

STATE SCHOOL HEAD HERE MONDAY

Dr. Orville Curtiss, 35 Years Physician Here, Died Saturday

Now Here's the Proposition

THE TRIALS OF THE UPLIFTER

By Haws

We sit before our Underwood And while with bitter tears we leave it, Heartbrokenly we ask ourselves— Our dear home town—how can we save it?

How can we steer it to the right And from the broad road of perdition? How can we rescue it despite The luncheon club, the town commission?

Each week again we roll our sleeves, Spit on our hands and hike our britches And set ourselves to the stern toll Of leading on to weal and riches.

We speak of all things high and pure; We urge their souls to higher levels; We sternly warn them to abjure The world, hard cider and the devil.

And when the town seems weaned away From various factors that depraved it We draw a breath and sigh and say "It was a stiff job but we've saved it."

We've saved it from Herb Roe and Hank And Clint and Batch and Al and Kelling Phil Landsman and the other guys Of whose intent there is no telling.

But once we've got the town all saved, In spite of all our high endeavor Each Monday when we start again The darn place looks as tough as ever.

Another Home Town Boy Makes Good

Speaking of reflecting credit on the old home town, we wish to present the name of Donald Fette, graduate of Buchanan high school with the class of 1930 and now entered for his second year at De Pauw University. We are reliably informed that Mr. Fette has been honored with a position of great trust by his Alma Mater—no less than the position of night clerk in one of the girls' dormitories of that institution. We can think of no greater expression of trust in the character and intentions of a young man than an appointment of that sort. How many of the moral wrecks up and down Front and Main Street would ever stand a chance of such appointment? The answer is: not any that we can think of.

Don states that the position is peculiarly adapted to study, and that after he has the books all kicked out and the girls all tucked in at 10:30 p. m. he has nothing to do until breakfast but get his lessons.

How Do They Get That Way?

"I've always tried to deport myself as a good citizen," stated Heck Hardscrabble of Lake Street in the course of a call at our office this week. "I've paid my property tax, special road tax, poll tax, dog tax, income tax, auto license tax and probably several others that I can't think of right now. When the Volstead Act was passed I pulled the bungs out of all my kegs and turned them upside down and I haven't had a drink since except the time when I was caught out at a party with a lawyer and newspaper publisher and couldn't help myself. Then all we had was a Mabel Willebrandt cocktail. But when it comes to the legislature and the Buchanan commission havin' anything to do with the way I set my clock, that's where I go. Nobody wants to stay on fast time except a few business men, who come down town rubbing their eyes at 10 o'clock in the morning. When Joshua took a hand in the time and held the sun back he had a warrant from Goddlemighty to interfere, and until the legislature and the city commission can show me the same kind of a warrant I'll set my clock to suit myself."

Prominent in Fraternal Circles; Vice President County Medical Assoc.

Dr. Orville Curtiss, 64, a physician and leading citizen of Buchanan for the past 35 years, passed away at his home Saturday after an illness of six months, funeral services being held from the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon, while the business houses closed as a tribute of respect.

Uncle Sam Has Money to Burn

Here's how Uncle Sam throws away old money—tosses millions in bills into an incinerator. Each year the government destroys about 2,000,000,000 bills, totalling about $10,000,000,000 in value. They are those which have been called in because of wear and tear.

Knoll Reports On Accomplishment at Camp Madron During 1931 Season

At a regular meeting of the Buchanan Boy Scout Board held at the offices of the Clark Equipment Co., Monday evening, County Scoutmaster Knoll submitted a report of the activities at Camp Madron during the past summer, and outlined plans for coming events in scouting throughout the county.

Among the items reported concerning Camp Madron were: 700 boys were entertained at the camp during the camping season.

Boys were charged $5 each per week and, with the operation of a camp canteen, the season closed with a balance to the good of $285 which is to be used in improvements at the camp, both to the building and equipment.

Plans for a two weeks winter camp to be held during the holidays are under way. There will be two camp periods with 40 to 50 boys scheduled for each period. Improvement of the road leading from the main highway to the camp is contemplated and promise of state help has been secured, the state to loan several trucks and scrapers to haul gravel and grade the roadway. Gravel is being furnished by other parties at almost no cost.

Local scouts will have an opportunity to see a number of the best football games of the fall season through arrangements which have been made with Michigan State college, the University of Michigan, Northwestern University and Notre Dame. A truck load of scouts from Buchanan will leave Friday evening of this week for Lansing where, on Saturday they will witness the Michigan State College-Alma game. On subsequent Saturdays throughout the football season scouts will trek to the various stadiums either

Davis and Ross Star in Win By Berrien Blues

With two Clear Lake men starting, the Berrien Springs Blues turned back the Elkhardt Triangles by a score of 9-0 on the former's diamond Sunday.

Young Davis, who formerly resided at Clear Lake and was associated with his brother, Hal Davis in landscaping work here last year, pitched a nifty game in his maiden appearance on the mound, the only man to reach first being the Elkhardt first baseman, Arthur Ross of Clear Lake played stellar ball at third base, taking a number of chances without a fumble, and slamming out two hits that netted four runs. Next Sunday the Blues will play the Indian Lake nine at Berrien Springs.

ENLARGE BEACH AT CLEAR LAKE WOODS RESORT

Chicago Fisherman Wins Trophy With 22½ Inch Black Bass.

The Clear Lake Woods resort has been closed for the season and the beach is now being enlarged by the deposit of 500 yards of new gravel and sand, which will afford a frontage for next season about 400 feet long and twice as deep as the present beach according to Lyman Campbell, who is in charge of developments there.

The resort had a very successful season this year, Campbell stated, although developments were retarded by business conditions. Ten lots were sold and six new cottages erected. The culmination of the season was the Labor Day picnic which was attended by 1,500 people, most of them from Chicago. On Sept. 8, the fishing trophies for the season were awarded as follows: 1st, Largest black bass caught by Bill Landers of Chicago, 22½ inches long, 5½ lbs in weight. 2d, Largest number of fish in season, 48 black bass caught by Anton Shtukas of Chicago. 3d, Largest single string, 12 blue gills, one speckled bass, four black bass.

The fishermen competing were obliged to register their strings with the official inspector at the pavilion who checked weights and lengths and recorded them.

C. E. Koenigshof May Get Gov. Huey Long on His Back

C. E. Koenigshof is exhibiting a fine stalk of cotton containing several partially formed cotton bolls, which he grew in his garden the past summer. When questioned as to the possibility of stirring up a radio attack on Michigan by Gov. Huey Long of Mississippi, Koenigshof stated that he was going according to the instructions of the Federal Farm Board. He had three stalks in his garden, and pulled one up as his bit to forestall overproduction.

No Punters, No Passers, No Beef, Says Curley

DEEP GLOOM BROODS OVER B. H. S. CAMP

Will Try, Says Each, But You Can't Win Anything With Nothing

After the first two weeks of football practice, Coach "Curly" Bradford holds little hope for a successful grid season. With no punters, no passers, and lightweight line material, it is doubtful as to the wins and losses this year.

On being interviewed the coach made the following statement: "This year's squad is one of the poorest that I have ever seen. I don't expect more than three or four wins, and probably not that many."

With the St. Joseph game looming up, the boys are fighting hard for positions. The backfield will be composed of experienced men. Louie Morse, G. Jesse and T. Mers are trying out for the quarterback position, while Lauri Morse and Jim Eisenhart are filling the halves. B. Ellis and B. Frame are the fullback candidates.

The line will be composed of light, speedy men. Although, the positions have not been filled, these men are the outstanding possibilities:

Ends: Capt. Dretzler, J. Letcher, A. Topash, E. Rolen, and L. Donley.

Tackles: O. Flennar, R. Montgomery, C. Blake, O. Virgil and G. Myers.

Guards: B. Bromley, H. Donley, C. Cripe, R. Watson, G. Yurkovich, D. Morris and J. Morris.

Centers: H. Dumbolton and D. Morris.

Fundamentals and chalk talks will continue this week, with scrimmage starting the latter part of next week.

Reports from St. Joe indicate that the twin-city team has a strong aggregation. In fact, Coach Hank Howe claims it is the best in years. Let's give the Bucks plenty of support.

Class of 1930 Holds Reunion

The class of '30 held a reunion at Hudson Lake, Sunday, nearly thirty attending. There are quite a number of out ups in the class but we have it on good authority that nothing exciting happened.

May we venture a timid hopefulness that someday we may hold a class reunion and to Hudson Lake? We just don't know, but a good time was had by all.

THE REPORTS: QUIER

What do you think about report cards coming out every six weeks?

I don't think it a very good idea because it takes a long time for a person to wait for his marks. My ambition would run out by that time if I couldn't get the results. Four weeks is a long time, but six weeks is a lot longer to a person working along blindly without noticing the time as it slowly goes by. No, I don't approve of the six weeks interval one bit.—Vincent De Nardo.

I think it's just as good a plan as every four weeks. If you're one of the impatient ones, you have longer to wait, but on the other hand, you have time to redeem yourself if you do bad work at the first of the month.—Marie Ellis.

I think that it is better, because if you have low marks it gives you two more weeks in which to raise your marks. By the new system of so many points for every mark, we need every mark that we can get. Less work for the teachers, too.—Dorothy Bigger.

It suits me because it makes no difference when report cards are received. My marks would be as bad every six weeks as every four.—Jo' Dunlap.

I think it is a good idea to have the cards come out every six weeks instead of four, because it does not give me many chances to see how dumb I am. Also, I don't have to worry about losing the cards as many times.—Ludily Wales.

I am in favor of having the report cards come out every six weeks.—Wayne Smith.

Stark to Attend Association of Superintendents

An announcement was received this week by Supt. Stark concerning the Michigan Conference of City School Superintendents to be held in Traverse City, Michigan, Sept. 25 and 26.

All superintendents in the state whose high schools are on the accredited list of the North Central Association of colleges will attend this convention.

"Economics in public school finance will be the chief topic for consideration," says E. T. Cameron, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association and of the Superintendents' Conference.

Boys' Glee Club Needs Warblers

Wanted: Six more boys! The Boys' Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Robinson, met Thursday for the first time this year.

The club is allowed twenty-six members, but only twenty have made an appearance yet.

"I have a well balanced group of boys and expect to do a great deal this year," said Mr. Robinson in an interview, "they must do a certain grade of work and pass all examinations given them, or they will automatically be dropped from the class."

It is hoped by Mr. Ormiston and Mr. Robinson that there will be a good club this year and that they will accomplish much.

HOME ROOMS

Mrs. Dunbar's Home Room is following the aviation idea in conducting their meetings. The chief pilot is Otis Flennar; copilot is Bill Frame; mechanic is Maxine Howe. The name of the plane is "Spirit of No. 5", five being the number of Mrs. Dunbar's room.

Whenever you hear the name "Preston" you will know it is Mrs. Dunbar's Home Room. The Frat part of the name is taken from the word fraternity; the ority is taken from the word oratory.

In this room they elected John Strayer for president; Rosemary Thompson, vice president, and Dea Weaver, secretary. These people are rather active judging from the first program for general assembly. This program will be given on Oct. 2. They are also making plans to sponsor a matinee dance.

Mr. Hynek's Home Room is named the "Wake-Up Club." They are elected for president, Bob Strayer, vice president, William Zachman; secretary and treasurer, Audrey Wilcox; director of athletics for boys, Dan Topash and for girls, Pauline Topash.

Now here's the mystery. Miss Chandler named her Home Room C. C. C. but whatever the C. C. C. stands for is unknown. It is a deep secret but we think it stands for "Chandler's Choice Children."

The C. C. C.'s elected for their chairman, George Cooper and secretary, Dorothy Briney.

The name of Mr. Moore's Home Room is "Eta-L." They chose this name because the initials of the people in it goes from E to L. Jane Habicht, vice president, Robert Gladwish and secretary, Florence Franklin.

Miss Hanlin's Home Room is a ship. The name of the group is "The Bold Buccaneers." The captain is Thomas Quirk, the first mate is George Spatta, and the second mate is Helen Spatta.

The president of Miss Shriver's Home Room is Ruth Pierce, vice president, Allene Riley. The name is Ly Ri, because the initials of the last names of the members are included in these.

Mr. Knoblauch's Home Room elected for their chairman, Marion Dretzler; vice chairman, Doris Campbell. They had not selected a name at the time this went to press.

Mrs. Weaver's Home Room is conducting their meetings on the court order, with a judge and a jury. For president they elected Eleanor Miller; vice president, Ted Lyon; secretary, Wilma Metzgar and treasurer, Marian Miller.

Mr. Whitman has the idea of a broadcasting studio. The name, which is "Station RWXYZ," includes the initials of the last names of the pupils in the room. They chose as their announcer, Georgia Upton; assistant announcer, Robert Stevens; booker, George Spatta.

Mrs. French's Home Room is named the "Junior High Hustlers." For president they chose Viola Boettcher; for vice president, Joe Bachman; secretary, Joyce Bonner, and for treasurer, Melvin Campbell.

Last but not least is Mr. Miller's room. As yet they haven't selected a name. They elected their officers, however, who are: president, Barbara Hamilton; vice president, Cherry Blossom Heim; secretary, Joyce Bonner; treasurer, Donald Flennar.

Mr. Archie Morley will speak to the two fifth grades Tuesday, September 22, at 9 o'clock. The speech will be on "First Aid." Mr. Morley is associated with the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co. It is hoped that other grades will be able to hear the speaker later this year.

TALENT MARKET AT H. S. SUFFERS OVERPRODUCTION

You Simply Can't Turn Around Without Stepping on Infant Prodigy.

Have we talent? Oh boy! Donahel DeWitt thought up some words for a new song with much gusto. The pep seems to be unbounded this year. Miss Crawford led in the singing and we hope she does so soon again. However, as Mr. Ormiston said, "It's hard for Miss Crawford to lead in community singing, a stranger in our midst, because she does not know what we do." The laughter was long and loud, but Miss Crawford received a big hand just the same.

The song that Donahel DeWitt thought up the words to is to the tune of John Brown's Body. Here 'tis:

Editorial

Just what is the Home Room plan? Perhaps it is not clear to all. The students become better acquainted with the teacher and vice-versa. The classes are broken into smaller groups which give to the individual the chance of self-expression. School problems are discussed without fear of reprimand and a check can be made on the grades of a student. The whole idea is to promote better citizenship and a higher scholastic standing.

Both the student's point of view and that of the instructor are exchanged, thus fostering a better spirit in general. Too many times the one misconstrues the other's meaning.

The junior high is divided into two groups, the freshman and the sophomore, into four, and the juniors and seniors into five. These meet for twenty-five minutes each afternoon in designated rooms. A large number of schools in Michigan use this plan with great success.

Contests between the various home rooms will take place in addition to each one taking charge of one Friday assembly which incidentally is held at 1:15 in the afternoon. This is one method of giving the individual a chance to express himself.

All new ideas seem odd until given a chance to be proved. Educational, business, or otherwise, must advance so hence the new system in the local high school. It surely is a step forward as this age is one of the expression of the individual.

Home Ec Classes Preserving Fruits

Work has been begun in the home economics department along the line of making preparations for the cafeteria season. Last week the eighth and ninth grade domestic science classes canned eighty quarts of tomatoes to be used this winter. They also made grape jelly and grape conserve last week.

Miss Skeels states that this week she plans to keep the girls busy with the making of eighty-one hundred jars of jam.

The eighth grade home economics class has been studying silk worms, the spinning of silk into thread, the qualities of silk material and the tests for pure silk. This week they have started work on their silk slips.

ENGLISH NOTES

The senior English class members have just completed their study of world epics. They have just completed their second study unit, which is on Old English literature.

The sophomore class is also studying hard. They have been working very diligently, considering the heat, on all kinds of papers.

The freshman class members under Miss Hanlin, are having short daily tests. These are objective tests over literature and last only about five or six minutes. They have also started speech day last Friday they gave talks on how to teach things.

Mrs. French and her students have started their reading. They are also interested in making reports on outside reading material.

The journalism class is continuing its study of news writing and newspaper analysis, and the study of history of English and American journalism.

THE BOY SCOUT NEWS

Tuesday night, September 15, the Boy Scouts of Troop 41 were treated to watermelons, donated by Mr. Richards and Mr. Newsom of the Chicago road.

There was also a little quiz on the Sunday school lesson. The Scouts were informed that they were invited to several football games. Some of them are: M. S. C. vs. the Dunlap, Pauline Van Etoven vs. Nebraska at Evanston, Michigan vs. M. S. C. at Ann Arbor, and a Notre Dame game at South Bend.

They are going to select a few. Outstanding Scouts to go to Michigan to see Michigan and Minnesota, and Michigan and Ohio play.

The first meeting of the Usher Club was held last Thursday afternoon. The purpose of this meeting was to elect new members into the club. There are six members remaining from last year, and ten more names were added to the list. The new girls chosen are: Anita Andrews, Marie Post, Marjorie Pennell, Doris Campbell, Freddie Portz, Josephine Dunlap, Pauline Van Etoven, Helen Morford, Marie Hess, and Francis Sutphen. A meeting of the whole club will be held soon to elect its officers for this year.

New members have been added to the above paragraph would prove that man. Let us bow our heads a few seconds and worship at the shrine of His Majesty, the Editor-in-Chief of the Microphone.

Soccer, Tennis Tournaments to Hold Stage During Fall Months.

The Girls' Athletic Association held a meeting last week and elected the following officers: Kathryn Portz, president; Jane Habbicht, business manager; Helen Mogford, secretary; and Doris Campbell, hiking master. After the action of officers, plans were made for a hike to Clear Lake on Monday. Several of the girls of the association have already started training rules for awards that are to be given when earned.

The gym classes have been getting a good start in athletics. During the past week there has been soccer practice after school. Many girls have attended. In the class periods they have been studying the rules and learning the fundamentals of the game. There have been group games in classes also.

Next week, class managers and team captains will be chosen. The tennis tournament will start next week at the athletic park. The girls will play singles and be eliminated until the last game which will prove the winners of the tournament.

"It certainly looks as though the freshmen are out to win the tournament," said Miss Rockenbach Thursday night.

FACULTY FACTS

Eye-glasses—what faculty members go to South Bend after as far as the faculty is concerned, their picnic last week was all wet—it rained.

The faculty got their heads together and decided that the first evening it rained they would go on a picnic. Tuesday seems to have been their lucky day for after school hours they drove out to Clear Lake with their picnic lunch. And, as it is reported, it's really surprising how many faculty members never saw a yellow watermelon before. Some of the outstanding events of the picnic seem to be as follows:

Mr. Ormiston and Mr. Hynek went in swimming in the rain.

"Curley" Bradford gave a most excellent diving exhibition.

Miss Crawford tried to swim the lake without a boat.

Mr. Knoblauch gave an intellectual and interesting lecture on what he knew about pollywogs.

Miss Hanlin and Miss Rockenbach sat in the dark and had a very confidential talk—they so seldom see each other.

Can you imagine an English teacher actually working with her hands? The other day Mrs. Dunbar remarked that she had to hurry home to make peach butter. She also spent the week end, last week, camping at Indian Lake for no reason at all.

Mr. Knoblauch journeyed to Blissfield, Michigan, last week end to bring his wife to Buchanan for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Ormiston hiked (in his Chevie) to Grand Rapids, Holland, and Flint. A gathering of the Allen family for the yearly reunion at Flint is the when and why.

Miss Chandler in first year typing: "When you've typed a perfect copy, take it out and file it in your folder."

Murmur from discouraged scholar: "If I ever get a perfect copy, I'll frame it, not file it!"

From One Who Knows: My dear, you're looking awful! Can't you see the reason? No relative is low, I trust; If so—my sympathy!

Not that? Well, this is queer, now one can hardly understand. Oh-h-h!! Well! What'd I tell you 'Bout takin' up shorthand?

Gosh, you're dumb! You know how hard it is, To get it when due! Where'd I get my information? Darn it all, I'm takin' it too!!!

Believe it or not, lemon pop-sicles are the rage! Mrs. Velma Dunbar is advocating this for refreshment, bunions, catarrh and hay fever.

Marie Hess has gone in for aesthetic dancing. It seems that when she was examined for athlete's foot she was found to have a lot of ability for kicking around

If any one has seen Fred Riley in his foot ball suit they would realize why they have dedicated the name of "The Lost Soul" to him.

There's a rumor around that Roy Ruth has taken up horseback riding since he held the number one position at the Princess the other night.

"Kath" Portz has been wandering around making funny signs in the air with her hands. The student ents have come to the conclusion that shorthand has gone to her head.

'Tis told that "Viv" stayed in South Bend for the week end with the main idea of buying a soap dish for her locker.

Do any of you remember Miss Allington, our ex-gym teacher? She passed through here the other day on her way to the University of Oregon, where she will be swimming instructor.

"Thursday's commercial arithmetic class ended in a riot" said Mr. Knoblauch. "Phil Hanlin, the elements of confusion and the rest wandered about as sheep in a storm."

Memories Come children, gather 'round my knee. For I've a tale to tell. Of the good old days in '31 And the school, we loved so well.

Ah, children, you will never know How hard our life was then. We were required to be at school Each morning at 8:10.

Each morning in the cold grey dawn They'd rout us out of bed And we'd trudge wearily along When all the world was dead.

We had no airplanes to drive, No talking pictures in our school And, oh, how strict the teachers were! About enforcing every rule.

We had no student government. Of television there was none. They made us study in those days. 'Twas all school work and little fun.

But yet we had a spirit there, Of comradeship, what can I say— You wouldn't understand and now Now, children, I am old and gray.

The crowd surges madly forward, men's faces peer forth anxiously. Hollow groans are wafted on the chill morning air. The crowd roars a low sullen roar that shakes the very portals of the building.

Ah, a face appears at the door. Taut bodies strain forward eagerly. Hark, in the distance a gong rings sharply. Look, the door is slowly opening. It is Monday morning in the Buchanan high school.

Human Assets A man's unfulfilled ambitions are sometimes his most valuable assets. -American Magazine.

The Near East Persia, Arabia, Asia Minor and frequently Turkey in Europe are countries included in the Near East.

"Walls Have Ears" Chaucer did not foreshadow the expression "Walls have ears," as some have claimed. As a matter of fact, the expression was used by Cicero in one of his orations against Catiline. Cicero said, "Parietes habent aures" - "the walls have ears." Organized spying and listening behind walls is so old that this expression probably goes back to the dawn of time.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life. Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina: "My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatsoever except punctures. "The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions - mountainous and flat. "I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford." This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"? If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worthwhile dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

OUR CITY LIBRARY

We don't want to take the position of reflecting on our home city or discrediting it in any way, but we do rise to say here and now that the fact that it is one of the finest residence towns in the middle west in point of scenic attractiveness and advantages of location is no particular justification for the fact that it has no decent library.

A library is one of the fundamental institutions in any civilized community.

It was so recognized by our forefathers. In fact, at the meeting at which the first school in this district was organized, the Miller school, in the year 1839, the ancestors of the present residents voted to establish a district library.

They did establish it. We can prove it, because Harry Post still has the same library.

It includes about 2,500 titles. Almost without exception they are the titles that our great-grandmothers and great-grandpapas laughed over and wept over in the days when the howl of the wilderness rose louder than does the factory whistle today.

The hot numbers of the present day are noticeably absent. Instead there are the sticky romances of 100 years ago. Turn the yellow pages and you find here and there the stain of the candle drippings just as they fell there during the long winter nights when grandpa pored over what was the red hot thriller of that time, relaxing his mind and body after a strenuous day splitting rails.

There are two standard reference encyclopedias, the Britannica and the New International. One was published in 1892 and the other in 1898.

Problem: Refer to them for information regarding the life of Upton Sinclair or Herbert Hoover. Or of Woodrow Wilson or Theodore Roosevelt for that matter. Or of Martin Luther or Alexander the Great or Noah—oh, well, you know what we mean.

Supposing you want some information on the causes, events, and settlement of the World War?

Yeah—supposing you do! Try and get it!

But what do we want of a library, some one asks. (Oh, yes, they did, we heard them ask it).

Well, if you believe that the responsibility of a community for the education of its members ends with the schools, you definitely date yourself with the dodo.

The modern view of education is to the effect that the school is but the beginning,—in fact no education at all but merely the equipment of youth with the tools by which they will acquire education during the remainder of their lives. And it is generally considered that it is the duty of an enlightened community to furnish a library where that education may be continued.

Buchanan is an educated community. The residents read, but through the miscarriage of community enterprise they get very little help from the city. Other communities, almost without exception, accept and discharge that responsibility. With the same tax problems, the same burden of civic development, the same business depression to deal with that Buchanan has, they manage to provide libraries that serve the community and which are liberally patronized.

They manage to acquire from year to year the new books that people want to read.

During the past year four new books have been bought for the Buchanan library.

The results? These figures extracted from a report of Michigan libraries tell the story:

Town	Population	Book Circulation
Allegan	3,941	30,896
Almont	844	14,353
Berrien Springs	1,413	8,492
Galien	936	5,366
Ithaca	1,780	29,500
Paw Paw	1,684	26,562
Ramsay	3,745	50,708
Sparta	1,939	23,582
Buchanan	3,922	1,170

The Allegan library is 3000 per cent efficient. The Almont library is 7000 per cent efficient. The Berrien Springs library is 2100 per cent efficient.

That is, of course,—as compared with the Buchanan library.

The Bigtown Copyist

"What this town needs," said a local business man lately, "is a daily paper."

Since his statement reflects a not inconsiderable body of opinion, it is worthy of attention.

But the reaction of this particular writer is: "Why?" For quite some time a large element of the population have been in a tremendous hurry without going anywhere or arriving at any place in particular, unless you count bankruptcy.

The attitude which discounts the weekly press as a survival of the horse-and-buggy era is in itself a hangover from the jazz age, which is rumored to have passed on in the 1929 stock market crash, but which is still very much with us in its effects.

It seems to us that the small town may be best served by a large city daily as far as keeping informed on the affairs of the day in the world at large is concerned and by a weekly as far as its own news is concerned.

There is nothing that happens in a town of the small city class that will not keep as news for a few days. It is hard to sympathize with the galloping impatience of that section of the public which is not able to keep its shirt on until Thursday, but must mull over the daily grist of neighborhood gossip each evening. Especially since that same public never knows whether the news is new or old until it looks at the dateline at the top of the page and is seldom sure even then.

The publication of a daily requires a certain volume of business that is an unnecessary tax on the small town. Many a prosperous weekly has been converted into a poverty stricken and scrubby-looking daily by the misguided ambition either of the owner or the business men who patronized him. With all due respect to two or three excellent small city dailies which enter this district, a large number of communities at the present time could well afford to exchange a poor daily for a good weekly.

The weekly press is not at all outmoded, the opinion of certain effervescent individuals notwithstanding. Some of the best journalism of the country is now being produced in the weekly print shops.

It is our prediction that the attempt of the small city press to combine the functions of big town and small town journalism will prove a misdirection of effort and that, ultimately, they will draw in their horns and restrict themselves more to their proper field. In fact, the tendency in that direction is very noticeable now.

Small towns are not inferior to big towns in their own way and their way is quite often better. They become ridiculous and contemptible only when they attempt to play the copycat to the big towns. The small town is the more leisurely and that is one of its chief charms. The passion for speed that marks city life is more of a disease of the nerves than any indication of superior vigor or mentality. The daily for the big city and the weekly for the small city seems to us a proper journalistic balance.

Nancy Studebaker Writes of Civil War School Times

Editor Record,

The Record of Sept. 10th received and the article by Mrs. Lucille Brockett Carlton was read with great interest for in the list were names of many old time friends and acquaintances. Especially Lee White, Paul White and Fanny Epley White Ames, also Clara Dodd and many others. I feel assured they all enjoyed the "reunion". California is full of easterners and westerners, many have left New Mexico to make California their home and send back glowing accounts of the wonderful state. I was there the year of 1888 and spring of 1889 and was not so impressed and returned to B. joyfully. California has its "drawbacks" or did at that time. As far as my experience goes of the "wide woolly west, Colorado leads all the other western states in productiveness, wealth and stability. Greeley, Colo., is a wonderful place, and its surrounding country. One should be thankful if they have a home there.

I am very sorry to think John C. Holmes has such a short memory. The facts remain the same. Clara Hildreth was engaged to teach in the Holmes school in the spring of 1864 and she commenced to teach there her list of scholars made out and taught some weeks. Then she decided to get married and she married Tommy Dennison of Niles. The school board then turned the school records and teaching over to me. When I entered the room one of the first boys I met was J. G. H. I imagine, he thought I was the former teacher. He came possibly two or three weeks, then departed. Joe Marble, another student said John was afraid he would get the switch and left while the going was good, lucky going.

I would like to say that I had John Fancher for a teacher in 1862 or 1863. He taught in the Howe school, south of Buchanan and a live instructor he proved to be. His two brothers, Bradley and Willis, and I boarded at Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howe's. She owned the Hall farm then.

The teacher in Dayton the year of 1864, was "California" Johnson, whose family resides in Buchanan. This teacher was noted for his learning and ability. The year of 1863 I had a school south of Buchanan on the Chicago road. It bore the charming elusive name of "Ghost Holler" and I boarded at Arch Dunbar's. Peter Croft was working for Mr. Dunbar. He married Mary Wilson, one of my Holmes school scholars. She had a sister of Howard Wilson now residing west of Buchanan, if I am not mistaken.

Galien, why everybody knows it belongs to Michigan, My Michigan.

Pittsburgh Population Is Outweighed by Soot

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Approximately 107,272,000 pounds of soot—an amount probably greater than the weight of the entire population of Pittsburgh—falls within the city limits during a year, it has been estimated.

The soot falls at an average rate of 986.5 tons per square mile each year, according to H. B. Meller, head of the bureau of smoke regulation.

This is an average of 157 pounds for each resident of Pittsburgh, it was estimated, with the total probably exceeding the total weight of the population of about 700,000.

Comparative charts show a decrease of about 50 per cent in the sootfall in the downtown district in the past eight years, which was attributed to the use of central heating plants instead of a large number of individual furnaces.

The 1929-'30 survey shows that less soot fell than in 1923-24 when the previous survey was made, but there still was more than in 1912-13.

Classifying "Bugs" The naturalist limits the use of the word "bug" to insects whose mouth parts are like a tube through which food is sucked, differing from insects that bite and chew.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Will Rough, 206 Clark St., Friday, Sept. 25th, at 2 o'clock. A full attendance is desired, as important business is to come before the meeting. Mrs. Harry Hartline is the leader for the lesson, "The Home and School." Mrs. E. C. Blodgett will also conduct a fifteen minute Citizenship Study from "Outlines of U. S. Government." This surely is a rare opportunity and it should be a popular topic.

Macaulay's Reading Plan
Lord Macaulay said: "When a boy began to read very earnestly, but at the foot of every page I read I stopped and obliged myself to give an account of what I had read on that page. At first I had to read it three or four times before I could get my mind firmly fixed. But I compelled myself to comply with the plan, until now, after I have read a book through once I can almost recite it from the beginning to the end."—Exchange.

Sturgeon Harmless Fish
Though powerful in appearance, the sturgeon, the biggest fish in the Great Lakes system, is incapable of harm. Lacking teeth, its only defensive armament consists of its bony tail, with which a good-sized specimen can easily knock a man from his feet.
Sturgeons sometimes grow to a weight of 150 pounds. Feeding is a laborious process, for they must swim closely along the bottom, sucking up worms, molluscs and minute marine life. A small reddish worm, living in mud, is the favorite article of diet.
