

ANNUAL H. S. FAIR FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Buchanan to Observe Turkey Day with Customary Festivities

Now Here's the Proposition

THIS WILL HOLD THEM

BI HAWES

When various assorted lots of ladies
The kind, you know, that takes your time and tires (And ladies in the plural rhymes with hades)
Call up and try to burn out several wires,

The while they rail I merely sit
And hear them send me to perdition's brink
The only thing that wrings my heart is this—
I cannot tell them everything I think.

The words I think I cannot even mutter
Since I am too polite to go so far But they all know the words I'd like to utter—
Since they're the kind of ladies that they are!

A GOOD SUB!

W'ile a local football fan was enjoying the Notre Dame-Navy game last Saturday his wife broke the spell and asked when the Navy was going to make a basket.
After a good laugh, he informed her she was a fit subject for a sub for Clara Lou and Enn.

Mark Wall Weds Members of His Former Parish

A pleasant surprise was afforded Mr. Mark Wall, minister of the Church of Christ, and family, on Armistice Day, when a party of seven motored here from Freemont, Mich., a distance of about 180 miles. Fremont was the first home in Michigan of Rev. and Mrs.
Wall and daughter, Gladys.
Dick Sommers and Miss Elmira Gobern came here to be united in marriage by Rev. Wall in his home at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of the year.

were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs.
John Beem, and daughter, Dorotha, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bierce. The party of folks are all members of the Church of Christ at Fremont. Mr. Beem is probate judge of Newaygo county and has held that office for sev-

Junction Portage Road and M-60 Scene of Wreck

Failure to realize that the new
M-60 has the right of way over Portage Road traffic resulted in the third accident in ten days at the junction of the two highways at the Alfred Hall farm, when a truck driven by Percival Rough struck a car owned by Frank Smiech of Chicago, resulting in the partial wrecking of both vehicles and the injury of a passenger last Sunday morning.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smiech were en route with their family and a friend on a monthly trip to consult Dr. Bonine at Niles. Percival Rough was on his way to Buchanan with the daily delivery of cream. Rough started to cross
M-60 without slackening of speed and struck the Smiech car broad-side, turning it over. Miss Stella Krobich of Chicago, a passenger in the Smiech car, incurred a broken collar bone. Rough's truck traded ends and turned bottom side up, with Rough pinned underneath. He was unhurt.

vives him. They began house-they built the twelve-room house

There they lived until 23 years ago when they sold the farm to Horace Morley, the present owner.
They then moved to Galien and built the bungalow where they have lived since.

Advertising By Handbills Proves to be Expensive

Advertising through handbills proved expensive to Michigan City and Niles business houses using that means of reaching the buyer, when five boys in their employ were arrested by Chief Mitchell last night and taken before Justice Rex Lamb, who imposed fines of $1 and costs of $4.20 on each for peddling bills without a license in violation of the city charter.
The aggregate of fines and costs totalled $26. The cost of the licenses required by the city would have been $1 each or a total of $5.

UTILITIES LEADERS IN RATE CUTS

Boyd Thornton, Ind. & Mich.
Safety Head, Talks on Public Relations.

The average rate paid by consumers of electricity for lighting and power purposes has declined 18 1/2 per cent since pre-war times, which compares favorably with price decreases of any other commodity, according to Boyd Thornton, Director of Safety for the Indiana & Michigan Electric company in a talk before the Tuesday meeting of the Luncheon Club.

Cheaper rates have been due mainly to the economies of service due to interconnection, he stated.
As a result of kilowatt of electrical energy is now produced by the expenditure of 1.62 pounds of coal, as compared with an expenditure of 3.2 pounds for the same amount of energy in 1919.

It is the fixed policy of the public utilities to reduce rates as fast as policy warrants, Thornton stated. The industry is dependent on public good will for a requirement of $2,000,000 in capital daily to meet the growing needs of the business. Anything affecting the confidence of the public in the industry is accordingly detrimental to its interests.

The electrical industry represents an investment of $12,000,- 000,000, with an annual income of $2,000,000,000. It serves 25,000,000 customers. Ten cents out of every dollar which the industry takes in is paid out for taxes, he stated.

In the past year the Indiana and Michigan paid out for taxes, $10 per customer.

An attendance of over fifty members and guests listened to the interesting address given by Thornton, who was introduced by Harleigh Riley, superintendent of the Buchanan district.

Its Nov. 19 But Roses Still Blooming Here

With only five weeks to go until Christmas and the best half of November in retrospect, Buchanan has scarcely experienced a killing frost this season, and there has not been a trace of ice to date.
Fall flowers are still blooming in profusion in many local gardens and even summer flowers are to be found. Mrs. Al Charles reports and many other blooms in her yard. Larkspur, poppies, roses and many other blooms may be seen in the rock garden at the P.
A. Grafton home.

A thermometer hanging in a shaded window casing of a local business house, though on the sunny side of the building, registered 78 degrees above Monday afternoon.

Huh, We've Got Flowers Here Too, and what is Money?

Charles Phillippy, who left recently for Milwaukee, Ore., to make his home, writes to the Record as follows:
"Tell everybody back there hello for me. Had a fine trip and I landed in the finest land to be found, such beautiful flowers you never saw before, fine weather.
Money is more plentiful and I feel like a youngster once more.
Yours,
Chas. H. Phillippy."

15 MERCHANTS TO CO-OPERATE IN OFFERING

Unequaled Opportunity to Purchase for Christmas and Holiday Needs.

Blessed is the man who has a dollar in these days, for his opportunities for getting value received in return are without precedent, since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.
This issue of the Record carries notice of one of the most attractive bargain sales ever held in the history of the city, to open on Saturday, with fifteen local business houses co-operating. Everything in the line of the necessities of life and many of its luxuries can be found at prices unprecedented since the pre-war days at one or another of the business houses taking part in the sale.

Winter is around the corner, engaged in a race with prosperity to make the turn. And when you can buy as cheaply as you can at the sales recorded—that is property or the next thing to it. Every need for winter requirements can be purchased in this sale at prices far below anything in recent experience here. And then its only five weeks until Christmas and high time to think of your holiday shopping. Look over the advertisements and make out your list for Him or Her and It, and save money.

Minute Huddle for Dead
Team Mate.

Buchanan defeated Three Oaks by a score of 15-0 Sunday afternoon at Three Oaks. Although

The game opened with ten men on the field. They went into a huddle in respect to the memory of Dale Chubb, for two minutes.
The first touchdown was made early in the first quarter. By pass-brought to the Three Oaks 20 advantage. Three Oaks kicked, the ball was blocked by Gregory, Heckathorne fell on it behind the Three Oaks goal line for the first touch down. The extra point was made.

In the second quarter, Hecka-thorne tackled Snyder behind the latter's goal line, scoring a safety.

right end for the second touch

BREAK INTO JOHN D'S STATION TO LEAVE HIM DIME

Turn Tables on Philanthropist, But He won't get Dime, Mitchell Saw It First.

John D. Rockefeller, famed philanthropist and dispenser of new dimes to all visitors, was on the receiving end Sunday night when unknown parties broke into his filling station here on Days Avenue (Standard Oil) and disturbed nothing but left a broken pane of glass, a lady's handkerchief and ten cents as mementoes of their call.

After taking all the above pains to reimburse the Standard Oil
"tycoon" for his generosity, it is not known whether the donors further imitated him by remaining to recite some choice passages of poetry.
The sad thing about the whole affair is that John won't get the dime. Police Chief Ed Mitchell saw it first.

Edward Irvin, who is a valued employee of Mr. Rockefeller, representing him in the distributing end of the business here, arrived at the station at 6 a. m. Monday and found the pane broken, the sash raised, but nothing disturbed on the interior. The safe had not been tampered with and all stock remained intact.
The grass plot outside was trampled, imprints of lady's spike-heeled shoe and a man's cleated shoe showing.

But It Seems Galien Was Named for Claude After All

Editor Record,
I am sending this about the question the name of Galien. I found this in a book I have, now out of print: Claudius Galenus, a Greek physician and philosopher, 130-200. The accent is in the first two letters Ga soft len, as we pronounce the word.
I am sorry you did not print
the clipping I sent, marriage notices of 1866.

U. S. Bureau Standards Reports Favorable Analysis of Local Product.

Boyce & Schwartz completed a shipment of 25 cars of tufa rock to Chicago this week for landscape gardening in that city. They report a very favorable analysis of the moulding sand deposit on Moccasin Bluff, recently received from the U. S. Bureau of Standards. The report stated that the product was suited for glass making and foundry use. In normal times the product commands a price of $6 per ton and it is anticipated that the deposits will be worked extensively when the steel industry revives.

Pendulum's History

Trading Best Sires Saves the Owners Money

East Lansing, Oct. 8.—Increased numbers of mature dairy sires with high-producing daughters in Michigan herds has made the plan of exchanging herd sires as advocated by the dairy department at Michigan State College an economical method to further improve dairy herds.

These mature sires are backed by the records of five producing daughters whose records are a marked improvement over the record of their dams.

No bulls with low producing daughters are recommended as trading stock. One bull in the state has five daughters with an average fat production of 442 pounds.

Testers in the herd improvement associations in the state report 152 bulls five years old or older in the 1,000 herds being tested. This is six times as many aged bulls as were reported last year. All the animals have known records and the prospective purchaser of a herd sire can readily determine whether any particular bull will help build up the production of the herd.

The College acts as a clearing house in exchanging these bulls, and will furnish information to any dairyman of where the animals are located, their breed, and the records of their daughters.

County agricultural agents also aid in making the exchanges of animals. To prevent any accidents to persons owning mature bulls, the department recommends that the animals be confined in safety pens. These pens remove all chance of injury, and a general use of the safety pen would prevent the injury or death of the men who are attacked each year by valuable sires.

History of 6th Michigan Cavalry

October 15, 1862, Simeon B. Brown, of St. Clair, Michigan, was commissioned Major, in the 6th Regiment of Michigan Cavalry Volunteers, serving with that command until after the Gettysburg campaign in 1863, when he was selected to organize and command another regiment of cavalry from Michigan, and was commissioned Colonel of the Eleventh Regiment of Michigan Cavalry Volunteers, August 14, 1863.

The regiment was organized at Kalamazoo, Michigan, and was mustered into the United States Service on December 10, 1863, and under orders, left Kalamazoo, on Dec. 17, 1863, in a blinding snow storm for Lexington, Ky., where it arrived on December 22, and went into camp.

The eleven Companies of the Regiment, including all except Company "M," which joined the Regiment a few days later, were composed of 920 officers and men. This number was increased by further enlistments, the entire enrollment being 1375. Of this number, twenty-three were killed, or died of wounds, two died in Confederate prison, and twenty-two died of disease.

On January 1, 1864, the Regiment had only green wood to burn, and with the thermometer at eight degrees below zero, many of the men went to bed to keep themselves warm.

The Regiment was armed, equipped, mounted and drilled, until April, 1864, when it was sent to Louisiana, Ky. From this time until the close of hostilities in May, 1865, the Regiment saw continuous active service. Having participated in much scouting and several skirmishes until May 25, 1864, when Morgan having entered Kentucky with his command, through Pound Gap, the Regiment moved with its Brigade in pursuit, engaging him at Mt. Sterling, Ky., June 9, Cynthia, Ky., June 12, and at Georgetown, Ky., June 13, where he was defeated with the loss of many prisoners.

After this affair the Regiment was employed scouting in Eastern Kentucky, until August 23, when it moved to Pt. Burnside, Ky., where it took part in defeating Wheeler's attempt to cross the Cumberland River, Aug. 30.

Sept. 17 the Regiment returned to Mt. Sterling, Ky., and as part of the Second Brigade of the "First Kentucky Cavalry" participated in the "First Saltville Raid."

The Division was unsuccessful in the attempt to take Saltville, and the 11th Michigan, as rear guard of the Division at Sand Mountain punished the enemy so badly that they abandoned the pursuit. The Regiment returned to Lexington, Ky., Oct. 19. Moved to Mt. Sterling, Ky., Oct. 29, and engaged in scouting until Nov. 17, when it moved to Crab Orchard, Ky., and as part of the First Brigade of Burbridge's Division took part in the "Second Saltville Raid."

Leaving Cumberland Gap, Nov. 28, and going by way of Bristol, Tenn., and Abingdon, Va., to Wytheville, Va., it returned to Marion, Va., where an engagement of thirty-six hours resulted in defeat of the enemy, and on Dec. 22, the command entered Saltville, and aided in the destruction of the "Salt Works."

On the return to Kentucky, the dismounted men were sent by boat and rail to Lexington, Ky., the mounted men marching, reaching Lexington, Ky., Jan. 3, 1865.

Jan. 19 the Regiment moved to Mt. Sterling, Ky., and was again scouting until Feb. 23, when it was ordered to Knoxville, Tenn., going via Louisville and Nashville by rail and boat, reaching Knoxville March 15.

Assigned as part of the Second Brigade, First Cavalry Division, Army of the Ohio, it went with Stoneman's Expedition into North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, taking part in numerous engagements and skirmishes, and May 11, near Washington, Ga., assisted in "the round up" of Davis' escort.

On June 4, the Regiment returned to Lenoir Station, Tennessee.

On June 24 it was ordered to Pulaski, Tenn., where on July 20 it was combated with the Eighth Michigan Cavalry.

This latter Regiment was mustered out, Sept. 22, at Nashville, Tenn., returned to Jackson, Mich., Sept. 28, 1865 and disbanded.

Remarkable Sense of Smell

The sense of smell is very highly developed in the apteryx of New Zealand. In proportion to its size this bird has the largest olfactory nerve of any bird, probably even finding the worms beneath the ground by means of smell.—Kansas City Times.

First Lighthouses

The earliest lighthouses of which records exist were the towers built by the Libyans and Cushites in lower Egypt, beacon fires being maintained in some of them by the priests. Lesches, a Greek poet (900 B. C.), mentions a lighthouse at Sigeum, now Cape Incubisari, in the Troad, which appears to have been the first light regularly maintained for the guidance of mariners.

Landing Plane on Lawn Costs Pilot $25 Fine

Tucson, Ariz.—Landing his airplane in the yard of a sorority house and making a date with one of the girls cost Alfred A. Hurgin, Nogales, aviator, $25.

Hurgin insisted it was a forced landing, but John Dwyer, chief of police, heard about the date and declared the stunt was prearranged. He caused Hurgin's arrest under a city ordinance prohibiting the operation of motor vehicles without mufflers, and the flyer was fined $25.

The aviator wanted to take off from the sorority house yard, but the chief made him leave the plane hauled outside the city limits.

His Wife Is So Ugly He Is Happy Husband

Southampton, England.—Mortimer Leesettott, who disembarked here from America, proudly told British reporters that he had won the prize awarded to "the happiest husband in America," because his wife was the ugliest woman in the world.

He attributes his family bliss to the fact that his wife is ugly, knows it, and does not mind being told about it. Leesettott thinks that all marital unhappiness is caused by women being self-conscious about their looks.

Stop that Cough Quick!

Almost instant relief from coughs is now guaranteed in the use of the physician's famous prescription called Thoxine. It works on an entirely different principle; having a double action, it relieves the throat irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by cough syrups and patent medicines and the cough stops like magic, usually with the very first swallow.

Taken before retiring, Thoxine absolutely prevents night coughing and insures a good night's sleep. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat too. Contains no chloroform or harmful drugs. Children like it. Remember, relief within 15 minutes from coughs or sore throat, for your money back, 35c, 60c, $1.00 bottles. Sold by Wisner's Drug store and all other good drug stores.

SEVEN LEPERS HAVE CLOSE CALL AT SEA

Thrilling Adventure Over-takes Fishing Party.

Honolulu, Hawaii.—From the leper settlement at Kalaupapa, island of Molokai, comes a tale of heroism involving seven men in peril at sea, the desperate rescue of one who fell overboard, and the scaling of a precipitous cliff 2,000 feet high by one of their number in search of aid, after the boat had beached in an almost inaccessible spot on the rocky shore of Molokai.

This was going on while air and surface vessels of the United States navy and ships and planes of the Interisland Steam Navigation company and Interisland Airways were searching for the missing men.

Five men left Kalaupapa to go fishing in an 18-foot sloop, temporarily rigged and without a keel. After they had been missing a few hours apprehension was felt at the settlement, and two other men set out in a 14-foot rowboat equipped with a 12-horse power outboard motor to search for them.

Sloop Unmanageable.

The sloop proved unmanageable when it encountered an unexpected strong east wind. William Kalama was washed overboard by a heavy sea and was rescued by Henry Kawewehi, who leaped into the sea from the drifting boat and placed a line around Kalama.

The sloop began to leak badly. They made no headway toward Kalaupapa. Kalama, at the helm, finally steered for the beach at Kamanawana, and by combined luck and skill struck an inlet through the reef about 20 feet wide, through which the boat was beached in a heavy surf.

The five men, one of whom could not swim, were stranded between the raging sea and the precipitous cliff, which had never been scaled. William Kalama and Kanekoa Puaee, in the outboard motor boat, arrived about sunset and anchored about 30 yards off shore, fearing to come closer in the pounding surf.

Rescue Boat Sinks.

Kalima, realizing that one of the stranded party could not swim, ran ashore himself through the surf carrying a small line, intending to fasten it to driftwood to help the party aboard.

On this lifeline the entire party reached the rescue boat, and Kalima, with all aboard, attempted to reach the settlement overland to return to Kalaupapa. The overloaded boat filled with water and began to sink.

Puaee also was unable to swim. He clung to the sinking boat while Paul Kaulaiti and Kalima helped him, the other nonswimmer, to shore. Kalima then administered artificial respiration to Kila while the others returned to rescue Puaee.

The party remained all night on the beach without food or water. In the morning Kaulaiti volunteered to climb the reef and attempt to reach the settlement overland to bring aid. After a desperate attempt he reached the top and made his way to the settlement to report to the authorities.

Meanwhile the fishing sampan Fuji Maru, Capt. K. Fujimoto, passed within three miles of the stranded party and saw their signals. Kalima swam out to the sampan and a member of the crew accompanied him back to the beach, with lines in their teeth. They built a raft to convey the nonswimmers and the six men reached Kalaupapa by the sampan.

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

CAN IMPROVE MARKET PRACTICE ON BEAN GRADES

Economist Suggests Methods to Improve Conditions for Michigan Farmers.

Better sources of market information, a different grading system, and an aggressive effort to recover customers lost to producers of other districts are three of the recommendations for the betterment of market conditions for Michigan beans made by the economist department of Michigan State college.

These findings are the result of an investigation made recently by Prof. W. O. Hedrick, who made a study of the business methods employed by all types of Michigan bean elevators, and who states that the number of elevators in some sections in this state is too great to permit efficient marketing practices.

Farmers usually depend upon the person who buys their beans to furnish them with market information. Prof. Hedrick says, and he concludes that it is not always an advantage to the farmer to depend upon such sources for market reports.

Adoption of the federal bean grades in place of the Michigan grades is recommended because these grades would be more acceptable to consumers of Michigan beans, according to the Michigan State economist. The grades in use at present are set by the jobbers who sell beans.
A complete discussion of the Michigan bean marketing system will be contained in Special Bulletin No. 217, written by Prof.

Hedrick, to be printed in a short time by Michigan State College.

Maroon, White Trim Western State High 13-6

RESULT IS ONE OF SURPRISES
OF THE SEASONBradfield's Scoring Machine
Works With Speed and Precision to Overcome Odds.

In one of the biggest upsets of the football season the maroon and white eleven of Buchanan defeated Western State High of Kalamazoo by a 13-6 score at Buchanan, Friday afternoon.

With a line that functioned 100 per cent and a backfield that did equally well, there was just no holding the "Bucks." In every department of the eleven they were working with speed and precision. Led by Dreitzler and Letcher on the line, and by "Sleepy" Ellis in the backfield, the eleven had little trouble in pushing over the invaders and topping the day with a big victory.

The "Bucks" started their scoring in the first quarter after Louie Morse returned a State punt 40 yards to place the ball on the State 35 yard line. In three plays the "Bucks" moved the ball to the state 21 yd. line and on the next down Louie Morse scampered around right-end for 21 yards and a touchdown. Jesse's kick for extra point was good.

The Buchanan eleven scored again in the closing period after a pass from Lauren Morse to Dreitzler placed the ball on the State 1 yard line. Two tries at the line failed to put it over, but on third down Lauren Morse dived over for the second touchdown of the game. Jesse's kick was not good.

State also scored their point in the fourth quarter after Russell, State quarterback, tore around left end for eleven yards, and put the ball on the Buchanan 46 yard line. A pass, Mackaye to Dutto, was completed to place the ball on the Buchanan 28-yard line.

Russell, again showed his wares by tearing through center for 13 more yards and putting the ball on the Buchanan 15 yard line. Russell went through center again for eight yards. With the ball resting on the Buchanan 6 yard line, Russell went around right-end for a touchdown. This was the only time throughout the game, however, that the visitors displayed any flashy football.

Too much credit cannot be given to the Buchanan line for the way they opened holes in the State line. They blocked, tackled and played like a real football team. In the backfield, "Sleepy" Ellis did some fine plunging and on one attempt went through center for 73 yards, only to have the play called back with a penalty placed on Buchanan. This was the last game for Captain Dreitzler, Joe Letcher, Robert Montgomery, Otis Flenar, Harry Dumbolten and James Eisenhart. These boys have all played excellent football during their high school careers and their loss will be felt keenly.

Organize County
Debating League

The county debating league is being organized. Several practice debates will be held and then a tournament. The schools entered in the county league last year were: Berrien Springs, Niles, Watervliet, Coloma, St. Joseph and Buchanan. This year's membership has not yet been completed.

Reporting Inquirer

Question—How do you like the new library system?
I think it is better than the one last year. The librarians haven't had as much to do and the books don't get mixed up and lost.

Blanche Depyl.
I think the new library system is a much better system. Years before they were always losing the books or having them displaced somewhere. Now they have such a strict system that it is hardly possible to have any of them lost. One can not get out of paying his fines this way.

Louie Morse.
I don't think the new system can compare with the old one, because of the time it requires to obtain a book and then the time used to explain to the teachers where you were.

"Pete" Donley.
I think the new library system is all right. It saves time for both the librarians and the person who is getting the book. Also, there is less danger of books being taken or lost.

Bernice Newsom.
Oh, I like it fine, although I haven't tried it yet.

Orlefa Young.

Mrs. Henry Zupke
Named President
of Mother's Club

The Kindergarten First Grade Mother's Club met in the kindergarten room Thursday, Nov. 12, at 3 o'clock. Officers elected for this year's work were: Mrs. Henry Zupke, president; Mrs. Kenneth Blake, vice president; Mrs. Geo. Himeberger, secretary; Mrs. Geo. Chain, treasurer; Mrs. Donley, chairman of the program committee; and Mrs. Burton Mills, chairman of the refreshment committee.

Miss Belle Miller, first grade instructor, at Dewey school, spoke on, "What Playthings Shall My Children Have."

The members of the club are going to make toys, to be given to our needy children in Buchanan, at Christmas.

Miss Belle Miller, Miss Genevieve Carnagan and Miss Velma Ebbert were the hostesses. Light refreshments were served.

Faculty Facts

Mrs. Whitman was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Hanley and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Newberry at dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson visited Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dalton in Gary, last week-end.

Miss Chandler and Miss Shriver journeyed again to Chicago on Armistice Day. While there they attended that much talked of production, "Green Pastures."

Mr. Jewell spent the week-end in Detroit. On Saturday he attended the Michigan State football game at Ann Arbor. Others attending the game at Ann Arbor were Miss Skeels and Mr. and Mrs. Knoblauch.

Miss Rockenback and Miss Hanlin entertained at a house-party over the week-end. (From various rumors, a hilarious time was had by all.)

School Heads
Hold Meeting
in Bridgman

The superintendents of the schools in Berrien County held a meeting at the Bridgman high school, Thursday evening.

Superintendent Crawford of Niles gave a committee report on what the different schools in this county are doing towards the economy program, the purpose of which is to provide for needy people in the community.

The faculties of the Buchanan, Niles, Dowagiac, and St. Joseph schools have joined up to date.

It was also decided that the music festivals, in Berrien county this year would be held as follows:

Vocal, Dec. 9, Watervliet.
Orchestra, Feb. 10, Dowagiac.
Band, May 25, New Buffalo.
Coloma will be the next host of the superintendents on Dec. 7.

Home Rooms

A program was held in the home room "Station RWXYZ Thursday. The whole group sang songs. The program was in charge of some of the girls of the home room.

All the members of the "Busy Weavers' Inn" who had birthdays in October and November were feted Thursday. Games were played; fudge and apples were served.

Eleanor Richardson brought a rare plant of the cactus species in blossom, Tuesday. This was taken to the different home rooms to be admired.

Mr. Jewell's home room played a questionnaire game Thursday. It is appalling, but true, that they found some girls are good cooks!

The wisdom shown by the high school students was incomparable. The members are also working on their assembly program. The "E-L-S" held a business meeting Thursday. Mr. Moore announced that the next entertainment committee in charge would be Helen Huntington, Clarence Huff, Glen Jesse and Clella Kingery.

Lowell Batchelor will act as the chairman of the "Three C's" for the next three weeks. For the past few weeks Donna Belle DeWitt acted as chairman. During that time each person in home room was asked to write a jingle. Ruth Cripe wrote the following:

Green and gold
All so bold
Are sailing the seas
Of life's extremities
They wish to strive very hard
So when they receive that report card

They won't have to get down on their knees and wheeze.
"Oh, Miss Chandler, I got all B's."

PROGRESS OF
CLASS ROOMS
DURING WEEKStar Mechanics Advanced;
News Classes Study Lives of Journalists.

The mechanical drawing class is beginning to sort out its best students. Some are falling behind and others, stepping up. The advanced students in the second year are: Robert Kell, working on a detail of the steam valve, and Clarence Huff, working on a detail of the jointer.

In the first year class there are Beryl Shipley and August Topash, both of whom are doing very good work.

The journalism class has been studying the use of description in the newspaper story, and also the lives of newspaper publishers. William Randolph Hearst was the first studied.

English nine students are trying to eliminate the comma and period faults in punctuation. They have also started oral composition.

Mr. Miller's economic geography class has been studying the motion picture industry. In a test, Mr. Miller added this question: Name prominent movie stars and put a check after your favorite. As the class consists of boys, Clara Bow was the selection by quite a few.

They are starting the study of meat packing and its by-products, and expect to finish this chapter by the end of the week.

Junior-Soph Party Success
The delayed party, given to the juniors by the sophomores turned out to be a big success and all who attended enjoyed themselves in a big way. Music was supplied by those peppy interpreters of modern rhythm, Jane, John, Phil, Spot and Percie.

That Freshman Class
They stumble blindly up the hall. We stand and watch them as they pass, And grin to see their awkward walk. That freshman class.

They squirm and blush and try to shrink. We patronize each lad and lass. Superior still we smile and say, "That freshman class!"

But now the tables turn and we, No longer seniors, cry "Alas!" For college students laugh at us, That freshman class.

The algebra classes are studying multiplication, the parenthesis and equalities, while the geometry classes are having the corresponding sides of right triangles. The advanced geometry classes are studying the advanced types of factoring.

Students Verify
After studying sonnets for a time the students of the senior English class tried writing them Monday. Mrs. Dunbar states that she was quite well pleased with the material submitted, and that the word choice was very good. The following by John Strayer was voted by the class as the best:

Soft is the moon that shines o'er wood and vale,
And bathes the country-side in loveliness,
Of beauty that now lives in full redress
Of days gone by. Exquisiteness is real,
That kings of all the world could not reveal.

The gurgling frogs among the water cress
Upon the silvery pond their song of stress
Informs the world that life is not unavail'd—
But now the moonlit shadows slowly fall;
And lengthen into forms that seem to us
To whisper notes that echo with their call Upon our thoughts and render our soul loose—
So shall—the gifts of nature's sweetness live
And die when those about her fail to strive.

The Junior English classes are working on the early seventeenth century poets and essayists. On visitors day, Friday, the eighth grade English classes each had a spell down. Estella Smith and Dorothy Brown spelled down their respective divisions.

After reading "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" by Irving, the seventh grade students are making note books on it; the best of which will be placed on exhibit.

There were many very good Indian boys colored by our boys and girls. We are going to paste them in our health books to illustrate a verse we know about brushing our teeth every day. Our health books are going to illustrate good health rules with animals and Indians doing the acting.

Hunters are Asked
For Information
On Tagged Quarry

Lansing, Nov. 19. One hundred and twenty-five tagged does and bucks are now living in the woods of the northern part of the lower peninsula. These deer are tagged in the right ear with an aluminum tag on which is stamped a serial number and instructions reading: "Dept. of Conservation, Lansing." The Department of Conservation figures that many of these tagged bucks will be shot during the approaching deer season.

If hunters shooting tagged deer will send the number of the metal tag together with information as to the date the deer was shot and the locality in which it was shot, considerable information as to the movements of the deer will be obtained.

Last year about 25 deer were tagged at the Hubert deer yard and in the Crawford Game Refuge. A hundred of the animals, trapped and moved from the Turtle Lake region near Alpena, were all tagged by the Department of Conservation, and released at the Lunden Game Refuge, Alpena State Forest and the Isco Game Refuge at Oscoda. About half the total number of deer tagged were bucks.

It is hoped that with hunters sending in the tagged numbers of deer they have killed, together with information about where they shot the animal, the Department, by comparing its records of where the deer were tagged and when, will be able to get some idea of how far deer move during the course of a year.

During the coming winter deer traps will again be operated and all deer caught will be tagged so that further and more accurate information will be obtained.

All those sending in information on tagged deer will be told when and where the deer went again.

Noise Made by Atoms Making a sound like hail pattering against a window pane, the noise of atoms recently was broadcast in Britain by radio. The sound produced was that of helium atoms leaving the radioactive metal uranium and bombarding a small piece of metal. A piece of uranium no larger than a dime was used, the atoms leaving it more speedily than bullets from a machine gun.

One Killed When

Car Hits Stalled
Truck on US-12 Sun.

Joseph Szussalski, 1054 West 31st Place, Chicago, was fatally injured Sunday when the car which he was driving struck a truck stalled on the paying on U S-12 between Union Pier and New Buffalo early Sunday morning. His three companions, John Rudolph and Joseph Michalik, were injured. Roy Hickman of Fennville, who had stopped to help the driver of the stalled truck, was also hurt. Eddie James of Kalamazoo, the driver of the truck was not hurt.

James had placed road flares in front of and behind the truck but it is surmised that Szussalski was unable to see on account of the fog which prevailed at that time.

Old Timer Takes Ramble Through The Buchanan Forest Primaeval

So much has been said by other "old timers" of late, about the Galein Woods, that I have been left high and dry, with nothing to add or imagine, for I did not know much about that section of the country until it was pretty well thinned out of the heavy timber, but my father was in the lumber business, as some of you will remember, and he had several tracts of heavy timber that was cut off in my time. One of them was down north of town, at what was generally known at that time as "Oakland", so named from a predominance of heavy sturdy old oaks, in that section of the two hundred acres, and the "Narrow Gauge" Railway, passed thru it and gave them good shipping facilities, even if the trains did get stuck occasionally, and have to shovel out the snow in winter and the sand slides in summer.

They, naturally, built the saw mill right along side the right of way of the railway, and had a good long side track for loading cars. I can very plainly remember that mill and just how deep the saw dust pile used to be, at times. I used to tramp over the tract of timber with my dad, and some of it was low and had cranberries and huckleberries and some snakes in the lower part, but the timber was the old original growth, and it used to make me feel sad, even then to see them cut down and sawed up for lumber. I always was a wee bit for sentiment, and though I never said anything about my thoughts on the matter, for fear of being laughed at, I nevertheless used to try to imagine, to myself, that the old trees were still there, and they were all my friends and I used to imagine they talked to me, and all that just like kids do to this day, I suppose. Then, some years later on, I was old enough to drive a team etc., and I can remember hauling "ties" from the same woods to Buchanan, which was a trip of about eight miles, and in winter, always on Saturdays, we had to make at least a couple of trips down there and back, and when the roads were specially good we could make three trips a day. But the heavy hauling over the winter roads made them full of "kiss-me-quick" and that meant slower driving with a heavy load.

A family by the name of Light, used to live just across the road from "Oakland" and a little later they moved to a new house just a few rods south of the boundary of the "woods" and established a station called "Lighton" on the railroad, and the daughter, acted as station master. It seems to me she had an affliction in one hand or arm, or some thing, but she managed to handle the job, all right.

Just south of their "station" was the farm that was run by Fred Hall, who married one of the Parrott girls, and in later years I used to go to their home quite often with another Parrott sister, Nona. By that time "Oakland" was all cut away and the stumps had been disposed of and the place was a regular farm and I have always wanted to take a walk thru there and see if I can find any old landmarks, for the tract flanked the old St. Joe river, and it was beautiful along there before the trees were all cut away.

Gasley's mill was just a little farther down the road and Wilson's mill, as I remember, was still farther down toward Berrien Springs. One of the old Wilson family attended one of our Chicago-Buchanan dinners not long ago and we had a long talk about that old neighborhood. It is a pity that the woods could not have been kept as they were in some places, at least, so that the following generations could see them for what they really were, and not just read about them in books or hear of them from some old timer.

That is one thing that E. K. Warren of Three Oaks, has done for the community, and that is the tract of timber that he has bought, and "endowed" so that it will be kept in tact and remain just as it is. It is a mighty fine thing for that part of the country, and in time to come it will be a joy to see that people will go miles to visit. I have been thru the woods many times, and the signs say that you must not pick any flowers, break any shrubs. You can walk thru it and admire it all you please but you must not destroy anything at all. The old logs lie there where they have fallen of old age, and will go back to mother earth, and the bushes and weeds and flowers and everything grow as best they can, and the tall trees tower above them and it is just a haven of nature as she was and is. You will probably all know about that patch of woods of Mr. Warren's, it is down northwest of Buchanan, and I can't remember the exact location. It is fenced in all around and an open turn style welcomes all lovers of Nature to go in and inspect it, but you must not pick any flowers, break any shrubs. You can walk thru it and admire it all you please but you must not destroy anything at all. The old logs lie there where they have fallen of old age, and will go back to mother earth, and the bushes and weeds and flowers and everything grow as best they can, and the tall trees tower above them and it is just a haven of

OLD TIMER.

Nat. Wild Life Fostering Area Prove Success

Lansing, Nov. 19.8 Surpris at the rate of progress made with the national wild life development project in Williamston Township, Ingham County, was expressed by a group of distinguished scientists who inspected the three test areas comprising 1,900 acres on which various tree, shrub and grain plantings have been made.

This project for natural propagation of pheasants and other wild life by new methods of cover improvement is being carried on by the Michigan Division of the Izak Walton League of America, in cooperation with the farmers of the "Williamston Plan" fame, the State Department, the University of Michigan and Michigan State College. The purpose of the project is to demonstrate that an abundance of wild life can be maintained in the farming regions of Michigan.

Among the party was H. L. Stoddard, nationally known authority on quail. His book about his project in Georgia, which is being carried on over 500,000 acres, was recently published by Scribners. Others present included: W. L. McAtee, head of the Division of Food Habits Research and W. B. Grange, cooperative agent of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, who are joint authors of a pamphlet soon to be published by the Department of Agriculture. The pamphlet will be entitled:

Life on the Farm. P. L. Errington in charge of the Wisconsin quail investigation, and Clarence S. Jung, representing the Milwaukee Chapter of the Izak Walton League, and L. G. King, President of the Progressive Hunting Club of Williamston Township.

E. M. Wight of the School of Forestry and Conservation, University of Michigan, of Michigan, who has developed the methods being applied on the test areas, conducted the party over the grounds.

Sound Carried by Carillons
Usually a carillon can be heard at best advantage 1,000 or 2,000 feet from the tower. The bells can be heard at considerable distance depending upon the wind, height of tower and possible obstructions. Often, tunes can be distinguished at a distance of three miles.
