SPENT ENTIRE LIFE IN NEWS WORK IN COUNTY

Published Papers in Niles, Buchanan, Berrien Springs and New Buffalo.

Thomas J. Tormey, former publisher of the Berrien County Record, and one of the best known members of the Fourth Estate in Southwestern Michigan, died suddenly at his home in Niles Saturday afternoon as the result of a heart collapse after an illness of two days.

Tormey left a host of friends in Buchanan as the result of his seven years residence here, many of whom attended his funeral at the Rutherford Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Sunday. He was known as an able newspaper man with an aggressive editorial policy that challenged the respect of friend and foe alike.

He was born in Niles, July 22, 1875, and had been engaged in newspaper work within the county throughout his life. He started as a reporter on the Niles Star as a lad of 15 years. At the age of 21 he was the editor on the Niles Daily Sun. On Dec. 3, 1909, he came to Buchanan and took charge of the Berrien County Record, merging with that paper the Buchanan Argus and the Gallen Advocate. He sold his interests here in 1916 to Glenn Easton and returned to Niles, where he bought the Daily Sun and later merged that publication with the Star, conducted by Fred Cook. The two men were associated in the publication of the Niles Star-Sun until 1924, when they sold to F. J. Flynn. In 1925 he took over the Berrien Springs Era, combining it with the Eau Claire Journal, and selling them the next year. For a short time he was in charge of the New Buffalo News.

Since that time he has engaged in correspondence with outside city papers and in real estate business with Mayor Fred Cook. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Alta Wright Tormey; by two sons, Richard Tormey, publisher of the Niles Drum, and Robert L. Tormey, a student in the Niles high school; by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Minnie Cannata, Mrs. John Jauch and Luke Tormey, all of Niles.

Choir to Render Negro Spirituals from Famous Broadway Stage Sensation.

The Hills Corners Christian church, located 1-2 mile east of Glendora, will hold its monthly community night service, Sunday evening, Jan. 24, at which time the pastor, Rev. Ernest L. Harold, will give an interesting and reading of the play that has created such a sensation in New York and Chicago, "The Green Pastures."

He will be assisted by members of the choir and quartet of the church, who will sing a group of negro spirituals, thus helping to create the proper atmosphere for the interpretation of the play. The spirituals, which will be sung, are as follows: "Dese Bones Gwine Rise Again," "Take Your Burden to De Lawd," "Every Time I Feel Thy Spirit," "I Want to be Ready," "Couldn't Hear No Body Pray," "Massa Deed," "Climb Up, Ye Chillum, Climb," "Who Did?" "Lord, I Want to be a Christian," "I've been Listning," "De Love Come A-Trickling Down."

"The Green Pastures," by Marc Connelly, was the 1930 Pulitzer prize play and has won the commendation of thousands of dramatists, clergymen and people generally. Persons who have witnessed a performance of the play acknowledge a spiritual experience seldom encountered. "The Green Pastures," was suggested to its author by Roark Bradford's Southern Sketches, "Ol' Man Adam and His Chillum." It is an attempt to present certain aspects of the religious life of the negroes in the deep south, who have adapted the contents of the Bible to their everyday lives.

An evidence of the play's significance and popularity is seen in the long runs that it has in both New York and Chicago. It is given by an entire negro cast, with 59 speaking parts, and with more than 100 in the chorus. The public is cordially invited to Hills Corners Sunday night at 7:30 to hear Mr. Harold's interpretation of "The Green Pastures," and to enjoy the fellowship of the Hills Corners folk.

MRS. ROTI ROTI FOUND A PANSY IN FRONT YARD

And Ralph DeNardo Installed a New Fountain for Warm Weather Trade—And Then It Snowed.

"Spring must be just around the corner, necking with prosperity," mused Mr. Ralph DeNardo as he sniffed the balmy air while walking down town last week with his top coat carried jauntily over one arm and poking at the dandelions with his cane. "The way things look I better get ready for all these soda fountain cowboys who are going to hit the parlor all at once one of these days."

"Good morning, Mrs. Roti Roti, what's that a pansy? Land sakes and in January too. Did you ever see such a winter. Put it in my buttonhole, will you? Boy, ain't that swell. Got to hurry on down and get my new fountain installed before the hot weather rush."

"Morning, Mr. Brodrick, a fine morning ain't it? What's that? Sixty-two in the shade on your thermometer Friday? And on Jan. 15! Wouldn't that just cook you? I wonder why they held up my order on that soda fountain so long. Now I'm going to miss some of the summer tourist trade. "You should see my new soda fountain—"

Many of the older residents will be interested in learning of the death of the widow of Dr. Burton Myers, who practiced in Buchanan a half century ago. Dr. Myers at that time had his office in the Opera House block, over the present location of the Boardman store. He built the house at the corner of Main and Third streets now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rehm and later lived where Mrs. Sam Smith now lives, at Oak and Roe street. Credited With Initiating Move Which Uncovered Road Graft.

Members of the Luncheon club paid a tribute to the work of their fellow-member, Harry Boyce, at the meeting Tuesday by a resolution presented by D. L. Boardman in appreciation of his part in initiating the county road board investigation, whose final chapters are now being written. The resolution read: WHEREAS there has been a Grand Jury investigation in Berrien County of the Road Commission and the expenditure of public funds in connection therewith, and

WHEREAS the said investigation was sponsored and brought about by the untiring, unselfish, and diligent work of Harry Boyce, a member of this body, whose membership in this club is an honor to our organization. NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Luncheon club give and bestow upon Harry Boyce a vote of thanks for the services rendered by him to this County and community, as a supervisor and public official.

Buchanan Luncheon Club.

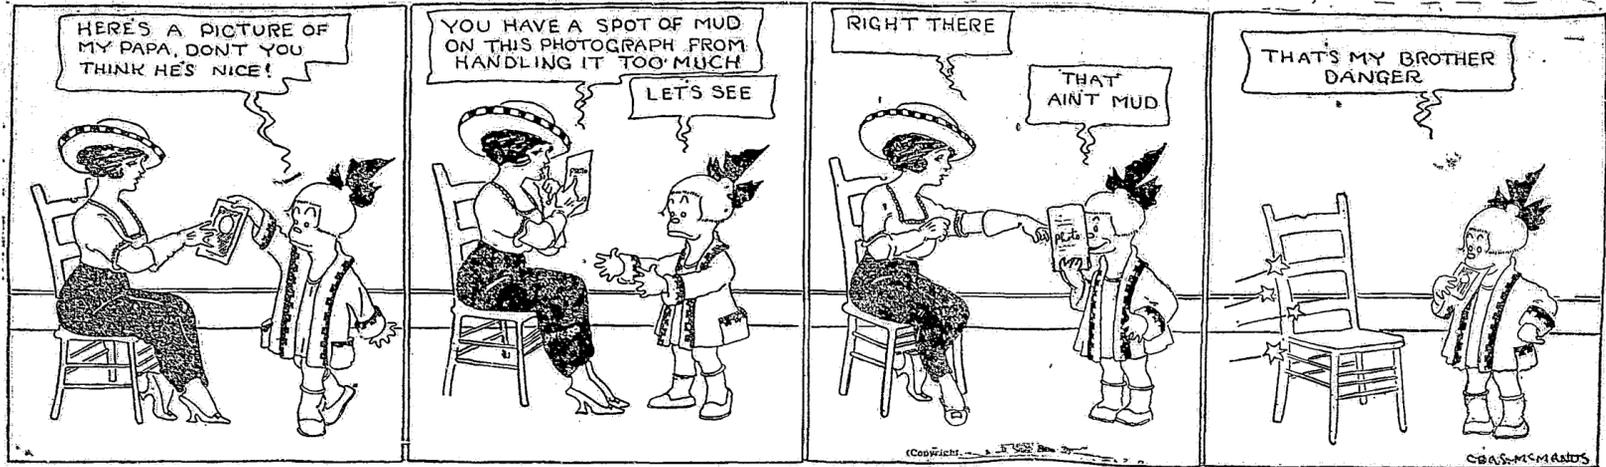

After the resolution had been read it was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

The step in the investigation which has made Boyce the leading citizen of Berrien County at the present time was a protest registered by him before the October meeting of the Board of Superintendents. Boyce stated that he had been assured before the contract for the construction of the Niles-Buchanan road was let that bids were to specify a concrete base, on the type of the Walton Road construction through Buchanan. He was ill at the time of the letting of the bids and learned through press reports that a stone base had been specified. Later he talked with representatives of the company which built the new US-31 highway from Niles to the State Line, who assured him that they would have been glad to get the contract to build a concrete base road at $20,000 to $30,000 less than the $99,000 figure at which it had been awarded to the Lang Construction Company.

He carried the matter to the County Road Board, who gave him no satisfaction. He then entered into communication with the state attorney general's office, which detailed a special representative to investigate. The representative came to the county and worked with Boyce several days, when enough information was secured in regard to off-color transactions by the board in the letting of contracts and purchase of materials over the past three years to warrant a grand jury investigation. Judge Parnum Gilbert was appointed by the attorney general's office as a one-man grand jury to investigate. Members of the road board, their secretary and engineer and others were called and were examined one by one in the "sweat box" as the committee room off the supervisor's room was dubbed Saturday, Jan. 9. The high point in the investigation was reached when Judge Gilbert called in the county prosecuting attorney and ordered 18 warrants sworn out, five against the members of the county road board for receiving bribes and thirteen against contractors on the charge of giving bribes.

Each of the three resigned highway commissioners, their secretary and engineer, all indicted by the grand jury for accepting bribes, received a "cut" in the 34 gifts listed in the warrants. They are: Loren Snyder, Benton Harbor chairman; Elias Merritt, Three Oaks; Clarence Renbarger, Niles; Secretary Claude A. Baker, St. Joseph; Engineer Claude Hampton, Benton Harbor. Chairman Snyder fared best in the split, receiving $3,900 of the $8,260 listed. Secretary Baker was next in line with $1,650. Then came Engineer Hampton with $1,425, Renbarger with $1,035, and Merritt the newest member of the board, with $200. These money gifts were made by the thirteen contractors and by the material and equipment men indicted by the grand jury for giving bribes. They were divided as follows: Bryan Wise, present under sheriff for Berrien County and contractor before his appointment by Sheriff Fred J. Cutler, four gifts totaling $1,800. He was the heaviest contributor listed in the warrants. W. J. Lang, Chicago contractor, two gifts, $1,300. W. J. Cleary, former St. Joseph contractor, four gifts totaling an even $1,000. W. H. Baker, Benton Harbor gravel and asphalt man, holding an asphalt monopoly in Berrien County as far as highway contracts (Continued on page 3)

GREAT SKI MEET AT OGDEN DUNES SUNDAY, JAN. 24

Norwegian's Best to Compete Vs. Cream of America on Highest Slide.

While all their competition, until their arrival in the United States, has been on natural hillside slides, they have had an opportunity to try the artificial slides in this country, and both give promise to give the keenest kind of competition to the American jumpers.

Capt. Oman of the Ogdun Dunes club is a stylist himself, and has won trophies for style in almost every meet in which he has completed in the last three years. But he also gets distance with his style, and he, Paulsen and Gunderson, particularly, are expected to give the Norse invaders a real battle.

And there are a number of distance jumpers in B class. Rolf Wiggard and Reidar Anderson, of the Ogdun Dunes club, Rudolf Gunderson of Norge, a brother of George Gunderson; Hans Strand of Oconomowoc, Ingvald Bruseth of Norge, George Oman of Ogdun Dunes, and a number of other Class B jumpers can't be overlooked when it comes to chalking up distance marks.

With the take-off at the giant steel slide rebuilt, and easily adjustable to meet conditions of snow and wind, the skiers assert that they will give the spectators a real exhibition in the spectacular Norse sport.

Additional grand stands have been constructed for the comfort of the visitors. The American Legion of Gary will conduct an army "soup kitchen," to provide hot coffee and food; naval reserves from Gary, and Lake County highway police will patrol the highways and grounds and aid in directing traffic and parking cars.

G. R. Congregational Church Broadcasts

After having broadcast its services for the past year to a growing audience throughout western Michigan, the East Congregational church of Grand Rapids, Michigan has recently signed a new contract which will continue its services upon the air.

During the year passed, the pastor of East Congregational church has received letters from prisoners, hospital inmates, ship captains on the Great Lakes, isolated and snow-bound farmers and villagers as well as urbanites. A great many people in Buchanan listen regularly for this broadcast from 11:30 to 12:30 each Sunday morning, Eastern Standard time.

The East Congregational church is constructing by units, one of the most outstanding church buildings in America, the ultimate cost of which will be a million and a half dollars, the present investment of which is more than one-half million dollars. The broadcasting each Sunday morning includes an invitation for folks when in Grand Rapids to visit the church and especially the Klise Memorial chapel.

The sermons are printed each week and are mailed free of charge to anyone requesting them from Miss Jean Spencer, radio secretary, East Congregational church at Grand Rapids, Mich.

29'S LOSE 2D GAME TO RELIABLE DAIRY TUES. NITE

Superior Offense Holds Locals; Pierce is High Man with Total 12 Points.

After leading 21-16 at the half, the Buchanan Twenty-Nines, playing true to form, went out and lost themselves another ball game in the second half by a score of 26-24, Tuesday night in the high school gym.

To be truthful in the matter, it would not be amiss to say that the superior playing by the Reliable Dairy team started the game. As many of the townspeople as can attend this concert of Mr. Robinson's. Many have attended the other musical performances sponsored by Mr. Robinson and have been impressed by the quality of the musical talent displayed. So come one, come all, to the big free concert at the high school auditorium, at 3 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 31.

Pierce was a menace to the visitors during the first half, scoring three field goals and two free throws for a total of twelve points. In the second half he scored not at all and the rest of the Twenty-Nines scored practically twice as much. Cohen scored high for the visitors with four baskets and four free throws and the Reliable squad took ten of their points in the second half to give them the game. In justice to the Twenty-Nines we will say, though, that there are times when they look like a real ball club. Those times are always in the first half of a game.

Buchanan lost last Thursday to the Niles Elks by a score of 30-20 in a very interesting game, and also last to the New Troy Indians Saturday thanks to the help of the Bridgman All-States, who were scattered through the game.

The Twenty-Nines expect to have an important announcement to make before the next home game here which will not be played next Tuesday because of the high school game on that evening. Watch for it.

Band to Hold Free Concert On Jan. 31

The announcement made in the previous issue of this paper stating that Mr. Robinson's concert would probably be held Jan. 24 was incorrect. The date has been definitely set for Jan. 31.

This concert promises to be a most worthwhile affair, having the Boys' Glee club, the high school orchestra, and Mrs. A. Knoblauch participating. As many of the townspeople as can attend this concert of Mr. Robinson's. Many have attended the other musical performances sponsored by Mr. Robinson and have been impressed by the quality of the musical talent displayed. So come one, come all, to the big free concert at the high school auditorium, at 3 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 31.

SUBSTITUTES ARE STARS IN RAGGED CONTEST

Fouls by Both Teams Abound, 2nd Team Defeats Three Oaks Reserves 28-14.

Buchanan defeated Three Oaks Saturday night, 28-14. The regulars started the game and ran up a goodly score which the regulars did nothing about, and let their opponents score five baskets before Coach Bradford could take them out. However, Jesse and Rolien gave a good account of themselves, the former with two field goals and two free throws, and the latter with three baskets and one free throw.

Letcher came through with five points, and Marion Dretzler, although he scored no points, did some fine floor work. Only once did the visitors threaten, when in the third quarter the score stood 21-15 in the locals favor and Coach Bradford took out the regulars and sat in the subs.

Jesse, who usually plays a very good game, let down Saturday night and had three personal called against him. However, both teams played a ragged game.

Scoring five points for Three Oaks, Klute was their high point man. He and Lake, however, were put out on fouls. The visitors were good on free throws as they made 10 out of 16. Gess and Gridley, guards, nearly went out as each had three personals against them.

The Buchanan second team won 28-14, in an easy victory.

Score by quarters:

Girls' Glee Club Practices Singing Negro Spirituals

What are the girls doing in Glee club? They are working on negro spirituals and are busy practicing. The songs are: Little Cotton Dolly, On the Levee, Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray, and Roll Jordan, Roll. The songs will be sung in the future.

A surprise is in view. Watch the paper and you will soon know.

SPEAKING OF JAM

They can talk about the subway, and the awful pushing mob. They can tell me of a crowded city street.

They can warn me of the traffic and the many hurling cars. These puny dangers unafraid, I meet.

Let them rave about their street cars, and their dangers all they like. They never come to our school just at noon.

When the crowds grow thick and thicker, and you can't, for love or money, wedge your way into the girls' locker room.

Reporting Inquirer

Question: What do you think of the new one hour examination plan which is to be adopted this semester?

I think that the one hour examination plan is a very good one. It saves the students and the teachers both time and worry. It makes less confusion when we have exams. This way the students are here, and they don't have to come to school at different times of the day. I think this plan is better than the two hour plan we used last year.

Minibelle Reese. I think it will save time and work. It will not take so long for the examination and give longer time for review. The students will not have so much confusion in finding out what time of the day to come for their next examination. The regular time will be given for the examinations and so much information will not be asked for, because the students will already know when they have their particular examination.

Margaret Paddock. I think the new one hour examination plan is an advantage, as exams will be given during regular class periods for one day only. I believe it will save much time and confusion. Exams will be limited because of the new plan, but under the old system most of the students finish long before the time is up.

Marjorie Fletcher. The new one hour examinations will probably seem rather, short, but I think it is time enough for the average student, and most subjects. I believe the student who has learned as much from his subjects as he should and has done any reviewing at all, will have no trouble in writing the examinations in one hour.

Ralph Whittaker.

Editorial

Last week a statement was made of the large number of failures, 132 of them. The causes are becoming quite apparent. The main one is that students do not use the supervised study to prepare their next day's assignments, and the second is that there is an indifferent attitude here.

These failures are not caused from inability—they come from lack of study. Noticeably in the freshman class, the failure list is the highest.

The failure of the study period is caused by the students. More work should be done this year than ever before but there is less. From all appearances parents, too, are indifferent. The semester closes next week. Before we make suggestions as to remedies, we will await the results. Probably there will be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth when the grades are given, but we can assure parents that they can do no good by appealing to the principal, superintendent or the school board.

The student council and the Microphone appeal to the parents to help remedy the situation.

PROGRESS OF CLASS ROOMS DURING WEEK

Incipient Journalists Study Masterpieces; Study Nutrition Disease.

Economic Geography Thursday the economic geography class finished its term.

Everyone was out of danger of failing and some were counting on fairly high marks. All wish that the course was to be continued, but some are taking five subjects and are going to like the rest after a busy semester.

Reports taken from the New York Times Magazine were given last Thursday. They were as follows: "From the Nickelodeon to the Super-Film," by Helen Fletcher; "The Swedish Poet," by Catherine Beisel, and "Old Moscow Dies: New Moscow Arises," by Doreis Campbell. Pyramid new stories with exercises and examples, and also the life of Henry Raymond, famous editor of the New York Times, were studied during the week. Along with this, a review for finals was completed.

English Department The English Essentials test in English classes were given Thursday in the upper five grades. The tests are given three times a term.

The first, the Alpha, at the opening of the term; the second, the Beta, in the middle; and the third, the Gamma, at the close.

Three people, who were excused from the Beta test because they received 100 in the Alpha, were: Jane Habicht, Dorothy Babcock, and Marvin Gross.

The results as yet are not complete, but it is known that the median for the senior class is 98 with nine A's in the class, the juniors, 95 with six A's, and the freshmen raised their median from 51 to 86, a total of 35 points. Or the entire freshman class, Ruth Strunk came up the greatest number of points, those being 47. Lillian Peacock received the highest grade of the freshman class.

Home Economics Looking in on the 7th and 8th grades, one finds them busily reviewing for examinations.

Vitamines were studied by the freshmen classes this week. The discovery, sources, and the diseases caused by the lack of vitamins were discussed.

Review for examinations was started this week in the freshman classes. Sewing will be taken up next semester.

Shop The advanced class in Mechanical Drawing is working on the drawings of a lathe, after tearing the lathe in the Manual Training department to pieces.

Some of the boys have completed the drawing of the tail-stock. The first year class is in a turmoil because the boys are working on their eleventh and twelfth plates. By way of explanation, the amount of work required is twelve drawing plates for the first semester, hence the frenzy of activity to get them finished.

It has been rumored that the Mechanical Drawing classes will be changed from the first to the second hour and from the third to the fourth hour. This might mean an extra hour's sleep for some of the students.

Band Class The members of the band class have given two novels to Walter Babcock, who is in Pawating hospital at Niles.

Mr. Hyink's Classes Mr. Hyink's algebra classes are learning their A B C's in types of factoring, and finding products of algebraic expressions.

In geometry, the students are studying the relationships of circles and straight lines. Arithmetic and geometric progressions are being studied by the advanced algebra students.

School Slants

Walt Babcock, one of our seniors, is in the Pawating hospital with appendicitis. Some of the band members paid him a visit recently.

Our editor, Alan, accompanied our Microphone supervisor and our gym teacher to see "The Beloved Bachelor." Maybe it was out of generosity, but we think it was a blameless good thing in school.

"Almost new things in school." "Kathy" with her "prisoner's sweater."

Sonny and Pauline fighting. Alene following suit and getting some of Caroline's pretty curls. Chandos Jackson walking down the hall with a girl.

"Spot" with his mustache shaved off. And last, but not least, exams, which we wish were so new, we'd never even heard about 'em.

Johnnie Strayer, our big basketball man, celebrated his birthday last Sunday. The "Unholy Eight" had one of their famous meetings in honor of it.

G. A. A. Holds Treasure Hunt

"Hi! What'd I do Thursday night? Why, I went on the G. A. A. treasure hunt, right after school. I and we had a reward like that to end every day! We had fun, plenty to eat, and lots of walking. Oh, my gosh! I've got to finish some typing or—oh well! G'bye."

Each girls' gym class is divided into groups and they play basketball games in relays. The winners of the following teams played for squad tournament championship Wednesday night, directly after school. They were: The Rambling Sixes, Poddettes, Oodles, and the Holmes Basketeers. Oh yes, the names are just temporary. All girls' classes have begun volleyball and tumbling.

Faculty Facts

We have hidden talent in our midst. Behind the staid smiles of our faculty lurks surprised energy. If you don't believe this, journey up to the gym some Saturday and watch Mr. Hyink, Mr. Moore, Mr. Knoblauch, and Mr. Jewell play volleyball. Perhaps you'll get a few pointers on the game; at least we'll guarantee action, and plenty of it.

Miss Skeels plans to visit Chicago this coming Saturday. Incidentally, (oh very incidentally) she plans to drop in on "Three's a Crowd," now playing at the Erlanger.

Mr. Knoblauch spent last Friday night in Dowagiac, where he judged a state league debate between Dowagiac and Athens. Dowagiac taking the affirmative, Athens the negative. The affirmative won.
