Fishermen Are Certainly Liberal With Their Information.

Marlin Kean, who achieved national fame as a fisherman thru the publication of his picture in company with another large fish last week reports that his fan mail is coming to be something that makes letter carriers sweat every time they see him.

ENTRA EXTRA! Keith Dalrymple reports that he has at his home a new edition of white rats, consisting of eight or nine numbers published Tuesday of the present week.

"Clean Up, Fill Up, Spruce Up" If you want to get cleaned and get cleaned, you want to venture into East Front Street these days, according to some extremely private, not to say hot, information which we received from a more or less reliable source this week.

RESPONSIBLE FOR LOCATION OF CLARK EQUIPMENT HERE

Closely Identified with Development of the City for Eighty Years.

John Morris, 52, a native and life long resident of Buchanan, and one of the real builders of this city, passed away at his home June 12, and was laid at rest in the Oak Ridge cemetery Monday afternoon, with signal honors from his former friends and fellow citizens.

Mr. Morris is properly credited with being responsible to a greater extent than any other man for the industrial development of this city to its present extent, through his almost single handed effort which resulted in the location here of an industry which ultimately developed into the Clark Equipment Company.

The story of his life is given in the following obituary read by Rev. Ritz at the last rites: John Morris, the third child in a family of six sons born to Gerritt and Sarah Ann (Cooper) Morris, passed away at his home at 203 Days avenue Friday afternoon, June 12, 1931, at the advanced age of 52 years, 11 months and 12 days.

Mr. Morris was a real pioneer and at his death was the oldest native citizen living in Buchanan, having been born in the cottage hotel building on Main Street on June 30, 1838. With the exception of one year spent in Minneapolis, and another in Chicago, while he was a young man, his entire life has been lived in this city.

In 1851 he installed the first telephone in Berrien county and following up this connection developed the first local exchange taking the local management and continued as the local manager for the Michigan Telephone company until his retirement some twelve years ago, when he reached the age limit permitted.

On June 15, 1880 he opened a restaurant in the building now occupied by the Strang Chocolate Shop, and continued in that line for some eight years. About 1888 he entered the mercantile business and opened a store known as "Morris, The Fair" Dealer in Almost Everything.

In July 1906 on account of poor health he sold his store business and from that time until his retirement devoted his entire attention to the telephone business. His diversified business experiences and his many efforts for the benefit of this community made Mr. Morris an outstanding character in the life and development of Buchanan.

For some ten years he was the manager of the Buchanan band and for four years was president of the Business Men's Association. In this latter connection he secured several industries for Buchanan which were real factors in the growth and prosperity of this city. Buchanan had no more public spirited man than Mr. Morris. He it was who induced the Rich Manufacturing company to locate here. This developed into the Celfor Tool company, now the Clark Equipment company. He started the movement which resulted in the Buchanan Company operating in business here. In fact, in his active years the name "Morris" signified action and reliability, and was synonymous with good citizenship and public spirited co-operation in any movement for the general good.

ADDRESSES CIVIC LUNCHEON CLUB AT MONDAY MEETING

Delves Into Early Construction Power Leading up to Ind. & Mich.

"Just push that button, won't you, please, and see if that Ohio waterfall can't make things a little lighter in here." That, in effect, is what you do every night in your home here in Buchanan, or at least there is a chance that you do it, for the power generated by the Buchanan dam on the St. Joe river is translated into lights along Michigan Boulevard and in the Grant Park fountain in Chicago and the power of the Illinois, Indiana and Ohio rivers in their turn sparkle very often in the lights along Front Street.

In other words, there is a constant interflow of power over a large area of the middle west, in which the power producing units are linked together by transmission lines to assure an even supply of current to every portion of the area. This, according to Atty. Charles B. Calvert of the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company, is what super power, which is coming in for so much misleading publicity really means, and this is all it means.

Atty. Calvert, who is both counsel for the Indiana & Michigan and its assistant secretary, attended the Monday meeting of the Civic Luncheon Club, as the guest of H. W. Riley and delivered the address of the day on the development of power in this section. Calvert's message was very entertaining and very informative on early power developments.

In 1893 the first Buchanan dam was built by Peter English and he became associated with John Holmes in a company for the local production of electric current. The new company was not successful, and its physical assets were taken over by the Beckwith Estate to satisfy a mortgage of $55,000. In 1902 the company was purchased by C. A. Chaplain.

In 1905 a power transmission line was built from the Buchanan dam to South Bend. By reason of a contract between Peter English and the village of Buchanan that none of the power derived from the use of the said waters should be used outside the limits of the village of Buchanan, the latter corporation instituted suit to prevent such transmission. The Cass county court handed down a verdict permitting the transmission, after allowing a certain monetary consideration to the village of Buchanan. The case was appealed to the State Supreme Court and the decision of the lower court was sustained.

In 1907 a consolidation of five local power companies, including the Buchanan and Berrien Springs companies, was effected and the new concern ultimately became the Indiana & Michigan. The speaker gave a very interesting account of the development of water power in the St. Joseph river which has culminated in the series of hydraulic power dams now owned and operated for the production of electric current by the Indiana & Michigan Electric company.

The first dam to be constructed on the St. Joseph river or its tributaries was thrown across Dowagiac Creek near its mouth at the edge of the present city of Niles in 1828, to develop power for manufacturing flour and lumber. In 1831 another dam was thrown across Christiana Creek in Penn township, Cass county, for the manufacture of whiskey, which was sold at 25c per gallon. In 1835 the St. Joseph river was dammed at Mishawaka for the St. Joseph Iron Works. In 1835 a power dam was projected at South Bend and the work was begun but not completed. In 1844 a power dam was carried to completion at South Bend. In 1836 a dam was built for Copps mill, which was located in Section 22, Twp. 8, Range 17, Bertrand Township near the mouth of a creek emptying into the St. Joseph river.

In 1842 a dam was commenced at Niles but was washed out before completion. The present dam was completed in 1868. In 1847 the first power dam to be built across the St. Joseph river in Michigan was constructed at Leona.

INVITE STATE ROAD BODY TO CONFER HERE

City Com. Would Avoid Damage to Local Homes by M-60 Connection.

The city commission voted to extend an invitation to the state highway commission to come to Buchanan to confer on the route of the Buchanan M-60 connection at their special meeting held Tuesday evening. The commission withheld approval of the routes proposed by the commission, which would materially damage several properties for which damage an apparently inadequate recompense was recommended by the state. The commission suggested another route between the two proposed by the state, which would use the present Michigan Central crossing and traverse two vacant lots owned by J. H. Knight and Ava Schram, without materially damaging any residence property. This route is open to the objection that it approaches the crossing at an angle.

To Build Storm Sewer on Moccasin Avenue to Third

The construction of a storm sewer on Moccasin Avenue from Third Street to the Henry Smith residence to take care of a water problem which has been the cause of complaint for some time was approved by the city commission at its meeting Tuesday evening. A petition favoring the sewer was signed by one hundred taxpayers. Among the pioneer power dams in Berrien county was that built for the Reddings mills across Galien Creek in Bertrand Township, Mich. There are now 104 dams across the St. Joseph river and its tributaries. Atty. Calvert then devoted several minutes to the recital of a history of the development of the science of electric lighting with special reference to the history of this locality. In 1830, four years after Charles Brush of Cleveland had invented the arc light and two years after Edison invented the carbon incandescent light, James DuShane of South Bend organized a company for the manufacture of electric street lighting apparatus. In 1882 the South Bend Electric company was incorporated, with the following directions: (Thomas S. Stanfield, Judge Joseph Henderson, Andrew Anderson and James DuShane, who were later joined by Charles M. Hatch and Harry Barth. In 1885 Charles and Henry Chapin made the first installations of low voltage arc lights in South Bend, consisting of ten lights at first and twenty later.

The above picture represents the handsome structure erected by Fred and Louis G. Upton of St. Joseph to replace the Berrien Cass Scout lodge, which was destroyed by fire last fall. The new structure will be formally dedicated next Sunday, June 21; the exercises beginning at 3 p. m.

This BALL AND BOTTLE TEST

...lets you SEE that New Iso-Vis will not thin out from dilution"

Just 3 seconds of your time and a flip of the wrist—that's all it takes for you to make this interesting test. You'll probably get a big surprise from watching the four steel balls sink through the oil to the bottom of each bottle.

What these little steel balls tell you is the gospel truth—New Iso-Vis will not thin out from dilution. And what's more, it's the only motor oil that will stand up like this.

Here's a challenge. Fill up with New Iso-Vis. Then when it's time to drain, come in. Try your own oil in the Ball and Bottle Test. See for yourself that New Iso-Vis will not thin out from dilution."

RESULTS of Indianapolis Speedway Tests, Certified by A. A. A.

- 1 Iso-Vis Motor Oil did not thin out from dilution.
- 2 During the entire test of 9,000 miles, the engines and chassis of all cars were lubricated effectively.
- 3 Oil Added: only 62/100 of a quart—average for all cars—of Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy) in 1,000 mile test at 30 miles per hour.

Aggregation Maintains Tradi-

 Baseball.

Playing a brand of baseball
 which deserves better support from the community was the verdict of a number of old time baseball fans who attended the game between the Buchanan Orioles and the Elkhart Athletic Club Sunday
 which resulted in the fourth consecutive victory for the locals and the maintenance intact of a 1,000 percentage.

The entire team played excellent ball and afforded tight support behind Bob Morse, who held his opponents to 4 hits, and struck out 11 of the opposing team. The two pitchers, Morse and Sammy Marrs, who have so far delivered for the locals, have allowed only 11 hits in the entire four games played to date this season, while two unearned runs have been scored against them.

Stub Boyce was the hitter of the day, laying down a two bagger and a single. Ferguson drove out a three-bagger in the third inning which scored Boyce and Proud.

GENTRY BROS.
 SHOWS COMING
 WED. JUNE 24

Famous Dog and Pony Organization Will Exhibit in Buchanan.

Here they come—The Original
 Gentry Brothers Famous Shows—
 dogs and ponies, monkeys,
 goats and other trained animals children only have heard about,
 and of which their elders cherish
 most tender memories.

In connection, there is another good story. Sixteen years ago
 Henry B. Gentry sold Gentry Brothers Famous Shows, which he founded in 1888. Since then the shows passed through the hands of five different owners. None made a success because they did not operate them the distinctive Gentry way.

Gentry Brothers Famous Shows
 were organized to cater especially to refined audiences, especially to ladies and children. This, the purchasers of the shows discovered with regret. It was a lost art except with a Gentry in charge.

The shows soon lost their identity. But in the public mind lingered
 the dear old Dog and Pony Shows. Thousands wrote and asked Henry B. Gentry when his shows would come again. From this deluge of queries he realized there was plenty of room for the original Gentry Brothers Famous Shows, if run on his established lines.

So, this year he came from retirement, brought back the title,
 and now, in person, owns and operates the shows so long so dear to American children. They give two performances here Wednesday, June 24, on the Blodgett lots
 on North Portage Street.

The performance consists of a myriad of pleasing, ever changing, and fascinating acts presented by animals widely diversified by nature. Now the elders may end the "bedtime story" to the children of today by letting the little folk enjoy what parents enjoyed in their childhood.

In keeping with the originality
 of Gentry Brothers Famous Shows
 Mr. Henry B. Gentry this year goes back to pre-war time prices.
 He offers the attractions as before—at twenty-five cents for the children and thirty-five cents for adults.

As a special added attraction
 the shows carry Lucio and Simp-licio Godino, the world toured Phil-ipino siamese twins. These young men were born joined together at waist. However, they fully enjoy life. They play all games known to other humans. They skate, dance and romp with each other.

They are married, and a part of their offering is a series of ball room dances with their pretty Philippine wives. The boys speak perfect English. They are of a wealthy Philippine family. From childhood they were educated in this country, taking college courses.

For several reasons Gentry Brothers shows do not give a street parade. The pageant always drew thousands of children to the line of march. That was before congested traffic and automobile hazards. Such Gentry Brothers want to eliminate. Incidentally, dispensing with the street parade insures better and snappier performances by the trained animal actors.

The marriage of Miss Alice Platt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Platt of Niles, and Harold Graydon Hanlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hanlin of this city, took place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Trinity Episcopal church in Niles. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Nicholson in the presence of 300 guests. The altar was banked with baskets of flowers and ferns and was lighted by tall candles.

Miss Helen Hanlin, Miss Laura King of Niles, bridesmaids and Miss Katherine Baillie of Detroit, maid of honor, followed. Each carried a colonial bouquet of old-fashioned flowers in lace ribbons. Mary Frances Dalton of Gary, the flower girl, followed in a quaint organdy dress with ruffled pantalettes. Her dress combined the colors of the bridesmaids' costumes. A poke bonnet and lace mitts completed her costume.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and was met by the bridegroom and his best man, Alfred Roe. She was lovely in a princess gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a full length veil of tulle and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies. Miss Lena Lardner, organist, of Niles, played during the ceremony.

We will feature this service as an automobile service. We are willing to dignify anything that has the power of self locomotion with the name of Automobile, for this Sunday. Maybe you want to know why we want all the Automobiles at church next Sunday. There are at least three reasons. First we want to see just how many automobiles it will be possible to line up for church service in Buchanan. The second is we want to get the people to Sunday School and church. The third is the biggest reason. The average automobile, we have found, has a tendency to wander all over the country in the summer, except to church, and we want to get them all there once to see if we can induce them to come to church this summer. Of course the pastor will not speak to the automobiles, but will depend on getting his message over to their owners. The subject will be "Automobile Religion."

(II Peter 3:10.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Material substance or mundane formations, astronomical calculations; and all the paraphernalia of speculative theories, based on the hypothesis of material law of life and intelligence resident in matter, will ultimately vanish, swallowed up in the infinite calculus of Spirit." p. 209.

Ton for ton . . . mile for mile Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks cost less to operate
It is a matter of record, among more and more large fleet operators, that Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks give a lower transportation cost than any other truck of equal capacity in the market.
These firms are finding, through experience, that Chevrolet sedan deliveries are capable of 20 miles or better, to the gallon of gasoline; that Chevrolet 1½-ton trucks are making fuel records which are relatively just as high. That it costs very little to keep Chevrolet trucks in first-class working order. That Chevrolet service charges on both parts and labor are exceptionally low. That the active life of Chevrolet trucks extends well past the 50,000 mileage mark.
To place your hauling on a minimum-cost basis—and keep it there—put Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks to work. A wide variety of Chevrolet-built bodies is now available. And delivered prices of Chevrolet trucks, complete and ready for work, are based on low chassis-cost and low body-cost, plus only reasonable charges for handling and financing.

Noisy automatic refrigerators seem positively antique alongside the absolute noiselessness of Electrolux
A LREADY thousands of homes have chosen Electrolux, the modern automatic refrigerator that works without machinery.
All the work is done by a tiny gas flame and a tiny flow of water. Common ammonia, little stronger than the household kind, is the refrigerant. The chilling action never ceases, but goes on continuously. The refrigerant itself is hermetically sealed within a rigid steel unit; the gas flame is completely protected by an automatic shut-off.
There's never any noise from this refrigerator, because it has nothing to wear and vibrate. The operating cost is far less than what most people spend for ice.
Electrolux is easily installed. Connections for gas and water are through concealed, flexible copper tubing, and are quickly made for you.
These unparalleled advantages have made Electrolux the choice of prominent architects and builders everywhere.
There are 11 household models to choose from, ranging from 3 cu. ft. to 20 cu. ft. capacity. Despite the unique advantages of Electrolux, its prices are no higher. See it at our nearest showroom.

Noisy automatic refrigerators seem positively antique alongside the absolute noiselessness of Electrolux
A LREADY thousands of homes have chosen Electrolux, the modern automatic refrigerator that works without machinery.
All the work is done by a tiny gas flame and a tiny flow of water. Common ammonia, little stronger than the household kind, is the refrigerant. The chilling action never ceases, but goes on continuously. The refrigerant itself is hermetically sealed within a rigid steel unit; the gas flame is completely protected by an automatic shut-off.
There's never any noise from this refrigerator, because it has nothing to wear and vibrate. The operating cost is far less than what most people spend for ice.
Electrolux is easily installed. Connections for gas and water are through concealed, flexible copper tubing, and are quickly made for you.
These unparalleled advantages have made Electrolux the choice of prominent architects and builders everywhere.
There are 11 household models to choose from, ranging from 3 cu. ft. to 20 cu. ft. capacity. Despite the unique advantages of Electrolux, its prices are no higher. See it at our nearest showroom.
