A big picnic dinner will be held on the grounds at noon, and several stands will dispense the usual hot coffee, hot dogs, cones and other refreshments.

There will be a grand ball commencing at 8:30 p. m.

ATHLETICS BUCHANAN TITLE FROM ATHLETICS

Contest is Nip and Tuck Pitchers Battle for Seven Innings.

The local Orioles again demonstrated their prowess by routing the Reamer Athletics for the second time, thereby winning the title as "city champs". The score was 7-3. By virtue of their victory the Orioles closed their season with a proud record of 11 wins to 3 losses, and entered the "select" group of baseball teams of Southwestern Michigan. The game was a beautiful pitchers battle for seven innings.

Now Here's the Proposition

RELIEF IN SIGHT Bi Haws

(Financial News: Forty per cent of the cars now on the highways are over five years old. The replacement that will soon be necessary is one of the chief hopes for an early return of normal industry.)

Now the canny business prophet with his eye for a profit. Rests his eye on us and hums a little tune

Judging by the paints defacement we are ready for replacement. And be in to help the sagging market soon.

"Soon," he says, "they will be buying which will end our mournful sighing

Soon we'll have the first down payment in the bank

And they'll be in our enthrallment paying 49 installments

On an up-to-date and right in season tank

For to drive such wrecks is reckless, and I'll bet a diamond necklace

They're a prospect we are able to exploit

You can hardly call it sporty to be riding with the Forty in a '27 model from Detroit.

By the many scars of battle and the five and twenty rattles

Of the bus they bought when Cal was president.

They must soon be riding ritzy with the up and coming Sixty Who have found where first installments may be lent."

Another Thing We Don't Understand

What we don't understand about these examinations of criminals is, considering the denials by police that they ever use the third degree, just how many questions does it take to give a man a black eye?

It isn't so much that Buchanan lacks men who can organize as it is that there are so many men who are sure we can't be organized.

And what the town needs is not so much good leadership as a little better followership.

When a man presents an idea, judge it on its merits and not on your opinion of his necktie.

And Another Thing—

There are about fifty men and women in Buchanan who are capable of heading up a relief organization, or other organization for that matter, and directing its activities. The real question is, are the rest of us capable of efficient following?

Everything is Agin the Farmer

"This weather is the ruination of the small potato crop," stated a farmer who spent the price of a bushel of wheat (never mind what he got) over our counter this morning. "It's turnin' 'em all into big ones."

More Light on The Origin of Name of Galien

Our constant friend, Mrs. Esther Winch, writes: "Recently I read of a famous dinner in England in the 18th century given to Dr. Samuel Johnson. The menu was, in part, 'a roast fowl they call Galena.' What more reasonable than that the English Galena became the French Galien. Mr. Fox gave that version, you remember."

An examination of Webster reveals that the bird group including all pheasants, quails, etc., is known as Gallinae, and that the Latin for hen was "gallina" and for cock was "gallus."

WHITE DISMISSES NILES TWP. SUIT TO RECOVER TAX

Rules That Plaintiffs Erred in Proceedings in Mandamus Suit.

The mandamus suit filed by Atty. Stuart B. White in behalf of School District 14 of Niles and Buchanan townships versus the city clerk of Buchanan to show cause why the taxes on the triangular piece of land on which the Indiana & Michigan power plant and dam are located should not be certified separately to the said district was dismissed by Judge White yesterday on a technicality, the ruling being that an error in filing the suit was committed by not making the board of School District 1, Buchanan township, a party to the suit.

The board of School District 14 through their attorney claim that the said property has been a party of their territory for the past 25 years, but that the taxes have been erroneously assigned to the Buchanan district.

The defendants were represented by City Atty. Frank Sanders of Buchanan and by the firm of Gore & Harvey. Atty. Stuart White of Niles and John Lydick of Gary, represented the plaintiffs.

Chicago Church Harvests Apple Crop at Sodus

The Immanuel Baptist church of Chicago are harvesting the crop of the 12-acre apple orchard on the Gus Breinling farm near Sodus. The church bought the entire output of the twelve acres for $30. The fruit had been sprayed and was of good quality but Brienling stated that he could not afford to market it. The church is harvesting the crop by shaking the trees and hauling the apples to Chicago by trucks donated by Chicago business men. There they are dividing the fruit in small peck lots and turning it over to mission stations over the city for distribution to families who can show a card certifying that they are in need of relief.

Should Tear Leaf From Chicago's Notebook Says Local Business Man

"Buchanan needs a relief organization and needs it now to provide systematically and in time for the need that we are sure to have next winter," stated a Buchanan business man yesterday.

"Such a relief organization should be at work now seeing that nothing goes to waste for want of market that could be utilized for our needy. It will be inexcusable if a pound of foodstuffs goes to waste in field or garden that could minister to the needs of families in want.

"And I don't mean to reflect in any way against the organizations that have been in the field previously. If the same organizations are in the field again, it seems hardly possible that they would object to aid. But the point is that the relief will have to be carried on in a different way, due to the fact that many who contributed last year will not be so ready this year, due to lack of means for their own needs.

"There is enough money in the hands of the charitably disposed to take care of all our poor, but it needs to be supplemented in every way possible by salvaging the waste in crops and clothing. In other words, we are not going to be contented to merely dig into our pockets for straight cash for which to buy everything for relief on the open market.

"We need co-operation of all the churches and all organizations to handle this thing in a systematic organized way. Chicago has her winter's program already outlined and knows exactly what she will do in the relief way this winter. Buchanan should tear a leaf from her notebook."

Chicago Solicits Here

Point to was lent to the remarks quoted above by the fact that a leading Chicago church which has been engaged in relief work in a large way for the past two years now has a force of trucks and solicitors in Berrien County gathering waste and surplus crops for the relief of their poor. This week the representatives of the Emmanuel Baptist church located at 2300 South Michigan are picking a twelve acre apple orchard, the crop of which they purchased outright from a Sodus farmer for $30.00. This same organization is soliciting for small potatoes of an unmarketable grade. It is in the field for any other foodstuff which can be trucked to Chicago. It has a fleet of trucks donated for the purpose by Chicago transport firms.

Among the organization suggestions contributed by parties to the conversation were the following: Let the women of the various church organizations form a co-operative relief movement, with persons of judgment and experience to systematically cover the field, and investigate the worthiness of all claims.

Let the women's clubs of the city take charge co-operatively, making use of the facilities for canning and preserving in the high school to save waste fruit.

Let the Home Economics Department of the high school take up canning during the fall and preserve fruits to be used in winter relief.

Buy wheat from the farms and take it to the New Troy or some other neighboring mill, getting it ground into flour, paying only the farm price and the milling charge.

And whatever is done, let it be done early and in time. Establish some central depot where farmers and gardeners may turn in any products which will not grade up to market requirements but are fit for food.

Buchanan Headquarters For Nut Convention Yesterday

It was a grand day for the squirrels in Buchanan yesterday—or at least it would have been had they taken full advantage of their opportunity.

For the city bore all the semblance of being the selection of the Grand Amalgamated Association of Nuts for their annual convention, the local assortment being reinforced by Disciple Charles and Billy Whiskers, nuts de luxe.

It's easier to get a congregation together in jail than in church, according to Disciple Charles, apostle of pure and undefiled religion, who held forth to large and more or less appreciative audiences all yesterday morning in the local city hotel.

Disciple Charles imitates the dress of the ancient Christian, his appearance and garb giving him some resemblance to the cast of the Passion Play. He first came into evidence here, when he appeared at back doors on Moccasin Avenue and Fourth Streets being, wearing a long priest-like garb whose original black was deepened by lack of laundrying, and with his hair about his shoulders.

He was taken into custody by Chief of Police Mitchell and placed in jail, where his fame was soon noised abroad and the structure thronged all morning by the curious. To questions as to the reason of his garb, Disciple Charles stated that it was merely for the purpose of getting a crowd together.

"I can't carry a church bell around," he explained, but this dress gets me thrown in jail nearly every place, and then I get a chance to preach to half the population of the town within half a day. The police just play right into my hand."

He proved a fluent disputant on religious matters quoting scripture copiously and waving his cigar to carry his points.

Chief Mitchell stated that he had communicated with state police

CENTRALIZATION TO SAVE $1,000 HARVEY STATES

Says Closing of Two Rural Schools will Afford Relief to Taxpayers.

The Galien Unit Schools will open September 8 at 8:30 a. m., central standard time.

The morning session will be devoted to enrollment and assignment of lessons.

There will be no regular school in the afternoon, this time being given to the pupils for the purchasing of textbooks and supplies, which for the most part may be purchased at a saving, at the school bookstore.

Regular classes will start Wednesday morning, Sept. 9th.

The Board of Education is to be complimented for their careful efforts in planning ways of saving school expenditures without lessening the school efficiency. The major step in this direction being to close two of the smaller schools and convey the children to the central plant. This means a saving of a minimum of a thousand dollars, which should be very gratifying to the taxpayers.

The following is a list of the faculty: Paul Harvey, Superintendent and Mathematics. Lucile Allen, Principal, English and Latin.

George Besemer, Coach, History and Science. Helen Hohman, Beginners and first grade.

Glady James, Second, third and fourth grades. Dollie Robinson, Fifth and Sixth Grades.

Georgia Harper, Seventh and eighth grades. Eliza Kelley, District No. 3. Dorothy Partridge, District No. 8.

E. W. CLARK ORCHARD BEARS INITIAL CROP

Fine Orchard of Clark Plant Official Bears Wonder Crop Peaches.

Proof of the contention that Buchanan could be in the fruit district if it wished to be may be seen at the fine orchard on the E. W. Clark farm a mile north of town on Moccasin Bluff, where 400 trees planted five years ago are producing their first crop under the care of E. O. Sult.

In point of both quality and quantity the crop on the Clark farm is one of the finest ever seen in this district. Careful scientific spraying has produced a crop of remarkable freedom from blemish. The fruit is uniformly large and even in size. Many peaches were seen which would measure ten inches and more in circumference.

The trees are bearing their first crop this year because of the fact that weather conditions ruined prospects in the two preceding seasons. However, this year many of the trees are producing three bushels or more of high quality fruit.

The heaviest yields are on the New Profic trees, a variety of fine quality and appearance which will be ready for market in about a week.

The J. H. Hale peaches are now coming to marketable stage and are of unusual quality and appearance. The Elbertas will be on in another week. The South Havens, of which there are a limited number, have all been sold.

In addition to the peach crop, there are 1800 young apple trees on the Clark farm of which the Wagners and Winesaps are bearing their first crop at the age of four years. Many of these young trees are carrying a bushel of apples.

The crop has been cared for carefully by Mr. Sult, who has been in charge since planting. He is assisted by his son, Clell Sult, who has been a star member of the high school agricultural judging teams for the past four years and who leaves this month to enter Michigan State college for a four-year course in horticulture.

It is planned that young Sult will return at the end of his course and will be associated with his father, attending to the scientific end of the fruit culture.

EVAN ASSEMBLY COMES TO CLOSE SUNDAY EVENING

Is Most Successful Session in Point of Interest and Attendance.

The Riverside Park assembly of the Kalamazoo district came to a close Sunday evening. This was in some respects considered the most successful assembly held in many years.

The boys' and girls' camp with an attendance of about fifty, under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Everett, assisted by an able corps of leaders, observed a rigid camp schedule. Bible mission and nature study classes were held daily, while the recreation periods gave healthful variety to the program.

Those attending camp were filled with regret at the close and expressed a desire to come again another year.

An accredited school of Religious Education for teachers' training was conducted by Rev. and Mrs. George Lozier, assisted by several receiving credits and many others received the training but did not write the final examinations. Rev. D. C. Osthoff of Lansing, conference director of religious education, served as dean of the school, assisted by other accredited teachers.

The Sunday School and League of Christian Endeavor of the district of Kalamazoo brought an army of young people who remained throughout the encampment. Also the district interdenominational conference was conducted during this period.

Rev. E. W. Petticoard of Los Angeles, Calif., rendered very effective services during the evangelistic meetings. He was assisted by the minister present.

The outstanding speakers coming from a distance besides Rev. Petticoard, were Rev. Busacca, the superintendent of Italian missions in Wisconsin and Rev. R. E. Veh, from Cleveland, O., editor of the "Evangelical Crusader," who is an enthusiastic worker with the young people. Other guest speakers greatly appreciated were Rev. George Lozier, pastor of Broadway Evangelical church of South Bend, Dr. A. E. Wright, pastor of the United Brethren church in Berrien Springs, Mich., and Dr. W. W. Slee, pastor of the First M. E. church in Niles.

August 26th, designated as "Berrien County Day" had the largest week day attendance. Sunday, Aug. 30, had the largest attendance, over 700 being present.

The hotel was under the management of L. E. Rough of Portage Prairie, who gave himself unreservedly in caring for the comforts and welfare of the guests. A great deal of praise is also due the splendid cooks for their services.

We would not forget to express our appreciation to all those who donated floral decorations to our newspaper publishers and to all who assisted in making this encampment a success.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

IT'S AN ILL WIND THAT DON'T HELP SOMEBODY

A beautiful cluster hydrangea blossom blown down by the wind Thursday night was brought to the Record office by A. F. Howe Friday morning. The blossom spike is one of the largest and finest we have ever seen, measuring twelve inches in length and ten inches in width.

LAST MINUTE REALIZATIONS

In that last breathless moment just before you hit the tree, or the waters close over you forever, or the train hits you or what not, we have been told that the doomed soul sees in instantaneous review all the failures and misdeeds of its foregoing life. And if that is the case, our last split second will be devoted to an agonizing realization of our sins of omission in failing to adequately report the time a Buchanan farm horse fell in a horse trough and was extricated with an automobile wrecker and the other time when a Galien woman left her warm bed at midnight in winter time and climbed twenty feet into a tree to rescue her pet tom cat, which had climbed the tree and was afraid to come down.

WHAT ONE COMMERCIAL CLUB DID

On the south side of the Main Stem in our neighbor, New Carlisle, may be seen a handsome brick building standing slightly back from the street with the legend, "Carnegie Library" on the front. Recently we visited the institution while waiting for a South Shore train. We found an institution with an average of 90 borrowers per day during the summer season, when the use of the library is much lighter than during the school year. The collection of books comprised nearly 4,000, most of them bought during the past eleven years and including most of the better fiction and non-fiction published during that period. We found an excellent collection of reference books calculated to serve the needs of schools and study clubs.

On further inquiry we found that the building had been erected by the Carnegie foundation in 1920, on lots donated by Atty. Hubbard of South Bend. A nest egg of books was included in a library which had been accumulated by ladies clubs over the previous twenty years.

We found also that the campaign for the lot and building was prosecuted through to success by the Commercial Club of the town.

That was eleven years ago. New Carlisle is situated on the Lincoln highway a few miles from South Bend. But the Commercial Club is still functioning.

GOOD SLOGAN FOR A COMMUNITY CLUB

In large letters over the entrance to one of Chicago's Electric Railway stations is the slogan: "He Serves Himself Best Who Serves His City Best."

When we read it in a recent trip to the Windy City we could not help but be struck with a comparison of the sentiment with that prevailing during the decade of so-called prosperity from 1920 to 1930. Then the prevailing sentiment, not usually graven in public places but heartily subscribed to for all that was: "He Serves His City Best Who Serves Himself Best." Is not the note struck in the slogan on the Chicago depot symbolic of a deep lying change in the sentiment of the public?

COLLEGE MEN SPEAK ON THE FARM SITUATION

Farmers Day Audience Hears Pres. Shaw, Director Gardner and Prof. Rather.

While President R. S. Shaw, Michigan State college, did not hold out promises of immediate prosperity to the thousands of farmers in the Farmers Day audience at the college, he did point out agriculture has come through similar depressions in 1893 and 1898, in 1907 and 1910 and in 1921 and 1924.

President Shaw said, "There is some consolation in the fact that some good comes out of depressions. I managed a 520 acre stock farm in the period of 1893 to 1898 and had to do more hard thinking than at any other time in my life. During the first years I had only enough to eat, a place to sleep, and a few dollars, but at the end of the period I had accumulated a surplus."

He also stated, "The stability of the nation in the future as in the past will be dependent upon the farm family home. The making and maintaining of ideal home conditions is a far more commendable object than the accumulation of cash reserves."

Director V. R. Gardner told the visitors that the college experiment station is of more importance now, when every means must be utilized to make farming pay a profit than in good times when any system of farm management will enable the operator to make money.

State Regulation of Oleomargarine Unchanged Till '32

Present state regulations regarding the manufacture, distribution and sale of oleomargarine and other butter substitutes will not be changed until after November, 1932.

The 1931 legislature enacted a law repealing the present statute regarding oleomargarine and prohibiting the distribution and use of colored oleo. The 1931 act also placed a license tax on the manufacture, distribution and sale of the uncolored product.

A petition calling for a referendum on the 1931 act was filed with the Department of State early in August, and a check by the department showed that there were over 50,000 signatures on the petition. As only slightly over 42,000 signatures are needed under the constitution, the 1931 oleo act cannot be made effective until after it receives a majority vote at a general state election.

The next state election will be held a year from next November and until that time, present oleo regulations will remain in force.

Holmes Writes More of Oldtime Woods, Wild Game

Editor Record, Who can tell what and where the "Big Meadow" was. The person who tells by personal knowledge must have been in Berrien more than fifty years ago, at least. The tract bearing that name is the flat land lying in Oronoko and Lake. The town of Hinchman being on the east side, just in the edge of the hills. In my story of "Gallen Woods" I was wrong in stating it in all of Lake. I had forgotten all about Chickaming. The "Big Meadow" was covered with wet land timber and underbrush, such as red alder, elm and buckberry bushes, soft maple, black ash and not tamarac and was the best retreat for deer when they inhabited that country, that was to be found. That whole tract has been one large garden for truck sold across the lake fully fifty years. There was a school house at Hinchman corners but when the Patterson brothers extended the "Navy" gauge through from Berrien Springs to Barton Harbor, they established a shipping station there and some one built a store, giving it the dignity of a village.

When the cock pheasant makes his call he starts slowly, increases the speed until he is making his wings run as fast as he can, holds that speed about ten seconds, and then gradually slows down to a stop. I read to make that plain by the manner of typing it but the compositor changed the form so it was not understandable. During the 1860's there was one season why the country about Berrien county was overrun with black squirrels. They were everywhere in the timber in the fields by thousands. About everybody who was not too cross-eyed to sight a rifle was out after them, such as George Churchill, Phil Smith, Dave Montgomery and a lot of others came out our way and shot for a day and at evening took from 100 to 150 squirrels home. If one was shot to mangle it back of the shoulders, it was a disgrace to the shooter that took some time for him to recover from. This lasted for but one season and they were not seen again.

I have just received the announcement of the death of Mel. Hall, which occurred in Brooklyn, Ia., Aug. 28. He was the son of George and Catherine Deardoff Hall, who lived on the west half of southwest quarter of section 31, Buchanan township, up to 1864, and in 1865 moved to Brooklyn, where the family has since made their home. There were three sons and one daughter, the oldest son, Orlando Deardoff Hall being the only remaining member. He has been very prominent in the affairs of the town of Brooklyn and Poveshek county, having served as county supervisor and as mayor of Brooklyn during the past twenty-five or more years, and is now mayor, although past 70 years old. J. G. HOLMES.

Nancy Studebaker Would Like To Hear From Harry Weaver

Dear Editor Record, I will venture to write again for the "Corner" as I have not seen an article yet, there from Harry Weaver, which has been a disappointment, as I had thought we all would be much interested.

I was very much interested in the article by Claude Roe printed about the 19th of August. I began to read and soon felt such a calm, soothing feeling come over me. I imagined I was back in Buchanan and sitting in my pew in the old Presbyterian church where I used to sit and listen to Rev. Wells preach one of his fine sermons. Even now I can see the line of horses tied by the side of the church, waiting, waiting, for their release. All things end. So did this end. Also Claude's article. This week's article on the trees in the "Corner" was read and brought to mind the trees mentioned, especially those of the Carlisle grounds. I remember of spending many happy hours there when Amanda Gillette, a school girl friend of mine lived there before Daniel Carlisle bought the place. I have known the Carlisle family since 1856, Mary and Fanny and an older sister, Tamerson, also kept up acquaintance with Ashley until I came west 32 years ago in 1895—a long time since then and many changes in your city.

Very few there remember me now. Some of my old scholars were Luke Best, James Best and the Hon. J. G. Holmes "out on the Dayton road" where I taught in 1864 and 1865. The schools were run differently then, closing usually the first of March. The orders to me from the school board were to keep order, use the rod, but the terms passed very pleasantly for all concerned, I think and I'll close with the hope I will not be barred from the "Corner."

FLOWERS

Jack in the Pulpit announcing "'Tis spring" Heralds the flowers—a riotous fling Of cheer and charm; design of their being, Sense of fragrance, delight of seeing. Bird, bee and butterfly, out on the wall In language unspoken, catch up the call In honeyed embraces. The rainbow promise in humid showers A promise too, of bountiful flowers. Flowers, sweet flowers, encircle the bride. Sprays, white as the soul of the babe, who died. The ethereal blue forget-me-not Re-echoes its name in every heart Forget Me Not. Esther Montague Winch.

DETROIT PLANS $100,000,000 EXPENDITURE

Construction of Subway and Elevated to Provide Jobs for Winter.

Detroit's task of providing a rapid transit system was revived this week when Colonel Sidney D. Waldron, president of the Rapid Transit Commission, announced that within six months a plan involving both subway and elevated train operation and costing more than $100,000,000, will be presented to the City Council. Colonel Waldron stated that private capitalists are ready to invest in the system and that he hopes that plans will be completed in time to start construction work next winter, so as to provide work for thousands of unemployed.

The statement of Col. Waldron revealed that the two groups of New York and Detroit capitalists have been working for the past year on a plan to finance the construction of rapid transit facilities. One of the plans, which involves joint financing by the city and private capital, will be ready for submission to the council within six months. It is proposed, if possible, to get a request for a franchise before the voters at the November 3 election.

The subway plans under consideration are units of the four lines recommended to the council in 1926 by the Rapid Transit Commission. Under present plans, it is proposed that if approval is given to the franchise, this work could be started on two of the lines, Woodward and Grand River in the coming winter. It is estimated that the winter work would employ for 15,000 men this winter, and that the same number would be kept busy supplying materials for the project. The two proposed lines would be financed by a bond issue which it is hinted a large New York investment banking house has agreed to underwrite, providing the sanction and approval of the leading industrial and business men of Detroit can be obtained. The bonds would be issued over the four year construction period. No more than $70,000,000 would be placed on the market in any one year.

The plan contemplates a unified transportation system for the city with the D. S. R. operated in conjunction with the subway lines. Provision would be made for the gradual acquisition of the new lines by the city, if the city so desired, over a period of 29 years. Several extensions have been made on the four main lines in the new plan, which were not incorporated in the original plan of 1926.

Auto Drivers Are Tardy About Renewing Licenses

Over a half million Michigan automobile drivers will be unable to drive after Nov. 1, unless there is a great increase in the number of applications for licenses within the next few weeks. With about 10 weeks remaining before Nov. 1, automobile drivers are apparently planning to wait until the "last minute" before applying for the new license. Every driver whose old license was issued before Jan. 1, 1925 must obtain a new one by Nov. 1, and Department of State records indicate that 500,000 is a conservative estimate of the number who may be prevented from driving, if applications continue to be made at the present rate.

The world's wealthiest man is said to be the Indian prince, Nizam of Hyderabad, who is reported to keep gold worth $500,000,000 in his palace.

1913 Chevrolet. Price was $2,500

A standard Chevrolet passenger car listing at $2,500!

That message, if heralded from billboards or the advertising pages of newspapers today, would cause considerable wonderment and speculation among the millions of present Chevrolet owners. Yet it was a more or less familiar sight back in 1913, when the company was getting into its second year of operation, and actually priced one model at that figure, the highest at which a standard Chevrolet has ever sold.

This 1913 car, an ancient prospectus says, had an average road weight of 3,700 pounds less passengers, and a wheel base of 120 inches. With its gleaming brass headlamps and its touring type body mounted high above the wheels, it bore little resemblance either in size or appearance to the modern output of the company.

Although in 1912, the first full year of production, the car then being built also listed above $2,000, no Chevrolet since that date has ever sold at so high a figure. Since 1922 none has ever listed as high as $1,000. Today, the range of from $475 to $675 is considerably below any period in the past, despite the fact that the 1931 car is larger than any Chevrolet since 1922, when four different models listing above $1,000 were built on a 110-wheel base.

State Recovers $79,966 From Unpaid Licenses

The state of Michigan is richer by $79,966.29 because of the work done by Department of State investigators.

Because of the activity of the investigators, $79,966.14 has been collected from truck and automobile owners who failed to pay the full amount due the state in securing license plates. Investigation into the use of plates from other states enriched the treasury $23,880.25. From violators of the malt tax law discovered by employees of the department, Michigan received $53,710.90, from improper auto titles the state received $1,251; used car dealer licenses, $625; chauffeur licenses, $84; duplicate automobile plates, $18 and operator's license, $1.

At the same time it was announced that total receipts from the malt tax were $374,381.29.

Miss Rawls defeated Eleanor Holm, the defending champion, in the 300-yard medley race and set a mark of 4 minutes, 45 4/5 seconds.

Registration of 35 manufacturers, 157 distributors, 2,819 dealers and 469 delivery trucks yielded $106,650 to the state. A total of $267,622 worth of malt stamps have been sold.

State's Best Grain Growers to Get Prizes

Leading grain growers of Michigan will compete for top honors at the Michigan State Fair in the Ira H. Butterfield memorial contest, sponsored annually by the crops department at M. S. C. Yield per acre and commercial value of the grain will be the basis of awards, rather than the value of the crop for seed purposes. This gives the contest unusual practical value in picking the real leaders among state farmers.

The three classes of the event include wheat, oats, and barley, with 22 different awards in each class. Fields entered must consist of five acres or more, with any farmer in the state eligible to file entry with his local county agricultural agent or the college crops department. Entries will close on August 31, to give time to prepare for judging at the state fair.

Ira H. Butterfield, for whom the event is named, was a pioneer in Michigan agricultural circles. He served for many years as secretary of the state fair, and was prominent in many other agricultural organizations.

Mr. Sanford had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for sixty-six years, and had been affiliated with the local church for the past twelve years, and was a very faithful and willing worker in that association, and was also a regular attendant until his health began to fail. He was also a staunch supporter of prohibition.

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 6.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let Israel rejoice in him that made him; let the children of Zion be joyful in their king." (Ps. 149:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "For true happiness, man must harmonize with his Principle, divine love; The Son must be in accord with the Father, in conformity with Christ. According to divine Science, man is in a degree as perfect as the Mind that forms him." (p. 337.)
