

BUSINESS MEN ENLIST IN TAX DRIVE

Open Meeting for Tax Amendment at Wagner Hall Fri. Night

Now Here's the Proposition

GREETINGS
Bi Haws

When you see a guy you know, Speak right up and say, "hello."
Say it like you meant it.
Needn't pound him on the back Till you make his coat tails crack And you've broke—er bent it.

Never like to hear folks say HOW-de-do—you know the way, Like they meant to sing it.
Mebbe they just act a part And air all right in their heart, But it doesn't ring it.

Make them think you air their friend.
And who knows? before the end Mebbe you might be it.
Ain't no reason to be blue If they fail to notice you—Don't pretend to see it.

Who can tell? It might, some day, Mean some business come your way.
Quicker a fifty penny;
But if you don't make a cent
It will still be words well spent, It won't hurt you any.

Greeley Was Right
Says Uncle Bert
"Horace Greeley was right when he said: 'The darkest hour in a man's life is the day he makes a dollar without earning it.'" said Uncle Bert Worthington, the dean of local attorneys. "That is the big cause of the depression we are going through. Men thought of what they were getting and forgot the reciprocal obligation."

The best gauge of a feller's politeness is just how polite he is to folks he don't have to be polite to.
We're havin' a purty mild winter in town.

The latest dope on the bankin' situation is that there is goin' to be 67 new banks started in town before spring—snow banks.

Mebbe good January thaw that would take some the frost out of the notes would help the bankin' situation.

But any of you fellers that's gettin' home sick for a good old-fashioned blizzard don't need to worry. Michigan never cheated anyone out of their winter yet.

One the saddest things about a depression is that it makes it so much harder to git by on yer personality.

Mebbe the jazz age is really over, ez some of these social philosophers been tellin' us, an we're all goin' to go moral again, but if so they'll still never hear of an anmammas who ain't heard about it yet.

After all we sometimes wonder if the good Lord don't have a purty hard time judgin' between the man who is makin' a good livin' out of upliftin' the world and the other man who makes by re-frainin' from it. I mighta been better man myself if somebody'd jist thought to pay me a salary fer it.

Back in the twenties they used to say it took three generations or one good guess in the stock market to make a gentleman, but since then one poor guess has made a lot of bums.

We don't understand why Buchanan don't have some entries for the county road board, unless it is that we ain't so hard up fer jobs ez they are in other parts of the county.

They wasn't nothing that I seen in the paper about it but they say the ex-road board sent Harry Boyce a beautiful hoop and ast him to roll it. Harve Bristol got a couple of ties from the Michigan Central railway. Not silkast. An' Matt Keeling and Frank Sanders got some bonded stuff from the Maryland Fidelity & Deposit Company.

R. M. Roster of Bolton, Mo., who had 30 separate tickets against his automobile, has the record for traffic violation fines.

TO ORGANIZE SENTIMENT FOR LIMIT ON LEVY

Meeting Begins at 8 p. m.; All Interested in Lower Taxes Invited.

Taxpayers of this vicinity are invited to attend an open meeting at the Wagner Grange Friday evening, beginning at 8 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the proposed tax limit amendment to the state constitution, proposed and sponsored by the Michigan Farmer.

The meeting will be in charge of Ira Neiswender, who has been appointed by the Michigan Farmer to organize sentiment in Buchanan township. Mr. Neiswender is circulating petitions favoring the amendment, which is similar to the Ohio tax limit law which has been in successful operation for several years.

The proposed amendment reads: Section 21. The total amount of taxes assessed against property for all purposes in any one year shall not exceed one and one-half per cent of the assessed valuation of said property, except taxes levied for the payment of interest and principal on obligations heretofore incurred, which sums shall be separately assessed in all cases; PROVIDED, that this limitation may be increased for a period of not to exceed five years at any one time, to not more than a total of five per cent of the assessed valuation, by a two-thirds vote of the electors of any assessing district, or when provided for by the charter of a municipal corporation; PROVIDED FURTHER, that this limitation shall not apply to taxes levied in the year 1932.

Record, 65 Years Old, Wants to Hear From Oldest Sub.

The Berrien County Record enters into the 65th year of its existence with this issue and carries on in agreement with the famed pronouncement of Grandfather Squeers:
"He said as he rounded his three score and ten,
I've the trick of it now and kin do it again."

It is not known whether there are any subscribers on the list who have taken the paper throughout that entire period, but one least, Mrs. Mary Jane Mitchell of Detroit Street, has had it in her home for 58 years. If there is anyone who has subscribed for a longer period the Record would like to hear of it.

Mrs. Mitchell enjoyed a family reunion at her home during the holiday season, the following children and their families attending: Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, Portage Prairie; Mrs. W. R. Stevens, St.
Joseph; Mrs. Bert Mitchell, Mrs. R.
S. Beardsley, Chicago; Mrs. Nellie Freeburn, South Bend.

Views of the News

Manners in Decline That there has been for some years past a steady decline in the practice of good manners is, unhappily, indisputable. Carelessness and inconsiderateness in speech and in personal habits have become all too common, not among the younger generation alone by any means, but also on the part of their elders.
It is not easy to find satisfactory reasons for such changes as these, or to fix upon the cause which would explain why it is that distinction and correctness of speech, of appearance and of manner are no longer esteemed as they once were. Uncertainty for standards of excellence and over-concern for the quick satisfaction of one's own immediate personal conveniences and desires have combined to undermine that very desirable respect for age, for accomplishment, for excellence and for high standards which has long marked, and should always mark, the cultivated gentleman.

Debt Cancellation
I have never advocated the cancellation of the war debt. But I have advocated in public that if ever a nation is entitled to get its money back, the United States was entitled to get its war debts back.
We went into the war and we did our full share, God knows! We asked for none of the spoils and we got what we asked for—none.
It seemed to me that in plain justice, in ethics, we have not a thing to apologize for in saying we want our debts paid, for which we did our full share. But I do not think that it is a matter of jus-

First Automobile Accident of '32 at River Portage

The first automobile accident of 1932 within the city limits occured New Year's morning at the intersection of River and Portage Streets, when Lester Crothers of Victory Street, attempted to cut in front of Charles Lyddick.
Crothers was driving south on Portage and attempted to continue on without pausing at the intersection with River street. He drove immediately into the path of Lyddick, who was coming into town.
Lyddick's Buick incurred a broken bumper and damaged spring and steering rod. Crothers' Ford incured two damaged fenders and one smashed running board.

CRIME WANES IN BUCHANAN IN PAST YEAR

Arrests in City Decrease from 97 in 1930 to 90 in 1931.

Crime as indicated by the number of arrests, declined in the city of Buchanan during the past year, according to a report submitted by Chief of Police Ed Mitchell, indicating that there were 90 arrests during the past year as compared with 97 in 1930.

The record of 1931 would have been even better had not the mis-deed of peddling bills increased. Twenty were held in the city for bill peddling in the past year as compared with 6 in 1930. Crimes resulting from liquor also increased in the past year, there being 8 arrested for drunken driving and 16 for intoxication during 1931 as compared with 6 for drunken driving and 14 for intoxication in 1930.
The detailed report for the two years is:

	1930	1931
Intoxication	14	16
Runken Driving	6	8
Running Stop Signs	26	4
Non-support	2	4
Breaking and entering	2	2

Former Pastor of Evangelical Church Here, is Honored

Prof. E. D. Riebel, head of the department of Religious Education of the Evangelical Seminary in Naperville, Ill., was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree by the University of Chicago at its fall convocation, Dec. 22. His study in the field of Practical Theology included a thesis on "The History of Religious Education in the Evangelical Church." This will be published in book form soon.

ing before Senate Finance Committee.

It is true that upon the investing public has fallen the brunt of

Hollywood Fears, So Great Dam Will Be Junked

Because the people of Hollywood have been under mental pressure and fear that some day they may be washed off, the costly Mulholland dam and the beautiful lake formed by it will be junked. The city engineering advisory board suggested abandonment, not on account of structural weakness, but for psychological reasons, to allay apprehension of the people living below it.

Lora Decker is Painfully Hurt By Falling Tree

Lora Decker was injured last week when he was struck by a falling tree while cutting wood at the E. B. Clark farm. The tree struck him a glancing blow on the head and shoulder, knocking him down. His worst injury, however, was a cut from the blade of the saw, which was released from the tree and flew and struck his arm. It was necessary to take several stitches.

Green Onions, Dandelions Greet Coming of 1931

The year 1930 may have been a year of depression but in the way of mild weather he left something for his successor to shoot at.
The long expected winter seems about to materialize as the Record goes to press, after an unprecedented mild early winter. On New Year's Day Clayton Spaulding reported that he had fresh green onions from his garden on his table.
On the same day it was possible to find late blooming dandelions.
Subscribers reported robins. Maple seeds were found on the sidewalk the day after New Years, with sprouts a half inch long. There has been only one snow so far and that of only 2 1/2 inches. There has been no ice frozen yet that has not melted within 24 hours.

M. S. C. Arranges Feature Program For Farmers' Week

East Lansing, Jan. 6. To avoid again disappointing thousands of visitors, two feature programs on successive nights, Feb. 3 and 4, during Farmers' Week, have been arranged by the Michigan State College program committee which hopes that the people who attend Wednesday night's entertainment will not attempt to go Thursday night also.

A band concert, beginning at 6:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, will be given each night by the College Cadet Band. The band enjoys the reputation of being one of the best in American colleges. Other features which will be the same each night are a livestock parade, an act by a dog trained to handle livestock, the exhibition of a high school horse, a sheep shearing contest, and a milkling contest, in which college girls will attempt to persuade cows that experts are milking them.

Pulling contests between some of the best teams of horses some of the best teams of horses in the country will be held each night, but the heavy teams are scheduled one night and the lightweight horses for the next.
Exhibitions by students in the athletic and military departments will vary each night. The speakers will change each night and different vocal music will be provided for each program.

29'S WIN AND LOSE IN CHARITY DOUBLE HEADER

Sum of $30.50 is Netted for Welfare Association Fund.

The sum of $30.50 was realized for the Buchanan Welfare Fund as a result of the charity game held at the high school gymnasium on New Year's night, with local and Chicago teams featuring.

In the opening game the 29's fell before the onslaught of the Western State All-Stars, composed largely of their former schoolmates, by the score of 18-14.

In the second game the 29's defeated the Chicago Nazarenes 21-14.

On the following Sunday afternoon the 29's lost to the Reliable Dairy quintet of South Bend at the Army in that city, 25-24 in an overtime session. Pierce was high point man with 10 points.

Tuesday evening the 29's defeated the Baroda Independents on the latter's floor 49-16. Knight scored high with 14 points, Squier coming second with 10 points, and Pierce and Boyce tying for third with 8 points each.

Dept. of State To Handle Greater No. Amendments

The compiling division of the Department of State, is making preparations for the handling of a far greater number of proposed constitutional amendments and referendums in 1932 than is usually found on the ballot in a presidential election.

By the filing of the requisite number of signatures, the oleomargarine tax bill, passed by the 1931 legislature, has been held in abeyance until the voters have an opportunity of expressing themselves next November.

Two petitions containing 5,000 and 15,000 signatures have already been filed with the department calling for changes in the state's prohibition laws, and it is understood that additional signatures will be filed within the near future. Voters will probably be given the opportunity to pass on various constitutional amendments regarding taxation at the next election.

To place a proposed constitutional amendment on the ballot in November, 1932, 35,069 signatures are needed. To initiate legislation at the next session of the legislature, the names of 68,071 voters must be signed to petitions while a referendum on an existing law requires 42,545 names.

Traffic Sign Needed at 4th and Portage Sts.

Residents of the vicinity of the intersection of Portage and Fourth and River streets have been complaining of the need of a danger sign of some sort at that place.
There has been three accidents there recently.

Esther M. Winch Passes Away in Amarillo, Texas

F. R. Montague has received word of the death of his aunt, Esther Montague Winch, who passed away Jan. 1, at the home of her son, Will Winch, in Amarillo, Texas, as the result of a broken hip incurred Dec. 29. Mrs.
Winch was 87 years old. She was born and reared near Buchanan, her girlhood home being the farm now owned by E. W. Clark and tenanted by E. O. Sult, on Moccasin bluff. She left Buchanan in young womanhood but for many years she returned here regularly to spend part of the summers. She had been a frequent contributor to the Record in the past few years, and her writings were widely read and enjoyed. Her well-written and quaintly-philosophic comments will be sadly missed by many readers of this paper, old and young.

She had been a widow for many years and is survived only by her son, Will Winch. The funeral was held in Kansas City, where she had lived many years.

or Michigan 1931 plates until March 1, include Ohio, Illinois, New York,

HOTEL REX IS PURCHASED BY COLOMA COUPLE

J. F. Vile Sells Local Hostelry After Ten Years in Business Here.

J. F. Vile, who has conducted the Hotel Rex here for the past ten years, has sold the business to Mr. and Mrs. P. McFarlin, of Co-loma, who took possession Tuesday.

The new owners have had extended experience in the west, having conducted a hotel at Santa Rita, N. Mex., for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Quinn will be associated with them. Mrs.
Quinn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McFarlin. The Quinns arrived recently from Superior, Wyo., where Mr. Quinn had been an auditor in the employ of the Ideal Coal Company.

The Hotel Rex is a modern and well-arranged hotel building with 23 guest rooms, well located for business. Mr. and Mrs. McFarlin state that they plan to conduct a modern hotel enterprise worthy of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Vile will remain for the present in their Front Street home and have not fully determined their plans for the future.

Joe Baker Falls For South Carolina Brand of Checkers

The undisputed reign of Mr. Joe Baker as checker king of Buchanan remained no longer undisputed, last week, so we understand. Mr.
Baker had been chasing the local boys around the board until they were getting to it any more, but last week there was a boy from down North Carolina who who dropped in and asked if that was anybody around heath that could play a right smart game of checkers, and some of the boys who were a little sore under the hide, troited him down to the City Service Filling Station, where the big tournament is in progress and managed to get the board between him and Baker. They say he made one move and Baker made one move and then they looked at each other, and the North Carolina boy got up and walked around the room several times and took several long breaths and Joe tightened up his belt several holes.

Then they went at it and after nearly going to the North Carolina boy, had four and Joe three, with two draws. But then Mr. Thomas Blackburn had to go home to Henderson, N. C., and left Joe to lord it again, but the boys say he has been a little easier to live around since. Joe says that if he hadn't been playing pushovers until he got off his game he would have sent to North Carolina minus his hide.

Max Stitt and Charlotte Rippey Wedded Nov. 14

Charlotte Rippey which took nounced. The Rev. Thomas Rice, emony using the impressive ring service. Howard Lentz played appropriate selections on the organ during the service. Among the friends present were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson of the Nelson Transfer Co., of Buchanan.

GEORGE FRIDAY OFFERS COUNTY WIDE PROGRAM

Taxpayers League to Wait on Co. Supervisors to Lower Highway Costs.

Co-operation of Buchanan business men in hammering down tax costs was enlisted by George Friday, a member of the taxpayers organization working to that end, after an address by Mr. Friday before the Luncheon Club, which voted to send a delegation to a session of the county board of supervisors at which the above organization is to submit a definite proposal to lower road costs.

The proposal as outlined by Mr.
Friday is as follows: the appointment of a county road board composed of three heavy taxpayers, interested in keeping down costs, who will draw a nominal fixed salary, $100 suggested per year; to hire one competent road man to act as a highway maintenance superintendent who will be the only salaries man connected with the department. This organization to replace the former county road board of three men who were on the payroll practically all the time, with a highway engineer, clerk and one or two other office employees and an advisory board of seven supervisors who made more or less heavy inroad on the county treasury in their per diem and expenses.

Friday stated that 75 per cent of the tax costs in Berrien County went to road and educational expense. In Buchanan, on account of special Covert road assessments which are spread over the city, the road and school costs comprise 81 per cent of the burden.

Friday presented charts indicating comparative rises in costs during the twenty years from 1910 to 1930, and the declines in wages during the past two years. The statewide wages rose 236 per cent in the twenty year period, he stated, but have declined until they are now 175 per cent of what they were at peak. Wages of people in government employ, he stated, increased approximately 300 per cent during that period and have since declined but little.

He cited the salary paid the Circuit Judge, which was $2,500 in 1910 and is now $9,000, of which the county pays $4,000 and the state $5,000. The state has recently increased its quota to $6, 000, to become effective at the end of the present terms, making the total salary $10,000 at that time.

Average wages of teachers in Michigan were $512 in 1910 he stated, and now $1,631. (It is assumed that he included the wages of all teachers, from rural teachers to administrative heads of city schools. The average in local schools according to Supr. Stark is $1,409 or $222 below the state average.)

Rural mail carriers, he stated, drew $600 per year in 1910 and $1, 600 with $300 allowance for use of car at present.

Friday stated that the remuneration of government employees must be scaled down in proportion to the cuts taken by privately employed workers, who are paying the bulk of taxes.

PROGRESS OF CLASS ROOMS DURING WEEK

Dorothy Holmes Wins Typing Award; Home Ec. Classes Make Woolen Dresses.

Bookkeeping class will begin work on the Goodwin Practice Set on Wednesday. Much preliminary work has been done on the various principles involved, such as journalizing, posting, making necessary statements, balance sheets, the working sheet, depreciation, and insurance.

The shorthand class will submit to an intense review over word signs before taking up a new phase of the subject.

Dorothy Holmes has been awarded a gold Competent Typists pin by the Gregg Publishing Co. Her speed was 69 words per minute for 10 minutes on material sent out by the company.

English Dept.
The upper six grades are having review of grammar material in preparation for the standardized tests to be given sometime in January.

Students of the journalism class have been studying the printer's copy and already have learned some newspaper terms. Also they have been studying Horace Greeley and the New York Tribune.

Mr. Hyink

This week the students of the algebra classes have been studying types of factoring. They have also studied substitution in mathematical formulas.

The geometry classes have been busy studying circles.

Members of the advanced algebra class are learning the use of logarithms.

Chemistry
The chemistry classes of the high school got holiday fever just before Christmas, and some of the students finished their experiments early. Mr. Moore, who won't permit loafing, made them work cleaning out the laboratory.

Home Economics Dept.

Effie May Price is manager of the cafeteria this week. Good of exams! Always something to worry about, and there will be plenty of worrying done.
The old cry of "teacher doesn't like me, I never can get any good marks," is out. The trouble is that often no studying is done, so why should there be good marks? Find a new alibi. However, the faculty will place a box wherein all students can park their alibis upon entering school for the examinations. These alibis will be gently and oh, so very carefully, carried out to the abode of Mr. Flenar, and after proper rites for the dead, will be cremated.

There are members of every class who are either failing or about to do so. Look up your marks, turn over a new leaf, and you may get through.

Also remember to pay your library fines this week. If you can't afford to pay the fine, don't keep the book out so long.

Editorial

Everybody has recuperated from the holidays and New Year's. All the "a good time was had by all," the sorrow comes swift and soon. Final examinations come in two weeks, the 21 and 22. Good of exams! Always something to worry about, and there will be plenty of worrying done.

The old cry of "teacher doesn't like me, I never can get any good marks," is out. The trouble is that often no studying is done, so why should there be good marks? Find a new alibi. However, the faculty will place a box wherein all students can park their alibis upon entering school for the examinations. These alibis will be gently and oh, so very carefully, carried out to the abode of Mr. Flenar, and after proper rites for the dead, will be cremated.

There are members of every class who are either failing or about to do so. Look up your marks, turn over a new leaf, and you may get through.

School Slants

Tired and sleepy after the long vacation, the students dragged themselves back to get into routine again.

Everybody was displaying his Christmas gifts and bragging about the resolutions which he really intends to keep.

We are happy to welcome Mrs. Dunbar and Margaret Koons back again. They have both been ill for some time.

We notice that several of the prominent maidens are sporting new permanents—Christmas presents from Dad probably.

We've been hearing some exciting stories about New Year's Eve.

We can't help but notice what a "chesty" bunch of fellows we have. We never realized it until they burst forth in all their glory with their new football sweaters. Not only did the football fellows spring something new, but "Spot" has a brand new mustache.

Faculty Facts

Miss Rockenbach failed to stay in town for the holidays, going to Lake Zurich and to Chicago.

Just the opposite of Miss Rockenbach, Mr. Miller stayed at home and enjoyed a good old-fashioned horseback ride.

Here's a mystery! When Miss Chandler was asked, "What happened to you during the vacation?" she replied, "What didn't?" The worst part of it is that she won't explain herself.

Mrs. Whitman went to Ionia to visit her brother, Charles Shean, who is warden of the state reformatory there. Mrs. Anna Logan accompanied her home.

Defying all rules of the diet seems to have been the manner in which Miss Shriver spent her vacation.

Bad luck seems to have pursued Mr. Jewell, for on one of his trips to Detroit he ran out of gas, and as it was nearly midnight he experienced considerable difficulty in securing fuel.

Mr. Moore went to Freemont to visit his parents and aided the country in clambering out of this period of depression by spending all his money. Cutting wood apparently occupied the rest of Mr. Moore's time.

"I went home and slept, and slept and slept and slept," Miss Skeels answered when questioned about her vacation.

Mr. Hyink apparently didn't overdo the holidays. A visit to Holland to see Mrs. Dena Hyink, his mother, took up some of the time.

"I went to Chicago and celebrated in a manner worthy of a member of the Buchanan faculty," Miss Crawford announced when questioned.

A trip to Holland and one to South Haven along with considerable study took up Mr. Knoblauch's vacation.

Boys' Glee Club

To Stage Musical Show Friday Eve.

Because of the musical show to be staged in the auditorium Friday afternoon, the Boys' Glee Club has been in a frenzy of activity the past week.

No specific details of the show can be given yet, but it can be said that it holds innumerable surprises and laughs.

The introductory song was written by Mr. Robinson. This, in itself, is one of the hits of the show.

There has been no definite costume selected for the boys yet, but whatever it is, it will be something humorous and snappy.

A small ensemble chosen from the high school orchestra will accompany the glee club. Regular band and orchestra rehearsals have been eliminated for the week in order to give more time to the preparation for the show.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

A while back an acquaintance approached us with a clipping telling of the quaint old Chinese custom of chopping off banker's heads in cases where their banks ceased to remain solvent. It might be a good thing to try it in this country, he thought. Cut off their heads and let the blood drip all over the front page of the newspapers. It might mean less banks closed.

There is nothing that makes a newspaper more read—not to say "red"—than gouts of gore all over the front page, and as far as the consuming public goes it might as well be banker's blood as anybody else's. Preferably so, perhaps.

But, instead we are going to quote from an article by B. C. Forbes, business and financial expert to the following effect:

Is it fair to allege that every business organization which has had to cut or suspend dividends, every bank which has had to close, every enterprise whose securities have shriveled frightfully in market value, have been mismanaged?

Your answer may be "yes," mine is "no."

Take, first, the several thousand banks which have had to suspend operations during the past two years. There has been more complaint about bank management than about mismanagement in any other direction.

Of course, there have been many instances of bad judgment—that cannot be denied.

But it is far from the truth that every bank which has suffered embarrassment was mismanaged.

Suppose all over the country there had been a tidal wave of liquidation by banks, especially small banks, ever since the slump.

The dumping on the market of all collateral held against loans which became under-margined would have precipitated an overwhelming number of business failures and caused wreck and ruin in countless communities.

It may be all very well for New York, Chicago and other metropolitan banks to sell out their borrowers, because loans made by such banks were usually well secured.

But outside of our large cities banking is necessarily conducted on a somewhat different basis. For one thing, the average borrower is not usually in a position to put up bonds or stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Commercial credit accommodation is extended on a more personal basis.

How could country bankers be expected to foresee how far things would go in the wrong direction throughout this continent and throughout the world?

Are business executives, country bankers and others who exercised patience and leniency to be branded as wholly unfit for their jobs simply because the business recession became world-wide and descended to totally unexpected depths?

Frankly, I would rather be among those who strove heroically to keep things going on an even keel—at what turned out to be heavy cost—than among those who, taking advantage of the dire misfortunes of others, waxed rich by selling stocks short on an unconscionable scale.

Let's be tolerant rather than censorious in our judgment of those who conscientiously sought to do their best, but found the unprecedentedly ruinous conditions too much for them.

Old Timers Exchange Holiday

Greetings in Their Corner

Here is hoping that 1932 will treat us all a little better. Perhaps if we all turn "Science" and "hold the thought" that it is getting better times, it may accomplish something in that line, too. I am for it, and am holding tight to "the thought" for one, and if all the old timers will get busy thinking right, it will be sure to get some one else thinking right and sooner or later it will have its effect.

Well, I had a very pleasant message from Cedar Rapids, Ia, this afternoon. A friend of mine has been out there for a trip and he called on our old friend, John Holmes, yesterday and had the good luck to find him at home. There was about four inches of snow on the ground and so he was not riding his "bike" nor his "motor" either, but was at home and my friend told me so much and so many really nice things about our friend John, and his home and surroundings, that I feel that I will have to take a run out there some time before so very long, and look things over for myself.

My friend tells me that John is counting the months and the days, until he will be "80 years old." It doesn't seem possible that he is only 80, for it seems to me that he was a "nice old fellow" when I was still a mere kid, and I am way past the half way mark, myself. Well, John, when you get to be eighty, you will begin to be able to tell us all things that can be depended upon. And from all accounts, you will live a good long time after that point. My friend tells me that John looks to be "possibly sixty," but he certainly is not any more," but he has grown a full beard, and that covers a multitude of "age," but you should worry. So long as you can get away with it, more power to you.

Mr. Holmes also sent word to me that it was an insult to him and his "motor car" to call it a "motorcycle." All right, John, I accept the correction and apologize, but it looks just like a lot of other things I have seen that were called by that name and so I took the liberty of classing it there also. I have read the plans and specifications of your "Neracar," that you sent me, and am wondering where they got that name, unless it was meant to be "nearly a car" and their pencil slipped. Ha. Ha. Well, anyway, it looks like a nice gentle old thing and I hope it doesn't ever "buck" with you. I have seen that same kind of horns on some sort of a four-footed animal, back home, and they sometimes knew how to "buck."

Well, the new year is starting off better for me, and I sort of feel that Mr. Hoover will be re-elected and things will right themselves and everyone will be happy again before so very long. I can not see, for the life of me, how anyone that is looking for a chance to make a "record" for himself, would want to be president at this particular time. I will be glad if they will get rid of the 13. Amendment before I pass away. I don't use the stuff, at all, but it seems to me that about ninety per cent of this hard luck of ours is directly accountable from that source. It's a law and must be enforced, but it can't be done, and so there you are. It's just another case of "one of those things."

OLD TIMER.

"Ear-Marked" Gold
In international trade gold must be shipped when the merchants of one country owe a large difference to those of another country; that is, when the trade account does not balance. It is dangerous to ship gold, because ships sink sometimes. Instead of making actual shipments, especially when the balance is expected to swing back again before long, gold is ear marked. That means, although it is not actually shipped, it is placed in a vault and marked as belonging to certain owners abroad.

Wolverine, Private Car Game Dept. May Be Discarded

Lansing, Jan. 6. After traveling more than a quarter of a million of miles over Michigan railroads while carrying unnumbered millions of fish for even the most isolated lakes and streams, the Wolverine, the railway car owned by the Department of Conservation, is expected to be discarded within the next two or three years. Good roads and roads to places inaccessible to the railroads, and automobiles equipped to move large numbers of fish rapidly and safely have gradually taken away most of the function of the Wolverine and this year it has been used only to distribute bass to the upper peninsula and to carry pike-perch from the Bay City station.

Trout, perch and other species propagated by the state are being moved by truck with a resulting lower mortality rate. The Wolverine was purchased by the Michigan Fish Commission office in 1914 and at one time was used almost exclusively for moving fish from stations to places where they were to be planted. At that time hatchery fish were delivered to railroad stations where they were taken by those who had applied for them and who were ready to plant them.

Today fish are planted chiefly by hatchery crews or by Conservation officers. It is possible for trucks today to load at a hatchery and unload at a river bank or lake shore. Development of more modern tanks for trucks has again improved the situation.

It is considered probable by the Fish Division within the next two or three years trucks will entirely replace the railroad car.

The Wolverine has always been moved about the state without cost to the Department of Conservation, railways adding it to the trains and pulling it free of any charge.

Closed Season to All Trout Spawns is not Feasible

Lansing, Jan. 6. Since the time of fish spawning is influenced by water temperatures and since the water temperatures in the Great Lakes adjoining Michigan vary greatly it is obviously impossible to maintain closed seasons on the same dates for all of the lakes if fish are to be protected during the spawning and pre-spawning seasons. This is the answer being given by the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation to commercial fishermen along the Lake Michigan shore when asked the reason for the eight days longer closed commercial fishing season on that lake.

Records of spawn-taking operations reveal that there are decided differences in the time when fish spawn in the vast areas comprising the Michigan waters of the Great Lakes, according to the Fish Division. The spawning season in Lake Superior is practically completed before it has begun in Lake Michigan, also the season in Lake Huron is somewhat later than in Lake Superior, the Fish Division said.

"A uniform closed season is therefore obviously unfair if adequate protection is to be provided for the fish in each lake and at the same time minimize the interruption of the fishing."

The time of spawning is much influenced by water temperatures, which are in turn affected by depth and latitude. In Lake Michigan trout occur throughout its entire length and breadth, while in Lake Huron they are principally confined to the northern part, and in Lake Superior due to its position, there is not the corresponding range in latitude.
