Proposition

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE

Bi Haws
(The sale of tobacco maintains its prosperity level since, even when men are unemployed, they smoke as much as ever as a relief from the tension of worry.)

These days when times are grim and tense And business cares are sapping, Grudge not papa his fifteen cents To keep his nerves from snapping.

If business has gone up in smoke And places beyond mention, What blame is there if worried blocks Should puff to ease the tension?

And that mamma smokes cigarettes Should cause no fireside flurries For papa ought not to forget That mamma, too, has worries!

Everything around here had bin pretty well hit by the depression, 'cept the mercury and that took a drop Sattid night.

Jos Widdiger sez it would be just too plum bad if we got in a war with the Japs, but if we do, he sez mebbe the price of land will cum up so he kin sell out and go to Florida. Califorony would be too near the fightin'.

That cold spell wuz tough, comin right when we wuz all soft from so much warm weather, but mebbe it will put a crimp in all them pansy an rosebud an' robin stories the editor hez been runnin' and that oughta help a little.

Evan Church to Observe World Day of Prayer Feb. 12

Observance of the World's Day of Prayer will be made by a union service Friday, Feb. 12, at 2 o'clock at the Evangelical church, under the auspices of the Women's missionary societies. Churches taking part in this service are, Methodist Episcopal, Presbyterian, Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, Church of Christ, and the Evangelical. Everybody, whether affiliated with any church or not, is urged to attend this service, for we recognize the great need of prayer in the present world crisis. Our nation has been built upon the principles of the religion of Jesus Christ. Let us do our utmost to maintain these high ideals and prove to the nations of the world that not by might and power, but by the Lord's help, we shall conquer. How fitting that Feb. 12, Abraham Lincoln's birthday, should also be the World's Day of Prayer, and a day of world fellowship in Jesus, the Prince of Peace.

This great campaign will start just as soon as the Record wall is cleaned.

"Some men," summed up Gertie, the front street flapper, "have great times at the auto shows and others take their wives along."

"My wife kicks because I don't care for the furnace better," remarked old Art Mcclusky, the Third street householder, "but I tell her it's all a lot of hot air anyway."

GREETED BY RECEPTION COMMITTEE MERCHANTS

And the Frost is on the Pansy though the Overcoat's in Hock.

Old Man Winter, a regular visitor in these parts since the memory of the earliest inhabitant, made a belated arrival Saturday night, arriving about midnight in a flurry of snow and sending the mercury in local thermometers on a thirty degree toboggan to a new season's low of eight above.

"You tell me," he stated, in a special interview granted to a representative of this paper, "who has been spreading this report that I wasn't coming at all this year? If Johnny Walker can create a style of being late, I guess I can be in style." As a matter of fact, I came by way of Los Angeles this winter, first time I had seen that bug for a long time and it has sure been coming ahead. I heard my old buddy, Fred Andrews was there, but he had gone when I got there so I just golfed and splashed around a while with the girls and then came on to Buchanan to see Fred.

"A lot of folks looked kinda grumpy when they saw me coming, but that's old stuff for me. I never go much if I waited for invitations, and I wouldn't stay long if I had to be coaxed. As a matter of fact I usually suit myself. But at that, Glenn Smith, D. L. Boardman, Clarence Fults, Joe Roti and the Desenberg Brothers appeared just tickled to death to see me. You ol' sunuvagun, Glenn says, 'I was all ready for you three months ago and if you hadn't come it would have been just too bad. Come on and we'll have a drink over Ralph's new soda fountain.'

Hello, there's Sig over there sweeping snow. Well, he would have it.

BERRIEN-CASS COUNTY GLEANERS CONVENE HERE

BERRIEN-CASS SCOUT BOARD MEETS TONIGHT

Holds Quarterly Meeting in Congregational Church, St. Joseph.

The Twin Cities Boy Scout Council will enter the Berrien-Cass Area executive board in annual session in the Congregational church of St. Joseph tonight, with a number of the board members from Buchanan planning to be present.

This board, together with the District Committees, numbers 80 men and meets quarterly in the different towns in the Area, and sets the standards and policies for the counties of Berrien and Cass.

The Rev. George Horst, Area Scout Commissioner, and pastor of the Congregational church, has charge of the program and entertainment. The ladies of the church will entertain the wives of the men in the dining room of the church while the district meetings and Area sessions are being conducted in the other rooms and offices of the church. Louis C. Opton of St. Joseph, president of the Boy Scout Council will be in charge of the business session of the Area Board.

Chairmen of all standing committees will be in charge of the sectional meetings. The quarterly reports as well as the annual statements that have been made up for the National Headquarters, will be read. It was revealed by the auditing committee today that the Council operated on a budget which was $1500.00 less than that allowed by the districts besides reducing its budget greatly about six months ago. Other reports show equally gratifying accounts of the growth and expansion during the past year. The executive staff is doing its utmost to keep the organization in the "A" rating class of councils, a standing which it attained over a year ago. This is being made possible through the co-operation of over 400 volunteers who work with the troops.

Programs, budgets, and the operation of the popular summer camp at Madron lake will be voted upon at this session.

Instrumental trio, Audrey Shultz, at piano, Katherne Shultz at saxophone and Wilma Shultz at violin. This trio belong to the William Shultz family of Baroda.

John Givers, "the singing boot-black," rendered several selections.

Stop Night Coughing

Ordinary cough remedies do not reach the conditions which cause night coughing but Thoxine, a doctor's famous prescription does. It stops the cough within a few minutes and goes direct to the internal cause, preventing further trouble.

Taken before retiring Thoxine absolutely prevents night coughing. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat too. Safe for the whole family—guaranteed no dope. Money back if not satisfied. 35c Wisner's Drug Store.

News of Buchanan Schools*Niles Repeats Victory in Return Game Here*CLASS B LEADERS
TAKE LONG LEAD
IN FIRST PERIOD*Second Half Rally by Bucks is not Sufficient to Cut Down Lead.By Phil Hanlin
Led by backetballer Mattix, Niles High school swept to a 24-16 victory over the Buchanan quintet at the high school gymnasium Friday night in the traditional "Buck" Big Reds" game.

Taking an early lead in the first quarter, Niles scored seven points to the "Bucks'" none, and proceeded to increase their lead to 15-4 at the half. Mattix, Niles forward, garnered four baskets in this half and led the opponent's attack.

The Buchanan five came back at half time to play real ball and had the Niles boys on the jump. Lauren Morse supplied the punch with three baskets, and from all indications it looked as though Buchanan had a good chance to take the contest, but Frizzo, Niles star guard, along with Mattix, tallied to give them a safe lead.

In the past four or five games the maroon and white quintet has waited until the last half to do their scoring, and through this plan of attack, they have dropped a few contests. The Buchanan boys had 11 free throws and made but 4! If they combine free throws and first half scoring, they will whip Three Oaks and Watervliet this week.

Mattix was high scorer of the evening with five baskets, and Lauren Morse came through with three.

In the preliminary game, the Niles reserves defeated the Buchanan second team 21-9. Between the halves of this game, Loren Jewell, "Chiz" Cripe, Russell Proud, Ray Proud, "Kid" Heierman and "Swede" Arsonson put on some good wrestling matches.

This week Buchanan meets Three Oaks there on Friday night, and Watervliet here on Saturday. These games will be exceptionally exciting.

School LibraryBy Madeline Hamilton
Exactly ten new books have been added to the library during the last semester. Three of them are for the junior and senior high school. They are "Hail Columbia," by Lawson, "Circus" by Elmer, and Snedeker's book, "Town of the Fearless."

America has its adventurous career appear in "Hail Columbia," a new seventh and eighth grade book. The appearance is neat, the cover a combination of blue and gold. All illustrations are very vivid; simultaneously they retain all of the grandeur of history.

While one is reading "Hail Columbia," one feels as though he is seeing a pageant of many vivid scenes and characters. This probably exists because the author, Marie Lawson, started the book intending it to be a picture book of America.

"The Wild West" an interesting section of its numerous divisions, recalls the lure, toiling and fighting of the West. It covers the pony express, and finally ends in a salute to the courage of the redman in his losing fight.

Each chapter suggests books of renown which would be profitable to read, in helping to realize other points of interest of individual ages. And so it goes, right down to our own modern times.

3 New Classes
Offered Students
Second Semester

To make the average student's schedule even more interesting than in the past semester, there have been three entirely new classes placed in the daily curriculum. These are speech, horticulture, and agricultural economics.

Fourteen students have enrolled for the speech class taught by Mr. Knoblauch. At present this group is having exercises to train their voices. In the near future they will start with two minute talks, and as they progress, a minute will be added to each speech. Also they plan to study the best technic of speech and all other material this subject might cover.

Horticulture and agricultural economics are to be taught by Mr. Jewell. Horticulture, or fruit growing, will begin with the study of the requirements of a good orchard. Later, the class intend to obtain practical experience in pruning, grafting and planting in an orchard, likewise grading and packing of fruits. They also expect to have actual experience in mixing sprays, in identifying insect pests and diseases, and the method of controlling the latter.

Farm management, or agricultural economics, will give the student ability in bringing out the principal points needed to manage a farm; that is, in working crops, marketing products, and the general layout of a farm. Also a paper will be required on common bases of farm management. Material will be obtained from a Farm Account book put out by the Michigan State college for the use of farmers in Michigan.

Author Reviews
His New Book on Life St. Martin

Professor Louis Foley of the Western State Teachers' college, gave a review on a book he has recently published of St. Martin, the Greatest Saint of France, at a tea in charge of Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Helm, and Miss Ekstrom, in Mrs. Weaver's room Wednesday evening, Jan. 28.

Mr. Foley's interesting talk brought out definitely how he came to write the biography of St. Martin. He became interested in producing this new story after reading modern facts, and through research and old literature.

He combined these with his imagination and wrote the story. He stated that more churches were dedicated to St. Martin than any other individual outside of the Blessed Virgin. St. Martin lived in Tours in the fourth century.

The following guests from the Benton Harbor and Baroda faculties were present: Mrs. Bernice Thompson, Baroda; Ward Smith, C. Conover, T. Beeler and T. L. Foley, Benton Harbor.

A new course in "Short Story" begins next Wednesday in the same room, under the direction of Mr. Foley.

Seniors Lead*In Interclass Basket Series

With the beginning of the second semester, boys' interclass basketball competition has reached its climax. Twelve teams are competing in this class for the coveted championship, and these teams represent the seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen and the junior high classes. The league is composed of six first teams and six second teams which play alternate Friday nights. The standing thus far is as follows:

Class	Won	Lost
Juniors	1	2
Frosh	1	2

"For Forty Days and Forty Nights"

By Doris Campbell

What, oh what, is to become of the poor maids who know not how to swim? This is the weighty problem confronting us at present. Several times during the last few days have we been obliged to rescue and revive girls who had lost their way during one of these locker room deluges. Lately, due to the rising of the water, the number has gotten beyond control.

It is getting so that if one has the misfortune to drop a French book, she must take a dive off of her locker and then, nine times out of ten, she'll come up clutching a chemistry manual! (And you would be surprised at all the chemistry manuals and shorthand books that lie unmoleded on the bottom.) But let us center our attention on those who are not at ease on water. It really is a shame for us to have to buy water wings and inner tubes at this crucial time! Besides we've been saving up for the last six or seven years to buy hockey equipment. (Not that $2.37 would buy many water wings!)

Recently there has come a request from the more advanced students for spring boards in the locker room, but naturally we can't see our way clear to that at present.

Now we make this request to all you mothers and fathers:

Though your daughter is failing in three subjects, teach her the mysteries of the dog paddle or crawl before you begin with inverted fractions, sodium compounds, or the War of 1812. It will be of infinitely more use to her when she enters the locker room these days!

Who's Who

"I don't think you're anybody until you've flunked at least one exam (French is no exception)." - confides Rosemary Thompson. This Junior, noted for her white teeth and brown eyes, is a member of the G. A. A., captain of the class basketball team last year, and was squad leader of several other teams. She likes candy, and her hospitality as hostess, exhibited at her numerous house parties, is one of her well-known traits. She acts as hall monitor this year and prefers wearing one ear ring. Rosemary is an excellent swimmer and dives well. She is a popular, demure little lass, and her birthday is November 15.

George Washington and Robert Stevens have one thing in common, both have birthdays on Feb. 22, "Willie," as Robert is often called, plays on the seventh grade interclass basketball team. He is a star scout. He wears a ring with the initials L. W.—denoting "live wires." Robert likes potato salad, fried chicken, and dotes on making taffy. Another distinguishing feature about this person is that he flashes a dimple on one side of his cheek. His hobbies are ice skating, if there's any ice, and bogganaging.

Phil Hanlin's outside activities have been orchestra and band, vice president of the Latin club, elected for student council. Junior year, he entered debating, painted scenery for the senior play and was president of the Phi Kappa Dun-

School Slants

Any one passing "Spot" would think he had passed through a hospital. He's taking great precautions with his pet cold sore.

At the beginning of the semester, when passing the speech room, one could have heard the sounds that our ancestors probably used, while swinging from tree to tree. In order to strengthen the students' voices, they have been taking grunting exercises. It's really quite terrifying, if you don't know what it's all about.

Elizabeth Hess, our former classmate, has again entered our portals to be with us the rest of the year. Niles has its "frizzy" attractions, but she's glad to be with us again.

Some of the members of the orchestra have decided to go in for aeronautics. At first they were a bit timid, but now they're all air-minded. Those sitting on the top row of the bleachers while practicing for the concert have become quite flighty. They hope the bleachers don't get that way.

At the basketball game last week more grunting was issued from the crowd than from the boys who wrestled. The girls in the balcony seemed to be under a terrible strain from the way they sounded, when Sonny would get a toe-hold on George or vice-versa. Anyway, they were all worn out when it was over.

The librarians were surprised at the popularity of a book called "In the Wilderness," when some accidentally stumbled upon the fact that it was given four points on the list, whereas in reality it was supposed to have only two points. Many are the disappointed students, for the book only contained fifty pages!

To be forever smitten by some fair maid or other seems to be the inevitable fate of Elmer Lehrke. He blossomed out last week with his hair curled. Who is she, Elmer, to be so favored?

In looking around the assembly, it looks as though the freshmen are earnestly preparing for a hard test in "Tennyson."

Editorial

By Thomas Quirk

While the majority of the nations are busy trying to solve their own problems, Japan has been taking steps toward the realization of her greatest ambition—that of acquiring more territory.

Under the pretense of protecting her interests in Manchuria, she landed a strong military and naval force on Chinese soil and began her conquest. Due to her superior methods of warfare, Japan was highly successful in this campaign and forced the helpless Chinese to comply with all of her demands.

While the Japanese were engaged in this conquest of northern China, they interfered with a few foreign interests, but now in trying to take central China, they meet with real opposition. When the Japanese threatened to shell the city of Shanghai, they were warned by the United States that no American property was to be harmed or serious difficulties would result.

What will result, time alone will tell, for in this period of unrest trouble may easily start.

There are a number of things that we would like to discuss; one is new departments in the Microphone. "Who's Who," "Advice: Wise and Otherwise," and several new ones have been introduced. "Who's Who" is an attempt to bring to light students who have not been mentioned, but are deserving; that is, especially outstanding in scholarship.

"Advice: Wise and Otherwise," is solely for humor. The conductor of the column is one of the most talented girls in high school. We sincerely hope it proves worthy of its being published. Another column to be started soon is "Do you remember?" This will include incidents that have happened to alumnus while in school here, and also facts about the old school taken from way back when.

New books will have another column with an occasional book review. Several novel columns of interest will be run from time to time. It is the hope of the staff to make the Microphone not bigger, but BETTER than ever before. The quantity is not as important in a high school publication as the quality.

LEAP YEAR
By Marjorie Campbell
Look about you all the time, Every night and morning, And be careful, foolish man, Ponder o'er my warning.

You're in danger even now, Each day brings a fear, Ah, some maid will land you yet, Rather strenuous year.

ing the first semester of his senior year, he was a member of the Boys' Glee club, vice-president of the senior class, president of the student council, and played on the interclass basketball teams.

"I spend my time biting my finger nails, hate the women, love to argue, and used to write detective stories." One finds Phil a firm believer in chocolate pie, a lover of art, simultaneously a good student. All in all, a very versatile person.

When Joyce Kohlman says she is fourteen, one hardly believes it. She's quite small you see. She plays in the orchestra, sings in the Glee club and likes gym. She is working for her G. A. A. points, she's a freshman, so hasn't had time to get enough yet. Her favorite books is "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Joyce's hobbies are swimming and tumbling—she likes all sports and dislikes homework. She's seen, at times, carrying a red-bound notebook with her.

Mr. Hyink's freshman classes are studying factoring. The geometry classes are measuring arcs of circles. The trigonometry classes are studying the six functions of an angle.

English Department

Friendly letter writing and formal and informal notes have been studied in the past week in the Freshman English class.

"Evangeline" by Longfellow, is being studied in the eighth grade English classes and "The Courtship of Miles Standish" also by Longfellow, is being studied by the seventh grade. After these poems have been completed, each group will make note books on these poems. These classes have been discussing the life and shorter poems of Longfellow. When the poems have been completed, the two grades will have a Longfellow Day on which each student will contribute something about Longfellow.

Miss Shriver has charge of the English section at the Berrien

County Teachers' Institute at Berrien Harbor, Feb. 17.

Senior English classes are beginning their work in drama by reading Shakespeare's "Hamlet." A little later they will dramatize parts of it.

Reports and records of early literary works in Berrien county and around Buchanan have been completed by the Sophomore English classes. Some of the topics are as follows: "The Log School House," "Why so Many Men Were Out of Work 1894-1918," "A Picnic in Early Days" and "General Information around Buchanan."

Resolved: That civilized man is being mastered by his own inventions, was the subject debated on last Thursday after school by the two debating teams of the Sophomore English class. The affirmative team, composed of Donald Burrus, George Yukovic and Tom Quirk, were the winners. Carson Donley, John Godfrey and George Spotts made up the negative team. Alan Stevenson acted as judge.

Miss Shriver's Classes

Miss Shriver knows how to bribe the freshman Latin class into studying. She reads "The Unwilling Veteran" by Edward Lucas White to them—when they get their lessons. It is really more of a help than a bribe to the pupils. The tenth graders are studying about the meals and food of the Romans.

Miss Shriver has sent for the addresses of French correspondents for the eleventh grade French class. There's no harm in making new friends, especially when they are those French people. The twelfth grade class is studying the character of the French race.

Tenth grade sewing classes are studying color relations of the house.

Stop that Cough Quick

Men, women and children everywhere are amazed at the quick results from the first swallow of Thoxine—the doctor's famous prescription. Acts like magic on a new principle. Stops the cough at once and goes direct to the internal cause preventing further trouble.

Taken before retiring Thoxine absolutely prevents night coughing. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat, too. Safe for the whole family—guaranteed no soap. Money back if not satisfied. 5tsp
