike Father William who said, "I have answered three questions. That is enough," Prof. Albert Einstein patiently answered 15 questions for the Yale News, undergraduate student paper.

The questions covered a good deal of ground, taking up telescopes, cosmic rays, religion, gravity, relativity, the universe, and what not, in their relation to each other. One question and answer reveal again Einstein's human practicality and wisdom. His mathematical theories and equations are outside the comprehension of many of us, but his common-sense theories about civilization should be within any thoughtful person's understanding.

"Is civilization as we knew it before the world war in danger of any break-up? And can scientific research do anything about it?" the questioners asked. Einstein answered: "The lack of international understanding and organization may be a serious danger in this connection, but scientific investigation could not have any direct influence on the solution of this problem—only man's own determination can solve the problem."

In other words, human beings needn't look to mathematical equations, chemical mixtures in test tubes or discovered about the size or nature of the universe to solve human problems. Human initiative, good sense and good will—or determination—are necessary for that.

Truant Officers—New Style

Truant officers aren't what they used to be. The beginning and end of the truant officer's duty formerly was to catch kids who played hooky and scare them into going back to school again. Today, in many places, the truancy department of the public school system has become a social agency devoted to discovering and developing all the child resources of the community. Here are some of the activities of the up-to-date truant officer.

He tries to obtain the attendance at school of all children of school age by co-operation and education if possible. Force is only a last resort.

He encourages attendance at school of children not required by law to be in school. He issues the required employment certificates under conditions prescribed by law.

He supervises children in industry. His department offers vocational guidance through co-operation with welfare agencies.

It takes a school census yearly and maintains an accurate system of child accounting. It works for legislation concerning schooling and child labor as the best interest of the community may require.

The truant officer, like the policeman, is the children's friend these days.

Polar Fiction Realized

"Again we have a notable example of 'nature imitating art.' A generation ago an American writer, Frank R. Stockton, wrote a whopper in Jules Verne style about a polar explorer in a submarine. He started out with this program:

"I propose to sink down below the bottom of the ice in the Arctic regions and then proceed in a direct line northward to the Pole. By means of instruments the Dipsey will carry, it will be easy to determine the location of the Pole. Before this point is reached I believe she will find herself in open water. But of this should not be the case, a comparatively thin place in the ice will be chosen and an opening blown through it by means of an ascension shell. She will then rise and cruise on the surface."

Fictitious Roland Clewe tackled that crazy adventure, and readers laughed at the absurdity of it, but pronounced it a good yarn.

Now 33 years later, Sir Hubert Wilkins and Lincoln Ellsworth, financed by five scientific institutions, are preparing to set out from Spitzbergen next May on the same quest, in the same sort of craft, which had not even been invented in Stockton's day. May they have as good luck!

Scientist and Clown

Einstein's growing reputation with the American public for being a "regular fellow" is enhanced by his reaction to the current Chaplain movie. The great scientist was the guest of Charlie Chaplin at the Hollywood opening of the new show. Charlie later told an interviewer:

"He just sat back and laughed like a boy." Anyone ought to know by this time how boys laugh at Charlie's antics. So there's new light on Einstein's character. And here is a little further light on Chaplin.

"What struck me as unusual," Chaplin told the reporter, "was that there we were together—the scientist and the clown."

Scientist and clown are both philosophers, each in his own way. Charlie wouldn't be so good a clown as he is if he didn't have the gift for being struck by contrasts—tragedy and comedy, pathos and humor, science and clowning. Perhaps, Einstein wouldn't be so great a scientist if he lacked the gift to sit back and laugh like a boy.

Believe us, the next time there's a depression we're going to have money on hand to take advantage of some of the bargains. And yet—we seem to remember making a similar resolution back in '21.

The Kaiser's Illusion.

"I'm still the emperor," former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany, said the other day. He was in uniform when he made the remark, and the medals from the years when he had seen his soldiers go marching down broad roads to victory were pinned across his chest. "I'm still the emperor!"

Slight attention is paid to the 72-year-old monarch without a throne. The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome aren't any more extinct than the majesty that was the Kaiser's.

It is hard for men to realize that old orders change and give way to the new. Napoleon, at Elba, planned to some day lead his troops to victory. Caesar always had hopes that he would conquer more than the Gauls and the Helvetians. Wilhelm II thinks that he is remembered back in Berlin when the linden trees begin to bloom along the avenues.

Being forgotten isn't so bad, when you can wear a uniform and imagine you are remembered. The former ruler of the German empire is dreaming. Sweet dreams of forgetfulness too, that bridge across the chasm that separates him from his old-time greatness. Nature makes provision for the evening of life, drawing the curtains and shutting out the memory of noon-day suns and storms and clouded skies. The future holds out peace and quiet and evening shades. The Kaiser is happy again.

Taxes and Hard Times

A publicist with single-tax leanings rises to remark that "the hard times we are in now will cease when land speculation ceases to the extent that labor and capital can afford to pay the prices asked for rent."

The statement isn't all convincing. There hasn't been much real estate speculation lately. Land itself has been depressed now, nearly everywhere in this country, for several years. It is so low and uncertain in value that banks hesitate to lend on it. Little land has changed hands, generally speaking, since the stock market crash, except by way of sheriff's sales.

Land-owners themselves, growing class-conscious, are beginning to develop grievances and air them. They insist particularly that less taxes should be collected from realty and more from incomes or intangible property like corporate securities.

As matters stand the land pays the biggest tax toll because it is visible, easy to levy on and collect from. In states that have adjusted their taxation systems to the new situation, relieving land of its unfair burden, labor and capital both seem to find it easier to acquire homes.

Prince and Commoner

All the world loves a prince. And if all the world doesn't love a lover, as Emerson said, at least it loves a love match. So the world is pleased when King Gustav of Sweden renounces and gives grudging consent to the marriage of his grandson, the Prince Lennart, to a "commoner."

It is a pity that the king, who is as fine a specimen of royalty as Europe offers, should have seemed snooty about the match in the first place. The girl is a fine, handsome, upstanding lass and daughter of an eminently respectable merchant millionaire of Stockholm. As their pictures show them, both of the young people should be a credit to any royal family, and grace any palace.

Moreover, Gustav's own ancestry isn't so much, as royal lineage goes. He is descended from Bernadotte, Napoleon's field marshal, whose father was a poor innkeeper. Royalty, like other human stock, shows many a queer strain when you trace it back a few generations.

Emotional Steam

Asked why he encourages a soap box forum in the heart of the business district, the safety director of a large industrial city answers: "To blow off steam."

Justice Holmes has said the same thing a little more elegantly. "With effervescent opinions, as with the not yet forgotten champagne, the quickest way to let them get flat is to let them get exposed to the air."

It is a bit of wisdom which applies in many situations from soap-boxing reds to obstreperous high school kids with imaginary grievances. Silence is golden when maintained by self-control. It is dynamite when enforced by authority on the weak or aggrieved.

Women's War Duties

It is reported that Mustapha Kemal, addressing a girls' normal school at Smyrna recently, suggested that women ought to bear arms as men do. Women demanded equal civil rights with men. Every right involves a duty. Military service is one of the duties of a citizen. "Not physiological considerations, but baseless prejudices actually prevent women from accomplishing military duty."

This seems to be in line with the thought of some of our own naturalization authorities who ask women applicants for citizenship whether they would bear arms for the United States in case of war.

One is disposed to wonder, however, whether Mustapha Kemal really wants women to join the Turkish army or whether he was merely poking a little criticism at extreme feminism.

An amateur plotter, plotting a curve from recent automobile price announcements, might conclude that in about another year he'd be paid for accepting a new car.

When the British government frees those 50,000 political prisoners in India, they'll probably all come to America on a lecture tour.

Few More Notes
on Blacksmiths
of old Buchanan

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Editor Record,
You have something of a mix-up in my mention of the Mowrey blacksmithing business. His partner was Stephen Atwood, instead of Stephen Wood. Mr. Wood was a thinner, in some way related to George Churchill and did the tin work in the Churchill hardware store, and after Churchill gave his attention to the building business, had a tinshop of his own and later moved to Chicago.

Mr. Mowrey was considerable of a joker. I stepped into his shop one day and he told me he had just gotten the handiest pair of boots he ever had. They were large enough for him to go from the forge to the anvil without moving the boots. An old German farmer came into the shop one day to have his team shod. After the work was done, he took the horses out and hitched, got into the seat and called back to Mowrey, "Put him in de book. When you get tired having him in de book I give you my note. When my note wears out, I pay him."

I was given somewhat of a surprise when I read that E. B. Storms, supervisor of Niles, was taking action on the road between Buchanan and Niles, and wondered if he were the same E. B. Storms who was county treasurer, as I remember, about fifty or more years ago, or if not is he first or second generation following that E. B. Storms, Ed, as he was familiarly known. He would be at least eighty years old by this time.

Holmes Explains
Origin of Plank
G. O. P. Platform

Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Editor Record,
I have a bit of ancient history regarding the editorial discussion of the new indications of the rotundity of the world. I have a bit of ancient history, found in a classical dictionary, by J. Lempriere, London, 1812. As the story is quite interesting I am giving it to you and you may treat it as I do. "Believe it or not!"

"Pluto, son of Saturn and Ops, inherited his father's kingdom with his brothers Jupiter and Neptune. He received as his lot, the kingdom of Hell, and whatever lies under the earth, and as such he became the god of the infernal regions, of death and funerals. From his functions and place he inhabited different names. He was called Dis, Hades or Aides, Clytopen, Orcus etc. As the place of his residence was obscure and gloomy, all of the goddesses refused to marry him, but he determined to obtain by force what was denied to his solicitations. As he once visited the island of Sicily after a violent earthquake, he saw Proserpine, the daughter of Ceres, gathering flowers in the plains of Enna, with a crowd of female attendants. He immediately became enamored of her and immediately carried her away, upon his chariot drawn by four horses. To make his retreat more unknown, he made for himself a passage through the earth, by striking it with his trident, in the lake of Cyane in Sicily. Proserpine called upon her attendants for help, but in vain and she became the wife of Pluto and queen of Hell. Pluto carried a collection of keys, indicating that whoever enters his kingdom can never return.

Pluto sat on a throne of sulphur from which issued the rivers Lethe, Cocytus, Phlegeton, and Archeron. The dog Cerberus watched at his feet and harpies hovered around him. Proserpine sat on his left hand and near to the goddess stood the Eumenides, with their heads covered with snakes."

There is more of it, but this seems to plainly prove the earth to have been flat and two-sided at that time. In the division of the estate of Saturn, Jupiter received all of the dry land and the seas went to Neptune, of whom you have heard somewhat.

It may be possible this is the origin of the modern term "Under-world."

Marion Drietzler Is Elected 1931 Grid Captain

NINE LETTER MEN RETURN NEXT YEAR TO FOOTBALL TEAM

Millford Schultz is Honorary Captain of 1930-31 Cage Team.

A captain for Buchanan high school's 1931 football team and an honorary captain in basketball for the past season were chosen by team-mates just before the Easter vacation. Marion Drietzler, end on last year's grid squad, was selected to pilot the football team through its coming season and Millford Schultz, back guard, and one-fourth of the Schultz and Morse Twin Corporation, was elected as honorary captain of the district champions in basketball. Drietzler is a junior this year while Schultz will graduate in June.

Nine lettermen will be back next year. Besides captain Drietzler, Joe Letcher, Montgomery, Louie and Lauren Morse, Lee Donley, Fox, Ellis, and Eisenhart will be back to carry on for B. H. S. There is also a very promising but green material coming up from last year's second team who should help much in filling the holes, especially in the line.

Things look bright for the coming basketball teams. Only three men are lost from this year's nine varsity players who ended the season. "Ike" and "Mike" Schultz and Claude Imhoff are the only boys who will be lost from this year's squad. The second team has a successful season and should send up several capable substitutes.

INTER-CLASS TRACK MEET HELD APR. 14

To Select Squad to Defend County Title, Held Two Years.

The annual Inter-Class Track Meet will be held at the Athletic Park on Tuesday, April 14, according to an announcement by H. C. Bradford, director of athletics at the high school.

The meet this year promises to be a close one, with the seniors and sophomores predicted to battle for first place. The juniors have been rather weak in the last two meets, and the freshmen are of a rather unknown quality, so that leaves the other two as favorites.

The boys who place in this meet will be used by Coach Bradford as a nucleus for the varsity team that will defend their county track title which they have held for the past two seasons, as well as participate in several dual meets. The Bucks will face strong competition around the county this year and will need all the material that they can muster to uphold their honors on the cinder path.

The committee in charge is: R. R. Robinson, chairman, William Matthews, director of music at the Niles high school, and Carl Schlach, director of music at Benton Harbor high school.

Further plans for this event will be published in later issues of this paper.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Science renders 'unto Caesar,' the things which are Caesar's; and unto God, the things that are God's." It saith to the human sense of sin, sickness, and death, 'God never made you, and you are a false sense which hath no knowledge of God.'" (p. 540.)

Berrien County Record

SIXTY-FOURTH YEAR

BUCHANAN, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1931.

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
COUNTY OF BERRIEN,
In the matter of the petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at St. Joseph, Michigan, in the County of Berrien, State of Michigan, on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1931, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Berrien, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest unincorporated parcel of land, and no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be sold on or after the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Charles E. White, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court, at Berrien County, this 18th day of February, A. D. 1931.

CHAS. E. WHITE,
Circuit Judge.

BENJAMIN H. BITTNER, Clerk.
(Seal)

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
To the Circuit Court for the County of Berrien in Chancery:

The petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all lands in the County of Berrien upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A," as aforesaid for taxes of 1899 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have been made by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.

Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and that said taxes have not been paid, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the same, several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.

And your petitioner prays that the same be so sold, and that you may ever pray, etc.

Dated February 14, 1931.

ORAMEL B. FULLER,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.
