

ENCAMPMENT 169 HOST AT DIST. MEET

State Highway Dept. Takes Over M-60 Maintenance in City Limits

Now Here's the Proposition

THE TRAFFIC EXPERT
By Hays

Uncle Hank, the chesty cuss, Brags how he can drive a bus. Says he drives just like he feels, Turns the corner on two wheels, Never stops for traffic streets, Runs past every light he meets, But he's never had a wreck— Never will have one, by heck! Says that fellows that get jimmied Cannot think as quick as him.

Shows off his hair-trigger brains, Dodging out of traffic lanes; Drives up hills on the wrong side With the throttle open wide, Rattles other people's nerves As he passes on the curves; Allus hears down on the gas, Never lets another pass; Says the other guys get jumped But he's quicker on the jump.

Uncle Hank sez all you need Is a bus with lots of speed Says it's dangerous to go slow Sez the faster you can go Then the longer you will last— Them gets caught as don't go fast. Uncle Hank don't realize That the reason he survives Is, that it is just his luck Other guys know when to duck.

Dan Robe's Garden
Gets Grats Floving

Some fellows have all the luck, even to getting their gardens plowed free. Last year we reported in these columns the fact that Dan Robe's corn patch in the rear of his home on South Portage had been effectively cultivated by a motorist who ran amuck and planted his car in Mr. Robe's fertile humus. Thursday noon of last week another local citizen, perfectly sober this time, lost control of his car in a brush with another car at the intersection of Portage and Railroad streets, and charged across into Robe's driveway between the latter's car and the house, tearing a door from Robert Straight right as he went and taking the drain pipe off the corner of the house. Speeding on his way he took Robe's clothesline with him, strewn a fresh wash over the back yard, and finally mired in the garden.

There's a lodestone somewhere in the garden that pulls them in, Robe thinks, and sometime he hopes to hit the good luck to draw a Cadillac or a Rolls-Royce.

CITY DADS PASS RESOLUTION FOR FORMAL TRANSFER

State Maintenance Men Estimate Annual Cost of Up-keep to be $421.

Arrangements are now under way for the transfer by the city to the state of the burden of maintenance of that section of the spur to M-60 which is inside the city limits.

This comprises Portage Street from Front Street to the railway and that section of Portage Road between the railway and the city limits. The state highway department took over this section of the road as a state trunkline last winter. Representatives of the maintenance department of the state were in Buchanan last week to inspect the road, estimating the cost of upkeep within the city limits to be $421 per annum.

In cities of less than 25,000 population the cost of maintenance of such portions of state trunk lines as are within their limits is kept up entirely by the state. The city commission endorsed the formal resolution for the transfer of maintenance at the Monday evening meeting.

NEW INDEPENDENT BASKETBALL TEAM TAKES FIELD HERE

Stars H. S. Champion Team of 1929 Open Season with Win Over Baroda.

Morse, Knight, Savoldi, Pierce! No doubt these names, especially at this time of the year, bring back numerous memories to the loyal Buchanan basketball fan. It is likely many of these same fans would like to see these men and a number of others of the same calibre in action again. The opportunity will be forthcoming.

Recently nine men, the nucleus of the personnel of the championship 1929 high school basketball squad, organized what they consider to be the most representative independent basketball team that Buchanan has ever had. Adopting the name, the "Twenty-Nines" they resolved that only graduates of Buchanan high school would be eligible to membership in the club, thus eliminating the practice of importing players from other towns, and assuring local fans that, win or lose, the team playing will be truly a Buchanan team. Besides Knight, Morse, Savoldi, and Pierce, the squad includes Smith and Boyce complete the squad of the "Twenty-Nines."

These men, playing in a style reminiscent of the form which won them high honors in the state during their high school playing careers, last Thursday night defeated a fast Baroda independent team by a decisive score, 31-17. Pierce and Morse dominated the play, trying for high point honors with twenty points split evenly between them. Fred Smith gave excellent support by tossing in three field goals.

The "Twenty-Nines" jumped in to an early lead and were never over taken during the entire game. Savoldi's floor work was as brilliant as ever. "Punk" Roe was the same clever, cool, guard of former years and "Olive" Knight kept the machine clicking with the clock-like regularity that the team displayed when it wore the Maroon and White.

Games here and away will be announced in later issues of The Record.

FIRST SNOW FALL OF WINTER HERE TUES. NIGHT

Pay Taxes Promptly and Aid Schools in Emergency, Board Asks

CLARK EQUIP. IND. & MICH. PAY IN FULL

Provide Funds for Teachers Wages and Bond Charges Temporarily

Taxpayers who are able to pay promptly the winter tax due and payable at the city hall today, will be conferring a great benefit on local governmental institutions which have been cramped by bank failures, according to school board officials.

The Clark Equipment Company and the Indiana and Michigan Electric company are paying in full at once. These large corporation payments will pay the current wages for teachers and for bond carriage and retirement charges but similar action is needed by other taxpayers to cover other current expenses of local schools.

Treasurer Ada Dacy-Sanders began collection at the city hall this morning.

Calls For Relief Increase Greatly During November

Calls for aid on the part of the needy grew apace during November, according to W. T. Richards, assessor and city relief officer, who states that the requests for food were almost 300 per cent greater than in October and the calls for fuel over 400 per cent greater. It is anticipated that a proportional increase will take place during December especially in the item of fuel, as no winter weather had been experienced before Dec. 1.

FIGURES SHOW LOSSES FOR LAND IN FARMS

Michigan Decrease Mainly Shift from Poorer Types of Soils.

A reduction of 1,914,010 acres, 10 per cent of the land in farms occurred in Michigan in the decade between 1920 and 1930, according to figures released by the farm management department at Michigan State College.

The decrease was not uniform for all sections in the state and the farm management department believes that most of the loss was in marginal lands which will not grow profitable crops except in years of high prices. Figures from the same source show a lower number of acres of land planted to crops and a larger number devoted to pasture.

Michigan farms now have larger average size than in the years preceding 1920. The shifts in farm lands and in land ownership apparently have resulted in an increase in holdings of the farmers who have remained on the land.

Plantings of corn, oats, rye, potatoes, sugar beets and wheat decreased during the period; while barley plantings and seedings of alfalfa increased. Nearly one-third of Michigan farm land now grows hay; oats is the next most popular crop; and others, named in the order of their ranking in acres planted, are wheat, potatoes, barley, rye and sugar beets.

Gumption he defined as that common sense and courage which carries a town forward.

Thirty members turned out to enjoy the luncheon provided by the Auxiliary and hear his talk.

ACQUAINTANCE OF LINDSAY WRITES AN APPRECIATION

Dr. Waldo Tells of Famous Fellowcitizen of Springfield, Ill.

It will be of interest to many to know that Dr. E. T. Waldo was a neighbor and acquaintance in Springfield, Ill., of Vachel Lindsay, world famous writer, who died last week. Because of this acquaintance Dr. Waldo has familiarized himself with the work of Lindsay and on the request of the Record, contributed the following characterization:

Nicholas Vachel Lindsay, the world famed poet, who died the other day was a dreamy eyed youth of fifty-two years. I say "youth" because he had one of those Peter Pan natures that never grew up, and "dreamy-eyed" because of the peculiar characteristic way in which he held his eyes when in conversation or reciting his poetry.

Lindsay was a world figure, yet he was preeminently a product of the prairies of Illinois and of Springfield, the city he loved and where he was loved not only as a poet but as a neighbor. It is interesting to know something of Lindsay in the home and of the home influences under which he developed. His mother was one of those very strong characters who was blunt, outspoken, and dominating, yet altogether feminine and lovable. It is to this wonderful woman that the world may give thanks for the poet; boyhood till his mother's death a few years ago, Lindsay sought her counsel above that of all others. Because the father was a busy physician, the entire raising of the children was in the hands of the mother. She had a practical sense of religion that left its imprint upon her children, one of whom became a missionary to China and another of whom, Vachel, became the poet who was often condemned by critics for over-moralizing in his writings.

It was the hope of Lindsay's parents that he become a physician and follow in the footsteps of his father. He tried and failed. They wanted him to go into the ministry. He had the ideals and reverence, but he lacked the other qualities, and spent much of his time in the verse while in college. Failing to carry out the family's desires for his future, he ventured into a career of art and for sometime he worked diligently as a student at the Chicago Art Institute.

The village magazine, a booklet published by Lindsay for distribution among his friends, contains some of his best sketches of life. Some of these drawings are beautiful, many are odd and several are hideous. In spite of the fact that there is merit in his drawings up to a few years of his death he had not realized a cent on any of them. We prize our copy of this magazine among our choicest possessions.

As a poet, he had to fight his way to the front. His love for the outdoors, his appreciation of beauty, won for him a lasting place in American letters. During the early days of his struggle for fame he spent time campaigning for the Anti Saloon League in Illinois. Later he made an extensive pilgrimage 'afoot through the southwest. On this trip he emulated the example of the Salvation Army by standing on the street corners to recite his gospel of beauty. This trip gained for him much recognition, and it was out of this experience that he was later able to write such poems as "The Santa Fe Trail." On several instances since, he has made long hikes, notably one about ten years ago with Stephen Graham, the English traveler and writer.

Perhaps the poem that brought Lindsay his first really great recognition was "General William Booth Enters Heaven," which he wrote upon hearing of the death of the Salvation Army founder. In this poem one can fairly hear the banjo, the base drum, and the tunes of the street corner hymns. Of all his own work, he delighted most in "The Congo," "The Ghost of the Buffalo," and "Lincoln Walks at Midnight." "The Congo" is usually recognized as his best, for particulars.

Births for November were evenly divided in five boys and five girls. Births for the month of October totaled nine and deaths totaled three.

INITIAL HARD FREEZE FELT MONDAY NIGHT

No Use to Date for Skating Rink on Presbyterian Church Lots.

The sound of the snow shovel was heard in Buchanan for the first time yesterday morning, '3 inches of the beautiful having fallen in the previous night, being the first snow worth mentioning during the present winter. The temperature hovered at the freezing mark or above all night and warmer several degrees during the day. On Monday evening the mercury hit a new low for the season, low marks being variously reported from 18 to 21 degrees above zero.

This was the first morning marked by the presence of ice of any degree of thickness. Temperatures had not gone below 25 degrees at any previous date. The lot which was prepared for a skating rink in the rear of the Presbyterian church has been unused to date.

CITY ACQUIRES FAST TRANSIT FOR FIRE EQUIPMENT

Trades Ford Truck for Used Lincoln Sedan and Mounts Three Tanks.

Buchanan's volunteer smoke eaters are now equipped to arrive at fires, expected or unexpected, as soon as they start if not slightly before as the result of a transaction completed last week between the city and the Montague Motor Company in which the party of the first part acquired a used Lincoln sedan in good running order and the party of the second part a Ford truck, formerly carrier for the chemical tanks, plus $275 to boot.

The sedan is equipped with a 90 h. p. motor, and travels 30 miles an hour with the gas pedal down to the floor. It was torn down by the Montague Motor company, the sedan body and the deluxe rear cushions being taken off and the three chemical tanks mounted, with a plank on the rear which such fire fighters as have not already gotten a place in the seat will ride.

The old truck was unable to carry its gross weight of 3,600 pounds to the fires at a sufficient speed, often stalling on grades and in muddy roads. On one trip over a mile and a half upgrade the driver was unable to get it out of low.

In addition to the Lincoln truck, the department has the LaFrance fire truck, equipped with a triple combination of pumper, 40-gallon chemical tank and 2,000 feet of hose. A pressure of 150 pounds is secured for the chemical tanks and 120 pounds for the pumper.

The only clue left in the car as to the identity of the thief was a handbook from the Detroit Baseball Federation. The machine was undamaged.

NATIONAL TEA CO. CELEBRATES 32ND ANNIVERSARY

Economical Food Distributing Field Founded December 8, 1899

On December 8th, 32 years ago the first National Tea Co. store was established in the city of Chicago. The founder of this first National Tea store realized that direct distribution from the farmer or manufacturer to the consumer would save the people of the Middle West millions of dollars annually on their food needs. In order to give these savings to the greatest possible number of people, additional National Tea Stores were rapidly developed throughout the Middle West. Today on the 32nd Anniversary of its first store, National Tea Co. operates 1,636 grocery stores and 273 modern meat departments in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Indiana and American Stores and Illinois National Tea Co. Stores in Michigan. This growth proves that National Tea's sound merchandising policies have won the confidence of the thrifty people of the Middle West.

All Are Benefited Impartial leaders and unbiased scholars in all fields, substantiated by authentic fact finding research, acknowledge the valuable service rendered by distribution economies developed by a chain store organization such as the National Tea Co. A number of university professors have recently made an exhaustive survey of food prices, and report that the average savings brought about by chain store methods amounts to 15%. This saving remains with the consumer in each community to do with what she will, and when spent creates additional business for other merchants, additional business for the wholesaler from whom they purchase, additional business for the manufacturer purchasing the merchandise and additional business for the producer of raw material whether in the farming, mining or other sources where raw material is produced. This movement creates additional transportation business and employs more labor—all contributing to increased employment.

An Outlet for Farmers The modern method of food distributing enables millions of farm products to be sold through National Tea Co. stores which would not be possible by means of the old-fashioned, round-about method of food distribution due to the highly perishable nature of these products. It is estimated that the farm, dairy, orchard and plantation products which move direct to our stores for distribution amount to approximately $30,000,000.00 annually and an almost equal amount of canned foods and cereals are distributed. Losses to the farmer have been minimized by this method of selling quality merchandise in greater quantities and expediting its delivery from the farmer direct to the consumer.

Savings Win Co. - Once By aiding the farmer, his marketing and the consumer in saving and rendering additional cooperation to the manufacturer, National Tea Co.'s sound food distributing policies have been given increased appreciation each year. This great progress is evidenced in the growth from year to year of our annual sales. In 1921 National Tea Co. operated 261 grocery stores and sold $16,283,146.53 worth of quality food products. For the year 1931 despite the unusual existing condition reports indicate that sales will be $75,000,000.00 or more, and over 1,636 grocery stores and 273 modern meat departments will be in operation. This steady growth during the last ten years proves conclusively that the consumer appreciates saving money on better groceries and that the farmer, producer and other merchants believe in National Tea Co.'s food distributing methods.

Community Interest The managers and clerks of a National Tea Co. store located in your community are urged to take part in all civic and social enterprises.

National Tea Co. stores contribute their proportionate share to the upkeep of the community, state and federal government wherever they operate stores. There is no tax that any other merchant or manufacturer pays in a business similar to this that is not also paid by National Tea Co.

National Tea Co. cooperates with all consistent civic and community affairs and charitable institutions. All acknowledged institutions such as local Welfare Drives, Chambers of Commerce, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Salvation Army have been given support by your local National Tea Co. Food Store.

A cordial invitation is extended to the people of the Middle West to visit a National Tea Co. store during this 32nd ANNIVERSARY SALE and acquaint themselves with National Tea Co.'s quality groceries and meats which are always offered at "Money-Saving" prices.

is rich in sound such as one would hear in negro life on the Congo. "The Ghost of the Buffalo" vividly shows the movement of civilization toward the west and the crowding out of the Buffalo and the Indian. "Lincoln walks at mid- night" is a war-time poem in which Lindsay shows the spirit of his ideal American as being unable to rest during those trou- ble-some days.

As a modernist, he cared little for the poets of the past except Whitman, Lanier and Poe. Poe was his favorite of all. This is reflected in much of his work.

As a writer of prose, he gained no great name. "The Golden Book of Springfield" is his most notable prose effort. In it he prophesies what Springfield will be 100 years from now. He told us of the disap- pointments he had to meet in pub- lishing such a work. The pub- lishers insisted on changes which he thought, made the book their book more than his.

We seldom think of Lindsay but we think of the beautiful tribute he paid his old high school Eng- lish teacher, still the head of the English Department of Springfield high school. He gave to her a great deal of credit when he said, "Never did I publish a poem with- out first submitting it to Susan Wilcox."

Lindsay was buried last Monday. They have laid him near his moth- er, a stone's throw from where Lincoln, Springfield's other illu- strious son lies. People from all walks of life followed the proces- sion, but it was the neighbors, not the celebrities, who carried out the rites. This was in keeping with the democratic simplicity of the man.

What the epitaph on Lindsay's tombstone will be, we do not know, but what would be more fitting than a paraphrasing of this little poem of his?

Famous Cough Prescription Almost instant relief from coughs is now guaranteed in the use of the physician's famous prescription called Thoxine. It works on an entirely different principle, having a double action, it relieves the throat irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by cough syrups and patent medicines and the cough stops like magic, usually with the very first swallow.

Taken before retiring, Thoxine absolutely prevents night cough- ing and insures a good night's sleep. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat too. Colds, no chloroform or harmful drugs. Children like it. Re- member—relief within 15 minutes from coughs or sore throat, or your money back. 35c, 60c, $1.00 bottles. Sold by Wisner's Drug Store and all other good drug stores.

Michigan Lisenses Not to be Honored In Ohio After Jan. 1

Michigan 1931 automobile license plates may not be honored in the neighboring states after Jan. 1, 1932, according to information reaching the Department of State. Motorists will not be allowed to tour Ohio after Jan. 1, with Michigan 1931 plates, even though the plates are legal here until March 1. New plates are mandatory in Ohio on Jan. 1 of each year.

Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana officials have indicated that they may follow the example set by Ohio. It is possible that one or more of the states will change its plan before the first of next year, but Michigan motorists who plan to leave the state, will avoid possible delay and embarrassment after Jan. 1 by securing new license plates.

B.H.S. Takes Double Header From Berrien Spgs.

VARSITY SHOWS MUCH PROMISE IN 20-10 WIN

Locals Will Meet Niles at Niles Next Friday Night.

Led by Eddie Rolan, diminutive center, the Buchanan basketball team, in the first game of the season from Berrien Springs by a 20-10 score, at the high school gym Friday night.

The "Bucks" held the Berrien Springs boys to exactly no points in the first half of the game due to some excellent guarding by Captain Strayer and Glenn Jesse. With Rolan scoring from his accurate under the basket shots, the locals garnered ten points to lead the "Springers" 10-0 at the half.

The third quarter opened with Graham of Berrien tipping in three pretty shots to get the "Bucks" on the run. Dunkelburger countered with another basket to place the score at 10-8. Buchanan came back in the final minutes of the third quarter with Rolan and Ellis each counting with a basket to end the period with Buchanan in the lead, 14-8. In the final quarter, Lauren Morse sank two pretty shots to boost the score, while his running mate, Ellis, also took credit for a basket. Manes, the Berrien Springs forward, scored the last points for his team with a successful pot-shot.

Superb floor work enabled the "Bucks" to gain their lead and excellent guarding helped them to keep it. Berrien brought down one of the best teams they have ever turned out, and they, by no means, disappointed the crowd. They played a splendid game. Rolan led the locals in points with a total of eight, while Graham, opposing center, sank three baskets for a total of six points.

On Dec. 11, the "Bucks" will meet Niles at Niles. Niles lost their first tilt to Benton Harbor by 16-9, but this defeat will mean little for the game is based upon traditional rivalry, so draw your own conclusions.

Girls Begin Practice for Basket Season

Girls' basketball has started in earnest. Practice for inter-class teams are held Wednesdays after school. The freshmen and sophomores occupy the gym until 4:45 when the juniors and seniors take possession until 5:45. The first practice found quite a few enthusiastic maidens out for this most popular of sports.

The G. A. A. met and discussed the changing of their constitution. The points for membership and also the amount necessary in order to remain in the association were considered by the members as being too low and were dealt with accordingly.

An initiation took place last Thursday and Friday upon the entering of Marjorie Hamilton, Annabelle Dalenberg, Wanda Plener, and Mary Donley into the association.

Attired in comical, if not pathetic, dress, carrying a corsage of onions and with G. A. A. sketched artistically in mercuriochrome across their foreheads, the initiates timidly approached each member and in a pleading voice were obliged to ask for the member's signature on a raw egg which every initiate was obliged to carry.

They were formally received into the association at a breakfast hike given in their honor (even though they had to do all the work) last Saturday morning at 7 o'clock.

Students and Faculty Study Failure Problem

All classes met Tuesday, Dec. 1, to receive their report cards. The seniors discussed the educational program broadcast over station WJR at Detroit. The juniors talked about the proposed all school party, while the sophomores who are supposed to set a good example for the freshmen, indulged in a talking contest.

Mr. Knoblauch informs us that the new method of handling report cards turned out to be quite successful. All cards, with the exception of fourteen, were handed in on time. The other fourteen were in by the following night.

The student council had adopted a rule that everyone must be passing all subjects to take part in inter-class activities.

The faculty members are now studying the failure problem.

Nurse Works On Prevention of Epidemics

Finishing up the cases of impetigo makes room for more work. Every year about this time, there is an epidemic of disease.

These diseases must be combatted from the start, in order to keep them out of school. They spread very rapidly and every cough and sneeze must be watched.

The nurse is starting this work now in the grades and will work up to the higher grades.

Boys Glee Club Practicing For Music Festival

The Boys' Glee Club has been practicing the past week for the coming Music Festival to be held at Watervliet, Dec. 9.

This festival will consist of boys' and girls' glee clubs and mixed choruses.

COACH AWARDS 1931 LETTERS TO FOOTBALL SQUAD

7 Men Lost by Graduation or Ineligibility, But Good Replacements, Says Bradfield.

The feature of last week's assembly program was the awarding of football letters to the 1931 football squad by Coach "Curly" Bradfield. Forty-seven boys received awards, with eighteen first string men receiving major letters and the remaining twenty-nine, reserve letters.

Coach Bradfield states that he will lose seven men by graduation or ineligibility due to years of playing. He also says that he will have a wealth of material back, which includes seven three year men. Next year promises to be one of the best for Buchanan in football. The entire first string back field will return with an able number of experienced line men to form a strong eleven.

Those receiving major awards were: J. Letcher, Montgomery, Cripe, D. Topash, Dumbolton, L. Donley, Flenar, M. Dreitzler (C), Lauren and Louie Morse, R. Ellis, Jesse, Eisenhart, T. Marrs, Rolan, W. Frame, Virgil, M. Aronson. Reserve awards, B. Bromley, Gladwish, Yurkovich, Watson, H. Donley, G. Meyers, L. Frame, Jr. Morris, D. Morris, Russel Proud, G.

These boys, under the direction of Mr. Robinson, have made great progress since the beginning of the year.

Goehring, Dalenberg, H. Smith, Roti, Blaney, Bachman, F. Riley, D. Topash, Reamer, Denno, D. Schram, Barbour, Wessendorf, DeNardo, E. Deeds, C. Blake.

Home Ec Girls Hostesses at P. M. Luncheons

Cafeteria started last Monday with Dorothy Briney as manager for the week.

The home economics ninth grade classes served luncheons after school on Wednesday and Thursday. The girls were divided up into groups and each group entertained one faculty member.

They chose their own menu and prepared it. They were marked on preparation, menu, how well it was conducted and how well they took their responsibilities.

Four faculty members were present each night. They were: Mrs. Walton, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Dunbar, Miss Hamlin, Miss Rockenbach, Miss Crawford, Mr. Knoblauch and Mr. Bradfield.

The girls were divided up into groups of four or five. Those serving on Wednesday were: Shirley Howard, Dorothy Boyer, Virginia Briney, Anna Yurkovic, Donna Belle Marrs, Frances DiGiacomo, Geneva Troutfetter, Lillias Peabcock, Catherine Beisel, Marguerite Babcock, Esther Marsh, Esther Arthurhult, Esther Sheppardson, Audrey Wilcox, Flossie Pritchett, Mary Jane Zerbe, Gertrude Bristol, Esther Haines, Ruth Schultz, Susie Hawkes and Maxine Young.

Hostesses on Thursday were: Leona Kool, Joyce Kohlman, Beatrice Neal, Ruth Strunk, Kathryn

Kinyon, Vera Bright, Donabelle DeWitt, Orlefa Young, Gladys Hall, Ardell Reamer, Neva Walters, Rose Bachman, Dorothy Bilger, Winifred Shaffer, Elouise Squier, Goldie Leiter, Margaret Richter, Alpha Grey, Opal Rough and Leona Wolkins.

School Slants

Mary Richter has taken up school teaching. At least it looks so because she's now transferred to the little school. We hope she comes back in one piece.

At last! They have finally come out and what a coming out! Yes, I mean the report cards. After six weeks of worry and work we can relax for a few hours anyway.

Confusion and even tears! "Hessey" and Alene were mates in misery last Friday when they lost some of their valuables. It's hard on your stockings when you have to crawl around on the floor looking under rocks— isn't it, girls?

We hope that some time "Viv" gets that test in Chemistry made up so she'll stop losing weight. She needs her pounds.

It kind of looks like the Reds are going to give the Blues a party. This is a contest between the students in selling basketball tickets. Everyone is hoping the other side loses and has a lot to eat at the party.

Latest fashions in hard wear: Mittens have at last gained entrance into the wardrobe of our modern girl. Maybe all the girls are buying mittens to keep warm, and then again maybe it's 'cause they cost only 39c.

If "Spot" Dempsey and "Stub" Boyce don't shave soon, something is going to be done about it.

She doesn't want a conventional Christmas gift!

This is no year for sentimental trinkets—your wife would be the last one to want the conventional thing. But how she'd appreciate this gift that makes each day so much easier for her. A new gas refrigerator—sparkling white in keeping with the season, as dependable as a complete lack of moving parts can make it, as convenient as ice cubes!

A tiny flame does all the work for you—silently, of course. The few cents a day that it costs to operate buy you year-round insurance against expensive food spoilage. It freezes desserts for you, chills salads, makes ice cubes, keeps fruit fresh and vegetables full-bodied—in short, removes the major portion of a housewife's worries.

Visit our displays—and one present's settled!

Mrs. Studebaker Sends Clipping From Old Paper

Mrs. Nancy Studebaker comes into the corner this week with a clipping from a Buchanan paper of the year 1866, detailing several items of news of people yet remembered by the older residents. Mrs. Studebaker states that the Miss Florence DeMont mentioned was her step-sister and also the daughter of Mary Howe, an aunt of R. W. Howe of Buchanan. Roe's new brick block is fast nearing completion. All of the rooms will be ready for occupancy next week, except the north store room.

On Tuesday-morning last, William Mead, father of Robert and Wm. Mead, was found dead in his bed. At the time of his death he was 84 years old and was living at the home of his son, Robert Mead, a few miles north of the village. The deceased was a member of the Baptist church of this place as long as the church had existed, but for some time had embraced the views of the Adventists. The funeral discourse was delivered at Union Hall by Rev. D.

To dispose of his loot a thief, who stole sample shoes in Chicago, may have to find 350 one-legged men, women and children as each of the 350 shoes he took was for the left foot.

I'll go to my tent,
I'll lie down in despair,
I'll paint me with black,
I'll sever my hair,
I'll sit on the shore,
Where the wild wind blows
And reveal to my God
Who tempests my woes.
My kindred have gone,
My children have fled,
To the hills of the dead.
They died not in hunger
Nor lingering decay.
They stole of the white man
Who swept them away.

Limit Real Estate Taxes

The man and his family who live in a home of their own with no fear of taxes higher than they can pay, will be patriotic and will fight for his home and his country to the last ditch. Tax him higher than he can pay and his patriotism will degenerate which is a greater danger to his country than all the anarchistic propaganda that will come to this country from across the sea.

The heavy burden of taxation should be taken off, real estate, cutting the levy down to not over $1 on the hundred dollars valuation. The balance of tax money should come from incomes. This should be fixed by a 19th amendment to our constitution. If taxes were reasonable there would not be so many tax evaders. We seem to be overrun with small office holders that we could get along without. We need to remedy our own mismanagement instead of spreading our advice all over the world, often where it is not wanted.—CHAS. E. WYMAN, Washington Co., Ind.
